Woods Solons Promise to Whip Floods

Residents Storm Council Meeting to Hear Commission's Explanation

More than 50 irate residents of Grosse Pointe Woods jammed into the village commission meeting yesterday night to learn what was going to be done to stop the repetition of the floods that damaged many basements last summer and again last winter. The property owners had on the commission's side of the street, met at the anger subsided, but there remained a small group of hecklers to heap coals of fire on the village council members.

The residents wanted to know why nothing had been done after last year's flood, and what was to be done in the future to safeguard their properties.

Commission Chairman, Charles G. Gresham, explained that the village board had been informed by the Detroit Edison company of the possibility of a similar experience. These plans were submitted to the commission in November, and the village board, which is shared by the village and commission, entailing an elaborate automatic mechanism to shut off the water in the event of a strike by the workers carrying the water to the pumps. Most of the work to be done by the village board.

Commissioner Gresham stated that the commission was willing to do anything in its power to prevent the installation, but even after Pearl Harbor and prior to that time, the village board had not obtained the necessary funds to carry out the plan.

Mr. Gresham says the commission is now considering two possible solutions to the problem. The first entails a hand-operated switch system which would cut the pumps into the power lines, which would be operated by the transformers. It might be necessary to get a special ruling from the W.P.B. to install the second plan concerns the purchase of a power system, which would be operated by the man the pumps should be struck by a strike.

The commission will meet next Tuesday night, with reports on the subject, to arrive at one definite plan. The installation is expected to be settled for next week.

Police Abandon Kid Glove Policy

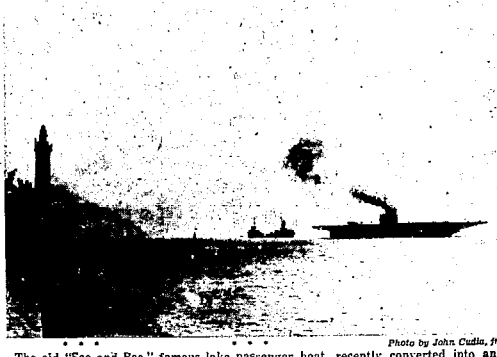

With the issuance of nearly 500 hundred tickets during the past year, the Detroit Police Department has abandoned the "kid glove" policy of merely warning violators and walkers that the pedestrian ordinance means what it says.

Following orders from Police Commissioner John W. Witherspoon to abandon the "kid glove" policy of merely warning violators of the ordinance, police have been handing out tickets which, if not paid, will be turned in to the Traffic Violations Bureau. But which, in the event of a violation, payment of at least a five-dollar fine. In lieu of payment of the fine, motorists are to attend a lecture on the problems of the new law in Traffic Court.

As a result of the step-up in enforcement, Donald Stutz, manager of the Traffic Safety Association, said that there had been a considerable improvement in voluntary observance, particularly on the downtown area. Stutz explained that the high degree of observance which was the result of the intensive educational campaign which reached its climax on the "Red Ribbon" day of the week, had declined somewhat in recent weeks. He believes that the police should continue to enforce the ordinance with a "kid glove" policy.

In handling more intensive enforcement, Commissioner Witherspoon pointed out that the Police Department would not conduct a "campaign" but would continue to maintain the stepped-up rate of continuing policy.

Pointe Glimpses First Airplane Carrier

The old "See and Bee," famous lake passenger boat, recently converted into an aircraft carrier for training purposes on the Great Lakes, glances up the Detroit river into Lake St. Clair yesterday morning. The News photographer got this picture as the vessel was passing Windmill Pointe and entering the lake. Renamed the "Wolverine," she is on her way to be put into training service.

Youths Admit Park Robbery

Are Turned Over to Juvenile Court After Stealing $10 From Residence

Grosse Pointe detectives solved a mid-July breaking and entering case this week and turned several juvenile law violators over to the Detroit Juvenile court for trial.

The youths were arrested by Detective Sergeants Arthur Louwers and Robert Butts who finally nabbed the culprits after several days of investigation.

The officers arrested the Park youngsters after running down a long line of suspects who were around a Grand Haven home at the time of the robbery or who might have known that the residents had gone away for several days leaving the house empty.

The youths admitted stealing $10 in cash from a dresser in the home at 525 Grand Haven.

Because of the youngsters' age and because it was their first offense, the News is withholding their names.

Students Urged To Enroll Now

Students who plan on enrolling in the school for the first time this fall are urged to do so during the next two weeks. (This does not include incoming 7th and 10th's who were enrolled 1st September in Grosse Pointe public schools.)

Much time will be saved and more attention can be given if the enrollment is made before school begins. The school is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. for this purpose.

