Famous Chorus In Concert At Music Hall

The Yale Glee Club, consisting of fifty-three undergraduates of the University and their famous leader, Marshall Bartholomew, will journey here from New Haven, Conn., on Saturday, December 18, to present a concert at Music Hall. The Whiffenpoofs, a small, informal singing organization, will also sing. Proceeds from the ticket sale for the concert will go to the Yale Scholarship fund of Michigan. Through the efforts of the Yale Alumni Association of Michigan, the fund provides a scholarship for a Michigan boy in each of three classes at Yale, and a fourth scholarship is in the process of being established.

December 18 will mark the Yale Glee Club's first appearance in Detroit since before the war. This year the concert replaces the annual Yale dance. However, the Committee states that it is hoped that the dance will be repeated any year that the Glee Club is not able to include Detroit in its itinerary.

This Christmas holiday, the Glee Club's schedule includes Albany, Syracuse, Detroit, Toledo, Grand Rapids, and Chicago. The Yale Glee Club is internationally as well as nationally famous, having appeared not only in every principal city in the United States, but having been four times to Europe, singing before kings and dictators as well as fellow students.

In 1941, Yale singing did its best to cement hemisphere good will with a trip to South America where their trip included 13,000 miles and twenty-five concerts. The fact that the Yale Glee Club is highly regarded in musical circles is substantiated by its having won on two occasions the National Championship in the Intercollegiate Glee Club Contests participated in by student choruses from all parts of the United States. All this was accomplished under the direction of Marshall Bartholomew who has been directing the Yale Glee Club since 1921.

Tickets for the concert are on sale at Grinnell's and in addition applications for tickets may be obtained at the Junior League Shop in Grosse Pointe.

George B. Hefferan, President of the Yale Alumni Association of Michigan, is cooperating with Alexander Wiener, Chairman of the Concert Committee in formulating plans for the Glee Club's week-end visit in Detroit. Their Committee includes Courtney Rankin, William Gage, Jr., H. Hunter Williams, William G. Lerchen, Jr., William Curran, John C. Chapin, Frank Werneken, Sr., Frederick C. Ford, and Thomas Tillery.

Members of the Glee Club will stay over-night in the homes of Grosse Pointers and will be entertained on Sunday afternoon, before entraining for Toledo, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ford, Jr. Following the concert, they will also attend the Junior League membership dance which will be held at the Country Club on Dec. 18.

Grosse Pointe has a particular interest in this year's Yale Glee Club in that the only Michigan member of the Club is William Young Gard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gard of Washington Road.

There are two things to aim at in life: first, to get what you want; and, after that, to enjoy it. Only the wisest of mankind achieve the second.

Famous College Club To Present Musical Here

The Mask and Wig Club of the University of Pennsylvania, will give its sixty first annual musical extravaganza to Detroit, Jan. 4th. The single performance will be staged at the Art Institute Theatre. This will be the first time since 1925 that this famous organization has appeared in Detroit. The return of this famous old club to Detroit follows close upon selection of a mid-western section of the club by the late, former Governor Harold E. Essen as President of the University of Pennsylvania. Western members of the Institute founded Benjamin Franklin feel that the University are now looking toward the west instead of centering their attention entirely on the east. Among the members of the club in the past are students from Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Florida, Maryland, California, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Panama Canal Zone, New Jersey, and New York.

Important When Sending Cards

The exchange of cheerful Christmas cards between friends is one of our most delightful Yuletide customs—and like all other social relationships, it is governed by simple, common-sense rules of etiquette. You may properly send your holiday greetings to almost everyone—business and professional associates, if you wish, as well as social acquaintances and relatives. Be sure to choose appropriate cards, however. If Aunt Jennie is a garden enthusiast, she'll probably appreciate a beautiful flower print more than a dozen Santa Claus designs.

SPECIAL TITLES
Cards with special titles, such as "Merry Christmas, Mother," are available for mothers, wives, sweethearts and practically all relatives, including the in-laws, and are a mark of individual thoughtfulness. If you can spare a moment or two, pen a brief holiday note on each card. It adds a warm sincerity and a touch of your individual personality to your Yuletide greetings. Christmas time is a sentimental and nostalgic season for everyone, and many a friendship has been kept alive through the years by the annual exchange of holiday greetings. Colored ink is entirely proper both for signing the card and addressing the envelope, provided it harmonizes with the color scheme of the card itself.

Signatures need not be formal, except on engraved Christmas cards. You may have your name neatly printed if you wish, or take your pen in hand and sign the greetings yourself with a holiday flourish. "MR. AND MRS." Married couples may omit the "Mr. and Mrs." if they prefer and sign their cards simply "Paul and Jenny Wilson." Either the husband's name or the wife's may appear first. Children in the family rate a place in the signature, too. In addressing the envelopes, it is best to send one card to a husband and wife, and separate cards to other adult members of the family too. As an alternative, one card may be mailed to the whole family if you are careful to write the names of each individual on the envelope, including the children. Use three-cent stamps for your Christmas cards, following the rule of good taste which says that first-class friends deserve first-class mail. It is entirely proper to write your return address on the envelope, to help friends keep tabs on changes of address. Selecting attractive Christmas cards for each of your friends is a delightful pre-Christmas activity. Don't treat it as a sober social responsibility. Plunge in with a smile and the gay holiday scenes on the cards will soon fill your heart with Yuletide cheer and sentiment.

Much Family Fun In Group Games

"Make it a real family Christmas this year by having Santa pack a few hobby supplies or games into his pack that the whole family can enjoy together."

There are many hobbies that can help build companionship between parents and children. Mothers and daughters like jewelry, bookbinding, and tapestry.

Anyone enjoys operating a printing press. Small presses turn out newspapers that have a real professional look.

Christmas is a time of "togetherness," says Regnier. "Let's utilize the situation by giving a gift or hobby that will encourage the same type of companionship this year around."

Have Tree Base Stand in Water

Christmas trees, like flowers, will respond to being kept with the base in the water. Here are a few simple things to do if you want your tree to stay green and fresh.

Buy a tree which has been cut recently as possible.

Cut off the end of the trunk diagonally at least one inch above the original cut. This will expose most of the trunk which will absorb water at once, and if it is not cut into the trunk, it will keep it a cool place.

for the month of December. Others on the committee for the coming year are Messrs. John R. Birch, Mrs. George Zimmerman, Mrs. Vernon Snyder, Mrs. William Watkins, Mrs. Glen Critton, Mrs. Gordon C. Liesemer, Mrs. Gilbert J. Hattie, Mrs. Clyde Centers, and Mrs. Robert O. Wilson.

Reservations have been accepted for Messrs. Lewis Wood, R. D. Adams, J. Bourbonnais, Cletus Welling, Robert Randall, Arthur Ruthven, C. J. Gaus, J. Weines, Forest Wainscott, E. Fostering, S. Davidson, G. Wittman, M. McCale, R. Gillette, G. I. Harcourt, S. Schillingman, Alton Gregg, C. G. Adelle, Roy Ouellette, I. H. Lynch, R. Gibbons. Please make reservations now.

Name Judges For Xmas Seal Contest

Judges for the double-barred cross Christmas Seal Boy Contest include Harvey Campbell, Walter F. McLucas, T. Melville Rinehart, Monsignor Wm. P. Schulte, Dr. Henry Steinbach, and Fred M. Zeder, and Mayor Van Antwerp as Honorary Judge, the TB and Health Society announced today.

The judges will meet December 17 to select from eight boys the one most resembling the boy on the 1948 double-barred cross Christmas Seal.

Children's homes participating include Evangelical Home for Orphans, Baptist Children's Home, Methodist Children's Home, Sarah Fisher Home, Children's Aid Society, Lutheran Charities, and Protestant Children's Home.

Traditionally, each year, a little crippled girl from the Michigan Children's Convalescent Home lights Detroit's Christmas tree on Christmas Eve. This year, the little girl selected will be assisted by the winner of the double-barred cross Christmas Seal Boy Contest. It was felt that a youngster from a broken home should share in this exciting event and so, two deserving children will bring Christmas to Detroit this coming December 24 as, together, they turn on the lights of the giant tree in front of the city hall.

Reading Yuletide Stories Adds To Family Christmas

The reading of literature's most loved Christmas stories, including the Gospels, is one of the best ways for a family to prepare for the day itself.

A family reading session, planned for the last few days before Christmas, will make it easier for the children to stand the tension of waiting and will add meaning and happy family memories to the occasion.

Christmas is, first of all, religious, and the New Testament accounts of the birth of Jesus ought always to be read first. Both the Christmas tales of Matthew and Luke are beautiful poetry and literature.

Perhaps the most famous Christmas book in the world, after the Gospels, is Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," written in 1842. It is a tale which will be told and retold as long as there is Christmas. It is profound enough for the most adult taste and it is still a children's classic.

Henry Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man" is another story which has become a Christmas classic. It tells of a fourth wise man who saw the star rising and set out to follow it. The great desire of this pilgrim was denied, yet fulfilled in the denial.

For a good, unoffensive funny story about Christmas try "How Come Christmas?" by Roark Bradford. It concerns the efforts of a group of Negroes to decide which came first, Santa Claus or the little Lord Jesus.

Probably the most famous American Christmas tale is Kate Douglas Wiggin's "The Birds' Christmas Carol." There are other American Christmas stories well worth reading, though, such as Louisa May Alcott's "Christmas at Orchard House" and Vincent Starrett's "Snow for Christmas." Christopher Morley's "The Worst Christmas Story" happens to be almost one of the best.

These are just a few of the possibilities for a literary Christmas menu. When it is selected and served to the family circle, have the fireplace going and the tree lights on.

Present Laura At Arts Theatre

Robert F. Hampton Productions, who will present their second play of the season, "Laura," Friday and Saturday evenings, December 10th and 11th, at the Institute of Arts Theatre, has announced the cast, which includes Maud Marland, Frank Sheggrud, Robert McKenna, Patricia McCarthy, Lew Wood, Blanche Duckworth and Harold Christianson.

The set is being designed by Mr. Hampton and will be done in an elaborately modern style.

Miss Doris Walker and Miss Coleen Sullivan are supervising the wardrobe for this show with assistance from Miss Marland, who is creating some of her own costumes.

Tickets for this show may be obtained by calling WE. 4-7956.

Wedding Held In Church

A wedding reception was given by Mrs. John Christopher Gilchrist at her home in honor of her daughter, Elizabeth Ann, who exchanged nuptial vows recently with George Robert Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Phillips, in St. Paul's Church.

The Rev. Joseph J. Bohr performed the ceremony at 10 a.m. before an altar adorned with flowers.

Miss Gilchrist chose an Empire styled gown of white satin, with sweetheart neckline above a fitted bodice, and finger-tip sleeves. Seed pearls outlined the satin corset crowning her illusion veil, and she carried a lace fan covered with white roses and ivy.

A lace fan, with deep red mums and roses, was carried by maid of honor, Shirley Baupre, who was gowned in fuchsia velvet, and bridesmaid Virginia Allar, also wearing in a similar gown of Dusty Rose.

Groomsmen John Gilchrist, Jeremiah Doyle, and Daniel Kelly, served with Dean Higbie, who was best man.

