City of Grosse Pointe's Salvage Plant Damaged by Fire

FIRE, BELIEVED CAUSED by a short circuit which developed when a truck backed into an electric wire box, broke out in the plant on Warren avenue about 7:30 Monday night. Fire fighting equipment from Detroit and the City of Grosse Pointe fought the blaze, which did damage estimated at about $3,500.

Farms Group Seeks Zoning Law Changes

Objects to Establishment of Lumber Business on Mack Avenue at Touraine

Objections to the erection of a lumber storage and sales building on Mack avenue at Touraine were voiced on November 30 at a special meeting of the Farms zoning committee, by members of the Grosse Pointe Farms Property Owners Association. The association also asks drastic revision of the present zoning laws of the village.

Application to erect the lumber establishment for retail business has been made by and granted to Cornelius Kocky. The association members contend that "a lumber yard would be obnoxious and an eyesore besides depreciating values of surrounding homes." They have asked council to revise the zoning laws.

The village zoning committee, composed of William G. Kirby, chairman; and R. Gervays Grylls, with Village President James K.

PROGRAM HALTED
A shortage of steel needed for highway bridges, which will become even more acute if the threatened strike in the steel industry materializes, and general uncertainty of the material-labor market, have caused Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler to report the State Highway Department will not take bids for any of the jobs on its great post-war construction program until at least after January 1.

It's An Epidemic; Woods To Have Own Taxi Service

Following the example of Grosse Pointe City, the Woods village is going to have a local taxicab service also.

At the council meeting Tuesday night, permission was given to Harvey Allen, who lives at 21801 Telegraph road, to start such a service. There was a general agreement by the whole council that a local taxi service was desirable. Personal auto travel in the Woods, as with all of the rest of the Pointe, has been greatly handicapped by the lack of public facilities. This has been especially acute during the war period.

Fire Damages City Salvage Plant; Detroit and Pointe Firemen Extinguish Blaze

Total Loss Is Estimated at $3,500 as Waste Paper, Rags and Cardboard Burn and Press Is Damaged

The salvage plant owned by the City of Grosse Pointe at 18160 Warren avenue, Detroit, in the rear of Radnor, was seriously damaged by a fire that broke out about 7:30 o'clock Monday night.

The City employes had left the plant about 4:45 in the afternoon and the fire was discovered by a neighbor who turned in the alarm to the Detroit fire department. Later the Grosse Pointe firemen were apprised of the fire and took over until it was completely extinguished about 10 o'clock.

Neil Blondell, the City Assessor and in charge of the salvaging operations estimates that the loss amounted to about $3,500. This was represented in damage to the smaller of the two presses used at the plant and the contents which at the time were estimated to have about 25 tons of waste paper, 3 1/2 tons of rags and six tons of corrugated paper.

The place was fully insured, including contents.

The probable cause of the fire was the bending of the electric conduit by one of the City's own trucks backing into it and breaking the insulation on the wires leading to the control box, resulting in a short circuit. It was noted that these wires were white hot when the firemen first arrived.

The plant is located on the plot of land which the City is about to sell to the Augustinian Order for a site for a high school and as its tenure of the place would be brief, Mayor Netting has given orders for only such temporary repairs to be made as will permit its continued functioning for a brief period.

Mr. Blondell estimates that in five years of wartime operation of the plant it has salvaged about ten million pounds of vital war materials. These have included paper, rags, tin, rubber, and all kinds of metal scraps. The plant was built in 1936.

A strange man went into the caretaker's office at the Lochmoor Golf Club at 8 o'clock Monday night and started to engage the custodian in some nondescript conversation. While the aimless talk was going on, the caretaker thought he heard some suspicious sounds in the basement. While calling the police, his visitor vanished.

The police found that parties, figured from tracks about the premises to have been two men and a woman, had been operating in the basement, where they had moved the club's liquor cache to a window leading out of the rear of the place, where a car had been parked.

The thieves got no liquor, but they did get away.

Construction Watchers Pelt Driver With Clay

Mrs. L. A. Hittel of 258 McKinley road, told Farms police that when she stopped her car at the stop sign at Ridge and McKinley on November 30, some youngsters who were playing around the sewer construction project there, threw a chunk of clay at her car.

The car window was down and the clay struck her in the neck, Mrs. Hittel told the police. Needless to say, there were no boys around when an investigation was made.

SET GARAGE SIZES
In the consideration of the pending building code for the Woods village at the Council meeting Tuesday night, it was decided that a garage attached to a dwelling might be built to cover 500 square feet, but that if it was to be built under the house the size would be restricted to 400 square feet.

Tire Thieves Abandon Car Full of Loot

Sixteen Officers Beat Bushes Seeking Pair After Seizing Auto in Woods

Woods patrolmen Albert Abend and Roy Tobian, cruising in their scout car at 4:45 o'clock Monday morning, observed a car on Helen near Hunt Club drive. They were suspicious.

They could see a couple of colored men in the car and signalled it to stop. Instead, the occupants stepped on it and the officers gave chase. They fired several revolver shots and a moment later the two occupants jumped from the car and lost themselves in the high weeds and brush in the area bounded by Mack and Seven Mile and Harper.

They found in the car, an old 1936 Ford model, fourteen brand new tires.

An alarm was sent out on the police radio and soon a group of sixteen police and sheriffs, representing the Farms, St. Clair Shores, Detroit police, the Sheriff's office and Gratiot township were beating the bushes. They kept up the hunt for several hours but without result.

About 10 a.m. it was learned that the tires had been stolen from the Marathon Tire Service at 20700 Harper in Gratiot. The thieves had entered the place by cutting a hole through the roof of the service station.

The car was registered in the name of Clyde Taylor, a colored man living at 2474 Beaubien, Detroit. He was taken in charge by the Wayne County Sheriff's office and is still detained. He denies having been one of the thieves and says his car was stolen several days ago, but there is no record of its having been reported to the police.

COMPENSATION
The Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission paid $3,201,741.68 in benefits to Michigan's unemployed for the week ending November 24, it was announced by Eugene T. Dormer, executive director.

HUB CAPS VANISH
Gus Dahlen, of 1068 Devonshire, reported to the Park police Thursday morning that while his car was parked in front of his house the evening before, hub cap thieves did a complete job on his car, taking all of them.

Assessment Battle On Lakefront Sites Causes Tax Muddle

Township Must Sit Tight Until Word Comes from State Board; Bills Cannot Be Sent Out Yet

Up to Wednesday night the Township offices had received no word regarding the findings of the State Tax Board which visited the Pointe on Wednesday, November 28, to hold a hearing on the assessments on lakefront property out here and also on a special appeal for reduced assessment on the Edsel Ford estate on Gaukler's Point.

Meanwhile the Township officials have to sit around waiting to send out the tax bills for the current year. If this decision is delayed much longer it will seriously interfere with those taxpayers who hope to take advantage of December payments in connection with their income tax reports.

The quandary that is present to the Township Board is that if the State Tax Board should direct a reduction in the assessment on the lakefront property it will be necessary to raise the rate for the whole township. Mr. Schweikart, the Township Supervisor, says that just so much revenue must be raised to carry on the Schools and the various charges against the township. Already the reduction in lakefront assessments made at the direction of the State Board, has taken off about one and one half millions and this accounts for the small increase in the general township tax rate that was made this year.

If the additional three and one half millions asked for by the lakefront owners should be granted it would necessitate a considerable further raise in the rates. The assessment on all of the other property in the township has been made this year and it would be impossible at this late date to reassess the hundreds of properties applicable to the present year. The only recourse for the raising of the necessary revenue would be to raise the millage. This would mean a corresponding increase in the taxes which everyone would pay with the exception of the favored lakefront owners.

The biggest item which the township assessment must back is the school tax and this is the one which the officials, both school and township, would be most reluctant to cut. The school authorities are faced with an ever-increasing cost in the support of the schools which occurs automatically with the growth of the school population.

The lakefront property owners on their part are faced with an almost intolerable situation in the fall in values of this high

Asserts Marine Assaulted Him

Milton Curl, aged 44, of 1065 Philip street, Detroit, reported to one of the Park police at 2:40 o'clock on Sunday morning that while walking on the south side of Jefferson avenue, between Pemberton and Lakepointe he had been struck in the face by a "United States Marine".

He said the Marine remarked as he struck him that he was "going to knife him because he looked like a Jap".

The officer could not see any visible evidence of any very severe punishment because of his mistaken nationality. Mr. Curl stoutly maintained that he was "no Jap" and had "no truck with them whatever."

Woods Council Passes Buck To Voters in Zoning Battle

The six Woods village commissioners in meeting Tuesday night couldn't agree on the matter of deciding whether 17 lots on the west side of Mack avenue between Severn and Littlestone should remain in commercial zone as they now are or be rezoned as strictly residential.

So the six councilmen who fear to take the awful responsibility, are going to drop the issue into the lap of 6,000 persons trusting to obtain from this source a unanimity of action and wisdom of decision not possible within their own ranks.

