Dear God:

During the days of our early youth, Thanksgiving was joyously hailed as a feast day intended only for the stuffing of our small stomachs with the many goodies borne by a groaning table. We knew but little of the day's true significance and after sighing, slackening our belts a few notches, and wishing we could eat the meal all over again, we dismissed the day and cast longing thoughts in the direction of Christmas and its gift possibilities.

As we grew older, we learned that Thanksgiving could be observed even though the table was almost bare. We knew that same desire of the Pilgrims to set a day apart for the expression of gratitude for divine goodness, and we silently blessed Abe Lincoln, who You inspired to give his helping hands to humanity, for proclaiming a national day of thanks-giving and prayer in that horrible war-torn year

Yes, then as now, our country was caught in the unrelenting snare of war from which could be seen no immediate release. The people were bitter for they could see no reason to be grateful for blood and tears. The Pilgrims, too, had a dark future which mere minds were unable to penetrate. But they had faith; Lincoln's trust was unshaken. America was born; America lived on!

We know, dear God, that You have been the Beacon shining across the uncharted sea of years and have kept us from sinking or crashing onto unforeseen reefs. When we are weary and the sea is rough, You stand at the helm. We in turn silently give thanks and praise each day for Your constant concern.

The world is in her Gethsemane. Only You can understand and alleviate her suffering by continuing to shine brightly and bring her safely into the port of faith. The world is being tossed about like a frail craft upon angry seas. Her enemies are seeking to destroy her by the undertow of unbelief and fiendish hat-

Americans are the Bill of Rights, the Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, the Gettysburg Address, the letter to Mrs. Bixby, the Autocrat of the Breakfast Table all brewed into one. On each heart is inscribed our beloved flag. Oh, we are a gay, and sometimes zany lot, but we love our freedom. We read and like our comic sections and our games of competitive sport. We read our Bibles, give to the needy, go to our churches, *each the truth to our young, and challenge anyone who dares to ursurp our liberties. We have our grumblers and our cynics. We have those who will say, "Why should we give thanks? For what? Less coffee, tea, sugar, gasoline, meat, oil, and the threat of diminishing quantities of many commodities? We should be grateful for less than we have ever known!" But the rest of us rise up against them with the answer, "Eat your sugar and meaf, drink your hoarded coffee and tea, hurry and drive your car before the gasoline restrictions prohibit wasting tires on pleasure jaunts, perspire in the heat of your cozy bungalow, but, remember, you have crucified your own freedom. You have tied the noose that will mean your own death. If your conscience permits you, continue in your squandering. You are detouring the nation's march to victory! Continue if you would be a slave!"

This Thanksgiving, O Lord, many of us will be busy working to quicken America's pulse as she battles for right. We have to keep 'em flying, sailing, fighting, scrapping, marching, and winning! We echo in the now-worn but still effective, "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition!" The assembly lines in our factories will be unified in productivity. Many faces will be absent from the congregations in our churches. Some are hidden in the smoke of the battlefield, some are flying above the clouds in their search for those who have done us wrong, and the bluejackets and merchant marines are keeping their vigilance on the seas. America at war is a stern mistress. She holds high her torch and challenges anyone to defy her or to extinguish the flame. But she NEEDS her GOD. She sings His praises and acknowledges her obligation.

In many windows are small banners bearing stars to temporarily replace our sons. We are proud that they are able to serve and wish them Godspeed! We know there is much to be done to give them the support they need. Our letters keep them going, and our efforts keep them fighting. Thanksgiving Day is going to seem strange without them, but, on second thought, they will be with us. We are united in purpose and together in faith. None can be alone. They won't let us down, and we certainly can't let them down! We pray that You will keep them and bring them and Victory in the company of everlasting peace to our country.

