National AAU Meet Will Be Great

This year's National AAU Swimming and Diving Championships will be a greater than the Olympic Games, according to Deug Roby, AAU vice president.

"We'll have every defending champion—both men and women—at the Detroit meet. There will be about 300 in all, representing the United States, Canada, Hawaii, Mexico and Australia," says Roby.

The 1951 championships break precedent by having both men and women's events on the same card. This was arranged to make it the biggest swimming and diving show possible for Detroit's 250th Birthday Festival sports schedule.

And something new has been added—the AAU picked the Detroit meet to initiate a 100-meter men's breaststroke event.

But the hottest races of the meet should be the duels between Yale's John Marshall and Hawaii's Fred Konno, in the 400, 800 and 1600 meters. The Honolulu boy gave Marshall plenty of competition last year at Seattle, when he was only 17 years old. With another year's experience behind him now, Konno can give the transplanted Australian a real battle.

The meet runs from July 25 through 28 at River Rouge Park's Brennan Pools, site of the 1948 Olympic trials.

Emergency Fire Fighting Plan in Farms

A new plan for furnishing emergency fire protection at the Grosse Pointe Farms rubbish dump has been completed.

The plan calls for a response of fire by three firemen and a portable pump in operation along with necessary hose and nozzles. The Public Works Department will be called and will proceed to the fire as soon as the men are assembled. They will take over the fire fighting responsibilities from the firemen who will return to the station.

Farms officials believe the plan will increase the service to the extent of eliminating many long hours of fire fighting.

Record Crowds Expected at State Fair

The Michigan State Fair is distributing 100,000 copies of the fair premium book which this year announces $120,000 in prizes, an increase of 10 percent over 1950. Housewives, farmers and other contestants throughout Michigan will be eligible for these prizes.

James D. Friel, general manager, said that all 1950 exhibitors have been added to the mailing list and that anyone not on the mailing list during the past few years may write to the Michigan State Fair, Detroit 3.

The Michigan State Fair will be held for ten days beginning Friday, August 31. This year the Michigan State Fair is 102 years old, the Nation's oldest State Fair. Because it will be held during the celebration of Detroit's 250th birthday festival, Friel predicts an attendance of more than one million.

Friel said he expected to announce the entertainment features of this year's Fair in the near future.

Pointers at Camp Cavell

Legislative Committee On Investigation of Michigan Casualties

Following closely the recent tragedy on the Detroit River when two fishermen lost their lives, local boating circles are interested in the announcement by Representative Herb Clements that the Joint Interim Study Committee of the Michigan State Legislature would immediately undertake an investigation of marine casualties within the State of Michigan.

The Legislative Committee will be joined by Rear Admiral R. L. Raney, Commandant, Ninth Coast Guard District, his Chief of Staff, Captain H. C. Moore, and the Speaker of the Michigan House of Representatives, the Hon. Victor A. Knox of Sault Ste. Marie.

Assisting the Committee as counsel will be Mr. Bert Robb, Director, Michigan State Waterways Commission.

Executive heads, or officers of navigation, boating and conservation associations, harbor masters, law enforcement officers, and civic organizations are invited to attend the public hearings of the Committee and to give the members the benefit of the views of the organizations referred to.

Chairman Clements said today: "This investigation has for its purpose the development of adequate planning, legislation and the promotion of marine safety on Michigan's rivers, harbors and lakes. During the last year over 286 deaths due to drowning occurred in the State of Michigan. We find increasing cases of reckless and drunken operation of motorboats. Our daily press has brought to our notice too many cases of 'hot-rod' boat operators. These casualties must be stopped. Our waterways are for commerce and recreation and must be used with safety for all."

After meetings at Holland, Muskegon, and Pentwater the committee will meet today on Mackinac Island, on Friday at Cheboygan and Indian River, on Saturday at Port Huron and arrive at the Detroit Yacht Club late Sunday afternoon.

Of further interest to Michigan boatmen is the notice from the Michigan State Waterways Commission that Wednesday, July 25, was the deadline for acquiring their boat license plates.

Tags must be displayed by all boats used on any navigable Michigan waterway, except vessels having an overall length of less than 16 ft., or those propelled solely by muscular power or detachable outboard motor. Those still without licenses can obtain applications at any branch of the Michigan Department of Revenue, or by writing to that department, 200 Tussing Building, Lansing, Michigan.