When coming to enroll, students should either have their records sent on ahead from the previous school or else bring some sort of report card or transfer slip.

Patrolman Who Goes to Dogs Gets Enthusiastic Reception

Patrolman Hanna Henning is going to the dogs. He has become the hero of the hour in the village. The story began when Henning, who is a police officer in Grosse Pointe Park, started a census of all animals in that village. After a few days, he discovered that there were more than 1,100 dogs in the municipality.

That was in early June, and Henning warned animal owners that they had better get their dogs tagged by the first of August. A sufficient period lapsed and Henning again made a foot by foot census of the village. A street with a lot of dogs was found.

The result showed after nine days of taking that 314 dog owners were guilty of not having their dogs tagged. A meeting was held at the police station to discuss the matter. Arthur P. Johnson, who helped to pass the dog ordinance, Johnson later had his

Hit and Run Motorist Is Fined $25 and Costs

Griffin was arrested Saturday morning by Park and Detroit police officers who trailed him to his home after he had driven a parked car in back of St. Ambrose church on Wayburn avenue. A bystander saw the crash and saw Griffin drive away.

Robbers Hit Vulnerable Block Again

Theater Itself Is Victim This Time, But Bandits Play To Empty House

Thieves have again visited the Punch and Judy block in the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms. The league standing now reads: "Thieves—5; Police—1."

The latest entry was made early Friday morning when someone crashed a street-level window screen in front of the theater building and climbed into the manager's office. He also escaped without benefit of booty.

In this case, box office receipts. Or maybe the marauders hoped to find Rita Hayworth in person, hoping for extra special billing.

Results Are Nil

Disappointed in either case, whoever it was who gained entrance to the theater and found it empty, then jimmied open the drawer in the desk of Manager Krueger, who was on vacation last week. Nothing was taken. Mr. Krueger reported that he came back on the job Monday. They didn't even make off with the typewriter, which he has been led to believe is now in the hands of the police. A wall panel which concealed a sturdy, cement-fronted wall safe, evidently presented too much of a problem. Joe Nelson, theater manager, reported that he was alerted when he came to work early Friday morning and reported it to the police. Some fingerprints had been discovered, it is reported.

Going into a recapitulation of the part of the Punch and Judy block has played in crime — a little more than a year ago the store occupied by Boodles for Britain and the Peter Pan, next door, were both victims of a smash theft who made away with purses and some stock.

Some time later the draughtstore was held up at gunpoint at midnight and its manager relieved of a considerable amount of cash which he was counting. This was done by a young gang of hoodlums, some of whom were armed with pistols while preparing plans for their stickup.

Pertinent Questions On Draft Answered

Pointer Query Leads News to Dig Information from Selective Service Records; Officials Helpful

"I was surprised to learn how few people know facts pertaining to the draft," wrote Walter Ewend, of Hillcrest road, to the News this week, "and I am quite sure your readers would appreciate your enlightening them as to the following facts:

Evened then submitted a series of questions, answers of the majority of which the News agreed are important, but little known facts.

Checking in Selective Service records and with Draft officials, the News was able to supply the following answers to the questions submitted.

1. How are the different draft boards made? Is a board for each municipality, or are there many registered voters, so many square miles, or each about 30,000.

2. According to Selective Service law 603.52, Each state shall be divided into local board areas by the governor. Each shall have a population of about 30,000. There shall be at least one separate local board area in each county.

Local Board 57 covers the Grosse Pointe-Gration township area which has a population of about 25,000. It includes Grosse Pointe Woods, Farms and Lakeside, which includes Detroit and various outlying communities, there are 12 local boards in the area.

2. In setting up quotas, is it based on percentage of the total registrants?

The Selective Service law on this, under 631.2, (b) says: "The local board quota percentage is the ratio of the local board quota to the state quota basis, expressed in percentage."

This actually means that local Board 57's induction quotas are set by the State Selective Service headquarters in Lansing and are based in ratio to the other state boards. For example, if the population of Michigan is 4,000,000 and there are 100 local boards in the state, and a monthly induction quota for Michigan was set at 10,000, then each draft board would be required to supply 100 men.

3. If a quota is set, say 40 men, and 15 are rejected because of physical unfitness, are additional men have to be called in addition to the regular next quota?

Each board is required to supply a full quota of men. If it is unable to do so, it must call in must supply them at some later date, fixed by Lansing headquarters.

4. Is there a moratorium on mortgage payments on your home?

Yes, laws can be stayed until the man returns from service.

5. Is there a moratorium for enlisted or drafted men on insurance (life or otherwise) payments?

Yes, if the total insurance is under $500 the enlisted man can make application to the Veterans Administration in Washington who will keep up the payments on the policies until the man is either not applying or Veterans Administration.