At least four of the six councilmen favored the referendum. Those voting for the referendum

Rotary Club Gives $2500 To Start Fund

Big Joint Meeting Held in High School to Decide Course of Action

A dual meeting held in the library of the Grosse Pointe High School Friday night was directly concerned with serving the returning service men and women who went to war from the Pointe, and, as a corollary to this service, taking definite steps to honor them through the future years by a beautiful memorial to be erected by the people of Grosse Pointe as a perpetual symbol of their affection and gratitude.

The first half of the meeting was given over to a lengthy and informing report of the establishment and functioning of the Grosse Pointe Council of Veterans Affairs. The meeting was presided over by Capt. John J. O'Brien, head of the Grosse Pointe Home Service Corps, within whose ranks the idea of a local home service council for the returning veterans was germinated and carried forward to fruition.

Captain O'Brien gave notable credit to Dr. Paul Essert, Superintendent of Grosse Pointe Schools, and Mrs. Alger Sheldon, local head of the American Women's Voluntary Services, for first suggesting the creation of such a service in the Pointe area and doing much of the original preparatory work to implement the plan.

Dr. Essert read a report on the purpose of the Council and the helpful services now available to the returning veterans. He mentioned that almost exactly one tenth of the population of Grosse Pointe had been enrolled in active war service. There are something more than thirty six hundred names preserved in the community of those engaged in combat services. This does not include the several hundred from the Pointe who served in capacities directly allied with the war work.

Joseph R. O'Connor, the recently named full time executive of the Veterans' Council, was introduced to the meeting and made an excellent impression by the way in which he discussed the work of the council.

Captain O'Brien told of the good fortune the Grosse Pointe organization had in being able to secure the services of Mr. O'Connor, who was a veteran himself of more than three years' active service in the Army. He had already had a considerable experience in the identical kind of work he was now doing, with the Veterans Council in Detroit, from whom the local committee had obtained him after considerable maneuvering and the invoking of no little influence.

At the end of the Veterans' Council meeting Captain O'Brien adjourned the session and turned

Purse Snatcher At Work in City

Mrs. Frances E. Brossy, Jr., of 570 Cadieux, while walking on Notre Dame between St. Paul and Village Lane at 10:20 a. m. Tuesday had her purse snatched from her hands by a youth apparently 18-20 years old. The purse contained $27 and various personal papers.

Mrs. Brossy was sufficiently quick-witted to get the number of the car in which the thief drove away.

It was later found by the City police to have been reported as stolen in Saginaw, Michigan on December 3.

Police Remove Car From Lawn

Waldo L. Behr, of 845 Bedford, phoned the Park police at 11:30 o'clock Friday night that someone, presumably a bunch of over-active boys, had parked a car on his front lawn.

Officers A. Conlon and Slusser pushed it off to a less restricted parking lot.

Rotary Party Nets $4,160

Service Organization Will Use Funds to Further Charitable Movements

Dave Burnett, the chairman of the recent highly successful feather party of the Rotary Club, submitted a report at the meeting Monday which disclosed that the Club had realized a net profit from the affair of $4,160.

This money is to be used to further certain local charitable enterprises in which the club is interested. Several projects, including the establishment of a Pointe blood bank, and the acquisition of an iron lung, have been studied.

It is also reported the club will send a number of crippled children to the Grace Bentley Camp of the Michigan League for Crippled Children, next summer.

Shift of Bus Route Vetoed

Woods Council, Impressed by Petitions, Passes Resolution Governing Service

Impressed by the 564 citizens who signed a petition protesting against changing the bus route back to the old pre-war route out and back on Mack, the Woods council has passed a resolution requiring that the route remain as it has been for the past three and one-half years.

This route turns south into Vernier, thence to Marter road, thence to Brys drive and back to Mack. This arrangement serves a numerous population living between Mack and the lakefront, who would otherwise have a long walk to and from the bus.

Draft Board To Induct Six

The following have been drawn by Draft Board No. 57 for induction into military service on Wednesday, December 12: James R. Brown, 270 Merriweather; Robert C. Stark, 253 Hillcrest; Robert C. Peltier, 1211 Maryland; John A. Kuecken, 806 Hawthorne; Godfrey Deneve, 4712 Maryland, Detroit; John E. Holmes, 8057 Grand Blanc.

Farms Is Reported Studying Idea of Converting to City

Rumors Flying Through Pointe That Other Villages Are Seriously Considering Divorce from Township

Rumors are floating about the Pointe that the idea of conversion to City status with which the Grosse Pointe Shores village is toying, has wider implications than the mere separation of that village from the township.

The Farms village is said to be flirting with the idea also and several of the leading citizens and some of the councilmen have for some time been looking into the suggestion.

It is not represented that such a change in governmental status would effect any particular economies in the local public service but it is urged that it would simplify local government administration. Behind it is also the argument advanced by many that the Township does not exercise enough functions of government to justify its existence or expense to the taxpayers. One of its chief functions now is to make the assessment and attend to the collection of school, county and township taxes. It also has charge of the public health service, and police radio.

If all of the four villages which now constitute the township should recreate into city status the township would automatically cease to exist. One of the arguments in favor of this is that the citizens would have to go to only one place to pay their local taxes of every description. The agitation for city status has not progressed so far as to imply that the cities thus creat-

Farms Provides New Relief from Storm Waters

This low spot in the farms was flooded during nearly every large storm last year and in years before. To do away with this trouble, the Farms is spending a large sum to provide additional sewer facilities that will carry away the water before it floods cellars and streets. This picture was taken Monday on Ridge road, looking west toward McKinley and Fisher roads. Picture by Fred Runnells.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Medicine

A. L. Meyers, a past president of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club was the speaker at the Club meeting on Monday.

His subject concerned the drugs that were developed by the war and the marvelous contribution they are making to therapeutic medicine. He called the introduction of penicillin one of the milestones in the advance of medical science, ranking with the discovery of inoculation as a prophylactic for small pox, the discovery of anesthesia and antiseptics.

His talk was most interesting, made the more so by his dressing down the highly modern and scientific phraseology to the understanding of a lay audience.

The use of these medicines, he stated, had reduced the mortality among the wounded removed from the battlefield to only about three percent as against a mortality of more than fifteen per cent in the last war.

Woman Injured As Car Hits Tree

Mrs. Mary Benefield, who lives in the Aiden Park Manor, was driving north on East Jefferson avenue Monday forenoon and attempted to make a left turn to the north on Lincoln road when her steering mechanism gave way and she crashed into a large tree on the corner of the MacGregor property.

The front of her car was badly bashed in and Mrs. Benefield suffered body bruises and a nose injury. She was removed to the Cottage Hospital where x-rays revealed no major injuries.

Woods Changes Builders' Deposit

The practice that has prevailed in the Woods village for a long time of demanding a deposit of $25 from a contractor erecting a building, to indemnify the village against any damage to public property in the course of the erection of the building, was changed Tuesday night.

Contractor Edward Russell appeared before the council and asked that instead of making a deposit for each building begun he be permitted to make a deposit covering his liability for a specified number of buildings at one time. He stated that this practice was observed in Detroit. After a brief discussion it was decided by a resolution that the contractor make a deposit of $100 which would cover his liability for broken sidewalks, damaged poles or hydrants or unremoved obstructions on the street and similar offenses up to 25 different properties. All in excess of this would call for a deposit of $200 which would provide his liability up to 50 different properties.

Driver Picks Opponent Far Too Big to Handle

Late Friday afternoon a Lake Shore bus going west on Charlevoix was run into by a car driven north on Audubon by Robert C. Versichele of 3114 Alter road.

No special damage was done to the bus but the private car was severely crumpled. Versichele was given a ticket for driving into moving traffic, causing an accident.

Yuletide Ushers In Shoplifters

Shoplifters have started their pre-holiday work early in the village this season. On Monday morning at 11:30 o'clock Best and Company reported that a woman's black and white dress had been stolen.

Two dignified looking elderly women who had just left the store were suspected. An attempt to follow them was made but they were lost in the traffic crowd. One of them has gray hair and the other was wearing a tan colored coat. They were driving a Dodge car.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a similar complaint came in from the Judy Shoppe farther out the avenue. The parties they suspected answered to the same general description as the Best and Company visitors. They had stolen five glass dogs from the Judy Shoppe.

Woods Council Passes Buck To Voters in Zoning Fight

bush, which finally dropped on the referendum side of the issue, prevented a tie and spared President Ghesquiere the embarrassment of casting the deciding vote.

Prior to the decision to drop the whole matter in the lap of the voters, Village Attorney Julius Berns read an opinion, previously requested by the village commissioners, on the right of the village to rezone these particular lots. He quoted many decisions on comparable cases. His opinion was that the village might do this, but, with conspicuous emphasis on the basic principle of zoning, which is that it must be done with regard to the general health, safety, well-being and orderly development of the whole community. They must also avoid with meticulous pains the unpardonable guilt of "spot" zoning. This thought sent a chill through the ranks of the handful of householders who would rescue the 17 lots on Mack avenue from the consuming fires of commercialization.

This warning read into Mr.

Berns' opinion prompted the rezoning advocates to realize that it wouldn't be quite cricket to particularize on seventeen little 20-foot lots. There was a hurried quest to enlarge the hunting grounds.

At this point Commissioner Paul Marco suggested that while they were at it they might as well do the job in a big way and provide for the rezoning of the entire Mack avenue frontage the whole length of the village. This brought the temperature of the zoning zealots down several degrees.

