POINTE PARAGRAPHS

—by The Pointer—

Some 20 members of the Grosse Pointe Lions Club will have reprieve from the torrid heat Thursday when they head Ray Whyte's boat for a spin to the Old Club for lunch.

The thousands of residents who enjoyed their holiday near Lake St. Clair strained their necks during the afternoon as they watched a spectacle in the sky. Six planes were flying in formation and doing a rather hectic job of advertising a national brand of gasoline with copy letters.

Children at the Grosse Pointe Park Waterfront Park enjoyed great fun on the Fourth of July. Hundreds of youngsters spent part of the afternoon diving into the pool looking for painted washers. Lucky winners could trade their prizes for candy bars and ice cream from the pop stand.

Occasionally homing pigeons get sidetracked. This was true in the case of the winged messenger that landed in the chimney of the Municipal Building at Grosse Pointe Park. Grace McCracken, of the Violations Bureau, heard the rustling and summoned aid. The bird was dead, minus a few feathers, and returned to other members of its local homing pigeon fraternity.

Every available picnic table, bench and stove was in use by eight o'clock on the morning of July 4th as scores took their breakfast and lunch to the Grosse Pointe Park waterfront park for the day. Few left when scattered few drops of rain fell at mid-afternoon.

A squad car took charge about the friendliest Scotty that ever had his freedom cut short at the Farms pier Tuesday. Before he was captured, he nudged the throngs watching the bathers as he slipped up on them and suddenly placed his paw on a bare shoulder or asked an available check.

Wednesday felt like that holiday which one sometimes wishes would never come, after the split-holiday week-end.

Pointe Angler Latches Prize

Final tabulation of more than 100 entries in the first annual Lake St. Clair Muskie Tournament was announced recently by the tournament committee of the Board of Commerce in Mount Clemens.

One of the prize winners in the 30 muskie meet was angler Richard Kullen, of 452 Roland. His catch weighed 17 pounds, 1 ounce.

Winner of the top award was Lynn Perry, of Mount Clemens. His 36-pound catch on June 13 held up in the last two weeks of the tournament.

Mrs. Mary Moore, of St. Clair Shores, placed as a winner in the women's division with her 18-pound muskie.

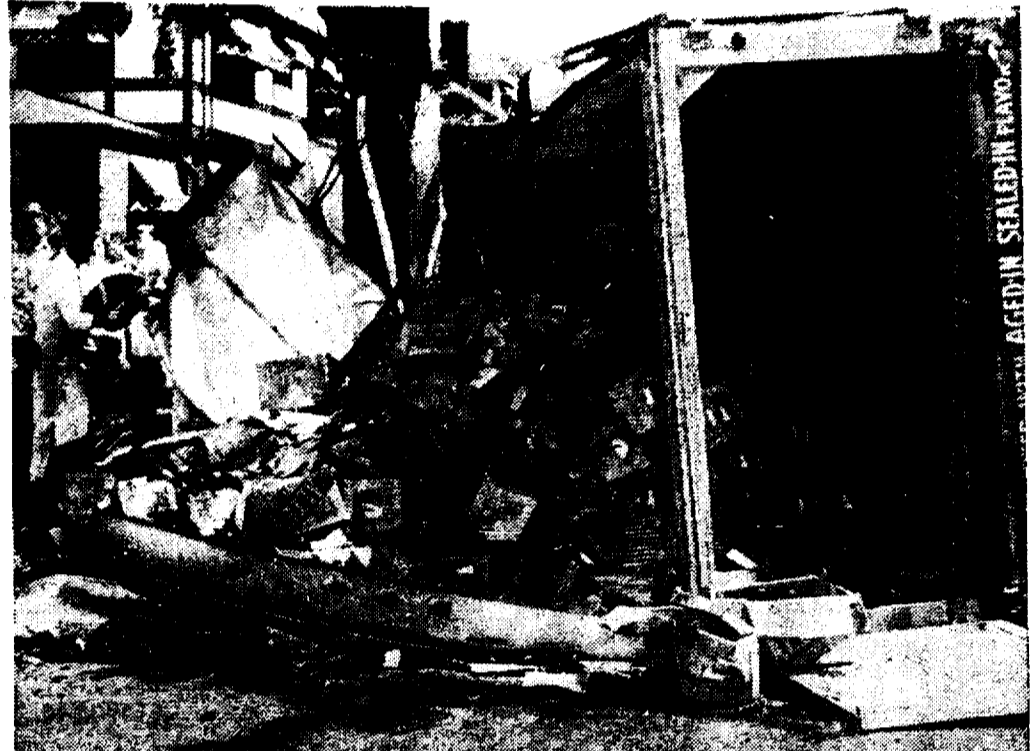

Firebug On Loose

Someone with a great dislike for blue spruce trees tried unsuccessfully to burn one down on the front lawn at 1471 Hollywood. Three books of empty matches were found under the tree on the lawn.

IT'S BRISK! IT'S CLEAR! IT'S ALTES BEER

This slogan rang true last week as a beer truck on Mack Ave. swerved to avoid hitting another car and jackknifed as it hit a tree. Bottles, cans and kegs of beer were hurled into the street as thirsty crowds gathered to watch the foaming brew.

Record Crowds Enjoy 4th of July Programs; 21,000 Attend Annual Kiwanis Field Day

Fourth of July crowds flocked to the Grosse Pointe beaches and parks in staggering numbers to enjoy a warm and sunny holiday. A record number of more than 21,000 attended the 12th Annual Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Holiday Program at Mason Field. Baseball games were in session from 1 to 5 p.m. and children of all ages joined in the races and contests. Refreshment stands sold several thousand hot dogs and an equal number of soft drinks. The stands were operated by members of Sea Scout Ship 690 and proceeds will go toward buying a boat for the boys.

Raid Illegal, Licavoli Says In Park Court

After months of delay the examination of alleged racketeer Pete Licavoli on a gambling charge was resumed Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. before Justice of Peace John L. Potter in Grosse Pointe Municipal Park. The prosecutor's office was given a week to prove that 3,490 "dream books" found at Licavoli's home were not the "fruits of an illegal seizure," as his attorney contends.

Pointe Couple Celebrate 61st Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel N. Tanner, Sr., celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary on July 2 with a gathering of the clan. Family members who gathered to cut the silver cake included many of their 16 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren. Present also were their sons, Traugott, Henry Nyle, Lorenzo DeBert and Daniel, Jr.

Two Boys Injured By Firecracker

Two 10-year-old boys were injured Wednesday morning when a firecracker exploded as they were watching a ball game at Mason Field. Julian C. DeCloedt, of 20831 Ridgmont, received a cut injury and George Sanderson, of 1421 Brye Drive, wounded his leg.

Makes Wrong Pass

Martin Behn, of 12039 Promenade, was ticketed Sunday by Grosse Pointe Park police for passing traffic on the right side and causing an accident. He collided with another car driven by Harvey Phillips, 8125 Kercheval.

Motorists Unhurt In Crash

Grosse Pointe enjoyed a safe Fourth of July holiday in spite of the fact that fatalities in Michigan were more numerous than anywhere in the nation.

Though record crowds attended local parks and beaches no casualties were reported.

However, Grosse Pointe Police reported seven traffic accidents, one of which was a five car collision.

Catherine C. Herman, of 1167 Whittier, was attempting to make a left hand turn Sunday from Jefferson into Bedford. Her automobile was struck by another auto driven by Leslie Aubuchon, a member of the U. S. Navy from St. Louis. Aubuchon's car was in turn struck by another car driven by Max Plante, of 300 Fiske. Plante's auto swerved sideways and collided with a vehicle driven by Jeanne Smith, of 1628 Severn, who was coming East on Jefferson. Her car bounced into the path of an auto operated by Wilhemina C. Pollitz, of 524 Garland.

Five cars were damaged in the accident but no one was injured.

Beatrice Wallace, of 503 University, and John Hilbert, of 303 Piper, were ticketed for approaching an intersection with undue caution after their cars collided Sunday at Pemberton and Korte.

Evelyn Juliet Stock, of 805 Beaconsfield, was ticketed by Grosse Pointe Park police for leaving the scene of an accident Saturday. Police said her car sideswiped two other cars owned by Ada B. Hipp, 929 Nottingham, and Fred Neol, 931 Nottingham.

Police issued a ticket to Martin Rehn, of 12039 Promenade, for passing on the right side of traffic and causing an accident.

Other accidents reported by Pointe municipalities included scattered minor mishaps.

Police said they issued a ticket for reckless driving to Robert Pettica, of 1774 Stanhope.

Kenneth Burns, age 56, of 679 Ricardor Blvd., suffered a Fourth of July injury while working in his yard. Burns toppled off a step ladder and broke his left arm and bruised his left leg. He was taken to Cottage Hospital by City of Grosse Pointe police.

Farms Urges Registration for Primary

In an attempt to register all qualified citizens for the State Primary election September 12, Grosse Pointe Farms will keep its Municipal offices open for registration on a special evening schedule.

The offices will be open to take registrations on the following evenings: Tuesday, July 11, Friday, July 14, Friday, August 18, Monday, August 21, and Tuesday, August 22.

The final day for registration before the primary is Tuesday, August 22.

The League of Women Voters are cooperating with the Farms registration plan by furnishing volunteers during the evenings. Persons may register during regular office hours, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and on Saturday until noon.

Registered persons in the Farms were mailed a registration notice and list of polling places.

All other residences will receive a printed notice of the dates and times they can register before the deadline.

Washing Machine Gets Steamed Up

Woods police were summoned to the Carl Weideman, Jr. residence, at 1706 Bozemouth, Thursday when a washing machine caught fire and filled the basement with smoke.

Police examination of the blaze before any serious damage resulted.

HAPPY ENDING TO FISH STORY

After landing a 15-pound, 36-inch muskie, Aaron Domine, 1056 Maryland, proudly displays his catch. Companion angler, on the left, was Joseph Gentile, 11930 Payton. Domine is a patrolman with the Grosse Pointe Park police.

Pointers to Help Neighbors Give 250th Birthday Party

Detroit has been definitely promised a big birthday party in 1951 and to help celebrate the event a host of Grosse Pointe neighbors have been elected to the board of directors of the festival committee.

They are Raymond H. Berry, Charles W. Bishop, Sheldon B. Daume, Berrien Eaton, Leo J. Fitzpatrick, Charles A. Kanter and Dr. A. W. Lescohier.

Other directors of the Detroit birthday festival are Eugene W. Lewis, John N. Lord, Ben R. Marsh, Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, J. Bell Moran, Mrs. H. L. Newman, Alger Sheldon, James B. Webber, Jr., Dr. A. H. Whittaker, Frank Winn, Abram VanderZee and Oscar Webber.

The event will mark the 250th anniversary of the founding of Detroit by Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac in 1701. It will be a community wide affair, and everyone will be invited to the party. Money to carry out the plans will be raised immediately and a general outline of plans has been secured.

Selden B. Daume, president of The Detroit Trust Company, has consented to head and coordinate this important civic undertaking, as president and general chairman. He resides at 272 LaSalle in Grosse Pointe.

President Daume promises that announcement of appointments to important committees will be made as quickly as possible.

Bond Drive Close Delayed Until July 17

A technical delay in the United States Treasury Liberty Bell Savings Bond sale closing, announced this week, gives Grosse Pointe and other Michigan citizens a chance to boost their investment above the state quota.

Though the drive officially closed Tuesday, July 4, a July 17 deadline has been set for the drive. Delmar V. Cote, Michigan director of the U. S. Treasury Savings Bonds Division, said today.

Cote called upon Michigan citizens in the interval to put the Wolverine state over the top again and to help to lead the nation again as in all past campaigns.

The late processing date was set to allow for any lag in reports by all agencies reporting sales. George Cook, Grosse Pointe chairman, told The Review.

Shot Blasts Glass

Edmond H. Demeyer, of 3035 Somerset, driver of a Pointe Cab was parked in front of the Farms Market Thursday when a small pellet blasted the window.

Police say the broken window may have been caused by a shot from a 22-cal. rifle.

An estimated gain of more than $34,500 in sales tax monies diverted from the State is seen for Grosse Pointe Woods according to an estimate based upon the unofficial census figures just released which saw that municipality's population jump from a 1940 figure of 2,805 to 10,407 in 1950.

Since every Grosse Pointe community enjoyed a marginal increase in 1950 over 1940, an annual gain in sales tax monies will be enjoyed by every community, though only a fraction of the Woods increase where the population nearly quintupled since 1940.

