Area Asked To Join In Detroit Jubilee

Community Will Observe Day At Memorial Edifice

On the threshold of the greatest civic celebration in the history of any American community this week Grosse Pointers were urged to attend as many of the Automotive Golden Jubilee events as possible.

POINTE PARAGRAPHS

The dogs are on the loose again in the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms and calls to the police station sent squad cars on half a dozen calls over the week-end.

Best humorous suggestion of the week, curbstome style, is following from a frequent visitor to the...

Civic Committee, said: "The eyes of the Nation and the World will be focused upon Detroit during the twelve days of this great celebration. They will be watching for an exemplification and reassertion of the spirit which made this community one of the foremost of the earth.

"We are commemorating two historic happenings whose impact on modern civilization is beyond all measure—the first runnings in Detroit of automobiles in 1896, and the first raising of the American Flag over this area in 1796.

"Let all join in the Golden Jubilee's festive spirit now, so that they may continue to work together in the future for the good of the community."

MASON SCHOOL PRESENTS "PICTURE PAGEANT"

"We Lead, Others Follow"

AFTER FOUR LONG YEARS

Our first peacetime Memorial Day in four years is marked across the country with ceremonies of varying proportions.

Right here in Grosse Pointe, a simple, yet dignified service will be held at the temporary War Memorial on the high school grounds.

Wherever the day is marked, sacrifice will be in evidence, no matter which way one turns. The flower of America's manhood and womanhood are honored because those young men and women believed in "our way of life," and the great democratic principle.

In the light of their great sacrifice, one cannot help but feel just a little bit bitter that there is no spirit of sacrifice, no willingness to yield, give or bend in the troubled national and international picture today.

If just one little iota of their great willingness to fight and die for principles of sportsmanship and fair play were injected into the labor front, the political front and the international front, our many troubles would be lessened.

Ours should be a better world today because of their unselfishness.

Michigan Bell Plans Important Link

Construction of a new, 250-mile link in the Trans-Michigan long distance cable serving the southern part of the state is now under way.

The cable, to cost $3,000,000, will have two starting points—Detroit and Grand Rapids. The two cable sections will converge at Kalamazoo and continue to South Bend, Ind.

It is the biggest, single cable job in Michigan Bell history. A year will be required to finish the project.

Development of "K-carrier" transmission will require the construction of 11 small buildings along the cable route. Plans for the first building, at Marshall, have been completed.

25th Anniversary for Klanns in Wedlock, Business

Twenty-five years ago this Saturday, a young Detroit couple entered into a double partnership—in matrimony and in business.

Both enterprises still are flourishing, the first as the happily married couple, Arthur and Bernice Klann, 10710 East Outer Drive; the second as the successful Klann Auto Electric, 10350 Harper.

The firm will celebrate its silver anniversary by holding open house during the first week in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Klann have three sons: Jack Edward, 24, who will be discharged from the Navy on July 21 after serving six years; Robert Arthur, 20, who served in the 32nd Red Arrow division and still is in Japan; and James Bernard, 13, a pupil at the Hamilton school.

Weeding Top Task on June Calendar for Home Gardener

June, in the garden, means a little planting, a little pruning, a little watering, a little dusting and spraying, and lots of weeding.

June 1-10: Keep planting in spring garden and start to plant some of the fall garden. If tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, and tender flower annuals have not been set out, do so now.

June 10-20: Start dusting sweet corn with 5 per cent DDT or rotenone to control corn borers.

June 20-30: Stop cutting asparagus. Apply 10 pounds of 10-10-4 or other high nitrogen fertilizer per 100 square feet.

Government Can Stop Inflation, Strikes Says A. G. Sherman

Attempt of government to finance its operations through income taxes on the workers' pay is basis of national wage crisis and strikes says Arthur G. Sherman, Republican candidate for congress, 14th district.

This policy is leading the country into an inflationary spiral which will end in national disaster.

Manufacturers are forced to earn and pay through workers' payroll billions of dollars in income tax even though they cannot make a cent of profit.

Government could stop this inflation by increasing workers' take-home pay by canceling income and other hidden excise taxes.

Loss in government revenue from cutting workers' taxes could be made up through increased revenue from corporation profits and business profits.

When government has billions of dollars for loans to Britain, France, Russia, and the rest of the world, surely it should be willing to take the tax load off our own working people and business so production can keep going.

