PARK COUNCIL WARNS OF FLOOD

Vandenberg for Governor Committee

The same sound principles that govern individual success must be applied to government, Lt. Governor William C. Vandenberg, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, told farm groups this week.

"The only way to remove bewilderment and lavish spending from Government," he declared, "is to install officials who will devote themselves single-mindedly to the task of administering the affairs of the public. You farmers cannot leave your plows to gallop around the state, week in and week out, to enjoy social functions. If you do, you won't get any crops. The same thing is true in government. The care-free life may be pleasant. It may be fun. But it won't produce accomplishment in government, any more than it will produce harvests from your fields."

"You have all known so-called gentlemen farmers who sought to clothe themselves with the dignity of agriculture; but who were not willing to do the hard work, playboy farmers, you call them. Agriculture is too stern a master."

Oh! Susanna At Institute On May 10th

A piece of authentic Americana is this two-act comedy portraying life on the Ohio River in the year of 1850. In a series of gay, colorful scenes, the love story of Stephen Foster and the origin of some of his popular songs will unfold as The Detroit Chorus presents its production of OH! SUSANNA at the Art Institute Auditorium on May 10, at 8:15 p.m.

Margaret Tomaney and Bill Ainslie, both of Detroit, will have the singing leads of Jeanie and Stephen Foster in the play.

Jovial E. P. Christy, played by H. B. McCormick of Dearborn, is the man for whom Mr. Foster wrote many of his well-known songs. Gladys Winke as Aunt Gusta Foster and William Waymire as Mayor Foster lend atmosphere to Stephen's life on the riverfront, as well as the river-folk who sing some of Foster's best loved songs during the play.

The Detroit Chorus Boys' Choir, under the direction of Melvin Farris, will be presented between acts in a Medley from the Sunny South arranged by Victor Harris.

The play is being produced by special arrangement with Samuel French under the direction of Thomas Yager, Manager of the International Players and John McKenzie, Choral Director of The Detroit Chorus.

According to a recent amendment in the state law, any voter who is registered for city, state, or national elections is also registered and thereby qualified to vote in school elections. Henceforth, no registration for school elections can be made at the schools or at the Board of Education offices as has been possible in past years. Only one registration for all elections is now necessary, and such registration must be made at the city or township clerk's office.

Monday, June 2, is the last date for registration for the annual school election which takes place this year on June 9.

Also, under the new law the last date that a person may file as a candidate for the Board of Education is May 9. Under the present provisions of the law, a person filing as a candidate for the Board of Education must have petitions signed by not less than 50 qualified electors and not more than 75.

Members of the Board of Education are elected for a three year term of office. The only member whose term of office expires this year is Mr. Bert Wicking, who is the current President of the Board. Mr. Wicking has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election.

Pointe Communities Join Efforts in Clean-Up Week

Banner Days with banners flying. Have you seen them? Spelling out Clean-Up Drive, May 2-11. One at the City Limits across Jefferson Avenue which has been securely anchored with the generous assistance of the Park and Farms firemen and their helpful equipment; the other banner in St. Clair Shores, which has been given by that municipality.

There will be many other visible Clean-Up reminders around the Grosse Pointes. Maybe you have seen the Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls delivering so proudly the clever posters made in the schools. Look for them in stores and public buildings. Watch out also for the timely window displays, with suggestions on how to "Dress-Up for Clean-Up," or the proper equipment you will need to do a good job.

Some of the many merchants cooperating in this respect are: Jacobson's, Peck and Peck, Young Clothes, Woods Florists, Krauss Decorators, Rabaut Fabric Mart. At the Woods Theatre there will be a display designed by the Lochmoor Hardware Co. and the C and S Landscape Co. The Harkness Pharmacy will feature a complaint box for residents in the Woods.

White Cane Week Will BE May 4-10

White Cane Week, annually designed to call attention to the need for traffic protection for the blind, will be May 4 to 10 this year, Walter F. DeLonge, Chairman for the Greater Detroit Lions' Council announced today.

White Cane Week has been officially proclaimed by Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams and Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo.

Sponsored by the Lions Clubs of Michigan, the white cane or white cane with red tip gives the non-seeing pedestrian the right of way over all traffic. It has been recognized as official protection for the wholly and partially blind by Michigan State statute and City of Detroit ordinance.

Lions Clubs provide the white canes free of charge to all eligible persons who ask for them.

