POINTE PARAGRAPHS

By THE POINTER
This week finds Pointers resting up from the Fourth of July weekend. Many took trips out of town to get away from the routine of everyday living to find upon their return that it's the only type of living they can take! Blowouts, an overdose of relatives, epidemics of poison ivy or the likes, severe auditions, excited minutes in individual doses or in combined lots were the rewards reaped by the erstwhile vacationers.

Youngsters in this area got a taste of what prewar fireworks displays were like when the Kiwanis club stage a huge display on the night of the Fourth. Even old timers gave credit where credit was due and said it was the best they'd seen in years.

Overheard several Pointers discussing the birth of a son to the comic strip team Boots and Rod. We're so relieved as they are to know that all is well in the Ruggles household. Rod is none the worse for the floor pacing, and as proud as any new father.

We hope there is some truth in the talk that scientists predict extreme climatic changes effective throughout the world in the next few years. Even a snow storm in July would be agreeable to this reporter. A temperature above 80 degrees has a withering effect on personality and ambition which can't be relieved with cold drinks or the breeze of electric fans.

REMEMBER?

One Year Ago
The final total sales of war bonds in the Seventh War Loan drive exceeded all other campaigns despite previous announcements declaring the sale to be lagging.

Members of the Strub estate petitioned the Park commission to close Bishop road between Jefferson and the lake, as the trustees of the estate intended to subdivide and develop the estate into more year-round property.

Residents of Grosse Pointe Farms planned to attend a public hearing in their village hall to consider an amendment to the village zoning ordinance which would permit a job in the commercial district on Mack avenue between Kerby and Morris roads.

The OGD abandoned their parking lot at Pemberton and Jefferson in the unanimous decision of the Park village commission.

Pointers got a view of an eclipse of the sun, an occurrence which takes place once in a cycle of two years.

The Pointe's newest State Troop, No. 19, made its debut by taking top honors at a camporee held during the last days of June.

Repose work was started on Park streets.

More honors went to Pointe women in the Pacific theater as it was announced in a cable to the effect.

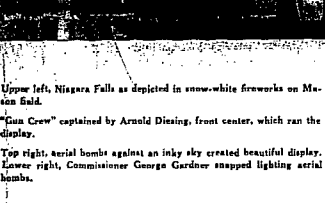

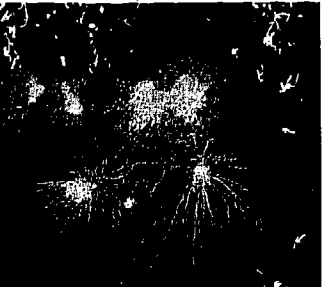

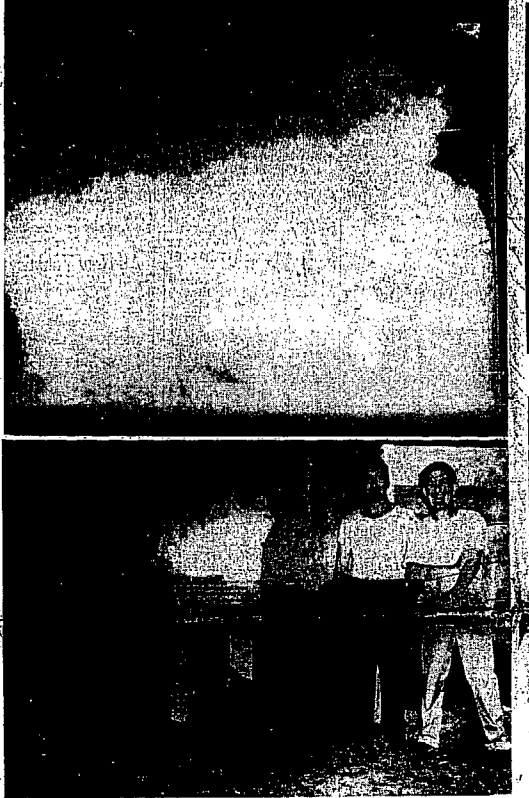

Philosophers thought to have a convalescent home discontinued in the Park area as a result of a series of misadventures.

Five Years Ago
The Grosse Pointe township tax rate dropped from $1.30 to 30 cents per thousand dollars of assessment value because of the increase in the previous year's tax collection, increase in delinquent taxes paid, and a decrease in election expenses.

The Review announced plans to sponsor a two-day summer cooking school which would include a series of lectures and demonstrations under the direction of Miss Gladys Hamilton, nationally known economist.

Village Manager Rockwood announced that work starting in the Park would continue until all areas had been cared for. Residents had the complaining about the lack of growth of weeds which were not only an eyesore to the community but which did damage to their well kept lawns and gardens.

Frank L. Curtis Reveals Telephone Conversion Plans

Plans for the conversion of the nine existing manual offices in the Detroit area to that operation at well as many other postwar improvements in service were revealed Tuesday before the Grosse Pointe Optimist club by Frank L. Curtis, director of customer relations for the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

This conversion project would enable 50,000 telephone subscribers in nearby suburbs to dial numbers in Detroit and other adjacent communities directly. Automatic numbering equipment would be used in determining charges for such calls. New equipment for four of these offices will be shipped here in 1947.

To reach additional dial equipment, the telephone company expects to erect nine new buildings in the Detroit area, and make major additions to at least nine existing buildings of building conditions will permit.

Tom Boyd, Inc., to Formally Open Beautiful Showrooms Saturday

Announcement is made this week by Tom Boyd, president of Tom Boyd, Inc., authorized Ford dealer of the opening of the company's new large safe room and service department on East Jefferson at Northland.

Following a colonial style of architecture, no expense has been spared to make the building conform to the character of the community it is designed to serve.

Despite the fact that new car dealers are relatively at a minimum, a selection of several models will be on display on the floor Saturday in inspection.

Youth Confesses to Theft of Money Bag From DSR

Detroit police arrested Sunday a young man who confessed to the theft of a money bag from a DSR bus in June.

The youth, Kenneth Hamer, 17, of 1829 Beaconsfield admitted to taking the money from the bus which was driven by Leon Krimling, 27, of Detroit, stepped into the restroom at Mack avenue and on the mile road. The money had been placed in a large sack containing $1,000.

Under the American economic system, ability to raise money depends on attractiveness of present and prospective savings, and savings, in turn, depend not alone on efficiency but on rates for services, Curtis said.

Curtis pointed out that the supply of money is not inexhaustible. The telephone company must compete for it with other expanding business and with new business ventures. Investment money, he said, goes to the enterprise which in the opinion of the investor is a safe institution making a reasonable return.

If telephone earnings compare to other investments, with earnings which are high and Kenneth says

House Ransacked While Owner Is on Vacation

The home of the Frances C. Moran's, 28 Grosse Pointe Blvd., was broken into and several valuables stolen while the residents were away on vacation.

Youth Hit by Truck While Fixing Tire

Gabriel Raman, 13, of 4236 Maryland is being held at Bon Secours hospital after a Sweetser Creamery truck, driven by Norman E. Gerlach, 44, of 1844 Kensington, struck him while he was fixing his bicycle tire at the alley entrance on Beaconsfield at the time of the accident.

