Pointe Judge Enters Navy

Frank W. Lindemann Sworn Into Service, Third Class

Grosse Pointe lost its first judge of the Peace to the United States Navy today when Frank W. Lindemann, Jr., 31, of 500 Washington street, was sworn into service in the Federal building.

Judge Lindemann became a practicing lawyer in 1917. He was admitted to the bar in 1920 and served in the Detroit Police Department for two years. He was elected to the office of Justice of the Peace in 1934.

He graduated from Grosse Pointe High school in 1922 and received his law degree from the Detroit College of Law in Detroit in 1924. Two months later he passed his examination for admission to the bar and two months later that was first elected as Justice of the Peace by Grosse Pointe City voters.

His only 31 years old he has been active for several years in the State Senate from this district, once in 1935, and again in 1937. He was also a candidate for Congress in November of 1940 and lost the election by less than 500 votes.

An Amherst, Mass., native, he has a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Michigan. He has given several lectures at different points in his life.

He was married to Mrs. Mabel Lindemann in 1924. They have three children: a son, Robert, and two daughters, Elizabeth and Margaret.

Pointe Pooches Go Patriotic

The "V For Victory" is found nearly everywhere today, but seldom does it turn up in such a strange form as these, created unconsciously by a couple of budding bird dogs who obviously thought they were going to get something to eat. The "V's" weren't discovered until the negative was developed. The husky tent is only part of a litter born to a mother owned by C. W. ("Doc") Toles of Lincoln road.

Last Minute Rush of Auto Owners to Buy New Licenses Shatters Records in Pointe

More than 4,000 Plates Issued Saturday as $40,000 in Taken In at Mack and Maryland Branch

That the war, the shortage of tires or income taxes did not affect the sale of automobile license plates was evident in Saturday's last minute rush at the Grosse Pointe branch of the Secretary of State's office, at Mack and Maryland avenues.

From 8:30 a. m. Saturday until 2:30 a. m. in the forenoon, the waiting crowd of licensees was estimated to have exceeded that year's mark, surprising because many officials had expected the sale of plates to be less this year, the result of automobile and tire shortages.

However, Mr. Cudia revealed that from January 1 to February 28 this branch issued more than 33,500 license plates. About half the number are for half year licenses. Mr. Cudia pointed out, but this figure was about the same last year's.

"I want to thank the Grosse Pointe Police department for their cooperation in this matter," he said. "The police officers gave me during the last days of the rush, two Park officers, Patrolman James McLeod and Al Booth, were stationed at the branch for a continual service during its hours. They were very helpful in this respect."

One of their chief difficulties the officers told The News, was the long lines of cars waiting to be licensed. The lines were so long that they had to be broken up by the police.

Young Thugs Rob Druggist At Gunpoint

Pointe's First Major Holdup In More Than Year Perpetrated By Trio

Grosse Pointe's first major holdup in more than a year occurred last night before midnight Thursday when three gunmen held up and robbed the Titus Drug store, in the Punch and a N. J. building, of more than $250.

The three gunmen, all described as between 20 and 27 years of age, entered the store just before closing time. They ordered Coca-Cola from a woman clerk at the soda fountain and the minutes later suddenly drew guns from their pockets and held up the owner of the store, Frank E. Titus, the soda fountain clerk and an usher from the Punch and Judy Theatre who was taking money from the cash registers.

After taking money from the two cash registers, the men ran north on Fisher road to their automobile which was bolted and parked in the lot in back of the theatre.

A woman at the theatre reported that the trio drove their car down McKinley road, without lights and through the stop sign, and turned on Mack avenue. The police were able to obtain fingerprints from the car from which the men drank. No arrests have been made as yet.

Local school officials who have been assigned the task of distributing the cards are now working on the various complications of the problem. It has been announced that Detroit will receive their cards in the period between the 15th and 20th of this month.

It is not known whether individual cards will be issued to each member of the family, which would mean that one card would be handed out here. In the last year one card was issued for each family.

The Greatest Peril

The greatest peril that faces America today is not the initial reverses we have suffered. It is not Pearl Harbor or Singapore or MacArthur's precarious foothold on the half of a province in the Philippines, or the continuous destruction of our shipping lanes, or the continuous wounds which emanate as strong as ours, IF PATRIOTICALLY UNITED, could in time surely heal.

The real peril that confronts us now is the cynicism and selfishness that has already dangerously permeated the social body of America.

