

Grosse Exaggerations

By A. PRYOR

If the weather man doesn't cut out all this nonsense, we are going to have to take the matter in our own hands. Even the moths don't know which way to nibble. Only last Sunday, we snatched a bathing suit right out from under their noses and went swimming.

Tuesday, October 24, is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Detroit Junior League and the J. L. -ers are going to celebrate it at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, with a dinner and entertainment. We hear that the surprise program will be as funny as you-know-what and with all the talent in the Junior League, whatever they 'cook up' ought to be GOOD.

"The Three Bears"—(modern version). Papa Bear, Mama Bear and Baby Bear were taking a walk through the woods, when suddenly they became tired and decided to sit down and rest. By mistake, they sat down on a patch of cactus, so the Papa bear and the Mama bear jumped up screaming with pain, but the Baby bear remained comfortably seated. When the Papa bear noticed this, he said to the Mama bear, "Odds bearkins, are we raising one of those dead end kids?"

One of our billions of readers sent us the following news clipping from Dallas, Texas: "The District Attorney's office declined today to list a church as a nuisance. A peer tavern operator complained that the organ, choir and preaching from a nearby church drowned out the music of his nickel-odeon and drove his customers away."

Dept. of Bolts and Nuts!

On the night when the war crisis had everybody's ear glued to their radio, a little social group in Grosse Pointe gathered together at the house of a prominent socialite, whose eye-compelling and artful haberdashery always makes us say, "Ahhh." Every one present was babbling on about the war, when suddenly their host rushed to the telephone and put in a long distance call. The guests reacted as all well-bred guests should; they tempered their conversation so as to be able to hear what the great man was saying. Perhaps they thought that some important 'pearl' would be eaves-dropped from his lips. Finally, the growing agitation in his voice caused them to drop all pretense and get down to the important business of listening. This is what they heard: "I KNOW it looks bad. Now please do as I say; cable our tailor in London and have him ship immediately, a few bolts of that material for our tuxedos. If this war lasts for any length of time, we may not be able to get that material for ages and we'd better be prepared."

Orson Welles was a big disappointment on Sunday night, doing 'Algiers' with Paulette Goddard. The Goddard compass leads us to a perfect degree of lounge-itude and lassitude. Methinks that all the publicity coming out of Hollywood, in regard to her ability, is due to a Chaplin in the wood pile. Ah, well, some girls carve their careers and others chisel them.

Who is the bright young man about town, who, when friends dropped him at his house the other night, insisted it was not his house. To humor him, they drove all over the Pointe in the wee hours of yawning, and when they finally arrived back at his house, he viddy grandly zig-zagged out of the car and said in an injured tone, "THIS is MY house. Why didn't you take me here in the first place?"

Our Editor has been hinting that we take time out to visit the Fair and report the latest goings on in N. Y. and since we are every other inch a lady, we can't very well refuse. Soooo, with a brave little smile on our lips, we go forth to face the wicked East, where you shall receive (from our histrionic pen), all the gruesome details that our eyes behold. We may even sow a wild oat. Whoopee!

Are You Ready?

Are you prepared for the many Hallowe'en Dancing Parties coming soon? Elaine Marie Arndt says there is still time for beginners to learn the fundamentals of ballroom dancing, or to add a few new styles to those of the experienced dancer. Don't be a wallflower at the next Hallowe'en dance.

All equipment for handling the diversified products will be the most modern and efficient obtainable."

Mr. Moir states that the Farms Market will handle a complete line of table delicacies, fresh meats, game, poultry, sea food, fresh vegetables and fruits, dairy products, general groceries and staples, and Birdseye Frosted Foods.

An added attraction is the opening in the Farms Market of a branch of the Woman's Exchange of Detroit.

Vida Burroughs Weds John A. Merry

Vida Lucile Burroughs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Burroughs, of Maryland avenue, and John Arthur Merry, son of Mrs. William Brockway, of Miami, Florida, and Mr. Arthur A. Merry, of Cranford Lane, Grosse Pointe, were married October 7 at six o'clock in the evening at Jefferson Ave. Methodist Church by the Rev. Harry T. Howard before a background of palms, white flowers and candelabras. The bride was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of moire brocade fashioned with snug basque, buttoned down the front with the full skirt having a semi-train. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a band of orange blossoms in the center of which was a lover's knot of the same blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white gladiolus and baby mums.

The maid of honor, Miss Virginia Pauli, wore fuchsia taffeta, full skirted with a Queen Ann basque. Mrs. Mary Jane Burroughs and Mrs. Vera Cooper acted as bridesmaids, their gowns of grape wine taffeta, were same model as the maid of honor. All wore grape wine ostrich feather headdress. Little Miss Carol Ann Cooper was the flower girl, and wore orchid taffeta made with long hoop effect skirt. They all carried colonial bouquets or orchid and white mums.

