Safety Record Perfect

WATCHING THE TREE - PLANTING CEREMONY

Grasse Pointe Woods received special recognition for their 1949 safety record in a letter from L. E. Holland, president of the American Automobile Association.

The letter is reprinted as follows: It is a real pleasure to advise you that the Board of Judges of the 1949 AAA National Protection Contest unanimously voted that Grosse Pointe Woods receive special recognition for its splendid record of no pedestrian deaths during 1949, and that a letter conveying this recognition be sent you as the Chief Executive.

The American Automobile Association extends sincere congratulations for this outstanding pedestrian safety record with the hope that it will continue unblemished through 1950.

A vigorous pedestrian protection program will help program will help your excellent record of "no deaths" and make your community so safely conscious that no pedestrian injuries, toll, will be prevented. Our staff will be glad to continue to work with you to bring you the "Best of the Best" award for your "Contest Representative" in 1949.

Attention of the Grosse Pointe Traffic and Safety Committee was focused Wednesday upon the dangerous hazards developing on Vernor highway and Charlevoix in the Pointe as an indirect result of those routes being designated one-way streets by Detroit about a month ago.

City May Ban Rent Controls

Numerous petitions from residents of the City of Grosse Pointe has prompted the Council to take under advisement the possible abandonment of rent control in the City.

Rotarians Get Low Down on Radio Relay

Herb Bumpus of the Michigan Bell telephone company addressed the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club Monday at the Memorial Center on post-war telephone and innovations.

Contrary to popular opinion, said Bumpus, "there is no scandal" about television in Michigan. Network television programs are from Toledo to Detroit and Detroit by way of radio relay.

Programs originating outside Detroit are sent from Toledo to the top of the Bell telephone tower by way of radio relay. Detroit and Toledo have two booster stations between Toledo and Detroit. There are three booster stations in each city, one in each of which can in addition carry some company conversations.

Verheyden Denied Permit for Parkway

A petition by Charles Verheyden, Inc., for a building permit, requesting permission to convert three adjacent residential lots in the northern part of Grosse Pointe Park, was denied by Grosse Pointe Park Board of Appeals.

However, Verheyden was granted a certificate of compliance for a building permit which will include certain limitations on the use of the property.

POINTE PARAGRAPHS

Victor Lambrecht, 11 years old, broke into a house after his afternoon when he reached his father in humanity. The reason was brought about by a letter from a gentleman in Shamokin, Pennsylvania, who sent him several dollars toward a note of thanks. On Sunday several weeks ago the young Pointer, of 1030 Beachwood, found a wallet containing $30 at the Grosse Pointe Veterans Park. After turning it in to the police, he had for several weeks and wondered whether the owner was really grateful by his honesty. Then, the letter came apologizing for the long delay and asking him to accept an inclosed reward.

Now I'll be able to buy my mother a birthday present," he said.

UNITED NATIONS PROGRESS

There has been great disillusionment in this country over the United Nations. The high hopes for world amity and civilized solutions of international difficulties that were held out when the organization was created have not materialized.

But there is another side to this great question. It was well expressed by Raymond Moley in one of his newspaper columns when he wrote: "It is to be hoped that public opinion in the United States will modify its pessimism concerning the United Nations..."

"Our own stake is enormous. We must not forfeit the assets of the Japanese potential or neglect the Philippines. For once the Soviet appears in the warm waters of the Pacific, it will develop sea power and challenge our position in the entire ocean."

"The United Nations must do or die, and if it dies, civilization everywhere will be in grave peril."

