Court Upholds Validity of Charter

Adoption of Merit System In Accord with Home Rule Act

At a hearing before the honorable Robert M. Toms, Circuit Court Judge, the validity of the Merit System as set up in the new Grosse Pointe Park City Charter was upheld.

Pierre V. Heftler was the attorney for the City. Challengers of the Merit System were Norman T. Bohrer, of 1230 Lakepointe, and Marvin L. Visger, of 987 Nottingham. In their case, Bohrer and Visger claimed that the section of the Charter providing for the establishment of the Merit System was "invalid, void, illegal and unconstitutional" since a Civil Service program was already established through legislative channels by voters in 1937.

DeBaeke Sells Beverly Hills Club

Victor DeBaeke announced this week the sale of the Beverly Hills Country Club to the General Motors Corporation.

The club, owned by DeBaeke, who resides at 33 Vernier road, spreads over 106 acres and will be the site of a $25,000,000 Technical Center.

Purchase price for the sale of the property at Thirteen Mile road and Van Dyke avenue in Warren Township, was not disclosed.

POINTE PARAGRAPHS

Missing... one yellow bathtub... that's what the Grosse Pointe Woods police are on the lookout for. The colorful piece of bathroom equipment disappeared shortly after it had been delivered to a new home under construction on Fairway. The builder is Walter Pischke.

Over in Scotland there is a bonnie bride-to-be planning her summer wedding without the traditional white dress and veil due to the severe austerity program. A Detroit sister of the prospective groom is hoping that somewhere in an attic or trunk a local matron will uncover a bridal outfit which will be offered at a price the young lassie can afford. This is the story behind a "Wanted to Buy" item in this edition of the Grosse Pointe Review.

Mrs. E. F. Woleben took a group of neighborhood children to see "Jack and the Beanstalk" one Saturday at the Auditorium. When the show was over and the tribe turned homeward, Mrs. Woleben discovered an important loss. Her diamond wrist watch which was a keepsake was gone. If the finder is somewhere within hailing distance, there would be a very grateful Pointe matron awaiting a call.

High School Enrollment Still Growing

Although Grosse Pointe High School graduated 104 seniors in January, it gained 118 new students when the second semester opened.

The 7B class consists of one homeroom of 30 members. The total enrollment at the end of the first week of the second semester was 1,499, gain of nine over last semester and 49 over a year ago at this time.

The total enrollment consists of 408 students in Brownell and 1,090 in the senior high school.

In his decision, Judge Toms stated: "It would seem quite logical that if the village had the right to avail itself of Act 78 (which provided for the set up Civil Service) that by the same token it would have a right... to withdraw from the provisions of that act."

"This does not violate the court's sense of propriety or legal proceedings. "It would violate the court's sense of reason to find that once a village had submitted itself to the provisions of this act, that such commitment was irrevocable and eternal and that there was no way of escaping the operation of the act, no matter how distasteful or untimely it might become."

Police Rescue Distressed Young Misses

Grosse Pointe Woods police-men wearing hip boots rescued two young school girls Tuesday morning after they became marooned in a muddy field.

Post Office Seeks Proposals for Branch

Plans for a new post office in Grosse Pointe began to crystallize this week as proposals on quarters for the building were officially solicited.

According to Post Office Inspector Martin Thomson, the branch will probably be established near the intersection of Mack and Moross in order to serve both the Grosse Pointe area and Gratiot Township.

One of the chief reasons for selecting the Mack-Moross intersection, Thomson said, will be the convenience of location. Two separate bus lines, the Lake Shore and Detroit Street Railways, meet at this corner.

The proposed building will provide all post office facilities, postal savings, postal notes, money orders, stamps and parcel post, Thomson added.

He estimated that 19 clerks will be employed, foot delivery service will be made by 38 men operating from the branch, and parcel post service will be handled by approximately 15 men.

Four special delivery messengers will be employed.

According to Thomson, the building for the post office will be leased from a private owner for approximately 10 years. The post office buildings are generally re-leased at the end of the 10-year period, if they are of sufficient size to conduct the business of a branch.

In a report to the Review, the Post Office Inspector said that choosing a location on the north or south side of Mack would be the difference between establishing a post office branch or station.

On the north side, or Detroit side, of Mack, the post office would be a station, since it is operated in the corporate limits of the City of Detroit.

