EDITOR'S NOTE-To keep the American public mindful that the war's end is not in sight and that it is impossible to let down some from the strain of the war effort. the following poem is submitted for everyone's reading to make him realize that America must be alert, that the Americans still have a long road to travel before final victory is here.

This poem is copied, with permission, from the official organ of the Baton Rouge Engineers Depot, "B.R.E.D.!" and is reprinted at the request of the American Legion as part of their "Amreica Alert"

What did you do for freedom today? A Marine on Guadalcanal, Through a hail of lead and jungle

Crept out to a wounded pal: And he dragged him back through the slime and muck, Then, with never a thought of rest Back over that deadly route he went And smashed a machine gun nest. It wasn't much fun-the builets-the

He may have been scared, but he hid

He only knew of a job to do And he didn't quibble, he did it. What did you do for freedom today? "All that you could." Think well ---One-millionth as much as that Leatherneck did

They buried the boy where he fell. What did you do for freedom today? A gob on a rubber raft Drained the last wet drop from his water flask training of great value in peace-time | For eighteen days on an endless sea In a torment of pain he lay;

> night. And burned to a crisp by day. He wanted to live, but he knew his heart

That the odds were a thousand to one: But he drifted and hoped, consoled by a prayer

And the thought of a job well done. What did you do for freedom today? "All that you could," you declare. But when you say it, remember the

Who died on the raft out there. What did you do for freedom today?

Nine lads in a B-17 Ran into a flock of Messerschmitts And died in their wrecked machine. Oh, they didn't do bad with what they had But they flew through hell to do it; They had smashed Berlin and a dozen "one-tens,"

But their number was up and they knew it. They were full of holes, with no controls

And their ship was a comet of flame, But they stuck to their guns and the useless stick And battled on just the same.

What did you do for freed "All that you could." O. K.; But if those nine boys in the B-17 Were to ask you, what would you

What did you do for freedom today?

I think they've a right to ask. You're in this fight as much as they, And with just as important a task. Were you at your desk or bench or press And at work at the starting bell?

Did you drive just an extra mile? Have you been down to the Red Cross bank

And given a pint of your blood? Did you send that V-Mail letter to day?

Did you hoard any rationed food? Before you begin to complain and gripe

That life is all work and no fun-Would you trade your dinner for Ration K?

Or your overtime pay for a gun? Just stop every once in a while today

When your lot seems hard and lean And think of a Gob and a Leatherneck And nine boys in a B-17.

Don't leave lights burning in STOCKROOMS AND STOREROOMS-

... save electricity to SAVE COAL

An unneeded light left burning in one corner of a storeroom wouldn't matter much in normal times. The cost is only a fraction of a cent an hour — for electricity is cheap. But today ANY waste of electricity is serious because it wastes COAL -as well as transportation, manpower, and other critical resources. That is why the Government asks you to conserve electric power voluntarily, in your store and factory and home.

Even though electricity is not rationed and there is no shortage in this area, save whenever you can, as much as you can, because it saves coal.

Park Police Keep Busy Answering Accident Calls

The Grosse Pointe Park police were kept busy at all hours over last weekend and the early part of this week, answering accident calls which occurred in various parts of the village.

One of the first of these numerous calls took place at St. Paul and Beaconsfield avenues on Friday morning at 6:30 when E. D. Oulette, of 1090 Lakepointe, driving on St. Paul struck an unoccu- 9-Year-Old Boys pied parked car on St. Paul, owned by L. Lindquist of 1098 Beaconsfield. Both cars were taken care of by their owners.

Dorothy Kingswood, 1056 Devonshire, while driving on Jefferson avenue between Beaconsfield and Lakepointe last Saturday morning struck a parked car owned by Ray G. Fluschmann of 1619 Fairview. This second car then hit another parked car which is listed to Alton Miller of 968 Barrington road.

Alfred Rose of Marine City admitted that he failed to stop for Charlevoix while on Buckingham, the market. They told the police thus getting hit by a car driven by George H. Gould, of 1406 Manistique. Rose received a violation

Three minor collisions occurred later: The first on Saturday afternoon between cars driven by Oscar J. Demay, of 5010 Canyon and Joseph Rengi, of 3684 Elbo on Mack near Lakepointe. The second collision involved a Grosse Pointe Park truck driven by Victor Huvaere and David J. Last Thursday evening when the T. C. Hartman family returned to their home at 680 Hawthorne, they found that the house had been completely ransacked, especially the bedrooms of the house. All drawers, which had been carefully laid on the beds, were given a thorough going over.

The thief or thieves concentrated on jewelry, a diamond ring and two diamond stick pins, and also a 12 gauge shotgun.

Entrance to the Hartman residence was gained by breaking in the rear door that leads into a back bedroom. The theft occurred between 4:00 and 10:45 p.m.

The police believe that this theft was performed by the same party who has visited the Park and the Farms within recent weeks, for all indications show this to be the state of affairs. This new sewer will only take care of the so-called sanitary flow or raw sewage which consists of plumbing wastes. It is so constructed that durng dry weather all sewage drops into this new interceptor but when it ains or snow melts and the water evel rises in the sewers automatic regulators or devices shut off the outlets into this new interceptor and diverts this water into the old lines to the pumping stations where it is again pumped as it always has been in the past.

Residents, therefore, still depend on the origial facilities during storms or thaws until such time as priorities have been granted and the new and additional storm water pumping facilities are complete.

The new proposed additional pumping station, addition to the present station and the necessary trunk lines for which the taxpayers of the village last summer voted auretirement system in the village of thority to spend $265,000.00, is still Grosse Pointe Park, petitions have being delayed by lack of priority approval by the WPB in Washington.

The engineering work on this project is substantially complete, the local WPB office has recommended its approval and it is now in process of investigation by the Washington office. village is still in danger of floods during severe storms. However, since last spring some further minor improvements have been completed on our sewer system which will to a slight degree reduce the severity of the flooded conditions: A priority was finally received for a somewhat modified form of electric standby service-for the Marter road pumping station. This standby service was designed to provide another source of supply of electric current if the main power lines were struck by lightning as has happened in the past. A sewer line has been installed in the easement between Stanhope and Allard avenues plus some ditches along the village line, will divert a good deal of the surface water running down from Gratiot township in this area

The problem is also somewhat less threatening because at this time this area has had a long dry season which has eliminated the sodden and saturated ground condition of last year. The run-off will not be so rapid and will not overload sewers and pumping stations so quickly.

Also the lower lake levels and the Milk rver levels have improved conditions as far as outlets are concern-