Law enforcement officers will commence ticketing unlicensed boats after the 25th. A strict program of enforcement is planned. Violators are warned that failure to properly license a boat—up to $100 fine or 30 days imprisonment, or both.

Half of this license fee is returned to boat owners and users since this amount is credited to the "Harbors of Refuge and Rivers Improvement Fund."

Boatmen are also reminded that marine fuel dealers may charge a tax of only 3 cents per gallon on fuel sold for use on the navigable waters of Michigan. The recent 1 1/2 cent gas tax increase does not apply to such marine fuel. Refunds on overpayment of tax can be obtained from dealers. When purchased from licensed marine dealers, every penny of the 3c goes toward the improvement of harbors and other boating facilities.

Scout Winners Will Compete In Carnival

Winners of the nine district swimming meets, which have been held during recent weeks in various pools throughout the Council area, will compete in the Council-Sponsored Aquatic Carnival at Brennan Pool in Rouge Park, 7 to 9 p.m., Wednesday, August 1. Several troops from this area have semi-finalists who will compete in the next Wednesday affair.

Ten events are included on the Carnival program—seven are based on skill and the remaining three are for fun only. Thus, Scouts and Explorers of all ranks, and swimming ability were eligible. Skill events include free stroke, back stroke and breast stroke relays, also a trouser emergency float—demonstrating how a person's clothing can be used to stay above water. The fun events include ducking for objects in shallow water, apple and spoon races, and a clothing quick change relay.

The Carnival program will be supervised by members of Scouting's Red Cross trained Lifesaving Corps No. 5. All seats and other physical equipment at the pool, now being used for the current National AAU championship swimming and diving meet, will be kept on hand for the Scout Carnival. So there's plenty of room for everybody, no admission charge and all are welcome.

Medals will be presented to all first, second and third place winners in all ten Carnival events.

Name Judges For Chrysler Photo Contest

Judges who will select the winning entries in the Chrysler Corporation photographic contest involving five floats in the Detroit Birthday Festival Parade on July 28th include Don Wilson of Life magazine, Preston Sweet, longtime Detroit photographer; Paul Aird, Sunday editor of the Detroit News; William J. Coughlin, Sunday editor of the Detroit Free Press, and Charles Ohno, picture editor of the Detroit Times.

The photo contest sponsored by Chrysler Corporation is open to amateur and professional cameramen alike with the exception of the judges and their families. Three cash prizes will be awarded for the best black and white photos, and three for the best color prints or color transparencies. First prizes in each division will be $125; second prizes, $75, and third prizes $50. There are no restrictions on the size or number of entries.

Eligible photographs must be taken along the line of march of the parade on Woodward Avenue in Detroit on Saturday, July 28. The eligible floats in their parade order include No. 70, "Pride in Many Things Help Make Detroit Great"; No. 71, "All Nationalities Work Together to Make Detroit Great"; No. 72, "The Wheels of Detroit Make the World Go Around"; No. 74, "Dynamic Detroit, Defender of Freedom"; and No. 75, "City of Detroit Civic Center."

Entries in the contest are to be mailed to the Public Relations Department, Chrysler Corporation, 341 Massachusetts Avenue, Detroit 31, and must be post-marked not later than midnight, August 15, 1951. Those participants wishing to have pictures or transparencies returned should enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope along with their entries.

Lay Cornerstone for New Science Library

Cornerstone laying ceremonies for the Kresge Science Library at Wayne University will take place at 4:00 p.m. today, July 26, as one of the events of the city's main birthday celebration week, beginning July 22.

The $1,000,000 building, being erected on the east side of Second avenue between Merrick and Kirby, will be the next structure to be completed in Detroit's rapidly expanding Cultural Center. It should be ready for use by September of next year. University officials state.

Contents of a lead box to be sealed and enclosed within the cornerstone during the ceremony include copies of the pictorial history of the city, "This Is Detroit," the 250th Birthday News, and a Wayne catalog. Other items will be a picture of the Cultural Center and newspaper accounts of the Kresge Foundation grant making the library possible.

Presiding over the ceremonies which are open to the public will be Dr. David D. Henry, president of Wayne. Participants in the program include Mayor Albert E. Cobo; A. Douglas Jamieson, president of the Board of Education; Paul Voorhies, president of the Kresge Foundation; Selden B. Daume, chairman of the Festival Committee; and Arthur Neef, provost of the University. Music for the occasion will be provided by the Wayne University Summer Band under the direction of Assistant Professor Mark DeLeonard.

