Local Civil Service commissioners some time last November in this examination he passed as the top man, and was duly certified to the Chief for the appointment, as required by law.

Chief Hector named Martin to the place, but the latter requires that this appointment shall be what is known as a probationary appointment and runs for six months.

Martin's six months' probationary period ran out on April 30, but for reasons best known to himself Chief Hector has failed to advance Martin to the full-fledged status which usually follows a probationary appointment.

Wishes to Resign
The Park Civil Service Commissioners for the Fire department has been composed of Dr. W. J. Watkins, Dr. L. A. Duntz and Karl Graul. Dr. Watkins is the only hold-over from the original Civil Service Commission named by the Legislature several years ago, but due to press of professional duties he had no desire to serve another term after the expiration of his commission of appointment on April 2 this year.

Karl Graul has been a patient in the Jennings hospital for some time so that for the moment there is no Civil Service commission functioning.

Martin, the aggrieved fireman, has requested a review of his case by the Civil Service Commission, since his failure to get his permanent appointment, but because of Dr. Watkins' resignation and Mr. Graul's illness no hearing has been held.

Issue is Greater
The issue involved in the case is of much greater concern than the naming of any certain Commissioner. The position of the Park Commissioners is that as the appointing power rests in the hands of the Civil Service Commission to review the action of the Park Commissioners of their respective executive officer and, in effect, assume the functions of an appointing power.

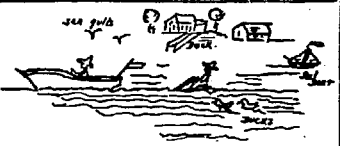

The contention of the Park authorities is that the function of the Civil Service Commission is solely to determine by examination the general fitness of an applicant or applicants for any designated position.

This Civil Service commission does and certifies to the Park those who have passed the examination, with due notation of their respective ratings in the examination.

In the case of Martin he passed high man and was at once named, subject to the six months' probationary test. His failure to obtain the permanent appointment was presumably for reasons satisfactory to the Park Commissioners.

Victory Garden Information

SUGGESTION FOR THE SPRING PLANTING OF VICTORY GARDENS

TRANSPLANTING AN IMPORTANT OPERATION
By Paul R. Kroner,
Chief, Victory Garden Section
Michigan Office of Civilian Defense

Great care must be exercised in the setting of vegetable plants such as tomatoes, peppers, and even storage in the garden. These plants are purchased from the greenhouse, the grower will probably have hardened them off by growing them in a cold frame, where they are exposed to the fresh breeze at least during the day, for a week or two. Before the plants are removed from the will, the soil should be well moistened so that some of it will adhere to the roots. Every precaution should be taken to know the plants when handling them and the roots should not be permitted to dry out nor should they be exposed to the sun.

Although they coat a little more, plants grown in pots or in veneer or paper bands usually suffer less in transplanting than do those that are set in the ground. If possible it is better to set the plants out on a cloudy day, and to avoid the hot sun. It is good practice also to shade the plants with a berry box, or shingle propped up on the south side of the plant to protect it from the sun.

Cut worms usually get more than their share of the plants you set out unless you take some precaution against them. Cutworms make their entry by tunneling 1 ounce of white arsenic or paris green with 2 pounds of dandelions that were cut from your lawn early in the morning, chopped up fine and allowed to wilt during the day. The poisoned dandelions should then be distributed in the garden where you plan to set your plants the evening before they are to be set. In addition to this precaution, you might fasten a paper collar about 3 inches high around the neck of the plant. File soil around it at the bottom and fasten the top with a pin. This will keep them off the stems of the plant.

When setting them, open a shallow trench large to take it easily. Be sure that the soil in the hole is moist, then fill in carefully around the roots. Usually the plants are set just a little deeper than they were in the flat. If, however, your tomato plants have gotten too tall, it might be desirable to set them deeper, or even to lay them on their sides in a slanting trench. When this is done you must be careful in hoeing not to cut them off.

Starter solutions are frequently recommended to give newly transplanted seedlings a start. Many formulas are recommended by different growers, but since the 3-8-7 Victory Garden Special is the only complete fertilizer available for Victory Gardens, organized, attempts to review the case, with the possible result of deciding that Martin is entitled to the permanent appointment the issue will be squarely before us as to who holds the ultimate power in making appointments in the fire department, an issue which may yet have to be determined in a court of law of competent jurisdiction.

