Business Men Salute Juveniles

Vote of confidence in Grosse Pointe youth was unhesitatingly adopted in the form of a resolution by members of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association at their regular monthly meeting Thursday at Harvard.

Survey made by members of the organization, working with the Police of the five Grosse Pointe Municipalities and Mr. Bartlett, psychologist of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, revealed that there is less than one-quarter of one percent juvenile delinquency in the Grosse Pointe area.

Incidental with the release of the resolution, Mr. Walter Clemenson, principal of Grosse Pointe school, was honored speaker at an evening and had chosen as subject, "What about these juveniles?"

Publicity in the daily metropolitan newspapers, when a Grosse Pointe youngster is mentioned from the straight and narrow, was credited by Clemenson to the mistaken impression that this area has a serious juvenile problem.

Speaker freely admitted that the youth of this community at many times boisterous, and often ill-mannered or unruly, but said he, they are essentially fine and their home life is an underlying factor in their character development.

Clemenson appealed to the businessmen to "pal" with their youth.

POINTE PARAGRAPHS

By David, popular radio personality will emcee the two-hourly show at St. James Lutheran Church, Kercheval at Balfour, Friday, Nov. 14 at 8 p.m.

Members of the Waltham League, sponsors of the program, said that Detroit's outstanding professional artists has been engaged. Local note will be added by appearance of Bill Barrett at Brownell School piano recital. Tickets can be obtained at door.

Despite the numerous applications received in response to a classified ad in this newspaper, Lange, Grosse Pointe interior designer has not been able to find an assistant. He will be glad to interview any young lady who is technically inclined, who knows shorthand.

Harry A. Turner, Grosse Pointe dealer was host to about 100 of his employees at a semi-annual dinner at Hagen's Cafe last Friday.

Following the dinner the group moved to Turner's spacious new building where they enjoyed films of college grid games.

The hometowns of both candidates for governor failed to support them. Sigler's native Battle Creek favored Williams. And Grosse Pointe which is home to Governor-elect supported Sigler.

Grab your partner and swing to the right, this Square Dance will be among the numbers featured by the Brenens at the Square Dance sponsored by the PFA on Friday, Nov. 19 at 8 p.m. at the school gym.

Photo Reprinted from Grosse Pointe Review September 23, 1948. The news significance of this picture of G. Mennen Williams and his family is that its old. In fact it first appeared in the Review on Thursday, Sept. 23 when other publications across the state referred to him as a "Grosse Pointe" playboy refusing to consider him as a serious candidate. Shortly after the election this picture was duplicated on the front pages of virtually every major newspaper in Michigan. Seen with the governor-elect and the next first lady of the state are their three children from left to right, Gary, 7; Nancy, 5; and Wendy, 2. Seestory.

MICHIGAN NEWSPAPERS PICK-UP STORY

"Williams Story" Told First in Review Others Ignore Grosse Pointe Candidate

The "Williams Story" featured now in newspapers in Detroit and across the state, first appeared exclusively in The Grosse Pointe Review on Thursday, September 23.

Even after G. Mennen Williams gained the Democrat nomination for governor in the September primary no publication, other than the Review, paid much attention to the local heir to a shaving cream fortune.

The Review, however, carried a front page picture (reprinted again on this page) story of the Williams family which resides at their Hillcrest road home and a general sketch on the lives of the young candidate and his charming wife.

Thus the Review in telling the Williams story first fashioned a pattern adopted by Metropolitan dailies and major weeklies throughout Michigan.

Shortly after Sigler conceded defeat to the 38-year-old Princeton graduate, the Williams home became a bedlam of activity.

Newspapers converted Mrs. Williams' parlor into a city desk room packed with reporters, photographers, society writers and biographers.

Amidst all this attention and confusion "Soapy" stopped to remember the Review for being the first newspaper to recognize his efforts.

At the meeting Monday, Ward headed a group of Park residents from the area affected bearing a petition of 29 names, property owners on the 1400 block of Lakepointe and Maryland.

This group stated that the closing would not be to the best interests of the village or to them particularly.

In view of the new opposition the council plans to invite all parties at the next meeting, Nov. 22 for another hearing.

WOMEN DRIVERS FINED Farms police disclosed that they issued tickets to reckless driving to women motorists whose cars were involved in an accident at McKinley and Williams. Their names were withheld by police.

Community Proclaims Williams

As soon as the people of Grosse Pointe recovered from the great political revolution, they lost no time to congratulate G. Mennen Williams, Michigan's new chief executive whose defeat of Governor Sigler paralleled Truman's triumph over Dewey.

Williams' victory marks the second time in the history of Michigan that its people elected a Grosse Pointe man to head the state administration.

In 1930, Wilbur M. Brucker led the Republican party to victory.

Politically speaking, Williams a new deal Democrat was considered an ugly duckling in this staunch republican district which saw voters favor his opponent three to one.

