The Frazer Sullivans narrowly missed a real catastrophe last week, when a short circuit in their house started a fire in an upstairs room. It happened at night and Mrs. Frazer, finding part of the room in flames, called Mr. Frazer, who managed to get the thing under control with heroic speed. We've often heard the query, "Why does a fireman wear red suspenders?" We understand that Mr. Frazer's fire-fighting costume needed none!

path to your door, grow longer finger nails than your neighbor's." In the last issue of life, Juliette Marglen displays a year's growth of nails that would turn Fu Manchu green with envy. Judging by our own efforts to grow the slightest tip beyond the edge of our fingers, Miss Marglen must have been carried about on a cushion for a year, with her hands in plaster casts. We don't like being a 'doubting Pryor,' but there are some things that CAN'T do while encumbered by two to three inch talons on one's fingers.

One of the most worthwhile projects that has come to our attention, is the Maternal Health League, which was organized about ten years ago by a group of Detroit women. Since that time, the M. H. L. has gained a lot of momentum because of its appeal to Mothers in the lower income brackets. The object of the Maternal Health League is to teach mothers to space the birth of their children. There can be no doubt that this plan means 'better babies, healthier mothers, and happier families. There are several clinics in Detroit where mothers who are unable to afford a private physician, may be given full details and information, by the Doctor in charge. Two of these clinics are at Harper Hospital and Women's Hospital. Among the many sponsors of this greatly needed Henry E. Bodman, Rev. Francis B. Creamer, Mrs. Charles A. Dean, Jr., Rev. Frank Fitt, Rabbi Leo M. Franklin, Dr. George Kamperman, Mr. Abner Larned, Mrs. Henry Wineman, Mrs. James K. Watkins and Mrs. Frederick Holt.

We parked our 1936 Ford among a bevy of town cars the other day-all lined up in front of the Sign of the Mermaid, where Grosse Pointe's silverspoon set do a lot of their Christmas shopping. We rubbed elbows with befurred and be-perfumed radies who were mulling over gifts anywhere from a dollar to two hundred dollars. We had more fun than you can shake a stick at and came away with two perfect presents for two difficult aunts.

Mt. Clemens to Battle Blue Devils on Friday

The first of ten Border Cities League games scheduled for Grosse Pointe's basketball squad this winter will lbe unveiled in the high school gymnasium next Friday evening when the Bathers from Mt. Clemens invade the lair of

The Pointers have compiled an outstanding record in cage contests against the Bathers by winning every game played between the two schools since 1926. Last year the local lads turned back Mt. Clemens twice, 31-11 and 36-23. In 1938, the Devils were victorious 31-8, and 28-12.

Advance reports from Mt. Clemens herald a promising year for the Bathers. They are well supplied with returning lettermen and experienced boys from last year's reserve squad.

A reserve game will begin at 7:15 o'clock and the varsity tilt will follow approximately an hour later.

High School Singers to Appear in Cantata

The cantata will be preceded by a half hour concert beginning at 8:15 o'clock by the Grosse Pointe High chool Band conducted by Mr. Dewe Kalember, band instructor.

Immediately following the cantata the audience will join with the choral groups in singing favorite Christmas carols, the words of which will be printed in the programs. Miss Nellie Messerli, typing instructor, will play the piano accompaniment.

"The Christmas concert will offer students, their parents, and friends an opportunity to take part in cheery festivity before the Yuletide holidays begin," pointed out Mr. William Watkins, director of music, last week.

Last week's column giving the inside story about Finland seems to have attracted wide attention if we are to judge by the avalanche of letters re-government for people.

Before going any further, I would like to precise once for all that I have no grudge, nor prejudice against any alumni have asked for just such a race—and least of all, the Finnish people, but, knowing European politics as I do, I have nothing kind to say about European governments. And, I am firmly decided to unmask their methods and debunk foreign propaganda from whatever angle it may come. Propa-Student Association; and Mr. William ganda in this country is not necessarily communistic, as some may soon Public opinion rises with indignation

