

PARK PLAN OFFERED

POINTE PARAGRAPHS

by THE POINTER

They're at it again. The road hogs we mean. No matter how many times authorities warn drivers you'll always find a persistent few who are determined to drive their own way. If they weren't interested in the welfare of others you'd think they'd at least consider their own chances for safety. U turns on busy thoroughfares, failure to stop for stop streets, and a wild spurt through heavy traffic to make a light are only a few of the more common "chances" taken by these "daring" drivers. For your own safety as well as others how about abiding by the law?

Just had our share of out-of-town visitors and never had a better time seeing the sights and doing the town. Too bad more guests couldn't take a few lessons in tact for the house guest or visitor. From the conversation we hear at the neighborhood stores and on the buses some people aren't as fortunate as we were. It's a sad story when the host and hostess can't enjoy themselves.

The youngsters are showing the oldsters how to do it in more fields than one. The poor dads in this area are having a time competing with the junior fishermen of the household who do alright with nothing but old bamboo poles, string, home made fish hooks and worms.

The old "grudge" game between the city police and the men of the Conner's station in Detroit is scheduled for tomorrow night at the Neighborhood club at six o'clock.

This game is an annual affair and each year finds the teams more eager than ever to prove their worth.

Every ounce of energy to be victors. May the best team win!

REMEMBER?

The Farms council adopted an amendment to a village ordinance which established a separate parking district and allowed the commercial district to be enlarged in depth approximately fifty feet at a site proposed for the erection of a theatre on Mack avenue between Kerby and Moross.

George Elworthy, Grosse Pointe chairman of the OCD, received a communication from Capt. Donald S. Leonard, director of the state OCD of Michigan pointing out the necessity of the council remaining active until the war's end.

The Grosse Pointe War Price and Rationing board changed hours for the summer months and campaigned for additional volunteers.

The City of Grosse Pointe entered negotiations with the Fathers of St. Augustine for sale of city property located in Detroit, to them for the erection of a school. The property in question had been used as a city salvage depot.

Grosse Pointe Farms employees were given a five per cent raise.

The canning center at the high school opened so that local housewives could can their non-acid foods from their victory gardens.

Additional repairs were being planned for the local branch of the post office on Maumee, between St. Clair and Nefl.

The drastic depletion of the nation's tin supply since Pearl Harbor forced officials to canvass American housewives for used tin.

Five Years Ago

Five Pointers were honored at breakfast at the Neighborhood club before leaving for induction into the armed services.

The fifth summer concert was held at the Grosse Pointe high school.

The heavy overgrowth of weeds and shrubbery causing a menace to pedestrians and drivers in the Pointe area were to be removed as soon as workers were available. Late citizens were pounding the commissions with requests for removal of the weeds, demanding immediate action.

Announcement was made that the Park municipal offices were to close on Saturday for the summer months.

The Review's Flower Identification contest was drawing to a close. Entries were still pouring in during the last few days to beat the closing deadline.

The American Legion took on the huge task of distributing a tax and minimum collection in the area.

Alleged Hit-Run Driver Free on $500 Bond

Alexander B. Quirk, 41, of 379 St. Clair, charged as a hit-run driver involved in an accident last week which resulted in injuries to Alfred David, 1037 Ashland, was released on $500 bond.

Mr. Quirk admitted at the investigation of being the driver whose auto ran down Alfred David Thursday night, July 11, at Jefferson and Ashland. Quirk kept on going "in panic" but was chased down alleys and side roads by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Yonosko, 3850 Mt. Elliott, who had witnessed the accident. Quirk evaded capture but Mrs. Yonosko noted the license number.

Other witnesses were Herman Wheeler and Glen Cusard, both of 1378 Newport, identified the car in a group of 30 at the police station. They agreed that Quirk had swerved to the center of the street before hitting David.

David is still in serious condition at East Side General hospital where he was taken after being treated at Receiving hospital.

The trial date has not been set.

Robbery Victim Sought by Police

Grosse Pointe Park police today are seeking to learn the identity of a serviceman, the victim of a strong armed robbery on June 12, 1946. The serviceman was confronted by the robber while riding a bicycle near St. Clare church on Whitaker and Mack, and a 15-jewel watch taken from him.

Police are in possession of the watch and have all the information concerning the robbery. Since the robber is a deserter, police are seeking to locate him under the complete circumstances from the robbery victim. Should the party involved read this story, it is hoped that he will call at the Grosse Pointe Park police station, Jefferson at Maryland in the near future.

Pollen Guide for Hayfever Sufferers

For those who face the approaching "hayfever" days of August with apprehension, there is little solace to offer. However, the following pollen count may be of some value as a guide to what the future days hold. If you're lucky enough perhaps you can escape to northern Michigan before the pollen count soars, or take some minor precautions.

Most people find that they do not suffer any ill effects as long as the count stays under 100 per cubic foot of air. The count:

July 10—0; July 13—7.

Theft of Two Phones From High School Reported to Police

Farms' police answered a call Monday from custodians of Grosse Pointe high school, who reported the theft of two telephones, one an outside phone, the other a phone belonging to the school.

The vandals entered through an unlocked window. Police are checking fingerprints on the freshly painted walls.

Owners Settle Own Damage With Aid of Park Police

Ola Hazeland, 1312 Buckingham and Don McLeod, 4901 Robins decided they could settle their own dispute after shopping at the Park police station. The men had been driving in opposite directions in the vicinity of Outer Drive and Chambers when the lights of the cars apparently blinded both drivers. Hazeland's car struck the rear of McLeod's. Hazeland's car was damaged and drove to the Park police station.

Sergeant Verrill, stating the men want to settle their own dispute and both drivers are a law-abiding citizen, the police are inclined to settle their difficulties by themselves.

Day Campers Visit Cranbrook On Bus Trip

An enthusiastic group of day campers from the Neighborhood club gathered on the club lawns and property early Friday morning for a trip to picturesque Cranbrook. The children were eager to depart, and even the prospect of having their picture taken couldn't spoil their excitement.

Aboard the buses besides the campers were Miss Pauline Masak, director of the day camp; Miss June Fox, assistant director and several mothers who volunteered to aid in the tour of Cranbrook.

On the way to Cranbrook, the children were entertained by a special tour of the grounds. The tour included the various buildings, and the grounds which are known nationally for their beauty in color and design.

Noon found the youngsters and their chaperones eating their box lunches. The tour was completed after a short rest and the tired, but satisfied visitors were placed aboard the returning buses at 2:30.