However with all the requisites of good American citizens, Grosse Pointe men and women, both Republicans and Democrats joined local municipal officials in offering their good faith and cooperation for a successful administration.

Countless residents visited the Hillcrest home of the young governor-elect to express their congratulations.

Wires and telephone calls from well-wishers throughout the community and across the state poured in.

James N. Watkins, president of Grosse Pointe Farms, Williams' home municipality, personally delivered congratulations that included a resolution adopted by the council at a special session proclaiming Williams the first man of the state.

Park's First Official Dies

Grosse Pointe paid final tribute Saturday to one of its pioneer residents and first president of Grosse Pointe Park, Dr. Herman Kreit, 82, who died last Thursday, at his home, 16004 E. Jefferson.

Dr. Kreit, who was born in Detroit and spent all his life here, was a member of University of Michigan's Dental Class of 1893.

After he left Ann Arbor he fashioned a highly successful career. He was the first professional man to establish offices in the David Whitney building, in downtown Detroit, address of some of this country's outstanding medical and dental men.

A civic minded citizen, he was elected to the Grosse Pointe council in 1907, two years later he was named president.

After his retirement in 1925, Dr. Kreit became a world traveler, making 27 trips to Europe alone.

THEY NEED YOUR SUPPORT

Representing three of the 125 Red Feather Agencies which are supported by the Community Chest are from left to right Bob Schaller, 1140 Yorkshire, of Boy Scout Troop 19; Marlene Reno, 848 Neff, Camp Fire Girl, (Waokiya Group) and Marie Pongracz, 782 Notre Dame, of Girl Scout troop 303. The G. P. Chapter of the Community Chest needs your support to reach the 1948 goal of $272,764. The drive ends on Nov. 17. And as the youngsters remind you "Give . . . Give enough."

Poll (NO CRACKS PLEASE) Finds Pointers Surprised, Sad, Happy

Frank amazement was the chief reaction of Grosse Pointers at the election results, according to a Review poll taken among many who were still speculating on the cause of the unexpected triumph for the Democratic party.

"It sure was an upset!" said Mrs. Howard Camp, of 1609 Roslyn. "It was a surprise after all those polls and everything. But, like Dewey said, we'll all have to get together now and cooperate."

"Well, I'm very much disappointed and quite surprised," admitted Mrs. Robert Harris, of 801 Fisher, who attributes the cause to overconfidence among the Republican voters.

"I think, as much as anything else, that it was that a lot of us didn't get out to vote because we felt that the outcome was well taken care of, anyhow," she said.

Mrs. H. C. Kerr, of 345 Roosevelt, also was quite dismayed about the election. Mrs. Kerr believes that the results would have been different had it not been for certain votes in the Southern region won by Gov. J. Strom Thurmond.

Gun Shot Kills Woods Resident

Funeral services were held Monday for Raymond Bakeman, 50, of 1789 Anita who was found dead Saturday in the basement of his home.

Grosse Pointe Woods police reported that death was caused by a self-inflicted gun shot.

Mr. Bakeman, who had been ill for a long period, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Catherine Bakeman, 87, and a sister, Mrs. Tom Rover, both of the Anita address.

NAME PARK OFFICER James Cannon, Park police officer, was named to serve on the Michigan Municipal Employees Retirement System at a state wide meeting held at Lansing last week.

Cannon along with William Johnson, Village controller attended the conference as Park representatives.

NEW MENACE Woods police reported that they are looking for four teen aged boys who threatened a group of 12-year-old boys with Army bayonets.

The Grosse Pointe army of Community Chest volunteer workers are steadily approaching their goal of $272,764. Reports late Tuesday disclosed that this area had passed the $108,370 mark.

Mrs. David Wallace, Grosse Pointe district chairman, was very hopeful that the local quota would be reached before the drive ends Nov. 17.

She urged those who have not yet contributed to the Community Chest which supports 125 Red Feather agencies to do so now by calling the district office at the Neighborhood Club, Waterloo near Neff road, TU. 1-1257.

According to official report Tuesday, Grosse Pointe Shores with 49.05 per cent of its goal raised was leading the five Pointe municipalities.

Review Offers More Pictures, Local Features

A picture story on the colorful "Around the World Christmas Fair" is among the scintillating features in the Grosse Pointe Review this week.

Another exclusive feature is Mrs. G. Mennen Williams', Michigan's new first lady, story of the election.

On the sport pages you will find pictures and stories about Grosse Pointe athletes, particularly the two young huskies, Bill Barrett and Charles Shaw who won the "Grider of the Week" award.

Within the front page is also three pages chock full of society and club news.

We also point with pride this week to the "Pointe on Parade" picture story, also an exclusive Review feature.

Remember for more local features, for more local news, Read the Review Regularly.

ORPHANS OF DEMOCRACY

5,000 qualified persons in Grosse Pointe did not vote in this country's great election last week.

They were part of an army of 5,000,000 supposedly American citizens who ignored the privilege of casting a ballot.