When President Roosevelt, in the early days of our preparation for defense, and when referring to this coming effort, said he was convinced that "all this could be done without surrendering any of the splendid advances that had already been achieved" he was giving gangway to the myriad checks and embarrassments that have plagued our whole war effort since. He was sowing the dragon's teeth which spring up today to haunt us in a time of danger. Its echoes are heard in dozens of industrial plants whose functions are almost as vital to this country as the work of the boys on the firing lines.

The historian of the future, who will write more accurately of this period a generation hence, will have no difficulty in tracing the ills of this moment much farther back; directly to the peculiar political and social philosophy of the man who was President from March 1933. All that is largely water over the dam however and possibly now only prophetic. Its immediate implications are that it gives negation to Mr. Roosevelt's own oft repeated appeals for national unity and all out effort for defense and "victory."

It is strange that a national leader who has so accurately appraised world political movements and envisioned their impact upon us could not foresee the inevitable weakness and disunity engendered by his own preachments and social and economic theories. Or, did he see it, but, aware of his own orientation to these problems and their solution during his whole political life, lack the forthright courage to meet them in this time of peril when their correction is so vital to our safety and defense?

So now, when we have taken 2,000,000 young men by force of law and put them in the armed services of the Nation, several times that number of young men and older men are relied upon to produce the implements our soldiers and sailors must have with which to fight. These men in the munition plants, aided and abetted by the President and a Congress which gave us the act, even to the repeal of meagre pension grabs, through the medium of political expediency, refuses to amend a labor law which would permit the wartime postponement of the 40-hour week work limit.

Inspiring spectacle! Magnificent response to many nationwide appeals for unity and patriotism! Splendid example to the millions of plain, everyday liberty loving people who are doing all in their power to help their country and doing it cheerfully and often at great personal sacrifice.

Will these men work on Washington's Birthday? Certainly, but, ah! at double time of course. Will they work more than 40 hours a week at their regular wages to carry the Nation through its tide of peril? Not though the Nation and the very heavens fall. Is it not more important that these "splendid advances" which have been made in labor's cause in recent years should be retained than that the Nation itself should survive?

Will these munition plant strikers serve their country? Certainly, at the highest wages they can squeeze out of a burdened and suffering Nation, and for the fewest possible hours they can budge out of their employer. And why not with the unmistakable endorsement for their course extended from the highest sources, the White House and Congress?

And now, would it not be quite in order for the boys in the army and navy, even MacArthur's thin line in Bataan, to serve notice that henceforth they would fight for only 40 hours per week, not even with extra pay for overtime? One might imagine such an arrangement would be highly agreeable to the young men who are engaged in a work somewhat more hazardous than operating a machine in a munition plant or shipyard.

May God save the American Commonwealth! His seems to be the only power that can, in the face of such a debacle of spirit and patriotism.

THINGS AESOP MIGHT HAVE SAID BUT DIDN'T
"Cut off a chicken's head and his legs will soon cease to function."

Your ever alert A. Pryor has read ever so often about the disasters in the Southwestern Pacific. He has read ever so often about the disasters and countless other islands and bases situated one to three thousand miles from Japan. To be sure your editor is well aware of the astoundingly of these losses—but the conquest of Japan itself is, after all, the main object in the Pacific. There are many islands situated directly between our country and Japan which must and will be taken, and used as air and naval bases from which to attack Japan — to say nothing of potential bases in China, Burma, and the Philippines. Japan will be attacked and it is not necessary for us to recapture the many islands in the S. W. Pacific in order to accomplish our task. The Pacific problem is ours and not England's. When Japan is taken it seems only reasonable to assume that her latest conquests many hundreds of miles away from home will certainly crumble from under her feet. It is not necessary to prove likelihood rather than assets. AESOP, however, may know the vulnerability of a chicken's legs when its head is in the gutter.

"Life Begins At 40 In The Army"
There are many things your editor's limited brain cannot fully comprehend and here is just another. Everyone knows and agrees we need the best and most efficient army and navy that it is possible to acquire — of this there is no doubt. Nor is it my problem to suggest ways and means of accomplishing this purpose—Oh, I can't help thinking—can I certainly not, we all do these in a while.

I have seen men 24 and I have seen men 44—there is a difference. Certainly the younger men are infinitely more fit physically for the hard tasks that we demand. Our nation is spending many millions of dollars for equipment of men and navy that is in favor of the bill pending in Congress to appropriate more billions to be used for the dependence of the men who are to do our fighting. This seems to be a strange fitting and proper. There are 7,500,000 men between the ages of 21 and 35 who have been deferred on account of dependency. No one will deny that the younger men are better equipped physically to our fighting.

