Farms Employees Ignore Order To Return To Work

A picket line was thrown around the Grosse Pointe Farms municipal building yesterday morning by striking employees of the public works and pier departments.

The strong wind which was causing all the rumpus last Sunday also caused the collapse of the huge plate glass window in the Leach drug store.

The Metropolitan Club of Grosse Pointe is seeking funds to assist them in carrying out their work with young boys. Last year they completed a most successful baseball season in which approximately one hundred fifty boys participated. They are hoping to increase this program to a much greater scope this summer.

We heard that a postman in Springfield, Mass., when discovered with his toenails painted red, said "My wife did it!" He evidently must have liked it if he kept the polish on!

Cramer Electric nosed out Oak Cleaners last week as winners in the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's Bowling League. They came up from second place last year.

This was in answer to the village council's demands that the men return to work Wednesday or the councilmen would assume that the employees had left their jobs.

Although none returned to work, the village did not advertise for help.

Assisting the 30 men in their picket line was Lawrence Piercey, an AF of L official, representing the Farms union.

Monday night at the village meeting, Councilman R. Gervey's Gnylls offered a motion to place advertisements in local papers for workers to replace the men who would not return to their jobs. He was given no support by other members of the council and the subject died there.

The union is demanding an 18 per cent increase in their wages despite the fact that the village council gave raises approximating ten to thirteen per cent to all employees, retroactive to March 1. The strikers contend that this is not sufficient to meet the rising cost of living.

Pan-American Day Commemorated by Pointe Rotarians

"Fiesta Pan-Americana" commemorating Pan-American Day was the theme of the weekly luncheon of the Grosse Pointe Rotary club Monday noon at the Whistler hotel.

Frank Palmer, president of the club, welcomed the club members and several distinguished guests who were present for the meeting.

Lawrence E. Good of the Inter-American Center spoke on "The Latin-Americans."

The consular guests included Ernest Lavaca and Paul Reyes Spindola of Mexico; Miguel Vega Leon of Peru; Louis James Rosenberg of Panama; Jorge Vargas of Costa Rica; and Saul S. Levin of Honduras. Other consular guests were D. F. H. Brickell of Great Britain; William C. Bryant of the French Netherlands; and A. Stazinski of Poland.

Something is going to be done about all that sand which creeps out from the parking lot at McMillan and Kercheval. Councilman William Kirby of the Farms reported that several inches of this fine sand covered a large portion of the sidewalk, making walking very inconvenient.

The owner of the property will be told to erect a suitable barrier which will keep the sand off the walk.

Eleven-year-old John Brancoleone of 1402 Nottingham was taken to Bon Secours hospital last Thursday afternoon by Park police. He was attempting to close a window in De-fer school and stuck his hand thru the glass.

City of Grosse Pointe public works employees notified the council that although they were not satisfied with the wages they were being given, they would go along with the city while the situation is investigated from time to time and an agreement is reached between the two parties.

A St. Clair avenue resident was the unlucky victim of two thefts recently, for soon after he had replaced a stolen license plate, the second plate was also stolen.

REMEMBER?

One Year Ago
Although no accurate tabulation was possible at the time, Lynn Bartlett, chairman of the United Nations clothing drive for the Grosse Pointe area announced that response to the appeal for discarded clothing had been far short of the quota of five pounds per person set by the national committee.

