That sincerest form of flattery, "imitation," has been sneaking up on us. One of the columnists on a Detroit daily paper, has 'copped' one or two of our pet expressions, (which WE copped from the New Yorker), and not less than four of our items were lifted bodily and printed in said paper last Sunday. Ho hum and fiddle-de dee! Why don't those big shots pick on a gal their own size?

to be the Chalet. In his spare time, he became the current 'pet' of many elite households, where he entertained the guests by pulling bunnies out of their high hats and the silver spoons right out of their mouths. Some of the white tie set even went to the Royale to see him prestidigitate, and 'tis rumored that even though they were armed to the teeth with 'tails' and orchids, they did some obvious fumbling for cash to pay the piper, oops!, we mean the check.

Mrs. Ralph Jordan, whose original bon mots are quoted in our veddy best in these days of economic upheaval coicles, has Grosse Pointe chuckling over her latest. At a dinner party she recently gave, two of her guests stayed on long after everyone else had gone home. When they finally made a move to go, at about four A. Practice will be limited to one session daily hereafter on account of the opening of college, but even so, a week makes a lot of difference at this stage of the season.

Dorais was much impressed by the showing of some of the sophomores in the opening game and it is becoming more and more certain that several of last year's regulars will have to fight or their jobs. So far as the backfield is concerned there seems little cause for worry. Dorais has enough good backs to put four effective combinations in the field if necessary. He plans, however, to operate only two teams as playing entities and to keep the balance of the squad as individual replacements for these two.

The problem of finding enough tackles to keep a pair of good ones constantly on duty is still unsolved. Dorais is giving everyone on the squad who has the required build a chance at the tackle position, but it looks as if his is going to be the weak spot in the team, once Ted Pavelec and Bill Nienstedt, the starting combination, have left the field. The end situation, which was causing some worry at the start of practice, seems to be clearing up, (Continued from Page One)

Library to Close Friday Sept. 29

The Grosse Pointe Public Library. which has maintained its headquarters in the Grosse Pointe Park municipal building for the past ten years, will close Friday September 29.

This library was first opened as a branch of the Wayne County Library on December 19, 1928, with a collection of 895 books. When the residents of Grosse Pointe voted to establish a public library under the direction of the Board of Education, this branch was the main library for the entire school district. During the ten years since it has been organized, the book collection has increased to over 10.000 volumes. There are 4,369 registered borrowers and during the past fiscal year 86,619 books were borrowed for home use from this library.

The library will be closed for two days, September 29th and 30th, so that the book collection may be moved and arranged in the new quarters in the John D. Pierce Junior High School. The new library, will be for the present the Main Library for the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

The opening date will be Monday, October 2nd and the hours will be from 10 A. M. until 9 P. M., daily except Sundays and holidays.

school each student is asked and expected to pay $2.50 for a students association ticket which entitles him to admission to all athletic games, subscription to three magazines-The Tower, The Quorem and The View Pointe and several other privileges. If the student doesn't buy he is pointed out as a poor sport and told he is spoiling the record of the home room. They are urged to have 100% in seiling the tickets. Now I submit that in the case of the family with three children in high school or even two, that is a waste. What is the need for 3 copies of the same magazine in the same home? The View Pointe appeals to the small group with-photography as a hobby but to satisfy the principal's desire for publicity. (He sent copies all over the country last year to show his conferre what a big shot he was.) it must be put across. The children have to buy it or else feel inferior. Also last year Remus talked the Student Association leader into loaning $1,600 of their money for band uniforms, promising that it would be paid back. So far very little has been paid and prospects for getting the money back look poor. There are a lot of players in the band who can't even tune their instruments yet and certainly the band is not a credit to us yet. The school board gave the Student Association a vote of thanks for providing the uniforms after majority of the teams seem to be in Remus told them that the students good shape, and from all indications had offered to pay the cost. The facts are that they were almost made to Soime of the Student Association's money is supposed to be used for talent for assembly programs. Last year the assemblies were very mediocre. I don't send my children to school to be regimental but to be educated and I resent the methods used to accomplish things at the high school. I am a believer in cooperative effort for the general good but think we have a promoter not an educator, as high school principal. I say don't force our

