POINTE PARAGRAPHS

by THE POINTER This is just the first call and only a reminder: If Christmas packages to servicemen overseas are to be delivered on time, they should be mailed not later than October 15.

Package must not exceed five pounds in weight, 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined.

The City of Grosse Pointe has lost another of its favorite sons of the police department this past week when Al Wyffels left the department to join the sales promotion staff of Hiram Walker & Sons.

With all this talk about the new insecticide, DDT, we thought we'd look up the proper name for this product.

Another sign of a nation at peace: Grosse Pointe Farms advertising its two air raid sirens for sale!

We didn't mean to slight anyone in the Piche family of Grosse Pointe but it was brought to our attention that the four generations were repeated with the same great-grandfather: Edward Piche, with Carter Piche the grandfather, son Donald Francis, a carpenter's mate in the navy, and three-month-old Lonnie. The Piches are old settlers of Grosse Pointe.

Monday night, Grosse Pointe Farms council authorized by a vote of 4 to 1, to pay the employees of the public works department for eight hours lost in August during the initial V-J Day holiday.

Spokesmen for the employees appeared before the council asking for the additional pay; they thought they were entitled to it for they worked Saturday, making up for time lost on Wednesday.

This latter fact was the most persuasive argument used by the councilmen who agreed to the additional pay; they said that since the schedules missed during the four days of work were caught up without overtime, the men should be rewarded.

The only employees affected by this ruling were the public works hourly paid men; all other departments requiring 24 hour service worked according to planned schedules.

KEEP THE STREETS SAFE

With thousands of Grosse Pointe school children returned to their classes in the public and parochial schools...

The children face greater traffic dangers this year than in many previous years. Many reasons for this have been cited by safety councils here.

One of the best safety precautions which have been organized are the patrol boys who have set up an enviable record throughout the past years.

REMOVE THE KEYS

The Grosse Pointe chiefs of police are urging all motorists to take the key out of their car when they are not driving.

This is not only precaution on your part, but it lessens the chance of your car being driven away.

ates from the training center to approximately twenty-three thousand. Principal speaker at the ceremony was Rear Admiral Wat T. Cluervius, USN (Retired), president of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute. The officers' oath was administered by Commodore John K. Richards, USN, commander, USNR Officer Training Center, New York, N.Y.

At An Amphibious Base in the Pacific. — Brewster Frank Fausone, SIC, 1535 Wayburn, Grosse Pointe Park, is serving with this repair and training base which supplied troops and landing craft for major invasions in the Marshalls, the Gilberts and at Okinawa.

Carrying a 24-hour, seven-day-week schedule, his unit maintained all types of landing and assault equipment and repair supplies. The base also trained personnel in amphibious communications, mine-sweeping and camouflage operations.

Austin T. Sundman, ship's cook, second class, 1643 Anita avenue, served aboard the submarine USS Sailfish on a war patrol during which she sank three ships and damaged another, to win the Presidential Unit Citation.

The Sailfish defied an escort of destroyers and cruisers and a mountainous seas kicked up by a typhoon to sink a 22,500-ton Japanese aircraft carrier of the Kasuga-class after a 10-hour battle. A few days later she sank a 5,800-ton cargo ship and damaged a 7,000-tonner. She was forced to take evasive action to avoid depth charges from an escort vessel.

About a week later the Sailfish sighted six heavily loaded freighters escorted by two destroyers and a patrol boat. With her torpedoes running low, she picked out a 7,300-tonner and scored two hits to sink her.

The Sailfish, the former USS Squalus, which sank in 240 feet of water off Portsmouth, N. H., during diving exercises in May, 1939, is now at the Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa., awaiting decommissioning.

Pvt. A. J. Van Tiem, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Van Tiem of St. Clair avenue, is spending a 90-day leave at the home of his parents. He spent the past 20 months overseas, seeing action in Italy.

Lieut. Robert D. Unruh arrived in Grosse Pointe yesterday after spending 10 days with his wife in Chicago. He arrived in the States Sept. 9 after spending five years in the navy. His wife, the former Shirley Carr, of 75 Oak street, Grosse Pointe Farms, will honor him at a party next Saturday night (It is also Mrs. Unruh's birthday).

