Pointe Post Office Sets Record for Holiday Rush

Residents Support Maintenance of Local Branch

In support of the declaration that Grosse Pointe needs its own post office, it was found that during the recent Christmas rush the largest volume of mail passed over the counters of the branch since its opening as a temporary office several years ago.

The December, 1945 business more than tripled that of 1943, and far exceeded that carried on in 1944, according to Leland F. Lindow, superintendent of the branch.

Don't throw your Christmas tree away! Keep it for the birds. Simply place the tree in a corner of the yard, tie pieces of suet and bread to the branches and watch the birds discover a friendly haven.

intendent of the Pointe branch, located on Maumee between St. Clair and Neff.

The sale of stamps far exceeded all expectations this year when $19,664 was collected; this can be compared to last year's total of $13,428 and an approximate total of $8,500 the previous year.

A total of 59,780 packages were mailed from Grosse Pointe; of this number, 6,236 were insured and 54,544 were ordinary parcels. This is an increase of over ten thousand packages.

There were 410 registered letters, 918 C.O.D.'s. The pouches of first class mail totaled 473 while there were 4,482 sacks of parcel post.

The new facilities which were added to the office in recent months were the issuing of money orders and war and victory bonds. Pointers were issued $65 money orders and approximately sixty bonds were purchased.

In speaking of the service at Grosse Pointe, Mr. Lindow said, "As a result of the splendid cooperation of the people of the Pointe in mailing early and addressing their mail with delivery zone numbers, we have been able to maintain our record of prompt service."

"Firsts" of Police Hunt M. Woman For Five Robberies Here

As the Chimes, bells and wishes of "Happy New Year" ushered 1946 upon the threshold of the lives of Grosse Pointe residents, a brief glance at the "firsts" of the year revealed that:

First police call: The first police call occurred in the City of Grosse Pointe when it was discovered at 12:32 a.m. that the iron door on the Grosse Pointe Bank was left unlocked.

First auto accident: A 12 year old girl was injured in the first auto accident of 1946 at St. Paul and Grayton roads when a car driven by James Fisher, of 1152 Wayburn, hit a parked car owned by Virginia H. Angell of 964 Balfour road, at 2 a.m. Peggy Fisher, riding with her father, was taken to Bon Secours hospital for treatment on an injured mouth; she was released and taken home shortly afterwards.

First call to a party: The City police answered a call to Concordia Hall after being told that a man there had suffered a heart attack. This took place at 2:30 a.m.

First fire call: At 2:28 a.m., City firemen were called to 353 Rivard boulevard because an overheated furnace had caused the house to fill with smoke.

First family trouble: Park police installation of members of the City will take place in the late afternoon of the 10th.

The crime wave which began recently in Grosse Pointe Park when three homes were entered and ransacked has been linked with the two breaking-and-enterings which took place New Year's Eve, according to Lieut. Arthur Louwers.

These two followed those on December 20 and 21 in homes on Barrington, Beckingham and Bishop when the thief or thieves, concentrated on jewelry, furs and small valuable items.

The first report which the Park police received on December 31 came to them shortly after 10 p.m. when they were notified that the Claude Jorgensen home at 121 Bedford road was burglarized. Investigation revealed that the Jorgensen home was searched at 9:45 p.m., when the thief entered from the home upon the roof of the residents living there.

The second robbery took place at the M. G. Brinkman home, Balfour road and is believed to have taken place at the same time. Brinkman told police that he returned at 3:30 a.m. to find a desk drawer opened and a small amount of money missing.

The police were immediately notified and learned that three packages, a radio, a camera, watch and several items of jewelry were taken. Entry into both the Jorgensen and Brinkman homes was made through the rear; the former through a window in a bathroom window, the latter through a basement window. Investigation also revealed that the Jorgensen man telephone wires had been cut in the rear of the house.

Lieutenant Louwers again urges all residents to report any suspicious characters or actions in the neighborhood to the police department immediately. He said that the

"WE LEAD, OTHERS FOLLOW"

SNOW COMES

Snow is not only the harbinger of another season but of a change in our minds. Habit is so strong upon us and self action is so much a part of our lives that we are not even aware of what our towns actually look like until a mantle of brightness and changes everything.