Mr. Marco didn't really mean it. It was his own little private monkey wrench, the hurling of which gave him evident pleasure.

It was then that Commissioner Burgess rushed to the front to give the zoning baby a respectable dress. He proposed that all of the lots along the west side of Mack from the north line of Manchester Park Subdivision No. 1 to the north line of Bournemouth and on the east side of Mack from the south village line to the south line of Huntington drive be placed in the Zone "A", or reserved residential area.

This eventually became the proposal on which the electors will pass at a special referendum vote.

At this stage Mr. Marco posed another embarrassing question. When this generous Mack avenue frontage has all been nicely tucked away on the restricted residential area sheet, to be improved only with single family dwelling houses, what was the owner of one of these lots going to do when he made ready to build a home? One could hardly expect the stately type of homes hoped for along the broadest highway in the Woods to be erected on a twenty foot lot.

This was an unkindly nut for the pro-zoners to bite on, but they were equal to the emergency.

"Oh!", said one of the untrifled, "let him buy another lot". So that fixed everything, okay dokey.

The matter of the cataclysmic drop in assessed values that will befall the lots the moment they are lifted from commercial to residential status was either too trifling or too awful to be mentioned at the meeting.

If the referendum vote should approve the rezoning it would affect seventyone lots. As commercial zone properties they carry an assessed value of about $100-$115 per front foot. When they are restricted to residential buildings this assessed valuation drops to $25.

But this is a ghost the village fathers won't have to lay until they come to prepare the next budget. But sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

This whole zoning ruckus has had its origin in the desire of a little florist down in Detroit to put up a florist shop on two

Large Dog Spreads Terror Through Park and Is Shot

A large black male collie spread terror through the Park last week on Thursday and Friday, snapping and snarling about and giving every evidence of having rabies. A colored woman waiting for a bus on Jefferson fled screaming on Thursday afternoon when she saw him coming towards her with his mouth foaming. Reports came from other quarters telling of seeing this dog and all of them mentioned that he was foaming at the mouth.

The Park police were instructed to take him dead or alive but to take him quickly. They finally located him through word from James F. Hamilton of 1363 Wayburn, who phoned in that he had just seen such a dog in his back yard.

Officers Del Place and Ingalsbe dashed around in their car and located him in the back yard at 1369 and shot him. The dog had no license, so his owner could not be determined. At the direction of Doctor O'Neil, the Park Veterinary, his head was cut off and sent to the Herman Kiefer Hospital for analysis.

The Doctor says that it is no uncommon circumstance for a dog with a bad case of worms to be thrown into convulsions and give symptoms that might easily be mistaken for hydrophobia. It was because of this uncertainty that his head was sent in for examination. The doctor did not see the animal before he was killed.

No reports have come into the police of this particular dog having bitten anyone or any other dog.

Marsh Promoted By Michigan Bell

The board of directors of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company has accepted the retirement of President George M. Welch, effective Jan. 31, and has elected Thomas N. Lacy, vice-president and general manager, as his successor as president.

Ben R. Marsh, director of Rivard boulevard, City of Grosse Pointe, general commercial manager, will become vice-president and general manager; William E. Shane, division commercial superintendent at Detroit, will succeed Marsh as head of the company's commercial department; and James B. Kaler, general commercial personnel supervisor, takes over Shane's duties.

Upon retirement from active service after 42 years with the Bell System, Welch will continue as a Michigan Bell director. He has been president for 11 years. At 35, he was the company's general manager, one of the youngest top officials in Bell System history. He is leaving under the company's rule providing for automatic retirement at 65.

Welch started in the telephone business as a clerk-stenographer lots in Mack avenue. He purchased these lots last October. They are two of the plot of 17 which are not only in commercial "B" zone as determined by the village's own zoning ordinance, but in addition to that they were specifically so designated by the original plat- ters. He was assured when he purchased them there were no restrictions or barriers against his erecting a florist shop on them.

Possibly if he had intended to put up a beer garden or a bowling alley he might have received more consideration from the handful of residents who have homes immediately in the rear of his proposed improvement. But his is only a florist shop which apparently has ruffled the aesthetic sensibilities of his intended rear neighbors.

So the village will have a special election to decide the question.

When the great day arrives doubtless the heroic band under the leadership of Leonidas Lenzion will hold the pass against village desecration, aided by every uncle, cousin and aunt that can be enlisted for V.W. Day.

The rest of the village electors, as is their wont, will sleep on.

And, until the Great Issue is settled, no building permits of any description will be issued for that generous section of Mack avenue.

at Minneapolis in 1904 and four years later came with the Michigan Bell at Detroit. He was made vice-president in 1920 and president in 1934.

In 1941, in recognition of his leadership in the industry, Welch was awarded the honorary degree of doctor of business administration by the University of Michigan. He was international president of the Telephone Pioneers of America in 1942.

A one-time "boy operator," Lacy as vice-president and general manager for 11 years, has been Welch's right-hand man. He has been with the Bell System 39 years but started in the telephone business 44 years ago as a 16-year-old night operator for an independent company in his home town of Litzitz, Pa. He is an electrical engineering graduate of Lehigh University.

After his graduation, Lacy went with the Long Lines Department of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company at Philadelphia and was transferred to Atlanta, Ga., six years later as division plant engineer. Except for a brief interlude at New York, Lacy remained at Atlanta until 1925 when he came to Detroit as division plant superintendent for the Michigan Bell. Five months later, he became chief engineer, and, in 1934, vice-president. He will take charge as the company's thirteenth president just as Michigan Bell's $120,000,000 postwar construction program gets well under way. Lacy is a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Detroit Engineering Society.

A native of Owosso and an electrical engineering graduate of the University of Michigan, Marsh has been with the Michigan Bell 37 years, starting at Detroit. For several years he was in Lansing as manager, district manager, and division plant head. In 1926, he returned to Detroit as division plant superintendent and five years later was named division commercial head. In 1941, he became assistant vice-president and general commercial manager two years ago.

Marsh helped organize and is a former chairman of the Detroit Safety Council and is a former director of the National Safety Council. He is a former president of Detroit Rotary, and is a director of the Boy Scouts of America, and of the Detroit Better Business Bureau.

Shane has headed up the company's commercial department in three of its divisions—Central Division at Saginaw, Southern at Grand Rapids, and Detroit. He has been with the company 23 years, starting at Kalamazoo after attending Kalamazoo College and a 15 has worked in Lansing and Pontiac. A graduate of Wittenburg College at Springfield, O., Kaler has been with the company since 1927, all in Detroit. He was a manager and district commercial superintendent before going on the division staff.

Air Gunner Joins City Police Force

George Moffet, of 551 Neff road, started duty as a patrolman on the Grosse Pointe City police force on Saturday, December 1. He takes the place left vacant when officer Albert Wyffels left the force to accept a position in the sales department of the Walker distilleries.

Moffet is 23 years of age, has lived in Grosse Pointe since he was two weeks old and is a graduate of the Grosse Pointe High School.

He has just returned from war service where he was a nose gunner in the air force. He was in the air force for more than three years and participated in many flights over Germany in the course of which he was personally credited with having shot down seven German planes.

Monday, following his start as a new policeman for the City, his police calm and poise was somewhat disturbed by the receipt of a cable from England informing him that his British bride had just given birth to a baby girl.

Moffet had married an English girl during his term of military duty in the British Isles and her journeying to her new home in America had had to be postponed until the legal formalities for her admission to the United States were completed.

Recruiting Plum Offered Veterans

Veterans of World War II today are given an opportunity seldom offered and practically unheard of in the Army. The "plum" of all assignments in the Army is open to discharged veterans who want to enlist for 3 years and can qualify for the job.

The Recruiting Officer for this area stated, "There are a number of vacancies for assignment to Recruiting Duty in the Lower Peninsula. We are particularly interested in securing individuals of a high calibre since men on recruiting duty are pretty much on their own. There is no K. P., Guard Duty, or any of the usual Post 'housekeeping' details which he has to perform. His time after office hours is his to do with as he pleases. Mea on this type of

There are vacancies in Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Flint, Ionia, Jackson, St. Joseph, Alpena, Traverse City, Lapeer, Ann Arbor, Port Huron, Bay City, Cadillac, Lansing and Pontiac.

Any veteran who is interested should call at the nearest Army Recruiting Station immediately since the vacancies will be filled on a "first come-first served" basis.

Christmas Toy Club Ready To Care for Pointe's Needy

The Christmas Toy Club, a Christmas charity managed by the policemen and firemen of the Pointes, is making ready for its annual Christmas gift enterprise among the needy children of the Pointe.

Its slogan is "Not A Kid Without A Toy". It has been in operation for the past twelve or thirteen years and has brought cheer and happiness to many underprivileged children in this area.

While the appeal to the charitable people of the Pointe goes out formally once a year, the policemen and firemen plan for it during the entire year. Toys and other articles which please the hearts of the youngsters are purchased at different times during the year but particularly right at the end of the Christmas season when the merchants sell new toys that are left over from their holiday trade to the club at reduced prices.

Any charitably inclined citizen who desires to participate in this fine gift service in his own community may make his donation at any fire or police station in the Pointe. Membership in the club costs fifty cents per year, but no limit is placed on the amount a person may give.