Lieutenant Unruh was a member of the submarine Ronquill; one of her escapes from the Japanese took place when the sub was cruising off the Jap mainland and spotted two patrol boats. Unable to dive because of damage to her hull, crewmen made emergency repairs and escaped despite rough seas and gunfire from the enemy.

Throughout a gale, night time and heavy seas, the sub gave chase to the Jap ships, and when the final score was tallied, one enemy vessel was completely knocked out, and the submarine was repaired with a novel plug.

He is a former student of the University of Detroit and is a graduate of St. Paul's high school. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Unruh live on Liac in Detroit.

First Lieut. Robert W. Knell, Jr., was stationed in England and France with the 82 Troop Carrier Squadron where his duty was that of Personnel Equipment Officer. He returned to the United States on July 22, 1945. He has been awarded the Presidential Citation and seven Battle Stars.

Before entering the armed forces, he was employed by Great Lakes Engineering Works. He is a graduate of Grosse Pointe high school and Tri-State college.

Ensign Kus-ell Davis, USNR, is spending a leave in Grosse Pointe with relatives and friends, after six months duty in the Pacific.

Pacific Fleet Headquarters. — David W. McKee, 22, USN, of Grosse Pointe Park, has been advanced to seaman, first class. McKee, a graduate of Eastern high school, Detroit, entered the navy in July, 1941 and came aboard the Howard F. Clark, a destroyer escort in December, 1944. The Clark participated in the Luzon, Iwo Jima and Okinawa campaigns and was credited with destruction of two Jap torpedo planes off Luzon.

On the USS Mayrant Off Marcus Island, (Delayed). — Robert Mark Dwyer, 38, seaman, second class, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. Dwyer, 1842 Oxford road, Grosse Pointe Woods, serving on this destroyer, took part in the surrender of the Japanese garrison on Marcus.

Japanese envoys, formal but visibly shaken, brought a gift of melons to Commodore V. F. Grant, USN, commander of the advance occupation unit, during preliminary negotiations.

With the 32nd Infantry Division in Northern Luzon, P. I. — Two dreams which had been foremost in his mind during 41 months overseas became reality for Staff Sgt. John A. Kreski of Grosse Pointe. The war ended and he left for home.

Sergeant Kreski was a member of the 32nd Signal Company, communications center for the famed (Red Arrow) Division. The first army division to fight offensive action against the Jap in the Southwest Pacific Command air base, for recon- sideration and reassignment. He went overseas in February, 1944, and

Guinea, Leyte and Luzon, in the Philippines. He is entitled to wear the Presidential Unit Citation, the American Defense Ribbon, the Philippines Liberation Medal, and the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre ribbon.

Sergeant Kreski's wife, Mrs. Mariel Kreski lives at 747 Rivard.

T-5 Andrew Allard, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Allard of 247 Ridgemoor, is home on a 30-day furlough with his parents. He arrived in the Pointe last Sunday night, after seeing action in Europe.

Five Thousand Students Expected at Michigan State

Indications are that as many as 5,000 civilian students — 3,500 women and 1,500 men — will be enrolled at Michigan State college for the fall quarter, according to Robert S. Linton, registrar. This would be a 31 per cent increase over last fall's enrollment. Classes begin on Monday, Sept. 24. In addition to the regular student body, more than 300 17-year-old youths are receiving instruction on the MSC campus under the ASTP.

-J. EDGAR HOOVER

I like to play baseball and I like being a Christian. I believe in the Lord Jesus Christ as my Saviour. Have you heard? There are 17 million boys and girls in our country who do not attend Sunday school. Let's do something about it, fellows and girls. Let's go to Sunday school and Church ourselves, but let's bring others, too.

Two men narrowly escaped death when the thirty-five foot cabin cruiser in which they were riding, exploded and caught fire in Lake St. Clair. One man was a resident of Ecorse while the second lived on St. Clair.

Said John Smith, "Detroit's pennant chances this year will be decided by the success the Tigers have in winning double headers during the next few weeks."

Among the specials offered the housewives was that from one grocer — three pounds of sugar for twenty cents. . . . The Aloma Theatre scheduled a movie starring Will Rogers in "Life Begins at Forty."