This trip to Cranbrook was one of the specially planned events for the children attending the Neighborhood day camp. Other activities will be announced.

Child of Six Gets Unexpected Swim in City Park

Carol Jones, age six, 1069 Ashland, had an unexpected dip when she wandered off the pier at the city park last Saturday. She was taken from the water by an unidentified man and taken to the city police station with her two companions, Jerry Jones and Ronney LaRue.

The children had been put on a Lakeshore coach by Mrs. Jones and instructions given the driver as to where to let the children off.

They were on their way to a party. However, they confused directions and instead of the party wound up in the city park.

Mrs. Jones called for the wanderers.

Residents of Lincoln and University Please Take Notice!

Residents are asked to keep their cars in their driveways while the equipment is on the roadways and the construction work is being completed.

Residents interested in having the approach to their driveway repaired or reconstructed can speak to the inspector on the job concerning the possibility of the work and the cost.

'Joe' Is Lost; Call It 'Monkey Business'

"Joe" a pet monkey belonging to Mrs. Klein, 22 Mapleton road, deserted civilized living for the more natural setting of the great open spaces some time last week-end. Without so much as a farewell swing from his tail "Joe" left behind the comforts of home to swing the ropes of the nearby wooded area.

It is thought that the "monkey" or "ape" is still in the area and that anyone who sees it should call the police station and the monkey will be turned out to be a lost pet.

Woods Council Considers Lake Front Park

Residents of the Woods may find that waiting can reap rewards if the proposed waterfront park suggested to the Woods' commission by the Civic League at last Tuesday's meeting is accepted and acted upon.

The new proposed site for a residents' park is located on Lake St. Clair on the northwest lot opposite the former Edsel Ford estate. Chester Clark, spokesman for the group voiced the opinion that the Mack avenue park site now owned by the village can be sold for $85,000, double the price paid for it. Estimated cost of the new site is set at $60,000. The new location would provide excellent bathing facilities off a sand beach and picnic grounds. The parcel is approximately 43 acres, an acre less than the site now owned, with 600 feet lake frontage.

Until the present time members of the council have been faced with various problems delaying any possible action on the present property. Residents will remember a special election last year at which time the voters okayed the issuance of a bond issue to buy the present land opposite Torrey Woods, bordering Mack avenue and the village line.

Surveys were taken by several of the commission members of this site and a topographical map was to have been made by the village engineer.

The land for which the bond issue was granted includes not only a park but was to have had a swimming pool, picnic grounds and also a municipal building to house the village offices, fire and police departments.

The new site would be unadaptable for any village buildings.

Commission Acts on Veteran Council's Proposal

The Woods' commission adopted a resolution whereby they agreed to give the Veterans council one-third of the original amount allotted to them upon notification that all other villages agreed to do the same.

The city is not a participant.

There has been a great deal of discussion lately concerning the interpretation of a law denying a official body to use taxpayers' money for such a project, and in consideration of this the council decided upon this action.

Legislation is expected soon on the law changing its wording so as to specify definitely the intent of the law.

City Advertises for Bids on Bonds

The city of Grosse Pointe will accept sealed bids for purchase of $2,500,000.00 of bonds on Tuesday, August 8 p.m.

Youths Sentenced for Damages

Three youths who admitted destruction of private property in the city appeared before Thomas Trombley, police chief, with their fathers and promised to make restitution.

The trio admitted having chased a young girl, and when she sought refuge at 754 Lincoln road, where her sister was caring for children the pursuers turned the garden hose on the porch furniture and tore an awning. Some of the water seeped into the house.

The other youths involved in this affair are to appear before the chief this week. Because of the age of those involved, the Review withholds their names.

TAKE IT EASY!

Death to the OPA has meant birth to rising prices. Now that legislative control over prices has been curtailed, dealers and consumers have gone on a rampage.

To those who remember the reports of the inflation of the European continent after World War I, and in consideration of the reports coming through concerning the existing conditions in Europe today, one thing must appear certain. We don't want inflation!

The government isn't asking us to deprive ourselves of necessary articles that can't be gotten along without. It's up to each one of us to use our own judgment concerning the matter — judging cautiously and honestly.

Buy only what you need — when you need it — at a fair price. Paying "runaway" prices for an article will only hasten inflation.

Woods' Party Enlivened When 'Uninvited' Guests Arrive; One Youth Arrested

It all began last Friday night when Derve Droege decided to play host, while his parents were away, to several friends at his home, 1922 Hunt Club Drive.

Located on Mack avenue approximately 90 minutes later he was arrested on a charge of being drunk, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

After a refreshing night's sleep in jail he was released on $100 bond to appear in court tomorrow night at seven o'clock.

Woods' police received a call from the distraught host asking that they come over and quiet some uninvited guests.

After convincing the hoodlums to leave the vicinity, but after a ride around the block, the officers were confronted with a worse situation than on their first visit.

Officers succeeded in getting the "guests" out of the house but the mob got the upper hand and a rush call for reinforcements brought police from the Farms and Shores.

However, one of the uninvited, Donald Place, 354 Notre Dame, refused to leave and became abusive. Officers were unsuccessful in their attempt to place him in a scout car and he escaped.

In the first statement of company policy since the demise of OPA, President Christopher declared Packard intends to hold the line on new-car prices approved by OPA.

"If we exceed that volume," he added, "we fully intend to lower new-car prices accordingly."

"There's absolutely nothing wrong with our national economy in general and the automobile industry in particular which increased production cannot cure."

"Should that production fail to materialize, then we are faced by the same problem with or without OPA."

Woods Civic League Seeks Congressional Aid in School Tie-Up

The following, a copy of a letter sent by the Grosse Pointe Woods Civic League, to Sens. Arthur H. Vandenberg and Homer Ferguson and Rep. Louis Rabaut in consideration of the urgent need of a proper new school in the Woods.

The letters were prepared after the League had circulated petitions and obtained approximately two thousand signatures of Grosse Pointe Woods residents, indicating their interest in necessary steps to be taken to obtain a new school building in that area.

The letter follows: July 3, 1946

"Several months ago, the residents of the Grosse Pointe school district voted an increase in school taxes for the purpose of providing a fund for the construction of two new schools, which are badly needed in the district. One of the schools is to be a combination junior high and elementary school located at the corner of Mack avenue and Vernier road, in the village of Grosse Pointe Woods.

"In accordance with the wishes of the people, the district school board proceeded with the plans for the new junior high and elementary school. In accordance with current federal government regulations, a petition for priority for the building materials (Case No. J-5-1157) was filed with the local office of the Civilian Production Administration.