The idea for the white cane is credited to Lion Club President George M. Bonham of Peoria, Illinois, who started the movement in 1930. It reached Michigan in 1936 and the state legislature passed an ordinance giving blind persons with white canes the right of way over all traffic. A similar ordinance was passed by the Detroit City Council in 1937.

The movement has now gained international importance through Lions International, and thousands of blind persons throughout the world have received white canes from Lions Clubs. In Detroit and Michigan, the distribution of white canes is in the thousands.

"The White Cane idea cannot succeed or accomplish its purpose of traffic safety for the blind unless every motorist and pedestrian alike recognizes it," said Mr. DeLonge. "It is of no use to its owner unless it is thoughtfully and carefully observed as the 'traffic symbol of the blind.'"

"It is the purpose of White Cane Week to point up the value of that traffic symbol," DeLonge concluded.

Huge Carillon Near Completion

The 39 bells have been given by families of the congregation in memory of their departed relatives, in connection with the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of the church. Dr. Frank Fitt, D.D., minister of the church, said.

Jackson of CBS Finds Quiet City Room Novel

There is a legend that a newspaper office a minute or two before deadline is a bedlam of noise, with the hurried clatter of impatient typewriters in the city room, and the noisy, machine "clanking" of the Linotypes in the composing room. That legend holds true for any modern-day newspaper—in which an alphabet is used in the language being printed.

But here is the case of a newspaper that doesn't use an alphabet, and consequently is free of the legendary newspaper noises. This is the Chinese Nationalist Daily, one of several Chinese-language newspapers published in New York City. Like any other paper, it has its regular departments—news, features, interviews—even the Chinese version of "Advice to the Lovelorn."

But the city room of the Chinese paper a minute or two before deadline is quiet. The reporters have written their stories,

Ask Detroit Council and Federal Government to Aid Flood Control Plans

At their meeting last Monday night, members of the council of the City of Grosse Pointe Park took action to save the city from what they termed "greatest potential disaster short of wartime raids."

Councilman Peter D. Burgess proposed three resolutions to the council. These resolutions were adopted, and urgent pleas made that positive action be taken now to prevent millions of dollars of loss later. Councilman Burgess said it is possible to envision four feet of water in the living rooms of residences south of Jefferson, as lake levels are expected by experts to be at a record high during June and July. He said a sudden rainstorm combined with these high water levels and southeast winds could extend the flood area north of Jefferson, also.

After a series of meetings to form a Cub Scout Pack to be sponsored by the Kerby Parent-Teachers Association, the Pack 481 Committee completed the Charter Application and the new unit will be formally installed on May 19 at the first Pack meeting to be held in the new school.

Fifteen proud Cub Scouts are to receive their Bobcat pins at that ceremonial occasion, and eight more "Mascots" are anxiously awaiting their eighth birthdays so that they can officially "join up" too.

The following parents have volunteered to serve the new unit: Den mothers: Mrs. L. J. Diehl, 342 Mt. Vernon; Mrs. R. Christian, 264 Kerby; and Mrs. E. Perkins, 407 Lothrop. Den Dads: Mr. C. Pointer Stars In Brigadoon

"Brigadoon," the top Broadway musical about an enchanted Scottish village that exists only one day in every century, will be presented by the Mercy College Players Saturday and Sunday, May 10 and 11, at 8:15 p.m., in McAuley auditorium, Southfield and West Outer Drive.

Rosemary Ressegue, 1356 Three Mile Drive, has the featured dance lead as "Maggie Anderson." In one of the show's most impressive moments, Miss Ressegue does the "Funeral Dance," Maggie's demonstration of grief for her dead suitor. She will also appear in the "Bonnie Jean Ballet" production number.

Miss Ressegue has also done much of the painting and construction of sets for the show.

The story centers around the activities of two young American hunters who stumble on the village as it prepares for a local fair and wedding. Brigadoon, because of its enchantment, is untouched by war or modern strife, and a romance develops between one of the Americans and a local lass.

Tickets for this top hit show, that was last seen at the Cass two years ago, are $1.25, and may be secured from Miss Ressegue or the college. KE. 1-7820.

May 10 Will Honor Marine Corps Reserve

Following the example set by Governor G. Mennen Williams on April 18th Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit and Mayor Orville L. Hubbard of Dearborn, in joint meeting at Detroit on April 24th, signed proclamations for their respective cities proclaiming Saturday, May 10, 1952 as "Welcome Home Marine Reserve Day."