15 YEARS AGO

Fred Sutter, president of the Board of Education, issued a special ruling by the attorney general for the casting of votes in a special school election at which time, a bond issue for $390,000 for the purchase of three junior high school sites was presented. A meeting of electors was to have been held to ratify or alter the amount estimated by the board and then the question of issuing the bonds was to have been balloted upon.

'Flying Tiger' Surgeon Named Airline Medical Director

Col. Thomas C. Gentry, surgeon of the 14th Air Force of the U. S. army medical corps and chief surgeon of the American volunteer group, the original Flying Tigers, under Gen. Claire L. Chennault in China, has been appointed medical director of American Airlines, Inc., it was announced recently by Louis A. Traxel, personnel director. He succeeds Lieut. Col. Edward C. Greene, U. S. Army retired.

Some 350,000 U. S. employees have made hospital service available to their employees.

STAMP POINTERS AND POINTERS STAMPS

by WARD H. ALKEMA

The most important thing for the novice collector to keep in mind is the condition of his stamps. A used stamp to be in perfect condition must be well centered, that is an equal border of white on all sides. It must not have tears, cuts or creases, or have thin spots on the back. It should have a light cancellation.

If it is a mint stamp (a philatelic term for an unused stamp), it must have full gum and no unsightly hinge marks in addition to the requirements for used stamps.

The poor condition of stamps brings down their value and detracts from the beauty of the collection. Go through your collection and replace all these eye sores.

Dr. Joern Olshausen of Somerset avenue, is a stickler for condition, and his collection of early United States stamps is a joy to behold. He has them beautifully mounted on album pages of his own designing.

The United States government is issuing five three-cent stamps for the armed forces. The first of this series was issued on July 11, for the Marines showing the raising of our flag on Iwo Jima. This was printed in green. The Army stamp will be issued on Sept. 28, showing the GI's in Paris with the Arc de Triump in the background. This will be printed in khaki color. There will also be stamps for the Navy, Coast Guard and the Merchant Marine.

Brazil issued a set of stamps in honor of the United States Fifth Army and their own Expeditionary Forces. The Philippines plan to picture General MacArthur on their stamps and coins. Most countries have issued Victory or Liberation stamps, but these two are the only ones that I know of that directly honor our army.

You may receive a first day cover of the three-cent army stamp by sending a self-addressed envelope, accompanied with coin or postal note for the postage, to the Postmaster, Washington 13, D. C., in time for servicing before September 28. You may purchase special design envelopes for this stamp from any stamp dealer or use plain envelopes.

There is a fine adult collector's club in Grosse Pointe. The Grosse Pointe Stamp Club meets on the first Friday of each month. Visitors are always welcome and may contact Richard Langworthy, secretary, at 1153 Beaconsfield, Murray 6035 for information regarding the club.

Mr. Langworthy, by the way, has a very interesting collection of British stamps including the "Penny Black." This stamp is especially interesting to collectors as it was the first postage stamp ever issued. It was printed in the year 1840 in England and might be thought of as the nucleus of all things philatelic.

Potato Starch Gives Farmers New Income

Manufacturers' demand for a new raw material, white potato starch, is giving Idaho farmers $1,000,000 extra purchasing power yearly.

First produced commercially in 1941, the starch is now used by the textile trade in weaving shirting material and fine cotton and rayon goods, by the food products industry for syrup, pie fillings and dessert bases, and by paper and adhesive manufacturers.

Mothers' Health Council Begins Second Year

The executive board of the Mothers' Health Education Council of Grosse Pointe held its first meeting of the year in Defer school last Thursday.

The meeting launched the second year of the council which was created for the purpose of educating mothers toward a better understanding of their children's everyday health needs. At the first step in this year's program the council stressed the importance of the return of the medical examination report which all children were requested to have at the opening of school. Parents are asked to be fair to their children so that they and the teacher may better understand the child. In school life where competition is so keen; unrecognized defects may handicap your child both mentally and physically. If your child has not already had his examination please have this done as soon as possible and send in the report.

Women's Edition
by RITA POWERS
Women's Editor, W.J.B.

There's a famous woman sculptor in New York who says she can read your character by looking at your hands. Frankly, your hands are a dead giveaway to anyone... sculptor or not. The way you treat them... the way you manage them... all the movements of your hands give away your secrets. They tell whether you're the nervous type... poised... artistic... or athletic.