Sales tax diversion, adopted as an amendment to the State Constitution in 1946, provides that one-third of the sales tax collected by the State shall be returned to points of origin and be divided fifty-fifty between the municipalities and the schools.

Distribution to the schools adjusts itself automatically, since it is based upon the annual school census, which must be taken, according to law in May. Distribution to the municipalities is based on the latest federal census, causing inequalities to arise during the ten year term of the established figure.

As a result, Grosse Pointe Woods adjusted population figure will increase their annual share of $17,166 to approximately $32,700 for a gain of $34,500 plus, based upon the current rate of return of $6.12 per capita per year, and assuming that the State's official population in the 1950 census is approximately 6,350,000.

Many other Michigan communities adjacent to Detroit will gain with the adjusted population figures, namely Allen Park, Dearborn, Lincoln Park and Melvindale.

Detroit's revenue will suffer an annual loss of more than $800,000; Highland Park will lose some $77,000 and Hamtramck more than $85,000.

During the ten year jump from one census to another, municipalities which are slipping backwards in population receive more than they are entitled to, while rapidly growing communities, such as the Woods and other Pointes, are penalized. By the nature of the law, however, they have received nothing more than they are entitled to according to the wording of the law.

Alert Citizen Identifies Car Of Robbers

Through the quick action of an alert citizen, three vandals were arrested in Grosse Pointe Park for the theft of automobile parts.

Howard Semmler, of 715 Berkshire, was returning home when he spotted several men stealing the hub caps from cars parked in front of a neighbor's house.

When the bandits fled, Semmler gave chase in his own car and took the license number of the speeding car.

Albert Pethko, 28, of 19327 Mitchell, and Richard S. Bugnaski, 17, of 3208 Jacob, were arrested by police and arraigned before Judge C. Joseph Belanger. They were fined $30 apiece and paid $16 for restitution of stolen property.

A third member of the gang, Frederick L. Grieg, 19, of 19222 Lanont, will be tried at a later date.

Ex-Governor Brucker Warns Americans to Brace Themselves

"United States is just as embattled here as in Korea," Ex-Governor Wilbur M. Brucker, of Provençal road, told members and guests of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club in an address on "Americanism" Monday at the Memorial Center.

The former Wolverine state chief executive deplored the lack of statesmanship reflected in our national government. It was this lack of international diplomacy, which led us to recognize Russia in 1933 and to the knocking out of Yalta when we agreed to turn over every person of Russian origin in satellite coun-

VALLEY FORGE ENCAMPMENT

How fortunate are these 32 Boy Scouts who departed from Grosse Pointe for Valley Forge.

They will meet 46,000 other Scouters, representing a veritable cross-section of American boyhood.

They will celebrate 40 years of Boy Scouting in this country.

They will pitch their tents on ground made historic by the winter encampment of George Washington and his Continental Army from Dec. 19, 1777 to June 19, 1778. About 10,000 members of this army suffered that winter from cold and sickness.

Writing in his diary, Dec. 23, 1777, Washington said:

"We have this day no less than 2,873 men in camp unfit for duty because they are barefooted and otherwise naked. Numbers are still obliged to sit all night by fires."

Although there were many desertions and occasional symptoms of mutiny, the soldiers, for the most part, bore their sufferings with heroic fortitude.

Valley Forge Park of some 2,033 acres, is 24 miles northwest of historic Philadelphia, and seven miles west of Norristown, Pa.

Valley Forge Park is owned, maintained and preserved by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and managed by a Valley Forge Park Commission. Governor James H. Duff invited the Boy Scouts to hold their Jamboree there saying:

"I can visualize no more appropriate location for the climax to your 'Strengthen the Arm of Liberty' Crusade than Valley Forge where the sacrifice and training were undergone on the basis of which our heritage of liberty was won."

The first National Scout Jamboree was held in a 480-acre tent city on both sides of the Potomac River at Washington, D. C., from June 30 to July 9, 1937, at the invitation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who visited the camp on two occasions and reviewed the Scouts in what was probably the nation's first "stand-still parade." Because of the high temperatures, the Scout campers lined Constitution Avenue and the President drove between their lines.

The 27,232 Scouts and leaders made a great impression on Washington. Their behavior, appearance, and spirit won admiration on all sides. They paid every cent of expenses for the Jamboree and the government was not asked for any financial support.

The Jamboree Camp will occupy about 600 of the 2,033 acres in Valley Forge Park. This will provide 32 sectional camps for a miximum of 46,000 Scouts and adult leaders and a headquarters camp for 460 leaders.

If Washington's men who served at Valley Forge could see Scouts' Jamboree camp they would marvel at the complete sanitation facilities, well-stocked food depots, a variety of tents and multiple comforts in the America of today.

Jamboree planners will provide for a safe and sanitary camp, devoid of frills to reduce the cost for all participating, making it possible for more boys to attend. Each Scout and Leader participating will pay the Jamboree fee of forty dollars which pays for food and all facilities at the Jamboree camp.

Living by Patrols and Troops, the Jamboree campers will be equipped to carry on their own program of self-sufficient Units. Each organized Patrol of eight Scouts will bring its own equipment. The camp will furnish sanitation facilities. Food will be drawn from commissary depots and prepared by the Scouts. It will be democracy in action. Everyone will share in the camp duties and pleasures.

The aim of the Scouts' "Crusade" which ends Dec. 31, 1950 says Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive, is to present "to the American people an organized group of boys and leaders surpassing anything previously achieved. As a result every boy in Scouting will have a richer, more stimulating adventure in his Unit, with a broader opportunity to experience the values of the program in character building and training for citizenship."

"The outcome," he said, "should have a definite impact on the American people and furnish a triumphant demonstration of the effectiveness of the nation's leading youth movement, dedicated to maintain the American way of life, and to share its God-given ideals with the people of the world."

THE MOST COMPETITIVE PEOPLE ON EARTH

In a modern industrial society either competition or bureaucracy must act as the governor of the economic machinery. So far the governor in this country has been competition and will continue to be as long as the people choose to live under the capitalistic system.

This is the opinion of Raymond Rodgers, professor of Banking, New York University who says: "As the chain of production lengthens, and there is less and less opportunity for us to retreat to the self-sufficient world of the pioneer, competition (or, God forbid, bureaucracy!) becomes our only protection. Fortunately, the most valuable feature of capitalism—the one feature which no other system offers—is competition. In fact, competition is such a dominant element of capitalism, as we know it, that it should more properly be called competitive capitalism. You have only to look at the newspapers, read the magazines, listen to the radio, or submit yourself to some of the 'horrors' of television, to realize that Americans are the most competitive people on earth!"

If this country were the land of the big monopolies as claimed most vociferously by the admirers of bureaucracy there would be no need for the endless stream of publicity and advertising by big and little businesses of all kinds. Monopolies don't need to advertise to keep themselves in business any more than dictators have to stump their countries for re-election. By the same token the advertising which keeps the wheels of competitive capitalism turning also is the financial bulwark of a free press.

WHERE WOULD YOU RATHER BE?

The Wall Street Journal recently took an unusual approach to the problem of socialized medicine. It pointed out that when new "miracle" drugs—such as the sulfas, penicillin, cortisone, and so on, are first discovered their cost is extremely high. Then the detractors of American enterprise say, "Science is discovering wonderful things but the private capitalistic system is keeping them out of reach of the people. So we ought to have socialized medicine or government pill subsidies or government planning for the chemists—or whatever is the speaker's pet project."

However, the paper went on, "These misty-eyed sociologists quickly drop the matter as soon as the chemical industry has cut the problem down to size. They point the finger of scorn when penicillin sells wholesale at $20 a 'dose' and forget the matter when it shortly comes down to 4 cents a partaking . . .

If a cynic honestly thinks that the cause of healing, in any of its many manifestations, would be advanced by socialized medicine or government domination of the nation's medical personnel and facilities, he is blind to the facts. Progress, in any direction, flourishes in an air of freedom—not in an atmosphere of red tape, bureaucracy, political management and government monopoly.

Magazine Uncovers Campaign In City Against Drunk Drivers

Detroit's honest and determined campaign against drunken driving is being recommended to cities all over the nation as a "fool-proof formula" for halting the mounting toll of traffic deaths.

This week's issue of The Saturday Evening Post, in an article titled "Don't Get Drunk in Detroit," says, "Today, Detroit has cut its motoring deaths to less than 200 annually, and in each of the last three years never more than six deaths have been caused by drunken drivers. The automobile capital of the world now stands as a model for all cities to emulate."

The city's campaign is based on three E's of remedial action—Engineering, Education and Enforcement, the article explains.

"It consists of a competent engineering program to discover what the city's particular traffic hazards are and what to do about correcting them; an all-out educational program to enlist public opinion behind the idea that idiotic driving is not smart and that violators must be punished; and an enforcement program whereby the police and the judges crack down on the town millionaire and the fellow with political pull just as readily and severely as they do on the factory worker or the grocery clerk."

Traffic Judges George T. Murphy and John D. Watts are commended for the support they gave to the campaign by handing out stiff penalties to all violators, regardless of position or prestige.

"In the first three weeks under the new get-tough policy, 182 violators were sent to jail," says the article. "In this same period, there were only four traffic deaths, and only one of these was caused by a reckless driver—none by drunkenness."

After the shocking highway slaughter of the 20's and 30's the city asked the Northwestern University Traffic Institute to conduct a survey which showed the proper engineering of Detroit's traffic problem.

The campaign against Detroit's traffic deaths really got under way when C. E. Wilson of General Motors, K. T. Keller of Chrysler, the late Edsel Ford—and other manufacturers, bankers and businessmen gave their financial and moral support to the aggressive and autonomous Traffic Safety Association.

The public education part of the program was "aided beyond estimate" by the newspapers and by radio and television stations, the article declares.

Photographs illustrating the account show Judge Watts presiding at traffic court, a warning sign to drunken drivers posted in taverns by the police, and an almost totally demolished car representing the slaughter that was altogether too common in the days before the plan was adopted.

PLANT MOONFLOWERS
Moonflowers which open at sunset are a sure-fire attraction for garden visitors. The white moonflower has fragrant blossoms four to five inches across, larger than any morning glory. Flowers which are about to blossom can easily be identified, and it is fascinating to watch their tightly twisted petals slowly open as the twilight fades.

Bicycle Safety

According to the Bicycle Regulations set up by the Grosse Pointe Traffic and Safety Committee, every person operating a bicycle upon a roadway shall ride as near the right hand side as possible. When passing a standing vehicle or one proceeding in the same direction due caution should be exercised.

Persons riding bicycles on a road shall not ride more than two abreast except on paths or parts of roads set aside for the exclusive use of bicycles.

Bicycle riders should use pathways wherever possible instead of the streets.

No person shall operate a bicycle at a speed greater than is reasonable.

Emerging from an alley or driveway, a cyclist must yield right-of-way to all approaching pedestrians. Upon entering a roadway a rider shall yield the right-of-way to approaching vehicles.

No person riding a bike is permitted to attach himself or his vehicle to a street car or automobile on the road.

No person shall park a bicycle upon a street other than against the curb or in a sidewalk rack. The bicycle should be placed where it will afford the least obstruction to pedestrian traffic.

"arsenal of democracy" for World War II is getting ready for World War III.

While hoping that Russia would precipitate another world conflagration, Michigan government officials are taking a realistic viewpoint. If war does break out, Michigan can expect an attack from the enemy for the first time in the commonwealth's history.

Governor G. Mennen Williams has asked mayors of 45 cities, all with 10,000 population, to appoint defense directors at once. Temporary air raid warning centers will be placed into operation by Commissioner Donald H. Ford, Michigan State Police.

Governor was assured by Victor Knox, speaker of the Michigan House of Representatives, that the legislature would convene promptly if, in the opinion of the governor, new legislation was needed to prepare Michigan for any emergency. The legislature is now technically in session.

The Soo locks the government closed the locks to visitors as a security precaution, labeled "10-day test."

The state police radio network is being alerted for possible emergency use.

In Detroit, where munitions are mass-produced during World War II at victorious volume, steps have been taken to notify the public if Russia attempts a sneak attack by air. Sirens have been silenced on police and fire equipment so that the sound of sirens, at any time, will mean just one thing: WAR!

Augmenting the police-fire sirens will be the whistles of 140 factories.

Plans to evacuate industrial centers are being rushed, while first aid organization was being pushed to provide doctors, nurses and nurses' aids for bombed areas.

All of these hurried preparations reveal the extent to which Michigan citizens have been suffering from war jitters.

