Politics and War Work

The people of this country are willing to follow President Roosevelt's leadership in every necessary step for the winning of this war.

They have shown this by the sending of their sons by the millions into the fighting forces, in their obedient acceptance of the heaviest taxation they have ever known, in the curtailment of their food supplies and in the self imposed denial of a thousand and one other things which range from easily dispensed luxuries to downright necessities.

They will not stand back for one hour or for one mile where it aims only at his reelection to a fourth term in the Presidency.

There is no question, large or small, hotly debated or casually mentioned, that holds the attention of this country during a war. His record has been peculiarly disqualifying for leadership in meeting the issues which have arisen to plague our war effort.

Aside from the numerous army of office holders who will profit from the continuance of his administration nobody cares a tinker's damn.

In many respects Mr. Roosevelt is the most unfortunately situated of any leader who has been President of this country during a war. His record has been peculiarly disqualifying for leadership in meeting the issues which have arisen to plague our war effort.

Since he first came to power he has preached a doctrine of social cleavage and class consciousness. His "Princess of Privilege" and "Economic Royalists" speeches on the one hand and his "Forgotten Man" talks on the other, and all the rest of the political blarney for which he has become so famous in the earlier years of his administration, all pointed inevitably to the same unfortunate end.

And now it appears that the same group, the organized labor element whom he consistently favored at the expense of the millions of unorganized unemployed who were denied the right of individual quest for work, when the supreme need of the country was the employment of all the idle as quickly as possible, have refused to return the favor.

The payroll has been cut from hundreds of thousands of these union labor workmen has been their refusal to continue uninterrupted work in vital war industries, even while agencies have been set up meanwhile by government to adjust their grievances. They have apparently chosen to follow a union leader rather than a President of the United States pleading with them to stay at their work.

A half million coal miners prefer John Lewis as their supreme leader. They lay down their tools when he tells them to. When the incident asks them to remain on the job he gets a Bronx cheer.

Last Friday the country breathed easier for a few hours and the unformed part of Washington, which counts about 100,000 people of its estimated 800,000 population, had a few minutes' delicious joy over the news that the coal strike had been settled. When the facts came out in a few hours we learned again that it was only another two weeks' armistice. The coal strike was right back where it had been for the last three months.

The belief is growing daily that President Roosevelt intends to be a candidate for a fourth term in the White House and in this belief the people are becoming ever more impatient with his Presidential maneuverings to that end which cut across the path of national welfare.

There is no disposition among the people to pass untried criticism or add to the burdens the President must carry. They wish, more than they have ever wished anything before, that he will be a wise and successful leader to pilot us through this perilous ordeal.

They will not tolerate any jugglery with the Nation's safety to advance his political career. The emphatic support given to the Connolly No strike law by both Houses of Congress is evidence that the members of the National Legislature are equally concerned with the trend of the public mind. These men are expert readers of the public will and seldom make a mistake in its interpretation.

There is growing exasperation among the people with the temporizing tactics Mr. Roosevelt exhibits in his dealings with the numerous unpatriotic elements among the war industry workers.

They are exasperated to the boiling point at the defiance of the President, the constitutional leader of all of us, by a politico-labor leader.

This in no sense implies their opposition to the labor union movement as a great and useful force in the better adjustment of our growingly complex collective industrial life, but they are well aware that the unpatriotic attitude of some of its leaders and the inability of others to compel adherence to the pledges so valiantly given in the first months of the war of "no strikes" and uninterrupted application to war production, will lead inevitably to the disruption of the unions. No honest citizen can wish such an outcome.

Flag Day 1943

Never before has the flag of a single nation been the symbol of hope for so many as on the occasion of the Flag Day which will celebrate the adoption of the American flag next Monday.

Millions of men in arms throughout the world in the uniform of the Great Republic which it represents will stand at salute; other millions of school children will again pledge allegiance to the Flag and the Republic for which it stands.

In Holland, Belgium, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Poland and in France thousands of plain people will recall the words saved pieces of bunting in cellar and attic and again take courage in the midst of their slavery in anticipation of the day when they can again fling it to the breeze in welcome to their deliverers.

In the intervening year since we first began to recover from the reeling blow struck at Pearl Harbor, the great giant of the Western world which holds apart the two oceans with iron hands has made a tremendous marshalling of his strength.