They did not have the time to bother with the future of America.

Though they stayed at home this group will be the first to cry—the first to criticize the successful candidates.

They will be the first to strike at the results of the election.

They demand a voice in this country's administration but when the opportunity prevails for them to support their own convictions they refuse to do so.

They allow their neighbors to carry the ball—to carry the burden—while they sit back, relax and criticize the results.

This group of men and women, who willfully ignore the right to vote are no credit to the Republicans, Democrats or any party.

They are not on the winning side—they are not on the losing side—they are on the outside of the American Way of Life; Orphans of a Democracy.

PRAISE CIVIC MINDED CITIZENS

We would like to take this space to recognize the tireless and unselfish efforts of the Grosse Pointe men and women and civic organizations who campaigned to get voters to the polls last week.

The Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club, the Women's Republican Club, the Woods Republican Club and other organizations and individuals provided transportation, baby sitters and other conveniences to accommodate the local voter.

The Kiwanis toured the Woods area with a public address system urging all to "Get out and Vote," offering taxi service.

This proved effective as the Woods led all other local municipalities in response with 85 per cent of its registration voting.

We also commend the contingent of competent officials and non-officials who handled the local election in such an efficient manner. They worked continuously from the first vote Tuesday until the last ballot was counted Wednesday morning.

JUST COMMENT

With "Soapy" at the helm we can at least expect a clean state administration.

Now that he lost the election Prosecutor McNally can wade into his arch enemy.

That Petrillo union must be stronger than expected, keeping a musician on the job for another four years.

Apparently the Democrats went to the polls while the Republicans just believed in them.

How about conducting a poll to learn what people think of polls?

GIRL INJURED

Nancy Wurmberger, 12, of 964 Washington road, suffered a broken ankle while playing at school. She was taken to Cottage hospital by Farms police.

HEALTH REPORT

The Grosse Pointe Township Health Department reported the following communicable diseases in October: Chickenpox, 7; Mumps, 3; Measles, Tuberculosis, Polio, one each.

Is This Trip Necessary?

The first great journey has ended for these youngsters... tired, hungry and lost. But the lady at the Travelers Aid has handled hundreds of youthful adventures like these. Soon she'll have Mary and Johnny back home. After they've been tucked away in their beds, Mom and Dad will sigh with relief and blow the lady at the Travelers Aid, one of the Red Feather services that help everybody in our town. That's why everybody gives to the Community Chest. Make sure you give enough—enough for all Red Feather services—enough for a full year!

Urges Residents To Save Leaves

TO THE EDITOR:

After reading Dr. Stalker's comment on the burning of leaves I would like to make comment.

Previous to moving to the North country we resided at 1221 Lakepointe where each Fall it was one of our delights to rake up the leaves and burn them at the curb. What a wonderful aroma and at the finish, such a small pile to dispose of. There just didn't seem to be any value to these leaves.

Since moving up here and educating ourselves to the ways of the farmer and backwoodsman we are finding ourselves studying ways and means to create rich soil. One of these is by the building of a Compost. Herein, leaves, bark, grass cuttings, etc., find their way to be used as fertilizer, mulch, etc. No more the burning of leaves for they furnish us with a soil food which saves many dollars. Our Rose Bushes, numbering 50 this year have had their share of leaves and showed their appreciation by producing abundantly. We, to, strongly urge people to take advantage of leaves for their value as a soil builder, mulch, etc.

We also have a suggestion or two to add which may interest some garden growers. We do not throw our garbage away. We bury it among the flowers, trees, etc. It decays into rich food for the earth. Our only drawback up here though is the animals which forage around at night such as Raccoon, possibly dogs and assuredly the Skunk. To cure this condition we throw in a little lime which helps to sweeten the soil and sour the animals taste for digging in that spot.

Leelanau which affords us ample fishing we do not emphasize the value of the angle worm as a fish getter but as a Top Soil expert far beyond the average persons comprehension. Through his digestive system, the worm produces the richest black or top soil and when we see one toiling the top of the earth we quell the urge to "can" him for fishing or "heel" him out of this world but instead try and steer him over to our piece of property so that he can work for us.

Very truly yours, BILL PRITCHARD Lake Leelanau, Mich.

Educators Thank Review

ALL HONOR to America's Fighting Men! To men who wear the uniform of the United States Armed Forces—Army, Navy and Air Force, Marines and Coast Guard—the people of this nation owe a full measure of respect and gratitude. They have taken on one of the most important tasks ever shouldered by a body of young men—the preservation of Peace in an uncertain world. For that great service to mankind, we honor them.

ARMISTICE DAY, NOVEMBER 11 Armistice Day, 1948. Day of remembrance, day of hope. To the all-Volunteer Armed Forces of the United States, America pays special tribute on this anniversary.

Every man in uniform is a living symbol of the ideals for which so many Americans gave their lives on fields of battle. Working for peace, they carry our future in their capable hands.

