War Bond Buying Approaches Favorable

AWVS and Bank Issue Report on Loan Drive Total

Although more "E" bonds were purchased in the Seventh War Loan Drive during June, the final totals did not reach the height which other drives reached. This was the announcement made by officials of the Grosse Pointe bank where almost a million and a half dollars were recorded for bonds.

Through June 30, $803,066.25 in cash was taken in for "E" bonds; to individuals who purchased other than "E" bonds, there is a total of $341,571. Purchases from the bank in corporation bonds totaled $280,296.50.

Mrs. G. A. DuRocher, chairman of the war savings division of the Grosse Pointe AWVS, tallied the "E" bonds sales with a total of $362,355; other bonds totaled $1,146,225.

The bond sales made in Grosse Pointe during the Seventh War Loan was slightly less than three million—$2,933,513.75, of this $1,165,421.25 in "E" bonds.

POINTE PARAGRAPHS

by THE POINTER

"Are you all right?" Worried about you and "Please don't worry" were the most frequently selected phrases sent by the servicemen in the American Expeditionary Forces. Their families also used these phrases when wiring overseas.

Other well-worn phrases are both reassuring and affectionate: "Writing," "All well at home," the popular "Darling," "All my love," and ever-welcome "Letters sent" or "Telegram received. Many thanks," or just plain "Well."

Still other conveyed the important news, "Son born," or "Daughter born."

Despite a new bill in congress to change the Bluejacket's traditional "bell bottom trousers," there probably won't be any changes for some time.

Reason: Insufficient cloth available to make the change.

Just in case any of you are wondering if the greenhouse down on Broken avenue was broken into, those broken windows are the result of Wednesday night's hail storm.

Housewives have been asked to can as much as possible this summer to help the food shortage. You can can they are told, but how can you can if there is no sugar available to do the canning with? A bit of tongue twisting, but true nevertheless.

The Marine mess cook on Okinawa must have been trying to stretch his meat points or maybe test the renowned fortitude of the Leathernecks when he cut up a six foot "Habu"—dreaded, sudden-death island snake, for the dinner of a few reckless souls. The diners who were served portions of the "piece de resistance" were the center of all eyes as their more squeamish comrades crowded about and groaned as each mouthful was chewed and swallowed.

A young Marine private began to weaken under the strain, but with a great effort tossed off the last bite and managed a wan smile.

At last report, no ill effects were suffered from the dinner featuring "Habu Steak a la Okinawa." Marines can still take it. If this meat shortage keeps up, who knows? We too, may be forced to eat such.

Wallet Taken From Boy's Clothes at Waterfront Park

The theft of a wallet was reported by Mrs. Lee Hunter, 1023 Lakepointe, Friday afternoon. The wallet, containing $5, bus pass ticket, Boy Scout ticket, and driver's license, presumably was stolen from her son's clothes which he left on the beach while swimming at the Park waterfront park last Thursday afternoon.

Overseas Personnel Must Request Paper Under New Order

Starting July 1, post office regulations require a letter of request to renew an overseas subscription of The Grosse Pointe Review from the service man or woman. To avoid an interruption in sending The Review it is suggested that such a letter be obtained at once. A letter of request is also necessary for any new subscriptions.

One of the top-ranking softball squads in Germany, if not the ETO, the 3042nd QM GR Co. Browns have a string of 55 consecutive wins against all comers, 40 of them acquired this season.

have amassed a total of 17 runs this season against their opponents' 45. Willis, former speedball artist with the Briggs Corporation, of Detroit, shares with Staff Sgt. George Thorbrogger, of Minneapolis, Minn., the distinction of three no-hit games thus far this season. He has allowed only three runs this year and pulled his Johnny Vander Meer act when he blanked Co. A, 90th Chemical Bn., 6-0, and repeated the next day against the 3213th QM Co., 5-0.

Also dangerous at the plate, the Browns have four hitters batting over the 300 mark. The manager, First Sgt. Jules Rivlin, former Marshall college basketball star from Wheeling, W. V., gives the best of them trouble with his .510 average, and Thorbrogger, who doubles at third base, is hitting .380.

The Browns attribute their success to the fact that "we just love the game. We'll play anybody, anywhere, anytime."