Dr. Sterba, who studied with Rudolph Kolisch in Vienna, and gave sonata recitals in Austria and Switzerland, will play the violin in Mozart Concertante for violin and viola . . . and will play with Henry Siegl, the Bach Two Violin Concerto in D Minor.

The program will start at 8:30 p.m. and tickets may be purchased by telephoning Mrs. B. Shafarman, at TEmple 1-7754.

10,000 to Hear Wayne 'Messiah'

More than 10,000 Detroit oratorio lovers are expected to hear Wayne University's 18th annual production of "The Messiah," according to Professor Louise Conklin, head of the music department at Wayne. Handel's masterpiece will be presented in Masonic Temple Auditorium, at 8:15 p. m., on December 11 and again on the following evening.

The "Messiah" was first presented by Wayne in 1930 in the auditorium of the College of the City of Detroit before an audience of 40 persons. Within eight years, the production had become so popular that it was moved to the Masonic Auditorium for a single performance. By last year, public interest had grown to such an extent that two performances were scheduled at the Masonic Auditorium. The same policy is being continued this year.

Soloists who will be heard in the current production include Vivian Della Chiesa and Reinhold Schmidt, nationally-known stars of concert, opera, and radio. The tenor and contralto parts will be sung by C. Herbert Peterson and Margit Kormendy. The soloists will be supported by a chorus of over 525 voices and a 60-piece symphony orchestra. Harold H. Tallman, associate professor of music, will direct.

The War Memorial

Grosse Pointe has made a practical start towards providing a war memorial to the more than thirty five hundred men and women who served the Nation in combat capacity during the Second World War. At the meeting held in the High School library Friday night a small committee was named, which is to be called a Study Group, whose sole function in the beginning of the enterprise is to consider the type and character of the proposed memorial and report back their recommendation to the general committee.

There is a general unanimity that the wishes of the men and women in whose honor the memorial is to be erected should be consulted, and preparations are making to reach every one of these with that in mind, although it is realized that much time would be consumed in attempting to reach them all for a personal expression. The thought has also been expressed that inasmuch as the memorial is to be an impressive token of the affection and gratitude of the home folks to the service men and women many of the latter might feel some diffidence in expressing their opinions too strongly.

One thought on which all will agree is that this memorial, which will doubtless be the most imposing thing of the character Grosse Pointe will ever have, however long the name of Grosse Pointe may be projected into the future, is that it should be appropriate for the community and the hundreds of its men and women who served their country in its greatest trial. There should be nothing mean or tawdry in its appearance.

Suggestions that have been informally advanced cover a wide range. Many believe that a beautiful public library within whose portals would be the tablets and inscriptions memorializing the names of those honored and the high cause which they served would be appropriate. Another proposal is that a beautiful stadium or a great public playground should be provided. Force is lent to this idea in the fact that hundreds of the young men and women coming back from the war are still young enough to be participants for a long time in the events for which such a memorial would be used. As a partial corollary to this same idea it is believed that the men and women of this generation who carried the burden of the struggle which assured America's freedom and the perpetuity of her chosen way of life would be happy to see the memorial erected in their honor take form as a medium dedicated to the making of a finer citizenry for the future for their own children and for all of children that succeed them.

This thought fits in well as an antidote for the anxiety that besets the whole country at this time over the so called juvenile delinquency problem. The disturbing reports of what the kid brother or sister were doing at home were by no means the least of the worries that plagued the young men at the front. The men and women who saved America would doubtless hold the deepest interest in keeping it safe and aiming always at high and fine ideals and fully realize that this can only be if the foundation laid now in the characters of the future are both broad and deep.

Swimming pools, tennis courts, baseball diamonds, club rooms for Boy and Girl Scouts, facilities for important athletic contests are all a part of the effective media for directing the normal and wholesome physical and mental impulses of youth towards a finer citizenry, with an accompanying higher and better future social order.

An important decision that must be faced also in the selection of a memorial is whether it is to be some object of a utilitarian or partially utilitarian character or a plain memorial of noble proportions and lofty sentiments, perpetuating for all time in bronze or granite the names of the men and women who stood in the breach in these heroic times and the eternal gratitude of this generation and of all following generations for what they did.

A Job To Be Done

A flood of pessimism has poured out of Washington in recent days which touches both the domestic and world scene. In the foreign field the administration is charged with bungling even such semblance of foreign policy we may have had at the beginning of the post war period and that matters in both Europe and the Far East have drifted rapidly from bad to worse.

The dramatic and acrimonious resignation of Ambassador Hurley from the post in China seems to have set off the uproar. He has charged that the Government through its State Department and through its military forces, is playing both sides. His charge that his former underlings at his diplomatic post, but now transferred to Washington in positions superior to his own made his position intolerable, looks on its face like cold fact, else why the tolerant eye the State Department casts on the communists, i.e. the Russians, the while our military forces are battling against them by supporting the Central government of Chiang Kai Shek. It is all a natural consequence of our early declared but undigested purpose to build a world of sweetness and light via the democratic process out of materials that were neither sweet nor democratic.

Britain and the Netherlands have their own fish to fry in the Orient, and they are distinctly their fish and not ours. They are colonial powers and we are as definitely not. Vide: their life and death struggle to maintain their positions in the Orient where India looms as the nightmare behind the Netherlands' curtain raiser in Java, while we are cutting the Philippines loose on their own promptly on the fourth day of next July. It is charged that in Europe we have been making a mess of our administration in our zone of occupation but the returns are not yet sufficiently complete to warrant judgement.

A lot lingers there behind the scenes, between Russian ambitions to establish her primacy over her western small neighbors and France's determination to take over the Rhur and Rhineland, that is a small hell's broth for American administrators.

But all that has happened in Europe or Asia, or the yet greater trouble that lingers in the offing, while of vital importance to us in the long view, is small potatoes in the present American mind compared with the problems that must be settled here at home before we can hope to get steadied on a course that is to lead to the more abundant life so constantly before our eyes during the war and for long before.

Already more than a half million men are on strike and the promise is for several times that many in the near future. Unless our whole domestic economic and social set up is to

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"The fiddles were playing and playing,
The couples were out on the floor;
From converse and dance he drew me,
And across the door.
The bawbome bloom was by us,
Around us the breath of the South.
While bawbome, strange in the nighttime—
His kiss on my mouth!" (Padraic Colum)

Below is the 'fan' letter we received last week regarding our column of that week. It came from a charming gentleman (?) with chips on the shoulders of his risibilities. Our answer to him was a grim profile of our own phyzog, with fingers akimbo . . . thumb to nose style . . . something the editor refuses to print here.

Dear Pryor:

C.K.P.

We aren't a fanatical addict of funnies, but in last Sunday's Detroit News, the Vignettes of Life by Kemp Starrett, dampened our bi-focals considerably. The title of his drawings was "Why Do They Brag About It?" . . . and depicted people we all know, who go in for such bragadocio as, "The doctors can't find out what's wrong with me, I baffle all of them" . . . and "Now take me, I can never remember names" . . . There were many others of the "I-can-never-get-anyplace-on-time" school to the dinner hostess who tells her guests, "I'm the WORST housekeeper and I loathe cooking."

There are a few we could add to Mr. Starrett's collection . . . such as the "My bump of location is simply AWFUL" group; the "Willie must be awfully bright or I must be awfully dumb . . . but I can't help him at all with his homework" type. Then we have the welcome dinner guest who shudders at your lobster and says, "I don't see HOW you people can eat that stuff. I can't eat shell fish at ALL . . . it always makes me violently ill." (This type usually discusses her symptoms of food poisoning all during the meal).

Also with us are the "I can NEVER balance my check book" girls and "I don't see what you see in Shakespeare . . . it's so muddled and complicated. I'd rather read a good mystery." Ah me!

The current gag around town is about the firm who sent to an agency for a salesman who had to be a Harvard graduate "or the equivalent of same". The agency called to say that as long as they would take the equivalent of a Harvard grad, they could send two Cornell men or a Yale man to work part time!!!

lapse into chaos via a self exterminating dog fight between Capital and Labor something must be done and quickly. The one natural source from which leadership out of this morass should come hasn't let out a worthwhile peep since the trouble began. President Truman laid great store on the outcome of the Labor-Management conference. All that came were a few pious platitudes and everybody went home more determined than ever to fight it out on his chosen line if it took all summer. So that was that so far as the President's program went.

His latest suggestion to name a fact finding commission with the implied threat to back up their findings with an around public opinion which he will lead is neither new nor vigorous. It was rejected by the labor leaders as soon as made. Theodore Roosevelt did the same thing in the great anthracite strike in 1902, but then it was followed up by the creation of a Conciliation Board which operated successfully to maintain peace in the anthracite field for twenty years. And "Teddy" of that day was the sort of national leader who did not hesitate to take both operators and miners and bump their heads together until light percolated through their skulls.

A few not entirely frightened souls in Congress have made a gesture or two but nothing happened and not even a half hearted resolution was passed.

The radio and a few of the bolder newspapers have been yelling themselves hoarse for "somebody" to do "something" but none of them have thus far dared a concrete suggestion.