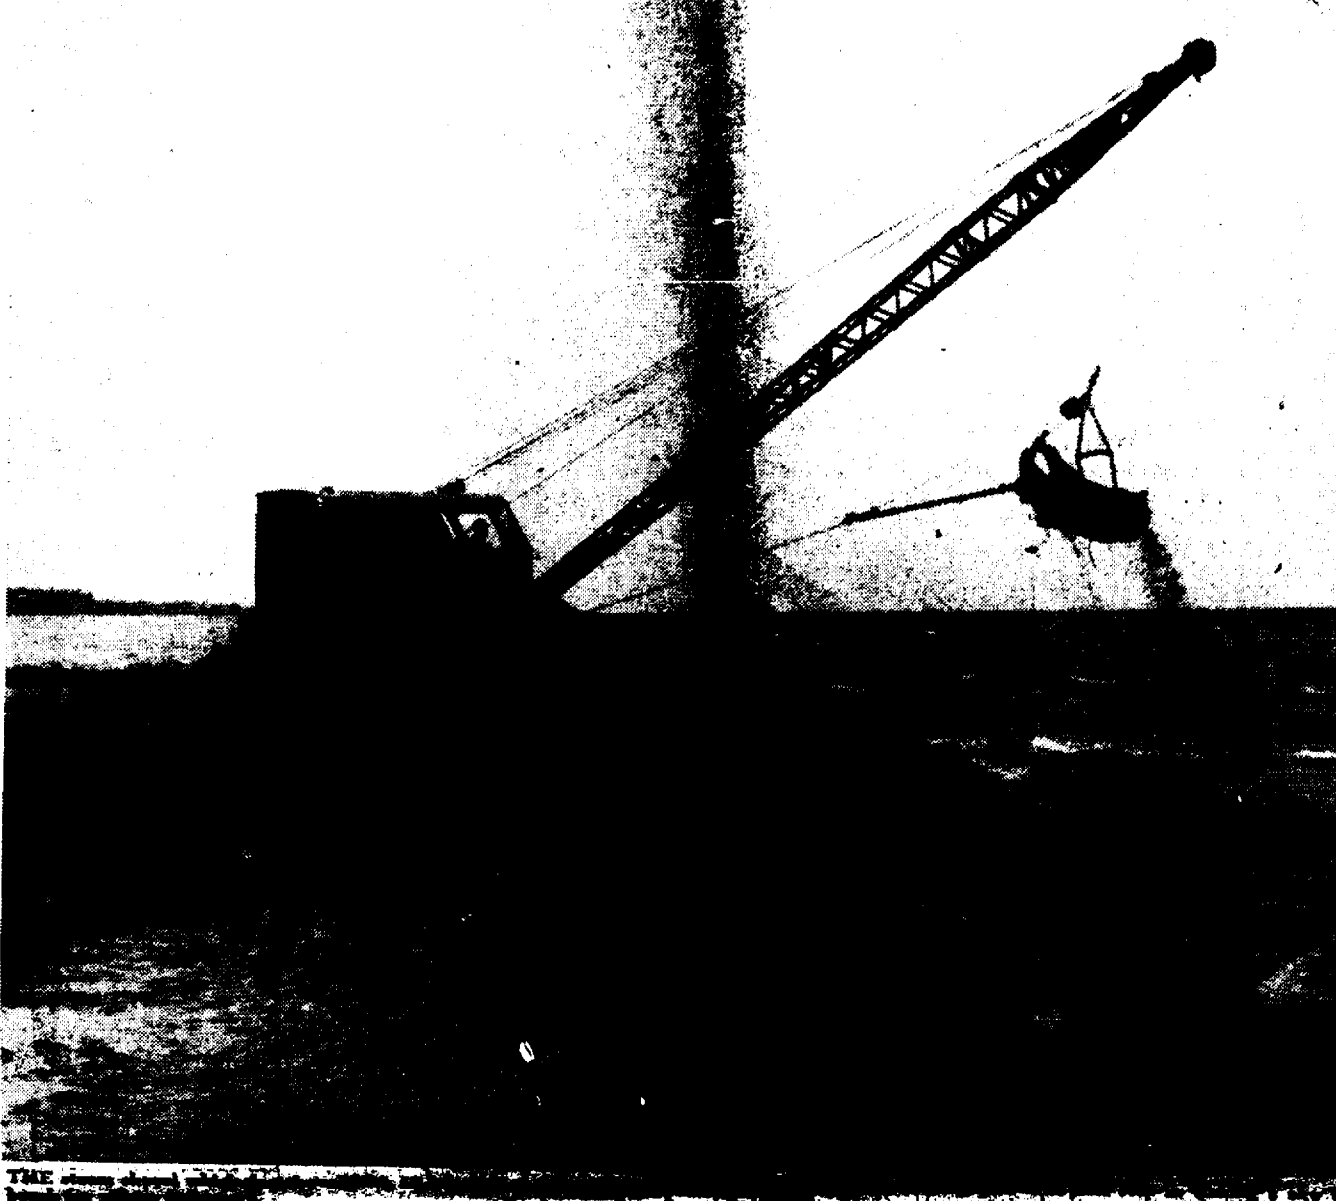

Well-known gardening experts were scheduled to address an opening meeting of Victory gardeners which was held in Grosse Pointe high school.

Police Sergeant Joseph Verrier was summoned by the Grosse Pointe park police chief for the capture of a three who were jostling Kirby at 1809 Charles in the walking opening hours.

The Grosse Pointe municipal council held its monthly meeting Monday night at 8 o'clock in the temporary building.

The council held its regular meeting Monday night at 8 o'clock in the temporary building. Councilman Richard Maxon urged that the request be granted for one year's suspension of the prohibition by the council against the use of the temporary building for the purpose of a library. He said it would be a good idea to have a library in the temporary building during the time in the temporary building.

BUILDING A NEW SANDY BEACH

THE crane is dumping sand on the beach which will be used for a new bathing beach. It saved the community a ton of money which would have been required if the shovel would have had to make a separate trip to the pier.

By acquiring bathing beach. Renting the steam shovel which was being used for construction work at Moross and Chalotte, the huge piece of equipment was used for several days to dig out the rubbish deposited years ago as a fill for the Hock property which adjoined the Farms municipal pier and purchased this past year by the village.

Community Good Friday Services at Punch and Judy

St. James Lutheran church of Grosse Pointe will conduct a special service for all in the community on Good Friday, one to two o'clock, at the Punch and Judy theatre, Kercheval at McKinley road. The pastor, the Rev. George E. Kurtz, will preach the sermon on "The Atomic Bomb at Calvary."

The service will include the reading of the Passion story and special music by the choir, under the direction of William F. Fenske, including the following selections: "Tis Midnight," from "Olivet," by Protheroe; "Go to Dark Gethsemane," a choral; "The Old Rugged Cross," by Bernard; "Something for Thee," by Gustance.

Mrs. Irving Bopp, contralto, will sing: "Before the Crucifix," by La Forge.

Drive On Vandals

Although there was a slight decrease in the activities of Grosse Pointe's wandering teen-agers this past week-end, the police of the communities have reported that petty thefts, a stolen automobile and an attack on a 13-year-old lad still cloud their records.

An automobile owned by Charles Palms, of 78 Lakeshore and parked in front of 157 Ridge road last Friday night, was pushed down the hill on Merriweather and crashed into the C. H. MacMahon house, at 252 Merriweather.

When Farms police arrived, they found that the fenders had been painted white.

This incident was associated with a report received from Lewis Baldwin of 200 Provincial, who told police that his car, parked in the rear of 455 Lakeshore, had paint over the top and rear of the car. Officers said it was evidently the last of the paint used on the Palms car.

Popcorn Man Fined on 'Not Moving' Charge in Park

Ernest "Tony" Koinis was found guilty of violation of the "not moving" ordinance in the Park justice court Monday night and was fined $10 and $5 costs by Justice Belanger.

The second count charged against Mr. Koinis, for "no license," was taken under further advisement by the justice because of recent legislation in regard to veterans obtaining licenses from the state.

In the meantime "Tony" has obtained a Wayne county license.

Extensive Street Improvement Plan Forecast for City

Taxpayers in the City of Grosse Pointe will probably be given an opportunity to vote on a special bond issue on June 18 to cover costs of immediate necessary repairs to the highways in the city.

Council, Citizens Frown On Radical Type of Homes

The City of Grosse Pointe council Monday night went on record as champion of maintaining the character of new residences in that city in keeping with the present general architectural picture in a somewhat stormy and lengthy session attended by more than a score of taxpayers.

Mack Ave. Setback Challenged

A special planning committee will be set up by A. A. Ghesquiere, village president, in Grosse Pointe Woods to study all business frontage problems and the general difficulties which might be confronted by builders in the village.

This was suggested as the possible means in which property owners could obtain the policies which the village commission is advocating in regard to new buildings.

Proceeding the decision for this committee, permission was granted Dr. A. Z. Rogers to add to his present office building and maintain the 40-foot setback on Mack avenue.

Developments of the evening drew a statement of future policy on the part of the council which will include expert examination of all abstracts for all proposed new residence sites plus strict veto over building permits and rigid enforcement of zoning laws.

Andrew Jordan White, Negro, a domestic servant at the home of Dr. Ralph Karcamp, 1148 Grayton road, was turned over to FBI agents by Park police this past week.

THOUGHTS AT EASTER TIME

Dawn of the Easter season this year brings forth the traditional light of hope that has ruled the hearts of Christians everywhere through five long years of war and its impending evils of strife, hunger and the forces of ill will.

In the "He Is Risen" season, there is much for us to hold out great thanks. Many of our young men and women are back home again ready to take their places in the kind of world He lived and died for.

Machinery has been set in motion to try to put an end to all of the tyranny over which this war was fought.

As we go into the churches this Good Friday and Easter, the prayer on every lip will be one of great thanks for peace. Our constant prayer should be that no more sacrifice be made on the altar of greed and dictatorship.

If the spirit of the Easter season invades every household, His will will be done.

