

THE GROSSE POINTE REVIEW

Office at 15121 Kercheval between Maryland and Lakepointe

L. B. OLDHAM, Publisher; CHARLES MULCAHY, Editor; PAUL J. BLACKBURN, Advertising Manager

"WE LEAD, OTHERS FOLLOW"

Justice For And From Mr. McNally

Decision of the Supreme Court of Michigan which gave James N. McNally of Grosse Pointe the right to take over the office of Prosecuting Attorney of Wayne County is one which will meet almost unanimous approval in Grosse Pointe.

The Court, in its wisdom, found that the will of the that Mr. McNally be prosecutor. The court's unanimous opinion that the so called 'double straight' ballots be rejected by the county board of canvassers in their recount.

There will be many changes, all of them for the best, brought about by the McNally regime in the county prosecutor's office. Of that Mr. McNally's friends and long time neighbors in Grosse Pointe are confident.

The unanimity of opinion of the Supreme Court judges in favor of Mr. McNally's cause was matched only by the overwhelming vote registered throughout Grosse Pointe for him on that election day.

Best Books Reviewed

By WALTER BIESS

"Uneasy Spring," by Robert Molloy, Macmillan, New York; 1946, 291 pages, $2.75.

The fear that the title of this column would some day prove misleading has often haunted my brightest hours of reviewing.

For some weeks, books like Weegee's "Weegee's People," Rich's "Happy the Land," Jackson's "Back to Vagical," Baker's "Out on a Limb," and Bourke-White's "Dear Fatherland, Rest quietly" bore out the truth of the "best books" heading.

A SHADOW This reviewer tackled Robert Molloy's latest novel, "Uneasy Spring," with the expectation that it would keep up the standard of quality since Molloy's first novel, "Pride's Way," had distinguished itself in 1945 as being a promising piece of work by a sensitive, appealing author. It had then become a Literary Guild selection, and readers of the novel justifiably looked forward to his next.

Unfortunately, his late novel proves an unexpected disappointment. Not because it is poorly written, or because its plot is inaccurately developed. These are far below a writer of such caliber as Molloy.

The weakness of "Uneasy Spring" lies in its triviality. Forty-six-year-old Edward Stafford, the main character, has a problem. His family life with son Hugh and daughter Ellen has been deteriorating since his wife died. The house was in a shabby state of affairs. Edward needed another wife.

Should he marry an attractive young woman (Frances Waterman) who promises him a good measure of romance, but whose beauty would do little for the raising of his children? Or should he wed an efficient, sensible woman of his own age (Mary Oliver) who could set his domestic life into normal order? Edward decides finally on Mary Oliver.

That is the total plot. It could be made, perhaps, into a good short story, but it drags its weight all too slowly through 291 pages (and large ones) of print. The theme of "Uneasy Spring" is neither interesting nor important enough to warrant a novel.

Compare it with the vast significance of Sholem Sesh's "East River" (Putnam) or that of any modern seller, and you can see why Molloy's latest doesn't deserve a higher rating. Realism makes powerful reading, but when used to portray a weak situation such as Edward Stafford's, it becomes not only boring, but absurd. "Uneasy Spring" is a mere shadow of "Pride's Way," an unsuccessful aftermath.

MOLLOY'S ANGLE It is hard to criticize Molloy. After he had finished "Pride's Way," some critics accused the novel of the same weakness as this review found in "Uneasy Spring"—unimportance. In partial answer to those reviews, Molloy wrote a piece for the "Saturday Review of Literature," February, 1946, which I filed as a legitimate defense of himself and his book.

"Many reviewers hedged a bit by describing 'Pride's Way' as unimportant. I don't know what constitutes importance in a work of fiction, and besides, a writer can't go out hunting for importance. He has to work with the ideas his unconscious suggests and which his particular type of mind can use and develop."

Evidently Mr. Molloy believes that his plots, however small, carry the meaning he wishes to impress on his readers. In "Uneasy Spring," I suppose, it's the struggle between practicality and beauty. A comfortable family life, or youthful love.

Whether that conflict and the outcome of it are sufficient drawing power is the author's responsibility. We like Robert Molloy's honesty, his sincere portrayal of the "ideas his unconscious suggests." But his book would undoubtedly receive a wider reception if it contained a plot of broader scope. Definitely.

IT LOOKS GOOD To be published soon: "The Case of Mr. Crump," by Ludwig Lewisohn, in March.

Paul Indians and Verdonckt Bakers were the victors in the newly organized Neighborhood Club Basketball League in its schedule Monday night.

Paul defeated St. Clare in the league's curtainer, while the Verdonckt team drew a team captained by Locke 40-29.

There are eight teams in the league, which will play double-doubles every Monday and Tuesday evening at Neighborhood Club.

There is no admission fee.