"We are bringing this matter to your attention because within the last few days approximately two thousand residents of the village of Grosse Pointe Woods have signed petitions which have been presented to the school board and the Civilian Production Administration, in which they have demanded reconsideration of the application for priority.

buses are operated by an independent carrier with a limited number of vehicles available for this purpose and it is not uncommon for 75 children to be carried on a bus built for 39 passengers.

"2. From a safety factor, the local police are strictly opposed to the overcrowding of the school buses but can do nothing about it because of the limited number of buses available.

"3. The children are, of necessity, compelled to carry their lunches, and eating cold food every day is an unhealthy condition for children of this age.

"4. The children from this district are resented by the residents of Grosse Pointe Park, many of whom are older people without children, who are inclined to be very outspoken about the usual annoyances caused by normal grade school children.

"The members of the Grosse Pointe Woods Civic League realize the necessity of such government agencies as the Civilian Production Administration. However, we feel that in the establishment of such an agency it was intended that its decisions should be fair and reasonable. Furthermore, we feel that our representatives in congress are vitally interested in seeing to it that priorities granted by the CPA go to those persons whose requirements are the most urgent.

Respectfully yours, Rex H. Johnston, President A. E. Wilson, Secretary

Radiotelephone Soon to Be Introduced on Michigan Highways

The Michigan Bell Telephone company plans to inaugurate general mobile radiotelephone service on all important highways in the southern part of the state by next spring.

President Thomas N. Lacy announced that the company will apply to the federal communications commission for permission to install transmitting and receiving stations at Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Flint, Jackson, Port Huron, Kalamazoo, and Bay City-Saginaw.

Lacy said that, although the proposed installations initially will operate as separate stations serving those and nearby communities, they later will become links in a general highway service, not only for southern Michigan but also to nearby states through similar Bell System installations.

The new service will provide auto-telephone communication on highways south of the Bay City-Saginaw line in eastern Michigan and south of Grand Rapids in the western part of the state, Lacy said.

Proposed installations are in addition to those planned this fall in Detroit where the first urban mobile service will be inaugurated in Michigan. That service will be provided over a different frequency and it will be necessary to install new stations at Detroit for general highway operation.

Highway service will provide two-way telephone communication between cars, trucks and other mobile units and any telephone connected with the nation-wide Bell System lines. Stations at coastal points also could serve harbor and shipping craft.

Calls to and from vehicles will travel part way by radio and part way by wire, each transmitter-receiver along the highways being linked by wire with a telephone central office.

Added Names

Petitions requesting the construction of an elementary school in the vicinity of Grosse Pointe Woods have increased to 1,847 signatures during the current week.

Members of the village council will meet with board of education members to consider future steps in the matter. It is at this time there will be a public hearing at which permission will be granted for a new school.

General Eisenhower's report as supreme commander to the Allied chiefs of staff has broken all sales records for documents, the government printing office announced this week.

Production of men's youths' and suits slumped 10 per cent during April, the census bureau reports yesterday following a survey of manufacturers.

Production of men's business and shirts dropped even more sharply, going down 15 per cent. These awards, granted annually to recognize and encourage research in the dairy industry and related fields, amount to $1,000 and a gold medal. A total of approximately fifty-three awards have been made in 11 years.

Dr. Reineke, who came to Michigan State a year ago from the University of Missouri, did most of his research in milk precursors, studying the compounds in the blood which are changed into milk. He also was able to prepare a thyroid hormone, called thyroxine, starting from the casein in milk.

Most of the work was accomplished at the University of Missouri where he was an assistant professor and received his doctor of philosophy. He is a native of Minnesota and received his bachelor's degree at the University of Minnesota.

Others now at Michigan State college who have received the Borden award include: Dr. Carl F. Huffman, research professor in dairy nutrition; Dr. Margaret A. Ohlson, head of the foods and nutrition department; Dr. I. Forest Huddleson of the school of veterinary medicine; Dr. G. Malcolm Trout of the college dairy department. Two other recipients, Dr. Ira A. Gould and Dr. Lane A. Moore, formerly of the dairy department, have since left the institution to become associated with other colleges or the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Community Chest Heads Announce Campaign Plans for 1946 Drive

Upon recommendation of the Community Chest goal committee, a goal of five million eight hundred thousand dollars has been set for the 1946 Red Feather Community Chest campaign, Walter C. Laidlaw, campaign manager announced today.

The campaign to raise funds for 125 local Red Feather services and the USO will be conducted from Oct. 26 through Nov. 13, with headquarters in the Book Cadillac hotel. James B. Webber, Jr., vice president and assistant general manager of the J. L. Hudson company, is chairman of the drive. George T. Christopher, president of the Packard Motor Car company, headed the goal committee.

"Our first postwar Community Chest Campaign will set the pattern for the support of local private social services — known as Red Feather services — for years to come," Laidlaw said.

The only war-related activity retained in this year's drive is the USO, which is launching a limited, final appeal to maintain essential morale services on behalf of the 1,300,000 men who will constitute the U. S. armed forces in 1947.

USO has three major obligations to meet next year to complete its unfinished task. It must provide entertainment and a "home away from home" to the boys still in service, to the boys still in hospitals, and to the boys now in training.

"But, this year, while we are accomplishing an orderly demobilization of wartime services, we must expand the programs of local agencies if we are to rebuild a strong peacetime community in metropolitan Detroit," Laidlaw said.

"During the war years, local chest agencies operated on minimum budgets with skeleton staffs. Emergency reserve funds were added to the Community Chest allocation from last year's unsuccessful War Chest Drive. But, with this addition, only $3,391,074 was available to the chest's 125 Red Feather services for their 1946 programs. This entailed a fur-

State Food Inspectors on Alert for Law Violators

During the month of May, our staff of 45 food and standards and weights and measures inspectors visited 646 Michigan towns and cities and inspected 4,233 food establishments of all kinds, reports Charles Figy, director of the state department of agriculture.

They took 102 official samples of food suspected of being adulterated and made 145 seizures of food products that did not meet the requirements of state laws. They served 17 official sanitary notices to correct gross insanitary conditions and issued 529 orders in writing to correct conditions that were minor violations of the state pure food laws.

They also inspected the weights and measures in 1,709 places of business handling food, and tested 15,468 weights and measures, approving 14,786 as being correct and condemning 782 as being inaccurate. A total of 2,830 packages were reweighed, 2,476 of which were found to be correct and 354 incorrect.