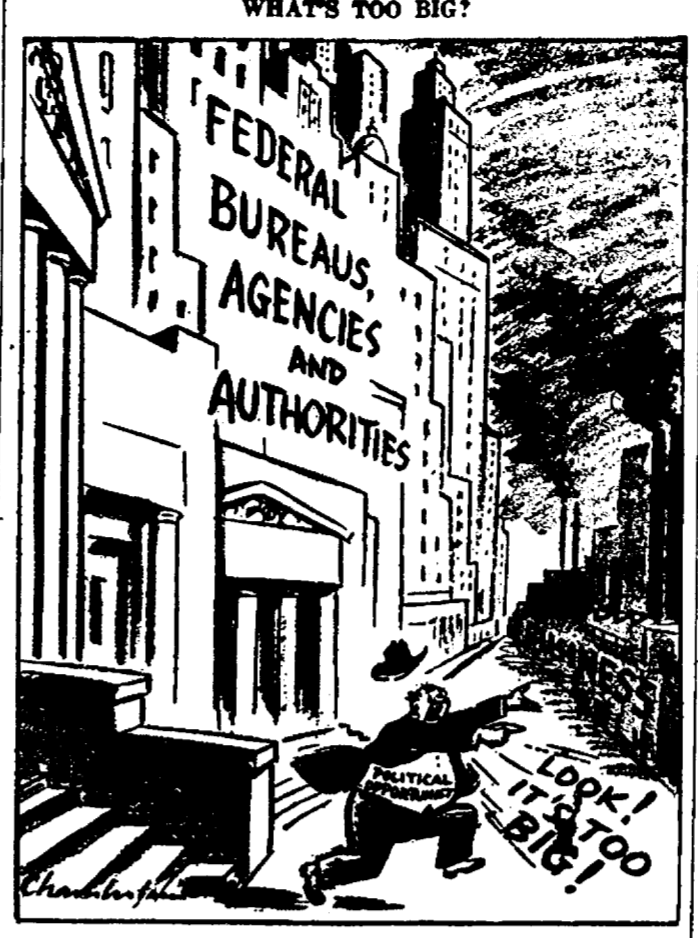

The failures of the UN—which have been very largely due to Russia's constant use of her veto power in any matter that does not further the Soviet policy of world communist expansion—have overshad-dowed its achievements. The UN has brought together the nations of the world, and the vast majority of them are on the side of the West. Countries with a total population of something like a billion people have formally expressed, through the UN, their opposition to the communist invasion of South Korea. And the UN acted promptly, and to the limit of its existing capabilities, when the Korean crisis arose.

The UN has protected our own position in Korea. There we are acting, not just on our own hook, but as an agent of the UN. We are following exactly the provisions of the UN charter, which are to block aggression wherever it may appear. We are, therefore, taking on the job of policeman in that tragic little country.

It may be a long time before the world learns what the Korean war will lead to. In the meantime it has cast a brilliant light on the ineffectiveness of our vacillating policy in Asia. It also seems to have shown up some startling failures — we were taken completely by surprise, our intelligence apparently could not have been poorer, and we did not realize how well prepared for war the Korean communists were. However, as Herbert Hoover said, we have made our decision, we must abide by it, and everything that is necessary to win must be done.

Let's write to Stalin! This suggestion is made by Carl M. Saunders, editor of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot who won the Pulitzer prize for the most outstanding newspaper editorial in 1949. We quote:
All over America Communists and glibbie stooges are circulating "peace petitions."
The petitions are phony because they assume to ask for outlawing the atomic bomb, although it is Russia which has blocked efforts of the United Nations to set up an honest program for control of atomic weapons.
They are phony also because they pretend to have the backing of the United Nations and...

THE DUTY OF GOVERNMENT

Apparently it is no longer fashionable for public men to speak out in favor of such old-fashioned virtues as thrift, and local and individual self-reliance and independence. The current mode is to urge that the Federal government do practically everything for everybody — and, in the process, take more and more of our earnings in taxes. So it is refreshing when a man holding a high political position speaks his mind about the road we have been traveling as a nation.

Governor Lee of Utah did that in a speech before the National Reclamation Association. He said, "The poorest business man on earth is the government. You know they have got a mortgage on everything we own in this country that equals about what would be equivalent to a 100 per cent mortgage and you know they are spending more than they take in every day of the year. Now you know that isn't good business."