So you see, God, Thanksgiving Day is more to us now than ever before. In our childhood we gorged the luscious food until our vitals ached. Now we are praying until our knees hurt! We are giving thanks that we are Americans! Our reverent supplication beseechs Your untiring aid. Granting that we may continue to be free and thanking you for our blessings, we unite in a resounding chorus of dependence only on You, our hope and our trust. — AMEN.

There's certainly something about a uniform. Shore enough! If there are any I-A's left, they can see for themselves as they pay a friendly visit to Draft Board 57. There they will find not only a cordial welcome, but a bevy of slick gals in trim uniforms to greet them. The girls of the board received the colonel's approval (and this column heartily agrees with him!) that they be permitted to don the attractive uniform of the selective service starting a week ago Friday. Our power plants are more efficient than they used to be. Our customers have helped to reduce prices by using more electricity - for better lighting, for cooking, for heating water, for dozens of jobs. We have learned how to do our part of the work better, have thought of many plans to save time and money, like the two-way radio sets for our trouble crews, and so on.

So there have been repeated rate reductions - right in the face of rising prices for almost all of the things which we have to buy to make electricity. It is a record of good service and of lower and lower rates, of which we are very proud.

Christian Science Entitled

Christian Science: The Science Which Demonstrates Man's Eternal Identity

Judge Frederick C. Hill, C. S. B. of Los Angeles, California

Monber of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Greech of Christ, Scientist, in Borton, Mas.

There is a general belief that man s a human being with a material budy, subject to birth, maturity, and death; that man possesses this body as his own and thus establishes his

This reasoning is untrue and must be corrected before the true status of man can be understood. If the real identity and individuality of man were in a human body or de-pendent on that sense of body, the destruction of the human body would include the annihilation of man's

It is reasonable to assume that the belief of annihilation entered Job's thinking and caused him to inquire, "I' a man die, shall he live again?" Regardless of trials and adversity he had hope of immortality. He wished to be assured, "Is my identity eternal?" The same hope that inspired Job in his despair is apparent now: and humanity is reaching out for some source of comfort and assurance against the material evi-

Gences of discord and destruction.

It has been said, "Hope springs eternal in the human breast." The human hope and longing for eternal life and for continuing identity is proof of the fact that Life is eternal Man has eternal life now by reflection. His identity and individuality are sternal in Soul and never were in a material, human body.

The destruction of a so-called human body in no way touches or affects the status of the real man. In Christian Science we find the established fact that man is a divine idea, unfallen and eternal, insepara-ble from God. As Mary Baker Eddy writes in her textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 476), "In divine Science, God and the real man are inseparable as the Principle and idea."

Caristian Science furnishes the Shuminating answer to Job's in july and to humanity's present fears, by the assurance that man lives because the assurance that man lives because he is the exact reflection of Life, that Life which knows no death. The eseption of this verity and its scration in human consciousness woving the words of Jesus, "If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death."

At some time in human experience

re must come the question, "What man?" The correct and logical clusion thereof must be in exact son to one's understanding of God and His universe.

The Psalmist David, contemplating the glory of God and the majesty of His works, inquired, "What is man, that thou art mindful of him?"
He saw man crowned with glory and honor and invested with dominion honor and invested with dominion over all things. He declares, "Thou hast put all things under his feet." His utterances are useless words unless there is some rational way of translating them into workable terms that mankind may understand and apply this dominion and put all things under his feet now even to the annihilation of the universal beher that man is a mortal, subject to death and loss of his identity. As you contemplate human experience with its mixture of joy and cerrow, pleasure and pain, health and sickness, success and failure there must come to you the inquiry,

