

Titus Robbers Held in Jail Pending Trial

Pair Remanded When Unable to Provide $10,000 Bond Set by Court

Two of the four young men who held up the Titus Drug store at Fisher and Kercheval on February 26, 1942 at the point of a gun and took between $200 and $300 had their preliminary hearings before Judge Kenneth Thomas in the Farms court Saturday afternoon.

Clelan Wolf, born March 4, 1923, residence 4314 Clemons, Detroit and Wallace Fallowfield, born June 3, 1923, residence 12319 Ohio, Detroit, were the two picked up the other day, following the hearing before Fallowfield by the Detroit police who suspected him of complicity in another offense in Detroit.

Under the grilling Fallowfield got from the Detroit police the names of the store and the Titus kidnap and implicated Wolf. Wolf was in Detroit at the time and said he talked in by the police.

Wolf Aided Gunman

He was the actual gunman in the Titus holdup, who with two others entered the store and held the robbery at the point of a gun while the fourth member of the gang remained outside at the wheel of the getaway car, with motor running.

The Fallowfield confession the two yet unaccounted for are in the armed services, one a private in the Army and the other a sailor. These names have not yet been divulged but are probably known to the police. That they are in the combat services may have a bearing on the handling of the case by the police.

Witnesses To Be Summoned

At the preliminary hearing before Judge Thomas Saturday afternoon the pair, under advice of their attorneys, pleaded not guilty. Through their attorneys they asked for an examination which will be held Thursday at 10 o'clock P. M. At this hearing witnesses will be summoned. At the hearing last Saturday, Frank H. Tutu, proprietor of the robbed establishment, was the only witness.

Both were remanded to jail under $10,000 bonds.

Detroit police say they had picked up Fallowfield on seven previous occasions. Wolf has had five previous detentions, police department of that city.

Its Hands Will Remain on War Time

This behind-the-scenes picture of one of the most familiar objects in all of Grosse Pointe, shows the works of the clock in the High School Tower. The unanimous decision of the Detroit City Council Tuesday night makes it practically certain that the hands of the big timepiece will continue to tell War Time for the duration. The local municipalities have indicated they will all be guided by Detroit's action. The youth clutching one of the brackets that hold the floodlights which illuminate the big clock at night, is Lloyd Loring, a high school student.

Registration for New Ration Books to Be Held in Pointe On Four Days of Next Week

Elementary Schools Will Again Be Used With Teachers and Volunteer Workers Handling Big Job

According to L. M. Bartlett, Director of Pupil Personnel Plans has been completed by the local schools for the registration of War Ration Book II. This is the "Pointe ration book" which will be used beginning March 1 for processed fruits and vegetables and later for meat.

As announced in this paper last week, all elementary schools, with the exception of Maize School will be open for registration Monday through Thursday, February 22 through February 25, from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m. No school closures will be held in the elementary schools in the afternoon of these days, though classes will be in session in the morning and noon. All day sessions will be held at both Maize and the Grosse Pointe High School buildings on these days.

Saving Fuel Oil

Maize school will not be used for this registration as it is heated by fuel oil and its quota for the year is running low. By closing this school at noon for each of the four days of registration, many gallons of fuel oil will be saved and the local Board of Education believes that by taking this measure, it will be possible to complete the heating season without too much difficulty.

Residents of the Maize Elementary School District will go to either the Defer or Richland Elementary Schools to register. It is suggested that all residents of the Maize School District who live in Grosse Pointe Park go to Defer School and those living in the City of Grosse Pointe go to the Richland School to register.

Houtekier Leads In Gratiot Vote

Gratiot township cast nearly 500 votes in Monday's primary, with only 27 of them Republican. The returns there were as follows:

Supervisor	281
John Houtekier	281
Frank Jones	165
Clerk	246
Lloyd Lyle	246
Alfred Clark	131
Treasurer	199
John Risard	199
Michael Skarda	129
Eric Tracey	62
Justice of the Peace	59
Albert H. Schoning	239
Matthew Makie	184

For the Republican ticket, Clerk, Eugene Flormack, received 27 votes, and Edward Eppinger 17, to become nominees for supervisor and treasurer, respectively.

Mass Meeting Is Scheduled To Explain Point Rationing

Following the issuing of the point rationing books at the Pointe elementary schools on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, a large mass meeting will be held on Wednesday evening to acquaint the people with the detailed workings of the new system.

