TRIBUTE TO YOUTH

September has been designated as "Youth Month" in Grosse Pointe and throughout the country and the first thing that comes to one mind is Juvenile Delinquency.

However there is another element to be considered. Youth week is a tribute to the mental and physical abilities of young people, who are better-clothed, better-educated and healthier than their forefathers. They should be given a voice in community affairs. If teen-agers are made to feel important—which they really are—they will shoulder the responsibilities of adult life with greater ease and more success.

Instead of always rebuking the youngsters of today—let's give them a pat on the back. They are living through a difficult period of their life—and in difficult world conditions. So let's make way for youth—they're the America of tomorrow!

GIVE THE KIDS A BRAKE

Mr. Motorist, how would you feel if you ran over and killed a child? Even if the accident were not your fault, you'd probably be haunted for life.

It's back-to-school time—time to watch out for children who have not yet completely learned to watch out for themselves—time to drive slowly and watchfully in residential and school neighborhoods.

Watch out for the small fry—and be prepared to give them a brake!

AIR FORCE DAY, 1948

Saturday, September 18th, is Air Force Day... a day set aside on which the United States Air Force reports to you, the people, on its past achievements and plans for the future. Today, in the Air Age, we have come to realize that the security of our nation depends upon a strong, ready air arm... capable of striking any where... at a moment's notice. Each American should have an interest in our national security... in making air power peace power. The USAF is your Air Force... get to know it better.

Letter Box

Readers of The Grosse Pointe Review are invited to send their thoughts on questions of public interest for use in the Pointe Letter Box. The writer's name and address must accompany each letter, but will be withheld on request.

TO THE EDITOR: In Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committees and the N. A. D. A. have asked me to get the Automobile Dealers of our district together with the principals of the high schools, the judiciary, the chiefs of police and the mayors or representatives of the Grosse Pointe's and surrounding district at a luncheon. The object of this luncheon is a presentation of a program to teach the teen age girls and boys in our schools how to drive a motor car safely and carefully. A great amount of thought has been devoted toward training youth for responsibility regarding the family car, or any other car, and from these thoughts has come a Driver Training Program for use in our high schools.

The subject will be presented by Mr. Austin Grant, the well known radio commentator, who is giving his time and efforts in the interest of safety.

Your cooperation is most essential to the success of this plan so please attend this luncheon at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on Thursday, September 18th at 12:15 noon.

Packard Sets Precedent In Advertising

For probably the first time in the annals of advertising, a motor car maker is publishing an advertisement in which no product or company name is mentioned.

Appearing this month in leading national magazines, the color page will carry an illustration of the company's most luxurious model, over the headline, "America's most powerful, most luxurious motor car... ONE GUESS WHAT NAME IT BEARS!"

In place of the conventional signature, the ad shows a close-up of the car's grille, with the slogan "Ask the man who owns one." Packard Motor Car Company is the advertiser.

Hugh W. Hitchcock, Packard director of advertising and public relations, said today that the advertisement started out as a "prestige" ad with a few hidden mentions of the Packard name.

"Then it occurred to us that the ad would be even stronger if it were completely anonymous. At the same time, we were mindful of the fact that Packard alone could dare publish such an advertisement," Hitchcock stated.

He said that members of the Packard field organization, given a preview of the ad, "acclaimed it as the greatest prestige ad they had ever seen."

"Even the car itself dares to carry no name-plate. For there is no mistaking the identity of 'America's most powerful, most luxurious motor car.'"

"No other car built in America today offers you the performance of a precision-built, 160-horsepower engine."

GM Promotions Include Woods Man

Among the several important changes in General Motors top administration brackets made by its directors Monday was the elevation of Stephen M. DuBrul, of 900 Sunningdale, Grosse Pointe Woods, director of the social and economic relations section of the public relations department.

Mr. Stephens will head a new business research staff which will also assume the duties of his former department.

sections of Doctors' offices being established in Doctor's homes in the residential area, which is provided for in this proposed amendment, with the exception that residences built on lots bordering on Mack Avenue would permit the limited inclusion of a doctor's office.

"In regard to the Mack Avenue property, the Commission has given additional thought to the presently unimproved residential property, approximately ten lots, bordering on Mack Avenue, and is of the opinion that the general character of Mack Avenue is not conducive to the construction of strictly private dwellings on these bordering lots. So long as these lots remain unimproved there is a continuing economic pressure to re-zone to commercial use, and this pressure would be removed if doctors were permitted to construct residences on this property. It is also felt that the general unsightly appearance of unimproved property is not desirable, and that much could be gained if some of these lots were improved by residences, in which doctors were permitted to maintain restricted offices, and thereby provide a buffer strip between Mack Avenue and the residential area."

"TIME TO SEND IN THE FIRST TEAM" Chest Announces 1948 Goal, Honors Community Editors

The goal for the 1948 Red Feather Community Chest Campaign is $5,975,000.

After months of study of the budgets of the 125 agencies supported by the Chest, the Budget Committee estimated total financial needs for operating the Red Feather Services for 1948 are $5,884,173. Allowances made to Chest agencies in 1948 are $4,929,573.

The announcement was made by Edward T. Gushue, chairman of the drive, at a press luncheon Friday in Children's Hospital.

"Everyone should give to the Community Chest because everyone benefits from it," appealed Mr. Gushue.