Certainly we want the best guns, the best tanks, the best planes for our country can produce—why not the best men? Married men with children have the maximum to fight for—their children. A great majority of these men surely feel so inclined. Why not protect their families financially—away with class 3A—and give the men who are most fit to fight a chance to do so? The army and navy recognize the value of the younger age and accordingly have taken the fighting qualities of the older men. Yes, AESOP might have said, "Life begins at 40 in the army"—but he didn't.

"The Worm Will Turn—But Not Always"
There have been many lines written about the spring offensive of the Germans in Russia but in the "Red Star," the official organ of the Russian army, particularly interested this reader. The sum and substance of this article stated that the Russians, too, felt that there most certainly would be a spring offensive—a Russian one—not the German one. The article stated that the Germans were in a tight spot. It didn't say it. He was a wise man—he probably wouldn't even have thought it.

Ernest Raymond has an excellent knowledge of Europe and of human nature, all of which help to make "The Last to Rest" the intriguing tale it is.

There is something unusual in the title of this story, although I can't think of exactly what it is. It's unlike the ordinary run of novels about the war.

RE-ELECT

The INCUMBENT PRESIDENT and COMMISSIONERS of GROSSE POINTE PARK

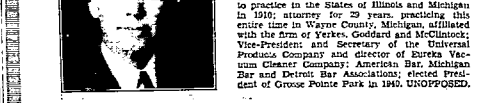

IN VILLAGE ELECTION Monday, March 9th

Two years ago the citizens of Grosse Pointe Park, indignant at the way their municipal affairs were being run, turned out to record the village's largest vote and elected Karl B. Goddard, a slicer candidate, as president; Homer C. Fritsch, Thomas T. Pettold and Ward S. VanDeusen as commissioners. Later Howard P. Parshall and Arthur P. Johnson were appointed to succeed Commissioners Thomas T. Pettold and Henry E. Raytner, who resigned because their business kept them constantly from the city. These men have served the village faithfully, giving unstintingly of their time and producing the most efficient government the village has ever had. Economy and efficiency have been their goals and in the first year in office they turned back the tide of increasing taxes that had been gradually swelling during years prior to their election. Despite additional obligations incurred by their predecessors in office they cut the tax rates and established a more efficient administration. National defense has placed on all citizens burdens never dreamed of before. Your present commissioners are willing to carry the burden of running your village in these troublesome times. They are entitled to your vote of confidence to say the least.

Pointe Students Make Outstanding Marks

Personal Letters Sent To Parents

Freshmen Class Averages at University of Michigan and Michigan State Are Exceeded by Local Pupils

First semester marks of the 35 freshmen recommended last fall by Grosse Pointe High School to the University of Michigan and Michigan State colleges were exceedingly high, declared Walter R. Clemons, principal, last week.

From the marks from the 35 students, the average at the University of Michigan was 87.2 per cent, at Michigan State 85.5 per cent. This is considerably better than the record of the freshmen class at Ann Arbor.

Three of the students who did the most outstanding work were Lucille Peters, Anita Urick, and Thomas Scott of the '41 class. Their scores were 92, 91, and 90, respectively. Personal letters to their parents commending them for their excellent work.

Eight of the 29 students recommended to the University of Michigan made a B average or better. Sixteen of the 29 students recommended to Michigan State and their first semester grades averaged 77 per cent. Three students made a B average or better.

The enrollment of 29 in the University of Michigan freshmen class is the largest group of recommended students ever sent there.

"They are doing excellent work," commented Mr. Clemons, "and I am confident that they will continue to do so."

Brink Winner In Swim Meet In Ann Arbor

Local Star Takes Individual Medley as Pointe Team Places Sixth

After finishing second to Fordson in the Regionals, Grosse Pointe High School's Blue Devils practiced an hour full week and then traveled to Ann Arbor last Saturday to participate in the annual Michigan High School Swimming Championships.

They competed with Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Jackson, Ann Arbor, Monroe, East Lansing, River Rouge, River Rouge, and Flint Center.

Cochs Banach picked Frank Mumford, Bill Meener, John Brink, John Green, Bob Kuntlinger, Martin Marack and Pete Robertson to represent Grosse Pointe.

Despite the fact that only five boys qualified, the Blue Devils collected a total of 13 points in the finals that evening and claimed sixth place in the standings.

