Commission May Postpone Bus Fare Increase

More Time Needed To Study Protests of Pointe Communities

A strong possibility appeared this week for the postponement of the 5 cents fare increase for Lake Shore Coach Line buses operating between Detroit and Grosse Pointe. The increase was scheduled to become effective November 1.

The possibility looms as a result of protests filed in the Michigan Public Farms and Grosse Pointe Woods, Grosse Pointe City and Grosse Pointe Shores did not protest the issue.

H. GRANT ILER

PROMOTED Bell Promotes H. Grant Iler

Ben R. Marsh, vice-president and general manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, announced the promotion of H. Grant Iler, 657 Barrington road to an important post made vacant by retirement.

Iler, assistant general plant superintendent, will take over the duties of Frank Hale, general plant supervisor. Hale has 30 years of service with the Bell System.

Iler came with Michigan Bell in 1924 following his graduation from the University of Michigan with a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering. He was district plant superintendent at Ann Arbor and later Grand Rapids. Then he was moved to division plant superintendent at Menominee in 1943. He was transferred to Detroit last year.

Maid Sought For Passing Bad Checks

Juanita Roscoe, negro maid formerly employed by Mrs. Beryl McHaffie, 1109 Grayton, is being sought by Park police passing fraudulent checks.

The maid is reported to have passed four checks while in Mrs. McHaffie's service amounting to $125.00.

One check was used to purchase a coat from the J. L. Hudson Company. The coat was delivered to the Grayton address.

Rossi Awarded Park Sewage Job

A special Park sewage committee approved the Rossi Construction Company's low bid for sewage construction in Grosse Pointe Park along the Maryland-Gratiot area.

The committee was authorized to study the company's qualifications to do the project by the Park council after it offered the low bid of $87,700 for the job.

CALL LANSING

In a telephone interview Stuart White, chairman of the Commission at Lansing, told the Review that in view of these protests, the commission may postpone the day of the increase because there is not enough time available between now and November 1 to conduct meetings and hearings.

He said the commission may exercise its privilege of postponing the matter from 30 to 60 days.

White said that the commission will study the problem Friday and Saturday of this week and then will decide what future action is justified.

If they decide upon a postponement, all present fares will remain until final decision is made. This includes the City and the Shores.

Pierre V. Hettler, Park attorney, requested in his letter of protest that the hearing if held be scheduled at the commission's Detroit office in the Cadillac Square Building.

Among those present at the meeting were: William Gillett, councilman, and Pierre V. Hettler, attorney, Park; Ralph B. Nettling, City mayor; James R. Watkins, Farms president; Alois A. Ghesquiere, Woods president and Thomas Jefferson, Shores clerk.

Shweikart said that the increase was due to rising cost of operations and labor. As an example he pointed out that he expected delivery soon of ten new buses at a cost of $150,000.

"That's $30,000 more than when I ordered those buses a few months ago," the company head stated.

He explained that he was raising the hourly rate of his bus drivers from $1.25 to $1.35. He added that this new rate was still below that being paid DSR men.

Pointe officials agreed with Shweikart that an increase was justified but they were opposed to the amount of the increase.

The company needs an additional 10 per cent of its present revenue to meet expenses. However, according to the officials the 5 cent increase would bring a added revenue of 40 per cent.

REMARKABLE WOMAN

MRS. GEORGE MUTTER

Washington Had Nothing On Pointe's Mrs. Mutter

The historical feat of George Washington and his cherry tree has nothing on Mrs. George Mutter and her disposal of a "Weeping Willow" that grew in her back yard at 1246 Grayton.

According to neighbors in the area, her felling of that tree which is more than two stories high should go down in the history books as most remarkable.

Mrs. Mutter, widow of the late George Mutter, took it upon herself to fell the tree that was beginning to be a hazard.

She pulled a 50 year old saw from out of storage last Monday and went to work.

Neighbors were worried because space was very limited between the garages. It would require the efforts of a veteran woodsman to bring the tree down without damaging property.

However as the neighbors fretted, Mrs. Mutter sawed — two hours every day — until last Saturday when her task was nearly completed.

She studied the tree and the position as to where she wanted it to fall — to guide the fall she undercut the tree with her little axe.

Meanwhile neighbors had removed their cars out of the vicinity for the day.

Despite the neighbors' mild hysteria, Mrs. Mutter was calm and confident as she dealt the final blows which sent the tree slicing through the air and to the ground without even scratching the paint on any property.

"If its some one had picked the tree, and laid on the ground carefully, said one of the neighbors who was among those gathered to compliment Mrs. Mutter. "I knew I could do it," exclaimed Mrs. Mutter. "It was easy."

'Fare Hike Too Much' - - - Parshall

Following is a copy of the letter sent to Walter Schweikart, president of the Lake Shore Coach Lines by Howard P. Parshall, President of Grosse Pointe Park.

I think I should tell you and the public the reasons why Grosse Pointe Park cannot agree with your proposal to increase fares. We cannot agree because, on the basis of the reasons you have given us, the increase appears to be several times that which is required.

Your gross revenues total about $550,000 per year. You have listed recent and prospective increases in operating expenses; they total about $46,000 per year — 8 1/2% of your gross revenues. Without inquiring into the soundness of these figures, and they are all yours, we would concede that a fare increase averaging 8% or 10% would be proper.

NATURE OF INCREASE

What is the nature of the fare increase you propose; is it anything like 8% or 10%? In the Park, City and Farms the fares will be increased 50%; in the Woods and Shores 33 1/3%; and in St. Clair Shores it is 25% and 20%. These increases cover practically all of your business.

If you raise your fares 20% to 50% your revenues will raise in like proportions — something between $110,000 and $275,000 per year; let us say $180,000 per year. That is four times the estimated increase in your expenses.

In justification of this you have said: first, that some allowance must be made for a drop in passengers due to the increase in fares. You have a monopoly in the territory you serve and most of your patrons have no other public means of travel. True a few may travel some other way due to the increase, but not enough to justify a safety factor of four times the estimated requirements. Also, I am sure that if you were to raise the fares just enough to cover the 10% need you would not lose any passengers on account of that 10% rise.

