Park's Finances in Remarkably Sound Shape, Report Submitted by Village Commissioner Marshall Reveals

11,371 Apply For Basic Gas Ration Cards

Applications for additional gas being taken in High School this week. During the three registration days for "A" gas cards there were a total of 11,371 Basic Mileage books issued in Grosse Pointe. By days the registration was: Wednesday, 3,879; Thursday, 4,185; Friday, 2,937. The cards issued at the seven elementary schools were: 2,410; Kerby, 1,203; Mare, 1,235; Mason, 1,789; Richmond, 2,771; Trombly, 1,200; Ver-

"Hey, Sarge... Guess What I Found?"

Turkey is turkey and it's mighty nice stuff to have on Thanksgiving, judging by the grin that registered on Sergeant Vernier's face when Patrolman Frank Dillaway pulled the box at the corner of Pemberton and Essex, reporting that he had caught a turkey... a live one at that. These Park Police officers are enterprising fellows.

Only Ten Motorcycles Registered

Only ten motorcycles of the type required for Motor Cycle license were issued in all Grosse Pointe. Early in the morning persons were at the Pointe office to make application for "A" cards on the three designated days in order to the Planning Board but presumably there are a considerable number of persons who failed to make application for "A" cards on the designated days will have to wait until Dec. 2 when they can go to the Rationing Board office at 341 Fisher.

Gas Call When Notified

It is highly recommended by the volunteer workers at the High School to those who desire to have their names on the list for applications for Supplementary Gas cards. The cards will not be issued until the next registration and decision by the Planning Board. As soon as this is done the applicant will be notified and he can call at the Board office at 341 Fisher and the Board wishes it to be known that the earlier the application for supplementary gas cards his application the sooner he will get his book. The Board hopes to have this work all completed so that all applicants will be equipped with their cards by the 15th, when all gas rationing goes into effect.

Garbage Van Seeking Home

Farm Officials Puzled By Problem of Finding Shelter for Vehicle. Wanted... a home for one half-behaved garbage truck. Officials of Grosse Pointe Park are puzzled by the problem of finding a shelter for a garbage truck. No building owned by the village is large enough to house the truck. The truck was brought to the WPB for material to construct most any kind of a garage, even just a roof over it. All materials are needed for the purpose. The truck remains homeless. Several old barns in the municipality are being investigated as they are being demolished. One factious member of the village suggested that the truck be taken to a place to deposit the refuse.

Use For Strump Pumps Interest Trustee Snay

Residents of Grosse Pointe Farms are to be allowed to purchase strump pumps, it was decided at the Monday night meeting of the Board of Trustees. When the trustees discussed the method in which the pumps would be distributed, as proposed by the OGD, it was decided that the pumps should be left to the individual hardware stores, rather than enter into a distribution plan which might arouse feelings of jealousy among the owners of the village. Trustee Yachtman Joseph Snay, in his opinion, proposed that the pumps be used to pump out a "slop", he inquired.

BICYCLE STOLEN

A Blue Bicyclette belonging to Blaine Walker, 252 Merrivale, was reported stolen to the Farms Office this Saturday evening from behind the High school.

Other Pointe Municipalities Urged to Follow Park's Plan To Aid Gas-Starved Drivers

More Parking Lots Along Bus Routes Badly Needed: Local Governing Officials Looked To For Cooperation. The gas rationing period which will be completed within a few days has brought to the fore the question of how the Pointe area can make the rubber saving campaign effective. It is frankly acknowledged by the Government that the primary purpose of curtailing gas is to compel the people to save their tires.

Pointer Proves Hero in Air Raids Over Lille, France

A Grosse Pointe boy made a name for himself last week for the part he took in a recent raid over Lille, in France. Lt. James M. Pointer, 22, is a graduate of Grosse Pointe Park High School and is currently serving in the Army Air Corps. He was awarded an air medal along with five other members of the Flying Fortress crew for gallant action against the enemy. A Flying Fortress which was being re-equipped by Lt. M. F. Focke-Wulf 130 fighters and safely returned to its base in England after a raid over France on November 8. In the ensuing battle, the Fortress crew successfully downed four enemy planes and un-

News Subscription Drive Arouses Keen Competition

The boys in the News' Carrier family have gone into the canvass for new and renewed subscribers with a vim. The youngsters are first cleaning up their own deliveries. When they have made a canvass of this territory and satisfy the circulation department that they have done a thorough job of it they are permitted to solicit wherever they wish, regardless of route locations. While some of the more energetic boys are in the lead no one is so far advanced as to give him a lead that makes it hopeless for the other fellows. There is still a good chance for anybody with the right push and industry to cap one of the substantial prizes which will be awarded the week before Christmas.