Detroit Eyes Huge Sewer Improvement

A large scale storm sewer program appears to be on the order, as Glenn C. Richards, Detroit DPW commissioner, and George Thompson, Detroit city engineer have agreed that the city of Detroit must undertake a large scale construction program.

Initial, urgently needed projects would cost an estimated thirty million dollars and an estimated hundred million dollars is needed to provide an adequate sewer system for all parts of the city to prevent future damage of the recent flooded basement epidemic, which included Grosse Pointe.

Included in an estimated cost of eight million dollars among two other proposed projects is the Detroit Bogies as service main, owned by Joe Knight and Kenneth says

Kiwanis Celebration Draws Huge Crowd To Mason School

The appreciative ones also have died away but spectators at the Kiwanis celebration at the Mason school grounds July 4th are still discussing the brilliant fireworks display and the grand time had by all.

LAST REMINDER OF CONTEST DEADLINE

Entries for the war memorial essay contest may be submitted to the judges not later than next Monday, July 15. A two week extension was given to allow returning students and veterans time to submit an essay, and it is hoped that the judges will be able to announce the winners of the contest soon after the contest closes.

For those who have not yet submitted their entries the following rules are printed for their information.

In awarding the prizes due regard will be given to how well these important questions are answered:

1. Is or is not such a permanent war memorial desirable?
2. What will its probably cost to build your suggested memorial?
3. After it has been built, what

How practical is your plan?
5. How fitting and appropriate will your plan be for honoring our veterans and would it be a credit to our community?
6. How well written, readable and presentable is your plan? (It should be clear and brief — not over 1,500 words.)

The decision of the permanent war memorial study group will be final and not subject to review. In case of similar suggestions, the award will be made on the basis of first received, all other qualifications being equal.

Woods' Resident Taken by Death July the Fourth

Funeral services were held at the A.H. Peters Funeral Home on Monday, July 8 at Robert T. Ritz, resident of Grosse Pointe Woods who passed away on July 4.

Mr. Ritz is survived by his wife Dorothy Greiner Ritz, two brothers, Frederick and Lewis and two sisters Mrs. Ruth Rinko, Ferndale, Michigan and Mrs. Gertrude Ritz.

Car Burns

Park residents were called to extinguish a fire in a car owned by Foster Winter, 84 Berkeley, Con. considerable damage resulted.

PUNISH THE GUILTY

"It would be wiser to punish the parents — let them pay the fine or serve the jail sentence — than to penalize a juvenile delinquent," so say a group of 800 young men who met in East Lansing recently in the ninth annual Wolverine Boys' State...

We're inclined to agree though with the opinion just stated, unless definite proof is offered that the child and not the parents is to blame. What can one expect from the youthful generation if their predecessors failed to instill in them right principles through education and example.

There's more to the training of children than mere book work. The old saying, "Don't do as I do, do as I tell you," is about the saddest excuse for negligence we know of. Who can a child depend on if his parents and the people of the preceding generation don't seem to know what is right and wrong...

It doesn't take much to impress a child — so why not impress him favorably. Obscene language and indecent dress, haven't a place in proper living, and do great harm in forming evil inclinations in the minds of the very young. Someone is surely to blame for this — even though the child is in ignorance of the wrongfulness of his thoughts or actions.

The American way is the casual way, but we too have some standards of dress for certain occasions. Some people have adopted the attitude that slacks and abbreviated shorts are the typical summer dress, proper for any occasion.

If we took a poll among the children, we wonder how many would rate their mothers and sisters as ladies — in dress and deportment — and how many would do well by putting their "terse business"...

Parcel Post Service to Austria Resumed

Parcel post service to Austria has been resumed as of July 5, Postmaster Huston announced recently.

Parcels are limited to 11 pounds in weight and a maximum of 72 inches in length and girth combined. Only one parcel a week may be sent by any one person to the same addressee. Foodstuffs are limited to non-perishable items.

Parcels should bear the name of the addressee and complete address, including street and house number, city, the Land or Province when known, and the apartment number, if applicable.

It may not be practicable to return relief parcels which cannot be delivered to the addressees. To facilitate disposition, senders are urged to endorse such parcels that they are to be turned over to relief or charitable institutions.

Parcels for Austria will be subject to the following rates of postage: 1 pound, 40 cents; 2 pounds, 54c; 3 pounds, 71c; 4 pounds, 85c; 5 pounds, 99c; 6 pounds, $1.13; 7 pounds, $1.27; 8 pounds, $1.45; 9 pounds, $1.59; 10 pounds, $1.73; 11 pounds, $1.87.

The export control regulations of the Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce, will apply to parcels for delivery in Austria.

Rabaut Defends Truman's Veto of Price Control Bill

Shortly after the house received President Truman's veto message on the price control bill, Congressman Louis C. Rabaut, D., of Mich., vehemently defended the President. He has supported price controls from the beginning, and several weeks ago urged the President to veto the bill if it were sent to him in an enfeebled form.

Mr. Rabaut reaffirmed his stand in the following remarks in congress Saturday, June 29, 1946, as follows: Mr. Rabaut: "Mr. Speaker, today on this floor someone asked the question, 'What is new in this matter of OPA?' And I welcome the opportunity to answer: There is one thing new that should give heart to the people, and that is the veto of the President of the United States, wherein he declares to the world that he has the intestinal fortitude to be the defender of the people."

Mr. Speaker, it was on June 15, after listening to the senate debate and the roll call on the OPA in the senate chamber, I phoned the White House and expressed my opinion that what had taken place was terrible. I further said the measure should be vetoed, and that I did not feel that any representative, regardless of his party, having the best interest of the people at heart, would dare to return to his home and face an electorate under a situation so brazen in its attempt to abandon the best interests of the nation.

"Today, the members of the house, as well as the senate are confronted with that very proposition. And while there has been much talk setting forth arguments, eloquently phrased but void of reason, why no change could be made in the law as passed, nevertheless the very apprehension voiced on the occasion is significant of the guilt attendant to such utterances, for a designed delay of four months on the part of congress, now presents itself in all significance.

"Let the country realize that the bill was presented to the President by a dilatory congress in its dying twilight hour; and in my opinion designedly so. Where, I ask, were the friends of the Chief Executive of this nation to permit this situation that has come to pass? He surely must have been regarded as one unfamiliar with delays and procrastination. Now he has risen to the occasion, exercising his prerogative of veto-champion of the people, profligate of their resources, a devotee to the veteran and his GI rights, and a defender of those with set incomes.

"In my opinion, the President's stature mounted this day, while the chicanery and subterfuge of the would-be champions of OPA dwindled to dwarf proportions. His voice was mild but he carried the big stick."

Woods' Residents to Be Warned by Siren if Basements Are Dangerous

Alois A. Ghesquiere, Grosse Pointe Woods village president, issued an order to the village police that residents are to be warned during a rain or electrical storm if there is any danger because of flooded basements by the sounding of sirens for five minutes.