Gift Suggestions

Christmas always brings the problem of what to give him or her. The best way to solve this problem is to first think of the things he or she likes to do. Then, buy a gift that will be suitable for the person's activities.

Here are some suggestions. Even if the person has one of these items he'll not mind having another one.

FOR PEOPLE WHO LIKE GAMES—cards, chess or checkers, ash trays, score pads and pencils, a card table cover, a book about a favorite game.

IF SHE LIKES TO SEW—embroidery package of stamped material complete with threads and directions, pinking shears, a sweater stretcher, press cloth and tailor's cushions, workbag, dress or blouse material, wool and needles.

FOR TRAVELERS—baggage, compact mending or cleaning kit, a camera, film, portable radio, travel iron, flashlight-tipped pencil or key holder, compact shaving kit.

THE OUTDOOR TYPE—hand-tied flies, tennis balls in tins, golf balls, nylon fish lines, ski wax, wool socks, new set of mittens for the golf clubs, bright caps and jackets.

THE GARDENER—garden gloves, shears, picking basket, a set of stakes, a new book about gardening, hand sprayer, a peaked cap.

THE YOUNGER GIFT—her first permanent, watches, crazy sports shirts, his first shaving kit, dancing lessons, their first piece of luggage with their names on it, start her on a set of silver, books about his hobby or some equipment for it.

Santa Pictured By Thomas Nast

Thomas Nast, the famous cartoonist who created our conception of Uncle Sam, the Republican elephant and the Democratic donkey, is also credited with giving America its first modern pictorialization of Santa Claus.

Nast first sketched his notion of Santa Claus in 1873. This Santa was a rollicking, chubby old man smoking a pipe and dressed in what looked like a night shirt with fur collar and cuffs. Since that day he has grown taller and rounder, has developed a full white beard and mustache and has acquired the traditional red suit bordered in ermine.

STROH SPEEDS—Edwin R. Stroh, Jr., of Merriweather road and Peter Gilbert, of E. Jefferson avenue, were issued tickets for speeding, City of Grosse Pointe Police disclosed.

 of averting bitter words greeted that the course of should be worked out in a matter as every good ally should. With the assent of James K. Watkins, of the Farms, a motion was passed to ask the Board of Education to take the matter to the Board with this question: "Do you favor the Acceptance by the Board of Education of Alger Memorial?"

I. Moreland, fund treasurer, pointed out that pending action, the War Memorial Fund was without authority to divert any funds or which were specifically for a new library toward development and moved all of all donors to determine their desires in the matter.

Contributing to the ensuing discussion which was carrying the 8 o'clock meeting into its 11th hour were Alois A. Ghesbre, President of the Village of Pointe Woods, Realtor Maxon, Fred Runnells and Edgar of the local press, John Ernest Kanzler, Mrs. B. Lord of the Grosse Pointe High School Mother's Club, Harry N. Phillips, rector of the high school, and which is interested in the promotion of a Field

MEMORIAL OFFERS
 Township Supervisor Carl Hart took the floor and that Grosse Pointe could accept and operate Alger as a community house, a center for the community, providing the Alger would be so interested. Mr. Hart thanked him for the suggestion but further discussion was short when Mr. Watkins stated that it would be better to Alger house out of Townships, especially since some Villages were eyeing City of government.

Ghesbre asked for a School Board member of their experts, stating only those favoring the Alger house as a library been heard at any length.

Subsequently, Mr. Sheldon called on the library expert, Mr. Ward, associate director of libraries, who reiterated negative position he had taken in lengthy survey which had been submitted to the Board. Copies of this report are available mimeographed form at the office on St. Clair.

As heard by request was Florence Severa, veteran Pointe Librarian, who that like most everyone she wanted a Memorial, but in this matter she would as a librarian.

ALGER ESTATE
 "POINTE ON PARADE"

Alger Mansion Built in 1912, Scene of Many Lavish Parties

Editor's Note: This is one in a series of illustrated articles entitled "Pointe on Parade" conducted by Leslie P. Young, veteran resident of Grosse Pointe. The article features stories and pictures of many of Grosse Pointe's first buildings and other centers marked with tradition. It views of its present limelight, the subject this week is Alger House instead of "The Little Post Office," as announced last week. The latter story will appear next week's Review.

The Alger House on Lakeshore Drive in Grosse Pointe Farms which has been the center of much controversy lately because of the offer of the building to the Board of Education for a War Memorial Library was built in 1912 by Russell A. Alger, Jr., the son of Russell A. Alger who was a governor of Michigan, United States Secretary of War and later United States Senator from Michigan.

The building is of authentic Italian style of architecture and is situated on extensive grounds and has beautiful formal gardens overlooking Lake St. Clair.

For many years it was the scene of many lavish parties and reception. High government officials, social register leaders and many European notables have been entertained in this spacious and beautiful mansion.

In April, 1940, the Alger Family presented the building to the Detroit Museum of Arts and for more than eight years it was a branch museum, visited by thousands of art lovers.

Due to budget restrictions, Detroit was forced to return the mansion to the Alger Estate last June.

Since that time, the beautiful estate has been closed and no trespassing signs have been erected.

Whether its doors will open again to the outside world, depends on the answer to the War Memorial Library problem. Next week "Pointe on Parade" will discuss, "The Little Post Office."

Readers are invited to contribute suggestions for "Pointe on Parade" subjects.

(Review), which was not given to the Board until two months had elapsed from the first intimation of the availability of Alger house. Meanwhile, the Board had obtained opinions from outside experts and local experts in the matter, said he.

The Superintendent explained that the District is already straining every faculty to maintain educational standards on the present limits of available funds without special levies. And, that it was the considered opinion of the Board and its advisors that the Alger property would be too expensive to operate and that it couldn't perform the services intended of a library in this community.

The meeting was formally closed, but broke up into little groups who continued the argument and discussion among their own factions and with those of opposite views.

"Shine" Smith Plays Santa To Indians, Needs Help

This is a brief yarn about a great little man and a magnificent project.

Thirty-one years ago the Rev. Hugh Dickson Smith, Presbyterian minister, ill and near death, headed westward in search of sunshine and health, landing in northern Arizona among the Navajo Indians.

Dr. Smith did regain health, but he didn't return to the East; instead, he continued living among the Indians, exemplifying the injunction to "feed the hungry, clothe the naked, bury the dead." With 25,000 square miles of country as his church, Dr. Smith—"Shine" Smith to the Navajos—has come to be guide and counselor to the red man and white. "Shine" Smith is looked upon by the Navajos as almost a minor god.

Ten years ago "Shine" Smith held his first Christmas party for the Navajos, distributing food and clothing and medicine and gifts to the nomadic tribesmen who lead a life so rugged only the Arizonian can understand it. Last Christmas, at the little trading post at Shonto, "Shine" Smith fed 800 Indians and saw to it that every child got some little thing to make Christmas what it should be to the youngster.

This year "Shine" Smith will feed more than a thousand Navajos, for they will travel, afoot, horseback and in ancient wagons, hundreds of miles to smile a greeting to the little man they so love and to gather their tiny bit of Christmas joy.

A few of "Shine" Smith's old friends—those who know the hard life the Navajo leads—have tried to help him with his burdens, for they know how important this party is to the Indians. Small gifts may be sent directly to "Shine" Smith's Christmas Party, Flagstaff, Arizona, or Jim Welch, The Old AAA Traveler of Automobile Club of Michigan, will forward any such gifts which reach him. An old friend of "Shine" Smith, The Old Traveler says:

500 Attend Scout Craft Exhibition

An impressive ceremony, the Pledge of Allegiance, marked the opening of the Cub Scout Crafts Exhibit at Denby High School on Friday evening. The remarkable display, which was presented by 82 Dens from 19 of the District III Cub Packs, attracted the admiration of the five hundred or more people who attended during the course of the evening.

The exhibit was intended to demonstrate the various craft skills used in Cubbing, and the participation of nearly four hundred enthusiastic boys was a tribute to the careful planning of the Committee and the other adult leaders. Mr. H. D. Nixon was the Chairman of the group, assisted by Messrs. Dayton Dalley, Leonard Galbraith, Leo Cote, and Bob Killmer. Mesdames Edith Gauss and Helen Vanderways were in charge of decorations, and Mr. E. A. Anderson handled the space arrangements.

The Cub Scout Packs which exhibited their handicraft were: Packs 98, 113, 115, 129, 246, 309, 354, and 425 of Denby Community; Packs 74, 147, 156, 290, and 399 of Grosse Pointe Community; Packs 118, 148, 286, and 412 of Jackson Community; Pack 209 of Harbour Community; and Pack 185 of Southeastern Community. The outstanding success of this Crafts Exhibit promises to make it an annual highlight of East Side Cubbing activities, with even greater participation being planned for next year.

Christmas Went Underground With Puritan Ban of 1644

There was a time when Christmas went underground. People who advocated Christmas were in danger of arrest and imprisonment and it looked as though Christmas was on its way out.

It all happened around 1644 when the Puritans in England forbade any merriment or religious services, by act of parliament, on the ground that it was a heathen festival. What resulted was much grumbling, breaking of the law and a Christmas underground which wrote and distributed pamphlets in favor of Christmas.

In 1648, for instance, was published "Canterbury Christmas." This pamphlet gives an account of the subsequent proceedings, after the Cryer of Canterbury had upon Wednesday, December 22, "openly proclaimed that Christmas day, all other superstitious festivals should be put down, and a market should be kept on Christmas day. Which being not observed, (but very ill taken by the country) the town was thereby unserved with provision and trading very much hindered; which occasioned great discontent among people, caused them to rise in a rebellious way."

Among the rarest of the pamphlets issued at that time is one entitled "The Examination and Tryal of Old Father Christmas." In this little volume, "one old Christmas was commanded to be brought to the Bar, then was a jury for Life and Death to be im-of North America, searching for this very mineral.

In our minds, Theano Point and the adjoining Alona Bay, described a location about 10 miles down the shore, a good day's trip in our little boat with an outboard motor, where there was the fascinating ruins of an old lumber mill, and where a kindly old caretaker would give us whetstones to sharpen our knives.

My first thought when I finished reading the article was to telephone my cousin, George Devlin, and tell him of the news, for I knew that he would be as interested as I was. We both had visions of myriads of prospectors jamming our small cabin with their picks and compasses, and that new wonder-tool of prospecting, the Geiger counter. Partly out of concern for the cabin, and partly out of the thrill of adventure, we rather quickly decided that a trip to the area was called for. That was on Monday, November 15th. By Monday night, a Geiger counter had been wired for and reservations obtained at the Windsor Hotel in Sault Ste Marie, as well as plane reservations to the Soo. On Tuesday, our two-soon-to-be was changed to a three-soon-to-be, by a phone call from a third cousin, George Russel of Birmingham, who had heard about our plans and gotten the "bug" and decided to join us. His having majored in geology at the University of Michigan, made him a very valuable addition to our little party, to say nothing of the fact that he offered his car to drive us to the Soo.