Coal Users Warned Of Winter Delivery Difficulties Here

A situation fraught with serious consequences to the health and comfort of coal consuming households next winter is developing in this area because of the large number who, though they may have placed their orders, refuse to take summer deliveries because of minor inconvenience to themselves or have elected to wait, what is believed to be a forlorn hope for the kinds and sizes they prefer, rather than accept usable kinds and sizes which their dealer can deliver.

Consumers are warned not to wait for preferred kinds or sizes, but to get their coal in now instead of merely ordering it.

The purchase gives the Farms an additional frontage of 280 feet along Lakeshore road in which to expand the park and pier harbor facilities. A fence will be placed around the property.

RIGHT TO YIP
 Whether right that we Americans want to keep is the right and when we don't like what's going on.
 Collectivist or totalitarian governments, there's only one
 You agree, or you get shot or sent to a prison camp.
 Our American system is far from perfect. But we have two and we can still yip and yap. Let's improve our own system of individual initiative, enterprise, hustle and healthy common sense — instead of copy-cattling any other country's scheme of much government bossing — and being told to fall in and shut up, or go to the hoosegow.

However, this does not mean to carry this attribute to the extreme. We hear some people griping — and not in the old army style — of the few inconveniences which are caused during this war time.
 America has always been the country where life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness has always meant something. Let us get that way by striking a happy medium of yipping and yap about our principles and griping and complaining of temporary inconveniences.

Housewives Told
How to Prepare and Weigh Salvaged Fat
 "Fat cut from meat before cooking, but not melted, cannot be accepted by your meat dealer," Neil Blondell, Grosse Pointe salvage chairman, warns housewives who are sending their used household fats to war.
 Solid fats can be melted down in a pan on top of the stove with a little water, and the liquid product poured or strained off into the fat salvage can. An even better method is to put the melting pan in the oven when the oven is in use for some other purpose, as in this save one operation. The use of a double boiler is slower, and requires more gas or electricity.

Fats that are discolored, burned,
 highly flavored or strong in odor
 are just as satisfactory as clean fats.
 Fats should be saved in clean tin cans — not glass containers. When fat is taken to the butcher, he will weigh both the can and the fat. To determine the weight of the fat, he must subtract the weight of the can.
 The weight of the various sizes of tin cans is as follows:
 No. 1, typical soup can, which holds 10 ounces, weighs 2.2 ounces.
 No. 1 1/2, such as holds dog food, contains 16 ounces and weighs 2.7
 ounces.
 No. 2, standard tomato can, holds
 20 ounces and weighs 3.6 ounces.
 No. 2 1/2, tomato or fruit can, holds
 25 ounces and weighs 4.5 ounces.
 No. 3, holding a quart of liquid,
 vegetable, weighs 5.1 ounces.
 No. 4, holding a quart and a half of liquid, weighs 5.7 ounces and holds 30 or 32 ounces and weighs 7.0 ounces.
 When estimating weight of fats, remember that 31 tablespoons make a day for a month, make a pound.
 The meat dealer pays two red cents
 and four cents per pound.

 "Don't touch me!" Such a common complaint nowadays.
 I don't thank old Sol for causing all this trouble... him and ourselves... for being so eager to get together. No doubt about it... a beautiful golden sun is nice to have... but why be miserable getting it?
 We've been told a thousand times over to the best way to acquire a tan is to do it gradually... but we human beings are funny that way.
 For those who want to know the proper way to tan lushly, here it is.
 Blondes should start out exposing themselves four minutes the first day. Avays divide the sunning time so that you expose front and back evenly. Next day, make it six minutes. Third day, 10 minutes. For the following week, sun yourself 15 minutes a day. After that you're safe to start increasing your exposure time even more. But... a word of caution... a tan that's too deep is undesirable.
 Over-skinned gals should use tanning lotion before they expose their skin for three hours, and expect to tan through it comfortably. Your body will really burn. Not only that, you may be laid up because of too much sun. Why be miserable and practically kill yourself trying to acquire a healthy look?

How'd you like to save points and prepare a Russian dish for your family... something like our potato papcakes... but the Russians call them LADONY. Incidentally, the potato situation should be letting up soon since Michigan potatoes will be brought to market shortly.
 Well, here's your recipe for LA-DONY:
 4 medium potatoes
 1/4 cup flour
 1 egg
 1 teaspoon salt and pepper
 1 grated onion
 Grate the potatoes, add flour, beaten egg, and salt and pepper. You may leave out the onion if you like.
 Shape the mixture into cakes. Fry in vegetable shortening until the cakes are crisp and brown on both sides.
 Serve with sour cream.

