The War Parade Passes the Pointe

GROSSE POINTE FARMS OFFICIALS' REPLY TO STRIKING EMPLOYEES

Report of Committee Appointed to Deal With Local No. 77 of The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees

Village of Grosse Pointe Farms Ninety Kerby Road

Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan July 6, 1942

Grosse Pointe Farms Residents: On June 16th, 1942, the Village Council was advised that certain of its employees, represented by Mr. John Mazer of the American Federation of Labor voted to strike effective as of midnight on June 16th, 1942.

As fully explained in the attached report of a Special Committee appointed by me, the strike was called off pending a full discussion of the complaint. On Thursday evening, July 2nd, 1942, the Council accepted the report of the Committee as submitted and the Union Representative as notified. He verified the report as contained in the last issue of The Grosse Pointe Review, that, if the wage demands as presented by the Union were not met by the Council the men would follow out the original strike notice.

The following telegram was received July 3rd, 1942:

WESTERN UNION Paul H. Downing, Village President, Village of Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich. DEAR SIR: THE EMPLOYEES OF THE HIGHWAY GARAGE MAINTENANCE AND PARK DEPARTMENTS HAVE VOTED TO STRIKE. THEIR STRIKE ACTION, WHICH ACTION SHALL BECOME EFFECTIVE MIDNIGHT SUNDAY, JULY 13TH, JOHN MAZEL, BUSINESS REPRESENTATIVE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF STATE, COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES.

Under these circumstances, and until other arrangements can be made, Rubbish and Garbage Collections will necessarily be Suspended. The residents are asked, for the time being, to dispose of their rubbish to private or charitable agencies (Salvation Army, Good Will Industries, St. Vincent DePaul Society, etc.) which may mean sorting, and to bury your garbage until further notice.

Your Village Officials are of the belief that they are justified in their act and will continue to make every effort to re-establish the services as soon as possible.

Very truly yours, PAUL H. DEMING, Village President

Your Committee has had two meetings with Mr. Mazer, the representative of the Local, one on Tuesday, June 23rd, and a second on Monday, June 29th, each of which occasions Mr. Mazer was afforded fullest opportunity to present the views of the Local, not only with respect to the working agreement which he had requested, but also with respect to the wage increase which had previously been requested, considered by the Budget Committee was adopted at the June meeting of the Council.

The first of the meetings with Mr. Mazer referred to was originally scheduled for the purpose of discussing the working agreement which he desired for the Local. The threatened strike of the Village employees which was to have taken place beginning midnight Sunday, June 21, resulted in the broadening of the scope of these discussions to include the wage increase. The circumstances which resulted in this broader discussion following the June meeting of the Council were, briefly, as follows: The June meeting of the Council closed with the remark of Mr. Mazer that he deplored the attitude of the Council in its action on the wage request, and on behalf of the employees whom he represented, he stated his intention at the attitude of the Council on the night of June 16th, President Deming received a telegraphic advice from Mr. Mazer advising of the intention of the employees to strike as of midnight, June 16th. Immediately, the President sent a letter dated June 16th to all employees, as indicated by Exhibit "A" which follows herewith.

EXHIBIT "A" VILLAGE OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS Ninety Kerby Road

TO THE EMPLOYEES OF THE VILLAGE OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS: The Village President and Board of Trustees have been served by Mr. Mazer, Business Representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees with a notice that a "general strike" of Village employees is to become effective as of midnight Sunday, June 21, 1942.

This is addressed to all Village employees because the Council does not know what individuals speak through Mr. Mazer. Before the raises were recently put into effect, no conditions in communities similar to ours. Current requests for additional wage increases were handled by a Special Committee of the Council. It found that Farms' employees now receive pay equal to and in many cases higher than men similarly employed in similar communities.

The Council's Special Committee, on the basis of these facts, found no justification for increased wages, and not less than $200.00 per year to the Village, almost ten per cent of the total budget. The Council's adoption of this policy which does not include the demand of Mr. Mazer for the strike. The Village records show that all of the strikes have been successful, and other working conditions such as vacations, sick leaves, holidays, overtime etc., have in the past been granted by the Village and Board. The Council hopes that the foregoing statement will satisfy you that its action was taken only after adequate examination of the problem.

The Council therefore proposes that if events make it necessary, operations in the Highway, Garbage, Maintenance and Park Departments, will be suspended.

