

Toy Club Launches Tenth Annual Christmas Charity Campaign

POINTE PARAGRAPHS

By THE POINTER

Although Thanksgiving was not a holiday for Bluejackets in training at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., there were 3,000 turkeys, plenty for all, prepared for the annual feast. Parents of Michigan sailors stationed at the world's largest naval training station will be glad to know that along with generous servings of turkey, their boys had all of the trimmings.

Michigan sailors and their buddies from all over the nation sat down to what was probably the largest Thanksgiving Day dinner in the nation. In 20 mess halls at Great Lakes, 750 cooks and bakers prepared and served not just 45,000 pounds of turkey, but 15,000 pounds of ham too!

An idea of the immensity of the feast will be had by a glance at the quantities of food the commissary department ordered for Nov. 26: 150 cases of ripe olives, 10,000 pounds of stuffed celery, 3,000 gallons cream of tomato soup, 3,000 pounds soda crackers, 300 gallons oyster dressing, 6,000 pounds cranberry sauce, 27,000 pounds buttered cauliflower, 30,000 pounds candied sweet potatoes, 65,000 rolls, more than 1,200 pounds of butter, 11,000 pumpkin pies, 2,000 gallons of ice cream and 2,000 pounds of coffee.

This column seems to have started with the telling of Thanksgiving tales, so in keeping with the general theme here are several more items about those Temptin' Turkeys in the Pointe except that these are rather a sly note.

A Rivard boulevard resident reported to the City police that unless her eyes were deceiving her there was an honest-to-goodness turkey in her back yard the day before Thanksgiving. So beating us to the punch were City Officers Tettaert and Roberts. (Durn! 'T would have been like manna from up above!)

This column had been searching for a turkey for days for one that had been lost, strayed, or stolen. When the bird flew on the roof of a house, the patrolmen were able to catch it or to coax it down to a lower level, so the only thing left to do was to shoot it. An investigation showed that the

REMEMBER?

Fifteen Years Ago This Week

Norbert P. Neff and John Carrier were in Grosse Pointe hospital following a heroic but fruitless attempt to rescue an unidentified man adrift in a boat on the storm-tossed waters of Lake St. Clair. It was reported that the man reached shore after that the man reached shore. Neff and Carrier had seen the man trying for help and had launched a flat-bottom skiff to rescue him. They were more than 1,000 feet from shore when their craft was overturned by the waves half way between the pier on the Dodge estate and the Grosse club dock. Both men clung to the boat until their limbs became numb, and they decided to swim ashore. Their cries were heard by Patrolmen Edward Trombley and Tom Collins and by two employees of the Dodge estate, Tom Parrish and George Stahl. The four men put out to the rescue and pulled the exhausted men ashore and rushed them to the hospital. Faith Lutheran church began to broadcast its services over radio station WMBE.

Ten Months Ago This Week

On Monday evening, Nov. 23, a group of Grosse Pointe artists opened their fifth annual exhibition at the Neighborhood club. The show was to continue until Dec. 10 and was open to the public. Miss Agnes Anderson, of University Place, was starting in George Seaton's sophisticated comedy, "Together We Two" at the Playhouse. St. Columba announced their Christmas bazaar to be held Dec. 7 at the parish. It was revealed that the Philathenians and Hi-Y clubs of Grosse Pointe high had delivered 53 baskets to needy families in the township last Wednesday. Each basket held enough food to last each family for a week.

U-M CLUB SPONSORS DEC. 7 EVENT

Annual Membership Drive Started Here by Philanthropists

Once again the Toy Club steps forward with its slogan "Not a Kid Without a Toy for Christmas" as the tenth annual drive for membership is launched this week.

Some little orphan, or some little crippled child, or some other needy child will have his heart warmed at Christmas time if you will open your purse and send in your membership and that of the entire family, now. Dues are but 50 cents per member and you may enroll your entire family.

Don't be surprised if you are approached soon by one of Grosse Pointe's best friends of children, a policeman or fireman, with a little membership application.

Your membership means that you have done your part to bring happiness to an unfortunate child at the time of year when they should most be remembered.

Dedication to the Toy Club

The purpose of the Toy Club is full and clear. Has again in turn to meet another grateful year, Ever ready to bring joy to each under-privileged dear. Time is here again for kindly hand to extend. Offering the good will to give a gracious lend, Yes: This will make you some one's good friend. Christmas: Eager ones are looking for small treasure, Life's grateful heart would mount, for this pleasure, Understand — Insistent call towards other gives genuine pride, Beyond your door go: Bring cheer, so that none are set aside. Pauline Piel.

Pointers Urged to Join in Search for Unused "Jalopies"

Hundreds of old cars are available for the Grosse Pointe "Jalopy Round-Up" which consists of directing them into automobile graveyards during two weeks of concentrated effort from Dec. 1 to the 15, inclusive.

Neil Blondell, city assessor and director of salvage for this area, announced the campaign in the Review last week and urged Pointers to locate unquestionable "junkers" the majority of these are unused and unlicensed cars or trucks, to convince owners of junkers to sell them immediately for scrap, and to do this within 15 days.

It should be understood that any car which is transportation is not a "jalopy." Transportation comes first "jalopies" next.

Any one having such an old car or knowing of any abandoned "jalopies" or trucks ready for the junk heap from which weapons that will hasten the Axis defeat will be made should call Mr. Blondell at NL 5800 as soon as possible.

Donations Needed for Christmas Party for Service Men

Contributions for the Hostess Corps' huge Christmas party under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bert Spurrier are needed and will be welcomed. These parties which offer an evening's entertainment for a large number of boys in the service of our country are given through the kind co-operation of patriotic donors. Anything you can spare to give a lonely boy in a strange country a Merrier Christmas, will be appreciated. Mrs. William Teetzal, treasurer, will be glad to accept your donation. For further information call NL 3089 or address your contribution to Mrs. Teetzal at 342 McMillan.

Car Borrowed for Joy Ride; Returned

Harold Altor's car was stolen from an inn on Mack avenue only to be returned and parked by the roadside. Someone had driven the car in which the keys had been left and returned it with the motor hot and the car muddy. Mr. Altor resides at 105 Oak street.

Lions Announce Plans; Annual Goodfellow Sale

Dr. Werner Kersten, president of the Grosse Pointe Lions club, has appointed the committees for the 14th annual "Old Newsboys" street sale of The Grosse Pointe Review on Tuesday, Dec. 15.

Co-Chairmen Carl Schweikart, township supervisor, and Pat O'Connor report that they are in anticipation of a greater campaign and bigger results this year than ever before.

A committee consisting of Justice Victor DeBaek, George Ingram and Leon Oldham is assisting the co-chairmen in shaping the final plans for the event.

Police and fire chiefs of all municipalities have been appointed to direct the sale in their respective villages and the city.

Special committees will be composed of George Elworthy, director of welfare; Willard Hoskings, in charge of the collection of money.

Thousands Swamp Ration Board With Gas Applications

Additional applications in uncounted thousands this week literally snowed-under headquarters of the Grosse Pointe area Rationing Board 82-12, as requests for supplemental allowances filtered through the mails and were brought to the offices.