Total of 780 Don Uniforms To July 31st

Increases in Selective Service Quotas Generally Offset by Volunteers

Voluntary enlistments in the country's armed services are being almost equalled the number of men taken under the Selective Service act.

This was discovered this week when a survey by the Grosse Pointe News of draft records at Board 57 disclosed that of July 31, 1942, there have been 405 men drafted from the Pointe and 675 who voluntarily enlisted in some branch of the armed services.

Prior to Pearl Harbor volume of men in the Grosse Pointe News had almost equalled the number of men taken under the Selective Service act.

British Womanhood in War

An officer holding a relatively high position in the Royal Air Force was at present in the Middle West and he was giving expression to opinions on the conduct of the war and the respective responsibilities of England and America which has been to Americans an illuminating sidelight on the attitude of thinking Englishmen.

From the fact that this gentleman was a veteran of the last war, although yet a man only 44 years old, his American listeners were inclined to accept as genuine his emphasis that his opinions were in no manner influenced by any "Old School Ties." He believed there were entirely too many old men in command in Britain and that they over there, in common with us, suffered from a brass hat scourge, although due to a two year war experience before we got into it they had probably made a little better progress to date in shaking off this incubus.

He was frankly disappointed with what he termed the lack of war spirit of the people of this country, particularly in the interior. The people here, he said, do not seem to realize the deadly peril that confronts the whole English speaking world.

On one angle of the war effort abroad, however, he expressed wholehearted enthusiasm and admiration; and that was the part that the women of England were playing. As he put it "their work was absolutely magnificent." Over there was no such thing as selecting that branch of service which offered the most becoming uniform. They went into the particular work for which they were best fitted or where the Government saw them to go and did so cheerfully. There were millions of British women who would rush into actual combat service if their menfolk or the government would permit them to do so for actual fighting. The percentage of participation by womanhood in war in England has ever before been equalled in any other civilized country in the world's history, not excepting present day Germany.

This British officer was so deeply moved by the part the women of his country were bearing in the war that he was strongly in favor of a substantial representation of women in the final councils which are predetermining the social-economic and military dispositions of the world-to-be when the fighting ends.

Already the women of England have taken over the work of men in the war industries in every task they are physically able to perform, and in doing so it is feared in work that is rather beyond their strength.

It was an informing picture that our British flying visitor drew, but without without any vainglorious references to the heroic battles his countrymen have been waging for three years against a powerful enemy so close to their shores that they have been subjected to bombardment from his land placed batteries. He did concede that the "young lads" in the R.A.F. (which group obviously did not include himself) "did a good bit of work" in the battle of Britain and London which continued throughout the fall and winter of 1940.

For Americans there was an obvious lesson to be drawn from this Englishman's remarks although not by word or tone did he seem to imply any intent to convey a sermon. Those who were privileged to listen to him, however, endured a self-confirmation knowing that some of us had been guilty of criticizing the war conduct of the people of a little country, smaller in area than our own state of Michigan, who had had the supreme courage to face in global war the mightiest military power in history for nearly two years after all of its natural allies except ourselves had been conquered and enslaved.

He had unshaken confidence that with our help the war would be won, but frankly acknowledged that it could be achieved only with our help. It is a long hard journey ahead, to be pursued successfully only after trial and suffering greater than any yet endured. With full credit to the heroic delaying actions of Russia and China it must yet remain for the preme effort of the united strength of the English speaking nations to deliver the final coup.

He was uncompromising in his insistence that Germany must be rendered impotent for another harm to the world within the lifetime of any one now living.

Blow for Democracy

Cactus Jack Garner in the days when he presided over the United States Senate during the great drought is said to have struck many a blow for liberty via his private refrigerator but it remained for Buck Private Bill Adams of the U. S. Army to strike one of the mightiest blows for democracy.

The fact that it was the daughter of the Prime Minister of Great Britain who twitted Bill about his big feet did not influence this forthright Yankee one whit in his quickly determined correctional treatment. Grabbing the proud daughter of the House of Churchill and posing her not too gently across his knee he proceeded to apply a broad palm, suitable mate to the offending feet, on that posterior segment of the noble anatomy where it would do the most good. What a convincing demonstration of the genuineness of American democracy as not only a talking but practicing institution.

A daughter of a hundred ears could weave no spell over an American but private who happens to be a patronymic famous for its irrelevance for British royalty and nobility.

