Balloting Light in Monday's Election

Carpet-Baggers Out In Township, Farms Elects Councilmen

The voting in the five Grosse Pointes was relatively light Monday as some 4,700 persons filed into the black-curtained booths to cast their ballots.

The biggest switch took place in Grosse Pointe Township where four carpet-bagging constables, who "borrowed" local addresses but lived elsewhere, were booted out of office by sticker candidates.

In their place, electors chose four members of the police force of the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores, all bona fide residents.

POINTE PARAGRAPHS

by The Pointer

One of Grosse Pointe's ranking authorities on lore of Lake St. Clair, Norbert Neff, recently recalled an interesting discovery which many long-time residents may have forgotten.

In 1921, Neff was among the group of men who discovered an Indian burial field a short distance from Windmill Pointe Drive.

The relics were found on the site where 200 Fox Indians attempted to escape after a 19-day battle siege in 1712. The exact locale is near a row of trees between Pemberton and Pemberton, a few hundred yards north of Windmill Pointe Drive.

The story was told at a meeting of the Marine Historical Society in the Detroit News Building on March 28. Another interesting fact recalled by Neff was the tale of how Windmill Pointe Drive got its name. Many years ago a French windmill stood on the land now jetting out into Lake St. Clair at the foot of Alter road. The mill was a landmark to many of the Frenchmen over a hundred years ago.

Plans are now being made by tugmen in and around Detroit for the Annual Tugboat race on May 19. Local interest is running high since a Grosse Pointe entry will again make its appearance this year. Thomas Candler is the challenger. Candler is a veteran at the race since his entry last year, but with ill-luck was not among the winners.

Pointers are slowly trickling back from the land of sunshine. Joseph Schulte and his family returned from Florida on Wednesday after a brief respite from Michigan's blustery winds.

The Youth Council at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial is making sure that their next party will have an authentic setting. American Airlines is flying decorations for the dance all the way from Hawaii. Guests will receive a special treat when a group of local maidens give their own version of the hula dance.

John Young Wins Honors

An eighth grade student from St. Clare School is one of the seven winners of scholarships to the University of Detroit High School.

John Young took the exam with 378 other boys.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Young of 1440 Grayton.

Mack Station Catches Fire

A service station at 17000 Mack was nearly destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon.

Park firemen said the fire was caused by a defective oil furnace.

Severely damaged were the walls and roof.

The remaining fragment of the Township, which now includes only Grosse Pointe Shores, has a single head in Township Supervisor Ernest C. Putnam.

And now Village Police Chief Orville C. Ingalsbe, Lt. Fred Duemling and Patrolmen Harold Zeeb and George LaForest are also township constables.

Defeated were former Constables Ben Behrmann and William Hillmer, who "borrowed" the address of the township treasurer in running for re-election; John Travis, who gave his address as the home of the village refuse collector; and Hubert Marx, who used 76 Vernier, which is the address of a truck gardener.

Also elected was a Township Clerk, Thomas K. Jetter, and Treasurer, Adolph Danz.

Two Township Justices of the Peace elected to fill the unexpired term of July 4 were Edmund Brady and Gilbert Jerome. Brady and Jerome were also the victors for Justice of the Peace officers for four year terms beginning July 4.

Jack G. Williams and Robert Hackathorn are the successful candidates for membership on the Board of Review.

City councilmen elected in Grosse Pointe Farms for four year terms were Daniel W. Goodenough, John M. S. Hutchinson and William G. Kirby, while George L. Schlaepfer was elected, also unopposed, to a two-year term with the same body.

In the Woods a total of 800 ballots were cast, out of a possible 5,200. Park voters numbered 1,200; Shores, 175; Farms, 1,589; and City, 972.

Lake Township had a 100 per cent election turnout Monday.

There were six candidates and they were also the six candidates.

All participants are connected with the Edsel Ford Estate, which comprises all of the Macomb County Township.

Mrs. Edsel Ford was elected as the one-member Board of Review.

Other candidates were Arthur Fauser, her chauffeur, treasurer; his wife, Alice, justice of peace; Thomas Loughlin, clerk; his wife, Ethel, justice of the peace, and Theodore A. McGuire, a neighbor, supervisor.

Boys See Freedom Go Up In Smoke

Four young lads who declared a two-day holiday from school saw their freedom from books go up in smoke Tuesday afternoon.

The boys, all students at St. Clair Shores school, were playing in a bunk-house in a plot of woods behind Brys drive when fire broke out.