The meeting will be addressed by a speaker who is presumably an expert on the subject, who will be sent up from the Wayne County Rationing Board in Detroit. Following the general explanation of the plan by the speaker there will be a period for questions and answers, where the particular problem of the family purchaser will be discussed.

The War Club leaders, who have thus far been selected, are now busily canvassing their blocks and immediate neighborhoods to urge attendance at the meeting.

The AWW's and all kindred organizations concerned with the war work and civilian defense earnestly urge the men and women of the Pointe to attend.

As the problem of buying such a variety of articles under this plan, which is wholly new to the American people, is mixed and confusing at best, it will be greatly to the advantage of the private citizen to have one of whom must live under this system, to absorb all of the knowledge concerning its workings as early in the experience as possible.

The meeting will save endless questions and misleading answers now being informed sources later on.

Commission Is Faced by Mad Citizens

President Chesapeake Explains What Village Is Up Against

The disposal of surface water plus sewage which has periodically plagued the Woods municipality for a long time, was the discussion theme which occupied 90% of the time of the Woods Commissioners at their meeting Tuesday night.

Several citizens, including Messrs. Kennedy and Peters, who live in the Torrey Woods section, were at the meeting to relate a string of troubles they have endured during the present season of abnormally heavy flood water. They had been put to considerable expense in repairing damage caused by the water which came into their cellars, including a new motor operating the fuel system, a washing machine that had been virtually destroyed and other substantial items of loss or repair.

They Wanted Something Done

They wanted something done about it, and quickly. President Chesapeake explained the problem that confronted the Woods and the measures that had been taken to meet it and other improvements planned or actually underway.

"The citizens while unrecanted to continue nuisances and losses, expressed sympathy with the Commissioners' proposed approach," he said.

The Woods' trouble seems to be basically a flood water problem. The sewer system is believed to be able to operate satisfactorily as long as it deals only with sanitary sewage. But if it is subjected to the shock of caring for both floodwater and sewage when an abnormally heavy rain like the present one comes along.

Every home in the Woods area is equipped with a storm water installation and the sewage, which is pumped up into Lake St. Clair, is treated in the plant. The genesis of the whole Woods' problem lies in the fact that the sewer system, which is at a lower level than that part of Gratiot which impinges on it immediately to the north.

When heavy water comes along, it simply runs down into the Woods' section, and that is that.

The Woods, of course has no control over the water which can come in any community of its size in indulgence in such a luxury. This surplus water must be handled in some way or other and when the two come together in abnormal quantities trouble is the result.

To Help in Meeting the Problem

The Woods municipality has been urged to install a north ditch which deliver the surface water into the lake. It has also been urged to install a north ditch which deliver the surface water into the lake. It has also been urged to install a north ditch which deliver the surface water into the lake.

The town, however, that is completed in itself in ordinary times.

The Wayne County Road Commission is building a 6-foot interceptor sewer in the Woods area which will be a great help in the problem. This is expected to be finished in the early summer. It is expected that this will solve the whole problem. The Woods is paying a substantial part of the cost of this big line.

The fear is openly expressed by the Commission that if the municipality will eventually be confronted by a big outlay in solving the trouble.

Local Station Has Big Order For Bandages

War Department Sends Plan To Meet Emergency Requirement of Surgical Dressings

The Grosse Pointe station of the Red Cross on Fisher road has received an urgent call for all of the surgical dressings that it can produce. The deadline for this emergency order that has come direct from the War Department is March 15.

Miss Charles Creeden, in charge of the Fisher station states that the Red Cross work rooms are now ordered to make more women workers. There is particular need for women who will produce all their work hours at a time, as the war quarters will be busy on this great order for bandages and night work until March 15.

Classes are still conducted each Thursday morning at 10 o'clock as heretofore. With a few hours instruction any woman with ordinary domestic sewing machine technique required in the preparation of these dressings.

No patriotic woman of the Pointe community who is anxious to do her part in the war work program is being overlooked for her services. Neither should any hesitate to try to qualify for this important order, for the might not be sufficiently quick or nimble with her hands to do so.

The Red Cross is the greatest need for workers to help with this emergency order that has been passed to them, that it has experienced this far in the war work program of the Pointe take note!