And it's a safe wager that aside from that shrinking group in England who love their lords the great body of Englishmen enjoyed a quiet chuckle.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A Fryor, whose williams, often kindnesses and many thrusts that are several degrees deeper than pinpricks on the foibles and floscoes of contemporary America, ordinarily make this column the most sought out single feature in the News, has asked that the column this week be leveled at something that is neither fun nor funny.

A mighty thrill agitated all America yesterday morning like a galvanic battery twitching a pale of frog legs. The early radio broadcasts and the first editions of the afternoon newspapers told us of the air, land and sea raids on the French coast which might be the opening blast of the long discussed second front on the western European coast. Or it might be a major "softening" operation preliminary to the same purpose. Who knows? A very few days, maybe a few number of hours will bring the answer.

And then the local tenness was further accentuated by the radio broadcast which came over air about 2:30 yesterday afternoon from the R.A.F. training station on Grosco, he calling all trainees to report immediately at base and further to pass the word to address on leave who might be encountered who had missed the broadcast to do likewise.

Was this to be another "Dawn Patrol" where the 17-year-old lad with 7 hours solo flight in his credit was to be sent out again, this time also, but now over the enemy's lines?

Yes, there must be something doing. The tempo of war, our war, was suddenly stepped up. We were edging nearer hourly, we over there, towards that moment when we, our boys, would be in the thick of it.

Momentarily we forgot the heroic lads in the far away South Pacific who have been fighting full scale war for months.

Remember the column-long casualty lists of 1918! Well, you are going to be spared the visual shock of the melancholy days, but the casualty lists are there; just the same; they have been piling up for weeks and months with no one giving them particular heed except the pale faced wife or father or mother here in who gets the dour "killed" or "missing in action" stereotyped message from the War or Navy department.

And these messages are going to pile up in an ever mounting heap. Maybe the flood is starting now.

There can't be a red blooded American in the whole land at this moment but wishes he or she could carry a more vital part.

Well, YOU CAN.

Get this straight now; if every last man and woman in the United States of America doesn't help to pay the cost of this war until they are blue white, we won't have, when peace comes at last, even though we win the war, the kind of America we have had and to which we have become so accustomed we have accepted it as a sort of Divine, irrevocable gift.

We have to realize, and must realize before it is too late, that this country of ours, this beaconlight of oppressed humanity since its founding 166 years ago, is in deadly peril.

There is no holy assurance in the boast that "America has never lost a war."

She can lose this one. Thus far she has lost it. She will lose it definitely and finally unless every true American does his full part.

Selfishness has no place in this fight. It is blood brother to treason.

This is TOTAL WAR.

Do you know what TOTAL means? Well it means EVERY THING.

All that you possess of wealth, of brawn and brain, of pride of country, of freedom in all its means, of hope for your own present and your children's future are, whether you yet realize it or not, in this mortal cast of war.

It is up to you Mr. and Mrs. American to determine what way the scales are to tip.

Ten per cent may be all many of you can give. There are many thousands who can and must give much more. They will have to do so.

Waste must stop; work must be intensified; salvaging must be genuine and effective.

The boys in uniform are giving their all. Dare you do less? The answer, AMERICAN, is yours to make.

Portrize—The fine folk of the show world will have contributed directly or through their efforts more than a billion dollars as their war gear before year's end. Gratiot Township's New Garbage and Rubbish Disposal Schedule

Picks up will be made every FRIDAY on the following streets: Kingsville, Washtenaw, Kenosha. On all other streets in the Township, pick ups will be made on TUESDAY.

The Township Board recently made a complete survey of this important problem. It was found that with the proper cooperation of the public this service could be given better at a reduced cost to the individual. As the tax limitation for the Township does not provide for this service it must therefore be paid for by the actual users of the service.

This economy can continue to be had if the following rules are followed:

- 1—Drain and wrap all garbage
- 2—Garbage Can should not exceed 20-gal. capacity
- 3—Keep lid on can at all times
- 4—Pick ups to be made from front of homes only on day scheduled

A charge of 10c (ten cents) will be made for each unit picked up (a unit to be 20 gals., or less) which will be billed and mailed to the resident at the same time as the water bill. Kiwians Make Concrete Contribution to Community

Members of Service Organization Spend Two Evenings Laying New Sidewalk from Club's Entrance to Mack Avenue

There is nothing abstract about the contribution that Grosse Pointe Woods Kiwanis Club has just made to Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club. In fact, it is a concrete sidewalk which the members of Kiwanis installed themselves.

On Tuesday, August 11 and again on Tuesday, August 18 the members of Kiwanis met at the Community Club building for a supper which was served by their wives. They brought along a concrete mixer, shovels, rakes, hoses, wheelbarrows, and tools. After supper they went to work with the result that now a five-foot sidewalk extends from Mack Avenue to the entrance of the building.