Progress, in its highest sense, means working with God, and is eviichment. But right reward necessarily follows righteous endeavor, and is inseparable from it. In these inspiring words Mrs. Eddy has assured us of ever-present divine help (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 113): "Di-vine Love is our hope, strength, and when Love is at the helm of thought but everything to enjoy on earth and in heaven."-The Christian Science more welcome to an aviator than that of "unlimited visibility," with its assurance of a clear atmosphere, unobstructed ceiling, smooth passage. Not alone to an aviator, but to others also, is the significant, hinting something deeper than the mere technical implications. For instance, in whatever walk of life one may find himself, what peace and joy would come from an assurance of definite, continuous progress with no obstructions or reversals! Such assurance is by no means impossible of achievement. If one were to depend simply upon mortal theories and panaceas for guidance and inspiration, he might sometimes enjoy temporary success, but ultimately he would experience disappointment and frustration. Yet in turning to the truth, founded on the Scriptures, he would have the sure basis for his hope, and realize progress and wellbeing. Throughout religious history. the consciousness of unlimited good has been the experience of many devout and spiritually-minded men and women. Christ Jesus possessed, in the highest degree, true spiritual vis-ion, which enabled him to overrule every untoward condition presented to him.

John, in the bleak setting of Patmos, was so imbued with spiritual light that he received a glorious vision of "a new heaven and a new earth" (Revelation 21:1). . . . The term "visible" is defined, in part, as "perceivable by the eye;" and also as "mentally perceptible." When one grasps in some measure the great facts of spiritual being which are not cognized by physical sight, the possibilities of spiritual vision are seen to be unlimited and unimpeded by material, finite condi-tions and would-be obstructions. In the words of Paul (II Corinthians 4:18), one learns to "look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal: but the things which are not seen are eternal." These eternal verities, discernible to spiritual sense, include illimitable goodness, affluence, and harmony.

Spiritual man is fetterless, unfallen, reflecting infinite Mind, God, his origin. Man's possibilities for expressing good and blessedness are therefore as unrestricted and inexhaustible as his source. In human experience, the arguments that would make for mistiness or obscureness—fear, doubt, discouragement, ignorance, worldliness, sin-are the outcome of the belief that man has a mortal existence separate from God. But Christian Science reveals man as the individual expression of divine Mind, incapable of knowing aught but perfection, since Mind is perfect. All attributes of God, including discernment, wisdom, and ability, are expressed by man.

Freedom from a false sense of responsibility and the depressing fear of failure are won as one realizes man's eternal oneness with his heav-enly Father. What serenity comes from the recognition that man, as God's idea or reflection, is dependent only on Mind for all capability and sagacity, and that this reflection is immutable, eternal, and irreversible! Likewise, to man, the flawless manifestation of Life, superstitious beliefs regarding sickness, age, accident, are unknown. However aggressive, terrifying, or stubborn the material sense, spiritual harmony alone is supreme and real. Apprehending this fact importunately and consistently, one can triumph over false beliefs and prove his God-given

God's gifts put man's best dreams to shame," a well-loved poet once wrote, as perhaps a gentle, though dency to outline what one might consider best and most desirable for his welfare. In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 591) Mrs. Eddy defines Mind, in part, as "Deity, which outlines but is not outlined.

Western State Next On University of Detroit's Schedule

(Continued from Page One) though there is no danger that the Titans will have a superfluity of good flankers. Several of the sophomore ends are working out better than had been expected and with experience they should prove adequate if not brilliant.

Left-halfback, a position that was splendidly filled by Ed Palumbo last season, again promises to be strong, in spite of the loss of this fine passer and kicker. Al Ghesquiere, who alternated with Palumbo last season, and "Mickey" McLaughlin, Charlie Brogen and Harry Groth, sophomore, all are looking good. All four are better than average passers and all but Groth can qualify as punters. For that matter, Groth, too, can punt well enonugh to get by in an emergency.

Following the Western State game, the Titans will have a two weeks' rest. Their next battle after that will be with Catholic University at Washington, D. C. on October 14.

What's the matter with this country is holding a luncheon and card party becoming a trifle more realistic than October 5, at 1:30 P. M., in the Pentidealistic. Why not ally with Germany this time and when it is all over take sovereignty over Canada, and the islands of the Carribean. Pages of the Louisa St. Clair Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution are getting in readiness for their winter program beginning with the meeting this week at the new home of their past Chairman, Mrs. Robert Rutherford (Jane Erickson) on Rutherford Road. The hostess used scarlet gladiolas about the rooms and on the luncheon table. Following lunch, Mrs. Elleworth Kramer, the new Chairman, presided at a business meeting at which plans for work, also for a get-together dinner dance, were discussed. Miss OlgaErickson was appointed Secretary for the year.

