REMEMBER?

One Year Ago This Week

Woods residents had petitioned the village commission to rezone the area between Littlestone and Stanhope, and stated a desire to have this section changed to an "A" residential district. The petition had grown from local opposition to the proposed use of four blocks along Mack avenue as business frontage! by the Parkwood Land company.

Judge Guy Miller, of the Wayne county circuit court, had handed down a decision that Tony Koinis' popcorn wagon could remain on Park streets until a trial could be scheduled sometime in the fall. One argument in support of Tony's right to stay had been that the streets did not belong to the village, and Richard F. The awful stark reality of the atomic bomb is even yet beyond the full conception of the average citizen at home. Created in a race with the forces of evil, its employment hastened the end of the war. It can only be hoped that never again will it need to be used as an offensive or defensive weapon in conflict, but can be directed to more constructive purposes.

The close of the war cannot help but have left many families saddened by the utter futility of it all. Some of our sons are not with us and will never return. It is poor comfort to those fathers and mothers and loved ones. It will forever be a disgrace to the civilization of the 20th century that through poor statesmanship, and other reasons, the dictator and barbarous countries were permitted to arm and become aggressive and successful to the point that our way of life was seriously threat-

Eighth Army Headquarters, Leyte, P. I. - Capt. Harold H. Emmons. Jr., of Grosse Pointe, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal in the Philippines, where he is serving as assistant judge advocate with Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger's 8th Army Headquarters.

The award was made for "meritorious achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy on Leyte, P. I., from Nov. 20. 1944 to Feb. 26, 1945," according to the citation accompanying the award Arriving with the forward echelon, ne volunteered his services in the construction and establishment of he Eighth's headquarters. His task was to interview, employ, and manage native laborers as well as to handle all records, payrolls and accounts.

"In the discharge of these duties," the citation states, "Captain Emmons demonstrated energy, competence and resourcefulness in the skillful management of the natives, and contributed in a large measure to the successful establishment of Eighth Army Headquarters. Captain Emmons' admirable work, on all occasions, evoked high praise from many superior officers."

A graduate of Detroit Northern high school in 1929, Captain Emmons attended the University of Michigan and earned his law degree there in Electric cookery gives uniform results that keep my performance high and food wastage low-and the automatic features let me attend to other work while the range attends to the cooking. I have a lot of help, too, from my mixer, juicer, percolator, toaster and other helpers. And after meals are over, the dishes don't stare me in the face. It's no bother at all to scrape them into the sink (yes, I have a garbage disposal in the drain that grinds up scraps and washes them away) ... then I stack the empty plates, and let the dishwasher take care of them. I figure the dishwasher saves me a total of a day's work every month. My hands don't get in the water at all, and there's a world of difference in their appearance. Truly, I am having a wonderful time in my kitchen. I hear that all-electric kitchens will be available again to other lucky women before too long. I know they'll love 'em."

IT'S SIMPLE enough to celebrate the end of hostilities. In reverence we could gather at the monument to the unknown soldier, at church or at other shrines. But if our reverence ends there, we've accomplished nothing and all the fighting that's been done has been in vain; all that's been fought for becomes a dream, still in the far distant future. If we remember that the quest for peace does not end the day the last shot is fired, that we haven't achieved the glowing goal of PEACE with the end of hostilities, we shall have learned a masterful lesson. Let us resolve this day to take part in the peace plan for the future, to be aware of our government's attitudes and actions.

HORSE RACING FILM AT COLONY THIS WEEK-END

Coming to the Colony, Friday and Saturday, is "National Velvet," the technicolor production of a book-ofthe-month. Starring in this picture of the English steeplechase races are Mickey Rooney and Elizabet! Taylor.

This is a decidedly different story about horses, and England and its inhabitants.

Miss Taylor plays the girl whose vivid imagination leads her to tame and train, with the help of Mickey Rooney, a supposedly wild horse. Lacking funds to meet the mortgage on her father's farm when it is due. she decides to enter the horse in the grand national, famous English steeplechase race. She and Mickey Rooney hire a boy to ride the horse in the race. At the last minute the rider cannot be found, so Elizabeth cuts her hair like a boy's, and rides the horse to victory.

She defaults the race when it is discovered that she is a girl. So for a short while, fame and press photographers follow her every foot step. Then she fades in the public eye.