This represents the first step in closer cooperation between the Kiwanis and the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club. Alois A. Ghesquiere who is a director of both organizations has acted as a co-ordinator in merging the efforts of the two groups. Since the chief objective of each club is to provide wholesome recreation for children and to assist underprivileged youngsters both groups feel they can accomplish more by working together.

Spokes for Club Mrs. Harold Gregory, president of the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club, remarked that the members of the Community Club received the announcement of the Kiwanis Club's interest in the playground project with much enthusiasm.

Make Concrete Contribution

Picture by Lloyd Loring. CHARLES SCHANK, (left), treasurer of the Grosse Pointe Kogd Kiwanis club, looks on while FARREL B. WEBER, club president, smooths off the freshly laid concrete and PAUL ROE calls for more material. The club undertook the job of laying a walk from the Woods Community clubhouse to Mack Avenue.

The Grosse Pointe Woods Kiwanis will meet regularly at the Community Club building, 2883 1/2 Mack Avenue at Ridgmont, in Grosse Pointe Woods on Tuesday evenings at 8:30. This organization has assumed the responsibility of maintenance of the grounds and building and is discussing plans for enlargement of the building.

Farrel Weber, president of Kiwanis, stated that the pouring of the sidewalk, the material donated by the club, and help from members is typical of future projects.

LOUIS W. PIPER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Piper, of Hillcrest road, and a 30 graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, left Saturday for Coast Guard Service on anti-sub duty in the Atlantic.

FIRST SERGEANT JOHN BREITMEYER, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Breitmeier, of Bishop road, left Friday for officers training at Camp Lee, Virginia. Sergeant Breitmeier was formerly stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, and was home on furlough for a few days before leaving for Camp Lee.

CAPTAIN C. UPTON SHREVE, of the United States Army, who is stationed at Camp Callan, California, and has been from Renaud road, was battery commander when his battery completely destroyed the two targets with only five rounds of ammunition fired from two of Callan's big sea coast guns. And just to prove that Grosse Pointe boys have what it takes, may we quote The Bangs Fielder, Camp Callan's newspaper: "Acting on the mere suggestion of the battery's commanding officer, Captain C. Upton Shreve, Miss Martha Scott, the feminine star of such hits as 'Our Town' and 'Howards of Virginia', drove from her Hollywood home to be with the boys of Battery A of the 5th Training Battalion before their departure for parts unknown."

CADET ANDREW SPEED, Jr., formerly of Lakes Shore road, who will be commissioned a lieutenant in the chemical warfare division of the Army next month after his graduation from Officers Training School at Edgewood Arsenal, Md., threw a flurry of excitement into the AWVS bond and stamp sales booth in a Kercheval avenue store the other day. Andy sent home $750 asking his mother to buy him a $1,000 War Bond. The booth manager, accustomed to dealing in stamps and lower priced bonds, was pretty excited over the patriotic investment of the young soldier.

BERT MARTENS, now Private Bert Martens of Harvard road, left home early last week and arrived at Fort Francis, in Wyoming, last Thursday.

RONNY HOSKIN, of the merchant marine, arrived home last night to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald N. Hoskin, of Lincoln road. Ronny arrived recently from Bombay, India.

LIEUTENANT RALPH TALCOTT, of the United States Army, arrived from Camp Lee, Virginia, Tuesday evening to visit Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Talcott, of Nottingham road. Lieutenant Talcott left Thursday morning.

Improvements which the Kiwanis Club hopes to make. Pat Mohan, a Kiwanis member, will supervise the construction of model airplanes for the use of the Navy in the training of pilots and airplane spotters. The classes will be held in the club building on Monday evenings from 7-9.

The officers of Kiwanis are: Farrell B. Weber, president; Jack Sprout, vice-president; Ken Smith, secretary; and Charles Schank, treasurer.

UNCLE SAM NEEDS YOUR TIN!

Follow these Official Instructions by the War Production Board!

Nearly ninety percent of America's tin formerly came from Malaya. And tin is vital to the war effort—for airplane parts, machine gun mounts, gas masks, countless other military uses! That's why Uncle Sam needs your old tin cans. Read the simple instructions below and cooperate with your Salvage Committee, Defense Council, and Municipal Authorities to help make the salvage of tin cans a big success in your community.

Important Facts to Help You.

All paint, oil, varnish, floor polish, or cone-shaped cans are not wanted for salvage. Evaporated or condensed-milk cans are not worth saving. Put these with your trash.

Coffee cans and others with painted-on-can labels are wanted. It is not necessary to wash off the small amount of glue which holds labels.

Be Patriotic.—Keep this leaflet in your kitchen for handy reference.