The flag today is the great visible assurance to the enslaved peoples of the world who have temporarily come under the heel of the disciples of Blood and Iron in Germany and the treacherous, venomous dwarfs of Japan, that self government is to return again to them and that human dignity will be restored.

The tide has turned and these unhappy peoples from their delusions and ignorance know it. The Nation that has never lost a war is on its greatest march.

To the Editor

The Grosse Pointe News
June 9, 1943
Dear Sir:
Having decided, with regret, not to stand for reelection to the Great Pointe Board of Education, I feel that it would not be fitting or proper for me to simply drop out without any word to the taxpayers and parents who have honored me with their confidence.
The reason for this decision is the greatly increased demands made on me by my present and the fear that I should soon be neglecting my duties to the Board.

I am well aware of the growing problems of taxation and the complexities of administration and personnel due to the war and the Board needs the experience and the knowledge which comes only with years of attendance at Board meetings. However, my prime duty is to my profession.

I will still be interested in the progress of the Board and will keep in touch with them and hope that the opportunity will some day present itself that I may serve the Board and community in the same capacity.
Very truly yours,
Clifford B. Loranger, M. D.

To the Editor:
I wonder how many of the Grosse Pointe residents who read the Farm's budget in your last issue for May, realized that the adoption of the Wayne County method of assessment, finally going to raise their tax bills.

Back in 1941, I made an investigation which definitely showed that when the Wayne County method was used, property assessed under $25,000 would have its assessed valuation increased by an amount of approximately four times as much as those pieces of property assessed $25,000 or over.

In 1942, when the Wayne County method was put into force in the Farm, the assessed valuation of an average of approximately 40% above the preceding year.

If an individual's assessment was increased above this average, it was caused either by his assessment having been too low (one of the inequalities of the old system) or else by the shifting of the tax load from one group to the other.

The Wayne County method is a good practical method except for the fact that it shifts a large part of the tax burden from the $25,000 and over assessments to those under $25,000.

It doesn't put 38% in the yard stick when measuring the latter. No doubt there is justice in the fact that high priced pieces of property have limited sales and are sometimes sold at low prices, but on the other hand, large sums were paid for them, the yield for that much, when taking into consideration that the prestige of such ownership costs a lot.

Otherwise, if one builds a large enough white elephant, it should be taxed but a very little, because you couldn't find a buyer.

In the March, 1942 election, the people elected Mr. Beaupre instead of Mr. Lorenfeldt, after the Beaupre vote in the Wayne County method into effect the year before.

This letter is not being written to find fault with our tax method, for the majority of the people elected the man who fronted for it, nor is it to find fault with the administration, for it is a capable straight conscientious group doing an excellent job, nor is it to find fault with the size of our tax bill, for we are getting a real bargain for our tax dollar.

It is being written for one purpose only, and that is to bring out the fact, in my opinion, that there has been a definite shifting of the tax load, and it has been put through peacefully with the usual political methods of covering it up.

If the properties assessed at $25,000 and over have been carrying more than their share, why not be honest with the public and sell them on the idea of carrying more of the load?

Regardless of how you figure it out, last year's taxes figured on the Wayne County method were $50,000 higher than the $36,000 from the delinquent tax collector in 1942. These very figures used at an opportune time to keep down most tax bills, thus giving the false impression the Wayne County method had not affected most tax bills.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. FRYOR
"There is no fringe like a book
To take us loads away,
For any covers like a page
Of prose may the poorest take
Without appeal of toll;
How frugal is the cleric,
That bears a human soul!"
(Emily Dickinson).

Of all the 'alphabetical' government departments, none works as efficiently as the FBI. Without fanfare, they get their stealthy way to make the world safe for democracy.

Another of the hundreds of incidents we've heard about happened in the Pointe recently—showing that the FBI never relaxes.

A local woman sent a wire to a friend in the East, saying, (in effect), that "George So-and-so is sailing on Friday" will be in the East for farewell party and will stop over to spend weekend with you." The W. U. operator said she was sorry but she couldn't send the message—they were not permitted to mention sailings, leaving, plantings or anything 'movable'. The woman called the wire and merely said she would be in the East visiting the So-and-so's and would spend the weekend with her. A few hours later, an FBI man called on the telegram-sender and asked her HOW she knew that Mr. So-and-so was sailing on Friday. At the same time, an FBI man was sent to quiz the So-and-so's and also the woman to whom the telegram was sent! It all turned out very well and everybody is 'living happily after'—because no harm was intended and the culprits were innocent—but it just goes to show that the little detecting tribe is on its gum-shoed toes.