At Washington the Congress approved extension of the draft, empowering the president to draft needed manpower for the armed forces, now 635,000 men short. Michigan's selective service machinery is being kept on a standby basis for instant call.

This Thursday (July 6) at Lansing will bring all civilian defense coordinators for a state-wide session.

Detroit's coordinator, Brig. Gen. Clyde E. Dougherty, gave this bit of advice, as publicized in the press:

"All I can say is be calm, don't get hysterical, get under cover, turn off the gas and lights, leave the radio on for advice, and have plenty of water available.

Washington advice is that an outbreak of war would automatically invoke the most drastic restrictions on food, transportation, and materials. Prices would be put under ceilings; wages probably frozen.

All of this disturbing preparation is likely, as long as the war clouds are on the horizon, to prompt apprehensive housewives to "play safe" by purchasing a few extra pounds of sugar; families to take that year-planned vacation in the near future and perhaps to order a new automobile, television set, clothes and other commodities which might become scarce articles. Hoarding of this kind will have inevitable result: An artificial shortage, thus created, will skyrocket prices unnecessarily.

And yet human nature may be expected to function, as it always does.

Michigan's big news-of-the-week is the hurried preparation to get under cover from Russian bombing planes if and when war breaks.

If war does not come, the preparations may be regarded as constructive for test training purposes.

If war does come, a lot of people fear that Michigan may be caught unprepared. The big industrial centers and the Soo locks offer ideal targets, and a few bombs, placed accurately, could become miniature "Pearl Harbors" to American security.

Sow Pansy Seeds in Plat Now to Grow Blossoms for Next Summer

If you like pansies and violas, it is possible to enjoy their flowery all next summer by planting them in shade, and keeping their blossoms picked off.

Sow the seed by August 15 in a flat. Fill the flat with soil prepared by mixing a third sharp sand, a third peat moss, and a third sifted top soil. Cover the surface with a half-inch layer of sphagnum moss, and broadcast the seed in this, with a little moss.

When the garden soil has been prepared in the spring, move the plants to a portion of the border which is on the north side of a building. Here they will get the sun for a brief time morning and evening, with dense shade the rest of the day. They may not grow as fast at first as plants in full sun, but they will soon catch up, and the rest of the summer they will surprise you.

In hot weather, the flowers will not grow to giant size, and the plants will become "leggy," with long stems. If cut back severely, and given a dose of plant food, new growth and more abundant flowers will result. Aside from the novelty of pansies in the summer, attractive color effects may be obtained by planting named varieties of pansies.

Violas, which have been defined as "pansies without faces," may be grown the same way. Their flowers, usually in solid colors, grow almost as large as the pansies in the summer, and are more numerous. Dark blue, yellow and white flowers will make a bed or border which will cool you off in the hottest weather.

Remember, almost anything you sow at this time of the year will need daily watering until the seeds have sprouted and the seedlings plants have developed long roots. If you make it a practice to use a top layer of sphagnum moss, on which the seed is sown, you need have no fear of overwatering. The moss has antibiotic qualities, which prevent the development of damping-off fungus; and it keeps moist much longer than soil, so that you really save both work and worry when you use it. A few cents worth purchased from a florist or seedsman will be sufficient for several flats.

Violas Are Usually of Solid Coloring to cover them. Keep moist until they germinate.

The moss will prevent damping-off, a fungus disease which is dangerous in hot weather. Let the plants grow out in the open until fall. Then if you have a cold frame put the flat in it and cover with leaves for the winter. Lacking a cold frame, get the flat in a protected corner, and cover. It is better to transplant the seedlings, setting them seven to eight inches apart in additional flats, but if you sowed thinly, this can be skipped and the plants left to winter in the original flat. Usually their leaves stay green all winter.

Mid-Century Theme Plan At State Fair

It will be the "Mid-Century" Michigan State Fair.

That's the tag the Michigan State Fair board has approved for its 101st annual State Fair to be held in Detroit Sept. 1 through 10.

James D. Friel, who developed last year's Centennial State Fair into the largest ever held, is back on the job as general manager, feverishly preparing for this fall.

Other officials reappointed include Harry B. Kelly, director of exhibits; Graham Overgard, director of music and special events; Jack Dickstein, entertainment director; Polly Luers, director of Home Arts, and Dick Frederick, director of publicity and advertising. Robert J. Byers has been appointed director of commercial exhibits.

Friel said the State Fair again will emphasize the importance of Michigan as an agricultural State and the interdependence of all Michigan agriculture, industry, education and other interests.

Fred M. Zeder Elected to Boy Scouts' Executive Board

Fred M. Zeder, vice-chairman of the Board of Chrysler Corporation and in charge of the famous Chrysler Engineering laboratories, was selected to membership on the National Council Executive Board, Boy Scouts of America, at the National Council's annual meeting in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania last week. The Council's annual meeting was held just prior to the opening of America's Second National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania in which 47,000 Scouts and Leaders participated, including 32 boys from Grosse Pointe.

Born in Bay City, Michigan, in 1886, Mr. Zeder attended Bay City schools and learned the machinist trade at the Industrial Works of that town. He graduated from the University of Michigan in 1909, with a Science Degree in Mechanical Engineering. He served in many engineering and automotive capacities, including Allis-Chalmers, Studebaker, Maxwell, and the Willys corporations. He lives at 17500 E. Jefferson.

Mr. Zeder served as president of the Detroit Area Scout Council during 1942 and 1943; when he had to resign from active Scout leadership, because of war production schedules. Since that time he has been a member of the Seventh Scout Regional Committee comprising the four states of Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois.

The local Scout Council, a Red

Feather Agency of the United Foundation, has always had representation on the National Council on a Scout-membership basis, but Zeder is the first prominent industrialist in some years to be elected to the Executive Board.

Pointers to Help Neighbors Live 250th Birthday Party

ent events will be held, to open big historic festival spectacle, Michigan Cavalcade, which opens on that date as the big professionally staged action, and continue perhaps through the Michigan State Fair.

From July 25 through the great part of August, it is planned, State Fair Grounds will be scene of hundreds of community activities including five or six week-long events each of a week's duration. These will include:

(1) a sports festival of the latest possible proportions; (2) a power festival seeking the participation of all horticultural organizations, as well as commercial growers of flowers and shrubs with the secondary aim of beautifying the Fair Grounds area; (3) a folk festival calling for participation of all nationality and racial groups in colorful ceremonies, dances, pageants, gymnastics and traditional festivities; (4) a great music festival with amateur and professional participation in a week-long series of concerts, choral events, dramatic ensembles, perhaps even dramatic ventures; (5) a week-long art festival with many exhibits, demonstrations of various forms, classes and awards, both in commercial and amateur classes.

Coinciding with these major events, all groups in Detroit are urged to plan special days for observances demonstrating their objectives and progress under the American system of initiative and free choice. It is expected that schools, churches, industry, cultural societies, benevolent groups, organizations, lodges, service clubs, professional groups, civic organizations, parent-teacher groups and many others will want to plan special programs of participation emphasizing their contributions to community life and progress. Such participation may be in the form of formal programs or they may be civic projects or birthday gifts.

On the gift side, it is pointed out one always brings gifts to birthday party, and many of Detroit's institutions may look to the festival as the occasion of special gift giving. Suggestions for such gifts have included donations to Detroit's emerging Civic Center, the gift of a great fountain to adorn the plaza of the Civic Center, gifts to our Museum of Arts, the Detroit Public Library, the new Historical Museum, Wayne University, the fund for Detroit's Symphony Orchestra, gifts to our charities and social agencies through the United Foundation, to churches and their institutions.

In the historical aspects of the festival there are many things which are being considered and for which much volunteer help will be needed to bring them to fruition. Many additional markers of historic spots are needed in Detroit. Many days should be set aside to honor Michigan's great men and women for their contributions to our and the nation's welfare with some permanent public record of their achievements placed in some public building in our City.

Detroit's and Michigan's military achievements, it is planned, should be recognized in some special way as part of the festival activities.

The extraordinary history of Detroit industry and commerce will be written prominently into the festival plans with some suitable permanent record of achievements.

Detroit's objectives and aims, its dreams for the future, will be dramatically visualized, it is hoped, in special displays and exhibits to be shown in the festival area.

Within the realm of possibility is the development of a series of commercially sponsored free entertainment and educational attractions. Every effort will be made to secure such sponsors both in Detroit and outside. Other cities and industry outside of Detroit may be asked to join in the celebrations of Detroit's 250th birthday!

An official emblem of the festival has been adopted and will be copyrighted and its use in souvenirs, decorations and special motifs will be controlled by the festival corporation. The emblem shows a heraldic type shield with the French fleur de lis at the bottom on a pale blue ground to signify our French beginnings. Directly over the fleur de lis is a red bar with the British lion in gold, marking our British history, and the top of the shield in blue with three white stars and the American eagle over all to signify our American heritage.

Special publications, including an official program, are being discussed. Wayne University press is considering the publication of a special picture history of Detroit. All official festival publications will be issued with the approval of the Festival corporation.

The organizers of the festival have high hopes that the entire community will be eager to join hands in making this celebration the greatest event in the city's long history resulting in an enthusiastic, active cooperative civic pride.

It is hoped that Detroit will gain in material benefits, in permanent civic improvements, in intensified business activity. All budgeted expenses connected with the festival, it is hoped, will be met by returns from the festival activities.

Honorary Chairmen of the Corporation are Governor G. Mennen Williams and Mayor Albert E. Cobb.

GARDEN PEAS

Sweet peas, lupina and garden peas usually grow better if the seed are treated with one of the inoculants available for the purpose. Treatment stimulates the ability of the plants to obtain nitrogen from the air, where other plants must get it from the soil.

"Since 1914, the purchasing power of an hour's work in our country has just about doubled." — Sylvia Porter, financial editor.

PULLING WEEDS

If weeds have grown so large that pulling them is sure to disturb the roots of garden plants, do the pulling in late afternoon, or in cloudy weather. This will give the injured plant time to repair the damage before it again faces the summer sun. Even a few hours will do wonders in aiding recovery.

Guests will be seated at the luncheon by Dr. Rockwell Jackson, of Kenilworth, Utah; Dr. David S. Thompson, of Ann Arbor; Dr. Wendell Jay, Jr., of Temple, Tex.; Thomas H. Davis, of Scranton, and Janice's brother, Donald Olivier.

First in the series of parties honoring Janice was a luncheon and linen shower given on June 25 at the Women's City Club by Mrs. Thomas H. Cotter and her daughter Pat. On Thursday, Ann McGarry hosted a luncheon and kitchen shower in her lake place home, and Mrs. Carl Moran and her niece, Angela Roberts, have reserved Saturday for a tea and personal shower in her Rivard Blvd. home.

Both Janice and Tom will be honored at a cocktail party and buffet supper to be given on July 6 by Joanne Orleansman in her Riverview Road home, and Tom's parents will host the rehearsal dinner on July 7 at the Riviera.

NEWS IN SIGHT

Dr. Arthur M. Majester, O.D. Many people who wear eyeglasses can see without them well enough to get along. They wear glasses because their sight is imperfect, and in their conscious or unconscious effort to see better, they strain their eyes. To relieve this strain glasses were prescribed.

Some people wear glasses because they cannot see without them. These people with very poor eyesight rarely suffer from eyestrain when they are without glasses. Strain though they may, they cannot see clearly so the eyes just give up in an attempt to stop straining. It is the people with only slight defects of vision who strain their eyes the most. Their eyes are always working overtime, trying to see better.

We have, then, two reasons for wearing glasses—to enable us to see, and to relieve eyestrain.

Care Continues in South Korea

CARE aid will continue to operate in Southern Korea as long as the delivery of the organization's gift package is physically possible, Miss Ethel Pork, executive director of the Detroit CARE Committee announced here today.

Miss Polk also pointed out that food, textile and blanket packages, which CARE has stocked in Korean warehouses, available for delivery, are now more urgently needed than ever before.

The agency, she said, has served Southern Korea for approximately one year, delivering woolen fabric packages, blankets, knitting wool, baby food and cotton fabric parcels at prices ranging from $5.50 to $10. In addition, CARE serves Southern Korean libraries and universities with technical and professional books under the CARE-UNESCO Book Fund.

Any of these materials can still be delivered in Southern Korea as long as the military situation permits. Orders and contributions are accepted locally at convenient CARE outlets and through the Detroit CARE Committee, 153 E. Elizabeth, Room 223.

Red Feather Solves Problem of How To Keep Children Busy

With summer here, the big problem is what to do to keep the children amused during the vacation time.

The Detroit area offers many chances for recreation for your youngster and the Community Information Service of the Council of Social Agencies can tell you about them.