Scene on the Street—
 A short vivacious young lady telling her tall, blonde friend... "Oh, I like her. She's so nice... she gave us meat this week!"
Smoking Hint—
 A most amusing letter reached Catholic Theatre folk this week from a member in the service, Corp. Andrew J. D'Amico, 12th Airborne Army in the Philippines: "Filipino laundry-women wash their clothes in the creek or river. They wash the clothes by dousing them in the water, then beating them with a paddle. If they happen to be smoking, they turn the cigarette... putting the lighted end in their mouths so that the splashing of the water won't put them out. Cigarettes burn much longer this way!"

Tips for the Week—
 Best movie, "Valley of Decision."
 Greer Garson and Gregory Peck. A

 Best radio show, "People Are Funmalities. Not only amusing, but also an experiment in psychology. Interesting reactions of participants. Enjoyable show.

 Best book, "Half a Hundred Tales
 by Great American Writers." Edited by Charles Grayson. Contains short stories by Ernest Hemingway, Robert Sherwood, Ernie Pyle, and other widely-read writers. A grand collection to own.
 Best recording, "Daphnis and

 ... conductor, Serge Koussevitzky.
 Sweeping, moving performance. A

 Letting of this contract initiates
 the first step by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority to provide recreational and park facilities for the people of the Metropolitan area of Detroit. The successful bidder for this work was the Price Brothers Company, of Dayton, Ohio, in the amount of $459,500,000. The work consists mainly of removing an estimated 2,192,000 cubic yards of sand by hydraulic means. This sand is to be removed from the lake in front of the project, and will be used for the fill to raise the elevation of the beach. George W. McCordic, Engineer-Director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, states that construction will begin within a period of two weeks.
 Permission was granted by the War Department to proceed with this project, and the State Conservation Department granted a lease for the removal of this fill material from the bottom of Lake St. Clair.

In the compounding of medicines, even so tiny a quantity as 1/100th of a gram is a very weighty matter to the pharmacist. He cannot treat it lightly because the smaller the quantity, the more powerful the drug may be. We weigh these tiny measurements to pin-point accuracy on a scale so delicately adjusted . . . so sensitive . . . that it can measure the weight of your signature on a piece of paper. In keeping with this accuracy, we use only the highest quality drugs . . . drugs that measure up to the medical profession's rigid standards for purity and strength.

With U. S. Forces in Southern France. — In a wilderness of trees and hills near Aix, United States Army Engineers have turned buildings and landscape of a deserted French sanitarium into a modern medical center for the 43rd General Hospital, Delta base section, which is treating hundreds of front line casualties weekly.

In eight large buildings and 20 prefabricated wards spread over 170 acres of land, medical miracles are a matter of course. The hospital's operating room is comparable to the best in the United States. All types of sickness and wounds are treated at the hospital, but soldiers requiring long periods of attention are reclassified and returned to the zone of the front.

Members of the hospital staff are: Corp. Gilbert H. Welden, 456 Lincoln road.

Lieut. Clement Chargot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Chargot of Balfour road, is spending a day activated July 15, 1942, at Fort Custer, Mich., and moved the following month to Camp McCoy, Wis. The organization is the affiliate unit of the Harper hospital, Detroit, Mich., and its medical officers are almost all from that institution. Many of the nurses are also Harper graduates, while the enlisted personnel were drawn from all parts of the nation. The hospital had an excellent record for service in World War I, during which it was known as Base Hospital X. 17, and was stationed for a year and a half in Dijon, France.

The plaque was presented to Lieut. Col. I. H. Sonne, Louisville, Ky., commander, while the entire personnel of the hospital assembled at a traditional army sundown retreat formation.

Among those who received this citation at the hospital was Sergt. Sam A. Pisano, 472 Cloverly road.

Peninsular Base Headquarters, Italy. — Capt. Hugh M. Fuller of 255 McMillan road, Grosse Pointe, is a member of the 17th General Hospital, a unit of the Peninsular Base Section, important supply and services organization for the Fifth Army and for the air corps ground crews and naval elements in the Mediterranean Theatre of Operations. The base section is commanded by Brig. Gen. Francis H. Oxx, of Newport, R. I.

