Lightest Sailor Gets Heaviest Prize

Alex Allard, of Allard road, Grosse Pointe Woods, is the skinniest sailor of the Detroit River Star fleet, but one of the best. This was demonstrated during the last season when he won the J. T. Wing Trophy in the Detroit Yacht Club Sweepstakes Regatta on Labor Day. Presentation of the trophy was made at the annual trophy banquet held Friday night, November 9 in Tassie's Tavern. Alex is congratulating his crew, who happens to be his wife, Jean. Alex weighs 130 pounds. The trophy weighs 80. Alex was helped home. Picture by Fred Rannels.

Park Worried Over Rise in Delinquency

Planning Commission Thinks More Recreational Facilities Would Help

At the meeting of the Grosse Pointe Park Planning Commission Friday night much of the discussion was devoted to the subject of providing more and better recreational facilities for the children and half-grown youths of the village.

The subject was frankly taken up with the view of combatting juvenile delinquency. The members of the commission are greatly disturbed by the increasing number of reports that come into the police quarters of the escapades and depredations of half-grown boys and girls. A considerable proportion of these offenses closely approach out and out delinquency.

The feeling was expressed by the commission that an obligation devolves upon the village to provide facilities for recreation and entertainment that will direct the minds of the young people along more wholesome lines. There have recently been many cases of malicious mischief.

Village Manager Lane, who is deeply concerned with the village's relationship to this problem, reported that the number of cases indicating delinquency that have occurred in the Park this year up to November 1 were 40 per cent more than all such cases for the entire year of 1944.

The Commission requested Mrs. Lillian M. Pear, the secretary of the commission and a member of the body, to designate one of the members of the Commission to work with her in a careful study of the matter and to make recommendations to the Commission as to steps the village should take. When these have been considered and a plan decided upon it will be recommended to the Board of Village Commissioners for adoption.

The Planning Commission will have another meeting on Dec. 3, at which time it is hoped a program can be decided upon to pass on to the Village Commissioners.

Residents of Woods Object to Business In Business Zone

Granting of Protection Asked Would Be Nice for Small Section But Very Costly to Village

Petitioners representing about 25 properties in the Woods Country Club area, appeared before the Woods Village Council on the evening of Tuesday, November 6, with the request that the village change its zoning law so as to convert a plot of land along Mack avenue in the lower end of the village near Seven Mile, from Commercial, or Zone "B", classification into residential, or Zone "A" classification.

The petition carried fifty-one names but as these included husbands and wives and any other adult members of the same household the actual number of properties interested did not exceed twenty-five.

The plot that would be affected consists of eighteen 20 foot lots, or a total frontage on Mack of 360 feet, and lies generally between Broadstone and Littlestone.

Joseph Merony, of 5937 Cooper, Detroit, owns two of the lots and asked permission of the village before he bought them, to erect a building on them for a floral shop. The village was agreeable to the proposition.

This did not conform to the ideas of the property owners having private homes behind the Mack avenue frontage where Merony wants to build. The objectors are much the same group who effectively raised a cry against the building of a theatre and a group of commercial properties in the same general location a year or so ago.

Commercial areas are very limited in the Woods, as they are in all of the Grosse Pointe villages, and lie almost wholly along Mack avenue. The proposal of the petitioners is that this area shall be still further diminished by lifting 360 feet frontage and making it unavailable for business purposes.

An alternative proposition to the simple changing of the zoning regulations is that the village itself shall purchase the tract and convert it, possibly, into a park, which the property owners reasonably figure out would enhance the value of their residential properties in the rear.

The fly in the ointment for this scheme is that the property along Mack is worth about $115 per foot front, while the residential property behind it is worth only about $25 per foot front. If the village should buy these lots it would not only cost the city sum of $40,000 but it would in addition take a licking on its own tax rolls.

Moreover, it is alleged by some competent observers that if the village should merely change the zoning classification of the lots from commercial to residential to accommodate the petitioners, the lots would not even be worth the $25 foot value, as no one would wish to have them for home sites.

The petitioners have indeed asked a mighty favor of the village.

Mr. Merony desires to use the lots he owns for the exact purpose contemplated when the Mack avenue frontage was made commercial area. There is a grave question whether it would be within the power of the village to prevent him from doing so by singling him out as the helpless victim of an ex post facto regulation.

At any rate they didn't take any action at the Tuesday night meeting.

Alger Shelden Heads Group Making Study

All Organizations in Veterans' Council to Be Asked to Back Project

While many cities throughout the country are announcing definite decisions on war memorials to honor the men and women who served, and especially those who gave their lives, in World War II, plans for a Pointe memorial are being formulated under the leadership of the Grosse Pointe Honor Roll Association.

The NEWS has received many inquiries concerning what appeared to be a lack of interest in a local memorial project, but there has been a good deal of study and planning along these lines.

The Honor Roll Association passed a resolution last month, calling for a permanent memorial and going on record to the effect that it would help in any way it could. At the same meeting Alger Shelden, who with Mrs. Shelden gave the first large donation to the fund for the temporary shrine which was erected on the high school campus, was elected president of the association, succeeding Justice of the Peace Kenneth Thomas.

Mr. Shelden, Capt. John J. O'Brien, Mr. Thomas and Paul Moreland, treasurer of the association, are actively heading a group which is making a study of the permanent memorial project.

Captain O'Brien recommended that a meeting be called with all the various groups of the Council of Veterans' Affairs to discuss the matter. This meeting has not yet been held, but is expected to take place shortly, and constructive suggestions should come out of it.

It is understood that a majority of the members of the Honor Roll Association favored a library for the permanent memorial, but some fear was expressed that this might conflict with ideas held by the Pointe Board of Education. The Board will be consulted to see if any conflict might result if the library idea is definitely accepted as the form the memorial should take.

The NEWS has suggested time and again, and many Pointers are in agreement with the suggestion, that no one but the servicemen and women themselves should attempt to suggest what form the memorial should take. They are the ones to be honored and they alone, it is felt, should designate a choice.

The Grosse Pointe Council of Veterans' Affairs is now functioning and through it, contacts with many returning servicemen are being maintained. The Honor Roll Association has as nearly complete a list of names and addresses of men and women in the service as it is possible to obtain. Through these two agencies and the cooperation of the men and women themselves, it should not be a very difficult task to obtain an expression of choice from the majority.

Everyone concerned agrees that it would be foolish to attempt any kind of a campaign to raise funds for the memorial before a final decision has been reached on what the memorial shall be.

When this is decided, it is felt that the Pointe will get behind the project and erect a memorial that will reflect credit on the community and fittingly honor the area's war dead and veterans.

The treasury of the Honor Roll Association contains between $3,500 and $4,000, a surplus from the funds raised to erect the temporary shrine. This money will be put into the permanent memorial fund when a drive gets under way.

CAUGHT IN MIDDLE
Mrs. Lucille Thompson of 971 Nottingham was leading her dog on a leash near her home Tuesday evening when he was set upon by a Canadian huskie of the neighborhood. In her effort to separate the dogs the huskie bit her severely on her thumb.

ROW BOAT STOLEN
Mrs. T. Teal Tufford of 214 Lakeland, reported to the City police the theft of a black row boat from the boat slip last Tuesday.

Authorization of Electors To Sell City's Land Paves Way for New High School

Augustinian Fathers Plan to Erect Building on Property Along Mack Avenue Just Opposite Points

Now that the voters of Grosse Pointe City have authorized the sale of the city's property in Detroit across Mack along Radnor at a price not less than $35,000 it is expected that the property will be sold in the near future.

The tract is a narrow strip only about 200 feet wide but which extends from Mack avenue clear across Warren, Chandler Park drive and out to Canyon avenue. It was acquired many years ago as a site for the City's sewage disposal plant but abandoned for that use about 1917 when arrangements were made with Detroit to do the work for the City.

The new purchasers are expected to be the Augustinian Fathers. When they have acquired the property their plan is to turn over to the City of Detroit that portion of property lying beyond Warren and receive in turn from the City of Detroit a plot of land which it owns immediately east of the Grosse Pointe City property and bounded by Mack, Warren and for a short distance on its eastern side by Canyon avenue.

It is on this plot, which the Augustinian Fathers will get from Detroit, via a trade deal for the Grosse Pointe City property, that they propose to erect the 1500 student capacity high school. This school will be a very beautiful property immediately facing Grosse Pointe across Mack avenue, and will greatly increase the high school facilities of the Pointe.

It is understood that the City of Detroit intends to add the long narrow strip which it acquires to

Rotary Party To Bring Aid To Children

Audiometer Purchased to Be Available for All Students in Pointe Area

The Feather Party which the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club is to have on Monday night in the Neighborhood Club deserves the wholehearted support of the people of the Pointe. All of the money taken in is to be used for worthy purposes of immediate community interest.

Two groups have already been earmarked as beneficiaries of the sum to be raised.