W. Calvin Patterson, chairman of the metropolitan unit chairman, stressed the biggest need of the chest this year is to recruit volunteer workers to canvass 325,000 homes and small business places.

Superintendent of Children's Hospital, Mildred Riese, spoke of how the hospital handled 10,000 emergency cases besides daily visits of more than 500 children through its Out-Patient department.

The hospital is one of the 125 agency aid by the chest which opens its drive on October 26.

The luncheon honored the 90 editors of community newspapers in Metropolitan Detroit who play a vital part in bringing the chest message to each community.

Other speakers included Fred Gaertner, editor of the Detroit News, who spoke briefly on the newspaper's responsibility in "telling the Community Chest story."

Pet Canary Sets-Up Arrest In Chief's Most Interesting Case

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of five articles on "My Most Interesting Case" as told by the Police Chief of Grosse Pointe to E. Denlow, of the Review staff.

By E. DENLOW

This is the true story of Harry Williams, a burglar who operated in Grosse Pointe, and whose apprehension was due, largely, to a hungry pet canary and its owner who returned home to feed it.

Harry, 27, a Highland Park boy, was in the Army. On leave, he overstayed a few days. He overstayed longer . . . weeks . . . months . . . Harry Williams, soldier, A. W.O.L. from Fort Benning, Ga. . . a deserter!

He couldn't face the Army's heavy penalty; he was afraid to show himself to apply for a job. He took up burglary.

A thief follows an individual pattern in his method of entry and what he takes, according to Park Police Arthur Louwers. Harry broke windows, glass over locks, or cut screens. He took money, jewelry, silver, clothing, a camera, a gladstone bag. Especially he robbed ladies' handbags lying unprotected in another room while a party occurred.

From one house he took nothing, but removed liquor bottles from a suitcase and dresser drawer; left them on the dining room table. Harry had other plans for the resident here, it was later discovered. Said resident owned a beer parlor frequented by Harry and, that he'd come home some night loaded with cash from the "joint," Harry was sure.

Our burglar stole several cars at different times. All were recovered.

Boldness occasionally prompted Harry to enter a house where a large party was in progress and mingle with the guests. Eventually, he'd go upstairs, help himself to money and valuables, then depart.

Chief Louwers, then Detective Louwers, labored on the case without result, for when Harry "burgled" he left no clues. His robberies in the Pointe stretched from March to December; most were during open doors and windows facilitated illegal entry.

Then, November 29, Park police received a call from a Buckingham road resident, who had returned home to feed his canary and surprised a stranger coming out of his house. The stranger ran, throwing a blanket over the resident's head as he did so; consequently, description of the intruder was vague. But Detective Louwers had a good idea who it might be. In a few minutes the district was surrounded. Though Harry slipped away, police found a stolen auto bulging with stolen articles parked on Buckingham. A match folder in the car contained no matches, but two telephone numbers. These led to Flint, where a similar batch of robberies had taken place. Harry was the culprit here, too. He was apprehended in the apartment of a girl friend, arraigned in Flint, given 5 to 15 years.

Brought to face charges in Grosse Pointe, Harry confessed when confronted by Louwers and other detectives. He received further sentence to be served concurrently. Harry Williams, once a respectable boy serving his country, is now serving again . . . this time in Jackson Prison.

Arthur E. Louwers has been Park Chief for 2 years. During World War II his duties in Grosse Pointe included cooperation with the F.B.I. A six-footer plus, about 200 pounds, Louwers' tanned, hard-muscled appearance adds up to something to make the criminal cringe. He has a heart; does not believe in crucifying slight offenders. Hobby is golf, when he finds time, which isn't often.

Next week Grosse Pointe City Police Chief Tom Trombly tells his story on his most interesting case.

Teen Talk

EDITOR'S NOTE — Norman Neeb, 17, a senior at Grosse Pointe High School has been named to author "Teen-Talk" during the 1948-49 school year. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Austin S. Neod, of McMillan road. Contributors to the column are requested to contact Miss Neeb at NL 2381.

By NORMA NEEB

School days, school days! Once again we hear the old school bell calling us back at the end of a long summer vacation. It is ringing loudly, telling us we have another wonderful year of school ahead of us. Wonderful? Well, some may not think so as they leave the summer's fun and new-made friends, only to come back to school with arms full of books and homework to do.

After the first few days at Grosse Pointe High, everyone is bucking down and getting to work again. Counselors are busy in the auditorium changing schedules and rounding out classes so that none are too overcrowded. The new Student Association officers are hustling around the building helping the counselors and teachers; directing new pupils to their classes; and appointing various individuals to jobs on service posts, in the honor court, or noon movie duty.

Teachers have their problems, too—getting acquainted with all the new faces in their classes, learning names, and trying to teach their specialty to the students.

Athletic directors have many a headache selecting boys for varsity and reserve football, deciding which ones would be better on first or second string, and again figuring out who might play the best position as half-back, full-back, center, etc.

Students? Well, students are everywhere—in the halls, in the cafeteria, or on the campus, the main topic of conversation being, "How much homework we have tonight." Then, of course, it's "over to Fran's" as soon as the dismissal bell rings.

Yes, this year there is going to be a great deal of work for everyone. So let's buckle down and prove we can come through with top grades.