Pointer Muriel Reamore recently visited the Headquarters of the United Nations at Lake Success. One of the most interesting features of the assembly hall is the way the language barrier is disposed of. Earphones are used to tune in to one of the five official languages—Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish. The remarks of a speaker are heard by interpreters who sit in glassed-in booths and simultaneously translate the words of the speaker into one of these languages.

HAVE A HOME TO COME BACK TO

Are you going away for a vacation or a long weekend? You'll have a better chance to have a home to return to if you make a "fire checkup" before you leave.
The National Board of Fire Underwriters has made some simple suggestions which should be followed to the letter before you take off. Here they are:
Inspect every room for cigarette butts, and empty ashtrays and wastebaskets.
Turn off all electric appliances—radios, fans, lamps, and so on—and all gas jets. If you're going to be away for a month or more, pull out all flexible cords from the electric outlets in the walls.

10,000 Plant Nurses Are Proof of Industry's Concern for Help

The industrial nurse is "a powerful builder of employee morale" and a "very important representative of management," according to Claude A. Putnam, president of the National Association of Manufacturers. The industrial nurse is eloquent evidence that management deeply and continuously interested in the welfare and well-being of every one of its employees. Mr. Putnam said recently that there are many proofs that management today is as concerned for the preservation and conservation of its human resources as about its material resources.

Nurses' Aid Basic
Increasingly, the NAM president added, the industrial nurse is becoming a basic part of the scheme of industrial production. She has emerged, from an obscure and uncertain status, as a paid agent to management's aid in the field of industrial hygiene. "The fact that there are considerably more than 10,000 nurses employed by American industry today gives satisfaction to the NAM, and the kind of dividend it is glad to see paid on its vigorous and persistent work in this vital field."

Green Beans Should Be Spotless and Bright to Be High Quality

Fresh green beans from Michigan fields and gardens are now in season, but we'll be able to enjoy this popular summer vegetable until frost time. Mary Bodwell, agricultural economics department food specialist at Michigan State College, claims that the term, "green beans," is often used to mean green snap, yellow wax, lima beans. We are usually in error when we refer to "green beans." Development of present stringless beans making beans almost a thing of the past.

Here are some of Miss Bodwell's pointers for selecting green beans in the store: 1) Buy the pound if possible. Those packed in quart containers may vary in weight. 2) High quality green snap or wax beans should be smooth pods, be bright in color, spotless, and crisp enough to snap when broken. Uniformity will insure even cooking. Look for dark green lima beans. Shelled limas should be bright green, with tender skin, and free from mold. 4) One pound of snap beans will give you four cups when cut, and serve four people. One pound of shelled limas will shell out about a cup, and a pound of shelled limas will measure nearly two cups.

Important things to remember in handling and cooking green beans are: Keep them in the refrigerator, unwashed until you are ready to use them. Moisture from washing encourages mold. To retain vitamins, cook beans for 5 to 15 minutes, depending on size, in a small amount of water. Fresh beans are excellent for frozen food locker preservation. If canned, they must be processed in a pressure canner.

Dr. M. Lenox Speaks Sunday to Presbyterians

Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian church entertains as its guest speaker on Sunday, July 30, Merrill Lenox, D.D., executive secretary of the Detroit Council of Churches. Dr. Lenox is a member of the Commission on Marriage and Home, Department of International Justice and Good Will and Department of Race Relations with the Federal Council of Churches.

He is the author of "Primer on Marriage" and one of the authors of "Action," a handbook on social action. His other activities include preaching over Columbia Church of the Air and Mutual Radio Chapel, national programs; corresponding for the Christian Century; and conducting a weekly program on WJR called "Religion in Action."