Pointers Grow Tin-Conscious

Third Collection Nets 21 Tons as Against 14 in October, 7 in August. The people of the Pointes are growing more tin conscious. This is a reasonable deduction from the pickup of tin cans last Saturday.

Farms Employes Seek Pay Raise

Twenty-five employes of the Farms who are neither members of the U. M. W. nor of any other union are demanding more of the union which embraces a large number of the Farms employes. They petitioned the trustees at their meeting Monday night for a wage increase commensurate with that recently granted the firemen and policemen, and that which the arbitration panel recently recommended should be given the union workers. Stating that as long as he was president of the village, he would insist on fair pay for all of the workers were not entitled to the same consideration as any other employes, Paul Deming appointed Trustee Joseph Snay as chairman of the pay committee. Mr. Deming and Mr. Snay, as well as William K. Muir, as a committee to study the request. The Red Cross has given a 15 per cent increase in their pay.

Rabaut's Help Is Needed to Obtain P. O.

No Money in Detroit Office for Real Sub Station; Must Look to Washington. True to his promise to send some authorized person from the Detroit Post Office out to the Pointe section to examine the contract, post office station, Peter Wigler, the first Assistant Postmaster, sent Mr. C. Stannard, Station Examiner, out here last Thursday. Mr. Stannard had an appointment with Clerk Nook of the City and the two spent a good part of the day in looking over the grounds. There was no argument about the necessity for post office facilities for the area. The last time Stannard was in the Pointe community, he had recently dropped the service at his hardware store on Essex. He had been told by Mr. Stannard that it was not possible to get any longer for the post office, but that was unable to carry it on any longer for the post office, but that was unable to carry it on any longer for the post office, but that was unable to carry it on any longer for the post office.

Fence Placed On Scrap Pile

Red Cross Due to Benefit to Tune of About $35,000; Washington Awakens. At last the $35,000 iron fence is definitely on its way to the scrap pile. This ornamental but useless fence, which was erected by the Red Cross in 1934, is being removed. The fence was erected by the Red Cross in 1934, is being removed. Breaks Blackout; Draws $100 Fine

Driving with lights on during blackout and especially a red drunk, is a costly practice, according to the fine handed out by Judge Leslie F. Young. A woman air raid warden spotted a man driving with his headlights on during last night's blackout and tried to hail him to the curb, but the man sped on only to be caught by the warden. The man was fined $100 and $10 costs. The man was fined $100 and $10 costs.

Detroit Edison Plans To Move Unused Poles

The Detroit Edison Company will remove 150 wooden poles in the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms, trustees of the village were informed at the Monday night meeting. It was stated this action will help the appearance of the village streets and approve persons who have been campaigning for such a move to the scrap drive.

Youngsters Pre-Yule Test of Lights Starts Bad Fire

A three-year-old boy who decided to make a pre-Christmas investigation of Christmas tree lights apparently was the cause of a blaze that destroyed the roof and attic in the home of Anna Maloof, 1422 Bedford road, Thursday. Maloof is the president of the Maloof and Arapack Packing Company. At 3 p. m. the Park Fire Department was called to the home when the contents of the attic room in which the tree lights had been left on, began to blaze. The flames quickly spread to the roof. After battling the fire for an hour, it was extinguished.

First Public Parking Lot is Being Rushed

President Goddard of Park Village, who has taken a deep interest in providing a public parking lot to aid in the tire and gas crisis, brought the matter up before the meeting of the Village Commissioners last Monday night. After reporting that the plot on Jefferson and Pemberton had been leased, he urged that no time be lost in placing it in readiness for use at the earliest possible moment after the stationing regulation goes into effect. The entire plot must be graded and cindered and a concrete drive of sufficient width between the street and the lot line be provided at once. Mr. Goddard said, "The only way to make the 'stare the ride' plan effective is to get the parking lot in every community, he continued. When the question was raised by some of the Commissioners as to the limited area of the plot with respect to the probable large number of users who in the beginning would flock in from all over the Pointe, Mr. Goddard said, "If this parking plot is filled up at once it will prove the merit of the plan." He suggested that to insure against any delay in going ahead immediately in putting the plot in use, the village should appropriate of $500 be made. This was authorized by the Commissioners and the Village Commissioner Van Deusen said.