One of the Mouths of Babes says: "A friend of mine who has a one year old daughter, was looking (with her daughter) in a radio program sponsored by a hair-dye company. After the commercial, the presenter said to her mother, (who is merely said she was one or two gray hairs near her temples), 'Mother, why don't you use that dye? If you did, nobody would know how old you were—unless they looked at your face.'"

The best "ad" of the week was in this week's LIFE. It pictured a group of boys stalking the enemy with guns thrust forward. The caption read: "THEY STALK THE ENEMY—YOUR SECOND FRONT!"

As we sit here in the coach of the office, wrapped in an old sweater, sipping a hot beverage and talking a stream of fire to time, we are catching the "ad" for an "ad" for the dollar. "Suddenly it's summer!" Obviously the writer of the ad wrote that bit of intelligence while sunbathing on the sands at Miami Beach. Either that—or he dwells in the dream world of those who are deluded through 'ad' work. The ad was for a company of buying glaghams, cotton or other washable fabric. RIGHT NOW!

They have something there—the thing to do is to buy their right now and wear them in a hurry before you have to call the storage company to take your fur out of moth balls again—something that will have to be done any minute.

From the Solomon Islands, Major Ernest Carter reports that the price of a fat wild cat is $100.00. (We think that's a good deal included). He says that first the soldier must get consent of the parents and the Village Chief, who exacts a promise that the soldier will not take her across the sea. (What—no fluffing before the wedding day?)

Recipe for sleeplessness that we found in one of the midweek magazines: "Take a fat wild cat, a mass of smaller pieces like poetry and listen to sweet music—play ballads or some muzzling gawwawa a lone nightbird or partridge—sing away on the clothes line as you go to bed. Drink warm milk and eat a few crackers—sing your ears—wear a sleep mask—before closing your eyes, breathe in the air of a warm blanket—wear a comfortable, soft, mild thought such as childhood happiness, colors, mild wardrobe and favorite foods."

(They wonder, what time do we have to get up in order to start this business going to bed? Great balls of fire! The junk that some people write.)

With the Boys in the Service

Here is the latest from ART HOGARTH, who is a private of the 648 T.S.S. Btg. 1944, Truxel Field, Madison, Wisconsin. He writes the space as follows:

"I have been getting your grand paper for the last six months. It is certainly a swell thing to read about Old Grosse Pointe and especially my buddies in the service."

"I am in an Army Radio School at Madison and it is really a wonderful outfit. We are learning a lot of things and one doesn't get much time to write. I have hopes of being a cadet in the fall. It remains to be seen if the physical examination, which I think I can do."

"I have been playing in the student band here. We play three or four dances a week and it is a grand time."

ROGER MACNAUGHTON of Fisher road, a member of the Navy ROTC and a student at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, is home for a three weeks' vacation with his parents. He has just completed a two weeks' training cruise around Lake Michigan on the U. S. S. Winnie, with some 200 other cadets. He returns to Ann Arbor July 1 to resume his studies as a Junior.

Cadet Sprague attended Grosse Pointe High School. Before entering the service he was employed by Motor Products Corporation of Detroit.

EVERETT FLUMER, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Flumer, of Anita avenue, is home for a nine-day furlough from Great Lakes Training School.

PHILIP J. PHILLIP, Jr. and GORDON P. PHILLIP, sons of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Phillip, of Anita avenue, formerly of Pemberton road, have been promoted to Lieutenants and are graded for one U. S. Coast Guard Reserve. Both are in Foreign Service.

Details of Oil Rationing For Next Year Explained

The following questions and answers pertaining to renewals of fuel oil rationing for next year were issued today by the Office of Price Administration:

Q. In what areas will fuel oil and kerosene be rationed next year?

A. In the same 33 states, including Michigan, and the District of Columbia where it was rationed last year.

A. Plans have been made to issue the new ration coupons during June to those who live at the same address as last year, so that they can begin filling up their tanks in July.