If a building on the south side of Mack is leased, the post office will be a branch for Grosse Pointe, similar to ones in Highland Park and Hamtramck.

A scant 1031 ballots, representing 4.8 percent of the local electorate, were cast in Grosse Pointe Monday to nominate candidates for the office of County Auditor.

Bullet Ricochets Off Icy Pond, Hits 14-Year Old

An 8A student at Brownell Junior High School was the victim of an accidental shooting Tuesday afternoon as he played with a chum in a marshy field behind his home.

Herman J. Keeler, Jr., 14, of 236 Kerby, was dead of a wound through the heart by the time he reached Cottage Hospital.

Albert Trowbridge told Sgt. Elmer Labadie and Detective Eugene Boylan of the Grosse Pointe Farms police that he fired his .22-caliber repeating rifle into a small icy pond to prove to Herman his gun was real.

"Then I heard my mother calling me to the phone and I ran home," young Trowbridge told police.

"The call," he said, "was from a friend of mine who wanted to come over and shoot at tin cans."

"The gun was a Christmas present," he added.

A few minutes later Albert and Charles Tatham, of 280 Ridgemont, found their chum on the ground where a short time ago he had been playing.

Police said the victim died of a shot which ricocheted off the ice pond.

Trowbridge, age 13, of 326 Ridge, and Keever had been friends for several years.

The victim is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Keeler and two sisters, Victoria is in the 11A and Mary Jane in the 9A at Grosse Pointe High School.

Wild Chase Uncovers Gang of Car Thieves

After a harrowing chase through Grosse Pointe Park streets Thursday evening, Patrolmen Del Place and Marcel Verwacke arrested a 15-year-old youth driving a stolen automobile.

Police noticed the youth when he sped through a stop street at Kercheval and Bedford.

Police investigation following the arrest of the juvenile led to the arrest of two other teenagers who admitted being members of an east side gang directly connected with the theft of dozens of autos.

The youths told police they stole cars to drive back and forth to a private school for boys on the east side.

One of the cars stolen belonged to Francis Huxley, 14939 Hampton.

Complaints against the boys will be filed in Juvenile Court by Sgt. Arnold Hough of the Grosse Pointe Park police department.

Chief Arthur Louwers of the Park police said juveniles driving automobiles will be checked carefully by officers since a similar ring is still operating on the east side.

Library Is Topic of Discussion

Principals of the five Grosse Pointe high schools have been invited to select students to represent their school on a program to be given for the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library next Tuesday evening, February 27, in the Public Library, located in the Pierce Junior High School Building.

Students will discuss library service both from the standpoint of high school libraries and the Public Library.

John Brabb has been selected to represent Grosse Pointe High School, Theodore Sedwick, DUS, Jean Dickson, Country Day, Dennis Furton, St. Paul, and John Mahon, St. Ambrose.

In addition to the students, School Librarian, and Robert L. Orr, Director of Public Libraries, will also participate in the panel discussion.

The panel will be under the direction of Dr. Alfred H. Whitaker, program chairman for the Friends.

Persons interested in library service in Grosse Pointe are cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served by the Public Library Staff.

Remember

20 YEARS AGO
Edsel Ford offered to build at his expense on his property a 120-foot highway on Jefferson Avenue opposite his Gaultier Point estate. The project would be worth approximately $70,000 to $100,000 to the community, and it was predicted the Macomb County Road Commission and the village of St. Clair Shores would accept the offer.

IMMUNIZE FOR CIVILIAN DEFENSE

Will your child be protected in case of an emergency? "The great emphasis now being placed on a program for national defense points up clearly the importance of taking every precaution to safeguard the health of your family," said Dr. David Littlejohn, Director of the Wayne County Health Department.

He further stated that every child should be fully immunized against preventable diseases such as smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus or lockjaw.

Immunization against lockjaw will be particularly valuable in case of bombings. There is also the possibility of a smallpox epidemic if vaccinations are not up to par.

At such times, when the population is completely disrupted, there is greater exposure to infection. Whooping cough and diphtheria immunizations should be at their peak.

Children should be protected against whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus in infancy, and booster doses of toxoid should be given at properly timed intervals.

This protection is vital in peace time, but more so in case of an emergency.