So heavy were the applications that the assistance of qualified registrars at the girls gymnasium in the high school was extended from Monday through last night, in order to provide a means of relieving the bottle-neck at the offices of the Board.

As was previously announced, officials of the rationing board have been occupied with examining applications and issuing ration allotments according to individuals' needs and eligibility.

Even "A" book applications, were accepted Monday and Tuesday of this week, in an attempt to assist motorists who failed to register before the deadline. The new date for "A" applications had been previously announced as December 2.

Sendoff Sees 19 Boys Leave Pointe for War's Duration

Grosse Pointe Park policemen sponsored the sendoff Wednesday, Dec. 2, for 19 inductees at the Neighborhood club at 6:45 a.m.

Upon registration at the desk in the lobby, the boys were greeted by committee members and escorted to tables in the company of their families and friends.

Coffee and doughnuts were served by the Breakfast club assisted by the policemen and firemen of the municipality. Park police chief, Henry Piel, was able to get the needed coffee for the event through helpful donations.

Ward Van Deusen, Park police commissioner, was the chairman of the day and was introduced by Norbert P. Neff, city clerk, who again was master of ceremonies. Judge Dewitt H. Merriam, Wayne county circuit court judge and resident of the Park, gave the boys an inspirational sendoff as he wished them well in their new status. Karl Goddard, president of the Park, was on hand and was introduced to the boys.

Musical selections were rendered in fine style by the high school band. Upon the presentation of gift boxes to the departing boys, a bus was then boarded amid cheers and friendly farewells to take the boys to the depot.

The sendoff was financed by the Burning Davenport Ignites Living Room in Woods' Home

When a davenport presumably smoldered through the entire night and burst into flame at 7:55 a.m., on Nov. 29, about $700 worth of new and valuable furnishings were destroyed in the home of Ernest Kraetke, of 2000 Country Club.

It is supposed that a lighted cigarette had been carelessly left on or in the vicinity of the davenport during a party the night before, although the direct cause has not been determined. The davenport, rug and part of the living room floor and wall and the curtains were ruined by the blaze.

LeBeau to Appear for Trial on Dec. 9

Charged with negligent homicide, the case of Lloyd LeBeau, of St. Clair Shores, will come into the Wayne county circuit court on Dec. 9.

LeBeau was the driver on July 12 who fell asleep at the wheel and caused his car to crash head on into a car driven by Helen Krause, who later died of a brain concussion.

His case was supposed to come before the court on Nov. 12 but was postponed.

Remember 'P-H' Day Will See 25 Pointe Youths Join Navy

With ceremonies befitting the occasion, the University of Michigan Club of Grosse Pointe, will commemorate the first anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor at the John D. Pierce Junior high school, Monday, Dec. 7, at 8:15 p.m.

A group of 25 boys will be inducted into the Army Air Corps, many of whom are from Grosse Pointe and vicinity. Several are Grosse Pointe high school graduates now attending the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. One of the group, Tom Lamb of 979 Nottingham, was a member of the first graduating class from Pierce and will graduate from the high school in January where he has been active in athletics. Bernard O'Neil and Richard Savory are recent graduates, now employed. Another in the group will be Lowry W. R. Ballantyne, Jr., now a student at Ann Arbor, who will celebrate his 19th birthday on Dec. 7. On that occasion last year he was an eye witness of the attack on Pearl Harbor. His father is a colonel in the U. S. Army, now stationed in Oklahoma as a flight surgeon.

Park Plans Complete for Waiting Room on New Parking Lot

Yesterday morning the Lake Shore Motor Coach company and the village of Grosse Pointe Park completed their plans for the provision of a room where people may wait for buses. The building will be facing Jefferson at Maryland on the property where the parking lot which was in use Monday is also. The parking lot is not entirely developed at present although it can be used even though it needs more cinders, but it is expected to be in complete readiness by the middle of next week.

The bus company agreed to furnish the building to be used and suggested a real estate office from the Morang-Kelly road district. The village is going to take the responsibility of moving the structure to their leased property and making the necessary alterations.

Everett Lane, the new village manager, began his active duties on Dec. 1, and one of the first problems confronting him was the need for a heated shelter where Pointers could get in out of the storm and cold weather and await their buses.

Due to the labor shortage it may be a short time before the building will be ready for use, but the village assured the people that it will be completed as soon as possible.

Wayne County Given Merit Award Pennant for Scrap Collections

Word has been received from Lessing J. Rosenwald, director of the bureau of conservation of the WPB in Washington, that Wayne county has been awarded a merit award pennant for the record they made in scrap collections during the months of September and October.

The announcement came through a wire from John D. McGillis, Michigan executive secretary, to Edwin J. Anderson, salvage committee chairman. The figures show that Wayne county collections were the second highest of any county in the state for the two months.

This, of course, is a fine tribute to all Wayne county men, women and children who are contributing to the salvage program — the special drives such as the "Buy a Tank" drive, the rural scrap pick-up, the school children's drive, the tin can collections and the kitchen fats collections.

It shows that their efforts are recognized by the government in Washington and it should be a spur for continued outstanding effort, according to Anderson.

Free Training Offered to Pointers

Residents of all the Pointes and Gratiot township who are anxious to secure free war training that will fit them for jobs in industry, have such training facilities right in their own community, according to Alan B. Little, manager, of the United States Employment Service office at 1421 Jefferson avenue east.

Forrest L. Geary, supervisor of community services for the Grosse Pointe board of education, is director of this war training program for all the Pointes. Under his supervision classes with expert instructors are now being conducted in precision inspection, tool lathe, milling machine, shaper and tool grinding at the new Industrial Arts building on Bishop road, just north of the Grosse Pointe high school.

Why not register now at the United States Employment Service office for one of these free training courses? Employer demand for trained workers is increasing each day. Men and women, also boys and girls who have reached or are near their 18th birthday, are eligible.

CORRECTION

The Review wishes to apologize to Patrolman Andrew Tettaert, of the City of Grosse Pointe, for the error in the story of the intoxicated driver who was arrested during the blackout.

George M. Lawwers, 29, of 4126 Coplin, was the intoxicated man driving in spite of the blackout, and he was arrested by Patrolman Andrew Tettaert.

Lawwers had his license revoked for six months and was fined $100 and costs or 30 days in jail by Justice Leslie P. Young.

The Review inserted the wrong name in last week's issue and is desirous of making that fact known to everyone.

"REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR"

Monday our nation will observe an anniversary in commemoration of a year ago Dec. 7 - "Remember Pearl Harbor?" How could we ever forget! December seventh, the day death rained uncompromisingly from the skies down in Hawaii...

Americans remember too well how they sat listening with unbelieving ears to their radios as the indignant commentators told of the horrors and audacities of our new enemy's attack...

maimed innocent civilians. They burned and destroyed with their rain of bombs and left us seething for revenge.

December seventh is an anniversary. It commemorates one of the most ruthless stabs any nation ever received. A year ago Monday proved that an ally in a previous war can turn to be a despicable, cruel killer, a fiend who delights in the writhings of the wounded and the cries of the dying...

Sunday, Dec. 7 is now Monday, Dec. 7. The year 1942 is waning but with it goes the headlines that acknowledge the sinking of many Jap ships, the Allied forces' thrusts at the Axis, the victories in North Africa and the Solomons...