We decided to leave on Thursday evening after supper so as to arrive in the Soo Friday morning in time to board the Algoma Central Train which winds its way North to our destination, Frater. By this time, the prospecting aspects of our trip had gained the ascendancy and we anxiously awaited the arrival of our Geiger counter. Our anxiety was dispelled when the shiny instrument arrived early Thursday morning, just in time to take it out to the Cranbrook Institute of Science and check its operation with samples of radio-active materials, principally pitch-blend, on display at the Museum.

A long distance phone call to the leading grocery store at the Canadian Soo assured us that we at least would not starve on our trip. The thirty-five pounds of food for four days, allowed to eat our fill at every meal.

Eight o'clock Thursday night found us headed North on Woodward at Eight Mile Road. By nine-thirty, we were on the ferry crossing the Straits of Mackinac, along with dozens of brightly-clad hunters. By three-thirty, we reached Sault Ste Marie, Michigan, and inasmuch as the ferry didn't start running until seven-thirty, we decided to pass at least some of the time looking at the new MacArthur Lock. After a few hours' attempt sleeping in the car, followed by a delicious breakfast of ham and eggs, we caught the seven-thirty ferry across the river picked up our groceries, and boarded the Algoma Central for Frater.

To describe the Algoma Central would be a story in itself. Suffice it to say that it has not changed since our first trip up there in 1921, which led us to believe that it probably hadn't changed since the first day that it started running. Four and a half hours, and one hundred miles later, found us getting off at Frater, one of the major stops on the railroad. Least one think of Frater as a booming mining town, it might be well to mention that it consists of one coal-bunker, one water tank, one station, one boarding house, and a log cabin, the main street being the railroad itself. The whole of Frater could be built on the front lawn of the Grose Pointe High School.

A four mile downhill hike through the woods brought us to the beautiful shore of MacGregor Cove on Lake Superior, and the log cabins where we had spent so many summers. Another mile along the shore, and we had reached our destination, a beautiful little three-room cabin on the shore of Laughing Brook Cove. We were surprised and pleased to find that the cabin was un-molested. Our pleasure was increased when we found an ample supply of dry firewood for both the stove and the fireplace. With a roaring fire built in the fireplace, we set about to make the cabin shipshape. By the time this was done, our appetites told us that supper time had arrived. The meal of soup, peas, corned beef hash, tea, dates, and a chocolate bar apiece, combined with the warmth of the fire in the fireplace, soon had us so drowsy that our city muscles thanked us when we blew out the kerosene lamp at 8:30 and hit the hay.

Eagle Scout Earns Rare Church Award

The Eagle Scout Badge and the Protestant Church Cross, both coveted and highly honored awards, were presented to eighteen-year-old Richard Hall, member of Troop No. 3, Metropolitan Methodist Church by Dr. Chester A. McPheeters, Metropolitan Pastor, before a packed congregation at a regular Sunday morning service just recently.

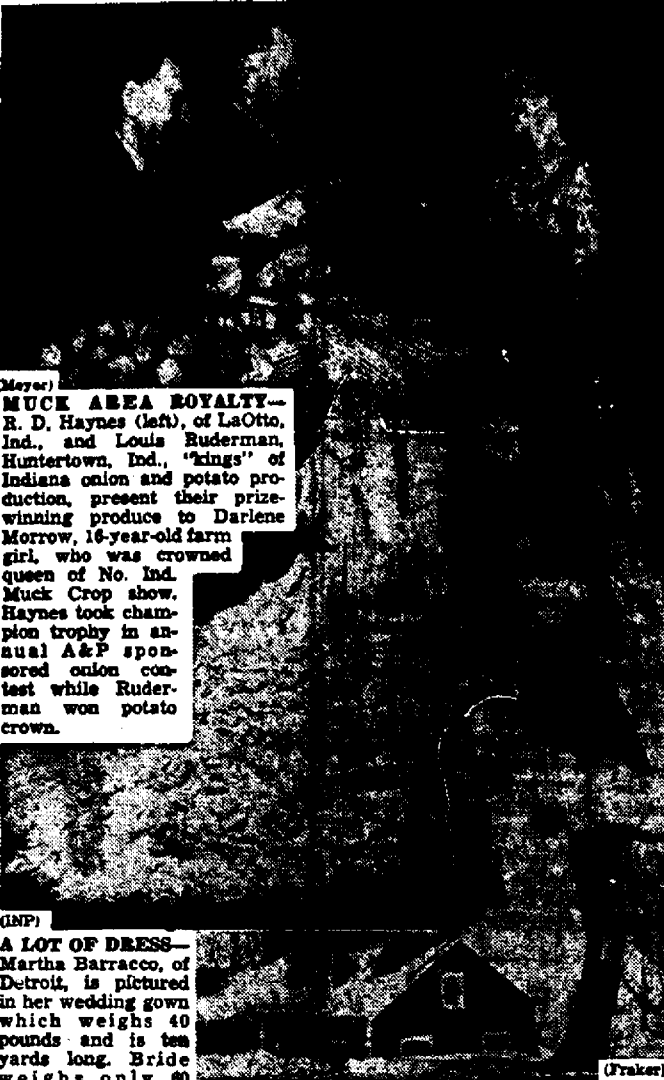

Dick is a first year student at Albion College; where he is studying for the ministry. He joined Troop No. 3 in 1942, received his Star Award in 1945, his Life Rank last year, and completed his Eagle requirements this past summer.

The Protestant Church Cross, known as the God and Country Award, is a medal presented by the Church to active registered Scouts who meet certain standards as set up by the National Protestant Committee on Scouting. Requirements include regular Sunday School and Church attendance, knowledge of church history, and the completion of assigned projects in the service of the church.

Scouting approves the wearing of the God and Country Award on the uniform left breast pocket. To date, less than a dozen such awards have been made in the Detroit Area Council. Eagle Scout Hall is the first young man to be thus honored by his church.

The Hall's have another son, James, fourteen years of age; who is also a member of the Metropolitan Troop.

Hiller's Moved to New, Larger Headquarters

A half-century of progress in merchandising is marked in the announcement of the removal of the 10-year old Jefferson store to new and larger quarters at the southwest corner of Chalmers at Jefferson.

J. Hiller, owner and active in the business, founded the original Hiller's at Concord at the time of its opening in 1904.

Ten years ago his son, Edwin Hiller, opened the East Jefferson store two doors west of Chalmers. Edwin Hiller lives in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Continuing a well-founded policy of combining outstanding merchandise in dependable style merchandise with friendly courtesy, Hiller's have grown to this needed expansion in their smart new and larger quarters.

POPULAR "GINGER"

Ginger Rogers, member of the permanent repertory company of Hollywood stars presented on CBS' Sunday night dramatic series, "The Family Hour of Stars," has been heard on leading radio programs for years but for the most part in adaptations of screen hits. She has starred on CBS' "Lux Radio Theatre."

One of the commonest and most popular mistakes is thinking your children are over when your children get married.

Video Beauty

Lovely songstress Carole Coleman, a newcomer to the entertainment world, co-stars with dancer Danny Daniels and singer Larry Douglas in "Make Mine Music," sparkling new five-a-week series on the CBS Television Network.

WAR MEDALS READY

"The long awaited American Theater medals are now available," says Major John G. Stanley, Officer in Charge of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service, 21 Cadillac Square.

To obtain these medals just bring your original discharge and present it to the recruiting Sergeant at the desk.

Mail Carriers Walk Many Weary Miles

Give a thought to the foot-sore mail carrier, who probably trudges more weary miles during Christmas week than does old St. Nick himself.

His mailbag will be even heavier this year than in 1947. Last December, the nation's postal service delivered 5,000,000,000 pieces of mail. They expect to break that record this Christmas.

You can help spare your mail carrier's bunions—and incidentally speed delivery of your own Yuletide letters, Christmas cards, and packages—by heeding the Post Office Department's suggestions:

1. Shop now—get your Christmas mail and packages off as early as possible.
2. Wrap your gifts carefully. Address them plainly—Aunt Susie may be able to decipher your handwriting, but not all postmen carry magnifying glasses and crystal balls. Register valuable letters. Insure valuable packages.
3. Be sure to put the full address on each piece of mail. Include city zone numbers.
4. Send your Christmas cards by first-class mail. Put a three-cent stamp on every Christmas card and seal the envelopes. They are more personal that way, and if your friend has moved, the card will be forwarded. Third-class mail doesn't have that privilege.
5. Remember that Air Mail for letters and Christmas cards is only a nickel, and it will get them to distant points more quickly—especially if you slip up on Suggestion No. 1.

Shubert Gets "The Drunkard"

One of the most pleasant surprises of the current theatrical season, coming to the Shubert-Lafayette Theatre on Sunday, December 12 for one week only is Brian Doherty's all Canadian Company in "THE DRUNKARD" which has been shattering all recent attendance records in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and Hamilton.

The most popular feature of "THE DRUNKARD" are the amusing 19th Century songs and skits that come between the scenes. They include delightful ballads, dances and comedy sketches of the period. For this old-fashioned melodrama Brian Doherty has engaged two remarkable artists—John Pratt, Canada's finest comedian and Murray Matheson, one of England's best song and dance men. Matheson was leading man with Ben Lillie in her recent London review "Better Late."

Matinees are on Wednesday and Saturday and popular prices will prevail. The whole atmosphere of "THE DRUNKARD" is strictly informal. The audience joins in the singing, hisses the villain, and cheers the hero with a right good will.

Romans Started Christmas Date

The first celebration of the birth of Christ on December 25 took place in the fourth century. Before that date the commemoration of Christ's Nativity and Baptism was held on January 6.

The first mention of Christmas is found in a Roman document known as the "Philocalian Calendar" in the year 354, and the first time the festival was celebrated in Britain was in 598, when St. Augustine baptized 10,000 converts.

In the year 567 the Council of Tours declared a twelve-day festival from Christmas to Epiphany, and in 991-1016 the laws ordained that all strife should cease at Christmas. Christmas was established in 813 in Germany and in Norway in the year 950.

England has two towns with Christmas names. Christmas Pie is a small village near Guildford, Surrey, while Christmas Common is near Oxford and Henley.

Balanced Bill Scheduled At New Shores Thtr.

A well-balanced program of entertainment is planned for patrons of the Shores theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, with two top-ranking feature pictures playing along with a late newsreel and cartoon.

In the first half of the double-feature Mariene Dietrich, John in "A Foreign Affair", an intrigue-packed epic that promises suspense with a fine quality of mystery.

PIANISTS AT TEMPLE

"Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson play like a criterion. All other piano teams are measured by them," wrote the New York World-Telegram recently of the couple who will play here on Thursday, December 16 at Masonic Auditorium.

Neighborhood Club Teams Begin New Court Season Here

Grid Fan Has Faith In Detroit Lions

Frank Cavanau of 410 Elizabeth St., Detroit, is taking no chances on having his seat reservations disturbed for the Detroit Lions' 1949 home football games.

Two weeks before the 1948 season closed, Cavanau in a letter to Coach Bo McMillin wrote: "I believe the team you built in one short year is good indication of winning football that will come our way. Please continue my box seats for the 1949 season."

Houston, Kopp's Share Top Berth in Rotary League

Kopp's Pharmacy, determined to gain back the lead they once held in the Rotary League, took a 3-1 decision from Motor City Tires. The Tiresmen copped the opener with little opposition, but the Pharmacist rallied forces and aided by George Dettloff's 571 series, took the next two and total pinfall.