The President and Board regard the present necessity for having to take this stand. It is the sincere wish of the Board that the men will reconsider their attitude regarding a strike in view of the fact that their action was taken only after adequate examination of the problem.

PAUL H. DEMING, Village President

On Saturday, June 20th, Mr. Deming as President of the Village, was asked by Mr. Lomasney, representing the State Labor Mediation Board, to attend a meeting with Mr. Mazer, their request for the purpose of discussing the possibility of mediating the differences between what all three parties desired. Mr. Deming attended such a meeting, which occurred a substantial part of the day. He explained his inability to act on behalf of the Village but expressed the willingness to cooperate fully with the Labor Mediation Board and with Mr. Mazer in developing a discussion of all the factors which Mr. Mazer has presented. In the course of this meeting it appeared to Mr. Deming that the resentment of the Village employees, as presented by Mr. Mazer, was an expression of their disappointment at a failure to receive increased pay, but in large part, was a matter of uncertainty, resentment based upon what Mr. Mazer had felt was the unkind attitude of the Council and his refusal to allow him opportunity to develop in his address at the June meeting all of the features which he wished to present. As a result of the conference, attended by Messrs. Mazer, Lomasney and Deming, held June 21st, Mr. Mazer agreed to call a strike scheduled for midnight June 21st, pending a further discussion with the Committee. Although it was the resolution of the members of your Committee and of Mr. Deming that Mr. Mazer had had an opportunity to speak at the June meeting, that he had had the floor, had spoken, and that business had only been resumed after Mr. Mazer had apparently spoken to the full extent of his desires, it was the determination of the Committee that it should listen fully to Mr. Mazer in order that a primary desire of the Council, namely, a fully and satisfactory hearing of all positions of employees, might be accomplished. It is the belief of the Council that this hearing has now been accomplished and that the representative of the employees has been afforded the fullest of opportunities to discuss all of the factors bearing upon all of the points of difference between the Council and the employees. The results of these discussions the Committee has given consideration to the wage question and the request for a working agreement.

WAGES In considering the wage question your Committee has had in mind that the Local which existed in the Village in 1941 when the Local was organized, at that time employees were receiving 48 hours pay for 44 hours of actual work, and the class of employee now receiving still the rate of $18 an hour was then being paid at the rate of 75c per hour. The resolution fixing the working conditions of Village employees established a 40 hour week and an hourly rate of $12, as contrasted with an hourly rate of $8 requested by the employees' representative in the 1941 negotiations.

The effect of complying with the request of the Local's representative in 1941 would have been to reduce the weekly pay of the employees. At the time that the wage action was taken in 1941, thorough conditions and wages in similar occupations in similar communities were taken into consideration. It was the opinion of the Village Council that the increase in hourly rate should be in the amount of 25c per hour, an amount 25% in excess of the Union's request. The effect of the establishment of a 40 hour week and an hourly rate of $12, in excess of which the Local now requests an increase of 10c per hour, would be an increase of 25% in the cost of living. This request of the local has been viewed in the background of the situation above discussed and the following outstanding factors:

1. The Emergency Price Control Act contains the following language, which has been accepted as a directive: "It shall be the policy of these departments and agencies of the Government dealing with prices, fair and equitable wages, and cost of production." 2. The President's wage stabilization policy has been expressed by him in the following language: "It is the policy of the Government to stabilize the cost of living and to keep it as low as possible and to prevent it from going up too fast." 3. The fact that the Village tax rate is the highest in the State, within the limits of its authority, is not to be regarded as controlling, for although this factor is admittedly a disadvantage in a position where it has the ability to pay higher wages by levying higher taxes, such ability increases. The National War Labor Board has determined that the Village is not entitled to pay higher wages than the market rate. "It is evident that, if the wage stabilization program, as currently working, is not to be abandoned, it should not be created solely because individual employees desire to have their own wages increased above prevailing wage standards. The stabilization of wages is a part of a 7-point program. The effectuation of that program is a certain step along seven lines of which wage stabilization is one. It is not a separate phase of that program to be nullified merely because some employees have at the moment ability to pay higher wages than the market rate." In re Chase Brass & Copper Co. and International Association of Machinists, District 54 (AFL), 10 NLR 1244.