We at home have the reassurance that we have done and are doing more than our share in collecting scrap, buying war bonds and stamps, participating in civilian defense...

Last Dec. 7 we shivered and huddled together when we first heard the terrible news, but soon after we knew that a nation at war must be hard and relentless. We knew each and every citizen must be strong and vigilant if our beloved country is to maintain its precious life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness!

It is evident that the Axis had planned to avert our eyes from the European war by engaging us in the Pacific. Japan had been buying our scrap metal for years with the sole intent of one day giving it back to us in a different form.

the Japs have felt the sting of hot lead, and Tokio has seen a re-enactment of Dec. 7. We have shown them that foul play deserves nothing better. America has proven that she can take war in her stride!

KEEP GLASS OFF THE STREETS

All our municipalities are doing their best to provide for the sweeping up of any glass that members of the various village departments see on the roads, and they should be commended for their fine work.

Whenever bottles or other glass articles break on the street, be sure the glass is swept up before it is permitted to do any damage. Similarly, nails and other sharp, piercing objects should never be left on the road knowingly.

WORKERS NEED TRANSPORTATION

Christmas shoppers are urged to make their trips downtown during those times of the day when the buses are least likely to be loaded. It has been recently noted that workers en route are unable to board the buses due to the holiday shopping crowd.

In these times of national stress and emergency, it should be remembered that these "workers behind the men behind the guns" are supplying our boys with the tanks, ships, planes, and guns necessary to our victory...

Detroit is the "Arsenal of Democracy." Let's keep that fact in mind and plan our shopping and other necessary trips so as to make them during those times of the day when the factory and office workers are least likely to be in need of immediate transportation.

TIME OUT

By DONNIE ESSERT

WHAT'S THAT YOU'RE TRYING to say? Not a poem already? Goon! It seems like only yesterday... Well, every good and proper I'll boy has caroled his date by now.

Here's a mere mention of how you'll be seeing a lot of tuxes and formal suits taking the bus (and that is no wolf at the front door) stepping into a green luxury liner (Charlevoix bus to you, illiterate!) will be Gerry Whittock and Jim McGoodwin; Mollie Lester and Tom Zur Schmidde; Jackie Hirt and Jim Waldron; Rheta Plegler and Cap Barthell; Myrt Atkinson and Bob Everett; Marilyn Smith and Bob Wood; Faye Barrett and Bill Burton; Angie Wurster and Chuck Lee; Shirley Smith and Butch Ireland; Jean Garretson and Bob Bridge; Jackie Rohn and Jeep Del Barbara; Martha McCray and Rudy Hirt; and Madeline Ricker and Jim Ryan.

GREAT TRAINFULS AND carfuls (this was written before gas rationing came into effect) purved in with college children, coming home for turkey and the trimmings. Bunny Couillard came home from Houghton School of Mining; Jean Ross from Michigan State; Bill Burton from Michigan; Larry Keene from Albion; Bob Kundingar from Cornell and Bruce Hainers from Tri-State.

AH, SWEET 18! ... OR IS IT 16? Well, anyhow, Ellen Hyde is now 18 years of age and still kicking. To celebrate this memorable event, Ellen and Cal Vogt, Betty Hutschreuther and Les Schroeder and Pat Tobin and Bob Shaw met at Pat's and offered their big white packages with pink bows and then the girls (who all sparked a big white gardenia) with their men, formally aced out to the Detroit Yacht club for dancing and sech. Right big evening, do I venture to add? I venture! But they tell me you're only 18 once, and maybe they're right! Just maybe!

Historic Memorials Society Meets Friday at Newberry House

Members of the Historical Memorials society will meet Friday afternoon, Dec. 4, at two o'clock, at Newberry House, on East Jefferson avenue, to enjoy an afternoon of music, followed by tea.

Mrs. John Karmazin, music chairman, will illustrate a talk on "Music of Latin America" with outstanding compositions, both instrumental and vocal. The vocal numbers will be presented by Helen Church Towle, soprano, accompanied by Eleanor D. Mans.

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, president, will conduct a brief business session, before the program, at which Mrs. Louis J. Flint, will introduce the artists. Mrs. Sidney C. Probert is in charge of the tea.

CHIEF A. O. FLUITT REPORTED IMPROVING

A. O. Fluit, police chief of Grosse Pointe Farms, who recently underwent an operation, is convalescing at his home on Kerlov road and expects to return to his duties in another week or so.

THE PARTYLINE

The wedding date of Irma Sewell and Robert B. Paterson has been set for Jan. 9. Irma is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Sewell, of Fairfield avenue, and Robert is the son of the Albert H. Patersons, of Berkshire road. The marriage will take place at eight o'clock in the evening in the Westminster Presbyterian church.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Fairbairn, of Neff road, on the birth of a son, James Moran, born on Nov. 20.

A color film and lecture, "This Is Your America," by Francis R. Line will be held at the Grosse Pointe Yacht club at 8:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 6.

Made with special war department permit, the film shows what America, from coast to coast, is doing to win the war.

Jacqueline Natalie Anhut became the bride of David Walter Johnson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David Walter Johnson, of Hunt Club Drive, at a ceremony Saturday in the Blessed Sacrament Cathedral. The Rev. Fr. George Kmiecik, S.J., officiated. Jacqueline is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nicholson Anhut, of Longfellow avenue. A reception was held in the afternoon at the home of the bride's parents after which the couple left for a trip to Virginia Hot Springs.

Elaine Arndt entertained the Dancing Masters of Michigan last Sunday. Teachers were here from all over the state for this annual normal school. Miss Arndt taught a tap number to the teachers as well as being hostess for the day.

Caroline Howe Holt and Ensign Harry M. Kelsey were married in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Farrington Holt, of Birmingham, Friday evening. The service was read by the Rev. Warner L. Forsyth. Ensign Kelsey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Kelsey, of Grosse Pointe.

Hostesses, Service Men to Revel in Gay Era of the 'Nineties'

Members of the Hostess Corps will step right in the middle of the "Gay Nineties" Saturday evening at the Neighborhood club and will don large crepe paper bows to help them get into the spirit of the thing.

Service men from the downtown USO will select a mustache from a variety provided and thus they will become "dandies" of the 90's.

The party promises to be great fun as "Casey" waltzes with a "strawberry blonde" and Bobby Jones and his 10-piece band plays on with "A Bicycle Built for Two," "Boomp-A-Daisy," and "That Daring Young Man on the Flying Trapeze." Before the evening is through the imagination will see barber shop quartets in derbys, black cigars, handkerchiefs, and the subtle checked suits the modest men of that era wore.

An old-fashioned snack bar with kerosene lamps, red and white checked tablecloth, and food in cluding with the theme of the evening will be served. Mrs. William Bedell is the food chairman.

Barbara Fitch and Joan Irion will be the junior hostesses of the evening.

A surprise awaits the 25th boy to enter the club who will be given the grand prize for he will be No. 1,000 service man to attend the Hostess Corps' parties.

Any Grosse Pointe service men at home who would like to attend this party will be heartily welcomed.

VENEZUELA, LAND OF OIL

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the last in a series of articles on Latin America, based on the official trip made last year by our own Representative Louis C. Rabaut, as chairman of an appropriation subcommittee investigating federal expenditures.