Insidious Sabotage Scaring Potential Victory Gardeners

Frightened by Rumors of Thievery; News Suggests Special Ordinances and Offers Reward of $100 War Bond

An insidious sort of unintentional sabotage has been born in the Pointe and apparently is finding fertile ground for development. It's high time it was wiped.

Within the last week our attention has been called to the fact that many residents who would like to start a Victory Garden during the 1943 season have been scared out of the idea by the fear that their crops would be stolen before they could be harvested and preserved for their own use.

These persons have heard that if one maintains a Victory Garden during the season, he will be subjected to the attention of a burglar.

For the benefit of those who have heard these tales and have been timid about taking on a Victory Garden plot because of them, a man who has reported that last year, when the movement was not nearly so important as it will be during the coming season, there were very few cases of such vandalism.

This year, with food one of the major needs for a successful culmination of the war effort, the theft of a single bean or the loss of a single tomato, or the pilfering from a Victory Garden, should be considered a severe punishment.

Just Like Horse Thieves

In the early days of this country, a man who had depended upon his horse, a horse which knew that if he was caught he would be shot without a trial or of an eye. So should it be with anyone who is so ungrateful as to steal from a Victory Garden.

The police of all five Pointes, who are patrolling vigilantly in this area, will have orders to keep particular watch over the Victory Garden plots night and day.

The Grosse Pointe News suggests that the councils of the five municipalities in this area immediately adopt special ordinances dealing specifically with anyone who might be guilty of such a crime.

Primary Vote In Township Attracts Few

James McNally Is High Candidate in Race for Justice of the Peace

The results in the Grosse Pointe Township primaries Monday were as follows:

For Supervisor (no opposition), Carl Schweikart 769; Township Clerk (no opposition), Henry Latorre 713; Treasurer (no opposition), Adolph L. Danman 746.

The three candidates for Justice of the Peace ran as follows: James N. McNally (nominated) 467, John J. Miller 306, Willie Wilson 129.

For Board of Review (no opposition) Newton W. Whitley 618.

Constables: John W. Travis 337, Wm. C. Hillier 304, and Edward J. Flinn 288. The Township is entitled to four constables but only these three filed for nomination. Hence their nomination is equivalent to the election.

City Policeman Bitten by Dog

Police of City of Grosse Pointe have issued a stern warning that all dogs in the city must be kept on a leash and when on the streets owners who do not cooperate will find themselves in court, it has been announced.

All of the 300 police dockets have been more crowded than usual, through most of them are about dogs running loose, barking and destroying property. The police report that in many cases dog lovers, have been put on the spot and are forced to take strenuous measures to control their animals.

In the City, the menace was emphasized Tuesday when Officer Tom Collins was badly bitten while trying to pick up a stray animal at University and Mack. The dog, part Spitz and part Collie, bit Collins in a number of places, tearing his gloves and uniform. He was treated by Dr. Nelson Taylor.

All dogs running loose will be picked up and their owners will be fined. Owners who refuse to be released, owners who persist in violating the dog ordinance will be held in court.

Woods Given Play Ground

Site of Community Club House Tendered To Village Accepted By Council

The property in the Woods at the corner of Ridgeman and Mack which has been offered as a site for a play ground for the past four or five years was formally tendered as a gift to the Woods community by the late Mrs. Hart Curran, at the Council meeting Tuesday night.

The plot is approximately 75 feet wide and 100 feet long. It is a small concrete structure which was built by public subscription in the Woods section for the late Mrs. Curran. She offered it for that purpose. The Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club, an organization composed of accomplished women of the neighborhood, has assumed responsibility for its maintenance.

Mrs. Curran desires that her gift should continue to be used and is agreeable to its use under the same auspices as at present, for public recreation purposes, but to give permanence to it she had the Woods municipality itself shall accept title to the property.

The acceptance of the property by the municipality under the conditions of the deed gift will give it maintenance in perpetuity as a public recreation place.

The Woods Council accepted the gift with its thanks and followed it with a resolution authorizing the use of the gift to the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club, subject to such conditions as may be determined by the municipality from time to time possible.

Rites Are Held For H. W. Wurster

Funeral services for Harold W. Wurster, aged 51, secretary and treasurer and a member of the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club, were held at the funeral home of H. W. Wurster, 1000 Mack, Monday morning in Kitchener, Ont. He had been in the hospital since last August.