Therefore, Dr. Littlejohn urges all parents to immediately take their children to their physicians for immunization and vaccination if they have not done so.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

WASHINGTON'S WAS THE HARD WAY

THE GENIUS OF GEORGE WASHINGTON AS A LEADER AND HIS FORCEFULNESS AS A MAN STEMMED FROM A QUALITY HIS NEIGHBORS EARLY REMARKED ON—AN UNUSUAL ABILITY FOR "APPLYING HIMSELF TO THE JOB AHEAD."

AS A SOLDIER, AS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, HE TRANSLATED THIS QUALITY INTO A GRIM DETERMINATION, AN ENORMOUS CAPACITY FOR WORK, TO WIN THROUGH AGAINST ALL DISCOURAGEMENTS IN THE COLONISTS' FIGHT FOR FREEDOM.

TO MEET THE THREAT OF WAR THAT OUR DEMOCRACY FACES TODAY, ALL OF US MUST "APPLY OURSELVES" TO THE JOB AT HAND—THE TASK OF DEFENDING AND MAINTAINING THE FREEDOM THAT WASHINGTON WON FOR US THE HARD WAY.

Library Spotlight

By Jean Taylor

A grandmother brings this question to the library desk. "I should like to give my grandchildren a magazine. Which one of the current publications will give them the enjoyment of the old St. Nicholas gave to me?"

Perhaps no children's magazine ever produced such unequivocal loyalty among young readers as did the St. Nicholas. Ever since its decline and fall, we have hoped for a satisfactory substitute.

When St. Nicholas flourished a generation or two ago, there were few books for children, and this magazine was one of the chief sources of juvenile reading.

Its editor, Mary Mapes Dodge, by her own high standards, no doubt caused more and better children's books to be written.

With the pattern of the child's life today differing so radically from yesterday when there were no movies, no radio, no television, it is logical that no magazine of 1950 could play the important role enjoyed by the St. Nicholas.

Many magazines for children are launched, live briefly and peter out. One of the reasons for this might well be that children's magazines cannot depend on advertising to carry them as do most of the adult periodicals.

Since children are not the potential buyers, advertisers cast a wary eye on this field.

Children still read magazines however and enjoy receiving something that is theirs and theirs alone, through the mail.

And now, to answer grandmother's question... What magazines for children are available? Roughly they fall into two classes, the special interest periodicals, for the boy scouts, the girl scouts, the magazines of scientific or religious organizations, and those of general interest.

Among the general interest magazines for children, JACK AND JILL, a monthly, is well liked by the child 10 or under.

It has usually one continued story, a few short ones, sections of things to do, puzzles and riddles. It is illustrated and has an attractive format. The price is $2.50 annually.

CHILD LIFE, also a monthly, $3 a year, is read by children fourth through sixth grade. It has stories, poems, read-aloud pages, things to do, helpful for high days and holidays.

For children in the middle years, from about eight to 12, there is the monthly STORY PARADE, also $3. Established authors contribute stories, poems and articles. Many of the illustrations are in color. Children are given an opportunity to express themselves in prose, verse or pictures through a department of subscribers.

Of the special interest group perhaps the two most read at the library are POPULAR MECHANICS and POPULAR SCIENCE, both monthlies.

POPULAR MECHANICS, $2.50 a year, gives information on the latest inventions, tricks in all trades, gadget making and building.

Similar in format and price is POPULAR SCIENCE. This emphasizes practical science, although it contains much for the amateur craftsman too. These magazines have no age level and are popular with both father and child.

We have been asked about two comparatively recent magazines which the library does not have. We are watching these and may consider them another year for library use. HIGH LIGHTS FOR CHILDREN is mainly for children nine, 10 and 11 or thereabout, but has something too for the beginning reader. This is not inexpensive, $5 for 10 issues.

We have seen only a few copies of COLLINS MAGAZINE. It is primarily an English periodical although the plan is to make it international and to invite contributions from other countries. The age span is about 10 to 14. Owing to the paper shortage in England, this magazine is published in Canada at $4.50 to American subscribers.

Michigan Mirror

Michigan sits stunned yet over its tremendous loss in the fire which licked through the state office building in Lansing. Cause of the blaze was easy to dig up—now comes the task of scraping up money to rebuild the structure.