Uncle Samuel Gets Benefit Of Idle Funds

The casual listener in at the meeting of the Commissioners of the Park Village last Monday night on hearings concerning Park's report and recommendations on certain dispositions within the sinking fund, would get the impression which would be 100% correct, that the finances of this comparatively small municipal corporation were in remarkably sound shape. Commissioner Parshall, to whom the report and recommendations of the municipality's first auditor, seemed puzzled at a preliminary estimate of the sinking fund, has $100,000 of absolutely idle funds at the present. In fact, unless some provision for the same is discovered they might remain idle until 1946. The Village reserves its total of $200,000 from its tax levied for the servicing of its public debt, but is going to be ample to care for all redemption demands for several years to come.

Thanksgiving, 1942

This is the Thanksgiving that should stand out as the most meaningful in our history since that first one observed on the grim shores of New England more than three centuries ago.

Thankfulness for our more material possessions should be augmented by a Great Gratitude for those things which furnish us the means to the attainment of a High Purpose.

That first Thanksgiving, which was evoked when the products of the fields, the forests and the waters was sufficient to assure our physical survival, has progressed to the present Thanksgiving with its realization that they implement the doctrine of a world-wide Human Brotherhood.

The deeper significance of this day is that it treats of the Spirit of Man rather than his passing material needs.

Today we face the whole world and count both its spiritual and material needs.

The taking stock of our material resources should be only a reminder of the Responsibility and the Privilege that lodges with us to insure the Leadership in the titanic struggle whose deeper meaning is the attainment of a happier state for mankind.

We should give thanks this day to the Almighty that we have been selected by His Grace to be a People to lead the world to this better state and that we have the Power under His Guidance to reach the Goal.

We should feel a deep gratitude that it has fallen to us as a Nation to champion the cause of Human Dignity against those who degrade it, that we lead those who keep Hope alight in the World against those who would Destroy it; that our Nation is the Knight in Bright Armor to Defend the Weak against the vicious strong; all the Freedoms against every Slavery; Truth against Dishonor.

The Parking Lot Emergency

The most immediate problem that confronts the people of the Pointe area at the moment revolves around the matter of transportation.

Several thousand of its citizens travel daily between their homes here and the City of Detroit. The economic life of our community is largely tied up with that of the great metropolis directly to our south and west.

Scarcely any place in the land is more dependent upon individual transportation in the conduct of its daily routine business activities. It has always been so and now with transportation emergency thrust upon it by the exigencies of the war and all its allied problems a situation suddenly confronts us which will call for all our ingenuity and resources.

The proposal to withhold the rationing of gas, even if practicable, which now seems unlikely, would not solve the problem. On the contrary it would only hasten the consumption of it.

Conveniently located parking plots available to everybody for all day long which have business demands in the big city, must be provided as soon as possible. These plots should be sparingly used, if at all, by strictly local drivers in the community.

These plots would facilitate the formation of ride sharing groups more quickly than any other plan that could be provided. Here the citizens would meet and soon make their own arrangements for share riding, or those who wished to ride on buses could do so, although it must be recognized at once that a large number of persons who now drive their individual cars to town quickly are reluctant to turn about driving and so substitute one car for four or five which now go down town daily, the burden placed upon the bus lines will be insupportable, and this means of transport soon break down under the strain.

Our municipal governments, to whom the people rightly look for initiative in such an emergency, should get busy on this matter at once.

Home Rule Defeat

Seventy per cent of the voters of Grosse Pointe who voted on the Home Rule amendment to the constitution were opposed to it. There were many among these undoubtedly who favored certain reforms in our county government, but who were unwilling to court the risk of interference in their local government. The people of the Pointe are jealous of their governmental independence from the great City of Detroit which dominates the affairs of Wayne county.

This is probably the basic explanation of the migration of thousands of the people of Detroit who came out here and built homes and set up the minor political subdivisions which constitute the Pointe area. They wished to be as independent as possible in making their own local government arrangements. How long this might continue under the enlarged powers of the county government was one of the questions not satisfactorily answered in the Home Rule campaign.

The Proponents of the Home Rule plan announce their intention of carrying the fight on again next year. In the light of the very large majority against the amendment in the state at large they are well justified in laying their plans for another try. The fact that a petition of only 100,000 signatures, instead of the 215,000 required this time, will suffice to get it before the voters again, encourages the idea. These minimum petition figures are based upon the vote cast for the head of the ticket in the late election. It also illuminates the general lack of interest displayed this year by the people in things purely political.

Another "ducky" idea reads as follows: "If the elbows are dressed—perhaps one of red and the other of green." (And if the seat of the skirt is brighten a bar-stool shine, how about inserting a round patch of purple bunny fur—complete with tail?)

Maybe you'd like to try this one: "Wear some real fur in your hair—a long piece trailing to below your neck in back, and in the top portion with a pert velvet bow." (Pooh, pooh, pooh!)