Some of us hum Jingle Bells, others surreptitiously reach for a snowball, and test the old eye by tossing it at a pole. We decide to walk through the countryside and the gaiety that has fallen upon us; or maybe the brisk air relaxes us and we go home and toast our toes before a fire. Still others are pleased because the snow gives them an excuse to sit at home with a good book, rather than go out to dinner or a bridge-party.

Snow brings with it many things, but almost universal is the lifting of our hearts. At last we have found time to do all the little things we have put off so long.

Young Women Urged to Study Nursing

Since V-J Day, there seems to be a mistaken general impression that nurses are no longer needed. During the war, government assistance was given to young women who were interested in nursing.

number of girls who went into industrial war work with the idea of becoming student nurses at a later date.

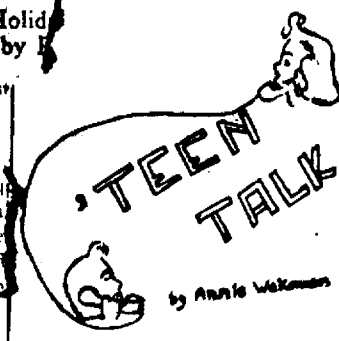

Directors of schools of nursing in Detroit tell us that there are still 200 vacancies in February classes which will not be filled unless potential candidates become informed that they are very much in demand.

At the same time many nurses who worked in hospitals and other community nursing services during the wartime emergency are impatient to return to homes and families which they left for "the duration."

This is one field in which there are no layoffs and none expected. Any young woman who is interested should apply to the school of her choice or inquire of the Detroit Council on Community Nursing, Room 202, 51 West Warren, telephone Temple 4-1111.

OVA Survey Shows Dire Housing Needs—The OVA, with the assistance of local counseling centers, has completed a state-wide survey to determine the need for housing of World War II veterans.

This survey disclosed several important facts. Also, it again established the need for local CVA. It also clearly defined a necessary function to be performed by a local counseling center through its council committees.

The most vital determination the survey revealed was the extent of the housing problem itself. In 43 communities the finding of housing for veterans is extremely serious; very serious in 21; fairly serious in 19, and not serious in only 14 communities surveyed.

The survey uncovered the fact that 71 communities do not have a central bureau where houses, apartments, and rooms for rent are listed. Thus the need for such a bureau is clearly pointed out and the community's obligation to establish a central clearing office, preferably in the counseling center, is made apparent.

In 63 communities the local real estate boards have taken no positive action to stimulate residential construction. Again a duty of the council is made clear—that of arousing an interest in building. One small community reported that 100 veterans would buy homes within three weeks if homes were made available, and another small community stated that 200 were needed.

Girl Scout News

Many hearts were made happy on Christmas Day, and even before, thanks to our Girl Scout troops in Grosse Pointe. On Thursday, Dec. 20, Troop 257 entertained 20 children from the Protestant Children's Home, at a Christmas party. It was held at Calvary Lutheran church, and the hostesses went all out to give their guests a day to remember. They played games, sang Christmas songs, enjoyed a delicious dinner, and before they went home, each one received a gift from her particular hostess.

The following night, Friday, the same troop sang carols at the St. Joseph's Home for the Aged, on Cadieux road. This is the third consecutive year that these girls have carried on this particular project.

Troop 303 held its Christmas party on Tuesday, Dec. 18, at Maire school. They played bingo, sang carols, had fun with a grab bag, and ended the festivities with the serving of refreshments.

The big party at Trombly on Monday, given by Troop 138 was a big success. Delmar the magician, appearing through the courtesy of the Ford Motor company, mystified the girls, and the adults with his magic. Santa Claus dropped in, and stayed long enough to fill his bag with the gifts contributed by the girls and their guests, all of which are now on their way to Europe; and the 18 colored carolers, with their director, Mr. DuPries, from the community music house in Detroit, charmed everyone with their beautiful music. Mr. DuPries' rendition of the Lord's Prayer was particularly inspiring.

READING & WRITING BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

Benjamin Franklin's "Autobiography" is one of the great best-sellers of all times; it has had at least a hundred editions in the last hundred years. That famous book, however, is a mere fragment of Franklin's memoirs. It tells only a part of the story of his life up to 1757—and he lived until 1790.

CARL VAN DOREN

"Benjamin Franklin's Autobiographical Writings," edited by Carl Van Doren, fills out many of the gaps. Mr. Van Doren has added letters and other personal writings of Franklin's to the original "Autobiography" to fill out the years up to 1757, and then continued it with other letters and writings up to the time of Franklin's death. Many of these writings have been out of print for years; others are published here for the first time.