Meanwhile there is no question of the propriety of Martin raising the question of the handling of the case. Thus far he has to have the Civil Service Commission review it, but may eventually decide to air his troubles before the Board of Park Commissioners, who unquestionably possess the appointing power over all Village officers.

Solons Shy at State Law

The municipal ordinance should be published in a newspaper, if such was published within the limits of the municipality, and if no paper was published, legal publicity might be attained by the display of the ordinance in conspicuous places at three separate places in the municipality.

Then, discovering the look of anguish that overcast so many of the faces about him, hastened to add as an ameliorating suggestion and the Supervisor of Michigan had ruled that failure to advise an ordinance could not be construed as a justification for its violation.

Fails to Explain
What Mr. Maurer did not explain was the fact that this ruling, which has been duplicated in probably every State in the Union, applied probably without exception to instances where bonds of a municipality, whose enabling ordinance had not been advertised, or had been improperly advertised, had passed into the hands of innocent holders. In such cases the bonds are not invalidated.

At this painful past great consolation was gleaned from the suggestion by one of the councilmen that the "news value" of these ordinances was so great that the papers would not doubt be only too glad to give them wide publicity anyway, and that "after all this form of publicity was the best."

President Watkins remarked that the traffic ordinance was of much more importance than the Victory Garden ordinance anyway. Other suggestions were dropped, wide and fast, but all leading away from the advertising matter. One was that the ordinance, or at least a summary of them, might be printed and inserted in the water bills, "which would surely be read by everybody."

This thought was doubtless a reasonable one, but the assumption that everyone in the Farms drinks water, and water not being free, would have to pay for it, and, would of course get a bill for it, and, by this obvious process would see the ordinance, and, the real objective be all right on the nose.

Occurred by Necessity
It apparently occurred to none present that the cost of printing the ordinances and mailing them out with the water bills would doubtless be greater than the advertising cost.

At this point Clerk Harry Furton gave the kibosh to this flash of genius by telling the councilmen that a water bill was a bill and nothing but, and that the inclusion of extraneous matter in the same cover would cause both to lose their significance.

At any rate, the Farms council decided to do nothing about advertising the ordinances, further than to instruct the Clerk to obtain for them the widest publicity possible. Which was greatly done. Of course the NEWS doesn't care a thing about the advertising. It means no more to a newspaper than the merchandise on its shelf means to a merchant. Both are always absolutely free to all comers, just like the water that the Farms village delivers to its tarpopping citizens.

Now there is no feeling in this matter, not a bit. We are only mourning over the light-hearted way the Farmers lodge the laws of the State and fail to advertise its formal regulation in the one newspaper that is actually published within its own limits.

At any rate the Farms has two brand new ordinances and any lingering hunger for food on what they are all about by calling on Clerk Harry A. Furton at the municipal office at 90 Kerby, where they are assured of a painstaking and courteous explanation.

News From Pointe's Elementary Schools

TROUBLE SCHOOL
In the recent War Loan Drive the Trembly Home Soldiers have conclusively demonstrated that they are worthy to fly the Minute Man Flag below the Stars and Stripes on the school flag-mast.

The maturity value of the bonds sold during the drive totaled $15,510. In addition to this "all-out" participation during the drive, Trembly pupils have consistently topped the 80% participation during the entire school year. The net amount invested by our students during the current school year up to the first week in May adds up to $27,960.50 an average of $500 per pupil.

MAISON SCHOOL
The children at Maison School have many opportunities for bird study. The school, with its evergreen and maple trees, fresh-bird, barberry, mock-orange and spruce branches, and a wide stretch of green lawn, has one of the most beautiful settings in the district.

READY FOR PICNICKERS
Approximately 1,000 roadside picnic tables are being set up along state trunklines this week. State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announced today.

This represents a 65 per cent decrease in the number of tables used last summer but travel, likewise, in recreation areas has dropped sharply.

Watch The Fords Go By!

FLEETS of mighty bombers are coming from Willow Run! Fleets of giant four-engined Fords with wings and heavily armored bodies able to carry tons of bombs to the Axis!

These Ford-built Consolidated Liberator bombers are not only in production... they're in volume production! And they're leaving Willow Run in a steady stream for service throughout the world.