The trouble with Congress and the White House is that Harry Truman is getting ready to run for the Presidency in 1948 and 435 Representatives and 32 Senators have to face the firing line next fall. None of them have yet been able to make a self satisfying guess on which side has the most votes.

And thus the native hue of resolution
Is sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought;
And enterprises of great pith and moment,
With this regard their currents turn away,
And lose the name of action.

Suppose that the composite virtue and courage of the Congress was sufficient to take up the resolution suggested by Representative Smith of Virginia calling for the enactment of a law which would bind labor unions to live up to their contracts with employers and provide ample penalties if they failed to do so; and suppose that having passed such a law they laid it in the lap of Harry Truman to let him pray over it in the fear of God, the voters and the next election? If such a law was enacted both sides and the people at large would have something to put their teeth in and something to pin their hopes on as a guide out of the present mess in which the country is mired and in which it sinks constantly deeper.

At least the gentleman in the White House now who is already planning to tell us, beginning about early in 1948, what a worthy leader he was in these trying years would have some worthwhile matter to ponder over for his campaign textbook.

Somebody must do something soon and the American people have the habit of looking to their President and their spokesmen in Congress to do it.

And let these be assured that the overwhelming majority of the people of this country have a clear composite judgement and long memories on matters which affect their vital interests.

Veteranews

from the Office of Veterans' Affairs Lansing

The Office of Veterans' Affairs, with the assistance of local counseling centers, has completed a state-wide survey to determine the need for housing of World War II veterans.

This survey disclosed several important facts. Also, it again established the need for Local Councils of Veterans' Affairs. It also clearly defined a necessary function to be performed by a local counseling center through its council committees.

The most vital determination the survey revealed was the extent of the housing problem itself. In 43 communities the finding of housing for veterans is extremely serious; very serious in 21; fairly serious in 19, and not serious in only 14 communities surveyed.

The survey uncovered the fact that 71 communities do not have a central bureau where houses, apartments, and rooms for rent are listed. Thus the need for such a bureau is clearly pointed out and the community's obligation to establish such a central clearing office, preferably in the counseling center, is made apparent.

In 63 communities the local real estate boards have taken no positive action to stimulate residential construction. Again a duty of the Council is made clear—that of arousing an interest in building. One small community reported that 100 veterans would buy homes within three weeks if homes were made available, and another small community stated that 200 were needed.

The composite findings of the survey depict a deplorable condition. The solution must be found on the local level at least temporarily. Local Councils of Veterans' Affairs are urged to make this problem a major project and begin at once to organize committees to handle the problem of housing for veterans. This problem includes the establishment of a clearing house of housing information; the stimulation of building and the locating of available housing space.

The Veterans Administration is prepared to furnish an adequate supply of quinine and atabrine to veterans suffering from, or exposed to, malaria fever.

If, during his service in the Armed Forces, a Michigan veteran has contracted, or has been exposed to malaria fever, he should not wait for an attack or recurrence, but should make immediate application for atabrine or quinine to the Veterans' Administration, Dearborn, Mich.

In writing to the Veterans Administration a veteran may request the assistance of the counselor in the local counseling center. The veteran should give his name; rank; serial number; claim number (if any); date of induction; date of discharge; theater of operations in which he was exposed to malaria fever.

It is recommended that a veteran requiring atabrine or quinine for malaria should immediately file Veterans Administration Form 526 (Veterans' Application for Pension or Compensation for disability Resulting From Service in the Active Military or Naval Forces of the United States.)

Atabrine and quinine may also be secured from contact representatives of the Veterans Administration in the communities where such representatives are located.

The Office of Veterans' Affairs has also made atabrine available in emergencies at all of the County Health Departments of the state. Local Veterans' Counselors will assist veterans in securing this atabrine.

There is no charge to the veteran for either atabrine or quinine secured from any of the sources outlined above.

Health Enemy Number One

By FRED M. KOPP, R.Ph.
Do you know America's public enemy No. 1? Nine out of ten readers will miss that question. It's not tuberculosis nor heart disease, but high blood pressure.

The American College of Physicians has called high blood pressure "the most serious disease in American life." It is the more serious because of wide prevalence, because it is often too lightly regarded, and because it can lead to conditions which are difficult to correct.

As a killer, it has overtaken and passed heart disease. The annual rate of deaths attributable to high blood pressure runs into the hundreds of thousands.

Your doctor can determine whether you have an abnormal blood pressure. See him once a year. And take all prescriptions to a reputable drugist.

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

According to all reports . . . John F. Henderson's cocktail party to fete the debs of 1945-46 was highly successful . . . With some 300 members of society . . . Flocking to the Founders' Room of the Book-Cadillac Hotel . . . The debs honored were those pictured and listed in the Debutante Register . . .

MR. GAGE IS PLEASED

W. Vincent Gage . . . whose predictions on the party were pretty lavish . . . Tells us that even he was surprised . . . And amazed at the throngs . . . and the wonderful time everyone had . . . We don't think Vincent as surprised at all . . . but it makes a pretty story . . .

DEBUTANTE CLUB TO BE FORMED

Out of the girls called "1945 debs" who were present . . . There grew a real pre-war deb idea . . . They're going to organize a debutantes' club . . . and those in the Deb Register will be eligible . . . They're planning a Whirl at Christmastime . . . And the chief organizer is Nancy Bigelow . . . We hear that brunet and charming even-with-a-swollen-jaw-from-tooth-extraction Ann Whitehead . . . will be named first president . . . although she is a debutante of this season . . .

IT'S ALL CHEER FOR THE KINGS

Christmas is really secondary this year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. King in Fisher road . . . Their son, Sgt. Richard A. Carman, returned this week after 38 months European service . . . Which is a long, long time even in peaceful days . . . for a son to be separated from his family . . . And fast on the heels of the joy of his homecoming . . . Came announcement by Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lawrie of West Seven Mile road . . . That their daughter, Marion . . . Will marry Dick . . . on December 11 . . .

MEET THE PROXY PARENTS

There's going to be some swift competition as to just WHO will take care of the dimpled darlings of Grosse Pointe . . . First we told you about Mrs. William K. Williams' Hourly Aids Club . . . And now . . . Miss Madeline McCormick brings us literature announcing the Proxy Parents group . . . Their slogan is "We Step In While You Step Out" and their offices are at 345 Fisher road . . . Tuxedo 1-1370 . . .

OUR TELEPHONE NUMBER IS . . .

Proxy Parent groups were organized in New York and Florida several years ago . . . to "fill the need for assistance to busy mothers" . . . Mrs. Frances Connolly, who has been associated with Proxy Parents in Coral Gables, is to be in charge of the Grosse Pointe group . . .

And the group is quite—versatile, we might add . . . Their services include taking children to dental and doctor appointments . . . tutoring . . . taking the tots on shopping trips . . . arranging and carrying out birthday parties . . . arranging theater parties . . . taking the children to the club . . . Proxy Parents are trained women experienced in child care . . . Miss McCormick tells us . . . They include former school teachers . . . nurses . . . college women . . . and mothers . . . ## Betty Crapo Marries Maj. Robert Clemann

Wedding Performed Saturday Night in Christ Church Chapel; Former Pointer to Live in Indian Village

Gleaming tapers in cathedral candelabra and white chrysanthemums in silver vases formed the background for Betty Crapo's Saturday night marriage to Maj. Robert Clemann, USAAF, in Christ Church Chapel.

Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Crapo, of Seminole avenue, formerly of the Pointe, and the major is from Antigo, Wis., the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Klemann.

For her wedding Betty wore a Molyneux gown of ivory satin, fashioned simply with a heart-shaped neckline, fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and extremely full skirt. Her rose pointe lace halo and the lace trimming on her dress were from the bridal robes of her paternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Stanford Tappan Crapo. Her flowers were white cattleya and calenche orchids.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. William Meigaard, of Philadelphia, Pa., was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Ann Davis, Beverly Carr and Virginia Adams of Dublin, N. H., Liggett School classmates of the bride, and Sah Booth, of Bloomfield Hills, a Vassar classmate.

Their dresses of ivory faille were distinguished by square necklines, short, puffed sleeves and bustles. The American Beauty veiling on their ivory faille hats matched their bouquets of American Beauty roses.

From Potomac, Md., Lieut. Emkl Kratovi arrived to be best man.

Air Cadet John Klemann, the bridegroom's brother, from Selman Field, La.; Lieut. Pierce Wright, USNR, Lieut. Col. Allen Forsyth, of Washington, and

Elaine Schroeder Tells Betrothal

Two Grosse Pointe High graduates, Elaine Schroeder and Richard Palmer, announced their engagement this week.

Elaine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schroeder, of Madison avenue, and Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palmer, of Middlesex road.

As yet the young couple have set no date for their wedding.

PILLOW CASE PARTY

Xmas Greens Market To Open December 11

Event Sponsored by Women's National Farm and Garden Association to Be Held in Goodwill Building

Grosse Pointers will usher in this Victory Christmastide with a rollicking trek to the Greens Market of The Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, opening December 11 in the spacious Goodwill Industries Building on East Congress Street near Brush.