- Why "Prepared Cans" Are Needed
1. Washing prevents deterioration of tin coating—assures sanitary condition—and prevents contamination of detinning fluid.
 2. Removing top and bottom permits the free flow of detinning fluid over all surfaces of the can.
 3. Flattened cans occupy less space in collection, shipment, and detinning operations—thereby decreasing handling costs and increasing plant capacity for detinning.

Start Saving Cans Now.—Properly "prepared cans" are clean and fit snugly into a basket or other container.

Collection Day.—The designated collection day for your neighborhood will be announced and publicized intensively through your local salvage committee. Watch for newspaper and radio announcements.

Selfridge Field Night Tickets Selling Fast

AWVS Already Has 7500 in Hands of Sales Women and Expects to Get Rid of 9,000 Before Event at Jefferson Beach

If you were to base an opinion on the amount of tickets the Grosse Pointe Unit of the AWVS has sold for Selfridge Field Night which is to be held August 28 at Jefferson Beach, you'd come to the conclusion that the night is already a success.

At the meeting which started at 10:30 Monday morning in the University place home of Mrs. Lloyd G. Hooker, it was ascertained that 7,500 tickets are in the hands of sellers already, which is 2,500 over the amount that the Unit had been asked to sell. And the AWVS members are confident that they will have taken care of at least 9,000 by the time of the party.

Tomorrow morning 170 of the Junior members of the Grosse Pointe Unit will go on the streets of Grosse Pointe, from Alter road through Grafton Township, in every business arc, selling the tickets at the regular price, which is 50c. Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will be the headquarters, and Mrs. Henri Gripekoven will be in charge of the Juniors.

The money will be spent on the recreation room and band instrument for the ground crew at Selfridge Field, since the crews are well taken care of along that line.

If for any reason you won't be able to attend, buy a ticket any way; it is then marked "donated" and sent to the commander at Selfridge Field, who in turn hands it out to a soldier.

At the Noble Street station of your Gas Company the other day, visiting experts demonstrated actual fire bombs. On a wood platform representing a second floor the bombs splattered, flared with tremendous heat. Then, with the latest types of fire control equipment, the experts showed how to bring the configuration under control.

Witnesses were officials of the Company and the Company-wide Fire Warden organization, a group of men from all the plants and offices of your Gas Company.

Each Gas Company Fire Warden is carefully trained in his duties, is required to know what to do and how to do it should a fire bomb fall on his sector.

This special fire control training will be valuable to the community as a whole, as well as to the Company.

Looking at the Movies

By R. E. LURECK

New film openings in the first-run houses are scarce this week with the Michigan and United Artists theaters both revealing that sufficient audience demand has forced second and third week runs.

The high and the low in film production can be witnessed on Bagley street with "Mrs. Miniver" at the United Artists and a farce, "True To The Army" at a companion bill to the Michigan.

It's amazing that Hollywood releases such a waste of celluloid as is the film "True To The Army." You sit back and wonder, after seeing the film, whether it was worth it, Jerry Collins, while very funny in bit parts, should not be expected to carry the entire comedy role on his shoulders, and to this column's mind, Judy Canova is something that never should have happened.

Luckily, however, "The Gay Sinners" with Barbara Stanwyck is quite a bit of entertainment and most of us don't mind sitting through 60 or 80 minutes of bunk to see it.

Just down from the Michigan, crowds are jamming into the U. A. to see the first lady of the screen, "Mrs. Miniver." "Mrs. Miniver" is English and the kind you wish was your next door neighbor. Actually the film should be a prescribed movie build-up because it can do more for your correct outlook on civilian behavior than could ten thousand words. "Mrs. Miniver" is not perfect, but she is the kind of a person that will win this war for us.

Opening for the first time in the Pointe area at the Cinderella theater is "Ten Gentlemen from West Point" and "Lucky Inamorata" both 1-A features.

Pointe's First Annual Net Tournney Near Conclusion

Shirley Clark Defeats Martha McGray in Finals of Women's Singles; McKenzie Defeats Jeffers for Men's Single Titles

Grosse Pointe's first annual tennis tournament, drawing 205 players from this area came to a successful close Tuesday night when Shirley Clark defeated Martha McGray 6-1, 6-3 for the women singles' championship. In order to reach the final round Miss Clark had to defeat Margo Downing, Margie Robinson, Jeannette Hinckley, and Bobbie Hoskin. Martha McGray defeated Cynthia Penoyer, Nancy Joss, Sally Ware in the earlier rounds and in the semi-finals she won over Shirley Smith 6-4, 6-1.

