After sentences and fines for driving motorists who run along the police of Grosse Pointe were advocated at the recent meeting of the village fathers.

After being incarcerated, it was discovered that Edward carried a mere $789 in cash in his pockets and they weren't blue. When he was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Kenneth W. Park Evens Up Bowling Match

The village of Grosse Pointe last evening evened up a team roller skate the boys from the City of Grosse Pointe in their second contest last Saturday, making it a tie, and both teams are really preparing for a very hotly contested game, as this third one will decide who really are the real bowlers.

As stated last week the boys from the city kind of eased up but judging from the following score they eased up a little too much and did not get back into their stride, although the Park did bring in a ringer in the person of Gus House. But that as it may the boys from the city are raising to get at the Park's men, ring at al.

Goddard

The matter took the usual course of being held over for further consideration. Village Manager Lane had prepared a table of statistics taken from other communities of comparable size with the Park municipality showing the relative costs of fire protection, fire prevention and of other functions of local government. It was from these figures that President Ken B. Goddard was moved to speak.

Mr. Lane's figures disclosed that out of a composite of 64 of 64 municipalities the cost per capita of either Police or Fire protection in the Park was about three times as high as the average in these other places. In fairness to all sides, Mr. Goddard stated that the Park wages had been arranged at without regard to the scale paid in any other communities, as it was recognized that many factors might enter into the situation which would justify a wide variation in the police and fire costs in different places. If they had been backward in this matter it had been in favor of their employees.

They had had to keep in mind the policy laid down by the WLB in its price and wage stabilization efforts, which discouraged any increase for municipal employees that would be in excess of the base pay received on January 1, 1941.

The Village had gone the full maximum in favor of its employees.

President Goddard spoke earnestly on the general subject of

Do Not Use Your Gas Range for Heating

DO NOT USE YOUR GAS RANGE TO PROVIDE SUPPLEMENTARY HEAT. War industries must have an adequate supply of gas. Lack of fuel oil due to transportation difficulties means that War industries must increase their use of Gas to replace oil.

In addition to the above suggestion regarding your Gas range, here are other things you should do: If you use Gas for househeating set your thermostat down to 63 degrees and close off unused rooms. Keep doors and windows closed. Wear warmer clothing in the house.

Use the waterless method in cooking vegetables. Cook meat at low temperatures. Keep Gas burners clean.

Help your country win this War. Follow these easy instructions and you will be cooperating with your Government in conserving Gas for War industries when demand for Gas is greatest.

son avenue and Pemberton several weeks ago.

The Park authorities provided this lot on their own initiative but inasmuch as it has been for the use of all the residents of the Grosse Pointe area the OCD directors deemed it fair that this expense should be borne by all of the communities benefiting.

An appropriation was made to care for its cost and maintenance until April 1.

The OCD treasury is replenished on the other hand by the municipalities of the Points from their public funds, assessed on the basis of their present valuations on which remains the Park itself pays about 42 percent of any and all expenditures made from the OCD treasury.

To determine the relative use of the parking lot by residents of the different municipalities, a test count was conducted between December 8 and January 1. This developed the fact that of the total number parked in the lot, there came from: The Park 37 percent, the City 21 percent and 62 percent from the Farms, Woods and Shores, on the proportion of 19 percent from two of them and 18 percent from the other.

Church Hall is Scene Of Serviceman Party

Hostess Corps Proves No. 13 No Jinx as Successful Event Is Conducted in Christ Church Recreation Rooms

The number 13 was no jinx to the Grosse Pointe Hostess Corps Saturday when the group began its second dozen of bi-weekly parties for men in the Armed Forces of the United Nations.

The recreation hall at Christ Church was colorfully bedecked for Saturday's carnival. Authentic circus posters loaned by Mrs. Lois Maxon and Mrs. M. J. Johnston formed the background for a variety of attractions including fortune-telling, darts, throwing pennies into a dish submerged in a tub of water, shooting a candle flame, roll-a-ball games, and an astounding magician's performance provided by the deft-fingered John Jovik.

