AWVS Intensifies Grosse Pointe Salvage Drive

24-Hr. Headquarters for Air Raid Wardens Opens Tomorrow

Will Serve as Local Information Center; Every Warden Subject to Call for Work on Four-Hour Shifts

Grosse Pointe's effective civilian defense organization will take another step forward with the opening of an air raid wardens headquarters, Friday noon at the pumping station on Neff road and Charlevoix avenue. The station will be open for the full 24 hours daily and wardens will be on hand at all times to answer any questions and to take charge of any situations that may arise.

The opening of the headquarters will have a dual purpose, said Clarence Blessed, chief air raid warden. It will serve to give the wardens a sense of responsibility and will retain their interest in their duties.

It will also provide them with a center where they may keep their records up to date and obtain any information they themselves may need to carry on their duties.

Store Lights May Stay On At Night

Outside Switch To Be Available For Warden

A method whereby merchants and business men may leave lights burning inside their establishments and may leave the signs burning outside at night was developed by the civilian defense committee when members met Monday night.

Lights may be left on if a switch is made available to the outside so that the block warden can turn off the lights from the outside in case of a practice blackout or raid, the committee ruled. An identification mark or sign must be placed on the switch to identify it to the warden.

The location of the switch, its type and the kind of identification mark used must be reported to the air raid warden headquarters who in turn will deliver the information to the warden in charge of the block concerned.

Belanger Revokes Speeder's License For Six Months

Thomas McManus, Jr., of 5555 Cadieux road, Detroit, won't be speeding again for six months at least. Justice C. Joseph Belanger made sure of that Monday morning when he found McManus guilty of speeding 60 miles an hour along Jefferson avenue and revoked McManus' driver's license for six months. In addition he ordered McManus to pay a fine of $55 or spend 30 days in the Detroit House of Correction.

At Monday's court session Justice Belanger also found Tony Tienpaco, of 2946 East Fort street, Detroit, a vegetable vendor, guilty of using an inaccurate scale. Tienpaco was fined $25 and ordered to have his scale adjusted by the department of weights and measures.

Driver Is Released On $500 Bond For Negligent Homicide

Lloyd J. LeBeau, 18, of St. Clair Shores, was released on $500 bond Friday night when he was arraigned before Justice Victor DeBacke, in Grosse Pointe Woods police court, on a charge of negligent homicide in the death of Helen Krause, 22, of 3124 Marlborough, Detroit.

The examination was set for Monday evening, Aug. 10, at 8:30 o'clock. The accident occurred at 2 a. m. Sunday, July 12, at Mack avenue and Lancaster. LeBeau told police that he fell asleep at the wheel. His car crossed the road and crashed head on into the car driven by Miss Krause.

Miss Krause had been in a critical condition since the time of the accident until her death Sunday evening, July 26. A post mortem examination disclosed that death was due to a brain concussion and internal hemorrhages.

'Just Junk' Needed Now Women Say

The added impetus of advertising approved by the conservation division of the WPB this week lends itself to the intensified efforts of the Grosse Pointe unit of the AWVS Salvage campaign.

Mrs. Sidney R. Small is AWVS chairman and the local salvage committee is headed by Mrs. John S. Sweeney, Jr., with Mrs. Lansing Pittman acting as chairman for the junior auxiliary. Active solicitation was started two weeks ago for materials needed in the AWVS work shop, where women are making surgical dressings and clothing. In addition, much literature has been disseminated explaining the various types of salvage materials needed by the government.

Leading industrial concerns of the United States have supplied the American industries salvage committee with the list of the vast needs of industry in the way of raw materials to enable them to supply the men in the service with the proper "tools" of warfare. Common, ordinary scrap, it has been explained, which represents only so much junk to the average person, is very vital material now, needed to permit industry to attain the increased speed of peak production promptly.

In order to obtain the active assistance of everyone in the national salvage campaign, industry has arranged to buy scrap from scrap dealers at government-controlled, established prices.

Arrangements have been made by the AWVS committee on salvage to handle all questions concerning the disposal of junk in the Grosse Pointe area. Regardless of whether a person in the Pointe wishes to sell or contribute scrap to the salvage campaign, it is advised that they call the local salvage committee at Tuxedo 1-1050.

Ready reference to the needed articles of junk can be made by reading the ad on page 2. It is to be explained that waste paper and tin cans are being accepted locally, and treatment of the cans for salvage purposes, is pictorially described in this edition.