Why then be more lenient toward crimes by far more revolting Relief Station Opened deliberately committeed by foreign governments against their own peoples? against principles we all cherish? Alas, the truth may be disguised (as is too often the case), but it cannot be altered. People have long been told all about the famous Red terror; it is mittee will be gratefully accepted. Mr. about time they should know some-Holma is a member of the Detroit thing about the White terror, less famous but just as repellent and bloody. Nobody here (so far as I know) has yet brought to light the corruption and utter disregard of European governments for the well-being of those they govern; nobody has cared to uncover the frightful contempt of European statesmen and diplomats for human lives—including their own. Nobody has Shop Club at High Europe to war twice in less than one quarter of a century. No publicist has ever taken the reader behind the screen of visible events to show him how the destinies of the Old World are being shaped daily through ghastly combinations of secret diplomacies, deadly plans of infatuated warlords and cynical schemes of the great financial gomuls who are the real masters of Europe, from the Meditteranean to the upper Baltic, from the Atlantic Ocean to the Russian frontier. Sorry to say, Finland is no exception to the rule. And, I don't see why the incompetence of those in power at Helsingfors should reflect in any way upon the Finnish people who had no control whatever on its government's foreign policy. Last week's column stunned so many just because for once they were faced with a story based on cold facts, instead of nicely polished history versions. I have nothing to take back of what I have said about Finland, for every word of it is true. And to those who still conserve some illusions regarding the Finnish form of government, let me say that for years and until the very last minute, Helsingfors has encouraged underground activities in Russian Karelia. Every night, the government-controlled radio station would hurl anti-Soviet propaganda over to Leningrad and the northwestern Russian provinces, with the Soviet officials helplessly looking on.

It would certainly be injurious to claim (as some readers do) that the peaceful popular layers of the Finnish people had anything to do with any such methods of provocation. Here again, those who recriminate will have to discriminate between the Finnish people and its semi-Fascist govern-

As regards the so-called People's Government headed by Otto Kusinen in the Arctic fishing port of Terijoki, it is merely a puppet government set up by the invader and similar to the one Japan has set up in China, or the one Germany has created to serve its aims in Clovakia. This only hurls the Finnish people from one extreme to another. The only political party that could have saved Finland from this (Continued on Page Eight)

Lions Set for Goodfellow Day, December 19th

Tuesday, December 19th, will be the tenth consecutive year that the people of Grosse Pointe have been asked to contribute to the support of the Grosse Pointe Lions Club Goodfellow paper sale. As in previous years, the members of the Lions Club together with the Eiremen and Policemen of Grosse Pointe will be on the streets and corners, in and out of the buses, stopping automobiles, selling their papers to raise the money so much needed this year to carry out their pledge to give every child in the Grosse Pointe district a happy Christmas.

From the proceeds of this paper sale, the Goodfellows will again be able to load up their cars with baskets of good and clothing for children and families whose Christmas would otherwise be a dreary

Norbert F. Denk, chairman of this year's drive, with the able assistance of his committee, hopes to see the collection reach the $5000.00 mark. Other members of the Goodfellow committee include Alfred J. Garska, Nelson L. Korte, Carl Schweikart, George Ingram, Cahries Nightingale and Vincent Leach.

Although the Grosse Pointe Lions Club continue the work of taking care of the needy throughout the entire year, they only appeal to the general public for aid once a year, anad this at Christmas time. The distributing agency will be this year as in other years the Neighborhood Club. George Elworthy, Grosse Pointe welfare director and chairman of the welfare committee of the Lions Club, will attempt to reach every family in the district in Christmas spirit?

Well, the Grosse Pointe High School students must have it. Somewhere between twenty and thirty of the senior high school boys have been spending a great deal of time building toys to be given away this Christmas.

A fine spirit of co-operation, good fellowship, and interest in the sturdy projects being made has developed. Scarcely a day goes by that one or more of the boys does not want to come into the club and enjoy that same spirit of good fellowship and the happiness one gets from giving.

These boys assemble on Monday and Tuesday nights between 3:30 and 5 o'clock and again from 7 to 9 on Tues day and Thursday nights in an effort to complete the allotment they have voluntarily set as their goal. Very soon sixty-five or more rock ing Scotties, elephant chairs, kitticarts rocking ducks, Felix chairs, and bunnie cradles will pare into the headquarter of the Grosse Pointe Toy Club, where each will be sent on his way to add to the happiness of some little boy or girl

Health Dept. Notes

The sale of Christmas seals in helping in the fight against tuberculosis should receive support from us all and it is too bad that the enthusiasm in the fight against this disease is not sustained throughout the year.

Passing his opinion upon the records of our Health Department, Dr. Warren believes that the number of cases of this disease, that cost over 2,000 lives and millions of dollars in Michigan last year, could be cut 40 per cent in five years.

These records show that there were 26 cases of tuberculosis in our district in 1919 with a school census of less than 1,000. Some were hospitalized and the incipient cases cared for at home. In five years 25 of them had recovered entirely or the disease in the arrested state. In spite of our great increase in population, the incidence of this disease has decreased so that there were but 14 cases in 1928. While if it had increased in proportion to population, we would be having over one hundred cases instead of 14. Dr. Warren suggests that parents do not send children to school if they have colds, as they are infectious.

On December 19 at 8 p. m. the Defer school children will present the operetta "The Magi's Gift."

The principal characters have been selected from the fifth and sixth grades. These will be assisted by a lines to complete the figures is the chorus of children from the third and fourth grades.