In the summer of 1948, Dr. Lenox traveled through Scotland, England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Germany and Holland, studying religious and social conditions. He attended the historic First Assembly of the World Council of Churches at Amsterdam. While in Europe, his weekly reports on conditions there appeared in a special column in one of Detroit's metropolitan dailies.

Bride Carries White Orchid for Ceremony

Patricia Ann Slowin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Slowin of Nottingham road, became the bride of Thomas George Emmenecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Emmenecker of Saginaw, on Saturday, July 22, in a morning ceremony at St. Ambrose Church. The bride was given in marriage by her father in a double ring ceremony.

Her ballerina dress was white springanza with a collar and bodice of Pointe de Lyon lace. She wore mits trimmed with the same lace. The shoulder length veil was held by a small brimmed lace cap. She carried a white orchid.

Martha Slowin was her sister's only attendant. Her ballerina dress was white embroidered springanza over blue taffeta. Her small colonial bouquet was pink carnations and white arkspur.

Robert Seaman, of Saginaw, was best man, and Francis Snyder, of Saginaw, and James B. Hazen, Jr., of Hudson, seated the guests. After the wedding members of the families attended a breakfast at the Whittier Hotel.

Mrs. Slowin was attired in a brown and white printed crepe with brown accessories, while Mrs. Emmenecker wore a navy flowered sheer and navy accessories. When leaving on their wedding trip the bride wore a white rayon suit with a pale blue blouse and white accessories. After a week's honeymoon in Northern Michigan the young couple will make their home in Saginaw.

Foods Not Cure for Tuberculosis, Society Warns

It may seem hard to believe, but there are still people who believe that certain foods cure tuberculosis, the TB and Health Society states. They seem to think that some type of magic diet will stop the destructive work of TB germs in the patient's lungs and restore him to health in short order.

No TB patient was ever cured by diet alone, the Society emphasizes. There are many aspects to the treatment of TB, basic among which is complete rest under medical supervision, preferably in a TB hospital. At the hospital, in addition to his supervised rest, the patient may receive other types of treatment, such as surgery or drugs, depending on the type of his illness. His diet is also planned there to fit his specific needs and to give him strength to fight his illness.

Although diet is only a part of the treatment, it is an important part. The patient's food must serve the double purpose of helping the body to repair the damage the germs have done to his lungs as well as to build up his body's defenses against the spread of the disease. Doctors work with trained dietitians to make certain that the patient gets the proper foods, in the right amount, to help him successfully overcome the disease. Meals served are usually simple, well balanced, and contain calories and vitamins needed. In general, the diet includes milk (a quart a day), meat, eggs, fish, cheese, fruits, vegetables, cereals, and desserts.

Methodists To Take Boat Ride Up River

The Grosse Pointe Methodist church will hold its annual steamboat ride to Port Huron on Sunday morning, July 30. The boat will leave from the foot of Bates street at 9 on Sunday morning and sail up the river to Port Huron and return to Detroit at 7:30 in the evening.

This trip traverses some of the best scenery to be found anywhere in the lakes region and is considered one of the finest excursion rides in the nation. Tickets may be secured from Mrs. Kenneth Kimmel, TU 2-3282. Pack a lunch and bring the children. It is a non-stop trip. Please note that the date, Sunday, Aug. 30, is a change from the originally announced date of Saturday, Aug. 29. The Grosse Pointe Methodist church will resume its schedule of services on Sunday, Sept. 10.

If everyone's conscience was more co-operative, everyone could live a more comfortable life.

Mrs. Joseph Wendell Greening was the former Louise Lorraine Case, sister of Mrs. Frederick McNab of Beaufait road, before her marriage on July 15. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell George Greening of Hawthorne road.

Buying Vegetables In Season Simplifies Shopping Problems

Homemakers who keep tabs on growing seasons of local farm products as well as how to use them will find that it helps simplify the first problem of cooking—"what to buy when."

