GENERAL MARSHALL, Chief of Staff of the Army, presents a biennial report to the Secretary of War, up to and including V days, giving in detail his report of operations and his own conclusions as to the Nation's preparation for future wars... reveals the weapons of destruction that will be employed in future wars, many of which are already in being in our hands... urges that the only safety for the Nation is to be eternally prepared for war, with scientific preparation always in advance of other countries... for man power, which is always vitally important, he urges compulsory military training whereby we can put four million men under arms quickly after the start of war... says a relatively small regular army will suffice if large masses of trained reserves are provided... says we are now making bombs of 45,000 pounds weight and that giant bombers coursing the stratosphere and carrying 100,000 pounds of bombs are a certainty... says the development of atomic energy "can be man's greatest benefit or can destroy him".
The General concludes with this observation: "We have tried since the birth of our Nation to promote our love of peace by a display of weakness. This course has failed us utterly, cost us millions of lives and billions of treasure... We have ignored the hard realities of world affairs. We have been purely idealistic... we must start with a correction of the tragic misunderstanding that a security policy is a war policy. It no longer appears possible to continue what we once conceived as hemispheric defense as a satisfactory basis for our security".

Naval Honor Guard Attends Truman Newberry Funeral

Truman H. Newberry, one of the best known citizens of Michigan and a long time resident of Grosse Pointe, died at his home at 123 Lakeshore drive on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock after a protracted physical decline of many months. He was 80 years old.

He came of a family that for two long generations was identified with the growth and development of industrial Michigan. He inherited a large fortune from his father, the late John Stoughton Newberry, and under his prudent care this estate was largely increased.

His forays into national politics brought him into the national limelight. His historic struggle for the United States Senate, where in the first instance he had defeated Henry Ford, the democratic candidate, is a part of the colorful political history of that period.

Mr. Newberry's activities covered a wide range. He was a powerful figure in banking, transportation, real estate and manufacturing, and was identified with many of the concerns which translated the Detroit area from a modest center of population into one of the great cities of America.

He always took a deep interest in the Navy and served his country in this service in both the Spanish American War and World War I. He was Secretary of the Navy under President Theodore Roosevelt.

He was a graduate of Yale University. With his brother, the late John S. Newberry, Jr., he built the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church as a memorial to his mother, Helen Handy Newberry.

Out of respect to his former high position in the Navy a naval Guard of Honor attended the funeral services which were held on Saturday afternoon in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery.

Police Seek "Mr. Pointer"

Man Who Has Been Approaching Boys Will Find This Area Deadly

Reports have come to the police from several quarters in recent days concerning a man who is evidently a moral pervert attempting to solicit boys in the Pointe area.

One father living on Lincoln road said that his sixteen year old son had been approached near the high school on Monday evening about 8:30 o'clock. The accoster said his name was Mr. Pointer and that he lived at the Statler Hotel downtown. He was between 50 and 60 years old, was a large man weighing more than 200 pounds and carried a black coat over his arm.

He said he was very fond of boys and often had parties for them in his room at his hotel. He wanted to take this boy to the Punch and Judy theater but the boy hurriedly declined his invitation.

Inquiry by the police disclosed that no one by the name of "Pointer" had ever lived at the Statler, but further inquiry developed that a man giving that name had at one time lived at the Statler hotel but had not been there for some time. The local police are hot on the trail of Mr. "Pointer" and promise to make this region deadly territory for him if they catch up with him.

Post Office Modifies Order Covering Overseas Packages

Effective October 1, 1945 in order to allow the mailing to civilians in foreign countries of parcels containing badly needed articles such as overcoats, blankets and other bulky articles, the restrictions of order No. 17471 of April 20, 1942 limiting the size to 18 inches in length and 42 inches in combined length and girth have been modified.

The normal dimensional limits prescribed in the current official Postal Guide will apply to all mail (including parcel post) addressed to civilians in foreign countries to which mail service has been resumed.

Justice McNally Due Home Soon

Friends of Justice James McNally in the Park Municipal building have received a letter from him dated September 23 somewhere in the far Pacific area telling them he will soon be homeward bound.

The Judge, who has been one of the Township justices for years, is now a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy.

He says he will soon be leaving for Guam and will probably see Tokyo also before he returns. After a brief stay there he will head for San Francisco, thence to Great Lakes and then his final severance from the Navy with which he has been associated for many years as naval reservist, at during the war as an active participant in combat operations.

This is 42 inches in length and 72 inches in combined length and girth.