Really beautiful hands must be graceful and well-groomed. In the way of grooming, you want a skin softener first. No matter how many times you put your hands into water... there's no need for "dish-pan" hands. Be kind to them. Slather on some cold cream just before you say goodnight. It will keep the skin soft and smooth.

Fingernails should not be too long... iang-style. They're not only impractical, but unattractive to most people. Rather short, cleanly filed nails are very much in good taste. Suit yourself about nail-polish. Have you heard that men aren't objecting to it as much as they used to? Maybe that'll make a difference to some femmes.

Now for acquiring graceful hands. Don't ever let your hands become restless and nervous when out in public. Keep them still. The place for giving your hands their exercise is at home. Here's a grand hand-beautifier: Pretend you're an orchestra leader and manipulate your hands in that fashion. This gives your wrists a good work-out and develops graceful movements that you'll find yourself using unconsciously.

Another good exercise for keeping your fingers young and graceful is to pretend you're playing the piano. Place your hand on a table... fingers touching the table but keeping the hand raised. Now raise each finger separately five times.

The exercises are simple, but they contribute toward making your hands lovely. Remember... the two requisites for beautiful hands are... good-grooming and grace. We've just seen it all. We've seen the meanest and the kindest side of human nature within the space of a few hours. Not to leave a bad taste in your oral cavity, we'll tell you about the worst first.

In one of the more popular eating places it's the patience-testing custom to wait behind the person seated at the counter. Sometimes it proves to be pretty grueling... especially if you lay your bet that the seated customer isn't going to have dessert, and you lose. Well, we were standing alongside a pretty, but rather shy, mother-to-be. She'd been waiting quite a while behind the woman consuming her breakfast. Obviously, she must have become tired, because she turned around and noticed the counter behind her, and walked back a few steps to lean against it. Then it happened.

Right in front of her walked a huge hulk of a woman with plenty of brazenness. She stood there. Then, in a soft voice the first woman murmured, "I'm waiting here, please." The other turned around, gave her a look that would freeze steam, and said, "I didn't say you weren't, did I?" And she walked away.

This is the "pay-off." At the other side of the counter, the "freezer" immediately got a seat.

The other happier incident we observed took place on a crowded streetcar. A very old lady was seated at the front of the car with a box of votive candles in her hands. Hanging on to a strap in front of her was a young, able-bodied woman. The older woman asked her how far she was riding, and it proved to be quite a distance. And can you imagine it... that kind old lady insisted that the other take her seat because her ride wasn't as long. Of course, the young woman refused... but it only goes to show that "there are all kinds of people in this world."

Top for the Week—
Best movie: "Practically Yours," Claudette Colbert, Fred MacMurray. A clever plot that invites laughter. If you're feeling glum, this hits the spot.

Best radio show: "A Date With Judy," Tuesdays, 8:30 p.m. In the line of bobby-sox stories with plenty of sparkle, "Judy" is definitely entertaining.

Neighborhood Club N-E-W-S

The Neighborhood club is offering quite a varied program of activities for girls this season. Starting on Tuesday, Sept. 24 at 4 p.m., the junior girls, ages six to nine, will have their gym and handicraft classes. On Wednesday at 4 p.m. intermediate girls, 10 years old and over will have gym and handicraft classes. On Thursday for girls eight and over, tap dancing will be taught at 4 p.m. Friday afternoon at 4, Campfire Girls and Bluebirds meet. Campfire and Bluebird groups are open to all girls of the community, their activities including crafts, hikes, plays and a week-end at Camp Wat-hana next month.

Are you interested? The Neighborhood club has the opportunity of offering a class in jewelry, plastics, and wood carving for adults on the basis of the demand for the class. If you are interested, please call NI 4600 and leave your name and phone number.

Millinery classes! There are a few places left in the afternoon and evening millinery classes on Tuesdays. Please make your reservations immediately.

Woods Community Club News

The Grosse Pointe Woods Community club has a well organized program of activities scheduled for this fall and winter, under the direction of Mrs. Walter Reeg who was recreational director and nursery school teacher last year.