No one knows better than they the importance of a strong America to a peaceful world. No one contributes more to the preservation of our safety and liberty.

Our Soldiers, Sailors and Airmen, Marines and Coast Guardsmen rate a special salute from a grateful nation on this Armistice Day.

Park Saves Traffic Toll On Sewer Job Hits High Mark

Everitt B. Lane, Park manager told the village council Monday that the sewage project south of Jefferson along Essex and Hally place was completed at a total cost of $16,000, far below the estimated sum of $25,000.

The council complimented the administration for the fine record on this project.

Lane also reported that the tree trimming program was completed. This job saw 766 trees treated at a cost of $3,116.

During the meeting the council accepted the high bid of $870 for the purchase of 1946 Ford car used by the village police department.

Well! Well! Wallace Gets 172 Votes Here

Don Goodrow, Township clerk reported that the Progressive Party candidate, Henry Wallace, received 136 votes in the Township, which includes the Park, Farms, Shores and Woods.

Norbert Neff, City clerk, said that Wallace garnered 36 votes from City voters.

It cost 251 million dollars for maintenance of the entire Navy in 1935; in 1945 the Navy's food bill alone was over 670 million.

and civic leaders offered their praise and support to this Princeton graduate who conducted a "Cinderella Campaign" to become the people's choice.

Many suppressed their own political disappointments to cite admiration for this neighbor elevated to guide the state in these precarious times.

They know he has a tough job ahead.

The ex-naval officer told the Review that he intended to conduct an administration for all the people and not any particular group.

Though it was too premature to discuss any project that might directly benefit Grosse Pointe, Williams said that he would motivate action to eliminate the pollution problem which has been a major menace to this area for many years.

The young attorney, tagged "Soapy" because he is an heir to the Mennen shaving cream fortune, also stated that he would gear the State Highway Department to improve conditions of Jefferson and Kercheval avenues.

He said that he plans to cooperate completely with Frederick Alger, Jr., Grosse Pointe republican, who was retained as Secretary of State.

Schools Save $250,000 Educators Thank Review

John R. Barnes superintendent of Grosse Pointe public schools joined the Board of Education in expressing his gratitude to The Grosse Pointe Review for its wide support of the school district's appeal for a vote of No on proposal two, and Yes on proposal five.

Last week election saw the voters decide in favor of the school district on both counts.
Proposal two advocated the repeal of the Sales Tax Diversion Law which contributes to the support of school districts, cities, townships and villages.

The local school district would have lost approximately $250,000 annually if it had been accepted, greatly impairing the education program.

Proposal five acceptance removes the handcuffs off the school improvement program by effecting two important changes.
It permits a majority of the votes to approve tax millages above the 16 mill comstitutional maximum. The former requirement for approval was a two-thirds vote.

The second change allows voters to approve bond issues for school buildings for periods up to

Announce Troth Of Una Lundberg

Una Lundberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Lundberg, of Oxford road, Grosse Pointe, has joined the ranks of brides-elect.

Her engagement to James S. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Smith, of Fisher road, was formally announced on Monday, November 8, at an afternoon tea in the Lundberg home.

Friends of Mrs. Lundberg and Una had been invited to what ostensibly was just an autumn party. The surprise news of the troth was revealed from the tea table where a miniature bride centered a large, simulated engagement ring made of white flowers. Tiny napkins carried the names "Una and Jim."

The bride-to-be was dressed in steel blue satin made with a square neckline, short sleeves and full skirt of afternoon length. She wore a corsage of red rosebuds. Mrs. Lundberg chose a black crepe afternoon dress, with drapery in the skirt, for the party. Una's sister, Mrs. Harold L. Bohm, assisted around the rooms.

With the troth news, plans for a late spring wedding were told. Una attended Grosse Pointe Country Day School, Grosse Pointe High and Stephens College at Columbia, Mo. Her fiance attended Leelanau College after graduating from D.U.S.

HOW THE COMMUNITY CHEST GOT ITS START

Back in '37, the people of Denver called a meeting to ask, "Isn't there a better way for our charities to raise funds than by separate drives?"

Out of that meeting the Chest idea was born. Four men of God—two ministers, a priest, and a rabbi—were among its inspired leaders. Time has proved how far-sighted they were.

Our Community Chest substitutes order and economy for the chaos and waste of a flood of separate drives, ensures fair distribution of funds. And today as in '37 it unites citizens of all faiths in serving and giving for the good of the whole community.

Can you answer these questions about our Community Chest?