GPH, Brownell Offer Wide Intramural Programs

By JOHN E. SANFORD

"A boy in Grosse Pointe High School and Brownell Junior High has as good or better chance than any boy of another school in this area to enter in some kind of athletics," stated Mr. Frank Banach, athletic director of Grosse Pointe High School.

An extensive intramural system includes both the senior high and junior high boys. This is in addition to the varsity and reserve teams in basketball and football and varsity swimming, track, tennis, and baseball.

The intramural program has a twofold purpose. First, it endeavors to give interested boys an opportunity in athletics regardless of their ability to make the school teams. Second, it provides material for the varsity and reserve squads that might be overlooked. End Marvin Weaver and back Don Miller of last year's varsity football team started the season on intramural squads and worked their way up to varsity regulars before the season got far underway.

The sports covered by the intramural program include basketball and football for both the senior and junior high. Baseball, track, and tennis are open to junior high students. Limited space prohibits further expansion.

This is the first year any intramural tennis has been sponsored. Most of the boys entered are in the seventh and eighth grades.

Junior high intramurals are more extensive than senior high because the varsity and reserve squads take most of the interested upperclassmen. This winter, however, a noon hour intramural basketball program drew out 121 entries from the senior high and 76 from the junior high.

Most of the participation takes place during the lunch hours when the boys are around and free. Usually other interests take over in the after school hours. Football and track take place after school, however, and some baseball games are also played then.

Teams are usually organized according to homerooms and play a schedule where every team meets the other at least once. Any boy may enter in the intramural program. If his homeroom is not represented he is usually assigned to some other team.

Last fall the junior high formed a league of several football teams with Pierce Junior High and played each other on a round-robin schedule.

Intramural junior high track usually climaxes its season with a meet with Pierce sometime in early June.

Over 90 boys in the seventh and eighth grades entered in the intramural baseball competition this spring. The games were played under modified rules in order to even up the sides. One team would have nine men bat in an inning and then take the field while the other side set up nine batters. This insured every boy a chance at bat at least once. If time permitted the teams then played for two outs for an inning.

Coaches of the intramural football teams are Mr. Banach, Mr. John Finch, and Mr. Andrew Balas. Baseball and basketball coaches are Mr. Edward Wernet and Mr. Forest Geary. Intramural track coach is Mr. Harold Fisher.

It is hoped that through this intramural system every boy will get a chance to be a member of some team and gain the experience one gets from being a team member. Also it is hoped that any boy who has the ability to make the varsity squad will not be left out because he did not catch the coach's eye at once but will be given a chance to show his ability.

Staking Keeps Order in Your Garden Rows

Properly staked plants insure an orderly garden. Lack of proper staking means that you are reasonably sure to have some wrecked and messy beds later in the season. A heavy rain or wind storm is likely to knock over tall and heavy foliage plants which naturally have stems not sufficiently sturdy to stand up under such circumstances.

Delphiniums are the first plants in the garden to show the need for staking. The heavy spikes of bloom on these stately perennials make them singularly susceptible to destruction by winds or heavy rains. Stake them before the buds start to open.

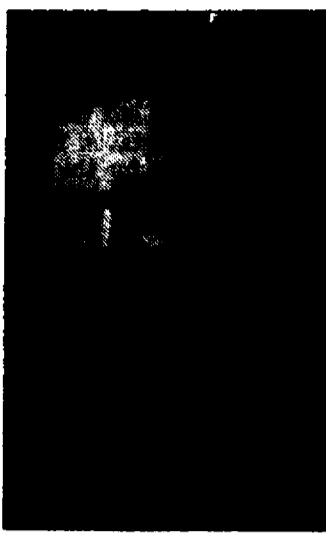

Gladiolus with heavy spikes of bloom are likely to need stakes. Lilies and iris of the taller types also need this assistance. Tall African and French marigolds are tipped over by wind or rain and become a jungle. Staking would have saved them.

The first requisite of good staking is that the stakes should be strong and capable of holding up the plant, but as unobtrusive as possible. Green painted stakes are least conspicuous. The cheapest and most efficient stakes are the bamboo canes sold in varying lengths by dealers. They may be bought already painted or in natural color and you can paint them yourself. They are strong and durable.

Heavy wire stakes are least obtrusive of all especially when painted green. Plants can be tied to them easily and hung upright so that the tying cannot be distinguished until viewed at close range.

Set the stakes and tie the plants before they come into bloom. A good job of staking that will not make the plant look stiff and obviously tied up cannot be done after it has come into bloom. For plants of lighter growth that are apt to sprawl and be of untidy habit, twiggy branches carefully applied make the best supports. The tall snapdragons need staking. If pinched back and tied the tall types throw out branches and become pyramidal of bloom. The long terminal spike is sacrificed but a much greater quantity of bloom and finer garden display is obtained.

New "Idea" To Aid 1948 Benefit Drive

Brilliantly decorated with the symbol of the Red Feather and describing how the nickels, dimes and quarters dropped into the bank can grow, the bank is to be distributed to every home in the Greater Detroit area by Boy Scouts during the next two weeks.

Banks will be given free to householders and there is no obligation when the housewife accepts them. They will serve as a reminder that the 1948 Red Feather Drive will soon be on. The Banks will provide a place to drop those loose coins that will never be missed but which will help the 125 Red Feather agencies serve the people of the community for another year.