Citizen's Park Committee Named

Recommendations for improvements to the city's waterfront park will be made by a citizens' committee appointed by Mayor Ralph B. Netting at the council meeting Monday night.

With Edw. J. Gongracz and Mrs. William Adams, co-chairmen, a committee augmented by representatives from each street in the city, will meet with Chester Carpenter, park commissioner, to present their proposals for improvements to the current facilities at the beach.

Taxpayers who attended the meeting and objected to the lack of play equipment and supervision were told by Mr. Carpenter that the city had curtailed the park budget during the wartime restrictions, because of lack of availability of playground equipment and shortage of manpower. But, that a budget of $14,000, of which $6,500 will be spent for improvements this year will see a sanitary, filtered wading pool in operation, plus the addition of play equipment, waste receptacles, benches and picnic tables.

Proposed legislation to consolidate the Grosse Pointe school district with the Detroit school district and the several other school districts, in Wayne county had been invited as a result of a condition created by the Grosse Pointe school board, the Grosse Pointe Taxpayers' Association charged in a letter to the Grosse Pointe Review. The taxpayers in its letter did not attack the plan for consolidation nor did it express its agreement, but it did state that "our township should do its own housecleaning, reduce its own taxes by eliminating waste and extravagance in school affairs and insisting upon common sense management."

Dedicate Stained Glass Window to Honor Lieutenant

A beautifully executed stained glass window, now installed in the Narthex of Christ church, Grosse Pointe, will be dedicated in the name of the late David Loughlin, Easter Saturday afternoon, April 20 at five o'clock.

LIEUT. DAVID LOUGHLIN

The Rev. Francis B. Creamre, rector, will preside at the dedication ceremonies.

David Loughlin was a first lieutenant in the USAAF and was killed in action over Germany Sept. 9, 1944. The window is the gift of the Loughlin family and is the workmanship and design of the Willett Stained Glass company, Philadelphia, Pa.

It portrays the battle between David and Goliath. The Philistine soldiers are gathered in the background and at the bottom of the window is inscribed Lieutenant Loughlin's name with an airplane, symbol of his branch of the service.

Lieutenant Loughlin's brother, William Loughlin, a former master sergeant, will be the crucifer at the dedication ceremony.

Zoning

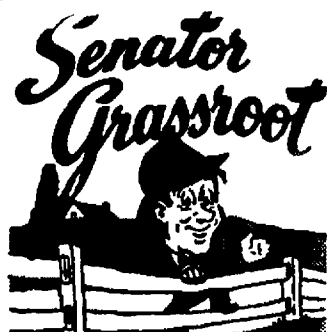

(Continued from Page One.) The zoning laws and made proper applicant conformed to the abstract, received the same. Estimated cost on the architect's application for building permit was $6,500.

The council refused to amend its previous appeal decision in the matter of the application of Ernest G. Moeller to provide an entrance on Goethe, rather than Washington road for his new home on the north-west corner. The request to change the zoning law was denied on the grounds that it was not in accord with the application.

Joseph Maillo, who proposes to build a modernistic one-story dwelling on the 66x150 foot lot at the corner of University and Charlevoix, was told by Mayor Netting that, in the opinion of the council, the architectural departures involved were not in keeping with the general character of the neighborhood and would be frowned upon by other property owners of the area. Although Maillo is within the law, speaking for the council, Mayor Netting asked the applicant to reconsider his plans.

Good Friday Services to Be Held in Alger Theatre

The service will last for an hour. Any youth and family members will be rendered by the children's and adult choirs of Peace Evangelical Lutheran church. Wilbert Marzetta, a voice soloist, will sing a special hymn, "There is a Green Hill in the West." The Rev. Fred H. ... of Peace Evangelical Lutheran church.

"This two-by-four sure never saw the inside of a kiln; got a bow in it like..." "Got a bow like what?" I asks Tim MacDougal, the canny carpenter I always call when my front stoop needs fixing.

"Like the bulge in the government's inflation line," Tim replies. "You expect bowed timbers now, but I'll be hornsogged if I can figger out that price bulge we got after a few unions went on strike for more dough."

"Few unions?" I asks. "Seems like there's been a pack of labor trouble lately."

"Heck, Senator, there hasn't been trouble with old-line unions — like mine," explains Tim. "Most unions have been trying to follow what the government said after the war ended when it allowed free collective bargaining within their price ceiling limits. Trouble's coming from radical bosses who don't bargain but who call strikes, then sit tight until their government pals come running with a pay boost — and a bulge in the ceiling prices for the rest of us! I don't get it..."

"Well, I do," I says. "Remember last fall when a government agency published a long-winded 'study' claiming industry could pay whopping big raises without kiting prices? Well... just the other week — after those radical bosses got what they wanted — that same agency admitted its 'study' was nothing but a pipe dream smoked up by some government theorist. They let the cat out of the bag, Tim, when those radical bosses announced they were raising 5 1/2 million dollars to help their political pals this November!"

Tim squints down the two-by-four again, then says: "Senator, I guess you can hang a plumb-bob on this idea — Those radical bosses and government guys are scratching each other's backs on wages and prices and votes, and giving responsible unions and other folks one great big double-cross."

Shaeffer Home Damaged by Fire

Extensive damage was done to the home of Dr. Marion Shaeffer at 1215 Audubon Tuesday morning when flames engulfed the roof and upper stories of the structure.

A roof fire also called the city fire department last Thursday noon to the Fred Zeder residence at 17500 E. Jefferson.

Other fire runs were made to the Frank Miller residence, 632 Notre Dame on Saturday and to the Otto Scherer house at 1137 Berkshire road Sunday afternoon.

Park Fire Chief Suggests Spring House Cleanup As Part of Fire Prevention

Edward L. Rector, Grosse Pointe Park fire chief, urges citizens of this community to make their first post-war spring cleanup a thorough job. He points out that the current housing shortage makes present homes a particularly precious place; if it were destroyed, one probably couldn't replace it with a new one and might not even be able to find materials to repair a partially damaged home. "Guarding it against fire is a first step in the right direction," he says.

Reminding us that fire losses in the United States during 1945 amounted to the staggering sum of $455 million, an increase of $18 million over 1944, the chief asks every resident to take an active part in spring cleanup week, beginning May 1, by eliminating fire hazards in his home.

The chief points out that the attic, the cellar, or vice versa—just so long as the entire house is covered. "The attic is a catchall for all kinds of junk, most of it unused for years," the chief says. "If you throw it all away, you'll probably never miss it."