Police will first check with Mr. Berg of the Detroit Edison company, and if the situation is in any way hazardous, residents will be warned to stay out of their basements.

of other businesses, then we can compete successfully for the investor's dollar and we can expand," the speaker stated.

"Not only can we expand, but we can improve," Curtis said. "A dollar spent for telephone service today buys much more than it did 20 or even 10 years ago."

Curtis said that telephone customers want good service even though it might cost a trifle more than they would need to pay for inferior service.

The ability to attract new capital will permit the continuation of research, which has enabled us to reduce the cost of telephone service and keep it down in the face of rising costs of doing business, he said.

For its territory as a whole, Michigan Bell's postwar plans include the erection of 106 new buildings and 25 additions to present buildings, $50,000,000 worth of central office equipment, long distance cable containing 50,000 miles of wire, and local cable with 2 1/2 million miles of wire.

The company will spend $13,500,000 in resuming its rural expansion and improvement program. Postwar projects will provide jobs not only for the company's 2,800 employees in the armed forces but also for 2,900 new telephone employees.

The speaker said the program is designed to care for a possible gain of 380,000 telephones throughout the company's territory in the next five years, including about 225,000 in the Detroit area.

The number of telephones here in the Detroit exchange has increased nearly a quarter of a million — from 373,000 to 616,000 since the outbreak of war in 1939.

The Bell System was the largest single source during the war of radar and military communications equipment. Its facilities, therefore, were not available for civilian production. As a result, on V-J Day last year a total of 125,000 applications for Michigan Bell telephone service was reached. Today there are 105,000 held orders on file.

Curtis said the telephone company had been far busier than these figures alone indicate. "On V-J Day we had 71,000 held orders in Detroit. Since then we've put in over 86,000 telephones, a record breaking figure, and we still have 62,000 families on our waiting list. New applications continue to pour in at a tremendous rate," he said.

Community Chest Announces Results of Public Opinion Poll

According to a recent public opinion poll conducted by the Visiting Nurse Association, one-half of the 5,000 persons interviewed said they were familiar with the public health nursing services in the community.

Only 31 per cent said they or their families had used the services of the two public health agencies, the health department and the visiting nurses.

Volunteer workers conducting the poll interviewed housewives, office and industrial workers to obtain a cross-section of the community. They sought to find out if the general public knows about the various Red Feather services offered by the visiting nurses. One-half of those interviewed were familiar with the service to care for babies, when the visiting nurse comes into the home for an hour to bathe the infant, prepare its food and help the new mother care for her baby.

Forty-one per cent of those interviewed knew that a visiting nurse will come in to give penicillin, insulin and other hypodermic injections and 45 per cent were familiar with the fact that a visiting nurse will change dressings and give special treatments in the home.

Only 26 per cent knew that the rates for the Visiting Nurse's service do not exceed $2 an hour for those who can afford to pay the full fee. Fees are adjusted to the family's ability to pay, and no fee is charged in many cases. A Red Feather service of the Community Chest, the Visiting Nurse Association's operating deficit is supplied by funds raised in the annual fall Community Chest campaign.

Taxes May Rise if Prices Soar

The Treasury will not ask for a new tax bill this year, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder told a news conference today but he indicated that if prices rise the nation's taxpayers could expect taxes to follow suit.

The public debt at the 1946 fiscal close was $26,898,484,032, an increase of $10,740,000,000 over a year ago but sharply down from a high of more than $29,000,000,000 registered last February 28. There were indications that further debt retirement out of the treasury's cash balance of more than $14,237,000,000 would be deferred for the present, lest it might contribute to inflationary pressures.

State Veterinarian Assumes Duties

On July 1, 1946, Dr. Chester F. Clark assumed the duties of state veterinarian in the state department of agriculture made vacant by the retirement of Dr. Charles H. Clark, who has served with the department of agriculture for the last 30 years, 17 of which were in position of state veterinarian.

Charles Figy, director of agriculture, states that Dr. Chester F. Clark is not a stranger to the farmers of Michigan.

He joined the teaching staff of MSC in 1929, immediately after graduating from that school. In addition to his duties as a teacher, he has had experience in handling the disease control program on the various college herds. He also assisted in carrying on the projects of the agricultural experiment stations in animal disease control.

Thousands of visitors took advantage of the comforts of the waterfront park during its first days of operation.

William DeBaeke was appointed assistant vice-president of the Jefferson Savings bank.

The postoffice announced extensive plans for its display at the Michigan State Fair.

The assessed valuation in the township was reduced approximately ten per cent.

The village baseball team was out to seek revenge from the Farms' team who had defeated them in a previous game.

The Neighborhood club teams scheduled games for the remainder of July.

A meeting was scheduled for a public hearing on a proposed ordinance which would regulate the waterfront park.

The ticket price on the Detroit ferry to Canada was cut almost in half.

Members of VFW No. 995 planned their semi-monthly meeting to determine a name for the post.

An open air boxing show was being sponsored by the National Sporting club. The boxing matches were to become weekly events.

Life is Safe and Interesting

Comparing enlistments in the peacetime Navy with wartime service, Commander George M. Winne, Officer in Charge of Navy Recruiting in lower Michigan, points out that the Navy in peacetime is free from the risks and rigors inevitable during war. "With the world at peace again, Navy life can once more be interesting and pleasant," says Comdr. Winne.

In addition, there is no reduction in the wartime pay rate, instead, there is an increase. In comparison with civilian salaries, the Navy pay of an apprentice seaman, before the recent pay increase became effective has been calculated by a nationally known and unbiased business weekly, to equal a $3600 annual salary.

Men who are concerned about security for themselves and their families can obtain that security by enlisting in the Navy. The steady pay received in the Navy will eliminate the fears and worries that come with illness and unemployment.

There are very few occupations, if any, that offer a retirement benefit of $155 a month as does the Navy. Most men work for 20 or 30 years in civilian jobs and have nothing to show for their efforts, whereas after only 20 years of service in the Navy they could receive the retirement benefit for life. Thus, a man enlisting at 17 years of age can retire at 37 years of age—still young enough to establish himself in business or take other civilian employment.

Other attractive features of the naval service are 30-day annual vacations with pay, quick promotion for men who apply themselves, clothing allowances, travel, adventure, and trade training.

The Navy offers these opportunities to men between the ages of 17 and 30. Terms of enlistment for 17-year olds are for minority unless he applies for and is found to be qualified for electronics training in which case he may enlist for two or three years or for minority. For men 18 and under 31 years of age enlistments are for four or six years unless they have served a minimum of one year in the USN, USNR or USN-1 during World War II in which case they may enlist for 2, 3 or 4 years.

City Team Tops Metropolitan League

The fast moving nine from the City of Grosse Pointe was the first half in the Metropolitan Club League. This team has been around the top all through the schedule. Its secret to success has been plenty of hard practice. The Green and White team has been very ably handled by Charles Kypros.

The Blue and Gold team from Grosse Pointe Woods was a serious contender all the way, this club believes in plenty of fight and is very well coached by that fatherly police officer Don Coats and his assistant, Howard Climey.

