

By MARTHA SAGER

This week we turn over the column to one of our fellow editors. We came across his column while going through our exchanges the other day and the idea and the substance of the story seemed to fit so exactly with the situation in which Grosse Pointe is placed that we wrote asking permission to reprint the article.

The column, written by Edmund Arnold, editor of The Frankenthuth News, deals with the part played by the weekly newspapers during these times of war with screaming headlines stretching atop the metropolitan dailies.

In his "Editor's Desk" column Editor Arnold says:

"The headlines on this issue of The News are little different from those of any previous week. Right next to us there is one about the new post office; over a couple columns is one about the Wheatridge tuberculosis sanitarium; down a little lower is a feature on coffee making.

"Contrasted with the screaming black banners on metropolitan dailies, this may seem insipid fare. Where others shriek the dramatic terror of war, we shall tell the simple tale of homes and everyday life. While they tell in martial accent of swift movements of destruction, we shall tell in a calm tone the slow labors whereby men and women here are moving in a consecration of construction.

"This is no ostrich-like dismissal of war by refusing to recognize it. We are in the midst of a terrible struggle to see whether a nation conceived in liberty can long endure. The sacrifices that this country must and is making, will and are being made by this community, too. When such a sacrifice means the letting of Frankenthuth blood and the losing of Frankenthuth tears, we shall record it as we have recorded all happenings, the sad as well as the happy, of Frankenthuth for the past 35 years.

"As it directly affects Frankenthuth shall we record the war. Other, slyer journalists shall chronicle the swift march of the juggernauts of slaughter; other, keener pens shall describe the history our nation must write. Ours is the task — the ONLY one we can do; the only WE can do — of recording the history of one small village. That we shall do. "And when this struggle is over, shall we be the first to write of the history that we've written with our pens and our hearts."

"We shall be the first; treaty will be signed and war fought again. This, Europe, Hirohito will rise and do and other aggressors will usurp their place in history. Roosevelt, Hull and Marshall will resist but the torch will be handed down to other heroes as yet nameless.

"But infants will be born; houses will be built; marriages will be made. Infants will be baptized; children will go to school; youth will grow into men's estate. Rains will fall; crops will grow; men will harvest them. These things will go on and on. The simple tale of these doings will never be broken.

"This, then, is the history that (Continued on Page Two.)

'U. S. Will Fight Alone,' Deac Warns; Denounces British as 'Complacent'

Accusing British military leaders of lacking the "proper perception of modern warfare" and declaring that the "United States must be prepared to fight this war alone," Paul Deac, cosmopolitan editor of the Detroit Free Press and former war correspondent, spoke a scathing denunciation of British war tactics in his talk before the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club Monday afternoon.

"There are too many heavily braided officials with their noses too high in the air," Deac declared. "They haven't yet learned the lesson being taught by the Japs and the Germans. The British want to win the war 'comfortably.' But to win the Allies must kill—and must kill fast. Modern war means lives. The enemy observes no rules."

Over 60,000 British soldiers in Singapore gave up their arms without any attempt to carry on the battle, Deac charged. The men were not encouraged to fight and the top notch British officials, not lack of equipment, are responsible for the defeat, he declared.

"In my opinion the Australians made a far better showing than the British," he said. "They really have something on the ball. If Australia is lost to the Japs, I doubt that the Churchill cabinet will survive."

Noted Park Lecturer Held on Morals Charge

E. A. McFaul, former radio commentator and prominent lecturer on current affairs, was held over for trial by Circuit Court following his charge of seducing a minor in Grosse Pointe Park. McFaul was released on a $500 bond.

McFaul lives at 1001 Beardsfield avenue, Grosse Pointe Park. He is unmarried. At the time of his arrest, McFaul was employed by the State as a Wayne County agent in charge of making investigations into the homes and backgrounds of delinquent minors. He was asked to resign from his position following his arrest on the morals charge. McFaul was appointed to the position late last year by Governor Murray D. Van Wagener.

A distinguished linguist and master of several languages, McFaul had gained a wide reputation throughout the state as a speaker on current affairs. He has been a consistent and popular lecturer before civic, fraternal and women's organizations for several years. For some time also, he appeared on a radio program.