Never before Willow Run has anything so big and complex as this Liberator bomber been built on an interchangeable mass-production basis. Some said it couldn't be done... that frequent design changes would make mass production impossible. But army men knew that failure to produce aircraft in mass would prove disastrous. They knew that Victory demanded what seemed impossible—and they relied on Ford to do it.

The army was right. What many thought impossible has been done at Willow Run! Never before Willow Run has anything so big and complex as this Liberator bomber been built on an interchangeable mass-production basis. Some said it couldn't be done... that frequent design changes would make mass production impossible. But army men knew that failure to produce aircraft in mass would prove disastrous. They knew that Victory demanded what seemed impossible—and they relied on Ford to do it.

There were difficulties such as manpower shortages, the training of inexperienced workers and the curtailment of transportation. But today Willow Run is doing what Ford promised! The plant is producing bombers in volume... and on schedule!

Plausibly Peasant

BRENDA MARSHALL featured by Walter Bros. in "Background to Dinner", wears a two piece peasant costume of a slightly dressy variety. The long sleeved blouse of white eyelet plume is accented with a ruffling of white edged in bright red. The high waisted skirt of black rayon, which is woven to resemble linen, shows a trim of the blouse fabric. She wears heavy gold ornate earrings.

Park War Clubs Further Plans

The Grosse Pointe War clubs organization in the Park is still further perfecting its setup for effective work. At a meeting held in the Pierce School library Tuesday afternoon, following a general discussion, it was decided to divide the Park area into three different sections.

One section will embrace all that part of the Park south of Jefferson avenue; another will include that portion between the Detroit city line and Devonshire out to Black and the third section, that between Bedford and Cadieux and Mack.

The first section will be under the charge of Mrs. Frank Ferley, the second under Mrs. Finster of the Public Library and the third section under Mrs. S. S. Drury.

At present there are about 72 block leaders in the Park and it is the purpose to continue recruitment of this list until every home in the Park is included in some block leader's jurisdiction.

Mrs. George Pillsbury is the energetic head of the block leader's organization for the whole Park area.

Wishful Thinking

I wish I knew as much about serving good food as rationing time, as does MRS. CHARLES CREEDON...

or I wish I had a dime for each of all the grand things I've heard about MRS. HARLEY EARL'S work at the Blood Bank...

or I wish I had a 'pint sized' car like MRS. LAWRENCE D. BUIHL'S...

or I wish I had the "Vera Vague" humor of MRS. ROBERT MARTIN...

or I wish I were as popular as young MARY TIEDDEMANN...

DEATH DOES NOT WAIT—

Your blood donation is badly needed NOW!

RED CROSS BLOOD DONOR SERVICE . . . 450 W. FORT ST.

You are asked to give one pint of your blood for a dying fighter.

The need is desperate. Each blood transfusion may save a life. The Greater Detroit Area's quota set by the Surgeons General of the Army and Navy is five thousand pints of blood per week.

Death does not wait. When fighting men are shot down—or if women and children are blasted by air raids—it is then too late for you to save them. NOW is the time to make your blood donation.

Please do not delay. Pick up your telephone. Call the Red Cross Blood Donor Service at CHerry 1200 and you will be given an appointment that suits your convenience—day or evening. PLEASE TELEPHONE NOW. CHerry 1200.

DEATH DOES NOT WAIT. By acting now you can save the life of a dying soldier, sailor or marine.

Four million pints of blood MUST BE HAD to save the lives of dying men. But ONE PINT is all you are now asked to give. You'll be proud to have done it! It means life or death to some boy in uniform. Results are instantaneous. Men are literally brought back from the edge of the grave. All this—for one pint of blood, painlessly given.

Won't you act promptly? Won't you act NOW? Everything is all arranged. If you are in good health and between 21 and 60 years old, just call the RED CROSS BLOOD DONOR SERVICE at CHerry 1200 and tell us when you can come—daytime or evening. Your appointment will be made to suit your convenience.

HOW TO BECOME A BLOOD DONOR

Here are the Red Cross official answers to questions frequently asked

1. Who can be a blood donor?

Any healthy man or woman, 21 through 59 years old. Anyone who has had tuberculosis, gastric ulcers, a chronic debilitating illness, pregnancy within nine months, malaria in the last 18 years, or jaundice within the past six months, or who has diabetes, may not donate.

2. Must you see your doctor in advance?

No. The donor is given a simple examination including pulse, temperature and blood pressure at the Station. The physician on duty then determines whether blood may be given safely.