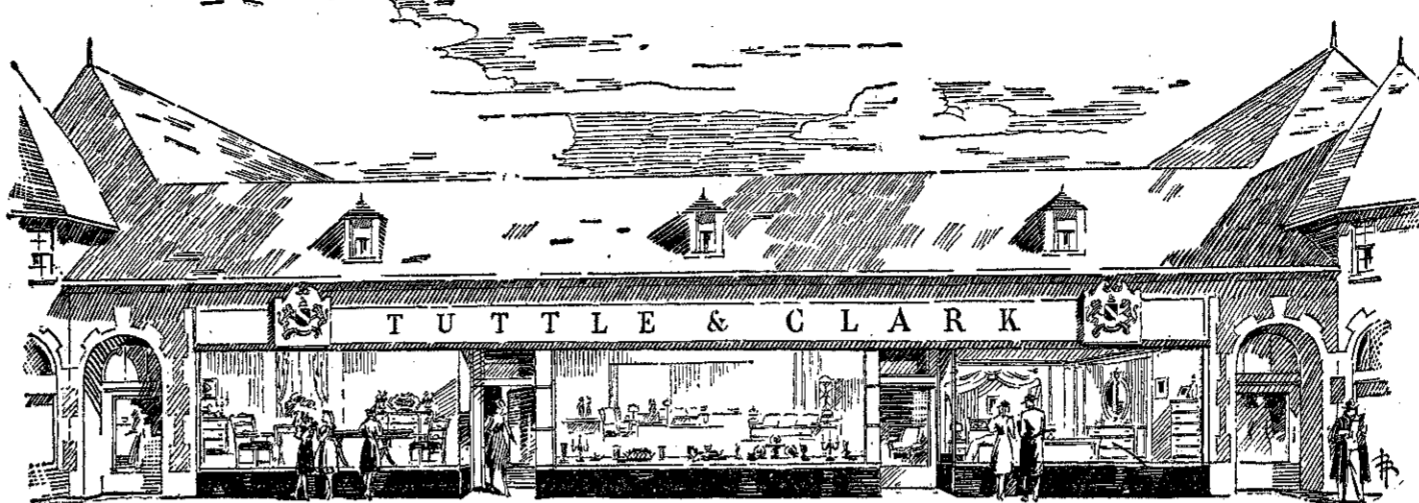

The bride's mother wore a teal blue broadwale crepe with corsage of white gladiolus centered with pink rose buds, as did the groom's mother, who wore a black crepe gown, the ballero piped in gold, and wore gold sandals.

Schuyler Goodrich, of Pittsfield, Mass., acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs. William Harris, Charles Wright, Maurice DeVilliger and Laurel Burroughs.

A reception was held afterwards at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Cooper, 161 McMillan road, where a buffet lunch was served. After cutting her three-tiered cake, the bride changed to her brown traveling suit with brown accessories, threw her bouquet to the next bride, and left on a two weeks motor trip to New York and Massachusetts.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. William Brockway, of Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Charles Foote, grandmother of the groom, of Pittsfield, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sager and son, Richard, Miss Jeannette Brewer, of Pittsfield, Mass.; Mrs. Sarah Butler, Mrs. L. B. Royce and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McCaslin, from Lansing.

We expected the owner would call for same but up to the present time we have heard nothing. We believe that this film is very valuable to the party who lost same for the reason that on the carton it says 'Jeanette, Carolyn and Stan's birthday, July 14, 1938.'"

Ingenious Masks Used in Production of Play

The Junior Program ballet, "Pinocchio," featuring Edwin Strawbridge, which will be presented next Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock and afternoon at 1:30, in the Pierce Junior High School, will have as one of its outstanding features a set of masks made by Bil Baird, one of the outstanding masters of the craft in America.

These clever caricatures which identify the characters of the different members of the ballet, open the way for a branch of handicraft which is not given the proper place in many school programs. Combining modeling, color work and processing, mask making also releases the creative, imaginative skill which many children possess but are rarely inspired to use. Educators throughout the country have recently been attracted by exhibitions of masks made of each other by young children who are studying the art as one phase of puppet-making.

Bil Baird, who created "The Cat," "The Fox," "Dr. Crow," "Two White Mice," "Dr. Owl," and the other well-known "Pinocchio" masks for Edwin Strawbridge, was born in Mason City, Iowa, and is a graduate of Iowa State University, where he specialized in making scenery with Professor Roach. After further study in scenery and staging at the Chicago Art Academy, he went to Europe to develop his high school hobby of puppet-making.

Among his outstanding accomplishments have been creations for Tony Sarag, three years of participation in the nationally-known Thanksgiving parades; two seasons with his own puppets at the World's Fair in Chicago; and one season with the Chrysler Advertising Marionettes. The masks which many famous band leaders use in impersonating other equally well-known members of their profession were also made by this American man who developed his hobby into a life work.

During the last few years his pursuit of his hobby—marionettes—has led him to experiments in motion pictures of these fanciful little manipulated characters.

It is safe to say that Baird's "Pinocchio" masks will leave many members of the audience next Saturday morning and afternoon with a desire to delve into this craft bodily and, with proper guidance, may lead to the creation of another artist like himself.

Grace Church to Hold Anniversary Service Sun.

On Sunday, October 15, Grace Church, Lakepointe at Kercheval, will celebrate the 15th anniversary of the founding of the church, and the third anniversary of the new church. There will be services both morning and evening, with special musical features at both.