One of the items is an audiometer which has already been purchased by the club and will be on display on the stage the night of the party. This is a device for testing and measuring the hearing capacity of the school children of the Pointe and will be available to the pupils in all of the schools, public, private and parochial. If a teacher suspects that the backwardness of a pupil may be caused by defective hearing, this machine will be available to determine this with scientific accuracy.

In addition to this the Club has already decided to make a substantial contribution to the Grace Bentley Camp for Crippled Children on Lake Huron a short distance north of Port Huron. This is a splendid institution which offers camp life and scientific treatment for crippled children. Where parents are able to pay for this privilege they are charged $15 a week, but none are refused.

It is to make up the deficit resulting from the care of the poor children that moved the Club to decide to make this contribution.

Light Scares Prowler Away

Mrs. Clyde Tobin of 1330 Somerset, thought she heard a prowler about her premises Thursday night and turned on her flood light. She caught a glimpse of a tall man, "at least six feet" who wore a tan colored jacket.

This was the only description she could give the police, but the police were convinced the prowler was no creature of the imagination, as they found a flash light near the windows.

Seabee to Head Holy Name Party

Ed Kramer, ex-Seabee and veteran of the Alaskan campaign, heads St. Paul's Holy Name Society's 35th Annual Benefit Party next Sunday at St. Paul school.

This party is one of St. Paul's outstanding social affairs and many returned servicemen will make this their first homecoming event.

Mr. Kramer is assisted by Charles Poupard, Ed West and Hugh Sheehan.

Stolen Car Mystery Solved

Sunday afternoon about six o'clock Francis Schmidt, who lives in the Alden Park Manor, reported to the Park police that his car had been stolen.

Young Schmidt and a girl friend were on their way to see the football game at the Grosse Pointe High School when he blew a tire at Three Mile and Jefferson. He had locked his car and taken the ignition key with him, but when he returned after the game it was gone.

The mystery was settled later in the evening when Park patrolmen Walsh and Dean located the car in the Grosse Pointe garage. The garage people had had word to tow in a stalled car at Three Mile and Jefferson and had brought in the wrong car.

Fire Experts Needed To Halt Blaze in Tree

The Farms fire department was called upon for help Sunday afternoon after two youngsters started a fire in an old tree at Lake Shore road and Edgemere.

Thieving Crow and Fresh Squirrel Bother Residents

Mrs. Culbertson of 1319 Beaconsfield appealed to the Park police the other day to protect her from the nuisance of a thieving crow that haunts her premises and steals everything small enough to be covered by his beak.

There is nothing too obscure to escape his telescopic eye, and he has an unerring judgment as to his ability to lift and fly away with any object that strikes his roving fancy.

A similar plea for protection, but suggested by the stealing proclivities of a busy fox squirrel, came from Mrs. Maas of 1152 Devonshire. Her little furred nuisance is especially interested in edibles but doesn't hesitate to carry away anything that strikes his fancy and is small enough for him to manage.

One of the chief difficulties with Mr. Squirrel is to keep him out of the house.

The Park police have promised to mobilize the squirrel-crow squad to protect the distressed households.

Bond Drive Lags Badly

Pointe Chairmen Emphasize Need for More Sales; Only $400,000 Now Subscribed

Kenneth L. Moore and Richard Maxon, Grosse Pointe bond drive report that the drive has been lagging poorly in the first two weeks. The drive runs through November and to date only about $400,000 has been subscribed.

The Grosse Pointe bond committee emphasizes the supreme importance of the current effort. The fighting war is over but in its aftermath has come a staggering accumulation of financial liabilities. High in this list is the care of our wounded and disabled and the enormous sums of money that must be provided to pay off and grant benefits for 8,000,000 men to be discharged by next July. No grateful citizen at home dare wrestle long with his conscience on these scores.

Grosse Pointe is going to have a quota laid in its lap in this campaign, although the amount has not yet been publicly announced.

Chairmen Moore and Maxon state the rate of sales from now on will have to be greatly stepped up to come anywhere near realizing this quota.

Lane and Cannon Named to Board

Village Manager Everitt B. Lane and Patrolman James Cannon were named as the representatives of the Park village on the State Pension Board at the Commissioners meeting Tuesday night.

The setup of the State Board provides for two representatives from each municipality in the state which has accepted the State's Pension plan and is operating under the same.

One of these Board members represents the officers of the municipality and the other the benefitting employees, which in the Park's case are Mr. Lane and Patrolman Cannon respectively.

Gun-Toting Prowler Foiled As Girl Slams Door in Face

Park Resident's Quick Thinking and Automatic Lock Thwart Doorbell Ringer; Police Are Investigating

On Sunday afternoon Bill Brink and his brother John, who live at 742 Berkshire, received a phone message from a friend of theirs named Paul Williams. Williams was in the Detroit Yacht Club. He said he had just received an alarming phone call from Delphine Susicks at 969 Berkshire, and asked them to investigate right away.

They hurried around to the Susicks home and found Miss Delphine in a highly agitated state. A man had come to the door a few minutes before and when she answered the bell she saw he held a gun in his hand pointed directly at her. She had been quick witted enough to slam the door in his face and it automatically locked with a catch lock.

Thieves Rifle Two Park Cars

Mrs. Gail Gould of 1001 Beaconsfield, reported to the police that one evening last week someone had broken into her car while it was parked in the rear of her house. A suitcase filled with clothing and personal effects had been stolen.

The contents of the suit case were scattered along the alley but apparently nothing else had been stolen.

Another car entry was reported by Sam J. Metry of 1342 Buckingham at about the same time. The thieves broke into the glove compartment and stole a brief case containing nothing but business papers. A woman residing at 1357 Buckingham found the case a few hours later in her back yard.

Commission Asked to Grant Permission to Locate in Residential District

Lincoln Maire, the owner of the property extending from Jefferson avenue down to the lake-front opposite Cadieux and Harvard, known as Lombardy Lodge, sent a letter to the Park village commissioners Tuesday night, asking for permission to allow the nursery and kindergarten school now in Fisher road between Maumee and St. Paul to occupy it.

Inasmuch as this property lies in strictly restricted residential area, and the proposed school does not come within the specified list of institutions which are admitted to location in such areas, it will be necessary for the owner to obtain the consent of the neighboring property owners within a two hundred foot radius of the outer bounds of the property.

Mr. Maire is to be notified to this effect. There is entire agreement among the Commissioners to the location of the school which Madeline McCormick now conducts on Fisher on the plot. The Nursery and kindergarten school is a branch of the Merrill-Palmer school system and has a very high rating with the State School authorities.

The Lombardy Lodge property has been used as a convalescent home for some time but this is to be discontinued on January 1. As soon as Mr. Maire has obtained the consent of the neighboring properties the Board of Village Commissioners stand ready to grant the necessary permit.

Softball Trophy Awarded

GEORGE KYPROS COMMANDER CREDON The Metropolitan Club's Junior League Softball party held in the Neighborhood Club last Friday night was a great success.

President Michael Bem, was in charge of the program. Through the courtesy of General Motors an interesting baseball movie was shown, showing progress of the game during the last 100 years. Another movie showed a complete Detroit Lions football game.

Lieut. Commander Charles Credon presented the Credon trophy to Grosse Pointe City's team, winner in the summer schedule. Officer James Flannigan coached the winners. Grosse Pointe Woods won the runner-up position. George Kypros captained the City team.

Police Chief Thomas Trombly of the City and Fire Chief George Dansbury of the Farms both spoke, congratulating the young-

Park Says Doctors' Offices Are Violation of Zoning Laws

Special Attention Will Be Given New Comers and Restrictions Will Be Enforced in Future

Following the discussion in the Park Village Commissioners' meeting Tuesday night anent the proposed location of the Nursery and Kindergarten school on the Lombardy Lodge property on Jefferson avenue there were numerous informal references made by the different commissioners to the intrusion of semi-business establishments in restricted residential areas in the Park.

The cases of several doctor's offices were mentioned specifically and while no serious proposal was made to question those already located in these areas, there was a general agreement that they were business places and, strictly speaking, in violation of the spirit of the restrictions.

Some of these offices had been there for a long time, possibly antedating present zoning and restriction regulations. It was agreed, however that the status of later comers should be looked into and special attention given to the location of any future professional offices in such areas. Commissioner Ulrich said he thought these restrictions had

Hugh Ledyard Hears Prowler Breaking Window in Attempt to Enter House

A prowler who tried to break into the Hugh Ledyard home at 111 Cloverly road Monday night, made enough noise to arouse the occupants and was scared away before he had a chance to steal anything.

Mr. Ledyard heard the sound of breaking glass. He was on the second floor of the house, and called down to find out what was going on. Then through a window he saw a man running away from the house, towards Kercheval.

An investigation showed that the prowler had broken a small pane of glass out of a window, near the lock. Farms police officers Champone, LaPonsa, Boylan and Allor conducted a search, but were unable to find anyone in the neighborhood.