The Golden Text (Psalms 145:10,11) is: "All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord: and they saints shall bless thee They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isaiah 45:18): "For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 256): "All things are created spiritually. ### Ghost Towns of West Show Signs of Revival

Out in the West a few years ago you could drive off the beaten path and go exploring into the last century. Behind the shoulder of some hill or in a desert valley you would discover a full-sized town where no one lived, says Popular Mechanics. Along the sagebrush-covered main street would be weather-beaten stores. post office, banks and saloons of a small city, flanked by blocks of unoccupied houses. In the eerie silence the flapping of old wallpaper behind a broken window or the creaking of a door would be the only sounds.

These ghost towns of the mining country were left intact when the gold fever died or when bonanza strikes in other districts caused the inhabitants to move away overnight. Towns like Rhyolite with a pretentious railway station and office buildings, or Bodie, built with tremendous hardship high in the mountains, were left complete right down to stacks of dishes still in the kitchens and files of records still in the

Today the ghost towns are coming back to life. Towns that have been asleep for 75 years are stirring again under the excitement of highpriced gold. Modern air-conditioned stores are springing up next to the tottering ruins of old buildings. Lively stables where harness still rots on the walls are being torn down for gasoline stations. From Cripple Creek in Colorado to the Mother Lode in California longabandoned mines are being worked again. A survey by the Automobile Club of Southern California shows that practically every old gold camp in the West is active.

Timber Is Classified

According to Usage Yard lumber is largely general purpose lumber. It is manufactured and classified into those shapes. sizes and grades required for ordinary construction and general purpose uses. Heavy timbers for structural purposes, soft-wood factory lumber and other special use materials are not considered as yard

A bulletin from the Southern Pine association divides yard lumber into two main divisions (a) select and (b) common. These again are divided into two classes. Select lumber (1) that suitable for natural finishes and (2) that suitable for paint finishes. Common lumber (1) that which can be used without waste and (2) that which permits some waste.

The various types are graded A. B or C. A has a minimum of defects or blemishes, B is permitted a greater number of defects and blemishes, and C an even greater

An important factor is the moisture content permitted in the various grades and classifications.

The Lincoln Farm association bought the site in 1906 and began the erection of a granite building in which to place a log cabin said to be that in which Lincoln was born. The cabin is 12 feet wide and 17 feet long, 11 feet from the floor to the eaves and 14 feet from the floor to the highest point of the roof. The memorial building, for which the cornerstone was laid in 1909 on the centennial of Lincoln's birth, is of Connecticut granite lined with Tennessee marble. Its inside dimensions are 44 feet in width, 34 feet in depth, and 45 feet in height. The association in 1916 transferred title to the farm and the memorial to the United States, to be administered by the war department. In 1933 the property was transferred to the jurisdiction of the national park service.

Two Kinds of Margarine

There are two kinds of margarine. One, made of animal and vegetable fats, salt and milk is commonly called the animal fat type or oleomargarine. The fats most used are oleo (refined beef fat) or neutral fat (leaf fat of pork). The other kind, known as vegetable fat or nut margarine, is made of vegetable fats, salt and milk. The other principal ingredients of both varieties are peanut oil, coconut oil, cottonseed oil, soybean oil and butter.

Wishing Well Waters

The waters of the famous wishing well at Upwey, Dorset, are so famous that they are not only drunk by visitors but also often bottled and sold in other parts of England Greatest fame came to the well some five years ago when 10 men who drank from it won $5,000 each in an Irish sweepstakes. Hundreds of people then crowded to the well for a drink and thousands of bottles of water from it were sold.

Lincoln Traveled Incognito The last hours of Lincoln's jour ney to Washington for his first inauguration were complicated by sudden announcement of a plot to assassinate him as he pssed through Baltimore in the night. Against his will, and conscious of the probable effect upon the public, he was induced to leave the party and travel the short remainder of the journey

Alarmed by a steady decline in the number of hogs on Colorado farms, state agricultural officials have promoted a state-wide financing program to aid farmers in buyPolish Peasants

Unlike the peasants in most European countries who wear their bright costumes only on Sundays and holidays, the peasants of the Zakopane region of Poland wear their picturesque habit every day. To the artist and the tourist with a camera they are a never-ending delight.

Boy Scout News

The scouts of troop 39 are once again placing a group of Christmas trees on sale to the public. Their lot on the corner of Kercheval and Neff has been set up like a wilderness camp. The boys are camping there every night until the sale has been completed on December 23. One thousand fresh balsam and spruce trees will be available beginning Saturday.

At The Punch and Judy Theatre

Jackie Cooper and Freddie Bartholomew will be at the Punch and Judy Theatre Friday and Saturday in a stirring drama of human hearts, "Two Bright Boys." Told in the colorful atmosphere of the Texas oil fields, it pictures the swift tragedy which may come when one places confidence in dangerous companions.