Grace church was organized in a home, held the first services in a store building, graduated to a hall, and finally built a little frame chapel at Lakepointe and Kercheval. Three years ago, this frame chapel gave way to a beautiful stone structure, which graces the corner it occupies. The frame chapel still serves as headquarters for nursery, kindergarten, and primary departments of the church school. The congregation has more than doubled in membership since the new church was erected. Warner H. Siebert is the pastor of the church, having come here in January, 1935.

The morning service on October 15, will take place at 11 o'clock, the evening service at 8 o'clock. Rev. A. B. Meyer, of St. Matthews Church, Concord at Stuart, will be the preacher at the evening service.

The public is invited to these services.

3500 Jam Pierce, Laud Structure

In the greatest out-pouring of people ever witnessed at a Grosse Pointe indoor event, between 3,500 and 4,000 enthusiastic Grosse Pointers inspected the new John D. Pierce Junior High School Monday night and left behind them the verdict of "Well done!"

The record throng which made an orderly and unhurried procession through the $278,000 structure was only the latest in a series of superlatives that have marked the history of the building from start to finish.

Finally voted after the longest period of preliminaries attending any Grosse Pointe public school, the Pierce Junior High was approved by the largest majority ever to vote affirmatively on a Grosse Pointe school project. The election September 27, 1938, not only gave a 9 to 1 majority but brought the largest turn-out of voters in the district's history.

The school was placed on a site which was, up till then, the cheapest in cost of any purchased by the Board of Education since the consolidation of the five Grosse Pointe communities into one school district in 1922.

The school, situated in what has been termed "America's fastest growing metropolitan suburb," was erected in record time. Two days less than nine months elapsed from groundbreaking, December 8, 1938, to completion, September 6, 1939. The school has been described as one of the fastest big P. W. A. school projects in America.

The building represented the lowest cost to local real estate taxpayers of any Grosse Pointe school house, as a federal grant of nearly $400,000 was obtained for it. Since then, the federal government has rejected and returned to communities throughout the country more than 5,000 P. W. A. grant applications.

The building opened for pupils with the rest of the school system on September 18, filled more nearly to capacity than any other public school building in the Pointe. Five-sixths of the 900-pupil capacity was used up the first day, and the Grosse Pointe High School, which the Pierce School was designed to relieve, is reported to be filled to 99 1/2 per cent of capacity.

With the P. W. A. 45 per cent outright grant, the Board of Education placed in the building a fuller complement of equipment and furniture than has been possible in any of the previous buildings except part of the Grosse Pointe High School. The building is furnished for its full capacity of 900 pupils.

According to Charles A. Parcells, president of the School Board, the opening day at the school was the smoothest he had observed in either new or old buildings in his 13 years of membership on the School Board.

Only superlatives also seemed to be used by Board members and others who spoke to the huge crowd Monday night by means of the school building's new public address-radio system.

Introduced by Dr. E. R. Van Kleeck, Superintendent of Schools, Branson V. Gamber, of Derrick and Gamber, Inc., architects of the Pierce School, was one of the early speakers Monday night.

"I share your pleasure in going through this building tonight," Mr. Gamber said, "and I hope you all realize that for this outstanding achievement great thanks are due the Board of Education and Dr. Van Kleeck and his corps of very able associates. You will find reflected in the building the ideas that they have been furnishing us throughout the last year. Every feature in the junior high school has been stacked up against three standards: Is it the best? Is it the most modern? And is it truly economical? Many desirable features not really essential have been purposely left out to keep down the burden on the taxpayers as much as possible, but nothing necessary to the proper functioning of the school has been omitted.

"As you admire the attractions of the building, I hope you will at the same time observe the evidences of the careful study that has gone into making the building economical over a long period of years and I trust that you will give credit where it is due to the Board, the school staff, and all others associated with the building," Mr. Gamber concluded.

"No one here tonight has put more of himself into not only this building but into every effort for bettering the educational opportunities of our boys and girls than has the President of the Board of Education," declared Superintendent Van Kleeck in introducing Mr. Parcells.

Mr. Parcells reviewed briefly the long struggle to get Grosse Pointe's first junior high school.

"Only last December did the steam shovels start," he went on. "Last month we moved in. The speed of construction is quite notable, and in all our experience with new school buildings in Grosse Pointe, we have had nothing to equal it. The school board's staff—Dr. Van Kleeck, Mr. Barnes, Mr. Allen, Mr. Leavitt, and all the others—have worked unbelievably hard to think out every last detail."

Mr. Parcells described the problems of the Board in obtaining an adequate site and the earlier attempts to get a junior high school voted. "A year ago last July, we really got started and a year ago last month we bought this site," he said.

"We have tried to plan one of the very finest plants for the junior high school type of education and we really feel that this has been accomplished. The supervising engineers of the Public Works Administration have indicated their agreement on this and I think they are as proud of this building as are we."

Ralph M. Clark, Secretary of the School Board, extended a hearty welcome to those present. "We on the Board have derived great satisfaction from this project," he declared. "We have enjoyed especially the experience and now we must think of the future. As always, it will be up to you taxpayers to say what you want and what you will support in the way of adequate housing for your children."