Among the inclusions are much-neglected scientific letters, such as the one describing his near electrocution; a remarkable letter in which he clears himself of a scandal in 1738; another written just after his fiftieth birthday from the frontier in the midst of his campaign against the Indians; and a fragmentary will.

Erich Maria Remarque, of "All Quiet on the Western Front" fame, is author of the Forsyke Book-of-the-Month Club choice, "Arch of Triumph," a novel having to do with an outcast surgeon, the woman he loved, and the enemy he killed. Reserve Club selections are William Allen White's autobiography, and Jim Corbett's "Man-Eaters of Kumson."

Ben Lucian Burman wrote his novel, "Rooster Crows for a Day" in a little African village. He thought he would find quiet there, but he was mistaken. In desperation he rented three large houses in a row, moved into the middle one. The total rent was less than an average American apartment, but the author's unbridled recklessness gave rise to a series of legends. "Ah, yes," said a prominent native to an inquiring war correspondent. "This great wealth of Sidi Burman is easy to understand. You see, he owns diamond mines in America."

U. of M. Faculty Member Directs Research on Anti-Influenza Vaccine

Ann Arbor, Mich. Research directed by a University of Michigan faculty member has produced a vaccine which has proved to be effective in protecting against influenza. Previously, proper care of the patient once he had become an influenza victim was the doctor's only possibility in combating the disease.

Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., chairman of the department of epidemiology in the University of Michigan school of public health, is the director of the commission on influenza set up in 1941 by the Surgeon General's office of the army as part of a board to control epidemic diseases.

Under contract between the University of Michigan and the war department, the university's school of public health became the headquarters for the search to find some preventive measure against influenza. Dr. Jonas E. Salk, a research associate at the school of public health, assisted by Doctor Francis with the research, and other members of the commission on influenza in various parts of the country joined in the search.

From this research was developed a vaccine which passed its major test during an influenza epidemic late in 1945. This epidemic showed that only one-fourth the number of army personnel who had been vaccinated contracted influenza as compared with groups not vaccinated.

Up until recently, the vaccine has remained an exclusive military product but indications now are that vaccine will be prepared for civilian use. Doctor Francis emphasizes that the University of Michigan is not a producer of the vaccine and that it will take the commercial biological firms some time to build up an adequate supply for sale. He emphasizes also that the vaccine has been found effective against the two types of influenza, A and B, but has no effect on the common cold or pneumonia. Also he advises that it takes from seven to ten days for the vaccine to become effective so that vaccination should take place prior to an actual outbreak of influenza.

Research is continuing. Doctor Francis reports, with efforts directed toward easier methods of production. The vaccine is now being produced from fertile hen's eggs.

Six-Car Accident at Mack and Balfour

Several cars were involved in a traffic tieup last Thursday night at Mack avenue and Balfour and six cars were damaged considerably in an accident which started when a truck driven by William Scherer, 20655 Vernier Circle, Grosse Pointe Woods, locked bumpers with a car driven by Tony Bommarito of 1380 Kensington.

While the drivers were working on the bumpers, a car driven by Carl F. Melchior of 617 Eastlawn, approaching the double-parked vehicles, was attempting to stop but was hit by a car driven by Leo W. Clemens of 5275 Grayton road. The Melchior car was pushed into an unoccupied parked car, injuring Mr. Scherer.

The damaged cars did not stop here for the parked car was hit a second time by a car driven by Dr. Robert W. Willis of 2146 Nesbit, Grosse Pointe Woods.

Mr. Scherer was taken to a nearby physician's office, where he was treated for a fractured leg.

Woods Community Club to Start Building Fund; Changes Policies

For many months, the facilities of the Community club building of Grosse Pointe Woods have been inadequate to care for the recreational needs of the boys and girls in the village, and also for the many clubs and organizations of the village who are desirous of using the assembly room.

A building fund program is being set up under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edgar Hollid for the purpose of enlarging the building, although it will be some time before a new building can be constructed. In the meantime, the board of directors have made several changes in the operation of the club's program.

The clubhouse will be open to residents of the Woods only, and membership fees can be accepted only from these people.

The recreational facilities of the building may be used only by children and teen age young people.

Anyone found abusing the privileges of the club will lose his or her membership for all time, therefore making a vacancy to be filled by some boy or girl more desirous of the club's membership.