After the signing Mayor Cobo presented the Detroit proclamation to Lt. Col. T. B. Tighe of the 5th Infantry Battalion and Mayor Hubbard presented the Dearborn proclamation to 1st Lt. A. B. Harmon of the 15th Special Infantry Company.

The Proclamation read in part: "The citizens do desire to pay fitting tribute and honor to the young men and women of the United States Marine Corps Reserve who rallied to their country's call during the Korean emergency. They have most notably discharged their obligations as citizens, and with true, proud Marine "esprit de corps," left homes, schools, and careers in this great city, to defend a helpless nation attacked by an aggressor. They have stood staunch and strong in defense of the freedom that is the birthright of all men.

Now, therefore, I do hereby proclaim the 10th day of May, 1952, as Welcome Home, Marine Reserve Day and urge our citizens to give thought and appropriate thanksgiving for those who are returning to their homes, and with humbleness and prayer for those who made the supreme sacrifice in defense of freedom, and I do further urge that all citizens be mindful of the importance of a strong United States Marine Corps Reserve as an implement of our national defense."

Highlighting the celebration will be a Welcome Home dance sponsored by the Marine Corps Reserve Activities Group of Detroit Naval Armory. This dance is informal and open to the public. Tickets may be purchased at the Marine Corps Recruiting Office, Detroit, and the offices of the Organized Reserve Units at Dearborn, Detroit, and Grosse Ile.

Culver Black Horse Troop To Perform at Coliseum

Cadet Winkelman

Cadet Dwight W. Winkelman, II, from Skaneateles, New York winner of last year's Madison Square Garden junior horsemanship championship, is a member of the Culver (Ind.) Military Academy varsity jumping team which will be one of the featured attractions at the State Fair Coliseum in Detroit on May 17 when Culver's famous Black Horse Troop and Marching Band will present a full evening program.

The events will include a polo game between the cadet varsity team and the Jack Ivory team of Detroit, varsity jumping competition against leading junior jumpers from Metropolitan Hunt Clubs, rough riding exhibitions, precision riding by the Academy Lancers, and intermission and performance concert numbers by the band.

The 33 boys in the Lancers consist of the most skilled riders in the Culver Black Horse Troop. The mounted drills which they execute are based on the riding feats of the old Northwest Mounted Police. This year's polo team has won 12 and lost three in their winter and spring seasons thus far; the jumpers have been leading winners in horse shows throughout the Mid-West.

Winkelman, a senior at the Academy this year, is shown here in a recent outdoor show in the Culver Military Academy riding ring. He is the son of Dwight W. Winkelman of Skaneateles, New York.

Culver Night at the Coliseum is being sponsored by the Detroit Culver Club. Tickets are available by calling their offices at Woodward 1-2148 or at the gate the night of the performance which starts promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

The 125 cadets who will participate in the show will arrive in Detroit on Friday, May 16 where they will be housed at the Fort Shelby Hotel. That night they will be honored guests at a Grosse Pointe Hunt Club dance with girls from Detroit private schools and the Grosse Pointe High School.

Rehearsal at the Coliseum will keep them busy Saturday morning, May 17. After the performance that night they will return to the hotel, and then following attendance at church services of their choice will leave for Culver Sunday morning.

Will Celebrate Twenty-fifth Anniversary

Next Sunday the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the dedication of its church and church house. Dr. Frank Pitt, minister of the parish for over 21 years, will preach an anniversary sermon at both the 9:30 and 11 o'clock services.

This church was founded in 1885 by a group of nine men and four women and was entitled "The Protestant Evangelical Association of Grosse Pointe." Very soon a small building was erected at what is now Kerby and Lake Shore Road. In 1878 this building was altered and enlarged at a cost of one thousand dollars. In 1889 its name was changed to "The Grosse Pointe Protestant Society." Unable to afford a resident minister that worship was conducted on Sunday nights by a preacher from Detroit who had driven out in the afternoon following the morning service at his own church. One of the present members whose memory goes back to that early time estimates that the congregations varied from about a dozen to 30 men, women and children.

In 1894 a new building was erected on the site of the present building at 18 Lake Shore Road and the first resident minister secured. In the 58 years since then there have been five ministers, including the present minister. The membership still remained small because the Grosse Pointe area was as yet undeveloped as a suburban area. Many of the main supporters of the one Protestant church in the community resided there only during the summer months.

