The Snow Falls Silently On Lakeland Street

by VOLTAIRE JACKSON

The snow falls silently on Lakeland street. Long lines of cars roll past the house at 575 Lakeland, pause momentarily—and then pass on. The sight of the smoke blackened house stirs for an instant a memory, and the morning of February 5 is recalled and a picture is created in the mind.

The picture is of flames leaping out of windows, a woman frantically trying to escape from the burning house, sirens roaring, a limp form being set upon the lawn of the house and the doctor pronouncing a death.

Heads are nodded, another car passes, and in a few minutes the fantasy is forgotten.

The house remains. Tarpaper now takes the place of windows. But the house remains.

Crime Takes Unusual Form in Park. City

Man Is Own Burglar; Truant Officer's Car Truant

When Mr. W. Flattery of 1019 Somerset, Grosse Pointe Park, reported to police that he suspected a prowler had been sifting through his house, the police investigated and came up with an unusual "solution."

Mr. Flattery showed the police footprints he found in his flower bed and the puzzled police mulled over the problem for a while, then—Eureka! They had the answer.

The police borrowed one of Mr. Flattery's shoes and placed it in the print. It was a perfect fit. The car which Bernard Kolodziejcki, 420 Madison Avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms, is accustomed to using in tracking down truant youngsters who attend Detroit public schools, is gone.

Mr. Kolodziejcki, who is an attendance officer, reported to Grosse Pointe City police that his automobile was stolen on Feb. 5. It had been parked on St. Clair near Waterloo. The car is a 1951 Chevrolet Tudor.

Award Lease on Pointe's Postoffice

Congressman Louis C. Rabaut announced this week that the Post Office Department has accepted an offering of quarters for a new Grosse Pointe Post Office on the southeast corner of Mack and Roland avenues.

A new building is to be erected at this location and the Post Office, in making its choice, advised Representative Rabaut that ample space will be afforded under this offer and that the location is good. The department also held the rent to be reasonable and that this location will meet with the approval of a majority of patrons.

"This new post office is an indication of the growth of the community and the wide activities of its residents," said Rabaut.

"The department has given the most serious consideration and I hope that its choice will afford the maximum benefit for the people and be pleasing to them."

Mystery Woman Unidentified in Lakewood Fire

An unidentified woman was seen running from the scene of the fire which claimed the life of Mrs. Ethel Green, 33, at about 3:10 Tuesday morning, at 575 Lakewood.

The fire, which is assumed to have started as a result of Mrs. Green leaving a lighted cigarette in the living room when she went to her bedroom to rest, caused her death through the process of suffocation—carbon monoxide poisoning.

Tried to Escape

A neighbor, Helene Mauer, 18, of 571 Lakewood, was awakened by Mrs. Green's screams and could see her form moving in the bedroom where she was later found unconscious. (GP City Fire Chief Ledger Chauvin reported that he found Mrs. Green in a sitting position in her bedroom when he gained entrance to the house; she was backed up against a wall.)

When Miss Mauer ran downstairs, she noticed a strange woman, clad in a "dark coat" which was wrapped around a milk-white nightgown running away from the house...

Thus far, the woman has not been identified.

Miss Mauer suffered a slight head injury as a result of her attempt to clear a flight of stairs in one step. She was rushing downstairs to give the alarm.

Emcee Mel Martin lived in Grosse Pointe for two years while working on a local Detroit radio station.

The program originates in the studios of WLW-TV in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Pointe Cross Section Presents Reports on Community Views

Launching an attack on interlocking problems that concern all the Grosse Pointes, nearly 70 civic-minded citizens participated in a spirited meeting of the Grosse Pointe Community Council last Thursday at the Neighborhood Club.

"This meeting has shown that we have discovered many problems of mutual interest," said Chet Sampson, chairman, at the conclusion of the round table discussions. "By studying them and classifying them, we can work together to find their solution."