This building has ample parking facilities for all the guests and their collection of holiday greens and farm - and - Garden Gifts. The market will be open from 10 to 5, and on Wednesday December 12, will remain open until 8 in the evening for late shoppers. The sale will continue to Dec. 13.

Under the gracious patronage of the president's wife, Mrs. Harry S. Truman, a newly elected honorary member of Farm and Garden; Mrs. Henry Ford, honorary president of the Michigan Division; and the dynamic direction of Mrs. Truman F. Barbier, president of the Michigan division, and Mrs. Lloyd C. Edgar, general chairman, this year's Christmas Greens Market bids fair to surpass all of Farm and Garden's successful events.

All the beloved types of greens will be available, including the prized Oregon Holly, Norwegian Pine, Laurel Garlands, small Christmas trees, centerpieces, mistletoe kissing rings and corsages.

Featured this year as a tribute to our wounded veterans two projects: the selling of Farm and Garden's Year-Book Calendar; the proceeds going to the Memorial Fund of Dearborn Veterans Hospital with Mrs. Henry P. Williams in charge of sales; and The Dolls House, containing hand-made dolls of collegiate and children's type, the proceeds going to The Ida Hibbard Fund for artificial hands for veterans, with Mrs. G. H. Stuart in charge of sales.

A highlight of the Greens Market will be "The Roadside Market", the original Stand-by-the-side-of-the-Road, designed by Mrs. Henry Ford and brought from Greenfield Village Museum.

Carmelite Guild to Hold Potluck Luncheon, Shower

St. Joseph's Carmelite Guild will hold a potluck luncheon on Tuesday, December 11, at 12:30 o'clock in the Home on Cadieux road. A meeting will follow the luncheon.

Mrs. Dee McCullough, president, Mrs. Philip Proepke and Mrs. William Mauer are co-chairmen.

There will also be a party shower for Sister Ursula, it being her 25th anniversary.

Guild Game Party To Help Hospital

Bon Secours Guild members are completing plans for their Game Party to be held in Annunciation Hall Saturday evening, December 18 at 8 p.m.

The objective of the party is to furnish the maternity department of the new hospital on Cadieux road.

Mrs. L. Mitchell and Mrs. John T. Condon, co-chairmen, promise a fine program. Refreshments will be served.

Assisting the chairmen are Mrs. Harold G. Frear, Mrs. Elmer T. Labadie, Mrs. Joseph Walsh, Mrs. Charles Wiebe and Mrs. Dalen J. Snyder.

Susan Lambrecht Gives Fourth Birthday Party

Tiny Susan Lambrecht, of Beacon Hill road, celebrated her fourth birthday with a party, complete with cake, candles and movies.

Her guests included Mary Matille Johnstone, Ann Fink, Karen Jensen, Iathleen Williams, Robin Lepard, Donna Woodruff, Gerry Denison and Beth Howenstein.

Catholic League Board Will Meet

All members of the League of Catholic Women are invited to attend the regular bi-monthly meeting of the board of directors, which will be held on Friday, December 14, at 2 p. m. in the Activities Building.

Mrs. James P. Cumiskey will preside and hear reports from the chairmen of standing committees.

Mrs. Hanley Dawson and Mrs. Joseph A. Moynahan are in charge of the Social Hour, which will follow. Harry Seitz, director of music of the Parochial School in the Archdiocese of Detroit, will address the group on the work which is being carried on in the field of music throughout the archdiocese. Mr. Seitz will present the Choral Club of St. Gregory's High School in a program of Christmas Carols. John Conas, a student from Gesu grade school, will appear as boy soloist.

Presiding at the tea table will be Mesdames. Edward P. Hammond, Charles T. Fisher, Joseph J. Bampton, Samuel E. Remy, Francis T. Bourke, Stephen Gor-

Yacht Club Will See Colored Travel Film

Event Will Be Followed By Children's Christmas Party on Saturday, December 22

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club will present a special attraction to members and their families on Friday evening, Dec. 7, when Francis R. Line will show his new all-colored travel film, "Touring Southern California on a Bicycle" with accompanying lecture. The film showing is scheduled at 8:30 o'clock following dinner. Dinner reservations are requested.

Next activity at GPYC will be the children's Christmas party on Saturday, Dec. 22, from 2 to 5 p.m. At this young fry's fete there will be a Santa Claus, a Yule tree and gifts, and real monkey circus and motion pictures.

Mrs. Henry Hopkes, Jr., is chairman of hostesses assisting Alvin C. Hamer, general entertainment chairman, with plans. Mrs. Hopkes' aides include Mrs. Elmer Boyd, Mrs. E. J. Whyte, Jr., Mrs. James Cope, Mrs. Charles M. White, Jr., Mrs. Gordon Birgbauer, Mrs. Frederick Ollison, Jr., Mrs. Robert E. Powers, Mrs. George M. Endicott and Mrs. Robert Hackathorn.

This group will meet at the club next Tuesday, Dec. 11, to wrap the presents to be distributed at the children's party.

New Year's Eve at GPYC will begin at 10 p. m. with two dance bands to provide continuous music for dancing in the new year of 1946. There will be an informal floor show and breakfast will be served from 12:01 a.m. until dawn. Mr. Hamer has named Mrs. Harry N. McMenemen, Jr., as chairman of hostesses. She will be assisted by Mrs. William W. Farr, Mrs. M. Ben Hettler and Mrs. Navarre Bennett.

On Jan. 1, New Year's Day, there will be the annual Directors' Open House and Reception from 4 to 6 p.m., with a program of chamber music.

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club will be closed all day Christmas. The regular dining and dancing will take place each Saturday evening of December.

Pointe Woman Wins Acclaim For Her San Francisco Look

When a Pointer wins recognition as the woman who best represents "That San Francisco Look" . . . and the recognition is proffered by San Franciscans themselves . . . that's news.

A clipping has arrived on the social desk at the NEWS office, snipped from the San Francisco "Call Bulletin" of November 28 and sent by a coast subscriber. The clipping, headed, "That San Francisco Look," is of a column. We reprint it in full.

"Again, an out-of-towner rates as today's choice of the women who best represent "That San Francisco Look" because of their distinctive way of dressing. For you don't have to BE a San Franciscan to LOOK like one!