The adult classes will continue as they were organized in the fall. Courses in dressmaking and in millinery, half completed before Christmas, will continue in January; registrations will be accepted for the final courses in these two skills for this year. Mrs. N. W. Swain is the instructor in dressmaking and Mrs. Irene Sutton is the millinery teacher.

The program for the boys and girls has also been altered and two new special interest groups are being started next week. On Jan. 8, a group will be organized under the direction of Mrs. Irene Hunter; registrations are now being taken for this group.

On Jan. 10, a course for senior girls will begin in shell jewelry. Mrs. Walter Reeg is engaged for this class.

Monday nights throughout the season are to be reserved for boys as a game night. Boys are invited to come to the building and play ping pong.

Friday and Saturday nights are reserved for social gatherings—one each week. The young people may meet for dancing or games under the supervision of Mrs. Reeg.

For any information and registration for these classes or groups, the boys and girls are asked to call Mrs. Reeg, the director at the club building, TU 1-9821.

The boys who are members of the club meet on Tuesday nights in the Mason school gym under the leadership of Bernie Falk to play basketball and participate in athletics. Approximately fifty boys from age 12 and over have been enjoying the activity sponsored by the Community club.

An athletic club for older boys has been organized in the village and meets in the Mason school gym on Thursday nights under the guidance of Marshall Jamison. This group is jointly sponsored by the Woods recreation committee, the Woods police department and the Community club; it is open to all older boys in the village.

Guild Meeting

The Ladies' Guild of St. James Lutheran church will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Flemming, 265 Moross road, for a pot-luck luncheon on Wednesday, Jan. 9, at 12 noon. The regular business meeting will follow at 1:30 p.m.

Assisting Mrs. Flemming and Mrs. William Fenske, the co-hostess, will be Mesdames Herman Kroll, Leonard Schneider, George Kurz, and Otto Deinzer.

Newcomers Club Plan Social Affairs for Two Months

Plans for January and February parties were made at the executive board meeting of the Grosse Pointe Newcomers club, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lundgren, 1237 Harvard road, Friday night, Dec. 28. Following reports from the treasurer, Russell Near, and the membership chairman, Frank Lister, a committee composed of Mr. Lundgren, Mr. Lister, and Mrs. W. A. Naragon, secretary, was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws.

Winter entertainments will include a bridge party, to be held Jan. 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Burgoon, Jr., 1162 Grayton road; and a smorgasbord and bingo party scheduled for Jan. 25. Male members of the group are planning a "sweetheart" dinner dance for February with George Lyons as chairman.

Newcomers to the Grosse Pointe area who are interested in joining the group are reminded to telephone the club at 1-1500, or to call Frank Lister at 1-1500.

Remember?

Detained by St. Louis, Mo., police following a wire from Grosse Pointe Park authorities, Ray Lowe, 19, of 528 Ivanhoe, had been returned to Detroit and was to have stood trial Monday at 9 a. m.

Found guilty on a manslaughter charge, John Sivani of 2177 Ardmore, driver of the car in which a year old boy met death in a crash at Charlevoix and Nottingham, was placed on three years probation by a circuit court judge.

A 17-year-old son of a Detroit coal company official was fined $100 or 90 days in jail and his license revoked on a conviction of reckless driving. . . . The Grosse Pointe water system showed a huge profit. . . . Park residents were invited to an open house affair at the newly completed storm water pumping station.

18 Years Ago

Two men were captured by Detroit police at Eight Mile road and confessed to the holdup of the exclusive Grosse Pointe club at 6 Berkshire road. Their robbery occurred shortly after a party was given there attended by hundreds of Pointe guests. The manager, telephone operator, and secretary were held at gun point to open the safe but "supposed" ignorance of the combination prevented the thieves from leaving with $700.

A meeting was scheduled by Grosse Pointe Farms to discuss amending the zoning ordinance to permit the establishment of a shopping center at Grosse Pointe boulevard and Lakeview.

The two-family flat at 634-36 N. W. road was destroyed by fire, with damage amounting to approximately $9,000; it was caused by an overheated furnace. . . . Street widening went on in the community despite the depression. . . . Residents were urged to pay their taxes before Jan. 10.