Sprayer Spreads Trail of Mystery

Joseph H. Delor of 849 Loraine, told the City police Thursday afternoon that an unidentified man had just come to his home telling Mrs. Delor that their daughter had sent him there to spray the basement with D.D.T., but was profuse in his apologies for having forgotten his sprayer. He had asked Mrs. Delor for the privilege of using their phone which had been granted. He had then carried on a lengthy conversation with some one in Mt. Clemens. He then left with further apologies for forgetting his appliances.

The whole affair was most mystifying. No one in the household knew anything about arrangements having been made for any D.D.T. treatment. Mr. Delor was afraid the party might come back later on, on the very bent after familiarizing himself with the interior of the place.

The man was about 40 years old, 5' 8" tall, wore a grey suit and had grey eyes and had no hat.

The police placed a watch on the place that night but no one showed up.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

Michigan Aviation Week (October 8-14) and the fact that the Junior League is taking to the air . . . Really aren't related at all . . . Yet . . . they make the week in society for Detroit . . . Society pages brought forth the news this week . . . that the skyways are literally loaded with Grosse Pointe belles . . . and young men . . .

And members of the committee for Aviation Week . . . read like a city directory of Grosse Pointe . . . bringing to mind that when Detroit becomes as noted for the manufacture of planes as is now for automobiles . . . your neighbors will have had a lot to do with it . . .

JUNIOR LEAGUE HITS THE AIRWAYS

Now about the Junior League taking to the air . . . This Saturday marks the first program of the second series of broadcasts for children sponsored by the Junior League and WJR.

And there is to be a very special observance of the important occasion . . . Any child interested (and his parents, if they wish) is invited to attend a real, live, radio broadcast this Saturday morning as guests of the sponsors . . .

The broadcast will take place at the Detroit Institute of Art . . . the hour is 9 a. m. sharp . . .

Tickets are free . . . and may be obtained by writing the Goodwill Station WJR and just in case the news reaches you a little late in the day via this column . . . you might telephone WJR and they'd be glad to see that your tots got tickets . . .

A DATE FOR YOUR CHILDREN

The League and WJR broadcast the children's series every Saturday morning . . .

It is heard at 9:30 a. m. . . (but that doesn't mean anyone will be admitted to the anniversary broadcast after 9:15 . . . because the audience must all be settled and must have received its instructions on audience behavior long before the play goes on the air) . . .

This week's play will be enacted by the Wayne University Broadcasting Guild . . . and is to be "Mark Twain" . . .

After the broadcast there will be a trip through all the wonders of the art museum . . . followed by an ice cream party . . .

The series of broadcasts now going into its second season . . . was awarded top prize at the Ninth American Exhibition of Educational Radio Programs in New York . . .

So you can be assured that this is all very worth Junior's while . . .

LEAGUE MEMBERS TO ACT AS HOSTESSES

Besides 20 members of the Junior League who will attend the party as hostesses . . .

Present will be members of the League's radio committee . . . including:

Chairman Mrs. Stuart Hilton Smith . . . Mrs. James McEvoy Jr. . . Aileen Davidson . . . Mrs. Roy D. Chapin Jr. . . Jane Bartholomew . . .

Rosemary Heenan . . . Ann Collins . . . Mrs. Kenneth Van Doran . . . Mrs. Emery Hatch . . . and Mrs. Edgar B Galloway (who has the neatest, most dazzling handwriting we've seen in many moons!) . . .

Remember the date . . . this Saturday . . . the time, 9 a. m. . . the place, Detroit Art Institute . . . and the play, "Mark Twain" . . .

Miss Bernice Purdy Weds William Platt

St. Paul's Church on the Lake Scene of Lovely Autumn Wedding; Young Couple Will Live in Longview

Before an altar banked with ferns and white roses Myriam Bernice Purdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Purdy, of Merriweather road, spoke her nuptial vows to William G. Platt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Platt, of Longyear road, in St. Paul's Church Saturday morning.

Myriam asked Mrs. William M. Cunningham to be her matron of honor and Doris Williams and Mary Jane Driesbach to serve as bridesmaids. Mrs. Cunningham's gown was of sheer aqua wool, fashioned with leg o' mutton sleeves distinguished by a large turned-back cuff with a jewel button, basque waist with a peplum effect in the back and a diamond-shaped neckline. Her quaint bonnet was in the same shade, and she carried yellow mums. The bridesmaids' frocks were made along the same lines in salmon pink wool. They had matching bonnets and bouquets of rust mums. Traditional ivory satin was Myriam's choice for her bridal gown. It was characterized by sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves and extremely full skirt. A coronet of seed pearls topped her fingertip veil of illusion, and her flowers were white roses and stephanotis. Best man for Mr. Platt was Harold Fields. Ushers were Mr. Cunningham, Louis Albrecht and the bridegroom's brother, Eugene Platt.