Houston Bros. Inc., had their hands full when they engaged the Middle Atl. Transp. Co. They were lucky to break even with Volpe's five. Although Houston won the opener, the next two were won by the challengers. Houston taking total pinfall for their other point.

Holiday Season Safety Rules

It only takes a small amount of carelessness to turn the joyful Christmas holiday into a tragic event. The Christmas tree is the danger spot. There are a few simple precautions that will assure a safe and merry Christmas.

Never burn real candles on your tree.

Don't risk using frayed cords and broken plugs.

Avoid placing powerful lamp bulbs near fancy ornaments, synthetic materials, paper or cotton. Don't go away and leave your tree lit.

Be very careful when smoking around Christmas package wrapping material.

Secure the tree by wires to the wall so that tiny tots will not be able to bump or pull it over.

Place your tree so that, standing or fallen, it cannot block a doorway which might be needed to escape from the room.

If you go in for elaborate decorations, better make sure they're all made of incombustible material. Flameproofed materials can be purchased at many stores. Insist on them.

Council Lists Approved Films

The Grose Pointe Motion Picture Council approved the following pictures for children during December:

"Shaggy," "Gallant Legions," "Southern Yankee," "Melodrama," "Easter Parade," "Mickey and "Son of Zorro."

The following were listed suitable for teen-agers, "Date with Judy," "Two Guys From Tom," "The Search," and "Out of Storm."

Again a stage show will follow the game this Friday night. This time the feature entertainer will be the well known pianist and recording artist, Jan August. He will be supported by Bob Strong's Orchestra and other top variety acts.

SILENT NIGHT
The famous Christmas hymn, "Silent night, holy night," was written in Obendorf, one of Austria's loveliest villages, on Christmas Eve, 1818, by the local clergyman, who took the words to the home of the village organist the same night, where they were immediately set to the well-known tune.

WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

The resolution adopted by the Township to take over Alger House may hold the answer to "Where do we go from here" in the War Memorial campaign.

As explained by Supervisor Carl Schweikart at the War Fund Director's Meeting last Friday night, the Township could legally accept Alger House and operate it according to laws governing that unit of government.

It could be a Memorial, incorporating community center and possible limited recreation center activities. An auditorium could even be added at a later date.

Should the Township be jeopardized by any or all of the Village switching to City form of government, those same City could take over the operating function of such a community building.

Certainly the idea has merit, and providing the Alger heirs would be willing, it should find good acceptance in the community.

COURAGEOUS GROUP

Display of courage is not uncommon in this business. We see it everyday, not only in competitive sports but in the business and professional world and in every day living.

However we feel that it will be sometime before we meet a more courageous group of men and women than the Grosse Pointe officials who were responsible for the rejection of the Alger House offer.

This group was very aware of the fact that large number of indignant citizens would be at the War Memorial meeting Friday to criticize and reprimand them for their action. But they were there, because they believed in their convictions and were ready to stand behind them.

They as educators and librarians feel that the acceptance of Alger House for a War Memorial Library would not best serve the purpose of the people.

For more than three hours they sat, under very unpleasant circumstances, and heard their opinions sharply criticized, rebuked, laughed at and finally white-washed off the board.

They weathered this personal storm just for the opportunity to get up and voice their side of the story—to let the people know how they arrived at their decision.

Regardless of whether they are right or wrong, its a credit to this community to have such courageous men and women.

Letters To Editor Discuss Alger House

Passenger Rebukes Statements Made by Coach Line Official

TO THE EDITOR: GROSSE POINTE REVIEW: Mr. Walter Schweikart no doubt has the cards stacked to get his raise and when he gets this he will be back for more with more unfulfilled promises.

Mr. Schweikart is mistaken again when he starts standing loads occur in only so called peak hours. This week I went down at 9:30 with a rarity of two buses on this run, both packed.

Another thing drivers carry on too much conversation with passengers, in spite of warning notices and laws against this, maybe that explains why we have so many bus accidents.

Why do buses stop after crossing Wayburn going down town to pick up passengers running from direction of Alter road in the City of Detroit?

They as educators and librarians feel that the acceptance of Alger House for a War Memorial Library would not best serve the purpose of the people.

Get that terminal and quit the talk stage.

I wish to compliment the majority of drivers they are a fine group and most courteous and I realize that in any large organization there will always be a few out of tune.

TO THE EDITOR: We of the 1948 Red Feather Community Chest Campaign wish to thank you for the very fine cooperation which you have given to the Red Feather during the entire fall season.

Never has the coverage of what the Chest and its 125 Red Feather agencies been doing been so complete. Prior to the drive in October, during the campaign, and after the close of the drive last month the space that you gave to the work of the Chest has been large.

I think that everyone who knows what the Chest is and what work is being done by the Red Feather agencies, approves of the business-like method of raising money and the very real need for that money.

Although we did not reach 100 per cent of our goal we did reach 97.8 per cent—a percentage which exceeds the average for other Community Chests in the nation.

Again let me thank you, for myself, the campaign organization of 20,000 volunteers and the hundreds of thousands of our citizens who use Red Feather services, each year for your assistance in putting the Red Feather in the public eye.

Very sincerely yours, Edward T. Goshen, 1948 Community Chest Campaign

JUST COMMENT

It is good sometimes to read a copy of The Grosse Pointe Review that about ten years old just to see how many things we feared never happened.

Grosse Pointe people are called great speakers, but when anyone offers them money they are usually willing to listen.

Turning down the gift of the beautiful Alger House is not in accord with the present Christmas spirit—but perhaps the school board members do not believe in Santa Claus.

Confusion Reigns—might be a brief description of the four-hour War Memorial Session last Friday.

Quarterback Alger Shelden gave the ball to the other side after the game was over and the score was recorded.

Bus operators talk too much claims a regular patron—perhaps entertainment is part of their service.

Mr. Male Animal will take over the Village Shopping center next Monday evening, so all you dears had better stay home.

Legion Post Seeks Gifts For Yanks

The people of Grosse Pointe and vicinity are invited to join with the Grosse Pointe Post No. 303, American Legion and its Auxiliary in remembering every sick or disabled war veteran in Michigan on Christmas this year.

There are 70 hospitals in the state now caring for these veterans — 8,000 of them in all — for whom the war has not ended. It is proposed to give each of them a Christmas gift box.

It's a real task to purchase the gifts, and pack, wrap and deliver the boxes to Michigan's 8,000 hospitalized veterans, and the sponsors need the cooperation of all generous citizens.

A collection center has been set up at each Grosse Pointe Police Station where donations will be received. Bring your donations in as soon as possible and help make it a "Merry Christmas" for the "Yanks Who Gave."

Charges War Memorial Committee Of Using School District for Goat

TO THE EDITOR: A man would indeed be a mouse if he did not voice his reaction to the meeting, last Friday, of the Directors of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Library.

Never did participants of a meeting try harder to insult innocent people, who appeared to be on trial for gross treason and murder.

Superintendent Barnes and Librarian Severs are being used as the scapegoats for the failure of the War Memorial Committee to raise $500,000, as it promised a previous School Board that it would do.

The boys that greeted the remarks of Mr. Mohrhardt of Detroit, nationally known architectural library consultant, meant "Play ball our way, or else!"

I close, with a sense of shame that I was at a meeting where I witnessed an inquisition, instead of a fine and fair American town hall meeting.

Yours very truly, John Doe Editor's Note: Anyone wishing the name and telephone number of the writer of the above letter may have it by calling the editor.

As the principal of Mason School I fully appreciate the inaccessibility of the Alger House to the residents of Grosse Pointe Woods, with whom I have worked for the past twenty years; and I know that a library, if it is to be functional, must be easily accessible to the majority of the people.

TO THE EDITOR:

In my opinion, the Board of Education was more than justified in rejecting the gift of Alger House. I can see no valid reason why Grosse Pointe should content itself with a pre-Victorian white elephant as a main library building.

One cannot help regretting that the trustees of the Alger Estate have not had the wisdom to dispose of the property at the publicized advantageous terms and give the proceeds to the Board of Education.

First Goodfellow Newsboys
To Return for 20th Sale

The Twentieth Annual Goodfellow Newsboys Day Sale of the Grosse Pointe Lions-Grosse Pointe Review, on Dec. 13, will see many of its original fifteen founders still selling the Review's special Goodfellows Day edition at their favorite corners to fulfill this year's goal.

White some of the founders have passed away since that first early morning sale in 1929, their group will be well represented by such "oldtimers" as R. J. Barrett, Albert J. Garska, Hugo Blaser, Rudolph Kamusko, L. R. Oldham, publisher Grosse Pointe Review; Julius Nagel, Walter Schwoikart, Arthur Genich, William Ludwig, Dr. William Watkins, George Ellworthy, Dr. Werner Kersten, and Julius L. Berns, originator of the idea.

So, with the aid of all off-duty local police and firemen of all the Grosse Pointe villages, these "Old Newsboys" arose at the crack of dawn to sell their neighbors the special Goodfellows Day edition of the Review on corners and house-to-house canvassing to raise a goal of $2,000 for their fund.

Alger House Query Brings Various Answers

What to do with the Alger House" is the $64 question in Grosse Pointe.

People have formed various opinions on the matter for a long time since the School District turned down the Alger Family's offer of their mansion to be used as a War Memorial Library.

he had heard a great deal about it and had a good idea what the property looks like. He ventured that it would make a very nice War Memorial Library.

Mrs. George McKinley, does not agree with the aforementioned. "Well, I thought they were going to build a new memorial at Fisher at Kercheval. I don't care for the Alger House idea," she said.

Another resident suggested a vote be taken. "I would suggest that both sides of the story be put before the public—the pro and cons—and let the residents vote on it," said H. Temple, 1347 Maryland, veteran.

Several others approached favored an Alger House Memorial

Famous Chorus In Concert At Music Hall

The Yale Glee Club, consisting of fifty-three undergraduates of the University and their famous leader, Marshall Bartholomew, will journey here from New Haven, Conn., on Saturday, December 18, to present a concert at Music Hall. The Whiffenpoofs, a small, informal singing organization, will also sing. Proceeds from the ticket sale for the concert will go to the Yale Scholarship fund of Michigan. Through the efforts of the Yale Alumni Association of Michigan, the fund provides a scholarship for a Michigan boy in each of three classes at Yale, and a fourth scholarship is in the process of being established.

December 18 will mark the Yale Glee Club's first appearance in Detroit since before the war. This year the concert replaces the annual Yale dance. However, the Committee states that it is hoped that the dance will be repeated any year that the Glee Club is not able to include Detroit in its itinerary.

This Christmas holiday, the Glee Club's schedule includes Albany, Syracuse, Detroit, Toledo, Grand Rapids, and Chicago. The Yale Glee Club is internationally as well as nationally famous, having appeared not only in every principal city in the United States, but having been four times to Europe, singing before kings and dictators as well as fellow students.

In 1941, Yale singing did its best to cement hemisphere good will with a trip to South America where their trip included 13,000 miles and twenty-five concerts. The fact that the Yale Glee Club is highly regarded in musical circles is substantiated by its having won on two occasions the National Championship in the Intercollegiate Glee Club Contests participated in by student choruses from all parts of the United States. All this was accomplished under the direction of Marshall Bartholomew who has been directing the Yale Glee Club since 1921.

