Local Schools Slated to Lose $50,000 in State Aid, Says Superintendent Essert

Under a provision of the present state aid law which provision is slated to expire July, 1943, the Grosse Pointe public schools have been able to hold on to the small amount of the state aid formerly received but with the expiration of this provision will lose about $50,000 annually in school revenue unless the legislature can be induced to retain the clause for the next biennium.

This fact was revealed by Dr. Paul L. Essert, superintendent of schools, when he returned from a conference in Dearborn last week with 12 other school districts in the state which are affected in more or less a like manner.

Boy Crashes Store Window Wednesday

Michael Sutton, age 8, son of Mrs. Lorraine Sutton, 530 Notre Dame, miraculously escaped with minor injury Wednesday noon when he was pushed or ran through a large plate glass show window in the S. S. Kresge store in the City of Grosse Pointe.

Playing with other children, who were running, the lad was not exactly clear as to just how the accident occurred. He was given first aid for a jag in his shoulder by the Kresge store management and taken to the Grosse Pointe hospital for treatment and X-ray, which revealed no glass in the wound.

Such an accident should serve as an example to parents of the danger of children playing on the street. They should be warned of such danger.

Winner of The Review's First Baby of 1943, born to parents who reside in the Grosse Pointe and Gratiot township area covered by this newspaper, is little Miss Suzanne Petrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Petrick, 20516 Washtenaw, Gratiot town hip.

A handsome array of 16 fine presents for both the baby and parents have been arranged. A letter is being furnished to the parents in order that they may call (Continued on Page 6.)

Fire Chief Rector Explains Conduct Of Somerset Fire

The Grosse Pointe Park fire department was vindicated from charges of "amateurish" fire fighting in the case of the December 20 fire at 1360 Somerset, Monday night by the Village Commission as Fire Chief Rector reported before that body.

It was explained that few of the some sixteen experienced fire fighters were working on the outside of the building, of brick veneer, since inflatable construction was entirely inside where Chief Rector was supervising the work.

Furthermore, Fire Commissioner Johnson reported that no derogatory remarks were made to the insurance adjuster by either tenant in the two-family dwelling when questioned. Commissioner Johnson stated that from his investigation, he saw nothing other than efficiency in the work of the Park firemen.

The discussion before the commission followed a letter of complaint from a local taxpayer, who had witnessed the fire.

Defer PTA Sponsors Visit of Red Cross Mobile Blood Donor Unit January 27th

On Jan. 27, from one through five o'clock in the afternoon, the mobile unit of the American Red Cross Blood Donor service will be working in the Defer school gym. The Defer PTA urges patriotic citizens to make appointments to donate blood on that day for the Armed Forces of the United States.

This is one of the greatest and most vitally necessary jobs you can do for the war effort. Our relatives, friends and neighbors are fighting this war for us on the far scattered battlefronts. Surely we all stand eagerly ready to give our blood that their lives may be saved when the need arises. Read this excerpt from The Detroit Free Press of Jan. 10, 1943:

"Capt. Reynolds Hayden, who was in charge of the Pearl Harbor naval hospital during the Japanese attack, called today for 5,000,000 persons to give blood to the Armed Forces through the American Red Cross saying, 'blood plasma worked miracles at Pearl Harbor.'"

Captain Hayden also reports that blood plasma is now given casualty stations within 500 yards of the firing line. Transfusions in this zone do more to reduce mortality from shock than any other factor."

This is not a complicated, disabling or time consuming job. Business people, factory workers make appointments to give blood donations during their noon hours. Mothers (Continued on Page Two.)

Navigation Talk at Scout Court of Honor Friday

How sailors use their knowledge of stars to find their way at night will be the subject of a talk of a speaker from the United States Navy at the Boy Scout court of honor this Friday night at 7:30 at the Richard school.

A very interesting three-reel movie taken of the stars through the telescopes of the University of Michigan at Lake Angelus will also be shown. It is expected that the talk and the movies will stimulate interest among the boys in the astronomy merit badge.