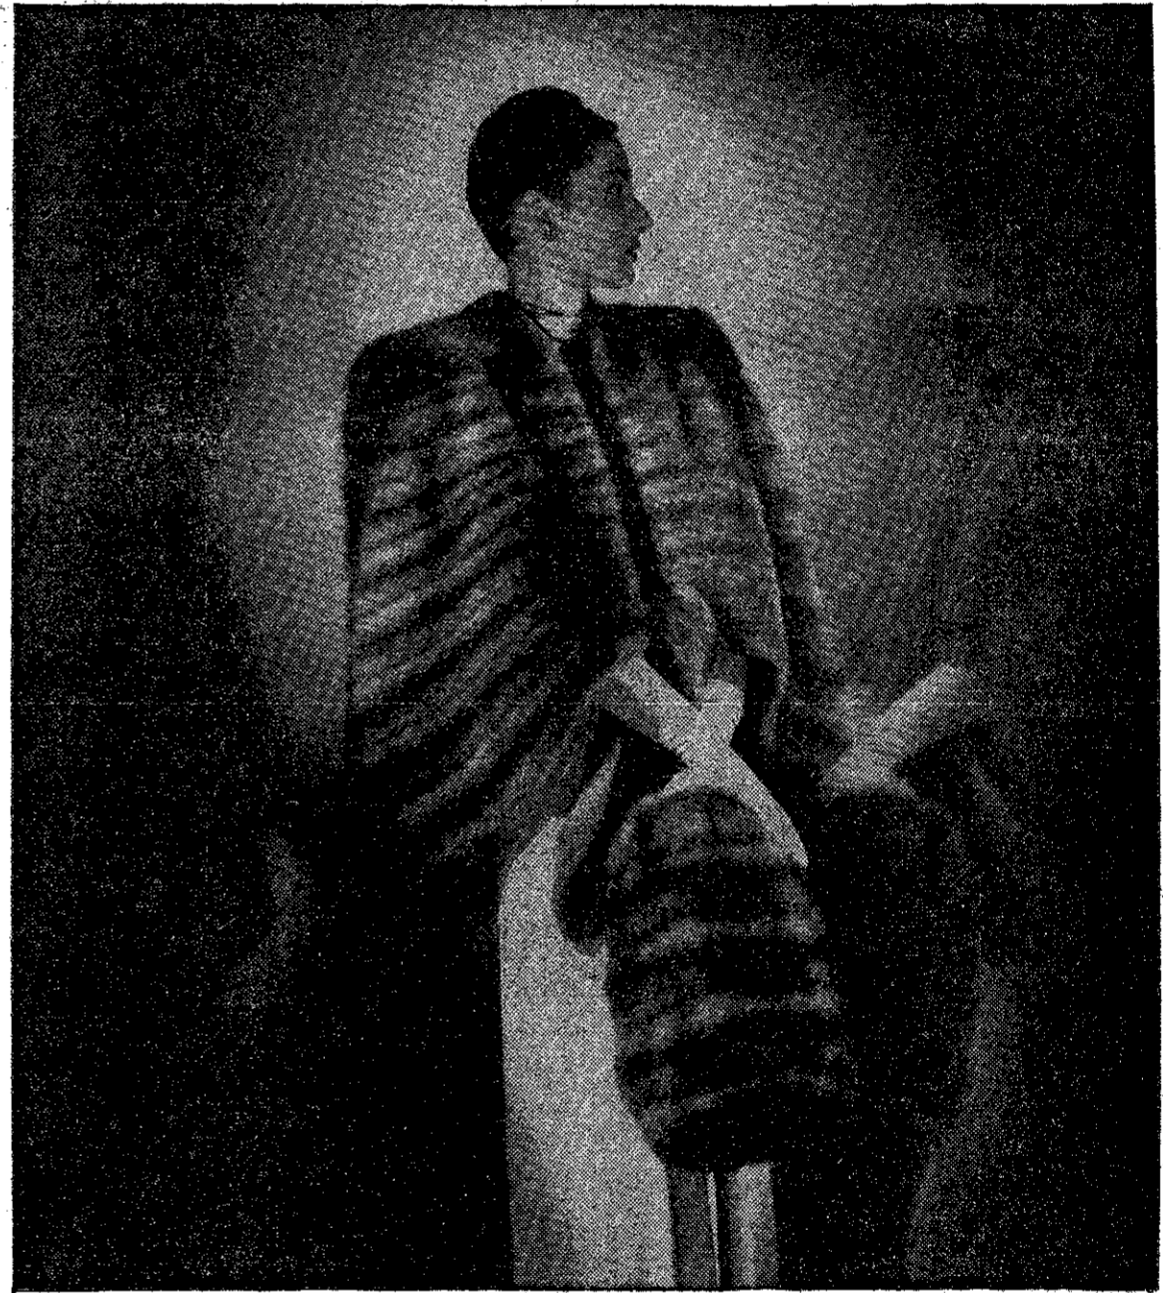

"Mrs. Roy D. Chapin, whose husband was one time United States secretary of Commerce, looked enough like a San Franciscan to be a native when seen Monday with a chatting group of friends in the St. Francis lobby. Yet she lives in Grosse Pointe, Mich.

"She wore a black wool dress of that highly desirable and hard-to-find basic type, slim of silhouette, narrow-belted, high-necklined, long-sleeved with wide gold bracelets at the wrists. At the throat sparkled a huge sunburst pin—or it may have been a part of her gold necklace. Her shoulders were covered with a multi-skin, scarf of baum martens.

"Her hat was a small brimmed style, worn back, revealing some of the hair above the brow. Its color was that soft-beige-tinged tone known as "winter snow," with mink tails wreathing the brim."

Mrs. Chapin lives on Lake Shore, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Mrs. Baer Is Hostess To Swedish Auxiliary

Benefit Tea Sponsored By Group in Detroit Chapter of American Red Cross to Purchase Wheel Chairs

Mrs. George Baer opened her new home on Balfour road for a benefit tea sponsored by the Swedish Auxiliary, Detroit Chapter, of the American Red Cross Wednesday afternoon.

Tea table decorations in red and green gave a Yuletide atmosphere, and the dining room gleamed with red tapers trimmed in gold, the work of Mrs. Karl Charlson.

Proceeds of the tea will be used to purchase wheel chairs for disabled war veterans.

Mrs. Axel Lundahl greeted guests at the door.

In charge of the tea table were Mrs. Hugh Boyd, Mrs. Paul E. Barton, Mrs. Kay Christensen, Mrs. Oscar Nyquist, Mrs. Thor

Olson and Mrs. Otto Lundell, Mrs. Jenny Lindloom, Mrs. Leo Wargen, Mrs. Harold Norberg and Mrs. Rudolph Sweder alternated at pouring.

Unit chairman Mrs. Carl Berglund conducted a short business meeting and presented chevrons and bars to those eligible.

The high-light of the program was a skit presented by Mrs. Myrtle Labbitt, of CKLW.

The group terminated the afternoon by singing Christmas carols.

The CONVENT HOCKEY TEAMS were entertained Friday night by their coach, Mrs. Dimmar, who invited the girls over after dinner for cokes and games. Barb and Sue O'Leary were there, Mary Lou Cudlip, Barbara Keim, Mary Thompson, Martha Bigley, Jeanne Gray, Ethel and Celeste Belanger, Harriet Howenstein and Barbara Kearns.

DOTTIE DONNELLY played hostess to a number of girls from the high school on the same night. The blue-jeaned crowd included Scottie Scott, Mary Trumbull, Annie and Jane Leininger, Phyllis Biggs, Dianne Faulk, Nancy and Janet Dalrymple, Shirley Somers and Sue Hughes.

The MEGATE PARTY took place on Friday night also, over at Billy Fisher's. Surrounding the coke bar between dances were Billy and Connie Woodall, Pat

Tales & Comment

FRESHMEN OF MARY-GROVE elected MARTHA RA-BAUT, of Three Mile Drive, vice-president of their class. Golf pro JOE BELFORD will hold forth this season in Florida at the Daytona Beach Country Club. Another clothing drive is scheduled this winter for China relief and impoverished nations of Europe. The ERIK VON REISES of McKinley will move into their new home on Kenwood road this month. Grosse Pointers are mistaking the wind torn flag on the high school pole for one of the battle torn trophies of the war.

What Fur?

WHAT'S IN A NAME? It seems in the names of furs on women's coats there's always another animal. For instance, Hudson Seal is not seal at all—it's muskrat. Alaska Sable is actually skunk. Vicuna Fox is sheep. Silver Bear is really raccoon. Wolf Fox is just plain dog. Russian Marten is a muskrat, just playing marten. And Arctic Seal isn't seal either—it's rabbit. We begin to wonder if a mink coat is made of mink? We don't know if the household cat is counted a fur bearing animal among the fur coat menagerie, but we are worrying about the wife's new coat we went all out for plus 20%.

McKean and Dave Robb, Carrie Carter and Bill Ghesquiere, Sally Potter and Ted Kratzet, Sally Frost and Bob Smith, Barbara Wicking and Web Knight, Ingrid Koebel and Artie Davis, Mary MacDonald and Phil Droll, and Judy Frost and Don Osborn.

SALLY SUTHERLAND'S hag party turned into a full-fledged open house on Saturday evening. Guess the boys just couldn't resist the temptation of a real party. Or maybe the reasons for the boys' arrival were Annie Wedthoff, Carol McPherson, Connie Preble, Ann Hicks, Betsy Wheldon, Nancy Jane Hall, Lois McKinley, and Sally Frost. Who knows? Anyway, some of the boys who showed up were Johnny Pemberthy, Dave Robb, Charley Morris, Artie Davis, Ted Barrell, Dick Chesborough, Lee Middleditch and Jim Corfield.

The HICKORY-STICK SWING was the title given to the high school's S. A. dance which was held last Saturday. Betty Jo Faulk and Dick Finch deserve a round of applause for the swell way they organized the dance. One of the main events was a Woodrow Eating Contest, to determine which boy could eat the most food in the shortest length of time. Marty Beer won the contest by devouring an apple, a sandwich, a candy bar, a pint of ice-cream, and three glasses of ginger ale, before the other five contestants.

A few of the guys who have been seen around the Pointe lately are Wood Geist, Ross Herron, Martin Marsack, Bud Donnelly, Willis Beard, Mike Bloy, Rosy Thorn, and Johnny Galvin.

Get your best clothes out of the moth-balls—but fast, for there are some pretty important dances coming up very soon. The JUNIOR PROM will be held this week at the high school, and the LIGGETT JUNIOR DANCE will be the week after at the Detroit Boat Club.

Cookies & Spice
WE MADE A PLEASANT discovery this week at Hawthorne House. Learned that EASTER KONIAR is on the staff there. Many Grosse Pointe women will remember her fancy cakes and petit fours at the Colony Town Club in the old Buhl home on East Jefferson. Easter is named for her birth date. . . . born one Easter morning. . . . and the name has stuck through the years. Few persons know that she is married and that she has a son just out of the army. A birthday cake started Easter on her career. And one cake led to another. Today she is famous for such things as blueberry muffins, fancy cookies and layer cakes.

We watched her sorting orders for Christmas cookies which will add their mite to coming holiday hospitality. And as we talked, our conversation was halted by a little red-haired boy in the dining room. It was SCOTT DEM-AREST who plays one of the sons in Life with Father. He had sent the waitress back for a second piece of chocolate cake, something more than mute tribute to Easter's art—for proof is not only in the eating but in second helpings as well. ### Shopping Easy For Lucky Men

Christmas shopping is being made wonderfully easy and pleasant for those lucky males who have been invited to the Gift Parade Luncheon which the B. Siegel Co. is giving Saturday noon, December 8.

Shopping will be merely a matter of picking out gifts between courses at the beautiful Latin Quarter, where the luncheon will be held. The affair is for men only, excepting, and this is important, for a contingent of beautiful models and gift counselors who will show an exciting array of negligees, lingerie, furs, jewels, perfumes and accessories.

Jack Carlisle, News war correspondent, will be on hand and will tell of some of his experiences on the Pacific battlefield. The Latin Quarter will present high spots from its regular floor show.