The one that struck our fancy most had to do (again) with the hair—this one reads: "For festivities at home, make a ballet skirt of green mat, and wear a hat that will hold in place. . . . [Has anyone an old fur? You'll find an old fur while they make an old, tired entrance in this knock-out frock."]

Ah, and what have we heard? A photograph of two young officers talking to two young girls. One of the officers is talking to the camera, and one undernests this happy "Turn your back on the boys. Show the bright side when you dance when you dawdle at the bar. Loops of color down your vertebrae in blue-green and include more sparkling the succulent neckline." (An) . . . When you pray, is going to flank Tommie's Afrika Corps while we stand around flanking bars and vice versa. Exploiting the lungs on our vertebrae?!

If anyone besides us is interested in a "fancy hearts" organization, we advise that this one meets all gentlemen's needs. Someone sent us a copy of the San Francisco Chronicle and from it we culled some of the following classified ads: "Gentle boys, wishes to meet all gentlemen who are playfully, friendly, would like to meet a girl amenable to cited idleness. Friends, respond."

Under the heading "LONESOME," we found these: "Wish to meet a girl, 22 years dependable service. Proven results. Interesting particulars sent sealed."

"Refined lady with her own income, age 40, with no dependents. Gentle wishes to meet all gentlemen."

"Shipyard worker, owns ranch, also summer home; lonely, like to meet blonde girl, 20-30, feminine type. May have child."

"Middle-aged, gent would like to meet lady, 19-21, that can enjoy a good dinner."

"Gent wishes to meet lady under 45, extremely long hair."

We aren't quite sure of ourselves, but picking six classified at random, from two pages that were full of them, we'd say that they just about covered everything in the way of romance.

And now, going from the ridiculous to the sublime, we'd like to report an advertisement that makes us do as we do whenever we see the American flag or hear the national anthem. "My Miniver," will probably never forget the final scene, where crowds of English people gathered together in a church, who'd had been blown all—were "Onward Christian Soldiers" and sang loudly and with fervor the entire service in Latin. "Onward Christian Soldiers" along with the people in the church scene. "Onward Christian Soldiers"!

And speaking of the above . . . we'll bet that local newspaper's face is red after printing the "Ad" about, or rather against, England in last week's issue. It seems that said paper is now being investigated by the Federal Authorities. Ho hum.

Grosse Exaggerations

We thought we were the only one who got any fun out of our column last week, but since we've had several requests to repeat the idea, we'll here go . . .

In the "Penny Pincher" department of a well known national magazine, we found two news items on Friday night and Saturday's front page to look like a "Minnie Bowser" special. "Far hallway" suggests a bare striped apron of chains or other kind of metal. Drippa—a witty or scurrilous motto to emphasize the corner.

(Our own suggestion, suggested by this happy thought, is to tie up an old barrel bag and have some such witty saying as "Aw! Kitti" or "Lalalye," we are here, done in sequins across madman's cheek.)

Another "ducky" idea reads as follows: "If the elbows are dressed—perhaps one of red and the other of green." (And if the seat of the skirt is brighten a bar-stool shine, how about inserting a round patch of purple bunny fur—complete with tail?)

Petty Pointes

"Did you ever hear the story about the man who was granted three wishes by a fortune teller?"

"The first wish was to be the City of Pointe." The reporter had said.

"This man went to a fortune teller and asked for three wishes. He had three wishes granted to him. At the time, the man thought it was a bit of Marley, but decided that he would try it when he got home."

"The first wish was the desire to have many suits . . . and sure enough when he opened his closet door he saw a complete wardrobe. Pretty good, thought the man, think I'll wish for a million dollars. When he opened his eyes, he found himself in a suit that had promised more than two years ago when I rode in his cab I would say something in this column about the similarity in our names. I have never kept my word . . . I am sorry that I have not kept my word, but I have never kept my word . . . I am keeping it at this point!"

his dresser, there was a drawer full of suits.

"Boy, this is great . . . my last wish has to be good."

"I wish that I could fill Hillsider's man for a third and last wish."

"Just then the telephone rang, with a your Draft Board calling to notify you that you have just been placed in Class 1-A and are to report for induction immediately."

Your OCD

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles on the work of the Office of Civilian Defense in the Grosse Pointe Community. It will be published in this column every Friday, and the way it would function in case emergency bombers should attack Grosse Pointe.)

The Grosse Pointe OCD was formed on Dec. 8, 1941, by the community in Michigan to organize its protective services and has remained in the forefront of the movement ever since.

A start had been made a year ago with the enrollment of volunteers for the Citizens Defense Volunteer Office. This work had been carried on, at the request of the Governor of Michigan, under the direction of Mayor Maxon H. Ramsey of the City of Grosse Pointe.