The three story building, the first Wayne structure to be financed by private philanthropy, will house the University's Kresge-Hooker scientific collection which now includes 50,000 volumes and 800 current periodicals.

The 21,000 volumes forming the nucleus of the present collection were originally assembled by Dr. Samuel Cox Hooker. They were brought to Wayne in 1943 from Central College in Missouri and are now housed in the "Old Main" building.

Study space will be provided for industrial research workers, visiting scholars, and advanced students as well as Wayne undergraduates and faculty members. There will also be a microfilm laboratory for recording special materials, seminar rooms and a lecture room.

The building will be structurally integrated with the University's general library building for which foundation work is now near completion.

USO to Open Third Service In Michigan

Beauties and hunting will share the spotlight with top armed services and civilian brass when the USO holds its formal opening at Mt. Clemens Friday evening, July 27. The facilities there will serve the enlisted personnel of nearby Selfridge Field.

This brings to three the number of USO facilities in Michigan. The facilities in Detroit and Battle Creek are operated by community committees. USO is one of the important health and service organizations for which money is raised through United Fund campaigns in Michigan.

Money to support the work of the USO is raised through the Torch Drive.

Detroit, celebrating its 250th birthday, will share with the Mt. Clemens USO one of its attractions which will make the biggest hit with the servicemen, Empress Pauline and her court of beautiful girls will be present to take part in the dedication.

Governor G. Mennen Williams and Mayor Albert Cobo of Detroit are expected to head the list of visiting dignitaries.

Arrangements for the dedication are being made by a committee headed by Charles V. Titus, Michigan Bell Telephone executive. Dr. Phillip T. Mulligan, Mayor of Mt. Clemens, and Major M. M. Garman, Personal Services officer at Selfridge Field.

The Mt. Clemens USO brings the number of USO service units to a total of 181, including 15 overseas, which provide a "home away from home" for men and dependents. There still remain 10 communities in this country in which the Defense Department has requested USO to establish service within the next year.

Festive Day For Campers

This season the camp used college life for its theme. Campers enrolled in one of four universities at the day camp. The five week period has been highlighted with college songs and cheers—each university wrote their own—softball games, a trip to the park and the zoo, and a senior prom. Each week the campers progressed from freshmen to sophomores to juniors to seniors and finally to graduates.

Friday, July 27, at 11 o'clock the students will don mortarboards and step up to receive their diplomas. Honorary Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts degrees will be awarded to the graduating campers. Outstanding campers in the fields of music, athletics and handicraft will receive honorary Masters degrees.

A visit was climaxed Wednesday, July 25, for Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reinhardt of 6280 Ambury, Pleasant Plains, New York. Their car failed to stop for a stop street on Vernor Highway and was hit by Sylvia Margenau, 646 University Place. The Reinhardts were taken to Bon Secours Hospital where Mr. Reinhardt was treated for a fractured rib and minor bruises.

Fire Truck Damage Is Costly

The damage to the Grosse Pointe Park fire truck, which crashed into a tree last week, was found to be more serious than was estimated. The truck, a new pumper type engine, has a cab constructed with welding and reinforcement, unlike passenger cars. The cost of repairs is estimated at $2,000, and with no delays in shipment of parts, the truck is expected to be usable again in a few weeks.

Donate Toward Rodeo Costs

Grosse Pointe Farms City Council at a meeting last Monday night voted to make a contribution of $50 toward expenses of the Grosse Pointe Farms Better Fishing program.

The Farms, Park and City are cooperating with Better Fishing, Inc. in sponsoring the fishing rodeo for Grosse Pointe boys and girls on August 25. Preliminaries will be held August 4.

Curb Repair Rate Approved

After comparing prices with the cities of Grosse Pointe Park and Birmingham on curb and sidewalk repair costs, the City of Grosse Pointe Farms has decided to approve the increase asked by the contractor who has done this work for the Farms for the past two years.

The increases asked amount to an additional twenty-five cents per linear foot on straight curb, thirty cents on curved curb and five cents per square foot on sidewalks. This price is thirty to fifty cents below that reported by other municipalities.

Kiwanis Program

The program for the Riverside Kiwanis Club on Thursday, August 2, at the Whittier Hotel will be entitled "Kiwanis Education" in charge of immediate Past President Charles Shull.