When you go to Venezuela you are impressed with two outstanding facts. One is oil. This country, situated on the northeast corner of South America, is the third largest oil producing nation in the world.

the wars of independence against Spain, and the father of pan-Americanism.

A year ago last summer a delegation of U. S. Congressmen, headed by the Hon. Louis C. Rabaut of Michigan, visited Venezuela in the course of a trip through seventeen Good Neighbor Republics, and paid tribute to the memory of the great South American statesman and general, by placing a wreath on his tomb in the city of Caracas. Bolivar's dreams of pan-Americanism over one hundred years ago live again today in the solidarity and friendship of the twenty-one American republics.

A varied pattern of life was viewed by the American legislators in Venezuela. They inspected the oil fields, where the familiar names of Gulf, Shell, and Standard, remind the visitor of the enterprise of American companies, and point to the close economic ties that help bind the American republics into a solid family of nations. They talked with the able and important leaders of Venezuela, and with the man on the street to sound out their views on questions of inter-American relations in the turbulent world of today.

ated on the northeast corner of South America, is the third largest oil producing nation in the world.

The other fact — one which is dear to the patriotic hearts of all Venezuelans — is that here is the home and here rest the bones of Simón Bolívar. Known as the Liberator, Bolívar is to the countries of northern South America what George Washington is to us. He was their great military leader in and vast grassy plains. Venezuela is working hard to develop her resources in addition to oil. United States technical men have been sent to aid in agricultural and other fields. Importance of such co-operation has been stressed by Congressman Rabaut and his colleagues, who in their report said: "The various projects that are being carried on, at a relatively modest cost, in Latin America by representatives of numerous agencies of our government may be regarded, generally, as efficacious and productive of results."

Each pair of hose contributed to the AWVS brings the war sooner to a close! Let's help our husbands, brothers, sons, grandsons, nephews, cousins, and neighbors by simply collecting our silk and nylon stockings and taking them to 17140 Maa-mee where they will be turned over to local salvage committees for sorting, processing, and eventual use in furnishing war materials!

Like many countries of the southern continent, Venezuela is a land of contrasts. Along its Caribbean coast lie the hot, steeply tropical lands which were among the first to be seen by Columbus on his voyages to the new world. Beyond the coast lie the mountains, where Caracas, the capital city nestles amid gorgeous scenery at an altitude of 4,000 feet, enjoying a constant and temperate climate.

AWVS Welcomes Old Hosiery Contributions

Surely Grosse Pointe housewives, school girls, and employed women have some washed, worn out stockings containing silk or nylon, whether pure silk or nylon or a mixture of silk or nylon with rayon or cotton, that could easily be taken to the AWVS workshop at 17140 Maa-mee where they will be turned over to local salvage committees for sorting, processing, and eventual use in furnishing war materials!

Do you know that silk is used to furnish material for powder bags to hold the firing charge in guns of major calibre? All are acquainted with nylon's precious presence in parachutes, but this is only one of its many vital uses. Surely it is senseless to destroy or discard our worn out stockings when they are so needed in the war effort.

Fred Piel Addresses G. P. Camera Club Tuesday

Tuesday evening, the Grosse Pointe Camera club will be addressed by the nationally known photographic authority, Fred Piel, on the subject of his personal experiences in the photographic field.

N-E-W-S

By NORVIN L. WYATT
The big party of the Ladies' auxiliary will be on Dec. 10 — not on Dec. 12. And the George Worth-eyes, who took over the management of the club, didn't come from Bass Lake either. They hang out their shingle a mile further up 27 at Horseshoe lake. Seems like they're a-fudging up there in that neck of the woods, imagine that — Michigan does have almost everything. Anyway George wants us to know which side he is on and where — just in case. And, just in case you are buying a deep bottom freezing unit, beware. The Van Wormers got one. A couple of guys from here went over just to carry the thing up stairs. And they both came back — stiff. The old outfit's mirrods have little to report. Either they didn't go hunting or they didn't find anything. Neither did the customs department — outside of a couple of quarts to soothe a darn good mad. Haven't been able to figure out just what Chief Inglesbe and Dick Meade did, whether they got a deer or were embraced by a bear. All Dick could do when he came back was go around repeating — putt-putt-putt. Maybe he went fishing with an out-board motor. Marge, the fire lieutenant's wife, tells how he worked for several months to get a 10 day leave to go hunting. He got it — and the night he started he smashed his car against the front of a bus — big game, that. Reports from the gang who have gone to the service keep filtering back slowly. Duck Reaume "don't want no darn radio to lug around," says he has got enough to carry as it is. And Fred Nagel reports it's a tough racket, this army training, but says he can take it. He should — after taking a couple of years in the last war. And miracles still happen. Diesel flipped a coin and came out a changed man. Had a bet on football with Bariteau, the post commander, won and got paid off — maybe the snook was too much. Friday evening a group from the post went over to pay their respects to Post Commander, Reichling. His father was buried Saturday morning. George Pushaw, the post's publicity director, is about to resign — says he may leave the city for good. And, while they are appointing the new one, we'll go to breakfast. Ham and eggs taste good during a heavy snook — providing you can find the ham.

DEFER SCHOOL N-E-W-S

The boys and girls in the 3B have been studying about farming. We saw movies on "Farm Animals," "Poultry on the Farm," "The Truck Farmer," and "The Wheat Farmer."

Books were brought from the library and reports were given on foods grown on the farm, methods of growing and harvesting wheat, the preparation of bread, the transportation of wheat, the care of farm animals, and the work of the poultry man.

Many slides were shown on the different types of foods grown. Pictures of farm animals were drawn by the children and put into a booklet for future reference.

The new Girl Scout Troop, No. 204, is having its first major ceremonial on Friday, Dec. 4 at 7:45 p.m., in the Defer gym, when new Scouts will be inducted into the sisterhood of scouting. Also on this occasion the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, represented by Mrs. Ruth Slater, will present the new troop with an American flag, with Barbara Hanjaras and Janet Weinheimer formally accepting it for the troop.

The troop mothers committee for Troop 204 has as its members the Mesdames Clarence Giles, Fred Rohn, Fred Hibberd, Gail Dennis, George Savage and Claude Weinheimer. To assist their troop in raising funds to carry on their work and to purchase a troop flag the troop mothers will give individually small desert bridges in their homes, charging admission. It is hoped that those who are asked to attend one of these parties will be happy to participate in getting this troop off to a good start.

At a mass meeting on Nov. 16, the PTA executive committee agreed to partially furnish the room recently assigned to Boy and Girl Scout troops meeting in Defer school. Such a room has been needed for a long time and it is believed will offer encouragement and inspiration to the leaders who give so generously of their time and ability to our children in these uneasy times the great value of the character building activities of scouting cannot be underestimated.

"Messa da Requiem" on Program Given in Paderewski's Mem'ry

What may result in an active campaign to return symphony and opera music to Detroit will receive its first stimulus Sunday afternoon, Dec. 13, when the Detroit Festival Chorus, directed by Marcus Kellerman and Thaddeus Wronski, will present Verdi's "Messa da Requiem" in the Masonic Temple. The program is being presented in memory of Paderewski, famed pianist and Polish leader, whose birthday was Nov. 6, and who died in New York in 1941. Paderewski's "Concerto in A Minor" will be played by one of his former pupils, Alexander Brachocki.