Then came Pearl Harbor and everything went into a lull. On Dec. 8, 1941, less than 24 hours after receipt of the news about the Japanese attack on the mainland, the police and fire chiefs of the five Grosse Pointe and Grosse Township divisions met and formed the present model organization.

George E. Elworthy, who had been elected to the position of Mayor Ramsey's request had called the meeting at the Neighborhood Conference and the non-protective branches, called the meeting at the Neighborhood Conference.

Mr. Elworthy, who had been an intelligence officer in the first post-war meeting at Grosse Pointe from the police and fire officers when he insisted that the fire chiefs immediately arrange their fire-fighting and police facilities as far as possible for the emergency. City, village and township boundaries would be organized. In the event of an air strike the area, the policemen and firemen would respond to emergency calls from a single control center, regardless of the location of the trouble.

For purpose of equipment was decided upon so that needed pieces could be purchased efficiently through a central office and duplications prevented.

An immediate check of equipment was decided upon so that needed pieces could be purchased efficiently through a central office and duplications prevented.

The purchase was made by Mr. Elworthy's call together meeting was held at the Neighborhood Club at which the area's Civil Defense was organized. The members of this supreme regional governing body are: Carl B. Goddard, president of Grosse Pointe Park; Maxon Ramsey, Paul H. Deming, president of Grosse Pointe Woods; G. C. Campbell, president of Grosse Pointe.

The police chief serving under the OCD setup are Henry Field Park; Thomas Trembley, City-At-Large; E. W. O'Connell, City-At-Large; and Walter G. Gentry, City-At-Large. The fire chiefs are: Edward Becker, Park; Judge Charvin, Woods; George Danbury, Farm; Mr. Inglish, Shores; and Alex Rose, Woods.

The most important ground work had been laid, but the vast bulk of the OCD still had to be organized. This was done by services for which volunteer personnel had to be recruited were six units with medical courses, emergency food and housing corps, utility repair corps, business corps and messenger corps.

Mr. Elworthy had a job on his hands.

And now, going from the ridiculous to the sublime, we'd like to report an advertisement that makes us do as we do whenever we see the American flag or hear the national anthem. "My Miniver," will probably never forget the final scene, where crowds of English people gathered together in a church, who'd had been blown all—were "Onward Christian Soldiers" and sang loudly and with fervor the entire service in Latin. "Onward Christian Soldiers" along with the people in the church scene. "Onward Christian Soldiers"!

And speaking of the above . . . we'll bet that local newspaper's face is red after printing the "Ad" about, or rather against, England in last week's issue. It seems that said paper is now being investigated by the Federal Authorities. Ho hum.

"Boy, this is great . . . my last wish has to be good."

"I wish that I could fill Hillsider's man for a third and last wish."

"Just then the telephone rang, with a your Draft Board calling to notify you that you have just been placed in Class 1-A and are to report for induction immediately."

To the Editor

Grosse Pointe News, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich.

Dear Sir:

I am sending you my first informative paper, almost as much as I miss charming, about Al Green's food or drink. The reason for this would say is due to the fact that they (G. P. News) are winding up, for some reason or the other, in Reno, California, where I am not. I am not sure that they are probably overdue, and it is so. Sometimes, one is accidentally forwarded to my correct address: Mr. M. P. Det. CASC Camp Park, La.

Pointe Shores; Edward Grace of Grosse Pointe Woods; Alex Ghesquiere, president of Grosse Pointe Woods; Odette Hestler, Grant Township supervisor, and Carl Schweikart, Grosse Pointe Township supervisor.

The Council of Defense unanimously elected Mr. Elworthy commander for the area. He had earlier been designated by police and fire chiefs to serve as leader of their combined organization.

To the Editor:

The Grosse Pointe School Retirees Association wish to express their very sincere appreciation for the grand program which you so graciously donated.

Due to your kindness in operating within our party was a huge success.

The donations were distributed on a table during the evening and the Grand Prize was announced and the speaker before the group was given away. Lists were posted around the walls of the gym stating the names and the amount of their contributions. The party was most enjoyable and we are familiar with the names of the winners.

We thought you might like to know that we are going to be to send five needy babies to the hospital in a few days. We are going to send the proceeds from the party to the remainder of the money to the Hospital for War Orphans.

Thank you again for helping us help underprivileged children.

in their critical transportation problem.

Harry Furion, clerk of the Farms, who has had a long responsibility in handling municipal problems, thinks the idea of public parking lots in each village is an excellent one.