Prowler Scared Away At Devonshire Home

At 10 o'clock Tuesday evening Mrs. Sweitzer of 1423 Devonshire phoned the Park police that there was a prowler about their premises. Mr. Sweitzer had called to the party asking what he wanted, and getting no answer switched on the outside lights just in time to see a man run away and jump over the rear fence.

The last seen of him he was running down Buckingham. The only description he could give was that the man wore a gray coat.

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

Life is getting so busy (are we crazy or do you agree that downtown starts shouting Christmas earlier every year?) . . . That we've scarcely had time this week to do our regular pointing about the rayon people . . . (Who have won our nomination as THE industry best missing the boat during the war because of the inferior stockings it put out) . . . Now that we've passed our pout on to you . . . let's get on to what's doin' . . .

FAMILY REUNION

In the first place . . . practically everyone has a guest . . . In some instances it's family . . . As take . . . the quickie visits paid their mama . . . Mrs. William K. Williams of Beaupre . . . By those handsome stalwarts . . . Sgt. George Williams . . . of the Marine Air Corps . . . (who has now returned to Cherry Point, N. C. to be discharged . . . and then go on to Big Lake, Minn. . . where he joins his recent bride until Christmas time . . . which brings them home to Beaupre for a visit . . . until (this is the non-stop sentence) time for his pre-med studies to begin at Ann Arbor) . . . AND Private John Williams . . . of the Marines who has gone back to Camp Le Jeune in North Carolina . . . Sgt. ### MR. AND MRS. RAY L. SPITZLEY who were guests at Moose Head Lodge near Mattawa, Ontario for a week, are back in their Renaud road home, with their deer stored away in the deep freeze.

D'ARLENE BRINK was recently pledged to Kappa Alpha Theta sorority at Duke University. A formal banquet and pledging ceremony at the Washington Duke followed a Hawaiian party, a Wizard of Oz party and a Black Champagne party for the new girls.

BUD SAVAGE, son of MR. AND MRS. HERBERT N. SAVAGE of 1834 Hunt Club drive, has entered Alma College. He was a member of the Grosse Pointe High School graduating class of 1945.

MRS. ROBERT HENKEL, of Bedford road, waved good-bye to her son-in-law and daughter, MR. AND MRS. S. SCOTT ULREY, as they headed for their home in Wilmington, Del. Monday. Scott has just put aside his captain's uniform, after serving in the ETO.

Festivities are in progress in the Stephens road home of MR. AND MRS. JOHN OWEN III for MRS. RUSSELL L. ENGS, who is visiting her brother and sister-in-law from Darien, Conn.

Week-end entertainers included the WILSON W. MILLS, of Woodland place, who whipped out to their country place at Metamora and feted the Saturday hunters at breakfast in the Metamora Clubhouse.

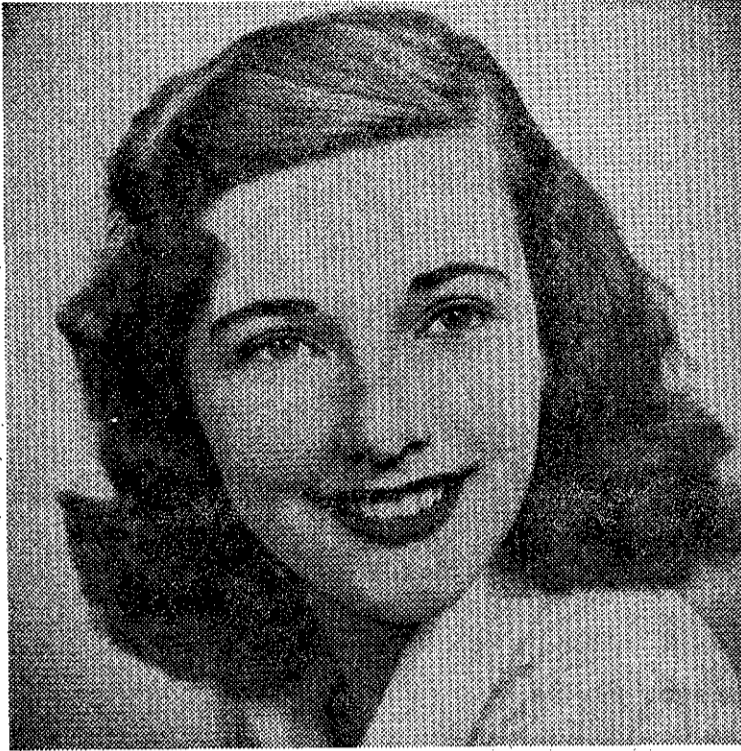

Much - parted visitors are CAPT. AND MRS. D. DWIGHT DOUGLAS, who came from Coronado Beach, Calif. to tarry a fortnight with her mother, MRS. RUSSELL A. ALGER, of Provençal road. On their social calendar are gatherings at the homes of MR. AND MRS. EDWIN B. BARBOUR, MRS. EDESEL FORD, MR. AND MRS. HARLEY J. EARL and MRS. ALLAN SHELLEN.

ANN KIRKWOOD, of Miami and New York, is back in her New York residence after a week's whirl here with the HARRY R. FRUHAUFS, of Moran road.

After three weeks of visiting with her son-in-law and daughter, MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM F. ROSSITER, of Moran road, MRS. P. L. CLIFTON has returned to her home in Norfolk, Va.

An excited MRS. WALTER SCOTTEN is in New York this week awaiting the ship which will bring her son, CAPT. OREN SCOTTEN, home from Europe, and the arrival of the Gripsholm with her daughter, MRS. PAUL MARDEN, from Cairo. When she returns to her Edgemont park house, Mrs. Scotten will be accompanied by the Marden youngsters, PAULI AND SANDRA.

She'll Be June Bride

The engagement of JEANNE BRACKEN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Bracken of 235 McMillan road, Grosse Pointe Farms, to Charles Richard Fitzgerald, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fitzgerald, was announced Sunday at a tea in the home of the parents of the bride-elect. The bridegroom-elect was recently given his honorable discharge from the Army and is now attending the University of Detroit.

Busy people are the EARL YAHNS, of Lorraine avenue, who plan to move to Jackson as soon as they solve the housing problem there. In the meantime, they are welcoming back Mrs. Yahn's brother, MAJ. WILLIAM BLODGETT, USAMC, from war duty in England and honored the surgeon at a cocktail party in their home last week.

MRS. LANSING PITTMAN, of Three Mile drive, is hostess to her sister-in-law, MRS. J. B. BOOK III, who arrived from San Diego. Lieut. Book is stationed on the coast with the Navy.

It's back to civilian life for MR. AND MRS. EDWARD A. BATCHELOR, JR., who have taken a small apartment on St. Clair avenue now that Ed has received his discharge from the Army after serving in France.

A bridge-luncheon at the Detroit Yacht Club was arranged last week by MRS. A. H. RUTHVEN, of Berkshire road, and MRS. M. J. VIERLING, of Edgemere road, to honor MRS. FRANK OBERHEU, of the Wardell-Sheraton. The Oberheus are moving to New York City this fall.

Out on Kerby road the DAVID B. HINCHMANS are having a gala reunion with Mrs. Hinchman's brother-in-law and sister, MAJ. AND MRS. JAN PIETER VAN BERKHOUT, of Grand Rapids. The major is just back

Much reminiscence is in progress in the Willow Lane home of MR. AND MRS. WILFRED V. CASGRAIN, as Mrs. Casgrain's sister, MRS. EDWARD H. MURPHY, and daughter MAUREEN visit here from Piqua, O. The major joined in the merry-making last week when the Murphys stopped with the CHARLES S. VAN DYKES, but had to head back for Ohio. Mrs. Murphy also visited MISS ELIZABETH T. HENDRIE.

Canada presents house-hunting problems, too, so MRS. RUSSELL D. DEVLIN packed her two youngsters, JERE and SHEILA, and whisked back to the States while Mr. Devlin seeks a home in Noranda, Que. The three are the guests of Mrs. Devlin's mother and father, the FRANK E. WERNEKENS, of McKinley road. The Devils, who expect to tarry here a month, formerly hung their hats in Normetal, Que.

MRS. MONT WICKHAM, of Kenwood court, motored to Culver Military Academy with her son DICK, a student at the school, last week. She is staying at Maxinkuchee Inn there.

Back in her Beverly road home is MRS. WILLIAM R. PIERCE, who traveled to New York last week, where she stopped at the Barclay.

MARY MARINUS, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Marinus, 419 Lincoln road, a student at Greenbrier College, Lewisburg, West Virginia, spent the weekend with Janet Floto, Steubenville, Ohio.

From Pasadena, Calif., CAPT. AND MRS. CHESTER G. SMITH and MRS. FRANCIS BARTER arrived last week to be the guests of their aunt and uncle, MR. AND MRS. FIELDON M. GARDEN, of Lincoln road.

SALLY THOMAS put aside her Rogers Hall text books for a gala week-end with her parents, MR. AND MRS. RALPH THOMAS, of Merriweather road, who journeyed to Boston, Mass. for the reunion.