The men and women attending the meeting represented a large majority of the 50 organizations composing the Community Council. They brought to the session the viewpoints of a cross-section of Grosse Pointe, regardless of political boundaries, age groups or other distinctions.

"Accent on Youth"

Mrs. H. Ray Will, secretary of the Council, who presided at the meeting, said the Council was encouraged because of the large number of young people in attendance. She said she hoped their problems could be solved with Council assistance. Adult representatives for youth interests included school principals and teachers as well as Boy and Girl Scouts' and Campfire Girls' leaders.

The Council's next meeting is to be held March 20. In the meantime, committees which were formed at discussion groups during the meeting will develop plans to attack various problems. Before the March meeting, the delegates are to consult with the organizations they represent about the Council proposals.

During the "registration" period, refreshments were served by a volunteer committee of Kerby School mothers. In addition to Mrs. Robert Redlin, social chairman, Kerby PTA, others who poured were Mrs. Barney Banner, Mrs. William Briscoe, Mrs. Walter Isley and Mrs. Carl Van Gallow.

Defense Film Shown

A showing of the Civil Defense film, "Survival Under the Atom Bomb," opened the program. Sampson then outlined the purposes of a community council as "a planning and coordinating agency through which groups of varied interests can operate as one, when that seems the best way to attack problems of the entire community."

The meeting then was divided into six discussion groups. Each group was to consider the problems in its own area of interest, and report back to the general meeting.

Groups Named

1. Community Beautification. Mrs. Harley Higbie reported on the imminent threat to thousands of beautiful elm trees in the Grosse Pointes by the Dutch elm disease. More than 70 per cent of our trees are elms, but only one of the five cities owns the necessary spraying equipment. The important spraying must be done during March. Mrs. Higbie urged attendance at the Garden Council's meeting (which was held this week) to help plan the Plans for a Community Institute to be held this spring are to be discussed further at special meetings of this committee. It was brought out that a real attempt must be made to interest those people in attending an Institute who are most greatly in need of the help it can offer.

5. Civic Responsibilities. Elizabeth Wright, who reported for this group, said that Civil Defense is a real community-wide problem, in which all groups must work together for mutual security. Grosse Pointers continue to be too complacent about the atom bomb. Continuing the work on civil defense, under George Elworthy, OGD director, Council representatives offered the help of their organizations in their respective lines. Campfire Girls, for example, will make emergency kits for school use. State Troops will aid in traffic direction and maintaining order in emergencies.

The Council was asked to promote further showing of the OGD motion picture among member organizations, such as PTAs and church groups. Miss Wright stated that the Grosse Pointe blood typing program is scheduled to start in Grosse Pointe Feb. 18, for both children and adults. The blood typing schedule will be found elsewhere in today's Review.

LETTER FROM BUCK ROGERS

This week we received a letter from Buck Rogers—who is not the spaceman of the 25th Century you read about in the Sunday funnies. Buck Rogers is a real estate man who aspires to the congressional post for the Fourteenth District. He wants to unseat Louie Rabaut.

We herewith reprint verbatim excerpts from his letter:

"I would like to confirm a rumor that I have accepted from my fellow Republicans to run for Congress in the Fourteenth District on the Republican ticket. We were a bit confused at this point because one of the meanings Webster's Dictionary gives to the word 'rumor' is 'a prolonged indistinct noise'."

Mr. Rogers announces that if elected he will:

Support Taft . . . "remove all the mess H. S. Truman put the United States in" . . . "remove all the Socialistic bunk because of the threat to Americanism" . . . and to "end the Korean mess."

Buck Rogers' promises are certainly not futuristic, for aspiring politicians have promised big things since the stone age.

We sorta wish applicants for Government offices would furnish us with letters explaining HOW they intend to remove what they refer to as "Truman" and "Korean" messes, instead of just saying "I will."

And we'll wait breathlessly for an explanation of the "rumor confirmed."