Uniformed Boy Scouts are not allowed to handle monies of any kind. They will only make the deliveries. The bank will be picked up during the Community Chest Campaign between Oct. 26 and Nov. 17 by Red Feather volunteer workers.

West Coast Honeymoon For Pointe Newlyweds

California was the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. George Murry Brooks, the former Patricia Kathrine Blackwood, who ex- changed their nuptial vows in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church last Saturday, September 11.

The glow of many candles light- ed the wedding scene, Patricia and her attendants advancing to the altar between tapers in tall hold- ers set at intervals along the aisle. With more tapers in cathedral candelabra banking the flower- decked altar table. The rites were read by Dr. Frank Pitt at 8:30 o'clock in the evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Davidson Blackwood, of E. Outer Drive, and George's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Claude R. Brooks, of Berkshire road.

Patricia, who was given in mar- riage by her father, was gowned in camellia white satin embro- idered with seed pearls at the low satin neckline of the bodice which had an inset yoke of illusion. The pearl embroidery was repeated on tiny caps over the long fitted sleeves.

Beneath the full skirt with long circular train, the bride wore a hooped petticoat trimmed with old English lace which had been worn by her mother and grandmother at their weddings.

The full-length bridal veil fell from a pearl-embroidered satin tiara, and Patricia's bouquet was of white orchids, gardenias and stephanotis.

In striking contrast and reflect- ing an autumn theme were the attendants' costumes of burgundy- hued satin frocks and tiny braided caps of matching satin. The dress- es featured portrait necklines, cap sleeves and skirt fullness falling from front unpressed pleats.

Carrying bouquets of white fugi chrysanthemums, bebe mums and stephanotis, attendants were El- lenor Boyd as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids including Jane Hughes, Mrs. Russel H. Nutter, Mrs. Robert Cole, Mrs. William Harrison, of Middletown, O.; Mar- jorie Brenkert, of Franklin Hills, and Mary Carlisle, of Cleveland.

Calvin R. Vogt, of Moline, Ill., formerly of Grosse Pointe, was best man. Ushers were Kenneth Aulsebrook, of Evansville, Ind.; George West, Frank O. Cole, Jack Coe, Robert Brown and James V. McGoodwin.

Mrs. Blackwood, the bride's mother, chose a gown of deep plum-colored crepe, the skirt hav- ing a slight train, and small matching hat trimmed with chry- santhe ostrich tips. Green orchids adorned her purse.

Mrs. Brooks, mother of the bridegroom, wore cocoa brown Alencon lace, and a tiny bronze- hued hat of tulle and ostrich. Her corsage was of bronze-tipped yellow orchids.

At the reception, which took place at the Country Club, the wedding party received in the ball- room. Fragrant white flowers decked all the rooms. For supper, guests were seated at small tables.

When the bridal couple left for Los Angeles, Patricia wore a dusty rose gabardine suit and small matching hat, brown accessories and an orchid corsage. After three weeks of travel in the West, they will reside in a new home on Tor- rey road.

Ever Hear of "STUFFED-UP" HORSEPOWER?

We don't mean your Buick can have a runny nose—no. But it sure can get stuffed-up and sluggish. That way with an ordinary muffler. Because even good mufflers act like tight fists and choke off as much as 25% of the horsepower. Not so with Buick mufflers. Buick engineers developed a light-through resonance type that does its job with only 2 1/2%—exactly 10 times better. That points up just one simple of the difference between ordinary service and Buick car care. With all the other 12,000 parts in a Buick—with the regular minor adjust- ments—with the periodic lubri- cation—the story is the same. It's smart to take your Buick to the men who know Buicks best, who are specialists in competent car care—especially since job- for-job it costs you no more. Remember that, and keep your Buick giving you its best—let us give it Buick care.

Many Annual Flowers Do Well from Fall Planting

Every case in which nature produces annual flowers in a garden from self-sown seed, is a demonstration that annuals can be grown from seed sown in the fall.

The list of annuals which can self-seed may vary in different sections of the country, but it is probable that annual larkspur and cornflowers (centaurea cyanus) will be on the list almost anywhere.

May authorities advise that larkspurs be sown wherever possible. Plants from fall sowing get started much earlier in the spring; and they flower almost as soon as indoor plants, besides being much larger and more vigorous.

The list may safely include all annuals which usually self-sow in your neighborhood, and any other varieties which are hardy, and have small, hard seeds, with which you are willing to take a chance for the sake of earlier plants. Large, soft seeds, even of hardy varieties, may decay in the wet ground, but the hard seeds will lie safe if protected by rain, or injury in some other way.

Nature is always lavish; and much of the seed she sows, no doubt, is lost. With purchased seed one will probably wish to be more careful.

A seed bed surrounded by a wooden curb is an excellent place to sow fall annuals. A cold frame will do as well; and many sow seeds in the open garden, where experience has shown drainage is good. If seeds are sown in rows, which can be marked, it is easy to check results and protect the seedlings when they appear.

Sow the seed thinly, mixing small seed with dry sand to help scatter it, and do not sow much deeper than you would in the spring. Many gardeners cover the row with a shallow layer of sand after sowing. In a seed bed, or cold frame, after the ground has frozen a light mulch of leaves may be placed over the bed to keep the frost in. This mulch should be removed before the seeds sprout in the spring.