In considering the Local's request for wage increases there were fully discussed with all municipal employees' representative the various basis of comparison. A comparison of the wages of Village employees with the wages of workers in defense industries was regarded as improper for the reason that municipal employment is unstable as compared with municipal employment, more extensive in its nature and more permanent in its character, more hazardous, and uncompensated by the assurance of continued employment after years of maximum usefulness have been passed. Likewise discarded as a justifiable basis for comparison was the rate in municipalities where the rates are largely paid by merchandising or industrial enterprises. The Committee views the basis of comparison as the rate in municipalities of a similar nature as the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms. A Grosse Pointe Farms with three such communities is shown on Page 5 of Exhibit "B" and entitled "Salary Schedule for Comparison of Departments Having Union Representative."

Auxiliary Coast Guard Patrols Pointe Shore 4 Hours of Each Day

Body of Volunteers Among Unsung Heroes of War Work; Qualifications Are Rigid, Training Strict

Few residents of this region have any adequate concept of the splendid civilian defense system that is being built up in our midst through the medium of the Coast Guard Auxiliary service.

In the regular Naval or Coast Guard service, there is never a hour of the day or night that any part of the Detroit area water front is unguarded and unwatched. It is not, of course, a pleasure work. A constant vigilance must be maintained.

Under the ceaseless watch of one or more of these men, many men who are high officials in the most important industries of this region are giving their time and enduring unusual eye and nerve strain to do the job well.

Special Duties In addition to the regularly maintained shore and water front patrol extra men are always available for special duty during blackouts, when in the Pointe area such emergency calls out from 15 to 25 extra men to man the towers throughout the area.

The employes of the Highway, Garbage, Maintenance and Park departments of Grosse Pointe Farms have been on strike since midnight of July 5. It is unfortunate that the employes have chosen to strike at the height of summer when the menace to health would be greatest due to the accumulation of garbage.

The employes are striking for an increase in wages, despite the fact that they have had two separate increases in their hourly rate since July 1, 1941. Figures presented by the officials of the various departments show that the employes are now receiving higher pay than the corresponding classifications in similar communities.

It is a generally recognized principle that wages and salaries should be maintained at an equitable ratio to living costs. It was to prevent a ruinous race between the two during the abnormal war conditions that the price control administration was set up. In answer to this basis the village authorities maintain that the average price of commodities, named as living necessities, has dropped 1/10 of 1% in the last authoritative comparative quotations.

There is a suspicion that the demands of the village employes were made in anticipation of an approaching increase in living costs. This however is an emergency that had better be met when it arrives in lieu of the advantages that have already been granted within the year.

Meanwhile the budget of the Village for the year has been adopted and there is no way available to provide additional funds for any purpose short of a formal declaration of an emergency. It is doubtful whether the Commissioners would agree to accepting the present situation as an emergency justifying the borrowing of money to persuade its striking employes to remain at work as an alternative to the dangerous accumulation of garbage. They have already asked the citizens to attend to the disposal of their salvageable rubbish to private or charitable agencies and to bury their garbage.

The Commissioners deny the suggestion that an advance in wages might be easily granted in view of the fact that an ample margin yet remains on the village's debt incurring limitations. In this stand there is complete support in recent rulings of the WLRB which, as is well known, is not inclined to discriminate against striking employes.

Our Part In Morale

Lieut. General Brehon B. Somervell, chief of the Army's Service of Supply, has been visiting the Michigan war production work which he has just completed. He says that he was not flattered. He touched off his remarks, which he mildly was pointed and definitely not flattering, by saying that we must have more production per factory per machine and per man and we are not winning this war. He was satisfied that "we can produce more—much more."

"We have taken a terrible shellacking all around the globe," he said. "So far we have lost everything except our smugness." He said that as yet the public seems to have failed to understand the magnitude of the struggle in which we are engaged. "We're fighting a fight with no blows barred," he said, and "every mother's son of us has got to get in there and fight it."

It is possible that General Somervell was better pleased with what he saw in the Michigan plants than he appeared to tell, but it would be monumental folly for us to assume this. The stake is too great to take any chances. Survival as a nation of free men and women is the issue in this fight, nothing less.

It is difficult for the people living in the middle of the war production work of this region to appreciate the anxiety with which the people in other parts of the country view any cessation of work, however slight, in effect. It may be. The splendid job which the great majority of the war workers are really doing may be overlooked in the report of the temporary stoppage of work in some minor department having little bearing on the general production. The men and women of this region engaged in war industries owe it to themselves and the country at large that there shall be little foundation for any unjust or misjudged appraisal of the work they are doing.