"If man has dominion over all things, how do you account for such experi ences?" Dominion is sovereignty-supreme authority. Dominion is supreme authority applied. The discordant conditions of human experience are no part of your sover-eignty; and they have no reality or law to support them. Through understanding the nothingness of error you master every adverse condition; and through the unfoldment of the infinite law of Science-the Christ Science—you establish now with definite certainty your immortality Salvation is a present state of con aciousness that comes to the flesh because of the Christ. There is posi-tive salvation for every human being because the Christ comes to the mortal man, who is the only man who needs to be saved. If there were no man of flesh there would be no need for the saving Christ. Mrs. Eddy, in Science and Health page 583, defines "Christ" thus: "The divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incar-Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer

stands out as unique in her discernment that "understanding" is basic reality, and "belief" in error or materiality is unreality. Through the discernment of the allness of God, good, hence the unreality of evil as revealed to her, she established her church and founded a religious movement based upon the essential elements of primitive Christianity elements of primitive Christianity and Mind-healing. She gave to hu-manity a positive system for applying understanding whereby there is a yielding of belief, accompanied by the establishment of health and harmony.

Mrs. Eddy founded the Christian Science movement out of her revela-tion and experience in being healed and in healing others. Her religion, which she called Christian Science, is evidenced by The First Church of Christ, Scientist, The Mother Church, in Boston, and its branch churches throughout the world. Christian Science and the Christian Science movement are based upon the dem-onstration of the Christ, Truth, available in every human experience. No creed, dogma, nor ecclesiastical formula finds place in this church.

It is an organization of the nine-teenth century divinely established teenin century divinely established upon the allness of God, good, and the nothingness, the unreality, of evil In "Retrospection and Introspection," page 24, she makes plain what Christian Science is. She says: "I discovered the Science of divine metaphysical healing which I afterwards named Christian Science." wards named Christian Science. During twenty years prior to my dis-covery I had been trying to trace all physical effects to a mental cause; and in the latter part of 1866 I gained the scientific certainty that all causation was Mind, and every effect a mental phenomenon." Thus it was revealed that Christian Science is not a system of faith cures, but is the demonstrable, scientific understanding of Mind. God. Perhaps there is nothing that so clearly distinguishes Christian Science from other religions and doctrines as Mrs. Eddy's logical deduction: "The Scripture pronounces all that God made 'good;' therefore if evil exists, it exists without God. if evil exists, it exists wanted to But this is impossible in reality, for He made all 'that was made.' Hence the inevitable revelation of Christian Science—that evil is unreal; and this is the best of it" (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Mis-cellany, p. 1781. "There is no evil in Spirit, because God is Spirit" (Science and Health, p. 335).

The First Demand

The time approaches when mankind must awaken to the full realisa-tion and apprehension of the debt of gratitude due to the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science and Founder of Christian Science for what she has done to free mortals from the bondage and slavery of the belief that evil is real and more powerful than good. We may rejoice in the health, happiness, sunshine.

establish in the consciousness of humanity. To experience the full fruition of this Science there must hatton of this Science there miss be strict obedience to the first demand, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (Bible). In the Christian Science textbook Mrs. Eddy reminds us (p. 467), "This me is Spirit." You prove that evil is jurgal when you demonstrate the unreal when you demonstrate the all-inclusiveness of Spirit, which is

There is no record of any human being who so fully and so completely demonstrated man's oneness with God as the man Christ Jesus. His words and works furnish ample proof that the account of man's creation, as recorded in the first chapter of Genesis, is true. The declaration is: "God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him;" and, "God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good."

Jesus defined God when he said.

"God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." By this saying he emphasized the fact that there is no material or corporeal sense of God in true worship. God is not humanly personalized nor located in a material place. He is Spirit and is infinite. Referring to his works and mission. Jesus made it plain that the works which he did were not his works. He said, "The Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works." This would imply that Jesus recog-nized the actual presence and power of one Mind, and that the outward appearances which have been termed 'his works" were the manifestation of his understanding of one infinite Mind, God. Jesus' Works

All the works of Jesus were ac-complished through his clear spirit-ual perception of the one Mind, God. Paul's admonition is to let the sam Mind be in you that was in Chris There is ample reason and authority for Mrs. Eddy's conclusion that "all is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation" (Science and Health, p. 468) From this basis you approach the realization of one perfect God, who is not only infinite, but who is also all-inclusive good, and likewise the understanding of perfect man, and by reflection demonstrate the all-inclusiveness of good and the nothingness of everything that is unlike and opposed to good. The civine fact is that good alone is real and that which is not good is unreal Perpetual unfoldment is the law of God, and consists in separating good from evil beliefs and thus redeeming and transforming human conscious ness until it yields to the conscious of that Mind which was in Christ Jesus.