The League, organized by Jack Wrona, boys work directly at Neighborhood Club, has age limit on its players. The age limit is 12 men.

Most of the players are veterans and formerly played on high school teams in Grosse Pointe. A lot of them played on service teams in the army.

Next Monday St. Paul will play the Locke squad at 7:30. Verdonckt will meet East Gear-Tool at 8:30.

Tuesday St. Ambrose will meet Defer Cougars and Fraucoidogs will meet St. Clare. St. Clare almost held its own

Flyers Drop Basketball Opening Tilt

St. Paul and St. Ambrose basketball teams clash at St. Paul's school Friday evening in the Catholic League, second division.

The varsity teams are scheduled for 8 p.m. and the reserves will play at 7 p.m.

St. Paul Flyers lost their league opener Tuesday night against St. Vincent 33-29. The St. Paul reserves also lost 20-10. The games were on the St. Vincent floor.

Top scorer for the Grosse Pointe Squad was Paul DuRocher, who garnered 14 points. He was particularly accurate on set shots from the center of the floor. Ray Huettman, his mate at guard, got ten points.

Newly elected captain, John Fuschman broke up many St. Vincent plays from his position at center.

St. Paul was behind 14-13 at the half.

The line up of the St. Paul varsity team was: John Fuschman center, 3; forwards, Harry Hammond and James Law, 2; guards Ray Huettman, 10; and Paul DuRocher, 14; substitutes Don Simpson, George Heidt, Gerry Hollerbach, John Hatton, Bob Sharpe and Bill Sharpe.

Cagers and Swimmers To Meet Monroe Friday

By JOE FROMM

After a two-week lull, the Grosse Pointe High School's winter athletic program at home will resume competition this week. The swimming team coached by Frank Banach will play host to Monroe on Friday, while the basketball team, varsity and reserves, under the direction of Edward Wernet and Harold Fisher, respectively, will meet the Monroe Trojans on the latter's court, also Friday.

Having won four dual meets in December, the swimmers will attempt to remain undefeated. Last year's record was marred by two defeats at the hands of Monroe, in which both scores were identical, 44-40.

One point of interest to the Pointers is the fact that the Trojans' state champion diver is hospitalized with appendicitis. Whether he will compete is in doubt.

Victory by the Devil quintet over the Monroe cagers will depend upon four factors.

They are: (1) The continued high scoring of center Bob Olson. So far in the three previous games, Olson has been high scorer, totaling 44 points.

(2) The resumption of scoring by the two forwards Dick Wuerker and John Rummel. Against Fordson, both boys were held scoreless.

(3) The ability of the Devils to adapt themselves to the Monroe gym.

(4) The Monroe team itself.

During the Christmas vacation, the Trojans participated in an individual tournament at Flint. This presented some very good competition playing against some of the top teams in the state. Although losing, they scored 33 points against Holland, last year's state champion.

The reserves will have to overcome their third-quarter jinx, if they hope to win. In the three games played they have outscored their opponents in every quarter except the third, with the one exception of the fourth period against Fordson.

Each time they held the lead at the half only to lose it in the third quarter. In two of the games they recovered it, but only in the closing minutes of the game.

Don't Talk to the Coach

The following incident took place during a practice basketball game between Grosse Pointe High School and Eastern High of Detroit.

An Eastern player very obviously hacked a Pointe player. Hacking is a chopping motion upon the wrists of a player while in the act of shooting. The foul could be seen all over the gym.

On the sidelines, Jerry Allen, innocently asked Coach Ed Wernet, "He didn't even touch him, did he Coach?"

Wernet replied seriously, "No Allen, he didn't touch him."

The conversation seemed ended until several minutes later when Wernet added, "Touch him, Allen. Why the darn near broke his arm!"

Theatre Group Rehearses Comedy

Preparing for its first production of the new year, the Catholic Theatre continues rehearsals for "The Imaginary Invalid" to be presented at the Art Institute Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 6, 7 and 8, at 8:30 p. m.

This hilarious comedy by Moliere, known as one of the world's greatest satiric dramatists, was first presented at the Palais-Royale in 1673. It concerns a thorough-going hypochondriac and his attempts to force his daughter into marrying a man who is a doctor and the son of a doctor. His daughter, in love with another young man, enlists the aid of her maid and an uncle to show up her father's folly and reveal his doctor's stupidity.

The cast is now in rehearsal on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings in the old University of Detroit building on East Jefferson. Tickets are on sale at the Catholic Theatre Office, 1234 Washington Blvd., Cadillac 1700.

The Children's Stage will present "Hans Brinker" Friday, February 7, at 4:15 p. m., and Saturday, February 8, at 10:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m., at the Art Institute.

Engagement of Marilyn Wall, above, and William Zeder Breer, was announced at a cocktail party recently in Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. She is the first of this season's debutantes who has become engaged.