A. Dealers can give consumers better delivery service throughout the year if they can deliver in the summer. This will help them solve snowplow and truck shortages in filling the consumers' tanks early and so add capacity to the total storage capacity in the Michigan area which is supplied entirely by pipeline and boat since the war and not by tank cars.

Q. How will the renewal be made?

A. The entire process will be by mail.

Q. What happens first?

A. In a few days local War Price and Rationing Boards will begin mailing the simple renewal forms to every person who received a ration of fuel oil last year.

Q. When I get my form, what should I do with it?

A. Fill it out and mail it back to the Board.

Q. Just as soon as possible—within two or three days.

Q. Does it take much time to fill out the renewal form?

A. No. There are only a few simple questions. They ask: 1. The applicant's name and address.

2. Address where ration will be used (if different than the applicant's).

3. Name of last year's applicant (if different than the present applicant).

4. Name of applicant's employer (if an individual user).

5. Is any signature required? A. Yes, the applicant's. 6. Will I be required to report any unused portion of my last year's ration, or turn in any unused coupons? A. No. But you will be given opportunity in the application to state that you need less oil next year, and that you will, therefore, accept a specific number of gallons less than last year's basic ration.

Q. What will the Board do when it receives my application? A. Check it against the application filed last year for your dwelling, then issue you a new supply for the extra amount basic ration for the amount you rationed last year.

Q. If you live in a new house, the Board may make upward adjustment to make your cuts in last year's ration some of these dwellings.

Q. Will Boards in any area reduce the new ration below year's ration? A. Not unless as an error you state that you are a correct user. Also, the Board correct any error in that ration which gave you more than you were entitled to.

Q. We have a baby, but this child's allowance was in addition to the basic ration. A. Yes. But if there is a child under four years of age in the family, the new ration will not include a child's allowance next year.

Q. Do I also apply for extra ration because of age or old age? A. Yes. Anyone who has a change of circumstances, including a child under four years of age, should write the Office for the extra amount apply now for your basic ration for the amount you rationed last year.

Q. Any exceptions? A. If you live in a new house, the Board may make upward adjustment to make your cuts in last year's ration some of these dwellings.

man asked: "Do I understand that if the drainage from Gratiot township was diverted into the Girard drain or by other adequate means the Woods could, with its own pumping station, already in being and about to be installed, take care of its own sewer and drainage problems?"

President Chesquiere said, "I believe so."

The meeting then proceeded for an hour or more with a general informal discussion of the drainage problem in all of its physical aspects participated in by the Detroit officials, Village Engineer Coe, consulting engineer Fats of the firm of Fats and Hirm, retained some weeks ago by the Village, by Supervisor Rousier of Gratiot and the Village councilmen, all of whom had intimate first hand knowledge of the situation.

At the conclusion of the meeting the general consensus was that the Girard drain on the north side of the area and the Beaufit drain on the south side down Cook road, were suitably prepared to take care of the excess drainage, with the possibility of certain areas to tap the low sewer and drainage problem.

It would be settled in so far as it lay within the province of the City of Detroit to Commissioner's office to deal with it.

Plan is Requested

Mr. Dingman requested that the engineers of the Woods, the Shores and Gratiot township get together and work out an engineering arrangement to complete this general plan.

He said that it was plainly apparent that a "problem" existed in the area which must be solved and gave his promise to take care of the matter without delay so far as his office was concerned.

President Chesquiere emphasized that quick action was the essence in the solution of their problem and again Mr. Dingman gave his assurance that there would be no delay on his part. On the suggestion that the matter be discussed further within a week or ten days, Mr. Dingman said, "ok, within ten days."

As explained by Attorney Berns after the meeting the procedure that will be followed will probably be:

Would Go to Court

After the engineers have figured out the exact area that will have to be drained and the cost of doing the same under the general plan adopted, the County Drain Commissioner would go into court and request the creation of a new drainage district to include all this affected area, to whatever municipalities it might extend.

The total cost would then be apportioned under a plan which would make a special assessment against the private property within the exact drainage area on the basis of assessments for benefits and against the municipalities as a whole for general benefits and against the Wayne County and commission for their share of the costs represented in the drainage of the roads, the responsibility for which lodged with the County road commission.