An additional total of 14,436 weighing and measuring devices of other types than those used in the handling and sale of food products were tested, as well as 3,204 gross of milk bottles.

Swimming Championship Contests to Be Held Tomorrow in Rouge Pools

Summer competitive swimming in Detroit reaches a climax tomorrow, when the Rouge pools will be the scene of both the Michigan AAU men's outdoor swimming championships and the Michigan recreation swimming championships.

Conducted by the department of parks and recreation and the Detroit Boat club, the AAU meet is expected to draw over a hundred entrants. Invitations have been set to 25 clubs boasting tank talent. The affair will serve as an Olympic preparatory meet, and will mark the first opportunity for most swimming enthusiasts to view Michigan's top-ranking natators in competition.

Charles McCaffree, Michigan State college coach, will send a full team of 18 men from East Lansing in an attempt to annex the team crown. The Spartans captured the national intercollegiate at New Haven last winter. In what is shaping up as one of the feature events, the 100 meter free style finds Bill Prew, former Wayne star, and Gus Sharamut, ex-U. of M. ace, going after the title.

AAU diving events, which includes three meter springboard and 10 meter platform diving, will be held at the Detroit Boat club beginning at 3 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday.

The Michigan recreation swimming championships, which will be run off in one day, is the second sponsored and conducted by the department of parks and recreation and sanctioned by the Michigan Recreation Association. Function of the meet is to give lesser skilled participants in the recreation programs a chance for competition. AAU and college swimmers are banned from this meet.

With 40 events scheduled, ranging from races for boys and girls under 14 to seniors over 18, a mad scramble for prizes is expected. Battle Creek with contestants in all events appears to be the best represented city outside Detroit. Preliminaries for this meet are set for 2 p.m. and finals for 6 p.m.

Heats in the AAU championships will begin at 10 tomorrow morning, while finals are slated for 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 21.

MSC War Memorial

The 320 students and former students of Michigan State college who gave their lives in their country's service in World War II will be commemorated on the campus by a Memorial Center, to be made up of a chapel and an International Center, devoted to the promotion of peace and international good will. The project will be financed entirely through voluntary contributions, with Glen D. Stewart, director of alumni relations, coordinating the collection of funds.

Scout Cook-O-Ree Set for Saturday

Nine East Side Scout troops are participating in the District 3 Cook-O-Ree at the Conner-Shoemaker entrance in Chandler Park beginning at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, July 20.

Although this is the first time such a spectacular event has ever been conducted in this area, some pretty "slick" menus are promised. Some cooking teams will use fairly primitive utensils such as flat stoves, ordinary tin cans and three branches to produce their omelets, eggs and bacon or twist-on-a-stick. Other teams are using Scout mess kits and other ordinary camp cooking gear in preparing such items as hot biscuits and hunter's stew. So-called expert chefs are using home-made ovens and gloves for such delicacies as roasts, broiled steak, planked fish, and special desserts. All phases of second class, first class and merit badge, cooking merit will be demonstrated.

Miss Francis Rosier, home advisor of the Detroit Edison company, will be chief judge.

The nine troops participating and their sponsoring institutions are as follows:

Troops: 186, Pingree school; 193, Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian church; 184, Detroit housing project; 249, Calvin United Presbyterian church; 295, Mt. Calvary Evangelical Lutheran church; 151, Goodale school; 224, Hamilton school; 5, St. Mark's Methodist church; and 290, Mason school P-TA.

Noted Baritone to Appear in Recital Series

Yves Tinayre, baritone, will present a lecture-recital of vocal music of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance at 8 p.m. Tuesday night, July 23, at the Rackham Educational Memorial, the University of Michigan Extension Service announces. He will sing first a group of Medieval and Renaissance sacred songs, following them with a group of secular songs of the same period. He will be assisted by a string quartette and piano.

The program is third in a series of six featuring guest and regular faculty members of the university's school of music and is sponsored jointly by the extension service and the school of music. Tinayre will also present a recital on the evening of July 30 and for these two programs the Detroit Conservatory of Music, the Detroit Institute of Musical Art, and the music departments of Wayne university, the U. of D., Marygrove and Mercy colleges are all assisting in the local sponsorship.

Yves Tinayre has become world famous for his research into the music of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance—a field of music which might have become extinct except for his interest—as well as for the art with which he brings his finds to life in his recitals. He made his debut in this country in a New York recital soon after he had come to the United States from his native France, and within six months he appeared at Vassar college, Smith college, the Eastman school of music in Rochester, N. Y., and Hamilton college. In this time, also, he appeared with the Montreal Symphony orchestra and gave recitals for Pro Musica in Detroit, the Coolidge Festival in Washington, D.C., and the Festival of the American Society of Ancient Instruments in Philadelphia. His New York engagements included appearances for the New York Town Hall Endowment series and for the Guild of Organists in the chapel of Columbia university.

Tinayre is of course well known abroad and has given a command performance for the British royal family and has been heard by the royal family of Spain. At present, he is teaching in the summer session program of the University of Michigan school of music.

Robert Burns Memorial Services Set for July 21

The annual memorial service for Robert Burns, the great Scottish poet, commemorating the 150th year of his death will be held at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, July 21, at Cass Park and will be attended by several thousand people.

A general committee made up of delegates from 21 Scottish and other organizations will be in charge of this affair. There will be a parade starting at Canfield and Woodward in which four pipe bands will participate. There will be an appropriate program of Scottish music, recitations, and an address on Burns, and memorial services will be presented by a number of organizations.

The general committee estimates that approximately 20,000 persons are participating in the annual Burns day observance, the average individual works nine hours for a pair.

their reduction in their work and did not provide funds to meet necessary wage and salary increments."

Under Christopher, the goal committee recommended the inclusion in the 1946 goal of specific amounts for the expansion of local agency programs, in addition to their regular budgetary grants.

The expansion program includes a substantial item earmarked for Children's hospital services that are being reorganized during 1946 to recover from the minimal basis on which the hospital has been operating during the war years.

Also included is an increased amount for youth services including Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Boys' Clubs, Catholic Youth organization, YWCA, YMCA, settlements and community centers.

Christopher pointed out that the Girl Scouts, alone, have a waiting list of 18,000 youngsters, eager to join Scout Troops, who cannot be accommodated because of lack of staff. "And it is interesting to note no Girl Scout has ever been called before the Wayne county juvenile court," Christopher said.

An increased budget allowance by the Community Chest will also enable the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and other youth agencies to eliminate intensified membership campaigns held annually in an effort to secure more money for their programs.

