Rep Charles A. Eaton (R of New Jersey) told the house this week that no member need apologize for taking a vacation during the present informal recess. "We're tired," Representative Eaton is quoted as saying. "We have been carrying tremendous responsibilities and burdens. We are entitled to a rest." After reading a remark like that from you, Congressman, we agree with you entirely. Yes sir, we think you need a rest, too — a permanent one.

Ill Health, Undernourishment Japs' Worst Foe Rotary Speaker, Home from Orient, Reveals

The physical weakness and general ill health of the Japanese soldiers and civilians will have as much to do with that nation's defeat by the Allies as America's gigantic industrial resources. That was the opinion expressed by Dr. Hubert Shirley Knoch, who spoke Monday noon at the luncheon meeting of the Grosse Pointe Rotary club.

Doctor Knoch, a native Detroit, graduate of the University of Michigan and post-graduate of the University of Colorado, returned home just before war broke out after a two year's trip through the Orient.

"Far more Jap soldiers in China died from disease than from bullets," he declared.

The Japanese soldiers are not only ill fed and ill clothed, Doctor Knoch said, but they have been brought up under conditions so unhealthy and unsanitary that the race as a whole has been degenerated.

"In fact, I know that one of the principal ingredients of the Jap soldiers' food rations is a cake formed from a mixture of bugs and worms," he declared.

As is the case in the other Axis nations, the common people of Japan themselves are not in sympathy with the war, he said.

Court to Review Case Before Returning Youth's License to Operate Car

The wild ride that 16-year-old James McNeff, of 835 Cook road, led City of Grosse Pointe and Detroit police last June 30 will be his last for the next 12 months.

He was first spotted by Officer James Flanagan, of the Grosse Pointe police force, when he ran a red light at Waterloo and St. Clair.

McNeff was arrested after he had led police on a chase during which he drove through a red light, 25 stop streets and speeded at a rate of times reaching 75 miles per hour.

McNeff later appeared at the station and identified himself as the driver after he learned that one of the passengers in his car had reported his name to the police.

Housing Problem Acute Schools Seek Relaxation of Housing Rules

Grosse Pointe's apathy toward the housing situation here, despite its threat to the welfare of school children, was disclosed this week when a public hearing was held.

So acute has the problem become, according to Dr. Paul Essert, superintendent of Grosse Pointe public schools, that the committee formed to study the problem is seriously considering petitioning the councils of the Grosse Pointe municipalities to relax restrictions in building and zoning codes.

Some fifty to sixty new teachers are expected to move into the Pointe this Fall, Doctor Essert said, to fill vacancies in the ranks of teacher personnel caused by men having been called away for military service.

Those who have responded to the suggestion and have come to the Pointe have received discouraging response from the citizens, he said.

Examples were the cases of two men with families who visited the Pointe this week in an effort to arrange for housing their families.

Those with houses to rent either objected to renting to families with children or were tied up with municipal restrictions, Doctor Essert said.

Over 65 irate Grosse Pointe residents packed the village council chambers Tuesday night to demand the reasons why the officials had not acted to prevent the flooding of basements in the storm last week-end and to demand what the officials plan to do to prevent the recurrence.

Residents reported storm waters had risen from 24 to 30 inches in the basements of their homes during the storm and bearded ruined floors, ruined furniture and wet coal piles.

After two hours of debate and after securing repeated promises of immediate action, the civic delegation withdrew, still dissatisfied and muttering threats of a need for a "new set of commissioners."

Merchants Commended by Treasury Department for War Bond Advertising

EDITOR'S NOTE—Following is the text of a letter received from E. W. Sloan, executive director, war savings staff, Washington, D. C.:

Mr. Paul J. Blackburn, Adv. Mgr., Grosse Pointe Review, Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan

Your unstinted contributions to the United States War Savings Bond program, both in freely publishing columns of publicity and in devoting much of your time and that of your staff to securing sponsors for official Treasury Department War Bond advertising have been tremendously helpful to this important phase of our Nation's war effort.

As you are so well aware, sponsored advertising is the only method the Treasury Department has for promoting investment in War Bonds through newspapers, and it is only through continued voluntary and patriotic contributions on the part of your advertisers that we can keep in front of the people the urgent necessity for everybody saving at least 10% in War Bonds every payday.

From time to time additional mats will be released to you and we feel sure you will present them to your advertisers as they appear. This is our only method of solicitation, and we thank you for the mats you have previously sent.