Nursery school classes began Monday, Sept. 17 at 9 a.m. with a complete enrollment in all groups. School is held every day except Wednesday.

A course in dressmaking is scheduled for Tuesday evenings at 7; this will be taught by Mrs. N. W. Swain. The first course will cover general dressmaking; the second will be devoted to tailoring.

Millinery is scheduled for Wednesdays by Mrs. Clyde Sutton; three classes are planned: Morning classes for advanced group at ten o'clock; afternoon class for beginners and an evening class for a mixed group.

Co-operating with the Woods police, the club will co-sponsor two boys' clubs, one for 12 to 14 years of age and one for lads 14 years and over. Mrs. Birnie Falk of Trombly school, and leader for the club of older boys last year, will direct both groups this year. All boys in the village who are interested, must register at the Community club and pay a small fee. Admission to the clubs will be by card only. Arrangements for meeting time will be announced later.

In addition to these activities, the building is open Monday and Thursday night for the young people of the village and alternately Friday or Saturday nights each week for a social evening.

Mason School N-E-W-S

The first meeting of the year of the Mason P.T.A. will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 5, in the auditorium of the school at 8:30 p.m.

From 7:45 to 8:30 classrooms will be open and parents may meet teachers and view work of the room.

A short business meeting will be held, but the main purpose of the meeting will be held, but the main meeting is to welcome the teachers, half of whom are new to Mason school this year.

American Legion Post 303

Sergt. Frank Snay of the Grosse Pointe Park police department, has been elected to the office of commander of the Grosse Pointe Legion Post 303 for the ensuing year and will be installed in office in a public ceremony at 8 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 23, in the Veterans building, Jefferson and Hastings.

Other officers of Snay's administration are John P. Knoff and James Madden, vice commanders; William P. Wolf, adjutant; Henry V. Clancy, finance officer; William Quay, chaplain; Gilbert Turner, historian; and William Vanden Heuvel, sergeant-at-arms.

What's work about doing a wash?

"I never dreamed a few years ago that I could ever ask such a question. The answer since I got my electric laundry just before the war—is nothing. Doing a wash is a pretty simple, pleasant task.

"The operation of the automatic washer was simply amazing to me. The only time my hands get wet is when I remove the damp-dry clothes from the washer. That's all. Of course, there will always be some work to ironing, but the ironer does a magical job of reducing it to a minimum. The ironer speeds through flat work and also simplifies handling shirts, dresses and wash suits. I almost forgot to mention my dryer. I don't have to worry about washday weather. I don't have the work of hanging up and taking down. No, sir. The dryer does the trick—gets clothes ready for ironing, and in just a few minutes, too. I'm looking forward to the time when all my friends also can ask, 'What's work about doing a wash?'"

WHAT THE IRONER CAN DO

Tests made recently with an ironer showed that there was a time saving of a little more than 40 per cent in ironing a good-sized family washing over the time required to iron the same items by hand. Using an ironer requires less muscle and expenditure of human energy, so fatigue is cut to a minimum. And an ironer will do a first-class job on any piece-fine dresses, ruffles, shirts. Of course it takes practice, but it's easy to learn.

Electric laundry equipment is not generally available for sale now. Some is being manufactured and distributed. It will be to your advantage to have your name on your electrical dealer's list, so that you will be able to get it at the earliest possible time.

Scarcely a day passes without some new use for electricity coming into being. No small number of the new uses are for the convenience of the family in the home. And so, many thousands of families are keeping abreast of the "new" in electrical appliances and refinements. You, too, can well afford to follow their example. For the old-fashioned way is a wasteful way, and the road to comfort and convenience in your home can be opened by turning on the electric life.

These benefits are similar to those under the "G.I. Bill," except that the length of the educational program is not limited by the veteran's time in service, but may be carried to a reasonable conclusion, such as a four-year course in college which represents the maximum. Expenses paid to the institution on behalf of the veteran are the same; cash payments to the veteran, including his pension, will be greater than under the "G.I. Bill." This law is also administered by the Veterans Administration.