Coming as an answer to that perennial question: "What do women talk about when they're alone?" "The Women," filmization of Clara Boothe's outstanding stage success will be at the Punch and Judy theatre Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with an all-star cast of 135 women headed by Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and Rosalind Russell.

Again this year, as in years past, gift books of admission to the Punch and Judy Theatre are being offered. These books will be good for any performance, on main floor or loges, by adults

St. Ambrose Church Ping-Pong News

Never before has the swish of a ping-pong paddle and the light tapping of a celluloid ball been heard over at St. Ambrose gym.

In the first table-tennis tournament held at St. Ambrose, there are 68 eager gents trying to best one another into oblivion with a paddle while only 16 girls are competing. At this moment the girls' championship has been attained by Virginia Mullins. However, the men's championship isn't decided as yet, but, it will either be Louis Segnar or John Parchem with Mr. Segnar the slight favorite. The champions will continue to conquer foes at one of the table-tennis palaces downtown, and if they should be so lucky as to get in the finals, they will compete at the St. Clair Recreation Center.

Among the notables competing were Father Thomas Collins who lost a hairraising first round to Bert (Goliath) Kilian, and Frank Connelly, coach of St. Ambrose High basketball team.

Bob Sharpe, custodian of the gym, is the official and head of the tournaments. Mainly through his efforts, the contest is being run off smoothly and trouble-free.

Look forward to other interesting ping-pong events to be held in the future. However, if you are one of those rareties, who has never played pingpong (attention girls), see Bob Sharpe

'Pillars of Hercules' Located in Morocco

One of the smallest and northernmost of African subdivisions, Spanish Morocco, is a narrow strip sliced off the top of the continent at the western entrance to the Mediterranean. It lies directly across the strait from Gibraltar and contains the southern end of the two rocky eminences called the Pillars of Hercules, which the legendary hero is supposed to have created by slitting a mountain in two.

The Spanish zone of influence in the Sultanate of Morocco is only about one-sixteenth of the whole country. Most of the Sultan's territory is under French protection. with the thin layer of Spanish Morocco on top and the tiny international zone of Tangier chipped off the upper left corner. The area of Spain's zone is a little larger than Maryland, with half that state's population. Texas could swallow up ten Spanish Moroccos.

Most of it is wild mountain country, with a rim of coastal plain that is fairly broad and fertile along the Atlantic, but rather narrow along the 200 miles of Mediterranean shoreline. The few important cities are widely spaced along the coast. Starting at the southwestern corner of the country, one comes upon the port of Larache, on the Atlantic coast, and its neighbor, the fishing village of Arzila; then Ceuta, at the country's northern tip, and the Mediterranean mineral port of Melilla near the eastern end. Tetuan, the capital and largest city, is comparable in size to Lorain, Ohio, a baby metropolis of 44,000 people. It lies just inland from the undeveloped port of Rio Martin, and has developed small industries in morocco leather, tiles and pottery. The second and third largest cities do not belong to the Protectorate at all, but are Spain's own territory. Ceuta, governed as part of Cadiz, was taken by Spain in 1580, and Melilla has been Spanish since the days of Columbus. Ceuta lures many visitors, and its crowded oriental bazaars attract them with rare brassware prized in Europe since the Middle ages. This ancient city, once a slave market, was the first in Africa to have trans-Atlantic telephone service.

Natural Gas Less Toxic Than Artificial Product

Natural gas in general is not considered as toxic as the manufactured gas, which has a higher per-centage of carbon monoxide. "The American Cyclopedia" tabulates the constituents of various natural gases and compares them with coal gas. It shows from 80 to 98 per cent marsh gas (methane) up to 14 per cent other hydrocarbons, 0.4 to 4.6 per cent nitrogen, up to 0.2 per cent carbon dioxide, 0.4 to 0.95 per cent carbon monoxide, up to 1.5 per cent hydrogen.

Coal gas is given an average of 40 per cent marsh gas, 4 per cent hydrocarbons, 2 per cent nitrogen, 0.4 per cent carbon dioxide, 6 per cent carbon monoxide, 46 per cent

The first gas company in this country was the Gas Light company of Baltimore, incorporated February 5. 1817: it made and distributed coal gas and the first street in Baltimore was lighted with the gas on February 17. The first natural gas company was the Fredonia Gas Light and Water Works company, organized in Fredonia, N. Y., in 1865. Natural gas had, however, been used as an illuminant in Fredonia as early as 1824, a pipe line having been led from a well to the hall where General Lafayette was given a reception. A few years later nat-ural gas was being used for fuel and light in Findlay, Ohio.