The 17th General hospital was activated July 15, 1942, at Fort Custer, Mich., and moved the following month to Camp McCoy, Wis. The organization is the affiliate unit of the Harper hospital, Detroit, Mich., and its medical officers are almost all from that institution. At An Air Depot of the AAF Service Command in Italy. — "The war in Europe is over. Sergt. Carl L. Scott, 269 Kenwood Court, Grosse Pointe Farms, accepted the news with a thoughtful thanks as a means of sharing the joy of other members of his unit, the 90th Depot Repair Squadron.

For the last year he and his buddies had been doing technical work under trying conditions to "keep 'em flying" — the mud, rain, and cold weather Italy hampered him with, proved only his determination.

Officers and men of the 90th in an all-out victory celebration, played an afternoon ball game, featured an "official kibitzer" and many laughs — at those who had been graduates, trained directly under the AAF Central Flying Training Command direction will shortly be putting their knowledge to use against the Japanese.

A member of the graduating class is Lieut. Richard D. Robbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Robbins, of 874 Loraine.

1945 Finds 123 Gold Stars in U. of D. Service Flag

The Fourth of July found the University of Detroit continuing to offer all its facilities for the war effort which is making American independence secure.

Gold stars for 123 war dead and 3,478 blue stars on the university's service flag represent alumni in the nation's armed forces.

Resuming the schooling interrupted by military service, 193 veterans are enrolled in all departments of the university's two campuses. The veterans have organized Upsilon Delta Sigma service fraternity and are active in sports and extra-curricular programs. Naval trainees of the V-12 unit are hard at work in the laboratories and clinics of the school of dentistry. Other students are preparing for professional and industrial service on the home front by taking accelerated degree programs in science, the liberal arts, commerce, law and engineering.

At present 1,050 summer school students are working on bachelor's and master's degrees or taking teacher training courses.

On Independence Day special prayers were offered by Jesuit faculty members, with particular commemoration of America's honored dead.

Paul E. Kriewall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Kriewall, 794 Loraine, Grosse Pointe was graduated recently from the naval air technical training center, Norman, Okla. While at the Norman school he studied the aviation specialty field for which his recruit training aptitude tests showed he was best suited. This training has been designed to fit him for a specialized navy job in the long Pacific war ahead and also for skilled work in industry when peace comes. He is now eligible to earn a petty officer's rate.

The newly graduated trainee is now awaiting further duty assignment to sea or to a land base.

Scouts on guard...

A broken street light wastes precious war materials needed at the front.

Recognizing the importance of street lights to the safety of busy Americans, the Boy Scouts in your community are on the lookout for broken and burned-out lamps. By reporting to the Edison Company or to the police, the scouts are calling our mobile patrols to the scene hours ahead of routine inspection. This is another example of the important services scouts are rendering in time of war—for street lights prevent crime and protect the movement of workers, troops and military supplies. Help your Boy Scouts in every way possible.

THE DETROIT EDISON CO.
 REPORT BROKEN STREET LIGHTS to any Edison office or to the police

Extend System

Detroit will have a new link by air with New York City when PCA (Pennsylvania-Central Airlines) extends its system into that city on July 2nd. Divisional Traffic Manager H. A. Olsen stated today. The inauguration of this important new service between Detroit and Manhattan will result in improved schedules over the entire PCA system. Mr. Olsen reports, bringing the total daily departures of the airline's planes from this city to 34.

BROTHERS MEET IN LUZON

CORP. GEORGE DeGRAEVE PFC. LOUIS DeNOBLE
Corp. George DeGraeve, serving with the 492nd Engineers and his brother, Pfc. Louis DeNoble, serving with the 127th Infantry of the 32nd Red Arrow division met in the jungles of New Guinea in April, 1944. Luck was with the boys the second time when George heard that his brother's company was recently in Luzon. He obtained leave and set out to locate his brother and found him. They said it was a happy reunion for both of them. Each had his own story to tell about the experiences he had gone through since their last meeting a year before and of the folks back home and what they would do when they returned to Grosse Pointe. George is the husband of Adrienne DeGraeve and father of Joanne, who reside at 1354 Maryland. He entered the service in September, 1943, and Louis the previous April. They are the sons of Mrs. Emily DeNoble of 1355 Maryland.

