 Mrs. Charles Lord, 269 MacMillan who fractured her ankle recently when she slipped in front of her home has left Cottage Hospital and will complete her recovery at home.
 On her way to Pierce Library to escort her daughter home, Mrs. Nellie Geisler, of 1329 Maryland, was strong armed by a man who fled with her purse.
 Paul Deely and Sam Barr at home reading the Review were very much surprised when they read an item reporting them in Miami attending the Kiwanis convention.
 Though the pair plan to attend the convention, the item was a bit premature as the event is not scheduled until May.
 Hugh McHugh, defeated candidate for the Park City Chart Commission, extends his appreciation to the 891 who supported him.
 Grosse Pointe's Lillian Hicks, solo dramatist, will appear in "Becky Sharp" in the lecture hall of the Institute of Arts, Saturday evening, March 25.
 The play was adapted from Thackeray's "Vanity Fair" by the Detroit novelist, Isabella Holt.
 Mrs. Hicks is the only solo dramatist who presents complete plays. Her repertoire includes "Dolly Madison," "Stephen Foster's Jeanie," and "Flora MacDonald."
 Arnold Dising attended his last meeting of the Grosse Pointe Woods Council as a member of that body. He was defeated at the recent election by George Heckendorn.
 Dising said that if the Village switches to a city, he would like to help draft a city charter.

ROTARY SPEAKER

State Mediator Declares 'Strikes Needed Here'

"I hope to never live to see the day when there are no strikes in the United States," Philip Weiss, conciliator on the State Mediation Board, told members of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club Monday at the Memorial Center.

"For," said the speaker, "in only three countries have strikes ever been outlawed and abolished, namely Mussolini's Italy, Hitler's Germany and now Stalin's Russia. And, no one would trade our system for theirs, except the communists."
 Our only real secret weapon, said Weiss, is our industrial supremacy. Stalin even estimates that it will take 20 years for Russia to catch up to our present-day productivity and meanwhile we will be going ahead.

The new officers were installed by Samuel Toepel, retiring cubmaster. Mr. and Mrs. Toepel were presented with a lamp for their service to the pack in the last year.

A hilarious half hour was provided by Earl Gotberg, Detroit ventriloquist, working with two dummies and enlisting the aid of boys in the audience.

To Open Bids for GP Bonds

The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing has approved the $3,185,000 bond issue for Grosse Pointe school buildings, John R. Barnes, school superintendent announced. He said he received official approval from the Commission Wednesday.

This Commission must approve all bond issues offered for sale by municipalities or school boards.
 Barnes said that bids for the sale of the bonds will be opened before the school board Wednesday, April 12.

On Feb. 24, the Grosse Pointe School District electorate voted for the bond issue to finance more educational facilities.

Sigurd R. Wendin, president reported that there has been much interest expressed by the large bond investors in this bond issue and he expects active bidding at a very favorable rate of interest.

Barnes said that since the election, the Board of Education has been at work with the architects getting the plans and specifications ready to submit to contractors for bidding. "The first project to be offered for construction bids will be for the completion of the PARCELS Junior High School," he said.

He gave two reasons for this: "1—The plans and specifications for this project have already been prepared and at this time need only to be re-checked and brought up to date.
 2—This project is the largest of any contemplated and therefore it will take longer to complete than the smaller elementary buildings."

He expects ground to be broken on this project before June 1. Barnes said:
 "The second project to receive immediate consideration is the preparation of detailed plans and specifications for the completion of the NEW KERBY Elementary School and for the new GRATIOT Elementary School will also be awarded for the construction of these buildings at the earliest possible date."

Belgium Archers 'Have Fun'

It's archery every Sunday for a local Belgian colony of Robin Hoods and William Tells.

The archers, about 150 of them, meet at their indoor range, 4322 Cadieux. Though the competition is keen the sessions are more like family picnics.

There's fun for everyone, true to Belgian tradition.
 While "Dad" takes aim with his stout bow and arrow, "Mom" gets ready for her turn. Junior keeps score or watches.