Game Conservationists The maternal instinct in dogs apparently knows no bounds, says the Country Home Magazine. If you don't believe this, witness the cases of two canine mothers-one, a springer spaniel on the J. J. Caldwell farm in Wyandotte county, Kansas, and the other, a collie on the Ted Konsteri farm, near Duluth, Minn. The collie is raising three tiny beavers, born to a trapped mother which later died, and the spaniel is mothering an equal number of small cottontail rabbits, which she stole from their nest and brought home with her. Both mothers and infants are doing well.

Judicial Baby Talk When Judge N. J. Bonelli of Chicago says "Him gets 90 days," don't take the jurist to task, his grammar is perfectly O. K. The "Him" in this case happens to be Yee Yuen Him, a dishwasher, accused of buying liquor and charging it to the restaurant to annoy the cook. The judge said he (Him to him) would have to repent 90 days in jail, and then Him wished Him weren't he. Sounds a wee bit like baby talk!

Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church

Next Sunday church services will be held as usual at 9:30 in the uniquely arranged auditorium of Mason School on Vernier road. Thi sday has been designed as "White Gift Sunday." "White Gifts" which will be used to alleviate need in the community will be left in the hallway preceding the church service.

The Rev. O. W. Burdette Olson will preach. The eighteen voice vested choir under the direction of Mr. Kenneth W. Smith, organist and choirmaster, will offer the special music.

During the church service the children attend Sunday school in various parts of the building. The combination of this arrangement and the newly organized nursery department which makes provision for children three years of age and under, makes it possible for parents with small children to attend the church service. The unified plan also makes it possible for children and parents to arrive as units and leave in the same manner.

On December 22 a Christmas program will be held in the auditorium at 7 p. m. Included in the program will be special music, a motion picture for the children, and singing of the Christmas carols.

The public is welcome at all services. Individuals not worshipping regularly elsewhere are cordially invited to make the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church their church

Man-Made Duststorm

Grades Soil Particles When duststorms of 1934 and 1936 darkened the sky from the South west to the Atlantic ocean, the grit that settled at Cincinnati was finer than the particles dropped at Kansas City, and dust deposits at Wash ington, New York, and Boston were progressively finer. A modification of what happens in a "duster" is the basis of a new device for grading soil particles developed in the Soil Conservation service laboratory at the California Institute of Technology.

When the laboratory staff needed soil particles sorted accurately according to size, they developed a simple machine that creates a gentle "duster." The machine drops assorted sizes of sand or silt particles in suitable drawers, the coarser bits nearest the feeding hopper, the finer particles at a distance. For the most accurate sorting they run the dried sand or silt through twice, first in a rough sifting by a breeze, and second a resorting of fairly uniform material in a brisker but still mild draft.

The sorting machine is a bellmouthed wind tunnel about 15 feet long with a grating as a floor to let the sorted material drop into the collecting drawers below. A small electric fan draws air through the tunnel at not more than 21/2 feet a second-less than 2 miles an hour.

Dry sand and silt is fed in a thin sheet from a hopper on top of the tunnel. Larger particles drop almost vertically. The finer the sand or silt particles, the farther they are carried by the breeze. Particles of equal size drop at equal distances from the feeding apparatus. Walls of the tunnel are made as smooth as possible to prevent eddies, but there is some difference in the air action near the walls. so the drawers have partitions at each end, and this material is rejected. What drops in the central compartment is graded more accurately than is possible with fine sieves. The machine will handle from 60 to 100 pounds an hour.

Wishing Well Aids in Training Stage Actors

A "wishing well," with the gift of realizing dreams, is being used to advance theatrical training to worthy talented youths.

The well, near the Mohawk Drava Festival outdoor theater at Union college in Schenectady, N. Y., will supplement a theatrical scholarship fund founded by the National Arts club of New York city. The fund is a memorial to Ivah Wills Coburn, late actress and wife of actor Charles Coburn. A ring of stones from a nearby brook, set to simulate a real well, and a metal screen over the top with separations sufficiently large to admit coins or bills comprise the wishing well. The idea was inspired by the play,

'On Borrowed Time." Pud, a sixyear-old character, instructs his grandfather, who has Death held n a tree, in the art of well-wishing. A line of Pud's rims the well,

"If you do a good deed you can make a wish and it will come true." Mrs. Coburn was co-founder of the festival, which her husband still di-

The bells range in size from 101/2 pounds to the great bourdon, which weighs 36,926 pounds and has a diameter of 117 inches, or almost 10 feet. The total weight of the bells is 220 tons. Their total cost was approximately $200,000.

Tree Transpiration

A large tree may absorb and discharge through its leaves as much as 80 gallons of water on a single hot day. Transpiration, one of the vital processes taking place in all green things, literally pours water in vapor form through the leaf pores all summer long. Unless the root system is able to provide for this process, the leaves dry up, and are unable to manufacture food necessary for the growth and vitality of the organism.