For the wedding breakfast and reception in the Whittier Mrs. Purdy received in a dress of champagne crepe with gold nail-heads. A moss green hat and green orchids completed her costume.

Mrs. Platt selected a wine velvet gown and matching hat and wore purple orchids. The young couple left for a trip to Chicago and will return to make their home on Longview.

PRAYER OF A MODERN

Sulphamidamide, Electronics, Tennessee Williams' bistrionics, Television, Plexi-ceramics, Miscegenation, Atomic-dynamics, Penicillin, Harry Truman, D. D. T., Radar — all superbuman We swing through the air on an astral trapeze— Dear God, let us still love the old way, please.

Ever since finding out that the atomic bomb is already obsolete as the face on the film cutting floor, we've had that breathless here-it-comes, this-is-it, what-next feeling. It's in the air. Everywhere. The modernist matron next door has thrown out all her kitchen equipment, isn't cooking up anything except trouble until they install that push-button system for putting the filet mignon on the table. Alduous Huxley has gone into his sulking-and-brooding tent with his omnibus of the ten top religions, and little Michael is thinking of going into show business right from kindergarten, because what future is there in grade school?

Everything has at least two strikes on it, with Lord Mayor Jeffries trying to iron while the strike is hot. Waiting. Just waiting for Lefty. While wondering how to make a man's town out of boy's town, Mayor La Guardia's been delivering his own telegrams, running his own elevators, getting his own nickels back in the phone booths and getting gas nowhere except on the stomach. But this main bout is the fashion fight—the battle of Paris versus New York, led by Lucien Lelong versus La Guardia. Paris designers aren't shipping nor showing their collections in New York because La Guardia says we can wear New York clothes or nothing. This is the verdict of the Ladies Garment Workers' Harem who want no goings on with their old rival, La Belle Paree. One CAN get Paris models in one of two ways: by meeting Molyneux, Mainbocher and some of the other fashion boys still accepting that beautiful American money in New York; or dashing down to South America where Paris is showing all her collections to the Buenos Aires beauties.

SOMEHOW, in all this Marice-in-Wonderland situation, our dusky Sarah, the Seereess managed to minimize chaos by laughing: "Well, I have seen better days—AND NIGHTS!"

BUT THERE is a quicker escapist route than the Argentine to the enchanted land of better-days-and-nights. Up at the Arts and Crafts, art is still long and time too fleeting. As a bomb-shelter for escaping postwar peace, it's unsurpassed. What with Sarkis Sarkisian in a rendezvous with Rembrandt and Guy Palazzola modernizing with Kimon Nicolaidis, one suddenly sees mediaeval and modern as one in perspective, and yesterday on speaking terms with tomorrow. And you relax, remembering the night Ben Hecht held the limp hand of the little girl who thought her heart was broken when it was only clipped, soothing her with his unctuous cynicism—"Yesterday's pain is Tomorrow's joke, if only you manage not to choke."

THE DAY GROSSE POINTERS were all set to slink in mink to the World Series' opening game, we chanced to chat with Mrs. Henry Ford, braving the breeze outside the City Club in her perfectly simple and simply perfect black ensemble. We told her how young and well she is looking. She has the most petite figure, neatest ankles and prettiest feet of her generation. And we left, musing once more how Helen Hayes is the only actress able to play the role of Clara Bryant Ford. When we mentioned this to Helen she said: "But you flatter me—I could make up for the character, but only she has the real character to live so modestly as Mrs. Henry Ford."

ON THE TRAIL of a Jaguar we've been ever since seeing Hildegarde's Jaguar coat. Weeks passed, with phone calls coming from New York, "Won't leopard do? Hildegarde must know some big-name, big-game hunter." When lo, at a Tarzan trailer, the Jaguar in all his black and golden glory sprung at us across the screen. And there we sat, only to find and lose our Jaguar mate. The trail is now in the stage of our pursuing Robert, the fur design-

Prize Stock and Show Vegetables Share Honors with Merry Dinner and Dancing at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's foyer and lounge resounded with the ma-a-a's and squeals of farmyard animals and the quacking and gobbling of ducks and turkeys last Saturday evening when the club's Harvest Moon Festival brought some 250 members and guests to dance and make merry in a farm and garden atmosphere.