It cannot be too strongly emphasized that Grosse Pointe has a definite part to play in the national salvage campaign. The AWVS are performing a patriotic task in promoting the local collection of junk. It is to be understood that their efforts are only rewarded by the service which they render to their country and their accomplishments can be only a reflection of the co-operation of the community.

Every patriotic resident of Grosse Pointe is obligated to conduct an immediate search for scrap and then to call Tuxedo 1-1050 to sell it or give it away.

Persons wishing to contribute scrap may also bring it to the headquarters in the rear of the City of Grosse Pointe offices.

'No Speeches' . . .

"No speeches, not even Al Ghesquiere's" is one of the inducements offered spectators and participants in the golf tourney for Grosse Pointe Woods air raid wardens Sunday morning, Aug. 9, at the Grosse Pointe Woods golf course.

Prizes are a second inducement, offered both spectators and players in the match.

The program will begin with the serving of breakfast at 8 o'clock followed by the 18-hole tourney.

Both men and women wardens are eligible for competition, but only officially designated wardens and their alternates may enter the contest.

A challenge trophy has been offered by the Grosse Pointe area and is to be awarded to the zone which wins the most and the best golfers.

The tourney is under the direction of Lawrence Marr, zone warden, and the following committees:

General tournament committee—Carl Jensen, Joe Brad Kramer Foster and Harry McNeil
Prizes—Dave Burnett, Harry Hammon and Harry Hammon
Finance and ticket committee—

Woods Councilman Chosen to Succeed Schweikart as Clerk

Appointment Gives Grosse Pointe Woods Representation on Board; Takes Effect Immediately

Henry Lavers, Grosse Pointe village commissioner, was appointed to succeed Carl Schweikart as Grosse Pointe township clerk when the township board met Tuesday afternoon.

Lavers was sworn in Tuesday evening and took over his new duties immediately.

Lavers has served as fire commissioner for Grosse Pointe Woods for the last six years and has been a resident of the township for 29 years. He is 54 years old and makes his home at 1169 Roslyn road.

Whether or not he will retain his position on the village commission was still undecided last night. Lavers said that he had considered resigning the village post but had not yet made up his mind.

He was employed for a number of years as sales manager for an automatic heating and cooling company and has his own insurance agency.

Appointment of Lavers to the job of township clerk gives representation on the township board to the village of Grosse Pointe Woods for the first time since the death in April of Norbert Denk, then township supervisor.

According to present plans, Den Uyl and Stringari each will submit a list of names acceptable to them from which the third mediator will be selected.

No meeting date had been set when The Review went to press last night.

Den Uyl is secretary and treasurer of the Bohn Aluminum and Brass Corporation.

Two Park Detectives Are Given Promotions

Promotions to the rating of detective sergeant have been granted Arthur Louwers and Robert Butts, of the Grosse Pointe Park police department. The promotions became effective Aug. 1. Butts has been a member of the department for 15 years and Louwers for 10 years.

AWVS to Start Military Drills

Grosse Pointe ladies will soon be walking with their military swag if present plans materialize.

The first step will be taken Tuesday evening, Aug. 11, when an army officer comes out to Grosse Pointe high school to conduct a "military drill" for the Grosse Pointe AWVS. The drill will begin at 7:15 p. m. in the school gymnasium.

Members of the AWVS are urgently requested to turn out for the drill whether they have uniforms or not. Those who have uniforms are asked to wear them that evening.

Purpose of the drills is to train the women in proper military behavior followed when wearing a uniform, as well as to teach them proper military procedure.

34 Draftees To Report August 17

Woods Seeks Municipal Beach

The desire of Grosse Pointe Woods residents for either a swimming beach of their own or for unlimited use of the beach at Grosse Pointe Shores was expressed at the Woods village council meeting Tuesday night by Leigh Pascoe, 915 Roslyn road.

Many residents built homes in the Woods under the impression that they would have beach facilities on Lake St. Clair for their families, Pascoe said. "Only to discover their mistake later," she said. "The Woods is the only one of the five Grosse Pointe municipalities that does not have a swimming beach."

At the present time Grosse Pointe Shores permits Woods residents to use the Shores beach on two days a week. Residents living north of Vermont and east of Mack are allowed use of the beach on Mondays and residents in the rest of the village on Tuesdays.

A vote was taken on the proposition to build a beach at the village. The vote was 10-10.