"Again loved Christmas is here"

66 A GAIN loved Christmas is here, full of divine benedictions and crowned with the icarest memories in human history -the earthly advent and nativity of our Lord and Master. At this happy eason the veil of time springs aside at the touch of Love. We count our blessings and see whence they came and whither they tend." So writes Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, on page 256 of "The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany."

This impressive season will never lose its attraction for humanity, whose innate desire is to express love. Human hearts are softened in commemoration of the blessed Bethlehem babe, whose birth dated the Christian era because his life set a new standard for human thought and action. Jesus' advent in the flesh marked the appearing of the Messiah, or Saviou of mankind, for which prophets and godly men and women had longed with tender expectation, and which they greeted with praise and gratitude.

The devout New England preacher-poet, Phillips Brooks, caught the beautiful sentiment of Christmas, and indited a hymn which has since become beloved. The tenderly impressive first verse reads: O little town of Bethlehem,

How still we see thee lie; Above thy deep and dreamless sleep The silent stars go by; Yet in thy dark streets shineth

The everlasting Light; The hopes and fears of all the years Are met in thee tonight."

Yes, the hopes which had been entertained by consecrated Biblical characters, during the preceding conturies, met their fulfillment that night, when "the everlasting Light" shone over Bethlehem, and the precious promise of mankind's salvation began to be realized. And today it is beyond human ability to measure the beneficent results of the advent of Jesus nineteen centuries ago. At Christmas time spiritual qualities are more clearly recognized and valued, and are expressed to a greater extent. It is not material gifts in themselves that count, but the thoughtfulness, the loving-kindness expressed in little tokens of love, the desire to surprise a loved one and to impart joy. Everyone values these signs of love, and seeks to reciprocate by tendering, in exchange, appreciation and gratitude. Thus is the spirit of the Christ expressed in loving deeds, even as the Apostle Paul urged upon the Romans: "Let love be without dissimulation. . . . Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love" (Romans 12:9, 10). The true worth of Christmas lies not in material gift giving, but in the deepening and extending of the true sense of love between brethren, and in a broader answer to the question, "Who is my neigh-

Human life is enriched beyond calculation, because centuries ago there was born, in Bethlehem, the babe Jesus, who, in his later ministry, faithful to his trust, revealed and demonstrated the Christ, founded Christianity, and gave to all men the gospel of love. This, then, shows whence come our blessings, "and whither they tend."

It is the Christ-spirit, the tender influence of the Christ-power, that is making the world a better place in which to live. Gratefully may we acknowledge this sacred influence upon the lives of men, and seek to reflect divine Love, in spreading kindness, love, and cheer around us Our true desire finds expression in Mrs. Eddy's Christmas message for 1900 (ibid., p. 257): "To this auslows the close of the nineteenth cen tury, our hearts are kneeling hum We own his grace, reviving and healing. At this immortal hour, all human hate, pride, greed, lust should bow and declare Christ's power, and the reign of Truth and Life divine should make man's being pure and blest."-The Christian Science Moni-

Pouch Phenomenon

The phenomenon of a pouch in which the female carries her young after they are born is peculiar to the group of mammals known as the marsupials. With the exception of the common opossum in the United States and a close relative in tropical America, all the members of this group are confined to Australasia. Besides the kangaroo, the most familiar member, the group includes the wallaroo, several species of wallaby, the wombat, the koala, the Tasmanian wolf and the Tasmanian devil.

Three Longest Rivers

The three longest rivers in the United States are the Missouri, 2,475 miles from the junction of the Jefferson, Madison and Gallatin in Madison county, Mont., to the Mississippi; the Mississippi, 2,470 miles from Lake Itasca, Minn., to Head of Passes in the delta, and the Rio Grande, 1,800 miles from San Juan county, Colo., to the Gulf of Mexico. The Mississippi-Missouri is 3,988 miles long.

Captured Fort
Gen. Smedley D. Butler was given the Congressional Medal of Honor from the United States and the Haitian Military medal for the capture of Fort Riviere in Haiti in 1915. The citation said that Fort Riviere was the headquarters of all the Cacos bands in northern Haiti and was supposed to be impregnable. General Butler with 23 men entered the fort and captured it.

A $3 prize in a newspaper contest won as an 11-year-old boy is the basis of a modern success story by Frank G. Davis, of Springfield.

In the 35 years since that first prize, he has won $50,000 in 1,500 contests. In the last eight years, Davis said, he earned between $2,-500 and $5,000, including eight automobiles—for doing nothing more strenuous than thinking up slogans, working out crossword puzzles, predicting football scores or drawing Davis now spends five hours a day at his work, the rest of the time doing free-lance writing and cartooning. So far this year he has come through with 71 prizes, which is con-siderably better than his 35-year-average of one every 10 days.