The same thought was voiced later in the evening in another broadcast by J. Lee Barrett, a member of the Board of Education and Director for Michigan of the National Association of School Boards.

"Never before has an adequate school system been more vital to the perpetuation of American democracy," affirmed Mr. Barrett.

"Never before has the importance of the teachers' influence been greater. Perhaps we parents leave too much to the schools, but that seems to be the trend and it means inevitably that, in our troubled world situation, you parents and taxpayers must not hesitate to come to the Board of Education with your questions, criticisms and suggestions. We want them and we welcome them, for our aim is only to do what we can for the next generation of adults. These boys and girls will be running our country in only a few years."

Other members of the Board are Charles A. Poupard and Albert E. Meder.

Charles E. Leavitt, Principal of the school, was introduced by Dr. Van Kleeck and spoke briefly. Mr. Leavitt was assisted in the arrangements by (Continued on Page Five)

"Goodbye, Mr. Chips" at Punch and Judy

Following his success in "The Citadel," Robert Donat again returns to the screen, this time as the lovable schoolmaster of "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," filmization of James Hilton's famous novel. With Donat comes a colorful new feminine lead in Greer Garson, beautiful English actress. The story, with a romantic love theme, has a new angle in the glorification of the work and influence of the profession of teaching. Donat plays the title role, a British schoolmaster. His work, his romance, the tragedy of the death of his wife, has shaping of careers of future great men, are the dramatic elements.

The first meeting of the Richard School Parent Teacher Association takes place in the auditorium of the school on Tuesday evening, October 17, at 8 p. m. The speaker will be Mr. William B. Stout, head of the Stout Engineering Laboratories. He is widely known as an author and speaker, and his talks are always stimulating, interesting, and above all, entertaining and humorous. He will talk on the subject "Transportation—yesterday and tomorrow."
 Parents are invited to come and visit the classrooms from 7:30 p. m. to 8 p. m. This presents an excellent opportunity for parents to meet their child's teacher and discuss their child's work.

Parents of Richard School children, their relatives and friends are invited to all P. T. A. meetings.
 On Tuesday, October 3, Mrs. Merrill and Miss Whitehead entertained about thirty of their afternoon group mothers at tea. The occasion gave the teachers an opportunity to become better acquainted with the mothers and to tell them what they hoped to have kindergarten do for their children this coming year.

Hon. Hugh Gibson to Lecture at Town Hall

The Hon. Hugh Gibson, former Minister to Poland and Switzerland and ex-Ambassador to Belgium and Brazil, will arrive in this country from London October 15. He will come directly to Detroit where he will give his first United States lecture before the Detroit Town Hall audience in the Fisher Theatre Wednesday, October 18, at 11 a. m.

For the past six months, this distinguished diplomat has visited the countries of Europe, interviewing the personalities who control present-day history. He brings to his subject, "What's Happening in Europe," an eye-witness knowledge based on years of experience in the diplomatic service. Since the beginning of the current war, Mr. Gibson has broadcast from Europe frequently, and from mid-August to mid-September he gave a regular series of broadcasts over the Blue Network, speaking on such subjects as "British Attitude Today," "Germany's Attitude Today," "The Place of Spain in Europe," and "What Europe Thinks of Us."

Few men have served on so many of the delegations and committees to world conferences which have wrestled with the great problems of disarmament, mediation and trade relations. Mr. Gibson's activities along these lines included the chairmanship of the Conference for Limitation of Naval Armament in 1927, the acting chairmanship of the U. S. delegation at the Disarmament Conference in Geneva in 1932. He is author of three important books: "A Journal from Our Legation in Belgium," "Rio, 1937" and "Belgium, 1939." Tickets are on sale now at Grinnell's box office, Randolph 1124.

Fall Clothing Drive in Pointe Oct. 16-20

The Grosse Pointe Public Schools are again co-operating with the Neighborhood Club and the Volunteers of America in sponsoring a clothing drive to be held during all of next week, October 16 to 20 inclusive.

The response to the clothing drives of last year was most gratifying. By means of the clothing obtained, all children and adults in the Grosse Pointe communities needing clothing during the past year were well cared for. The workers at the Neighborhood Club who have charge of the distribution of clothes to needy persons in this area report that their supply of clothing and shoes is now very low and that additional supplies are needed.

All materials collected in this drive will be turned over to the Neighborhood Club for distribution. Clothing in excess of the amount needed by the local community will be given to the Volunteers of America for general distribution to needy families throughout the Detroit Metropolitan area. The Volunteers of America are equipped to renovate and repair all types of clothing and shoes, so wearing apparel even in the need of repair, as well as that in a wearable condition is desired.

Campfire News
 The scribes of the southeastern district Campfire groups were entertained Wednesday evening, in the Moran road home of Mrs. Harry G. Hinckley. Miss Doris Trott, journalism instructor in the Grosse Pointe High School, gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the fine points of writing for the press.
 Following a round of lively games directed by Miss Rozanne Roark, the district Campfire field worker, the group were served a buffet supper.