As it is possible for us to express our thanks personally to all the sponsors of War Bond advertising, I should be grateful if you would convey to your advertisers the Treasury Department's appreciation for the part they play in our war effort. Your cooperation is most appreciated and we will be glad to answer any questions you may have.

E. W. SLOAN, Executive Director, War Savings Staff.

JAPS

(Continued from Page One.) run of Japanese people, according to Doctor Knoch. "The Germans goose-stepped thru the streets, flaunting their physical and military superiority over their Oriental ally long before this war started," Doctor Knoch said, "and as a result of this attitude gained only the hatred and contempt of the people they were trying to impress." Real boogy-man to the Japanese people is Russia, he disclosed. And it is this fear of the Russians which has held back the Japanese government from organizing an attack on that hard-pressed nation. A medical man himself, Doctor Knoch naturally interested himself primarily in the physical condition of the people and in their health and standards of living. "The Japanese people are far from being the super-race they try to picture themselves to be," he said. "In general their health is greatly deficient because of the unsanitary way in which they live. "The city of Tokio, for example, has no sewers, no garbage collection and no methods of personal sanitation. Garbage is thrown into the streets where it is permitted to pile up and rot. The only service provided is an occasional sprinkling of the refuse with water to hasten decomposition. The people wear wooden shoes with cleats attached to the soles. You can tell how high the garbage has piled in the streets by the height of these cleats, which are adjusted to keep the people's feet out of the mess of rotting garbage and refuse." Toilet facilities consist of a hole over a chamber pot in the floor of a home, Doctor Knoch said. This "night-soil" as it is called is collected once each day by a man carrying an open pail and the human excreta provides the sole fertilization for the country's rice fields. "All in all Tokio in the morning is a pretty smelly place," Doctor Knoch observed. Medical science is practically unknown in Japan, he said, and prescriptions invariably include ground up snake. Indicative of the general disease and filth, members of the royal family itself are afflicted with a fungus growth which has eaten away portions of the scalp, he said. Indicative, too, that Japan has planned for war over a long period, Doctor Knoch said that while all houses in Japan are made out of paper, the government in the last two years has ordered tile roofs to be placed on the houses as protection against air bombs. "Lookout towers for fire watchers have been spotted throughout Tokio," Doctor Knoch said, "giving the city the appearance of the air of being a gigantic oil field. The towers are manned 24 hours each day to provide constant vigilance against air attack." Not a scrap of wool remains in the country for the civilians, he declared. "All the wool has gone to outfit the Jap navy." "Cotton has gone to form uniforms for the soldiers. This, too, is one reason that the Japanese war lords hesitate to attack the Russians. They cannot provide their fighting men with clothing warm enough to withstand the rigors of Russian Winters. With the cotton and the wool going into uniforms for the soldiers and sailors, civilians must content themselves with clothing made from wood and vegetable fiber."

SALVAGE

(Continued from Page One.) disposal of scrap metal, tin, rubber and paper, it is again emphasized that Tuxedo 1-1050 is a clearing house phone for all calls relative to junk, whether a resident wishes to sell or contribute. Last week's appeal in The Review for better preparation of tin cans for salvage purposes won considerable co-operation. It was explained that unless tin cans were prepared according to directions, they would become unusable for salvage reclaiming purposes. The steps in order are: 1. Wash cans. 2. Open cans at both ends, tucking in tops. 3. Flatten. 4. Deposit in container separate from trash, ready for collection. A.W.S. spokesmen again this week appealed for even better co-operation by every resident of the Pointe in this community's own part of the national salvage campaign. It was re-emphasized that the vital part of industry at the present is more salvage material to add to the available raw material needed to carry on the manufacture of some and munitions. It was further pointed out that the patriotic duty of every citizen is to immediately dispose of any tin cans in his household. Harper Association Plans Booster Parade For War Bond Sales

Plans for a huge parade and patriotic celebration that may even surpass last year's successful Harper Booster campaign finale were well under way this week as the committee for the patriotic rally to be sponsored by the Harper Business Men's association in October formally presented a request to the Detroit city council for permission to stage a parade on Harper between Conner and Cadieux. Glenn Bedford, president of the Harper association who is handling parade arrangements assisted by William Hartman, said that invitations had been sent to more than a score of bands in the city. War bonds will be awarded to bands and marching units as prizes. "We hope that every school band in this section of Detroit will be in the parade," Bedford said, "including Denby, Southeastern and Grosse Pointe high schools as well as grade schools." The parade will be held early in the evening followed by the association's annual feather party which has always been one of the big charity events in the Harper community. All of the money raised this year will be turned over to appropriate agencies for the benefit of the men in the armed forces. Paul Zoufal is in charge of arrangements for the feather party. The celebration will serve a secondary purpose in promoting the sale of war stamps and bonds. Bedford said. A.W.S. women in the community have already offered to sell stamps during the parade and at the party, he stated. The tickets used to promote a recent save plant sale were used to help supply the material needed for making 675 magnesium incendiary bombs.