Great tables of flowers and garden produce were on exhibition in the main floor hall, with corn stalks providing a harvest decorative note. The animals penned in the rotunda section of the clubhouse were a center of interest throughout the evening—they were from Victor L. Graf's farm near Richmond, Mich. Philip Huber's turkeys and ducks indicated that there would be fine birds for Thanksgiving tables—his exhibit also included examples of threshed wheat from his farm.

Tables set in the lounge, where the diners and dancers gathered, were decorated with autumn flowers and tall lighted tapers. Dancing started off to the strains of "Shine On, Harvest Moon," and continued until 2 a. m. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Berry entertained at cocktails in their home on Lakeview Court before taking their guests on to the GPYC festivity. In their party were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fitzpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund W. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Newell B. Wallace, the Ross Judsons, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ross, the Manfred Burleins, the Harry R. Fruehaufs, the Sam Kellers, Mr. and Mrs. Fay M. Thomas, and the T. Melville Hineharts. Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Jacobson had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. William A. Kuenzel and their daughter, Beatrice. Mrs. Jacobson supervised the exhibition arrangement in her role as aide to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene T. O'Keefe, chairmen of the harvest party. Saturday was the day of Dr. and Mrs. William M. Bremer's fifth wedding anniversary and they celebrated the occasion by attending the GPYC party with their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Bremer and Mr. and Mrs. Charles York Judson, Jr. Dr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Pointe Volunteers at Work In Canvass to Make Annual War Chest Drive Successful

Mrs. George A. Schemm is Division Chairman Heading Large Local Organization; Funds Will Help All

A large number of civic-minded men and women in this vicinity began work on the house-to-house solicitation for the Community War Chest Campaign, Monday, Oct. 8, the opening day of this drive to raise $8,490,336. Led by Mrs. George A. Schemm, Division Chairman, volunteers will ask each person in Grosse Pointe to give generously before the campaign closes Oct. 31. Funds collected will provide services for our men in service, our allies, and our neighbors. The goal will be divided as follows: our servicemen, 25.7 per cent; our allies, 23.1 per cent and our neighbors, 47.3 per cent. The remaining 3.9 per cent covers campaign and administrative expenses.

Zone captains working under district chairman in Grosse Pointe include: Mrs. J. E. Verney, 1117 Lakepointe; Mrs. Nat Ventura, 1117 Lakepointe; Mrs. Robert Nester, 577 Lincoln Road; Mrs. John R. Dwight Struthers, Mrs. Mary Weaver, Mrs. Annie Brown, Mrs. Dardenella Hall, Mrs. Alice Denard, Mrs. Louise Matthews, Lorenzo Robinson, Mrs. Ethel Simms, Mrs. Beattie Larry, Esther M. New Maid Pays Lucrative Visit

Mrs. N. Schaff, of 16908 Cranford lane, hired a new maid at 10 o'clock last Friday morning. The maid, who gave the name of Helen Kowalski of 285 E. Grand boulevard, seemed well pleased with her surroundings but at 3 o'clock that afternoon said she would have to go back home for her clothes.

Soon after she left Mrs. Schaff missed $11 that had been lying on the mantle. Also 90c was missing from a coat pocket. By this time Mrs. Schaff's curiosity was thoroughly aroused and she proceeded to make a spot search of the premises. The only other item unaccounted for since Mary's brief visit was a substantial quantity of meat from the refrigerator.

The city police are evincing a lively interest in Mary's present whereabouts. She gave her last place of employment as at the Briggs plant.

Inconsistencies In Tax Appeal

A certain air of mystery surrounds the appeals of the lake front property owners for abatement of their assessed valuations. Members of the Township Board are at a loss to explain some of the apparent inconsistencies.

They say that there are few if any appeals on this type of property in the City of Grosse Pointe despite the fact that many properties there are assessed at up to $500 per foot front, whereas corresponding properties in the township carry only a $400 assessment.

They mention also that these taxes are chargeable back against the owners' income taxes. They are loathe to believe that many of these owners of high class property would be willing to deliberately beat down their values via reduced assessments. Some of the Board members are inclined to believe that the whole issue has largely been raised by the lawyers who are handling the assessment appeals and have taken these cases on a contingent fee basis.

Check Your Chick Service Offered

The Neighborhood Club is now providing a service for busy mothers who have shopping and household duties on Saturday mornings and have no one to take care of the tiny tots. The youngsters can be taken to the club any time from 9 to 12 a. m. on Saturdays and will be taken care of by Miss June Fox, a teacher in the Detroit School System.

The "Check Your Chick" service is available to mothers whose children are 2 to 5 years old at the cost of 25c per hour, at the Neighborhood Club, 17145 Waterloo.