More than seven hundred persons will comprise the cast of the performance, with a full symphony orchestra, the reorganized Detroit Civic Opera chorus, the Holy Rosary Male choir, the Henry Ford trade

Margo Gavin is Back Again at "The Pointe"

Of interest to east-siders and all-around-town is this week's announcement of the return of a favorite singing star to Howard Duncan's intimate club, The Pointe, at 15218 East Jefferson.

Margo Gavin, popular soprano long a favorite in greater Detroit night club circles, has just returned from engagements in the East and South. She will play her own piano now, in accompaniment to the favorite selections of the audience.

Bob Collins and his band will provide the dance tempo for the audience, with Herman Fine supplying capricious interlude on his accordion. Collins has become a bass-slapping musician of no small reputation and has a fine bunch of musicians to give out the dance tunes.

Dynamic Drama on Big Double Bill at Esquire

Two of the year's most talked about pictures are scheduled for Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Esquire theatre at 15311 East Jefferson.

In the first feature, back to the screen comes glamorous Veronica Lake, Paramount's blonde bomber in the new adventure-thriller, "This Gun for Hire." She is co-starred with Robert Preston in a cast which features a first-class supporting list headed by Laird Cregar and Alan Ladd, a young newcomer for whom the Hollywood hallyhoo drums are booming their loudest.

The screenplay written by Albert Maltz and W. R. Burnett, the latter of "Little Caesar" fame, promises to be one of the most sensational stories of a killer and a man-hunt ever brought to the screen. Preview witnesses are reporting that Alan Ladd's portrayal of a cold-blooded killer has seldom been matched.

Robert Preston, Veronica's co-star, who had the cops chasing him all over the place in "The Night of January 16th" and "Pacific Black-out," does an about-face in "This Gun for Hire," and plays a detective on the blood-stained trail of a killer who has no feelings until a girl's kindness arouses in him the first sparks of human emotions.

Laird Cregar, who amazed film-goers with his unusual characterizations in previous pictures, can be depended upon to turn in another striking performance as a man who orders killings for a fifth-column ring but who is repulsed by violence.

The second star-packed feature, "The Magnificent Dope" combines captivating Lynn Bari, with versatile Don Ameche, and Henry Fonda plus the inimitable comic Edward Everett Horton. This hilarious 20th Century-Fox comedy portrays Fonda as the handsome and helpless cluck, picked upon and the easy prey of the screen's meanest "heavies." Ameche is the redoubtable promoter who sets out to uplift the "magnificent dope," and Horton is the source of added merriment. Lynn Bari provides plenty of lovely eye-appeal and ably acquires herself in her first major starring role.

Double Barreled Hit Program at Vogue Theatre

"The greatest musical of them all," Irving Berlin's "Holiday Inn," featuring Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire is scheduled for a seven-day run starting Friday at the Vogue theatre with Wallace Beery and Marjorie Main in "Jackass Mail."

More song hits than have ever been written for any one picture will be heard in this much-heralded Berlin hit. The melodies are an integral part of the story which revolves around a farmhouse owned by Crosby and converted by him into an inn open on holidays.

Astaire has two new partners to tap out eight terrific dances, namely Marjorie Reynolds and Virginia Dale.

The second feature brings together again rough-house Wallace Beery and frog-voiced Marjorie Main, who have teamed together to make some of the screen's most hilarious comedy. Marjorie is a "dance-hall" girl with an eye on bashful Beery. The gay ninety atmosphere of the teeming west lends an atmosphere to the feature that is both picturesque and interesting.

"WHITE EAGLE" HIS BANNER

Little Andrew, a Polish paper boy who only recently had evacuated from Warsaw, makes his first sale in London's Nelson Square. The scene is from "White Eagle," an exclusive 26-minute short subject dealing with the Free Poland movement in England.

The film will be shown along with the regular news programs beginning this Friday at the Downtown and Norwood Telenews Theaters.

Wayne Budget Cut Threatens Teletype Aid To Police

Unless an emergency appropriation is arranged, use of the teletype facilities by the police departments of Pointe municipalities and radio station WVRDR will be lost for the duration due to the cut in the Wayne county budget.

Since 1934, the Park, City, Farms and Shores police departments have had the valuable aid of the teletype machines in their stations. The recent curtailment of the Wayne county budget slashed the appropriation for teletype facilities at the above police stations and those in other outlying districts from $34,000 to $5,000. There are 20 machines in operation in the whole of Wayne county. The cost of operation for the teletypes includes the rental of the machines and the operators' salaries.

On Friday afternoon at the county jail, Sheriff Andrew Baird, a representative from the prosecutor's office, Edwin Denstaedt, a Detroit police radio inspector and members of the Michigan Police Chiefs' association, Chief William Rutledge, of Wyandotte, Floyd Creighton, of Lincoln Park, and Chief Trombly, of the City of Grosse Pointe, who were the originators of the teletype system in Wayne county, will meet for further discussion on the matter. The police chiefs will make recommendations as to the amount of the budget necessary to operate the teletype system as it has been operated.

It is hoped that the committee will be able to convince the county that the teletype is essential to the war for police departments have been instructed to cut off their radios in case of an air raid and it is here that the teletype would prove invaluable. It appears that the county auditors and supervisors overlooked these and other all-important facts and the police chiefs are anxious to make their plea for the necessity of teletype in war time.

The report of the chiefs surrender will be presented to the ways and means committee of the county supervisors.

Supreme Cleaners to Open Woods Branch Monday, Dec. 14th

Good news for Grosse Pointe Woods residents lies in the fact that, on Dec. 14, Supreme Dry Cleaners, of 16219 Mack avenue, will open a branch store at 20760 Mack avenue, corner of Anita.

Gerald Denomme, proprietor, assures all residents of the Woods of the very highest cleaning service. Mr. Denomme is well known in the Pointe, and doubtless will make many new friends in Grosse Pointe Woods, particularly in view of the fact that the cleaning service he offers is of the very highest quality.

New Personnel at Grosse Pointe School of Music

Announcement is being made this week of the addition of Frances and Alice Fraser, instructors in voice production and dramatic diction, to the staff of the Grosse Pointe School of Music at 17028 Kercheval. Frances Fraser has studied with Estelle Lebling, in New York City, who is the teacher of Galli-Curei, Maria Jeritza, Jessica Dragonette and Frieda Hempel.

Alice Fraser has worked with Maria Ouspenskaya and John Hutchins, coach for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Through connections with the coach of the Metropolitan Opera company, auditions can be arranged for the school of music.

Musical Dancing Treat, Surprise Drama at Alger

The management of the Alger has "done it again" for the seven days starting Friday, Dec. 4, with a balanced program that will meet every movie-goer's desire in a big double program.

Betty Grable, John Payne and Victor Mature are starred in 20th Century-Fox's new musical, "Footlight Serenade," which is hailed as the "perfect tonic for the times." Featuring love, laughs and lyrics, it is indeed a merry musical treat.