As a result of the loss of office space, plans for the new office building, scheduled to be built behind the capitol building, have been stepped up. Plans now are arranged to exceed not over 4½ million dollars.

A. N. Langius, head of the state building department, says it can't be built for that amount.

From whence is to come the money? That is the question staring state legislators in the face in the next four years. In the meantime, it will cost 2½ millions (and 6-8 months) to get the old water soaked office building back into operation. Top two floors will be looted off, of course, since both are total losses.

Additional monies will be dug up when legislators begin considering the state of the capitol building itself. Long labeled a fire trap, it is expected that measures will be taken to make the old building more fireproof. Currently it is listed as "slow burning." The state office building was "fireproof."

THIS FIRE, costly as it was and will be, however, has served as an object lesson to every state in the union. Most observers expect to see a modernization program soon in every state where buildings still sit as fair game to any good blaze. And county governments are awakening, too.

Most of the county courthouses were constructed near the turn of the century and are veritable firetraps in that they are lacking in sprinkler systems, are overcrowded and are poorly arranged for escape exits.

Sidelight to the fire: The state office building was insured out of the state insurance fund which has assets of only $1,800,000. The states liquor supply is insured by private firms, assets unlimited.

Air force officials predict that one out of three air force reservists will be back in uniform by the end of the current mobilization.

But, for the time being, news from Korea is encouraging. That means domestic news worsens. The psychological letdown is apparent. Once again, people are primarily concerned with getting their own jobs done, jangling in inventories to get a big profit if prices rise, buying now to avoid scarcities later.

MANUFACTURERS' INVENTORIES have been rising fast and are at a record high. The proposal to boost the manufacturers' excise tax on autos from seven to 20 percent along with similar jumps in taxes of other "non-essentials" has helped set off a buying rush. Michigan pays $4.79 of every $100 the federal government spends. And so if Sen. Harry Byrd's economy ideas prevail in congress, state taxpayers will be saved some $435,890,000.

A citizen advisory committee has recommended the consolidation of 16 independent professional and trade licensing boards in one agency. The new department would handle licensing for occupations ranging from accounting to embalmers, chiropractors and plumbers.

Beetles may not be vital as bullets, but in the national budget it is a request for $487,000 to study Japanese beetles. First recorded find in Michigan was in 1932. Total catch: Eight beetles.

Upon request of the department of defense, Michigan State College will go back on a wartime full-year academic schedule. Objective is to make college graduates available for military service or work in defense industries a year earlier.

Newlyweds to Make Home in Battle Creek

A home in Battle Creek will be ready for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kindred Amerson when they complete their short motor trip following their marriage which was solemnized on Saturday.

In the presence of members of the immediate family and a few close friends, Mrs. Frances Rumney Gage exchanged marriage vows with Mr. Amerson of Battle Creek.

The bride chose the Hillcrest Road home of her mother, Mrs. Mason P. Rumney, for the noon rites which were performed by the Rev. Dr. J. Clemens Kolb, rector of Christ Church Grosse Pointe.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Rumney and the late Mr. Rumney. Her husband is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Amerson, who made their home in Chicago, Ill.

Standing before the fireplace in the living room to repeat her vows, the bride was wearing a navy blue crepe street-length dress.

It was designed with a deep V-neckline with navy taffeta lapels, and the elbow-length sleeves were trimmed with wide taffeta cuffs accented with rhinestone buttons. The buttons were also used to mark the front of the bodice, and the gown's bouffant skirt was gathered at the waistline.

She pinned a corsage of white camellias and freesia to her shoulder.

Mr. Amerson asked Maynard Andrae, of Birmingham, to assist him as best man.

Mrs. Rumney, who gave her daughter in marriage, also chose a navy blue street-length frock for the occasion. It was trimmed with white faille collar and cuffs, and her corsage was of gardenias.

Luncheon was served following the rites, and when Mr. and Mrs. Amerson left for their honeymoon, the bride donned a squirrel jacket over her wedding dress. Completing the costume was a navy blue straw hat trimmed with white lilies, navy accessories and her camellia corsage.

COAT SILHOUETTES OF SPRING

Unexpected flash of color—the red taffeta lining! The designer, Ben Zuckerman.