Swimming his favorite race, the 150-yard individual medley, John Brink gave the Blue Devils their only first place. This event was close between first and second, but the officials had to discuss the finish before arriving at the decision that Brink had won.

Another Close Race

The 50-yard race in which Frank Mumford swam to a fourth place for Grosse Pointe. About a yard separated first and second place. Bill Meener took a fifth in the 200-yard free style, while the relay team composed of Mumford, Green, Kuntlinger and Brink collected another fourth for the Blue Devils.

The final team standings were as follows: Jackson, just ahead of Battle Creek, 49-37; Ann Arbor in third place with 22 points; Flint Central, 17; Kalamazoo, 14; Fordson, 14; Grosse Pointe, 13; Monroe, 8; East Lansing, 4; Royal Oak and River Rouge, one each. Lansing Eastern did not score.

St. Paul Cagers Lose Title Tilt In Big Tourney

St. Paul carried the honor of Grosse Pointe to Olympia Friday night in the Catholic school championship tournament, but lost its chance for a victory when they came down to defeat at the hands of a powerful St. Frederick's basketball team by the score of 17-13.

It was the Grosse Pointe team's first chance for the championship since 1929, when they were defeated in a game played in the Naval Armory.

St. Paul's enrollment of 619, gained first place in the second division of the East Side Catholic League two weeks ago when they defeated in a game played in the local arena.

By virtue of this record the local league were invited to play in Olympia against St. Frederick's to decide the championship team of the East-West division.

St. Paul held the west side team in a score of 17 to 13, but they lacked the staying power to stave off a powerful attack by St. Frederick's.

Apparently when St. Paul coach Ed Lauer, saw victory slipping away he decided to give all his boys the chance to play in the championship game, for during the second half all players on the squad were used.

The center for St. Paul, Otto, was high scorer for his team with one basket and three free throws. Otto was also high scorer during the year, making 124 points in 12 contests.

Varsity Cagers Will End Season With Royal Oak

Grosse Pointe High's varsity cagers will journey to Royal Oak Friday to close the current league season. A second victory over the Acorns this year, repeating a previous 27-23 triumph, is needed by the locals for a final league average of .500 with 5 wins and 5 losses.

The Blue Devils closed the home season last Friday with a thrilling 27-23 overtime victory over the Monroe Trojans. The Devils seemed to keep just a step ahead of the Trojans after squaring to an early lead but a basket by Pratt of Monroe in the final seconds tied the contest up. The teams went into the three minute overtime period with the score knotted at 23 all.

Since we begin our season with the Devils in the lead early in the overtime with a one hand shot from mid floor and Glen Holt cleared things a minute later when he also sank a field goal.

Doug Mackenzie finally found the range with his one-hand shot Friday, sinking three of them. They, with three free throws, made Doug high point man with 8 points. Mike Ware followed with 6. Pratt was high man for L. W. Lakers with 6 points.

Wedding Unites Pointe Families

Two Grosse Pointe families were united Saturday, Feb. 21, in St. Mark's Methodist church when Evelyn Florence Brust, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brust of Moran road, married the bride of Herbert Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wilson of Nottingham road. The service was read by Mr. Rich at St. Mark's.

The bride and groom showed originally in the wedding attire chosen, as they both were identical suits of a neutral garb with contrasting shadow strip. The brides accessories were beige, and she wore white gloves to match the white organdy blouse. Her bouquet was a charming combination white gladiol and pink rose buds.

Mrs. William Redmond was the bride's matron-of-honor, while Lorne Wilson, brother of the groom was the best man.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The couple left for a trip in northern Michigan, and are now living in St. Clair County.

(Portrait by Doc Gambie)

She's a marvelous combination of artist, mother and executive, a combination hard to find.

She was married to her doctor husband in France, which interrupted her study abroad as a concert pianist. As years have gone by, five children; two girls and three boys, have followed in their mother's footsteps, and now, she supervises five sets of piano practicing each day.

Music has remained paramount in her interests and during the past year, she has served on the Advisory Board of the Detroit Symphony Association as well as being chairman of the Friday lunch group. She is a member of the Mother's Board of the largest school an active member of the Regan Lido Auxiliary of the American Legion, and one of the 12 charter members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Wayne County Medical Society.

Now she is serving as one of the vice-chairmen of the Auction Sale of Antiques for the Save The Children Federation. This auction will take place early in April.

With her family, she moved to Grosse Pointe last summer, occupying a lovely home on the lake front, beautifully furnished with 18th century French furniture.