Louis St. Clair Juniors of the Daughters of the American Revolution were guests Monday, September 18th, at a buffet luncheon at the home of their Regent, Mrs. Paul Hale Bruske, on Pallister Avenue. Small lace covered tables and autumn fowers were assembed about the rooms bra and centerpièce in the dining room. Fred Lindbloom, Mrs. William Gregory fident persons. and Mrs. Harold Tanner assisted the hostess. Following the luncheon the At the Punch Juniorsmarked the end of their summer vacation by going into session for their first fall business meeting. A strenuous program of work is charted for the coming month beginning with a membership tea at which Mrs. Ellsworth Kramer will be hostess at the home of her mother, Mrs. George H. Hopper, Parkside Avenue, in October.

Sugar and Spice

I've long believed that one reason the art of canning and preserving grated orange and lemon rind, and has been neglected is that many of us have forgotten just how good some of the home canned foods can be. We've forgotten the teasing tang of pickling spices, the mellow aroma of rich fruit butters that used to make the air fragrant at canning time. Maybe we need only to be reminded of all this to restore a lost art to favor!

What pride of accomplishment; row upon row of jewel-colored jams, jellies and mar-

For Success in Canning and Preserving. 1. Make only a small amount of the product at one time. 2. Follow the recipe exactly.

3. Be sure that jelly glasses, jars, and covers are sterilized. 4. When they are to be filled with hot food, place the hot glasses or jars on a clean towel wrung out of hot water. 5. Use a small, inexpensive teapot for melting paraffin and pouring it. It eliminates dripping wax all over the glasses and your work table. 6. Store jams, jellies and preserves in a cool, dry place.

Brain Found to Control Three Phases of Energy

The all embracing law of energy is that it runs in cycles, declares Joseph Jastrow in his article, "The Story of Human Energies" appearing in a recent issue of Hygeia.

Life is a series of rhythms. The energy cycle presents the three phases of energizing, fatigue, and rest. In the core of the brain is a mechanism that sets your program from the cradle to the grave. Day in and day out, with allowance for emergencies and holidays, that portion of the brain has served you as a monitor of the energy cycle.

Conditioning the energy cycle is a chemical traffic system called metabolism. The feelings of energy and fatigue set up the go, caution and stop signs. The body needs more than rest to keep it going; it also needs food. Stoking goes on to supply nourishment; food is metabolized into energy.

It is true that muscles tire and that nerve fibers do not, any more than do the wires of an electric circuit over which the current runs. But it is still truer that the entire neuromuscular set-up is the focus of fatigue; the nerve battery runs

Sound of Voice

The sound of the human voice is as dependent for its pleasant qualities upon the air as it is upon the organs which produce the sound. Experiments were made by Dr. Ernst Barany, of the University of Upsala, Sweden, in which the air with which the lungs are normally filled was replaced by hydrogen. The subject under experiment exhaled air and breathed in hydrogen from a rubber bag. Using the hydrogen as a medium for carrying the sound waves he spoke many test syllables which were studied in many ways and compared with the sounds produced when air was breathed. The lighter gas in the body cavities caused some of the sound frequencies in the voice to be raised one to two octaves. Test listeners were able to understand only about two-thirds of the syllables spoken.

Widows Remarry

Although climatic and latitudinal variations probably complicate the question, a court case in Sydney, Australia, in which a widow claimed $10,000 damages for the loss of her husband who had been killed while working on the railway, has revealed from the investigations of counsel, the surprisingly high percentages of remarriages. An actuary said the proportion of widows of 33 who would remarry within 23 years was 56 per cent.

Stops Drafts!

A new device to stop drafts entering under a closed door has been invented by a Cleveland. Ohio. firm. It screws on the bottom of a door and automatically flips up and out of the way of carpets when the door is opened, flips back again when the door is closed.

Christening of Ships

The custom of christening a new ship is a survival of an ancient custom of dedicating each ship to one of the protecting gods. Usually vessels bore images of the deities to which they were consecrated. Wine was always used in such ceremonies and nowadays champagne is usually chosen. The chronicles of the monks of St. Denys refer to a trip that the bishop of Bangor made to Southampton in 1418 to bless one of the king's ships that was about to be launched. In our country the custom is still followed and airships, too, are christened by breaking the traditional bottle of champagne on the propeller.