Dancing was punctuated by ingenious diversions emanating from the fertile imagination of Miss Pauline Blank, special director of the Neighborhood Club. To mention a few, there were the ball-passing relay, the military back-work, a frantic and funny elimination scramble, and

The soldier guests of the Hostess Corps were widely representative of American, Canadian and British services stationed in Europe. Fully 20 percent of the servicemen present were returned troops. And that fact should be regarded as proof positive of the success of the parties.

For the first time the Hostess Corps was welcomed by women in the uniforms of the armed forces. Four members of the Women's Division of the Royal Canadian Airforce were among those present. All held the rank of Lt. A. W. (Leading Airwoman). They were Miss Bernice Dietrich of Leroy, Sask.; Miss Margie Harrison of Vancouver, B. C.; Miss Helen Brown of Dobin, Sask.; and Miss Joan Miller of Charlottetown, B. I.

In charge of the evening's arrangements was Mary Ann Devoe, and her committee consisted of Mary Ann Devoe, Rosemary Houston, B. C.; Miss Helen Brown, Fairbank, and Virginia Ceyman. Another vastly important group assisting Mrs. Spurrer in the work of the carnival was the refreshment committee headed by Mrs. R. T. Johnson, Jr., and including Mrs. Robert Baritz, Mrs. W. Dunham, and Mrs. J. L. Miller. (Continued on Page 5)

Electricity brings you a DOZEN HELPING HANDS

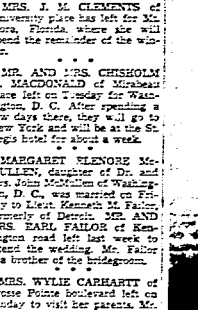

You'd need a dozen helping hands to perform all the jobs in your household now done by electricity. And if you had to hire extra help to do this work, you'd appreciate even more how LITTLE it costs you to do those jobs electrically.

Washing and ironing clothes, furnishing news and entertainment by radio, making toast and coffee, keeping time, vacuum cleaning rugs and drapes, in addition to lighting your home—electricity performs all of these tasks at a cost of 10¢ a day or less for many families. See how inexpensively these electric servants work for you (figured at 24¢ net per unit—the thrifty "bargain" step in your residence rate): ELECTRIC CLOCK 3 1/2¢ a month, VACUUM CLEANER 4¢ a month (used 20 minutes a day), WASHER 6¢ a month (used 2 1/2 hours a week), ELECTRIC IRON 1¢ an hour, FOOD MIXER 1 1/2¢ an hour, WAFFLE IRON 1 1/2¢ an hour, HEATING PAD 1/10¢ an hour, REFRIGERATOR 16¢ a week, TOASTER 6¢ a month (used 5 minutes a day).

Probably nothing you buy today gives you so much in return as your electric service. It is one of the few things that has not increased in price. For 10¢ a day, you'd go back to beating, scrubbing, cleaning clothes on a washboard, cleaning oil lamps, using a flat iron, and all the other hours of drudgery of fifty years ago!

Army, Navy Recreation League Hears Reports

Annual Meeting Held in Pointe; Mrs. Charles A. Dean, Jr. Elected President; Many Accomplishments Recorded During Year

The annual meeting of the Army and Navy Recreation League was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Dean, Jr. of Lewiston road, on Monday morning, January 25, following officers were elected:

President: Mrs. Charles A. Dean, Jr. Vice President: Mrs. William H. Mulvey. Secretary: Mrs. James M. Mulvey. Treasurer: Mrs. George E. Bush. Recording Secretary: Mrs. John W. Stroth. Assistant Recording Secretary: Mrs. James M. Mulvey. Corresponding Secretary: Mrs. George E. Bush. Executive Committee: Mrs. Charles A. Dean, Jr., Mrs. William H. Mulvey, Mrs. John W. Stroth, Mrs. James M. Mulvey, Mrs. George E. Bush, Mrs. Fred T. Murray, Mrs. Frank B. Cornell, Mrs. Edw. E. Spurrer, Mrs. Susan Adams, Mrs. Barbara Johnson, Mrs. Jessie Buehler, Mrs. Ellen Little, Mrs. Susan Danforth, Mrs. Barbara Fitch, and Mrs. Sally Colburn.