No ROTC Unit in GP Schools Army Rules

An ROTC unit cannot be established in Grosse Pointe high school at the present time. Dr. Paul L. Essert, superintendent of schools, recently wrote Maj.-Gen. E. S. Adams, commanding officer of the ROTC, regarding the procedures and practices involved in establishing such a unit and the advisability of such a move in this area at present. The major general's reply was as follows:

"There has been no change in the policy of the war department regarding the establishment of new ROTC units. Many schools and colleges have made applications for such units, but to provide the personnel and equipment for all of them would seriously interfere with the defense program. . . . The units now established will provide an adequate number of officers and sergeants to meet the needs of the war effort. . . . Due to unforeseen circumstances, the lecture on Christian Science delivered at the Sixth Church by Florence Middaugh will be published in next week's issue of the Review.

Firemen Battle Blaze in City Home

City of Grosse Pointe firemen battled three and a half hours yesterday morning to bring under control a fire at the home of Noble C. Banks, 440 Lakeland avenue. Amount of the damage, although considerable, was not determined. Lester Chauvin, fire chief, remarked: "The fire was discovered at 6 a.m. when firemen arrived to discover that the blaze, which had started in the basement had traveled up between the walls and caught the attic floor. Cause of the fire was undetermined."

Patrick Clark, seven-year-old grandchild of the Banks, who was asleep in a bedroom on the second floor was wrapped in a blanket and carried out by the firemen. Henry Jones, a colored youth employed by the family, was caught in the basement and was led to safety.

Damage was caused mostly in the attic in which was stored a large quantity of furniture and household goods. Most of the damage was confined to this furniture, the chief said.

Pointe Filipino Signs for Army Service

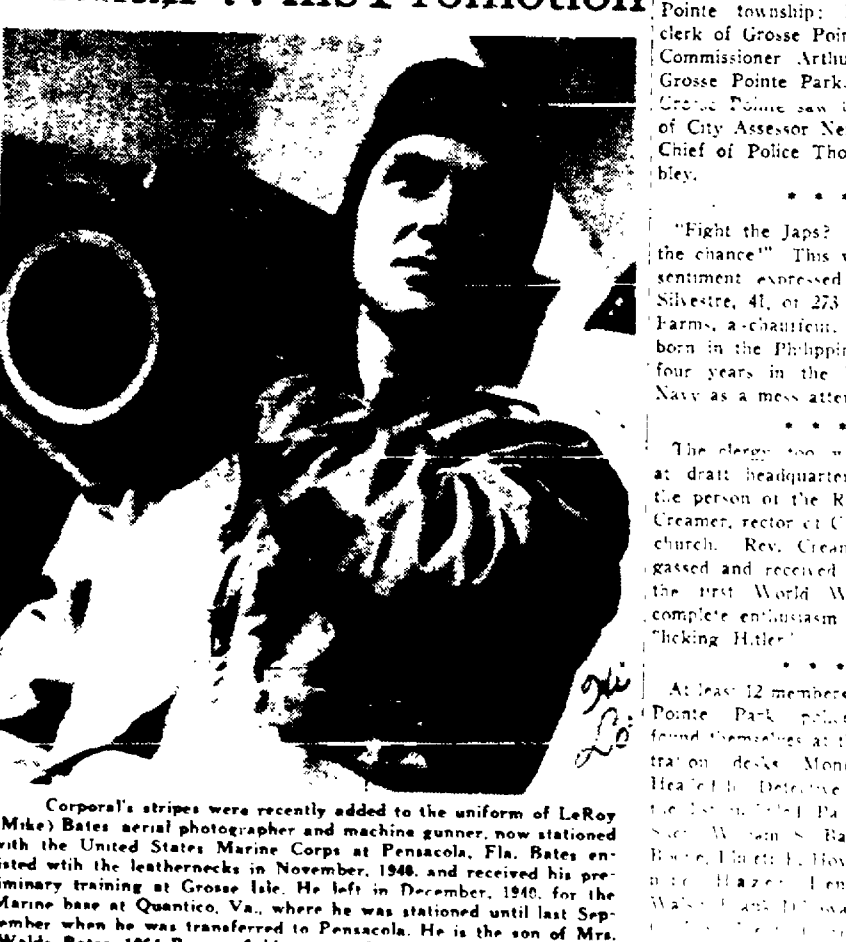

To most Grosse Pointers, even those with sons and sweethearts serving in Uncle Sam's draft army, the war is still something fairly remote. To one Grosse Pointe, however, the war with the Japs strikes close to home.