- Q What are the Red Feather services?
A They are 125 approved services considered essential to the well-being of our home town.
- Q How much money do they need?
A $5,975,000
- Q How do we know?
A A committee of our citizens has studied the needs of the community and the budgets of each agency. Incidentally, the high cost of living has affected every community service, too. Costs of food, clothing, medicine, building, upkeep—they're way up for Red Feather services just as they are for you.
- Q Who decides how much each Red Feather service gets?
A Our committee weighs the importance of each service to this community . . . and allocates the funds accordingly.
- Q How does "everybody benefits" from the Community Chest?
A It is estimated that two out of every five families in town use one or more Red Feather services during a given year. They are the direct beneficiaries. Actually, of course, every one of us benefits when we live in a town where community spirit and conscience really protect young people, strengthen family life, provide health and medical services, care for the helpless, handicapped and aged. Wouldn't you say so?
- Q Are these all to which I may be asked to contribute during the next 12 months?
A NO—The Community Chest includes 125 agencies which represent 95 per cent of the worthwhile local services that are not supported by taxes. There are other worthy causes, deserving of your support, which have not elected to join the united campaign.
- Q Do I have to pay my pledge all at once?
A No, indeed. You may pay at several periods during the year when it is most convenient. The Community Chest pledge plan enables you to give more than you can give now. Your word is as good as your bond.

Everybody benefits... Everybody gives

COMMUNITY CHEST

When you give... give enough

Willing's Quote Epitomizes Woman's Prediction of Victory

Election Port Made By First Lady

Willing's quote, "A woman's vote is far more accurate than a man's," (or a pollster's prediction) epitomizes the result of a pre-election survey made by Mrs. G. Menninger about the possibility of her husband becoming Michigan governor.

Willing declared to the Republican after his nomination... course, I'm only his wife, but I think he is just the person I don't think they've ever seen of his caliber before, has the ideal background for the job of being governor.

Willing's faith in her husband is not, perhaps, on what she has his finest characteristic of being so absolutely sure of it holds, too, with a peace about his being so fully immersed in his political career that he seems to be on a one track.

It could also possibly be a highly educational training school. At that time, the school admitted little boys until the third grade.

Willington University graduate, Williams is also an alumnus of Detroit University School, located in Indian Village from his Grosse Pointe home, and the University of Michigan where he met and married Nancy Quirk, of Ypsilanti.

Willington was in law school and I was a graduate majoring in Service," explained Mrs. Williams. "We became engaged when I graduated, but my father insisted that I finish my education—for which I'm grateful now—so we waited until we were married in my home a week after I graduated."

Willington's eleven years of life, the new Governor's family have lived in Grosse Pointe, D. C. Ypsilanti, Lansing and finally settling down in beautiful Cape Cod furnished home on Hillcrest which purchased with their own money.

It was for this reason that Williams chose to mortgage home to finance their campaign. "His family is so very Republican," Mrs. Williams explained when he decided to run for governorship, he also decided that it wouldn't be fair to them or himself to use the family fortune.

At the time Williams announced his decision to join the Democratic Party, his parents argued, believing that he was entitled to his own opinion. Broadmindedness has been a part in all of Williams' early life and education, which has been that of any other son of a wealthy family.

The present site of the Detroit Historical Museum was the birthplace of the son of the Henry P. Williams on Feb. 23, 1911, who was baptized Gerhard Mennen Williams. He was later nicknamed "Soapy" by a chum at a Wyoming dude ranch where he was vacationing.

His academic brilliance became apparent while even in prep school in Connecticut, where he achieved the highest marks in the school's history and was chosen head prefect. And his athletic activities there in the ski, basketball, and football teams proved helpful experience when he later entered the sports events at Princeton and the University of Michigan.

He graduated as a Phi Beta Kappa from Princeton, and from the University of Michigan with the Order of Coif as one of the top ten men of his class. Not that all of his youth was spent at schools. A great part of his vacation periods were spent touring Europe on several occasions, including a bicycle trip through Brittany and Normandy, and two trips to Russia.

With his marriage to Nancy in 1937, Williams settled down to his career and family life in earnest, with the exception of four years of Naval service when he emerged from the Pacific campaign with the rank of lieutenant commander. His wife doesn't bother him too much with domestic problems. She believes he would rather spend the small amount of home life he does enjoy in being with his three children, Gary, 7, Nancy, 5, and Wendy, 2, or indulging in a bit of exercise or reading. Although, as Nancy put it, "He reads a lot, but most of his reading is apt to be on the government."

Nor does he interfere with her fairly rigid regime for the care of the children, leaving disciplinary measures for Nancy's judgement. But both parents see to it that the children live as normal a life as possible, putting them in the care of a nursemaid during frequent parental absences. "The children look a great deal like each other, but not too much like either of us," laughed Mrs. Williams. "About the one thing they resemble their father in is that they are all gigantic. Gary is only a little boy, but he is already wearing a size 14 suit."

Both he and Nancy attend Grosse Pointe Country Day School, and while their father is on the junior faculty at St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral, the children go to Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

The Williams' also share a great many personal friends whom they don't ever find time enough to enjoy as much as they would like, according to Mrs. Williams. The fact that many of their friends are Republicans, she considers it as making it all the more interesting. "I think it is always more stimulating when you have two people who disagree than two people who agree. But, by and large, I think most people respect his views, even if they don't agree. It seems to me, our friends are more concerned with him as an individual than anything else."