This is a subject which is the most popular in horticulture and this will be an occasion which no rose lovers should miss. While Mr. Ayers is a professor of mathematics he is one of the best known rosarians in the country, having been chosen by the most of the rose growers to try out their new roses to see how they perform in this section of the country and then he writes "The Proof of the Pudding" for the Rose Annual telling of the results. Mr. Ayers is a delightful speaker and will be very glad to answer any questions as to culture, varieties and how to cure their ills.

Mrs. Horace B. Peabody, president of the Garden Center will be in charge of the meeting which is free and open to the public.

Article by Leavitt

The "Vocational Guidance Digest" in its September number prints the summary of an article by Charles E. Leavitt, principal of the John D. Pierce Junior High School of Grosse Pointe and formerly assistant principal and director of guidance in the Grosse Pointe High School. Mr. Leavitt's article was entitled "The Threefold Function of Placement." It appeared originally in the American School Board Journal last spring.

The Veterans' Corner

In order to make this column more interesting I would like to start something new and novel—intimate anecdotes and experiences of you veterans, covering the period before and during the Great War, "for Democracy, or what have you."

There must be some colorful experiences which will make interesting reading and which will make a nice collection for our historian to file away for future use, so, if you are interested contact me at one of the meetings. To give you an idea of what it is all about, how many of you know that Charley "Dickinson" Bishop, chairman of the "no-booze" Halloween Party which we are going to run, (incidentally, did you procure your tickets yet?) . . . well to go on . . . Charley was in Germany during the eventful summer of the start of the Great War. Don't you think it would be interesting to get this story out of him? How he managed to get out of there? Your scribe was an able bodied seaman on a British steamer, and could have thrown a stone aboard the German Raider Karlsruhe the morning England declared war on Germany in Havana Harbor. Interesting? I think so.

What we want is stories of your exciting adventures. We may even allow a little flight into the realms of exaggeration of the basic facts are authentic. You know, soldier's license. Notice I did not say sailors or marines. Speaking of marines, we have a lot of them in our Post. They have been in China, the Philippines, Hawaii, Nicaragua, the Caribbeans, France and elsewhere. Certainly we can get some copy there. We must have a sailor around who made the famous "Roosvelt" trip around the world in 1906-07 when Teddy was shaking the "Big Stick" at some of the big nations, showing them the pride of the U. S. Navy of the day, the Virginia, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Georgia, Louisiana (Clem Whiteley's old home), New Hampshire, and others.

Take Al Zarb, for instance. His father was an officer in the British Garrison on the island of Malta. We ought to get some stories from him. What about the Big Storm of January 15, 1918, when the foremost of the U. S. S. Michigan bent in a semi-circle, its top under water and the loss of seven men. Any of you fellows on the Michigan? How about the zero hour in the trenches. Lots of you fellows went "over the top," or out in No Man's Land trying to pick up a prisoner to get information out of him.

Well, enough for now, you have the general idea of what your scribe is getting at, so start thinking back 20 or 25 years and I'll be seeing you.

After a long summer vacation, Scouting in Grosse Pointe is beginning its winter activities with renewed vigor. Several of the troops have had their first meetings and very soon, the lists of patrol leaders will be published. At the Convention of the Sacred Heart, both Scout Troop and Brownie Pack are already planning the work for the coming year. Last Monday, Brownie Pack No. 13, with Mrs. E. R. Romine as Brown Owl, met for the first time this fall, at the Christ Church Chapel.

Once more, a plea goes forth for adult help. There are many more girls of scout age than there are women who will help as leaders, assistant leaders, troop committee members and counselors in various crafts. Mrs. C. H. Moore, Group Organization Chairman for Grosse Pointe, will be glad to explain the work to anyone who wishes to call her at Niagara 3758. Any freshman or sophomore students at Wayne University can get college credit for assisting leaders of Girl Scout troops, so call Mrs. Moore before the ranks are filled up.

The first scribe has reported for duty. Nancy Mathewson of Troop 131, has the first article for the year. Until further notice, the scribes will please send their news to Mrs. Henry H. Hubbard, 49 Muskoka road, Grosse Pointe Farms, and it must be there by Saturday morning of each week. The scribes will meet on Monday, November 13 at 4 p. m., the place to be announced later. Mrs. Hubbard will greatly appreciate the scribes notifying her of their election before that date, and sending her news as soon as possible.

TROOP 131

Troop 131 met in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church for the first meeting this fall on Tuesday, October 3. They elected the officers as follows:

Patrol leaders:
I—Mary Chkoreff, Asst., Mary Lou Ewing.
II—Lois Melette, Asst. Ruth Ellen Neff.

Treasurer, Betty Winston.
Scribe, Nancy Mathewson.
Color bearers, Lorraine Christie and Barbara Clarke.

After the election of officers the troop played a few games. The troop was then dismissed. —N. M.

TROOP 180

Troop 180 held its second meeting of the season on October 2 at which time Phyllis Carl, Barbara Blare and Betsy Weldon were elected as patrol leaders. Katherine Scott was elected treasurer and Shirley Searles as scribe. Mrs. Taylor, mother of the troop leader is now assisting and is greatly enjoyed by all the girls. —S. S.