Much the same treatment ought to be applied to bedroom and hall closets. "With people of so many lands so much in need, this is just the time to get rid of those old clothes." They're a fire hazard too, the chief points out. Urging an overhauling of the kitchen because it is the origin point of so many fires, the chief says, "accumulated grease in the oven or on top of the stove can give you a nasty surprise. It may fire up some day, burn you badly and start a costly fire. Check your kitchen closets; oily rags, if you have to keep them, should be in tightly covered metal containers. And," reminds the chief, "the kitchen is the most important place in the house for an underwriter approved fire extinguisher. While you are spring cleaning, be sure yours is where it belongs and ready for use."

Next on the chief's list is the cellar, "get rid of any flammable rubbish—old boxes, old work clothes, newspapers, magazines, empty paint cans," he advises.

"Don't neglect the outside of the house," he concludes. "Replace worn shingles on the roof. Clean the chimney by pulling a heavy chain through it, from above. And finally, clean up the garage and yard."

New Members Join Neighborhood Club's Junior Sport Group

The Junior Sports Club meeting every Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 5 has now turned its interest from badminton and tennis—and are doing some indoor practice prior to actual work on the courts. The girls who have recently joined the club are Mary Lonsky, Ginger Van Antwerp, Susie Bell, Marilyn Barba, Mary Pinner, and Nancy Hitchens.

The Mystery Hour girls are meeting every Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 5 and each group has chosen an activity which they are going to prepare for the whole club. For instance the Black Spiders decided to bake cookies as their group project—and everyone really enjoyed those cookies. Rose Cipriano is the captain of the Black Spiders. This last Tuesday the Hermits are in charge of the program and they decided to have an Easter bonnet contest with prizes to girls who are the best hat designers. Those bringing the prizes are Marie Pongracz, Patty Campbell, Sandy Taylor, Nancy Clow, Evelyn Piche and Marilee Clark.

The Woakiya Camp Fire Girls of the Neighborhood club have been very busy working on their ranks in order to be ready for the grand council fire to be held in Chandler Park on June 7, and there are big plans in the making for the groups week-end at Camp Wathana May 25 and 26. On this outing the girls plan their menu, prepare and serve the food, plan their own activities such as Nature hikes, weenie roasts and entertainment and assist in conducting the church services at camp on Sunday morning.

The Bluebirds enjoyed a visit to Alger Museum last Friday, with their leaders, Mesdames Busch, Steelman and Mitchell.

Junk Man's Position Cleared at Meeting

If any resident saw a junk man following the rubbish truck in Grosse Pointe Woods recently, an explanation of this was given by the village clerk, Philip Allard, Tuesday night. The rubbish contractor allowed the Negro to follow his truck, taking the salvagable materials from the residents' rubbish piles with the larger truck picking up the remaining refuse. It was explained that the Negro, assisted by a couple of his children, was trying to earn money to purchase clothing in order to send the youngsters to school.

Although the commission could see no wrong in this procedure, they asked that the rubbish collector be told to separate the salvagable materials outside the village limits.

YWCA Membership Drive to Begin at Dinner Meeting

With a program "Geared to One World" in thought and action the Detroit YWCA will launch its annual spring membership month campaign on Thursday night, April 25, at a dinner meeting in the central branch building at 6:30.

Mrs. Allen B. Crow, YWCA president, tops the list of dinner speakers who will present highlights from the recent YWCA national convention.

"It always gives one a lift to belong to a world organization," said Mrs. Crow, "but never more so than today when it is one world or none. YWCA members are of all types, races, creeds and nationality backgrounds. Together they stand shoulder to shoulder around the world, helping each other to find greater satisfaction from life through membership in this great Christian fellowship."

From April 22 through May 25, campaign workers will seek to enlist 6,700 members. This number is needed to maintain the city-wide membership of the Detroit YWCA at 20,000. At the same time members will be invited to contribute to the YWCA's world fellowship fund which is used to further Association work in other countries. Detroit is particularly interested in the world program of the YWCA because three of its former staff members are now stationed abroad — Miss Sue Stille in Germany, Miss Mary Kay Pound in England, and Miss Margaret Ping in Mexico.

SWIMMING AND SAILING can't be far off kids, 'cause spring is really here and the usual spring festivities came right along with it.

To start the week-end off right Jean Collinson gave a going away party for Joan Wylie who is moving to Kalamazoo. Joan just finished starring in the play at the high school and I know all the kids are going to miss her.

Invites to this affair were extended to Joan McGinty, Sally McBride, Barbara Stoerkle, Judy Harger, and Joyce Sadowski.

THERE WAS QUITE A SHINDIG out at Sally Sutherland's house last Friday night, they claim. Not only dancing and eating (usual party doings) but also ping pong and singing around the piano were on the list which provided a good time for all. Some of those gathered around the piano were Bob Smith 'n Sally Frost, Joan Cochran 'n Denny Thomas, Ann Wedhoff 'n Lee Middle-ditch, Bill Mackey 'n Barb Klenk, Sammy Kilner 'n Dawn Ostus, Lois McKinley 'n Jim Corfield, and Joanie Gehlert 'n Bob Cudlip.

"BRING YOUR FAVORITE records" seemed to be the theme at Barb Mann's house on Friday. Records and refreshments, what more could you want? Seen enjoying it all were Jim Lemon, Gery Rounds, Kermit Humphrey, Dave Grimes, Nancy Schmidt, Sharon Ford, Dotty Swartz, Bob Hiem, Bob Sumerville, Jim Fiscus, Sue Crunk-shank, Bob Palmer, Helen Hecker, Tom Sullivan and Joe Littman.

A BIG SURPRISE WAS IN STORE Libby Powell when she came to Joanie and Janie Gehlert's house to a birthday party Saturday afternoon for her. Those attending besides the twins and Libby were Mary Thorn, Barb Molyneux, Elaine Kramer, and Annie Wageman.

A GOING AWAY PARTY FOR Bill Mackey was held at the home of Bob Fisher's last Saturday night. Those seen playing bridge and dancing were Bill and Janie Gehlert, Bob Fisher and Sally Frost, Libby Powell and Harry Downer.

THERE WERE GOBS OF dinner parties before the Hag Dance last Saturday night and one of these super affairs took place at Joyce Sadowski's house. Her date was Don Duncan and the others were Denny Thomas and Judy Harger, Lee Walker and Sallie McBride, Marty Beer and Joan McGinty, Phil Skillman and Barb Stoerkle, Frank Knope and Jean Collinson.

LUNCH BOXES AND DINNER pails seemed to be the thing over at Jean Webb's before the dance. There were 46 gals and guys eating their lunch box dinners and having a lot of fun doing it. A few of these couples were Norma Neeb and Hill Pierce, Sally Andrews and Lloyd Murray, Jeanie Webb and Bill Heister, Barb Orpheland and Jim Voiman, Barb Brown and Bill Pierce, Mary Murray and Baird Johnson, Judy Gehlert and Tommy Auchg, Jan Johnstone and Vince Sheck.