Mary Bodwell, agricultural economics department food specialist at Michigan State College, believes this is especially helpful in summer months when fresh fruits and vegetables are being harvested. It insures getting the most for your money, both in day-to-day meals and in home freezing and canning.

Here are some of Miss Bodwell's guides to good shopping and eating for three popular summer vegetables:

Celery
You can count on getting good quality, garden-fresh celery all summer. It's a long-season vegetable, and Michigan is the number one celery state in the nation. Early celery is now coming from fields in the area of Kalamazoo, Muskegon and Decatur. Midseason and late crops arrive from areas farther north in the state. Michigan farmers grow both golden and the green pascal types of celery.

Most homemakers use the whole stalk of celery, making use of the leaves in soups or other cooked dishes. The green leaves contain vitamin A, the stems contain vitamins B and C. However, celery stalks have little food value, but are eaten mainly for flavor and variety. They retain crispness well when refrigerated, but if wilted can usually be revived in cold water.

Peas
Michigan has two crops of peas. We are still getting early crop spinach, and will enter another local supply season in late summer. Spinach leaves, usually served as cooked "greens," belong in the green, leafy and yellow vegetable group. They are good suppliers of vitamin A. One pound of spinach will provide two cups when cooked, enough to serve four. Always wash spinach in lukewarm water just before cooking. Ordinarily the water that clings to the leaves after washing is enough to cook the spinach.

Peas
We are now in the midst of the Michigan green pea season. Although most of the peas are grown for commercial canning and freezing, Michigan's farms provide a good supply of early and midseason varieties for fresh use. When buying peas, look for those with well-filled but not bulging pods. Fresh young peas are brittle and tender. Older peas are hard and starchy. Freezing is the best method of "putting them up" for winter. For freezing, shell, then Blanch 1 1/2 minutes in boiling water, cool quickly in cold water, drain, package and freeze. For fresh use, one pound of peas will shell out about a cupful, or enough for two or three servings.

LETTUCE TYPES
How well do you know lettuce types? The most popular is crisp head or "iceberg" lettuce. Leaf lettuce is used interchangeably with the head type, and is usually preferred for wilted lettuce. It grows in bunches instead of heads, and has greener leaves. Butterhead lettuce is smaller than the iceberg type, and generally has a smoother, greener leaf. Romaine lettuce has a long or cylindrical head, with a coarser leaf and stronger flavor.

FRESH FRUITS
July is one of the months when fresh fruits and vegetables are in plentiful supply. Plan to use them daily in economical and healthful summer meals.

Bible School Has Tree-Planting Ceremonies

The Children of the Vacation Bible School of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church chose as their community project the purchasing and planting of three flowering crab-apple trees. The trees were planted on the lawn outside the Children's wing of the church building.

The ceremony in which the children participated consisted of the poem, "Thank You Dear God for Trees," read by Janet Westner. Peggy Ething of the Youth Choir sang a solo, "Trees," by Joyce Kilmer. The kindergarten children sang, "Who can make a Tree." An appropriate story was told by the director, Mrs. Alton Huntington. The ceremony closed with a prayer offered by the Rev. Charles W. Scheid.

SPREAD BUTTER
Use softened butter spread to the very edge of the slices for sandwiches to keep the filling from soaking through. Both slices should be buttered—not too thick and not too thin, advises Elaine Mishler, Michigan State College home economist.

VEGETABLE SANDWICHES
If sandwiches are to be the main part of a meal think of the nutritive value needed and include eggs, peanut butter, meat, but also remember the many fruit and vegetable fillings.

Outdoor Picnic Can Be Unsanitary Diversion, Society Warns Public

Anyone would scoff at the idea that our most popular summer diversion—the outdoor picnic—can be unsanitary. However, foods which can spoil easily and thus cause illness should be kept out of the picnic basket, the TB and Health Society stakes.

Food, says the Society, should never be prepared or served by one who is ill because skin infections and other illnesses are easily spread through food.