With all her outside interests and her big family, most of whom speak French as fluently as English, nothing ever seems to upset or worry her, and everything is, in her own vernacular, "jolly".

Her name ... is Alfred H. Whitaker.

Garden Center Head to Lecture

Mrs. George I. Bouton, director of the Detroit Garden Center, will deliver a lecture, accompanied by colored slides, on "Spring Flowers", tonight, Thursday, March 5, in the Pierce Junior High school. The lecture will start at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Bouton announces that the victory garden program, from government officials down to local councils is stressing the fact that flower gardens should not be dug up this year to make room for vegetables. Horticulturists are being urged to improve their skill as gardeners by growing better flowers in preparation for growing necessary vegetables later.

The ideal plan, according to Mrs. Bouton, is to have a victory garden but plant out that which will sell and with both flowers and vegetables, exposure are suitable, it is better to grow good flowers than poor vegetables.

Mrs. Bouton will be prepared to answer questions following the lecture which is free and open to the public.

ELECTRICITY is cheaper today!

The average price per kilowatt-hour paid by our residence customers for electricity today is 3.28 cents. Twenty years ago, the figure was 6.13 cents. Electricity is 46 per cent cheaper today.

Your electric service is so commonplace a thing — such an accepted part of our daily life — that most of us take it for granted. When you push a button on your wall to turn on your lights, when you flip a switch to operate your washer or iron or vacuum cleaner or any of the dozen-and-ones other electric helpers in your home, you expect service instantly... and you get it. Yet few people think of what lies back of the switch to make this service possible — the far-flung organization, the tremendous investment in power plants and lines and substations, the thousands of employees whose combined endeavor is directed toward bringing you a service so dependable that you need never give it a thought. Here truly is the magic of electricity at your fingertips!

What makes electricity cheaper? Keeping electricity at a low cost — that means the saving in our cost — the thousands of improvements, big and little, which have been made year by year have permitted us to reduce our rates valuably... and one of the best many time-saving savings devices is that in the way of progress, The Detroit Edison Company.

Other interesting items which have been donated through generations were originally owned by the great-grandmother.

Other items include a lovely pair of glass candlesticks, a Chinese silk skirt of rather rare design, and there are rumors of a top of Georgian four-poster bed.

Stamp Club Assumes Big Job to Help Red Cross

By HEINZ HOFFMAN, Grosse Pointe Collector's Club

A stamp auction for the benefit of the Red Cross War Relief Fund will be held at the national convention of the Society of Philatelic Americans, Aug. 18-24, at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York City.

The job of making a success of this auction and turning hundreds of dollars over to the Red Cross, is being done by the Grosse Pointe Stamp Club.

Every member has pledged his best effort and is ready to do his part. It is not an easy task, but the club is determined to succeed for the worthy cause. This sale is a really successful one, and we need the support of every stamp collector and other person interested in this kind of work.

Philatelic stamp collectors have a way to help the Red Cross. They can buy stamps and send them to the Red Cross.

There are hundreds of stamps you can buy, and you can buy them in many ways. You can buy them in bulk, or you can buy them in small quantities.

There are many ways to help the Red Cross. You can buy stamps, or you can donate money. You can also help by spreading the word about the Red Cross.

"Sarah Is So Sensible"

by Marian Eddy Standish

They waited again. Joe Melville was peering up from the room, leaving eyes in a white to speak to me or another of the men he had concerned about the house. He knew, though, that this was a hollow gesture. They would either use the telephone or else it would be a messenger that brought any further word from the kidnappers. However, it made the Loxa feel that SOMETHING was being done. He had arranged to have the telephone call checked as they came in—so that if they telephoned there would be record of the place the call came from. Unless they were an ignorant, stupid lot, that was useless, too. They would think that would have been done and avoid the danger.

Poor Loxa—Mr. Low looked younger than he had the day before, and poor Mrs. Lex, self-controlled as she was—she would miss his case if she wasn't about to crack. Of course, this waiting—would get ALONE.

Alone and Jimmie came in. He created a little relief from the tension just to hear them report that no one had seen Mary for almost two weeks. Jimmie pulled Dick over into a corner and asked seriously:

"Look here, Mr. Low. I think we ought to send for Greg. I know how I'd feel if something of this sort was going on in my family without me."

Dick looked at him: "I think you are right," said he. "Call him up. Will you Jimmie. It would be a comfort just to hear him here and I think his mother would like it, too."

