A second member of the Grosse Pointe Farms police force becomes a twenty-five year man. He is Lieut. Eugene Bolo who begins his twentysixth year this week on the department. The only other person to top him is the chief, Joseph Trombley. Congratulations!

Michigan automobile license plates advice of one who lists as a pet peeve long waiting lines. Get your plate before the lineup forms because, just as sure as there is to be more snow this winter, the lines are going to be bigger and longer and slower than ever before when deadline day rolls around on Feb. 28.

A bit of warning has been issued by the police chiefs of Grosse Pointe to the youngsters who insist upon throwing snowballs at houses and passing cars and buses. All boys and girls who are apprehended by Schedule Induction the police for taking part in such activities will be punished.

Snow means fun to the majority of children but it also means punishment if it is used harmfully.

Dana C. Hill legal consultant of the American Legion has prepared] the following essential information income tax obligations and exing the current war. At best this is rather a complex and intricate subject. However, it has been treated here in outline form and should prove helpful to veterans. It is understood, of course, that involved situations will require the expert advice and assistance of an income tax or internal revenue representative:

There are three principal income tax benefits provided by congressional legislation and the Internal Revenue Code for persons on active duty in the armed forces of the United States. This includes army, navy, coast guard, and marine corps. It also applies to such duty with similar branches of the armed forces of allied governments. These benefits

1. Exemption. There is exempt from taxation so much of the compensation for active service in such armed forces as does not exceed $1,500.

2. Abatement a. All impaid taxes assessed against any person on active duty with the armed forces between Dec. 7, 1941 and the termination of the present war, will be cancelled provided they are not paid prior to his/her death which occurs while he/she is on active duty.

b. All taxes for the year during which such death occurred will be repated and cancelled whether paid or unpaid.

c. All such taxes paid after the death occurred will be rebated d. No rehate will be made for taxes paid prior to the death of such person for taxes assessed prior to the year of death of such person.

3. Deferment, a. Filing income tax returns. The duty to file income tax returns is automatically postponed for any person who is on active duty with the armed forces of the United States or ailied governments outside the continental limits of the United States for a period of 90 days or more. There will be no requirement to file until six months after the return to the United States of such person. Penalties and interes requirement for immediate payment concerned and the balance of totax may be described.

Christian Science Churches

"Life" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Jan. 20,

The Golden Text (Galatians 6:8) is: "He that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he hat soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting."
Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalms 60:8, 9): "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved."

The year of 1940, according to statistics, saw all Grosse Pointe home construction records broken and the triennium, 1938-40, also esrecord. A total of 755 permits for homes were issued, and the threeyear total was 1,892.

Many Grosse Pointers were saddened to learn of the death of the Rev. James A. McDonald, O.S.A., in Lawrence, Mass., after a brief illness. Father McDonald was the ounder and first pastor of the parish of St. Clare of Montefalco who organized the parish in 1925.

The body of Jeannette Congdon of Rocky River, O., was recovered from Lake St. Clair a short distance from the dock of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Grosse Pointe. One request was re-club at Vernier and Lakeshore ceived in the Park and the second Drive. Police believed she took her own life after walking on the thin

A project was begun by Florence Severs, Grosse Pointe librarian, to compile historical data of Grosse Pointe as a special service for the residents and organizations of the community. All were urged to send in information, letters or documents relating to the history of the Pointe.

By order of the police commissioner, detectives were seeking the 16922 Kercheval Woods' taxi business, the first man author of crank notes to Mrs. Russell A. Alger, wealthy socialite, for three months. The missives were a letter and two post cards; none contained threats but were of an annoying nature. Police believed they were written by a woman who was deploring the conditions after the repeal of prohibition.

> Ten Pointe Players took part in the "March of Youth" program broadcast over radio station WWJ . . The high school was offering instruction in international Morse code in an evening class . . . Tax payments were 25 per cent greater for the similar period a year before.

the spring elections scheduled for the Grosse Pointe district; opposition was expected in the various vilthe township.

A vain attempt was made by James cue a police dog from the ice off the Grosse Pointe Farms municipal road. A dog was noticed separated from the mainland by almost fifteen hundred feet of open water and a rowboat was used to cross to the ice; however, because of a blinding snow storm, rescue efforts were halted.

and Herbert Marshall are the principle characters in "The Enchanted Cottage." Young comes back from the war, with ugly scars on his face; afraid to face anyone, he hides away in a country cottage run by an old woman who has as her maid, a young girl. The latter, played by Dorothy McGuire, has been known as the "ugly duckling" and to escape this, takes up her duties at the cottage. How the friendship of these two developes into a love which is blind to the looks of each other, is beautifully told in this story. Herbert Marshall gives excellent support as a blind