Jesus was not the Christ; he mani-ferted the Christ. He appeared as a human being; he knew the divine fact that Life was demonstrable; and consequently he was able to d-monstrate manage, and direct what is called material existence He demonstrated that although Life s not material, it had the evidence of oving a continuance of material life had the evidence of a human He knew that Life and Spirit ore the culvircelity, any the spinitual fact of head ground be demonstrated. therman the saudeance of the privation and would lose the active to possess it.

What did Jesus do? He proved beyond all question that there is no death. How did he do it? He proved that there is no death by coming out of it. He established that death is merely the belief in a falsehood—the belief in that which is untrue If you stick to the fact that there is no death, for you the fear of death will abate until eventually you will begin to perceive the fact that there is no death. Others will do the same thing until sometime the evidence of death will disappear. The Bible says death is an enemy. It says, "The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death." Christian Science is the law by which you demonstrate the eternal verity that the real man is spiritual and, as the Bible declares, is the likeness of God. The real man does not become that God likeness he is that likeness; and it is your privilege to demonstrate to prove that fact by living and not by dying. In the Godlike consciousness there is no death.

"In the illusion of death, mortals wake to the knowledge of two facts (1) that they are not dead; (2) that they have but passed the portals of a new belief" (Science and Health,

God Revealed

Some six thousand years ago, God revealed Himself to Moses at the burning bush as "I AM THAT I AM" (Exodus 3:14). There was no material person talking to Moses on this occasion. God is not a person, neither is there space between God and man. It was the realization of the oneness and unity of Being that enabled Moses to perceive the characteristics and the qualities of God. He must have discerned the fact that God is Spirit, the source, substance and law governing all true being. It was the Christ which came to Moses that made him aware of his identify -his openess with "I AM THAT I AM," God. It was his realization of the one Mind operating in his own consciousness that enabled him to consciousness that enabled him to lead the children of Israel out of bondage. It was not the material man Moses doing this. It was Moses expressing true selfhood, demonstrating openess with Mind, and confirming the facts set forth by Mrs. Eddy in Science and Health, rags 427, where the new "Turnertal". page 437, where she says, "Immortal Mind, governing all, must be acknowledged as supreme in the physical realm, so-called, as well as in the spiritual."

In the Christian Science textbook Mrs. Eddy has defined God as: "The great I am; the all-knowing, allseeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all sub-stance; intelligence" (p. 587). "God is one God, infinite and perfect, and cannot become finite and imperfect" (fbid.). The above seven terms are systemymous expressions for the one and only field and express His establish the divine fact that God is incorporeal Being, as distinguished from a human concept of Him.

Mind Cause Manifestation

The function of Mind is to manifest intelligence, knowledge, good-ness, mercy, justice, health, harmony. These attributes are all included in Mind, and from the allacting nature of Mind are expressed. Do not lose sight of the fact that all is Mind, "and its infinite mani-festation, for God is All-in-all" (Scirestation, for God is All-in-all" (Sci-ence and Health, p. 468). God has not changed, but belief about Him is changing. Belief is passing away; and the understanding of the ali-presence of Mind is redeeming human consciousness; and divine consciousness, which is "God with us" is appearing. It is God with you, because you are manifesting and reflecting the God-qualities, and are becoming more and more Godlike. The image and likeness of Mind must include all that proceeds from Mind. Thoughts or ideas emanate from Mind. Mind. God. is incorporeal. Ideas emanating from Mind are incorporeal. Hence, the logical conclusion is that man is not material; he is a divine idea express-ing all of the qualities of Mind.