Secondly, you have said that there is no practical way to collect a fare between 10c and 15c — that 5c is the smallest practical increase. I am sure that there are devices which will collect pennies just as well as dimes; also, what would be wrong with selling tickets 2 for $1.00, or even 2 for 25c. Thirdly, you have suggested that the increase be given a trial and that in six months you would be glad to talk it over. I would agree wholeheartedly with your suggestion if the trial was on a basis calculated to meet your needs, and not on a basis which seems to meet your needs four times over. We would be willing to try out a 10% or even a 20% increase and after a time review it for adjustments downwards or upwards.

BIG BUSINESS

You have built up a very nice business from the community; you have made nice profits for years; I should think that if there were any question about how large the fare increase ought to be you would give the community the benefit of any doubt during a trial period instead of asking the community to give you the benefit of the doubt.

You will note that we have not questioned the wage increase or other items which make up the $46,000 you say you need. The reason we have decided to ask the Public Service Commission to review the matter is that the fare increase you are proposing seems to be far too much.

Very truly yours,

HOWARD P. PARSHALL, VILLAGE PRESIDENT

PLAN FOR WINTER

A new tractor to be used for sidewalk snow plowing will be purchased next week by Grosse Pointe Farms at a cost of $1,512.

OPTIMIST SPEAKER

William L. Hunt of the U.S. Department of Commerce spoke at the Grosse Pointe Optimist Club Tuesday afternoon. His subject was "The Small Businessman."

Beaupre Road to Become Stop Street

Beaupre Road in Grosse Pointe Farms will become a through stop street as police can install necessary signs.

The action was approved by the Farms council Monday after it was recommended by Walter Hoyt, Chief of Police.

Beaupre road is the continuation of Grosse Pointe City's Goethe street which has been a through stop street for many years.

Stop signs at all streets crossing Beaupre with the exception of Kerby, Moran and Moross will be erected shortly.

A study by the police department revealed that Beaupre has been the scene of more than the normal amount of traffic accidents. Moran at Beaupre being the worse offender.

OPTIMIST DANCE

The Grosse Pointe Optimist Club will hold a dance Saturday, October 25 at the Neighborhood Club. Proceeds will go towards the Club's support of boys' recreational activities.

There will be old time and modern music.

BROOKLYN BOUND

Pointer Pitching His Way To Berth In Big Leagues

A young Grosse Pointe marked his first step in his climb to the big leagues with success.

He is George Seeley, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fay L. Seeley, of Westchester road, who recently returned from pitching the Zanesville, Class B professional team to the Ohio State League pennant.

George, a big right hander with a fast breaking curve, is under contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

He was signed to a professional contract last year by George Sisler, Brooklyn scout, after having a good season with Faust Post in Class B of the Detroit Baseball Federation.

The youth was farmed out to Danville, Ohio of the Class B Three Eye League last spring. He was later sent under option to the Zanesville club.

George will report to Pensacola Florida early next spring to begin training with the Danville team.

Farms Group Admits Passing False Rumors to Defeat Bond Issue

Martin Minickey, of 169 Touraine, a member of the organization known as the Farms Better Government Association, admitted to passing false rumors to stir up opposition to the Farms $400,000 bond issue for sewage improvement.

Appearing before the Farms council on his own accord, Mr. Minickey stated that he was completely aware of the falsehood of the rumors spread by himself and other members of the group which led to the defeat of the issue at the special election in September.

STANDS MUTE

James R. Watkins, president of the council, charged this group with using the issue as a political football to achieve their own ambitions.

"Anyone who had anything to do with passing those rumors on election day is a liar," said Watkins, speaking to Minickey who stood mute.

In the room at the time were several members of the association, including President Phillip E. Moran, and Secretary George Trembley. They also remained silent.

Later the council meeting developed into more or less a personal feud between the administration and the association.

Among those who voiced their opinions of present council policies was Gerald Keating, of Oak street, who criticized the system of issuing Pier permits.

MANY OUTSIDERS

"Too many outsiders are coming in to our park," said Keating. He was told by Watkins that a special committee was studying the matter and that the council would be more than glad to have him attend the next committee session and offer any suggestions.

Mr. Keating accepted the invitation.

Mr. Watkins then called the at-

Fire Chief Rector Admonishes Pranksters

Warning that many Halloween celebrations in the past have been transformed into tragedies due to carelessness with fire, Fire Chief Edward L. Rector joined the National Fire Protection Association in urging all Grosse Pointe Park residents to keep a watchful eye out for fire hazards when they usher in the traditional annual festivity Friday evening, Oct. 31.

Chief Edward L. Rector made a special plea to pranksters not to turn in false alarms as part of their merrymaking, declaring that Halloween is the worst day in the year for false alarms.

Said Chief Edward L. Rector, "The best way to have a jolly, safe time on Halloween is to plan a school or community celebration where the fun can have proper supervision. Unauthorized and isolated bonfires are a serious threat to the whole community. Terrible fire tragedies have occurred when small fires have flashed across halls or night clubs filled with combustible hangings or when flimsy Halloween costumes have been ignited or when candlelit paper Jack-o'-lanterns have overturned. Jack-o'-lanterns are safer and afford more fun if they are electrified for then they may be flashed on and off, adding to the weird effect. Careless smoking and careless use of matches is a particularly serious fire cause during Halloween parties."

Chief Edward L. Rector admonished all Grosse Pointe Park restaurants, night clubs, and other places of public assembly scheduling special celebrations not to use flammable decorations but to be sure that all decorations are incombustible or flameproof, that exits are unobstructed and clearly marked that sprinklers, hand hose and fire extinguishers are kept ready to operate. "Even buckets of water, widely distributed, may mean the difference between a trivial flarup and a holocaust," Chief Edward L. Rector concluded.

Councils to Aid Halloween Committee

The Grosse Pointe Farms council voted to contribute $50 to the Grosse Pointe Halloween Committee which will sponsor three parties for local boys and girls on Friday, October 31. The other Pointe communities are also expected to contribute an identical amount.

SURPRISE CALL

Wrong Number Gets Operator In Trouble

"Hello this is L. 13 reporting, Louis talking." Those were the words that greeted Mary Lou Zittel, secretary at Maxon Bros. realtors, on Kercheval avenue last week.

Mary Lou was bewildered to say the least but she kept the conversation going long enough to learn that the strange voice wanted to speak to a Elias Sagbing, of 3720 E. Forest in Detroit.