With a story that spells entertainment all the way, "Footlight Serenade" tells of a fighter who turns actor. Victor Mature realistically portrays the boxer, as John Payne can testify—while both boys are "nuts" about curvaceous Betty Grable, as who isn't?

Rated by previewers as a worthy successor to "My Gal Sal," the picture is studded with topflight talent, such as Jane Wyman, James Gleason, Phil Silvers and Cobina Wright, Jr. Produced with all the embellishments that mark a top-flight musical, "Footlight Serenade" has been hailed as one of the best.

And, when Paramount's new thriller-drama, "This Gun for Hire," reaches the screen of the Alger theatre, next Friday, it's likely that moviegoers are going to view it from the edge of our seats—it's that exciting!

Starring honey-haired Veronica Lake and personable Robert Preston, "This Gun for Hire" features in its impressive cast Laird Cregar and Alan Ladd, new screen discovery who first captured the fans' attentions with his appealing performance in "Joan of Paris." His portrayal of the killer who falls for Veronica Lake in "This Gun for Hire" has already started a wave of enthusiasm that should carry him right on up to stardom.

Pvt. Henry B. Hutten, Jr., surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hutten, Sr., of 1835 Lochmore boulevard, Saturday, Nov. 14, when he unexpectedly arrived from Aberdeen, Md., for a day's visit before leaving for training in California. He joined the service in August and was graduated from St. Paul's high school.

Club Stevadora Has Biggest and Best Show in Town

If you need an evening of thoroughly enjoyable entertainment to erase those "rationing blues" or that mental slump brought on by longer working hours and more trying conditions, just make sure you don't miss the big show this week at Eddy Shepherd's Club Stevadora.

Lee Mason, that fellow who brings "Ohs" and "Ahs" from the women in the audience, is being held over for the third week by popular demand. The men are a bit skeptical when they first see Mr. Mason, but when they hear his pleasing, baritone voice they applaud louder than the gals.

The cleverest pair of magicians seen for some time, the Morgans thrill everyone with their bag of new tricks. Now you see, now you don't, first there's nothing, then, "oh, look!" They guarantee to keep you on the edge of your seat, and they sure do!

Leon Collins, a rhythmic Negro tap dancer, has every toe in the Stevadora tapping with immediate approval. He can certainly beat those unique steps out!

Good & Goody, already known as the "craziest guys in town," have some new gags that won't fail to make you chuckle and maybe even roar. Just give them a chance, they'll make you split your side seams!

Ethel Shepherd, your favorite singer, Lee Walters and his orchestra, and Esther DeRoy and her Glamour Girls are still on the program to make it completely a good show.

Remember, Eddy Shepherd's Club Stevadora on Harper at Crane, with two vaudeville shows nightly, the first starting at 9:15.

turkey belonged to a neighbor on Mack, and so the fellow was returned to his owner in a lifeless state. Sad, hain't it? But I'll bet the body rested in state on a platter the next day. Yep, for about five seconds.
Well, the second story deals with the same chief character but has a slightly different twist. Once upon a time on the day before Thanksgiving, a Pointe food store reported to City police the theft of a turkey. The manager had found a slip which should have been turned in to the cashier in one of the wire baskets. A suspect was checked on, but she produced a receipt for the precious highlight of her feast, so thus the tale has no end for there were no definite clues. Disappointed? So were we. Oh, well, look at the space it filled.

Now to get to a serious subject.

One Taste tells the whole story!
STROH'S BEER
CLifford 9434 CADillac 2230

Many Pointe people have been complaining about early morning hornblowers. Now we're all acquainted with the fact that the habitual hornblower is the lowest form of human existence next to the reporter, and society has long been preparing for their complete extermination by inventing a noiseless horn. In these days war workers are very often compelled to sleep during the day and surely deserve an uninterrupted rest. But those of us who sleep in the very early morning have a beef too. Apparently these share-riders find it necessary to rout their fellow-passengers by means of several loud blasts on their horns. This performance is repeated several times daily until the neighborhood noises are a raucous, unsymphonic confusion of various horns from the supposedly melodic "How Dry I Am!" to the low rumble with a murderous intent. Let's arrange some other "come hither" signal than the obnoxious hornblowing, shall we? Why not just set a time and BE out there!

A St. Bernard dog on Calvin road is making a nuisance of himself by raiding the garbage can of a certain home and drags the contents to a vacant lot keeping the grounds messy continually. He apparently believes that he can't get his refuse and eat it too or else he wishes to exhibit his prowess and skill to the whole of dogdom. We can't sympathize with him, however, for the odor is anything but Chanel No. 5 to say nothing of the appearance of the field. Owner: Please take note!

A mystery surrounds the missing mailbox at a home on Moross road. This column wonders if the person who removed the box during the night of Nov. 20 had a purpose of doing so or if it was a foolish prank. As a thought maybe someone intended to use it for a scrap donation. Still, it was a serviceable, well appearing mail box. We can't figure it out.

Unique Bookshop Opens in Pointe; Rare Books, Prints

Announcement is made elsewhere in this issue of the opening of an unusual bookshop, The Golden Basket, located at the corner of Cadieux, 16820 Kercheval, in the City of Grosse Pointe.

Widely known as connoisseurs of rare books, fine prints and children's literature, the proprietors are Mr and Mrs. S. Garfinkel, who have operated a shop and gallery on Six Mile for a number of years.

A different feature at The Golden Basket Bookshop is the true "bookish" atmosphere, where browsing may be done with the assistance of competent advice.

An especially wonderful array of unusual children's books and prints are on exhibit to facilitate Christmas shopping.

Southeastern Women to Give Christmas Luncheon Monday

The social service committee of Southeastern Woman's club announce a Christmas luncheon to be given at St. Mark's church parlors on Jefferson, Monday, Dec. 7 at 12 o'clock.

This meeting will give members an opportunity to bring donations for the USO and children's dresses for the Goodfellow's drive.

Mrs. L. C. Crandell, committee chairman, will take reservations. The Mesdames L. W. Rowley, A. Olsen and E. C. Hoelyle are the hostesses.

A talk on "Current Events" by Mr. Jones will conclude the meeting.

Christmas Bazaar at St. Columba Has Victory Theme

The annual Christmas bazaar to be held tomorrow, Dec. 4, by the members of St. Columba Episcopal church, will be victory bazaar with the decorations in patriotic red, white and blue. At 10 a.m., the sale will begin in the parish house at 1021 Manistique (corner of East Jefferson).

From 6 to 8 p.m., there'll be a turkey dinner prepared and served by the women of St. Cecilia's Guild. Your ticket is your reservation and tickets may be purchased by calling Mrs. Frazier Crocker at NI. 7918.

MICHIGAN STATE TROOPS NEED MEN OF ALL AGES IMMEDIATELY

Lieut. Col. Owen Cleary, commander of the Michigan State Troops of the Detroit district, has appointed Mrs. Sidney Small of Grosse Pointe as chairman of Wayne county recruiting of Michigan State Troops with the help of the AWVS.

Mrs. Small, who is a former national skeet champion assisted by her daughter Betty also a former national skeet champion, has been holding classes for instructing the men in the use of shot guns.