Besides the annexed cafe has refreshments and dancing and tables for the "ladies" who just want to talk.

Jules C. Ryckaert, 70, of 9383 Sylvester, is the head of a typical family of bowmen. Though Mr. Ryckaert is an apt archer, he is pressed for parental honors by Mrs. Ryckaert, who is 65.

Their son Richard, 36, learned to shoot before he could say Rob-in Hood.
 "And thirteen-year-old Dick, Jr., is a chip off the old bow," he said.

He laughed at the suggestion of a "William Tell" act.
 The Robin Hood and William Tell Archery Clubs were organized in 1937. The members meet each week throughout the year. During the summer, they move to their outdoor range, Harper at Seven Mile.

At the end of the year, points are tabulated and the leader receives a beautiful trophy.
 Robin Hood's Tom Alfastsen, 46, of 5991 Gifford, is the current champion.

The first thing an observer learns about this favorite Belgian sport is that it is not easy to master.
 The bow ranges from six feet to seven feet tall and the arrow is about 32 inches. A special leather band is needed to protect the wrist and forearm. The target is a wooden "birdie" which is less than an inch in diameter. It lies 75 feet away.

Golf's coveted hole-in-one appears much easier than a "birdie's eye."
 Or where's that canasta deck?

THREE ELECTED

Alger Is Fourth Pointer To Seek Governorship

The candidacy of Frederick Alger, Jr. for the Governorship of Michigan on the Republican ticket, marks not only the second Alger man to run for the office, but also the fourth Grosse Pointe man to seek the highest office of the State.

While many of Michigan's governors have been directly and indirectly connected with the Pointe or prominent in Pointe society, Russell Alger, Wilbur Brinker, and the present Governor Gerhart Mennen Williams have been Pointe residents.

The present candidate is the grandson of Michigan's 26th Governor, Russell Alger, who served one term during 1855-67, and became known for his philanthropic movements as giving away suits to young newsboys at Christmas-time and being an instigator of the small organization that founded the Old Newsboys.

He was a General in the Spanish-American War and also became Secretary of State.

The second Pointe man to be elected was Wilbur Brinker as the 49th Governor of the State. Mr. Brinker served from 1931-33, in 1946.

Running on the same party platform as his grandfather, Frederick Alger, Jr. has also been a local resident since his youth.

He became Secretary of State in 1946.

HAS THE MEMORIAL FORGOTTEN?

The recent move to close the Memorial Center on Thursdays may be pointing towards an unfortunate trend. Since the heavy schedule of activities has prompted this action, what is to prevent further curtailment of veterans' privileges?

In the beginning the Memorial Center was pledged to give maximum benefit to veterans. Since its inception the community was privileged to use this property as a center for many functions. Various clubs and organizations hold regular meetings there.

As the Center grew in popularity, it became necessary to eclipse somewhat the original intent so that other groups could share its benefits.

There are certain groups on the schedule of activities who are outside the community and have little or no local connections.

Perhaps a more careful screening of applicants desirous of using the Center as a meeting place might relieve the pressing conditions.

If a larger staff would solve the problem then the answer lies in raising more money through increased fees for use of facilities at the Center.

If the Memorial Center is to be kept as a memento to those who served in the war it seems fitting that a definite effort be put forth to give them the first consideration.

"WHO'S CLEANING UP?"

How would you like to own a company which took in nearly $134,500,000 last year? It would be a wonderful thing, of course—but the chances are that you, as owner, wouldn't get nearly as large a part of that sum as you think.

Here, for instance, is how a major utility company, with that much gross revenue in 1949, fared when it came to dividing up the money.

Of each dollar, labor received the largest share in the forms of payrolls and pensions—29 cents.

Fuel cost 22.5 cents out of that dollar, and materials and supplies ran to 12.7 cents.

Next came government, with a tax bill for 14.1 cents.

Depreciation—which simply means wear and tear on equipment that must eventually be replaced—accounted for 6.8 cents.