The matter was reported to Detroit police who investigated to learn that a radio house operated at the Forest address was being used as a blind for "mail in books."

Police said that "L. 13" got his signals crossed and his phone numbers mixed.

Police Seek Dishonest Abe

Park police are looking for a man who calls himself Abe Bryan. He is wanted for passing a fraudulent check for $96 at Moor's Bar on Jefferson avenue.

The check was signed Abe Bryan and it carried the printed name of Cantiron Iron Foundry Company.

Investigation revealed the authenticity of such a foundry in Detroit, but the company does not have a checking account.

UNLESS LABOR CLEANS HOUSE

Victor Riesel, the well-known labor columnist, recently had an article in Look entitled, "Labor Still Hasn't Cleaned House." He then made several specific charges, including: "There is a cold and brutal dictatorship in many unions..."

Such charges have been made before. But they are especially impressive when made by Mr. Riesel, as he is completely sympathetic to the legitimate organized labor movement and writes about nothing but labor matters.

What this all adds up to, as Mr. Riesel also observes, is that the unions must clean house—or the public will clean it for him. The labor leaders who are now spending much of their time indiscriminately denouncing the Taft-Hartley law should realize that this measure is innocuous in the extreme compared with what will come if labor excesses continue.

THE ULTIMATE TEST

The ultimate test of the efficiency of a nation's medical care system is the health of the people. Judged by that accurate yardstick, the United States has been making enormous progress in the conquest of disease.

According to a leading life insurance company, which issues elaborate statistical analyses of matters affecting the national health, it is probable that 1947 will establish a record low for mortality. The death rate during the first six months of the year among policyholders was almost 4 per cent under the same period in 1946.

So fine a record is not an accidental miracle. It is, to the contrary, the barometer of the progress being made in both preventive and curative medicine in this country.

The remarkable growth of membership in voluntary prepaid medical plans is undoubtedly responsible for much of the improvement in our health. These plans offer the finest medical and hospital care at a cost within the reach of all workers.

EDITOR'S NOTE: All letters addressed to the Editor must be signed. Upon request, however names will not be published.

TO THE EDITOR:

We read with interest your editorial on the Congressional Investigation under way on the Consumer Goods Prices. As usual, we see they are giving the Retailer the spotlight. We have as yet to see any attention given to his under cover partner THE COMMERCIAL LANDLORD, the snake in the grass who does not have to meet the customers and who literally hides behind the counter with a gun in the back of their dear tenant forcing him to turn over what little profit he can make on the merchandise of service he is forced to pay more and more for.

Our LANDLORD for instance has tripled our rent in the last year. He now receives more rental on this little group of stores in one year than the original cost of the stores and they have been rented steadily full time for the last seven years.

We cannot even enter to retrieve our old hat. We no longer have an option on the premises for another year's rental, he can walk in on the last day of our lease and double or triple the next year's rent. If we do not like it, GET OUT.

If we spend our good money to improve the appearance of the place, that investment becomes his property. Chances are we will have to pay for it all over again next year in rent. All this without any regard to the customers' willingness to pay higher prices. He doesn't have to consider the customer.

If we have to return to PRICE CONTROL, let's include the LANDLORD, who has yet to learn what price control is. Let's set the rent to say ten per cent per year return on his original investment, not original investment doubled in profit each year. He is a partner of ours and must be included in any discussion or investigation of profit taking. Make him stop sending his high pressure representatives to high places for the purpose of keeping his profitable racket on the hush!

VERY TRULY, A BUSINESS MAN

TO THE EDITOR:

I read your issue of the Grosse Pointe Review of October 16 and I would like to ask you one question in regards to your sports page.

Why, may I ask, do you write up St. Paul's football team more than Grosse Pointe High's?

St. Paul is a school one-fourth the size of G.P.H.S. and has won only one game in four while Grosse Pointe High has won all of their three games.

Yet the story by Rocky Phillips is about a half the size of St. Paul's. Why?

TO THE EDITOR:

On behalf of some of my friends I am writing this letter to prove your challenge in last week's Review.

Almost every teenager attending G. P. High reads Meeky's column, and most of them like it. I have no idea who those thirty-two students were that wrote that letter to the editor, but I do think it was not the right thing to do.

Every week at least three paragraphs are cut out of her column and her herself doesn't know what is actually going to be printed until it is out, and she has read it.

I myself, am not one of Meeky's best friends, but I do know her quite well. She has a lot more on the ball than a lot of other kinds.

People don't realize how hard it is to write a column. She has original ideas, and most of the kids enjoy reading her stories.

Since I have lived here my name hasn't been in too much, and it doesn't bother me to the extent of writing a letter like last week's. My friends and I all have dates, go to football games, and dances, yes, and even have parties ourselves, but if it doesn't get in the Review paper—we don't make a big fuss about it.

Meeky's a swell girl, and is liked by many kids. If there is anyone who thinks he or she can write a better column, why don't they try to do it?

Sincerely yours, N. R.

TO THE EDITOR

Since you have agreed to accept letters of comment on Meeky Van Zanen's column, I would like to register this plug for her. I don't believe that those "thirty-two students" have any conception of the work "Teen Talk" has been for Meeky. Speaking for a great many other kids like myself I think I can say that she has done an admirable job in whipping what little information she can squeeze from the student body into an interesting, highly readable column.

It must be realized that it is practically impossible for her to know everything about all the affairs of each student at Grosse Pointe High. It would be just as absurd to assume that she plays favorites in her column. It is natural that she would know the doings of those most closely connected with her more intimately.

Meeky relies on you, you "thirty-two pride injured students," to assist her in gathering her information. She cannot possibly carry the tremendous load without your help. So if you, want a better "Teen Talk" why don't you get behind her and help her. You know a lot of things that would be a big help to the column. It's up to you to use them.

Respectfully, BILL TROUSDALE

Paula's Hi-Lites

by PAULA BEAUPRE

Maybe you weren't a bit surprised when they counted the ballots and found that your name led all the rest in the election for president of your school class. Maybe it was just an old story, and you'd been graciously accepting top jobs ever since your kindergarten days.