He started his business career with the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club and made his home at 355 Balfour road.

Surviving are his wife, Marie, two daughters, Xenette and Angela; two sons, Harold F. and John B.; and a sister, Mrs. Percy Aikens, of Preston, Ont.

Air Raid Wardens Discuss Problems

In the absence of Clarence Blessed, chief air raid warden of the Pointe-Gratiot district, who has been in California, John B. Sutton, deputy chief warden, called a meeting recently of the zone wardens of the Pointe-Gratiot district, which was conducted in the Neighborhood club, concerned itself with the continuation of zone wardens and stressed the importance of information and reports being filed through the heads of the zone areas only, to centralize control.

George Evertly, coordinator, and Harry Einkerstedt of Woodland place, charged with instruction and organizing, and Frances Einkerstedt, who attended the defense and charges, attended the meeting.

Valuable Art Lost in Fire

Collection of Bronzes, Etchings and Heirlooms Destroyed in Paskett Home

An alarm of fire received at the Park Fire Department headquarters Sunday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock took the firemen to the residence of the late Lewis J. Paskett, 1425 Berkeley.

When they arrived the third floor of the house was a mass of flames but prompt work by the firemen confined the major damage to that floor, although it penetrated somewhat into the second floor, which suffered some damage from flame and water, particularly in one bedroom.

The members of the family had been attending a church activity in the early afternoon and on returning home intended to relax with a Sunday afternoon siesta. One of the members of the family group though she heard a crashing sound in the top floor, and on investigation the fire, then under full way, was discovered.

The fire was caused by the burning soot from the chimney. A chimney fire of this character often bursts with the force of a miniature blast furnace and throws out heavy embers which are a menace to any surrounding inflammable property.

The theory is that one of three embers dropped on the roof, and which she noticed an unusual smell smoke about the top of the house in the early afternoon.

Heirlooms Lost

The top floor was filled with many pieces of costly furniture, including family heirlooms. There were also many fine examples of art work which had been gathered in recent years by Mrs. Helen Paskett. This collection included some unusual specimens of Anthony Hoge etchings. Valuable bronzes and fine pieces of Haviland china.

A considerable part of the family wardrobe stored there was totally destroyed.

Restoration experts who have looked over the wreckage have concluded that the loss of the bronzes in the collection, "the 'A'W's" and all kindred objects which were in the house, were almost certainly destroyed.

CHIMNEY CATCHES FIRE

City firemen extinguished a chimney fire at the home of Harry Einkerstedt of Woodland place at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

WHERE THERE'S SMOKE . . .

Two fire trucks were summoned to the Kuhlman home at 745 Lincoln road Sunday. A closed fireplace damper, preventing excessive smoke, was the cause for the alarm.

Young Pierson Struck by Car

Davison Pierson, aged 11, son of the Harry Lynn Piersons of Wayne County, was struck and injured Tuesday afternoon when he stepped into a car being driven by Mrs. Walter Shelden of Lakeshore road.

The accident occurred at the Pointe boulevard and Vendome road. The youngster was just alighted from a bus, and hurriedly stepped into the path of the car which was going east. He was taken to the hospital by Farms police. Reports late yesterday said he might be suffering from a fractured skull, but would take several days to determine.

No other bones were broken.

Woods Police Retain Record On Lost Steds

It is all about the Woods police whether it is bicycles or led.

During the bicycling season it was their boast that every machine reported as lost or stolen would be returned to the rightful owner.

With the coming of the season snow and ice, the village police are still battling 1000 on sleds. Many of the youngsters in the Woods section, tempted by the signally good sleighing, have been hooked on behind vehicles moving slow enough to make it difficult to result in a crash. After a goodly part of the sled population of the Woods far and wide, Police may not find a few sleds which by less than best sleighing.

This is where the efficient Woods police went to work, turning in a record of every sled returned to its rightful owner, and a few from the grateful, paying parents.

Joseph Grew Kept Busy During Brief Visit Here

Hon. Joseph C. Grew was a busy man during his brief visit to this region. According to Captain John J. O'Brien, he had a long day's work in the area around the area was scheduled down to a fine point where municipalities were to meet.

He inspected seven of the great war production plants, many of which were returned to service even before the civilian war workers in the AWW's headquarters on Fisher road had returned to the community during Mr. Grew's busy rounds.