Then comes that big Red and White team from Grosse Pointe Shores. This team started off with a bang but slowed down at the middle, then came on with two well earned victories over the Woods and Farms. That congenial cop up there by the name of Bill Ruel says "look out for the second half."

The Maroon and Gold team from Grosse Pointe Park got off to a bad start and things didn't look too bright but after a few games got a little better. This team was a team that was a serious threat to the leaders all the time. Hill Best and Bill Johnson have got that team humming for the last half.

The Black and Gold team from Grosse Pointe Farms although finished in a tie for 4th place seemed like a better team a little earlier in the season. The Farms tried hard and will be in the fight all the way. The Farms team is handled by George Neirinek who starred at Grosse Pointe high school a few seasons back.

German Toys Due Here by Christmas

German toys will again be found on store shelves by the time the Christmas shopping begins, according to a report from Germany which indicates that in addition a supply of porcelains, leather goods and jewelry is to shortly begin to arrive in limited quantities. Development of this trade is intended to produce American dollars to pay for food imports which the United States has been shipping to Germany. Thus far the only postwar export from Germany to the United States has been of 870 tons of Bavarian hops, officials said.

Additional Long Distance Lines Now Available

The Michigan Bell Telephone company announced recently that it has added 65 new long distance circuits to its northern-Michigan network in anticipation of a record tourist season this summer.

Arthur L. Leazenby, general traffic manager, said that even the additional facilities probably will not permit the company to handle all calls promptly unless users limit the length of their calls and use off-peak hours to make them. He forecast an increase of at least 25 per cent in long distance traffic in the resort areas over the record volume of last year.

In addition to the 65 full-time circuits, 29 more night circuits have been made available for long distance calling. They will connect with Chicago, Detroit and other large cities.

New full-time circuits include nine obtained through the loan of carrier equipment from other Bell System points in the South. Seventeen of the circuits have been added by construction of new lines and 39 are made available by re-arrangement of existing facilities, the announcement said.

Carrier equipment which permits three additional talking circuits to each pair of wires has been borrowed for the summer season from Greenville and Charlotte, N. C.; Birmingham, Ala.; Nashville and Knoxville, Tenn.; and Jacksonville, Fla. Those cities have a low, long distance calling rate during the summer, but a high rate during the winter season when resort calls fall off in Michigan.

The carrier equipment has been installed at Standish, Piquette, Bay View and Livonia, Mich. The equipment, however, will serve most of the resort areas which "feed" into these telephone centers.

Interested persons may call the naval armory, Junction 2944 and Lieutenant Kathleen M. Chert's agent will be glad to answer any questions.

Pastor of Woods' Church Effects Quick Exodus

Monday, far from being "Blue Monday" turned to a rosey hue! It was moving day for the family of the Rev. Walter J. Geffert, pastor of Calvary Lutheran church, Grosse Pointe Woods.

Arriving here from Oklahoma in October and finding himself in the "housing dilemma" prevalent hereabouts, he managed to take up temporary abode on Huntington road. Thereupon followed weeks of house hunting for a residence to meet the demands besetting a "parson." With the purchase of a parsonage by the congregation at 1702 Stanhope and a three month wait to gain possession at an end, the Reverend Geffert needed no undue urging to move in, hot on the heels of a retreating former tenant.

The pastor hopes his moving days are over and he can devote his energies to building his church to serve the spiritual needs of the rapidly growing community of Grosse Pointe Woods.

A chemical preparation first used as a refrigerant and then as a bug killer has been proved highly effective in fighting gasoline blazes, its manufacturer reports.

BRIDE TO BE

Miss Barbara Jeanne Kilner recently discharged from the Spars of the Coast Guard is busy making plans for her marriage to George Adrian Kalteissen, Jr. of New Brunswick, N. J. The couple have set Aug. 31 as their wedding date. The ceremony will take place at the Grosse Pointe Memorial church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Arntz Kilner announce the engagement of their daughter Barbara Jeanne to George Adrian Kalteissen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kalteissen, of New Brunswick, N.J.

Miss Kilner graduated from Grosse Pointe high school and attended the University of Michigan before entering the service. She was recently discharged from the Spars. Kalteissen is a graduate of Rutgers and has recently been released from the AAF, with the rank of captain, after 30 months in the South Pacific.

The wedding will take place Aug. 31 in Grosse Pointe Memorial church.

Children Enthralled by Juvenile Movies

The hundred children attending Calvary's first juvenile movie went home chuckling over the cartoon of the three little kittens who really fixed up "Mr. Rat." Next Saturday's program includes the feature, "Mr. Boggs Steps Out!" a hilarious comedy, as well as cartoons, etc., and begins at 2 p.m. All showings are sponsored by Calvary Lutheran church, Grosse Pointe Woods, and are well supervised.

Increased interest shown by the community will result in the showing of superior films, several of which have been contracted for to be shown in the near future. The committee in charge hopes to engage such classics as "Alice in Wonderland," "Huckleberry Finn," "Puss in Boots," "Tom Sawyer," "Swiss Family Robinson," etc., if the cost can be defrayed through a large enough attending audience.

Sidney Morgan Addresses Rotary Club Monday

Councilman Sidney Morgan of the City of Grosse Pointe was guest speaker at the noon meeting of the Grosse Pointe Rotary club at the Whittier Monday.

Morgan stated that he, personally, believed that the Grosse Pointes should jointly have a long-range planning committee to study currently changing mutual problems, including the future of the lake front real estate, and present refuse disposal locations.

Mr. Morgan presided at the selection of the owner of the 1946 Ford, who is Mrs. Al Herman, of Three Mile Drive.

Latest Highlights From Hollywood

Robert Hutton's next starrer for Warner Bros. will be "Remember the Hour" an original romantic comedy by Joseph Hall. The plot concerns the dilemma of a war vet, returning to college for deeper knowledge, gets a bang-up education about love.

Hutton recently starred in "Janie Gets Married." RCA-Victor is issuing a first edition of 3,000 "Night and Day" albums current with the release of Warner Bros' picture of the same name, which is based on the career of Cole Porter.

A special insert, paying tributes to Warner Bros. and the 20th anniversary of talking pictures, will be included in all albums. "Night and Day" has been selected by the Burbank studio as the film which best describes the progress of sound during the past 20 years.

Truman Bradley has been signed by Warner Bros. to narrate the first of a series of short subjects called "The Flying Sportsman." First short will be "The Flying Sportsman in Jamaica," followed by "The Flying Sportsman in Venezuela." Gordon Hollingshead is producing the subjects for the Burbank studio.

Raoul Walsh, who recently directed "Cheyenne" for Warner Bros., has been borrowed by United States pictures to do "Pursued," an original by Niven Busch, starring Fred MacMurray and Teresa Wright. Production will start right after completion of "Cloak and Dagger," the Gary Cooper - Lilli Palmer-Robert Alda starrer.

Raymond Massey, one of the finest stage and screen actors in the business and now with Joan Crawford in "The Secret," at Warners, used to be a mechanic. He worked on agricultural machinery in Ontario, Canada.