Balbino Nisberos, 39-year-old chauffeur for Dr. Fred Lepley, 1125 Three Mile drive, hasn't heard from his parents or his brother in the Philippines since the outbreak of the war, although he knows they are in the midst of the fighting sector. The last letter he received was dated Nov. 17, almost a month before the United States entered the war.

However, Nisberos is pretty certain that his brother is with the Filipino army. His six years of service with the constabulary of his country would qualify him as a member of the armed forces, and his brother isn't one to shirk his country's call, Nisberos declares. Not to him, for that matter. Should the United States feel the need of calling him to service he is ready to go. Nisberos declared Monday afternoon while registering at the city of Grosse Pointe.

Had things gone according to form, Grosse Pointe township courts would have been worrying about the income of primary elections Monday. Since, however, the limited number of candidates for township positions nullified the need for a primary, this year, township elections will be held on the day following the registration of voters.

At least 12 members of the Grosse Pointe Park police department found themselves at the draft registration desks Monday morning. Healed by Detective Robert Burt, the 12th member of the Grosse Pointe Park police, Frank S. Sauer, William S. Bostrom, Monroe Burt, Elmer L. Hoyer, Alvin D. Hoyer, Hazel L. Leno, Alvin W. Wainwright, Edward J. Park, and William J. Wainwright. Sgt. Richard A. Mead.

Corporal's stripes were recently added to the uniform of LeRoy (Mike) Bates aerial photographer and machine gunner, now stationed with the United States Marine Corps at Pensacola, Fla. Bates enlisted with the leathernecks in November, 1940, and received his preliminary training at Grosse Isle. He left in December, 1940, for the Marine base at Quantico, Va., where he was stationed until last September when he was transferred to Pensacola. He is the son of Mrs. Welda Bates, 1064 Beaconsfield avenue, Grosse Pointe Park.

Crowds Throng Draft Board to Register For Armed Service

Over two thousand Grosse Pointe men registered in the third draft call Monday for men in the age brackets between 19 and 45 years, a check of the figures at draft board 57 disclosed.

Registration was heavy throughout the day at all three registration centers here, with men lining up long before the offices opened at 7 a.m. The lines dwindled off toward evening.

About 350 men took advantage of the preliminary registration dates last Saturday and Sunday, but most men waited until the Monday deadline before registering.

So heavy was the registration at the Grosse Pointe Farms headquarters, that officials, fearing a shortage of registration cards, sent a rush call to the central offices in Detroit for additional supplies. Several volunteer workers, helping with the registration at the City of Grosse Pointe, were transferred to Grosse Pointe Farms to handle the unexpected crowds of registrants.

Heaviest registration was in the offices of local draft board 57, where some 1,100 men were registered.

Holder of 'Purple Heart' First Draft Registrant

Hero of World War I is ready to fight in World War II. This was the story told by Cecil A. Butrum, 42-year-old electrician of 15085 Hampton road, Monday morning as he waited first in line to register in the third draft call since this war began.

Lied About Age Married and the father of two children, Butrum for the first time revealed Monday that he lied about his age back 24 years ago to get into Uncle Sam's army. He is registering that and telling the truth to get himself qualified to fight once more in 1942.

Butrum was only 17 years old when he first entered Uncle Sam's army as a fighting soldier. He was old enough in appearance to convince the recruiting officer that he was the 20 years old he said. But Butrum was more than his age in experience when he was mustered out of the army, after winning a sergeant's stripes with the second division of the regulars. He came out wearing not only his experience but the second highest honor possible to win, the Purple Heart, awarded by the Congress of the United States for gallantry while wounded under action.

Ready for Action Butrum's award came following that historical action in Belleu Woods, in France, in September, 1918.

Driver Crashes Into Tree When Forced Off Road; Injured Forced to swerve over when the car preceding his cut in front, George Nephew, of 1442 Lakepointe avenue, drove over the curb and ran his car headlong into a tree in an accident Sunday afternoon at Lakepointe and Fairfax avenues, he reported to Grosse Pointe Park police.