Starts Things Off

Local Municipalities Expected to Follow Lead of Detroit City Council

The intimate business association between Detroit and the Pointe municipalities quite positively determines that the choice made by the voters on Monday by the voters of the acceptance or rejection of war saving time will be the position these municipalities will quickly take.

Surprise Expected
In the County Clerk's office down town considerable surprise was expressed at the site of the opposition vote. There is a general expectation that because of Detroit's immense importance in the war program there would be a near unanimous agreement to continue the War saving time system.

One explanation advanced by one of the prominent officials of the County Clerk's office was that there were many thousands of persons in Detroit who were either recent or very remote rural origin, and these when they voted the polls were barking madly to the demands which "father" or "uncle" on the farm were known to hold.

Under the law which Governor Kelly recently signed the acceptance or rejection of War saving time is left to the discretion of each separate municipality. The public vote taken in Detroit, or in such other municipalities as may adopt this method, is merely an opportunity afforded to the people to register their views and to serve as a guide to the municipal legislators in their deliberative session.

The matter has already been informally discussed in several official quarters in the Pointe and the belief is general that this community's action must be based on Detroit's decision. This, though, was frankly set forth at a recent meeting of the Park Commission and in a letter which reflect the general opinion of the whole Pointe area.

While the actual acceptance or rejection of the War time measure is the function of the municipalities, it is to be believed that the emphatic popular majority given War time in Detroit and its instant official acceptance by the Detroit Council indicates clearly the line of early action by our local lawmakers.

War Clubs Explained by Mrs. Henry Burritt

J. J. O'Brien, Director, Also Addresses Meetings Held in AWVS Headquarters; Everyone In Points Urged To Cooperate in the Movement

The AWVS headquarters at 17027 Kercheval avenue was a busy place last Monday. Two war club group leaders' meetings were held, one at 2 p. m. and one at 8 p. m. The first recruits numbered about 60 at each session.

J. J. O'Brien, director of the group, gave a survey of the work that the war clubs are doing. He explained how and why it functions, and the need for everyone in the community to become acquainted with the special needs of today's living demands. He also pointed out the necessity for every person to know how he can be of help to himself and his community.

Mrs. Henry Burritt, chairman of the war clubs, also stressed the importance of everyone in Grosse Pointe making the effort to sign up to do his or her job.

The office is open every day and someone will be there who is prepared to answer questions. Grosse Pointers can use the information on problems that arise daily, due to present war time living conditions. The war club office wishes to inform people that it has been created to give information and to accept suggestions from local people on current problems affecting the community.

It heats steel

in less than two minutes—

... one of the thousands of jobs Electricity is doing to win the war

The electric induction furnace is an important tool in helping to speed up war production... and it is most unusual in its manner of operation. You can place your hand inside the furnace and not feel a bit of heat. But place a steel bar in the same spot, and in one or two minutes it becomes WHITE-HOT.

Induction heating has several clear-cut advantages. For example, it is useful in hardening the surface of a steel piece without affecting the toughness of the steel below the surface. Annealing, tempering, and other heat treatments, such as carburizing, nitriding, and cyaniding, are made with the help of induction heating. A crankshaft whose surface has been hardened in this way will last five to ten times longer before needing attention than it would without such treatment.

Gan barrels of a certain caliber are now centrifugally cast from alloy-steel melted in an induction furnace. Stainless steels and "fussy" alloys are commonly melted in these furnaces, as are most of the high-speed and tool steels used for cutting. And huge castings for naval torpedoes also come from the induction furnace.

Induction heating and melting represents only ONE of thousands of jobs that electricity is doing today in arsenals and war plants. Electric power is a weapon of war.