But maybe it wasn't that way at all, and you felt joyful and astonished all at once, and just the least bit dismayed as you wondered what it was that school presidents did anyway. (This also includes Vice-presidents, treasurers, secretaries, social chairmen, and any others who hold public offices.) As you stepped up to the rostrum to accept your new office, you may have looked with new respect upon the retiring president and remembered the number of times you had observed really critically, "Now if I were president—"

PAULA

You're going to have a chance now to demonstrate just what a really good school president is. Just about the first thing to remember is that honor brings new responsibilities. The office you've accepted is going to take time and work. And you're going to do some mighty fancy organizing of your daily schedule — without cutting down on studies and fun and other interests. Being president of your class is more than standing up before the members once a week in your snappiest hairdo or your brand new suit and graciously accepting their admiring and envious glances. As president you will automatically have to turn into a combination of executive, salesman, magician and diplomat. You will have to know how to pick the right people when you have the freedom to pick, and use to the utmost the strong points of those who are elected to office. You will have to learn how to make people carry out their jobs — and like it. At times you may have to rise above petty bickering and help the members work together in a common cause. You will have to have judgment enough to know when to pull a mass of differences of opinion into a decision, and when to let the process run its full extent.

ON THE CUFF

One of the reminders that you may well write on your cuff is that when a person is made to feel that no one else could possibly have done the job half so well, he is pleased and flattered and will work with a real interest in his job.

Another thing to remember is that a word of praise can make a member work more diligently and energetically for the cause, while a critical remark is apt to send his self-confidence racing to the bottom and leads to discouragement.

The old saying, "Go to busy people if you want to get things done" is still good in principle, but you'll be smarter than most presidents if you try to discover new talent, rather than using over and over again the well-known Prominent Pat's whose names are always on programs. How about that girl with the glasses in your history class, whom nobody seems to know very well. She's a little bit shy, perhaps, but the clear, sure way she recites when she's called on might mean that she's a natural for the chairman of your program committee. And don't overlook that short little member who walked away with the honors in math. What if he is a little vague about the Tune of the Month? Somebody has to keep track of the class finances, and you'll be a lot more relaxed if it isn't a boy who thinks a ledger is some species of cliff dweller. Both of these people will probably do their work wonderfully because they will be happy to have been chosen for the usual crowd. Remember, it doesn't necessarily make you a good president to have the roster of committee members filled with Names That Everybody Knows. You'll have lots more success with your class if you have the wit to know how to pick responsible people who will follow through on their jobs.

Even the smallest class has business to transact, and a president should know how to conduct a meeting with dispatch. Knowledge of the simple rules of order not only helps to keep things rolling. It is also a crutch for you in picking your way through a maze of discussions and motions, and it gives you that assurance and poise that people look for in a leader. Even the worst wise-crackers in the class resent a president who descends to silly antics while conducting a meeting. If you act controlled and confident, you'll soon persuade everyone, including yourself, that you're feeling that way.

LET'S PRETEND

Let's pretend that there is a real reason for that meeting you are going to call next week. Perhaps it's a regular monthly affair, or it may be that you are expecting to get plans under way for a school dance. Naturally you will want to make, on paper, a little plan of the order of the meeting and perhaps a few notes under each item to be discussed, to remind you of the points which need to be covered.

There is a traditional order of events that helps to get business done correctly, and you'd do well to follow it for your own comfort. But don't think you need to swallow a whole copy of "Robert's Rules of Order" to get by. True, you'll occasionally be glad to have that concise little volume at hand, but most meetings are simple and follow the traditional pattern.

What your class accomplishes of course, depends upon its purposes. But no matter what that may be, no class is going to be a successful one unless it has a president who works for the members instead of basking in the limelight himself; who knows how to organize for activities; to give responsibility; to give guidance and encouragement where it is needed; to recognize publicly the good works of others, to be able to bounce back after an occasional failure — everything your class tries isn't going to get your name in letters of gold in the school archives.

It isn't easy to be a leader in a group of your contemporaries, but you must have some of what it takes, or your name would never have come up in the first place. Nobody expects you to be able to do ten things at once but the classmembers do expect initiative and decision from you. They want to be able to admire their president, too, so give them a chance by being just a trifle more dignified and well-groomed than you've thought necessary before. All of us like to be able to look up a little to somebody, you know — and come to think of it, the president of our school is just that person!

ATTENTION!

There has been lots of controversy lately as to what kinds of columns teen-agers like to read. Since its the Review's aim to give the public the sort of material they enjoy reading, we're asking for letters of comment giving us your opinion. Maybe you prefer parties, or newsy tid bits, or perhaps your choice would be a feature column all about teen-agers. Whatever you enjoy, we'd like to hear about it, so—how about sitting down right now and dropping a line to this column expressing your views. Let's hear from all you readers, right away.

What's Going On In Grosse Pointe Schools

Midmorning Snack Time At Trombly

A midmorning snack time has been inaugurated by the Trombly School for the Junior Kindergarten children.

The Mothers take turns each day in furnishing the snack. The usual menu consists of one of these combinations, a graham cracker and milk, a soda cracker and tomato juice, a cookie and orange juice, carrot sticks and one-half slice of bread and butter, one-half orange or apple or celery sticks and grape juice. There are many variations that make these menus appetizing and nutritious.

Each day the children eagerly look forward to this beneficial time. It also is a pleasant way to learn to wash hands and sit quietly at places until all are served with napkins and food. Little fingers learn to handle the paper cups without spilling and each child acquires the habit of liking and eating all foods served.

TEA FOR MOTHERS

A tea for the mothers of the 2A-3B children, Miss Martin, their teacher, and Mrs. Cowe, the principal, was given by Mrs. Burns Cody, the room teacher. The tea was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Price, 687 Westchester, who is social chairman for Trombly P.T.A. Most of the mothers were there. Everyone enjoyed the beautiful tea table and food and had an opportunity to get acquainted with each other. Such opportunities help teachers and parents to work co-operatively together.