The Glenview Country Club near Winnetka, Ill., has beckoned MR. AND MRS. LESLIE A. WEARY, of University place, who left last week for a brief vacation.

Among the recent social events in the Pointes was MRS. GEORGE E. GODDARD'S tea in honor of the Women's Association Neighborhood Book Club. Gathered in Mrs. Goddard's Balfour road home, members heard MRS. O. M. GRUHITZ'S talk on "The United States and the Soviet Union." Pouring for the occasion were MRS. HERBERT SCHUMANN, MRS. A. W. SEEBURGER, MRS. G. J. HAINES, MRS. R. B. TEMPLE and MRS. W. H. BRIEDON.

Howard Ballantynes Have Cause for Joy

Ted Is Due Home After Three Years at War; Bud Due Soon After First of Year; Norcotts Have New Home

The Howard Ballantynes of 35 McKinley place will have extra cause for Thanksgiving this year. Corp. Carroll (Ted) Ballantyne, USAAF, has returned to the States for discharge and is expected home this week.

Attached to the 23rd Squadron of the famous 36th Fighter Group, Ninth Air Force, Ted has been in service nearly three years, half of which he spent in the European Theater. He saw action in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany. He wears a Presidential Unit Citation and six Battle Stars.

Ted's brother, Tech. Sergt. Howard (Bud) Ballantyne, Jr., had hoped to be home for the first Christmas in four years, but word has been received that his unit will not sail until after the first of the year. Bud has had three years of service with the 130th Ordnance Maintenance Bureau of the 8th Armored Division. He will be discharged upon his return home. He and Ted have not seen each other since October, 1942.

Bud's division of the Ninth Army was in action in France, Holland, Belgium and Germany. It took a major part in the Battle of the Bulge and later saw occupational duty in Czechoslovakia and Austria. Bud also wears a Unit Citation and three battle stars.

John Norcott, formerly lieutenant in command of the USS Heron in Philippine waters for two years, and Mrs. Norcott, (Barbara Ballantyne), are to visit the Homestead in Hot Springs, Va., after a motor trip with the William G. Lerchen, Jr. They will stop at Williamsburg and Charlottesville before spending the Thanksgiving week-end at Hot Springs.

The Norcotts have purchased a new home on McKinley road and after a short Christmas holiday at the Henry Norcotts in Evanston, Ill., they will be at home there. Barbara and their son David, have been living with her parents for more than two years.

LINEN SWINDLE

Residents of Kerby road told Farms police that they had been swindled by a linen salesman last week. It was reported that about six women had paid the salesman from $10 to $30 each for linen which was not of the quality represented.

AN EYE TO COMFORT

Mrs. Arthur C. Limbrock told Farms police that someone had stolen two automobile blankets from her car while it was parked in the rear of her home at 20 Lake Shore road, sometime between October 29 and November 6.

Pointe Urged to Help In Tuberculosis Drive

Many Local Women Among Campaign Heads and Volunteers Who Are Working on 35th Annual Canvass

Grosse Pointe residents, who are among the Wayne County citizens currently receiving 35 million Christmas Seals issued by the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium, were urged today to send in their contributions by Dr. Burt R. Shurly, president of the Sanatorium.

This is the 35th year that the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium has distributed Christmas Seals and appealed to local citizens for the support of its many activities.

These activities include free x-rays for school children, the Children's Camp at North Lake, rehabilitation and occupational therapy programs in addition to the Twelfth and Tuxedo Sanatorium and its Leland branch and farm near Ypsilanti.

The drive will continue through this week-end but citizens are expected to mail in their contributions for many weeks to come as they have in past years. The drive is being carried on as usual except that the Christmas Seals were printed and issued locally this year. They bear the messages "Peace in 1945" and "Good Health To All."

An army of volunteer women workers again are assisting this year under the leadership of Mrs. Dudley C. Hay, general chairman for the sixth consecutive year.

Her chairmen include Mrs. Charles A. Dean, Jr., Mrs. W. Bruce Howard, Mrs. Henry A. Griepkoven, Mrs. Walter S. Clark, Mrs. James B. Ogden, Mrs. Lewis E. Schultz, Mrs. John G. Howey, Miss Clara Swieczkowska, Mrs. George Jacobs, Mrs. John F. Siefert, Mrs. Henry P. Fischer, and Mrs. Stanley E. Jones.

The volunteers are essentially the same group of women who in the past have sold Christmas Seals at hotels, buildings, theaters, etc.

Other prominent citizens who are backing the Detroit Sanatorium include Frank Cody, Harvey C. Fruehauf, I. Himel-hoch, Frank Gorman, Richard Harfst, Henry D. Sheldon, Wendell Anderson, Capt. R. Thornton Broadhead, Walter E. Otto, Eugene W. Lewis, Paul B. Moody, Ralph S. Lane, J. B. Ford, Jr., and Gene Shaefer.

Dr. Shurly, who is one of the founders of the Sanatorium, appealed for continued support and

Yacht Club Plans For Thanksgiving

Plans are being shaped at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club for the Thanksgiving season which will be ushered in at the club with the games party on Tuesday, Nov. 20. Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 22, will be a family day with dinners served from 12:30 p.m. until 8:30 in the evening, according to Alvin C. Hamer, general entertainment chairman.

November is a full month of activities at the club, what with the Bowlers Open House and informal dancing on Saturday, Nov. 17, and all-color travel pictures, with Aloha Baker, on Sunday evening, Nov. 18, at 8:30 o'clock. The formal dinner and dancing party is to be on Saturday, Nov. 24.

All these events follow on the heels of the bridge-luncheon which took place this past Tuesday in the big lounge of the club. The festivity for the ladies was the final one in a series of three bridge-luncheons staged during the autumn, under the direction of Mrs. Hurd A. Cassil. Mrs. J. Henry Pichler was co-chairman for Tuesday's party.

More than 200 of the feminine contingent attended, with the luncheon time an hour of jolly chat, and bridge play going on through the afternoon to a background of soft music.

Mrs. Fred O. Lepley was hostess at four tables, her guests including Mrs. David Datzell, Mrs. Robert Henkel, Mrs. Russell Lynch, Mrs. Frank C. Barrows, Mrs. Francis Tait, Mrs. William J. Revoldt, Mrs. William D. Laurie, Mrs. E. C. Baumgarten, Mrs. Betty Malcomson, Mrs. A. Bodycombe, Mrs. Frank Andrus, Mrs. D. J. Leithausen, Mrs. F. Jean Little, Mrs. Walker Bennett and Mrs. Harry C. Clarke.

With Mrs. C. H. Longsdorf were Mrs. Roy Ouellette, Mrs. Clarence Dail and Mrs. LeRoy Finkbner; Mrs. Charles E. Machris was hostess to Mrs. James Jacobs, Mrs. Merrill R. Perry and Mrs. Clarence Pinkston, and in Mrs. Marion K. Zwolinski's fourties were Mrs. Charles A. Oostdyk, Mrs. Frank Kuhn and Mrs. Louis A. Wurzer.

Mrs. Walter S. Clark had a table for four, her guests being Mrs. Louis A. Peters, Mrs. J. Gordon Hill and Mrs. Paul Sutherland. Mrs. Gordon J. Birbauer's guests were Mrs. Shirley Georgi, Mrs. J. F. Forster and Mrs. Ralph Tweedale, of Birmingham.

Mrs. C. B. Thomas' guests were Mrs. Robert Draper who, with Mr. Draper, has recently moved here from Toledo and is living on Essex Blvd.; Miss Evelyn McMillan and Mrs. Charles Cress who recently returned here from Manila. She and Mrs. Cress were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas' house guests last week in their home on Whittier road.

Others at the party were Mrs. John H. French, Mrs. Reynaud Font, Mrs. J. Edgar Duncan, Mrs. Charles J. Koebel, Mrs. Herman F. Koestlin, Mrs. Paul Marco, Mrs. H. Murray Northrup, Mrs. W. Harold Lightbody, Mrs. C. R. Austerberry, Mrs. Henry Hopkes, Jr., Mrs. Raymond H. Berry, Mrs. George Schadt, Mrs. Robert P. Scherer, Mrs. Carl Smith and Mrs. Allan A. Wales.

Elizabeth Harris Feted at Parties

Bride-elect Elizabeth G. Harris has scarcely a breathing spell between parties these days as her Nov. 21 wedding to William A. Tarpey nears.

Elizabeth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emery E. Harris, of Buckingham road, and Mr. Tarpey, whose home is Chicago, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William J. Tarpey.

Evelyn Stewart, of the Alden Park Manor, launched pre-nuptial festivities with a luncheon and personal shower. Clara Blank followed through with a crystal shower in her home on Dickerson avenue. Elizabeth was honored by Margaret Bessert, of Lakewood avenue, and feted by Mrs. Kenneth B. Hollidge, of University place, at a bathroom shower.

A miscellaneous shower was arranged by Mrs. Harry Reberdy, of Trombly road, and a linen shower by Mrs. Walter Dauberger, of Harbor drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Harris, of Grayton road, were hosts at a Sunday night supper in their home in honor of the young couple.