Items are also included in the goal to meet the increased costs of commodities and services to the agencies and to provide cost of living adjustments of salaries and wages.

"Community Chest funds are raised not for the Chest organizations, themselves, but to enable the agencies to provide services to people in the community," Christopher said. "To accomplish this purpose, highly qualified personnel is indispensable. To obtain and keep this type of personnel an adequate salary policy must be maintained."

The recommendations of the goal committee have been accepted by the Community Chest executive committee, headed by Fred M. Butzel, Detroit attorney. The executive committee includes:

George D. Bailey, Community Chest president; Edgar R. Ailes, Edwin J. Anderson, McPherson Brown, George T. Christopher, Howard A. Coffin, Glenn M. Coulter, Mrs. Frank Couzens, Robert M. Freese, Henry Ford II, Joseph P. Glaser, Robert H. MacRae, Frank X. Martel, Frank R. Pierce, Victor G. Ruetter, George Romney, B. A. Seymour, J. T. Sheaffer, Mrs. Henry Sheldon, Harvey B. Wallace, James K. Watkins, James B. Webber, Jr., Henry Wineman, Otto G. Wismer, and Benjamin E. Young.

Summer Festival Plans Announced

The annual summer festival of the St. Joseph's Carmelite Guild will be held Sunday, July 21, in the garden of the St. Joseph's home for the aged, 4800 Cadieux road, corner of Warren.

Dinner will be served from three to seven o'clock. There will be various booths including one of religious articles, an apron booth, white elephant booth and the ever popular fish pond. A grand prize of a round trip, all expenses paid to either Vixen, La., or Natchez, N. M., will be awarded to some lucky person.

The funds raised at this affair will be used to augment the regular income of the home for the expenses of the activities of the inmates. The public is cordially invited to attend. Admission will be charged.

Improving the Soil of Grosse Pointe

Editor's Note: The following is a reprint in part of an article which appeared in a recent issue of the "Bulletin" of the Garden Club of America. Because of the many Victory gardeners in this area The Review feels that the information contained therein will be an aid in planning gardens.

by MRS. JOHN V. REDFIELD
There has been a problem in the five Grosse Pointes that has baffled even the best of gardeners. Not only was the region in the early days under lake water, but it was a hard alkaline water which, when it receded, left just a clean sand base, without a trace of decayed vegetation to give it fertility.

The old French farmers to their credit built up the barren soil, having plenty of natural fertilizers from their stock and an uncanny knowledge of the earth's needs. They brought their frugal customs from the old world and made use of the waste from their homes and out-buildings. Their ribbon farms were narrow strips of land each giving access to river water for their animals, and running back into the country sometimes for miles.

The early settlers, tempted by offers from rich Detroiters who wished for summer homes on the river edge, gradually departed, and their land was left to be planned for by landscape architects and tended by hired labor. It was found that as animal manures became hard to obtain and chemicals substituted, there was a problem of trying to maintain the fertility of the garden soil. Money, labor, knowledge did not seem sufficient. Each spring as frost left the ground, it looked more gray and dead.

Of late years there has been a new theory advanced, (not yet proved, but under consideration) that perhaps the mysterious system of subterranean rivers called quicksands which are found under hundreds of spots in the five Grosse Pointes, has something to do with the difficulty of trying to maintain a luxuriant growth in our flower and vegetable gardens. These quicksands are found from two to 17 feet in depth. In one (person's) garden, she was not conscious of this power until she watched a good sized evergreen slowly disappear from sight in a few weeks' time on her lawn.

This brings us to our subject. How to restore and keep the fertility of our earth. The Friends of the Land have given us real hope for our problem. If our barren lake bed and mysterious suction of quicksands is seeping away our fertilizers as fast as we can apply them, we will have to change our methods. We must follow the new theory of keeping fertile only the top seven or nine inches of soil (by discing our humus in no farther than that instead of digging it under the ground). We will learn that chemical fertilizers, inert peat moss and water are not enough to add to our top soil. It is essential to have bacteria to make a live growing medium, and bacteria is found only in decayed vegetable matter, which we call humus. Therefore humus and making compost will become a major activity with us. We can save not only leaves and grass clippings, but waste from our kitchens like potato peelings, orange rinds, coffee grounds, leaves from celery, lettuce, cabbage and any other vegetable that will rot and make and sustain bacteria, and moisture in our land.

Wayne Chorus and Band in Second Concert

The Wayne university summer choir under the direction of Harold Tallman will be featured tonight with the Wayne summer band at the weekly concert at eight o'clock at the state fairground's band shell.

This second concert in a series of four at the band shell will be directed by Graham T. Overgard, Wayne university band director, and will include such well known selections as "Ave Maria," "The Lost Chord," and "You and the Night and the Music" with the chorus as well as several selections by the band alone.

The concerts of previous have been held at Palmer Park but because of limited facilities, permission was obtained this year to move to the state fairgrounds where adequate seating and parking were obtainable.

Composed of members of college and high school bands as well as band directors from all over the state of Michigan, this band serves as part of the educational program at Wayne during the summer months.

New York Millinery Designers Swing to Right

Your Fall Hat Holds To Headlines of the 20's

by THE FASHION EDITOR

Paris calls it "degage" . . . New York calls it a "swing to the right" and the first fashion flashes from editors out of the New York press showings call it "holding the line of the Twenties."

Nostalgic? Yes. Flattering? Of course. And this new movement to the right is accomplished with the draped beret, the draped cuff (reminiscent of the tricorne) . . . the turban, the shallow sailor. This asymmetric line gains emphasis through trimming . . . in the form of bird wings, feathers, ribbon . . . or a construction which gives head-room to one of milady's pink ears.

Hattie Carnegie has taken up the cue with her presentation of a group of new millinery she calls "Rights." One, from this group is a hand-tatted yarn draped beret in a brown and black combination brightened with jet sparkle. Walter Florell lets his high-hatted fancies go to feathers. He betrays the title "Footlights" to a series of day-evening hats that go to cocktails, dinner . . . and the theatre, of course. There's one of white felt that dips deeply to one side and has a great amount of feathers for height and width. Florell dubs his right-wing hats "Decoys" because of their come hither look.

Another important phase of the coming season's headgear news is the small, head-molded hat . . . draped to suggest a demi-turban. Carnegie calls the trend in her particular line "Capulettes" . . . which makes you think of Juliet and naturally of Romeo. Both are in a lush romantic vein and Hattie helps further the mood by executing her "Capulettes" in velvet, gilt-embroidered maline, solid hackle, satin with lacy veillings, ermine with touches of metal . . . and mink plus mink tails.