If you assume one infinite cause, you have to assume an effect, and it must be infinite. When you seek the true concept of God, you do so because you wish to find out what man is. It may be that your primary interest is not so much what God is, but "What am I, and what is my destiny?" The Bible answers your question. The Bible says that man is the exact image of God. God is Mind; then man is the image of Mind; then man is the image of Mind; the exact representation of God. God is Soul; then man is the image of Soul; the exact representation of God. God is Spirit; then man is the image of Spirit; the exact representation of God. God is good: then man is the image of good; the eract representation of God. God is Life; then man is the image of Life; the exact representation of God God is Truth; then man is the image of Truth; the exact representation of God. God is Love; then man is the image of Love; the exact representation of God. God is divine Principle; then man is the image of Principle; the exact representation of God. The real, spiritual, and only man evidence, the expression, of one infinite and all inclusive consciousness, God. God is omnipresent, always present. The real man is God's exact likeness, and the recognition of that fact on our part will erable us always to be where we ought to be The real and only man is omnipresent, and it is your task to demonstrate that omnipresence. As you do this, you are applying the law that directs human footsteps and that improves your material existence You are finding out something about the real man, and in so doing you are finding out some-thing about your spiritual identity As you learn more about your tru identity, you will demonstrate and express the real man. The man of God's creating, then, is a compound idea reflecting all the ideas and attributes of God and fully endowed with the capacity to reflect infinite consciousness. Hence, the inevitable expression of intelligence, goodness mercy, health, harmony. Man is inseparable from God, his creator.

The realization that man is conscious manifestation of Mind, establishes the true sense of health, improves business and social conditions, banishes poverty, and solves the problems of human existence.

God, infinite, divine Mind, recognizes no strife nor oppression, no war nor destruction. God's nature and character is Love, and His love is infinite. By claiming his sonship to God, man establishes his nature and character by being loving, kind, considerate, charitable, pure, tender, and compassionate. These states and stages of consciousness establish the fact that if strife and oppression, war and destruction seem to be real to you, you are not demonstrating the nature and character of God, Love, and are not demonstrating your real selfnood.

Man is not God. "Man is the expression of God's being" (Science and Health, p. 470). God is Love, and Love expressed is man. Claim this as your divine right now, and you will gain the true sense of your identity, which will establish for you freedom resignation and analysis. freedom, redemption, and salvation from the bondage of materialism. True freedom is gained as one asserts his oneness with the Father in every thought, word, and action. The demonstration of your identity is the demonstration of true selfnood and is freedom. It is individual thinking that establishes freedom for you and for all. It is not gained by the despotio demands of one man nor by any combination of men. It is not dependent upon what others are thinking, but it is dependent upon what you are thinking and doing. Your demonstration of one Mind, all-inclusive good, establishes the law of freedom which operates in human affairs as the law of harmony in your business, your home, your community, and your nation. It will end war in your consciousness, and when more universally understood will ensure peace to the

The experience of a very eminent lawyer illustrates the freedom and physical healing that come through right thinking. This man had established himself as a most successful lawyer. He became self-centered, egotistical, overbearing, and contemptuous. In due time, his practice began to abate. He lost the esteem and good will of his fellow lawyers and of the courts. He lost his former ability to present convincing evi-dence before juries, and no longer seemed to rightly interpret the law before courts. He lost his cases, his practice, his reputation as a lawyer; and through worry and disappoint-ment he became physically ill.

This lawyer had no religion al-This lawyer had no religion, authough he was what is termed a good, moral man. His wife was a Christian Scientist, and many years before his physical and bu copy of the Christian Science tex-book, which he had never read.