Metropolitan Club Plans 11th Annual Field Day

On August 18, at the Grosse Pointe High School Athletic Field, the Metropolitan Club will hold its 11th Annual Field Day for all Grosse Pointers. Events will begin at 11 o'clock and continue until four in the afternoon.

Included in the tentative attractions will be twenty competitive races with first and second prizes for each race. Three clowns will provide entertainment, the Detroit Edison calliope will furnish music, and the committee has arranged for ice cream and cakes for 6,000 youngsters.

Ten lucky Grosse Pointe boys and girls will ride home on new bicycles, and five young fishermen will be the recipients of casting rods. Orchard Industries is cooperating with the Metropolitan Club in furnishing these prizes for the drawings.

The only entry requirement to the Field Day is a park or swimming pass to one of the Pointe parks.

To help defray the costs of the Field Day, plus other year-round activities sponsored by the Metropolitan Club, members are holding a benefit drawing. A vinylidene motorboat, 5 hp. motor and trailer, GE refrigerator and GE washer will be given away.

Farms Garage Improvements

Grosse Pointe Farms Council approved the expenditure necessary for the sand backfill of a sewer trench under the paved court at the Public Works Garage, and the removal of excavation for the same at their meeting last Monday night.

This work had not been included in the original contract.

Passenger Hits Coach Driver

Passengers aren't always right according to Mr. John Amez, 19536 Rowedale, a driver for the Lake Shore Coach Lines.

Last Wednesday, after Amez had completed his run to Roslyn and Mark and was starting the bus on its return route, he hit the elbow of a passenger who had left the bus and was walking close to the side of the coach.

The ex-passenger voiced his feelings in rather strong language. The driver asked him to get in the bus and talk. He boarded the bus and struck Amez several times. As the driver headed the coach for the police station the irritated customer jumped off, and disappeared.

New Employees in G P Farms

Stanley Ainsley is a new addition to the Grosse Pointe Farms Police Department, and new Farms firemen are Robert Shaupe and Joseph Reuler, it was announced by the Farms Council last Monday.

SUPPOSE THIS HAPPENED

It is commonly believed that the whole responsibility for getting rid of unnecessary government expenditures falls upon Congress and the Administration. But a third power must bear its full share of the responsibility too — and that power is the American people who, incidentally, pay all the bills.

Suppose, for instance, that chambers of commerce, civic groups, business associations, labor unions and other such institutions in every part of the country came out for real economy — and said, frankly and flatly, that they wanted their states and their communities to willingly accept their part of the cuts that would follow. And suppose, finally, that when the cuts were made, these organizations would praise Congress for making them instead of crying to high heaven for more Federal tax money to be spent locally. The result would be to enormously encourage those men in government who honestly want to pinch the people's pennies and, at the same time, it would bring many new converts into the fold.

For good or evil, the men who run the government keep their ears to the ground. They listen to "the folks back home." Once they become convinced that their constituents want the government to banish the luxuries and the waste, they'll do just that. They'll never do it so long as they believe that everyone wants economy to be confined to the other fellow's pasture.

Michigan Resorts Are Safe for Tourists

Your health is protected when you vacation at an "approved" resort in Michigan. Scores of state and local health department sanitarians, trained to look where vacationists cannot see, keep current check on the sanitation of Michigan's 3,500 vacation spots to protect the health of the state's holiday-bound millions.

Special attention is given to overnight accommodations for tourists. The person who spends his entire vacation at one summer resort usually knows about the sanitation at the resort, but the tourist who takes a cabin for one night here, another, there, is not able to check sanitary conditions. Inspections are made by local sanitarians in areas where there are local health departments. To serve areas which provide no local health protective services, the Michigan Department of Health has employed four specially trained men for the summer. This assures inspection of each resort in the state. The Michigan Department of Health also maintains one specialist in summer resort sanitation on a year-around basis to help resort owners with improvements.

Resort sanitation in Michigan is good, according to John Hepler, Director of the Division of Engineering of the Michigan Department of Health. Many of the resorts in the state voluntarily meet all the high standards set by the Department for a "Sanitation Approved" sign. The majority of the others fail to meet only a few minor requirements and are working toward the approved status.