There are many camps, some operated by Red Feather services and some under public auspices, where your child can spend a pleasant and healthful period.

For those children whose parents do not want them to leave the city there are day camps throughout the area which provide camping experience for youngsters in parks and playgrounds. Most of the 46 Red Feather services of the Community Chest operate some type of summer program and inquiry from trained social workers at Community Information Service will help you discover the program which will be available to you and your child.

Adults are not forgotten and there are recreation opportunities open to them, too.

Community Information Service will be glad to answer all your questions on summer recreation. Call Temple 1-1800 or write them at the Community Chest Building, 51 West Warren, Detroit 1, Mich.

Pointers Leave For Centenary Commemoration

Mrs. Floyd H. Munson and Mrs. Marshall E. Templeton will attend a special Centenary Commemoration of the Martyrdom of the Bab held at the Bahai House of Worship in Wilmette, Illinois, July 9. It was on July 9, 1850 that the Bab, the fore-runner of Bahai'ullah, was publicly executed in Iran as a result of His call to the world for religious unity. He declared that kings and governments of both the East and the West must unite on a common religious basis in order to form a permanent peace.

Bahai's in Grosse Pointe, Detroit, Dearborn, and Royal Oak will meet at Rouge Park to hold special commemorative services of the historic date. In over 100 countries of the world, Bahai's have set this day aside for pause and reflection.

At the Centenary Commemoration at the House of Worship in Wilmette, Mrs. Munson and Mrs. Templeton will hear of the progress of the Shrine now being built on Mt. Carmel, Israel, over the mausoleum of the Bab. This Shrine, built of Rose Bavino and Chiampo granite, carved by master workmen in Carrara, Italy, is to be crowned by a golden dome 125 feet in height. Bahai's from both the East and the West are participating in the rearing of this unique and magnificent structure in the Holy Land.

Hail New Drug as Effective In Treatment of Malaria

Parke, Davis and Co. has developed a highly-effective new drug, Camoquin, for the treatment of malaria, recognized as the disease of greatest economic importance in the world today.

Dr. E. A. Sharp, director of clinical investigation, described the new drug as "unsurpassed as an anti-malarial."

He pointed out that, over the entire world, malaria causes the greatest amount of serious illness and the greatest number of deaths of any single disease. More than 13 per cent of the world's population suffers from malaria each year.

"World-wide mosquito control," Dr. Sharp said, "is an ideal which will require many centuries for the world to realize. Until that time arrives, a safe and convenient cure for the disease and an efficient and non-toxic suppressive drug will be necessary to keep this greatest of all human plagues under control."

"Camoquin is, according to actual field trials in many parts of the world, unsurpassed as an anti-malarial in its approach to the ideal drug."

Parke, Davis and Co., makers of over 1,400 drugs, including the world-famous anti-biotic, Chloromycetin, started working on Camoquin during World War II, Dr. Sharp said.

Early animal tests of the new drug proved it to be up to 25 times as effective as quinine.

Camoquin was one of 15,000 compounds submitted by Parke, Davis and Co. to the malarial panel of the Office of Research and Development during the war, but was overlooked by this group.

Field investigators treated large numbers of malarial patients in India, giving some groups single doses of Camoquin and others a three-day schedule of doses.

Dr. R. N. Chaudhuri, professor of tropical medicine, Calcutta, who studied Camoquin, reported a "very quick response," with 85 per cent of all patients having normal temperatures by the second day and 98 per cent by the third day. The single dose was found to be most effective, terminating an acute attack earlier and apparently effecting a lower relapse rate.

Comparative studies with other anti-malarials in the Philippines, Brazil, Haiti, and Bolivia have indicated that Camoquin is the most efficient anti-malarial in use at the present time.

Gladiolus thrips can be controlled by dusting the plants weekly with 3 percent DDT.

Thank You...

To serve—that is the purpose of our existence. It is the purpose and aim of this Bank. It must be the purpose and aim of any bank.

To guide the daily flow of cash, checks and credit into the public's business operations and everyday living needs—that sums up, in brief, the functions of a bank.

To earn money by its services—that, too, is a bank's responsibility to its customers, to its employees, to the public, to its stockholders. Any business enterprise, whether it be a small shop, a bank or a giant corporation, be it engaged in the sale of services or goods, must earn its way. Thus, and only thus, can it continue to serve its purpose and broaden its usefulness to the public.

Our current Statement of Condition adds another chapter to the story of the City Bank's stewardship. Our services are being utilized by an ever-widening circle of customers. While their deposits have continued to increase, so, too, has your Bank been privileged to assist in carrying out the sound plans and needs of industry and business, of institutions and associations, of individuals and of families. During the sixteen months of its existence, this Bank has made more than 10,000 loans totaling more than $50,000,000.00 which have ranged from a few dollars to many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In rendering these and other services, your Bank's earnings on Invested Capital, during the last nine months, have exceeded the average 1949 rate of return of the Nation's 14,000 banks.

We do not measure our progress, however, solely by the yardstick of growth and earnings. Rather do we look to the scope and quality of our services. Therefore, we offer our services to all, whatever their banking needs may be—large or small, business or personal.

This is our conception of banking. This is our conception of serving the public and the community. This describes our aim. The support which this Bank has received is enabling us to pursue that aim unceasingly. For this support, we thank you.

Hidden Taxes Help To Finance Compulsory State, Durant Says

Richard Durant, 425 Lincoln road, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman from the 14th Congressional District, today filed his nominating petitions with the Wayne County Clerk.

"Not one person in a thousand has any idea what they actually pay in hidden taxes to finance Mr. Truman's Compulsory State," Durant said. "Every time the Federal Government hands out a 'benefit' there is a price tag attached. In my campaign I intend to drive home the meaning of that price tag."

Durant cited the example of the taxes hidden in the price of a $2,000 car delivered here in Detroit. "Counting the taxes paid on the raw materials the taxes paid by the manufacturer, Federal excise taxes, Michigan Sales Tax, taxes paid

Pacing Derby Begins July 7 At Northville

Northville Downs has come up with the greatest harness horse race of the Michigan circuit this year—the annual renewal of the $10,000 Michigan Pacing Derby slated for decision Friday night, July 7.

A record total of 46 nominations were made to the pacing prize back in March when entries closed. When the list was finally tabulated it showed that three former winners are all coming back for another try at this year.

The event, inaugurated in 1945, has never had a candidate that could repeat. The inaugural winner was the chestnut gelding, Red Go, owned by Chester Foulger of Sidney, Ohio. Red is among this year's 46 candidates.

Bruce's Guy, the rugged pacing star from the Perry Williams stable of Birmingham, and driven by the popular Tommy Winn, gave the home fans their chance to shout in 1946, as he was the winner.

The 1948 winner, sweet little Jimmy Creed, has just been retired to the stud, so his racing days are over. But the horse he headed that year, Jerry the First, who came through the winner of the $50,000 Pacing Stake at Hollywood Park last November, is among this year's candidates, and right now one of the top-ranking favorites as well.

Last year's winner, the Canadian stallion, The Diplomat, owned by the well-known sportsman, Alex Parsons of London and Brantford and teamed by Lew James, one of the popular Northville drivers of past meetings, is back for his second try and the big plum. The Diplomat, with one of the greatest race records run up by any pacer last year, will be one of the top favorites in a race that already is the talk of Michigan harness circles.

With three former Derby winners, and two others that finished second as well as forty-one other candidates, there is no mistaking the importance of this year's race. It has already been rated by veteran race followers as the greatest single pacing race of the entire 1950 campaign over any half-mile track.

"When a government official makes a trip, it's a mission. When someone representing a group of private citizens makes one, it's lobbying." — Rep. Clarence Brown, Ohio.

Canoe Treks

Canoe treks, an encampment at Selfridge Air Base, and an expedition to New Mexico are some of the thrilling activities already under way for Explorer Scouts of the Local Boy Scout Council this summer.

Seven week-long canoe trips in southeast Michigan waters have been scheduled, starting Sunday, July 9. The canoes are put in above Orchard Lake and continue through the Straits chain into the upper Huron near Commerce Lake. After a week of portaging, fishing, swimming and sleeping under the stars, the sun-tanned, muscle-hardened 'voyageurs' finally arrive at Ann Arbor and return by motor to Detroit.

Michigan Awarded Plaque For Traffic Safety Engineering

At a testimonial dinner in the Statter Hotel, Detroit, on June 27, State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler was presented with a plaque denoting Michigan's leadership in the field of traffic engineering, by Robert S. Holmes, of the Institute of Traffic Engineering of New Haven, Conn.

Michigan won this top honor in competition with the leading states of the nation, California was second, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois, runners up. All states competed for the award, which was made on the basis of all engineering functions of the competing state highway departments, including traffic control devices, surveys and studies, intersection design, planning and administration.

In accepting the plaque, Commissioner Ziegler said, "The safety programs of the State Highway Department are state-wide and continuous. Beginning with the selection of the location of a road, all the way through design, construction and control, safety measures are of paramount concern. The Department is constantly safety-minded. We are proud to have this recognition come to Michigan."

"Recognizing the importance of adequate signs to the safety of the motorist, the Department is now engaged in re-signing the entire trunkline system in conformity with a uniform national pattern. Signs, signals, flashers, and other traffic control devices and pavement markings provide protection to the highway users by clearly designating danger points such as hills, curves, railroad crossings and road inter-

500,000 Amateur Builders to Erect Own Homes In 1950 At Low Costs

The build-your-own-home movement is gaining such momentum that experts predict a half million amateurs will work on their own homes this year. By doing away with labor costs, which are fifty percent of the cost of a new home, they are able to get houses they want at prices they can afford, according to Llewellyn Miller. As an example of a successful amateur enterprise, he describes a Kearney, New Jersey, project, in Redbook Magazine for July, which is made up entirely of inexperienced, week-end builders.

"The rush to week-end building is gaining such momentum that lumber dealers all over the country are reaching out for the business by setting up time-payment plans. Formerly, lumber yards gave credit to professional contractors only. Now, in many localities, the amateur builder can charge as much as $1,000 worth of materials, pay for them as he uses

Urge Special Stamp to Honor City's Birthday

Rep. Louis C. Rabaut has introduced a resolution in the U. S. House of Representatives to authorize the issuance of a special stamp to commemorate the two-hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the City of Detroit.

It is contemplated that the stamp, if authorized, will be issued in conjunction with the opening of the Detroit Festival of the Great Lakes, in July, 1951, a series of events, ceremonies and activities designed to celebrate the landing of Cadillac at Detroit in 1701.

"The issuance of such a stamp," said Rabaut, "would be a fitting and proper recognition of the anniversary of the founding of our great city which is the fifth largest in the United States and which, as a manufacturing center of the first rank, has justly earned the title of the 'Arsenal of Democracy'."

The design of the special commemorative issue, according to Rabaut's resolution, would be left to the decision of Postmaster-General Donaldson. Rabaut has written Mr. Donaldson urging his support of the resolution and requesting that his approval be made known to the Chairman of the House Committee on the Post Office, to which the resolution was referred.

"This stamp will symbolize the congratulations of the people of the United States to the City of Detroit on its two-hundred and fiftieth birthday," said Rabaut, "a fine tribute which our city and its people justly deserve."

Youngblood Enters Race For Congress

Harold F. Youngblood, Congressman from the 14th District during 1947 and 1948 filed his nomination for United States Representative in Congress, on the Republican ticket, at the Primary Election September 14th.

Youngblood, native Detroit, who has lived on the east side all of his life, had a record of aggressive action while in Washington, which included a long fight for lower taxes, and his bill introduced as legislation made possible the transfer of Fort Wayne to the City of Detroit a property valued at $5,000,000.

Youngblood, his wife and children live at 480 Lakeside Ave.

Time Saving Meals Can Be Flavorful and Nutritive

Preparing food for several meals in one batch is a favorite time saving scheme of many Grosse Pointe homemakers. Whether this is a wise procedure or not depends on how much loss of food value may occur during storage period and on whether it is possible to make up for this loss by using other foods in the meal which may be especially rich in the missing nutritive elements.

Cooked potatoes lose from one-third to one-half of their vitamin C content in 24 hours, even if they are stored in the refrigerator. If you like to prepare enough at one time so you can serve them mashed the first day and have enough left over for a salad, creamed potatoes or hashed browned potatoes later, it's important to remember this loss.

It's easy to make up for it at this time of year by including an abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables which are so plentiful just now. The green leafy vegetables, particularly when they're served raw, citrus fruits, tomatoes, strawberries and melons are extra rich in vitamin C.