It has often been said that the best picnic grounds are always surrounded by poisonous plants. While this is not literally true, it's unwise to "sample" the pretty but unfamiliar berries which may be growing in the picnic area.

Most people realize that it is dangerous to drink from unknown streams or brooks. However, the temptation might be strong to "take a chance" if the drinks run out during or after the picnic. It must be kept in mind that the most innocent looking streams can be contaminated by deadly germs. Therefore, drinking water should be brought from home unless there is a pure water supply in or around the picnic grounds.

Minor wounds, which seem to be a part of every picnic, should be cleansed with a mild soap and antiseptic salve or lotion applied as soon as possible.

If serious accidents or minor ones which might lead to complications occur, as they sometimes do, the doctor should be consulted immediately.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
 "Love" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 30.
 The Golden Text (I John 4:7) is: "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God."
 Among the Bible citations in this passage (Rom. 12:9): "Love no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law."
 Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 454): "Love for God and man is the true incentive in both healing teaching. Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right-minded give opinions to thought and strength and freedom to speech and action."

Park Favors Joint Garbage Disposal Plan

A resolution proposing a study and survey of rubbish and garbage disposal in Grosse Pointe was formally approved Monday night at the Park Council meeting.

The Farms has already approved the measure and the City is also expected to act favorably on the matter, according to a report by Park Manager Everett B. Lane, who has been active in preparing the resolution for adoption.

Last week Grosse Pointe Woods voted down the plan. Woods President Alois Ghesbregue stated that, "Our community at this time has a very efficient and economical sanitary system."

The resolution was drawn up by administrative officials of all five Grosse Pointe municipalities at a meeting on June 20.

The study is intended to determine the proper system of disposal best suited to the municipalities, considering the systems of incineration, sanitary land fill and the use of sink disposal. The study would be made by a firm of consulting engineers in the specialized field of refuse disposal.

Each community accepting the proposal will pay an appropriate sum based on population. The fee will be based on an approximate cost of three cents per capita, according to the last U. S. Census.

Rabaut Examines Implications of the Korean Situation

THE ATTACK
 No fair-minded man can doubt from the record that the invasion of the Republic of South Korea was a Soviet-sponsored act of naked aggression upon a free and independent country. Because we are a party to the Atlantic Charter and a member of the United Nations we were, as a nation, duty-bound to come to the aid of South Korea in its hour of need. Further, because freedom and independence are woven of whole cloth, the invasion of South Korea represented a deliberate attempt to shatter our own democratic ideals which we, as a nation, cherish so highly and which we are trying to protect throughout the world.

OUR ANSWER
 President Truman's message to Congress and his address to the nation are a concise review of the events leading to our intervention in the Korean conflict. He has summarized in a calm and deliberate manner the military and economic steps which we have taken and which we may have to take in the future to carry out our responsibilities.

It is evident from the President's speech that we have not closed the door to world peace. Under this kind of leadership we can never be accused of having plunged blindly into a war that could have been avoided.

THE POSSIBILITIES OF ALL-OUT WAR
 As a result of this determined and positive resistance to a breach of world peace, there is now, in one sense, less danger of war than before the invasion of South Korea. The men in the Kremlin cannot now make the kind of political error which Hitler made in 1939 in predicting the British reaction to his invasion of Poland.

Stalin knows where we stand and because he does there is less chance of an "accidental war." We do not want to fight but Stalin knows that if he throws down the gauntlet of total war he will meet our determined and full scale opposition.

THE CALL TO ARMS
 Because we cannot discount the real possibility of full war the President has authorized military mobilization, not only to meet the demands of the Korean situation, but to bring our armed strength into balance with our commitments all over the world, especially with the North Atlantic Defense Assistance Pact. We will not allow ourselves to become over-deployed with the risk of a sneak attack from some other corner of the globe; but this will

First Week At Race Track Is Successful

The first week of the 43 day harness racing meeting at the new Detroit Race Track closed Saturday with eight free for all pacers competing in the $3,000 feature on the nine race program.