Through urgent solicitation from the wife a friend called upon him and had a long interview regarding his troubles. At that time his con-stant inquiry was, Why? Why have I lost my practice? Why have I lost the respect of friends and courts? Why have I lost my health? A simple illustration answered his in-

His attention was called to a boiling teakettle and to the fact that the boiling therein liberated the impurities and lime held in solution in the water. The force of the steam is unnoticed until the opening in the spout is closed by the released impurities; and then when the open-ing is closed, an explosion is the for twenty years he had been virtually a "boiling teakettle." His tually a "boiling teakettle." His belief in intellectual brilliancy had liberated the impurities of egotism pride, contempt, and self-sufficiency and the "explosion" was inevitable It was apparent that the mental boiling was the cause of his physical claim of high blood pressure.

The thought of this patient was directed toward an understanding of perfect God and perfect man as the solution for all his troubles. It was not hard for him to understand that law operates regardless of all operations to the degree of the solution to the solu opposition to its decrees. It was not hard for him to accept that there is one supreme law and hence one supreme Lawmaker, God. He say clearly that if mankind through wrong thinking could do evil, man could reverse this process and think rightly, and thereby conform to the divine law of God, which is freedom from all evil beliefs. He agreed to reverse his entire mental procedure He agreed to and did make a carefu study of the Christian Science textbook; and through the daily study of the Lesson-Sermons he came across this citation from Science and Health (p. 467): "It should be thoroughly understood that all men have one Mind one God and Father one Life, Truth, and Love. Mankind will become perfect in proportion as this fact becomes apparent, war will cease and the true brotherhood of man will be established "I have been at war with myself for twenty years. It is now ended, and I am determined to do my individual I am determined to do my individual bit toward establishing the brother-hood of man." He was healed in every sense of the word. He re-gained his health, his former prac-tice as a lawyer and his social standing as a good and respected citizen

It is essential to revert continually to the divine fact that all is Mind, one Mind, God, and to declare continually and understandingly that omnipotence never falls; your realization of the all-inclusiveness Mind precludes failure Continue this process of constructive thinking and the human senses will actually see what is taking place, and will vield human beliefs to the divine harmony of Mind.

By knowing the presence of the one Mind as the only intelligence, power, and presence, we deny the belief or claim of intelligence and power, manifest as evil, and be this process nullify the claim or its mani-festation as evil results. Anything that presents evil as real or impend ing, or any suggestion that evil might occur, must be denied and re-jected, thus preventing the evil in advance.

Identity-Individuality

We recognize and identify things according to certain characteristics. This is "identification." Humanly interpreted, it is based upon the assumption that identity is a material something. The human mind is accustomed to attaching a belief of life to some-thing. It sees what it believes and it believes what it sees. It sees a material, human body; and it at-taches a belief of life and identity to it. What kind of body is it? To th human senses it seems to be substantial; but in reality it is a subconscious state of mortal mind presented to the senses and objectified and recognized as an objectabody. It is mortal mind's concept of body. It is a counterfeit of the divine fact of body. The divine fact divine fact of body. The divine fact is that body is spiritual and is not material. The divine fact is that you have a real, spiritual being, unseen and unrecognized by the material senses. The divine fact also is that your true identity and individuality are unseen and unrecognized by the material senses, and are not established in a material sense of body. Your real identity is estab-lished in Spirit and is revealed and unfolds in proportion to your demon-stration of your selfnood which is spiritual. You are the likeness of Mind, Soul, the embodiment of right ideas. Your real, unseen identity is the real man, perfect, whole, com-plete, indestructible, and harmonicus in every way. Your identity is estab lished in Soul and is not in matter.

It is a perfect state of consciousness, and will become manifest in your human experience in the degree that you apprehend and experience spirit-ual qualities.