Another good point to remember, according to the Food and Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross, is that you can protect that precious vitamin C as well as other vitamins and minerals by cooking the potatoes in their skins in a minimum amount of water and only until they are tender. Store them in their jackets in a covered bowl in the refrigerator until you're ready to prepare them for serving.

Mixes are great time and trouble savers. A variety of them on the pantry shelf makes it possible to add something special to the simple summer meals most of us prefer without spending an undue amount of time in the kitchen. Stores carry many of these preparations, but you may like to mix your own. Keep them in tightly covered jars in a dry place. For those which call for shortening, be sure to choose a fat that does not need refrigeration.

PUDDING MIX

One and one-half cups sugar, 1 1/2 cups cornstarch, 1 teaspoon salt, 7 cups dry skim milk solids. Mix the ingredients thoroughly. This can be done most quickly and efficiently by sifting them together three or four times in a flour sifter. Store in tightly covered jars.

To Prepare Pudding: Measure 3/4 cup of mix into saucepan and stir into it gradually 1 1/4 cups water to make a smooth paste. Bring to boil over low heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and flavor with 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Serves 3 or 4.

PUDDING VARIETIES

Chocolate: Add 2 tablespoons chocolate syrup or 1 square bitter chocolate, shaved or melted, to 3/4 cup mix.

Fruit: Add 1/4 cup chopped, dried fruit to 3/4 cup mix, or serve chilled prepared pudding topped with crushed and sweetened fresh berries, canned fruit or stewed fruit dried fruit.

Nut: Stir 1/4 to 1/2 cup chopped nuts or shredded coconut into prepared pudding, or top chilled pudding with nuts or coconut.

Serve pudding with topping of chocolate or butterscotch sauce or jam and a garnish of whipped cream. It may be used as a filling for cream pies or as cake filling. Vary the amount of water to obtain thickness liked.

MAKE-YOUR-OWN MIX

Two cups shortening that requires no refrigeration, 9 cups sifted enriched all-purpose flour, 1 tablespoon salt, 1/4 cup double acting baking powder.

Combine sifted flour, salt and baking powder. Stir well, then sift into large bowl. Add shortening and work in with finger tips or pastry blender until mixture looks like coarse cornmeal. Store in tightly covered glass or metal containers on pantry shelf.

PUFF CASES

One cup make-your-own mix, 3/4 cup boiling water, 2 eggs. Do not pack mix into measuring cup. Add mix to boiling water in a saucepan and stir over low heat for about 1 minute or until dough follows spoon and forms a ball. Remove from heat and beat in eggs one at a time, beating vigorously until dough looks satiny. Drop by spoonfuls on baking sheet. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees, for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate, 350 degrees F., and bake 20 minutes more. Let stand in oven with the door open for about 10 more minutes to dry out.

Fill with cream filling, whipped cream or ice cream. Serve plain, sprinkled with powdered sugar or topped with crushed, sweetened fruit or chocolate or butterscotch sauce. Makes 5 large puffs.

Two cup make-your-own mix, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup hot water. Melt butter or margarine in the hot water. Sprinkle over mix and toss lightly with a fork to form ball of dough. Chill for easy rolling. Makes enough pastry for a two-crust 8-inch pie.

Another good point to remember, according to the Food and Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross, is that you can protect that precious vitamin C as well as other vitamins and minerals by cooking the potatoes in their skins in a minimum amount of water and only until they are tender. Store them in their jackets in a covered bowl in the refrigerator until you're ready to prepare them for serving.

Make Sure Sun Does Not Spoil Vacation Fun

Plan to get your share of outdoor fun and sunshine this summer and see to it that the sun adds to and not detracts from your pleasure. Dr. Joseph G. Molner, commissioner of health, advises.

If you burn easily, start out with a few minutes' exposure to the sunshine in the early morning or late afternoon before your vacation begins and be ready to take the sun for longer periods. The first day of sunning can spoil your entire vacation if you have not planned for it properly. On the first day of your vacation do some of your walking in the shade. Wear hat or cap when you fish, play ball, tennis or golf. Oil your skin to keep it from blistering. When you are vacationing, be leisurely, relax! Remember not to tire yourself out by crowding in more than can be done.

Sunburn should be avoided, but if proper precautions are not taken, and if you do get sunburned, be sure to take care of it. Sunburn should be treated like any other burn. Apply cooling creams, lotions or oil preparations over the burned area. If burn is severe, see a doctor. If nausea or dizziness accompanies the burn it may be sunstroke. Call a doctor.

"The cannibals had a way of solving high taxes. When they got higher than the cost of food, they ate the tax collector." — Note on tax return of Theodore B. Larson, Litchfield, Minn.

Neighborhood Club News

DAY CAMP

The Neighborhood Club Summer Day Camp is enjoying a most entertaining summer with many interesting projects and activities included in their daily program. This past week, the cowboys and cowgirls concentrated their efforts on putting on a Wild West Show which included racing, Indian Wrestling, and special movies provided by the American Airlines for the occasion.

The children are looking forward to Monday, July 10, when Officer Edison Storing of the Detroit Police Department will bring his famous dog "Safety Girl" and will put on a demonstration of Safety Rules which should be followed by all children.

The Neighborhood Club has been receiving so many phone calls from Mothers wishing to enter their children in the Day Camp and we regret that due to limited facilities we are unable to accommodate any more campers than we have at the present time.

Hansen Chevrolet, 4; Riley Motors, 1; Bella Bar, 20; Wilson Agency, 4; Eastern Heating, 7; Mt. Oliva, 4; Hudson A. A., 7; Federal Mogul, 6.

Hansen Chevrolet took a thrilling 8 inning contest from Riley Motors by the score of 4 to 1. At the end of the regulation 7 innings, the score was tied at one run. In the last half of the eighth inning with two out and two men on bases, Gueresimo blasted a home run between the outfielders that scored three runs and won the game. The winning pitcher was Seigfried, who allowed only 5 hits, and the loser was Runnells, who gave up 10.

Another thriller that was decided in the final inning was played between Hudson A. A. and Federal Mogul with Hudson coming out on top of a 7 to 6 score. Federal Mogul led 6 to 5 as Hudson came to bat in the last half of the 7th inning. With one out, Jenkins, and J. Kamego both singled, Korby hit a double to left, one run coming in to tie the score. Then E. Kamego singled for the fourth straight hit of the inning and drove in the winning run.

INSECT DAMAGE

Summer is the harvest time for most insects. They will devour your best vegetables and ruin your finest flowers if you neglect dusting. Regular attention before damage is done will keep the garden fresh and green.

Easiest Way to Improve Lawn Proves to Be the Best Method

The easiest way to improve a lawn is also the best way. You begin when the ground is soft enough to allow a pointed stick to be thrust into it six inches deep.

First, spread over the lawn area a balanced commercial plant food at the rate of four pounds to 100 square feet. During the spring thaw, when the soil alternately freezes at night, and thaws during the day, the surface is pierced by tiny holes, extending several inches deep. This condition is commonly called "honeycombed."

When plant food and grass seed are spread on a "honeycombed" surface, both find their way down into the soil. Farmers say the seed "muds in." By sowing at this stage you avoid the necessity of loosening the soil of bare spots, and top dressing the seed, and also avoid any danger of the plant food burning the grass. The early start gives your new grass plants a chance to grow up in the cool, moist weather of early spring.

Having fed your lawn its first meal and sown seed with a minimum of labor, your next saving comes from not rolling your lawn. Research has established that grass does not thrive in compact soil; it needs a loose, porous condition, which a heavy roller harms. If you try to level off the lawn surface with a roller, harm may result. The only reason for rolling the lawn is to press down the sod against the subsoil, from which it may have been separated by frost heaving. There has been plenty of such heaving this year, but use a light roller, and wait until the soil begins to dry, so that it is moist, not wet.

Next, don't dig weeds. The weeds of spring are easily destroyed by spraying the lawn.

COOK AFTER HARVEST
No matter what the vegetable, it will taste better the sooner it is cooked after being harvested. Half an hour may be sufficient to dull the flavor of those that are rich in sugar, which quickly begins to change to starch.

"I personally believe that what the American people want — and can create — is more and better jobs." — Earl Bunting, managing director of the NAM.

Pink and Blue Beds Are Clever Contrast in Flower Garden

- 1-Alyssum
- 2-Ageratum
- 3-Pink Petunias
- 4-Blue Purple Petunia
- 5-Blue Violet Petunia
- 6-Pink or Rose Petunia

A favorite color combination, and one which is just as pleasing in midsummer as in the cool spring, is pink and blue. If you like these colors, and have a suitable space somewhere in your home grounds a small formal garden like the one illustrated will make an attractive picture throughout the summer.

In the center may be a small pool in which birds can drink and bathe, or a bird bath, sundial, fountain or any similar feature. Around it a ribbon planting of dwarf sweet alyssum is suggested, though this planting might also be of lobelia, or even a dwarf marigold, preferable of a pale orange or yellow. A suggestion of yellow is always welcome with pink or blue.

The outside border of this garden should be planted in a blue tone, and there is no better material available than ageratum. The four center beds may be planted alternately with pink and blue, or more accurately purple, petunias. These accommodating flowers give the most reliable color masses with the least care. It is not necessary to keep the faded flowers picked off, and the plants sheared back, in order to keep new blossoms opening.

Of course the so-called blue petunias are not really blue, and neither is ageratum. In fact, there are few blue flowers. Nearly all have enough red in their pigmentation to make them purple, or lavender; but it is convenient to group them all together as members of the blue family, where the blue dominates.

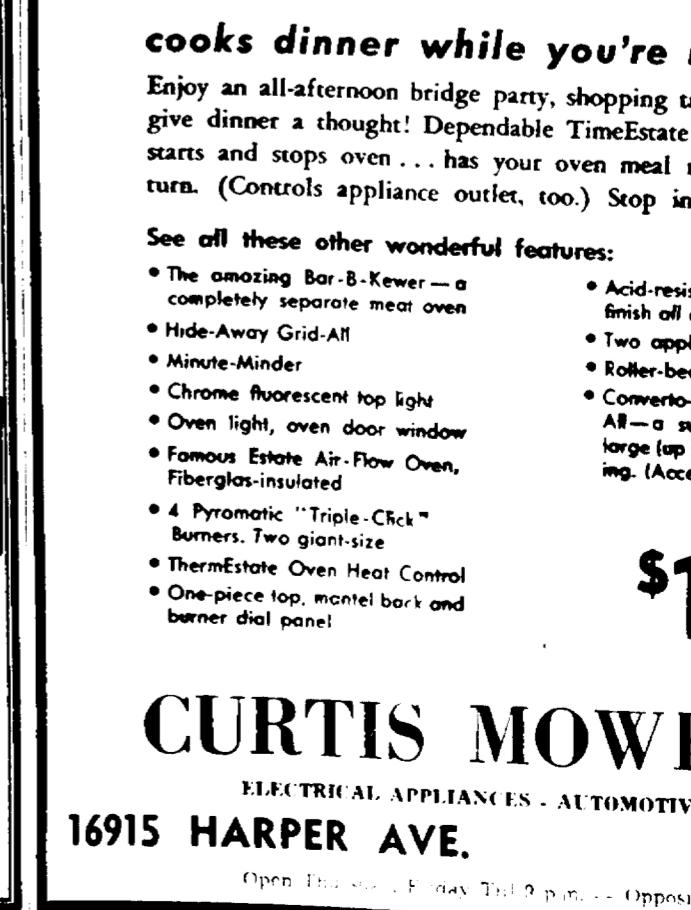

For a good effect in such a garden as this, one must be sure to sow good, well fixed varieties. Remarkable progress has been made in recent years in breeding alyssum, petunias and ageratum, to produce dwarf, compact plants, well covered with blooms of uniform color.

During most of his four-year term in Congress Rabaut served on the powerful Appropriations Committee and during the last session he was appointed Chairman of the Central States committee on Appropriations which reviewed the entire appropriation package $27 1/2 billion on the appropriation bill which passed the House in May.

Rabaut has lived in Three Mile Drive in Grosse Pointe Park since 1929 and is the father of four children. He is a native Detroit resident and maintains a law office in the Guardian Building.

LOCAL HOT POTATO

The maintenance of Kercheval Avenue has again been returned to the County for at least another eight months.

Wayne County previously attempted to drop the 'hot potato' into the laps of the taxpayers of the City of Grosse Pointe and the Park.

Through the resourceful intervention of the Pointe officials, the County decided to reshuffle their plans temporarily and assume the upkeep of Kercheval until April 1, 1951.