There are over one hundred fields of study and skills for which a boy can secure merit badges. The purpose of the courts of honor, which are held usually three times a year, is to recognize the scouts who have advanced beyond the first class rank by securing five, 10, 21 or more merit badges. The star award is given to the scout who has earned five; the life award is given to the scout who has earned 10, of which several are required; the eagle award is given to the scout who has earned 21, of which 12 are required.

The program will be interspersed with group singing. John Sweeney will be at the piano.

Troop 96 and Scoutmaster Andrew Foulds will present a skit showing the value of scouting to boys.

The public is invited. Parents of scouts are invited to come.

No Extra Gasoline Rations Available for Furloughs

The Grosse Pointe rationing board is without authority to grant extra or temporary gasoline ration cards to service men on furlough, according to information obtained by Norbert P. Neff this week, acting in behalf of the Civilian Service Corps.

The local board has been taken to task for refusal to make such allowances, says Mr. Neff, while they are merely conforming to orders, covered by the following release from the state OPA:

"There have been numerous inquiries regarding the issuing of special rations to service men on furlough, also for persons desiring to attend relatives' funerals. This is definitely not permitted by the regulations."

Signed, E. T. Broadwell, State Gasoline Rationing Officer. Mr. Neff states that he intends to appeal the matter to the state office, due to the complexity of transportation in the Grosse Pointe area.

Completion of High School Education Assured G. P. Boys Entering Service at 18

At its regular meeting on Jan. 4, the board of education approved a plan submitted by the administrative officials of the high school and the board of education for enabling young men who are drafted before they finish high school to continue their education so that they may graduate even after entering the service. The plan now worked out offer two ways in which boys subject to selective service call may complete their high school education and receive their diploma.

"We have made a study of the age of all our boys in high school and have made a list containing the names of those who will be 18 or older before entering a service training camp," explained Walter K. Green, superintendent of schools.

"It is our policy to see that every boy who is entering to us is called but are not called before the close of summer school. This plan will enable boys who have finished the first half of their senior year to get practically a full half year's work during the summer session. Previously the usual maximum allowance of credits for students in the summer term was 15 semester hours earned by carrying two major subjects during the summer session. Under this plan the potential student will be able to carry three major credits in the summer term and earn 15 semester hours toward the graduation requirements by carrying this amount of work in the general course." Are You Doing Your Part?

A checkup on the number of homes in the Grosse Pointe area during the last few months reveals that hundreds of housewives are not doing their part in the processing of tin cans.

Saturday, the area's fourth effort to help supply the vital salvage material to the war effort will be made.

The fact that some homes will not have tin at their curbs next Saturday morning, is not necessarily a sign that they are unpatriotic.

The fact that any home will be without a pile of tin cans Saturday shows that someone does not realize the importance and critical need for tin in the war effort.

Rationing Can Be Amusing, Too

Just let one whisper be heard that "such and such" is scarce and when merchants are "out" of it, there won't be any more, and a virtual stampede is made for the item in markets.

Ironically, many "white elephants" have been immediately moved by the mere hint that the same would be scarce or impossible to get.

We are in no way accusing merchants of conspiracy in the matter. The general public is taking care of the situation for itself.

Thank goodness here in America the general public has enough of a sense of humor to sit back and laugh at themselves.

Hostess Corps 'Victory' Party Saturday
Gala Event for Visiting Allied Service Men

By DORIS TROTT

To the casual observer the 73 boys in uniform and their hostesses, members of the Grosse Pointe Hostess Corps, who danced away Saturday evening at the Neighborhood club, were a gay collection of fine looking boys and sparkling girls having a grand time.

But to anyone with a bit of a flair for recognizing the significant could find much more of interest in the scene than in the ordinary party.

For the boys in the RAF blue were representatives of America's Allies having perhaps their first experiences with American civilians and American customs. Many had come "over the border" for the first time.