Iota Chapter of Sigma Eta Enjoys Program

Iota Chapter of Sigma Eta Sorority members and guests attended an exhibition of Art in Ceramics at the home of Mrs. J. W. Shields, 582 Neff road on November 13. A paper on Ancient Pottery was read by Doris Hesse. Martha Sutton gave information on Identifying Old China and Delight Ross had a paper to read about Snuff Boxes.

The Londos sisters from Grosse Pointe High School furnished a musical program. Adriana played piano solos.

Helen Chamberlain was hostess for the meeting and Delight Ross was chairman.

It's the division between parents that adds up to problem children.

Jane Macauley Weds Capt. E. R. Breech, Jr.

Beautiful Ceremony Is Held in Drawing Room of Grandparents' Home on Lake Shore Road

Down an aisle of white chrysanthemums and lighted tapers, Jane Littlepage Macauley met her bridegroom, Capt. Ernest Robert Breech, Jr., USAAF, before a fern-banked fireplace in the drawing room of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvan Macauley, of Lake Shore road, Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Howard Farrell, of Los Angeles, Cal., and Edward R. Macauley, of Kenwood road, and Ernest is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Breech, of Bloomfield Hills.

The Rev. Warner Forsyth performed the lovely ceremony, for which Jane wore the candlelight satin gown of her sister, Mrs. Marvin L. Bodeen. A graceful oval neckline trimmed in pearls and a full hoop skirt distinguished her dress. The cathedral length heirloom veil of her aunt, Mrs. Alvan Macauley, Jr., fell from a duchesse lace coronet. She carried white orchids and baby azeleas.

Mrs. Bodeen was her sister's matron of honor, and Beverly Whiting, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Their emerald green faille dresses were characterized by decolletage bodices and draped skirts. Matching ostrich plume headresses and bouquets of gold roses and bebe mums completed their costumes.

Best man for the captain was Lieut. William Breech, USAAF, and ushering the guests were Seaman First Class Clifton Rowden, USNR, uncle of the bridegroom, and Capt. Marvin Bodeen, USAAF.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Farrell selected a gown of silver gray satin with a corsage of magenta star orchids. A wine-colored Nettie Rosenstein costume was the choice of Mrs. Breech, who wore a green orchid in her hair. Mrs. Macauley was in du-bonnet taffeta with a corsage of matching orchids.

After a reception for the family and close friends, the young couple left for their wedding trip to Quebec. The new Mrs. Breech, Jr. pinned the orchids from her bridal bouquet to a light wool suit of royal blue. The captain and his bride will make their home in Bloomfield Hills.

Nancy Robinson Becomes Bride

In a simple afternoon ceremony Saturday, Nancy Dolores Robinson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Cooper Robinson, of St. Clair avenue, spoke her nuptial vows to Warrant Officer (jg) James W. Sneed, son of Mrs. Louis Sneed, of Richmond, Va., and the late James W. Sneed.
Phyllis Mengal, the bride's roommate at Christian College, Columbia, Mo., was maid of honor in a gown of copper crepe. Nancy Lee Sneed, the bridegroom's sister, and Patricia Ann Jetter, the bride's cousin, served as bridesmaids. Aqua jersey formed their dresses. They wore coronets of bebe mums and tea roses and carried matching bouquets.
The bride selected robes of white satin, fashioned with long sleeves, a corselet waistline and extremely full skirt. A coronet of pearls topped her fingertip veil, and her shower bouquet was of white camellias.
M. C. Rucker, of San Antonio,

Tex., was best man for Jim, and guests were seated by Frank McCarthy, of Chicago, Ill., and John J. Flanagan, of Philadelphia, Pa.
Dr. and Mrs. Cooper honored the young couple at a reception in the Detroit Yacht Club after the wedding service. Following a short honeymoon trip, the warrant officer and his bride will make their home on Van Dyke until early 1946, when they will head for Los Angeles, Calif.

With the Boys

LIEUT. (j.g.) ROBERT JAMES GELDART, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Geldart of 2081 Beaufait, Grosse Pointe Woods, is home on a thirty day leave. Lieutenant

Geldart has been in service four years. As a member of the Navy Air Corps he participated in both the Mediterranean and Pacific campaigns and wears the Distinguished Flying Cross with two stars and the Air Medal with nine stars. He was a Helicot Fighter Pilot. At the end of his leave he will report to Norfolk, Va., where he will be assigned as an instructor in instrument flying.

LIEUT. P. V. HEFTLER, Park village attorney until he entered the Navy, expects to be out of the service within the next few months, according to a letter from his new station. He may now be reached at ASDevLant, U. S. Navy Section Base, Key West, Fla.

PFC. JOHN I. SHIELDS, who was graduated from Grosse Pointe High in 1943, has recently been assigned to the editorial staff of the Beach-head News as a feature writer. He was formerly with the 547th Field Artillery. The Beach-head News is a daily paper with a circulation of 24,000 that is published for the Seventh Army at Esslinger, Germany. The paper received its name from the beach at Anzio, Italy, where it was founded.

BAINBRIDGE, Md.—WILFRED ARTHUR STAUB, AS, has been honorably discharged from naval service at the separation center, Bainbridge, Maryland.

Staub, who was last stationed at Temple Medical School in Philadelphia, Penn., has been in military service 22 months.

His father, E. Elmer Staub, lives at 912 Berkshire road, Grosse Pointe Park, Mich.

John Bartemeier Fatally Stricken

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Paul's Church on Lake Shore road, for John A. Bartemeier, 19, of 87 Cloverly road. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Young Bartemeier died Friday in Harper Hospital following a brief illness. Born in Detroit, he was a Grosse Pointe High School student and had just been released after serving 10 months in the Navy. He was a member of Lambda Sigma fraternity. He is survived by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Leo H. Bartemeier, and two sisters, Mary and Katharine.

Woods Councilman Suggests Abandonment of Bus Route

Ever since the early days of the war the bus company has been running its buses which serve the Woods village area out Mack, south on Vernier to Marter, on Marter to Brys drive, thence to Mack and return. Formerly the buses ran out Mack and returned.

At the meeting of the Woods Council a week ago Tuesday Councilman Arthur Post proposed that the bus company now be required to return to its old route. This would deprive the residents along Vernier and on Marter and Brys drive of a convenience they have come to greatly appreciate during the operation of the war time route. In many cases it is alleged they would be compelled to walk in winter weather as much as three quarters of a mile to get a bus.

What prompted Mr. Post to propose the change back to the old route was not clear, but the proposal is certain to meet with ardent opposition from many affected residents. When Councilman Post's suggestion for the change in bus route was first proposed there was the presumption on the part of some that the idea had originated with the bus company itself. It was thought that the bus company, desiring to revert to its old pre-war route, preferred that the proposal should originate in the village rather than come on its own motion.

This method might obviate much criticism from the large number of citizens living out Vernier road and Marter road who will be inconvenienced if the bus facilities are taken away from them.

Later it was learned that the proposal did not originate with the bus company. It is entirely willing to continue the service on the present route, knowing that it serves a large number who otherwise will be left stranded midway between the Lake Shore and Mack avenue lines and be compelled to walk a considerable distance both in going and returning between their homes and places of business.

It is certain that if Mr. Post's proposal reaches the stage where it threatens to result in a change of bus routes from the present course there will be a strong protest arise from the by-passed citizenry.

Wrong Lot Gets Scraped

Ralph C. Wilson of 70 Balfour road reported to the Park police that three men were taking black dirt from a lot adjoining his property, which he had been using for a victory garden the past season. Mr. Wilson knew the plot would be small use for garden purposes with the rich top soil removed.

The police investigation revealed that the men were getting dirt for a citizen who lives in another section of town and had scraped the top of the wrong lot. The lot belongs to the Westchester Land company and when the matter was reported to it and the error explained, the company decided to take no action. Neither did Mr. Wilson, who had only a gardener's interest in the matter.

Lieut. Edward Hickey Murphy, 29, pilot of a Flying Fortress, who was reported as missing in action over Germany last April 1, was killed on that mission, the War Department has notified his mother, Mrs. William C. Roney, of 44 Provencal road, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Lieutenant Murphy enlisted in March 1943 while a student at U. of D. High School. He had been on eight combat missions before his death.

He was one of three boys in the family in service. His twin is Lieut. Fred Murphy; a step-brother is Corp. William C. Roney. There are also two sisters, Mary Louise Murphy and Mrs. Walter Auch, the former Cynthia Murphy. He was also a nephew of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Hickey of the Detroit Catholic Diocese.

Veteran's Gift Is Single Shoe

"They Gave—Will You?" has been the slogan used in the 1945 Community War Chest campaign and from New York comes the story of a veteran who impressed the meaning of this slogan on the minds of everyone there. A single black shoe for a left foot arrived in a box one day at the Veterans Service Center, a New York War Chest agency.