Boy Scouts Urge Caution for All Swimmers; Issue Simple Safety Rules

Don't you be one of those unfortunate persons to drown this summer! Of course you should go out to the lake and have a good time — but lose your life by drowning? — We should say not! It is not a smart thing to do, and it isn't necessary either. In fact, nearly all drownings are unnecessary. If the victim had played safe he, or she, needn't have drowned. In this article we, the Boy Scouts, offer a few safe swimming rules. Many accidents occur among good swimmers. Very few non-swimmers (knowing that they don't swim) are so foolish as to take a jump into the lake! So often it is the adventure-some, careless, thoughtless swimmer who gets into trouble. He forgets that it takes about as much energy to get back as it did to get 'way out that far.' He goes in swimming too soon after meals. He swims too much at one time. He dives head first into strange waters. He gets into trouble — loses his head — and he dies! First of all, we will assume that you are a swimmer. Oh, you are not? Too bad! There is no reason that we know of — unless it is a physical handicap — that everyone doesn't learn to swim. The younger you learn, the better. And age is no barrier either! We know of people, 50 or 60 years of age, who learned to swim and passed American Red Cross Life Saving tests also! And we know of some physically handicapped folks who swim very well. You are afraid of the water? Well, you don't need to get out over your waist or shoulders to learn to swim. Nineteen out of 20 people are endowed by nature with enough lung power and flesh (buoyancy) to enable them to float. Rarely is a person so heavy-boned that he actually sinks — if he follows correct floating technique. Then it is only a short step from floating to swimming. Sorry, we haven't space here to teach swimming in detail. This article is for talented folks — those boys and girls and men and women who already class themselves as swimmers. But some of these swimmers are going to drown this summer if they don't watch out! So we in Scouting, who have successfully taught water safety for over thirty-five years, offer them 15 simple suggestions, which if remembered and practiced may keep them safely from visiting your home, your camp, or your cottage:

1. Wait at least two hours after eating before going in swimming.
2. Don't go in all 'hot' up — wait until your body has cooled off.
3. Use the 'buddy' system—where two or three agree to stick close together.

- 4. No distance swimming without company — friends in a boat just in case!
- 5. Two or three short swims a day are better than one long tiring experience.
- 6. Know the swimming ability of your water companions.
- 7. Know your own physical condition. Many swimming accidents are not really drownings, but due to heart failure or cramps.
- 8. No diving into strange or shallow waters (save your neck — no fractured spine).
- 9. Beware of contaminated areas — (Polio and other diseases are not pleasant).
- 10. Groups of swimmers (regardless of their ability) should be supervised by Red Cross trained life guards.

Sergeant Captures Tiger Royal Tank With Flashlight

With the First Infantry Division—The records show any number of cases where the vaunted Tiger Royal tank has been knocked out by bazooka fire, artillery, and even grenades. But this is the only time one of these armored monsters has been neutralized with nothing more than a GI flashlight. Shortly after the 16th Infantry Regiment's capture of Rubeland, Company "C" sent out a 12-man patrol under the leadership of Technical Sergeant Clifford A. Genter, of Grosse Pointe, to reconnoiter enemy dispositions and strength. The patrol had proceeded only about 500 yards when Genter heard a suspicious noise and went ahead alone to investigate. Moving his men into covered positions, he crawled forward about 50 yards but failed to discover the source of the noise and was about to give it up as a bad job. As he turned about and started to crawl back his hand struck something cold and hard; further probing revealed the belly of a Tiger Royal tank — German's and the world's largest. By placing his ear on the steel bottom of the vehicle, Sgt. Genter could hear faint noises from inside—he knew it was fully manned. Under the circumstances, Sgt. Genter would have been more than justified in moving out with all possible speed and reporting the tank to men better equipped to fight with the enemy monster. But Sgt. Genter didn't pull out. Without a moment's hesitation, he climbed upon the massive tank and raised the turret hatch at the rear. Momentarily blinded by the bright beam of the light, the 5-man German tank crew was completely helpless and surrendered to the lone American without firing a shot. Placing a detail

Neighborhood Club N-E-W-S

The Neighborhood Club Day Campers are planning a special program for this week and have called it "America the Beautiful Week." On Friday each of the boys will choose a President and tell about him while each girl will tell about her favorite state. An Uncle Sam will be chosen by the group as well as a Miss America who will lead the parade. The Day Campers enjoyed a grand outing at the Park last Friday and in the afternoon had a peanut hunt with Tim Trombley finding the most peanuts of all the boys and Joan Hock topping the girls.