SATURDAY NIGHT WAS THE girls' night. Yes it was! They treated the boys to everything and for once the refreshment stand was a busy place. Seen dancing to the strains of Star Dust, Temptation and some more of the latest were Barb Golla and Bill Lord, Gloria James and Mike Bigley, Barb Bundy and Stan Ainsley, Jimmy Monahan and Joann Reinstein, Marge Botts and Doug Kreigar, Jackson Tanner and Maggie Hansen, Sally Joyce and Harry Garman, Dodo Guimont and Cobby Bartlett. The hag line was a long one and a few of those teen looking eagerly around for their next objective were Doty Donnelly, Evie Oberem, Janet Reid, Barb Dougherty, Lois Buck, Mackey Macpherson, and Cecily King.

AFTER THE PIERCE PLAYS last week-end Ginny Grause gave an open-house for a good many of her friends. A few of the kids there dancing and mixing were Bev Martin, Alice Neville, Dick and Mildred, Merry Bowman, Larry Hubert, Dick H. Hill, Larry Bloy, Frank and Fred Wilson, Lord Slater, Dr. DeSousa, Clark M. Peart, Bill and Sue Johnson, Bonna Lee and Skipper Downer.

AFTER THE DANCE SOME OF the couples were invited to the Wakeman party where some of the couples enjoyed a wonderful food and Andy Creamer told some

PRAYER that BRINGS RESULTS

In North Africa, in Europe, in the Southwest Pacific, and elsewhere, the world has been witnessing stirring examples of answered prayer. Food, water, safety, greater effectiveness, and healing of sickness and wounds, have been acutely needed, and have come through prayer. Even skeptics, seeing the results, have been convinced. What, broadly, is the meaning of these experiences? Is there a kind of prayer that can be counted on—that is definitely available and availing under all conditions?

The answer to this question, Christian Science shows, is an unqualified Yes. The words of the Founder of Christianity, "Ask, and ye shall receive"—words which bore no hint of an exception—are revealed in this teaching as a statement of pure Science. The first chapter of the Christian Science textbook,

SCIENCE and HEALTH with Key to the Scriptures
By Mary Baker Eddy

explains the spiritually scientific and unending prayer, or treatment. Study of this chapter has brought to great numbers of people the healing, protection, or other help that was immediately needed, and given them in addition a permanently useful understanding of prayer. There are seventeen other similarly valuable chapters in the book.

Science and Health can be read, borrowed, or purchased (in various editions at prices beginning at $2.00) at

Rice Pudding

For an easy-to-make attractive dessert for any spring table, Franz Josef Pickereel, popular chef at the Rathskeller cafe, suggests this rice pudding with assorted fruits:

- 1 quart milk
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 cup cream
 - 8 halves Elberta peaches
 - 8 halves Bartlett pears
 - 15 Marischino cherries
 - 1/2 cup rice, tapioca, or vermicelli
- Boil the milk with vanilla extract well.

Mold in ring or desired shape in pudding dishes or bowl. Garnish mold with alternate halves peaches and pears and decorate with whipped cream and marischino cherries. The inside of the ring can be filled with any desired berry to enhance both this delicious dessert and complete an attractive table.

Franz Josef Pickereel learned his trade in the larger continental hotels for the past 12 years between the United States, Havana and Miami. He is one of the leading connoisseurs of foods in Grosse Pointe at the present time.

Flowers Highlight Easter Theme

There's fun for young and old in special Easter decorations local florists can provide—or wire anywhere you want to be remembered this holiday. A cheerful cartload of "Joyous Easter Greetings" is presented above by stylist Alyn Wayne, of Florista's Telegraph Delivery Assn. In it are pansies, blue iris, yellow tulips, lavender and pink stock, shell-pink snapdragons and a few sprays of eucalyptus—with a gingham Peter Rabbit as a timely touch. At left, dyed easter eggs are wrapped in cellophane and tied in a cluster to this "casual" arrangement of jonquils, pink snapdragons, roses, a few pussy willows—and three calla lilies to carry the Easter theme.

Mackinac Island Tells Own Story of Prehistoric Living in This Area

Historic Mackinac Island, one of the leading tourist attractions in Michigan, is a virtual treasure-grove of information for the geologist. To the visitor approaching by boat, Mackinac Island seems to rise in gigantic steps from the lake shore to Fort Holmes, which is perched on the highest point of the island. Each of these terraces or steps tells a story to the geologist. In fact, the island has been the key to deciphering the story of the Great Lakes. Interesting details of the geologic history revealed by the scenic curiosities of the island are told in "Prehistoric Mackinac Island," a book just published which was written by George M. Stanley, associate professor of geology at the University of Michigan. The volume is based on a survey made by Professor Stanley for the Michigan department of conservation.

"The story of the rock upon which Mackinac Island is built goes back millions of years," Professor Stanley says. The 2½ centuries in which the Indian and white men have inhabited Mackinac Island are brief compared to the last thirty to fifty thousand years of pre-history when waves were washing the island and fashioning these rocks into their present shape, he points out.

The highest point on the island is known to the geologist as the Ancient Island, Professor Stanley says. In the Algonquin era, water lap- ped around the sides of the Ancient Island but the University geologist believes this spot of land has been above water since the earliest stages of the Great Lakes, perhaps thirty thousand years ago.

Old Fort Mackinac itself was built on the brow of the so-called Nipissing shore cliff, another point in prehistoric history when the water level retreated from the high point of the Algonquin era and wave action wore out another beach or terrace.

Sugar Loaf and Arch Rock are among the featured scenic attractions on the island. In Professor Stanley's book, these become breccia, pronounced brechia, meaning a rock composition made up of fragments from the parent rock mass which became cemented together into solid material and withstood battering from the waves. Tourists visiting the island today find it hard to believe that water once washed against these spots now so high above the present lake level.

I'LL GET YOU SOME OF HIS MONEY

GOSH, YOU'RE GENEROUS!

In recent decades there has arisen a new parasite profession in the United States—a new type of middleman—the fellow who says: "I'll give you some of HIS money."

In politics, this means: "I'll tax HIM and give it to you."

In the business world, this means: "I'll get you more of your employer's dough, if you'll give me part of it."

This generosity with the other fellow's money goes over big until the other fellow runs out of money or until he decides he's a chump to go on producing.

Without the other fellow's initiative and enterprise, the middleman soon wouldn't have anybody to milk.

"The average farmer can't make expenses under the O.P.A." —U. H. Johnson, Elgin, Neb., chairman American Farmers Vigilante Committee.