The duty of maintaining the national morale is a responsibility which devolves upon everybody in this period of peril and war effort. With us who live in this area, which is the focal point of the anxious eyes of the whole country, a duty rests upon us in no less a measure than that of producing the maximum number of tanks, planes and guns in the quickest possible time.

Courts Martial for Sneaks

We are getting down to brass tacks on the proper way to wage successful war. President Roosevelt issued an executive order last Friday denying money to our civil courts by enemies of this country who have entered since the declaration of war for the purpose of committing sabotage, espionage or other crime against the national safety and requiring their trial by military courts martial. This is heartening news to the people of this country who have long been impatient with any gentle or half-hearted treatment for those who secretly conspire or openly act against the country's welfare in time of war.

This measure is so sweeping that it will cover any person who has come into the country since our entry into the war. They might even come from a friendly foreign state. The only essential fact to prove is that they came in since December 8. Their status as sneaks is established by the character of the crime with which they are charged. These worthies go forthwith before a military court.

There is no recourse to the fof del rol civil courts for this category of enemies. For there is to be henceforth a quick and complete trial and judgment by our own military. We may expect a marked diminution in this type of imports from now on and a more circumspect and cautious conduct on the part of those already among us.

Rubber—Collecting and Wasting

The rubber collection campaign which the President set for the two weeks ending last Tuesday is a disappointing record. The result for the entire country is a great store of rubber expected. The amount of scrap rubber awaiting salvage was variously estimated to be from 700,000 tons to ten million tons. The latter estimate may have been far more realistic, as it is less than the lowest figure has been a shock to the country.

Either there is not as much cast off rubber available as was supposed or the people have not yet taken the matter seriously. It is no doubt possible that there is not so much of it, but there is no doubt that there is a great deal of it. The collection when the President of the United States fell impelled to make the matter the subject of a special appeal.

Possibly there have been so many "Aresdale chats" and other forms of personal address from the Chief Executive that they are getting to be an old story and losing their force. In former times the people rarely heard direct from the President and when they did it became the subject of private discussion and editorial comment for weeks.

There should, however, be no mistaking the seriousness of the rubber question. When we learn that 90% of the world's rubber supply is in the hands of our enemies and that we formerly used 60% to 75% of the world's output we should see the picture clearly. It is not merely a matter of retaining the luxury and convenience of personal transportation as far as possible. That is the least part of the problem. Our whole world of business and service has come to depend so largely on rubber that that such an exhaustion of the supply which could be easily envisaged, would bring us face to face with a situation that would be appalling.

The rationing of rubber was just the first to conserve our stock for army military purposes and to stretch any remaining supplies as far as possible to care for those individuals and concerns whose business is wholly dependent upon transportation on rubber. It was intended from the beginning to discourage in every way possible short of absolute prohibition, the use of rubber for pleasure driving or for any unnecessary purpose. When gas rationing was imposed on the Atlantic seaboard about the middle of May one of the chief reasons for its imposition was that it would directly contribute to the saving of rubber. Without this fact to support it there would have been a mighty protest from the Eastern States against the unlimited use of gas by the people living in the interior.

In all probability nationwide gas rationing will soon be in effect. Its primary purpose will be to enforce the saving of rubber. There are a few things that can be done in the country which have always been accustomed to the unlimited use of tires and everything else that enters into the luxury of automobile driving, assume that somehow, some way it will always be arranged. Meanwhile they are unwilling to adjust their personal convenience to the country's vital needs.

It strikes a harsh note with the serious thinking citizen to see teen age youngsters shooting about in roadsters with their motors running, in on to gather up rubber scraps for the Nation's needs.

It has been estimated that wholly unnecessary driving is grinding up 150-200 tons of rubber every twenty-four hours. It is a worthy commentary on the quality of civilian cooperation.

We can't win this war on this basis. And this is a war in which we either win, or lose all.

Frank Discussion Needed

The first step in the program for effecting basic changes in the form of government for Wayne county was taken with the filing of the big petition at Lansing last Thursday. This was only an introductory measure. Whether or not these proposed changes are to find concrete basis in law will be decided by the voters at the general election next November.

At the present moment there seems to be a general unanimity that fundamental changes should be made in the structure of the county government. This may be based more upon dissatisfaction with the operations of the present form than upon any clear understanding of what the proposed change will accomplish. The whole program of the proponents of the measure was rather nebulous in this respect.