The 3B-3A's in Mrs. Craver's room have made a diorama of an Island Village in their Social Studies representing life in the primitive Pacific Island. They worked on committees as follows: The palm trees and homes were planned and made by Foster Winter, William Carnegie, Thomas Knapp, Joel Smith, Connie Favey, Joan Coper, Cynthia Abbey, and Marilyn Dretman. The cooking pit was worked out by Veld Stiegler, Eleanor Jacobson, and Harold Joerin. These pupils made dolls to represent the people; Antoinette Dauch, Phyllis Jackson, and Margie Griffith. The foods for the feast were devised by Nancy Hays, Lucinda Ramer, and Nancy Brown. The animals which live on the islands of the Pacific were made by Beverly Jensen, Carol Cole, and Sandra Potter. The fishing boats and spears were produced by Neil Georgi, Brian Brigham, Stenham Horn, and David Bleckl. Thus making the diorama the children learned much about these people who use no machines at all. When it was completed the lower grades were invited to see it and hear the committee tell about these island people and the way they made their diorama.

FIELD TRIP

The 5B-1, 5B-2, and 5B-3 groups under the supervision of Miss Taylor, Miss Ernst, and Mr. Falk planned and shared a field trip to the Detroit Historical Museum. The highlights of the trip were Indian relics, pioneer reproductions, exhibits of life in early Michigan and Detroit.

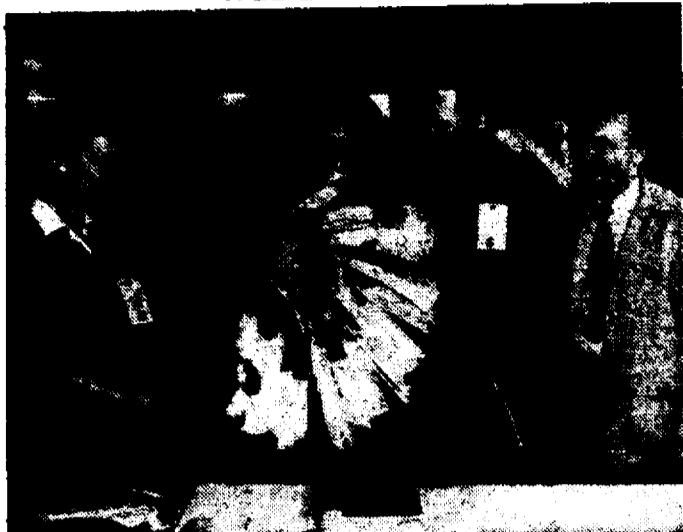

The 5B-3's prepared a classroom museum of miniatures illustrating pioneer and Indian life in Michigan. In addition they gave reports and stories of our folklore.

An enthusiastic group of Trombly Service Squad Girls enjoyed the football game between the local athletics and the Monroe eleven on Saturday, October 11, at the Grosse Pointe Athletic Field.

They were guests of the High School Students Affairs Committee. The "ohs" and "ahs" that were heard as they viewed the excellent drilling of the band and the skillful performance of the majorettes were ample proof of the youngsters' approval. Of course, the refreshments were a definite attraction, too. The girls greatly appreciated the opportunity of attending the game.

The Trombly faculty has just acquired some much needed equipment for the kitchen and additional pieces of furniture for the teachers' room. For all of this thanks is due to the school's generous Parent-Teacher Association. The rest room is now beautifully furnished and there is sufficient kitchen equipment so the teachers may enjoy getting their lunches together.

"WEL-E-KA-HOW"

The organization of the Richard School Junior Red Cross took place in the school last week under the guidance of Elsemna Nault, the teacher sponsor.

The following children were nominated to represent their rooms. Their duties are to attend council meetings, and to help make this organization at Richard an active and living thing:

1B Allen Merrill, 1B Lyle Basinger, 1A Mary Grace Young, 2B Jay Hayden, 2A Audrey Schmidt, 3B Carol Reed, 3A Judy Wiswed-

Defer News

The first grade in Mrs. Parent's room is studying a unit on the Circus and Circus Animals. We have composed stories about Jumbo, the elephant; Jingo, the monkey; the circus tiger and the circus clown. We are building a circus tent and constructing many of the animals we have seen in the circus. The animals are made from burlap board with foundations so they will stand. They are very sturdy and will be permanent play materials. Dianne Lynn of 1404 Balfour Road has loaned us her toy cash register so we can sell imaginary tickets to the show in the "Big Top."

Our October thoughts are tinged with the gay colors of Hallowe'en. We will have a party in our room and join the rest of the boys and girls in the school parade.

Julie Ruegger of 1025 Balfour Road brought her cousin Sandra Ruegger to visit our room. Sandra is in the third grade and lives in Boyne City, Michigan.

Elizabeth Adjemian of 1177 Buckingham has just returned from a month's vacation in California.

Mason Pupils Visit World Vicariously

The 3A group in Miss Gustafson's room is traveling via story and picture to several remote parts of the world to learn how simple people live without benefit of machinery.

Our first stop was an Island in the South Pacific. We built a diorama of an island scene, complete with palm and banana trees, a thatched hut, clothespin people, animals, dugout canoes, a river and an ocean.

We enjoyed our visit so much that we invited our Mothers to come to share our experience with us. Dressed in colorful festive leis, we welcomed our guests in island fashion by presenting each one with a flower lei. We told our guests of the life and work and pleasure of these primitive people, of the simple tools which help them in their work, and how they make use of the materials native to their country. We entertained our guests by singing and using the rhythmic hand movements of the native dancers.

Members of our group served our guests and our own children with cookies which we had frosted and covered with coconut and with dates.

The three 3B grades of Mason School with their teachers, Miss Pulley, Miss Kay Sherman, and Miss Ruth Switzer took a trip to Greenfield Village last Friday. The group especially wanted to get the feel of a small town and to visit a general store. They were accompanied by Mrs. John Barr, mother of one of the pupils.

Teen Talk

By MEEKY MARIE VAN ZANEN

Autumn spirits are gay as ever, with scads of kids joining in each week-end to make this column LONG!

A birthday dinner and dance at the D.A.C. will provide any happy hours of memories in the weeks to come for Jack Beyer and Barb Gregory, Les Bauer and Sally Hubbard, Bill Trousdale and Pat Ford, and Bob Lynch.

And who was the originator of all this magic? Why who else but PAT ROSSITER! Yes, a week ago last Friday is the correct date when all this fun took place and kept the afore mentioned up until wee hours of the night.

Then it seems that JOE GRATZER, and OWEN ORR, gathered scads of potato chips and hot dogs together for their GUY PEIRCE PARTY on Saturday which was held in the ORR Adobe.