SUSPICIONS CONFIRMED
Mrs. Zenker, of 714 Washington road, while alone in her home on Saturday night, thought she heard prowlers about the premises. When she suddenly switched on the outside lights her suspicions were well founded as she saw three men make a hurried exit from the yard and tear away in an automobile. By the time the police could reach the place the men had vanished.

Six Brothers in Service

Judge Belanger disposed of the following cases in Park Traffic Court Wednesday morning: Daisy Elizabeth Thomas, of 1543 Congress St., Detroit, for failing to stop at a stop sign at Balfour and St. Paul on September 23, was fined $5 and $5 costs.

John Flori, of 686 Selden, Detroit failed to stop at a stop sign at Vernor and Whittier on October 7, thereby contributing to an accident and was fined $15, plus $5 costs.

Salvin Armstrong, of 6090 Fourteenth street, Detroit, paid $5 fine and $5 costs for failing to have his car under control at Wayburn and St. Paul on October 7. He was also directed to make restitution to the village of Grosse Pointe Park for damage done to Village property.

Early Nights Bring Danger

To many, October is the most enjoyable month of the year in Michigan . . . a month of crisp, sunny days when nature, touched by Fall's first frosts, displays her most gorgeous raiment.

But beautiful as most October days are, they are days of growing darkness which hold peril for the motorist and pedestrian who fail to make adjustments in their summer habits.

As darkness is a hazard, so early nights call for extra care. The motorist interested in his own safety and the safety of others will keep his headlights properly adjusted and his windshield clean so he can see. Then, realizing the added danger of darkness, he will drive a little slower, a bit more cautiously.

The smart pedestrian will do his street crossing at the corner where the driver expects to see him, and he will wear or carry something white at night.

PATROLMEN RETURN
Park Village Patrolmen Alphonse Boone and Donald Del Place, who have been in the Navy, have been discharged within the past week and both will soon be back in service again in their old jobs.

Thomas Rice, aged 16, of 381 Rivard boulevard, was bitten on his left thumb last Wednesday night by a dog owned by William Harts of Deming lane, for whom he was working.

The Israelites in a Foreign Land ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

When Jacob arrived in Egypt, Joseph had his chariot prepared and went to meet his father, and presented himself to him, and wept on his neck a good while. After 17 years in Egypt, Jacob felt he was failing and sent for Joseph who brought his two sons, Manasseh and Ephraim, and Jacob blessed the two boys. Knowing that he was about to die, Jacob called his sons to come to him, and gathering them about him, he gave to each one his blessing and prophecy of his future. Jacob died and Joseph asked Pharaoh for permission to take his father back to their old home and bury him with his fathers. MEMORY VERSE—Exodus 20:12.

With the Boys

COMMANDER WILLIS BUGBEE, USNR, is on terminal leave after serving in the Navy for 43 months. He has returned to his home at 1002 Kensington road, Grosse Pointe Park.

Commander Bugbee served 20 months in the South Pacific and was in on the invasion of the Gilberts. He was chief officer on the USS Vestal.

After his service in the South Pacific he was called to New York City to serve with the Navy Branch of Research and Invention.

While Commander Bugbee leaves the service, the family will still be represented in the Navy by his son, SEAMAN 1/C BRUCE BUGBEE, who was sworn in by his father when the latter was home on leave in July.

William H. Sigsworth, Jr., has been in the naval service for 2 years and has served on board the U. S. S. Proteus since June 29, 1945.

ON THE USS MOUNT OLYMPUS IN TOKYO BAY, Sept. 15 (Delayed)—CHARLES E. TOEPP, 19, seaman, first class, 1006 Beaconsfield, Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., is serving on this communication headquarters ship, which was among the first U. S. Navy vessels to enter Tokyo Bay.

ON THE USS MOUNT OLYMPUS IN TOKYO BAY, Sept. 15 (Delayed)—LT. JAMES H. GORDON, 34, whose wife, Mrs. Kathleen Doughty Gordon, lives at 425 Washington road, Grosse Pointe, Mich., is serving on this communication headquarters ship, which was among the first U. S. Navy vessels to enter Tokyo Bay.

BOB SEEGER, Fireman 1/C, writes from Manila, sending a change of address and advising that he has been at two other Philippine bases, Tababos and Subic Bay, before finally being assigned to the former Queen of the Orient.

He says the living conditions on the houseboat (APL) are tops for over there and the liberty in Manila is very good.

Mrs. Harold Hunter Emmons, Jr. of 381 Rivard boulevard has just received a most interesting letter from her husband, MAJOR EMMONS, in Japan.

He is at present at Miyanoshta Spa, 45 miles outside of Tokyo, with his headquarters established in the luxurious hotel Fujiya.