Recreation League in memory of Second Lieutenant Henry F. Cheney, Jr., United States Marine, Air Force Reserve, Lieutenant Cheney, who was killed in action in the Solomon, was the son of Mrs. D. Duane Douglas. A number of new radio-phonographs were donated and placed in the camp this summer and fall. These provide endless entertainment. The men that have left for other camps write back often. These provide endless entertainment. The men that have left for other camps write back often. These provide endless entertainment.

A freight carload of 21 pianos and 200 chairs were sent to Fort Custer at Salet Site, Marie in December. To date about 4,000 yards of curtain material has been purchased. The League is grateful to the Red Cross Chapters which have made up this material into sets of curtains. Mrs. Munn spent several days in July and again in October at Fort Custer, making a survey of the rooms. Last week Mrs. McGuevin and Mrs. Dean made a survey of the organization's rooms at Solfredge Field. Mrs. McGuevin was particularly interested in Solfredge Field as she had been instrumental in arranging the Women's District Golf Tournament during the summer, the proceeds of which went to a large room there. Many of the same group make up the membership of the Women's District Bowling Association. The proceeds of their tournament last week were also given to the Army and Navy Recreation League.

Each Post is expanding so fast that there is constant need for furniture and recreational equipment. Many of the organizations which have given rooms are supplying them with playing cards, ping-pong balls, and phonograph records, which must constantly be replaced. Phonograph records are badly needed. If they are too old to be used, they can be turned in for new ones. Records may be left at Grinnell's for the League and credit will be given. Permittance is needed for the Women Ordnance Workers at

W. O. Gambil, and Mrs. G. E. Sheldrick. And speaking of workers at the party, one contributed more than Harriet Osborn. Mrs. Elnelbert Spurrer, chairman, has already appointed the chairman for the next party, which will celebrate Valentine's Day in the comic spirit. It is to be held at the Neighborhood Club on February 6, and Barbara Clow and Barbara Grut are inventing plans for it.

Both Barbars were on hand at the carnival to keep an eye out for the details they will need to see to. Among the other hostesses were Susan Adams, Barbara Johnson, Jessie Gilgisco, Carrie Hubbell, Eleanor Gerow, Betty Lou and Beverly Albyn, Kay Swanson, Jessie Buehler, Ellen Little, Susan Danforth, Barbara Fitch, and Sally Colburn.

Mrs. Ferris Fitch arranged for the billeting of 35 men in the homes of hospitable Grosse Pointers. Her list included Mrs. and Mrs. D. Duane Douglas, Mrs. Walter Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Greener, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. E. Spurrer, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. O'Connor, Mr. and Mrs. William Michael, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Currie, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Whelden, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Sheldrick, Mrs. Fred T. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Cornell.

You 'Can' Help; Save Every One

The rationing of canned goods, soon to go into effect, adds immeasurably to the need for cooperation. It is gratifying to the next tin can salvage drive, according to Terry Bannan, chairman of the Wayne County Tin Can Salvage Committee.

Once canned goods rationing goes into effect, Bannan stated, tin cans will have fewer empty, consequently their contributions to tin salvage will of necessity be reduced. With no rationing in effect at present, however, people will be able to set an all-time high in contributing tin to the war effort. In the usual domestic consumer consumption figures as a basis, officials have estimated that at least 1,500 tons of cans may be gathered in the Greater Detroit area if all housewives make an all-out effort to get every available tin can on salvage collection piles for the pick-up dates.