The kids helped make the party a success by joining in on the various games and playing records. Among those invited were: Ann Hoyer, Ann Hoffman, Alice James, Sue Siebert, Barb Drinkous, Donna Steenrod, Pat Lawler, Pat Savage, Francis Townsend, Gail Astound, Elaine Brodner, Dick Sanders, Ron Cinder, Dallas Kitcher, Bob Howe, Winny Lickert, Don Correy, Bud Larking, Bob Gargen, Russ Gragg, and John Applegate.

Another party was given in honor of a birthday on Saturday. Very sophisticated and nifty sums up the affair which was a luncheon given at Hawthorne House by SUE CARSON.

Sue Cruikshank, Barb Mann, Mary Grazer, Gery Rounds, Helen Piath, Mary Ann Mann, Sharon Ford, Bonnie Lee, Kathy Strek, Felice Thorpe, and your scribe came decked out in fussy black dresses with the aroma of french perfume lulling in the air.

SUE received many lovely gifts including, silk scarfs, 3 silver bracelets, and many other things which were passed around for the girls to oh and ah over, before going back to SUE'S house where her mother served after dinner "pop-tails."

A progressive dinner given by JACK WILSON, MARTIE FAIRLESS, AND SHIRLEY DAVIS, AND FLORENCE ERRENGER, headed the S.A. Dance off in a big way.

Pop-Tails were served by JACK, while SHIRLEY, followed up with soup and a salad, before MARTIE had the main course, after which FLORENCE served ice cream and cake.

Jack squired Florence, and Shirley was escorted by Lauren Norton, while Don Lewis was Martie's date, Buffy Wickling was seen with Jack McGrae, and Marilyn Hirt, and Patty Haas, Nanc Weed and Joe Hippful, Barb Elliot spent the evening with Ricky Schmittz, Antoine LaBodie took Mary Prevo and Bill Siebert with Charlene Salmon.

After the dance the same crowd trekked over to MARY PREVO'S hacienda for more in the line of food.

HARVEST SPOON titled the dance which was held in the girls gym. Decorations symbolized autumn festivities and the coming off Hallowe'en, with blue jean clad girls peering over a fence looking at wide eyed boys who were busy gazing at the big yellow moon.

AND WHO WAS THERE? You guessed it! Marti Watkins 'n John Weed, Dolores Deck 'n Jerry Thiede, Barb Orphal 'n Jack Flattery, June Moffat, 'n Dick Heidrich, Kathy Strek 'n Bob Phillips, Bob aka 'n Doris Buser Larry Frier 'n Carolyn Hahn, Barb Bauman 'n Bill Pierce, Merry Bauman, 'n Dan Guy, Nancy Georgi 'n Dick Gunther, Sally MacDonald 'n Harvey Reist, Janet Dalrymple 'n Harry Mack, Connie Baker 'n Doug Buck.

Mumfords On Trip to East

Motoring through the East after their Saturday evening rites are Mr. Frank Leslie Mumford, Jr. and Mrs. Mumford.

The couple spoke their vows to Dr. J. P. Meyer in First Evangelical Reformed Church. A reception followed in the church parlors.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Mumford was Mayreen Ruth Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis Schmidt of Roslyn Road. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mumford of McKinley Road.

The bride's period gown was styled of white slipper satin. Her full length veil of illusion was held by a Mary Queen of Scots cap. Mayreen carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

The attendants were gowned in tushia fallie fashioned after the bride's dress with matching caps. Mayreen asked Betty Lee Orphal, Bette Wellenzin, Bets Kreller, of Washington, Pa. and Lou Dalzen, of St. Clair, Michigan to act as bridesmaids. They carried pink roses and ivy. Nancy Helen Schmidt was her sister's maid of honor. She chose a dusty rose fallie gown identical to that of the attendants and also carried pink roses.

Frank asked his brother, Ted Mumford to be his best man and Stanley Mumford, brother of the groom, Bob Kundingger, Bob Steiger, Ben Orr and Bill Schmidt, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

The bridegrooms mother chose Dubonnet crepe for her son's wedding and Mrs. Schmidt received at the reception in a grey crepe dinner gown. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

For her honeymoon, the new Mrs. Mumford donned a hunter green gabardine suit with brown accessories and wore the orchids from her bridal corsage.

Fashion Tips On Let-Down Hemlets

Don't be a victim of "let-down hemlets" the Visiting Housekeeper Association warns.

With the new longer length hem in vogue, smart and thrifty women are not discarding their season's dresses but are letting out the hems. Often the ease from the old hem shows, making the frock as "last season's." To eliminate the line of the hem, the Association, a Red Cross agency says:

If it's a wool skirt that's being let down, and the fabric is shiny, the underside of the hem, rip the hem and steam-press it. If the wool is light-weight or has a nap, steam-press it on the wrong side. If the wool is heavy, steam-press it on the right side.

To steam-press a fabric in a like in blue gowns of taffeta and velveteen.

The bridegroom asked his brother Robert to be best man. Guests were seated by Paul Smith, of Chicago, William Wilkie, Peer Krueger, Arthur Faleor, John and William Barr.

The "Center" is open free to the public from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily, except Sunday. It's the number of school children transported by the Lake Shore Coach Lines during the 1946-47 school year. It includes children ranging in ages from kindergarten through high school.

NOT ONE of these children sustained an injury during that period, or in any other period in the past fifteen years during which this coach company has been transporting pupils to and from Grosse Pointe schools.

The drivers and mechanics who operate and maintain these buses have asked us for an increase in wages, which we believe they are entitled to, but the financial condition of the company prevents us from granting the increase unless the prevailing rate of fare may be increased.

To maintain our present standard of service, we believe we should have your co-operation and good will in accepting any necessary increase in fare so that we can retain these same careful, courteous employees in continuing to transport the school children and the general public, as well.

The prevailing fare within Grosse Pointe for both school children and adults will not be affected. Any increase in fare would pertain only to inter-zone transportation.

ROMANCE HELPS

MR. AND MRS. C. POLACK

Former Pointers Aid Marine Corp League

Two former Grosse Pointers who served in the Marine Corps in World War II are now active in the organization of the William Lord Detachment of the Marine Corps League. They are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Polack, of Lappin avenue in Detroit and formerly of Grosse Pointe Farms. She is the former Verma Piche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Piche of 346 Hillcrest road.