You can correct and eliminate all the mental pictures you entertain about your body—anything erroneous that may appear to be on it or in it. Divine law operates to correct and to adjust every wrong thought, picture, or condition that confronts you. By holding to the fact that your body is the embodiment of divine ideas, which is the truth about your body, brings into action and operation the divine law until the human mind's concept of your body yields its erroneous beliefs, and nor-mal action, health, and the harmony of the divine Mind are made eviden by and on your human concept of Jesus was a human being, and possessed a human body. He demon-strated the fact that Life is not in a body, and that his life could not be destroyed by the crucifixion be-cause his real selfhood was the eternal manifestation of that Life which is God. His realization of man's oneness with his Father made it possible for him to rise above the crucifixion until in his final experi ance called the ascension, he rose above all material beliefs and con-ditions. His real, spiritual body came to his consciousness with this final experience. It was the culmination of all that had been going on during his work among men—called "his mighty works." an "Miscellaneous Writings." page 189, Mrs. Eddy has given us the key to his greatness. She says, "The meek Nazarene's steadfast and true knowledge of pre-She says, "The meek Nazarener steadfast and true knowledge of preinseparability of God and man,-

The Christ man is man immacu-late and complete. He is the image of his Maker and is uncontaminated, uncontaminable, unassailed, unas-sailable, incomparable, perfect. This is the truth about you as the man of God's creating. Man never sinned, he knows no such thing as sin; man is ever sinless, deathless. He knows ing is closed, an explosion is the result. It required no amplification. He understood it and remarked that nal presence. You and I are the reflection of the infinite, eternal presence of God, for we, as spiritual ideas, are the evidence of the omnipresence of God-the exact likenes of Him. The realization of infinite, eternal Spirit is our substance. We are all the same substance, for we reflect the same Spirit. As we reflect the oneness of Spirit we demonstrate the oneness of Being, our immortal, eternal identity. There is no limitation to spiritual knowing and understanding. It is universally available. The same "steadfast and true knowledge of preexistence, of the nature and inpreexistence, of the nature and in-separability of God and man," will equip you with spiritual understand-ing so you will demonstrate your identity and your real body, eternal, harmonious, and never touched by the mortal beliefs of sin, sickness, birth, maturity, death, and decay. You have a real identity, a spiritual and indestructible body, now, but you must demonstrate and prove that must demonstrate and prove that divine fact in some way Christian Science has come as a revelation to humanity, showing the nature of the indestructible man. Mrs Eddy's vision of this man should be an in spiration to you. In Science and Health, page 76, she says: "The sinless joy,-the perfect harmony and immortality of Life, possessing un-limited divine beauty and goodness without a single bodily pleasure or pain.—constitutes the only veritable. indestructible man, whose being is spiritual. This state of existence is scientific and intact.—a perfection discernible only by those who have the final understanding of Christ in divine Science. Death can never hasten this state of existence, for death must be overcome, not submitted to, before immortality ap-pears."

There is an ever-increasing recognition among people generally that correct and intelligent thinking liberates and puts into operation in human affairs the infinite forces of Mind expelling the fears and anxieties of individuals and estab-lishing freedom and right action. The following paragraph from a curren' magazine says. Too long our whole concept of immortality has suffered from the peculiar misconception that immortality is a state of being that occurs when we die! But if we are immortal at all, we are immortal now, this very moment. Why postpone our adjust-ment to a sublime condition? Let us ment to a subtime condution? Let us be as fearless in the discipline of our souls as of our bodies. It is amazing how completely tangled nerves relax, how anxieties and fears evaporate, if once we incorporate into our daily philosophy of life the slogan, 'Use your immortality now.' We heartily agree with the writer and the recommendation to "use your immortality now," and we would add to the recommendation. "Claim and use your eternal identity now." You will discover amazing results by this course of action. Of course, there will come a question, "How can I do it?" It can be done as you get some correct idea of your present status.