Tickets for the concert are on sale at Grinnell's and in addition applications for tickets may be obtained at the Junior League Shop in Grosse Pointe.

George B. Hefferan, President of the Yale Alumni Association of Michigan, is cooperating with Alexander Wiener, Chairman of the Concert Committee in formulating plans for the Glee Club's week-end visit in Detroit. Their Committee includes Courtney Rankin, William Gage, Jr., H. Hunter Williams, William G. Lerchen, Jr., William Curran, John C. Chapin, Frank Werneken, Sr., Frederick C. Ford, and Thomas Tillery.

Members of the Glee Club will stay over-night in the homes of

Grosse Pointers and will be entertained on Sunday afternoon, before entraining for Toledo, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ford, Jr. Following the concert, they will also attend the Junior League membership dance which will be held at the Country Club on Dec. 18.

Grosse Pointe has a particular interest in this year's Yale Glee Club in that the only Michigan member of the Club is William Young Gard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gard of Washington Road.

There are two things to aim at in life: first, to get what you want; and, after that, to enjoy it. Only the wisest of mankind achieve the second.

The single performance will be staged at the Art Institute Theatre. This will be the first time since 1925 that this famous organization has appeared in Detroit.

The return of this famous old club to Detroit follows close upon a selection of a mid-western former Governor Harold E.assen as President of the University of Pennsylvania. In the cast are students from Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Florida, Ohio, Maryland, California, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York.

The show will be in fine working shape when it reaches Detroit. A number of nine performances has just been completed in Philadelphia. On Dec. 18th, the road tour will start in eighteen cities in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, Maryland, New York and Virginia will be visited. The show will close in Washington, D. C., Jan. 8th.

The Mask and Wig Club, one of the oldest college organizations in the country, is outdoing itself with its show. Eastern critics have acclaimed it as the greatest in the fifty-one years' history of the club. A special train of seven cars will carry the cast of fifty-five undergraduates, the professional orchestra and the crew of professional stage hands on the long trip.

Among the members of the Michigan Society of the Alumni Association of the University of Pennsylvania, active in sponsoring the local performance are a number of Grosse Pointers. These include John J. O'Brien, Sidney S. Hall, Olney Jones, Howard Walden, Dr. William N. Moffett, Lawrence K. Butler, Tom S. Green, Frank J. Hoder, Jr., Harry G. Rock, Jr., Dr. Rudolph J. ### Important When Sending Cards

The exchange of cheerful Christmas cards between friends is one of our most delightful Yuletide customs—and like all other social relationships, it is governed by simple, common-sense rules of etiquette.

You may properly send your holiday greetings to almost everyone—business and professional associates, if you wish, as well as social acquaintances and relatives.

Be sure to choose appropriate cards, however. If Aunt Jennie is a garden enthusiast, she'll probably appreciate a beautiful flower print more than a dozen Santa Claus designs.

SPECIAL TITLES

Cards with special titles, such as "Merry Christmas, Mother," are available for mothers, wives, sweethearts and practically all relatives, including the in-laws, and are a mark of individual thoughtfulness.

If you can spare a moment or two, pen a brief holiday note on each card. It adds a warm sincerity and a touch of your individual personality to your Yuletide greetings. Christmas time is a sentimental and nostalgic season for everyone, and many a friendship has been kept alive through the years by the annual exchange of holiday greetings.

Colored ink is entirely proper both for signing the card and addressing the envelope, provided it harmonizes with the color scheme of the card itself.

Signatures need not be formal, except on engraved Christmas cards. You may have your name neatly printed if you wish, or take your pen in hand and sign the greetings yourself with a holiday flourish.

"MR. AND MRS."

Married couples may omit the "Mr. and Mrs." if they prefer and sign their cards simply "Paul and Jenny Wilson." Either the husband's name or the wife's may appear first. Children in the family rate a place in the signature, too.

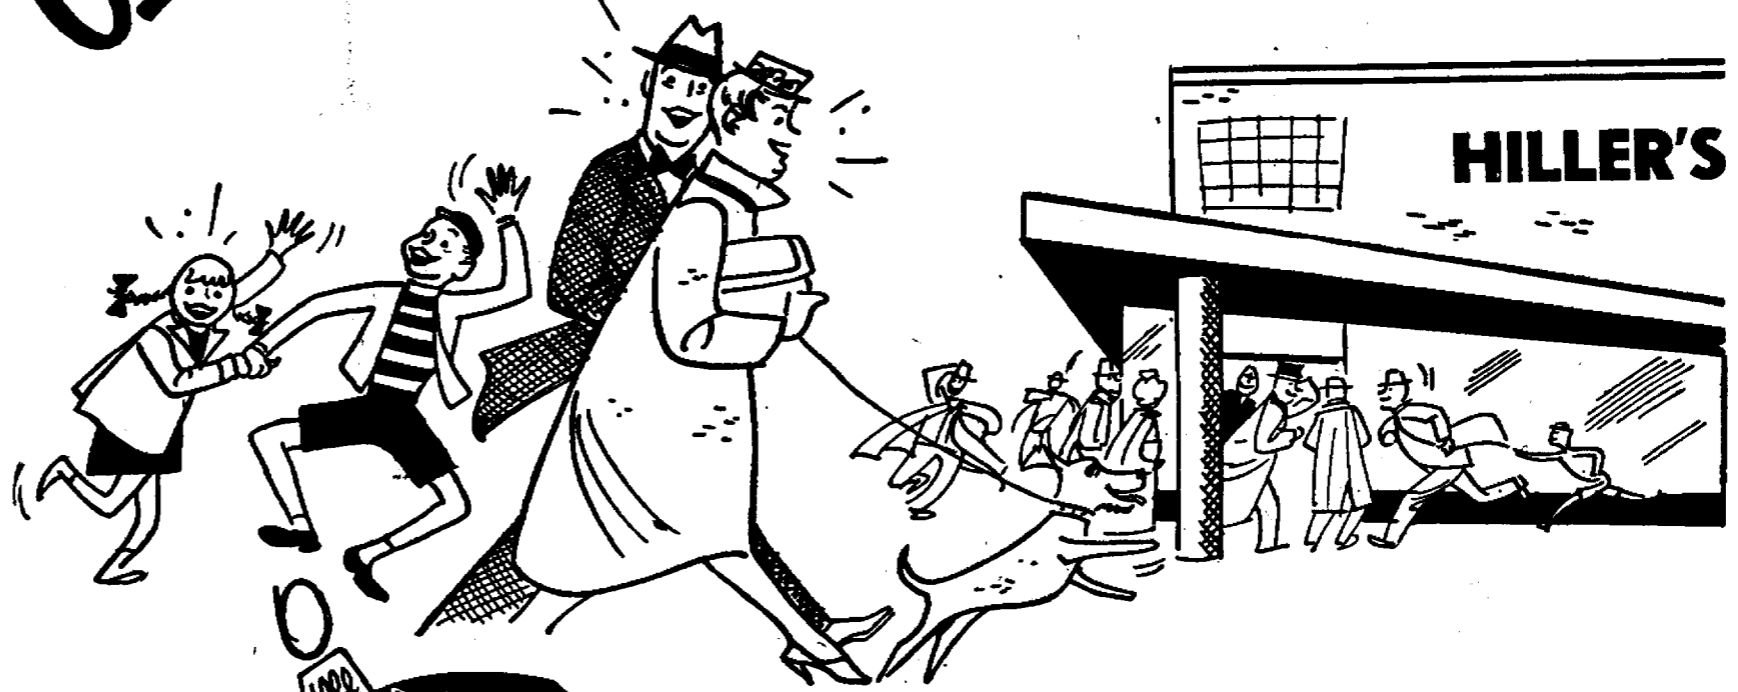

In addressing the envelopes, it is best to send one card to a husband and wife, and separate cards to other adult members of the family too. As an alternative, one card may be mailed to the whole family if you are careful to write the names of each individual on the envelope, including the children.

Use three-cent stamps for your Christmas cards, following the rule of good taste which says that first-class friends deserve first-class mail. It is entirely proper to write your return address on the envelope, to help friends keep tab on changes of address.

Selecting attractive Christmas cards for each of your friends is a delightful pre-Christmas activity. Don't treat it as a sober social responsibility. Plunge in with a smile and the gay holiday scenes on the cards will soon fill your heart with Yuletide cheer and sentiment.

Much Family Fun In Group Games

"Make it a real family Christmas this year by having Santa pack a few hobby supplies or games into his pack that the whole family can enjoy together!" This suggestion comes from E. H. Regnier, a recreation specialist at the University of Illinois.

There are many hobbies that can help build companionship between parents and children. Mothers and daughters like jewelry construction and tapestry weaving. Dad and Junior go in for model-making — airplanes, boats, trains and other items of special interest to the male population.

Everyone enjoys operating a printing press. Small presses turn out newspapers that have a real professional look. Shellcraft and woodburning are hobbies that produce genuinely useful articles. For family fun, rubber-tipped darts, indoor plastic horseback and marble games are excellent.

"Christmas is a time of 'togetherness,' says Regnier. 'Let's capitalize on the situation by starting a game or hobby that will encourage the same type of companionship the year around.'

Have Tree Base Stand in Water

Christmas trees, like flowers, will respond to being kept with the base in the water. Here are two simple things to do if you want your tree to stay green and fresh.

Buy a tree which has been cut as recently as possible.

Cut off the end of the trunk diagonally, at least one inch above the original cut. This will expose a moist surface which will absorb water. Stand the trunk of the tree in water at once, and, if it is not to be taken into the house for several days, keep it in a cool place.

for the month of December. Others on the committee for the coming year are Messrs. John R. Birch, Mrs. George Zimmerman, Mrs. Vernon Souder, Mrs. William Watkins, Mrs. Glen Critton, Mrs. Gordon C. Liesemer, Mrs. Gilbert J. Hattie, Mrs. Clyde Centers, and Mrs. Robert O. Wilson.

Reservations have been accepted for Messrs. Lewis Wood, R. D. Adams, J. Bourbonnais, Cletus Welling, Robert Randall, Arthur Ruthven, C. J. Gauss, J. Welnes, Forest Wainscott, E. Fosterling, S. Davidson, G. Wittman, M. McCale, R. Gillette, G. I. Harcourt, S. Schlingman, Alton Gregg, C. G. Adelle, Roy Ouellette, I. H. Lynch, R. Gibbons. Please make reservations now.

Name Judges For Xmas Seal Contest

Judges for the double-barred cross Christmas Seal Boy Contest include Harvey Campbell, Walter F. McLucas, T. Melville Rinehart, Monsignor Wm. P. Schulte, Dr. Henry Steinbach, and Fred M. Zeder, and Mayor Van Antwerp as Honorary Judge, the TB and Health Society announced today.

The judges will meet December 17 to select from eight boys the one most resembling the boy on the 1948 double-barred cross Christmas Seal.

Children's homes participating include Evangelical Home for Orphans, Baptist Children's Home, Methodist Children's Home, Sarah Fisher Home, Children's Aid Society, Lutheran Charities, and Protestant Children's Home.