Saturday Ceremony Unites Couple

Barbara Lou Danahey, daughter of Thomas Patrick Danahey of Seminole avenue and Kenneth H. Duffy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Duffy of Buckingham road were united in marriage June 26 at St. Charles Borromeo church.

The bride chose a gown of pure white silk faille, fashioned with a fitted bodice made with a net yoke, lace embroidered long sleeves with touches of the same embroidery at the wrists. Her long court veil was held in place by a calot of lace. She carried a prayer book and white orchids.

Mrs. John E. Nicholl, the bride's sister acted as maid of honor. She wore a bouffant gown of white net, made with a fitted bodice of lace. She carried a hoop of yellow flowers and wore a head band of the same flowers.

Margarette Duffy, Mary Ann Roney and Mary Lou Hartke, the bridesmaids wore gowns identical to the honor attendant's, but carried blue flowers.

Melvin E. Duffy was his brother's best man and Raymond J. Duffy, Thomas A. Danahey, John Hatcher and Raymond C. Fitzgerald seated the guests.

The bride chose a marble grey gabardine suit with matching hat and red accessories for their wedding trips to Lake Placid.

Armistice Day for World War II Now Under Consideration

Congress now has a bill under consideration that would designate Aug. 14 the "Armistice Day of World War II."

In line with this proposed legislation, and at the request of the American Legion, Gov. Harry F. Kelly is now preparing a proclamation that will proclaim August 14 as a public holiday in Michigan this year.

As a fitting observance of the first anniversary of V-J Day all American Legion posts in the state are now planning a "Welcome Home" day for World War II veterans on that date. Community and civic groups in every locality will be asked to cooperate in holding suitable programs to mark the conclusion of the greatest war in history, and to honor the men and women who wore the uniform.

Final "Pops" Concert Tomorrow Night at Music Hall

The Detroit "Pops" have been such thrilling concerts that it is difficult to realize that five weeks have sped past and the final program of the series is at hand.

Operatic Night, July 11, will star two young American singers, Frances Castellani, soprano, who hails from New York City, and a Virginia gentleman, Carroll Culpepper, tenor. Miss Castellani has chosen two arias from "Carmen," Mr. Culpepper sings "Salut Demeure" from "Faust" and the "Donkey Serenade" by Friml. The pair will be featured in delightful duets also.

On this occasion Valter Poole pays tribute to such operatic masterpieces as "Lohengrin," "Barber of Seville," "Khovantchina," "Faust," and "Pagliacci." Florence George, the beautiful and talented soprano heard in Detroit on the Ford Sunday Evening Hour recently, will be soloist on the final "Pops" of this season, tomorrow night. Mr. Poole will draw from music of gay Vienna for this concert at the insistence of "Pops" patrons who have been so delighted with the two previous Viennese Nights on this series.

Miss George, fitting her numbers around the Strauss, von Suppe, and more Strauss orchestral selections, has announced "La Capinera" by Benedict, Gershwin's "Summertime," arias from "La Traviata" and "Barber of Seville," "La Partida" by Alvarez and the beautiful and popular "Who'll Buy My Lavender" as her part of the program.

PLANS MILITARY WEDDING

Corp. Evalyn Vera MacEwen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. MacEwen is planning a military wedding for her marriage to Master Sgt. Norman L. Wright of Clarksburg, Va. The ceremony will take place at the Miles Park Presbyterian church in Cleveland, O., July 20.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. MacEwen, 861 Beaconsfield, announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Corp. Evalyn Vera of the Wac Corp to Master Sgt. Norman L. Wright, AAF, of Clarksburg, Va. The couple have planned a military wedding for July 20 at the Miles Park Presbyterian church in Cleveland, O., the bride's birthplace.

Both Miss MacEwen and Mr. Wright are stationed at Wright Field, Dayton, O. They have no plans for the immediate future as Sergeant Wright expects a transfer to Wheeling, W. Va.

The groom-elect and Corp. Catherine Kowalski, who will act as their bridesmaid, were guests of the bride's parents this past week-end. Corporal MacEwen will be discharged in the near future.

SPEAKS VOWS

At a candlelight ceremony at the Grosse Pointe Memorial church on Saturday night, July 6, Mary Elizabeth Couillard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Couillard became the bride of Harry John Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb E. Adams of Van Dyke Place.

Betty Adams, the bridegroom's sister was maid of honor and Mrs. Herbert J. Patterson, Jr. was bridesmaid. Their gowns were identical white dotted swiss with tiny red dots.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of embroidered marquisette fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and short puffed sleeves. The flowing skirt had a short train, and her fingertip veil fell from a tier of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, gladiolas and daisies.

Herb E. Adams, Jr., brother of the bridegroom acted as best man and George M. Couillard, brother of the bride, George M. Yost and Joseph M. May seated the guests.

A reception was held for the guests after the ceremony in the men's lounge of the church. The couple plan to reside out of town after their honeymoon.

Mary Elizabeth Couillard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Couillard of Oxford road, became the bride of Harry John Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb E. Adams of Van Dyke Place, at a candlelight ceremony at the Grosse Pointe Memorial church, Saturday, July 6. The Rev. Andrew F. Rauth officiated at the ceremony.

Correction Please! Rev. H. C. White Is On Annual Vacation

It was erroneously stated in a recent issue of The Review that the Rev. Hugh C. White was the former pastor of the Grosse Pointe Methodist church. We would like readers to know that this was in error. The Reverend White will return to this church at the end of his vacation in Texas. During the pastor's absence, the Rev. Robert Ward, divinity student at Duke University, Durham, N.C., will take the pastor's place. NEW YORK—As of this day, out in America's midlands and mountains, there are hundreds of youngsters who dream of the fame and fortune which awaits them here, on the magic isle of Manhattan; hopeful, determined, ambitious kids whose goal rightfully is this world capital which can and will pay well for their work and talent.

Many will come, to be actors and artists, writers and singers, and lots of them will live for at least a while with friends from their towns—in Greenwich Village. They will write back to the home-folks about their "studios" in the garrets and basements of our famed "Bohemia," and the folks will shudder—remembering all they have read and heard of Village goings-on.

They needn't. The Village—that faded little neighborhood of curlicue streets and shabby houses below Washington Square—is one of the most self-righteous, decorous spots on this island! Why, when they were picking a Village Queen last week, the judges demanded that the beautiful contestants parade fully dressed—no bathing or sun-suits allowed.

The Village is, as it's always been, a state of mind—and a cheap, convenient place to live if you don't mind sharing a bathroom or perhaps even cooking in it. It's Manhattan's other-side-of-the-tracks, where it's no sin to be either poor or poetic—and it's fun when you're young, and your dreams still are bright.

"NEW YORK is all right for a visit, but I wouldn't live there if you gave me the place!" So the saying.

Lots of people who live here seldom visit the place—the New York of the picture postcards and chatter columns. Just knowing that the Gay White Way, theatres and nightclubs are there if they want them seems to suffice, whether they ever set foot in them or not.

The humble thousands who service the city for its visitors, set the stage, shift the scenes, tend and polish the glitter and glamor—live out their lives quietly as any citizen of Kokomo, Indiana.