The social security board does its end of the job with nearly 100 per cent accuracy. You can rely on that. But there are more than 70,000,000 accounts, and sometimes errors do occur. They occur because every once in a while an employer does not have a social security number or a name just as it appears on the worker's card. Therefore it is advisable to check on your account. It is especially advisable to do so if you have worked for short periods for a number of different employers, or for a firm that was in business only a short time, or for an employer who did not copy down your social security account number, or did not deduct the one per cent social security tax from your pay. If you think an error has been made, write to the Social Security Board, Baltimore, Md., and request a statement of your account. You can get an addressed post card form at the nearest social security board office. If an error has been made, that office will help you get it corrected. Once every four years you should check on your account anyway because after four years some errors cannot be corrected. The social security board office for this section is located at 8037 Harper avenue at Van Dyke, next to the Eastown theatre, and the phone number is Plaza 8714.

Private Builders Can Clear Slum Districts at Profit
Private enterprise is capable of providing slum clearance at low cost and with reasonable profit, says G. R. Swantner of Corpus Christi, Texas, who has just completed his first 100-home unit for low-income Latin-American families. The four-rooms-and-bath homes incorporate attractive surroundings with costs which are unbelievably low. Payments average $6 or $7 a week, little more than the buyers were paying for bathless shanties in the slums. On plane markings, "N" stands for U.S., "C" means the plane is airworthy with civil air regulations.

Pleasure Boats to Make Short River Cruises Again
The people of Wayne county may again be able to take short boat rides up and down the Detroit river as they did years ago when much of the city's recreational life was centered on the waterfront. The city plan commission has recommended the leasing of municipally owned waterfront property on the east side of Griswold street to be used as a dock for a fleet of new passenger pleasure boats which will offer Detroiters and visitors inexpensive river excursions. According to the petitioner, Robert D. Wardell, the wharf space, formerly owned by the White Star Line, will be used as the downtown loading dock for passenger boats which will make 15 and 25 mile cruises on the Detroit river and adjacent waters. The fleet of steel non-sinkable and twin-screw passenger cruisers will operate about 130 days during the season. The 15 mile river cruise will require 75 minutes for the round trip and the longer excursion will run about two hours. Nominal fares will be charged. Sugar-less Canning for Overseas Relief Continues Through canning without sugar for overseas relief American women and girls are saving many thousands of bushels of fruit that would otherwise go to waste, it was revealed today. Dan A. West, executive director of the community canning program for war relief, declared that through the nation-wide campaign to help build a food pool for Europe's hungry housewives are learning that unsugared canned fruit is both tasty and nutritious. He explained that in some communities where the program was launched, women who sincerely wanted to can locally abundant fruit and to share it with the mal-nourished people abroad protested at first that sugar rationing held them back. They told local leaders organizing community canning for war relief committees, "We can't get enough sugar to can for our own family requirements." These individuals, Mr. West added, seemed to believe that sugar was necessary for safe canning. He said "They were delighted to learn that fruit packed in a can filled with juice of the fruit itself or water needs no sugar whatever to conserve it, but may easily be processed and sealed. Sugar may be added at the time of serving." Women and girls, he related, began somewhat timidly to try sugar-less canning, then sampled the product and found it good. Realizing that sugar merely makes the fruit sweeter and helps to retain its color, they agreed that to forego the added sweetness was a minor sacrifice, and that it was a shameful waste to allow any fruit to rot for the lack of canning sugar.

WILLIAM POWELL RETURNS AS THIN MAN AT COLONY

Two comedies have been scheduled for the Colony theatre for Friday and Saturday. One is slapstick and the other a romantic comedy. The former is "Here Come the Co-eds" starring Abbott and Costello and the latter is "The Thin Man Goes Home," co-starring William Powell and Myrna Loy.

Returning to the screen as a pair for the first time in many months, the lovable pair, Powell and Loy, get involved in a murder mystery while Powell, as Mr. Charles the well-known private detective, is spending a few weeks with his parents in his home town.

Trying to convince the town that nothing sinister is behind his visit to his home, Charles is nevertheless caught up in a web of circumstances which leads to the solving of a crime which leads to the protection of the guilty one, because he is the town's most respected citizen, and places the blame on a supposedly "crazy" woman who lives on the outskirts of town. How Charles, and his wife who also gets mixed up in the mystery, bring out the true facts of the affair, is one which will hold your interest to the very finish.