Traditionally, each year, a little crippled girl from the Michigan Children's Convalescent Home lights Detroit's Christmas tree on Christmas Eve. This year, the little girl selected will be assisted by the winner of the double-barred cross Christmas Seal Boy Contest. It was felt that a youngster from a broken home should share in this exciting event and so, two deserving children will bring Christmas to Detroit, this coming December 24 as, together, they turn on the lights of the giant tree in front of the city hall.

Reading Yuletide Stories Adds To Family Christmas

The reading of literature's most loved Christmas stories, including the Gospels, is one of the best ways for a family to prepare for the day itself.

A family reading session, planned for the last few days before Christmas, will make it easier for the children to stand the tension of waiting and will add meaning and happy family memories to the occasion.

Christmas is, first of all, religious, and the New Testament accounts of the birth of Jesus ought always to be read first. Both the Christmas tales of Matthew and Luke are beautiful poetry and literature.

Perhaps the most famous Christmas book in the world, after the Gospels, is Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," written in 1843. It is a tale which will be told and retold as long as there is Christmas. It is profound enough for the most adult taste and it is still a children's classic.

Henry Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man," is another story which has become a Christmas classic. It tells of a fourth wise man who saw the star rising and set out to follow it. The great desire of this pilgrim was denied, yet fulfilled in the denial.

For a good, unoffensive funny story about Christmas try "How Come Christmas?" by Roark Bradford. It concerns the efforts of a group of Negroes to decide which came first, Santa Claus or the little Lord Jesus.

Probably the most famous American Christmas tale is Kate Doug-

Wedding Held In Church

A wedding reception was given by Mrs. John Christopher Gilchrist at her home in honor of her daughter, Elisabeth Ann, who exchanged nuptial vows recently with George Robert Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Phillips, in St. Paul's Church.

The Rev. Joseph J. Bohr performed the ceremony at 10 a.m. before an altar adorned with flowers.

Miss Gilchrist chose an Empire styled gown of white satin, with sweetheart neckline above a fitted bodice, and finger-tip sleeves. Seed pearls outlined the satin coronet crowning her illusion veil, and she carried a lace fan covered with white roses and ivy.

A lace fan, with deep red mums and roses, was carried by maid of honor, Shirley Beaupre, who was gowned in fuchsia velvet, and bridesmaid Virginia Allar, also gowned in a similar gown of Dusty Rose.

Groomsmen John Gilchrist, Jeremiah Doyle, and Daniel Kelly, served with Dean Higbie, who was best man.

Gift Suggestions

Christmas always brings the problem of what to give him or her. The best way to solve this problem is to first think of the things he or she likes to do. Then, buy a gift that will be suitable for the person's activities.

Here are some suggestions. Even if the person has one of these items he'll not mind having another one.

FOR PEOPLE WHO LIKE GAMES—cards, chess or checkers, ash trays, score pads and pencils, a card table cover, a book about a favorite game.

IF SHE LIKES TO SEW—embroidery package of stamped material complete with threads and directions, pinking shears, a sweater stretcher, press cloth and tailor's cushions, workbag, dress or blouse material, wool and needles.

FOR TRAVELERS—baggage, compact mending or cleaning kit, a camera, film, portable radio, travel iron, flashlight-tipped pencil or key holder, compact shaving kit.

THE OUTDOOR TYPE—hand-tied flies, tennis balls in tins, golf balls, nylon fish lines, ski wax, wool socks, new set of mittens for the golf clubs, bright caps and jackets.

THE GARDENER—garden gloves, shakers, picking basket, a set of stakes, a new book about gardening, hand sprayer, a peaked cap.

THE YOUNGER SET—her first permanent, watches, crazy sports shirts, his first shaving kit, dancing lessons, their first piece of luggage with their names on it, start her on a set of silver, books about his hobby or some equipment for it.

Santa Pictured By Thomas Nast

Thomas Nast, the famous cartoonist who created our conception of Uncle Sam, the Republican elephant and the Democratic donkey, is also credited with giving America its first modern pictorialization of Santa Claus.

Nast first sketched his notion of Santa Claus in 1873. This Santa was a rollicking, chubby old man smoking a pipe and dressed in what looked like a night shirt with fur collar and cuffs. Since that day he has grown taller and rounder, has developed a full white beard and mustache and has acquired the traditional red suit bordered in ermine.

of averting bitter words suggested that the course of should be worked out in a matter as every good ally should. With the assistance of James K. Watkins, president of the Farms, a motion was passed to ask the Board of Education to take the matter to the Board with this question: "Do you favor the Acceptance by the Board of Education of Alger's Memorial?"

I. Moreland, fund treasurer, pointed out that pending action, the War Memorial Fund was without any funds or to divert any funds or which were specifically for a new library toward development and moved pool of all donors to determine their desires in the matter.

Contributing to the ensuing discussion which was carrying the meeting into its 11th hour were Alois A. Ghesbreght, President of the Village of Grosse Pointe Woods, Realtor Maxon, Fred Runnells and Edgar of the local press, John B. Lord of the Grosse Pointe High School Mother's Club, Mr. Harry N. Phillips, rector of the high school and the Board of Education which is interested in the promotion of a Field

 Township Supervisor Carl Ghesbreght took the floor and that Grosse Pointe could accept and operate Alger's Memorial as a community house, a center of whatever the community wanted, providing the Alger Memorial would be so interested. Mr. Ghesbreght thanked him for the suggestion but further discussion was short when Mr. Watkins stated that it would be better to have Alger house out of town, especially since some villages were eyeing City of government.

Ghesbreght asked for a School Board member one of their experts, stating that only those favoring the Alger house as a library been heard at any length.

Subsequently, Mr. Sheldon called on the library expert, Mr. Ghesbreght, who reiterated negative position he had taken in a lengthy survey which had been submitted to the Board. Copies of this report are available in mimeographed form at the office on St. Clair.

Next heard by request was Florence Severns, veteran Grosse Pointe Librarian, who stated that like most everyone she wanted a Memorial, but in this matter she would act as a librarian.

SUP. BARNES SPEAKS

Township Supt. John R. Barnes called to the floor he recalled his statement with the result that 11 p.m. was rather a time for an "expert" to

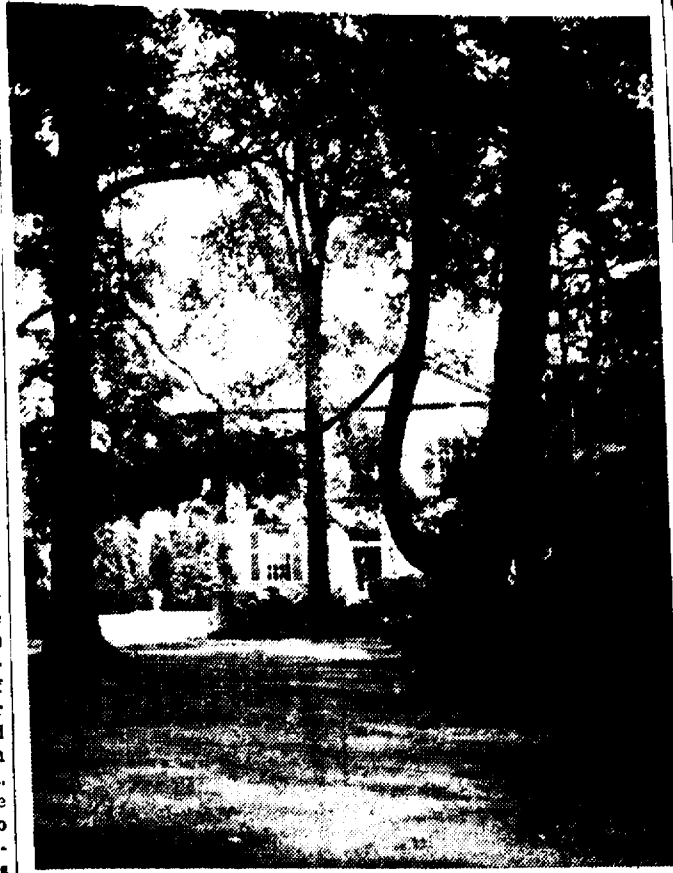

Barnes stated that it was only his duty by law but also practice in the local School Board to advise Members of Board of Education in matters such as the one at hand. Barnes reiterated his position stated in his letter to the Review published in last week's Review), which was not given to the Board until two months had elapsed from the first intimation of the availability of Alger house. Meanwhile, the Board had obtained opinions from outside experts and local experts in the matter, said he.

The Superintendent explained that the District is already straining every faculty to maintain educational standards on the present limits of available funds without special levies. And, that it was the considered opinion of the Board and its advisors that the Alger property would be too expensive to operate and that it couldn't perform the services intended of a library in this community.

The meeting was formally closed, but broke up into little groups who continued the argument and discussion among their own factions and with those of opposite views.

ALGER ESTATE
 "POINTE ON PARADE"

Alger Mansion Built in 1912, Scene of Many Lavish Parties

Editor's Note: This is one in a series of illustrated articles entitled "Pointe on Parade" conducted by Leslie P. Young, veteran resident of Grosse Pointe. The article features stories and pictures of many of Grosse Pointe's first buildings and other centers marked with tradition. In view of its present limelight, the subject this week is Alger House instead of "The Little Post Office," as announced last week. The latter story will appear in next week's Review.

The Alger House on Lakeshore Drive in Grosse Pointe Farms which has been the center of much controversy lately because of the offer of the building to the Board of Education for a War Memorial Library was built in 1912 by Russell A. Alger, Jr., the son of Russell A. Alger who was a governor of Michigan, United States Secretary of War and later United States Senator from Michigan.

The building is of authentic Italian style of architecture and is situated on extensive grounds and has beautiful formal gardens overlooking Lake St. Clair.

For many years it was the scene of many lavish parties and reception. High government officials, social register leaders and many European notables have been entertained in this spacious and beautiful mansion.

In April, 1940, the Alger Family presented the building to the Detroit Museum of Arts and for more than eight years it was a branch museum, visited by thousands of art lovers.

Due to budget restrictions, Detroit was forced to return the mansion to the Alger Estate last June.

Since that time, the beautiful estate has been closed and no trespassing signs have been erected.

Whether its doors will open again to the outside world, depends on the answer to the War Memorial Library problem.

Next week "Pointe On Parade" will discuss, "The Little Post Office."

Readers are invited to contribute suggestions for "Pointe On Parade" subjects.

"Shine" Smith Plays Santa To Indians, Needs Help

This is a brief yarn about a great little man and a magnificent project.

Thirty-one years ago the Rev. Hugh Dickson Smith, Presbyterian minister, ill and near death, headed westward in search of sunshine and health, landing in northern Arizona among the Navajo Indians.

Dr. Smith did regain health, but he didn't return to the East; instead, he continued living among the Indians, exemplifying the injunction to "feed the hungry, clothe the naked, bury the dead." With 25,000 square miles of country as his church, Dr. Smith—"Shine" Smith to the Navajos—has come to be guide and counselor to the red man and white. "Shine" Smith is looked upon by the Navajos as almost a minor god.