Must Provide Outlets

The responsibility of the County Drain Commissioner is to see to it that adequate trunk outlets are provided for the surface drainage from the area. The cost of directing the drainage into this main trunk or trunks will still rest upon the local municipalities and their individual citizens.

A considerable expense faces the citizens of the Woods, but by no means as great as it would be if they had to meet the total expense of caring for the great flood of surface water which pours down on them from their neighbors to the north with every rainfall.

PEEPING TOM

A Peeping Tom was reported taking sneak peeks at a party of young people at 435 Moran road Monday night. The youngsters reported they saw a youth looking in the window and chased him through the garden. When the police arrived they found a stone underneath the window on which he had apparently elevated himself for a better view.

Pointe Camera Club to Hold Fourth Annual Salon Tuesday

Fifty Outstanding Photographs Taken by Members and Selected by Nationally Known Judges Will Be Hung in Neighborhood Club

The fourth annual salon of the Grosse Pointe Camera Club will be held next Tuesday evening at the Neighborhood Club.

Fifty of the most outstanding photographs submitted by the members during the year have been chosen by three nationally known photographic salon judges for hanging.

Mr. F. L. Hewitt, Jr., the club's president, stated that special entertainment had been arranged for Tuesday night for the members and their friends and that the salon would be thrown open to the public after Tuesday night's meeting and would remain so for the balance of the week.

The annual salon marks the first of the club's activities since the executive committee will announce the program for the balance of the year.

High School's Service Flag Will Carry Six Gold Stars

When the service flag of Grosse Pointe High School is completed it will represent more than 500 former students now in the armed forces, the number of whom is increased daily. At the top of this flag will be six gold stars in memory of those students who have made the supreme sacrifice.

The first to be lost was Ben Marsh whose parents live at 523 Rivard. Ben graduated from the high school in June, 1934, and attended the University of Michigan, later entering Annapolis. Upon his graduation he became an Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve. Five weeks before December 7, 1941, he was transferred from the aircraft tender "Angier" to the battleship "Arizona", and perished in the great naval disaster of Pearl Harbor.

Next to be lost was a student who formerly lived at 1138 Lakepointe, also died for the cause of democracy while serving in the Navy.

Victor Heimbuch, June 1936, a corporal in the United States Army, was killed in action on January 5 of this year on the Guadalcanal campaign.

Joe O'Brien, who was graduated in 1933, joined the Army Air Corps.

He died when a pursuit plane which he was flying in Florida, crashed last year.

Nelson Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carr of 263 Kenwood Court, was a member of the 7th and 8th Torpedo Squadron Eight, which was the first unit to strike in the epic battle of Midway. He attended Grosse Pointe High two years, from 1932 to 1934. With seventeen other American boys, he gave the German Avenger torpedo plane its trial of fire. Of the six planes, only one returned from the suicide mission.

Students Put Pension Plan In War Bonds

$264,883.90

$37,628.90 is Collected in Weekly Home Room Sales Since Pearl Harbor

Since December 7, 1941, the students of Grosse Pointe High School have purchased $264,883.90 worth of War Bonds and Stamps.

Of this total $39,218 was collected in the weekly home room sales; $26,628.80 of it was taken in during the current school year.

The weekly sale comes during the home room period on Tuesdays. Each student wishing to purchase stamps states how many and of what denomination he wants and pays the correct amount.

The teachers distribute the stamps to the home rooms they are in charge of. In these weekly sales emphasis has been placed on participation rather than on sales.

The Second War Bond Drive raised $225.50, a total of $150,500 more than the set quota of $75,000. Sixty-five students sold more than $1,000 in bonds.

The money $335 was gained through activities such as the SA dances at which War Stamps were the admission tickets.

The War Stamp and Bond sales showed a decided rise this past year.

Do you remember when light bulbs looked like this?

The young lady in the costume of thirty-three years ago is holding a 100-watt light bulb, vintage of 1910. In those days it was considered a wonder and people were glad to pay $1.45 for it. Yet it gave only half as much light as your 100-watt lamp of 1943.

Yes—you get twice as much light today for the electricity you use. But that's not all. Electricity costs you only about half as much as it did the lady in the picture above.

HOW TO GET THE MOST LIGHT FOR YOUR MONEY

Here are three helpful suggestions that will help your eyes to get all the light they need—without wasting electricity:

1. Avoid glare. Glare from bare bulbs or wrongly placed lamps makes it hard to see with comfort, no matter how much light you have.