In the men's singles, Douglas McKenzie covered himself with glory when he defeated Bob Jeffers former Grosse Pointe High School player and a two letter winner at the U. of Michigan 6-4, 6-3. Jeffers had defeated Buster Nelson 6-2, 6-2, John Park, 6-2, 6-2, and Mike Ware 6-2, 6-0. "Doug's" list of victories started when he turned back Harold Love 6-1, 6-1, then he trounced Robert Kundingger 6-1, 6-3, before defeating Howard Bacon, Jeffers' playing partner at Michigan 6-4, 6-2.

Was Junior Champ
Doug had previously won the Detroit Public Parks Junior Championship and paired with Joe Beyers, they walked off with the championship in the men's division of the Detroit Parks meet.

The crown for the championship of the boys rests on the head of Robert Ireland, better known as "Butch." Butch's first victim was Dick Lauer who finally lost after a 7-5, 6-2 battle, then Bob Reese fell 6-3, 6-2, then Warren Patchell 6-0, 7-5, and in the quarter finals Bob Klein, star player from St. Paul's squad offered to Ireland's drives and net play 4-6, 4-6.

Ireland then defeated Bob Bridge 6-2, 6-2 in the semi-finals. Ireland's opponent in the finals is Jeffers after receiving a bye and a default, had a tough time reaching the final round. Joe

"Dad" Worden Celebrates 90th Birthday

Out on Roslyn Road in Grosse Pointe Woods lives Edgar C. Worden who celebrated his 90th birthday Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edgar Halladay, where he lives. Halladay held a special house for friends and relatives and a picnic dinner was served on the lawn.

Mr. Worden is the tenth generation of Wordens, dating back to 1623, in this country. He was born a twin at Eastleboro, Vermont, on August 16, 1852. His twin died 50 years ago.

At the age of 20 years his parents pioneered to Illinois by way of stage coach. His earliest memories were of the Indians appearing at his home attempting to trade squirrels for food. Knowing of Indians' fear of small, pounds of hung a piece of red flannel on the house indicating that there was that disease in which they kept them away.

Sunday was a red letter day in the life of "Dad" Worden. All day friends and relatives called to express congratulations, and his son, two of his daughters, and five grandchildren were present. One lives Mrs. Walter Steffen, of Richmond, Illinois, was unable to attend. He received cards and congratulations from points all over the country; from New York to California; and from Florida to Canada.

Now that "Dad" Worden has reached the age of 90 he feels sure that he will live to see 100, pounds of hung a piece of red flannel work and lots of chewing tobacco.

Nails are little things but 4-H Club members in Greensburg, Kentucky, recently weighed 1,220 pounds of them from the ruins of a burned tobacco warehouse to help keep the steel mills going.

weber and Jane Thibadeau, and Margie Robinson and Ginnie Norton.

Doubles Not Completed
The finals in the men's doubles will not be completed until Sunday. Joe Beyers and Doug Mackenzie after defeating Bob and Tom Ireland in the semi-finals 6-2, 10-8 in the best played match of the tournament, were forced to default to the winners of the Mike Ware, Bob Carmel and Howard Bacon, Robert Jeffers match. Doug will be out of town until about 10:30, when the other match was delayed one week until Ware returns from a trip.

When this match is played Grosse Pointe's first annual tennis tournament will be officially closed. The tournament was directed by Lawrence Westerville, tennis coach at the high school, as an additional part of the summer recreation program offered by the Grosse Pointe Board of Recreation.

"From the intense interest shown during the entire tournament, I feel sure, if the war permit it, that this tournament will be a regular part of the summer recreational program," stated Mr. Westerville.

Andy Acquires New Girl

Leave it to ANDY HARDY to turn up with a new girl friend in the latest Hardy Family film, "The Courtship of Andy Hardy," which opens Saturday on the Eclair screen. LOVELY DONNA REED is the girl who courts Mickey Rooney in the new story, and what a time they have!

"Punch and Judy" "Jungle Book"

After months of painstaking preparation and research, Alexander Korda has transferred to the screen the thrilling adventure story, "The Jungle Book," which was filmed in magnificent technicolor and Sabu in the role of Mowgli, a creature that is half-boy and half-wolf. Kipling's "Jungle Book" was directed by Zoltan Korda and is slated to play at the Punch and Judy Theatre this Friday and Saturday.

The background of Kipling's "Jungle Book" is picturesque Northern India during the last years of the British Raj. The story is a tale of a young boy, Mowgli, who is raised by wild animals and tamed by a man, Baloo, the bear. Mowgli is a creature that is half-boy and half-wolf. Kipling's "Jungle Book" was directed by Zoltan Korda and is slated to play at the Punch and Judy Theatre this Friday and Saturday.