Jimmie left the room, and waiting began again.

But when Jimmie came back and said quickly: "I got Greg. He's coming by air. He'll get here before morning." Sarah looked up quickly and said:

"Oh, Dick. I'm glad. I want Greg here with us. I know, dear."

"I know, dear," said Dick. "Two o'clock. The big clock chimed. They looked at each other. They talked to each other.

"Do you remember," said Dick, "that clock in Harry's Murphy's hall that ran all the time until his Grandfather died, and then stopped short?"

"No one paid any attention to his attempt, and after all it was Dick who broke down first. With a little daughter taking the faded photograph nearer to the lamp. "Who is she, mother?"

"That's Mrs. John V. Moran," said Mrs. Hill. "She was just as lovely as she looks. Everybody loved her. She came originally from the south and since you are working so hard over our files, Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Holden, you will be interested in knowing that the father of that lady was the last living Whip."

"I think that's thrilling," said Mrs. Hill. "I'm looking at the picture. The sweet face that looked back at her from the yellowed cardboard, I can't see more about her, mother."

"Well, of course you know she was the mother of Mrs. Thornton. You remember, Mrs. Van Moore and J. Dell Moran. She was a delightful person. Somebody you must see. I'm bringing to tell you about the time that Mrs. Moran went to church in her ruffled tullea petticoat?"

"Yes, I remember," said Mrs. Hill. "Years after she went to Paris to live. Mrs. Hill came back for a visit and among her old friends she met Mrs. Moran. Thinking of the old French family of the Morans, Mrs. Hill said I suppose that all of your children speak French fluently and correctly, Mrs. Moran. Mrs. Moran just laughed and said: "Dear me NO. I can't even get into to speak correct English!"

"How nice MUST have been interesting," said Mrs. Hill a little wistfully.

New High in Romance

Teaming of CLARK GABLE and LANA TURNER in M-G-M's "Honky-Tonk" opens Friday at the Vogue Theatre. The shot above is a sample of what happens when these two get together.

Lady of Satire At Club Royale

Edith Brown, "America's First Lady of Satire," is scoring a new hit at Club Royale in her return engagement, held over for a second week. Brown's impersonation of the true First Lady is always a sure-fire hit, and her other bits are equally well received. Her latest is a laugh-provoking, Everett West, singing star of the networks, is held over for a fourth week, called back again and again for his tenor ballads. Customers are giving a particularly warm reception to her arrangement of "The Last Time I Saw Paris" and "White Cliffs of Dover." Professor Backward, a young man with a knack of twisting words, numbers and quotations in to reverse, is a real novelty; his unique pronouncements and backward spelling are tricky and amusing. Brackets in their line are a real danger. Victor Dancers have unusual prospects for the future. They are by Skeeter Palmer's handling, with Aylene Mason executing the vocals.

Fields' Latest Coming to Punch

W. C. Fields' latest comedy, "He Gave a Sucker an Even Break" featuring an important cast of supporting players, is the attraction of the Punch and early Theatre on Friday and Saturday. Gloria Jean, Erol, Bruce and Bixby, Edna Miller, and Gladys. Many other screen notables appear in the picture with Fields, making comedy and romance a venture are blended short-story "Honky-Tonk," the new M-G-M film which comes to the first play theatre this Sunday through Wednesday. This is the first play to costar Clark Gable and featuring versatile young Lana Turner.

The story moves swiftly through a dizzy pattern of romance and exciting incidents in which Gable and Turner have produced a head-ringing emotional story of the year. One of the factors that helps maintain our sustained interest from start to finish is an outstanding supporting cast, including Frank McRae, Claire Trevor and Marjorie Main.

Along the New Screen Front

It's Dottie Lamour vs. the U. S. Navy this week at the Michigan Theatre.

The film "The Fleet's In" will get its world premiere Friday on the screen and to further honor the occasion it has been revealed that special activities have been planned with local Navy officials.

"The Fleet's In" is Paramount's latest musical hit and into this film, Hollywood has brought the greatest array of stage and screen talents in any musical film this season. Besides Miss Lamour there are also William Holden, Eddie Bracken, Dorothy's own Betty Hutton, and her band with Helen O'Connell and Bob Eberly, and "Lorraine and Rogues."

The film has a very unusual twist, in that Dottie is cast as the girl singer who has never been kissed, but by accident Bill Holden, a decidedly bashful guy, gets the first kiss... and promptly gets typed as a "kiss killer."