An interested party has been made known to the village council and a public hearing will be held on the subject of a public beach.

Committees Chosen For War Chest Fund

Mayor Edward J. Jeffries will be the honorary chairman and Clarence W. Avery, president of the war chest of metropolitan Detroit for the ensuing year, it was announced by the war chest board of directors Saturday following an election meeting.

The war chest was organized last Spring for the purpose of bringing about a merging of the many foreign and local relief appeals for money into one large campaign this Fall. The chest was organized after a committee of citizens appointed by Mayor Jeffries recommended that there should be an amalgamation of the fund appeals to conserve the energies of Detroiters who would be called upon to aid in the drives and to insure greater efficiency in money-raising.

Fred M. Butzel, Mrs. Frank Couzens, Richard T. Leonard and Walter G. Wisdom were elected vice-presidents of the chest. Wisdom's term of office will expire Dec. 31, 1942, while Leonard will take office Jan. 1, 1943, and continue thru Dec. 31 of that year.

J. T. Shearer was elected secretary and the Detroit Trust Co., treasurer. Percival Dodge was named managing director and Howard K. Scobie, assistant secretary.

To serve with the officers on the executive committee, the following were elected:

Wendell Anderson, Andrew Bishop, Frank Cody, Howard A. Coffin, Fran D. Eaman, Hugh Ferry, Joseph P. Glaser, Lloyd Jones, John S. Knight, Leonard, Mrs. John J. O'Brien, Roy R. Williams, Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, Henry Wineman and Benjamin E. Young.

Ten board members were elected in addition to the 48 previously elected and announced in June. The new members are:

George F. Addes, Thomas Briglia, Cody, Tracy Doll, George Edwards, Frank X. Martel, Andrew McFarlane, James McGinnity, D. C. Murray and R. J. Thomas.

Admissions committee members named are:

James K. Watkins, chairman; William E. Anderman, Bishop, Charles E. Boyd, Butzel, Mrs. John N. Failing, Jr., Louis C. Miriani, William J. Norton, Frank Reed, George M. Romney, William E. Scripps, Harry L. Shearer, Tucker Smith and Wisdom.

Additional members will be elected to the board to represent each of the organizations included in the war chest affiliation as soon as formal approval is given, the war chest officials said.

James Austin Wins John Hay Scholarship To Brown University

James H. Austin, 16834 Crawford Lane, has been named winner of the John Hay scholarship to Brown university at Providence, R. I., according to an announcement made this week by university officials.

The award is given each year to the five students outside of Rhode Island who show outstanding ability, character, personality, scholastic ability and promise of future success in life.

Austin, a former student at Grosse Pointe high school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Austin.

Sergt. and Mrs. James Brierly, of Phillip road, became the parents of a baby boy on Aug. 27. Sergeant Brierly, who is stationed outside the state, is expected home on furlough soon.

A lovely sight out along Hollywood boulevard are the unusually large blossoms on the Evening Primrose in the garden of Clarence L. Thompson. This native wild flower blossoms after dusk and the fragrant yellow flowers fold up in the morning sun.

Justice and Mrs. C. Joseph Belanger, and their daughter Virginia, returned Monday from a two weeks' vacation in northern Michigan.

Mrs. Raymond H. Berry will be hostess for the Detroit Iris society meeting tomorrow at 2 p.m. in her home, 15816 Lakeview court.

Gardeners Must Register Plots

Victory Gardeners may qualify for their certificates of award only when they have registered their gardens, George Tomlinson, director of Victory Gardens for the Michigan council of defense, points out. He urges all citizens engaged in this phase of the war effort to register without delay.

"Gardeners should register their gardens at once in order to qualify for the emblem, which is issued by the Michigan council of defense in recognition of participation in a patriotic service," the Victory Garden director said in an urgent request for the registration of gardens.

Registration should be made with county and local Victory Garden chairmen, county and local councils of defense or the Michigan council of defense at Lansing. Victory Gardeners may register by personal letter or by filing printed forms. Citizens may thus secure certificates, which are well worth preservation in treasured family papers.

The Victory Garden emblems are printed in red, white and blue and are signed by Gov. Murray D. Van Wagener, Lieut. Col. Harold A. Furlong, administrator of the Michigan council of defense, and Tomlinson. Certificates bear the seal of the state of Michigan and the citation "For patriotic co-operation in planting a Victory Garden."