"Rings on Her Fingers" which comes to the Punch and Judy on Sunday, tells the story of a shop girl transformed into an attractive lure by two thieves who make the men who fall in love with her. They travel extensively on the money they obtain, but the girl, who finds this mode of life until she falls in love with one of the victims and complicating matters until his money is returned, her confederates are arrested and she finds her way clear to marry him.

Gene Tierney is the girl, Henry Fonda, the victim with whom she falls in love. Laird Craig, George Elyington, John Sheppard, Frank Orth and Henry Stephenson head the supporting cast.

Norma Shearer, always at her best in barbed comedy, has a sparkling role which she plays to full advantage in "We Were Dancing" which comes to the Punch and Judy next Wednesday and Thursday.

They bought a truck and collected the garbage while making their survey. Air Crash Victim Is Recovering

The condition of Frank E. Werneck, jr., first lieutenant in the U. S. Army Air Corps, who was seriously injured when the bomber in which he was a passenger crashed at Itelesh, N. C., August 9, is "encouraging" according to his father.

When the News talked with Mr. Werneck, sr., at his McKinley road home last night, he said he had just had word from Mrs. Werneck, who flew to Raleigh immediately after hearing of her son's injury. She reported that the young officer's serious burns are clearing up, that he and the other soldiers injured in the crash were receiving the best of care and that it is expected Lieutenant Werneck can be moved within about 10 days.

Werneck, who had't been in the Pointe since he left for training a year ago last June, was on his way home on leave when the crash occurred. He received his wings and his Second Lieutenant's commission in February and was subsequently promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant.

Kid - Bits
 By Dotty Vining

Sunday night at Eastwood almost exceeded Saturday night when they got what with practically all of Grosse Pointe turning out. It seems that EVERYBODY was feeling silly, and consequently all the girls, at least, say that they never laughed so much in their lives.

Scotty Tannee and Dot Adelberger, Bob Rodgers and Janet Uhl, Jerry Miller and Harriet Rorer, Frank Tappan and Pat Peterson, Miti Perrone, Jimmy Angelo, and Jimmy Cox with their dates, and Blair Martin, Stan—comprised one of the G. P. crowds.

While we're on the subject of Adels (Adelberger to you youngsters) remember that the said news Monday night at her show for Frank Tyson LaDue that she'd be leaving August 29th. But nobody felt very sorry for her—she got too much to look forward to. On September 3 Dick Morrison and Frankie Parks are going down to Fort Lauderdale to visit her for 10 days, and on September 24 she enters the golden gates of Hollywood in the Winter Park, Florida, and starts learning things. (Who are we kidding?)

Nancy Sturman is leaving September 3 for Park Orchard near New Haven, Conn. to visit her last year's roommate at St. Margaret's, Bonnie Craig. Come Labor Day, she'll be in St. Petersburg, Fla., and on September 9 she'll pack up for Birmingham to choose for college this year.

Dottie Jo Hodges, of Rivard Boulevard, is visiting her folks in New York September 5 to visit a friend in the city. She'll take Erie College, U. of M. will take up her time in the fall.

And Dottie's brother, Bill G. P. H. S. grad of '42, was home over the weekend from Muskegon, where he was working now.

Lots of news about the Andersons, as usual. So just got home Monday from spending a few days up at Lou Maxon's cottage in Onaway, Michigan. And he's home both at the same time are off for South Bend, then Tuesday they'll whip over to Chicago to see the All Star Game on Friday.

Probably one of the last nice, juicy job sessions before college, for the boys of the team by Jean Campbell, of Harvard road, Saturday night. All the gang was at the "Big" and son, Pat O'Leary, Mickey Kuehnemaster, Ben McKnight, Pat Peterson, Bonnie Arnold, Barb Swain, Dodie Hofmann, Barb Most, and Pat Hill, who, with Jean, are the old-timers at the U. of M. advised the future U. of Mers what to do and what not to do when they're in town. P. S. It was an all night affair, they tell me, and I do mean ALL night!

And last night in Bar Garolla's Ballroom road home (on the corner in the back yard, to be exact) Bar, Elean Macrae, Una Lundberg, Joan Lindeman, Pat Peterson, and "Big" Kuehnemaster were co-hostesses at a party for some 30 kids in honor of Len Holmes, who's moving to Cincinnati in about two weeks.

The affair started at 9 o'clock, and the guests were: Ed Sullivan, Art Colton, Bob Brewer, Pat and Mike Murphy, Johnny Koch, Jack Sprague, Dick Peterson, Ruth Lundberg, Peggy Eric, Ellen Hyle, Beve Waddell, and Kay.

Quite a bunch, what?