By the end of the First World War this situation began to change rapidly. It was decided that the church which had belonged to no denomination for its 55 years should become denominational. By majority vote the choice was Presbyterian and the name became "The Grosse Pointe Presbyterian Church" in 1920 with a charter membership of 188. So rapid was the growth that it became clear that a much larger building would be needed. The result was the present church and church house, a structure which was built over the years 1924-1927. The church house was built first and was paid for by the people of the parish and community. The church was given by the late Truman H. Newberry and his brother, John S. Newberry, in memory of their parents, John Stoughton Newberry and Helen Handy Newberry. Once more the name of the church was changed. It became "The Grosse Pointe Memorial Church," a title which still stands.

During the last 28 years, with the growth of the Grosse Pointe area in population, there has been a very rapid growth for the parish. In fact, only one other Presbyterian church in the suburban area of Pittsburgh, has exceeded the Grosse Pointe parish in rate of growth during this period. The present membership now stands at 2,365 and, in addition, a daughter church founded in 1937, The Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, has a membership of 998.

One feature of the anniversary will be the dedication of a carillon one week from next Sunday, May 25, 1952. When the present building was erected in 1927 the late Colonel Frederick M. Alger and his wife, now Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, gave a carillon of eight bells in memory of those who had fallen in the First World War. This carillon has now been amplified by a recent addition of 39 bells. Following the service of dedication there will be a service featuring the newly enlarged carillon at 4:30 o'clock. After the service those present are invited to a reception in the gymnasium of the church house.

Clean-Up

Up campaign but save household articles and clothing for them.

One of these sunny days drop in at Memorial Center to see the Garden Center Exhibit which Mrs. C. Bayard Johnson has arranged. Besides the many Clean-Up suggestions there is a most unusual map of all the Grosse Pointes. On it is marked the location of each diseased elm in Grosse Pointe.

We have all heard and read much of our local papers of the Dutch Elm Disease and its control, but Mrs. Louis Robinson and Mrs. George Munroll, wish to suggest to all owners of wood-piles for firewood that when their elms are sprayed, they have the cord wood examined. It often harbors the beetle and can also be sprayed. Either of these committee members or the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association, will gladly give further information on this vital subject.

Daily our communities are reporting new cooperation in the drive. The Farms is mailing to its residents postcards with suggestions for making this year's Clean-Up a year round success.

Mr. Stewart McIntosh, TU 2-6487, who has taken Mrs. Rowe's place as chairman of the Grosse Pointe Woods area, will welcome any suggestions or criticisms.

The Lions Club has contributed generously towards the expenses of this drive because they believe it is a worthwhile project. We citizens must prove them right! Not just for 10 days, but for 365 days. We have received suggestions which can be considered. (1) Education in regard to throwing papers, etc., from car windows; (2) On many vacant lots which need cleaning badly, real estate companies have for sale signs. Residents in these neighborhoods could call these companies, asking them to contact clients and ask them to Clean-Up. (3) Municipalities to consider permanent containers wired to posts for the disposal of papers, by passersby.

Have you a suggestion?

Scouts Will Go Canoeing

The Explorer Scouts of District III are looking forward to their Canoe Expedition the week end of May 16, 17 and 18. Starting Friday evening from Bridge 73, three miles west of Grayling, more than 230 Explorer Scouts will participate in the 45-mile trip down the Manistee River. They will camp out Friday and Saturday nights, leaving the river by noon on Sunday.

The Expedition will be under the direction of Mr. Frank Markie, advisor for Explorer post 309, Columbus School.

Last year's Explorer Canoe Expedition was such a success that registrations for this year's trip are almost double last year's. Every available canoe in the area has been called into service.

Wanted Volunteers

"Plans for the summer recreational program are almost completed," reports Mrs. Jane Costabile, director of The Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club. "We are now at the point where future decisions seem to be dependent on how many volunteers we are able to recruit and train."

With the number of children to be served dependent on the number of volunteers available, the Community Club asks that all men and women who believe they could give a minimum of a half day of service a week apply for the volunteer positions that are now open.

The program as it appears now will be entirely conducted on the Cheze-Trombly playground behind the Community Club at Mack and Hampton. It will be a small group program conducted in the morning for the very young children and in the afternoon for older children up to twelve years old. Volunteers will be in charge of such group or individual special programs, depending on the volunteer's skills and time.