It is estimated that approximately 400,000 home gardens have been planted in Michigan and the Michigan council of defense is anxious that the gardeners receive the recognition due them for their participation on the war effort. Award of emblems will be made to gardeners during the Summer at county Victory Garden meetings, which are being arranged, and also at a number of county fairs. Governor Van Wagener is expected to make personal presentation where it is possible for him to appear, and many qualified gardeners will receive their emblems by mail.

Surveys reveal that weather conditions have benefited rather than hurt home gardens throughout the state and that a majority of them are flourishing.

JUNK needed for War

"What's it good for?"
 "Guns, tanks, and maybe part of a plane"

In the attics and cellars of homes, in garages, tool sheds, and on farms, is a lot of Junk which is doing no good where it is, but which is needed at once to help smash the Japs and Nazis.

Scrap iron and steel, for example. Old radiators, lengths of pipe, refrigerators, garbage pails, broken garden tools...

It may be rusty, old "scrap" to you, but it is actually refined steel, with most impurities removed—and can be quickly melted with new metal in the form of pig iron to produce highest quality steel for our war machines.

Even in peacetime our Nation relied on scrap to provide about 50% of the raw material for steel. Now production of steel has gone up, up, UP, until today America is turning out as much steel as all the rest of the world combined.

But unless at least 6,000,000 additional tons of scrap steel is uncovered promptly, the full rate of production cannot be attained or increased; the necessary tanks, guns, and ships cannot be produced.

The rubber situation is also critical. In spite of the recent rubber drive, there is a continuing need for large quantities of scrap rubber. Also for other waste materials and metals like brass, copper, zinc, lead, and tin.

America needs your active assistance in rounding up these materials. The Junk which you collect is bought by industry from scrap dealers at established, government-controlled prices.

Will you help?
 First—collect all your waste material and pile it up.
 Then—sell it to a Junk dealer, give it to a charity, take it yourself to the nearest collection point, or get in touch with your Local Salvage Committee.

If you live on a farm, consult your County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

HONESTLY, I DON'T KNOW whether I'm coming or going... er, that is I don't know whether Grosse Pointers are coming or going. I was beginning to believe that everyone and his neighbor had left Grosse Pointe to vacation... No one here to keep the home fires burning. But then I lent an ear to talk that says people are coming to Grosse Pointe for visits and the like so with every loss there's a gain.

HARRIET HEAMES VERY recently returned from a velvet visit at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Disch, and her cousin, Betty Disch, in Milwaukee... Harriet wasn't here long enough to add a lot of spark to the home fires, though... She said "hello" then hopped off again to spend a week with Jean Mullins in Chicago.

DON KAMMAR IS ONE LAD who will definitely help Grosse Pointe to keep its social spark glowing... Don came home from the University of Indiana last Friday and is planning to stay about three weeks.

THOSE WHO HAVE LEFT Grosse Pointe to add sparks to camp fires are Carol Evans, who is at Camp Wapameo, on Canoe lake... and Lois Gherig who is vacationing at the Four-Way lodge on Torch lake... It goes without words that Carol and Lois are just two of the very many spending a big bite out of the Summer basking in the sunlight at camps... along with KP duty and the like.

"GO AHEAD AND LEAVE AND see if we care," the kids here at home say to the kids vacationing in far-away resorts. "We can still have fun, you bet"... At a recent Boat club party we saw Angela Wierster and Paul Russel; Mary Jane McKenzie and Jim McGladwin; and Jane Uhl and Boie Rodgers.

BETTY JAMES ARRIVED IN Grosse Pointe last Friday to visit Janice Noy... Betty was here for the beach supper that Janice threw on Saturday.

SARA BEELER AND MARY Trendle entertained Norman Fryer, John Morse and Fran Vicars, RAF students at Grosse Ile, at Sara's home last weekend... This is strictly "pikka gen" say they in the RAF's meaning "made info".

U. S. production of steel in the first half of 1942 amounted to 4,500,000 tons, as against 4,000,000 tons for the first half of 1941. The largest steel year in World War I was 1918, when 4,000,000 tons were produced.

on taking care of your ELECTRIC RANGE

"Take good care of the things you have," reads the U. S. Government's Consumer's Pledge — and this applies with special force to many things that are irreplaceable.

- (1) Never use a stiff brush or sharp instrument to remove spilled food from heating elements. Food spilled on open surface units should be burned off.