Northeastern Club Will Hear Dr. Lichwardt

Dr. Hartman A. Lichwardt, a medical missionary in Paris for 23 years, will give a lecture on "The Near East" at the regular meeting of the Northeastern Woman's Club Monday at 1:30 p. m. in St. Mark's Methodist Church.

Mrs. Geo. C. Lockhart, 6541 Bishop Rd. will preside. Preceding the meeting a dessert luncheon will be served at 12:00 with Mrs. R. J. Sanderson, 4227 Glenfield, in charge. The hostesses are Mrs. Raymond Church, 443 Lakeside and Mrs. Glenn Coult, 676 Dickerson.

Dr. Lichwardt graduated from Wayne University College of Medicine, interned in Harper Hospital, joined the United States Army Medical Corps in World War I, then in Sept., 1919, he set off with his bride, a graduate nurse, for Meshed, Iran, not far from the borders of Afghanistan and Turkestan.

A strange honeymoon, but like our pioneer fathers, the doctor and his bride traveled in a covered wagon. But unlike them, our Persian travelers found eighty lodgings in ancient caravanseries built 300 years before the Shah Abbas, contemporaries of Queen Elizabeth and Shakespeare.

Dr. and Mrs. Lichwardt returned to Detroit in 1941, and he was on the surgical staff of Henry Ford Hospital. Recently he became Medical Director of the Woman's Hospital of Detroit.

He has traveled extensively over most of Middle East through European and Northern Africa and when war clouds gathered he traveled through Russia and Poland just before the invasion.

U. of M. Club Assists in Scholarship Project

Students in the upper 1/2 of their graduating class of accredited high school are eligible to apply for Regents-Alumni scholarships to the University of Michigan.

At least one scholarship is awarded to each accredited high school of the State. If such high school has a qualified applicant, there are an additional 100 scholarships awarded at large to the most deserving candidates of the schools where more than one qualified applicant applies for a scholarship.

The scholarships are equivalent to semester fees for the Freshman year, with provisions for renewal through the Sophomore Junior and Senior year if satisfactory work is maintained in college.

The University of Michigan has announced that the completed applications, including evaluations by Alumni Scholarship Committee must be in by Feb. 1.

The Scholarship Committee of the University of Michigan Club of Grosse Pointe will, therefore, arrange to meet with all of the candidates for scholarships in the Grosse Pointe area for personal interviews either during the third or fourth weeks of January.

Students desiring to apply for scholarships should, therefore, get their application forms filled out at the high school so that the applications will be complete when the Scholarship Committee arrangements for the personal interviews.

Scholarship winners are selected on the basis of scholastic integrity, desire for university education, financial need and capacity for significant participation in community life.

The Scholarship Committee of the University of Michigan Club of Grosse Pointe Township consists of H. D. Stock, Chairman, Paul Francis, Mrs. Bernard Whitley, Leslie Young and John D. Porter, D.D.S. Dr. Porter is president of the University of Michigan Club of Grosse Pointe Township this year.

Sale Opens for Civic Light Opera
 Individual seats for any and all performances of the new Civic Light Opera season went on sale at the J. L. Hudson Co. and Grinnell's music store Monday. The Cunningham drug stores also take reservations.

When the Rudolph Friml opera, "The Firefly," launches the 1947 season at the Masonic Auditorium on Monday night, Feb. 3, Allan Jones will be starred for the week with Roy Atwell and Rosemarie Brancato.

This trio, marking their first time here in Civic Light Opera, will be supported by a populous aggregation of Broadway singers, dancers and comedians, not to mention Detroit's own combined singing and dancing ensembles.

New shows and new stars will come and go for 10 weeks from Feb. 3 to April 13 with weekly changes.

Aren't "The Firefly," there never has been a song more closely identified with any singer than is "The Donkey's Serenade" with Allan Jones.

Both singer and song enjoyed a grand reunion the past summer in the Los Angeles Greek Theatre production of "The Firefly," produced incidentally by Barrie O'Daniels, managing director of the Detroit Civic Light Opera Ass'n.

So successful was Allan Jones in "The Firefly" last summer that he and the production were held over an additional week, notwithstanding advance schedules.

The singer first introduced the "modernized" Donkey's Serenade in the MGM screen version of "The Firefly," the picture that made Jones in Hollywood.

 Neff A. L. Butts and Cramer. Thos. Bedford, general manager of the Detroit Motor Bus Co. submitted a proposed schedule of service to the Grosse Pointe district, which should prove quite acceptable to the residents of the district.

TEN YEARS AGO
 Henry Huvaere, Highway Commissioner and superintendent of public works of Grosse Pointe Park, died at his home at 1100 Maryland avenue. Mr. Huvaere was elected a member of the board of trustees of Grosse Pointe Park in 1910 and was appointed highway commissioner in 1915.