The minimum requirements for volunteer service are that the person be 18 years old or older, have had some past experience with children that would indicate an interest, baby sitting, Sunday School teaching, group leadership, etc., and will be willing to take the amount of training required by the Club. Supervision and other opportunities for learning will be offered.

Special positions are open for a selected group of boys and girls, 14-18, who wish to become Junior Volunteers.

For further information, call or write The Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club, 20603 Mack, TU. 1-7970.

The Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club joins this week of May 3th through 9th with twenty-three settlements and other community centers in celebrating "Detroit Settlement Week," an undertaking to give the public a clearer picture of the organization and program of its local centers. Due to the small size of the building, the Club will not attempt a special program, but extends to all Grosse Pointe citizens a special invitation to drop in during the week to see the adults, children and leaders enjoying the benefits which you have provided through your contribution to the United Foundation.

A quick historical review shows that many of the past concerns of the Community Club still focus the present organization, though not necessarily in the same form. On April 26, 1924, at the home of Mrs. Edgar Hallock, prior to becoming the organization's first president, Mrs. Louise Stevens, Mrs. Doris Martins, Mrs. Dan Rogers, Mrs. Julius Halasz, Mrs. Theodora Wedyke, Mrs. Elmer Loom, Mrs. Howard Hams, and Mrs. Frank Burnet met to decide how they could obtain for their community and children adequate recreational facilities, especially a playground.

Mother's Club Bridge Tea

Over 900 women attended the Mother's Club Bridge Tea held for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund at the Grosse Pointe High School, and the sale of tickets plus the candy netted a total of approximately $1250.00. So successful was the sale of Mackinaw Island Fudge that the chairman of that committee, Mrs. Gordon N. Cameron enlarged the committee to include Mrs. Peter Duerksen and Mrs. David F. Roller.

Following the playing of bridge, door prizes were awarded, including an evening bag and compact, a Max Factor kit, photograph by Gach, Beauty Counselor's cologne, Sander's candy, a Mexican basket, ice cream and beauty parlor and dry cleaning certificates.

Tea was served around three large tables decorated in Mexican style with deep turquoise cloths, large straw baskets overflowing with fruit, wrought iron candlesticks holding candles in brilliant Mexican colors, tin Mexican dishes filled with cookies. Pouring tea were members of the board of the Mother's Club, home room sponsors and mothers of the Student Association officers of the high school. Carrying out the Mexican theme Mrs. Clarence Maguire and her committee used colored gourds, Mexican runners and strapijs, brightly colored Mexican glassware and huge Mexican hats to decorate the tea room.

With a sigh of relief the many workers for this occasion look happily to the day in June when the scholarships will be awarded to students of a "B" average or over, showing good extra-curricular records, some need for financial assistance, having a sound character and leadership record, and a definite promise of college success and civic usefulness. These scholarships are selected from the applications turned in to the vice-president before May 1, and reviewed by a special committee. Announcement will be made after the Commencement in June.

CAMERAS CATCH PICTORIAL NEWS OF INTEREST FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

JET DESIGNER—Hans Multhopp, aerodynamicist who was with the Focke-Wulf aircraft factory in Germany during the war and is now head of the Glenn L. Martin new-design section, holds the scale model of the Focke-Wulf TA-153, regarded by experts as the probable forerunner of the Russian MIG jet fighters. Multhopp, designer of the TA-153, left Germany in 1940 and went to England, where he joined the staff of the Royal Aircraft Establishment at Farnborough. Now living in Baltimore, Md., Multhopp, his wife, and children have readily adjusted to American habits.

COCKATOO AND CHIMP, TOO—Is it man, bird or animal, Sylvia Smith has them hooking to her. This was proved at the London Zoo. The photographer saw the pretty miss among visitors and it wasn't long before the sulphur-crested cockatoo (top) was on her shoulder, and Dick, the playful chimpanzee, responded with a hug.

ARMORED CARS FOR GERMAN COPS—West German border police use this light armored car to patrol the Bonn sector. The car is the first of some 60 armored cars purchased by the West German government from the U. S. Army for duty along the border lines. The car has a four-man crew: commander, gunner, radio operator and driver.