'Glacier Priest' Will Be Speaker

Father Bernard J. Hubard, famous "Glacier Priest" just back from several months in Alaska as civilian advisor to the Armed Forces, will be the Detroit Town Hall speaker in the Fisher Theatre Wednesday, Feb. 24, at 11 a. m. The noted lecturer will illustrate his talk "Alaska in the War" with exclusive motion pictures, including the bombing of Dutch Harbor, the occupation of the Aleutian Islands in the north, the American planes bombing Kiska, and the Alaska-Canada highway. Drawing from Alaskan outpost to outpost, Father Hubard has been giving morale-building lectures to American boys under the direct authority of the 13th Naval District. "I went up there," said the priest, "with the idea of trying to show the boys they needn't be afraid of Alaska. I am coming back with the idea that I can cheer the morale and relatives of these boys with what I noticed everywhere — that it is a better job and better clothed than most of them ever were at home. Their morale is very high. Because of his 17 consecutive years traveling the length and breadth of Alaska and the Aleutian Islands, even penetrating north of Point Barrow into the Polar Gap, Father Hubard is considered to know more about Alaska than any other human being. His meteorological researches on the Aleutian Islands have been of great value to the Armed Forces. When not adventuring, the "Glacier Priest" heads the Geology Department at Santa Clara University, Calif.

Educating Children by Guiding Play at Home

By Gary Cleveland Myers, Ph.D. Before the child enters school, he gets most of his best education through play. Even while he is attending school, some of his most valuable learning is derived from having fun at home. Because so many parents realize the foregoing facts, they are giving increasing thought to playthings for the baby and young child and to setting the stage at home for him to enjoy play which is educationally useful. More and more good educational toys are available on the market and parents are purchasing these toys. Nevertheless, some responsible parents provide the growing child with playthings at little or no cost. They find things all about the home. Some children, indeed, who have few of the best playthings that may be bought, are richly supplied with homemade toys. There are hardly more fascinating toys for the child from five months to one or two years than a few clothespins, pins, a large spoon or some spool on a string. The young toddler likes to carry or drag small things about the house, what is more, anything he can pull a long block or piece of heavy cardboard tied to a long piece of string. There's magic in just seeing the thing trail a few feet away from him as he causes it to move. If not hooped too much, the youngster four or five will learn in a crude way to fasten things together with a string. Kindergarten Crayons The lead pencil, however, is a dangerous plaything, even for the tot of five. Give him a large kindergarten crayon, instead, as soon as he will not chew them. Used or new wrapping paper is fine for him to scribble, draw or paint on. While a few sheets is desirable, the tot can easily draw on the floor on top of a large magazine or piece of cardboard with a three-cent stamp on it. Also a graded list of good toys to buy.

CAT TALES

For generations people have been arguing about it. Q. Of cats who are generally described as being independent, do you know of any who refuse to roll over and play dead when they are held? A. I know of one who does. I have a cat named Venus who will not roll over and play dead when she is held. She will only close her eyes and purr when she is being held. She will not roll over and play dead when she is being held. She will only close her eyes and purr when she is being held.

To Demonstrate Hat Remodeling

Now is the time to take those last year's spring hats out of their winter hiding place. Do you know something can be done to make them wearable this year. And this year's hats are so different from last year's. The AWVS headquarters Mrs. George Kimber will give a practical demonstration of how to do it yourself! Just bring in one of those worn and weary models—perhaps the short, 1942's Easter best—and a 1 c. revives and turns you all over again, learn from the expert. The above demonstration of remodeling which you can apply seasonally to its doubling and more. More and more these days of rationing and higher taxes, when the stanz her keep by destroying and refashioning and repaired—not to replace—every article we possess. The AWVS Consumer Division is acting as an advisory center for the hat and shoe industry for new ways and means of wise saving and wise use of our own materials. The above demonstration of remodeling of hats is the first of a series of ten practical demonstrations of hours-long sessions which will follow every Friday afternoon from four to five at the AWVS headquarters, 1102 W. Warren, at the corner of Cass and Michigan. The other interesting and timely subjects will be announced weekly as the course progresses. All are free to the public, but those attending will be asked to buy one War Stamp at the entrance. Don't forget this Friday—come and bring an old hat!

and for Venus to teach this Goha. Whenever the latter child and pointed to the Goha, Venus rushed in, hissing and scolding and slapped his first with one paw then the other. After she had scolded away, she invariably sought consolation, arching her back, strutting in the manner of a female feline. She also used to stray away from home occasionally, and she returned from her wanderings in the manner of a cat, with her back arched and thrashing and scolding. Thus, who anyone can see by the way, the mistress of the child, took care of the dog in a nice way. Her owner said that the same dog never into the yard twice. Venus hid behind his back, he claus in deep into the howling his his.