Stake and Prune Tomatoes For Big Yield, Small Space

A heavier yield for the ground space occupied is given by tomatoes trained on a fence, arbor, or stakes.

When tomatoes are grown on a single stem, tied to a stake or similar support, the maximum crop can be harvested for the space occupied.

Staking and pruning plants to a single stem is therefore a good way to grow tomatoes in a small garden.

Keeping tomato plants pruned and tied to stakes or a fence needs constant attention.

Secondary branches will develop from it, and soon all effort to keep the plant within bounds will have to be abandoned.

Tomatoes require full sun and regular watering. When the soil is allowed to dry out, with fruit set, a black decay spot known as "blossom-end rot" may develop on the fruit.

Tomato roots spread out near the surface and should never be disturbed. Never cultivate deep enough to touch them.

Park's Former Chief Pledges "Better Service" for Sheriff

Henry W. Piel, former chief of detectives of the Detroit police department, who resigned the presidency of the Southeastern Michigan Police Chiefs' Association, to run for the Republican nomination as sheriff in the primary election on June 18, believes that both the calibre of personnel in the sheriff's criminal division and present standards should be improved.

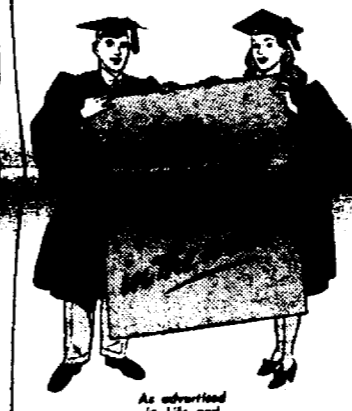

Piel, 58 years old, and native Detroit, holds the personal endorsement of all the police commissioners under whom he served in his 30 years in the Detroit department. He was asked in 1940 by the village commission of Grosse Pointe Park to reorganize their department on modern lines, and did so. He resigned that post early this year.

The present FBI training courses which are now available to law enforcement officers of all Wayne county communities were developed through the efforts of Piel and others in the Southeastern Michigan Police Chiefs' Association. He would bring sheriff's deputies under the same standards of training. Many religious, civic and business groups have endorsements of Piel's work and his candidacy on record.

To these organizations and to the public, Mr. Piel makes the following pledge:

"I will work with any source, public or private, which can set forth a means of providing better service to the public at less cost. If I find duplication of services in the field of police protection, I will eliminate them. If any plan or method for the reform or reshaping of the present county government, which would affect the sheriff's department, is proposed in responsible quarters, I pledge myself not to follow an obstructive course, but to do all I can to acquaint the public with the plan's proposed advantages and to abide by the decision of a majority if a referendum is held."

The fellow with the guitar was singing pleasant-like about where the deer and the antelope play when Daphne twirled the dial.

"Just because you're home early, Mr. Senator, doesn't mean I can't hear 'Pauline's Purple Passion,'" Daphne says.

I start to say how it's a good thing I'm not a government radio censor, but Daphne scowls. After Pauline's agonies end, I ask: "Daphne, how would you like a radio with no dial—just one station to listen to?"

"Be like a closet with one dress," she sniffs.

"Ever hear of the FCC—Federal Communication Commission, that is?" I ask. "The seven commissioners think you women should have more culture whilst washing the dishes."

"You — you mean Pauline isn't cultured?" Daphne sputters. "Poor orphaned, and slaving for that old Simon McGee, that scrooge . . . Daphne dabs an eye daintily.

"Course Pauline probably can sell more soap chips for the sponsor than a lecture on 'How to Pot Geraniums.' But don't you think the FCC knows best, mamma?"

By now Daphne is practically jet-propelled. "Listen, chum," she explodes, "That soap outfit pays for its time on the air. That dear, sweet, heroic Pauline sells soap. If the FCC wants to join up with Pinchpenny McGee against Pauline and us American womenhood, they're heading for trouble. Next thing, I suppose they'll tell me I can't read 'Dick Tracy' in the funny papers."

"That's my point, Daphne," I beam. "Congress didn't say the FCC COULD censor radio. That's their own idea, but the real trouble is a lot of my colleagues think the bureaucrats should be allowed to do those things—for the good of the masses. How do I protect Pauline against them?"