Woods firemen extinguished the blaze and returned the boys to school.

Timely Issues Under Fire

Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library will meet next Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Main Library located at the Pierce Junior High school.

The program is a panel discussion on current events, headed by Dr. Henry Brown of the Detroit Historical Society and will include speeches by George A. Nicholson, Jr., Edward M. Walker, Charles W. Bishop, Dr. Thomas S. Davies, and Mrs. Melvin L. Van Dagens.

FAMILY REUNION IN HAWAII

Maurice L. Ouellette, commissaryman, second class, USN, greets his wife, Clara, and sons upon arrival in Hawaii aboard a Military-Sea-Transportation-Service vessel. Ouellette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Ouellette of 27 Maryland, is serving aboard the destroyer escort USS Epperson with the Pacific fleet.

Localites Launch CARE Book Drive

A staunch campaign through the mails, begun this week by two localites, will eventually benefit the children in lands many thousands of miles away.

Jean Taylor, a librarian and Grosse Pointe Review columnist, and John G. Conley, head of Detroit University School, have introduced to organizations in Grosse Pointe, through letters, the new UNESCO-CARE Children's Book Fund program.

Designed to promote understanding among the young people of the world, the project to send new books to institutions serving children in Europe and Asia was developed by the American Library Association, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Association for Childhood Education International.

"Although it is impossible for us to contact every individual personally, we hope that residents and businessmen in Grosse Pointe will cooperate," Miss Taylor stated.

The books, which were selected by the International Relations Committee of the American Library Association, are packaged in two bookshelves, made up of five units each.

Bookshelf A is comprised of 34 picture books for young children; Bookshelf B contains 33 books for older boys and girls who are learning English as a second language.

Each bookshelf totals $50, or individual units may be purchased at $10 each.

Donors of $10 or more may select any combination of book package units, and they may designate the country, the specific institution, or the kind of institution they would like their gifts to reach.

Their name and address accompanies each book unit, and they in turn receive a signed receipt from the recipient.

Further person-to-person contacts are encouraged by a printed letter which is included in each children's book package, asking the recipient to write to the donor. A special UNESCO-CARE Children's Book Fund bookplate is placed in each volume.

Contributions under $10 will be posted by CARE to make up a complete package of books. For reasons of health, durability, economy, and economy, no used books can be accepted for the program.

Non-profit CARE is able to buy, ship and deliver new books at the lowest possible cost because it receives special publishers' discounts, and customs-and-

Voters Pick UN as Topic at Parley

"United Nations" is the subject of a panel discussion presented by the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe Park at a general meeting on Friday, April 6 at 1:30 p.m. in Memorial Center.

This meeting, and the tea to follow, is open to the general public.

Police Arrest Theft Gang

Lansing Pittman to Unite Pointe Against Attack

The appointment of Lansing M. Pittman, lifelong resident of Grosse Pointe Park, as Chief Air Raid Warden of the community was announced this week by George Elworthy, Director of Civil Defense of Grosse Pointe.

The choice of one of Grosse Pointe's most civic-minded citizens for the important post marks the first real step toward organizing Defense activities in the Pointe.

During World War II Pittman served as an enlisted man in the USN volunteering for service in Grosse Pointe in 1941 and serving as a Photographer's Mate in Naval Aviation in the Solomon Islands.

He plans to contribute both his personal time and services to Civil Defense from the air raid aspect and shortly will name an advisory group of representative citizens in the area to assist him in his work.

He has at the present time extensive organizational plans which with the cooperation of the citizens of Grosse Pointe, will make this area one of the most alert and well organized sections in the state.

Grosse Pointe although residential in character will undoubtedly through its geographical location loan assistance and shelter to its neighbors in Detroit in the event of an air raid and, therefore, it is imperative that the citizens in this community rally behind Mr. Pittman and loan him whatever assistance he may need. He has long identified himself with community spirit by actively participating in civic enterprises, and on two occasions has run for office in Grosse Pointe Park.

Pointers Learn of Threat

Proof that people are aware of the imminent threat of world peace and are anxious to do something about it was brought home to Grosse Pointers Tuesday evening in a speech at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial by Father Keller.

The main hall of the Center was filled to capacity and in a nearby library, the overflow, unable to see the speaker, listened to his inspiring address.

His Christopher movement, founded in 1945, is to take positive and constructive action in important fields.

"Less than one per cent of humanity have caused most of the world's major troubles," Fr. Keller said.