He doesn't keep account of his expenses, but estimates that expenditures for stamps, stationery and ink amount to $12 and $15 a month. The cost of soap wrappers, box tops and the like don't amount to much because he doesn't enter many of this type of contest. "They're too big; judges can't give entries proper consideration," he says.

'Dead' Lives Again

Dr. D. H. Werden, of San Diego, eports the saving of a 14-year-old girl's life after breathing had ceased for 40 minutes, by removing a brain tumor. Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, the physician stated that 18 months after the operation, the patient's speech and mentality were normal. The only apparent aftereffects were blindness and some difficulty in walking. The respiratory paralysis Dr. Werden wrote, was compensated for by immediate artificial respiration. There was a prolonged period of unconsciousness that he ascribed to insufficient oxygen in the brain tissues. He said the condition was sufficient to cause blindness, but not mental impairment.

Koh-i-noor Diamond

The famous Koh-i-noor diamond may be worn by a queen but never by a king. According to a superstition, any king who wears the jewel will lose the rule of India, just as past male owners of the Koh-i-noor lost their dominion over that realm. In accordance with this belief, only Queen Victoria, Queen Alexandra, Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth have ever used the stone, which weighs 106 carats.

Enchanted Mesa

The Enchanted Mesa is called Katzimo (the accursed) by Acoma Indians. According to tradition, their ancestors, who had gone to their fields in the plains, were prevented from returning to their high mesa by a terrific storm which destroyed their rock ladder, leaving three women, two to die of star-vation and one to commit suicide in despair.

Norway's Coastline

Counting indentations and sinuosities the coastline of Norway measures about 12,000 miles, or an ocean strand that would stretch half way around the world.

Edinburgh

Edwin is not a Scottish name but Scotland's finest city is Edwin's Burgh, or Edinburgh as it is called today. It was established in the year 617, when Edwin, king of Northumbria in England, built his fortress on the rock where Edinburgh castle now stands.

Crypt of Knowledge

Contains Sound Film People living 6,000 years hence will be able to see and hear the flash and roar of artificial lightning as it is now produced. A sound film demonstrating artificial lightning, produced by the 10,000,000-volt generator, will be sealed in the air-tight Oglethorpe university Crypt of Knowledge. The film is one of five which have been presented to T. K. Peters, director of archives at Oglethorpe university. The others include the life story of Thomas A. Edison, the development of land transportation from the most primitive methods to the electrified railroad, the history of Panama canal operation and the development of American navigation from the first crude Indian craft to the massive electrically propelled battleships of today. It probably will take about four or five years to fill the crypt with the thousands of records that are to be placed in it. Micro-book records are being made of the world's greatest literature, and the films are being sealed in stainless steel receptacles after first being placed in glass containers encasing an inert

An inscription plaque on the door of the Crypt of Civilization briefly describes the contents of the sealed chamber and requests that they remain inviolate until the year 8113. The date was decided by Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe university, because when he started the project in 1936 the year 8113 was just as far in the future as the total number of years man has recorded events in the past.

Scientists Seek to Chart South Seas With Bottles

Professor Wilbur A. Nelson of the University of Virginia plans a "bot-tle message" bombardment of the Outlining the itinerary of a scientific expedition he will head for National Geographic society and his university, he said he would throw 2,000 citrate of magnesia bottles into the South Pacific.

Printed messages will be inclosed telling the finder that he may "keep the bottle as a souvenir of the occabut asking him to report where he found it. The purpose is to help determine the movement of currents in the South Pacific.

Professor Nelson said the bottle: would be tossed from the coas guard cutter Hamilton, which the government has assigned for the ex pedition, at regular intervals during the year that fellow scientists will tour the South Seas over an area larger than the United States.

Stone of Petrified Dew One of the most valued posses sions of the sultan of Perak in Asia is a stone which tradition says is made by petrified dew. This talis-man is believed by the Malays to have many miraculous powers. An important part of the sultan's regalia, the stone has been in possession of the Perak dynasty through out recorded history and is said to have been given to the first sultan by To Temong, a girl saint of Perak. The sultan's sword of state is also of great antiquity. It is believed by Malays to have been the sword of Alexander the Great and to have been used by Mahomet at

Tree of Jesse

Jesse, the father of David, is often regarded as the first in the genealogy of Jesus Christ. Hence the design representing the descent of Jesus from the royal line of David is called a tree of Jesse. From a recumbent figure of Jesse springs a tree bearing in its branches the chief figures in the line of descent, and terminating in the figure of Jesus, or of the Virgin and Child. The design was formerly a favorite ecclesiastical ornament and is depicted in the cathedrals at Laon, Amiens and Chartres.