Despite rainouts on Monday and Wednesday, general manager Al Weil expressed approval over the initial week, pointing out that Tuesday's mutual handle of $223,000 was the largest ever handled in Michigan on this night of the week barring holiday crowds.

The feature pace brought together Brucita's Guy, Mr. Richmond and Dr. Parker, all of whom won over top fields in their last start.

Brucita's Guy turned in his victory at Northville Downs, Dr. Parker won the last stakes

Mohawks Triumph In Navahos In League Game

The Mohawks defeated the Navahos, 12 to 11, in an exciting game in Cub Park, 2904 East Mack, Saturday night.

The game gave the Mohawks undisputed possession of the place in the Indian circuit.

It was the week's only game. The Comanches, however, forfeited their lead by taking a 2-0 lead from the Chippewas.

The 12-game schedule for the Pack's baseball trophy will wound up this week.

Durant Using New Platform In Campaign

At a gathering "to meet the candidate" held by friends on Three Mile Drive, Richard Durant, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman from the 14th District, struck a new note for a political aspirant. Durant, who lives at 425 Lincoln Road, declared that he was more interested in having convictions and expressing them, than he was in "political expediency."

"When I first decided to run for Congress," he said, "I consulted with older and wiser heads than my own as to what type of campaign I should conduct in order to win. I was both surprised and shocked to find that almost invariably I was told that if I wanted to have a chance, I should stand for 'the Bible, the flag and the Constitution; to say nothing while appearing to say something; and never to tell the voters what I really thought.'"

"If that's true," Durant went on to say, "this country of ours is in a bad way. But I don't believe it is true. I believe people respond to sincerity; I believe they recognize honesty."

"The main reason I am running is that I believe the professional politicians are either unable or unwilling to meet the challenge of Truman's Compulsory State. They are so interested in winning that they say they cannot afford to have convictions."

"I think this is wrong. I think the only type of man who should ever be in office is precisely that man who has convictions, who believes winning comes second and principles first. For that reason I am determined in my campaign to tell what I believe to be the truth, whether it be politically expedient or not."

"She's feathering her nest and looking for some old bird to share it with her."—Opera Singer Ezio Pinza.

Gold Hats to Play Benefit

Detroit Gold Hats' third meeting of the season with Detroit Evergreen Sunday, July 30th, will be played as the feature of an all-day American Legion Benefit program sponsored by Campbell-Richmond Post No. 65, of Clarkston, Michigan.

Al Poole, veteran No. 1 for Evergreen, is a Clarkston resident and businessman. Through his efforts the game will be played at the Carl Betz Tip-Top Farm on U. S. 10, a mile north of M-15 at 3:30 p.m. Due to this transfer, the Detroit Polo Field will be without a Sunday afternoon game for the only time this season.

Evergreen, twice beaten by Gold Hats 10 to 8 and 12 to 8, at the W. 14 Mile Road home of the Detroit Polo Club will be the home club or this game in Pool's bailiwick and will be all out to claim their first decision over Volney Bayley's team.

Announce New Delicatessen in the Farms

Announcement is made today of the opening this week-end of the east side's newest delicatessen, the Farms Beer and Wine store at 18700 Mack near Kerby.

The new store is owned and operated by a brother and sister team composed of Emma Lappin and Andrew Denys, former operators of the Old Brick Inn at the same site.

A complete delicatessen features full line of Kowalski sausages, a bakery department, Borden's dairy products and ice cream, local and imported beers and wines and soft drinks.

During grand opening days, Wednesday, Aug. 2 through Saturday, August 5th, a cello bag of three weiners will be given free to each customer at Farms Beer and Wine store.

About 150 million persons now live in the U. S. That's nearly twice the 76 million we had in 1900. And we're growing at the rate of 2 million a year.