Taken to a physician Nephew was treated for cuts in his lower lip and at the base of his chin, and the loss of a tooth. His wife, Mrs. Helene Nephew, a passenger in his car, was injured.

Nephew told police he was driving north on Lakepointe when a car turned in front of his, forcing him to the curb and into the tree. He failed to get the license number of the other car, Nephew said.

era warfare. This war leaves plenty of room for improvising and imagination, but the leaders still cling to textbook rules, and in 1942 no have-down rule of warfare goes.

The idea of directing a war from long distance is about out, he continued. It needs personal supervision on the battlefield. Experience in Spain, Ethiopia and Poland bore that out.

Brandt Fire "Sabotage"
"British intelligence should have known when the German battleships Gneisenau and Scharnhorst were leaving Brest," Deac went on. "There was a definite lack of co-ordination between the air force and the navy."

In our own country, the fire which swept the Lafayette (Normandy) was in Deac's opinion "absolutely a sabotage job," and due to neglect by persons in highly responsible positions. Many of these should be "kicked out fast," Deac declared.

Speaking of our own part in the war, Deac rapped some of the country's big business interests.

This country was aware that Japan would join the Axis, he maintained. "Yet, even in the face of this knowledge, the government continued to ship scrap iron and gasoline to Japan — material that is now being used against us."

The reason China has not been more successful against the Japs is because they didn't have sufficient equipment, he stated. But Britain shuddered at the idea of arming the Chinese masses because of the possible threat to India and Australia.

Now the British must arm India, itself, in order to maintain her way over the Far East.

Must Invade Continent
Britain and the United States will have to invade the continent, Deac added, either at Bologne, some other place on the English channel, Greece or Turkey. Furthermore, most of the people of Europe would welcome an invasion by the Allies, he predicted.

The people of the United States must look at the war realistically, Deac warned. Everyone must give, produce and fight until the oppressed peoples of Europe revolt against their oppressors.

Victory in Two Years
...that they must make tremendous sacrifices," he concluded. "But they should remember also, that even at the worst, our government won't take away from us one-quarter of what Hitler would take. The American way of life will prevail if we defend it. The people should let the government know that they want the right men in the right positions. If they do, two years should

Cub Pack Aids Victory Book Drive

With over 300 volumes already to their credit, members of the Grosse Pointe Woods cub pack pose with a few more of their books which they have collected in the Victory Book Drive campaign to collect reading material for service men in camp. Miss Kay Dies After Short Illness

Detroit's industrial and business leaders as well as loyal employees left their work Monday afternoon to pay their last respects to Miss Mildred Kay, owner and manager of the John Kay Company, jewelers, who died last Friday night after a three-day illness.

will spell the greatness of a nation; these are the tales that spring from the soil of America and make it hallowed ground.

"Statesmen and generals, war lords and politicians, battles and strategies — these never make history; they merely make it."

The Grosse Pointe Park police force is threatened with the loss of two patrolmen in the draft. Patrolmen Gustave A. Boone, 1472 Wayburn avenue, and Donald E. Delplace, 933 Beaconsfield, have been ordered to report for physical examinations. Both are single.

Patrolman James McLeod, of the Park police force, was taken home Saturday from Marine hospital, where he has been ill for the past three weeks.

Neil Blondell, assessor of the City of Grosse Pointe, received something novel in the way of valentines last Friday. Cut in the traditional heart shape and surrounded with a frilly lace border was a group picture of his five children, Rita, Tim, Dick, Bob and Jim.

If all American youth is as patriotic as Carl Schweikart, Jr., son of the clerk of Grosse Pointe township, this country has nothing to fear for its future. Last Friday young Carl reached his tenth birthday and, as is the custom in most cases, the parents of the celebrant asked what he'd like for his birthday. "I want money," the new 10-year-old bluntly affirmed. "I want to buy more defense stamps." Like other Grosse Pointe youngsters, Carl has been buying defense stamps at school each week. Now, abetted by his birthday gift, he is well on his way into his third book of stamps.

Newly returned from a gay social whirl at Butler University in Indianapolis is Miss Esther Louise James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. James, of Hillcrest road. Highlight of the trip was the Indiana State formal dance which she attended as the guest of her brother, Robert, a sophomore at Butler.