Americans Send Spats to Europe

The Salvation Army isn't going into the style-setting business, but it can predict that spats will be popular in France and Holland this winter both for men and women.

Just received by the organization as one donation of apparel for the needy in war-torn countries were 7,500 pairs of spats. They are of all sizes and many colors—white, black, brown, gray, fawn and sand.

Many of them will be sent to style-conscious Paris where the need of apparel is particularly acute, and warm clothing is greatly needed.

Butter Saver
In a new aluminum wrapper butter will keep in the refrigerator for two weeks and retain its flavor, its manufacturer reports. Butter in long-term cold storage benefits, too, since it loses less weight than if wrapped in parchment.

Distribution of the spats and other clothing is in charge of Salvation Army officers who share the plight of others and often own only one pair of shoes, some re-soled and patched as many as 21 times.

Home on Leave
T-5 Mort Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Chambers, 484 St. Clair is spending a 15-day furlough at home. Mort who has served in the army approximately three years, is now stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash. A graduate of Grosse Pointe high school, he expects to enter Harvard upon his discharge from service.

A brother, Gerry, who was a captain in the army, now resides in Chicago, Ill.

Neighborhood Club Plans Party for Cyclists August 1

A party for the young bicyclists of Grosse Pointe will be given on the Neighborhood club grounds Thursday afternoon, Aug. 1, starting at one o'clock.

This has become an annual affair and will be conducted by the Grosse Pointe police departments. Sponsors of the outing will be the Grosse Pointe Rotary club.

The party this year promises to be one of the "grandest" gatherings for the boys and girls who own and ride bicycles. There will be bike races among the different age groups with prizes for the winners.

In addition to this, it is expected that refreshments in the form of candy, popcorn and ice cream will be served. Ponies will be on the grounds for the delight of all who attend.

The climax of the afternoon's activities will be a safety talk by a police official who will review the rules and regulations of bicycle riding for the children.

In former years, the city police department held the party, but this year the Rotarians offered to finance it.

No Key?

Howard O'Leary, 335 Grosse Pointe boulevard has learned that anything can happen when you're the father of a young daughter.

Last week O'Leary reported to Farms' police that illegal entry to his residence had been made by removing a screen.

You guessed it—It was his daughter who made the unorthodox entrance.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor's Note: The following is self explanatory and will no doubt clear up some false rumors hereabouts.

July 14, 1946

To the Editor:

The Anti-Vivisection League has been receiving reports that many dogs and cats have been stolen in your area since the injunction against the pound in Detroit has been in effect.

It has been the experience of people everywhere in this country that their pets have disappeared in large numbers just as soon as any obstacle has been placed in the road of the researchers who are trying to obtain animals for vivisection. This is not to say that these people go out and steal pets, nor do they necessarily commission others to do it, but it is definitely stated that they apparently have no hesitancy in purchasing animals which are obviously pets, without question as to the source from which they come.

Therefore, owners of dogs and cats should be most careful to protect them now that there is an injunction temporarily against the city of Detroit restraining the pound from selling dogs in group lots. The trial to decide the issue will probably come up in the early fall.

Yours truly,
Anti-Vivisection League,
(Signed) Lois Bantfield,
Publicity Committee Chairman

Editor's Note: The following letter is an explanation offered by the writer and his companion in regard to last week's story involving them, Al Clare and the Woods police.

July 16, 1946

Dear Sir:

While waiting for service in a confectionary, George Bundy, 20, and myself supposedly caused a disturbance by putting one nickel in the juke box and singing along in accompaniment of the record, sang indecent songs. Because the proprietor was older than we boys the police refused to listen to our story.

I refused to sign a complaint charging Al Clare with striking me.

FOR BETTER SERVICE

Don Herold says:

If I owned a business, I think I'd be tempted to close it up and go fishing the rest of my life.

If I had 1000 people working for me, this would throw them out of jobs. But I couldn't stay in business just for fun, and, anyway, business is no fun these days, and fishing is.

Explosion Damages Four Ships; Victims Suffer Severe Burns

An explosion which sank one cruiser, burned another and damaged four more boats resulted in severe burns to Joseph H. Dancy, 48, of 1245 Whittier and his son Joseph, Jr., when they were aboard the family boat at the Fisher boat well last Thursday night.

Cause of the blast is unknown. The elder Dancy, on board the "Dickey Joe" when it blew up was rescued by his son who led him to safety as the ship burst into flames. Mrs. Dancy, Sr., and her daughter-in-law, Marion, were approximately a hundred yards distant when the explosion happened and were uninjured. Both victims suffered burns to the hands and face and the elder man received body burns as well.

The noise was heard within a mile radius and was described as two sudden blasts followed by fire.

The "Dickey Joe" valued at $45,000 sank; the "Restless" valued at $35,000 and owned by Wesley Wetzel of Alden Park Manor was a total loss by fire. The latter boat was fired after the explosion, but was cut loose from the dock to float in the Fisher basins by two unidentified men. A charred hulk greeted firemen on their arrival.

A small boat owned by Edwin O. Bodkin, vice-commodore of the DYC who was aboard his yacht, the "Vagabond" at the time, suffered burns. Two small speedboats owned by George Nauman, Detroit paper company executive; a speedboat owned by Ted Villeneuve of Bedford road; and a duck boat and equipment owned by C. R. Austerberry of 18926 of Bretton Drive were also damaged by fire. Several other boats tied up nearby were damaged by snook.

The senior Dancy, president of the J. C. Goss Awning company is confined in Deaconess hospital, while his son is able to be up part of the time.

Award Bid for Gravel

Steve Brandt and Alex Rose were awarded 50 per cent each of the gravel work for street improvement in Grosse Pointe Woods by the village council.

Both men submitted identical bids and have shared on a 50-50 basis.

Thirty-six army trained pigeons carried messages while overseas during the war.

City Police Busy

City police had a busy day last Saturday.

They issued two speeding tickets, one to Leroy Champagne, 18, 17430 Fairview who was caught exceeding the limit on Neff road and the second offender was Esther Bohm, 711 Berkshire who was apprehended on Neff.