The pair are officials in this Marine Corps organization which is open only to Marine veterans. One reason why the Polacks are so interested in the Marine Corps is that it set up the romance that led to their marriage. Clifford was a staff sergeant on duty at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. He met Verma, who was also stationed there. They were married in 1943 before he was sent overseas. The Polacks would like to extend their invitations to Marine veterans in this area to join their group. It meets the first and third Friday of each month at St. John's Hall, Gratiot at Warren.

Two traffic accidents involving four teen-agers were reported within a few minutes of each other near Grosse Pointe High School.

Sally Ann Roney, 14, of 784 Rivard, was at the wheel of a car that struck one driven by Herman F. Godekman, 18, of Detroit. Sally told Farms police that she was waving at a girl friend just before the accident occurred near 800 Fisher road. Damages were estimated at $150 by police who issued tickets to both drivers to appear in court.

Albert H. Singler, 16, of Detroit was driving his car out of the high school drive way when it was struck by a car operated by Howard Queenan, 848 Beaconsfield. Damages were slight.

Society To Enjoy "Symphony Cocktails"

Opening Night of the Detroit Symphony's 1947-48 season promises to be an event to be remembered down through the years for Dr. Karl Krueger's scintillating program and Music Hall's efforts to make every patron feel warmly welcomed, will make Oct. 23 a red-letter day in Detroit's history.

Plans are being worked out to televise the lavishly gowned ladies in Music Hall's beautiful foyer, Governor Kim Sigler and Mayor Edward Jeffries, Jr. lead off the list of notables who hope to be present. "Symphony Cocktails" will be served everybody in the lounges, etc.

So much for the social side.

Dr. Krueger will begin his concert with a very first performance of Eric DeLamarter's Overture, "Holiday in Erin," completed by this Michigan-born composer only this summer. DeLamarter explains that his inspiration for this work came after hearing his Irish wife hum some of her native land's folk tunes and he incorporated them into a composition heavily flavored with the atmosphere of a County Fair. Three airs are used and the harmony scheme employed is an antique pattern such as "My Wife, and Welcome," "Fare-as that used for Irish Harps, "Kiss will to Whiskey" and "Have You Seen My Valentine" are easily recognized.

Those who have heard the music of Sibelius in the hands of Karl Krueger know that he has no peer as interpreter of this composer. He has been particularly acclaimed in his treatment of the Sibelius First Symphony which work, we are proud to announce, will be the major musical item on Oct. 23's program.

The glorious concert will close with Excerpts from Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde." The entire program will be repeated on Friday evening, Oct. 24.

The program will include an exhibition of scout handicraft as presented by the Cub.

St. Paul 11 Faces Loop Leader

The St. Paul Flyers will be trying to reach the 500 mark and their victory of the season, when they meet the League leading St. Martin Gridders this Sunday at Grosse Pointe High at 2:30.

The Flyers gained their victory by coming from behind to whip St. Vincent 14 to 6 last week at Grosse Pointe High.

Throughout the first half St. Paul seemed to be a badly outclassed team, as the Corktowners gained through the Flyers line almost at will. The Grosse Pointers veteran forward wall was equally ineffective on offense as their backs were continually meshed.

TOUCHDOWN LOST

In the first quarter Jim Munoz carried the ball 30 yards to pay dirt, but the play was called for clipping. However he was not to be denied and a short time later he ran 20 yards to score and the Corktowners were in front 6 to 0. The kick failed.

St. Paul received the kick off to start the second half. On the first play from scrimmage Jimmy Law dashed 80 yards to score but the run was nullified because the officials had stopped the play before the ball was snapped. However the Flyers were on fire and proceeded to put on one of the best exhibitions of plain power football witnessed on the Grosse Pointe Gridiron this fall.

The Flyers were a completely different team from the squad which had been pushed about during the first half. Their attack completely smothered St. Vincent.

ST. AMBROSE WAITS FOR HALLOWEEN

The St. Ambrose High School football team will remain idle this week. Its next opponent will be St. Bernard on Halloween Night, Friday, October 31.

who seemed to be powerless to stop the line bucking of St. Paul's Paul DuRocher and Pete Belanger. The Flyers line outcharged the visitors and opened large holes. The drive covered 85 yards and only once did St. Paul failed to gain. Law went 8 yards to put the ball on the six inch line from where Bob Berg took it over on a quarterback sneak to tie the game. Belanger barreled over for the point and St. Paul took the lead at 7 to 6.

GOOD DEFENSE

St. Vincent found the home team equally tough on defense and were forced to resort to passes which the Flyers easily handled. This half was exactly the opposite of the first half.

With five minutes remaining Butch DuRocher smashed 6 yards to give the Flyers their second tally and again Belanger made the point. This ended the scoring as St. Paul led 14 to 6.

The second half was marked by several injuries. St. Paul centers Phil Van Hollebeke and Chuck Wylie were both hurt—Van Hollebeke was knocked out. Tackle John Hutton suffered a smashed nose but a doctors examination proved it not to be broken as was at first feared. In the last quarter four St. Vincent players were hurt.

Blue Devils Gird for Night Game With Highland Park

By ROCKY PHILLIP

Grosse Pointe will meet their fifth opponent on Friday under the lights at Highland Park. The kick-off is at eight p.m.

Last Saturday Grosse Pointe met Wyandotte on the Wyandotte home field and the Blue Devils lost possession of Border Cities League; first place dropping to third. The final score was 26-7.

The game was hard fought by both teams. Grosse Pointe scored in the first quarter as Herb Gerhard, full back intercepted a Wyandotte pass on the Wyandotte 34 and a forward march to the goal gain Ed seven points for the local boys.

Meanwhile, in the first period, Wyandotte wasn't resting. A pass from Sophomore Dick Gresser, Wyandotte ace quarterback to the "wonder-boy" Joe Caterino carried 17 yards for the Bears' first tally. The conversion was good and the score at the end of the first quarter stood at 7-7.

In the second quarter the Bears' scatback Joe Caterino took the ball on a punt from his own 32, ran between his right tackle and guard for a 63 yard touchdown.

Wyandotte intercepted a Grosse Pointe pass and ran it to the 17. A penalty forced them back to Grosse Pointe's 32. Gresser then let a pass loose to left end Jack Jaciuk for the third Wyandotte touchdown. The score stood at 20-7 when the half ended.