Residents of Grosse Pointe, living in the vicinity of Manchester, Avonlane and Eastwood, bordering on Harper avenue, are reminded to attend the meeting called for Feb. 23 at which an amendment to the zoning ordinance will be discussed. The amendment calls for the restriction of the lots to certain depths for building for business purposes.

Charles R. Williams, chief of the industrial police force from New York City, who was in charge of the police force at the Grosse Pointe Hotel, has moved to 1500 St. Louis street, Grosse Pointe Park.

Miss Kay later became a certified accountant and, following the death of her father in 1932, she became sole owner of the firm and acted as general manager. Prior to her last illness, Miss Kay never missed a day at her office.

Won Employees' Respect
Miss Kay won the respect of her employees early in her business career, when, shortly after taking office, in the height of the depression, she announced that there would be no cut in salaries, vacations with pay would continue to be given and that there would be no reduction in the staff.

Despite the press of her business affairs, Miss Kay devoted considerable time to charitable work.

She was a member of the Women's City Club, the Board of Commerce and the Fort Street Presbyterian Church.

Miss Kay, who lived at 1154 Audubon avenue, is survived by a brother, Wallace G. Kay, of Grosse Pointe Park.

Miss Laird demonstrated the proper procedure in caring for the hair and complexion, using Olive Jackson, as a model.

Miss Terry Jenkins was introduced, and those who had beauty problems were invited to see her.

Mascara Ruled Taboo for Service Station Girls

Three otherwise charming young ladies acquired the somewhat dubious title of "grease monkeys" last week when they invaded a heretofore masculine domain to become filling station attendants at gasoline station at East Jefferson and Beaconsfield, Grosse Pointe Park.

Swishing wiping rags and handling all professional skill, grease guns and pumps, the Misses Gail Frey, Julia Lawson and Phyllis Reynolds described themselves as "thrilled" and "excited" over the prospect of serving Grosse Pointe's auto customers.

The company describes the girls as post graduate attendants. It maintains a school for girl filling station operators at East Jefferson and Alter road.

"Girls who have been properly trained before taking over jobs in filling stations are the equal of men," braved J. C. Kenney, regional supervisor of training.

Glamour has been ruled out as part of the service by girl attendants. Penciled eyebrows and mascara are definitely "out." Lipstick and rouge are permitted with limitations.

"The girls will be expected to sell gas and oil, not to vamp the men," Kenney declared — hopefully.

Name Student Editors For High School Staffs

Conrad Williams, 12A, and Pat White, 12A, have been appointed editors of View Pointe and Proem, student publications of Grosse Pointe High School.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Doris K. Trott, both editors aim, with the help of their staffs, to maintain the high standards of the pages and departments of past issues of both publications.

The new View Pointe staff met last Friday and discussed possibilities of revision of certain departments, and the addition of new features.

The new Proem staff met Tuesday with Miss Trott and read the first manuscript submitted for consideration in the Spring issue.

THE STORY OF ELECTRICITY
Number Four in a series published by The Detroit Edison Company
The year 1745 marked the first time that electricity was collected in quantities large enough to facilitate experiments. The feat has been variously credited to Bishop von Kleist, dean of the Cathedral of Comin, Pomerania; to Pieter Van Muschenbroek, professor at the University of Leyden, Holland; and to Cunneca, a pupil of Muschenbroek and wealthy burgher of the city of Leyden. At any rate, this invention supposedly owes its name to the Abbe Nollet of France, who dubbed it "Leyden jar."
Muschenbroek set about collecting the "electric fluid" in a wide-mouthed flask half-full of water. The flask was corked, and a wire through the cork dipped into the water of the jar. The other end of the wire was connected to a gun barrel suspended by two silk cords, and attached to an electric "spark" machine. After having charged the bottle, Cunneca, who was assisting with the experiment, attempted to disconnect the wire, and received a violent shock.
Muschenbroek, writing to his friend Reaumur in Paris, declared he "would not take such a shock for the kingdom of France." But the Abbe Nollet repeated the experiments before King Louis XV, sending an electrical charge through 180 of the King's guardsmen. Benjamin Franklin, in a letter to Peter Collinson in 1747, said, "I cannot forbear adding a few observations on M. Muschenbroek's wonderful bottle," and described 10 different experiments that he (Franklin) had performed. Another letter told how he used five Leyden jars to kill a 10-pound turkey. Franklin added, "The birds killed in this manner cook uncommonly tender."