Clark Neff of the City strongly favors the idea and announced his intention of inviting the heads of the several villages to meet with him next week for a preliminary discussion of ways and means to make the plan effective at the Pointe area.

The plan inaugurated by the village is well worth following by other municipalities. The problem of securing sufficient parking on a bus line was particularly difficult with this village, but the officials there demonstrated great credit for making a start and doing the best they could under the circumstances.

Headquarters at the Pointe are the other Pointe communities the problem would be much easier. In any of them, parking in the Farms or Woods, it could be relatively easy to obtain all the vacant spaces for this purpose. They could do so also undoubtedly at the least trifling expense encountered by the Park where it is necessary only to pay a rental equivalent to the total taxes on the property.

There are many vacant plots along bus lines in any of the other municipalities. In a conveniently located parking space in the Farms or Woods could serve the Shores needs in a respect.

The Grosse Pointe area covers an extent of territory that would be relatively easy to set up a Park, the only such now existing in Michigan. There is a road from most of the Pointe that, even if it was largely unusable in winter, there is a road, it would necessitate an excessively long drive before transferring to a bus to the private car with which had made share-riding arrangements.

May Bring Comparison

Under a comprehensive and detailed plan is worked out to help facilitate the use of private cars in ride-sharing, there is no confusion and irritation among the people here who find matter left wholly to their individual arrangements. It has been suggested that a small group of volunteer workers, presumably among the many women engaged in war work in the community, could perform a great service in effecting ride sharing. They could station one of their members during the certain busy hours of the day at the different village clerk's offices and assist puzzled citizens who are unable to make ride sharing contacts but do not know how to do it. One wide awake elegant woman in each of the village offices, with a fairly comprehensive knowledge of the location of residence in the neighborhood, could perform a valuable service in this work.

Rabaut

to make stop gap provision in a postal emergency however, Rabaut has already seen two current persons one who lives near Mack and McKinley of the other near Kercheval and Notre Dame. A definite commitment has not yet been made from either of them.

There still remains the hope of persuading Mr. Nagel open his station again in the hardware store. If, through the influence of Congressman Rabaut, postal authorities at Washington can be persuaded to authorize the payment of enough salary to meet the actual expenses of the place, he would do so. It is estimated that this should be about $1,500.

Many Good Locations

There are plenty of vacant properties in the central portion of the Pointe area which could be suitable as bus stations. The Detroit Office says it is permitted to pay for the maintenance of bus stations beyond the small sums allowed by regulation.

The whole problem of adequate postal service here seems to depend on getting enough money together.

Christ Church Chapel, located on Grosse Pointe boulevard, is one of the loveliest structures in this area, and is a fine example of Gothic architecture. The corner stone for the edifice was laid in 1928 and the first services were conducted in December, 1930. The Rev. Francis B. Creamer, who is pastor of the church, is also rector of the Parish which includes Christ Church in Detroit and the Trinity Mission in St. Clair Shores. The congregation of the church now numbers 700 families, or about 2000 persons.

Candidates for West Point Will be Examined on Dec. 12

Congressman Louis C. Rabaut, Democrat of Michigan, announces that an examination to determine eligible candidates for appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point will be held in Detroit on Saturday, December 12th.

Young men residing in the 14th Congressional District, which includes Grosse Pointe, who are interested in such an appointment should write to Congressman Rabaut, 1227 House Office Building, Washington, D. C. Applicants must be 17 but not yet 22 years of age. They will be given an examination by the U. S. Civil Service Commission on the above date.

Recently enacted legislation has created vacancies at West Point, this permitting this additional appointment. Letters requesting permission to take the examination should reach Congressman Rabaut not later than November 28, 1942.

Judge Victor DeBaake Fines Two Car Drivers

Judge Victor DeBaake fined Frank Yonetti, 6240 11-Mile road, Centreville, $15 and damages in the Grosse Pointe Park police court last week.

On November 8, Yonetti went through the stop sign at Balfour and Charlevoix and hit a car driven by Don Conley, Grosse Pointe Woods.

Stanley Coleman, 10144 Nottingham, Detroit, was also fined $15 and damages after he had run into a plate glass window November 1 at 1502 Mack avenue. His brakes failed to operate.

Restoration of the production of safety razors, razor blades and straight razors will save upwards of 800 tons of high-grade steel.

Rail Salvage Job Finished

Farms Engineer Submits Reports on Project to Village Trustees

Murray Smith, engineer of the Farms, submitted to the Village Trustees Monday night the following report, having to do with the salvage of buried street car rails in the village streets.