Det. Business Girls' Bible Fellowship

The only group in Detroit of its kind, organized solely for the benefits of business girls, is the Detroit Business Girls' Bible Fellowship. This group of young business women get together to study the Bible under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Wyckoff, a woman well-known in Detroit for her talks to girls. The warm and friendly atmosphere of the class has drawn many girls who feel the need of Christian teaching and fellowship.

The Fellowship meets at 6:45 Monday evenings in Room 602 of the downtown Y.W.C.A. The early hour for meeting makes it unnecessary for the business girls to go home before the meeting. Also, the class dismisses at eight o'clock, which allows any who have plans for the rest of the evening to get away in time.

All young women are welcome.

Miss Mary Padelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph M. Padelt, 1265 Buckingham road, recently was elected treasurer of the Richard Club at Marygrove College. Miss Padelt is a senior at Marygrove.

Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church

Next Sunday morning, regular services will be held under the direction of Rev. O. W. Burdette Olson in the Mason school on Vernier road. Church service starts at 9:30 a. m. and adults may bring their children at the same time. There is a Sunday school and worship service for all children from 2 to 11 years in their respective departmental groups. Children 12 years of age and over attend the first part of the church service, then go to their respective Sunday school classes. This program makes it possible for families to arrive and leave as units.

A junior choir is being organized under the direction of Kenneth Wallorff Smith, Mus. Bac., M. S. M. All children from 7 to 14 years of age are invited to attend the rehearsal at the Mason School Saturday, October 14, at 10 a. m.

The Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church

The organization of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church (Unitarian-Universalist), which created widespread interest last spring, has met with the united approval of Grosse Pointe residents. The services of worship which are held in Alger Museum each Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, are attracting many persons interested in liberal religion.

Members of the congregation have made generous gifts for the purchase of an organ which is proving entirely satisfactory under the skillful fingers of Mr. Malcolm John. Mr. Bates, the minister of this new parish, has been preaching an interesting series of sermons on the history of Unitarianism. After the completion of this series Mr. Bates plans to preach on diverse subjects which will be followed by a short series of sermons on the Universalist faith.

Mr. F. G. Jones has been appointed by the Board of Trustees to serve as chairman of the Music Committee. Mr. Boynton Hartz has been appointed head usher by the Board. Mrs. James K. Watkins and Mrs. John R. Decker are arranging a reception for Mr. Bates which will be held at the home of Mrs. Edward Bennett in the near future.

The Young People's Religious Union held its first meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Manson recently at which time Philip Leidich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Leidich of Harvard road was elected president; John Watkins, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Watkins of Cloverly road, vice president; Mary Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee S. Palmer of University Place, secretary; and Janet Paschall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Paschall of Kensington road, treasurer. The meetings of this organization will be held on the first and third Sundays of each month. Mrs. Lee S. Palmer and Miss Mary Palmer will act as hostesses at the next meeting which will be held at the Palmer residence.

The Church School under the able leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Angevine is meeting in the Grosse Pointe School for Little Folk on Notre Dame at 10:45 for the convenience of parents who, by this arrangement, are able to attend the church service. The Religious Education Committee has been fortunate in securing experienced teachers including Mrs. John E. Rutter, Miss Joan McPherson, Miss Mary Decker and Mrs. Lee S. Palmer. The enrollment is steadily increasing and plans are being made for a Halloween party for members of the Church School. The Religious Education Committee is in hopes that a junior choir will be organized before the Christmas holidays.

Christian Science Church

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 15, 1939.

The Golden Text (I John 21) is: "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Rev. 22:14): "Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 202): "The scientific unity which exists between God and man must be wrought out in life-practice, and God's will must be universally done."

Grosse Pointe Lutheran Church

"Turning God's Holy Day into a Holiday," will be the subject of the sermon at the Grosse Pointe Lutheran Church, worshipping in the Richard School auditorium, Kercheval and McKinley, Sunday morning, October 15, at 11 o'clock, preached by the Rev. M. Luther Canup, D. D., pastor. This is the third in a series on the Ten Commandments.

"The Temptation of Jesus" will be the topic taught in the upper grades of the Sunday School at 9:45 o'clock, in which school we have classes for all ages and grades.

New scholars are enrolled every Sunday. If you and your family are looking for a spiritual home in Grosse Pointe, we welcome you. We teach and preach the Holy Scriptures.

Eastminster Presbyterian Church

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. At 11 a. m. Dr. Kircher will preach the second in the series of sermons, "Nuts to Crack." The subject will be, "How Do I Know There Is a Future." Christian Endeavor Groups at 6:15 p. m.

At 7:30 p. m. we will have our annual Harvest Home services. The church will be decorated appropriately and the donations of fruits and vegetables will be given to the needy, at the close of the services. The senior choir will sing several special selection, under the direction of Mr. W. Bert Beery. Dr. Kircher will give a brief message.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 we will continue a study of the theme, "The Signs of the Times."

Jefferson Baptist Church

"We Betray Ourselves" will be the subject of the morning sermon by the Reverend Wayland Zwyer this Sunday at the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church. This hour of worship is at 11 and is preceded by the Church School at 9:45 a. m. A second session for the three younger departments and a nursery for the convenience of parents of little ones is conducted during the hour of morning worship. The Reverend Mr. Wayland Zwyer will also speak at the 7:30 Chapel Service which is preceded by the Young People's organization meetings at 6:30. If you are without a church home in this vicinity, the minister and members of the Jefferson Avenue Baptist church cordially invite you to make this church yours.