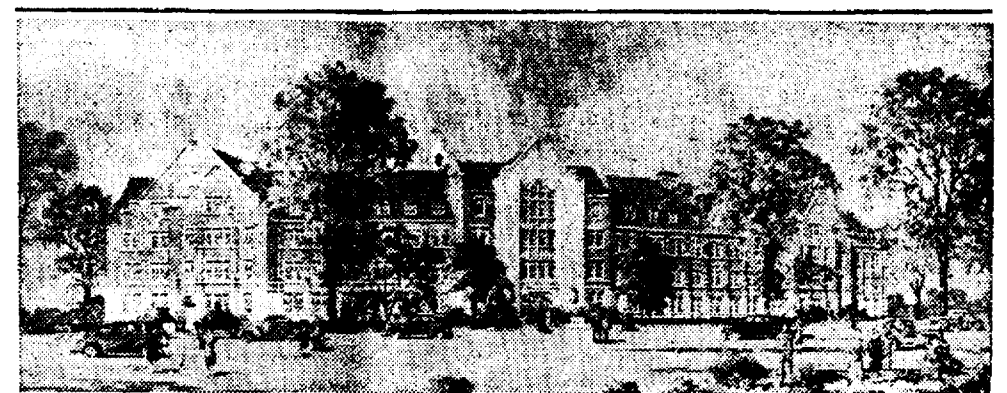

BUILDING PROGRAM started at University of Michigan—This is the architect's drawing of the General Service building, one of four educational structures which have been approved by the University's Board of Regents. The new structure will provide part of the additional facilities needed to handle the record-breaking number of students now flocking to the campus.

Besides the General Service building, which will house all of the administrative units now scattered in several buildings, additions will be made to the Chemistry and East Engineering buildings, and a new structure will be provided for the School of Business Administration. Funds for these buildings were appropriated by the Legislature.

Demolition work is now under way to prepare the site for the General Service building which will be built just across State street from Angell Hall. Ground also is being prepared for the Chemistry addition and work will start soon on the other two buildings. All four structures are expected to be ready by the fall of 1947. The Regents expect also to announce plans very soon for a maternity hospital.

In addition to the educational buildings, construction will start soon on two new dormitories to house 1,000 students. Work is in progress on eight apartment buildings to house 176 married students.

New Science Building for Michigan State

Architect's drawing of Michigan State College's proposed new $2,000,000 science building, work on which will begin soon. Largest classroom structure on the M. S. C. campus, the four-story building will be 700 feet long. It will be built on a site just east of the dairy building. The new building will house classrooms, laboratories, and offices for the departments of botany, entomology, zoology, geology and geography. The contract for erecting the new building has been awarded to the Reuliger Construction Co., Lansing.

Proceeds From Bake Sale to Aid New Calvary Church

THE CHURCH BUILDERS

STARR L. WADE, Edward Kay, William R. Budds, Robert Hannah, Ernest L. Ray, W. Coburn Standish, Jr., are some of the Grosse Pointe Congregational "Church" builders.

"The Builders" of the Grosse Pointe Congregational church are a group of men who have met together for the purpose of building a scale model of the future church. The men meet regularly in a basement workshop and have invested at least 170 man hours of labor in the project. The model was built according to the blueprints furnished by the church architects, George D. Mason & Co.

"The Builders" will present the model to the congregation next Sunday. Those who worked on the project will be introduced to the congregation and thanked as part of the regular worship service. This has been the most satisfying and worthwhile project undertaken by the men for the church. The photograph above was taken by Dick Allen, one of the high school boys.

Pointe Players Perform Before Capacity House

Staging a smash hit was the record piled up by the Pointe Players, theatrical group in Grosse Pointe high school when they produced "Best Foot Forward." It proved to be one of the most entertaining comedies in the history of the club.

Bob Halbrook, playing the part of Bud Hooper who was torn between his steady girl friend and a famous movie star whom he had invited to a dance, was the male lead.

Co-starred in the feminine leads were Diane Faulk, who took the part of the movie star and Joan Wylie, who was Bud's regular girl friend.

The excellent supporting cast was played by Bill Moll, Dick Winkler, Calvin Purdy and Frank Knope. All were classmates of Bud's at his prep school, Winslock.

Others who took part in "Best Foot Forward" were Barbara Elliott, Bonnie Lee, Ann Leninger, Shirley Davis, Jenny Quirk, Norman Doomes, Bill McBride, Dave Penniman, Bob Campbell and David Sutter.

High School Senior's Essay Accepted by National Scholastic Magazine

David Sutter, Grosse Pointe senior, is the author of "Neptune's Trio," which appeared in the April 8 issue of Scholastic Magazine, national publication for the high school students.

In appraising Sutter's essay the Scholastic editor commented: "'Neptune's Trio' is a fantasy of the best sort. There is a firm basis of reality beneath the shifting dream-play. Of course winds, seas, and ships do not have human personalities. However they do behave in accordance with natural laws as Sutter has shown."

"I was especially impressed by the cleanliness of this prose. There is an absence of cluttering adjectives and adverbs."

"The lines move along briskly with much rhythmic variation. The trick of balancing a long sentence against a short staccato one might be studied to advantage."

As further recognition Sutter will receive "Saplings," a collection of the best prose and poetry which has appeared in the Scholastic Magazine. "Neptune's Trio" consists of three parts describing the effect of the wind, the sea, and the ship on the sailor's life and personality.

Bicyclist Injured in Accident in Park; Other Crashes Occur

A Detroit bicyclist was injured last Friday afternoon when he collided with a car driven by Corinne Clements of 737 Bedford road, at Mack avenue and Berkshire. The injured man was Earl York of 1096 Marlborough, who refused medical treatment although he suffered an injured hand and lacerations on his face.

Two accidents took place on Park streets last Thursday. The first at Maryland avenue and Vernor Highway between cars driven by Catherine Holmes of Santa Monica, Calif., and Doris L. Benkert, 744 Washington road.

The second accident took place on Wayburn, when a car driven by James Stewart of 1180 Ashland avenue, crashed into a parked car owned by James Griffith, 1211 Wayburn.

An auto operated by Marion F. Lippman of 705 Westchester crashed into an auto driven by Leila E. Graham of 519 Lakepointe at Lakepointe and Fairfax last Monday morning.

Vandenberg Votes Against Music Czar

Washington, D. C. — Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican of Michigan, recently voted for legislation to prevent exaction from radio broadcasters of twenty million dollars yearly tribute payments by James Petrillo, musician's czar.

Proponents of the bill, including Vandenberg, charged that Petrillo's exaction of tribute constituted moral offenses and declared it distorted the legitimate use of the right to strike. "The offenses . . . are a great service to labor organizations as well as to the public. Legitimate labor organizations cannot afford to give their condonation to such practices or approve of them by assuming their defense," supporters of the measure contended.