Houtekier Wins Nomination For Supervisor by 50 Votes

By a slim majority of 50 votes, Odilon Houtekier topped his opponent, Eugene Piornack, for nomination on the Democratic ballot for a second term as supervisor of Gratiot township in the primary election Monday. Houtekier received 326 votes to Piornack's 276 to win the nomination.

Less than 50 per cent of the registered voters of the township went to the polls. A total of 602 votes were cast by a registered electorate of 1,251 in what pre-election prophecies took for one of the township's most hotly contested political battles.

Lyle Leads For Clerk Other candidates who topped the returns on the Democratic ballot were Lloyd Lyle, present secretary of the school board, who garnered 272 votes to lead his nearest opponent, Al Claire, who received 216 ballots in the race for township clerk. Mike Simich, the other candidate for the clerk's position, trailed with 104 votes.

Only 25 votes separated Michael Skurda, Jr., and incumbent Frank Jones in the race for township treasurer, Jones coming out ahead with 294 votes to Skurda's 269. Roek, sole candidate on the Republican ticket, also in the race for treasurer, received six votes.

Johnson Ahead Topping the candidates for the position of justice of the peace was Ray Johnson for whom 244 votes were cast. Following him in order were Eric Tracy, 213; and Leo Gendernalk, 87.

Of the seven candidates for constable, the four topping the list were Russell Campbell, 338 votes; Louis Champine, 270; Howard Stone, 240; and James Keeney, 198. Eliminated were E. L. Des Rosiers, 194; Har-

Purple Heart

(Continued from page one.) he discovered the site of a machine gun nest which had been bombarding his comrades, and was fast moving down, his company. With another man, Butrum began crawling across a wheat field which separated him from the machine gun nest. The enemy located Butrum by watching the wheat stalks as they were moved by his body. Wheeling the gun around, they aimed it at the spot shooting and almost fatally wounding the American soldier. Butrum retained consciousness long enough to point out the nest's location to his captain, who, together with a band of American soldiers, stormed and silenced the guns.

It's not a nice story to tell, and Butrum doesn't like to tell it. But he's ready for action again, any time Uncle Sam calls.

That's why he was first in line Monday when the draft registration began for men up to 45 years old.

Butrum is a member of the General Anthony Wayne chapter, Military Order of the Purple Heart, and of the Alger Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Treppas Observe Golden Wedding

A mass of celebration was offered Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Ambrose church for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Treppa, 965 Barrington road, in honor of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The Rev. Fr. Francis F. Van Antwerp officiated.

Following the mass, members of the family attended a breakfast at the Whitier hotel. A reception followed at the home.

Assisting in the celebration were their son and daughter, Joseph F. Treppa and Mrs. Frank J. Messing, Jr., and nine grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Treppa were married in 1892 at St. Joseph's church, Detroit. Mr. Treppa retired from the dry goods business in 1911.

Defense Classes Now Enrolling

The state board of control for vocational education through the cooperation of the Grosse Pointe board of education is planning on establishing several courses in defense training in the new industrial arts building. This building is rapidly nearing completion and is located on the campus of the Grosse Pointe high school.

The courses which will probably be offered are: Machine tool operation, consisting of lathe, milling machine, shaper, bandsaw, vertical grinder and bench metal work; welding (acetylene and arc); riveting (all types). There is also a possibility of a special defense training class in office practice being offered.

Men and women, 18 years and above, will be considered as applicants for such training. Inquiries will be considered in the order in which they are received.

Pointe Warned of Air Raids

On Tuesday evening, at the Neighborhood club, the deputy chief air raid warden held their first organization meeting. Two others have been appointed to this job since last week. They are Sherwood Reekie of Grosse Pointe Farms and Captain Millard, who will represent Gratiot township. There will be a post warden appointed for every block during the next week.