It would be well to clarify the proposal by an intensive study of the subject by the voters next November. Those who advanced the measure should be prepared to shed light on the subject so that between now and the time when the citizens must either accept or reject it an informed public sentiment can be developed. It is necessary both for the protection of the people and as a chart of their wishes for the guidance of the all important charter commission which would come into being with the approval of the home rule act.

The people have a full right to know in advance as completely as possible where all this question heads in. It will not be sufficient to lay it in their lap with a "reform" label pasted on it and nothing else. Citizens in the various municipalities and city governments in the whole country had their genesis in so-called demands for reform, and the leaders in these movements have often been wholly impractical and incapable of executing the commissions granted to them.

This whole matter is one of permanent and deep concern to every resident of the county. They have a right to know all about it that anybody else knows. Neither can the issue be passed up as a matter of local interest and judgment of a charter commission, not to be named possibly until months after the people have definitely committed themselves for or against the measure. There is a lot more to this plan than has yet been divulged. Let's have frank talk all around; early and in ample time.

New York Cavalcade

By LOUIS SOBOL

"That Man Churchill" No one can accuse Winston Churchill of a barren life before he mounted to political supremacy in Great Britain. In the Beer War he was not only in the line of fire—but was taken prisoner and escaped. Some days before his escape he asked for a book to read. He was handed "Essay on Liberty" afterwards he came to America, where a lecture tour netted him $10,000 in two months.

All this and more of compensation for those days or even now. Incidentally, when the news were searching for him after his escape they stressed as identification the fact that he had a peculiar lip. That lip is still one of his outstanding characteristics.

In an article for Strand Magazine back in 1933 Churchill wrote: "I always loved cartoons from Punch and Sunday was never allowed to study them. This was a very good way to learn

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

My sudden garbage trouble reminds us of a true story we heard years and years ago. Way down East, just outside of the little town of Newbury, there was a veddy elegant station of countryside, dotted with estates and homes of a number of Broadway stars, playwrights and producers, who were "in the chips."

For years, the same old man came to gather up the garbage from these estates and he was a familiar sight to the owners of the houses. One day, one of the gentry noticed that in place of the old man—on the garbage truck sat a fairly well known concert pianist. The producer, who happened to know him by sight and reputation asked what on earth he was doing collecting the garbage. The young man explained that the old man who used to do the job was his father, and went on to explain that since his father was ill, he was taking his place so that the old man wouldn't lose his job. "Anyway," said the young pianist, "I'm making more money doing this than I do playing concerts!"

In Hobbies magazine, is a collection of letters written by mothers to the teachers of their children. The following are a few of the funniest: "Dear Teacher, please excuse Robert as he was annoyed by his head." Another read, "Dear Teacher, kindly excuse Tom for being late yesterday, our clock was slow and didn't realize it." Another: "Dear Sir, please excuse Paul from being absent, as he was a virgin in the church procession." One letter writes that a night school teacher was, "Dear Sir, on account of having to work nights, I am unable to attend night school. It has been very nice to know you. I hope that this will last long."

This sort of thing is very amusing, but doesn't compare with the exchange of notes between teacher and parent once brought to our attention. The incensed educator had written a brief epistle to John's mother, which said—"Your son is dirty and has an offensive odor. Please give him a bath." To which Mamma replied, much more to the point—"Learn 'em; don't smell 'em."

To our ever flapping ears has come news of a victory garden that we think is worthy of special mention. At the corner of Clifford and Bagley, there is a fruit store owned by a kindly little man, known to his customers as "Casey." In the back of Casey's store is a fire hydrant surrounded by a foot of dirt. Within this small diameter, Casey has planted his victory garden which includes 3 stalks of corn, one tomato vine, and 2 bean vines. Daily he gives his "garden" tender care and it is very fond of it. When we asked what he did about the possibility of destruction by rain, Casey informed us that he had found a special kind of fertilizer that dogs do not like. Maybe Casey has something there—we wish that we had it here!

We like the story about a local teetotaler who gave a dinner party one night recently. For business reasons, he had to invite a man who is usually the worse for wear after a few drinks. As he was on the guest became drunker and drunker, which made the host soberer and soberer. Finally, the host called his guest aside and proceeded to give him a lecture on the pitfalls and stupidity of drunkenness. The inebriated doctor had written a brief epistle to the host and weaving motion that is so typical of the drunkard, refused to listen to the tirade, and sozzled here said, "Shay, Mar, I know shumpin' you don't know." The stiff-necked host condescended to hawl, "What?" Whereupon our Barchanallah hero pointed an unsteady finger to the ground and whispered, "You're standing on my foot." (P.S. He was?)