Messiah Lutheran

Southeast corner of Kercheval and Lakewood avenues. A. H. A. Loeber, pastor, 1434 Lakewood avenue. Telephone Lenox 2121.

Next Sunday, October 15, the congregation will observe its annual mission festival. Services will be held in the morning at 11:15, and in the evening at 7:45 o'clock. In the evening, there will be a guest preacher in the person of Rev. E. D. Beyer, pastor of Pilgrim Lutheran Church. The offerings on Mission Sunday will be made in support of the mission work of the Missouri Synod, of which Messiah Church is a member. This work is being carried on in the United States in about a dozen different languages, as well as in numerous foreign countries.

On the last two Sundays of this month, the fifteenth anniversary of the dedication of Messiah's church building will be celebrated. In the evening of Sunday, October 22, at 7 o'clock, a reunion service for all persons confirmed in the present building will be held.

Major Burns Henry Post News

Our recent campaign to get our Past Post Commanders out of hibernation is at long last bearing fruit, hob-nobbing with the proletariat at the last meeting, if one were observing, were the following... Zarb, Butts, and Lou Baldwin. We may live to see Krapp and Smith some day. Gradually the graduates of the Grosse Pointe College for Past Officers are reappearing upon the College Campus.

It is possible that the excellent Post cuisine is bringing them back, to mention some of the late handouts:

1. Knockwurst and kraut, a la Russ Murphy;
2. Chili con carne, a la Ted Endres;
3. Kuomintang chop suey a la Tex Hoyt; and coming soon: Spaghetti bolognese, by the master chef, Ernie Bel Barba.

You laggard members should turn out and enjoy the eats, euchre competition and yarn spinning with us.

Financially speaking, our recently-past Post functions have been flops; get behind this seasons ventures and make them successes.

1. Charlie Bishop's "Dickinson" party, at the Neighborhood Club, Saturday, October 28. General public cordially invited. Cider, coffee, doughnuts. Music by Comrade Simm's "Blue Knights." Nuf ced.
2. Armistice Day dance and jamboree, at Hartung Airport. Chairman, Tex Hoyt. Liquid (not cider and coffee) refreshments. Dancing and general merry making until the "wee sma' hours."
3. Party at our old Post headquarters on Mack avenue, jointly sponsored by the Roose-Vanker and Burns Henry Posts. Every Friday evening, 8:30 p. m. A good place to get your holiday fowl.

"De Convention Fuehrer" Tex Hoyt and his convention satellite Paul Zumbo have concocted a new scheme to assure a large following to the Boston Convention. They will bank any extra funds you may have weekly for "lay-away," such as 50 cents, $1.00, etc., until time to embark. Start now to assure a place in the caravan.

As our good Comrade Earl Cramer (any one see him lately?) used to say "The adjutant is in receptive mood for us," or was it arch truant Past Commander Clarence Smith? Newcomers into the Post are showing up the "Old Timers" by their attendance and interest in Post affairs. In fact this "new blood" has recreated our Post into a semblance of what it used to be in the Halcyon days. It wouldn't be surprising to me to see the Drum and Bugle Corps blossom forth in all its pristine glory one of these days. How about it?

Meetings first and third Wednesdays of the month. Come out and visit with your "Buddies."

Mrs. Lloyd DeWitt Smith, recording secretary national of the U. S. Daughters of 1812, will leave Tuesday, October 17, for Washington, D. C., to attend a meeting of the Board of Directors and a reception to be given by the District Society in Washington honoring the national officers.

Miss Bernice Moore and Paul Junge, Deans, and by the teachers in the building. Teachers were stationed in rooms throughout the structure. Twelve Boy Scouts of the junior high troop, and 46 members of Miss Moore's Service Club assisted as guides and in other ways.

Mrs. Bert Wicking, representing the Council of Parent-Teacher Associations of Grosse Pointe, announced the series of five presentations to be given at the Pierce auditorium. Each program will be presented twice, once on Saturday morning and once on Saturday afternoon. The first of the series will be "Pinochio." At five points throughout the building P. T. A. representatives disposed of tickets for the series. A few tickets still remain and can be obtained from any school or from P. T. A. representatives. William Iverson, teacher of English and journalism at the Pierce School, who is sponsor of the school's newspaper, the "Pierce Arrow," had charge of the radio broadcasting. Mr. Iverson, who formerly taught at the Grosse Ile High School, has also served as announcer and radio newscaster over Buffalo radio stations. Literature descriptive of the school was distributed to the first 1500 guests, but supplies were quickly exhausted. Seven hundred visitors arrived in the first seven minutes after 7:30 o'clock. Besides parents and other taxpayers, there were pupils present from the Pierce School and the high school, officials of the Grosse Pointe municipalities, principals and teachers from other schools, Parent Teacher Association representatives, and numerous Detroit school teachers and principals. Scores of the visitors entered the building through the side entrances, the public library and the auditorium and most of these were not counted. Many signed the school's guest book. In the student publications office visitors were presented with copies of Volume 1, No. 1, the "Pierce Arrow."