While Mrs. Williams did admit that their life before the election was "anything but regular," she definitely plans to make the Governor slow up his vigorous pace a bit now that the campaign is over. But whether the First Lady may accomplish this remains to be seen. Especially so should the results, like her pre-election belief in his winning, be the same in another declaration she made that "if he wins, our life will never be normal again!"

THEY TAKE TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

Emphasizing the theme of their "Around the World Christmas Fair, to be held at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe on Thursday, November 18 are three of the many Grosse Pointe women who are busy completing plans for the colorful fair. From left to right they are Miss Merrill McClintock, Mrs. Lansing M. Pittman and Miss Elizabeth Robb. They are wearing ruffled aprons of white candy striped plastic material which they will don as waitresses at the Fair's supper. Highlighting the benefit sale this year will be a number of booths marking the nations of the world.

Mother and Dad and the children too will find a visit to the "Around the World Christmas Fair" at the Christ Church, Grosse Pointe on Nov. 18 a delightful and profitable way to spend a few hours. Besides an array of colorful booths offering on sale the goods of the world, other special innovations have been included this year to make the Fair the most attractive in its colorful history. Among them is a Children's Shopping Corner where the younger set will be able to select a fine gift for other members of the family. Prices will be well within the range of a youngster's Christmas budget.

Another special feature inaugurated this year is a Personalized Shopping Service for those who will not be able to attend the Fair. This service can be obtained by calling Mrs. Wesson Seymour, 16850 E. Jefferson, N.E. 0800. A great deal of interest again is centered on the Supper Committee which is busy completing plans for the supper which will be served from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Robert Evans, decoration committee chairman, promises gay decorations, including table cloths colored in red and white candy stripes and Christmas candles. She is assisted by Mrs. Alexander Wiener, Mrs. Frederick Duffield and Mrs. C. B. Among the waitresses who will wear ruffled aprons of the same striped plastic material are Elizabeth Robb, Hazel Wood, Mer-teuffer, Ann Crouse, Marian Campbell, Elizabeth Archer, Peggy Gottfredson, Betsy Holton, Nancy Chapman and Gertrude Whelden.

Also mesdames Dan Simmons, H. F. Smith, Jr., Alfred Marks, John Chapin, and Lansing Pittman. Working with Co-Chairmen Mrs. Wood Williams and Mrs. Hiram Walker, on the Supper Committee are: Mrs. J. L. Scobell, Mrs. Andrew Barr, Mrs. Harold D. Baker, Mrs. Charles B. Crouse, Mrs. John E. Ford, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Stoepel and Mrs. Madeline Wan Leyer.

Tickets for the supper can be obtained at the Junior League Shoppe and the Sign of the Mermaid, on Kercheval near Fisher road and at Christ Church.

Vassar Head Cites Need Of Education

About 200 people from Grosse Pointe and the surrounding area attended the dinner meeting in honor of Sarah Gibson Blanding, President of Vassar College, which was held at the Country Club of Detroit, on Tuesday evening. The subject of her speech was higher education for women in the world of today. She stressed the importance of training college women in civic responsibility and an awareness of community problems.

Before attending the dinner, Miss Blanding met with students from the Grosse Pointe High School, Liggett School, and Grosse Pointe Country Day School, with whom she discussed the subject of college education in general, and the program at Vassar in particular. During these interviews she was accompanied by the President of the Vassar Club in Detroit, Mrs. Wendell C. Goddard, with whom Miss Blanding stayed while in Grosse Pointe.

The Vassar Club of Detroit is organized for the purpose of finding girls in the community who are deserving of scholarship help at Vassar, and raise money for the scholarship fund. Miss Elaine Wallace, an alumna of Vassar, is chairman of this year's fund raising project which is the sale of packaged pecans for the holiday season.

6 Pointe Garden Clubs Organize Community Planning Council

Fifteen representatives of six Grosse Pointe Garden Clubs met for luncheon at the Country Club last Wednesday, to organize a Garden Council for Community Planning and Beautification in the five Grosse Pointe villages. Officers for the new council are Mrs. Frederick J. Schumann, Chairman; Mrs. William H. Fries, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. Thomas E. Mann, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. Arthur E. Fleming, Publicity.

The purpose of the new Council was well phrased when Mrs. Mann moved that "this meeting constitute itself a Council of representatives from the Grosse Pointe Garden Clubs for the purpose of stimulating town planning and beautification in the five Grosse Pointe villages."

The organization of an inter-town garden council was no sudden impulse. It grew out of a series of meetings, begun by the Grosse Pointe Park Garden Club at the DAC luncheon just a year ago, when Marion Holden Bemis, Assistant Director of the Citizens' Housing and Planning Council spoke on the responsibility of garden clubs to encourage town planning and civic beautification.