By following these simple rules, you will be giving your electric range the care it deserves, and your precaution may help to avert a possible breakdown or damage.

Sound Picture Tells Farm Story Of War Effort

The state department of agriculture has just completed the filming of a new moving picture, "Foods for Two Fronts," telling the story of the farmer's part in producing quality foods to supply both the industrial and military forces.

The picture has its opening scene at Fort Custer, reception center for thousands of new troops. It shows them: in the mess line and other activities. Sources of the food they eat, as well as the food that is purchased for the industrial worker, and the care taken to see that quality products are delivered is related in an interesting manner.

The film is 16 mm. with sound and in color and is available for showing before luncheon clubs, school gatherings and like meetings upon application to the department of agriculture.

Ann Arbor — Training in the art of camouflaging civilian installations which have military value, such as factories and airports, may be offered in a course to be presented later this year at the University of Michigan.

Prof. Harlow O. Whittemore, chairman of the department of landscape architecture, is now at work mapping out the course after spending two weeks at Fort Belvoir in Virginia where special instruction in camouflage was given by U. S. army engineers.

Parents Warned of Danger Period for Infantile Paralysis

Emphasizing that outbreaks of infantile paralysis occur during the summer and early fall, Dr. H. Allen Meyer, state health commissioner, calls upon parents everywhere to be on the watch for the first signs of the disease.

"Calling a doctor early is particularly important in poliomyelitis," said Doctor Meyer. "The first stage of the disease, which may come on quickly, is usually indicated by slight fever, general uneasiness and often nausea and vomiting. Children may complain of stiffness or pain in the back and neck and of muscle tenderness."

"Prompt diagnosis followed by continued medical supervision and special care will greatly lessen the possibility of paralysis." Fifteen cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the Michigan department of health during the first half of this year.

Michigan department of health records for other years also show upturns in the number of infantile paralysis cases in July, August and September and in some years outbreaks of the disease continued through October indicating that these are the months when parents should be particularly alert for the first danger signals of the disease.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Spirit" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Aug. 9.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (I Cor. 2:9, 10): "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 512): "Spirit blesses the multiplication of its own pure and perfect ideas. From the infinite elements of the one Mind emanate all form, color, quality, and quantity, and these are mental, both primarily and secondarily. Their spiritual nature is discerned only through the spiritual senses."

Grand Rapids children will be evacuated to school buildings, township halls and other public buildings in Kent county, if the city is subjected to an enemy air raid, according to plans drawn by Chief Frank J. O'Malley and Capt. E. H. McConnell of the police department.

An average house contains 700 feet of electric wiring; a four-motored bomber needs 13,000 feet, or about two and a half miles, and a battleship requires 845,000 feet, or more than 160 miles, of copper wire.

Pointe Loses Civic Leader in Death Of Mrs. Booth

Funeral services were read Monday afternoon at the Grosse Pointe Memorial church for Mrs. Jean McLaughlin Booth, prominent club and social leader, who died suddenly Friday night in Harper hospital.

At the time of her death, Mrs. Booth was vice-president of the Sigma Gamma association, which she headed as president in 1941. She also served three terms as president of the Colony Town club. She was a member of the board of the Visiting Nurses association and helped organize the United Service Organization in Detroit.

Mrs. Booth had been ill for six months, but her death was unexpected. Her husband, James Scripps Booth, had left her bedside only 10 minutes before she was stricken with a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Booth were married in 1910. The residence is at 818 Trombley, Grosse Pointe Park. She is survived by her husband; a son, John McLaughlin Booth, now in war service, Washington, D. C.; two daughters, Mrs. Lloyd Reame Marentette and Mrs. Oscar E. Skinner, Jr., of Providence, R. I.; one grandson, David Marentette.

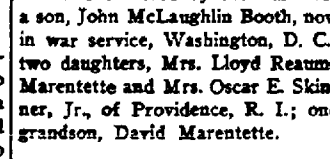

Promotion of Stephen Champlin, Grosse Pointe Farms fireman, to the rank of lieutenant, was approved by the village council Monday night upon recommendation of George Dansbury, fire chief.

Appointment of Harold T. Campbell, 183 Lakeview avenue, as a regular member of the fire department was also approved.