G. I. Bill Will Aid Waves

Waves can continue their education at government expense after honorable discharge from the Navy. This opportunity, extended under the G. I. Bill of Rights, was pointed out today by Lieut. Comdr. Byron E. Flechtner, Officer in Charge of Navy recruiting for this area. All Waves who have been in service 90 days or more and have been discharged under honorable conditions can have at least one year in an approved school of their choice. Some may get as much as four years schooling with expenses paid, depending upon their age and length of service. Under the G. I. Bill, the government pays up to $500 per school year for tuition, books and other necessary supplies and $50 per month for subsistence of full-time students. Opiates are used to ease the pain of the wounded.

Students from 48 States

Every state in the Union had students at the University of Michigan last year, the annual report of that institution shows. During the first year there were 9,440 civilian students enrolled in residence. The extension Service, in addition, gave training to 11,420 Michigan residents. The Army program trained 4,073 and the Navy, 2,430, making a total over-all enrollment for 1943-44 of 27,347 students from one from Nevada to 7,540 from Michigan. Wayne County had the most—3,128.

LEAD PILOT WINS DFC.

An Eighth Air Force Liberator Station, England. — Capt. John W. Moran, right, of Grosse Pointe Farms, is decorated with the distinguished flying cross by Col. A. F. Herzberg, 458th bombardment group commander, of Denver, Colo. The DFC was awarded Captain Moran for extraordinary achievement as a lead pilot on a B-24 Liberator heavy bomber of the 458th group, based at Horsham St. Faith near Norwich, England. Captain Moran has made 29 bombing missions over European targets, including Magdeburg (four times), Osnabruck three times, Cologne (twice), Koblenz and the Aachen area. During a mission to Magdeburg he was forced to bail out in France after two engines were put out of commission over the target.

Captain Moran, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Moran, 212 Moran road, Grosse Pointe Farms, attended Michigan State college, East Lansing, prior to his entry in the army on March 16, 1943. He was commissioned second lieutenant Jan. 7, 1944, reported for overseas duty July 15, 1944, was promoted to first lieutenant Nov. 12, 1944 and captain May 9, 1945.

The 458th bombardment group, which is a part of Brig. Gen. Walter R. Peck's Second Air division, has completed 240 combat bombing missions over European targets.

Fiftieth AAF in Italy. — First Lieut. Mark C. Rowley, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark L. Rowley, 600 Lincoln road, Grosse Pointe, a 15th AAF P-51 Mustang fighter pilot, has been awarded the Air Medal for meritorious achievement in aerial flight.

The citation accompanying his award reads, "For meritorious achievement in aerial flight while participating in sustained operational activities against the enemy between the dates March 13 and March 21, 1945."

LT. MARK ROWLEY

Entering the AAF in February, 1943, Lieutenant Rowley was awarded his pilot's wings on May 23, 1944, after completing his advanced training courses at Eagle Pass, Tex.

He left the States for foreign service in January, and has completed 20 successful high altitude heavy bomber escort missions from an Italian base.

A graduate of the Grosse Pointe high school, Lieutenant Rowley was a student at the University of Detroit before entering the service.

Your Garden This Week

It is not too late to plant a garden. The basic vegetables are: Carrots, beans, tomatoes, beets, peas, cabbage, greens and squash. (Also onions, but it is probably too late to plant any but small green bunching onions.)

To reduce corn borer infestation in sweet corn, spray or dust with rotenone five times at five day intervals. Be sure to get the dust or spray material down into the axils of the leaves.

Inspect the under sides of bean leaves for Mexican bean beetles. The adult beetle is a ladybird about one-fourth inch long, oval in form and having yellowish or orange brown wing covers on which there is a total of 16 irregular black spots arranged in three rows across the back. The larva or immature feeding form is about one-third inch long, yellow in color, with blackish spines on its back. They work mostly on the lower sides of the leaves. Spray or dust, particularly under the leaves with rotenone dust or spray.