"This handful," he stated, "regardless of their labels, share a militant hatred of the basic truth upon which this nation is founded."

"In spreading evil, he usually gets into four fields that touch the lives of most of the people of the world over — education, government, trade unions, the writing ends of newspapers, magazines, books, radio, motion pictures and television.

"If another one per cent," Fr. Keller continued, "go as apostolic workers, into these fields and strive as hard to restore the fundamental truth the other one per cent are working furiously to eliminate, we feel certain a trend for the better can be started."

To help in this tremendous task, the Christopher founder explained how Career Guidance Schools are being set up all over the country.

In one of twenty such schools in Detroit, Fr. Keller told about an 81 year old grandmother who attended sessions regularly.

When a curious member of the class questioned the silver-haired matron about her reasons for taking an interest in the course, she politely replied:

"I may not be young enough to begin a career myself, but I have fifteen grandchildren who are."

Fr. Keller will speak again at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on Friday at 8:30 p.m.

Lauer Is New Inspector

Herman Lauer was appointed Building Inspector and Chief Operator of the Pumping Stations in Grosse Pointe Woods by the Council.

No Fool Like An April Fool

An April Fool prankster failed to cause even a minor stir at the Grosse Pointe Park Fire Department in spite of an alarm.

The call was made shortly after midnight on April 1 to 851 Harvard.

What the firemen knew that the power didn't, was that Harvard numbers begin at 1000.

Michigan Mutual Opens Branch in This Area

On April 1 Michigan Mutual Liability Company, the oldest and largest Mutual Casualty organization in the State, established its newest branch office at 16311 Mack Avenue at Three Mile Drive.

According to Company President Walter E. Otto, this new local unit will provide nearby, complete insurance service to the many thousands of Michigan Mutual policyholders in the neighborhood.

Mr. A. D. MacCarthy, who has been associated with the Company in a sales capacity for many years, has been advanced to branch manager and will head the new office. Complete facilities for Claims reporting, premium payments, touring information and counsel on casualty insurance, as well as fire insurance and allied lines, will be available in the office.

Michigan Mutual began business here in Detroit in 1912, and is now licensed nationwide. The new office on Mack near Three-Mile Drive, is the fifty-sixth in its chain of branch offices located throughout the Company's area of operations.

At the 39th Annual Policyholders' meeting held on March 29, President Otto revealed some facts on the Company's growth. In 1950 it had its greatest sales volume when premium income totaled $24,177,848.

The Company's assets were $35,024,636, and policyholders' surplus was reported at $7,238,859. It has paid a total of almost $28,000,000 in dividends to policyholders. Michigan Mutual Liability Company writes automobile, workmen's compensation and general casualty insurance.

CHEAP MONEY

The major problem now faced by the top defense planners is inflation. That, it is reported, is the view of Defense Secretary George Marshall.

According to the current report, he addressed a grave-faced meeting of the Defense Mobilization Board with these words: "Inflation is getting out of hand. That is especially true as far as the military is concerned. Since Korea, the prices of essential supplies which the services have to buy have continued to rise without a halt. We have lost more planes, tanks and guns by high prices than have been destroyed by the enemy. Unless drastic action is taken promptly to curb inflation, this nation will soon be so weakened that it could not win in an all-out war with Russia."

General Marshall, the report continues, was followed by Eric Johnston, the Economic Stabilizer, who endorsed these views and added, "I just cannot stabilize prices and wages with every group demanding concessions. It's impossible."

High prices have really come with a vengeance to the defense chiefs — as they have to the public at large. As an example, the Army, Navy and Air Forces have asked for budget appropriations which would total substantially more than $100,000,000,000.

Under present conditions, of course, there is no chance of such figures being approved. The services will have to get along as best they can with a great deal less. But it is an indication of the way things are going.

The military dollar, like every other dollar, is a sad and shrunken thing by comparison with past times. And, to make matters worse, the machines of war are far more complicated than were those of World War II. The planes and tanks and other weapons of the present make those of the last conflict look almost cheap.

Mr. Johnston has said, with undoubted accuracy, that every major group in the country — business, labor, and the farmer — is exerting pressure on his office for preferred treatment. It seems to be human nature to ask that the other fellow be made to carry the major burdens of inflation and related problems. But, going beyond this, the great bulk of economists, including some of the "liberal" schools, are convinced that the government is the major offender.

The "cheap money" policy which the Treasury clings to so adamantly, coupled with the constant expansion of available credit as a result of the sale of ever-increasing amounts of government securities to the Federal Reserve Banks, are believed to be the primary causes of the present inflationary spiral.