The air warden caution citizens of Grosse Pointe not to buy so-called protection apparatus unless they investigate. Several unscrupulous manufacturers are taking advantage of the times by marketing gas masks, stirrup pumps and similar devices which may prove impractical or unnecessary. If in doubt, call the defense headquarters at the Neighborhood club or one of the warden's. Clarence Blessed, chief warden, emphasized the point that Grosse Pointe was not considered a critical area, but that if the status changed, then the government would issue masks if needed.

Voluntary Service Group to Sponsor Defense Classes

Classes in civilian defense are being offered in the homes of three Grosse Pointe women under the sponsorship of the American Women's Voluntary Services. Membership in the organization is open to all American women.

Classes are being held at the homes of Mrs. Frederick Alger, Jr., Mrs. Harry Lynn Piersons and Mrs. Fred S. Ford. Mrs. Sidney Small is assisting with the class at Mrs. Alger's. Mrs. Jean S. Piersons is assisting at Mrs. Piersons' home. Mrs. L. A. Piersons is assisting at Mrs. Piersons' home. Mrs. L. A. Piersons is assisting at Mrs. Piersons' home. Mrs. L. A. Piersons is assisting at Mrs. Piersons' home.

both candidates for supervisor. A total of 254 of the 430 voters registered in the second precinct went to the polls. That the women's vote was felt in the election was shown by the fact that of the 254 voting in this precinct, 106 were women.

Closest balloting was shown in the first precinct where only six votes separated the two candidates for top office. Houtekier received 61 votes to Piornack's 67.

General Election April 7

A low percentage of votes was also shown in the third precinct, covering the Chatham Village area, where only 220 ballots were cast by a registered electorate of 470.

The general election will be held April 7.

Pointe Players To Produce 'Tovarich'

"Tovarich," a comedy written by Jacques Deval and adapted by Robert E. Sherwood, has been selected as the spring production of Pointe Players, Grosse Pointe high school dramatic club. It will be presented on the evenings of March 27 and 28.

There are 15 characters in the cast, seven to be played by girls and eight by boys. All the parts will be single cast.

"Tovarich" was a Paris success for a long season and a London "smash hit" for as long again. The play made its Broadway debut in 1936 starring Marta Abba and John Halliday and has since been made into a highly successful motion picture with Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer.

In commenting on the play, D. H. Horton, director, said: "Tovarich" is a bright, sparkling, substantial comedy which has appeal not only for high school audiences but for mature audiences as well. It is one of the cleverest and funniest shows I have ever seen. In common with other Pointe Players' productions, this gives the actors something they can sink their teeth into and positively does not have the froth of the so-called 'typical' high school play. I have every reason to believe it can be as well or better cast as any of Pointe Players' previous productions."

Richard School N-E-W-S

Richard Kindergarten Tea — On Monday, Feb. 9, a committee of six mothers planned a tea for all the parents of the kindergarten B class in Mrs. Merrill's room. With each new kindergarten class such a tea is planned for the purpose of helping the parents to become acquainted with each other and the teacher, to give the teacher an opportunity to explain what materials are needed by the children, what the school is attempting to teach each child, and how the teacher prepares for reading readiness.

First Aid —

The Richard school teachers are taking active part in civilian defense work in first aid. They are: Jois Jeanne Whitehead, Edwin Wendt, Rosalie Tomb, Elsema Nault, Ruth Bokes, Mary Beard, Virginia McKinnon, Olive Selke, Anita Howarth, Virginia Merrill and Clarence Messner. These teachers are receiving aid instruction at the Grosse Pointe high school, Trombly school and the Savarine hotel. This training is necessary in that it is important for each teacher to have a knowledge of how to administer first aid in case of air raids or other emergencies. There are to be two first aid stations at Richard — one on the first floor and one on the second floor. A first aid class is being given at Richard school starting on Wednesday, Feb. 18, from one to three o'clock.

McGoodwin Again Chosen Class Head

Grosse Pointe high school's class of June '42 has again elected Jim McGoodwin to be its president. Besides being president of his class for the third time, Jim has been the class's vice president and class treasurer in previous years. The class officers are: Jim McGoodwin, president; Fred S. Ford, vice president; and Fred S. Ford, treasurer.

TO THE SUPERVISOR OF THE TOWNSHIP OF GRATIOT, WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN:

Sir: You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held Tuesday, January 27, 1942, decide and determine that the certain sections of road described in the minutes of said Board, heretofore taken over as County Roads, should be absolutely abandoned and discontinued as public highways.