The County contends that Kercheval is used in a local capacity and serves no real purpose in the County road system.

On the contrary, Kercheval is an important artery connecting the City of Detroit with Macomb and Wayne County.

Kercheval often shares some of the traffic of Jefferson avenue, which is a County road. The heavy flow of cars on Kercheval, driven by persons traveling back and forth to work, indicates that Kercheval is a link with other communities.

The earlier decision of the County to give the road back to the Pointe communities was a surprise action. Grosse Pointe pays the highest taxes per capita in Wayne County and yet there had been little consideration when it comes to repairing or servicing highways. Parts of the road are in need of immediate attention.

Some people feel that Kercheval may have been a test case. If the people had graciously accepted the road without further protest, then a bigger present, Jefferson Avenue, might have been given to them, signed, sealed and delivered.

Had the County left Kercheval in the hands of the City and Park at this time, the repair problem might have been more difficult. The cost of maintenance, sewer repair and snow removal in the City would run more than $6,000 or more and in the Park the figure would have been considerably more. Neither area made provision for this particular item in their budget for this fiscal year.

Whether the City, Park and County will be able to reach a satisfactory agreement next April is anybody's guess.

TAXES THAT HURT EMPLOYMENT

A recent report by an economic institution said that proponents of repeal of the wartime excise taxes were greatly exaggerating the situation. This has been strongly challenged by the head of the National Retail Dry Goods Association.

He observed, "An increase of 20 per cent in the price of merchandise is enough in itself to stop women buying, but when they know that 20 per cent is a tax set up by an extravagant government from which the average purchaser is likely to get nothing she regards as important, it would take 20 institutes and many more scientific investigators to prove that sales are not affected." He then took the report on Federal Tax Collections for Massachusetts, the only pertinent figures available, covering excise tax collections on furs, jewelry, luggage and toiletries. These indicated that, for a four-months period, sales in that state of these items were down some $4,000,000.

The people who should know the most about the excise tax problem are the manufacturers who produce the goods, the retailers who sell them and the labor unions whose members work at making them. These groups are virtually unanimous in saying that the taxes have hit sales hard, and prevented industrial growth and employment.

From the moral point of view, continuation of these taxes is indefensible. They were strictly a war emergency measure. Yet years have gone by since hostilities ended and they are still on the books—and still hurting the consumer, the manufacturer, the retailer and the worker.

"PREVENT FIRE, SAVE LIVES"

A new poster for Fire Prevention Week—which will be observed nationally next October—has been chosen by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. It shows a mother playfully lifting her young child above her head and is captioned: "For their sake—Prevent Fire, Save Lives."

There, in a few words, is a vital message. Fire kills some 11,000 human beings every year in this country and at least three-quarters of those deaths occur in homes. Among children, fire continues to lead the causes of accidental deaths at home. On top of that, fire is responsible for horrible burnings and maimings. In many cases children are crippled for life.

Fire Prevention Week comes only once each year. But the spirit that motivates the week should remain in force every day and every night. There is no end to the job of fire prevention—unless we are constantly on guard, new dangers will appear. Safety in the home demands year-around vigilance. Rounddown heating systems, worn and defective wiring, improperly stored paints and varnishes and cleaning solvents, litters of trash in basements, closets and attics, carelessness with smoking materials and matches—these are all prime causes of home fires, and the house that is relatively safe today may be a menace tomorrow.

Remember that simple motto—"Prevent Fire, Save Lives." And act on it.

A TWO-WAY STREET

We cannot rehabilitate Europe, the East, or any other section of the world by simply pouring out dollars. True rehabilitation can be attained only by helping to place the needy nations on a sound and productive economic basis. That was the idea of General Marshall when, as Secretary of State, he made his famous speech at Harvard in which the basis of his plan was first laid down.

One of the major economic problems of the world is that our exports now far exceed our imports. Under these conditions, the gold and dollar credits of the nations flow inexorably toward our shores. And soon—as happened in England—the money just runs out, and new crises inevitably follow.

International trade is a two-way street. If we are to sell abroad, without impoverishing our customers, we must buy from abroad. Something resembling an even balance of trade must be reached. This is, as everybody knows, an exceedingly difficult problem. The adjustments will be many and hard. But, in the long pull, it is the only salvation for those nations which look to us for leadership and assistance—even as it is the only way to cement the military alliance of the Western world. A country which is economically hungry cannot be strong militarily.

The Marshall Plan, and the related policies, will succeed or fail as we succeed or fail in offering a market for the products and resources of other nations even as they offer a market for ours. We will not long be able to sell if we do not buy. And, from the selfish point of view, a breakdown in international trade would have the most serious adverse effect on our own employment and production, and our economy as a whole.

Simians Rehearsing for Two Outdoor Dramas at Memorial

Rehearsals are now in process for the two Grosse Pointe Simian productions "Dear Brutus" and "Mary of Scotland," which will be produced outdoors on the property of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

"Dear Brutus," a comedy fantasy by James M. Barrie, depicts what might happen to a group of "very nice people" when given a chance to live their lives over again. This play will run for three days, Thursday through Saturday, July 27 through July 29.

Starring in the show will be Sherb Brown as Mr. Purdie, who is bravely facing the one mistake of his life—that he married the wrong woman, Pat Ford and Carol Gryls as the women whom he is alternately interested in and married to, John Butterfield who plays a butler who could have made millions, Sharon Gates as the Lady Carolyn Laney whose only education beyond her blue blood is a lisp she picked up at finishing school.

Also in the play are Dick Tobin as an artist who has been discouraged by his wife (Jean Gray) and prefers alcohol to oils, Shirley Frolyth playing the part of a twelve year old girl, Frank Shelden as a man who could be happy anywhere, and John Gale as Lob, a Puck who forgot to die.

The other play, "Mary of Scotland," by Maxwell Anderson, will be produced Tuesday through Friday, August 8 through 11, also at the War Memorial Center.

Reservations for both plays are now being accepted. Price of a season ticket is $2.50 (which includes admission to both plays), and for a single play, $1.50. All prices include federal tax. Tickets may be ordered by telephoning Miss Margaret Harrigan at VA. 2-9331.

Easy credit and installment buying are proving to be pitfalls in public welfare relief. It is one of the principle causes of financial trouble which bring people onto Michigan relief rolls.

Howard DeSpelder, welfare director for Montcalm County, gave this interesting bit of information recently to newspaper editors of Montcalm County at Lakeview. It illustrates the many complications of modern living whereby sales promotion of retailers prompt some families to go into debt greater than their income. Since installment payments on these heavy debts leave nothing for living expenses, the families then apply for relief at the expense of the taxpayers.

The Montcalm welfare director blamed merchants for the unusual situation, and he appealed to retailers not to sell people things they could not pay for. Tightening of credit and installment buying privileges would result in less welfare cost, according to the Montcalm welfare director.

The cost of relief in this county in 1941 was $12,371. Eight years later (1949) welfare costs rose to $58,322. Since the year 1941 was one of general prosperity, city and farm residence alike good times, the question naturally arises as to why welfare costs have mounted so substantially, more than 400 per cent in the eight-year period.

The rising cost of welfare in Michigan prompted an investigation by a committee of the Michigan state legislature in 1949.

Wild Washing Machine Scares Housewife

A washing machine broke loose from its mountings and went on a rampage, terrifying a housewife who was in the midst of her weekly chores.

Mrs. W. J. Schumer, of 1799 Oxford, phoned police for assistance when her Bendix left its mountings and began to smash against the basement walls.

Police heard loud crashing noises coming from the interior of the laundry quarters as the machine continued its razzle-dazzle journey.

The officers were able to halt the family wash on its unscheduled ramblings before serious damage resulted. The washing machine received a battered exterior from the trip.

Woods to Open Park Bids for Improvements

Grosse Pointe Woods will advertise for bids on numerous proposed improvements at their beach, according to a move at the Commission meeting last week.

Bids will be accepted for a new bathhouse, comfort station, sewer and water lines. The council will also advertise for bids on the construction of two tennis courts for Mack Park.

The Council will approve a contract to spray DDT on sections of the community infested with mosquitoes. The areas to be sprayed include the two parks, the Milk River, the woods north of Brys Drive and Gerard drain.

OBITUARY

ROY C. BROOM

Services for Roy C. Broom, 53, of 864 Lakepointe, Grosse Pointe, who died Sunday, were held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at Verheyden funeral home, 16300 Mack avenue. Burial was in Roseland Park cemetery. Born in Blenheim, Ont., Mr. Broom came to Detroit 24 years ago. He worked for the Detroit Bank for 20 years, and was purchasing agent for the Jackson Products Co., Warren, Mich., at the time of his death. Surviving are his wife, Margaret; a daughter, Joanne, and his mother, Mrs. Laura Broom, of Essex, Ont.

During World War II industry would hire workers who were more than 70 years old. Men to dependent children cases were hired by industry during the war and also were the first to be laid when the labor market became competitive.

Maxey hopes that the Federal Old Age Insurance system, now being liberalized by Congress, and the growing pension plans of industry will combine to reduce Michigan's $100 million a year welfare costs.

"The box score in the important game of executive reorganization shows plainly that the Democratic Administration has kept its pledge to the American people and is knocking out one home run after another in the field of Administrative and fiscal reforms."

Rep. Louis C. Rabaut made this statement as he summed up the progress to date in enacting into law the recommendations of the Hoover Commission on the Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government.

"A 793 batting average is good in any league," said Rabaut, "and the 81st Congress is in the process of compiling a record of which the American people can well be proud."

Rabaut's figures were based on the fact that 23 of the reorganization plans submitted by President Truman had been enacted into law since the passage of the Reorganization Act of 1949, early in the first session of the 81st Congress. A total of 35 proposals has been submitted by the president, eight of which were turned down by the Senate. The last six plans submitted are still pending and will become law unless disapproved by a constitutional majority of either House within sixty days from the date of submission. The Senate Committee on Expenditures in Executive Departments approved plans 23 and 28 on June 21st.

"A good work remains to be done," said Rabaut, "and in opposition of the strong pressure groups to these reforms is as easily overcome."

"But the record to date he serves and has inspired the confidence of the American people. It has served to affirm the fact that added consideration is being given to the expenditure of the tax dollar," Rabaut concluded.

Extended U.S. Army Honors to Pointers Here's How New Draft Regulations Hit You

Two University of Michigan students from Grosse Pointe recently were honored in the U. S. Army R.O.T.C. program. James N. McNally, III, of 1314 Nottingham, was selected as the "outstanding basic cadet for 1949-50" in the Army division. Robert E. Legate, of 829 Beaconsfield, received a commission in the Ordnance Division of the Regular Army.

—Here are some questions and answers on the draft authorized by President Truman:

Q. Who is eligible to be drafted?

A. Single men in non-essential occupations, 19 through 25 years of age.

Q. Will veterans of World War II be drafted?

A. Generally, no. If a man served honorably a year or more between Sept. 20, 1940, and June 24, 1948, or if he served 90 days or more anywhere with the armed forces between Dec. 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945, he is not liable to military service.

J. How long will men have to serve?

A. For 21 months.

Q. How many will be drafted?

A. Nobody knows yet.

Q. Can draft-eligible men volunteer?

A. Yes.

Q. How are deferments worked out?

A. Local draft boards defer men on the basis of their previous military service, their dependents, and their occupations. These deferments are based on answers to questionnaires sent to all registrants.

Q. Is there an appeal from the local board decision on classification?

A. Yes. If any man feels the board has not acted properly in placing him in any classification, he can appeal within 10 days to an appeal board. There is at least one appeal board in each state, quite often two or more. The local boards will give the proper forms and addresses for appeals.

Q. Where do 18-year-olds fit into the picture?

A. They must register when they become 18, but are not liable for military service for at least one year.

Q. What are the provisions for getting a draftee his old job back?

A. Within reasonable limits, all employers are required to give draftees their old jobs back without loss of seniority after they are honorably discharged.

Q. Are college students eligible for drifting?

A. Any student doing satisfactory work in a college or university or the equivalent may finish his school year before being drafted.

Q. Are ministers or ministerial students liable for military service?

A. No.

Q. How about high school students?

A. Highschool students may continue in school until they graduate or until they reach the age of 20, whichever comes first.

Q. In what order will men be selected for military service?

A. In the order of their birth dates. That is, the oldest 25-year-old man in each local board's list of available men—1-A—will be drafted first, the next oldest second, and so on down to the youngest 19-year-old.