15 Years Ago This Week
"If the people realized the fire dangers caused by Riverview Park at Jefferson avenue and the Belle Isle bridge, they would be up in arms and fight for its removal," Fire Chief Stephen J. DeMay declared. "It is not only a menace to visitors but the congestion of auto-traffic and parked cars constitute a fire hazard to the entire surrounding neighborhood. If a fire did break out any night during the Summer, not only would the flimsy wood buildings in the park go up in flames, but the whole district would burn out before we could possibly get fire apparatus to the scene."

An exhibit of old fashioned flowers and herbs was to feature the annual show of the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society. Demolition work began on the elaborate old Russell A. Alger mansion at Fort and First streets in Detroit. The old homestead, with its famous stained and leaded glass windows at the head of the staircase, was one of the last of the elaborate old homes in that neighborhood, once the center of Detroit's social life. . . . Doctor Brownell was to divide his time between Grosse Pointe and New Haven during the period from Oct. 1 to May 15.

A rumor that a threatened epidemic of infantile paralysis might cause the closing of the waterfront parks was proved unfounded when the board of health reported that no cases of the disease had been reported in Grosse Pointe township. . . . Defense Worker's Eviction Stirs Tempest in Detroit

One of the Detroit papers had another shot at the favorite pastime of "exposing" Grosse Pointe's "greedy rich," early this week when they blazoned forth a story of how a defense worker and his family were ordered to move from a "28-room mansion" on University place. Actually all that lay behind the order was the routine execution of the city ordinance which forbids more than one family unit to live in a home in the area zoned for single residences. City of Grosse Pointe officials declared.

The police department first investigated early last Spring, on the complaints of neighbors, Thomas V. Trombly, chief of police, said. At that time the occupant of the residence, Mrs. Pearl Adams, was warned that she could not rent rooms in that district. A follow-up investigation was made in March, the chief said, and at that time the police found 11 people living there in addition to Mrs. Adams. A second warning was given at that time. When complaints continued to come in, the police investigated again and found that the number of occupants had grown to 16, including three family units and two individual roomers.

A court summons was issued and Mrs. Adams was warned by Justice Joseph Urvick to get rid of her tenants.

So much for the tempest.

Unity, Sacrifice, Action

This great task may be subdivided into three main jobs:

The job of supplying materials for our factories — which includes the important work of salvage and saving;

The job of production—which enlists all of the energies of a vast and constantly growing army of American craftsmen;

The job of transportation.

Let us see what progress we have made with each of these jobs.

Dave Lamoreaux of the Woods course expressed his appreciation for the fine co-operation of players in making the tourney a success. "Especially," said he, "do I want to thank Mrs. Sidney Small, chairman of the AWWSS, and Susan Duckett and Elizabeth Cooke, for their fine co-operation."

First and second winners were: Ralph Stitt and H. Mohr, for the men and Mary Schoefeld and Betty Neebe for the women.

There's A Moral Some Place; You Write the Headline

If Patrolman Michael Bem thought that William F. Jones was drunk the night of July 31, he shouldn't have permitted Jones to drive his car nearly a mile to the police station.

At least that was the reasoning followed by Justice Victor DeBaeke Friday night when Jones appeared in Grosse Pointe Woods police court to answer to a charge of drunk driving.

Patrolman Bem testified that he had started to follow Jones at Anita avenue and followed him out Mack to Nine Mile road before stopping him. He talked to Jones for a while, then ordered him to follow the scout car back to the station, he said.

Jones admitted that he had been speeding but denied that he was drunk. Justice DeBaeke agreed that if the officer had allowed Jones to drive, he couldn't have thought him very drunk either.

The justice dismissed the drunk driving charge but fined Jones $50 for speeding.

Jones lives at 1191 Chalmers, Detroit.

With The Men in Service

Thomas Ruby, who has been stationed with the U. S. coast guard in Detroit since his enlistment in April, has been promoted to second class petty officer, machinist mate. Ruby makes his home on Lakepointe avenue with his wife, the former Marlene Scherrer.

The names of three Grosse Pointe Farms men were included on the list of navy recruits who had enlisted during the week ending Thursday, July 30. They are Donald F. Tiche, William H. Frazier and Raymond F. Champine.

On his return to Camp Chaffee, Corporal Allard will leave for Fort Knox, Ky., where he is scheduled to report on Aug. 23 for officer's training. Corporal Allard qualified for officer's training when he received the highest mark out of a group of 28 men who took the examination. He was drafted from Grosse Pointe on March 25. Before his induction Corporal Allard was employed as public relations representative for Life and Time magazines, working out of the Cleveland, O., office. He is a graduate of St. Paul's high school and Wayne university.