HOUSING

(Continued from Page One.) said. In some cases where objections to children were raised, the house was located in areas populated by defense workers who sleep during the day and who are apprehensive that the noise created by the children would disturb their sleep. The other man intends to buy a home in the Pointe, Doctor Esbert said, but was able to find only one home that met his requirements. When he sought out the owner, he was asked to pay the near equivalent of one-half the purchase price as a down payment. This the teacher was financially unable to do. Hence, he too, is still without a home for his family here. One teacher scheduled to come here this fall has already resigned because he was unable to find a house here in which he could live, Doctor Esbert said, and if the situation continues, as it seems likely to do, there is every indication that Grosse Pointe schools will open in September with an understaffed teaching roll. The committee, composed of representatives of the Grosse Pointe public schools and the Detroit University and Grosse Pointe Country Day schools is now making a survey of conditions here with the view of submitting this material to the various Grosse Pointe officials in an effort to secure their co-operation.

for 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation by Charles F. Tuschling, secretary of the league.

The Marquardt Trophy league, organized 18 years ago, is named in honor of a charter member, "Dad" Fred Marquardt, honorary vice-president, who has provided a 25-year trophy, entirely hand-carved by him, on which names of teams and bowlers will be inscribed each year.

Team averages do not exceed 850 in the league and prize money ranged from $115 for first to $75 for last place last year.

All bowlers of the Grosse Pointe area are welcome to join the league. Further information can be obtained from Mr. Tuschling, 1930 Leominer boulevard, Tuxedo 2-8777.

New Food Feature At Club Stevadora

Eddy Shepherd has added another attraction to the many features of the Club Stevadora by the innovation of a new food policy which features fried chicken, frog legs or fried shrimp served in a basket with shoe string potatoes, hot biscuits and honey. Complete dinners are also being served from 5 p.m. each evening, in a delightful way that caters to the appetites of hungry people and connoisseurs of food.

Firemen Attend State Convention

Al Martin, president, and Henry DeClerk, secretary, of the Grosse Pointe Firefighters Association, attended the 10th annual convention of the Michigan association last Thursday at Alpena, Mich., where more than 250 firemen and their wives and guests were in session.

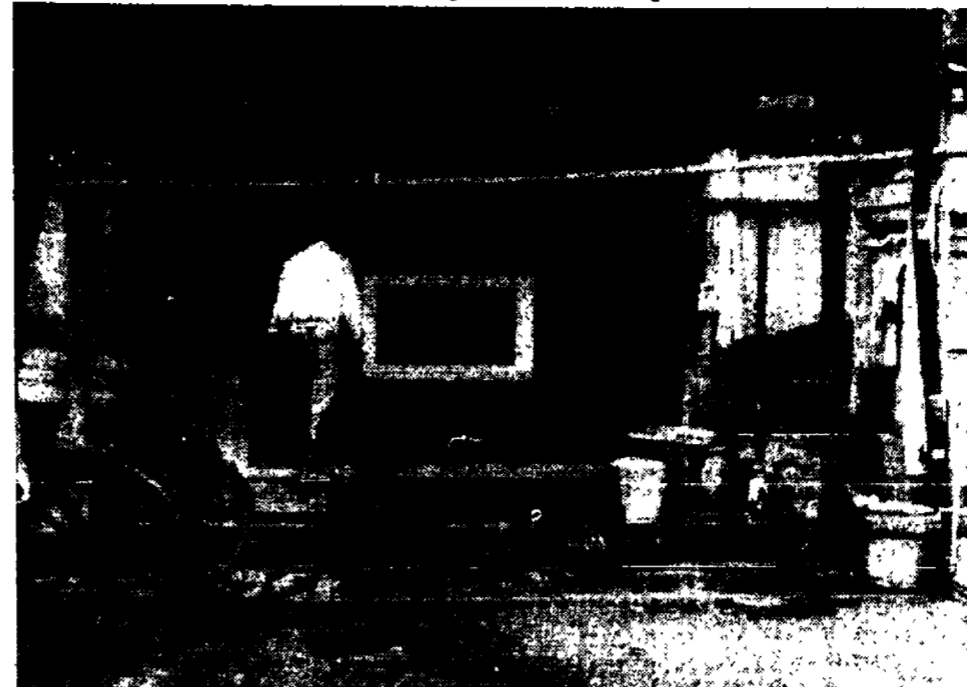

Featured speaker was John P. Redmond, Chicago, vice-president, who emphasized the importance of civilian defense units and denounced carelessness in fire prevention as a factor dangerous to the successful prosecution of World War II.