Major Emmons was advanced from the rank of Captain to Major on September 12, 1945. He enlisted as a private in September, 1942.

ant task in the policing of the assigned section of Germany. It will be just as important for the tactical units to have their planes operational now as during the time of active campaigns and it will be the job of this service organization to keep them flying.

Included in this unit are many reclassified infantry men who wear the Purple Heart and the Combat Infantryman's Badge.

Although this unit will continue to be actively engaged in fulfilling its mission of supply and maintenance, there will be ample opportunity for the occupational force to attend courses established in the best European universities and to travel extensively throughout occupied Europe.

Only once were the Devils in scoring position, that being made possible by a beautiful 38 yard pass from Ed Isbey to Dick Wuerker in the early minutes of the last quarter.

Royal Oak started its drive from its own 41 and after making a first down the Blue Devils stopped the drive on their own 40.

With seconds remaining, the Blue Devils were faced with a serious situation. The play would have to take place in the Pointers' end zone and there was Bill of guards Ted Likert and Bill and center Denny Thomas that was outstanding and overshadowed the play of any boy on either team.

Next Saturday Grosse Pointe will tackle Monroe for the first time in three years, in the third game of the Blue Devils' schedule.

The last time the Blue Devils met Monroe was on October 9, 1942. At that time Monroe carried off the honors by the score of 19 to 0.

Grosse Pointe High Keeps Goal Line Uncrossed Although It Is Unable to Score Itself in Hard Game

By FRED RUNNELLS
The Grosse Pointe High School Blue Devils played the second act of their 1945 football season when they met Royal Oak last Saturday afternoon on the Blue Devil's home field.

Although the Blue Devils were able to hold Royal Oak scoreless they too were unable to score.

Royal Oak used a series of end runs and line plunges to drive to the Blue Devils 4 inch line with three downs to make pay dirt.

Club Stevadora Headlines Green

Master of ceremonies Bernie Green continues to clown and fiddle his way to growing popularity at Club Stevadora where he is headlining the new variety show for a fourth straight week.

Bernie, who practically engages in a walkathon on each of his appearances, never standing still long enough to receive the plaudits of his spectators, is of the old school of comedy, which accounts for his excellent timing and confidence. He was a full-fledged star when many of his contemporaries were just breaking into show business.

Back again, this week, and getting a big welcome is the dynamic blues-singing favorite, Evelyn Waters, who heads the supporting line-up including the clever Pat Walsh Dancers and others. Maestro-showman Sammy Mandell continues to lead his orchestra for dancing and the show in which he plays a major role.

THIS WEEK in SPORTS
By FRED RUNNELS

Thursday, Oct. 4
HANK GREENBERG kept the Tigers in the World Series scramble when he hit his three-run homer in the fifth inning of the second game. Up until that time the Tigers were so much putty in the hands of Henry Wyse, Cubs losing pitcher. It was the third such dramatic homer hit by Hank since returning to civilian life. The first was in his first game of the season—the second coming against St. Louis on the last day of the fall classic—third, the one today.

ROY CULLENBINE was elected president of the Maple Knights Club.

RED WINGS' FARM CLUB, the Indianapolis Capitals, downed its parent club, to the tune of 8 to 3, at the Olympia, in an exhibition game.

Friday, Oct. 5
CLYDE PASSEAU pitched a history-making ball game to give the Chicago Cubs a two-game-to-one advantage over the Tigers. Passeau pitched to only 28 men in nine innings, allowing one hit, a single by York. It was a closest any pitcher in the history of the World Series has come to pitching a no-hit, no-run game.

STEVE O'NEILL will remain at the helm of the Tigers' ship of fortune in 1946, it was reported today. He will sign for a reported $25,000. It will be his fourth season as manager of the Bengals.

Saturday, Oct. 6
U. OF MICHIGAN gridders spotted Northwestern a touchdown and a point in the first minutes of their game at Dyche Stadium and then proceeded to completely baffle their opponents for the remainder of the game to win, 20-7.

"DIZ" TROUT, sore back and all, set the Chicago Cubs down with five hits and one run to even the World Series at two games apiece.

MICHIGAN STATE tried to duplicate U. of M.'s stunt of spotting a touchdown and were lucky to come out on the long end of a 7-6 score after a tough battle with the University of Kentucky at East Lansing.

Sunday, Oct. 7
TIGERS became betting favorites to win the World Series in six games after Prince Hal Newhouser held the Cubs to four runs while his mates were banging out enough hits to push eight runs across the plate.