The haughty, bespangled doormen of the Stork Club and the Waldorf, the stiffly starched servitors of the Biltmore and Ritz, shed their swank with their uniforms after work, and subway home to wives and kids in the suburbs.

Wisecracking taxi drivers garage their hacks at the end of their tours and become staid, home-loving family men who sing hymns in church; many a hot-spot strip-tease hurries home after her act to spend the rest of the night darnin' hubby's socks and shirts.

New York for New Yorkers can be as quiet and conventional as Biloxi or Butte. A dazzling show for visitors, it's a place where one lives... often wondering why.

Youth Arrested Fourth of July on Disorderly Conduct Charge in Woods

Jerry LaQuere, 18, of 2044 Hampton Road was arrested by Woods' officers on the Fourth of July when with three other youths he was reported disturbing residents of the Woods.

In answer to a call officers found LaQuere and his companions talking loudly and igniting firecrackers.

They were ordered to quiet down and move on. All obeyed but LaQuere who became rowdy and abusive. He was finally placed in the scout car and taken to the police station.

He was charged with disorderly conduct and will be heard in court.

'HURRICANE' AND 'AVALANCHE' AT SHORES THEATRE

"Hurricane," a carefree romance of the South Sea islands co-starring Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall will be shown at the Shores Theatre tomorrow and Saturday. Like all other Lamour pictures there is plenty of music, dancing and romancing. Jon Hall who is well known for his "rugged" roles is well suited for his part. The many lovely island scenes and native dances add a great deal to the light plot.

In a heavier vein is the picture "Avalanche," which co-stars Bruce Cabot and Veda Ann Borg. Miss Borg who is comparatively new to the screen gives a fine performance as Cabot's leading lady. There is plenty of suspense and action in keeping with the plot of the picture.

Neighborhood Club Day Camp News

The third annual Neighborhood Day Campers opened the season on Monday, June 24. 109 boys and girls between 7-14 years were greeted by Miss Masak. Movie pictures were taken of this first exciting day by Miss June Fox. These pictures will be shown to the children on Wednesday, July 10. The special feature of the week was a trip down to the Village Park where the children swam, ate their lunch, and played he or she wishes to portray. On Wednesday, July 10, a radio program and movie are to be put on. Movies taken on the first day are also to be shown.

Our police chief Dick Craig chose a new police force for the week of July 8. The policemen include: Jane Thompson, Mary Jane Keeler, Nancy Mason, Karen Christenson, and Pat Carrier. The policemen are: Herman Keeler, Jerry Shader and Bobby Ray.

On Friday, July 12 at 9:30 a.m. 100 Campers, including mothers and helpers will board three busses with Cranbrook as their destination. Upon arrival a special tour of the buildings and grounds has been planned. Noon will find all eating their packed lunch. Before long these busses will be bringing their passengers back to the Neighborhood Club at 3:30 p.m.

Next week will be known as "Pet Week". The special features on Friday will be a pet show. Each child is encouraged to bring any pet he may have at home. Judging from past years anything from a quiet turtle to a beautiful well trained dog will be seen on the playground.

Last two weeks of Day Camp will be devoted to a carnival. In our booths and around the grounds one will find freaks, clowns, teasers and last but not least ponies—real live ponies.

COMIC STARS IN "WONDER MAN" AT THE COLONY

Danny Kaye, the comedy sensation who took radio and Hollywood by storm wins many fans with his portrayal of the lead part in "Wonder Man" which will be shown at the Colony theatre tomorrow and Saturday.

Virginia Mayo, one of Hollywood's loveliest blondes is his leading lady. The plot is light and often ridiculous, but if you've seen too many of the more serious dramas you'll find this a pleasant relief. The costumes and settings are done up in true Hollywood fashion.

"Madonna's Secret," co-starring Francis Lederer and Gail Patrick is one of the best current mysteries. Lederer who hasn't appeared in many pictures recently is a welcome sight. Gail Patrick who is the object of much of the intrigue plays her part well. You will be surprised at the picture's outcome, and pleased.

The first of a series of Cub leaders' round tables will be held around the picnic table on Sunday, Aug. 4, from 3 to 9 p.m. in Chandler Park near the Dickerson Chandler Park Drive entrance.

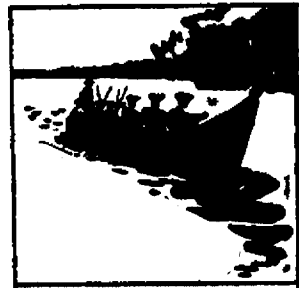

The event, for all adult Cub leaders in District III, (cubmasters, pack committeemen, den mothers, den-dads), will emphasize games, stunts, exhibits, and Cub ceremonies suitable for summertime Cub Scouting.

Leaders from the following Packs make up the committee which met Monday, July 1, to plan the program: 18, 42, 45, 74, 98, 113, 118, 148, 154, 224, 244, 246, 309.

The program, as developed by the committee, includes: 3:00 p.m., exhibits, registration and Cub-bingo game; 4 p.m., special demonstrations of summertime activities including games, contests, etc.; 5:30 p.m., equipment games including "goofy golf," tether ball, box hockey; 6:30 p.m., picnic supper by Pack groups; 8:00 p.m., Cub fire program, songs, stunts, ceremonies.

faster than the defense could shift to meet it.

"Three types of offensive plays were used in the experiment," Baer said, "a straight-ahead line plunge, an off tackle play, and a fake reverse inside end."

Baer believes the inability of the orthodox defenses to stop the T has resulted in a mushrooming of such hybrid formations as the four- and five-man defensive lines, and that eventually some similar alignment will be necessary to forestall the numerous offensive advantage of the T.

"The only consolation is that the T calls for letter-perfect ball handling and for split-second timing. Any mechanical error will cause delay, or will throw the entire play out of gear," Baer added.

"Then, too," he grinned, "there's one imponderable — the human element. You can't measure a fighting heart in fractions of a second. A real scrapper can upset your plans every time."

Enthusiastic Entrants Ready for Model Design Competition

Detroit and Grosse Pointe will be well represented in the final judging of the $75,000 Napoleonic coach and model car design competitions of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, W. S. McLean, secretary, said this week.

McLean said the keen interest in the 1946 Craftsman's Guild competitions in the Detroit and surrounding areas is in response to the presentation of the program to all schools. He said advance cards received from local boys who are entering models indicated high enthusiasm.

Many of the local entrants will include sons of Fisher Body employees who will be eligible for $1,000 in additional awards, McLean said.

Boys from this area, like others throughout the country are bending every effort to have their models completed before the July 15 deadline when the two competitions close. Judging of the Detroit entries will take place soon after the closing date.

Judges will include manual arts instructors, and boys' activity leaders, assisting a national board of judges composed of leading educators.

Top awards in the competitions are eight university scholarships.

Winners in the junior and senior divisions of both competitions in each region, a total of 24 boys, will receive an all-expense-free trip to Detroit for the Craftsman's Guild convention, Aug. 19-22. National winners will be announced during the convention.