After calling the store from which it had been sent, the director learned that the shoe had been sent at the request of a veteran, an amputee who had lost his left leg in action. "There's bound to be a guy coming in there who needs it for what I don't have any more." Then he smiled, "I hope it will be the right size." This veteran is one of those who gave. It is still not too late for you to give to your Community War Chest.

KID BITS

By BETSY BACHMANN
D. U. S. practically went wild over the Cranbrook football victory. Friday night John Walton, threw a big stag party to celebrate the whole affair. A few of the guys who showed up were Charley Morris, Art Marschner, Artie Davis, Johnny O'Hair and Bill Ghesquiere.

The same night there was a super Liggett class party going on over at Kiki Jackson's. The gang of chattering females included Julie Marshall, Izzie Baxter, Punky Bryant, Cubby Rockleman, Joyce Crawford, 'n' Sue Casper, just to mention a few.

Saturday morning, bright and early, saw mobs of girls from Liggett, Country Day, Convent, Lawrence Avenue, and Kingswood out on the D. U. S. athletic field. Reason? The Annual Play Day, of course. The Convent took the prize for the best hockey team this year. Some of the girls who were tops among the players were Martha Johnson, Lee McMahon, Jean Gray, Patty Lovejoy, Sue O'Leary, 'n' Kay Ballantyne.

A mob of kids rushed out to Port Huron for the Grosse Pointe High football game. A few of the G. P. rooters were Margie Bell, Flo Mitchie, Joe Kennedy, Chuck Quarstrom, Dick 'n' Ray Shumann and Pat Breon.

Celebrating their Play Day hockey victory, the Convent hockey team gathered at Ann Haggerty's home Saturday night for dinner. Janice Olivier was there, along with Sut Fitzsimmons, Ann Stringer, Joan and Jane Taylor, Doris Zimmerman, and Barbara Keim.

After the Country Club dance last Saturday, the gang trotted over to Joyce Mulkey's. Some of 'em were Joyce 'n' Ronnie Alor, Lois McKinley 'n' Jim Corfield, Annie Wedhoff 'n' Lee Middle-ditch, Pat McKean 'n' Johnny Femberthy, Carol McPherson 'n' Bill Wood and Sally Waters 'n' Dave Robb.

There were also big doings over at the high-school the same night with the Hag Dance in full swing. The happy crowd included Mary Thorn, Dan Deck, Bunny Kitson, Dan LaFerte, Joanne Russell, Stan Ainsley and Annie Wake-man and Bill Halliday. Frannie Kretschmar, Johnny Boydell, El-lie Hewitt, Earl Lapp, Annie Davis and Ed Lopy were seen watching Mr. Stafford play "Hong Kong Blues" during intermission. Ted Ostus was only one of the ten lucky boys who had a prize winning corsage. His was made by his date, Lois Buck. The hag line was made up of Alma Larson, Doris Buser, Libby Powell, Andy Klingbeil and many more.

Annie Leiminger's open house was the special event after the dance. Some of the kids who were watching Annie's date, Bob Vetter, play the piano, were Joanie Williams 'n' Bob Brinker, Nancy Dal-rymple 'n' Bill Drew, Sue Hughes 'n' Tom Mercier, Carolyn Orr 'n' Dave Kaiser and Mickey Smiley 'n' Bob Beaupre.

A lot of guys were home on leave last week-end. Some of the gang were Tom Blacklock, Johnny Boydell, Willis Beard, Frank Levenseller, Chuck Standish, Bill Casteel and Dick Shumann.

Guess that's about all for this week, but don't forget the Oars-man's Ball next Wednesday, or the Tuxis Shipwreck Shuffle on November 23.

It seems the Pierce guys and gals are giving the parties now-adays . . . one of these being at Bey Martin's abode down on Bea-consfield. Some of the kids around for the scavenger hunt and dancing and such will be LeRoy Johnson 'n' Carol Krause, Carl Schweikart 'n' Joyce Slack, Don Vanderbush 'n' Ruthie Becher-er, Skip Downey, 'n' Helen Reed, Noel Melville 'n' Madge Winter, Ford Slater 'n' Susie Mair, and Jimmy Martin 'n' Sally Shep-ler. Bev's date for the evening will be Rog Ellis.

KISS of DEATH

By LAWRENCE RANDALL As Told to Mary Madison

SYNOPSIS OF THE STORY SO FAR

Coming home to Grosse Pointe, brilliant young publicist

LARRY RANDALL finds Grosse Pointe shocked by the sensational death of the girl he loves and idealizes.

MIRANDA AMES, fabulous beauty and heiress of the world's greatest motor fortune, Consolidated Motors, with her stepmother,

FAY AMES, a champagne blonde with a colorful past. LARRY RANDALL is assigned to suppress publicity on the murder by

CORNELIUS DUNN, public relations counsel for Consolidated Motors, directing the case from New York, and sending ace detective

GUY ZINGLER to aid Grosse Pointe police solve the crime, in charge of

LIEUTENANT CARROLL, homicide expert, who shows LARRY the exhibits found by MIRANDA'S body on the pier of The Grosse Pointe Golf Club.

1) match folder from The Plaza Hotel. 2) spilled face powder of unknown brand. 3) a wine menu with the autograph of the big name band leader Jock Pendleton and 4) a string of $50,000 pearls on MIRANDA'S body. LARRY vows to kill the killer. At the Lakeshore Drive estate of FAY AMES, LARRY finds her with

ROGER BROOKS, the aimless, aristocratic fiancee of MIRANDA.

DON MONACO, a hand-kissing clarinet player of noble ancestry. And MISS SNEED, the gaunt old family retainer who was MIRANDA'S former governess. The cadaverous MISS SNEED startles LARRY in the act of taking a sample of FAY AMES' face powder, as FAY enters and claims her powder case. A morbid atmosphere seems to haunt the magnificent menage of the Ames estate.

IMOGENE GARDNER, coy charming crook whom LARRY finds has engaged a room next to the detective to carry on some mysterious scheme.

A VANISHING PORTRAIT

When I got out to the Grosse Pointe police station the corridors and press room were crawling with newspapermen and photographers.

I wriggled through the halls to Lieutenant Carroll's office. Carroll's customarily affable face bore a set, harried cleared-for-action expression.

He had a stack of newly typed papers in his hand. He said, "I'm taking these statements to the press."

He handed me one of the briefly typed sheets. I picked it up, following him out of the room, trying to keep up with his Atlas stride down the corridor as I read the paper. It stated tersely that Miranda Ames' body had been found Sunday morning on the pier of the Grosse Pointe Golf Club.

Death, which had been instantaneous, had been due to cerebral concussion. A police investigation was underway to determine whether the death was accidental or homicidal. The department would keep the press informed of the progress of the investigation.

There were none of the usual clues-being-followed-or-an-arrest-is-imminent clauses that enables a reporter to hold his head up and his job down.

"Split the case wide open for them, haven't you?" I said. "They'll be frothing at this thimbleful of news that they know already."

"Can't say I blame them," Carroll conceded, "but I can't add anything to it. The Chief dictated it."

"But the reporters out at the club have surely been able to pry some of the story out of the servants by this time, a different version to each reporter."

"Can't help that either. These are Clancy's orders, and orders are orders. It shouldn't bother you, Larry. I thought you were being paid by Fay Ames, via Dunn, to post the Private-Keep-Out-Signs on this crime."

"I suppose I'm also being paid not to let a chambermaid's nightmare of the Miranda Ames' murder, as told to Flash Corbett, get billboarded across the front page."

We were at the press room. Carroll smiled tightly. "Wait till you hear the ovation I get." After a few moments of static silence,

Carroll strode out of the press room. "Well," I commented, "they just stood by and gave you two minutes of silent curses, eh? Did you get my note with the sample of Fay Ames' face powder that I liked?"

"Yes, I turned it in for chemical analysis with the powder I scooped up on the dock. I happen to believe that powder was spilled at or about the time of the murder, not during the night by some casual stroller. You see, there was a heavy dew and if the powder had been dropped before the dew fell, it would have been slightly damp. It was dry when I scooped it up."

"At what time have they placed the death?" I asked.

"Between four and four forty five a.m.," said Carroll.

Back in his office, he slumped into his chair and pitched a meditative elbow on the desk.

"Listen, Randall, I know you're more interested in putting the rush on this crime than putting the criminal behind bars. That's Dunn's method and you're probably a gyp off the old block. It so happens that in this particular case, your method plays right into our hands."

"You're on the inside, Randall. You can get hold of more really significant facts than the routine police where-were-you-at-what-time investigation can produce. Now, don't get me wrong, I'm not trying to sign you up for a homing stool pigeon for the police. I just think we can work together to our mutual advantage."

"Right," I agreed.

"This caddy at the Grosse Pointe Golf Club, Birdie Maclean," he went on, "seems to me to be the most reliable and disinterested witness we've come across. Emory, the club manager said the kid is well thought of by the members. They've nicknamed him Birdie, because he shoots all the 'birdie' scores on the eleventh hole—the ravine hole where the members lose their golf balls and their tempers. I don't play golf but I know a 'birdie' score is below par. Now this Maclean kid makes a bouncing little business of getting up at dawn, dragging the golf balls out of the creeks in the ravine, and good naturedly selling the golf balls back to the players who lost them, at a profit. Most of the time the players can get the balls with their own initials on them. They all like him. Get a wallop out of the boy. Think he's an ambitious little like."