DON HUTSON, INC., better known as the Green Bay Packers, gave the Detroit Lions a 57 to 21 drubbing at Milwaukee. Don Hutson accounted for 31 points. This was the largest number of points ever registered against a Lions team. Back in 1940 Green Bay beat Detroit 50 to 7.

Mon. Oct. 8
CRUCIAL SIXTH GAME of the World Series was a knock-down drag-out affair with the Chicago Cubs squeezing across a run in the twelfth inning to even the series at three games apiece. Only by a freak play did the Cubs keep the Detroit Tigers from putting the peanut in the bag and ending the current season.

STICKY FINGERS ED FRUTIG, University of Michigan All-American end of the Tom Harmon era, was obtained from the Green Bay Packers thus strengthening the Lions at a vital spot. Frutig was in the Packers lineup last Sunday when the Green Bay team handed the Lions their worst defeat since it was organized. It seems to be a case of "if you can't beat 'em, buy 'em."

Tues. Oct. 9
HANK BOROWY, Cub pitching hero and winner of two of the Cubs three games in the present World Series, will be manager Jolly Cholly Grimm's choice to bring the championship to the windy city tomorrow. Borowy is available because of the day of rest between the sixth and seventh game.

HANK GREENBERG was absolved of all blame for missing Stan Hack's screaming double to left field to break up the sixth game of the World Series when the official scorers credited Hack with a double instead of a single and an error on Greenberg's part. The ball hit an obstruction in the grass and took a high bounce over his head to let the winning run score all the way from first base.

Wed., Oct. 10
LLOYD BRAZIL, athletic director of University of Detroit, announced that the Titans top scorer would be out of the lineup when the team meets Mississippi State College at Memphis. It is traditional in the south that negro players do not compete there.

U. OF MICHIGAN football squad was going all out in its practice sessions in an attempt to develop plenty of scoring punch and fensive know-how for its game with the powerhouse Army eleven which it meets at Yankee Stadium this coming Saturday. This game promises to be the top grid classic for the week end.

High School Set For Open House

Details for the annual Fall Open House at the Grosse Pointe High School, Friday evening, October 12, have been completed. All staff members will be in their respective desk rooms from 8 to 9 p. m. During this period, parents will have an opportunity to meet teachers, counselors, and administrative personnel. As students will not be in attendance at the Open House, it will be helpful if parents will find out from their sons and daughters, previous to Friday evening, the names of their various teachers.

Donald McPhail, president of the Student Association, will be the chairman of the auditorium program from 9:15 to 10 p. m. This program which will include an explanation by Vincent Peterson, Director of Guidance, of student counseling in the high school, will be of interest to all parents.

Parents of 7B students, as well as parents of all other students new to the high school, are especially urged to attend.

Past experience has shown the Open House to be mutually helpful to parents and teachers in securing a better understanding of students educational life.

Fish Being Flown to Capital In New Iceless Containers

A shipment of freshly caught Great Lakes white fish consigned to Michigan's Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg and Homer Ferguson was flown to Washington from Detroit on Wednesday (Oct. 3) in a test of a newly-developed container which permits the shipping of seafood by air without the use of ice. The experiment marked the first shipment of white fish to Washington by air, inaugurating a proposed aerial service of Great Lakes fish shipments to Eastern coastal markets.

Caught a few hours before arrival in Washington, approximately 80 pounds of fresh water fish were carried on a regular test flight which will show that it is feasible to ship fresh water fish from the Great Lakes area into cities and markets which have been denied such products due to the limitations of surface transportation.

The container which has been developed for the test flight is of fibre board construction. Prior to being packed the fish are precooled to a temperature of 33 degrees and then wrapped in a thin film of a transparent, light weight, skin-like covering which retains the low temperature and prevents moisture loss during air transit.

Detroit - Washington passenger flight. The fish were sent to the Michigan senators by Dr. Spencer A. Larsen, director of air cargo research at Wayne University, Detroit, in cooperation with the air cargo development section of PCA.

Forty pounds of fish can be shipped in each of the newly designed containers which weigh only six pounds. Preliminary tests have revealed that fish protected with pitho-film or similar material can be shipped by air without ice, with the temperature rising only half a degree an hour.

Chinese Patriot Addresses Rotary

Hubert S. Liang, a native of China, who holds degrees from several American and Chinese universities and is now an advisor to the Chinese Industrial Cooperatives was the guest speaker at the Monday meeting of the Rotary Club.

Mr. Liang, who is a fluent speaker and uses impeccable English, talked on China and her present contacts with the Occidental world.