3. What about eating before a donation?

It is recommended that you eat your usual meal four hours before coming to the Station; during the four-hour period you may have fruit or vegetable juice, fruit, dry toast, plain crackers, black coffee, tea or clear soft drinks, but NO butter, bacon, cream, milk or fried foods. This is to insure clear blood plasma.

4. How much blood is taken?

One pint. Something you won't miss—some boys may die without.

5. Does it hurt?

No. A drop of local anesthetic in the arm makes it absolutely painless.

6. How long does it take?

Five to seven minutes for the donation. Altogether, perhaps 25-45 minutes including registration, examination, rest period and a friendly cup of coffee and doughnuts afterward.

7. When can you resume normal activities?

Immediately. A donor in good health suffers no ill effects. There is no lowering of resistance to infection or other unfavorable reactions.

8. What is done with the blood?

It is processed into dry "plasma" for transfusions; then rushed by warship or plane to points of danger. (Or your blood may find the vital ROAD to service to be used in case of local disaster.) Transfusions today may be given to wounded on the very battlefield itself for burns . . . hemorrhage . . . infection. In any other war, thousands of those wounded would have died from loss of blood or "septicemic shock." Now, with precious blood plasma, they can be saved.

9. How often can blood be donated?

At eight-week intervals between first, second and third donations and 12-week periods between donations thereafter.

10. How can you make an appointment?

Call Red Cross Blood Donor Service, CHerry 1200, or send in pledge blank below. Select any time from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m., Monday through Friday, and 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Saturday.

11. How do you reach the Red Cross Blood Donor Station at 450 W. Fort Street?

Go to downtown Detroit . . . the Blood Bank Station is only 6 blocks west of Woodward on Fort Street, between Cass and First . . . Look for the big painted Blood Donor Station sign on the side of the building — on 450 West Fort Street . . . you can't miss it!

HOW TO FIGHT SMALL FIRES

When a liquid burns in a container, aim at the wall of the container, not at the fire. Stand about four feet away from you, not toward you.

Always aim at the wall of the container, not at the fire. Stand about four feet away from you, not toward you.

Fire Chief Edward L. Reitor of Grosse Pointe Park today urged new workers to learn how to fight small fires that may occur on the job.

"It is a good rule, whenever fire is discovered, to call the fire department and then fight the fire," the chief stated. "Your shop rules should be followed in this regard, however, and you will be guided by the instructions of your foreman or supervising official at all times and in the alarm first."

"There is a right and wrong way to fight a small fire," he said. "You can fight fire safely and effectively, if you follow a few simple rules. In most places of employment, the types of extinguishers available are those which are best suited to the kind of fire which may occur at or near a point of hazard."

"For instance," the chief explained, "most electric motors or other electric apparatus, you are likely to find either vaporizing liquid or carbon dioxide extinguishers. If you are in a department where flammable liquids are used, there will be either foam, vaporizing liquid or carbon dioxide extinguishers available. Soda acid gas, cartridge or pump type extinguishers will probably be found where you have only ordinary combustibles (wood, cloth, paper, and the like), although any type of extinguisher can be used with safety on fires of this nature."

"First of all, play safe," the chief continued. "Always keep a way of escape open. Place yourself between the fire and an exit. Stand as far from the fire as possible. Use your extinguishing agent permit."

"If the smoke blows in your face, move to it to avoid it. Fire gases are poisonous.

"Don't direct the extinguisher at the smoke and flames. Aim at what is burning. However, if the fire is in a container of flammable liquid, the stream should be directed against the inside of the container just above the level of the burning liquid, not right into it. If the fire is spreading up a wall, fight it from the bottom up. If it is spread over the ground, attack the fire nearest to you and sweep it out as you advance.

"Follow the simple rules I have given here and you should have no difficulty in controlling fires when they start. The training in fire safety that you receive where you work can be applied to your homes. If you have occasion to put out a small fire, make sure it is completely out, and then ventilate the room so the smoke and gases will escape as quickly as possible. That's the procedure the firemen follow."

Points Girls Write Articles For Margyrove's Yearbook

Articles written by three girls from the Pointe have been published in "Quest of the Centuries: Peace," Margyrove College yearbook recently published. They are the Misses Jean Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Campbell, 1185 Belders road; Mary Bell Corcoran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan S. Corcoran, 1261 Ballou road; and Dorothy Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Page, 885 Burroughs.