FIVE YEARS AGO
 Consideration of the Pointe's two well known preparatory schools—the Detroit University School and the Grosse Pointe Country Day School, was announced this week by Edsel Ford and Dr. John G. Mateer, president respectively of the boards of trustees of the two institutions. Headmaster of the combined schools is Lambert P. Whetstone.

ONE YEAR AGO
 Residents of the Woods will go to the polls to cast their vote on the proposed rezoning of Mack avenue in the lower end of the village. The vote was scheduled by the village commissioners in December when a disagreement arose between residents of the Country Club Woods subdivision and the owners of business lots in the Broadstone-Mack area.

John MacMurray Bartley was declared the winner of the 1946 "first baby" contest sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Review. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dale Bartley, 274 McMillan road.

Sigler Outlines Program at Inaugural

Governor Kim Sigler urged orderly economic development of the State and the elimination of questionable practices in government in his message to the legislature here Thursday.

The Governor postponed for "three or four weeks" the presentation of recommendations on State finance, which he described as "one of the most important problems before us," and one upon which the solution to so many other serious state problems depend.

He said he would appear before the legislature with his financial program after "further deliberation" and conferences with legislators.

- LISTS PROPOSALS
 Governor Sigler outlined a program for legislative action which included the following recommendations:
- 1—Legislation outlawing the sale of political influence, and prohibiting members of the legislature from appearing as counsel for interested parties before state boards and commissions, and from taking a fee to prepare and introduce a bill in the legislature.
 - 2—Strict regulation of lobbying.
 - 3—Reimbursement of "proper personal expenditures" by legislators "incurred in maintaining themselves reasonably while performing their duties."
 - 4—Stronger legislative and administrative control of State boards and commissions.
 - 5—Elimination of the present State Planning Commission and substitution of an economic development agency, with broad powers, to plan for both immediate and long range development of the State to meet the competition of other states.
 - 6—Consolidation of agencies dealing with labor into a coordinated department of labor and industry to eliminate duplication and confusion. Administration of the Workman's Compensation Law would be separate to remove danger of "pressure of one faction or the other" on judicial interpretations.
 - 7—Enactment of a "more adequate" child labor law, to meet industrial, economic and social changes which have occurred since the present basic laws were passed in 1909.
 - 8—State financing of research, inspection and certification of farm products to extend agricultural markets; revision of laws relating to agriculture; standardization of the dairy business; modern legislation to guard against the spread of new insect pests; and agricultural products advertising.
 - 9—Legislation providing for retirement for judges in courts of record.

RADIO NEWS AND VIEWS

By JAMES HENRY QUELLO
 At times we looked forward to this week when the holiday season would definitely end, but now that it's over we're a little sad too. They stop playing beautiful Christmas carols on the radio and the city takes down the green boughs and colored lights that garb the streets. The stores lose their festive gaiety and everyone is busy shovelling that white Christmas we've been dreaming about off the sidewalks.

But it was a cheerful week cruise into the holiday world and now we're back and ready to settle down to normal living, radio programming, and writing. Here's a fast twirl through the latest post-holiday radio comments.

An all-time high of 60,850,000 radios sets were in use in the nation in 1946—a three million increase over 1945. Latest survey figures show 91.3 percent of all families in the United States have radio sets and that radio columns in newspapers are the third most widely read features.

The bus drivers become grumpy again. Not nearly as many people smile and you still have a few more gifts that need exchanging.

Those firm resolutions have been dumped with the Christmas tree and the lovely little cherubs who made such a good impression on Santa Claus become little hellions again.

Television's top problem for 1947 according to industry leaders will be greater production of receiver sets, acquisition of more and bigger spending advertisers improvement of studio facilities, and determination of the color ultra high frequency question.

STROH'S
 Bohemian Beer
 Ideal for Thirst!

The chief problem is getting an audience which can be achieved only through television set production and distribution. Prediction of the number of sets in American homes by the end of this year run from 400,000 to a million.

The radio picture for this year points to fiercer competition for business, rising production costs, improved programming, a broadcasters battle with FCC in an attempt to ease government radio restrictions, and continuing of "social consciousness."

The top radio musical hit of 1946 was "The Gypsy" with "To Each His Own" as runner-up.

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello will open their first Lou Costello J. Foundation community project on Jan. 18 in Los Angeles.

Rumor has Bing Crosby moving into the 9 P. M. spot on WXYZ-ABC where "Affairs of Ann Scotland" fades this month because Crosby would then be heard at 9 all over the country.

Ashow with Judy Garland is reported readied for the preceding half hour. The earlier time with Judy in a lead-off spot would boom Bing's batting average in the Hooper league.