"Here's the kid's story. He sleeps in a cottage near the caddy house. One of the group of these cottages beyond the grove at the side of the club."

I nodded. "I know their location. The grove leads down to the terrace that in turn leads to the pier."

Carroll ripped open a fresh package of cigarettes. "The Maclean kid is an early riser as we know. He says that on Saturday night he went to bed much later than usual because he sat up with

Pointers Invited to Beautiful New Store

This past week a new advertiser, the Pioneer Furniture Company made its initial appearance in the pages of the Grosse Pointe News. Pictured above is the beautiful building housing this establishment, known as the "home of lovely furniture."

"Was it a swing tune?" I asked. Carroll said, "Birdie says it was being whistled slowly and with a lot of feeling. A song with a lot of tune in it. That's the way he puts it."

"Doesn't sound like swing, though of course any song or aria can be hyped up into swing," Carroll exhaled irritably. "I haven't any ear for music. I've got an eye for music at musical shows but that's as far as I go. I would be stopped in a case that requires me to go out and bring in 'The Lost Chord.'"

"I said, 'I think something's got you there, Carroll. Now all we have to do is have all the songs from the classics, the operas, the musical comedies, movie scores, radio parades and record albums run off and whistled for young Birdie Maclean until he recognizes the tune. Maybe we ought to rent a broadcasting station and go into eclipse for a week.'"

"That," summed up Carroll, "is the musical angle. Think you can do anything with it, Randall?"

"I'll try to strike up a little close harmony for you, Carroll, but it sounds rather hopeless to me."

"Next," continued Carroll, "comes the boat business. And that's bad business. One of the traffic squad saw an empty speedboat drifting at the head of Belle Isle. He thought some suicide might have jumped from it. The river patrol went out for it. It turns out to be a boat marked Grosse Pointe Golf Club, one of the small speedboats the club keeps moored to the pier to accommodate incoming yachting parties and members wanting to get out to their yachts."

"You think the drifting boat indicates someone might have murdered Miranda and escaped by the water route, eh?"

"From the lake front," he says, "from the terraces that lead down to the pier."

"And what was the tune being whistled?"

"That," sighed Carroll, "is the rub. He says he's heard the tune before, but he can't place it. We've got to find out what that tune was, Larry. If the person who was whistling it is addicted to it, he's bound to whistle it again. You know how it is when you get a melody on your mind. You can't get rid of it. You keep humming or whistling it subconsciously."

"Maybe it wasn't a tune that was haunting the whistler. Maybe it was a prearranged signal. I put in, 'Would the kid recognize the tune if he heard it again?'"

"He says he's certain he would. He's got a good ear for music. It was the shock of finding Miranda's body when he went out, and all the uproar that followed it that wiped the tune out of his mind."

"Seems likely. What has me down is that they may have driven the speedboat across the lake to the Canadian shore, without being seen landing at dawn; set the boat adrift and be out of jurisdiction by now."

"But he'd be deported for illegal entry into Canada, wouldn't he?" I inquired. "They'd send him back. Sometimes Brittaina waives the rules."

Adler Reports at First Hand From Poland

The story of Poland destroyed and rising again is the gist of Philip A. Adler's first hand reports. Mr. Adler finds Warsaw 80% destroyed but not without hope; inflation rampant but being gradually brought under control. He notes the strange contrasts of stores filled with articles not even to be seen in London and Paris, but not a vestige of transportation visible. He tries to find old friends and finds them vanished without trace; whole streets and sections have disappeared and with them 12 millions of Poland's population. You will want to read these articles for the eye-witness information they contain about what happened to Poland under the Nazis; what is happening today and what may be expected in the future, for as Mr. Adler points out, on Poland depends the peace and welfare of all Central Europe.

Unexpected Defeat Handed Grosse Pointe High

Port Huron Capitalizes on Over-confidence of Local Eleven and Scores a 12-7 Upset

An over-confident Grosse Pointe football team traveled all the way to Port Huron to have its collective ears pinned back by a scrapping Port Huron team which wasn't scared by the fact that Grosse Pointe a week previously had held a strong Fordson team to a scoreless tie.

To most of the Blue Devil squad it was just a nice joy ride up to the city of the Blue Water Bridge and they believed all they had to do was put on their uniforms and trot on the gridiron and the game was in the bag.

This illusion was quickly shattered early in the first quarter when Port Huron, headed by its amazing John Hazley, a colored halfback who is definitely slated for All-State mention, smashed its way to the Blue Devil 12 yard line with Hazley toting the ball on most of the plays. Hazley smashed at the center of the Pointers' forward wall and was fumbled on the 5 yard line and the ball danced crazily into the end zone for an automatic touch-downed to his own 33 yard line. Port Huron was penalized 10 yards on the first play, back to the Blue Devil 43, then found a stubborn, desperate team trying to regain poise on the next three plays and it was unable to gain an inch. Grosse Pointe's second break came on Harry Garman's quick smash through the Port Huron forward wall to block a fourth down punt which he recovered on the Blue Devils' 43 yard line.

Heart Breaker

Grosse Pointe began to roll with Garman making two first downs in quick succession on line smashes of 11 and 12 yards respectively. Ed Isbey took up rushing chores on the next play when he swept right end for 21 yards to the Port Huron 13 for another first down. The march was stopped on the following three plays but on fourth down Ed Isbey flipped a beautiful pass to Dick Wuerker, who was standing in the end zone all alone, but he dropped the ball which would have tied the score. Port Huron took over on its own 13. Hazley and company wasted no time getting the ball away from the Port Huron goal line when Hazley smashed to the 22 then tossed a pass to end Balogh who was tackled on the Grosse Pointe 46 by George Hubbard as the half ended.

At the start of the second half both teams were determined to score with Port Huron having the first opportunity; but a fumble by Callahan on the Blue Devils' 39 was recovered by Don McPhail, which nullified a beautiful run back of the second half kickoff by Hazley to the Devils' 48. Marty Beer got into the open on the first play and rambled 30

ST. JAMES LUTHERAN

"Juvenile Delinquency" will be the sermon subject of the Rev. George E. Kurz next Sunday, November 18, at St. James Lutheran church of Grosse Pointe, the service starting at 11 a. m. in the Punch and Judy theatre. The Sunday school meets at 9:45 a. m.

This week St. James church is uniting with other Lutheran congregations throughout the nation in observing Christian education week, the culmination of which will be next Sunday, when there will be "open houses" at the Sunday school, parents being invited to visit the classes of their children. Others are invited to attend the pastor's adult Bible class, which meets at 10 a. m. in the lounge. All parents, in turn, are encouraged to take their children with them to the church service.

The meeting of the Lutheran Laymen's League on Tuesday, November 20, will begin at 8:30 p. m. with a fellowship dinner at the home of Harold Rieth, 317 McMillan. The men of the congregation who have thus far been honorably discharged from the armed forces, will be the guests of honor at this dinner. The principle speaker will be William F. Fenske, who will address the men on the subject: "My Church and the Lutheran Hour".

SALEM MEMORIAL
Salem and its branch church will join in the nation-wide American Lutheran Evangelical campaign to make an official survey of their new territory. The survey will take the form of a religious census, which will take place within the next two weeks.

St. James Church to Present Sacred Thanksgiving Cantata

St. James Lutheran Church will present a Thanksgiving Cantata at 11 o'clock Thanksgiving morning, November 22, in the Punch and Judy Theatre.

Pointers Hear Baha'i Speaker

"Before every civilization has collapsed, there has appeared a Prophet from God to warn the people of the impending disaster and to reveal the Divine Laws for a new civilization", said Mr. Arnold Ketels, of Marysville, Michigan, addressing an audience of Baha'is and friends last Thursday evening. "Just as Moses appeared before the collapse of the Egyptian civilization, and Christ came before the fall of Rome, and Noah came before the flood, so Baha'u'llah appeared before the beginning of this world upheaval.

It matters less what be my part Than that, in all, I give my heart.

George Kurz between parts and 2. The public is cordially invited and the Thanksgiving offering will be turned over to the building fund for the new church.

Pastor Kurz said: "In this year of our Lord in which peace has come and hostilities have ceased on both sides of the globe, what could be more fitting on Thanksgiving Day than such a service of praise and thanksgiving and adoration through sacred song to the Giver of Peace and all other good gifts."

Strangers Take Advantage Of Clubhouse Hospitality

The Alger Club management, in the timely aid of the Grosse Pointe city police made short lift of a couple of strangers who came into the club late in afternoon a few days ago proceeded to make a general sance of themselves.