What has happened is that the amount of money which may be used to buy goods has heavily increased while the volume of goods for sale has not. Under those conditions, prices always rise. So long as this situation obtains, the economists also think, the price and other controls can do no more than moderately alleviate matters, and brake the progress of inflation to only a very limited degree.

As part of the inflation issue, the demand for the strictest kind of economy in government has reached a climax, in and out of Congress. Senator Byrd's documented contention that the proposed budget can be cut by some $9,000,000,000 is being taken seriously now. That budget will be subjected to an extremely thorough going over before it is brought up for a vote.

MAKING FRIENDS THROUGH CARE

A little more than a year ago, CARE presented its food and textile packages in a new service: A CARE-UNESCO Fund Program to provide scientific and technical books for war-torn and underdeveloped countries in Europe and Asia.

Now CARE and UNESCO have added a "junior edition" of this plan — a Children's Book Fund, to provide the best new American youth literature for the young people overseas. In Grosse Pointe, a campaign was launched this week to raise funds for the program.

The new service is an important foundation for CARE's aim of building a bridge of friendship between the people of America and the people of other lands.

Friendship depends upon understanding. But understanding must begin in the minds of the boys and girls who will tomorrow's men and women. This can best be done through books that tell the story of life in the United States and other countries, through books that show young people how other children live and study and play.

In that telling, each book will become the reader's friend. And people who share a common friend tend to become friends with each other. If Hans in Austria, Abdul in Pakistan and Mary in America have all enjoyed the same book, they have shared a common experience that gives them a base of contact.

Thus the American books we send to the youth across the seas become our ambassadors of friendship. A contribution in any amount to the Children's Book Fund, CARE, 20 Broad Street, New York 5, N. Y., is a contribution to the world-wide understanding on which peace depends.

The Edward J. Schulte Hardware store will carry the complete line of Scotts Lawn Care products, including quality lawn seed, fertilizer, weed exterminators and precision-built lawn spreaders in four sizes. All of the company's products are "dry-applied," permitting application with a two-wheeled spreader or by hand, thus eliminating the use of sprays and other laborious methods. A feature of the company line is SCUTL, a powder which controls weeds without harm to desirable lawn grasses. Introduced in 1950, SCUTL completely revolutionized previous methods of combating this worst of lawn pests.

This year Scott is introducing another "dry herbicide, 4-XD, which destroys painless, dandelions and other broadleaved weeds without harm to desirable lawn grasses.

School Pennants to Fly at Youth Council Dance

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center is giving another of its popular dances Saturday, April 6, from 9 to 12 p.m.

Entitled the "Pennant Parade" the dance will feature, as decorations, pennants from all the Grosse Pointe Schools.

Ray Buck's Orchestra will provide the music. Featured in the orchestra is a drummer who solos both on drums and vocally.

The admission price is the usual $1.50 per couple and the college-age group is invited as well as the high school group. Refreshments will be provided.

The dance is being presented by the youth council of the War Memorial Center. Among those working on the dance are Corby Lecklider, Tom Lamb, Skip Obold, Bill Rexford, Phil Beach, Dick Anslow, Frank Hagen and Neil Smith.

Others on the committee are Colleen Harrigan, Jeanne Rydholm, Bill Miller, Lee Eskridge, Pat Erogan, Ann Glasgow, Connie Molter, Bob Barrett, Carol Wetlaufer, Lynn Hennecke, Beverly Riley and Alice James.

Pointers Attend DAR Luncheon

Local members of the Service Committee of Fort Pontchartrain Chapter, DAR, will attend a luncheon and bridge in the home of Mrs. Ralph E. Thomas on Edinborough next Friday.

In the group will be Mrs. H. Sanborn Brown, Jr., Mrs. William M. Perrett, Mrs. Albert W. Conroy, Mrs. C. Edward Putnam, Mrs. George A. Triplett and Mrs. Henry McCabe.

Co-hostesses for the party will be Mrs. Harry Ray Matheny, Mrs. O. Dale Reynolds, Mrs. Carl D. MacPherson, Mrs. Wilfred E. Foltz, Mrs. Ray Sackett and Mrs. William A. Arbaugh.

It's Spring! And housecleaning time. But take your draperies, lace tablecloths, lamp shades, spreads, and drycleaning to RUSSELL'S CURTAIN LAUNDRY and CLEANERS, 14641 Mack, and take it easy. Call TU. 1-0121 now.