The title of Miss Campbell's paper is "Founders of International Law," that of Miss Corcoran's is "An Inter-American Court" and that of Miss Page's is "Essentials for Any Peace Plan." The yearbook contains an analysis of outstanding peace plans from the time of pre-Christian arbitration to the present day.

Bethany Will Celebrate New Church Anniversary

Elaborate plans are being made for the celebration on June 6 of the first anniversary of the dedication of the Bethany Lutheran church congregational new church, school and parsonage.

A festival service in the morning, followed by a church dinner and an interesting afternoon program, are being planned by the Rev. Oswald Ries, pastor of the church, and announced. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The church is located at Outer Drive East and Chatsworth Avenue.

Animals, Tame and Wild, Keep City Police Busy

Rescuing animals, tame and wild, is one of the major activities of the city police these days. Mr. Preble, of St. Paul and Rivard reported that a luxuriant tree in front of his place was making the walking ring with his cries for relief. Down went the police, in the persons of Officers Reno and Flannigan, and down came Sir Thomas.

A trifle later Mrs. McMillan of Woodlawn place telephoned, reporting a wounded squirrel on her lawn. Officer Collins, seeing no other way out for the little rodent, put him out of his earthly troubles.

Salon Plans Laid By Camera Club

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club will have a meeting on Tuesday night, June 1, in the Grosse Pointe High School for the purpose of judging the pictures to be selected for hanging in the Annual Salon.

Three well-known judges will present at the Twenty-ninth meeting and all persons interested are invited to be present.

The Annual Salon will be held for a week beginning two weeks later, June 15. This regular display will also be held in the High School.

The annual exhibit of the work of the local photo enthusiasts has become an occasion of great interest in the Pointe area. H. V. Hewitt, jr. is the president of the club.

Grease Drive Starts June 14

Beginning June 14, Grease Day will officially open a week's industry-wide grease collection drive under the direction of the Detroit Girl Scouts, according to Mrs. Margale E. Shattuck, chairman of the Wayne County Grease Committee, in line with the intensified local campaign to step up fat collection.

The drive will be centered in the public and parochial schools where large drums have been installed by the scouts for waste fats collection. All school children will be asked to urge their parents to clean their stoves throughout the week of June 14th through to June 18th. In many schools, contests between the rooms will be conducted under the direction of the Scouts, to see which room collects the most fat. In-school contests will also be held.

The drive is part of the school fats program which has been instituted by the Scouts in schools throughout Detroit. Schools have already contributed a large amount of waste to the program, with collections steadily on the increase. Small cans and cartons of grease are placed in the large drums without. (GLASS CONTAINERS ARE NOT USED for salvageable fats.) The drums, which are leak-proof and equipped with lids to insure sanitation are collected by the drivers in special trucks designed solely for school fats collection.

The co-operation of educators with the Girl Scouts is another indication of the confidence shown this organization for its effective work in waste fat collection.

In April, in spite of a statewide drop of 20 per cent to 25 per cent in fat collections, Girl Scout continued to bring in more than 14,000 pounds or 71 tons of fats... a drop of only 1 ton from the previous month. The activity of the Scouts has proven so successful it is being copied in other metropolitan cities. Profits from collections will help provide Girl Scouting for those now on the waiting list and better scouting for those in the organization, according to Mrs. Shattuck.

NOTICE OF ZONING ORDINANCE HEARING

TO THE RESIDENTS AND PROPERTY OWNERS OF GROSSE POINTE PARK:
The Automobile Club of Michigan and Helen Fry and Lillian Rabaut have filed a petition requesting that the zoning ordinance as it affects the northwest corner of Jefferson and Somerset be changed so as to permit a Grosse Pointe Branch Office of the Automobile Club of Michigan to be erected on that corner.

The Village Commission will hold a public hearing on the question on Monday, June 14, 1943 at 8:00 p. m. in the Municipal Building, 15115 E. Jefferson Avenue, following which the Village Commission will consider whether to amend the zoning ordinance so as to place the property involved in a business district.

The property involved has a frontage of 118.3 feet on the north side of Jefferson and 103.79 feet on the west side of Somerset. A sketch of the proposed structure has been filed with the Village Clerk and may be inspected.
William G. Stammann
Village Clerk.