SOCIAL ITEMS FROM EVERYWHERE:

In a small town party we came across the following: "Mr. and Mrs. Scandoo will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary on July first, at their home on Main Street. All are invited." Another item that caught our baby blue eyes was the story of a wedding breakfast, following the marriage of the town's leading socialites. It read, in part—"The table was decorated with a small mandarin, in front of which were two white roses in a beautiful arrangement." (Local florists, please copy.)

Whenever the opportunity affords and there is no doubt his last years. He was on the battlefield front with King Edward, Prince of Wales, going up his throne for the first time with King George V. He is known most of the world's greats, Lawrence of Arabia, well. He was one of the very few pre-

Lovely New Pointe Bride

Mrs. Donald Edwin Brown is one of Grosse Pointe's nicest acquisitions of late. If there's any doubt in your mind, cast another glance at the above. Local jobs are taking over by the score.

Mrs. Brown is the former Miss Marjorie Rutherford, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Rutherford of Bloomington, Ont. Her marriage to Mr. Brown, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Brown of Washington, took place recently in London, Ont. A vicar at the ceremony included two cousins of the bride, Miss Mary Wilson of Windsor, and Lou Rutherford of the RCAF.

Mrs. Brown attended Wayne university and is a former pupil of Miss Ketter, Detroit concert pianist. She is the granddaughter of the late Honorable A. C. Rutherford, first premier of Alberta and former head of the University of Alberta. Mrs. Brown is a graduate of the Detroit Business University and is now attending the Detroit College of Law.

After a wedding trip through Eastern United States and Canada, they are now living in Grosse Pointe.

The appointment by the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, of Hannel Dwight Wilson as the national war projects chairman of the junior unit, is surprising. Louise Clair Chanter on to a new high in its war effort.

The Junior Daughters, organized in 1938, now have a membership of more than 8,000 consisting of 693 junior groups.

Mrs. Wilson gave a lot at her home on Lincoln road for the members who have volunteered to assist with the local chapter's latest war work. The present war project, sponsored by the national DAR is the purchasing of foreign body detectors for use in United States Army and Navy hospitals.

The foreign body detector is a radiologic device which locates, immediately and without guesswork, bullets, shrapnel, and metal fragments lodged in a human body. It eliminates the danger, shock and agony of surgical probing that has always been the horror of military operating stations.

The instrument is small enough to be carried in a mobile hospital unit. The Louis St. Clair chapter, Mrs. Elsterth Kramer, junior president, and Mrs. Harold Tanner, Mrs. Roy Dellart, Mrs. Richard Wagner, Mrs. Frederick Fiske, Mrs. Leslie Wrigley, Fred Limbion and others.

Defense Mothers Object of Study

The need and facilities for community provision for day care of children in defense industries is being investigated by the Grosse Pointe Committee for Day Care of Children.

This committee is working as a subsidiary of the Wayne County Council on Defense.

Dr. Paul L. Essert, superintendent of schools, has appointed the following study committee: Mrs. M. J. Kingan, Mrs. Ruth Hubstman, Mrs. Donna King, Mrs. Julia Hubstman, Mrs. Pauline Maske, Mrs. John King, Mrs. Odgers, Bob Ward, and Lois and Bob Horner.

The committee is not concerned with taking care of children while the mother is taking her first aid course while she does her marketing. Only the children of mothers actually engaged in defense work will be eligible for consideration.

The War Production Board estimates that 100,000 women are needed to fill the labor quota in the Detroit defense area alone. It will be practically impossible to meet this labor quota if no facilities are provided for the care of the children of women workers.

Detroit agencies have already taken steps to provide child care facilities in areas where the demand is great. Should any extensive need for similar services be discovered the community will undoubtedly be able to meet the problem.

I Wake Up Screening

By R. E. LUBICK

You'll see "This Gun for Hire" beginning Friday at the Michigan theatre and you'll be amazed at the swell job that performer Alan Ladd does in his performance as the silent killer, The Raven.

It's a strange buildup that the handsome Ladd has not followed for himself by the movie know-it-alls. His part is cool, disinterested, and without emotion. In fact only about once does he even smile, and that is near the end of the picture when the credits are stacked against him and Veronica Lake soothes him in a sisterly way.

It's a certainty that Ladd will go places in the film world, unless the draft gets there first, and it is also usually true that such a killer part may, if it receives demand it will fly forever. However there has been a looseness in reticulous history when gangsters have received pretty degenerate good first appearance recognition for example George Raft and Clark Gable.