15 Years Ago

Property owners along the Lake St. Clair shore line in Grosse Pointe Farms were being asked to dedicate a 120-foot right-of-way for the construction of the new highway thru the village to connect on the east with Jefferson and on the east with the new Lakeshore drive. The plan of Grosse Pointe Farms officials and citizens and the Wayne county road commission was to extend the 120-foot double strip highway west from Weir Lane to Fisher road, a distance of one mile. A majority of Farms property owners passed a resolution approving the project and efforts were being made to gain the support of all the owners.

The Helen Handy Newberry Memorial home for nurses was formally opened for Grace hospital. . . . Post-war flavored grape products, both imported and domestic, were offered the public free of charge as a special offer of the manufacturer of world renowned vintages.

Millions of Gardeners Want Victory Garden Gains Made Permanent

Millions of Victory gardeners, who transformed neglected vacant lots and back yards into productive war gardens, are organizing to keep up the good work in peacetime.

For three years they have produced 40 per cent of the nation's fresh vegetables, and last year they canned 3,400,000,000 quarts of canned food. Vital as this contribution was to the maintenance of a high nutrition level in both army and civilians, many judges deem the social value of this great garden movement to be almost as important.

Neglected areas of our great cities have become cultivated oases of beauty, through the efforts of war gardeners. Neighbors have been brought together in a community of effort that has spread sympathy and understanding, and developed practical democracy. There is an old motto: "Gardening is an occupation for which no man is too high or too low." This has been literally true in thousands of cases, where millionaires and their wives have worked side by side with maid and janitor, in growing the carrots, lettuce and greens which have saved America from the malnutrition from which most other warring countries are suffering.

Too Valuable to Be Lost That all this is too valuable to be lost because peace has come is a thought which has been expressed in Washington, which advised the following recommendation to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson: "The gains of the Victory Garden program should be made permanent. A broad program of home gardening and food production to promote health, economy, attractive surroundings and recreation should be made a definite part of the plans of the Department of Agriculture, state agricultural colleges, the extension service and all appropriate state agencies including the public schools, and the numerous private agencies which have so successfully contributed to the garden program in wartime."

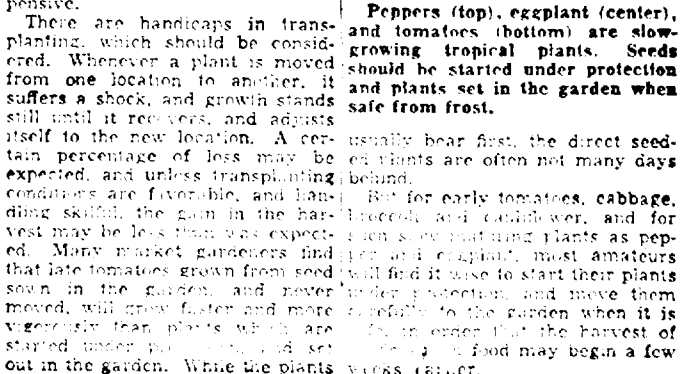

Government Support Sought Government support of a nationwide peace garden movement will not come as an idea handed down from the higher levels, but rather in response to the demands of enthusiastic gardeners who are estimated to number 19,000,000, not individuals, but families. This is more than half the total families in this country and at least double the number that, prior to World War II, had ever been interested in gardening. Many of them were novices when war gardens began, but in three years they have acquired skill and knowledge in the art and have experienced the rich rewards which home gardening brings to its devotees.

Seeds or Plants? Here's Answer to This Question

Which is better, to sow seeds of vegetables direct in the garden, or set out plants? This question puzzles many gardeners. Most of them decide it by sowing direct varieties which are hardy, grow rapidly, and mature early, while they set out plants of tender varieties, which mature slowly and could not be sown directly outdoors until danger of frost is over.

Tomatoes, peppers and eggplant are given an early start under protection, over most of the country, so that their harvest may begin weeks earlier than would be possible with seed sown directly outdoors. Cauliflower, which must mature before hot-weather, is also started in this way, as well as early cabbage, broccoli, and frequently kohlrabi. For late harvests, however, all these are sown in the garden.

For most other vegetables, little is gained by setting out plants, except in cases where it might be difficult to start seedlings. This may be true in localities of heavy soil and low rainfall, and in all sections during hot weather. A better way, however, is to learn the simple methods by which seeds can be started even in difficult weather; or if plants are used, to start them yourself in an outdoor flat, filled with good potting soil, well watered and shaded from the hot sun. It is easy to do this, and quite inexpensive.