Redmond recalled four devastating fires which destroyed war materials, one of which burned $10,000,000 in rubber representing one-tenth of the nation's total supply. Another leveled an important parachute factory. The Normandie and an airplane factory fire were also listed.

"These costly conflagrations were caused by carelessness," Redmond declared.

Stevadora Troupe Aids Abbott and Costello In War Bond Show

Eddy Shepherd and his Club Stevadora troupe and band are to be congratulated for their success in bringing war money to Uncle Sam's hands when they went out to Hamtramck stadium to co-operate with Abbott and Costello in the war bond show. Over seventy-two thousand dollars in war bonds were sold thru their combined efforts to help Uncle Sam in his fight to "scrap the Jap."

The Club Stevadora floor show and Joe Banket's band were the only entertainers besides the two nationally famous comedians to take part in the fund raising show.

Pointe Bowlers Meet Tomorrow to Plan For Coming Season

The Grosse Pointe Business Men's Bowling league will hold its annual organizational meeting tomorrow evening, Aug. 21, at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Howard Heintzelman, 10121 Beaconsfield avenue.

All members are urged to attend the meeting, as it will be assumed that those teams not represented at the meeting do not intend to bowl in league competition for the coming season and the league will take immediate steps to replace the team.

Those unable to attend the meeting, but who plan to bowl, should call Heintzelman at Arlington 4727.

At the last regular meeting, the league decided to bowl at the Royal Recreation again this year. Alleys have already been reserved there for eight teams on Friday evenings at 9 p.m.

Unless more interest is shown by a greater attendance at tomorrow's meeting than has been shown in the past, there is a possibility that the league will be disbanded, Heintzelman said.

Produce and Save
The WPB moved once more to assist the flow of critical war materials to those points in our industrial system where they are most needed. Changes in the priorities system were made in order that the WPB may know the supply and requirements situation and meet the most important needs of our fighting men, even though it means further curtailment of goods for civilians. We no longer have enough to go around. We must put the weight of our production where it is most needed.

Restricting the use of war materials is one way of combating the material shortage problem. Salvage is another. We must have scrap metal to win the war.

REMEMBER?

15 Years Ago This Week
The first official statement regarding the model that would replace the Model T was made public in a letter signed by Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company. "We have accomplished with them a speed of 65 miles per hour which is slightly higher than we expected," Ford wrote. "We have found that they can be driven for hours at an average speed of more than 50 miles per hour without discomfort to drivers and passengers and without harm to the motor and other equipment."

10 Years Ago This Week
Lewis L. Bredin, Michigan commander of The Crusaders, Mrs. Frederick M. Alger, Michigan chairman of The Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, and Lee Anderson, chairman of the Michigan Joint Repeal committee, were leading the distribution of literature and calling mass rallies and conferences urging voters to go to the polls and vote for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Five Years Ago This Week
William E. Krapp, former Grosse Pointe Park village commissioner, died at his home on Kensington road after an illness of four years. The city of Detroit instituted suit against the Villages of Grosse Pointe, Grosse Pointe Park and Grosse Pointe Farms in an effort to break the then existing contract between the Grosse Pointe communities and the city which provided for the handling, by Detroit, of sewage from this area at a certain rate of payment.

One Year Ago This Week
The board of education planned to present the question of a bond issue of $150,000 to voters to provide for an addition to Mason school. The tremendous growth in the population and in the school enrollment in that district led to the decision, board officers said. The election date was set for Sept. 30. . . . Citing numerous instances of "immoral" and "scandalous" nature in and on the property of certain eating places in the village, Stewart Picard appeared at an executive meeting of the Grosse Pointe Park commission to urge the closing of three restaurants, Cupid's, Francois and Toddie House. The restaurant owners had presented their case at a previous meeting. Picard, an attorney, represented the hundred or more residents of the Park who signed a petition asking that disturbances around these three restaurants be halted.