A "Sanitation Approved" sign at a resort assures the vacationist of a safe water supply, satisfactory sewage disposal, regular garbage disposal, good building construction, proper ventilation, adequate lighting, proper heating equipment and cleanliness. If food is served the approved sign means that the storage, preparation and handling of food are done in a sanitary manner and that pasteurized milk and milk products are used. If there is a natural bathing beach at the resort, the approved sign indicates that the beach is free of dangerous pollution or undue safety hazard and is generally safe. The water will be checked, if necessary, for pollution at intervals during the summer.

When any bathing beach in Michigan is found to be unsafe, it is posted with a sign, "Unsafe for Swimming."

Drinking water supplies along highways are checked to determine whether they are safe. The safe roadside supply bears a yellow and black sign, "This Water is Safe for Drinking."

The resort sanitation program of Michigan's state and local health departments is conducted to assure that the tourist has the same health protection while vacationing that he has at home.

All Ages Are Susceptible, Says TB and Health Society

Tuberculosis is "no respecter of age," the TB and Health Society points out. It strikes at all ages and is an enemy of the older age groups as well as young adults.

In a recent survey, the Society unearthed some very interesting and revealing facts which should be convincing evidence that there is no such thing as being past the TB "danger zone."

According to these findings, it is wrong to think that after 40 to 45 years of age you have "outgrown" the danger of getting TB. Sixty-seven percent of the people found to have TB in a local survey were over 45 years of age, and the oldest of these was a man 82 years old.

That TB has increasingly become a problem of the older age group is also verified by the national average which shows that in 1930 the average age of death from TB was 35 years. In 1948, it had risen to 48 years.

There are a few older people who, without knowing they are ill, have learned to "live with their TB" by keeping it pretty well under control. Suffering from a mild, chronic and unknown case of the disease, these people can be innocently spreading their TB to family or friends, the Society emphasized.

And you can never be sure you are completely safe yourself. That is, unless you have a chest X-ray taken periodically.

There is no "safe age" as far as TB is concerned, the Society added. Having a chest X-ray at regular intervals is the one way of making certain that TB does not get the upper hand and prevent us from living to a "ripe" old age.

Children may tear up a house but they seldom break up a home.

A Grosse Pointe TV Star

This here rootin' tootin' cow-gal is Ruth Jane Reid of 228 Stanhope road, who as Cactus Jane is seen every Thursday over WWJ-TV with the popular Cactus Jim show. As if that weren't enough, she is also the Jane Palmer who makes beautiful music with the Jim DeLand Show, each Tuesday evening on WWJ-TV. Both shows are sponsored by the makers of New Era Potato Chips.

Detroit Area Homes Bigger, More Costly

Single-family houses started in the Detroit Metropolitan area during the first three months of this year are larger and cost substantially more to build than those begun in the middle six months of 1950, or the last half of 1949, according to Adolph O. Berger, Regional Director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Berger based his statement on a survey of selected major characteristics of housing started here in the 1949-51 period.

Other facts brought out by the study show that about 27 per cent of the homes started here in the first three months of this year had 1,000 or more square feet of floor area, compared with 26 per cent in 1950 and 15 per cent in 1949. On the other hand, the proportion of houses with less than 800 square feet dropped from 57 per cent in 1949 to 41 per cent in 1950 and to 36 per cent in the first quarter of this year. The trend has been toward more larger homes and fewer smaller ones.

The average floor area increased during this period from 850 to 950 square feet.

It also costs considerably more to build a house this year. A home costing $8,100 (excluding the cost of the site and site improvement) in the last six months of 1949 now costs $10,500. The cost per square foot of floor space has increased from $9.70 to $11.10 during the same interval.

There has also been a decided trend toward basementless houses. The percentage of new homes with basements decreased from 81 per cent in 1949 to 77 per cent in the early part of this year.

That a greater percentage of new homes is now being equipped with wood windows rather than metal windows was indicated by the study, which showed that in 1949 74 per cent of the houses started had wood windows while of those erected in the first quarter of this year 86 per cent were equipped with wood windows.

Choosing the right vase for the right bouquet doesn't have to be difficult, say Michigan State College home economists. Just keep in mind the part the container plays — it should never detract from the flowers.

Exhibition at Art Exchange

The Grosse Pointe Art Exchange is featuring an informal exhibition of pen and ink drawings and gouche paintings by Elizabeth W. Wilkins.

Miss Wilkins has had a two man show at the Richmond Academy of Fine Arts and has exhibited at the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia, the Michigan Artists' Exhibition and the Detroit Artists' Market.