Petrillo contended that use of recordings by broadcasting companies, broadcasts by amateur groups, or broadcasts originated in foreign countries constituted discrimination against musicians. It was pointed out in the senate that continuation of Petrillo's authority might well endanger free speech.

DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

$500.00 Per Month Guaranteed

A splendid opportunity awaits a doctor, either sex, to pioneer in a proven system of treating the dread arthritis, sinusitis and kindred ailments of the respiratory tract. The man or woman we want to talk to should be a person who is in position to serve, at least, one year as assistant to the Chief of Staff. This position will require change of residence if applicant now resides in the Middle West. The person chosen will eventually inherit all practise other than system for the treatment of respiratory ailments.

WANTED

And Hospital Manager to Expand Growing Hospital

Sensational cures of arthritis, sinusitis, asthma and bronchial disorders have resulted in a demand that existing 26-bed hospital be expanded by at least 100 beds. Long waiting lists of applicants and hundreds of additional applications expected as the result of spontaneous, unpaid nation-wide publicity makes this offer singularly attractive to the investor who is looking for a sound, continuing, sizable income. The investor may also become business manager of the hospital if he so desires.

We prefer doctor, investor and business manager who may themselves be afflicted in order that proof positive may be adduced as to claimed efficacy of the treatments. We know but, we also want our associates to prove to themselves what the new method does for the most stubborn cases, particularly arthritis.

We also welcome inquiries from individual sufferers of arthritis, sinusitis and kindred ills who may have abandoned hope for relief as we are planning an "Excursion for Health Train" to our medical center clinic in Tombstone, Arizona. This will be an all-expense trip with guaranteed living quarters and all matters relative to treatment arranged for in advance.

ESPIONAGE RING UNCOVERED IN SHORES STORY

An authentic record of the FBI's activities in breaking espionage rings, "The House on 92nd Street" has all the terror of a pipe-dream thriller combined with an exciting plot which rings true even in its most dramatic developments.

The picture will be shown at the Shores theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

A superb cast, headed by Lloyd Nolan, Signe Hasso and William Fythe, makes "The House on 92nd Street" a picture of which 20th Century-Fox is justifiably proud. Many of the roles in the film are enacted by real FBI agents. It has attained a graphic realism made possible by the complete cooperation of the FBI.

The accompanying feature stars Hedy Lamarr and Robert Walker in one of the best comedies of the year, "Her Highness and the Bellboy."

Pointer Reports Attempted Theft

Two would-be thieves who drove away from their would-be victim early last Sunday morning left the City of Grosse Pointe police in a quandry.

John O'Brien, 20, of 1125 Grayton road told police that while he was walking on Lincoln road between St. Paul and Maumee, he was approached by an auto, approximately 1935 vintage, at which time one occupant asked for street directions. O'Brien said that he was then asked if he had anything on him. He said the questioner appeared to have had a gun in his pocket. However, before an attempt to rob him got under way the men drove off.

COLONY BILLS "SPANISH MAIN" IN TECHNICOLOR

A story centered in the days of pirates and ships will be the feature which will be shown to Colony patrons tomorrow and Saturday.

It is the "Spanish Main" in which Paul Henreid and Maureen O'Hara play the starring roles. Set in the glorious splendor of technicolor, the two main characters are cast in excellent roles.

Henreid plays the part of a bold and dashing and blond pirate who kidnap Maureen on her way to marry a titled ruler in the northern part of Africa under the domain of Spain.

A comedy is the companion feature on this double bill. It is "Murder, He Says," with Fred MacMurray and Maureen O'Hara.

Versatility Is Key to Personality of James H. Marks

Medicine and industry are poles apart for most people, but not for James H. Marks, executive vice-president of the Packard Motor Car company.

He holds a position in industry which comparatively few are able to reach. At the same time, he has amassed such an amazing knowledge of medicine that a prominent physician at Detroit's Ford hospital once told him, "You know more about medicine than any other layman I ever met!"

Under questioning, Marks will admit he always yearned to be a physician, but was dissuaded by his father, Dr. Warren L. Marks of Grand Rapids, Mich., who — after years of administering to patients 14 to 18 hours a day — warned him, "This is too hard a way to earn a living."

Labels Newsman's License
Lawyer's License
A few years ago, just for the fun of it, Marks took a series of vocational aptitude tests. They showed his aptitude for a career in medicine, engineering, or law—in that order!

Most physicians would be proud to have the extensive library in Marks' Grosse Pointe home. The books show effects of being frequently read. But Marks' interest in medicine is more than academic. For example, he once spotted a Packard employee who "actually was dying on his feet."

"I put him in proper medical hands," Marks recalls, "and today he looks 10 years younger."

There are many other interesting sides to Marks. He's a registered mechanical engineer and holds a navigator's rating. He once was superintendent of buildings and grounds at the University of Michigan, where he set the pattern for modern observatory construction. He learned to read, write and speak Spanish at age 47. He owns three farms—160 acres 35 miles south of Toledo; a smaller place near Torch Lake in northern Michigan; and a 300-acre ranch in southeastern Wyoming.

Soldier in Japan Wins Promotion

With the Eighth Army in Japan (Delayed)—Corp. Robert deClaire, 24 year old Grosse Pointe member of the 11th Airborne Division, was recently promoted to the grade of sergeant. He had been acting in the capacity of mortar squad leader, then section leader, and is now doing editorial work for the division.

deClaire was inducted at Fort Sheridan in August, 1944, and qualified in heavy weapons at Camp Wheeler, Ga. He joined the 27th Division on Okinawa and served as a tank gunner. In December, 1945 he joined the 1st Paraglider Battalion of the 11th Airborne at Sendai, Japan.

Formerly a University of Detroit student majoring in aeronautical engineering, Sergeant deClaire plans to return and obtain his degree. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. deClaire, reside at 329 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Total circulation of daily newspapers in the United States in 1945 was 48,757,110.

Campaign Begins for Archdiocesan Development Fund

Increase of Catholic services and an expanded building program will be the keynotes of the 4th annual archdiocesan development fund campaign which gets under way May 5.

"The fund," Edward Cardinal Mooney declared in explaining the purpose of the campaign, is a means of pooling the gifts and lay offerings of the faithful to aid in discharging the responsibilities for the needs of the archdiocese as a whole. It is to be used for the construction of new churches, the improvement of existing churches, the purchase of materials and equipment.