You'll take two views of coats this Spring and be equally fashionable in either silhouette! The two distinct shapes of coats you'll be wearing are: fitted and gently shaped to the figure... or loose, but loose with a definite shaping to the flaring lines. We sketch two coats from top designing houses which express these two different opinions. LEFT: The seven-eighths length coat forming a pyramid in its well-planned, tapered fullness. Black and white worsted woolen fabric is newswy... designed by Monte Sano and Pruzan. RIGHT: Black and white tweed is moulded and shaped to the waistline, then allowed to flare gently for walking freedom.

The outcome of this meet was a different story as compared to a previous meet at Wyandotte. The Devils came out on top by the slim margin of 43-41.

Hesse and Pear opened the fire-fights when they placed first and second respectively in the 100-yard free style, to give the Devils an early lead which they managed to maintain throughout a remaining portion of the meet.

Leach and Schroeder followed a pattern of Hesse and Pear as they swept to first and second in the 100-yard breast stroke. At the point the score was 18-2 in favor of the Banachmen.

DAVIS and Johnson displayed their best performances of the season as they finished one, two, and three in the 200-yard free style. Bassett followed with his best performance thus far this season as he won the 100-yard back stroke in good time of 1:09.6, to give the Devil Fish a margin of 28-7.

There are various reasons why people wear eye glasses. Some wear them because they are near sighted, others because they are far sighted, and others have astigmatism.

Any one of these three is the cause of poor vision and a most logical reason for wearing eye glasses.

"Doctor, why do I have to wear glasses when they say at the shop that I have twenty-twenty vision?"

This is not an uncommon question in this day of precision manufacturing.

The answer to this is that there is too much accommodation (eye energy) used in the process of seeing.

This person will feel tired long before his working day is over.

He is earning ten dollars a day but using sixteen dollars a day worth of eye energy. Not a fair exchange in any language.

Crossed eyes obviously need the help of glasses.

A man may lose an arm or leg and people feel sorry for him, but when they see a person with crossed eyes they laugh or tease him.

Frankly it is tough to have crossed eyes. No one wants them but some of us have them.

My heart goes out to the little boy or girl as well as to the adult with this handicap.

Let's you and I give these people a break by treating them as if they had straight eyes. Teach our children not to make fun of their schoolmates or friends who are afflicted with this condition.

"Thing" in Garage

Endicott, N. Y.—A frightened housewife telephoned police to come and get "this thing" out of her garage. The thing was a small, frightened opossum, which police released in an unpopulated area.

When the new Mrs. Horsley left for the East, she was wearing a navy gauding suit with cuffs and lapels of navy and white checked tweed, and finger-length topcoat of the same navy and white tweed. Her hat was a navy pillbox banded in white, and her going-away corsage was of red carnations.

Real Fish Story

Miami Beach, Fla.—After stalking a sailfish close to shore life guards in a rowboat gave up when the fish outmaneuvered them. Larry Robinson, however, gave chase in his speedboat and, after several twists and turns, reached out with his bare hands and grabbed the 7-foot 2-inch, 55-pound fish into his boat, to the cheers of onlookers.

Under the provisions of the Internal Security Act of 1950, all aliens in the U. When the newly-wedded pair return from New York City, where they are making a week's honeymoon stay, they will reside on Grayton Road until the bridegroom receives his orders to report for active duty in the Navy, to which he recently was recalled.

The couple repeated their vows to the Rev. Fr. Richard Parrish at 11 o'clock in the morning, in the presence of family members, after which a wedding breakfast took place at the Detroit Athletic Club.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Byron Ray Horsley, of McKinley Road, and the late Mr. Horsley.

Joanne's wedding gown of ice blue nylon net over satin was in ballerina-length, the full skirt caught at the right side with a soft bowknot. A similar bow adorned the fitted bodice which had a tulie yoke set in the off-shoulder neckline, and short, draped sleeves.

Her cap, holding the waist-length ice blue veil, had a brain of shirred illusion, and she carried a nosegay of shrimp-colored sweetheart roses and variegated ivy.

Maid of honor Beverly Wall-schlager, who was the bride's only attendant, was in nylon net over taffeta of a pastel shrimp tone. The ballerina-length skirt had a leaf design in fine soutache braid, in contrast to the unadorned fitted bodice.

Beverly's small-brimmed hat was of matching net and her nosegay combined baby iris, coral-hued African daisies and green ivy.