From that first meeting the idea spread to other clubs. Last June representatives of seven Pointe garden clubs met at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club to discuss the possibility of an inter-town Garden Council, and promised to present the idea to their individual clubs as soon as possible. Mrs. Bemis again stressed the idea that town planning in the five villages should be coordinated into one over-all Master Plan for the Grosse Pointe area, and suggested that after a Plan Commission had been set up in each town, an over-all commission might be constituted with a representative from each of the village plan commissions, to work with a technical planner on a Master Plan.

Three of the Grosse Pointe towns now have working plan commissions: Grosse Pointe Park recently reorganized its commission, with Mr. Harold S. Ellington as Chairman; Grosse Pointe Shores has a new commission; and Grosse Pointe Woods has had a commission for several years.

Members of the Grosse Pointe Park Garden Club, which has an active civic beautification committee of which Mrs. Frederick G. Jones is chairman, attended the second meeting of the Park Plan Commission, and were interested to hear Mr. Ellington stress the need for the best professional advice obtainable, and to hear Mr. Everitt B. Lane, village manager, suggest the possibility of hiring a town planner who would also be acceptable to the other towns, so that plans could be coordinated.

With traffic more and more of a nuisance and shopping centers rapidly becoming overcrowded, it is becoming obvious to residence of Grosse Pointe that a Master Plan is badly needed to preserve the living values of this attractive locality. While zoning is important, it cannot be adequately done until a plan has been made for coordinated land use in the larger area that includes the five towns. While a Master Plan for the total area is badly needed it will be ineffective until all residents and property owners of the Grosse Pointe area are aroused to the importance of planning before it is too late.

Beat Mt. Clemens" Is Cry of Blue Devils

Geared To End Season With Win

By JOHN SANFORD
 Review Junior Correspondent
 "Beat Mt. Clemens" will be the Blue Devil gridders' cry this Saturday when they take the opponent's field for their last game of the season.

Although vastly improved from their early season form the Pointers will meet a formidable opponent in the Bathers. Mt. Clemens will present substantially the same line-up that beat the Blue Devils 3-0 last year. However, Grosse Pointe has proved before in the Highland Park game that they are capable of pulling an upset when the chips are down.

A Devil victory would bring this season's record up to 4 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie which would match last year's record exactly.

Led by hard luck Tom Follis, who was named "Grigger of the Week" earlier this year, the Pointers evened things up with Port Huron last Saturday to the tune of a 26-13 score. Follis, playing his last home game for the Devils, ran wild over the heavier Huron line.

St. Paul "11" Winds Up Year With 7-0 Loss

By JOHNNY ENGLEHARD
 Review Junior Correspondent
 St. Paul's Flyers finished their 1948 season on the gridiron in disappointment, last Sunday, as they were defeated by a lowly St. Francis De Sales team that hadn't won a game all season. The score was 15-6.

It was evident that the long bus ride to Cooley High School, far out on the West Side, took plenty out of the St. Paul team. They lacked the pep and spirit shown in previous games. Also they were without the services of quarterback John Bingham, halfback Don Hartlage and center Tom Berg who were sidelined for various reasons. To add to St. Paul's woes, captain Harry Hammond, star tackle, was injured early in the first period and was lost the rest of the game.

St. Francis scored the only touchdown of the game in the first quarter when halfback Bob Flinck dove over from the three yard line, clearing a sixty-five yard drive. St. Francis made the point on a plunge and the score was 7-0. Three periods later when the game ended the score was the same.

The Flyers overall record for the season stands at five wins against three losses. Eleven seniors will be missing from the Flyer squad when the "49" season rolls around. They are: Ende, Jack Hoey, Jerry Hollerback, Jimmie Law, and Dick Rolland; Tackles, Harry Hammond and Jack Carpenter; Guards, Pat Hamlin, and John Aucklin; Centre, Chuck Wylie; Quarterback, John Bingham; and Halfback John Englehard.

It was a keenly contested, hard fought season and good sportsmanship flourished whether the game was won, lost, or tied.

Brownell, Pierce Huskies Share "Grigger of the Week" Award

Two husky youngsters share the Grosse Pointe Review's "Grigger of the Week" award this week. They are Bill Barrett, 13, an eighth grader at Brownell Junior High; and Charles Shaw, who is in the ninth grade at Pierce Junior High.

The youths are both backfield men in the two schools' vast intramural football league.

Bill, who according to his coach, Frank Banach, is one of the most promising athletes at Brownell, is the one bright mark in the team's bad record this season.

Despite Bill's stellar play, the Brownell's heavyweight entry has yet to win in three starts. In two of these games, Bill made runs of 65 yards and 75 yards to score both times.

Besides being the team's leading ground gainer Bill also handles the punting duties. He is a spirited youth gifted with plenty of natural ability.

The youngster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Standford Barrett, of 340 Eberly road. He weighs 135 pounds and stands 5 feet 7 1/2 inches tall.

Bill's ability as an athlete was also recognized last summer at the Metropolitan Field Day when he won so many first prizes that the officials barred him from further competition to give the other boys a chance.