Pall Mall — Pell Mell
Currently being peddled to the peristaltic peasants who are willing to swallow and digest it—is the line created by some sly advertising man paid by Pall Mall cigarettes for his ability to lie.

According to this advertising, Pall Mall cigarettes are less irritating because they "travel the smoke further." Pall Mall claims that because of the extra length of their cigarette, the smoker's throat is less irritated, and nausea is avoided.

While watching this animated "proof" being given on TV one night, we suddenly realized the error in logic being fostered in "pell mell" fashion by these nicotine fiends.

Admittedly, on the second puff the smoker is probably getting less "harsh throat irritants" than he would from a normal-sized cigarette.

But the question is: what happens when the extra-length Pall Mall is smoked down to the size of a regular cigarette? Then you start getting as many "throat irritants" as are contained in the regular sized tag—and further, you have imbued that "extra length" of irritants, nicotine, etc. Into File Thirteen with Pall Mall cigarettes!

Whose Responsibility?

(The following remarks of Congressman Rabaut are taken from the Congressional Record for January 30, 1952).

Mr. Speaker, the President's message of January 28 on the St. Lawrence Seaway brought most forcibly to the attention of the Nation the radical changes in this situation which have developed in the past few months, and, it would seem, without a full understanding of their significance by the American people.

As the President so aptly put it, the question before the Congress is no longer whether the St. Lawrence seaway should be built. There is ample evidence that that question has been resolved. The warnings of such people as the Honorable G. Mennen Williams, Governor of the State of Michigan, as expressed in his letter to me of October 10, which I inserted in this RECORD, are now, unfortunately, coming true. Governor Williams said in the letter:

"I believe the Canadian Parliament will take aggressive and definite action at an early date."

The powerful interests opposing the seaway have continuously sought to befog this fact in a propaganda campaign that labeled "Canadian determination as a mere bluff." No amount of loud talk, and no great flood of literature can erase the plain words of the Canadian Government's note of January 11, affirming that it is "prepared to proceed with the construction of the seaway as soon as appropriate arrangements can be made for the construction of the power phases of the St. Lawrence project as well."

The question now is, therefore, whether the United States will participate in construction of the seaway and in its operation and control. No longer need we argue about the availability of iron ore supplies in the Mesabi Range. There should be no further arguments over rail or water transportation—these are issues of the past, and we need only ask how well our national interests be served by permitting unilateral Canadian planning and construction of the seaway.

As Governor Williams pointed out in the letter to which I just referred, the Canadian program requires extensive changes in engineering plans, and the interests of America are by no means so well served by the substitute.

The situation as thus presented, lays open the continued opposition to the seaway as purely self-governing and blind to the true national interest. It should now be evident to the entire Nation that their arguments on the merits of the seaway were nothing but a sham covering for a short-sighted desire for private gain.

I call upon the House Public Works Committee to commence hearings as early as possible on House Joint Resolution 337 and to report it favorably to the House so that this Nation is not left on the outside looking in. I feel confident in saying that should our refusal to act continue until Canada begins construction on her own, Americans, generations hence, will look back upon the decision as a deliberate abandonment of the national interest.

Park Gets Bigger Share of 4th Quarter Gas Tax

Vouchers for distribution of $22,209,237.35 collected in weight and gas taxes for the fourth quarter of the calendar year 1951 have been prepared by the State Highway Department and sent to the Auditor General's office for payment, in accordance with the provisions of Act 26, of the Acts of 1951, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has announced.

Under this act, which revised the method of distribution of weight and gas tax collections, all weight and gas tax collections (including Diesel fuel) are placed in a Motor Vehicle Highway fund. The State Highway Department receives 44 per cent of this money after deductions for the cost of collecting the funds and refunds to purchasers of gasoline which is used for non-highway purposes. The cities and villages of the state receive 19 per cent of the fund and the counties receive the remaining 37 per cent.