2. Avoid shadows. When you read or work in your own shadow you are using only a part of the light that is available. It is just as easy to use it all.

3. Dirt and dust collecting on light bulbs and reflectors can cut your light in half. Clean them regularly.

KEEPER OF THE BEES AWAITS PHONE ORDERS

Have you any old bees flying around? You, too, can rid yourself of them by telephoning Jerry Keyser at Niagara 4943. Mr. Keyser, who lives on 2208 Ridgmont road, likes bees and will no doubt come and pick yours up as soon as you telephone.

This is not a deal in which you will get stung—that is, not unless you try to deliver the bees, bee by bee. But the "keeper" will be glad to have a word about him, because he's been doing this sort of thing for years and rather enjoys it.

Janet Devine Will Be Bride

Miss Janet Devine of 1340 Kensington, who is in charge of the G. I. Club at the office of Draft Board 57 in the Park Municipal building, will be married on June 26 in St. Charles church to Thomas F. Brady of Detroit.

Her associates in the office, Miss Barbara K. Sweet, Miss Francis Starik and Miss Victoria K. Caruthers, gave a bachelor maid's dinner for her on Wednesday evening in the Cliff Bell cafe on Park avenue in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Waggoner and their son "Wag" of New Haven, Conn., will arrive the middle of this month to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Parcells of Rivard boulevard.

They arrived in St. Louis on June 3, where they are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley D. Waggoner.

Mrs. Parcells returned last week from a visit in Shaker Heights, O., with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Arms.

Mrs. John Roney of Hawthorne road entertained at a luncheon last Tuesday for her bridge club.

Among those who attended were: Mrs. George Romney, Mrs. John Benfield, Mrs. Richard T. Purdy, Mrs. Thornton Waterfall, Mrs. George Martin and Mrs. Ralph Nettig.

PETTY OFFICER 2/c EDWARD J. SCHANBECK, son of Sr. and Mrs. Fred Schanbeck, 888 St. Clair, is home on a nine-day furlough after having spent the last 15 months at sea. Edward was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in the class of 1934, following which he worked for the Manufacturers' National Bank. He enlisted 17 months ago, spent two months in training at Newport, R. I., then was sent to sea.

Since he was last in the Pointe, Edward has been through the Panama Canal twice, has served in the South Atlantic, European and African zones. He has seen submarines blown out of the water within 300 yards of his ship and is wearing two campaign bars. He has crossed the equator seven times.

"It's a swell life," says Petty Officer Schanbeck.

Top Flight Show At Club Royale

For some real top-drawer entertainment, head out in the direction of Club Royale for that is where you will find it—lots of it. Every single act has something different to offer, and the show as a whole makes for an assured pleasurable evening.

Cover and Reed, stars in the field of comedy and song, do a series of well known tunes from the "Student Prince," also do "Nola," adding their own words, and though it must have been a different arrangement in concert, they carried it through skillfully. Their version of "Johnny Dougherty" is a sure-fire laugh getter. But this versatile duo does something else again—they go into their "Salami" act, which is something to shout about. Reed makes himself and Cover wanderers around the audience calling on him to read the numbers on bills, to tell dates, and even to name patrons.

Burton's Birds received much attention and much applause. They are Love Birds who have been taught to ride wagons, tricycles, juggle, play a music box, blow out fire with their wings and do somersaults. While they are being put through their rather hectic paces, Burton manages to keep up a clever and amusing bit of chatter. It's a good act and handled well all the way through.

Lovely and lively Lois Lee is a singer who can sing 'em sweet and sing 'em hot. She puts you in a sentimental mood with her low croon of the most popular dreamy songs and then startles you with a bang as she gets her to the more "fast" tunes.

Vivacious June Carmen, in white briefs, black hair flying, makes for quite a picture as she dances her way through a series of splendid routines. She does an aerobic number on her toes, to the amazement and appreciation of the ringeriders. Besides her excellent display of dancing, she also adds some first-rate overs and spins.

Paul Blake does a masterful job of introducing the acts, and it's still George Kavanagh's smooth orchestra providing the music for the show and for dancing pleasure.

One Taste tells the whole story!