Annuals which are usually successful from fall sowing include alyssum, snapdragons, calceola, calendula, calliopsis, candytuft, centauria cyanus, clarkia, cosmos, echinops, euphorbia, gypsophila, larkspur, lupin, nicotiana, petunia, annual phlox, annual poppies and sweet peas.

Conditions in the spring are usually fine for transplanting and plants may be moved from the seed bed to the border about the time one would be sowing seed in the spring. The fall sown plants are not soft like those grown indoors and receive little or no check from transplanting.

CORNELIAN CHERRY

Cornelian cherry, common name for Cornus mas, is a tall shrub or small tree, native to Europe and Asia, first of the dogwoods to bloom and one of the earliest of flowering shrubs. Its small but numerous yellow flowers appear before the leaves, followed in the fall by edible, red berries. It is valuable for shady places; stands dry soil better than most dogwoods.

Reception Held In Pointe

A wedding reception held in the Cloverly Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lee Fisher feted bride and groom Margaret Beth Sturgis and Wilbur H. Boutell after their nuptial vows were exchanged last Saturday afternoon in St. Paul's Cathedral.

The bride is the daughter of the Great B. Sturgis of Indian Village Manor, and Mrs. Frank J. Boutell of Flint and the late Mr. Boutell are the parents of the groom.

A high-necked white satin wedding gown was worn by the bride, trimmed with rose point lace matching the Juliet cap crowning her veil of illusion. She carried a white prayer book.

All white gowns of taffeta with matching headbands were worn by the bridesmaids, and the groomsmen wore suits of dark material. The bridesmaids were Misses Patricia MacInnis and Ann Kamper as bridesmaids. Stephanotis and trailing greens composed their bouquets.

Arthur Summerfield Jr., was best man, and serving as ushered were Don Beard, of Flint; Raymond Colvert, of Ardmore, Okla.; Edward Bates, Jr., and James Byerly, both of Chicago, and George Spaulding.

Royal blue lace with matching hat was worn by the bride's mother, and her corsage was of purple orchids. The groom's mother appeared in raspberry lace with matching hat, and an orchid corsage of pale lavender.

The Boutells are on a leisurely honeymoon trip to California and Honolulu.

ANNOUNCING FASHION SHOW

'New Look in Fashions' At Pointe Council Show

New trends in the "new look" will be unfolded to the eyes of 2,500 Pointe-area women next Wednesday at the Fall Fashion Show of the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council.

The dictates of the fashion world for ladies, teen agers and children will be featured in an elaborate presentation at 1:30 p. m., Sept. 22 in the Woods Theatre, Mack near Moross. The showing is to be staged by Jacobson's, and will feature Powers models. Dick Stierend, manager of the Powers Agency, is director of the show and music will be by Tom Montgomery, well-known radio organist.

More than 75 door prizes, valued at more than $1,000, are to be given away at the show. The gifts, according to Mrs. Fred Moudale, door prize committee chairman, range from automobile tires and electrical appliances to makeup kits and perfume.

Indications that Grosse Pointe women are style conscious came from advance reports from Mrs. Joseph Murphy, chairman of the show, that the sale of the $1 tickets to the show point to a capacity crowd. Tickets now are on sale at Jacobson's end at the Woods Theatre.

Poster and window displays of fashions to be shown are featured at Jacobson's and the theater, and posters are in most local stores. These were arranged by Mrs. Blount Slade, poster committee chairman.

The proceeds from the show are all to be used to establish a substantial sound-in library, to be on loan to all Grosse Pointe organizations. The film library will be kept at the Pierce Junior High School Library.

Teen-age usherettes who will serve at the show have been selected from Grosse Pointe schools. They are to meet Friday at 4 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Slade to be acquainted with their duties. The girls are:

This class, as well as most of the 90-odd courses in the program, opens at the Rackham Memorial the week of September 20.

PRIMARY REPORTS

U-D Expects Huge Fall Enrollment

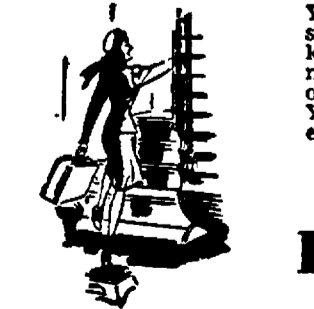

Registration of one of the largest enrollments in University of Detroit history will begin on McNichols and Jefferson campuses September 13.

Although openings in all colleges except Engineering are available to incoming freshmen in considerable numbers for the first time since the conclusion of the war, University authorities foresee no decrease in enrollment.

"Our 1947-48 enrollment figure leveled off at nearly 8,900," Prof. Paul E. Harbrecht, director of the Student Counsel Bureau, said. "Of this number, some 5,500 were service veterans."

Instruction will begin in all classes on September 20.

me Kilmer Farms, Houston out Head Share Lead In Rotary League

Detroit Area Council, Boy of America, recently appointed the appointment of L. Kilmer as District Scout Executive of District Three, comprises the southeastern Detroit and the neighboring Grosse Pointe communities. Approximately 5000 Cub Scouts, Senior Scouts, and their parents are included in this area.