Under this formula of distribution, the Highway Department will receive $9,772,064.43 as its share of the fourth quarter collections, the cities and incorporated villages will receive $4,219,755.10 and the counties will receive $8,217,417.82.

From the 83 counties' share will be deducted a total of $250,000 to be paid on the $5,000,000 loan they received for local road improvements under Act 50 of the 1948 Legislature, with the understanding this money would be paid back at the rate of $1,000,000 per year if there should be any increase in gas or weight taxes over the level then in effect. Under directions of the State Controller $250,000 was deducted from the counties' third-quarter of 1951 highway moneys and a second $250,000 has been deducted from the fourth quarter funds now to be disbursed. Similar deductions will be made each quarter until the counties have repaid the loan.

Computation of the amounts allocated to the various counties, cities and incorporated villages has been based on the best available information on mileage and population data and on the amount of weight taxes collected in the various counties as reported to and certified by the Secretary of State. In July, 1952, with the distribution of the sec-

A Report on the Ridge Top Subdivisions in the Farms

The development of the new Ridge Top Subdivisions located at Ridge and Kerby Roads in Grosse Pointe Farms marks the opening of one of the few remaining undeveloped properties in the Farms community. Local residents remember the picturesque area as the site of one of the first country stores in the Grosse Pointe region and as the location of the time-worn home of the famed Kerby family—one of the community's earliest settlers. Now, however, under the skilled direction of the Brown Investment Company, the quiet shaded property has been subdivided and a number of new homes are already under construction. The old store has been demolished and the stately old Kerby farm colonial is being completely renovated.

Colorful History

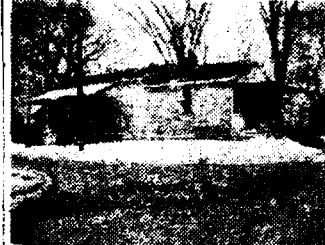

The history of the Kerby property is long and colorful. In the year 1796, shortly after Michigan had been ceded to the United States, Rufus M. Kerby journeyed across the unmarked trails of Western Ohio and Ontario and brought his family to the sparsely populated settlement which the few French families and "voyageurs" had named Grosse Pointe. Although the records are inconclusive, it is generally conceded that Rufus Kerby was the first American citizen to settle in the Grosse Pointe area—being preceded only by a few French families such as the Rivards and the Beaufaits.

The Kerby Home

Constructed more than 50 years ago, this stately old farm colonial now stands on the corner of Ridge and Kerby Roads. At the present time it is being completely remodeled inside and out by the Brown Investment Company. But although it will be completely modernized and the lines of the roof will be altered, the home when completed will retain much of the charm and tradition which has characterized the entire neighborhood. In a sense it will set the pattern for the new homes which are under construction by the Brown Investment Company.

Village Store

During the early years of the present century John Kerby built a small village store at the corner of Ridge and Kerby Roads, next to his home. For many years this old-fashioned general-grocery store was a landmark in the Farms community. During the First World War the Kerbys opened an ice cream parlor off the rear porch which was to become a favorite haunt of the Pointe children. The old store has now been completely removed by the Brown Investment Company.

community, this small village store remained open until 1936. During one period at the time of the First World War the Kerbys opened an old-fashioned ice cream parlor at the rear of the store which for several years remained a favorite haunt of many of the children living in the area.

The Kerby Home Before the Remodeling Work Was Begun.

Renovation Begins

And now at last, the last remnants of the Kerby estate have been subdivided by the Brown Investment Company. The old store has been removed and the large tract of land which stood vacant for many years is now to be the site of a number of new and completely modern ranch homes. Work will begin shortly on the opening of Ridgmont Road which now ends at Ridge Rd. When the project is completed the entire location will be built up with more than 50 new homes of the finest quality and the quiet property will take its place as one of the finest new residential areas in the Grosse Pointe community. And yet the tree-lined Ridge Top property store which stood for many years on the corner of Ridge and Kerby Roads. One of the early business establishments in the Farms community.