Pointe Yacht Club Sees Some Top-Notch Boats

They had some grade I boating in the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Sunday when the Club was home to Joe Norris and Andy Varpappa, two of the top notchers of the country. During the evening the two big shots rolled an exhibition match and the score tells how close it was: Varpappa 1311, Norris 1306. In the afternoon Varpappa agreed to take on several of the Club members who were anxious to try their metal against really high quality. Young Kenneth Faust of Berkshire road, one of the Junior members of the Club made the best showing for the amateurs with the very creditable score of 102 against Varpappa's 256. Whether or not Varpappa was really extending himself is a moot question, but a count of 256 is not bad indeed, he is doing no loafing around the alley.

Cass Returning Big Comedy Hit
 The play that has broken many theatrical records and that ran 12 weeks in Detroit two seasons ago is returning to the Cass Theatre Monday evening, March 1. "Life With Father," called "America's most beloved comedy" with Percy Warran acting to the hilt his famous Father Day and June Walker reminding us of the faces of their own mothers by her tender Mother Day, is now in its fourth year of stinking and young in continuous laughter.
 Fashioned from the comic books of the famous Day, Jr., about his own remarkable father and mother, the rollicking comedy of Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse as produced by Oscar Felix is a celebration of the family character in the good old American home of a couple of generations ago.
 "The Father is a tremendous figure of masculine proportions in rule over his own feminine wife and four red-headed boys. His shouted word, he thinks, is law and his domestic aggressiveness is meant to be effective. But he loves his wife and she has the gift of Mother Eye."
 "Life With Father" thought set in the quietly peaceful period 1925 to 1930 in New York is a sweeping, a laugh-entertainment for all from 9 to 99 who have known family life of what ever kind. So extraordinarily faithful to the spirit of the actual Clarence Day family, the play has the warmth and ring of sincerity and a touching appeal.
 The Oscar Felix standard in the casting of the players of the company and every detail of the production has been maintained. The direction was accomplished by Bretaigne Windust and the admired setting and costumes were designed by Stewart Chase.

Assistance Will Be Given Individual Gardeners

It is the reason for existing the gardeners who wish to cultivate their gardens either in this city or on some adjacent town property remains unutilized. It has been carefully studied the time by the Victory Garden Council.

It is the reason to believe that the members of the Grosse Pointe communities will plant gardens if some sort of assistance is forthcoming similar to that given on the larger communities.

DePatis, chairman of the Victory Garden Council, has outlined the following program for the coming year.

Each individual registered with the Victory Garden Council will be assigned a plot and will undertake to plant a Victory Garden this year.

Each member will receive a permit for use of the Victory Garden Council's facilities and will be assigned a plot and will undertake to plant a Victory Garden this year.

More Books Are Needed

Victory Drive Gaining Momentum; Money Contributions Also Solicited

The Victory Drive is getting under full headway in the Pointe. The need for reading matter for the men in service is urgent, and a great variety of titles is called for in meeting their tastes or study needs.

Last year nearly 19,000 books were contributed by the people of the Pointe but it was found that many of these were of little use in the military camps.

In addition to good fiction they want military biographies, dictionaries, histories, geographies and all types of reference books for the men in service who are doing a lot of research reading on their own account.

For those who hesitate to donate their private libraries of needed works it is suggested that they make money contributions which will be immediately converted into the type of printed matter most needed and desired by the men.

The committee in charge of the drive suggest that next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday when the citizens go to the elementary schools to arrange for the books they should take with them these books as they intend to donate.

Municipal Heads Hear War Talks At Monthly Meet

The Grosse Pointe Municipal Council, composed of practically all the executives of the several municipalities of the Pointe area, which meets the first Wednesday of each month, held its February meeting in the Alger Post V.F.W. dining room.

The meeting was presided over by Robert Neff, Clerk of the City, who announced that plenty more of the members would have a chance to occupy the dual before he would consent to serve again.

The meeting was largely a social session, with a hearty welcome to several guests. Various speeches both humorous and serious, were offered and the occasion was one of the most enjoyable the War Club has had in a long time.

O'Brien is Speaker On the serious side John J. O'Brien, chairman of the Citizens' Service Corps, spoke of the supreme importance of effecting an early organization of the local War Clubs, which at the moment has the right of way in the CSC activities.

The object, he stated, is to arrange for the organization of a war club in every block in the Pointe area. It is through such small clubs that the latent talent for some form of service will be determined and every man and woman in the community directed into the niche where he or she can work most effectively.