Remember Raft in the only true gangland epic "Scarface"? As I remember he was the buddy-silver dollar. And in the last scene when he was shot by Dudley Muni, he sank slowly to the floor still flipping the dollar... and that boys and girls was some climax.

At any rate Raft received nice critics' notices and went on to greater screen heights and became the steady boy friend of Betty Grable. And if that is all the result of that silver dollar, it certainly has my approval. Betty Grable, good!

And Clark Gable too started out as a gangland hero, in race track features. Which counteracts the state and gives additional hope in the flatterer heart section that in days to come Ladd will be the dad that gets the girl.

YMCA NEWS

When the boys at the Hannan Y.M.C.A. went to their first class in handcraft they found the shop completely redecorated. Many tools have been added to the shop and the room has been completely repainted. Mr. Dunlop, craft instructor, has many interesting projects for the boys.

The archery range at Lingsmann playground is also attracting the interest of many of the boys. Some have made their own bows and arrows in the hobby shop.

The first Father-Son Night is scheduled for this Friday, July 10. The boys will play the Dads in basketball and then run out with a refreshing swim in the "Y" pool. All "Y" boys are urged to bring their Dads.

The special program on Wednesday afternoon, July 15, will be a movie program on "Fishing". A picture of Deep Sea Tuna Fishing from the Van-Camp Sea Food Company, and the two films on Fishing with Tony Accetta, stalwart bait and Flycasting Champion, from the Fisher Bait Company are on the program. There will, of course, be the usual comedy called "Home Cook".

Boys interested in participating in the fine summer program at the "Y" may get information from Alvin R. Deiss or Franklin Cooper at the Hannan Y. M. C. A.

Punch Offering Ginger and Doug

Producer Edward Small's liking for films of adventure in the swashbuckling tradition, which gave us "Count of Monte Cristo," "Man in the Iron Mask" and "San Slon Crispien," is again displayed in "The Corsican Brothers," which comes to the Punch and Judy Theatre this Friday through Monday, in this adaptation of Alexander Dumas classic.

At Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. portrays twins, fighters both, a device giving him double latitude for his tendency toward heroics, while Akim Tamiroff as the arch villain furnishes a characterization that dominates the picture.

Ginger Rogers is starred in the hilarious comedy "Roxie Hart" which plays at the Punch and Judy Theatre, Tuesday through Thursday. It's the lowdown of a high class gag and features Adolphe Menjou and George Montgomery.

Written with an eye to laughter, "Roxie Hart" is a comical satire on Chicago of 15 years ago, in the days when Cook County refused to sentence a murderer, spiced with Ginger Rogers, the film hits a note high in hilarity!

Olympia Offers Roller Skating

More Than Half Acre of Space and Organ Music Provided Devotees

Don't look now, but Art has come to the Great Unwashed, Arenas once dedicated to the proposition that women and men love to see one brawny guy knock another's brains out have been transformed into smooth, shimmering salons de sport where nobody gets hurt except roller skating devotees seeking to obtain admission for a new sport that has taken the country by storm. Nobody is smacked, nobody is punched, nobody wins a championship or a cup. There is nothing at stake and there is nothing to be seen but the gyrations of graceful roller skaters.

All of which leads to the announcement that Olympia, generally recognized as the foremost sports arena in the State, will open its mammoth plant for roller skating next Tuesday night.

There are two ways of determining if a new sport should be rated on the big time. These are, first, when it begins to have trouble with the Amateur Athletic Union and second, when it blossoms forth with beautiful female stars, pictures of whom regularly adorn magazine sections, magazine covers and history aids.

Of late, roller skating has been doing both. With some 4,000 roller-skating rinks dotting our landscape, with 50 per cent of our population indulging in this new form of mechanized pleasure; with the rank owners and the Amateur Athletic Union screaming blue murder at each other over who controls whom, and with a $100,000 roller skating production touring the country—roller skating has definitely arrived.

Olympia's $30,000 roller skating rink, covering 17,500 square feet of surface, comprises nearly one-half acre of skating surface and can accommodate 2,000 skaters. It is made of maple and includes 402 sections averaging 12 feet long and four feet wide.

Music for the skating sessions will be furnished by Marie Clark at the console of the giant organ. Skating sessions starting Tuesday night, will be held daily and Sunday. Nightly sessions will be held from 8 to 11. Afternoon sessions from 2 to 5.