The parties were strangers but ne in with one of the club mbers. They started a casino osome and before long one of m was raising a great hulla-oo, claiming that the other l cheated him out of $200. The was so well staged that the rieved party even pulled out small pocket knife and threat- ed a major surgical operation the other.

The club members standing t Parade and Classical RECORDS Albums or Singles Radio Checked and Repaired Service Prompt and Reasonable Work is Guaranteed! HARPER-VOGUE RADIO SERVICE 1945 Harper TU. 1-2880 about were inclined to think the scene was phoney, but decided to take no chances when the act had progressed to the knife stage, so called the City police. What inclined them to believe the ruckus might be serious was the fact that both men obviously had been drinking.

The police hustled the pair over to the police station and over further questioning the injured party said his companion had cheated him out of $50, but on continued queries dropped his loses down to $12. The police think it might have been $2 and that the whole scene was staged in the hope that the club might give them a premium to leave and say nothing about it.

But it didn't turn out that way. The police told them to clear out and not show their faces in the Pointe again, and the club management said if they ever appeared at the club they would be booted out.

Vincent Sheehan Visits Cousin After Giving Town Hall Lecture

By FRED RANNELLS Vincent Sheehan, lecturer, soldier and war correspondent for the past 20 years, took time off to be guest of honor at a family get-together at the home of his cousin, Hugh J. Sheehan of McMillan road, on November 7. Mr.

VINCENT SHEEHAN

Sheehan was the speaker at a Town Hall meeting at the Fisher theater earlier in the day.

The last 20 years of Sheehan's life have been filled with the smell of gunpowder, starting with the Rif War and ending with World War II as a war correspondent. When your reporter asked him to tell of some of his experiences in his latest adventure, he just shrugged his shoulders and said, "There are lots of youngsters returning home these days that saw a lot more action than I did."

At the outbreak of World War II he joined up with the 12th and 20th Air Forces in India and China and spent several months with these units. In 1944 he was discharged from the Army and proceeded to Belgium to see how the other side of the war was going. Sheehan was an Intelligence Officer with General Patton's 3rd army, the largest the United States has ever assembled. This assignment lasted until the spring of 1945 when he returned to the United States to report the progress of the United Nations Conference in San Francisco for the National Broadcasting Company's Blue Network.

Since hostilities have ceased Sheehan has started on a lecture tour which will take him to most of the major cities of the nation with the tour ending in California in February.

He will lecture to Town Halls, universities, leagues of women voters, private forums and churches on the War and the Peace. Universities will hear about 25 percent of his lectures. He likes to lecture college students because they are more responsive and ask a lot of questions.

His next stop will be the University of Indiana and from there the University of Cincinnati.

Child Psychology Class to Start

A class in child psychology for mothers of pre-school and elementary age youngsters sponsored by the Richard school and Adult education department of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools will be organized Wednesday afternoon, November 28, at the Richard school, located on McKinley at Kercheval. Mrs. Helen Sherman will be the leader. The class will meet from 2 to 3:30 p. m.

The purpose of this class is to give understanding to parents so they can help their children grow into self-reliant, friendly and considerate adults. Practical methods of discipline, sex education and personality development will be discussed.

There will be four meetings before Christmas and eight after the holidays. All interested parents are invited to join this group.

Call NI. 2000, ext. 25 for information and class reservations.

Good Points and Bad

by RAY HENRY

Tales & Comment THE NARCOTIC SQUAD is spreading its net over the East Side in an effort to combat the marijuana menace. Especially intense will be concentration on spots frequented by the 'teen-age group.

LYNN LAVIS, former grounds manager of the Country Club, has been appointed the new coordinator of parks and conservation for Michigan. During the war years Lynn landscaped Willow Run.

One reason DICK FRANKENSTEIN wasn't elected mayor of Detroit was the opposition from the home team. The Union circulated notices among shop men advising them not to vote for Frankenstein . . . that he was using their money while mis-using their interests.

The former ration board quarters on Fisher road are being made over into a brand new tea room.

We'd like to win the two round-trip tickets to Florida by plane . . . grand prize offered by Grosse Pointe Rotary at its Feather Party on Monday, November 19, at the Neighborhood Club. There will even be hotel reservations waiting at Fort Lauderdale for the lucky winner.

To our Aches and Canes department, add two more casualties. HAZEL FERRIS of Oak street stubbed her toe on the kitchen table. Thought she broke it, but the doctor settled for a bruise and put her toe in a pousseslipper. Another tale turned AMELIA MARSACK collided with one in the dining room and sprained an ankle.

Something new has been added to the marital bliss of the HARVEY LA DUKES. A five-pound baby girl arrived last Thursday—their first. The La Dukes have been married 15 years.

And a bay girl arrived at the NEIL S. McEACHINS on Hillcrest. The new baby makes six for Mildred and Mac.

Showman

TOM MURRAY, local mixologist, worries the life out of the patrons where he tends bar. Instead of putting his cigaret on an ash tray between puffs, he puts it behind his ear. Patrons watch the lighted cigaret with bated breath, expecting to see Tom burn . . . but Tom has never singed a hair nor burnt an ear in the many years he has smoked this year. A "mixologist," incidentally, is more than just a fancy name for bartender. It's earned by schooling and rates a diploma. A mixologist produces cocktails or collins in a matter of seconds.

Endeavor

LT. CMDR. ALLEN F. EDWARDS, JR. fights the housing problem as resolutely as he did the war. Back in town with his wife and tiny son, Alleny III—only male grandchild of the Edwards clan . . . Allen decided he would like to live on Neff road. He secured a list of ALL home owners on Neff and proceeded, house by house, to interview them; and learned, owner by owner, that there were NO vacancies on the street. The pity of it is that such intrepidity goes unrewarded—for the junior Edwards are still living with the senior Edwards on Lothrop. While stationed in Philadelphia, Allen's initiative—in another venture—proved more successful. He wanted to do some pleasure flying without benefit of his Navy pay. He wrote three articles on the Sensations of Flying. All were accepted by a leading magazine, and the check

Cleanup Drive Is Successful

Oak Street Plot Again Carries Off Top Honors Among Gardeners

A survey of the gardens in the Park, City and Farms since the "Clean-Up" Drive shows a splendid spirit of cooperation on the part of both the private and community plot gardeners. Though not a complete response, the greater majority removed corn stalks, tomato vines and papers from their land as requested.

Ork Street again carried off honors among the community plots with a practically 100 per cent clean-up. Kerby and Radnor in the Farms rated second and third. In the City, the gardeners on the big Cadieux-Kercheval plot did the best job in that district, and in the Park the Cadieux-Kercheval plot rated highest. All community plot gardeners who have not removed corn stalks and tomato vines are requested to do so.

To the many citizens of the Park, City Farms, and Shores who have cooperated so wholeheartedly in the "Clean-Up," and have so greatly improved the appearance of the four municipalities, and to the Victory Gardeners and the municipal officials wish to express their thanks.

City's Pension Plan Certified

The Grosse Pointe City Retirement system for employees, which was approved by the voters at the municipal elections on Nov. 6 by a six to one vote, was certified to the Secretary of State at Lansing and to the County Clerk in Detroit by Norbert P. Neff, Clerk of Grosse Pointe City, on November 9.

Thirty days from that date it becomes officially recognized. The pension system will go into effect at the beginning of the City's next fiscal year, which starts April 1, 1946.

Angel

MRS. J. C. MURPHY of Fisher road makes a real melt-in-your-mouth angel food cake. STAN FERRIS, absent from the Esquire theater building because of illness, was presented with one this week and will testify to the goodness of both the cake—and Mrs. Murphy. Many a G.I. share them at the frequent Sunday parties for servicemen given at the Punch and Judy Cocktail Lounge. It takes 12 eggs to make each cake.

New Mail Boxes

WAR'S END brings a change in address to the E. PAUL JAHNKES. They left the Pointe for Cincinnati where bigger and better things beckon. With them went friends, the IRVIN DECKERTS, the CHARLES CLARKS of Maryland avenue will soon move to Indianapolis where Chuck has taken on a bigger job. BILL DELBRIDGE and Hendrie lane and his Chicago bride are doing their first year's post war living in the Windy City. And HUGH CLARK of St. Clair, also married to a charming Chicago girl, is starting his home and fortune there.

Epitaph

We pause a moment in deep respect at the passing of composed, JEROME KERN. To his memory, his song creations will remain an endless requiem. We'll be humming them always . . . the unforgettable tunes from "Show Boat" and "Roberta" . . . and many others.

Patriotic Props Are Used By High Pressure Salesmen

Already high pressure salesmen who make a play on the patriotic sentiments of the home civilians have begun to appear in the Pointe.

One day last week one such appeared at the home of Mrs. Norman Nichols at 1021 Notting-ham and tried to pressure her into buying a mahogany plaque bearing the insignia of the United States Army and conspicuously displayed on its face the name of one of her four soldier sons. Mrs. Nichols was not impressed either with the merchandise nor the methods of the salesman and refused to become interested. She reported the incident to the police, who by checking back on their records found that no such party had been licensed to do business in the village.