MUCC Issues Distribution Report

The Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission paid $53,982,201 to unemployed industrial workers in Michigan during the first six months of 1946, it was announced today by Eugene T. Dormer, executive director of the commission. The number of weeks compensated with this money totaled 2,695,787 weeks.

During the same period, the commission paid $46,992,806 to World War II veterans entitled to readjustment allowances under the G.I. Bill of Rights. The number of weeks compensated was 2,274,049. The money paid the returned veterans is guaranteed by the U. S. government and does not in any way affect the Michigan unemployment trust fund.

"The unemployment trust fund in Michigan is financed solely by contributions of employers subject to the act. These employers now number over 22,000. The contributions are deposited to Michigan's credit in a fund held in the United States Treasury, where interest is paid on the deposits. During the six-month period ending June 30, the interest received was $2,341,243. During the same period, the fund was augmented by $21,334,162 through contributions plus interest and penalties. Such contributions and interest are used only for the payment of unemployment benefits to eligible jobless industrial workers," Dormer said.

As of June 30, the unemployment trust fund was still in a healthy condition with $217,117,625 available for benefit payments. This is a reduction of slightly over $30,000,000 since January 1, when the trust fund amounted to $247,899,128.

Having fallen off considerably in December following the aftermath of V-J Day, benefit payments to the unemployed remained rather steady during the first three months of 1946. Marked decline was noted during the last week in March and continued through the end of May. However, during the month of June, benefit payments increased slightly, reaching the January levels.

Veteran payments, which were under $1,000,000 a week in January, increased weekly until the third week in March when a peak of nearly $3,000,000 a week was being paid. From that time on, a slight decrease is noted in the weekly figures, indicating that veterans, slowly becoming readjusted, are obtaining gainful employment.

During the first four months of 1946, initial claims remained fairly steady, averaging approximately 8,000 a week. During the month of May, when the Ford plant shut down completely, these claims increased to an average of 25,000 a week. With the return of the Ford workers to their jobs, initial claims again decreased to a norm. This was short-lived because of the new benefit year claims which were filed during June for payments beginning July 1. These people had exhausted their first benefit year following the V-E Day lay-offs, but being still unemployed, were entitled to additional money on their second benefit year. The June increase in initial claims, according to Dormer, does not mean increased unemployment, but rather indicates additional payments to those previously laid off.

U. of D. Grid Coach Discusses Problems Facing Football Team

The most pressing problem facing the nation's college grid coaches for the past three seasons is still unsolved, in the opinion of Charles E. Baer, University of Detroit grid coach.

That problem is an adequate defense against the T formation.

Exhaustive experiments conducted this spring by Baer left him more convinced than ever that a defense against the T can be evolved only by a revolutionary departure from present defensive fundamentals.

"This summer, by the use of special timing devices set up by our department of physics, we timed several of our T formation plays.

"Then, with some of our best defensive players as guinea pigs, we tested the average time needed for a defensive formation to see the defense from a play, and then set to the experiment."

"We experimented for several weeks with formations as diverse as the T, the I, the W, and the Z. The results were not surprising. In all cases the T formation play always got off

Lawrence Tech Resumes Football

For the first time, Lawrence Tech will play night football this fall as the Blue Devils resume the sport after a four year lay-off because of the war.

Don Ridler, athletic director and football coach, today announced the 1946 eight game schedule which includes five home games to be played Friday and Saturday nights at Ives Field, Highland Park.

Contracts for lighting the field have been signed, according to Harold Myron, Highland Park director of recreation. He said this work as well as the erection of new fencing should be completed by late summer.

Highlighting Lawrence Tech's 1946 schedule are games with Akron University at the Akron Rubber Bowl on Sept. 28 and with Detroit Tech at Ives Field Friday night, Nov. 1. The latter game will mark the opening of athletic relations between Detroit's two technical colleges. Because the game should draw a big crowd, Lawrence Tech has made the contest with Detroit Tech its homecoming.

One of the secrets of American industrial development is found in the inducement given by our patent system — inducements to invent and to make new and better products.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKoun

MARGERY SHARP, who created Cluny Brown, the fascinating English serving girl in the book of that title, has come through with another completely original heroine—Adelaide Culver—in her new novel, "Britannia Mews." "Britannia Mews," like "Cluny Brown," is a Book-of-the-Month Club selection.

MARGERY SHARP

When Adelaide was a little girl in Victorian days, she lived in one of the ten substantial mansions of London's Albion Place. All the residents of Albion Place were people of means and standing—who owned their own carriages and horses and had their own coachmen. The carriages and horses were lodged in the stables behind Albion Place, in a district called Britannia Mews, and the coachmen and their families lived in little three-room flats above the stables.

When Adelaide is approaching young womanhood, Britannia Mews has degenerated to a slum. It is the home of Henry Lambert, an ineffectual and drunken artist who gives drawing lessons. On an off moment, he tells Adelaide, one of his pupils, that he is in love with her. To his surprise, she takes him seriously, and before he knows what has happened, he finds himself married, with Adelaide, having cheerfully cut herself off from her family, busily engaged in cleaning up his flat. This strange marriage lasts during one grim year. Then during an altercation, Adelaide happens to give her spouse a slight push. He falls down the outer staircase, lands on the cobblestones of Britannia Mews, where he dies. His only legacy is a group of intricately carved puppets, which he had made, and which Adelaide heartily detests.

But under the hands of the "second Mr. Lambert," as Henry's successor is known among the denizens of Britannia Mews, these puppets are responsible for the establishment of a Puppet Theatre, which gradually changes the whole character of the neighborhood.

The Puppet Theatre flourished through the 20's, when the Mews was a night club Bohemia, through the days when Adelaide became a theatrical figure and until she died, a very old lady, in the buzz bomb era of World War II.

An Ordinance to Amend Ordinance No. 34 of the Village of Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan, Adopted on June 18, 1940, Entitled:

An Ordinance to regulate and restrict the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specified uses, to regulate and limit the height and bulk of buildings hereafter erected, to regulate and determine the area of yards, courts, and other open spaces, to limit and restrict the maximum number of families which may be housed in dwellings hereafter erected or altered, and for said purposes, divide the Village into districts, to provide a method of administration, and to prescribe the penalties for the violation of its provisions.'

The Village of Grosse Pointe Woods Ordains:

Section 1: That Section 8 of Ordinance No. 34 of the Village of Grosse Pointe Woods, adopted on June 18, 1940, entitled:

'An Ordinance to regulate and restrict the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specified uses, to regulate and limit the height and bulk of buildings hereafter erected, to regulate and determine the area of yards, courts, and other open spaces, to limit and restrict the maximum number of families which may be housed in dwellings hereafter erected or altered, and for said purposes, divide the Village into districts, to provide a method of administration, and to prescribe the penalties for the violation of its provisions,'

be amended, so as to read as follows:

Section 2: District "B." A district permitting all buildings and uses as permitted in District "A" and "C," but otherwise confined to business and/or commercial establishments erected for the sale of goods at retail or a commercial or professional service conducted for the residents of the locality which is not obnoxious or offensive to the locality by reason of the omission of odor, fumes, dust, smoke, waste, vibration or noise, provided there is not in connection therewith any manufacturing, repairing, converting, altering, finishing or assembling except that which is incidental to such retail business or service and on which not more than five mechanics or workers are customarily engaged, provided that the limitation on the number of mechanics or workers employed shall not apply to automotive salesrooms and/or service stations; provided, however, no such business or commercial establishments permitted under the provisions of this Section shall contain, be laid out for, or provide residential or living quarters, provided, however, that where subdivision restrictions permit the construction upon and use of the premises for a physician's or a dentist's office incidental to and in connection with the residence, the prohibition hereinbefore contained shall not apply.