Q. What about the National Guard?

A. So far, no decision has been made to call the Guard into service. Guard members are not subject to the draft.

Q. Will reserve officers and men be called for active duty?

A. Apparently some officers will be called to help train draftees. It was not known whether they will be called by units or individually.

Meanwhile, the rise of Communism has corrupted the independent government of the Philippines. American promises in the Pacific have made both Arab and Jew our enemies. We are losing cause in China and we are doing it and have committed ourselves to the support of Chiang Kai Shek in the East. Russian Zone Open To CARE

For the people who welcomed the opportunity to send CARE parcels to their friends and relatives in the Eastern (Russian) Zone of Germany, there is more good news. The Detroit CARE Committee announced today that the list of packages for the Eastern Zone has been extended to include the famous CARE Standard Food and Baby Food packages at $12 each. The extra charge, of course, is due to higher shipping costs.

The Eastern Zone of Germany can now receive virtually all of CARE's food and textile packages.

Orders for packages to the Eastern Zone of Germany and all other CARE countries may be sent to the Detroit CARE Committee, 153 E. Elizabeth, Detroit (1). Remember, delivery is guaranteed on all CARE packages.

While police were investigating a two-car smash-up at Lake Shore road and Kerby Sunday, another automobile driven by Clement Uhl, of 3554 Algonquin, joined the wrecked parties.

A car driven by Gertrude Batani, of East Detroit, was struck from the rear by a car traveling west on the Lake Shore operated by Ronald Leon Dixon, age 18. Uhl then plowed into the rear of Dixon's car.

Uhl and Dixon were ticketed for not having their cars under control. Damages to Mrs. Batani's car was estimated at 500.

Memorial Open On Sundays This Summer

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial will remain open on Sundays during the summer months from 12 to 5 p.m. to give the public an opportunity to see the bronze tablets with the inscribed names of Grosse Pointe's war dead.

This move was made at a meeting Monday night of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association. The Memorial had previously been closed to the public on Sundays except for tours through the formal gardens. The gardens are open to visitors at all times.

The social calendar of the War Memorial during August includes meetings of veteran's groups, business men's associations and the two major outdoor productions by the Simians from July 27 to 29 and from August 8 to 11. "Dear Brutus" will be produced by the group on the spacious waterfront lawns under the stars. The "teeners dance on Saturday will be the last function of the youth groups until fall.

At the Association meeting a report of the name checking committee for the permanent bronze tablets was also presented by Norbert P. Neff, chairman of the committee.

The report was prepared by Shirley Warner and contained a complete summary of the work executed by the group in preparing the names for the dedication ceremonies.

DAC Beavers Cruise to Flats for Annual Stag Old Club Outing

There was never a dull moment for the Detroit Athletic Club Beavers on Tuesday, July 11, when members of this DAC swimming group trekked to St. Clair Flats for their annual Stag Old Club outing.

Approximately 160 Beavers met at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club where they went aboard private yachts for the run up to Old Club.

Dr. Sigurd Becker, chairman of the outing, with Beaver president, Oliver Horn, and Clarence

E. Pinkston, DAC athletic director, had a full schedule of events mapped out.

Number one sport was the Beavers' favorite swimming, with aquatic stunts in the Old Club pool. But there was aquaplaning, too, and tennis and horse shoe tournaments. When anyone tired of activity, there was just plain loafing.

Highlight, which took part of the afternoon between luncheon and the steak dinner served at the Old Club, was the annual softball game when DAC Beavers and Bowlers tussled for their aluminized milkcan trophy.

Among the Beaver yacht owners who played host aboard their boats to the throng were Ray M. Whyte, John H. Zimmers, Dr. Harold Stubbs, Clarence Pfaffengerger, William Packer and Jervis E. Webb.

Beaver badge and souvenir of the day were the gaily-colored ten-gallon hats donned when the group first gathered at GPYC early in the morning.

Among the Grosse Pointers on the outing were Arthur Sutherland, Herman C. Joos, Fred J. Schumann, J. Alfred Grow, H. Lynn Pierson, W. Harold Lightbody, E. Richard Holtz and Edward R. Macauley.

Teeners to Have Final Fling of Summer Season

July 15 is the date of the last 'teeners' dance of the season at the War Memorial Center.

The Anniversary Fling, planned by representatives from all Pointe schools, will be in full swing from 9 till 12 p.m. Tommy Weldon and his band, who opened the series of Center dances for the high school and college group last summer, will provide the music this Saturday night.

Tickets, at $1.50 per couple, will be sold at the door by Peter Korneffel, Howie Clarke, Larry Reynolds, Pat Brogan, and Neil Smith. Hostesses for the evening include Sara Weed, Judy Hennecke, Sally McKernan, and Diane Thompson.

During the intermission a ukulele chorus under the direction of Dan Webb and Keith Rowan is slated to be held on the terrace. Lee Ekridge, Joyce Dannecker, June Allard, Nina Cunningham, and Ann Glassgow will serve free refreshments—punch and cookies—cabaret style.

Chinese lanterns, hung by the decorating committee, Susan Senff, Luther Neeh, Mary Ann Burlingame, Jack Marcus, Jerry Peterson, and Ann Watson, promise to provide a novel theme at the Center. Don Landis, Phil Beach, Earl Reuter, and Warren Sisman are included in the cleanup group.

Since this is the only 'teenage' dance of the summer season, the Youth Council hopes that it will be a success.

YWCA Teenager Party Theme Is Ship's Cruise

Three weeks of Summer Fun at the Central Branch YWCA will be climaxed Thursday night, July 13, when parents are invited to an operetta, a play, and other entertainment.

Intermediate school girls who have spent the past three weeks swimming, skating, dancing, and working in the interest group of their choice at the YW will show their parents how their talents have developed.

Theme of the Summer Fun program was "Ship's Cruise," and parents and friends of the "entire crew" are invited to Thursday's festivities, according to Lenore Kowitz, of the Detroit YW Teen Age Department staff.

The entertainment, which will be held at the Central Branch YW, will begin at 8 p.m.

While enjoying the summer sunshine and shore breezes, it is well for us all to remember that some folks are shut-in. Unlike others, they don't have the opportunity to delight in nature's fair seasons. If you are seeking a good deed for the day, why not send flowers to a shut-in somewhere. Or do it as a club activity. A few fresh blooms may bring a hundred happy thoughts to someone somewhere who needs a friend.

Community Has 125 Red Feather Services Here

The 125 Red Feather services of the Community Chest gave 354,661 units of service in family welfare, child care, health and recreation during 1948, figures released by the Council of Social Agencies Research Department show.

The Research Department revealed that its service statistics were counted according to the number of individuals served as many people used the services of more than one Red Feather agency.

Largest number of services were given by over 40 agencies which offer group work, informal education and recreation services. were given in youth organizations, community centers and camps. The figure includes recreation for both children and adults.

Red Feather outpatients, clinics and nursing services gave 74,779 units of service to ill adults and children in Metropolitan Detroit.

Family welfare services, aid to the handicapped, aid to the traveler and care of the aged accounted for 39,909 units of Red Feather service during the year.

The institutional care, foster home care and maternity home care gave 14,546 services to our neglected, dependent and orphaned children.

Also included in the service figure are the 39,195 units of service—information and referral to social work agencies—which were given to the public by the Community Information Service of the Council of Social Agencies.

The bride chose an adaptation of a Parisian style for her gown of white birdseye pique. The collarless jacket had three-quarter length cuffed dolman sleeves, and was banded with Venice lace, while the full skirt fell into a chapel length train. Her bonnet was also fashioned of birdseye pique and held in place a short veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of snapdragon blossoms, stephanotis, and ivy.

Jill Ann Read, sister of the bride, performed her duties as maid of honor in an aqua birdseye pique gown banded with aqua organdy embroidery. Her floor length gown, and matching bonnet were styled identically to the bride's. She carried a cascade arrangement of yellow gladioli and ivy.

The attendant's gowns were designed with fitted bodices, embroidered cap sleeves, and all skirts fashioned with embroidered aprons edged with beaded organdy.

They wore white pleated horsehair halo hats trimmed with green ivy, and carried bouquets of red carnations and ivy.

Mary Josephine Wilson, of Upper, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Joanne Orlean, Angela Roberts, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. James J. Doherty, of Dunmore, Pa.

White embroidered organdy was worn over pale blue tulle underskirts by the bride's attendants, who carried bouquets of pale blue delphinium, stephanotis and carnations.

Low Flower Border Emphasizes Best Features of Modern House

A new type of planting is required for modern homes, one-story, without high basements, with main floor only one or two steps above ground level.

Tall shrubs and evergreens used in "foundation" planting grow too high for these low houses, making them seem lower, and eventually hiding them from view and shutting the sunshine and view out.

Landscaping should frame the house and emphasize its good points. A low house should never be dwarfed by tall plants before or around it; and a small house should not be made to seem smaller. Only low plants should be used in front of low modern houses.

These effects can be well achieved by annual flowers; and the fashion for flowers in the front yard is spreading rapidly. An example of the effect which they produce is given in the illustration. On either side of the door a globe-shaped evergreen in a tub is used, rather than a pyramidal evergreen which would soon grow too large. The line where house wall meets the ground is planted with a border of annual chrysanthemums, growing two feet tall, bearing single flowers of richly varied orange, brown, white and yellow flowers.

Edging this border is a row of ageratum, one of the best sources of blue tones for flower borders. There are many other combinations which could be used in a similar way to produce a pleasing effect, in harmony with the colors of house wall and roof. In planting near modern houses simple color schemes, two not over three, harmonious colors, are usually considered best. Any of the sun-loving annuals which grow to a suitable height may be used on the east, west and south sides of houses; but on the north varieties which are known to endure shade must be chosen. It is important that the colors used in borders around the house shall harmonize with the house colors, repeating them, or forming a harmonious contrast of complementary colors.

Painter At State Is Badminton Champion

Gladys Constantine, junior at Michigan State College, recently won the badminton singles crown in the all-college tournament. She was a runner-up with Helen Schultz in the doubles all-college tournament.

Along with the badminton title, Miss Constantine took three crowns in tennis during spring term. She won the singles and doubles crown for the all-college event, and also the intramural plaque for her sorority, Tri Deltas.

Beating Carpets Loosens Tufts And Ruins Rugs

Rugs and carpets probably get more wear than any other household item and since they represent a sizeable investment, should be treated with the care they deserve. They should never be beaten because this loosens the pile tufts and may injure the backing of the rug.

The dirt that gets into rugs varies, in different parts of the country, but usually is a combination of dust, larger gritty particles like sand, oil and rubber left on pavements by automobiles, and tracked into the house, and soot and oil from heating and cooking equipment. The heavier particles sink into the pile tufts and as the rug is walked on, the sharp, gritty particles cut the rug fibres and wear them out.

In an analysis made by the Dry Cleaners Institute of Detroit, it was found that dirt in the average rug often contains as much as 4 percent of oily matter, which binds the dust particles together and makes them difficult to dislodge. Aside from the cleaning you can give your rugs at home, it is advisable to send them to a reliable dry cleaner twice a year. A competent dry cleaner will remove the deep-seated particles as well as surface dust and help lengthen the life and beauty of your rugs.

Scott Dealer Announces Easy Crabgrass Control

TREATED: Beautiful turf because SCUTL stopped the Crabgrass. UNTREATED: Demon Crabgrass smothering the desirable grasses.

Availability of a new and revolutionary dry-applied powder which kills crabgrass but does not harm desirable lawn grasses was announced today by Grosse Pointe Hardware, 16915 E. Jefferson, dealers for O. M. Scott & Sons Co., lawn specialists.
Developed by Scotts Lawn Research, the herbicide eliminates spraying, hand-pulling and other bothersome methods used in the past to combat this hard-to-eradicate lawn eye-sore. The new material, called SCUTL, is simply scattered over the infested area by hand or with a two-wheeled spreader. The particles of powder fasten themselves tightly to the broad crabgrass blades which absorb the chemicals. The plants wither and die.
SCUTL is a green-colored, lightweight material, easy to handle and almost dustless. It does not harm pets or birds in normal usage and will not damage flowers or shrubs unless almost deliberately administered.
From experiments conducted by leading agronomists, as well as private lawn owners in the past several years, the producers of SCUTL have learned that it is best applied when crabgrass is flourishing, usually in July and August. The treatments should be made before the crabgrass has an opportunity to drop the seeds that will live to plague the lawn in future years.