Foamlike Plastic Top War Secret

A secret material, developed for war by American industry, outlines peacetime uses for its plastic foam, seven times lighter than rubber.

The new material will now be used, according to its developers, for insulation in homes, autos, trains and airplanes, and buoyancy units for life preservers, floats and pleasure craft.

In the Pacific theatre the new product was used to fill large steel pontoons which carried tanks over coral reefs to shore. It even kept pontoons and tanks from sinking when punctured by gunfire.

VETERAN NEWS

From the Office of Veterans' Affairs

Any honorably discharged Michigan war veteran may be provided hospitalization and sanatorium care for tuberculosis at the expense of the state of Michigan in the sanatorium nearest his home.

Persons honorably discharged from the military service and not otherwise hospitalized are deemed to be residents of the state at large and the expense of their treatment and hospitalization, with the approval of the commissioner of health, shall be paid by the state, according to an act of the 1945 Michigan legislature which just became effective on Sept. 5.

Proper equipment for dental examination and treatment and service by a dentist shall also be provided by the hospital or sanatorium. Facilities for roentgenography and fluoroscopy, adequate for thoracic visualization shall also be provided under the act.

The act further provides for proper facilities for collapse therapy, including thoracic surgery, for patients needing this treatment. Complete clinical records are kept which include results of all examinations, laboratory findings and treatments given.

The official application form K-64 must be submitted and in the case of veterans, the portion pertaining to residents of the state at large should be given particular attention. These applications are available from the Michigan department of health, the OVA and at all counseling centers.

O'BRIEN, ITURBI AND DURANTE IN FILM AT SHORES

One of the top musicals of the year, which includes everything from a tiny little girl to a world famous pianist will be shown at the Shores theatre, Mack avenue at Nine Mile road, next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. This is considered one of the best features of the year, and is titled "Music for Millions."

The story revolved around a lad who has just returned from overseas; the plot becomes involved when the soldier, a pal of Margaret O'Brien's, is reported missing. However, everyone tried to shield the fact from the young wife of the serviceman, and this is accomplished until one day she receives a letter from him telling of his rescue.

Weaving in and out of the story is lovable Margaret who causes a great deal of excitement when she tangles with the well-known pianist, played by Jose Iturbi. Throughout the entire story, her antics with Iturbi and the "great" Jimmy Durante keep the audience in stitches. This is a perfect picture for the entire family and is recommended for everyone's enjoyment.

Limbs for Maimed Vets From Plastic

B. K. Vis, a Detroit mechanical engineer and enlisted man in the navy, has perfected one of the war's most valuable inventions for maimed veterans — a machine for manufacture of plastic artificial body parts.

Considered the most radical departure in prosthetics since the Civil War, the machines involve the use of liquid plastic. The finished body parts retain perpetual pliability. Fingers of the artificial hand, for instance, can be closed into a fist, but they do not fly back suddenly. They retract to normalcy in a slow, life-like movement.

Body parts, with the exception of ears, eyes and noses, are kept in position by the suction principle, without the use of hooks, straps, adhesives or harnesses.

New Ship-to-Shore Radio-Telephone Service Installed

The Michigan Bell Telephone company recently announced the inauguration of experimental FM ship-to-shore radiotelephone service at Detroit.

On the authorization of the Federal Communications Commission, tests will be made until the end of the navigation season to determine the possible advantages of FM service over the present AM service for shore operations. The latter service continues in operation while the experiment is in progress.

Results of the experiment will be reported to the FCC to help it determine the future uses of very high frequency broadcasting. Frequencies of 37,500 kilocycles are used with a range of about 50 miles. The regular service employs frequencies of 20,000 to 30,000 kilocycles.

Transmitting and receiving equipment is installed at the Bell Building in Detroit. Similar equipment has been installed by telephone companies in Chicago and Lorain, O. The Lake Carriers' Association is equipping 30 ships to send and receive messages and the U. S. Coast Guard units at Detroit, St. Clair Flats, Port Huron, and Sault Ste. Marie also are co-operating in the experiment. The equipment can be connected with the land-line telephone network, the same as the existing service.

