URGENTLY IMPORTANT

Points

As President Truman and America's industry boldly and confidently and with initiative and action, move into the reconpersion era, the necessity for management-labor co-operation secomes more urgently important than ever.

Since our factories, seeking to maintain as high and stable employment as possible, sparkplug the rest of the nation's ecobomy, the urgency of industrial peace comes down into every American home and farm.

Industrial harmony must come because America cannot et anywhere without it. It will come because there is no funmental difference in the things that management and labor want in our country.

Admittedly it is going to take patience and understanding resolve the difficulties both of reconversion and of manageent-labor co-operation. Our economy was turned upside down fight and win an all-out war. We are now turning it right side up to achieve a prosperous peace.

But we know now what we can do. If we can vanquish our Jobal enemies, we can conquer domestic depressions.

ELECTRIC KITCHER

"We've just bought a house-and we're awfully anxious to move in. For that house was built before the war by a man who recognized the wonderful advantages of electric living . . . and he built and equipped it for full use of electricity. It has an all-electric kitchen ... I'll certainly put that dishwasher to work for me! And, of course, it has the biggest labor-saver of all-an allelectric laundry. I think I'll find it a little hard at first to get used to the convenience of frozen food storage and all it means in making shopping and planning meals easier. Of course the house is air-conditioned. And the lighting is a dream! The whole spirit of such living is modern to the utmost ... we're going to be living as we never have before!"

IN THE HOUR OF

TRIUMPH

Behind us lie 3½ years of deadly struggle in which, with God's help, we have prevailed.

So, today, we celebrate a victory.

After the celebration, what lies ahead?

For most of us, the outlook is a bright one. If we will simply use the brains, the will, the energy, the enterprise . . . the materials and resources . . . with which we won our war, we can't fail to win the peace and to make this the richest, happiest land the world has known.

For most of us, the years ahead are bright with promise. But for others of us—and, ironically enough, their part in bringing victory was a major one—the years to come must bear a different look.

In America today are hundreds of thousands of injured men. Men with neatly pinned-up sleeves and trousers. Blinded men. Men with clever iron hooks instead of hands. Worst of all, it is nurt and darkened minds.

These men need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. We can help them best by buying Victory Bonds.

Far away from America today are millions of Americans. As we would be, they're on fire to get back—to their wives, to the children some of them have never seen, to their jobs.

These men need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. And we can help them best by buying Victory Bonds.

This is our day of triumph. But it's theirs too—the injured men,

Let's not forget them, in our just rejoicing. And the one way we can help most to care for our wounded...to bring our veterans home...to give them a fresh start in the country they fought for...to care for the families of those who died before the victory was won...is simply this:

Buy all the Bonds you can. Keep all the Bonds you buy.

HOW SMART PEOPLE AND JACK BENNY LATCH ON TO THEIR MONEY

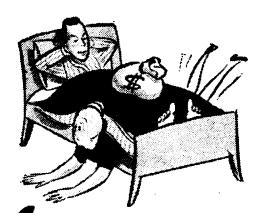

Smart people hang on to their money by buying War Bonds—and holding them. Jack Benny does, too. But don't let that stop you. Buy some anyway. All high-class people do this. For example, I do. Lowlifes like Benny imitate us upper-crust denizens by buying Bonds just so they can get their picture in the Police Gazette.

Among polite circles, it is no longer considered de rigeur to trip up the waiter or cash in your War Bonds. In these circles, in which Benny is considered a square, it is also deemed a trifle gauche—that's hog Latin for sloppy—to dunk your feet in the finger bowl. When Benny finds this out, he'll probably be combarrassed he'll break down and start wearing shoes.

The boys coming back from Europe and Okinawa probably won't lope up to you breathlessly and dangle a medal around your neck for buying War Bonds, but you can bet your bottom Jap yen they won't give you the water cure, either. They know the importance of Bonds—they buy enough every month themselves to make Benny's toupee turn green.

The laziest way in the world to make extra money is to let those War Bonds accumulate interest. You get back 133% on your original investment in ten years. So let all your spare cash snooze away in War Bonds. If you must tuck something under your mattress, try your mother-in-law.

And don't think because your Aunt Cracklethroat's tea leaves spelled "rat" last Sunday that the end of this war is in sight.
It's not even within swooning distance. So make like Benny and pinch that penny. Or, as the farsighted zoo keeper said to the careless elephant keeper, "Till V-J day, hoard that hay!" Then, keep hoarding till the Bonds mature.