"Ain't there an election November 5?" asks Daphne. "Or have the bureaucrats changed that, too—for the good of the masses?"

Denby Mothers' Club Marks Tenth Anniversary by Honoring Founders June 6

Thursday evening, June 6, is to be a very special occasion for the Edwin Denby Mothers' club as it marks the club's 10th anniversary. August Maekelberghe, professor of organ, Marygrove college, talented organist and composer of works for organ and orchestra, will play the organ, including classical and popular music.

Community Chest Director Named

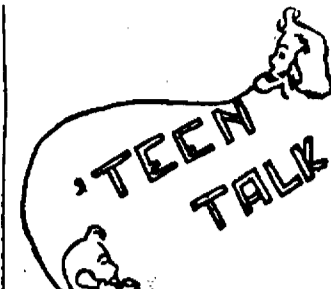

Election of Robert H. MacRae, Community Chest managing director, as a member-at-large of the National Social Welfare Assembly was announced today in New York.

MacRae, who is also executive vice-president of the Council of Social Agencies, was chosen "because of his outstanding interest in social welfare," said an announcement from the assembly's headquarters.

The purpose of the club is to create a better understanding between parents and teachers — to promote an interest in education and the welfare and civic needs of the community.

During the course of the evening installation of the officers for the ensuing year will be held. The new officers are: Miss Elizabeth Wolf, sponsor; Mrs. M. Miller, president; Mrs. V. Gilson, vice-president; Mrs. J. Mauch, recording secretary; Mrs. E. Coblenz, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. Scherer, treasurer; and Mrs. F. Harrison, financial secretary.

Mrs. G. C. Plessinger is the retiring president. Scholarships to Wayne university will be awarded to Carl Zick and Margaret N. Clark. Mrs. B. B. and Mrs. J. B. are also mentioned.

Legislative Committee Begins Study of Wayne's Need for State Support

Set up for the purpose of investigating and reporting on the desirability of establishing a state university in the industrial metropolitan area of southeastern Michigan, a joint committee of the Michigan state legislature met in Detroit to discuss the possibility of recommending that Wayne university become a state institution.

The committee composed of Republican Senators Don Vander Werp, Fremont; N. Harold Sauer, Detroit; Harold Tripp, Allegan; and Charles N. Youngblood, Detroit; and Republican Reps. John P. Espie, Eagle; Edson V. Root, Sr., Paw Paw; Elton R. Eaton, Plymouth; and Joseph J. Leszynski, Democrat, Detroit; visited Wayne university to study the proposal by the Detroit board of education that the state provide continuing financial support for the operation and maintenance of Wayne university. The board indicated willingness to transfer the university to the state in connection with its petition for funds for a classroom and a science building during the last legislative session.

During the discussion the members indicated that they were in complete agreement in recognizing the fact that Wayne is deserving of some state aid. It was also indicated that, should the state decide to take over control of the university, it would be recommended that it be maintained as a separate state institution and not a branch of the University of Michigan.

VETERAN NEWS

As the time interval increases, the adjustment of veterans is accompanied by an increase in problems classified as non-governmental in nature and a decrease in questions and problems and problems involving Federal agencies, reports from centers to Lansing show.

General Omar N. Bradley, Federal Administrator of Veterans' Affairs anticipated these non-governmental problems early in January, 1946, when he said, "Nowhere is there greater opportunity to help these men and women than in the communities they left to join the forces. . . . Here they shall meet problems outside the fences of governmental authority. And here the community must be prepared to help them solve those problems."

Counselors and insurance panels of local councils of veterans' affairs will be interested to know that the trend for insurance is decreasing. The current campaign to create an interest in future security through insurance seems justified. The want of direct and workable facts about insurance is one more illustration of the need veterans often unwittingly face for sound basic information—information that assists the individual in making better life decisions.

Routine services rendered in the centers are becoming a recognized convenience. However, no one counselor can ever answer all the questions or render all the services required to meet the needs of all veterans. The center's primary job is to explore and open all the community's doors of opportunity to its veterans.

Growth in the volume of general counseling is a very important development in services rendered in the counseling centers in the past three months.

This fact emphasizes the need for an organized in-service training program to assist veterans' interviewers in studying and improving their counseling procedures. Executive committees should know that a standard state-wide job training plan for veterans' centers is now being formulated by the Office of Veterans' Affairs in cooperation with the state universities. Veterans' councilors will be able to receive training under the G. I. benefits and receive their related instruction through the universities.