Plants of late cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli and brussels sprouts should be set out now. A starter solution made by dissolving one-half pound of a complete fertilizer bearing a 4-12-4 analysis in four gallons of water, and applied to these plants at the rate of one cupful to each plant when they are set out will speed up recovery. This is especially beneficial where the soil is sandy. Plants that are set in the garden now should be shaded from the hot sun and protected from drying winds until they are well established. Pieces of shingle or thin board can be driven into the ground at an angle over the plants on the south side to accomplish this.

Rutabagas, kale, chinese cabbage, and endive can be sown now.

Private Bradley's assignment to China followed a year of special preparation, during which he studied Chinese language, history, geography and customs in the army specialized training program at Cornell university.

A graduate of Grosse Pointe high school, class of 1939, Private Bradley took an A.B. degree at Wayne university, and was a student in the school of forestry at the University of Michigan when he entered the army in March, 1943.

Private Bradley arrived in India in March, 1945, and was stationed there for approximately a month before flying the famous Himalayan "Hump" into China.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

BRIG. GEN. William F. Heavey, left, commanding the 2nd Engineer Special Brigade and Capt. Arthur W. Sempliner, right, of his staff and former Detroit judge, take a breather during landing operations in the Philippines.

With the Second Engineer Special Brigade in the Philippines. — The war department has announced the field promotion of Capt. Arthur W. Sempliner, former Detroit judge, now in the South Pacific area.

Captain Sempliner went overseas with the 2nd Engineer Special Brigade whose forward echelon reached Australia in December 1942. At the time, amphibious warfare was a little known science. Some pictures of Japanese landing barges used in China, experimental training on the Atlantic coast, and nostalgic reminiscences of First World War Baltic sea experiences were all that was known of this ne wtype of warfare.

Led by Brig. Gen. William F. Heavey of Washington, D. C., the 2nd Engineer Special Brigade tackled the job of developing and learning the art of amphibious warfare with a vengeance. Attack by water became their password. The men ate and slept boats and battle tactics. Never forgetting their purpose of beating the Nips, they saw a Jap in every maneuver, behind every tree, and on every beach. General Heavey was everywhere talking to his men, learning their problems from experience, then improvising and inventing new equipment to solve those problems.

After two months' intensive overseas training in Australia, with the water craft they were to use in combat, conditioning themselves for the tropical climate, they became that famous striking force known as the 2nd Engineer Special Brigade. They first hit at Nassau Bay in British New Guinea in July 1943, and have been in every combat operation since that time.

Captain Sempliner first served with the 532nd regiment and later with the 392nd regiment in positions of company officer, company commander, and staff officer. He led his men in training with the veteran Australian 9th division, the heroes of El Alamin and Tobruk, where they stopped Germany's Rommel. The fighting team forged here fought at Lae and Finschhafen, pounding their way up the coast, driving the Nips out of every pocket and pillbox in New Guinea. It was at this time that Captain Sempliner's brigade earned from the Australians the affectionate title "The 9th Division Navy." Said Captain Sempliner, "the Aussies are the fightingest men I've ever met and the best buddies you can have. They came through with what it takes where it counts."

In 1943 Captain Sempliner was placed on the staff of Brig. Gen. Heavey, the brigade commander, serving as special combat inspector general. Charged with the observation of combat activities and making corrections of deficiencies on the spot, as well as designing new equipment and tactics for future operations, Captain Sempliner made assault landings at Lae, Finschhafen, Arawe, Hollandia, Noemfoor, and in the Philippines. In discussing these operations, Sempliner said:

"Your first combat operation is by far the toughest no matter how rough or easy the going is. You are expecting all hell to break loose, and wondering what to do when it does. After that the landings become routine. You learn to play the game heads-up, shifting your action to adjust for sudden changes, kick a smart football team which has just intercepted its opponent's forward pass."

San Me Men Never Seen
Captain Sempliner is the husband of the former Klaine Wood of Ann Arbor, Michigan, and lives at 3485 Burns avenue. His son, Arthur Tipling Sempliner, whom he has never seen, is now two years of age. The Judge says he can't read his son's writing just yet, but he writes to me anyway. The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sempliner of Detroit, former Judge Sempliner is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law and Literary schools. While in Detroit, he attended Grossman School, Detroit University School, and Cranbrook School of Bloomfield Hills.