There are handicaps in transplanting, which should be considered. Whenever a plant is moved from one location to another, it suffers a shock, and growth stands still until it recovers, and adjusts itself to the new location. A certain percentage of loss may be expected, and unless transplanting conditions are favorable, and handling skillful, the gain in the harvest may be less than was expected. Many market gardeners begin that late tomatoes grown from seed sown in the garden, and never moved, will grow faster and more abundantly than plants which are started under protection and set out in the garden. While the plants weeks earlier.

Grosse Pointe Review

The Newcomers club has asked me to convey to you their appreciation for the publicity our organization has had in The Review. You will be interested to know the response for members has been beyond our expectations and we now have quite an active social group. We feel the club fills a definite need for families who have moved to Grosse Pointe from other cities and we hope it will continue as a non-profit un-sponsored service club for our community for years to come.

A Happy New Year to you and the staff, Bennett Burgoon, Jr., Chairman.

Money Multiplies

It isn't done by magic—but employees of an Eastern oil company can save a full year's salary every five years at a cost of only half that amount.

They may put aside a portion of their salaries—10 per cent—after six years. The company matches it dollar for dollar. When employees retire or leave after five years, they receive double their money plus interest.

Disabled Only

The first full-fledged factory for disabled veterans of World War II has been established at Cushing General Hospital, Framingham, Mass., under the sponsorship of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts.

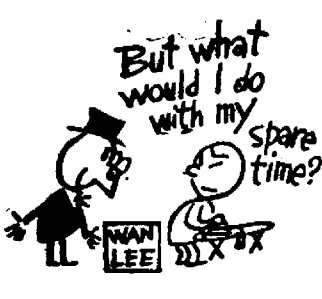

Bonus Employees

A $5 bonus is paid by Abbott Laboratories, New York and Chicago, to any employee bringing in a new worker who stays at least 30 days. If he works 120 days, the bonus is boosted by $10.

New Micro-Matic Pressure Pan gives new speed and healthfulness into modern kitchen. Cooks fresh green peas in a mere 2 minutes. A whole chicken in 15 minutes. A whole turkey in 45 minutes. The pressure pan is the clever Micro-Matic Cooker (round gauge stop cover of pan) which you pre-select correct pressure or cooking pressure—5, 10 or 15 lbs. The Pan provides a full 4-quart capacity to take care of bulky meats and other foods, and to pressure-cook one-pint jars at a single time.

Don't let me say!

I am thinking about becoming a union leader.

My idea is to organize the Chinese laundrymen of this country, and try to get them a 14-hour day.

The average Chinese laundryman works about 18 hours a day, six or seven days a week.

If I can raise their rates and decrease their working day, it ought to be worth a dollar a week, per Chinaman, to me as their "leader," and that ought to add up to a pretty penny for me in the course of a year.

A lot of fellows who try to run their own businesses need my help. I was talking to a little lunchstand keeper the other day. We were discussing the 48-hour week. "Gosh," he said, "I often work 48 hours at a stretch."

DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO Youth!

Millions of unfortunate youngsters overseas can't remember anything but war, so they've never known a life without misery. But you can help them start a new life of health and happiness by contributing the spare clothing in your attic, trunk, and closets. All types of clothing are needed, in all sizes. Dig out this clothing today.

COLONY BILLS LIFE FILM OF FAMOUS WRITER

A picture which will delight all movie goers is scheduled for the Colony theatre for Sunday and Monday. This picture, "Adventures of Mark Twain," stars Frederic March,

Alexis Smith and Alan Hale, begins with the birth of this great writer, Samuel Clemens. It is the story of his life and is filled with Twain's dry humor. His adventures on the famous Mississippi river, in the west seeking gold, and his start as a writer are finely shown on the screen. He finally marries the girl he tries to make a fortune for in an interesting part of his life. His travels around the world winning audiences in every land, is climaxed by his receiving an honorary degree at Oxford.

The accompanying film is "The Falcon in Sun" with Tom Conway.

If you brood over your troubles, you'll have a perfect catch—J. Hopkins.

Civic Players to Produce 'Rain' Friday

The Detroit Civic Players, fastest growing dramatic group in the Motor City, will present the long-time American stage favorite, "Rain," on Friday night, Jan. 11, at the Music Hall. This is the Civic Players third offering this season.