OH TO BE YOUNG AGAIN AND TASTE THE JOYS OF YOUTH

The "Barefoot boy with cheeks of tan" had nothing on these young folks who spend their carefree days doing the things that only youth can "dream" up. No day is long enough when there's so much to do, and no night short enough to bring on the coming day. The little folk pictured here could probably give us a lesson or two in enjoying life, only we may not be too quick to learn. The lucky fisherman on the left is Paul Geist, 58 Moross road, who with his companion Bob Malkin, 49 Kerby road spends many an hour in the hot sun waiting for the fish to bite. The jubilant expressions on their faces tell us that the long hours of nary a bite and the heat of the summer sun was worth the thrill of such a catch. Sandra Fitzpatrick and Karen Koch of Cloverly road enjoy life in a more lady-like fashion by taking their dogs for a stroll down Grosse Pointe boulevard on the sunny afternoons. The girls enjoy the walks as much as the pups, we can see from the pictures. What could be more thrilling or adventuresome when a fellow has a dog and bike than a game of "Cops and Robbers." No sir, it's a man's game so there are no ladies present, or invited. Tom Fitzgerald, 667 Neff, astride his bike seems dead serious as he aims his "pistol" at Ken Essington, 630 Neff road. "Pug" the dog isn't a bit concerned at the drama taking place. Inasmuch as both boys are well armed there seems no need for any drastic action.

Announce Baby Girl
Dr. and Mrs. Milton B. Stuechell, 1230 Bishop road, announce the birth of a daughter, Mary Elizabeth, July 14.

Twins Announced
Twin boys, David Edwin and Donald Gordon were born to Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Dely nee Balkema, on Friday, July 12.

Enlistments Remain Open for Specialists in U. S. Army

Maj. John G. Stanley, commanding officer of the Detroit army recruiting station, located at 21 Cadillac Square announced recently that army veterans who were specialists in any of the 400 army jobs and were honorably discharged from active service or released under honorable conditions on or after May 12, 1945, may continue to re-enlist as non-commissioned officers under War Department Pamphlet 12-16; their grades depending on their length of service, experience and skill.

One important change since July 1, 1946 in this new war department directive is that a man must enlist for a period of three years to obtain these benefits.

In keeping with this highly skilled peacetime army, congress has boosted the wages of all service personnel. This raise became effective July 1, 1946 and entitles the private to a 50 per cent increase with corresponding increases through all ranks.

Working with the Bette Davis company, "Deception," at Warners are a Mr. Snow, a Miss Weatherly and a Mr. Winter. Alan Hale is a frequent visitor on the set and Claude Rains is a member of the cast.

The Great Outdoors Entices Our Young Folks to Enjoy Summertime Freedom

It's summertime again and time for fun for everyone — meaning the little folks in particular. Have you ever noticed how they can start out doing apparently nothing and end up having a wonderful time doing it? Call it ingenuity, call it initiative or just call it youth — it all adds up to fun and lots of it.

Take the young folks in our pictures for instance. They started out the day like usual. Got up early (much to mother's disgust, who really wanted to get a few things done) and after a hearty breakfast they took themselves out of doors where they got together with a few friends and in no time at all things began to pop. Paul Geist never thought he'd be champ fisherman, but after a few hours on the Farms pier with his rod and a few worms look at the fish story he has to talk about at school next fall. Course his pal, Bob Malkin will have to try again, but no good fisherman gives up after a few disappointments.

Sandra Fitzpatrick and Karen Koch are busy every minute of the day. If their dogs are resting in the afternoon shade they always have their dolls to play with, and being girls they're not so inclined to avoid all mention of school so some afternoons are spent playing school with the girls alternating as teacher. "Cops and Robbers" has been a favorite American pastime for boys since before grandpa's day and with the increase of crime and the recent war the emphasis on games such as this is even more pronounced. Tom and Ken are like boys all over the country who enjoy a tussle with "law and order" as a game of sport, but like all well trained children they know their limits, and carry peaceful living over into their lives.

We know as well as everyone else does that this over emphasis on crime can do more harm than good, but completely eliminating all such toys or games will not correct the problem. Careful guidance by parents and teachers will do more than a lot of meaningless editorials.

Orchestra Leaders Aid Army Recruiting

Harry James, Guy Lombardo, and Navier Cugat orchestras started a summer radio series on behalf of the Army Recruiting Service, last Monday. For eight weeks distinctively different music of these masters will be heard on the Spotlight Band series, Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, 9:30 p.m. EST, over the coast to coast facilities of the NBC. On Monday nights Guy Lombardo's perennial favorite band will be heard — Wednesday nights Navier Cugat's stimulating Latin American rhythms will be broadcast — and on Friday nights the refreshing swing styles of the James men will come into the Spotlight focus.

The James and Lombardo orchestras are playing in the East and their portions of the Spotlight Band's series will originate on the East. Navier Cugat's orchestra will be heard from Hollywood where he is playing at the Mayflower. It is possible for you to hear the music of these orchestras by listening the summer months, and the NBC in its usual service in cooperation with the Army Recruiting Service is doing more

Latest Highlights From Hollywood

Edward Arnold, who grew accustomed to father roles in "Janie" and "Janie Gets Married," will once again portray a pater familias in "Wallflower" which will go into production at Warner Bros. early in July. Arnold will be seen as the father of Jane Wyman and Janis Paige. Dave Butler will direct.

Current peak production at Warner Bros., where six top pictures now are in work, will be continued without letup during the last half of 1946, with 31 properties slated for shooting before the year's end.

Glenn Ford, starred with Bette Davis in "A Stolen Life," used to operate one of those preview searchlights on the roof of a Hollywood theatre. "Started my career from the top," says he.

The blasé boulevardiers got a mild chuckle out of life this week when the very cosmopolitan Ida Lupino visited Los Angeles proper and got a ticket for jaywalking!

Katharine Hepburn, temper flaring and red-tresses flying, is hunting the repairman who removed a floor plug from her home. The bees came in and chased her out!

Barbara Stanwyck is doing a bit of justifiable boasting about her hubby's contract with MGM. It's for 15 years, no options, and provides that Taylor is to produce and direct should anything happen to mar his appearance on the screen.

Joe Yule, Mickey Rooney's pop, is to be Jiggs in Monogram's "Bringing Up Father."

James Stewart's co-star in "A Miracle Can Happen" will be Henry Fonda.

STIRRING DRAMA AND COMEDY AT SHORES THEATRE

With every scene a dramatic interlude, "Sentimental Journey" co-starring John Payne and Maureen O'Hara rates top billing in the year's best romantic drama. The shadow of death almost plays havoc with the life of the hero, but out of love and womanly foresight the leading lady has a solution to the coming problems before they present themselves. Time, the age old healer of all, appears as a soothing ointment easing the pain and longing.