White House Dinner Service The White House dinner service, which was purchased in 1934, consists of 1,000 pieces of ivory-colored Lenox china, bordered in dark blue and gold and bearing the President's crest. The blue border of each piece is studded with 48 gold stars and the gold band is encrusted with motifs from the Roosevelt coat of arms. The china service includes 10 dozen each of large place plates, luncheon plates, bread and butter plates, coffee cups, tea cups, afterdinner coffee cups, soup cups and bouillon cups and plates. The White House uses silver service platters and others to match the gold service. In consequence, no service platters were ordered for this set.

Actual Weight of Germs Determined by Science

Germs are so small that it takes 300,000,000,000 of an average germ to weigh a pound. Under favorable conditions they multiply so rapidly that one germ at the end of a day, would have 16,500,000,000 descend-

Germs, as seen under the microscope, appear as little round dots, or rod-shaped organisms or as long, slender filaments. They get into the body with food and water, with the air we breathe, through open wounds on the skin, or the bite of an insect. Some germs produce disease by developing a poison which is absorbed by the body. Others break up in the body and the products of their disintegration are poisonous. Sometimes germs float around in clumps of the blood and cause death by developing in overwhelming numbers. Some germs attack certain organs of the body, and so injure them that death re-

Germs pick the places in the body in which they can live best. The pneumococcus settles in the lungs and produces pneumonia. It may also infect the eye or the spine. Germs of meningitis nearly always settle on the coverings of the spinal cord and the brain. The typhoid germ settles in the intestines. The germs of hydrophobia and epidemic encephalitis attack the nervous system. The germs of tuberculosis, although preferably entering by way of the lung, may affect any tissue in the body. Thus there is tuberculosis of bones, joints, the eye and the nervous system. The organism that causes syphilis attacks every organ and tissue in the body.

The best preventive for anyone is to keep in such fit condition that infectious disease will not readily attack him. That means eating a suitable diet, getting enough exercise and suashine, enough rest and cleanliness, including frequent bathing and plenty of soap and water.

'Keep to the Right' Is Early American Saying

Why do Americans drive to the right instead of to the left, as Englishmen and Frenchmen do, and as even Canadians did until the left hand steering wheel on American cars reformed them?

The practice dates from the 1750s, according to researchers of the American Road Builders' association. The driver of the great lumbering Conestoga wagons whic' came into general use about tha. time sat on the left wheel horse, the better to use his whip hand on the others of the team when neces-

When two of these wagons met. therefore, they moved from the middle of the narrow road to the right, so the drivers, sitting on the left side, could be sure the left wheels got safely by. Smaller, lighter vehicles, naturally followed the deep ruts marked by the big freight

These same drivers who so arbitrarily decreed that future generations of American citizens should drive to the right also fathered another familiar American institution. They wanted a long smoke, and a cheap one. Ingenious Pittsburgh tobacconists were quick to oblige. They named their product "Conestogas" and the teamsters carried stocks of them in their boats. That

Chinese Radio

Long before radio filled the ether with everything from swing to symphonies the Chinese enjoyed music from the air by attaching melodious whistles to the tails of hundreds of pigeons released over their cities. One of these pigeons, outfitted with such whistles, is on exhibition in the Chinese section of the anthropological collections at Field Museum of Natural History. Exhibited with it are various other whistles of the type made from reeds and small gourds and having from two to eight pipes each. Sitting in a garden or rid-ing through the streets of Pieping, one hears these aerial concerts mingled with the calls and sounds of street venders

She's Whole School

If there were a parent-teacher association in Alba, Calif., Mrs. Gladys Peterson would be it. She is principal and teacher at the picturesque little school and also the mother of its only four pupils. She's teacher to David, John, Dolly and Sammy, but in her role of mother she also has Jimmy and Tippy, too young for classes. The highest number of pupils she has had is nine, but she had to see them through eight grades and it was quite a job. The schoolhouse, built in the style of the nineties, painted red and featuring a belfry, serves also as a dance hall and branch library.

Costly Rush

At 9:30 o'clock one night Irving Ungar was arrested for driving 50 miles an hour near Lakewood, N. J. He was fined $5 and costs. At 10:20 p. m. his brother, Edward, was arrested for making 65 miles. He was fined $10 and costs. At 11:45 p. m. Sidney Ungar, another brother, was arrested in Forked River, 20 miles south of here. He was going 50. The fine was $2 and costs. The three young men were returning to their New York homes in separate cars from a family reunion at Atlantic City.

Disraeli's Home

Hughenden manor, home of Benjamin Disraeli, earl of Beaconsfield. prime minister of Britain during Victoria's reign, has been opened to the public as a museum.