Every tin can that is thrown away is a little Hitler or Jap. It's lost to the war effort and that loss is irreplaceable—our greatest source of tin is in the tin cans of this country who should make sure that every tin can they use is cleaned, flattened and made ready for collection.

Fort Wayne, for the New Air Base Squadron at Willow Run Airport, and for many other places in the state. There is a great demand for pool tables. If anyone can give these, Mrs. Dean will be glad to have them picked up. The Army and Navy Recreation League is working very closely with the Civilian Control Council of the American Red Cross, which is headed in this district by Mrs. Fred T. Murray, ex Regional Director, and Mrs. Laura B. Higbie, Detroit chairman, and Mrs. Howard Bennett, vice chairman. The council has furnished many day rooms as well as the Hospital Recreation Centers.

CAT TALES

For generations, people have been telling about 10,000 cats who are frequently described as less intelligent than dogs. The fact that they are intelligent and that they have been added to the list of their lack of mental ability. Those who own cats and know that they are intelligent and that they have been added to the list of their lack of mental ability. Those who own cats and know that they are intelligent and that they have been added to the list of their lack of mental ability.

This is a story that concerns what most people might call "unimpaired affection", but those who have reared a big pussycat like this take to a pet, will appreciate this tale of a childless couple who loved their cat "Puddy". Soon after we moved into our apartment, we met Archie and Maud, with their big brindle cat on a leash, bedecked with a huge red bow. They told us he was twelve years old, had traveled everywhere with them since he had been a kitten. Whenever they bought a new car, they considered the visibility from the back seat, where Puddy could view the landscape as they drove.

Having always been fond of cats, we were distressed to hear of Puddy's failing health. His owners had taken him to Atlanta City, where they "took rooms on the Ocean Side" and even walked the cat up and down the boardwalk, hoping the sea and salt air would benefit him, but Puddy was just getting too old to respond to anything. One day they hoped he would live until summer, when they made their annual trip to Canada. He had always been their plan to bury Puddy in the garden there. But late one winter afternoon, Archie called to tell us he was afraid that Puddy was dying and asked if we would come to their apartment—that our understanding sympathy would help them through the ordeal.

When we entered the apartment, the fearful Maud led us to her bedroom, where, reclining on the foot of the bed, lay the dying feline. He was resting on a mound of cellulose and a satin cushion; at his head were two red roses and a spray of asparagus fern. Archie brought them today when he went for the cat. We were told by the heartbroken Maud. We all sat in the living room, so as not to disturb Puddy. Soon the Veterinary came to administer the pain-killing drug then Puddy was gone.

That was where I came in! I was there to put poor Puddy in his casket, and although I've always liked cats—my affections have never included cats—and however, I rose above it all, and seeing a soft, wooly bedecked pussycat, asked if I had a good idea to wrap Puddy in it before putting him in his casket. They agreed, so I was spared the ordeal of touching the skin I DID NOT love to touch! I lay him in his casket on the

Mrs. James Turner, treasurer, and Miss Christine Edwards, secretary. There was a lengthy discussion at the meeting of the setup already effected in the area for garden work this year and the possibilities of expanding the plot facilities. A review of the situation disclosed that there was now available in the Pointe area the following plots and locations:

In Gross Pointe Woods, a plot at Hawthorne and 52nd street with 50 garden plots available; another one on Vernier road near Mack, number of plots not yet determined.

Grosse Pointe Farms, a tract on Grosse Pointe boulevard and Mack with 14 plots available; another at Lothrop and Ridge with 20 plots; another at Kerby road and Beauregard with 20 plots.

The Shores will have a garden tract but its location and the number of plots available cannot yet be announced.

City Has Two Tracts Grosse Pointe City has a tract of Lakeland and Charlevoix with 25 plots, which have already been taken up, but the city intends to supplement this tract with another one to care for the demands in that neighborhood. The City also has a tract on Cadillac and Notre Dame north of St. Clair and south of Kerby with 65 plots, more than half of which have already been preempted.