Ten years ago "Shine" Smith held his first Christmas party for the Navajos, distributing food and clothing and medicine and gifts to the nomadic tribesmen who lead a life so rugged only the Arizonian can understand it. Last Christmas, at the little trading post at Shonto, "Shine" Smith fed 800 Indians and saw to it that every child got some little thing to make Christmas what it should be to the youngster.

This year "Shine" Smith will feed more than a thousand Navajos, for they will travel, afoot, horseback and in ancient wagons, hundreds of miles to smile a greeting to the little man they so love and to gather their tiny bit of Christmas joy.

A few of "Shine" Smith's old friends—those who know the hard life the Navajo leads—have tried to help him with his burdens, for they know how important this party is to the Indians. Small gifts may be sent directly to "Shine" Smith's Christmas Party, Flagstaff, Arizona, or Jim Welch, The Old AAA Traveler of Automobile Club of Michigan, will forward any such gifts which reach him. An old friend of "Shine" Smith, The Old Traveler says:

Christmas Went Underground With Puritan Ban of 1644

There was a time when Christmas went underground. People who advocated Christmas were in danger of arrest and imprisonment and it looked as though Christmas was on its way out.

It all happened around 1644 when the Puritans in England forbade any merriment or religious services, by act of parliament, on the ground that it was a heathen festival. What resulted was much grumbling, breaking of the law and a Christmas underground which wrote and distributed pamphlets in favor of Christmas.

In 1648, for instance, was published "Canterbury Christmas." This pamphlet gives an account of the subsequent proceedings, after the Cryer of Canterbury had upon Wednesday, December 22, "openly proclaimed that Christmas day and all other superstitious festivals should be put down, and a market should be kept on Christmas day. Which being not observed, (but very ill taken by the country) the town was thereby unserved with provision and trading very much hindered; which occasioned great discontent among people, caused them to rise in a rebellious way."

Among the rarest of the pamphlets issued at that time is one entitled "The Examination and Tryal of Old Father Christmas." In this little volume, "one old Christmas was commanded to be brought to the Bar, then was a Jury for Life and Death to be im-

Hiller's Moved To New, Larger
Headquarters

Nearly a half-century of progress in merchandising is marked in the announcement of the removal of the 10-year old Jefferson store to new and larger quarters at the southwest corner of Chalmers at Jefferson.

W. J. Hiller, owner and active in the business, founded the original Hiller's at Concord at the corner in 1904.

Ten years ago his son, Edwin Hiller, opened the East Jefferson store two doors west of Chalmers. Edwin Hiller lives in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Continuing a well-founded policy of combining outstanding values in dependable style merchandise with friendly courtesies, Hiller's have grown to this needed expansion in their smart new and larger quarters.

Video Beauty

Lovely songstress Carole Coleman, a newcomer to the entertainment world, co-stars with dancer Danny Daniels and singer Larry Douglas in "Make Mine Music," sparkling new five-a-week series on the CBS Television Network.

POPULAR "GINGER"

Ginger Rogers, member of the permanent repertory company of Hollywood stars presented on CBS' Sunday night dramatic series, "The Family Hour of Stars," has been heard on leading radio programs for years but for the most part in adaptations of screen hits. She has starred on CBS' "Lux Radio Theatre."

WAR MEDALS READY

"The long awaited American Theater medals are now available," says Major John G. Stanley, Officer in Charge of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service, 21 Cadillac Square.

To obtain these medals just bring your original discharge and present it to the recruiting Sergeant at the desk.

Mail Carriers
Walk Many Weary Miles

Give a thought to the foot-sore mail carrier, who probably trudges more weary miles during Christmas week than does old St. Nick himself.

His mailsack will be even heavier this year than in 1947. Last December, the nation's postal service delivered 5,000,000,000 pieces of mail. They expect to break that record this Christmas.

You can help spare your mail carrier's bunions—and incidentally speed delivery of your own Yuletide letters, Christmas cards, and packages—by heeding the Post Office Department's suggestions:

1. Shop now—get your Christmas mail and packages off as early as possible.
2. Wrap your gifts carefully. Address them plainly — Aunt Susie may be able to decipher your handwriting, but not all postmen carry magnifying glasses and crystal balls. Register valuable letters. Insure valuable packages.
3. Be sure to put the full address on each piece of mail. Include city zone numbers.
4. Send your Christmas cards by first-class mail. Put a three-cent stamp on every Christmas card and seal the envelopes. They are more personal that way, and if your friend has moved, the card will be forwarded. Third-class mail doesn't have that privilege.
5. Remember that Air Mail for letters and Christmas cards is only a nickel, and it will get them to distant points more quickly—especially if you slip up on Suggestion No. 1.

Shubert Gets
"The Drunkard"

One of the most pleasant surprises of the current theatrical season, coming to the Shubert-Lafayette Theatre on Sunday, December 12 for one week only is Brian Doherty's all Canadian Company in "THE DRUNKARD," which has been shattering all recent attendance records in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and Hamilton.

The most popular feature of "THE DRUNKARD" are the amusing 18th Century songs and skits that come between the scenes. They include delightful ballads, dances and comedy sketches of the period. For this old-fashioned melodrama Brian Doherty has engaged two remarkable artists — John Pratt, Canada's finest comedian and Murray Matheson, one of England's best song and dance men. Matheson was leading man with Bea Lillie in her recent London revue "Better Late."

Matinees are on Wednesday and Saturday and popular prices will prevail. The whole atmosphere of "THE DRUNKARD" is strictly informal. The audience joins in the singing, hisses the villain, and cheers the hero with a right good will.

Romans Started Christmas Date

The first celebration of the birth of Christ on December 25 took place in the fourth century. Before that date the commemoration of Christ's Nativity and Baptism was held on January 6.

The first mention of Christmas is found in a Roman document known as the "Philocalian Calendar" in the year 354, and the first time the festival was celebrated in Britain was in 598, when St. Augustine baptized 10,000 converts.

In the year 567 the Council of Tours declared a twelve-day festival from Christmas to Epiphany, and in 991-1016 the laws ordained that all strife should cease at Christmas. Christmas was established in 813 in Germany and in Norway in the year 850.

England has two towns with Christmas names. Christmas Pie is a small village near Guildford, Surrey, while Christmas Common is near Oxford and Henley.

Balanced Bill Scheduled At New Shores Thtr.

A well-balanced program of entertainment is planned for patrons of the Shores theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, with two top-ranking feature pictures playing along with a late newswreel and cartoon.

In the first half of the double-feature Marsiana District, John in "A Foreign Affair," an intrigue-packed epic that promises suspense with a fine quality of mystery.

Guy Madison is paired with Diana Lynn in the second film, which is one of the heart-warming stories of boys and girls. Title of the film is by no means misleading. It is "Texas, Brooklyn and Heaven."

PIANISTS AT TEMPLE

"Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson play like a criterion. All other piano teams are measured by them," wrote the New York World-Telegram recently of the couple who will play here on Thursday, December 16 at Masonic Auditorium.

Christmas Name For Three Islands

Although Santa Claus doesn't live on any of them, there are three islands in the world named Christmas.

One is the largest atoll in the Pacific ocean. It was discovered in 1777 by Cook, and annexed by Great Britain in 1888. The island is about 100 miles round and less than 100 people live on it. They earn their livelihood by cultivating the island's coconut groves.

Another Christmas island is located in the Indian ocean, 200 miles south of Java. It is 12 miles long by nine miles wide. Surrounded by ocean depths of 14,000 feet, its own highest ground reaches more than 1,000 ft. above sea level. It also belongs to Great Britain and a few hundred Chinese, Malays, Japanese and a few Europeans are engaged in the shipping of phosphate of lime.

Christmas island in the Little Bras d'Or, Nova Scotia, 30 miles southwest of Sydney, is a tiny fishing island of 1,400 population.

Cannon Hails Xmas in Rome

A cannon fired from the historic Castle of San Angelo at sunset on Christmas Eve proclaims the beginning of the Holy Season in Rome. By nine o'clock everyone is in church to witness the colorful and solemn processions of ecclesiastic dignitaries which precede the elaborate midnight Mass.

Since everyone has fasted for twenty-four hours, festive banquets are in order after the religious solemnities. It is a gala after-midnight in Rome: hotels and restaurants remain open, families and friends gather around sumptuous tables in gaily decorated homes; and in anticipation of the festivities, many people attend church dressed in formal attire.

Between Christmas and Epiphany, the Calabrian shepherds—Pifferani—revisit the homes where they were most cordially welcomed during Advent when they came down from the hills to play their Italian bagpipes before the shrines of the Virgin. The Pifferani play for their Advent hosts during the post-Christmas holidays and receive gifts of wine, dried figs, and small sums of money from their hosts.

English Actor At Detroit Town Hall

Hedley Hepworth celebrated English actor and distinguished dramatist, considered Britain's foremost authority on Dickens, will present a program from his inexhaustible store of characters based on the masterpieces of Charles Dickens, for The Detroit Town Hall in The Cass Theatre Friday morning December 10th at 11 o'clock. This is the last lecture before the Holiday recess. Captain "Bill" Odom will resume the lectures on January 7th, 1949.

With election oratory out of the way the statesmen of the nation can attempt to discover a sensible solution to all problems.

SEASONAL RECRUIT

Bandleader-singer Vaughn Monroe, right, star of his own CBS series on Saturdays, is sworn in as an "honorary carrier of Christmas Seals" by Albert Goldman, New York City Postmaster and member of the board of the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association. Monroe, who pilots his own plane, is to fly Christmas Seals to communities his traveling show will visit before Christmas. Singer Jane Pickens stands by with his official cap.

SWAMPED

Oliver Daniel, producer of "Week-end with Music," intermission feature of the CBS Sunday broadcasts by the New York Philharmonic-Symphony, manages to make a telephone call amid the flood of nomination forms sent in daily by high school principals throughout the country. Three lucky teen-agers are chosen from the nominations each week for a trip to New York to see the town and take part in the broadcast feature.

Secret Gifts Left By St. Nicholas

The story of how St. Nicholas became associated with secret gift-giving, and even today comes covertly at night to leave his presents, is one of the most important in the history of his life.

Once upon a time there was a man with three daughters, all of them wishing to marry, but with no dowry forthcoming. Sorry, indeed, was their plight. Their father had about decided to sell them as slaves, but the good St. Nicholas heard of it, and filling a purse with gold, went quietly by night to their home. Seeing a window open, he threw in the bag of gold and then stole away in the night. This money enabled the eldest daughter to marry. A second and a third time St. Nicholas made the trip and finally all three daughters were married.

After the saint's third trip, the girls' father, who had been watching to see who brought the gifts, ran after St. Nicholas and thanked him for his kindness. St. Nicholas made him promise not to divulge his gift-giving and after that he always deposited his presents so secretly that no one ever saw him. Yet people knew, somehow, that it was he who brought gifts during the night, and so whenever they found a package mysteriously delivered they instantly exclaimed, "St. Nicholas has brought it!"

Nut Bowl Filled From Many Lands

Nuts from all over the world go into your nut-bowl at Christmas. Like Christmas traditions, the nuts so popular at this time of year are a mixture of many varieties and different histories.

The English walnut, for instance, is not English at all. It originated in Asia centuries ago and was called "the food of the gods."