READING & WRITING
BY Edwin Scauer AND Robin McKean

Did you know that the sun is more than three million miles closer to the earth in January than it is in July? That the monkey wrench is so called because it was allegedly invented by a London blacksmith named Charles Moseley? That male mosquitoes do not "bite"—only the female is equipped for bloodsucking? That the word "cop" as applied to policemen is derived from the old English verb "to cop," meaning to catch or to get hold of?

GEORGE STIMPSON

This is just a sampling of the sort of information you'll find in George Stimpson's "A Book About A Thousand Things," which is a forthcoming Book-of-the-Month Club book-dividend. Mr. Stimpson, a newspaperman with an indefatigable curiosity of how and why and when, has brought together in this volume an amazing assortment of facts about things that have amused, puzzled or intrigued him. He has drawn his answers from almost every field—history, literature, geography, astronomy, science and law. There are questions relating to wind and weather, to maps and globes, clocks and calendars and flags, to kings and queens—and the ways of many a bird, beast and fish—not to mention infernal machines.

The phrase, "the ghost walks," meaning that salaries are being paid, was originally theatrical slang, says Mr. Stimpson. According to a common story, it began among a troupe of English actors while rehearsing Shakespeare's Hamlet. The members of the troupe had not been paid for several weeks and some of them were getting rebellious. When the actor playing the part of Hamlet said of the ghost, "Perchance 'twill walk again," the one taking the ghost's part replied, "No, I'm danged if the ghost walks until our salaries are paid!"

Some other questions you'll find answers to in "A Book About A Thousand Things" are: "What does 'ghost' mean?" "What does 'ghost' mean?" "How did 'grass widow' originate?" "Why is the moon compared to green cheese?" And, incidentally, did you know that Thomas Edison is reputed to be the first man ever to say "hello" over a telephone?

Small Watermelons Bred To Grow in Small Gardens

Watermelons require a long, warm season in which to mature; but new early varieties of high quality can be grown in northern states successfully, even in small gardens. It is one of the most nutritious fruits, high in calories, and rich in minerals and vitamins.

Though it seems to be chiefly delicious juice, it is actually lower in water content than asparagus, celery, cucumbers and lettuce; and of all the vine crops, it stands drouth the best. Smaller watermelons are growing in favor, for convenience of handling and cooling.

Small Watermelons Are Most Satisfactory in Home Garden.

Watermelons are usually grown in hills, which may be as close together as three feet each way, in small gardens. Such close spacing is likely to reduce the size of the fruits, and more room should be given where possible. Seeds should be sown in warm soil, and if the nights continue cold it may be desirable to protect the young plants at first with waxed paper tents.

Heavy fertilizing pays well with this crop. As much as a pint of balanced plant food may be mixed well with the soil beneath each hill several days before the seed is planted. Or use a shovel of well rotted manure, and half a pint of plant food. Sow ten seeds to the hill and thin out to the two strongest plants that develop.

Do not harvest watermelons until

Why the Sugar Shortage?

There is no shortage of reasons for the sugar shortage, even though we thought the end of the war meant the end of all shortages. We lost the Philippines early in the war. Puerto Rico, plagued with its usual economic woes and a severe drouth also lacked fertilizer and shipping. Cuba went through the worst drouth in 86 years. The United States sugar beet crop fell off. But these facts merely accentuate an inherently bad situation.

Actually, the sugar shortage is deeply rooted in unhealthy economics and unholy politics. A handful of big companies now produce most of the sugar in Cuba, Puerto Rico, and the Philippines, while in Hawaii, all sugar production is in the hands of the famous Honolulu "Big Five." Five beet-sugar companies, two cane sugar refiners dwarf all competitors.

The outlook for a logical policy is not good. The continental sugar bloc, for years the leading proponent of independence for the Philippines (to get the islands outside the tariff wall), is even now trying to limit the period of Philippine tariff preference. The United States can growers are steadily fighting to get as much money out of the federal treasury as the beet growers get. The seaboard refiners continue to harp on the threat to American labor represented by offshore refined sugar—and this argument comes from a highly mechanized industry that at best employs about thirteen thousand men. In spite of what it has been through, the U. S. sugar industry gives no sign of being unwilling to go through it again.