The Michigan State Troops need men in good physical condition between the ages of 18 and 45, a small percentage of men up to 55, and boys of 16 and 17 with the consent of their parents. These men enlist for three years but can get a discharge any time if they are inducted into the armed services or if business should necessitate their leaving the city. They will have the same basic training as the army which is a night a week drill of two and a half hours. If promotion is desired, an extra night for instruction in use of all types of guns is required.

An act of the state legislature in 1909 gave birth to the Michigan State Troops. At that time a law was passed making it mandatory for the governor, in case the national guard was called into federal service, to create an armed military body to be officially known as the Michigan State Troops. However, it was not until the United States entered the first World War that the troops were needed. Thus the first MST were mustered into the service in 1917. They served for the duration and were disbanded in 1920 when the national guard were reorganized.

With another national crisis at hand, the Michigan State Troops offer a splendid opportunity for those who must remain on the home front to serve their country, state and home.

Knitting Classes Held at Defer on Tuesday

Attention! Knitters and knitters-to-be! Won't you come to the knitting class at the Defer school on Tuesday afternoons from 1:30 to 3:30?

At the present time, mittens, sport socks and bed socks are being made for Christmas gifts, but Mrs. Ide, the instructor, will help you with anything else you may prefer to knit.

An appeal to the women in the community asking them to attend this class now is being made, otherwise a class may not be held next term if there is a lack of interest. For further information call Mrs. O. Mann at Niagara 6774.

CARD PARTY
The Michigan League for Crippled Children will hold a card party at the Women's Guild in the Metropolitan building on Friday, Dec. 4, at 12:30. Luncheon will be served.

All money raised will benefit Camp Grace Bentley. This camp is devoted exclusively to crippled children.

Mrs. George Opp and Mrs. August Lang will take reservations.

PURSE CONTAINING RING STOLEN FROM CAR
In a report to the city police, Harriet Newland, of 702 University Place, tells of leaving her purse in her car parked in the driveway of her home on Nov. 21 at about 6 p.m. About ten minutes later she returned to find the handbag containing a diamond ring worth about $175 gone.

MONTHLY MEETING

The Elizabeth Cass Chapter of DAR will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Woman's City club on Dec. 11. A luncheon will precede the meeting at which Mrs. James D. Jeffrey, state chairman of the DAR Museum, will tell the members about the work of her committee.

Feline Fanciers Benefit Dec. 5-6

The Detroit Persian Society, Incorporated, will give its twenty-first championship cat show Dec. 5 and 6 at the Labor Temple, 82 W. Montcalm, formerly the old Colony club in their beautiful ballroom, where in former years, some of our loveliest debutants came out, and now some very aristocratic Persians will make their "debut." But the show will not be devoted entirely to Persians, there will be Abyssians, Siamese, Burmese and the domestic short hairs, one of which is the noted "Mystery Marvel" who made the front page of New York's exclusive P.M. Now Mystery has formed an alliance with Miss Sugah of Miami, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Marvel and Marvel Junior will all be there. This beautiful white cat with sapphire blue eyes, is now a champion, and was literally kicked into fame, when Mrs. Brian Shine rescued him as a small kitten.

Mrs. Partlan's Great Lakes "Miss Belezub," whose mama came over in the Queen Mary three years ago, will be a senior kitten, very black. Her papa was born in London but Belzie is an American citizen, born right here in Detroit. Her British sire Champion Basilton Talisman, and equally British mama Black Diamond of Takely, bred by Mrs. H. P. Shippe will be there to see that their daughter "Belzie" is properly chaperoned.

This show is given to benefit the Michigan Humane and the Anti-

Cruelty societies, who do so much for all horses, dogs and cats, and this time the cats are giving the dogs a break, so now all we want is a big "gate." You will come and do your good act for the day, won't you? Admission will be charged.

UDC's Present "Gay Nineties" Program Friday

The UDC's of the Grosse Pointe Congregational church are presenting a "Gay Nineties" program at Richard school Friday, Dec. 4. The program will open with Sara Beeler and Barbara Ray presenting the Dolly Sisters in some of the sentimental songs of the "Gay Nineties." Robert Guffie will lead the audience in singing some of the most popular tunes of the 90's. The Floradora Sextet composed of Jean Loring, Pat Loring, Betty Lou Sims, Pat

Wilkerson, Betsy Toerg, Nancy Mathewson and assisted by John Drew will trip the light fantastic.

The final number of the program will be a heart-rending, blood-curdling mellerdrama entitled "Bearding the Lion." The mustachioed villain will be played by Harvey Wolfe, and his evil companion will be Bruce Preston. Prof. Josiah Finch who falls into the hands of these scoundrels will be enacted by Stanley Townsend. Professor Finch's unmarried daughter of 20 will be played by Barbara Ray. Sara Beeler will take the part of the once lovely Penelope Finch. Sergt. Dick Trevelyan of New York's finest will be played by John Bydell. The sinister Ah Wu will be portrayed by Margie Kalbfleisch.

Pay Increase Now Sought by Non-Union Farms' Employees

Twenty-five Farms' employees who are neither members of the police or fire departments nor of the union to which a large number of the village employees belong, petitioned the trustees at their meeting last Monday night for a wage increase of 15 per cent which would be commensurate with the raise recently given the firemen and policemen, and that which the arbitration board recommended be given the union workers as was explained in full in a recent issue of The Review.

Stating that he didn't see why these workers were not entitled to a similar consideration as were the other employees, Paul Deming, president, appointed Trustee Joseph Snay as chairman; and John R. Sutton, Jr., and William K. Muir as a committee to study the matter.

VFW Auxiliary 995

Rose Mead and committee are sponsoring a card party on Thursday evening, Dec. 10, at our club rooms, 17145 St. Paul avenue.

This party is to take the place of our annual bazaar and will be a deluxe affair, with an appetizing lunch promised.

The public is invited to help us make this party a success.

TO ALL OUR CUSTOMERS

The price of electric service is low. It is one of the few things about the house that cost less than they used to cost. Twenty years ago the average price was 5.79 cents; today it is 3.16 cents. That is nearly half price—a bargain sale every day.

There are many reasons why electricity is cheap.

Our power plants are more efficient than they used to be. Our customers have helped to reduce prices by using more electricity — for better lighting, for cooking, for heating water, for dozens of jobs. We have learned how to do our part of the work better, have thought of many plans to save time and money, like the two-way radio sets for our trouble crews, and so on.

So there have been repeated rate reductions — right in the face of rising prices for almost all of the things which we have to buy to make electricity.

It is a record of good service and of lower and lower rates, of which we are very proud.

YOUR OCD

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first of a series of articles describing the work of the office of civilian defense in the Grosse Pointe area, which includes the five Grosse Pointes and Gratiot township, and the way it would function in case enemy bombers should attack your community.

The Grosse Pointe OCD was probably the first community in Michigan to organize its protective services and has remained in the forefront of the movement ever since. A start had been made a year ago with the enrollment of volunteers for the Citizens Defense Volunteer Office. This work had been carried on, at the request of the governor of Michigan, under the direction of Mayor Mason B. Rumney of the City of Grosse Pointe.

Then came Pearl Harbor — and everything was changed.

On Dec. 8, 1941, less than 24 hours after receipt of the news about the Japanese sneak attack in the far Pacific, the police and fire chiefs of the five Grosse Pointes and Gratiot township met in emergency conference and laid the groundwork for the present model organization.