The inspection had been scheduled to end at 9 o'clock but it was after 11 before the last guests left the building. Early arrivals were given a note of welcome signed by Dr. Van Kleeck. It read as follows:
"The Board of Education, the administrative staff of the school system and the faculty of the Pierce School bid you welcome. We hope you will return again to visit this new building. As you inspect its facilities, you will bear in mind that the object in constructing it has been to achieve genuine, ultimate economy, in terms of long life of building, equipment and furniture, plus ease and cheapness of maintenance. More important even than these, has been our goal to produce a school which will exemplify the best tested modern thought in school-house construction and which will be suitable to a community like ours."
The date for the formal dedication program, at which we hope Professor William Lyon Phelps will speak, has not yet been set. It will be possible at that occasion to accommodate in the auditorium only a portion of those who will doubtless desire to be present. An almost unlimited number of persons can, however, be accommodated throughout the building, in the public and pupil libraries, the gymnasiums, classrooms, etc. By means of the building's public-address radio system, all should be able to hear perfectly. Perhaps when our second junior high school is built, we shall have television! At any rate, the Board of Education desires you to know that you are most welcome, not merely tonight but also at the dedication program."

The new Grosse Pointe University of Michigan Alumni Association will hold its second meeting at the Pierce School October 25, it was announced. On Friday evening, November 3, the Pierce School will conduct its first 7-B Open House, and on Friday evening, December 1, its first 8-A Open House. On Sunday afternoon, December 17, the junior high school vocal music department will present its first annual Candlelight Vesper Service in the Pierce auditorium.

Painting Classes to Be Held at Alger House

A painting class for children will be held in the studio at Russell A. Alger House by Harold Cohn on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. The class term will be twelve weeks, from October 14 of January 13, with tuition at seven dollars for the term. This class is designed to teach fundamentals for creative painting for children from seven to fourteen years old. All materials are furnished by the instructor. Early registration is advised as the class is strictly limited in size. Telephone Tuxedo 2-4888.

To enumerate the many interesting exhibits, the new and modern features, the remarkably fine equipment that, taken all together, make the John D. Pierce School so outstanding would be useless repetition since they have been so aptly described in speech and through the Review and other members of the press.

Enthusiasm and Pride Mark Pierce's Debut

By THE REVIEWER
People, people, and more people... throngs of them, crowding forward enthusiastic and attentive, listening to eager bright-eyed youngsters guiding and explaining... wonderment, sincere exclamations of pleasure... camera fans dashing hither and yon with their flashlight equipment, alert to catch the expressive faces, the attractive displays, the bits of human drama present in any large group... school board members and executives justly beaming, proud of their bouncing, thriving baby... beauty and ingenuity in the crafts exhibit... the building itself a mass of warm friendly lights beckoning the stream of people in through wide doors... these are but a few of the impressions gained from the eminently successful Open House at the John D. Pierce Junior High School last Monday evening.

Outstanding and much commented on by visitors was the very fine sense of pride and responsibility on the part of the students themselves, particularly those who were serving as guides or hostesses in the various rooms and departments. In the room reserved as a dental clinic a young girl who could not possibly have been over 13 years of age met the guests with a poise and graciousness, a genuine, glowing pride, and a completeness of information that will be long remembered by those privileged to share it. In the photographic darkroom an enthusiastic, courteous chap of about the same age gave a remarkably compact "short course" in the camera art in the space of a few, well-put remarks. These two were not the exception but the rule. Everywhere the students in charge, as well as those leading their parents from room to room, constantly pointing out this and that in almost breathless anxiety lest something be missed, were obviously proud and happy to be a part of John D. Pierce, proud to show it to those nearest and dearest to them.

Typical of the interest shown by the visitors themselves were the activities of Tore Franzen, father of two of the Pierce students. Equipped with three Leica cameras, one equipped with flash synchronizer, this enterprising family was snapping pictures right and left, a living record of the Pierce premiere. When asked what he intended doing with the pictures, Mr. Franzen smiled and said, "Give them to the school if they're any good."

After a trip through the shops and the printing room, a mother was heard to remark to her companion, "Well, if you ask me, sometimes I think teachers know how to handle children better than parents."

At 7:15 o'clock, fifteen minutes before the opening, parking space within two blocks of the school was at a premium. By 7:30 the stream going up the walk rivalled a Hollywood first-nighter audience. Although the crowd far exceeded expectations the system of handling was remarkably efficient. Going up to the doors as a part of the human stream, we wondered how we would ever avoid being gently ground to a pulp. Once within the doors our fears vanished as the carefully directed streams of traffic moved along, free from pushing, collisions, toe-trampling or any of the other diversions that usually accompany the compression of many within a small space. We all were even helped up and down the three steps separating the public library section and the rest of the building, and everywhere teachers and students alike seemed joyously happy to see us. It was thus individual at the same time that it was en masse, and a bit of the atmosphere went home with those who came, if the complimentary remarks heard by the leaving groups are any indication.