Bury Dead Facing East

Until recent times, people of virtually every age and race have, for religious reasons, buried their dead facing the East. To the early sun worshipers, it was the direction in which their deity returned each morning; to the ancient Greeks, it was the way to Elysium, or paradise; and to the Christians, says Collier's Weekly, it is to be the direction, according to Matthew 24:27, from which Christ will come on Judgment day.

Share Family Bible In Norristown, Pa., 12 heirs of Mrs. Barbara S. Harris have just been awarded a family Bible to be shared equally among themselves. In settling Mrs. Harris' will, Judge J. Burnett Holland left it to the heirs to decide whether they should cut up the Bible into 12 parts or pass it around among themselves so that each may have it one month a

Wonder of Hungary

One of Hungary's most fascinating phenomena is the "flowering of the Tisza," one of the country's rivers. This strange sight is caused by the drowning of billions of small insects. Once in three years they hatch, fiy over the river and fall on its surface, coloring it richly with their bodies to make it appear covered with small yellow flowers.

Insects Kill Each Other

But No 'Enmity' Exists No insect is really an enemy of another insect. But persons familiar with the several successful efforts to control insect pests by introducing other insects that kill them may not realize this, and so expect too much from this sort of "biological control." Entomologists are aware of the great quantities of insects that are the victims of other insects. But the victims are not killed because of enmity. "One insect," T. E. Holloway, of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, said recently in explaining this difference, "may be the food of another insect, that is all. Man eats meat, but is not the enemy of cattle. The insect does not reason-does not need to. But if it could, it would not want to exterminate the species it feeds on " Casual observers of some common insects see them leading seemingly varied lives-flies feeding on various foods, bees flitting to different flowers. They do not realize the intense specialization in the existence and reproduction of many insects. Some of the most effective parasites are strictly one-insect parasites. Unless the egg-laying parasites can find a certain stage of the insect on which it preys, it does not even place its eggs. The progeny will develop only in a particular host and in a certain stage of the host. Other parasites prey on a goodly number of species and sometimes the presence of more than one kind of host in a locality has an important bearing on the success of the parasite in the control of the species which is destructive to cultivated crops.

Entomologists working to control the Japanese beetle are seeking earnestly to determine if some parasites of the beetle can also reproduce by preying on native white grubs that are very similar to grubs of the Japanese beetle. If they could find one among those introduced from abroad that could live under conditions here—it would be most valuable.

Appendicitis Fatalities Show Increased Rate

The depression is responsible for an increasing death rate among victims of acute appendicitis, according to two Cleveland doctors.

Drs. F. R. Kelly and R. M. Watkins, observing the mounting death rate in a study of 2,000 consecutive cases at Women's hospital here, report that appendicitis victims without funds hesitate to summon medical aid when an attack occurs and try to treat themselves.

Half of the victims studied were hospitalized in the more prosperous years of 1930 to 1935; the rest between 1931 and 1936. The death rate among the first 1,000 was 9 per cent; among the second 1,000, 23 per cent. The doctors reported their study in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

"During the depression years," they wrote, "patients delayed opera-tion 29 per cent longer than in better times. This surely increased the mortality rate.

"If economic conditions improve, this delay on the patient's part will be lessened, but in the meantime persons should be told to pocket their pride and seek medical aid regardless of their circumstances, if they have pain in their abdomen."

struggles, is the Social - Democrat group, now competely under the sway of the minority in power.

Very different from its ruling classes is the Finnish people in itself. The average Finn is generally a goodnatured fellow who likes to mind his own business; the best proof of his eagerness to learn can be found in Finland's admirable educational system; his thrift and industriousness has created numerous cooperative societies in both agriculture and industry. One can easily imagine what progress the Finns could have achieved under a more liberal form of government-and this, in spite of the fact that the Swedish-Finns (12 per cent of the entire population) have the upper hand in banking and industry.

Maire School to Present 'Why the Chimes Rang'

The Maire School will present the Christmas play "Why the Chimes Rang" for the parents and children. Two performances will be given on December 19th, on Tuesday morning for the children, and the second on Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock for the parents. It has been the custom at the Maire School to have a Christmas play Quincy Adams were elected to the each year, undertaken as cooperative presidency by the house of represen- class activity by the fifth and sixth

The story of the play takes place in a peasant's hut on the edge of a forest near a cathedral town of the Middle Age. Two boys, Holger and Steen, have been looking forward and planning for the day when they should attend the Christmas celebration to be held in the little town. Their uncie comes to take them but they are detained by the unexpected appearance of an old woman, tired and faint with hunger. Holger, not wishing to leave her alone, decides to stay while the others go to the Christmas services. In his sorrow the vision of the cathedral service appears to him and he sees the fine gifts laid upon the altar as an offering to the Christ Child. The cathedral chimes have been silent for many years because, so the story goes, no gift given in the true Christian spirit has yet been offered. What the gift was that caused the chimes to ring is the basis of the story.