The Old Country Store

While still a young man, John Kerby also built the old country store which stood for many years on the corner of Ridge and Kerby Roads. One of the early business establishments in the Farms community.

Wolverines Dump Judies in Rotary Classic Friday

Holding a 3-point lead going into last Friday's engagement with Wolverine Potato Chips, P & J Cocktail Lounge dropped a 3-pointer. The Judies had shutout their rivals on their previous meeting but last Friday was a different story. Leo Litzau and Henry Peplinski teamed up for the Wolverines and shot big scores while the big guns for the Judies were silenced. Wilson and Jeakle, who usually have a big night, failed. Their teammates Carman and Kammer had to carry them . . . Moe wasn't there . . . had to take his average.

BOWL HEADS OFF!

Middle Atl Transp. Co. bowled their heads off when they heard the Judies were being trimmed. They were rewarded for their efforts, taking four points from the Auto Club. Auggie Brugnoni missed a 600 series by 8 pins. This young fellow throws a wicked curve and with so little effort.

BARGAIN NIGHT

It was bargain night for Farms Market. They bought three cheap ones from Village Wine Shop who could have used a couple of points in their position. There wasn't a 200 game bowled by either team and Art Louwers hit a new low—below 400.

Forrest Piche's hunch to shuffle his lineup proved a good one. It produced a 3-point win over Steiner Ford who averted a shutout by winning the last game. Charles Blay had a big series for the Barbers while Williams and Cook carried Steiners.

BREAK EVEN

Just when Earl Holzbaugh Motors thought they had four in the bag (they need them) Kopp's Pharmacy jumped out with a 910 game and broke even for the night. Nice comeback.

CELLAR DWELLERS

NO SET-UP
Mondry Cleaners again proved they are no set-up. Cellar dwellers for most of the season, these boys have come back and are raising havoc with teams that have beaten them previously. Motor City Tires bowled good enough and would have won three points under ordinary circumstances but Mondry was a little better and went on to win its sixth series in a row, including two shutouts. Russ Piche had his curve under control and came up with another big series. He is the only bowler who controls a curve with "shoulder spin."

FRIDAY SCHEDULE

In tomorrow night's schedule at the G. P. Woods Recreation, Middle Atl Transp. Co. comes face to face with Punch & Judy Cocktail Lounge on alleys 3 and 4. Farms Market meets Wolverine Potato Chips. If Piches Barber Shop can down Kop's Pharmacy, lookout. These boys may never stop. Last year they came from tenth place and just missed out. This year they have a better start. Kopp's may have something to say about this buildup as they too have designs on repeating

Chesterfield Card

Ferez Sixsay, popular matman, last Friday night at Chesterfield Arena, Gratiot near 10-Mile road, suffered such a severe gash in his forehead that the referee stopped the bout. He pleaded so earnestly for another chance to unmask "The Ghost," that this rematch was carded for Friday with the five-bout program beginning at 8:30 p.m. Three other bouts and a six-man Australian tag match are included.

Tumbling Class

A newly organized tumbling class is being offered at the Neighborhood Club for girls ages 8 to 12 on Friday afternoons from 4 to 5 p.m. This type of activity offers opportunity in muscular development and coordination particularly suited to girls in this age bracket. Requirements for the class are a membership to the Club—which is fifty cents—and gym shorts and shoes.

STRIKE!

Bowling is a great sport. In this game, tired businessmen find release for the emotional tension built up during their workday; youngsters gain a new concept of team work.
Bowling builds character! Therein lies the reason for our sponsoring the Stevenson Roll Company Bowling Team. We think it's a fine idea for any financially able businessman to sponsor a bowling team.
I don't bowl. I only wish I could. You see, I have a heart condition which makes it impossible for me to indulge in the game.