WASH cans thoroughly after emptying contents. Remove paper labels. Labels usually come off anyway in flattening process.

OPEN cans, bottoms as well as tops. Tuck in tops and bottoms.

77-Year-Old Man Guilty of Molesting 5-Year-Old Boys

Despite his protest that he "loves little boys," Ruben C. Douglas, 77, was found guilty of indecent and obscene conduct with minor boys on the playground of Trombly school and placed on six months probation when he appeared before Justice Victor DeBake Monday afternoon in Grosse Pointe Park justice court. Douglas was convicted on the testimony of two five-year-old boys when detectives revealed that Douglas had been brought in for investigation on a similar offense last September. No charges were pressed at that time, detectives said, when they were unable to locate witnesses. Douglas was released in the custody of his daughter who promised the court that her father would leave Tuesday for Texas to stay with her brother.

ROSTER OF VERSATILE SPEAKERS LISTED FOR FISHER TOWN HALL

Recent news of Town Hall speakers who'll be coming to the Fisher theatre soon on Detroit's popular Wednesday morning series promises a lecture season of unusual vitality. Jan Struther, delightful author of "Mrs. Miniver" (and a brilliant speaker) is now being congratulated because the magnificent film version of her best seller is practically in the bag for the next Academy "Oscar." Leland Stowe, now in Moscow reporting the Nazi invasion, expects to be back in December for his lecture tour. This great reporter who is also an ace on the platform will have one of the biggest inside stories of the war. Eve Curie, an October Town Hall attraction, returned recently from the battlefronts of Egypt and North Africa where she went with the personal permission of President Roosevelt. Father Hubbard, famous "Glacier Priest" who has trekked the length and breadth of Alaska and the Aleutian Islands for the past 15 years, is in Alaska this Summer as civilian advisor to the United States army. His new documentary film, "Alaska — Keystone of Pacific Victory," promises to be the "must" lecture of the season. Archduke Otto of Austria is in Washington working toward the future liberation of his enslaved countrymen. He broadcast twice in a nationwide radio hookup on "Austrian Day," July 25, anniversary of the Nazi blitzkrieg of Austria. Carmen Amaya, world's greatest flamenco dancer, and her company of Gypsy musicians and dancers will open the season of 20 Wednesday mornings Oct. 14 at 11 a.m. In December, Town Hall will present the exclusive appearance of Larry Adler, world's greatest harmonica player, and Paul Draper, noted tap dancer, in a joint recital. Pierre van Paassen, Walter Duranty, Julien Bryan; Alice Duer Miller, author of "The White Cliffs"; Ernest K. Lindley, Washington radio commentator; Hallett Abend, New York Times Far Eastern correspondent; and Kathryn Turney Garten, are among the other big names to come.

"These bills are due when sent out, and, if not paid, they are added to the next year's general tax bill on that particular piece of property involved. "Some confusion may have arisen because, when notices were sent out, prices of 20 and 22 cents were quoted, but these prices were estimated before any bids were received. A very low bid was received on this work, and, even with the additional two cents per square foot added, is very reasonable and will compare favorably with any price that the owner may obtain directly. "However, the village commission would still prefer that the owners arrange for these repairs themselves and not be forced to make repairs under the procedure just outlined."

Kelly Warns of Last Minute Auto Tag Rush

Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state, said today that a serious shortage of help in his offices will make it difficult to give adequate service to car owners who wait until the last minute to renew licenses for the last half of the year. The deadline on first half year plates is Aug. 31 and some 175,000 motorists in Wayne county, more than two thirds of them in Detroit, are affected. In March due to reduction in department revenues because of the federal order freezing sale of new cars, decrease in gasoline tax and other collections, Kelly ordered six branch offices closed in Detroit. In addition to the reduction in personnel made necessary by war time economy measures, many other employees have joined the armed forces or taken higher paying jobs in war production plants. The only Detroit license plate offices now open are the main branch at 5800 Woodward avenue; Grand River and Kentucky avenues; Gratiot and Glenfield avenues and 600 East Vernor highway.

"These four offices, and all of them operating with greatly reduced staffs will have to handle the sale of last half year plates in Detroit," said Kelly. Therefore it is inevitable that car owners who wait until the last few days of the sale will have to line up for service."

The average household uses eight light bulbs a year; last year the army bought more than 8,000,000 to light the way to victory.