Section 3: The Provisions of this Ordinance are hereby declared to be immediately necessary for the public health, peace and safety and are hereby given immediate effect."

PHILIP F. ALLARD, Village Clerk, Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich.

Carried by the following vote: Ayes: Marco, Post, Burgess, Rowe, Beaver, Gardner; Nays: None.

Laugh Awhile!

How to regain your health—spend the same amount of time, money and effort that you did in losing it.

Two little negro boys were loitering on a corner when one said to the other:

"How old is you?"

"AB's five," was the reply. "How old is you?"

"An don't know."

"You don't know how old you are?"

"Does women botha' you?"

"None."

"You're fool!"

You can never get ahead of a person by trying to get even with him.

A very small boy came home dejectedly from his first day at school. "Aint' you' t'wical," he stammered. "And why not?" his mother asked.

"Well, I can't read and I can't write, and they won't let me talk, so what's the use?"

Never miss an opportunity to get ahead of a person by trying to get even with him.

Late Night Postal Pickup Defeated in Prime Purpose

The purpose of the new late night collection of mail is being defeated by mailers who wait until the latest possible moment to post their mail, it was pointed out by Detroit Postmaster Huston Monday.

"Many people fail to realize that all mail picked up on the late collection is not dispatched on evening trains. It is dispatched on early morning trains, and of course arrives at its destination many hours later than that dispatched on earlier trains," Huston said.

By inaugurating the late night collection, it was the purpose of the post office to prevent mail deposited after the residential collection from being delayed 24 hours.

"If too much mail is received on the late collection, it will force more employees to be placed on the night crew. Too much stress cannot be placed upon the importance of early mailing. It is to the advantage of both the post office and the patron to deposit all mail early in the day," Huston declared.

Opportunity Offered for Extended Active Overseas Duty

An opportunity for two thousand Reserve and National Guard officers now on terminal leave or inactive status to return to extended active duty in company with units of the Army Ground Forces was announced July 1 by Gen. Jacob L. Devers, commanding general, Army Ground Forces.

The announcement, which is the Ground Forces' initial move to carry out war department directives for an interim army containing a balanced, capable volunteer officer corps, will remain in effect until the army attains a permanent postwar status. Officers, commissioned in the Army of the United States, can become eligible for the duty, if otherwise qualified, by applying and accepting a commission in either the Organized Reserve Corps or in the National Guard of the United States.

It was also pointed out by General Devers that officers who volunteer for extended active duty at this time may indicate a preference for the overseas theatre in which they desire assignment. Consideration for this preference will be given in all assignments. Officers who held rank higher than that of company grade at the time of separation from the service may volunteer for duty in company grade. To be considered for duty within Army Ground Forces, Officers will be required to have prior service in the Army Ground Forces or Army Ground Forces type unit and not have attained their 37th birthday, have obtained an efficiency index rating of 35.0 or higher, for all military service performed subsequent to Sept. 16, 1940, and meet physical standards for general service.

Officers ordered to active duty in company grade will be temporarily commissioned in the Army of the United States in a grade not higher than the one in which the officer served immediately prior to processing for relief from active duty, and will be required to volunteer for service for an unlimited length of time or until June 30, 1947. Interested officers are advised they are subject to overseas assignment and any downward grade readjustment procedure in the same manner as all other officers on active duty except that they will not be reduced to a grade lower than the permanent grade held on Dec. 7, 1941. Extended Active Duty in a temporary Army of the United States status will not affect an officer's permanent commission in the Organized Reserve Corps or in the National Guard of the United States.

There are also a few opportunities for Field Officers in scarce categories to volunteer for Extended Active Duty, under the same conditions as Company Grade Officers, providing they have an efficiency index of 40.0 or higher.

Officers desiring Extended Active Duty must apply for such duty in writing to The Adjutant General, Washington 25, D.C., on WD AGO Form 1094 which is available at any military installation.

The Retraining and Reemployment Administration, charged by the President to spur the development of local advisory centers for veterans, has indicated that it will stimulate in communities cooperative local programs in which public and private agencies can work together for the benefit of veterans.

"Where advisory or referral centers work to integrate the voluntary activity of citizens and local agencies with that of the state and federal government, impetus is given the nation-wide community-centered effort so essential to the peacetime reconversion of servicemen and women," said General Erskine, director.

"Veterans are confronted by certain problems in readjustment for which the VA and other governmental agencies can offer no effective solution. These problems frequently result from the need for employment, housing, advice on personal affairs, and on other questions requiring hometown assistance. Where the veteran is helped by the people of his community, they bring to him a personal understanding of his problems that will place him in a far better position to utilize and profit by the benefits provided him by federal agencies," according to General Erskine.

This is particularly true in the veterans' associations with the VA, inasmuch as this administration provides locally the great burden of federal benefits and privileges.

Managers of VA offices have been directed to offer such counsel, aid and encouragement as may be given in the legal performance of their duties to assist local public and civic agencies in the formation and operation of advisory centers offering needed services to veterans.

The full cooperation of VA managers in the formation and operation of advisory centers has been directed by General Erskine, who said, "it will be of invaluable aid to the veteran, and this cooperation will make the center more worthwhile by mobilizing all community and governmental resources in the full re-establishment of veterans."

QUOTES OF THE WEEK
 "I would rather die as a Republican than live as a mugwump." - Congressman Joseph Clark Baldwin III, N. Y.
 "I never even saw a Republican until I was 12 years old!" - George Allen, a President Truman adviser.
 "You didn't miss much" - The President's 93-year-old mother.
 "Our tax laws and fiscal policies are not of the people and for them. They are of and for the government - and under them it becomes the public enemy of the people's initiative and thrift." - H. E. Humphreys, Jr., chairman Tax Council, National Association of Manufacturers.
 "It is the responsibility of the government to reduce its expenditures in every possible way." - John W. Snyder, on becoming Secretary of the Treasury.
 "No - and now you beat it!" - Mrs. Maude Osburn, bank teller in Elk City, Kan., to armed robber, who beat it.

don herold says:
 Because I believe in saving money -
 I want to save money, and I think you want to save money. And I believe this money can be put to work to create industries and to do good things in the world. And I think it is therefore worth some hire. This hire I hope to use to help support me in my old age.
 This is one reason I want the American system of enterprise to live.
 Another reason I want it to live is that I admire its energy and initiative and its creativeness and its ability to give jobs.
 American enterprise will pass out unless the men responsible for it are allowed fair rewards. People do not strive for nothing. I know, of course, that the system has some faults, but I believe these faults can be corrected without abolishing the system.