According to their own stories, fame of Detroit's USO with which the Hostess Corps co-operates, has spread far abroad. Even in London, a clipped British accent related, they'd heard how marvelously Detroit extends hospitality to service men.

"Why do you do it?" the accent's owner asked. "I'm sure there's no comparable organization at home." "Why I guess everyone wants to help, and there isn't a great deal else we can do," his Grosse Pointe companion explained simply. "Besides it's fun."

And so the Victory party Saturday under the chairmanship of Marjorie Allor, was fun for everyone concerned.

But before we go into that, one of the evening's special highlights should be mentioned at once. It was with great pride that Mrs. Bert Spurrier, head of the Hostess Corps, presented a beautifully fitted alligator bag to Elizabeth Hill, one of the senior hostesses, who is to leave Grosse Pointe within the month to become a member of the Navy's WAVES. The gift was the collective expression of best wishes from all of Elizabeth's sister hostesses.

Another proud recipient of a special gift at the Victory party was Air Cadet Percy Crick of Norwich, England. Because he was the guest the greatest distance from his home, Joseph De Grimme gave him an interesting painting of a Libyan scene done by an English painter. Thrilled, Air Cadet Crick murmured, "This goes home to my mother..."

The boys were brought to the Neighborhood club by members of the Red Cross Motor Corps working under the direction of Mrs. R. M. Beale. After they had been taken care of in the check room by the efficient services of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Boy Scout troop No. 96, they were provided with familiar advertising slogans, and before long every cadet had been discovered by the hostess assigned to the firm responsible for the slogan. And the music began.

By long experience the Hostess Corps knows that what the boys like best is to be introduced to dancing partners and then to be let alone to work out the evening's entertainment to suit themselves. They are active, not passive guests. They don't care much about floor shows and stunts and such things. So they dance a while and then sit out a number or two to chat with their partners, or maybe they wander into the games room to try their hands at American pool, and a couple of times during the evening they appear at the refreshment table. At the Victory party they were given typical American fare—apple pie, cheese and delicious coffee served on plates decorated with tiny American flags.

Of course the refreshment committee, headed by Mrs. Clyde Adams, saw to it that the apple pie was the genuine homemade variety fashioned according to the best American traditions. On her committee were the Mesdames Harry Wright, Ralph Thomas, Harry Barnard and Laird Johnson. They were assisted in their tasks at the serving table by the competent and generous hands of Mrs. Mary Hill and Miss G. Holliday.

In the meantime the music went on and on. If one knew none of the boys in sight, one knew all of the girls... Yvonne Kerbrat, Betty Coddington, Barbara Fitch, Katherine Rosborough... Anne Austin... Betty Lou Albyn... Louise Chenu... Marilyn Buelow... Elizabeth Harris... Sue Dannreuther... and a few score others.

Along about midnight there was the traditional grand march ending with everyone standing at attention for "God Save the King" and all the girls singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

After that 38 Britishers were whisked off to be the overnight guests of Grosse Pointe families. Mrs. Ferris Fitch, chairman of the hospitality committee saw to all that. Mr. and Mrs. Fitch offered their own home for "billeting," and so did Dr. and Mrs. Spurrier. Others helping with the entertainment were Mr. and Mrs. George Essington, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. William Arnoldy, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. George Gellately, Dr. and Mrs. M. P. Dillard, Dr. and Mrs. Charles T. Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. William Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Quackenbush, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. William Livermore and Mr. and Mrs. James B. Ogden.

Next on the Hostess Corps' schedule of bi-weekly parties is the gala carnival to be held on Jan. 23 at Christ church, to which the group will move for that affair because of the reservation of the Neighborhood club for Legion use on that date. Marjorie Klein is chairman of the carnival.

New Knitting Class Term at Defer School

A new term of the knitting class at Defer school, sponsored by the P.T.A., will begin on Tuesday, Jan. 19 from 1:30 to 3:30. Twelve lessons for both beginners and advanced knitters are offered for 50 cents.