George Elworthy, who at Mayor

Rumney's request had been enrolling volunteers in the non-protective branches, called the meeting in the Neighborhood club.

Mr. Elworthy, who had been an intelligence officer in the first world war, received hearty support from the police and fire officers when he insisted that the communities immediately merge their fire fighting and police facilities as far as possible for the war's duration.

For purposes of unity in an emergency, city, village and township boundaries would be ignored. If enemy bombs should strike this area, the policemen and firemen would respond to emergency calls from a single control center, regardless of the location of the trouble.

An immediate check of equipment was decided upon so that needed pieces could be purchased efficiently through a central office and duplications prevented.

It was a small-scale lend-lease system, and it brought prompt results. Standardization was the rule: If Grosse Pointe Farms needed two new fire hose nozzles, for example, the purchase was made with a view to fitting not only the requirements of the Farms but also those of Grosse Pointe Park and the other communities.

Swaps were arranged. An unused police traffic semaphore in the City of Grosse Pointe could be pressed into service in Grosse Pointe Woods. A surplus fire ladder in Grosse Pointe Shores might be sent to Grosse Pointe Park if the need arose.

The presidents, mayors, supervisors and other governing officials fell promptly into step. Enabling legislation was soon passed and funds appropriated. Grosse Pointe went to war in a hurry.

At Mr. Elworthy's call another meeting was held at the Neighborhood club at which the area's Council of Defense was organized. The members of this supreme regional governing body are: Karl B. Goddard, president of Grosse Pointe Park; Mayor Rumney; Paul H. Deming, president of Grosse Pointe Farms; C. A. Campbell, president of Grosse Pointe Shores; Edward Grace of Grosse Pointe Shores; A. A. Ghesquiere, president of Grosse Pointe Woods; Odilon Houtekier, Gratiot township supervisor, and Carl Schelkard, Grosse Pointe township supervisor.

The Council of Defense unanimously elected Mr. Elworthy commander for the area. He had earlier been designated by the police and fire chiefs to serve as leader of their combined organization.

The police chiefs serving under the OCD setup are: Henry Piel, Park; Thomas Trombly, City; Albert Fluitt, Farms; Orville Inglesby, Shores, and Walter Goulette, Woods.

The fire chiefs are: Edward Rector, Park; Ledger Chauvin, City; George Dansbury, Farms; Mr. Inglesby, Shores, and Alex Rose, Woods.

The most important groundwork had been laid, but the vast bulk of the OCD still had to be organized. Among the protective services for which volunteer personnel had to be recruited were air raid wardens, medical corps, nurses corps, emergency food and housing corps, utility repair squads, drivers corps and messenger corps.

Mr. Elworthy had a job on his hands.

USPHS, which extended the appreciation of the many patients: Grosse Pointe Toy Club Gentlemen: I wish to thank you and the other members of the club for the very nice box of books, games, etc., which you recently sent for the entertainment and pleasure of the patients confined here. Please be assured the service you have rendered the patients is appreciated. Respectfully, J. R. Ridlon, Medical Director. USPHS

Another letter shows the appreciation of the trustees of the Detroit Orthopaedic clinic, for the gifts for their little patients. It reads: Grosse Pointe Toy Club Gentlemen: The board of trustees of the Detroit Orthopaedic clinic and Sigma Gamma hospital school wish to express their real appreciation of your gift. Our young patients at the hospital school are delighted with the many toys and gifts, which will continue to bring them endless pleasure for a long time to come. Thank you for your generosity and interest in us. Gratefully yours, The Gift Committee

Many, many other letters to the Toy club are on file. Some are from mothers who appreciated the gifts of toys and candy to their children at a time when family fortunes were low. The club is proud that it can count among its members, many of those who were benefitted in earlier years. Membership headquarters is in the Municipal building police station on East Jefferson. Memberships may be paid to any policeman or fireman in any of the Grosse Pointe municipalities. Memberships may be mailed to The Toy Club, 15115 E. Jefferson. Bicycles Stolen Here Are Found in Detroit River

Two teen-age youths, one from Detroit and the other from Akron, O., are in the Detroit juvenile detention home for the theft of two bicycles from a garage at 439 Manor, Grosse Pointe Farms on Nov. 6. The bicycles were found in the Detroit river at the foot of Benniteau street and were returned to the owners. The boys had escaped from the Ford Republic school at Farmington, Mich., about 10 days before the theft.

MAN STEALS 131 PACKS OF GUM FROM STORE

Shoplifting 131 packs of chewing gum from the A&P Store at 17142 Kercheval on Dec. 1 and the lack of proper identification brought Arthur Van Halleke, 56, of 22428 Maple street, a bartender, to the city jail. As the store didn't prosecute, Van Halleke was taken by the city police the following day to register as compelled by governmental law even though he is over the draft age, and then they released them.

Woman Buys Gloves

A diamond ring that was either lost or stolen was reported by Mr. Wardell, manager, of Best & Co. on November 28. Detective Sgt. Trombly investigated and found that Mrs. Maurice M. Smott, of Lansing, Michigan, was trying on a pair of gloves and had removed her ring while doing so, and placed it on the counter. A short time later she discovered that the ring was gone. She described the ring as a Marquise diamond with a Bagette diamond on either side in a platinum mounting with a total value of $1600.

had just returned home and found her rear door open and drawers ransacked. A diamond ring and jewelry on the dresser and some money in a purse in the clothes closet was not disturbed. Mrs. Cole was certain that the door was closed and locked when she left and said that as there was no evidence of forcible entry, possibly the unknown person used a key.

Mrs. Ronan, of 862 University Place, notified the police Monday that someone had gone through the milk chute of her home during her absence during the afternoon, and she found the entire house in complete disorder. She stated she had left the grade door open as she has done in the past. Nothing had been discovered missing.

About fifteen dollars in pennies and $1.50 in nickels and dimes were taken from the home of Mrs. LeMay, 809 University place on Nov. 30. She left home about 12 noon and her son returned home about four o'clock and found the rear door open. The house was ransacked. The money had been kept in a purse.

Someone entered the home of Anna J. Croft, of 73 Meadowlane, Grosse Pointe Farms, between the hours of 2:30 and 7 p.m., when the house was found ransacked with drawers pulled out, papers on the floor, and grapes from a fruit dish scattered about. Nothing was missing, although it is thought the burglar was looking for money. The rear door was unlocked.

City police are working on several clues. It appears that the crimes being of a like nature may have been committed by the same person or group.

Kitten Sounds Alarm
for Fire by Warning
Her Mistress

A small two-months old kitten, incorrectly named "Nuts" for her playful actions, sounded the first alarm for the fire at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Lawson, of 1238 Lakepointe avenue and then prevented the possibility of Mrs. Lawson's being trapped when she came bounding up the stairs and threw herself on her mistress who then smelled smoke for the first time, about 5 a.m., Wednesday (Nov. 25) morning.

It is supposed that the fire started from a burning cigarette on the mattress of a studio couch.

The blaze ruined about $35 worth of furniture and destroyed the finelium in the sunroom. Mrs. Lawson had the fire under control when Park firemen appeared, but they finished extinguishing it.