Her work which features old northern homes has a quaintness and mellowness of color which is peculiarly adapted to her subject. She is a graduate of the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art, studied under Mr. Daniel Garber of the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia and Mr. John P. Wicker of Detroit.

Simians Present Satire In Open Air Theatre

Last minute polishing proceeds apace for the cast of this summer's Grosse Pointe Simian play, "The Male Animal." The play is to be produced Friday and Saturday nights, July 27 and 28 "Under the Stars" behind the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 8:45. House chairman for the five-year-old summer theater group, Mary Ann Harrigan has assured everyone that the terrace facing the lake where performances have been held in the past will be well sprayed with DDT to guard against competition with little winged friends.

The set went up at the War Memorial Sunday, and the cast, under director Hillary Whitaker, have been rehearsing on set all week.

A party at the home of Peggy Harrigan, ticket chairman, was a well-earned reward for weary members who distributed 5,000 handbills from door to door all over Grosse Pointe, Saturday. On hand were Don Kuhn and Dale Stevenson, on leave from the Air Force and Army respectively. Among the most relieved of the faces to be seen was that of Mary Carey, director of the distribution operations.

The group is very pleased with its choice of the play. Although "The Male Animal" was first produced 12 years ago on Broadway the joint effort of the imitable James Thurber and Eliot Nugent seems to be even more timely in these days of Kinsey and Korea. It is a light, fast moving satire on the American college scene. Subtle social insight combines with adroit manipulation to give the witty dialogue more than surface depth.

The core of the action centers upon the clash between a retiring, very idealistic English professor, and a hyper-extroverted businessman alumni, one of the sources of the lifeblood of the university who is primarily interested in a new football stadium for the alma mater. Thurberesque sketches of the college president and his life, the current football hero, and the campus intellectual furnishes the end ingredients of a sparkling cup of entertainment.

Plans are underfoot for the traditional post production party at which time the Simians hope to celebrate another successful summer on the Grosse Pointe straw hat stage.

Here it is, with the baseball season just getting underway, and people already speculating about the football games this fall.

Governor's Cup Trot

The fifth renewal of the $10,000 Governor's Cup Trot is scheduled for Friday, July 27, at Northville Downs and promises to exceed any of the past four due to the high caliber of the nominees.

Grattan Velo, owned by L. C. Charlesworth of Sarnia, Ontario, won't be back to defend the trophy it won in 1949 and 1950, but Demon Hanover, one of the greatest money winning trotters of all time and winner of the Hamiltonian in 1948, will be one of the favorites.

Grattan Velo finished out of the money in the first heat of the 1950 running as Deanna, owned by Gib White and Charlotte Sheppard of Hanover, Pennsylvania, trotted in first in the excellent time of 2:05 3/5.

But the brilliant Canadian standardbred won the second heat and then beat Deanna in the runoff to capture the honors.

The record for the event is held by Proximity in 1948 when it won the cup and was clocked in 2:02 4/5 in one of the heats. Proximity, originally entered in the Governor's Cup Trot, recently has been retired because of a leg injury. The brown 9-year-old mare, harness horse of the year in 1950, earned $252,929 becoming the greatest money winning trotter of all time. Deanna will be back for another try at the trophy again this year but the greater share of attention will be focussed on Demon Hanover, the 5-year-old horse owned and driven by Harrison Heyt, the Eastern hat manufacturer. Its time for the Hamiltonian was 2:02.

Painting the Town Red?

Mr. H. Micou of 30 Kerby Rd., reported to the Grosse Pointe Farms Police that some one had entered the garage of his new home under construction at 39 Westwind Lane and taken 10 gallons of paint and twelve paint brushes. He estimated the loss at $200.

Household space heaters which burn coal smokelessly have been developed by research engineers.