Kilmer, a World War II veteran, is married and has one child. He is a graduate of Technical High School, at Wayne University, and is past president of the National Training School for Scout Executives at Camp Arrow, N. J. His wide experience in Scouting leadership, as an Assistant Scoutmaster, Scoutmaster, and Scout Executive, led to his appointment as District Scout Executive in 1944 and his appointment to District Three.

as he is popularly known, served as Leader of the Order Arrow, was Craft Director of Camp Brady for four years, and Director of Howell Reservation for two seasons. He was commissioned as Field Scout Executive in 1944 and has served as District Executive of District One until his recent appointment to District Three.

Record Sempliner

The Circuit Court Commissioner Arthur Sempliner is one of the youngest Judges in Wayne County. He is not new to the Bench as he has been a Judge since 1914. First selected in 1940 Sempliner served Wayne County as Circuit Court Commissioner until 1942 when he volunteered for the army and served overseas. During this term of service Judge Sempliner was remembered for his courage of court procedure designed to aid the working man and to appear in Court. One change was night court Judge Sempliner held once a week to accommodate litigants who would lose time if they appeared in the day. At that time and now, he was the only night court judge in Wayne County.

At the end of the recent war, Sempliner was taken out of combat unit and made military honor in the Philippine Islands and with restoring law and order and reconstituting the courts and judicial system of that war-torn land. In this capacity he came home to greet for the first time his three year old son after he entered service, whom the Judge had never seen. In 1947 a vacancy occurred in the office of Circuit Court Commissioner, and the Governor appointed Judge Sempliner to once again Wayne County Circuit Court Commissioner.

Jim Stewart Eves Role In War Play

If any New York stage producer is preparing a good war play for the coming season and needs a star, Jimmy Stewart may be his man. During the filming of Alfred Hitchcock's "Rope" at Warner Bros., Stewart told other cast members that he would like to do a war play on Broadway, perhaps this fall. He said he expects both screen and stage to begin drawing more heavily on the great fund of drama provided by the war. But fellow actors in "Rope" found he had nothing to say about his own distinguished role in that conflict. Having perhaps the greatest war record of any actor, Stewart also is the most reticent about it.

CAST THEIR VOTES AND THEN AID OTHERS

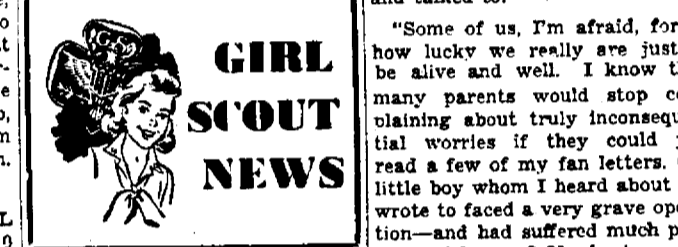

Among the first to cast their primary ballots Tuesday, September 14 at Grosse Pointe City were Mrs. Jean Harris, (left) of 39 Fisher road, and Mrs. Virginia Cassil of 571 Washington, road. Directing the activity is election inspector, Francis T. Murphy, 781 Fisher road. The women attended City Clerk Norbert Neff's instruction class recently and assisted at the polls Tuesday by explaining to voters the new type ballot which records the Democratic candidates on one side and the Republicans on the other.

"REAL HORSE SENSE"

Cowboy Star Cites Little Fellows As Real Heroes

Roy Rogers, king of the cowboys, whose world's championship rodeo is at the Detroit Olympia, wouldn't change places with any star in Hollywood. "I'd rather be in this end of the business," the cowboy star told a Review reporter, "because I like working for and with children. They appreciate everything you do for them. When you straighten out their troubles, you're a great guy. When they come on the set and you sit and talk to them, they enjoy it and they let you know it. And when we get some of those sad letters from stricken children and answer them right away, or send a telegram or call them on the telephone, their genuine surprise and joy is a rare and heartwarming experience. Children aren't afraid to show their true emotions, and that's more than I can say about a lot of adults. As a matter of fact, lots of adults could take lessons in living from some of the brave little youngsters I've met and talked to.

Leaders' training course begins September 29 continuing for four consecutive Wednesdays from 10 to 3 at Defer School. Those who did not complete training last year are urged to do so. About 12 volunteers are needed to assure proper guidance for young scouts throughout the Pointe.

September 21 marks the first leaders' meeting. IMPORTANT: Meeting will be held one hour earlier than usual... at 12:30, Neighborhood Club. Advance training and Brownie round-table discussion will take place. First Council meeting also on September 21, Neighborhood Club, 10:00 a. m.

Miss Arndt has won wide acclaim among members of her profession for the originality of her dances and her outstanding method of thorough instruction.

While in Washington, Miss Arndt selected a group of teachers to perform her routines over a local television station and also for the formal banquets of the association. These girls represented all sections of the country including Texas, Louisiana, New York, Michigan, Ohio and Oregon.

Autumn Treat At Will-O-Way

You still have time to enjoy a unique treat early Autumn days, by taking a trip out Bloomfield way to visit the Will-O-Way Theater. This is not amateur theater in the usual sense, as top roles are depicted by Broadway stars and other professionals. Many of the people at Will-O-Way work for the sheer love of the theater, and because they like to see good shows come to audiences in metropolitan Detroit.