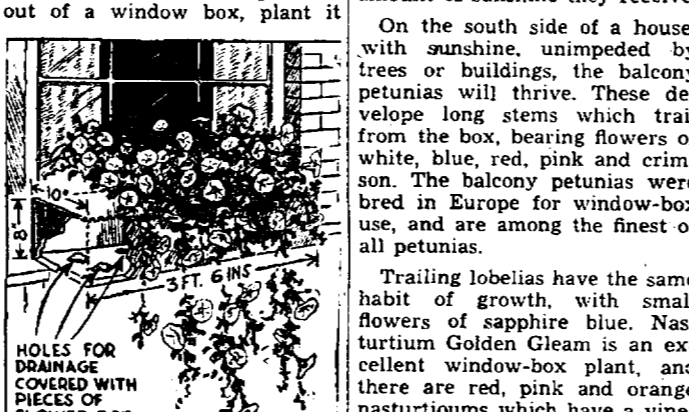

Summer Meals Often Lack Meat Dishes

Summer is the time to guard against unbalanced diets—taking the "backbone" out of too many meals because it's "too hot to cook."
Mary Bodwell, agricultural economics department food specialist at Michigan State College, says our summer meals are often lacking, especially in adequate meat dishes. We need meat the year round for its protein, calories, minerals and vitamins. Meat supplies a good share of protein essential for growth and repair of tissues and is a particularly good source of B vitamins.
There are many other reasons why we eat meats. There's tempting aroma and distinctive flavor. There's the "stick to the ribs" quality, especially popular for those who do physical work. Also, meats stimulate the flow of digestive juices which aid in digestion of other foods.
Here are some hints Miss Bodwell believes will help you in planning, buying and handling meats in summer menus.
It's convenient to think of the great variety of meats especially adapted to summer use in three groups: 1. Cold cuts, such as the sausages, loaf cuts and dried beef; 2. Canned meats and meat products like corned beef hash, meat ball dishes, stews, chili and poultry products; and 3. Variety meats, such as tongue, heart, liver and sweet breads.
When buying these meats, keep in mind there is little or no waste involved. Although they may seem high in price per pound, one pound usually serves four to six persons. They may be a good buy when you consider ease of preparation.
If buying canned meats be sure to read labels carefully. Know what you are getting and what will have to be added during preparation.
A good practice to follow with all summer meats, including some of those in cans, is to keep them refrigerated. Some canned meats will keep indefinitely at room temperatures, but tinned whole or half hams, whole chickens or other large pieces should be kept in the refrigerator. Variety meats and cold cuts should always be taken out of store wrappings, wrapped in wax or oiled paper and stored in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Variety meats should be washed first.
Of course the best care in buying and home storage is only part of the know-how for summer meat eating pleasure. The rest is in the cooking. While cold cuts are ready for use, and the canned products usually need only to be warmed, variety meats require all the care in preparation of any roast, steak or stew.
Most important of all meat cooking rules, Miss Bodwell says, is to allow plenty of time for slow cooking. This precaution helps to prevent shrinkage and retain food value, flavor and tenderness. An even temperature of 350 degrees or surface temperature not over medium will give best results.

DROOPY VEGETABLES
Most vegetables will droop in the hot sun, even soon after a rain, but if they are upright and crisp the next morning, they may not need water. But when they are wilted in the morning soak the soil.

Window Boxes Need Frequent Watering During Summer Months

Most frequent cause for failure with outdoor window boxes is lack of water. They are usually set so close to the wall they do not get the benefit of rains, while at the same time they are dried out by heat radiating by the walls. Soil in the box is limited in quantity and may require soaking twice a day during the hot weather.
To get the greatest pleasure out of a window box, plant it yourself, and take care of the plants. You can even make the box, if you know how to saw and drive nails. Use 1-inch boards of cypress or white pine, and paint the box to harmonize with the

Doubt Korean War Will Halt Home Building

The Korean war is expected to have only limited effect on home building in the United States. But a new world war would result in an almost complete halt in residential construction.

Top government and industry experts think the present situation—with fighting confined to Korea—won't hamper continued record home building this year.

In fact, some economists see the possibility of a moderate home buying surge as a result of the Far East conflict. This, however, is only speculation since factual information is lacking.

On the other hand, Washington opinion is that a world conflict would hit the U. S. building industry "the quickest and the hardest." All residential housing—probably would be shut down.

Barring a military crisis, close to $1,250,000 new housing units will be started this year according to estimates of the commerce and labor departments.

Total public and private building is expected to be 14 per cent above the 22.6 billions spent last year.

The government estimates $10,000,000,000 will be spent on private dwelling units this year as compared with 7.3 billions in 1949. Public housing expenditures will be slightly higher than last year.

NEWS IN SIGHT

By Dr. Arthur M. Majester, O. D. DARK EYE GLASSES

Doctors at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary regard the "fashion fad" for the indiscriminate use of dark glasses, as harmful to vision. One doctor said "we're getting a race of moles in places like Hollywood. They can't take off their dark glasses even at night. And dark glasses at night, especially while driving are absolutely dangerous."

Children should not be allowed to wear dark glasses unless they have diseased eyes and the glasses have been prescribed by a qualified refractometer. Before using tinted lenses of any kind, play safe and consult your eye doctor as to whether or not such lenses will be beneficial.

AVOID INCONVENIENCE
If you are wearing glasses, here is a valuable vacation hint which may save you loss of time, inconvenience and discomfort while on your vacation; namely, if you would be handicapped by either breaking or losing your eyeglasses, then have an extra pair made up for just such an emergency and put them in your traveling bag today.

For boxes on the east and west sides of the house, enjoying a few hours sun, impatiens, clarkia, begonias, fuchsia, lanterns, pansies, dwarf celosia, and torenia will do. Geraniums will bloom well with as much as six hours sun a day. For vines, use vinca, and the various ivies.

Boxes on the north side of the house should be filled with foliage plants. Fancy leaved caladiums are excellent for the purpose. These grow from a huge bulb which can be saved from year to year. Their elephant's ear leaves are attractively colored. Ferns, coleus, sedum, spectabile, and dwarf evergreens are other possibilities.

Because of the small quantity of soil which a window box holds,

Pointer Trains At Navy Base

Among 950 Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps midshipmen from 52 colleges and universities throughout the nation arriving July 23rd at the Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Va., to begin an intensive two-week training course is C. F. Bache, Jr., of 279 LaSalle Pl., a third year student this fall at the University of Notre Dame in Indiana.

His training will consist of instructions ashore and afloat in amphibious operations. During the first week, devoted to shore training, he will learn through practical work, lectures and demonstrations, the essentials of preparing a successful amphibious landing.

The following week he will receive instructions in the afloat part of his amphibious education with indoctrination in shipboard routine aboard vessels of the Amphibious Force. He will witness a coordinated sea-and-air-live-fire demonstration attack on an "enemy" island and will participate in a rehearsal landing.

To climax his training he will take part in a full-dress assault landing employing sea-air support and Marine Corps Reserve troops.

Pointer Heads Talent Course

Teams To Go Through Paces In Harmsworth Speed Trials

Scheduled speed trials for teams in the 1950 Harmsworth races will be held at Detroit on Friday, August 25, Saturday, 26, and Sunday, the 27. Monday, August 28, is reserved for runs and special trials. The trials will be between the hours of 6 and 10 a.m., over the five nautical mile Harmsworth course, as laid out on the Detroit River. After the receipt of all requests from possible contenders, the Committee will then schedule the appearance of these boats during the first three days, which schedule will allow each boat a 30-minute uninterrupted use of the course, during which time no other competing boat will be permitted on the course. Each contestant will be promptly advised of his time schedule, which may be re-arranged by mutual consent if necessary. In the event of fog or other weather conditions preventing an allotted trial, another period may be assigned that boat.

The trial for each boat will consist of the running of three laps of five nautical miles each. The total elapsed time for the 15 miles and the time for the fastest lap will both be taken into consideration in evaluating the placing of the boat on the team.

In order to qualify for further consideration, a speed of at least 85 m.p.h. must be attained. This is 2.5 miles per hour slower than the speed attained by the slowest member of the 1949 team during eliminations.

The Committee will require an inspection of each contestant's craft as to hull and motor conditions immediately following its trial run. Therefore, each contestant will be required to return to his pits and to do no major repairs until the Committee or its representatives have had a chance to inspect the boat. The Committee will plan to do this following the running of the trials each day.

The fastest five boats in these trials will be given first consideration in the selection of the American team of three boats.

Harness Races Begin July 17 at New Track

Big-time harness racing comes to Detroit Monday night, July 17, with the opening of the 43-night meeting at the handsome new $4,000,000 Detroit Race Track, Schoolcraft and Middlebelt Roads.

The fastest pacers and trotters in the country are now assembling at the Detroit track to bid for honors in this meet, lured by the richest purses ever offered at a harness track in the Midwest. Among the entries are the top winners from such outstanding tracks as Santa Anita in California, the Roosevelt Raceway in New York and Maywood Park in Chicago. Most of these horses will be making their first appearances on a Michigan oval.

Eight races will be held every night except Sunday throughout the meeting. The first race will start at 8:15 each night. The track's 94-million candlepower lighting system is the best in the country.

Approximately 1,000 carefully selected horses have been accepted for the meet. This represents full capacity for the available stall space.

Invite Netters To Compete In City Tourney

The Club House and six Green Lawn fast-drying tennis courts of the West Side Tennis Club are located at 13200 Grove, near Littlefield, just one block south of Six Mile road.

Entries must be in the hands of the Tournament Chairman by July 27.

Mower Sponsors GE Display at New Woods Theatre

The newest General Electric refrigerator, the GE ALNICO refrigerator, holds the center of attraction of a display of the full GE line of appliances currently seen at the Woods Theatre, sponsored by Curtis Mower, Inc., 16915 Harper.

With millions of tiny little magnets in the door, the conventional clasp or latch has been disposed of on the new GE Alnico refrigerator. The door is held firmly and securely shut by the magnetic attraction of the little magnets. This is only one of the many refinements on the new box.

Close Mowing and Overwatering Are Reason for Poor Lawns

Close mowing and overwatering are often responsible for poor lawns in midsummer. If the soil is kept constantly moist, grass may lose vigor for lack of air in the soil; and this loss of vigor may make the moisture of no benefit to it. Good drainage, and a porous surface which will admit air are the best protection against over-watering.

Frequent shallow sprinkling is even more dangerous on the lawn than in the flower and vegetable garden. Do not begin to water until the grass needs it, then soak the soil deeply at longer intervals.

Many good lawn grasses are destroyed by close mowing. The best height to set the mower is 1 1/2 inches from the surface. To adjust the mower, place it on a level floor and measure the distance from the floor to the flat knife on which the reel cuts. All mowers have some means of adjustment by which this distance can be raised or lowered.

While grasses grow best on soil which is slightly acid, PH 6 to 6.5, greater acidity may make plant food unavailable. Heavy clay soils especially are improved by lime. Every few years check the soil acidity and apply limestone to bring it up to the proper point.

Organic matter is necessary to vigorous grasses, and a heavy root growth increases the organic matter in the soil. So keep the grass well fed. Weeds should be killed by chemicals, chief of which for lawns is 2,4-D. Bluegrass and fescue are not injured by this chemical, though red top and bent grasses may be temporarily damaged. White clover is frequently killed.

Crab grass can be killed by spraying with potassium cyanate preparations when germination first begins, and again when mature plants threaten to seed. This chemical is not poisonous to animals and should be sprayed on the lawns so the leaves are covered with a film. Lawn clippings should not be removed, except in hot weather when they are very heavy and if

According to the new regulations set up by the Grosse Pointe Traffic and Safety Committee a person riding a bicycle on the sidewalk must yield right of way to all pedestrians. The cyclist should give audible signal before overtaking and passing a pedestrian.

The Chief of Police is authorized to erect signs on any sidewalk or roadway prohibiting the riding of bicycles thereon by any person and when such signs are in place no person shall disobey the same.

Every bicycle when in use at night time shall be equipped with a lamp on the front which shall emit a white light visible from a distance of at least 500 feet to the front and with a red reflector on the rear of a type which shall be visible from all distances from 50 feet to 300 feet to the rear when directly in front of lawful upper beams of headlamps on a motor vehicle. A lamp emitting a red light visible from a distance of 500 feet to the rear may be used in addition to the red reflector.

No person shall operate a bicycle unless it is equipped with a bell or other device capable of giving a signal audible for a distance of at least 100 feet, except that a bicycle shall not be equipped with any siren or whistle.

Chip shots and a variety of iron shots will be demonstrated. Admission free. The driving range is new and with the new lighting arrangement, the ball will be visible so that the drives are directly over the gold course.