Dr. Matthew Houghton Given Farewell Party

Thirty-five fellow members of the Grosse Pointe Rotary club gave a stag party for Dr. Matthew A. Houghton in his home on Barkshire last Thursday night in honor of his recent induction into the army.

Dr. Houghton has been treasurer of the club and an executive member of its board of directors for some time. While the evening was a pleasant occasion in the best Rotarian tradition it was tinged with sincere regret at seeing the happy association and daily companionship with one of the club's most valuable and worthy members.

With this too there was a deep undercurrent of pride that another one of the members was entering the war service of the nation. Dr. Houghton's induction day was July 4.

Number of Beekeepers Increased by War Needs

If we can't get sugar from the grocer, we'll get honey from the hive. That, apparently, is the slogan of a good many Michigan families that have become beekeepers in order to obtain a supply of honey as a substitute sweetener during the sugar shortage. According to Leo V. Card, state commissioner of agriculture, there are now more than 11,000 registered beekeepers in the state. There has also been an increase in commercial apiaries.

There are nearly 200,000 colonies of bees in Michigan and the yield of honey is between eight and twenty million pounds a year. Michigan does not produce bees of other states.

Honey may be used in a variety of ways in the place of sugar, including cooking and baking and in soft drinks.

Victory Gardening

The Critical Month
July may be considered the critical month in the Victory Garden. The reason for this may be stated in the following observations: During the month of July most plants are still making rapid growth. Others are beginning to set fruit. If a period of dry weather, as is usually the case, happens about this time, the garden crops will suffer a serious loss.

check, which may have a detrimental effect.
A second observation is the rapid growth of obnoxious weeds, which if unchecked will eclipse the cultivated crops and gain the upper hand in the garden. Weeds do not suffer by lack of water nearly as much as cultivated crops. Therefore, while the growth of the former is slowed down to a walk during the dry season, the rampant weeds continue to grow at a rapid pace to gain the upper hand.
A third observation is the psychological belief that accompanies every undertaking about the time that it is half-completed. People are usually over-enthusiased at the start of any new venture. Their imagination has engendered many beautiful and realistic dreams that either never materialize or perhaps are quite different from what was first visualized. Like the pendulum of a clock, over-optimism is apt to swing to opposite extremes. One may become unduly dejected just as much as he may have been unduly enthused.
Later when the season is nearing a climax and the fruits of our labors are plainly visible and within our grasp, the effect is both cheering and satisfying. The Victory Gardener should keep his chin up. If things look bad because of unfavorable weather, we can help matters along by frequent cultivation of the soil around the desired plants. Frequent cultivation creates greater weeds and forms an insulating match of loose soil which conserves vital moisture in the soil. This permits plants to grow in spite of the dry weather. Professional gardeners refer to this as a "Dust Mutch".
In order to insure a continuation of crops, sowing of vegetables may be made until the middle of July. These vegetables should, of course, be quick growing varieties, or varieties which are quite hardy. Among the former may be mentioned early Beans, Lettuce, Radishes, early Beets and Carrots.
Among the harder types, we may mention Kohl-Rabi, Curry Endive, Broad Leaf Endive or Escarole and Early Cabbage. The expenditure for a few seeds is very nominal. Planted with a little care and given a liberal sprinkling of water occasionally, the young plants will soon become well established and produce abundantly in September.
Early Beets and Romanesco Lettuce are two particularly good vegetables to grow. The head lettuce does not do well in hot weather, but Cos Lettuce, forms loose elongated heads of green crispness and buttery flavor. Early Wonder, Early Egyptian are too good early beets. Early Jersey Wakefield and Marston Market are two good cabbages.

Rolling Club Show At Club Royale

It is a rollicking show full of spirit and fun out at the Club Royale this week, where George Betty, the headlining comedian from Broadway is literally captivating the patrons with his smart song patter. One of his specialties is a tale of a little gal from Peoria who has quite hilarious adventures in the big city, and his pantomime of a drunk leaves nothing to be desired in this field.
Russell Nutter, son of Mrs. Marie Nutter of Moran road entertained several people at the Nutter summer home in Belle River, Ontario, over the Fourth of July weekend. Guests included Julie McNair, Johnny Park, Jean Steel, Dave Keena, Mary Thompson, Harry Cole, Bud Lester, Ann Powell, Bob Scott, Harold Semmler, Berceford Palmer, and others.