There was no scoring in the third period as the ball kept going from one end of the field to the other.

In the fourth quarter Gresser again cocked his arm, let a pass fly to "Lil Joe" who was standing a few yards from scrimmage and ran fifty-four yards to come one yard short of another score. A few minutes later LeBlanc crossed the white chalk stripe and the score was 26-7.

After the game Grosse Pointe coach Ed Wernet said, "There were just the individuals that we couldn't match — Caterino especially on offense and center, Nick Wurmlinger on defense. Wurmlinger made about half their tackles. But all in all the game was very hard fought. Those break runs and the passes just spelled defeat."

The Blue Devil Reserves tied a very tough ballgame with Highland Park last Friday. The final score stood at 0-0. Fullback Jerry Jenkins turned in a good performance with the longest Grosse Pointe run of 25 yards behind excellent blocking. Their next game will be away at Royal Oak on Thursday. Last year the Reserves beat the Acorn Reserves 31-0.

One Minute To Play

By CHUCK ALEXANDER

Editor's Note: Football is in the air again and here to follow is a short feature that proves that anything can happen in football and usually does.

The usual enthusiasm of a football crowd filled the air as everyone anxiously awaited the kickoff.

Over in a corner of the field, quarterback Jimmy Drake was running his players through several warm-up plays.

"This is our big chance," thought the husky field general as he cast a glance at the opponents. "We'll show em."

Drake looked at his two running backs, Bill Smith and Tony Zantos. The three of them had come a long way together.

Ever since they formed the nucleus of their high school eleven, Drake had been the leader and inspirational source of a lasting triple friendship.

In fact, Drake was responsible for the other two being with him in this big game today.

Drake carried the ball and Smith and Zantos were his blocking dynamos. It would be no different in this game... except, of course, their one special play.

During many tedious months, the three griders planned and worked on this one particular play. A play to be used only at the most opportune time.

As the referee's whistle sounded, Drake booted the ball down the field. The game was on.

For 58 minutes the two elevens battled to a scoreless tie. And then Drake called for their play of the year. His two pals nodded in eager agreement.

With less than a minute to play, Drake received the ball from center, faked a reverse and smashed through tackle.

Smith and Zantos had formed the interference and Drake fell in behind them. They fought their way into the open and raced 67 yards to cross the goal line.

The cheering crowd fell silent in amazement as it watched the touchdown heroes continue up past the temporary bleachers and over the wall. They leaped down to a waiting car that sped them away.

Seconds later, Warden Jones, in the echo of gunfire and sirens (was telling the country that Jim Drake, Bill Smith and Tony Zantos, confidence men, had just escaped from state prison.

Scotland's Harry Gordon At Temple

The public is in for a treat when Harry Gordon comes here direct from the King's Theatre, Glasgow, Scotland. He will appear at Masonic Auditorium for one performance only, on Friday, October 31, at 8:15 p.m.

Gordon is famous in the British Empire, having been 23 years in the Pavilion Aberdeen. He is the first comedian to ever be held over in Scotland's ace theatre the Alhambra, Glasgow, where he appears in Pantomime with Will Fyffe. His tour is limited, as he is under contract to start November 20 at the Alhambra Theatre, Glasgow, and will also be starred in the King's Theatre. This is the first time any comedian has played two houses in the same city, day and date. This is also his eleventh year in the Alhambra—another unusual engagement—for one artist to be in one theatre continuously for eleven years. For the past five years, he has shared top billing with Will Fyffe setting up new records with a combination that will go down in theatrical history. He created the mythical village of Inversnecky; he is known far and wide in this character. He composes most of his own material and is famed for his clean, homely humor of his typical Scottish Characters.

His supporting cast includes the well-known Scotch concert artist, Flora MacDonald Shennan, charming Mezzo Soprano, who starred in the Burns Concert at the Music Hall in January 1946; James Mitchell, Baritone, another Star at Music Hall last January, will repeat; John Adams, Tenor—first time in Detroit, has just returned from a Concert Tour of Canada and the United States; Neil Kirk, who also was the Comedian at the Music Hall in January, will be Master of Ceremonies; Eleanor MacRobbie, well-known concert pianist, and organist, will be at the concert grand.

Tickets can be had from the Scottish Societies or at Wurdlitzers, 1509 Broadway, after October 20.

Rumpelstiltskin Reviews

By ISABEL RONEY

Ruth Sawyer's name on a Spanish folk tale (or on any children's story) is like 'Sterling' on silver. Some of the most delightful stories of Spain and its people have been told by her.

"PICTURE TALES FROM SPAIN," illustrated by Carlos Sanchez and retold in English by Ruth Sawyer is one of many good books in which she has created the Spanish atmosphere.

"THE FLEA" and "THE SACK OF TRUTH" are two lively folk tales in this collection.

Another Spanish tale which has enjoyed great popularity is "TONO ANTONIO" with drawings by F. Luis Mora. Ruth Sawyer had lived on just such a farm as Tono Antonio in Spain, and her story of the brave little boy, who had the faith that moves mountains has the authentic ring of a classic. It is a beautiful tale for Christmas time or for any time for children from eight to twelve.

"THE LONG CHRISTMAS" with decorations by Valenti Angelo is another distinguished contribution of Ruth Sawyer to the field of Children's Literature. Among the thirteen tales from many lands contained in the book is one called "THE SHEPHERDS" which has been handed down for centuries among the shepherds of Spain. Ruth Sawyer's version of it is simple and lovely.

"THE LEGEND OF THE ARABIAN ASTRONOGER" in "THE ALHAMBRA" by Washington Irving, is one of the finest of many Spanish stories.

"THE BIRTHDAY OF THE INFANTA" by Oscar Wilde is another tale with a very Spanish atmosphere, and one of the most charming of birthday stories.

"ST. ANTHONY'S PIG" by Isabel de Palencia is a highly amusing picture-story for the small fry about an old Spanish custom—of giving a fat little pig to the poor on the great saint's feast. According to custom, the little pigs so chosen may wander in and out of the village homes and live on the fat of the land until the day they be bestowed on a needy family. A lame duck, a hungry kitten and a turtle become proteges of one little pig called Pinky, taking advantage of all his rights and privileges. In the end, one little pig doesn't go to market—nor do the three little chiselers who shared his adventure come to a bad end.