The Home Front in Michigan

If production were our only problem we would be well on the way to solving it. Saturday a day goes by but what the labor management committees of great industrial plants in the east, midwest and Pacific coast report more production records smashed. A single plant has set more than a thousand production records since Pearl Harbor and its workers and management pledged it is as the nation we have set ourselves and the war is over.

'Hellzapoppin' Stars At Club Stevadora

This week's show at the Stevadora features the Wynn Twins, odd comedy pair that were a part of the original New York company of Hellzapoppin.

Tommy Tucker, billed as Hollywood's ace sound man, proves he is just that as he shows the people how to make the various sound effects that are often needed in animated film cartoons.

Further novelty is contributed by Orland, the Gentleman of Juggling, who has a great assortment of tricks that win favor with the audience. As usual, the singing and dancing parts of this week's show are very colorful and exciting.

Jack O'Neil, starting his seventh week at the Stevadora, has become as big a favorite as Ethel Shepherd, who still holds forth. Esther Deroz has dressed up the show with her Glamour Girls and for an exciting finish has the entire company and some of the audience doing "humbly-daisy," the exciting dance from Hellzapoppin. Joe Banket and his orchestra still take care of the musical chores.

Construction Jobs Still Open With U. S. Navy Reserve

Despite a record volume of recent enlistments by Michigan men in the U. S. navy's construction battalions, thousands of additional men with construction and mechanical experience are needed urgently to build new naval bases.

Lieut. Byron E. Flechtner, officer in charge of navy recruiting for this area, announced today that vast opportunities still exist for men from 17 to 30 years old, inclusive, to qualify for petty officer ratings paying as high as $120 per month in most of the trades and specialties which make up these battalions. There are generous additional monthly allowances for men with dependents.

Physical standards, particularly applying to vision and teeth, are lower for enlistment in the "Seabees" than in other branches of the navy. Men who have been classified in I-A or received notice to report for induction still are eligible to enlist in the navy. Information about the "Seabees" and all other branches of the navy may be obtained at any Navy recruiting station, without obligation to enlist.

Detroit's navy recruiting station is in room 343 of the Federal building.

Boat Registration Procedure Changed

All functions relative to the registration of numbered motor boats have been transferred from the offices of the various collectors of customs to the offices of the district coast guard officers, covering the customs collection district or part thereof in which said customs districts are located.

This change of authority and responsibility for numbering boats affects Michigan motor boat owners in the following ways:

Owners residing in that part of Michigan south of 46°, 20' north latitude and west of 84°, 45' west longitude will direct their application for numbers and other correspondence to the District Coast Guard Officer, Ninth Naval District, Chicago, Ill. All other Michigan motor boat owners will contact the Naval District, Cleveland, Ohio, relative to motor boat transactions.

Roughly, the lower half of the Upper Peninsula and the western half of the Lower Peninsula are under the Chicago District and the remainder of the state is under the Cleveland district.

O.K. TOJO—you asked for it!

YOU dished it out, with a head start by treachery—now we're going to see how you can take it!

We're ganging up on you, Tojo, in a way you and your Nazi friends don't understand.

Spreading like wildfire from coast to coast and from Canada to Mexico is our Payroll Savings Plan—get that, Tojo? Not confiscation—savings.

By the tens of millions, workers and employes of plants in every state of our country are cooperating with their unions and with management.

Of their own free will they're agreeing to put ten percent—a dime from every dollar—of their earnings in United States WAR BONDS.

Every payday the plant management sets aside this ten percent, then, each time it adds up to $18.75, the worker gets his Bond.

See, Tojo? Hundreds of millions of good U. S. dollars are going into the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships to blast you right out of your sandals!

And we're paying for it... the workers and employes... the farmers, doctors, lawyers... all of us of our own free will.

And—because this is the American way of doing things—we're building our own financial security, too, against the day when the war will be over—when we've shown you what decent, clean, free people can do.

Every year those War Bonds of ours increase in value, Tojo, until, after ten years, Uncle Sam hands us back TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS for every $18.75 we invested in beating you.

Get it, Tojo? It isn't the Jap way, the Nazi way, nor the Fascist way.

It's the free American way!

So, when you see those clouds of planes over your troops, your ships and your factories—when the tanks come at you

5 Reasons Why

- 1 By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we must have to survive and conquer.
- 2 You prove that you are a patriotic American.
- 3 You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.
- 4 You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.
- 5 You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.

spitting lead—and our good American boys get you on the run—remember, we're paying for it—Smith, and Harrigan, and Cohen, and Godowsky, and Leblanc, and Havlek, Americans all, in a free country.

So take it, Tojo—you asked for it!