'The Great Big Doorstep,' First Catholic Theatre Group Play

The Catholic Theatre of Detroit announces as its opening production of the 1945-46 season a dramatization of Edward O'Donnell's hilarious novel, "The Great Big Doorstep," at the Art Institute auditorium, Woodward and Kirby, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, Oct. 4, 5 and 6. This bright comedy has for its characters a family of the Louisiana Bayou folk with the rich "Cajun" local color and flavorful speech.

"The Commodore" — so-called because he was captain of a river scow "once" — and Mama Crochet, his wife, have quite a time with their family after son Arthur finds an elaborate doorstep floating down the Mississippi — and they decide they want a house to go with it!

The Children's Stage opening production is a bright juvenile comedy entitled "The Penny Pirates" and will be given two performances on Saturday, Oct. 6 at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

U. of M. Plans for Vets This Fall

Ann Arbor. — A four week pre-school refresher course for veterans whose study habits may have become a bit rusty while in the service, will be offered by the University of Michigan this fall, the Veterans Service Bureau has announced.

The course, which begins Sept. 24, will offer basic brush-up work in math, English and academic orientation for the fall term beginning Nov. 1.

Emphasis will be put on instruction in how to study, how to concentrate and prepare for exams, how to read rapidly and efficiently, how to budget study time and how to use library aids.

In addition, able veterans will be given an opportunity to "audit" or sit in on classes already in session.

According to the Veterans Service Bureau, the course is primarily designed to combat the high academic mortality rate of returning veterans. Last fall and spring 70 out of 500 veterans dropped out of the U. of M. because of scholastic difficulties.

In a recent questionnaire, 41 per cent of the veterans now in attendance here indicated that they would have taken the refresher course had it been available. A majority of them reported having difficulty with math, foreign languages, science and English composition.

All fee costs for the refresher course will be absorbed by the Veterans Administration and enrolled students will receive full subsistence allowances. No academic credit will be awarded for the work.

Explains Two Security Plans for the Aged

"There are two plans under social security to protect old people from want," Francis L. Pendergast, manager of the social security board field office at 8037 Harper avenue, explained today. "These two plans are widely different and each one serves a special purpose. Yet people sometimes mistake one for the other. This confusion is generally the result of careless terms used in describing the plans."

Mr. Pendergast outlined the differences between the two. "The first plan," he said, "is old-age and survivors insurance. It is a federal system and its provisions are the same in all parts of the country. It is an insurance plan. Wage earners pay a social security tax of one per cent of their wages, and their employers contribute a like amount. This provides monthly insurance benefits to the worker when he retires at age 65, or later, and to his wife when she reaches age 65, regardless of what other income or property they may have. If he should die, monthly benefit payments go to his family — his widow, his children, perhaps his aged parents. That's why it is known as federal 'family' insurance. All these benefits have been paid for in advance during the working years. To inquire about this federal 'family' insurance, come to my office, or phone me at Plaza 8714.

"The other plan," Mr. Pendergast continued, "is called public assistance. It takes care of those who have been unable to build up social security insurance accounts as wage earners, and who do not have enough to live on. The federal government shares the cost of this system but the state, not the federal government, decides who shall get aid and how much shall be paid to each at the time during which aid is given, and any other income or resource he may have is taken into account. "To inquire about old-age assistance, go to the nearest local public welfare office or write to the state public welfare agency, Wayne County Bureau of Social Aid, 4707 Rivard avenue, Detroit 7, Mich."

New processes developed by manufacturers now make it possible to utilize the entire tree.

FOR THE BOYS BACK HOME—Now that the war is over every feminine wardrobe is going to require at least one long-skirted evening gown. Blonde, tall, slender Doris Grundy, of NBC's "Adventures of Archie Andrews," selected this white tulle and black velvet after careful deliberation. The dramatic black velvet flowers are applied on the tulle skirt. Little black velvet buttons fasten the front of the bodice and there's a rusty taffeta petticoat underneath. Cell Chapman designed it.

American Candy Bar A Wonderful Value!
Americans get a lot of candy for five cents, declare three British candy manufacturers who have been touring candy and chocolate plants in this country and marvel at the know-how of candy manufacturers here.

The confectioners were also impressed by the variety of ingredients and agricultural products used in American candy. About 77 agricultural products are used. The use of peanuts was typically American, they said.