At least 20 registrations must be received in order to continue the class. Interested persons are urged to request to attend the first day.

Schools to Lose

Cause stand to lose a considerable sum of money."

Serious Blow to Schools

"This loss will be a very serious blow to the local schools," continued Dr. Essert. "Many school districts in the state where the assessed valuation is low and the tax rate is very low erroneously assume that the financial resources of the school district in Grosse Pointe and districts of similar valuation are relatively unlimited. This is not true. The Grosse Pointe school district together with Grosse Pointe township and the county are governed by the 15 mill limitation. The loss of this $50,000 to the Grosse Pointe school district would take better than one-half mill on our present valuation to replace by local financing and this is practically all the margin that all three of the agencies governed by the 15 mill limitation have, at the present time. With increased cost of materials and supplies and personnel, this margin will undoubtedly be absorbed in the normal budget even without the $50,000 loss.

At a time when the school district should be and would like to consider some increase in salary schedules to help employees meet the rising cost of living, it is particularly important that the state continue this grant to the local schools.

This was the purpose of the meeting of some 12 school districts who are seriously affected by this automatic suspension of the 85 per cent clause last week, namely to see if there were ways in which the legislature could be induced to relieve these school districts from such a serious blow at a time when services and demands upon schools are tremendously increased. Plans were made to bring to the attention of representatives in the state legislature the seriousness of these losses to the affected school districts.

"Unless local citizens become concerned and aroused over this matter and appeal to their friends in the legislature, there are undoubtedly some serious consequences ahead for the local schools," concluded Dr. Essert. "After all, it narrows down to the fact that if we lose this $50,000 annually, it will have to be made up by local taxation or cut from our budget."

H. S. Education

ly required to do so by reporting back to the summer school session in the afternoon for special coaching, teacher help and supervised study. In previous years the summer school session has closed at 12:40 p.m. This practice will be followed this year for all students except those who are taking the accelerated plan in order to enter military service. Many students who have finished the 12B or first half of the twelfth year will be able to graduate at the end of the summer session if they participate in this plan.

The second plan which was approved by the board of education was that of allowing high school credit for certain educational experiences acquired while the boys are in the armed services. The plan of the board of education is to avoid the disastrous granting of blanket credit for military service which followed the last war and to set up a rather specific definite plan for recognizing real educational achievement while in service. The plan follows generally the recommendations of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools of which Grosse Pointe high school is a member. The association proposes to limit the amount of credit granted for basic military training to the equivalent of one-half of one semester's credit. It also proposes basing all other credit granted on clearly demonstrated evidence of educational achievement, preferably supported by a written examination.

The Grosse Pointe high school therefore will allow the men in service credit as follows:

1. Ten hours credit for the completion of the basic military training program on evidence submitted by their superior officer or by the presentation of an honorable discharge.

2. Credit will be granted for satisfactory completion of correspondence study completed during military service, provided the student has enrolled with the high school at the time the course was started and provided that he presents evidence of satisfactory completion of an examination covering the course.

The Army Institute of the Special Service Division has prepared an arrangement whereby young men can continue their study by correspondence while in service regardless of whether they are in this country or in foreign service and the local high school has worked out plans to recognize this correspondence study.

3. Credit will be granted for specialist courses completed under military direction if evidence to that effect is presented to the high school. The amount of credit for this work will be determined by the principal largely on the basis of the length and intensity of the training period, but in no case will more than 10 hours credit be allowed under this heading.

The maximum amount of credit which will be granted for educational experiences gained during military service will not exceed 40 hours which is the equivalent of one full year of high school work.

BICYCLE STOLEN. Donald LaForest, 102 Oak street, reported his red and white bicycle stolen from the garage in the rear of his home Monday.

Fine Program at Esquire Theatre

"The Mayor of 44th Street," a much better picture than the name implies, plus another Jeanette MacDonald-Nelson Eddy feature, "I Married an Angel" are scheduled to play Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Esquire theatre.