The theater itself is worth the trip. It is a brick building, and in the wintertime is used for storing apples. When you enter, you find yourself in a large vestibule. On one side is the ticket window, and on the other, a place where you can buy donuts and cider. The walls of the entrance hall, and of the theater are covered with murals—all having some connection with apples. For example there's William Tell, Johnny Appleseed, The Snake in the Garden of Eden, etc.

The stage is set in walls of varnished wood. On each side is a huge mask—a Comedy Mask and a Tragedy Mask. In the mouth of the former is a red apple, and in the mouth of the latter—a green apple.

This year, due to the huge success of the theatre, they are remaining open later than usual. The current production is "Sailor Beware," with Richard Charlton and Minnie Jo Curtis.

Delta Nu Omega Sets Fall Frolic At Statler

AWAIT OUTCOME OF INJURED

He claims that by dint of effort he has matched the biggest and roughest characters in the ring today. The arena, located at Gratiot, near 10 Mile road, last year operated on Thursday, but has changed to Friday in order to give more people an opportunity to see these exciting shows. "Gentleman Jim" Doby, one of Chesterfield's favorite wrestlers is on the card.

Grid Hopes High At St. Ambrose

Coach Chuck Baer is rather optimistic about the hopes of his St. Ambrose High School eleven. Highly responsible for his views are the 16 veterans who are shaping up into team that will be a formidable threat to all their Parochial League opponents. The team's attack this season will be led by versatile backfield men Captain Bob McFarlin, quarterback, and Tom Danke, full back. St. Ambrose opens the season Sunday, September 19 at Southwestern field, Fort at Waterman, Detroit, facing St. Vincent.

ST. AMBROSE THREATS

Veteran backfield men Bob McFarlin Captain and Tom Danke, fullback, are expected to carry the brunt of St. Ambrose's attack in the Parochial School league this year. Coach Chuck Baer is keeping an eye on the pair as they go through practice sessions daily at Defer school daily.

To Oppose Ferndale In Opener

By JOHN E. SANFORD

Seeking to better last year's record of four wins, three losses, and one tie the Grosse Pointe gridders are practicing in full swing for their 1948 season. The Pointers finished third in the Border Cities League last year. The Devils first opposition will come from Ferndale on September 25 in a non-league tilt here. Last year Grosse Pointe opened their season with a 13-0 win over the Railsplitters under the lights at Ferndale.

Coach Wernet will have to start from scratch this season with only four returning lettermen. They are backs, Bill Anderson, Tom Follis, and Ted Laitner and end, Marv Weaver. Graduation has taken 22 of last year's monogram winners but it is hoped that the boys from last year's reserve squads will fill the holes. All ready the Pointers have nine grueling days of fundamental blocking and tackling under their belts. On Monday they went through their first scrimmage.

Although no definite line-ups have been set, Coach Wernet expects this year's line to average about 170 pounds with the backfield around 165 pounds. What this year's team lacks in weight it hopes to make up for in speed and spirit.

The Devils will be out to prove last year's 3-0 win over Fordson was no fluke when they meet on October 30 at Fordson. The game was won in the last remaining seconds when John "Pig" Plaugher kicked a field goal for the only score of the contest.

About sixty boys reported to the first call on Tuesday, September 7.

With their first game set for September 21, the Blue Devil Reserves have started to practice in earnest for their encounter with East Detroit, here.

Last year the Pointers downed East Detroit 19-0 to start one of their most successful seasons. Their final record was five wins, one loss and one tie. Tops defensively, they held their opponents to only four touchdowns. Three of them coming in the Devils' only loss, to Wyandotte.

Coach Chuck Baer of St. Ambrose and Coach Eddie Lauer of St. Paul gave their support to the Review "Pointe Gridder of the Week."

Each week The Grosse Pointe Review will honor a member of one of the local football teams and will give him a pair of tickets for a professional or college football game. In addition he will receive a picture of himself in action photographed by a member of the Detroit Lions.

MATRIMONIAL TOUCHDOWNS

Halfback Gerald Lange, returned by the Detroit Lions to the Chicago Cardinals on a look-see player deal, credits football with an assist to Dan Cupid.

Record Turnout Greet St. Paul's Grid Coach

Coach Ed Lauer and his new assistant Sal Vivviano, are putting a squad of 47, the largest in St. Paul High's history through its paces in preparation for their East Side 2nd Division Parochial League opener against St. Bernard on Sunday, Sept. 19, at Grosse Pointe High.

Only four regulars and two subs from the 1947 squad have graduated and 14 lettermen are on hand. The backfield is better balanced than last year's, but lacks an outstanding performer like star left half Paul DuRocher, who graduated in June. Bob Berg, the squad's fastest man, seems to be the answer to filling DuRocher's big shoes.

The Flyers' greatest weakness is at the ends. Jerry Hollerback, the best of last fall's mediocre crop, injured his knee and may be out for the season. John Hoey and Dick Roland are also out temporarily with injuries. To fill the gap, Jim Law, last season's right half has been switched to end. Berg will divide his time between half back and end.

Veteran John Bingham is once again the quarter back. Pete Belanger, of whom great things are expected, has moved from full back to right half and big Don Hartley has been installed as No. 1 full back. Speedy little Don Williams and Duane Streb supply reserve strength at the halves. Because of the lack of experienced receivers, the Flyers will have to gain most of their yardage by rushing, although Bingham, Belanger and Berg are all fair passers.