Real consciousness is cognizant only of divine ideas which emanate from the divine Mind. God, man, and the universe constitute all there is, and your consciousness of Mind is all there is to you. Eternal identity and individuality always have been and always will be maintained by Mind.
Mrs. Eddy, speaking of this in Science and Health, says on page 70:
"The divine Mind maintains all identities, from a blade of grass to a star, as distinct and eternal. The questions are: What are God's identities? What is 801/2 Dear its or questions are: What are God's identities? What is Soul? Does life or soul exist in the thing formed?" Referring to Jesus, she says in "Miscellaneous Writings." page 104, "His unseen individuality, so superior to that which was seen, was not subject to the temptations of the fiesh, to laws material, to death, or the grave. Formed and soverned by God. grave. Formed and governed by God, this individuality was safe in the substance of Soul, the substance of Spirit,-yea, the substance of God, the one inclusive good." Your unseen individuality is superior to your material sense which identifies you as a human being. Your individuality is established and preserved in Soul, and is not subject to change or and is not subject to enange or chance. Your individuality is a con-tinuous and elernal unfoldment of Soul because Soul is infinite. And because it is infinite, your identity as a son of God becomes the subject and the object of individual demon-stration through the Science of Mind-healing, which is Christian

Illustration One cold Sunday afternoon, an emaciated, dirty, intoxicated, poorly clad human being entered the auditorium where a Christian Science lecture was soon to be given. The stranger had no concept of where he was and soon fell asleep. When the lecture was used to completion, the man awake sober. Apparently all that he could remember of the lecture was the statement, "The study of the Bible and the Christian desired textbook has healed hundreds and will heal you." He borrowed a copy of Science and Health by Mary Baker Eddy from a loan library, and after reading it through had a desire to possess a copy of his own which he secured. One week passed and he had no desire for liquor. He located a branch Church of Christ Scientist and attended in the read of the secured. of Christ, Scientist, and attended services. His clothing was worn and poor, but the man was clean and respectable. His reformation transformation had begun. He es-tablished himself in a small business; he became interested in church activities, and in due time became a member of a branch church; he was reconciled to his wife, from whom he had been separated, and they re-established their home.

Several years later, the same lecturer was lecturing in another city and was presented to the usher staff. A splendid-looking man stepped up and introduced himself as the one who entered the lecture auditorium on the cold Sunday afternoon. Was he the same man? Through the reformation of his thought, his physcal body had been transformed. The beliefs that had identified him as an emaciated, dirty, and drunken human being were gone, and he presented a better belief of a human body because the human mind had yielded to the divine sense of harnony in Soul. He was proving his true identity as a child of God, and thus presented the evidences of a better human being. It will be help-ful for you to study and ponder what Mrs. Eddy says in "Miscellaneous Writings" on page 185: "Self-renunciation of all that constitutes a so-called material man, and the acknowledgment and achievement of his spiritual identity as the child of God, is Science that opens the very flood-gates of heaven; whence good flows into every avenue of being, cleansing mortals of all uncleanness, destroying all suffering, and demonstrating the true image and likeness." The recognition that man's identity is the individualized manifesta-tion of Soul, not in a human body, reveals the verity of man's being, his oneness with God. Man's one ness with God establishes the fact that identity, preexistence, and im-mortality are his by divine right. This fact is useless unless we can claim and use it right where we seem to be Christian Science shows you how to claim your identity to you how to claim your identity in Soul, how to demonstrate health, substance, abundance, and all that is good. It shows you how to demonstrate and embody the attributes of God so that there is no room for belief in a poor man, a sick man, ar unhappy man, or a dead man. Christian Science shows you how to prove the statements of Christ Jesus: "I and my Father are one;" "Gloraly thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was;" and "Before Abraham was, I am" With positive assurance claim as your own these eternal verities. You will soon agree with Mrs. Eddy's statement in "Miscellaneous Writings," page 47, where she says, "Science reverses the evidence of material states." sense with the spiritual sense that God Spirit, is the only substance; and that man. His image and likeness is spiritual not material. This great Truth does not destroy but substantiates man's identity gether with his immortality and preexistence, or his spiritual coexistence