Finally, the stockholders came in for 6.4 cents in dividends, and interest on debt required 4.3 cents. The remainder of the dollar, a trifle more than four cents, was left in the business or spent for miscellaneous expenses.

Under the American system, the worker and the government received much more than the owners. In the case of this particular utility, government took practically twice as much as the stockholders, and workers not far from five times as much. And a large part of the money the stockholders received also went to the government in the form of individual income taxes. It doesn't look as if the "capitalists" are exactly cleaning up!

"AHEAD OF GRANDPA"

The huge meals Americans are supposed to have eaten 40 years ago or so are something of a legend. According to it, incredible quantities of steaks, roasts and everything else made the dinner table groan three times a day.

The fact is, however, that this year the average American will eat about five more pounds of meat than his forebearers consumed in 1910. And what makes that particularly remarkable is that our human population has increased by 63 per cent since 1910, while the meat animal population is only twenty-seven per cent greater.

What has happened is that, in 40 years, enormous progress has been made in the industry in all its branches. Many farmers now market two pig crops a year instead of one. Beef is fattened more quickly. Loss of animals has been reduced through better sanitation and handling methods.

The packers of meat have held up their end too. Meat is a highly perishable food, yet spoilage is virtually non-existent. All of the meat is utilized, and all of it moves into the channels of consumption in wholesome condition. And, finally, the retailer, with his dependable sources of supply, is able to keep on hand just the right kinds and quantities of meat for his trade.

The point is that we Americans eat better, more healthful and more nutritious meals than we ever did before. We consume more of the vital proteins—elements which have a direct bearing on stamina and physical and mental well-being. We're ahead of grandpa!

THE TAXES YOU WEAR

The American Weekly recently published a full-page picture of a girl dressed for a party. She was wearing some modest jewelry and a fur scarf. She was carrying a purse. She had used the customary make-up—powder, cleansing cream, lipstick, rouge and so on. She had washed her hair with a commercially-made shampoo. She had a pack of cigarettes and a holder and a lighter. The point of the picture was that she was a living, breathing example of the burden of the wartime excise taxes which are still in effect, long after the last shot was fired.

These excise taxes, most of which come to 20 per cent on top of the regular retail price of the commodities affected such as the apparel and accessories worn by the girl in the picture, are, of course, in addition to all the other direct and indirect taxes we pay. Other types of excise tax—created by the war emergency—apply to transportation, telephone calls, etc.

Ask any retail merchant what the effect of the taxes is. Ask any worker in an industry which produces one of the commodities or services so taxed. Ask manufacturers. They all say the same thing—that the taxes reduce sales, that they force many people to buy inferior goods, and that the year a strong adverse influence on employment and purchasing power. Significantly, Canada, which had taxes of this nature during the war, repealed hers.

When the taxes were passed, it was said that they would be repealed as soon as hostilities ended. That is a moral obligation and their continuance is a clear breach of faith on the part of the government.

OR "AYLMER"

"Is Your Name Elmer?"

By ANNA REYNOLDS, Ph.D.
Elmer has reached its popularity as a result of a specifically American development. Even if the name has come to our time from the Old English "Aylmer" or the Saxon "Etlimer," meaning noble and famous, it was the family name of two revolutionary heroes that made it a favorite. The brothers, Ebenezer and Jonathan Elmer, were organizers of revolutionary militia, pamphleteers and surgeons. The older of the two, Ebenezer, was such a fine physician that there was "no finer in all America," and he imparted his knowledge to young Jonathan. Both of them applied themselves to the Cause of the Revolution with perseverance and devotion, and their contemporaries honored them by naming babies all over the country "Elmer."

Taking a family name as a given name used to be a purely English custom that was the style among the landed gentry in Queen Elizabeth's time. It then was confined to ancient families who wished to make their names live on. As a new custom, many opposed it and riled against it because it was a thing "nowhere else done in Christendom." Yet its appeal was stronger than any criticism, and the custom survived.