The Park has a tract on the east and west side of Harcourt south of Jefferson with 50 plots. An effort is under way to get another tract on Kercheval near Lakepointe.

Heretofore there has been a waiting list of persons wanting all applications for a plot. This money has partially paid for the plowing and harrowing work done by the Garden Council. To stimulate early application this fee will be increased to $2. Applications will be called for the $1.00 fee before that date.

Must Clear All Plots The applicant must also agree to see that his plot is cleared of all garden rubbish and placed in a sanitary condition at the end of the gardening season. This must be done by November 1.

In the war garden cultivation this year the Government urges the growers to raise vegetables for canning as well as for current consumption. Attention is also called to the great need for castor oil for high-grade lubricants and growers are asked to devote a part of their gardens to the growing of castor beans.

Residents of the Pointe area who contemplate working a war garden this year are urged to contact village clerks' offices where full information will be available. The addresses and phone numbers for these contacts are: G. P. Woods, Philip Allard, Clerk, 2075 Mack, Phone NL 0375. G. P. Farms, Harry Furton, Clerk, 80 Kerby road, NL 8500. G. P. Shores, Arthur H. Servicemen "Screaming" for Good Reading Matter; 30,000 Volumes Needed; Take Them to Nearest Library or AWWS Headquarters

By A. PRYOR During the Victory Book Drive last year, we (Grosse Pointe) speaking, made quite a fair haul—but here, children! this is ANOTHER year and another drive. And as a matter of fact, it ought to be such a pleasure to donate these books to our men in the service, that it shouldn't have to be called a "drive"!

Grosse Pointe's quota for this year is 30,000 books. But with thirty-five thousand people living in the Pointe area—and figuring that everyone MUST have a BOOK—it seems to us that we ought to be able to jump that quota (without being asked), to at least 40,000, without bating a dog's ear.

We shouldn't to think of the hundreds, may, even thousands of books in Pointe homes that are probably stuffed away in attics (the books, not the homes). Where people have put them to get them out of the way—and have never given them a second or even a first thought. The boys in the service are "screaming" in a quiet way, of course, for literature and as we see it, the least we can do is to grant their request—with all we've got. If people know how much they were appreciated, these wouldn't be all this nonsense about "putting it off" or

Women's League Hears Moreland

The Women's Municipal League had a dinner on Tuesday evening at the Parkmore at which Mrs. J. Moreland gave an interesting and inspiring talk on the Book Drive, and also spoke briefly on the threatened inflation.

The organization had its inception last year in the book drive conducted by the women employees in the various municipal offices of the Pointe area who approached them and asked to lend their assistance in the drive. This they did gladly and effectively and the success of the campaign set up at that time resulted in the formation of the permanent organization now known as the Women's Municipal League.

It is the women employed in the Park municipal building the employees in the Draft Board No. 57 and of Grosse Pointe Township which has its offices in the Park building. The women employees of the City, the Farms, Woods, St. Clair Shores and Lake township complete the roster.

Committee is Appointed To Aid George Elworthy

The OCD at its meeting Tuesday night provided for the naming of an executive committee to work in conjunction with George Elworthy, OCD coordinator for the Grosse Pointe area. The existence of such a committee will expedite the work of the organization and in many instances permit going ahead with its work without the delay entailed in calling a meeting of the entire body of directors. The Executive named consisted of Karl B. Goddard, Edward Grace and Captain John J. O'Brien.

Dancers Remain At Club Royale

The George Bernard troupe of dancers continue to prove to Detroit night-club goers at Club Royale that successful clubbing is based on a sound knowledge of the art of being satirized. George Jany straight man to his two funny men, and their satire on "Scherzadenze" is riot, without abandoning the fundamentals of dancing.