Beachcombers' Party at GP Yacht Club

Last Saturday night's rainstorm put a damper on the South Sea Beachcombers' Party at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, but with a few changes from the original plans, the extravaganza went along as planned. The champion medley Hawaiian swimmers act had to be canceled due to the rain, but the present Olympic diving champion, Skipper Brown, (who introduced so many new dives that Olympic rules had to be revamped) performed as scheduled. The title-holding Canadian and American water ballet teams and individual tilers, Beulah Gundling, as well as Frank L. Dempsey, diving clown, provided entertainment for viewers from the long balcony. The Beachcombers opened with luau in the tropically decorated Fo'castle. Tables were set in the main dining room, instead of the original plans to seat the party around the pool for the water show. Two orchestras offered both Hawaiian and conventional music for dancing. Chairman of the affair was Leonard O. Zick, who with Mrs. Zick, was host at a pre-party cocktail pour in their Yorkshure road home before taking their guests on to the Club. Jimmy Dr. and Mrs. Clifford B. P. Lounger for Beachcombers were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hibberd, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Milburn, the Truman Barbiers and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fraser. Meeting Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Schultz at the Club were their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Burke Cueny, the Jack Dowlings and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Navin. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis C. Carmichael asked Mr. and Mrs. C. E.

Jameson, the Eugene P. Hawkins and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Beck to be their guests. Arriving at the Club Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Otis U. Walker were the Earl S. MacPherson, Mr. and Mrs. George Evers, Mrs. Lawrence Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McMahon and Dr. and Mrs. Wirt Dawson. Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Weber and the Douglas Adairs joined Mr. and Mrs. John D. Benfield and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wagner and the Horace Prunks. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Skinner hosted Mr. and Mrs. Neville Gaskin and Mr. and Mrs. Lance Skinner. Other members entertaining at the Beachcombers Party were Mr. and Mrs. William Gillett, the Don Fords Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Hofman and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bloodsworth.

The Book House for Children tells how Frederic Chopin was inspired to compose his famous "The Little Dog Waltz" or "The Minute Waltz" by the pet of a famous woman author. The lady whose little dog inspired this waltz was the great French writer, George Sand.

Mad-Cap Show at Will-O-Way

"Arsenic and Old Lace" by Joseph Kesselring, featuring Treasa Way Merrill, opens at the Will-O-Way Playhouse July 31st and will run for two weeks. The comedy's chief characters, two maiden aunts, will have you howling with laughter. The situations are so frankly and completely idiotic it is practically impossible to stand against them. You won't believe homicidal mania can be such great fun. Appearing in this mad-cap comedy are such favorites as Gerald M. Harrington, Richard Davis, Elizabeth Phelan, Shirley Davis, Robert Bryson, Allison Crandall, Frederick L. Morris and Barney O'Rourke. The Playhouse is located at W. Long Lake Road near Telegraph. There is a performance every night except Monday. Ticket reservations may be made by calling the box-office. Air identification tightened; key "zones" are set up.

Unique Idea Used at Church

Convening for the second time in Detroit since 1913, the International New Thought Alliance has just closed its 36th annual congress in this city.

More than 800 Detroit and out-of-town guests attended the morning, afternoon and evening sessions at the Hotel Staller, which brought to the city the nation's leading metaphysical speakers and writers in a series of inspirational programs that have been recognized as an official event by the Religious Participation Committee of Detroit's 250th Birthday.

Representing the local Detroit committee is congress chairman, Rev. John Gatlin Coulson, of the Detroit Metaphysical Center. Among those assisting him from this area, was Rev. Sarah J. Solada, minister of the First Church of Understanding, E. Vernor at Coplin.

With the convention now closed, Rev. Solada turns her thoughts back to her long planned theme of Sunday School and Church attendance. Beginning July 5, Understanding pays you to go to Sunday School and Church and to do special services not in your line of service... of course you will be paid in church money.

What good will this do? The First Church of Understanding is planning a good time for this coming winter. The last Saturday in September, you will be given a chance to buy some valuable gifts. There will be no other way to get these gifts except through your purchases with church money obtained by your services and attendance during the next few months. There will be at least one $25 War Bond.

MYSTERY BIRDS

Released, a racing pigeon is a blur of speed to the camera.

These may race some day—or may have their necks wrung.

TO THIS day no one, not even scientists, knows what makes a racing pigeon return to his home loft no matter where he is released. It is believed that some kind of a directional signal, heard only by his sensitive ear, is the answer. This belief is borne out by the fact that pigeons will go off course and get lost whenever a radio beam crosses their paths. Other hazards are storms, cats, hawks and inconsiderate hunters, and occasionally thieves. However, a stolen bird never can be released; if he is, he will return to his home loft. Breeders of fancy racing pigeons spend a tremendous amount of time, effort and money training birds. Winners collect fat purses. Pigeons who are slow of wit get necks wrung.

Racing pigeons are released daily while being trained.