The brightest spots on the squad are co-captains Pat Hamlin and Harry Hammond. Those two veteran linemen are both about 210 pounds and for two seasons have been one of the League's best tackle and guard combinations. Lauer may have to split them up, however, and use Hamlin as a tackle to bolster the left side of the line where the graduation of tackle John Hulton and guard Vince Oliver has left a big hole. Among the boys trying to replace them are Ed Quirk, Dan Campue, John Auckland, Jack Carpenter and Jim McCarthy.

Hamlin, who is starting his fourth season as a regular, is almost certain to be named to the League "All Star" team and Hammond isn't far behind.

Chuck Wylie has stepped into the center position, vacated by Phil Van Hollenbeck's graduation, but behind him there are no experienced replacements.

If the ends hold up and Belanger and Berk live up to expectations, the Flyers' who will operate from both the T and single wing, will be a major contender for the East Side title. In any case, they should improve on last year's record of 3 wins, 1 tie and 4 losses.

The Parochial League has been reorganized into four sections instead of two. St. Rose and Annunciation have been moved from the East Side to the Central Division, thus St. Paul will have only six League games.

In the opener, St. Paul will be favored to defeat St. Bernard, who they upset last season 13 to 6. All home games are at Grosse Pointe High.

The Flyers clash with their local rivals St. Ambrose on Sept. 26 at Grosse Pointe High. The Cavaliers whipped St. Paul 6 to 0 last fall.

ATTENTION, PARENTS

Dentists Stress Sodium Fluoride To Reduce Children's Dental Decay

Editor's Note: This article is published as a public service. It is of vital importance to Grosse Pointe parents and their children. The discovery that a solution of sodium fluoride applied to children's teeth will reduce dental decay by between 40 and 80 per cent is one of the most significant advances of dental science in recent years." Dr. E. G. Freimuth of Detroit, Publicity Director of the Detroit District Dental Society said in an interview here.

"Detroit local dentists have been using the sodium fluoride application technique for some time and the results are consistent with the research statistics brought out by Dr. John W. Knutsen of the U. S. Public Health Service. So assured are the results of treatment that the routine use of this solution is recommended for private dental offices and in school and community dental health programs by both the Detroit District Dental Society and the U. S. Health Service, and the American Dental Association.

Dr. Freimuth pointed out that dentists have known for many years that large amounts of sugar and other carbohydrates in the form of pastries, ice cream, and sweetened beverages, in the diet constitute a major cause of dental decay. The fact that 98% of the population have dental decay is evidence that far too much carbohydrates find their way into the average American's diet. Research in this field reveals that only 25 lbs. per year of sugar are necessary for energy purposes, but that the average consumption per capita is 145 lbs. Education of the public to the wisdom of an intelligent carbohydrate-modest diet is one of the difficult links to forge in the chain that ties better teeth to better waistlines. Education of the public to the remarkable benefits of sodium fluoride has already progressed to a far reaching degree in the Detroit area.

"The treatment of the child's teeth with fluoride is uncomplicated and relatively inexpensive compared to the benefits. Sixteen separate treatments are given—a series of four treatments at each of the ages 3, 7, 10, and 13 years. Treatments in each series should be not more than twice weekly nor less than once a week for most effective protection," Dr. Freimuth continued. "It is essential that each series be preceded by a cleaning of the teeth."

"Fluorine treatments are not a cure all and do not provide complete protection. The research done by the U. S. Public Health Service established the fact that in any one group of children, a maximum reduction in tooth cavities of 60% and a minimum of 40% was the consistent result—regardless of the number of treatments applied beyond four. It was also disclosed that, in a very few individual exceptions, the fluoride treatments were ineffective. Nor do fluoride applications have any effect on cavities already formed. Those cavities must still be filled by the dentist during the course of treatments. It is, therefore, still necessary to have regular dental examinations to control the decay not prevented.

"The use of fluoride containing tablets, tooth powders, pastes and other commercial preparations is purely experimental and unsupported by any evidence of benefit. Excessive use of some of these may be harmful," he warned.

"One field of, as yet uncompleted, dental research has not been mentioned—the addition of one part per million of fluorine to the drinking water of community water supplies. A thorough program of research in this field is now in progress. It is too early to determine the exact result of fluorination of water as a means of preventing dental decay. It will be several years before the results of these experiments on a grand scale can be measured."

Dr. Freimuth, in conclusion said—"The Detroit District Dental Society recommends fluoride treatment by competent dental personnel for all family members under fifteen years of age. If this advice is followed, each parent can feel that he has done much to safeguard that birthright of each American citizen of tomorrow—a sound mind, a sound body, and a sound set of healthy teeth."

Prep Students Need Math

High school students who hope to go to college should examine the mathematics requirements of the college course they plan to take, a committee of Michigan college mathematicians has warned.

Philip S. Jones, instructor in mathematics at the University of Michigan and a member of the committee, points out that high school graduates may enter college even though they did not take mathematics in high school. However, many college courses of study, particularly in scientific and technical fields, will be closed to them.

"By high school mathematics, we mean at least a year of algebra and a year of geometry," Jones explains. "Many high school students fail to realize that these courses, taken in high school, are required for admission to a great many college classes, not only in science and engineering but also in such fields as economics, nursing, political science, and sociology."