The round little filbert and the almond came from the Old World. Other nuts, so familiar at Christmas, the hickory nut, the black walnut and the chestnut, to say nothing of the pecan, are strictly American. The pecan is native to America and is found nowhere else. Two other American nuts worthy of mention are the chestnut and the butternut.

Although many nuts originated in other parts of the world, almost every variety known is now grown on American soil and experts are constantly searching for more kinds of nuts to transplant to this country.

LAWRENCE IS IN
Robert Lawrence of Grosse Pointe has been initiated into Der Deutsche Verein, the club of Western Michigan College students who are members of the campus classes in German. Programs of the club are presented in the German language.

Tree Decorations Symbolize Myths

You may not realize it, but most of the ornaments on your Christmas tree are symbols of myths and legends that were popular three thousand years before the birth of Christ.

At that time the Aryan race, living in the foothills of the Himalaya mountains, saw in the rays of the rising sun, bent as they passed through the humid air, the image of a gigantic tree. These sun poets added to the tree image suggestions from the more distant heavens; the sun, the moon and the stars became the golden fruit that hung on the branches. The larger clouds suggested birds, swans and doves flying in and about the tree. The golden flash of heat-lighting became the mystical flower that grew on the tree, the celestial mistletoe. The showers that watered the tree came from the streams at its base.

From these fragmentary old legends in folklore we get the tree itself the golden tinsel to represent the rising sun, the golden fruit for stars and the moon, swans and doves for clouds, mistletoe for lightning and showers or streamers of silver tinsel for water.

GREAT DEMAND REMAINS
Karl M. Greiger, vice president and general sales manager of the Packard Motor Car Company, said today he found "no valid evidence of softening in new car demand" during a 6,000-mile trip across the country.

Graduate Enrollment High At Michigan State
Graduate enrollment at Michigan State College has reached an all-time high of 1,218 students, according to figures released recently by Ralph C. Huston, dean of the School of Graduate Studies.

This figure represents a 37 per cent increase over last year's enrollment of 892, and is almost five times the enrollment ten years ago. Of this year's total, 232 students are from foreign countries.

Dean Huston predicted that graduate enrollment would increase even more during the next few years. The backlog of veterans and the added impetus given their college attendance by the G. I. Bill of Rights, and the increasingly greater demand for highly trained people were cited by Dean Huston as reasons for this increase.

Neighborhood Club Teams Begin New Court Season Here

Grid Fan Has Faith In Detroit Lions

Frank Cavanau of 410 Elizabeth St., Detroit, is taking no chances on having his seat reservations disturbed for the Detroit Lions' 1949 home football games.

Two weeks before the 1948 season closed, Cavanau in a letter to Coach Bo McMillin wrote: "I believe the team you built in one short year is good indication of winning football that will come our way. Please continue my box seats for the 1949 season."

POST WAR FILMS

New post-war color motion pictures of mysterious "Egypt, Key-stone of the Arab World," will be shown in a World Adventure Series public lecture at 3:30 next Sunday afternoon, Dec. 11, at the Detroit Institute of Arts. Robert Stanton, globe-trotting author from New York, will appear in person with his new color movies.

No man lives today who does not seek, in some way, to follow a guiding star.

Houston, Kopps Share Top Berth in Rotary League

Kopps Pharmacy, determined to gain back the lead they once held in the Rotary League, took a 3-1 decision from Motor City Tires. The Tiremen copped the opener with little opposition, but the Pharmacist rallied forces and aided by George Dettloff's 571 series, took the next two and total pin-fall.

Houston Bros. Inc., had their hands full when they engaged the Middle Atl. Transp. Co. They were lucky to break even with Volpe's five. Although Houston won the opener, the next two were won by the challengers. Houston taking

Belding Bowlers Set High Mark

Led by Angelo Petracci's 568, Belding Cleaners posted a 2622 series to take four points from Boutin's Service last Wednesday at the Vogue Recreation where the 16 teams in the Grosse Pointe Business Men's League saw action.

The Belding series is second season's high for team bowling. Despite a 577 series by Frank Thayer, Oak Cleaners dropped four points to Buckeridge. Harvey Reid leading the Plumbers with a 543 net.

Mack-Nottingham, league leader, split four points with Turner's bowlers who hold 13th position in the standings.

22 Squads Set For Long Season, Seek Trophies

Basketball will get underway in full swing Monday, Dec. 13 when the Neighborhood Club Major and Boys League teams begin the new season.

Sixteen teams in the senior league will play once a week in a long schedule that will continue through March 22.

The champion will receive a beautiful trophy presented by Gray's Sport Shop.

Six entries in the boys' loop also playing one game a week through March will again vie for the Grosse Pointe Optimists Trophy.

According to Director Bill Du-Rocher triple bills will be scheduled every Monday and Tuesday, pairing two boys' squads in a preliminary, and four senior fives in the feature contests.

Top Flight Stage Show To Follow Tech Game

Lawrence Tech's basketball team will seek its second victory at the Fairground Coliseum in a game with North Dakota State Friday at 8 p.m. (Dec. 10).

Again a stage show will follow the game this Friday night. This time the feature entertainer will be the well known pianist and recording artist, Jan August. He will be supported by Bob Strong's Orchestra and other top variety acts.

SILENT NIGHT

The famous Christmas hymn, "Silent night, holy night," was written in Obendorf, one of Austria's loveliest villages, on Christmas Eve 1818, by the local clergyman, who took the words to the home of the village organist the same night, where they were immediately set to the well-known tune.

Holiday Season Safety Rules

It only takes a small amount of carelessness to turn the joyful Christmas holiday into a tragic event. The Christmas tree is the danger spot. There are a few simple precautions that will assure a safe and merry Christmas.

Never burn real candles on your tree.

Don't risk using frayed cords and broken plugs.

Avoid placing powerful lamp bulbs near fancy ornaments, synthetic materials, paper or cotton.

Don't go away and leave your tree lighted.

Be very careful when smoking around Christmas package wrapping material.

Secure the tree by wires to the wall so that tiny tots will not be able to bump or pull it over.

Place your tree so that, standing or fallen, it cannot block a doorway which might be needed to escape from the room.

If you go in for elaborate decorations, better make sure they're all made of incombustible material. Flameproofed materials can be purchased at many stores. Insist on them.

The familiar little double-barred cross which you see in the upper left hand side of this page is the symbol of hope in the great fight against TB.

Two thousand tuberculosis patients from this county are in hospitals every day. This and the rehabilitation service and all other activities of the TB and Health Society are financed by your purchase of seals bearing the little double-barred red cross.

You participate in the prevention and control when you buy these seals. Won't you please think about all this when you wrap your presents.....?

QUESTIONS

(1) In a recent football game I saw the referee place the ball on the 5-yard line when the scoring team lined up to try for the extra point. Why wasn't it on the 3-yard line?

(2) If a football player going into the end zone to receive a pass crosses over the boundary line but steps back inside before he catches the ball, is it a legal catch?

(3) What was the longest non-scoring runback of a kickoff last year?

GPHCagers Open Home Season With Royal Oak

By JOHN E. SANFORD
Review Junior Correspondent

With two games already under their belts the Blue Devil Cagers will meet Royal Oak in their first Border Cities League game this Friday on the local court. The contest will also be the Pointer's initial home game having played both Hazel Park and Mt. Clemens away.

Sparked by little Bill Farquhar throughout, the Blue Devils came from behind in the last four minutes of the Hazel Park contest last Friday and went on to win 35-31.

Except for three minutes at the beginning of the second quarter when Vince Schoeck's basket put them ahead 7-6, the Devils trailed the battling Vikings until the last minute spurge.

Farquhar, better known as "Sparky," kept his teammates in the game, however, with his flashy passing and shooting. His eleven points on five goals and one free throw were second only to high scorer Schoeck's twelve.

Aggressive on both offense and defense, Farquhar was the only Devil to play the entire four quarters. His heady play continually broke up the rapid moving Hazel Park offense. After the Devils got their lead in the last four minutes he teamed with another peppy guard, Leroy Peplinski, to stall the eager Viking off, until the end of the game.

It was Peplinski who stole the ball in the last three minutes and raced the court to put in what proved to be the winning basket. Spike Quirk's free throw plus Bayard Johnson's field goal gave the Pointers an additional insurance margin.

The Devils play showed much room for improvement. Particularly weak on fast breaking for shots they were forced to make the majority of their shots while closely guarded.

Except for Farquhar and Peplinski, the team seemed to lack spirit and aggressiveness. Not until one minute into the second quarter did they score a field goal. At the end of the first quarter their total was a meager two points on foul shots by Quirk and Schoeck. Johnson's field goal finally broke the ice for the Pointers.

Although Schoeck was high scorer, his play was definitely not up to par. He missed numerous easy shots and lacked pep on defense.

Also needing much improvement is center Quirk, who played as if it were his first varsity game. It must be noted, however, six foot five center Hugh McMasters of Hazel Park constantly outreached him by two inches on the rebound scrambles.

Led by Larry Mark's eight points, the Blue Devil reserves easily trounced their opponents 36-22. The Vikings didn't score a single point in the first quarter as the Pointers racked up eight on Mark's three baskets plus Glen Coury's goal.

At half time they led 20-10 and coasted the second half while substituting freely.

Gorgeous George Meets Carnera At Olympia

The wrestling attraction of the century — Gorgeous George Wagner vs. Primo Carnera — will be staged at the Olympia, Friday December 10.

Gorgeous George, a sensational showman, is the biggest drawing card in big time wrestling. He has 88 beautiful robes from which to select. Jeffery, his gentleman's gentleman, always precedes him into the ring with a large silver tray laden with toiletries. He also carries a bath mat and a small rug, so that Georges will not have to tread the common canvas flooring before his match begins. Jeffery's first duty is to spray the ring floor with a perfumed disinfectant.

At few, if any, times since Christ was born have all the people of the earth needed faith, trust, and peace as much as they do now.

(2) No. The player is not eligible to catch a pass after he's once stepped out of bounds. Incomplete pass.

(3) Bullock, playing for Kilgore, ran back a kickoff 96 yards but failed to score.

Credit Smaller Colleges for Ph.D's

The smaller colleges and universities of the nation are the greatest source of Ph. D. degrees in science. It is pointed out in a recent issue of FORTUNE. Calling attention to the shortage of top-level scientists in the country, the article pays tribute to the inspiration given students in beginning classes by the heads of departments in the small schools, "many quite unknown outside their own regions."

The article refers to the Steelman report to the president, "Manpower for Research, Volume Four of Science and Public Policy," which credits Kalamazoo College as being fourth in the nation in the production of successful candidates for Ph. D degrees in science per 1,000 students. The first three schools are: California Tech., Haverford, and Oberlin.

Michigan Candidates, Aren't Lucky in '48'

Overlooked in the recent presidential campaign was the fact that two Michigan people ran for the presidency and were defeated just 100 years apart.

Back in 1848, Lewis Cass, Michigan's first governor, was nominated by the Democrats and was defeated by Zachary Taylor. Then in 1948, Michigan-born Thomas E. Dewey went down to defeat at the polls.

These Michigan candidates, just 100 years apart, are the subject of a display at the University of Michigan Historical Collections.