When the CSC was just starting to effect an organization out here they had been addressed by a prominent personage from Detroit who had warned them that they would have a difficult job out here as the Pointe area was one of the most unneighborly in the whole country.

The experience they were meeting with failed to justify the gloomy prediction of this uninspiring speaker.

"Aren't Picking Flowers" "The 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 of our young men who are already in foreign service are not out there picking flowers," he said. "They are fighting and dying for us and our common country and the grumbling and grudging that unhappily still exists among some groups of our people is tearing down the cause from which must be maintained and

High School Swimmers Score Two Victories During Week

By COMPTON BRAMHONST

Grosse Pointe's swimming team really turned on the heat last week. It completely defeated the River Rouge Tankers 63-21 in the Rouge pool Tuesday, and on Friday afternoon the Pointe Tankers outclassed a Fordian squad 55-29 in the local pool.

Both teams clearly showed that Grosse Pointe has a powerhouse of swimmers, who have improved greatly as the season has progressed.

Brink, Marzack Star John Brink and Martin Marzack paced their teammates to the Devil victory by taking two firsts apiece. The Blue Devils were an completely dominant that they captured nine firsts in nine events.

Friday afternoon two records were smashed, and the Pointers won their second meet in four days.

Brink Sets Record A full house was on hand to see John Brink set the new pool record for the Individual Medley Relay at 1:18.6. This time is two and four-tenths seconds faster than the previous mark of 1:21 which was set by Brink in 1942.

Buster Pinkston captured two strengthened if their mission is to be successful.

Mr. O'Brien said they were most anxious to have the help of all of the public officials of the Pointe. From their knowledge of the community and their access to the citizens would be able to give tremendous help to the work.

War Speed Effort The War Club movement he said would stop cross wires from gumming up the war effort because of the very essence of the whole Home Front service.

Among others who spoke in a way of service, which city council members of the Pointe area, which meets the first Wednesday of each month, held its February meeting in the Alger Post V.F.W. dining room.

Letters to Park Aired by Council

To expedite the consideration of such matters as the citizens of the Park may bring before the Commission in written communications, the Commissioners at their meeting on February 8 passed a resolution laying down the procedure for such communications.

Hereafter, to be assured of the consideration of such letters, it will be necessary for the petitioner to file his communication with the Village Clerk not later than 1 o'clock in the afternoon of the day of the meeting.

This is for the purpose of giving the Commissioners or the Village President the opportunity of examining the contents of communications and possibly being able to take authoritative action on his subject matter at the meeting that same evening.

Communications that are not received before that time will probably have to lay over until the regular meeting of the Commission two weeks later.

The Park Commission holds two regular meetings each month: on the second and fourth Mondays at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The Pointe Parade

LIUT. WILLIAM R. HOFF is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoff of Kenwood court. He has been a Pointe since his family moved here in 1939.

He has now been sent to Fort Campbell, Tenn., where he is attached to the 89th Regiment, Armored Division in tank service. He is a graduate of Eastern high school, where he was a sports reporter on the school paper.

After leaving school he worked with his father in the plant of Hoff Screw Products.

He thought this angle of stimulation had been neglected among the adults during this war. The children in the schools were all trained in singing but their own fathers and mothers had sadly neglected this mode of patriotic expression.

He was considering trying to bring together groups of adults for Sunday afternoon songfests and was confident if he was able to do this it would greatly strengthen war morale among the civilian population.

Baptism is Scheduled By Church in Woods At the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, Dr. Joseph A. Vance will preach at the service at 10 a. m. next Sunday on "God's Call from Calvary." An opportunity will be given at this service for parents to present their infants for baptism.

The recent social evening proved so enjoyable and well attended that another evening is being planned for a date near the middle of March, to which all members and friends of the congregation are cordially invited.

Every Harris Funeral includes more than 50 items of thoughtful service. A comparison will quickly convince you that a Harris Funeral has definite advantages in prestige, quality and cost.

This is the answer you will get if you ask any of the several thousand families who have used Harris Service. There are good reasons for such expressions of satisfaction. "Here" because both Harris Homes are restful, dignified and have the most modern facilities. "Lower cost" because the large number of Harris Funerals makes possible a considerably lower unit overhead charge.