Though Bill can prove himself in any sport, he stated that he likes football best.

"I've been playing football since I was six years old," he said. "I sure would like to play with Notre Dame some day."

Charles, Pierce's representative on the honor list. He was recommended for the award by his Coach James Anderson.

Anderson stated that young Charles is not only a good football player; but also possesses leadership qualities and spirit which make him one of the most valuable and most popular players on the squad.

From his fullback position, sharing the punting and running, "Chuck" has netted 27 points for the Pierce (Reds) Heavyweights. The team has won four games in five starts.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Shaw, of 1625 Brys. Young Charles is a big lad for his age, 5 feet 11 inches tall, tipping the scales at 155 pounds.

However Grosse Pointe High school may lose a good prospect for its eleven as Mr. Shaw is planning to move to Owosso, Michigan soon. If so Charles expects to try out for the Owosso High team next year.

Both lads were proud to win the award and pleased to hear that this newspaper invited them to attend the Detroit Lions-Chicago Bears game at Briggs stadium as its guests.

The Brownell-Pierce Schools Intramural League is the cradle of future football stars at the high school. Here hundreds of boys under the guidance of coaches Banach and Anderson, learn the fundamentals of football and how to win and to lose.

This week marks the final selection of a "Grigger of the Week" in accord with the conclusion of local high school play. The popular feature will be resumed next season.

Two performances will be given one at 2 p.m. and the other at 8 p.m.

 The Detroit Lions' sixth victory over Green Bay in a series 31 games old was Bo McMillin's first triumph as a coach in the National Football League. The 24-20 victory was achieved October 31 in Detroit.

Martucci's Run Wins For Locals

In a thrilling contest that kept more than 300 fans on edge until the final minute of play, St. Ambrose High School defeated St. Catherine 26 to 25 on the latter's gridiron to conclude its 1948 season.

St. Ambrose's Frank Martucci added to the excitement when he raced 80 yards to score the winning touchdown.

The contest marked the end of a very successful season for the St. Ambrose eleven under the guidance of Coach Chuck Beer.

Low Scores Mark Business Men's League Bowling

Amid general low scores, Mack-Nottingham bowlers continued to set the pace in the Grosse Pointe Business Men's League by virtue of their four point win over Kennelly Catering Wednesday at Vogue Recreation.

Other games saw Grosse Pointe Curtains pull out of an extended slump to defeat the local Printer's entry by four points. Val Van Meerhaege sparked the victors with a 532 aided by Bus Millers' 528.

Also four pointer winners were Oak Cleaners and Belding Cleaners. Oak beat Boutin's Service to move in the first division; and Beldings setback Turner.

Art Louwers led the 200 or better contingent by hitting the 210 mark. Others in this group were Ed Frahm, 206; Rich Lundberg, 206; Bob Gilmore, 202; Gil Sarikson, 201; and Val Van Meerhaege.

'Pointe on Parade' Relates Story of Neighborhood Club

Forty years ago, a group of Detroit women, having summer homes on Lake St. Clair, felt a growing need for recreational facilities in the Grosse Pointe area. Among them were Mrs. Russell A. Alger, Mrs. Murray W. Sales, Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, and Miss Jessie Hendrie. The Mutual Aid and Neighborhood Club, as the Neighborhood Club was first known, was then formed and occupied property on Oak Street.

The Club had the first gymnasium in the Grosse Pointe area. Later, larger quarters were built on Oak Street, again offering the only gymnasium in the Pointe.

As the community grew, and larger quarters were again required, Mr. D. M. Perry, Jr., donated the present site of eight acres on Waterloo between St. Clair and Nef Road. The present building was built in 1928.

The Neighborhood Club, a Red Feather Agency, has a large gymnasium, sixty feet by ninety feet, club rooms, dining rooms, kitchen, locker rooms and offices. On the grounds there are base ball and soft ball diamonds and six tennis courts, besides facilities for horse shores, volley and basketball, football and a tiny tot playground.

Mr. George Elworthy, the Director of Neighborhood Club, is now in his thirtieth year with that organization. He is shown above, on the steps of the building, talking with some of the young people who come daily to take advantage of the many activities offered by the Club.

According to Mr. Elworthy, the Club is supported in part by membership dues from about one thousand members and by rentals from various civic organizations, by the Thrift Shop next door, and the deficit is made up by the Detroit Community Fund, Red Feather Agency. In recent years the Public Welfare Offices for the City of Grosse Pointe and for Grosse Pointe Township have been maintained and operated in this building.

Approximately twenty eight thousand people made use of the Club's facilities each month during this past summer and about eight thousand use it monthly during the remainder of the year. The Club is considered by the American Playground Association and the Federation of Settlements to be one of the foremost community recreational clubs in the country, and has served as a model in several large cities.

Next week's subject will be Christ Church, one of Grosse Pointe's oldest churches.