Cardinal Mooney also declared that the fund is the result of the cooperation of the clergy and the laity. He said that the fund is a means of pooling the gifts and lay offerings of the faithful to aid in discharging the responsibilities for the needs of the archdiocese as a whole. It is to be used for the construction of new churches, the improvement of existing churches, the purchase of materials and equipment.

DAD CARRIED A LANTERN

There were times when Mother had to wade through snow to carry wood to feed the kitchen stove. She heated water on the stove to thaw the pump. Then she pumped more water and carried it in to be heated on the same stove for cooking, scrubbing and bathing—and for thawing the pump again.

But on the farms of Michigan life has changed, and is continuing to change.

The greatest factor in that change has been the availability of electric power.

In the electrified farm home that lantern is almost a museum piece. In the kitchen, the bathroom and the laundry, water, hot and cold, is on tap. The ash pan is gone where the woodbox pineth.

The electric range is white and shining, and the calendar hangs over what was once the exit of the old black stovepipe.

The milk and butter that used to hang in the well before Dad's dad built the milk house out by the windmill are in the electric refrigerator now.

There's a broom in the closet for shoeing the cat—an electric sweeper for the Brussels carpet.

Out in Dad's domain electricity milks the cows, grinds the feed, hoists the hay and saws the wood. It separates the cream and shears the sheep, warms the baby chicks as no hen could warm them, and kids the hens themselves into getting up before daylight to be about the business of laying eggs.

The Detroit Edison Company already has made service available to 34,000 of the 37,000 farms in its 7,600 square miles of territory. Its objective is to see that electric service is within the reach of every one of those farms.

To that end Detroit Edison now is engaged in extending its lines some 600 miles into every remote corner of its rural territory. These extensions will be completed just as rapidly as materials and skilled labor can be obtained.

Little Red School Houses on Way Out According to Study
Rare and rapidly vanishing little red school houses will be virtually unknown in the nation with another generation, a group of educators had indicated this week as they launched a move to study needs of schools in rural America. The move to examine and educate in behalf of education had its parallel, meanwhile, in a new trend to sound out the public for a more comprehensive picture of the needs and requirements in particular areas, as students themselves expressed their views in special polls. Basic suggestions adaptable to specific communities will be sought in the special survey to be conducted by Professors Frank W. Cyr and Henry H. Linn, of Columbia University, New York, and John Marshall, school building specialist of the West Virginia Department of Education. The study, financed by a special fund is sponsored by National Council of Chief State School Officers. A comprehensive school-building manual is a national need, said Dr. Cyr, who stressed that the United States Office of Education estimates $2,000,000,000 worth of school construction necessary in the nation for the next five years. Declaring that the red school house was merely a collection of class rooms, Dr. Cyr said: "It may not fall down structurally for the next 50 years, but it fell down educationally before it was built." Philadelphia meanwhile, had arranged for a poll of citizens as to what they think of their public schools and whether more money should be spent for education. It is being conducted by the National Education Association.

To Revise Inactive U. of Michigan Clubs
Waldo M. Abbot, Jr., has been appointed field secretary of the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan. It has been announced by Walter G. Kirkbridge, of Toledo, Ohio, president of the Association. In his new duties, Mr. Abbot will assist the more than 200 University of Michigan clubs in the country and seek to revive clubs which became inactive during the war. There are now more than 115,000 alumni of the University. Mr. Abbot is the first field secretary since 1929 when T. Hawley Tapping became general secretary of the Alumni Association and editor of The Michigan Alumnus. The new field secretary has just completed four years of service in the Army of the United States. He entered the service in March of 1941 as a private, rose to the rank of captain in command of a quartermaster truck company and served overseas in Burma for 30 months. He received his A.B. degree from the University of Michigan in 1939.

State Bird Study to Be Assisted by Munger Fund
The citizens of Michigan will have available to them by next fall some very fine visual aids to bird study, says Clarence J. Messner, of Grosse Pointe, president of the Michigan Audubon society. A meeting of the board of directors of the society is being held at which time final plans will be laid for this project of public service. It is being made possible by the Edith C. Munger Memorial fund, established this year to honor Mrs. Munger, whose death occurred at Hart, Mich., April 11, 1945. Mrs. Munger was, through the second and third decades of this century, a well-known public figure in Michigan, covering all the Lower Peninsula and much of the Upper in the course of lecturing in behalf of conservation, particularly bird study. She was president of the Michigan Audubon society from 1913 to 1934, and then president-emerita until her death. Because Mrs. Munger's greatest contribution to the state was education in bird study, the society has decided that a memorial to her should carry forward the same work. To that end this library of visual aids is being set up, to help children and adults in Michigan to learn to know the birds and appreciate their value. The fund now contains very close to $1,000, representing more than 150 contributors. This fund will be used for the purchase of motion picture films, lantern slides, Victrola records, pictures, charts, and other helps for the student. It is planned to make these available without cost other than transportation to junior Audubon clubs, teachers and school clubs, adult groups, any responsible organizations which will put them to good use. Were we directed from Washington when to sow and when to reap, we should soon want bread.—Thomas Jefferson.

Radars Uses Will Include Scout Cars
War-time radar had found peace-time openings on land and sea this week as one police authority predicted replacement of radio by new spot location methods and commercial marine craft on both the Pacific and Atlantic coasts made their first major installations of navigational aids. In Tucson, Ariz., modernization of police scouting patrol methods thru use of radar was forecast by Police Chief Don J. Hays, who saw the new device as the next step in a progression leading away from the old-time "call box." "Through radar," the Tucson official said recently, "it will be possible to tell instantly just where each police cruiser is located at a given moment. Then we will be able to dispatch the most available police squad to a crime scene." "Radio will continue to have its uses in police work, but it will become a secondary communications system, just as the call box, once considered highly important, has become secondary to the radio."

Phone Tangle Prevents Help
Indianapolis, Ind. — A 12-year-old party line problem of wiring the circuit of an automobile had a tragic turn in this city today when a mother's cry for help was drowned by a tangle of wires.
Mrs. Eliza M. Morgan reported following the death of her three-year-old son, Walter, that she had played with her car today when a clear line after the child had entered an electric shock, but the wires were of no avail.
The boy had taken the end of a metal wire, used by his father as a radio antenna, and had connected it to the electrical sockets under the hood of the car. The boy had been playing with the wire and had touched it to the car's battery.
The boy had been playing with the wire and had touched it to the car's battery.

That is why we do our best to put your calls through promptly. But the volume of Long Distance calls today is even greater than during the record-breaking war years. And so, sometimes, there are unavoidable delays . . . particularly on calls to points outside of Michigan.

We are doing our best to provide the needed facilities. And we are making good progress. The Bell System is adding over two million miles of circuits this year, new switchboards and other equipment, and training thousands of new operators.

Meanwhile, many thanks for your continued understanding.