The idea to "Sell the Sizzle. Not the Steak," is a widespread sales slogan originated by Elmer Wheeler. It aims at making prospective buyers' mouths water in anticipation. Of course if you sell the "sizzle" you must take care to come through with a thick, juicy, tender steak. Otherwise—no repeat business, and the sizzle is likely to fizzle.

Letters To Editor

TO THE EDITOR:
I read with mixed feeling and great doubt your editorial "One City—Grosse Pointe."

A merger of the five Grosse Pointes (and perhaps that part of Grosse Pointe Park that is included in our School District) has been suggested many times.

Our so-called silk-stocking classes have managed very well over a period of years to keep taxes down with a maximum of service. Compared to Detroit's garbage pick-up and trash pick-up, we can really point with glowing pride.

Now then, it has always been an accepted fact that it is easier toicker with one person in reaching a settlement than in four or five or more factions. My point is this: It has not been too long ago that the City of Detroit in its reach for more taxes has tried to annex Grosse Pointe. If we were to merge, it might simplify things—for Detroit. If not, then Detroit would have to pick up the Park first and gradually "educate" all of us until the City of Grosse Pointe would be next, the Farms next, etc. The larger the municipality, the smaller the voice of the voter. Right?

Sincerely,
Mrs. D. B. Crane

TO THE EDITOR:
I read the report of the interviews of Grosse Pointe Park candidates made by the League of Women Voters in the Review.

I want to commend you for your public spirit in devoting so much space to such a worthy cause.

We are most fortunate in Grosse Pointe Park to have a newspaper whose editor is so civic minded. This kind of non-partisan information is necessary to help the citizens vote intelligently.

We who are interested in maintaining good government in the community appreciate your very fine cooperation.

POLICE REPORT

Conditions Make Violations More Serious

Editor's Note: This is the sixth and last of the series of articles printed as a public service on how to drive safely, and explaining the Uniform Enforcement Policy System of Accident Prevention.

The court believes the new system much fairer than the old one. By classifying the least serious violations and traffic conditions it becomes possible to determine more accurately the amount of fine which the violator deserves. Judges have always considered conditions which prevailed at the time and place of the violation as important as the degree of the violation itself. For example, going 15 miles over the speed limit at 10 o'clock in the morning, on dry pavement, with no traffic within 300 feet is not as dangerous as going ten miles over the limit at 5 o'clock in the afternoon when traffic is heavy.

The conditions that increase seriousness of any violation are:

- Slippery Pavement: It is obvious that when vehicles can't stop or turn as quickly and when pedestrians may slip and fall down, any violation is more dangerous and deserves a higher fine.

Darkness: No one can see as well at night as in daylight. Records show that chances of having an accident are seven times greater at night. Thus, any violation committed in darkness (due to night time, fog, or snow) deserves a higher fine.

Heavy Traffic: When pedestrians or vehicles are present, a violation is more apt to cause an accident than when they are not, and a more severe penalty is thus in order.

Caused Person to Dodge: If the violation causes a pedestrian to jump back or another motorist to swerve his car or slam on his brakes, the offense is certainly more apt to cause trouble. The violation is especially dangerous and a higher fine is called for.

Just Missed Accident: If the driver almost hits another vehicle or pedestrian, this, too, proves that it was particularly dangerous and a higher fine is in order.

Library Spotlight

By JEAN TAYLOR

The Newbery and Caldecott awards announced this month always make news in the library world.

To Marguerite De Angeli for her book, 'The Door in the Wall,' goes the Newbery medal for the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children in 1949.

Leo Politi receives the Caldecott award for the best picture book of the year, 'The Song of the Swallows.'

Mrs. De Angeli has written a number of books for children in the nine to twelve age range. Her newest book, 'The Door in the Wall,' is her first with a foreign setting—thirteenth century England. It tells of the adventures of Robin, a young lad of noble family, crippled during the London plague. In all Mrs. De Angeli's books it is the illustrations that first attract. There is gaiety and beauty in their warm clear colors.