"All WPA operations in connection with the removal of car tracks and the replacement of pavement was completed on October 27. The total scrap recovered was 683 tons with a return of $14,872.54. Due to some outstanding bills all costs chargeable against this project have not been completely audited.

"The contract for pavement seal and replacement work in the Village done by the Cooke Constructing Company was completed on November 4.

"The total amount of work under this contract was $10,950.00 and the second and final estimate in the amount of $5,555.05 is submitted for approval at this meeting.

"The above $10,950.00 is chargeable for general street maintenance, and the balance of $5,555.10 is chargeable against the WPA car track removal project. Both jobs were limited in the amount of work which was approved for each by the Public Roads Administration."

Suspicious-Looking Man Reported to Park Police

Raymond H. Bacon, 855 Grand Marais, called the Park Police Friday morning and said that a suspicious-looking man had come to his house and asked about a certain family and address on that street, who Bacon knew didn't live in the neighborhood.

The man, who said he was on a "secret mission," had a dark complexion and spoke with a foreign accent.

Park detectives are investigating the case.

KERCHEVAL AT NOTRE DAME

TO ALL OUR CUSTOMERS:

The price of electric service is low. It is one of the few things about the house that cost less than they used to cost. Twenty years ago the average price was 5.79 cents; today it is 3.16 cents. That is nearly half price—a bargain sale every day.

There are many reasons why electricity is cheap. Our power plants are more efficient than they used to be. Our customers have helped to reduce prices by using more electricity—for better lighting, for cooking, for heating water, for dozens of jobs. We have learned how to do our part of the work better, have thought of many plans to save time and money, like the two-way radio sets for our trouble crews, and so on.

So there have been repeated rate reductions—right in the face of rising prices for almost all of the things which we have to buy to make electricity. It is a record of good service and of lower and lower rates, of which we are very proud.

Hostess Corps Plans Two More Outstanding Parties

'Gay Nineties' Theme To Be Adopted Dec. 5

Donations Sought to Provide Servicemen With Presents at Christmas Fete to Be Held December 19

Mrs. Bert Spurrier, chairman of the hostess corps of the Grosse Pointe Hostesses, who have been doing such a grand job of entertaining the boys in the service at Neighborhood Club parties, has given us a glowing account of the party that they held last Saturday, and told us some interesting things about the parties planned for the future.

Last Saturday night, about one hundred and thirty boys were present, many of whom were from Australia, New Zealand and Canada. There were nine young girls present to entertain them — dancing to the tunes of Bobby Jones and his ten-piece orchestra — and for those who didn't care to dance, there were games to play. Ice cream, cake and soft drinks were served — and it was definitely a "fun" party.

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club provided transportation for the boys by way of about fifteen cars rounded up by Dr. Rex Cranson at the behest of Mrs. Fred Munro, who is chairman of transportation for the corps.

For December 5, the Hostesses have planned a Gay Nineties party, which promises to be lots of fun. Moustaches of gay-nineties vintage will be given the boys to wear — for atmosphere — and for cycles for two will be on hand for those who already know or care to make the art of staying on them and — good old "Sweet Adeline" quartets will be called from the "audience."

When the hostesses arrive, they will be asked to deposit one of their shoes in a large "grab-bag"; then the boys will "grab" a shoe — and go on a hunt for the girl who owns it — thereby finding his "Cinderella" for the evening.

December 19 will be the date of the Christmas party that the same Hostesses will give. At this time, they expect to be able to give each boy a Christmas present. Anyone who cares to make a donation to this worthy project, may do so by sending their gift to Mrs. William Aetzel, at 542 McMillan road, Mrs. Aetzel is treasurer of the Hostess Corps and assures us that all gifts will be thankfully received.

It would seem that the Corps hasn't forgotten a thing that might add to the pleasure and comfort of these boys who are so very appreciative. Mrs. Fritz Fleich, who is chairman of hospitality, has arranged for several families to invite the boys after their parties. Last Saturday, twenty-eight boys were guests at various homes in the Pointe.

Rotary Club's Party Draws Many Players

Annual Charity Event in Neighborhood Club Again Proves Successful; Nearly 800 Persons Attend

The annual "Feather Party" conducted by the Grosse Pointe Rotary club last Thursday night in the Neighborhood Club was one of the most enjoyable and best attended affairs of the kind ever conducted in the Pointe to accommodate the large 25-mountain of checks presented. The total amount of the war bonds, the proceeds of the "Goodwill Fund" and the Rotary organization's contributions to a multitude of causes during the year, the money will be immediately mailed to the War Relocation Authority, one of the many organizations that has been maintained for the last two years.

The Club itself donated 200 of the slow prizes, was awarded $50 and $25 bonds for $50 and $25 each dinner and a bank dinner.