Headlining the supporting cast of the new show is Pinky Tracy, famed Broadway comedian, whose quick, smart patter, and special material songs, have served him well in his rise to top-most position among g-men.

Refreshingly youthful and possessed of a delightful vocal artistry, Doraïne and Ellis present well-rounded entertainment with their songs from leading operas. For lovers of serious music and for followers of the light-hearted and gay tunes, these two singers are sure to please.

Roy Tracy continues to enliven the shows equally, and Jack Coffey furnishes music for shows and dancing.

To Tell of Life Under Gestapo

Detroit Town Hall in the Cass Theatre announces Dr. Richard Struna, one of the leading American authors of the Russian, journalist and radio commentator, as the speaker for Friday morning, January 31, 11:15.

Dr. Struna was the last American to leave Czechoslovakia in 1938. He lived under Hitler and the Gestapo for two years. Since 1934, as president of one of the largest privately owned industrial enterprises in Czechoslovakia, he had occasion to make close study of Hitler, to work with many leading Russians and Scandinavians and to travel all over central Europe and the middle East.

Although born in Czechoslovakia, Dr. Struna is an American citizen and an established physicist in the United States. In January, 1931, he was in the Austrian and Czechoslovakian armies he fought for two years on the Russian front and as a Russian prisoner camp, learning about Russia the hard way. He speaks several languages including Russian.

The facts and events involved in the life of Dr. Struna will be discussed in his lecture "Russia—Today."

Pointers Respond To War Club Idea

Several weeks ago a representative of the OGD in Detroit speaking to the Grosse Pointe committee having in preparation the recruitment campaign for the War Club, was one of the last neighbors in the whole Detroit area and that a hard task confronted the War Club.

The early responses to the appeals for War Club members have been most encouraging. The visitor from the big town had made a bad guess.

The 1700 letters sent out the necessary data and the enlistment forms carried on the newspaper front pages are all being returned to the War Club.

Men and women have already enlisted and the number of phone calls coming into the headquarters office at Kercheval are so numerous that the office will probably have to be enlarged and expanded and intelligent worker to attend to this particular job.

Workers from the AWWS are now distributing placards to all the stores and business places in the Pointe carrying information and the appeal in the War Club movement. Businessmen are being asked to display these prominently on their counters or in other conspicuous places.

The Ratton Board, which was one of the few remaining organizations in the Pointe that was not yet represented in the Citizens Service Corps has elected C. Henry Buhl, a member of the Board, to represent it on the Executive committee of the CSC.

Health Commissioner Warns Against New Eye Disease

The following letter has been given to all schools so that the teachers may be on the lookout for an eye disease that may possibly appear here and parents are asked to consult their physicians should their children show signs of eye trouble.

"Attention is called to the existence of a serious form of conjunctivitis or inflammation of the eye. This is known as epidemic keratoconjunctivitis, which has occurred in epidemic form on both the Atlantic and Pacific sea coasts and that, although only a few cases have been reported in Detroit and none in the Grosse Pointe area, it is recommended that teachers be on the lookout for children showing redness, swelling of the lids, and excessive tearing of the eyes. These children should consult their physicians and should remain out of school until this condition is cleared up."

The inflammation against preventable diseases such as small pox, diphtheria, and whooping cough is always important and especially so at this time.

"It is also very important that a skin test be made for possible tuberculosis because it found in the early stages, its progress can be arrested but if neglected becomes hopeless. A lot of suffering and regret can be avoided by remembering that vaccination and active work."

H. H. WARREN, M. D., Health Commissioner.

Funds Are Appropriate To Help War Services

At the OGD directors meeting Tuesday night an appropriation of funds was made to assist in various war service organizations in the Pointe for the period January 1-April 1.

Chiefly in mind in making the allocation was the aiding of the drive for the organization of the Little War Clubs now just getting under way.

Post Office

Pointe, inasmuch as Mr. Nagel has conducted the Post Office for years I have written him requesting that he make a suitable bid for the contract the awarding of which would bring temporary relief to the community.