Of Italian descent Leo Politi was born in Los Angeles and lived in that colorful Mexican section of the city, Olvera Street. His pictures and stories bear the mark of his association with the Mexican craftsmen and their families, who are his neighbors. There is a gentle quality and child like simplicity in his illustrations.

The Song of the Swallows is the story of a small boy Juan. Through his friendship with Father Julian of the Mission Church he learns of the arrival of the swallows on March 19, St. Joseph's Day and of their departure late in the summer.

About the middle of the eighteenth century a London bookseller, one John Newbery, placed over his door the surprising words, 'Juvenile Library.' Surprising, because up to the middle of the 1700's there were few books made which children could properly think of as their own. This ingenious and versatile person was both author and publisher as well as a dealer in patent medicines. His books were made to give pleasure to children but he used them also to advertise his wares.

Because John Newbery's venture was regarded as the first milestone in bookmaking for children, the medal awarded each year for the most distinguished American book for children, bears his name.

It was in 1922 that Fredric G. Melcher, editor of the Publishers Weekly established and endowed the John Newbery medal. This was followed in 1938 by the Caldecott award for the best picture book of the year, taking its name from one of the early illustrators of children's books, Randolph Caldecott.

Some of the Newbery and Caldecott books have received the indorsement of adults but have failed to find favor with children. There have been many however, that have continued in popularity with youngsters over the years. Among these are 'The Voyages of Doctor Dolittle,' 'Caddie Woodlawn,' 'Smoky the Cowhorse' and 'Call It Courage.'

March seems to be the peak of the book reviewing season. Mrs. Helen Boothe of our library staff has been busy in her role of book reviewer. She spoke at the subject 'Books and People' at a meeting of the American Association of University Women and also addressed the Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church. Mrs. Boothe will be glad to give this service to any interested group in Grosse Pointe.

Miss Melitta Roemer in charge of the Main Library, attended a meeting of the Planning Committee of the Michigan Library Association in Lansing last week. Plans were made for the early Fall meeting of M.L.A. in Mackinaw.

Famous Opera at Cinema

'L'ELISER D'AMORE,' Donizetti's famous opera has been made into a highly amusing and tuneful motion picture, which hard-boiled critics claim to be one of the most satisfying films ever produced. The greatest operatic tenor singing in America today, FERRUCCIO TAGLIAVINI, may be heard singing several of the world's best-loved songs, which will be an experience to cherish forever by all lovers of great music. The role of Adina is played by the lovely and enchanting Margherita Carosio.

Six Marine, Wing and Service troops were represented at Miller Hall where songs, talks and specially decorated refreshments gave an entertaining evening for all. Mrs. Roeglin was chairman of this event.

The St. Paul School Girl Scouts and Brownies celebrated Birthday Week with a "play-party" for all the troops—325, 846 and 847. This included games, relays, songs and treats of ice cream, cookies and candy. Mrs. J. F. McCormick was in charge.

Pointe Choir to Climax Lenten Season

As a climax of the Lenten season, the stirring cantata, The Seven Last Words of Christ will be presented by the Choir of St. James Lutheran Church, 170 McMillan Road, Wednesday, March 29 at 8:00 p.m.

Written by the late nineteenth century French composer and organist Theodore Dubois, The Seven Last Words of Christ is noted for its unusual dramatic quality. The choir, which will personify the mob that crucified Christ, sings in sharp and vivid contrast to the hauntingly beautiful and tender Seven Words of the soloists. The cantata ends with the triumphant chorale of adoration, Adoramus te, Christe.

The Rev. George E. Kurz, pastor of St. James Church, will deliver the sermon on the Fourth Word, 'My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?'

Guest organist for the cantata will be Mr. Herbert Gotsch.

St. Paul Hi-Lites

By MARILYN SMITH

The Irish spirit rang cheerily and often both in music and colors on the St. Paul campus last Friday. Throughout the day the wearing of the green was displayed in some way or other by the Paulites. Some wore green scarves and ribbons. Others wore shamrocks, and some even had green hair. Yes, you read correctly—green hair!