The general chairman of the event was Edward J. Pongraz, Jr. On the platform as announcer was Wm. J. Watkins, President of the Rotary club, assisted by G. D. Houston and Master of Ceremonies Charles Salmer. A committee of 50 Rotarians under the direction of Al C. Danegren floated about among the 11 great tables, selling tickets and assisting the players and securing a general flow supervision of the evening proceedings.

A NEW LOCATION

For Grosse Pointe Office of Automobile Club of Michigan

15205 EAST JEFFERSON AT LAKEPOINTE

(FORMERLY PACKARD SHOWROOM)

Now open!... the new Grosse Pointe office, Automobile Club of Michigan!

With larger quarters, a more convenient location and a staff well-trained to function efficiently on all problems pertaining to wartime motoring, this office is serving the motorists of Grosse Pointe and other communities of eastern Detroit.

This branch—one of thirty-one throughout the state—is an important link in an organization that today serves over 160,000 Michigan motorists... motorists who will testify to the unparalleled advantages of Club membership during these wartime days of rationing, regulations and restrictions.

These motorists know, too, that in addition to the Club's experience and facilities in aiding them in keeping their cars rolling, the Inter-Insurance Exchange of the Club offers them the protection they need for wartime driving at rates far below those of more normal times.

Visit this new Grosse Pointe office. Learn more of the many advantages of Club membership now.

Never Before Has Automobile Club Membership Meant So Much!

Newsweek Editor Will Be Guest Speaker

Ernest K. Lindley, Washington correspondent for Newsweek and widely syndicated columnist on political affairs, will speak at the Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theater, Wednesday morning, Dec. 2, at 10 o'clock.

who has "covered" Franklin D. Roosevelt since the day he first became Governor of New York. In 1939 Lindley wrote the first and only full-sized biography of Mr. Roosevelt, "A Career in Progressive Democracy."

ROSEMARY SCHAEFER, a clerk in the treasurer's office at the Grosse Pointe City Municipal Building, celebrated her twentieth birthday Monday. Other clerks in the office gave a party for her, including a cake with candles.

Ride sharing groups have been organized in all of Connecticut's 499 war plants.

Revue Continues at Club Royale

Club Royale continues with its stars' revue which has been established as an annual event at the swanky nightclub. Coming directly from the Broadway comedy hit "Sons of Fun," the Oxford Boys present their musical impressions of the great bands of radio fame. Co-headlining in the "Parade of Stars" Camello and Melba offer variations in Argentine and Mexican dance steps.

War Has Its Nice Side

DIAN, BARKER, and ROBERT STACK have leading romantic and dramatic roles in Walter Wagner's Universal production of "The Flying Saucers" in the BAF, at the Esquire Saturday, Sunday, and Monday.

New Singing Star Coming to Punch

"Always in My Heart," which introduces the character of fifteen-year-old singing star, Gloria Warren, has been scheduled for the Punch and Judy Theatre this Friday and Saturday. Also starred in the new picture are Betty Grice and Walter Huston, with a featured cast that includes Frankie Thomas, Patty Duke, and Josephine Hull. His Rasicals, the famed harmonic band.

Cass Town Hall Will Hear Wells

"Africa and The Battle for Strategic Materials" is the exciting timely subject of the lecture by Carvel Wells, the distinguished explorer, engineer and author, for the Detroit Town Hall in The Cass Theatre Friday morning at 11 o'clock, November 27th.

Uncle Sam

Continued from Page 1. such is their material. In fact, it could, in the future, be used in the making of a new kind of paper. The Village has for many years passed its time in the past when they have been offered. But these are no ordinary gifts as an investment. They have become a commodity and besides they probably the highest in the world. And so the Village is the principal corporation's history. What the position of the Village in the past? The Woman who lived in a San Francisco house. She doesn't know what money is.

Farms Employees To Aid Factory Payroll Plan

Trustees of the Farms have authorized the deduction of 10 percent of the pay of all its employees to be applied to the purchase of United States Bonds and Stamps, if and when the individual employees so agree.

Ration Board Head Discusses Eligibility for Extra Gas

Autoists who expect to apply for supplemental gasoline rations to enable them to drive to and from work should make plans now to share rides with others. Mr. Ghesquire, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board, has declared, "Car sharing has been made an integral part of the mileage rationing program because it is the most effective means of providing essential transportation on a minimum amount of rubber."

Fire Volunteers' Plea Is Studied

Trustees of the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms spent considerable time at their meeting on November 22, in studying the request of their auxiliary firemen for an appropriation of $1750.00 to equip five trailers to serve in the fire department.