Alger Auxiliary

Last Thursday, Lincoln's birthday, the ladies of the Alger Auxiliary, A. F. W., gathered together at Ingleside Inn for their tenth anniversary dinner. As is becoming traditional, the past presidents handled the arrangements under the leadership of Mrs. Eva Bariteau.

Compliments to the committee for the very beautiful decorations and lovely program arranged for the evening; bingo after a delicious dinner, prizes for which were U. S. Defense stamps. Thanks to Mrs.

Flaugh, wife of the proprietor of Ingleside who is also a member of the Auxiliary, for the tempting meal served.

At the close of the dinner President Ruth Slater gave a brief talk and introduced all past presidents, their secretaries and treasurers. All but two past presidents were present and the only 1941-1942 officer absent was our historian, Mrs. Netta DeBaeke, who is recuperating from a major operation in St. Mary's hospital. Flowers used as decorations were sent to her with a wish for her speedy recovery.

Sympathy goes out to Mrs. Schroeder and her family with wishes for speedy recovery of her daughter, who had an appendectomy at Ford hospital.

Wanted A Job — Any Kind of Work — No Limit to Hours — No Pay Accepted

Who in the world would seek a job such as described above? Hundreds do every year! Hundreds of splendid, intelligent, educated young women — some from our very finest families — are applying for just such jobs in the great Catholic Sisterhood.

"The poor ye have always with you," said our Lord; and in God's scheme of things, He has called to the service of his beloved poor the very flower of womanhood. In this country alone there are more than 120,000 humble, holy women, joined by the common vow of poverty, chastity, obedience. Some of them teach in convent and parochial schools. Others care for impoverished old folks and orphans. Some nurse in hospitals, in homes for cancerous paupers, in leper colonies and "midst shot and shell on the battlefields. Still others go about begging at restaurants, hotels and other places for left-over foods and scraps from plates with which to feed the hungry, making their own meals from the remnants left by their charges.

There is no work too difficult, too menial, too revolting for these angels on earth to gladly undertake for God through His poor, regardless of race, color or creed. And they earn no money. They possess no earthly thing — not even the clothes they wear. Yet the Catholic sister is ever-smiling, ever-happy, because she is the "Bride of Christ" and in all things His will is her will. More than 120,000 nuns in this country alone! What a tremendous national asset! How much would it cost in money and results to replace them with paid workers, who could not, and would not labor with the same devotion and disinterestedness?

Beware of the story of the "escaped" nun. There can be no such thing. Any sister may freely leave any convent at any time. Beware of him who spreads such poisonous lies, for he is viciously striking at our country's benefactors and at those who are very, very close to the sacred heart of Jesus. Boundary Trouble Keeps W. Gray From Commission Race

William C. Gray, a candidate for commissioner in the Woods last year, is not running this year because of the possibility of a dispute as to whether or not he resides in the Woods or in Grosse Pointe township. Gray's home is approximately one-half within the village and he pays full village taxes on his entire house because of full village services rendered. It was thought that since his interests are all in the Woods that legal residence was automatically established. Since there is a possibility that this is not the case and some individuals have intimated they would contest the residence, he is endorsing the campaign of Messrs. Seaman and Vanderbush.

To Hold World Day Of Prayer The First Friday During Lent

Orlert, D.D., minister of the First Presbyterian Church. The music will be led by Mrs. Madeline Henshaw, assistant organist of the church, assisted by Mrs. O. Miller, violinist, and Mrs. W. Cole, pianist in the morning, and by Mrs. J. Jarvis, first violinist, and Mrs. R. Scott, second violinist, Mrs. E. Cooper pianist and the W.P.A. Spiritual Singers, under the direction of Miss Jeanne Lloyd, in the afternoon. Miss Marie Rose will explain the projects of the program and the attention of the program will be concluded by a candle-light service given by the past presidents of the Detroit Council of Church Women.

Steps toward this end were first taken with the presentation of a petition for these improvements to the village council. At the direction of Village President Paul Deming, Minickey was named to a committee to investigate the recommendations contained in the petition and to report back the findings and recommendations in time for the 1942-1943 budget.