For laughs, and more laughs, you'll find "Getting Gertie's Garter" just the thing. Dennis O'Keefe and lovely Marie McDonald flavor the movie with youth, and romance. Like all light comedies the plot becomes involved to a point where a solution seems impossible but a sudden twist of events and all is well.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE SCREEN RETURN DECLARED A HIT

The hilariously funny stage hit, "Kiss and Tell," scores an even greater triumph in its new screen version starring the ever refreshing Shirley Temple. The movie version will be shown at the Colony tomorrow and Saturday. The plot evolves around a typical American family residing in a medium sized town where neighbors keep a constant check on one another's movements. Shirley as the difficult teen age of the family and her boy friend from next door have the town in dithers when they "cook up" a story in order to keep a secret. The ensuing scenes that follow their explanation complicates the situation to such an extent that it becomes ridiculously funny. All ends well, and the youthful romance and easy chatter give a lift to the evening's entertainment.

Vera Ralston and William Marshall tangle with odds in the mystery, "Murder in the Music House," also on the same bill. There's plenty of suspense and action with a surprise climax. The stars in the movie are not Hollywood headliners but they turn in an admirable performance.

Neighborhood Club Day Camp News

Long Distance Canoe Trips on Scouts' Summer Agenda

Two long-distance wilderness canoe trips for local Scouts are scheduled to begin in early August — one trip to northern Wisconsin, and the other trip to northern Ontario.

The Wisconsin trip is being sponsored by the 7th Scout region which includes the four states of Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Illinois. The Michigan period is from Aug. 4 to 17, and the Detroit area council quota of 20 Scouts, plus two leaders, is practically filled — there being only one vacancy left. This group will leave Detroit by bus to Boulder Junction, Wis. They will stop at Chicago and other places of interest enroute.

The trip to northern Ontario is being sponsored by District 6 of the Detroit area council and already has a registration of over forty Scouts and leaders. Because of popular demand, accommodations for about ten more applicants are being arranged. The lucky fellows going on this extended canoe trip will leave Detroit in private automobiles for Lumber Camp No. 35, about ninety miles north of Thessalon, where they begin their 200-mile journey of wilderness canoeing.

Both of these thrilling activities

A physical examination by the family physician is required of everyone who participates. Parental (or guardian) approval is required in all cases.

Adequate leadership is being provided for both groups. A member of the local council executive staff will accompany each party. The Wisconsin tour is in charge of Arthur Lusty, Jr., assistant executive of District 9, and the northern Ontario trip is being supervised by Ward M. Barrick, executive of District 6.

NEW YORK — Now as summer moves in, sprout the sidewalk cafes — brightly, gay souvenirs of pre-war Europe.

French and Italian restaurants move out of doors; you eat, drink and loaf beneath carnival-striped awnings. Your little tables are festive in red-checked covers, flanked by hedges in green tubs and boxes. You sit coolly al fresco, while the world passes on the hot pavement. You toss crusts to the pigeons clustered cozily by, and scraps to homeless, sophisticated cats from blocks around.

Most colorful and decorative are the sidewalk cafes crunched at the feet of the granite mountains of Radio City — which sets up its own swanky version beneath striped beach umbrellas in the sunken garden beside flashing Prometheus fountain, where winter's fancy skating-pond was.

NYawk moves outdoors in summer when it can't escape to the woodlands. Families, from Grandma to baby, camp on stoops and steps when the sun has sunk behind the skyscrapers and across Tunnel 57th Street and across the river.

Daylines the rich sun-baths on their high penthouse terraces, the poor on the tar roofs of tenements, and the same sun shines benignly on both.

'Pops' Concerts Declared a Success

Detroit Orchestra, Inc., has done it again!
Recent, frankly, as an experiment, the Detroit "Pops" series in air-conditioned Music Hall, originally planned as two weeks of concerts, were extended to a six-week period by public demand.
These concerts, June 5 through July 12 (four and five nights a week) inaugurated the very first "Pops" season ever to be given indoors in Detroit. The first two weeks were devoted to activities of the automotive motion picture film going at high pitch in this motor city, the extended period has included nationality music and featured a variety of favorite music.
Valter Poole has been conductor of the entire series and he has invited Victor Borge and Jean Goldkette to share the directing honors with him on three occasions. His guests have included such artists as Florence George, Earl Wild, Josephine Assolini, John Raymond as well as distinguished artists from the orchestra personnel. Programs have been built largely on the numerous requests which have come into the conductor's hands after each concert.
The pattern of the "Pops" has been one which offers a tax-intermittent cash coming at which time returns were made available in the lower lounge and balconies of Music Hall.
Audiences have been extremely responsive and the series have been regarded as one of the best in the city's history.
The management of Music Hall has announced that the "Pops" series will continue through the end of the season, with a special concert on July 20.

READING & WRITING BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKoun

HERE'S summer reading for murder mystery fans—Will Cuppy's anthology of crime, titled "Murder Without Tears." As the title implies, these pieces dwell on murder as entertainment...

There are twenty-eight selections in all, some true, some fictional. One of the contributions is Edmund Pearson's "Rules for Murderesses." "A woman with fair opportunities," Thackeray said, "and without an absolute hump, may marry whom she likes." This is an understatement...

There's a dual selection for September from the Book-of-the-Month Club—"The Sudden Guest," by Christopher LaFarge, a story set in New England about a selfish and self-centered woman, and George Orwell's short satiric parable about Soviet Russia, "Animal Farm."

Canning Army Is Called Back to Battle Stations
 The 25 million housewives who put up more than four billion jars of food during one war year have been called back to their battle stations. One million new recruits are needed to reach the 1946 home food preservation goal.
 July 21 to 27 has been set as National Home Food Preservation Week. Michigan State college extension specialists are urging that the people of the state cooperate in taking out a little "food insurance."
 The world food situation has brought the American housewife face to face with shortages of certain canned fruits and vegetables this spring and summer. Never before have certain items been unavailable for months at a time.
 Michigan State college specialists say the needs for food for shipment overseas continues to be enormous, and the processing industry is laboring under many difficulties and uncertainties. To "insure" yourself against a shortage of certain foods this winter, and to "insure" people of foreign nations of having enough to keep away starvation, do more canning.
 Although some contend that because of sugar shortage, they cannot can fruits, it is recommended that one pound of sugar be used for four quarts of finished fruit. That allows 40 quarts of canned fruit per person on the basis of the 10-pound allowance.
 Michigan State college and U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletins on modern canning, freezing and preserving methods are available from the offices of county extension offices or from The Bulletin Office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State college, East Lansing, Mich.