Sempliner is entitled to wear the Asiatic-Pacific campaign ribbon with three stars, and the Philippine Liberation ribbon with two stars. A commendation for his combat action reads in part: "This work was carried out under heavy mortar and artillery fire. Lieutenant Sempliner's conduct and devotion to duty were an inspiration to all those under his direction."

SHIRLEY TEMPLE MAKES RETURN IN SHORES FILM

"Since You Went Away," David O. Selznick's first film since his Academy Award winning "Gone With the Wind" will be shown at the Shores theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

"Since You Went Away" adapted from the best seller of the same name, is the story of the Hilton family: Anne Hilton and her daughters Janet and "Brig," who together face the everyday problems of the American family whose man of the house has gone to war. Claudette Colbert plays the mother; Jennifer Jones and Shirley Temple the daughters with Monty Woolley complicating life with his acid tongue.

MUSIC, DANCING HEADLINE SHOW ON ALOMA BILL

A double feature bill which will appeal to all members of the family has been scheduled for the Aloma theatre for Sunday and Monday. The features are "Earl Carroll Vanities" and "Main Street After Dark." Constance Moore and Dennis O'Keefe are co-starred in "Earl Carroll Vanities," a musical comedy which catches the fancy of everyone. Produced in the "grandeur" manner in which Earl Carroll produces his stage productions with the most beautiful girls in the world, it is a bright and light story very soothing as an evening's entertainment.

In complete contrast to the above is "Main Street After Dark" in which Edward Arnold and Selena Royle are cast as the lead players. Edward with his jovial manner is completely at home in this fine mystery drama and with the help of Miss Royle, brings the play to a fine climax and conclusion.

VETERANEWS

From the Office of Veterans' Affairs
Many veterans are seeking positions in Federal and state civil service.

ice. Calls have been made upon veteran counselors for assistance in filling out civil service blanks. Realizing that the material submitted on applications carries some qualifications, and at the same time believing that every assistance should be given to a veteran in making the best possible presentation of his qualifications, training and experience to either the state or federal civil service commission, the Office of Veterans' Affairs cleared with both commissions as to the matter of propriety in rendering such assistance.

The OVA has been advised by both federal civil service and state civil service that such assistance in filling out civil service papers for veterans is entirely ethical and that no objections will be made by the commissions.

All counselors of local councils of veterans' affairs have been advised that such assistance should be rendered upon request and that every effort should be made by the counselor to see that the veteran presents his qualifications in the best possible manner.

Pine Lake School
Veterans who receive no allotments other than disability benefits (pensions) are not charged for subsistence at the Michigan Veterans' Vocation school at Pine Lake.

Veterans receiving $50 per month for subsistence under the GI bill are charged $25 per month, which leaves half of their allotment for personal use.

Full information about the school is available at local counseling centers.

Employment
As demobilization proceeds and as a result of major importance. Only mobilization of community resources and careful planning will enable local councils to meet the problem.

All community agencies are urged to co-operate with the local counselor and employment committee in planning now for the coming months.

Misinformation
Confusion results when uninformed persons attempt to advise or counsel a veteran on any problem he may have.

Agencies and services have been established either federally, by the state, or by private organizations to render assistance to a veteran regardless of his needs. These are specialized services and are administered by experts in the various fields.

Navy Devises New Plan to Help Qualify for Radar

A new plan to help men qualify for Navy Radar training has been devised by the Navy Recruiting Service.

Details of the plan were outlined today by Lieut. Comdr. Byron E. Flechtner, Officer in Charge of lower Michigan Navy recruiting and induction.

Before actually taking the Eddy qualifying test, applicants are now given a preliminary trial examination. Grading the trial test papers in the applicants' presence, Navy recruiters are able to advise the men in which direction further preparatory study would increase their chances of passing the Eddy Test.

Both the Eddy Test and trial examination cover mathematics, algebra, physics, electricity, radio and shop practice. By taking the trial test before the Eddy Test, men can ascertain in which, if any, of these six subjects they are weak.

Men who score well on the trial test usually pass the Eddy Test, Commander Flechtner said.

The Eddy Test and trial examination are given in all lower Michigan Navy Recruiting Stations. These are located in Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lansing and Saginaw.

One tablespoonful of used fat will make vaccine for 73 men.

Nitroglycerine tablets are used as a heart stimulant.