While he has been a resident of this country for many years, he is a thorough Chinese patriot and places the welfare of his native country above all other political considerations. He does not take the Communist movement in China too seriously and believes that his country is headed for a high position among the great powers. To attain this, however, he states, it will be necessary for her to receive sympathetic consideration and treatment by America.

America, he says, at this moment occupies the very pinnacle of physical and moral power among the world's states and with this has come a tremendous responsibility for the uplifting of less fortunate countries. He was not too clear however in specifying what form this help should take.

He plainly held no brief for English contacts with China. It seemed to run through his talk that he believed that China had been outrageously exploited by the British but on this too he was not clear as to details. He represents the continued holding of Hong Kong by the British and obviously adhered to the doctrine of China for the Chinese. It was apparent from the tenor of his remarks that his country, in common with practically every other country in the world at the moment, hopes for early profit from her friendly relations with America.

Hearing Aid Center Set Up By League for Handicapped

A Hearing Aid Center where those who are hard of hearing can test various types of hearing aids and determine which will best suit their particular needs, has been established by the Detroit League for the Handicapped, Mrs. Nelson W. McCormick, director of this Community Fund agency, announced this week.

There are six such centers already established in large cities throughout the United States and a number of others being started. The League's center will be the first of its kind in Detroit.

Mrs. Ethel S. Moros, who is in charge of the Hearing Aid Center, which is in the Krolik Building, 318 East Jefferson, has partitioned it after the War Department's Rural Rehabilitation Center for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing at Deshon General Hospital, Butler Pennsylvania.

The services, which are free, include audiometric tests to determine the type and extent of hearing deficiency, listening hours during which persons can test and become accustomed to hearing aids by listening to special phonograph recordings of the sounds heard in a normal day.

Although it is impossible to estimate the number of persons in the Detroit area who are hard of hearing, Mrs. Moros quoted a statement from Major L. E. Morrisett, Chief, Otolaryngological Branch, War Department, in which he predicted that more than 250,000 veterans of World War II will have hearing deficiencies. Thousands more, he said, will probably come to light in the next five or ten years.

The War Department has three Aural Rehabilitation Centers which takes care of servicemen. Centers like Detroit's newly established one will be prepared to serve these men, but most of its services are expected to go to the civilian population. As more servicemen return using hearing aids, their value will become more apparent to everyone in the community, Mrs. Moros pointed out. Hearing aids will become as common and unnoticed as glasses, she said. No hearing aids are sold at the Hearing Aid Center, nor does the center receive commissions on aids sold through its recommendations. The center is supported by the Detroit League for the Handicapped and the Community Fund.

Appointments for the service should be made in advance with Mrs. Moros at the Center. The telephone number is RA. 2510.

Members of the Advisory Committee for the Hearing Aid Center are Mrs. C. Lloyd Wright, Mrs. Lewis E. Schultz and Mrs. Charles Kern of the Detroit Aural Guild; Mrs. Frank Coates, Miss Margaret Rubin, Mrs. Guy W. Moore and Mrs. Urda Wuesthoff of the Detroit Society for Better Hearing; Dr. John J. Lee and Dr. E. W. Billo, of Wayne University; Dr. Ollie L. Backus and Miss Harriet M. Dunn of the University of Michigan; Mrs. Norma G. Silver of the Detroit Hospital Council; Hildred Gross of the Board of Education; Sophie Alcorn of the School for the Deaf, Dr. H. W. Pierce of the Wayne County Medical Association; C. Arthur Hakanen of the State Board of Control for Vocational Rehabilitation; Harold Hayes of the United States Employment Service; J. H. Klein of the Lutheran School for the Deaf; Mrs. George E. Lackey, Mrs. John Faricy, Mrs. Nelson McCormick and Betty Siewert of the Detroit League for the Handicapped; and Dr. Emil Amberg and Mrs. William Broyles.

Overseas Mailing Deadline Nearing

Superintendent Leland Lindow, of the Grosse Pointe Post Office, desires to call the attention of local residents to the deadline date for sending Christmas packages to servicemen overseas. THE DATE IS OCTOBER 15, 1945.

Atty. Fred Behr Suffers Attack

Fred Behr, prominent attorney whose home is at 37 Colonial road, Grosse Pointe Shores, was stricken suddenly while dining in the Joe Muir restaurant last Thursday. He was removed to his home immediately under the doctor's orders, where he was reported to be resting comfortably late Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Behr has been the attorney for the group of lake front property owners who are attempting to obtain a reduction in the assessed valuations of their properties.

His most recent work in this case was the preparation of a brochure setting forth the complaints of these property owners in their appeals to the Township Board, under date of September 15.