Adapted from Somerset Maugham's "Miss Thompson" by Colton and Randolph, "Rain" has long been one of the great successes of American dramatic literature.

Heading a select cast is Charlene Harmer, who plays the role of Sadie Thompson, a woman of easy virtue ostracized to a South Sea Isle.

Miss Harmer takes on the role of the fiery Sadie with 17 years of stage and radio experience behind her. She has appeared on "The Lone Ranger" and has played with The Detroit News Players under the direction of Wynn Wright. In addition, she has appeared with the Civic Detroit Children's Theatre of Detroit.

In supporting roles are Byron Pershing as the missionary, Rev. David Davidson; Lyle Blake as the cynical Doctor McPhail; Margaret Tulloch, Elvin Root, B. D. Wellins, Geroldine Wilson, Forrest Fox, Paul Beyer and Dolores Mathews.

Tickets for "Rain" may be purchased at Grinnell's or at the Music Hall box office the night of the performance.

SHORES THEATRE FEATURES "NOB HILL" in COLOR

"Nob Hill" technicolor saga of the Barbary Coast versus the aristocracy of old San Francisco at the turn of the century will be shown at the Shores theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Starring George Raft, Vivian Blaine, Joan Bennett, and Peggy Ann Garner, "Nob Hill" is replete with two-fisted action, beautiful scenery, several new as well as several old tunes and outstanding dance productions.

Briefly, the plot concerns George Raft, the owner of a saloon and gambling establishment and his ambition to enter into "respectable society." But complications arise fast and furiously when three people, each intent on looking out for Raft's welfare, enter his life; the ambitious star of his honky-tonk show, Vivian Blaine; a conniving debutante from aristocratic Nob Hill, Joan Bennett; and his "good-luck" charm, sweet Peggy Ann Garner.

All the featured stars, as well as the supporting players, give excellent performances. The accompanying film will be "Why Girls Leave Home," featuring Lola Lane and Pamela Blake.

90 Per Cent Own Wealth

Today 90 per cent of the American people own 40 per cent of the liquid wealth of the country, contrasted with 10 per cent of the people who owned 90 per cent of the wealth before the war. Savings from wartime paychecks and war bond purchases explain the spread of ownership.

Income Higher

In Russia the compensation of an industrial commissioner ranges from 50 to 80 times the wages of a laborer. In the United States, the net income, after taxes, of industrial leaders is about 20 to 25 times that of a laborer.

Patents Increase

Patent applications for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1945, totaled 59,661, compared with 49,034 in 1944 and 42,703 in 1943, demonstrating how industry is preparing to make new peacetime goods.

Less Hours

Before the war, an American could buy a radio with 50 hours work. The same radio cost the German worker 134 hours of toil, the Swede 262 hours, and the Italian 333 hours.

Electric Hot-beds Again Available to Amateurs

How to install electric heating cable with thermostat in hot-bed.
Electric heated hot-beds, which were unobtainable by amateurs during the war, are again possible for home gardeners who would prefer even heat, controlled automatically by thermostat, to the old fashioned way of heating with fermenting manure.
Hot-beds date back to the Roman empire, and the method of heating them continued to be the same for centuries. Electric cables were first used more than ten years ago, and they have been widely adopted by florists and market gardeners, who have proved them to be economical and practical.
A hot-bed frame is constructed in the usual manner, except that no deep pit is necessary. The frame follows the model of a cold frame, and is sunk in the ground about six inches. Soil is removed within it to an equal depth, and the cable is arranged on the bottom in loops, so that heat will be evenly distributed. The supply wire and cable are both connected to a thermostat, which can be set at the desired temperature.
When temperature rises a few degrees above the minimum, heat is shut off, and the variation between maximum and minimum temperatures is much less than with the old fashioned hot-bed. Moreover the electric heat does not diminish constantly, as does that furnished by manure, and there is no danger of injury to plants from a heated frost, which may come after the heating power has been exhausted.
The heating cable is usually covered with four to six inches of soil. It is a good idea to place a sheet of fine meshed poultry wire an inch above the cable, with soil between. Another method is to grow plants in flats, which are placed on a grating just above the heating cable, which is not buried in soil, and thus is always open to inspection. To improve insulation and reduce current consumption, the frame should be lined with chicken wire, which are covered with soil, to within a few inches of the top.
Plants grow better in even heat, and current consumption for small hot-beds is less than for large ones.