Pointe Teams Bask In Flood of Glory

Season Just Ended Sees Many Records Broken; Tennis, Baseball and Track Aggregations Complete Schedules

Grosse Pointe High School has, of late, been basking in a flood of recognition showered upon its athletes by the city of Detroit and the state of Michigan.

The state gave Grosse Pointe its first honor when Bob Bridge, quarter-mile star on the track team, broke the state record for this event at the state area meet held in Ypsilanti.

The baseball team gained fame through John Drew's pitching of a perfect game against Mt. Clemens, through Taylor Marlon's pitching of a one-hitter against Ferndale, and through the team's all-around proficiency in winning four of its last five games to give it a .500 average.

The tennis team put forth its bid for glory on the basis of its best performance, and a mighty good claim it has, too. There are ten victories on the record sheet and no defeats; those victories include two wins over the famed netters of Hamtramck.

Bridge Breaks Record

It was a few weeks back that Bob Bridge, one of Grosse Pointe's four representatives at the state area meet, ran the quarter-mile in 52.6. This best of seven-length of a second the record made by Monroe of Ferndale that had stood since 1920.

The three other Grosse Pointers who attended the meet were Tony Dana, Harold Savary, and Heron Grubbs. Dana participated in the hurdles, broad-jumping and pole-vaulting. Savary ran in the 100-yard dash, and the 220-yard dash. Grubbs ran in a quarter-mile, and three of them and Bridge ran in the 800-yard relay. And no Grosse Pointer finished second or better in any of the events.

Incidentally, in a track meet with River Rouge, Bob Bridge broke the school record for the quarter-mile. The previous school record was held by Ray Weaver, a marine, and was made in 1940. But Bridge beat it by a fair margin despite the fact that the track was muddy.

The baseball team lost its first three games to Hazel Park, Ferndale, and Fordham, but drew back and won its next four from Mt. Clemens, Hazel Park, and Ferndale, and ended the season with a loss against Fordham to turn in an even schedule.

John Drew's perfect game was pitched in the second game of a double-header against Mt. Clemens. The games were scheduled for five innings each and Grosse Pointe won the first one 5-3 behind the five hit pitching of Frank Houtzkeier. The second game, though, was 9-0 at the end of the fifth and so went into extra innings. The Pointers scored five runs in the half of the sixth and Mt. Clemens went down on strikes. Drew struck out fifteen of the eighteen batters who faced him.

The Ferndale game the following Friday was another Grosse Pointe victory, this time by a 2-0 score. Taylor Marlon was the Grosse Pointe hurler in this game and he allowed only one hit in the six innings he pitched. Drew finished the game for Grosse Pointe.

So these two G. P. hurlers, Drew and Marlon, set a new Grosse Pointe record by throwing one hit in two games. Drew's no-hitter was the first ever pitched by a Blue Devil.

The tennis team, in winning

Peregrinations of Baby End In Police Station

Mrs. White of 1304 Lakeshore placed the Park police in great perturbation last Friday morning that her daughter, Patricia Ann, aged 2, had disappeared from home. She was wearing red corduroy overalls and pushing a white doll carriage.

The police sent out the usual alarm but before returns were in from their own police a call arrived from Detroit patrolman No. 551 in the Fifteenth precinct that he had picked a little red bag that was evidently lost. He had found her on Mack near Ashland.

Patricia Ann had covered about five blocks during her Alice in Wonderland peregrinations before her safe return to her home via the kindly Park police station.

Resident of Park Prefers Her Nimrods at a Distance

A lady giving her name as Mrs. Dixey of 714 Grand Marais has just phoned in her 99th (?) complaint to the Park police of fishermen annoying her by their presence on her property, or adjacent thereto.

The police always cheerfully respond to the emergency and sometimes do find some hungry nimrods on her place and again sometimes they are quite a distance from the Distel desecration.

In these days of rubber and gas shortage, and sometimes maybe food shortage as well, the police are inclined to regard the crime of trespass on littoral rights with a lenient eye, particularly when they conflict with the piscatorial rights of the community. If you get me, at the same time they may in this neighborhood enter the water line, or maybe even the harbor, or, at least the wall line, and trespass, trespassers, let the dogs bark when they may.

On the 99th (?) complaint Friday night they found the fenders safely entangled by a fishing boat, albeit, possibly little too close to the pier. Even these were shown around but they made no pretense to return.