"Mayor of 44th Street" stars George Murphy and Anne Shirley. The MacDonald-Eddy picture is another of their popular musical entertainments to which film-goers look forward with pleasure.

Big Program at Shores Sunday

A double barreled hit program of two fine pictures has been booked for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Shores theatre, Mack avenue at Nine-Mile road.

John Carroll, Ruth Hussey and Bruce Cabot are hooked together in the first picturesque feature, "Pierre of the Plains."

The second hit, "Orchestra Wives," is a jam session of laughs, love and alluring young ladies highlighted by the music that all America loves to sing and swing to. The music of Glenn Miller and his band. Co-starring with Miller are George Montgomery and Ann Rutherford. Featured in a cast of beauties including Lynn Bari, Carole Landis, Virginia Gilmore and Mary Beth Hughes, as well as Cesar Romero and the Nicholas Brothers.

Star-Studded Show Coming to Colony

"Tales of Manhattan," which plays Sunday and Monday on a double program at the Colony theatre, is the fabulous production of the equally fabulous Boris Morros and S. P. Eagle, in an all-star picture that has more names than a theatre benefit.

The players include Charles Boyer, Rita Hayworth, Ginger Rogers, Henry Fonda, Charles Laughton, Edward G. Robinson, Paul Robeson, Eitel Waters, "Rochester," Thomas Mitchell, Cesar Romero, Roland Young, Elsa Lanchester, Eugene Pallette and some 24 or more leading players thrown into the bargain. The script represents the combined efforts of almost as many writers—Ben Hecht, Ferenc Molnar, Donald Ogden Stewart, Samuel Hoffenstein, Ladislav Fodor and five other top-notch writers.

"Tales of Manhattan" is a story which blends drama, comedy, music, romance and stirring action—taking you from a tenement to a penthouse—from Park Avenue to the Bowery. The second feature starts the East End Kids in "Neath Brooklyn Bridge." The showings are continuous from 1:45 p.m. Sunday.

Vogue Schedules Two Laugh Hits Starting Friday

Combine the torrid and sweet singing of Lamour and Crosby with famous Hope wit in one film, with the inimitable Red Skelton and Anne Sothorn in the other, the Vogue steps forth with a double program starting Friday that promises to hit new highs in laughter and entertainment.

Bing Crosby and Bob Hope, two of the nation's funniest men in radio and movies, will be seen together again in another "Road" picture—Paramount's "Road to Morocco," which is due next Friday at the Vogue theatre with the lovely, luscious Dorothy Lamour once more the lady they vie for.

The three stars, who shared honors in "Road to Singapore" and "Road to Zanzibar," are said to outdo their previous monkeyshines in this fun-for-all, "Road to Morocco" a movie "must" if ever there was one.

In addition to the million and one gags, there are four hit tunes.

Taking full advantage of the versatility of its cast, "Panama Hattie," starring Ann Sothorn and Red Skelton, and coming Friday to the Vogue theatre, is heralded as having all the varied elements of screen entertainment.

The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer musical, based on the New York production, revolves around three romances, Uncle Sam's defense activities in the Canal Zone, numerous spies and is liberally sprinkled with song, dance and laughter. Lavishly decorated sets form the background for the song and dance numbers, including Cole Porter songs from the New York show and five new numbers written especially for the picture.

Powerful Program Scheduled at Alger Friday for Week

That combination of movie personalities which made an indelible mark in the minds of countless film fans when Paramount's "This Gun for Hire" was released—Veronica Lake and Alan Ladd—is again brought together by the same studio in Dashiell Hammett's "The Glass Key," which comes Friday for seven days to the Alger theatre.

Mystery, in the best Dashiell Hammett manner, spiced with suspense, action and romance, is said to be all present and accounted for in the film version of his best-seller. The third member of this triple-starrer, and the third corner of the romantic triangle, is Brian Donlevy who has just thrilled thousands with his performance in Paramount's "Wake Island." Others rounding out the excellent cast are Bonita Granville, Richard Denning, Joseph Calleia and William Bendix, the latter also having done his bit in "Wake Island."