Housework is a wife's duty, despair, and something to make her feel worthy of a tired, home-from-work husband's kiss.

Wait! Getting down on your knees is only for church or bridegrooms. Call VA. 2-1481 and let EAST SIDE CARPET CLEANING & LAYING COMPANY, 14115 Kercheval, do it for you. They not only do rugs but clean your furniture, too, right in their own plant in one-week service.

Don't try for the bargain one lady got when she sent her rug to an unestablished cleaner who sent it back with an added difference—it crept.

Or if you want to take it really easy, dial TU. 5-7777, sit down and watch GROSSE POINTE WINDOW CLEANING COMPANY do your housecleaning, wall washing, screens, storm windows, awnings. At 949 Rivard, they've been serving Grosse Pointe for 30 years.

4 red treys, 4 jokers, plus a natural Canasta is what you open with only when playing with your grandchild.

Should you be the kind of house cleaner who picks up slivers with the carpets and always gets delayed with children's diseases, stock up on First Aid and prescriptions at HARKNESS DRUGS, 20313 Mack. When ill, it's TU. 5-6591 for your prescriptions.

Medicine's what you take to get rid of a feeling as bad as the medicine tastes.

House cleaners perched on ladders and youngsters climbing up things take a surprising toll in Spring. Protect yourself by calling WILLIAM J. NETZLOFF, 12933 Kercheval, VA. 2-7410, for life, accident, auto, sickness, fire and plate glass insurance.

Insurance is what a man thinks he has when putting a ring on a girl's finger.

Fix-Up, Paint-Up, Clean-Up Week is also just 'round the corner, and GROSSE POINTE GARDEN SUPPLY & SERVICE, 17330 East Warren, will have all your outdoor needs in equipment and supplies. TU. 1-2029.

We admire the man who calls a spade a spade despite a back-breaking hour's use of it.

And it's model plane time, too, boys. Do you know BOULLARD HOBBIES, 13936 East Warren, has all those hard-to-get parts for gas and stick planes? Toys and handcraft supplies, too.

It's a man's hobby, a career woman's avocation, and to boys—just plain fun.

If you don't like the fun of doing your own trimming, let FINDLAY NURSERY, 19720 Mack, TU. 2-0989, do your landscape servicing, and supply you with fertilizer and grass seed, too.

We like to hear children laugh and play—in other folk's yards.

When milady's too tired to cook a hot meal after a day of hard cleaning, hubby will be smart to treat her to yum-mv Southern fried chicken at GROSSE POINTE WOODS BAR-B-Q, 20515 Mack. They serve till midnight.

With all this dieting going on, eating has become a fine art, indeed, of nibbling.

Going to be in on the wedding season? Jot down TOWN HALL SALON, 9026 Cadieux, on your date-to-be-gowned whether you're the bride or bridesmaid. TU. 5-4312.

Love is what a man pursues by running backwards into a woman's arms.

Running out of refreshments? You better look! You can get free delivery on beer, wines, champagnes, soft drinks, ice cream and snacks from ALGER BEER STORE, 17320 Mack, by calling TU. 5-2029 before 7:30 evenings.

Life can be as short as a shorter when both are taken at too fast a clip.

Whoa, Madame, before you toss a throw rug over that worn spot on your carpet. Did you know it is Carpet Fashion Show Week? Yes, this week is strictly Carpets and more Carpets of all the newest models and designs—now on display at THE OWENS COMPANY, 20525 Mack. Mrs. Owens says they have never before been able to show such beautiful carpets, nor at such Friday values. Don't miss it if you are in the market for a carpet. OWENS has got just what you want. Visit them now!

A good carpet is like a well-shod foot, well-groomed, and comfortably cushioned.

Like a kitten with catnip, Pointe malted-milk fanciers know what's the big lure at the ESQUIRE SHOP, 15317 East Jefferson. Their over-counter treats hit the spot perfectly.

In Spring a young man's fancy is to a girl what angleworms are to a good fisherman.

How about a romantic Spring-time in Europe or Mexico? For complete travel service here and abroad, call EDWARD VAN HULL & SONS TRAVEL SERVICE, 15040 Mack, TU. 5-6616.

Mrs. Detwiler Is DAR Hostess

Mrs. John O. Detwiler will be hostess to the members and guests of the Junior Membership Committee of the Louisa St. Clair Chapter, DAR, at a meeting in her home, 652 Pemberton Road, on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Walker Graham or Mrs. Norman Parker.