TOPS IN TWO SPORTS—Hard to stop on the diamond and on the boards, Dick Groat of Duke University is an All-American player and a basketball record scorer. As a shortstop (left) Groat led Duke to the Southern Conference baseball championship last season with a batting average of .386, and helped make the Blue Devils the runners-up in basketball (right), personally accounting for a new national season record of 831 points. The six-foot, 182-pound senior is from Swinslow, Pa. Some observers say he is the best college baseball player they have ever seen.

DIG-LETTER MAN—Ernst Kummer, 65-year-old West Berliner, uses a foot pedal to control a machine he invented which places letters into envelopes, then seals and stamps them. The machine has an output of 2,000 letters an hour. Speed is controlled by a foot pedal which permits the operator to use both his hands to feed the machine both letters and envelopes.

NEW DESIGN—Old World decor adds drama to modern. Feted for sun glasses. Designed by American Optical Company, they feature a miniature raised crest centered at the bridge of the frame, which has been completely metal plated to create an antique effect. Temples and upper part of the frame are stippled to resemble hammered metal.

FOLLOW THE FORM!—Charm-packed Dolores Medina, who believes that a Derby horse should sport an appropriate hat, pays a visit to Bryan Moru at Hialeah race course. That swimsuit Dolores wears is pretty horsey in pattern.

REPORT TO THE WORLD—General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Supreme Commander of Allied Powers in Europe, delivers his report on the first-year operations of the NATO military organization from his SHAPE headquarters near Paris. The 14 member nations of NATO simultaneously transmitted General Eisenhower's anniversary text, which was of top interest throughout the world.

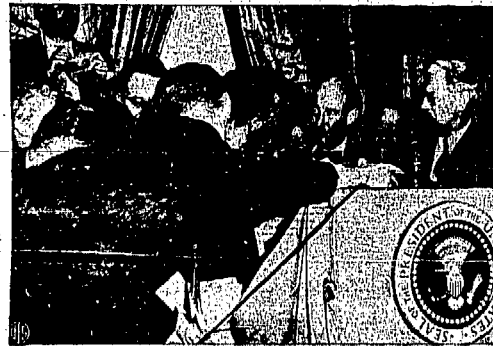

HE WANTED TO BE A JOCKEY!—The cameraman had to find himself a high perch to make this picture of Ted Evans, 27, a nine-foot three-inch giant who weighs 400 pounds. Evans, who just arrived from England to join the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey Circus, said he was small for his age until he was 16. His ambition was to become a jockey. Closer to the ground are John Broad, 5, and his sister, Stephanie, 6, of Salt Lake City, who came over on the same ship with Evans.

BRANDY QUEEN—“Not goodbye, but Auf Wiedersehen,” says Anna-von Gurp, Asbach Brandy Queen, who tests the American occupation force members as they vacate the buildings of the Asbach company at Ruedenheim-on-the-Rhine. After six years of occupation, Americans are turning back the buildings to the Germans with the coming into force of the contractual agreement between Western Germany and the Western Allies.

THEY GO TOGETHER—Easter lilies and pretty girls blend perfectly for this study of the beauty and freshness of the spring season at Cypress Gardens, Fla. Kathy Darlyn, lily and the white blossoms as Betty MacDonald stands behind her, both wearing wide sunny smiles.

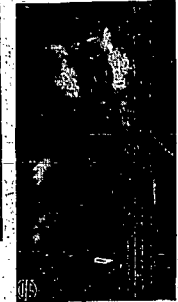

IN THE SPOTLIGHT—Reporters, radlomen, and well-wishers swarmed around Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois (wearing black bow tie) at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, March 27, at which President Truman startled the 5,000 Democrats assembled with the news that he will not run again. The President did not mention to whom he would throw his political support, but Stevenson is considered a likely choice.

MAID OF LILIES—The skirt of her dress resembling a mountain of blooms, a Bermuda “Lily Bride” rides on a float in the third annual pageant honoring the Bermuda Lily in Hamilton. The lily maid wears a lily headpiece with her bride's veil.

COMPLEMENTARY—The soft sheen of pearls and the brass glister of rhinestones are happily mated, according to Paris decree, by Cora. Identical pearl-and-rhinestone medallions are worn at the ears, in the center of a three-strand bracelet, and suspended from a three-strand choker. Glistening charms are hung from the pearl link bracelet on the other wrist.

PARDON MY YAWN—Charley the chimp, dressed in casual spring clothes at the zoo at Silver Springs, Fla., can't stifle a yawn when the fl comes on. Not his fault if people bore him just passing by his cage and looking at him all day.