It would seem, offhand, that you don't have to be a Lindy hopper to get all hopped up about "Orchestra Wives," the hilarious 20th Century-Fox musical, that comes to the Alger as the second big feature on the same program.

First of all, the picture stars the band that for three successive years has been voted America's most popular band in a poll conducted by authoritative "Billboard" magazine. That's Glenn Miller, of course, and his talented crew of instrumentalists and vocalists.

Then there is George Montgomery, lately one of the "Ten Gentlemen from West Point." He's a handsome lad, a trumpet player, with one foot in the groove and the other in matrimony. And co-starring with Miller and Montgomery is darling Ann Rutherford, an orchestra wife who—alas!—almost becomes a brass widow.

Also starred are Lynn Bari, Carole Landis, Virginia Gilmore and Mary Beth Hughes, as well as Cesar Romero and the Nicholas Brothers.

Farewell Week for Good and Goody at Club Stevadora

Good & Goody, the two fugitives from an insane asylum, are really blowing their tops this last week of a 15-week engagement. Many of the friends they have made are dropping in to say good-bye and have a last laugh with them. It is farewell week also for Lee Walters and his orchestra, who close this coming Sunday night. He will be replaced Monday by an old favorite, Joe Banket, the new trumpet king. Due to the draft depletions Joe is bringing a completely reorganized band back with him and fortunately it is every bit as good if not better than his original group.

The balance of this week's show has a couple of new additions in the way of novelty entertainers. Chiquita and her marionettes, a very lovely young lady whose manipulations of her dolls gives them almost a human life like action—outstanding in her Society Playboy on a Bender. Count Naurici billed as a European novelty, turns out to be a misfit magician and juggler with the necessary touch of pathos that makes for comedy ala Charlie Chaplin. Lee Mason and Ethel Shepherd stay on each doing the hit parade numbers that are suited to them. The Esther DeRoy Glamour Girls have new chorus numbers, colorfully dressed. The oriental harem number is quite eye appealing and nicely staged.

We had proof enough of that during our 13 years of prohibition. What you really vote for is whether liquor is going to be sold legally or illegally... whether the community is going to get needed taxes for schools, hospitals, and the like, or whether this money is going to go to gangsters and bootleggers. Elaine Arndt's Studio Scene of Farewell Party for Sailors

One hundred Bluejackets and a corresponding number of attractive girls in their prettiest formal wear reflected in the mirrored walls of the Elaine Arndt Dance Studios Wednesday night, Jan. 6.

The occasion was the farewell party for Company 5 of the U. S. naval army given by the members of the PARGS. (Parks and Recreation Girls Servicemen's Club). It was a gay party with no hint of the sadness to come when the friendships made during the boys' several months stay here are interrupted by their assignments to other places.

Through the co-operation of the naval armory, farewell gifts were presented to the sailors and flowers to the girls. The armory's own swing band directed by Victor Chape furnished the music, and Capt. R. T. Brodhead, commanding officer of the U. S. naval armory, and Mrs. Brodhead were guests.

It was the unanimous opinion of the sailors that Miss Arndt's ballroom was the most glamorous setting for a dance that they had ever encountered. They were enthusiastically grateful to her for her generosity in inviting the sailors and PARGS to stage the formal farewell dance at her studios.

In appreciation of the Christmas gifts received from the Grosse Pointe public schools by the boys at Camp Brady, the following statement appeared in the January Bulletin, of the Detroit chapter of the Junior Red Cross, under the heading of the "Outstanding Service of the Month."

"The Grosse Pointe schools also did an outstanding job in supplying close to 3,000 beautifully wrapped gifts for the soldiers stationed at Camp Brady. We asked them to supply 1,000 and they came in three fold. We are very happy to have the additional gifts."

The Grosse Pointe high school, the two junior high schools, and all of the elementary schools participated in the drive.