It goes without saying that the splendid support of your paper in recognizing this deficiency as exemplified in the timely articles of the editor has been used by me in making known the attitude of the people toward the subject that has been evidence in the Department. I feel certain that we are on the road to achieving our goal.

Sincerely,
 Louis C. Rabaut, M. C.
 Late Tuesday afternoon, at G. Pte.

News received a second letter from Congressman Rabaut in Washington informing us that the First Assistant Postmaster General had approved the establishment of a substitution in the hardware store of Arthur J. Nagel at 16215 East Jefferson Avenue, Grosse Pointe, where one had formerly been maintained for many years.

Mr. Rabaut says this will bring temporary relief to the community but will not insure him to cease his efforts towards obtaining a permanent Postal Substitution for the Grosse Pointe area.

Mr. Rabaut's second letter is as follows:

Washington, D. C.
 January 25, 1943

Mr. Robert B. Edgar, Editor Grosse Pointe News, Punch and Judy Building, Grosse Pointe, Michigan

Dear Mr. Edgar:

I am pleased to give you the following information. The First Assistant Postmaster has approved the reestablishment of a hardware store of Arthur J. Nagel, at 16215 East Jefferson Avenue, Grosse Pointe, this will bring temporary relief to the community but there will be no cessation of action on my part for the establishment of a permanent Postal Substitution for the Grosse Pointe area.

Permit me at this time to thank you for your splendid efforts and assistance in this regard.

Very sincerely yours,
 Louis C. Rabaut, M. C.

Petty Pointes

While wandering through the littered streets of Grosse Pointe, the official publication of the Pointe Rotary Club, we came across the following, which we thought would be of interest to our readers.

"The title is 'Ramblings on Advancing Years' and there can't be any doubt about its honesty. It is a smacks too certainly lived with suspicion for some time."

"We had already considered mention of the Commissions of Old Age as being of the same species of bromide as the Best Policy which we have viewed with suspicion for some time."

"However, a recent inventory of the benefits, which has been intended to be an approach the home merit of Mr. Pitkin's well known philosophy."

"The thing which brought the subject to our attention forcibly last week, as we arose on the morning of the morning, was an extremely foolish for a man of our maturity to finish off a pleasantly hot shower with the spray, which previous youthful prudence had considered an act of cowardice to eschew. The judgment of old age enables one to view such matters in the sensible rather than romantic light, and as a result we now face the matter of mutational ablutions with equanimity as they have experienced. (One of them says 'we're going to start sleeping with all our windows closed. Right now we're compressing on one inch.')

"From now on we will be able to enjoy our life (should there be any such thing). In the past we must admit to some chagrin which we matched our 110's against the capriciousness of spirits. We have become someone now on we can meet our hooks and all with imperturbability. (As a matter of fact we really can play darned good golf and we hope that some of our last summer's companions may realize that they only have seen our customer's game.)

"One of the advantages of advanced years is that one need not be ashamed to take vitamin pills for the restoration of youthful vigor. We have become someone who have become someone who take our three tablets each morning. The other day, for example, we could barely drag around, thinking we had forgotten the accustomed dose. When we rushed home to dinner and counted the remaining pills in the bottle, we discovered we had taken them after all, immediately became so full of verve that we stayed up until 10:30.

"Speaking of the Vi-concentrate tablets, we understood that A1's was underfunded that A1's vitamin 'E' tablets are becoming so famous that he is being duplicated with orders from Hollywood stars to whom this product has been recommended by Errol Flynn.

"Nevertheless, with all its compensation, senility is not in all respects desirable. There are indeed mental twinges as one counts the hairs on one's forehead. (We wish we could look like Ralph Henderson), and when one notes The Cranson looking covetously at someone's molar, rubbing his hands at the thought of future dividends. However, we will hold fast to our plan to have ours all removed on our fiftieth birthday as a practical reduction in overhead."