As a special tribute to St. Patrick, the Apostle of Ireland, an assembly was held in the afternoon in which students from the various high school classes participated. Naturally no one else would do as chairman for the program but that good-natured Irishman, Bill Murphy.

First on the agenda was a brief resume by Jim McCarthy '50 of the life of St. Patrick. Following this, Mary Lou Cavanaugh '51, Jerry Hollerbach '51, and Earl LaFave '51, accompanied by Diane Zemper '51 at the piano, sang that popular Irish song, "You're Irish and You're Beautiful."

No program would be complete without the Junior verse choir. They read "The Breastplate of St. Patrick." The choral group sang "Deep in My Heart" and "Donkey Serenade."

Hans von Bernthal added his special musical talent to the program by his excellent rendition of Chattanooga Shoeshine Boy" on the piano.

The program ended with Bob Schneider '51, Medard Deprest '50, Jerry Marschal '51 and Frank Fobuth '53 playing those ever favorite Irish tunes, "Danny Boy," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "Peg of My Heart."

Thanks to all who made the program the big hit that it was. By the looks of things, the St. Paul girls' varsity team will be the city champs. So far they have played excellent games with only one defeat suffered in the regionals. Sunday they disqualified Blessed Sacrament from the remaining regional games with a 34-26 victory. As a result there are only five teams now competing for the championship.

Now that the Merchant Marine essays and open book exams are well on the way, seniors take long deep breaths—to get ready for the quarterlies.

Masquers to Depict "The Young Idea"

Niel Coward's three act comedy "The Young Idea" will be staged at Pierce Auditorium on Friday, April 4 at 8:30 p.m. by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. The public is invited. There will be no admission charge. The cast is drawn from the members of the Adult Education "The Masquers," who are in their fourth year of production.

Fashion Show for Y-Teens

Eleven dancers and singers and two vocal quartets from 10 high schools were selected by a talent board of Y-Teens for the annual Y-Teen Kern's Fashion Show, which is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. March 27, in Kern's 4th floor auditorium. The music and dancing will punctuate the showing of spring fashions. Carol States, from Mackenzie Y-Teen Club, will be master of ceremonies.

Theme of this year's show is Board Walk Beauties and Beaux on Parade. The ramp along which Kern's teen-age models will stroll, will be transformed into an authentic Atlantic City boardwalk. Concession booths on each side will offer hot dogs, ice cream, popcorn and cut flowers. All booths will be decorated and manned by Y-Teens, of course. The entire proceeds of the show will be used to send Y-Teens to summer conferences.

All high school boys and girls are invited to the show. When the doors open at 5 p.m. Y-Teen hostesses will be on hand to introduce their guests to the fun of the boardwalk.

Only people count...

THE figures that constitute the year-end statement of The Equitable Life Assurance Society may seem overwhelming at first glance . . . but they readily come alive when considered in terms of the human values they represent.

Simply stated, for more than 4,350,000 Americans, here is their hope of economic security; the financial foundation on which they can build for the future; the open door to better things in life. Thus, the figures you see on this page have more than statistical meaning—they project a picture of what life-insurance-dollars accomplish in promoting human welfare.

For instance . . . the $68,500,000 received in premiums by The Society during 1949 provided life insurance coverage of $14,115,700,000 in addition to annuities and accident and health protection. In 1949 payments to Equitable Society members and their beneficiaries totaled $335,000,000 of which $115,000,000 represented death claims, and $220,000,000 were payments, including dividends, to living policyholders. On the business side—from investments and insurance operations, The Society earned $142,700,000 of which $6,000,000 was set aside to strengthen reserves and $83,800,000 was allotted for policyholders' dividends.

At the same time, life insurance funds perform a double duty in the economic life of our nation. While they are providing protection, they are also financing homes, building factories, helping to improve railroads, participating in scores of industries—in short, contributing materially to the highest living standard known to mankind.

Look beyond the figures in this annual report and you will see life insurance in action on many levels. But remember, it is the human level which is of greatest concern to us . . . for after all, only people count.