Fox Terrier Club To Conduct Show

The Fox Terrier Club of Detroit will hold its annual winter puppy match Sunday afternoon, December 9, at 2 p.m. at Webster Hall, 5050 Cass avenue.

Any fox terrier, smooth or wire coated, two months old and over is eligible for entry.

Judging will be in the competent hands of Earl Greene, until recently a lieutenant overseas with the United States Army. Mr. Greene is now one of the football coaches at Wayne, Michigan, High School.

If you need a new knob for your kettle cover in a hurry, put a screw through the hole from the inside and screw a cork to it. This makes an excellent handle.

Justice Sends Driver to Jail

For failing to appear in Farms police court to answer a reckless driving charge, Milton Baird is resting in the Wayne County jail for a 10-day period.

Baird, who lives at 5927 Wash, was picked up on Nov. 29 on a warrant of Judge Kenneth Thomas. He was given a hearing the same day before Judge Thomas.

When he informed the court that he didn't have the cash to handle the $50 fine imposed and $5 costs, he was escorted to the jail immediately by Sergeant Elmer Labadie.

Michigan Bank Honors Wheaton

George H. Zimmerman, chairman of the board has announced that Arvin L. Wheaton has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Michigan Bank.

"Mr. Wheaton has been in charge of the Department of Special Services of the Michigan Bank during the past five years and was elected vice-president in May of 1944," Mr. Zimmerman said. "This new promotion and responsibility is in recognition of Mr. Wheaton's earnest and successful efforts to promote a new kind of banking service for individuals."

Doctor A. H. Seibert of 1180 Bedford road reported to the Park police Sunday morning that someone had lifted a cast bronze sign off his base and carted it away. The sign carried his name and was valued at thirty dollars.

Motion Picture Council Meets

The Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council held its monthly meeting at the library on Kercheval on Monday, November 19. Mrs. Donald C. Hollister, the president, welcomed the new delegates who represent the Junior High Schools, Mothers' Club, Elementary Schools, Parochial Schools and churches of Grosse Pointe.

The committee to compile the December listings of recommended movies was appointed. An invitation from the Greater Detroit Motion Picture Council to attend their monthly meeting on Friday, December 7, at the Y.W.C.A. to hear Mrs. Jack Cross was issued.

The Council approved the following list of movies being shown in neighborhood theaters during December, all of which have been recommended by Consumers' Bulletin and reviewed by Parents' magazine:

"Junior Miss," "A Thousand and One Nights," "On Stage, Everybody," "Mr. Muggs Rides Again," "Bells of Rosarita," "Naughty Nineties," "A Rhythm Roundup," "Adventures of Mark Twin," and "South of the Rio Grande."

Advertising Gals To Have Fun Fest

The fifteenth annual Fun Fest of the Women's Advertising Club will be held Saturday Dec. 15, at 8:15 p.m. in the ballrooms of the Hotel Statler. The public is invited to come and join in the gaiety. Prizes will include a turkey dinner for 12, Victory bonds, and a large number of other valuable items.

Dolores Cadioux, of Cadillac Colorplate, is chairman of the Fun Fest with Barbara Matthews, of Outdoor Advertising, in charge of the ticket committee. Others heading committees in charge of the ticket committee include Cloria Dunbarger, door prizes; Margaret Moriarity, hostesses; Olive Torpey, finance; Rene Campbell, prizes; Tillie Lasker, reception, Marie Margaret Winthrop, Coca Cola and cigarette girls; Rosalie Harris, specialties, and Meta Eckel, publicity.

Tickets for the party can be obtained from any Women's Advertising Club member or from the Adcraft office, 2237 Book Tower. Admission is $1.20 per person.

Carmen-Lawrie Wedding Dec. 11

After 32 months in the ETO, Tech. Sgt. Richard Carmen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. King, of Fisher road, returned to the Pointe last week to arrange for his Dec. 11 wedding to Marion Lawrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lawrie, of West Seven Mile road.

The young couple will be married in the Epiphany Lutheran Church. Audrey Lawrie will be maid of honor for her sister, and Mrs. Robert Gockel and Katherine Riney, of Buffalo, N. Y., will be bridesmaids.

Best man for the sergeant will be Charles Rousseau, while guests will be seated by Clarence Day and Harvey Grut.

Mrs. John Welker will honor the bride-to-be at a miscellaneous shower this Friday evening at the D. A. C. The Kings will be hosts at the rehearsal dinner Monday night in the Wardell-Sheraton.

With the Boys

The War Department has announced the honorable separation of the service of MAJOR JOHN N. FAILING, 1007 Three Mile Drive, Grosse Pointe Park, effective Dec. 1, 1945.

Major Failing entered the service on April 21, 1942, and served as assistant to the Commanding Officer in the Mid-Central and Central Districts of the Air Technical Service Command.

Air Cadet Richard Baxter, USN, is back at his Glenview, Ill. station for primary flight training, after a 12-day leave here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Stuart Baxter, of Rivard boulevard.

Staff Sergeant Robert E. Lubeck of 734 Washington road, returned to the Pointe Sunday with Mrs. Lubeck, David and their pup, Monty. Bob was given his honorable discharge on November 28 at the Separation Base at Maxwell Field, Ala., where he had served for the last two and a half years. He had been in service for three years, five months.

A former member of the staff of the Grosse Pointe News, Bob spent most of his time at Maxwell Field helping produce Training News, a service newspaper that went to 70,000 in the Eastern Flying Training Command.

COL. O. PONGRACZ of Iroquois avenue, Detroit, was the guest of his brother Edward at the Rotary club meeting Monday.

Colonel Pongracz is just ending five years of service with the anti-aircraft forces, to which fell the duty of guarding the Panama Canal throughout the war. He says the service was rather humdrum in the latter stages of the war but evidently regarded by the Army as of great importance. The Colonel is now on terminal leave, awaiting final discharge from the service. He entered the Army in November, 1940, as a lieutenant, when our involvement in the war began to loom as a probability.

He has been a resident of Detroit all his life and is a graduate of Michigan State College.

It will be Christmas at home this year for Lieut.-Comdr. and Mrs. Allan F. Edwards, Jr. and their small son, of Bishop road, who have returned from the commander's station at Wynnwood, Pa. as full-fledged civilians.

JAPÁN (Delayed)—EDWARD J. SCHANBECK, chief storekeeper, has been transferred from the USS PATOKA for discharge under the Navy point system.

Before entering the Navy, Schanbeck was employed by the Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, Mich. He was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School.

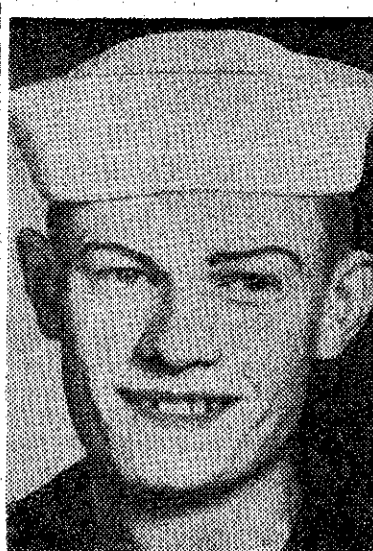

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schanbeck who live at 588 St. Clair Ave., in Grosse Pointe.

United States Forces in Austria—STAFF SERGEANT JOSEPH F. McMAHON, of 1242 Roslyn road, Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan, is now serving in the

Cause of Rejoicing

ROBERT VERNIER

ARTHUR GOLDESTIER

PAUL VERNIER

JOSEPH VERNIER

Sergeant Joseph L. Vernier of the Park Police Department and Mrs. Vernier are rejoicing in the return home of three of their four children who were in war service. They have three sons and one daughter, Geraldine, who was in the Women's Army Corps in overseas service for seventeen months.

JOSEPH, Seaman 2/c, was in the Navy two years and eleven months and was discharged four weeks ago. PAUL, a sergeant in the Army Air Corps, got home Sunday after a tour of four years and three months with much active service. ROBERT, Seaman 1/c, is the only one of the quartet still on duty. At present he is in Sasabo, Japan. ARTHUR GOLDESTIER, Seaman 1/c, is a son-in-law of the Verniers.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS—CPL. ROBERT E. ELROD, 1509 Hollywood, Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich. who served as Draftsman, has been separated from the Army Air Forces at the San Antonio District, AAF Personnel Distribution Command.

Air crewmen and ground crewmen returning from combat areas and army personnel from continental installations are received by the San Antonio PDC installation and in three days of processing their records are straightened out, their army pay matters arranged and their physical condition checked thoroughly in a medical examination. Only then are they returned to civilian life, adjusted completely for the change from combat soldier to civilian.

JOSEPH SPITZLEY is spending his furlough with his parents, MR. and MRS. RAY L. SPITZLEY of Renaud road. Joe has been in the South Pacific Islands for 19 months as MM-1/c.

CORPORAL S. A. HESS, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Hess of 879 Rivard boulevard, is on duty in Korea. His unit, the 183rd Ordnance Depot company has just received a Service Unit Citation for exceptional work done in the Okinawa campaign and various actions in the Ryu Kyu islands.

Corporal Hess has been in the Army for two years and nine months. His parents expect him home some time in April. He is a graduate of Amherst College in the class of 1943, finishing in a pre-commencement graduation in January.

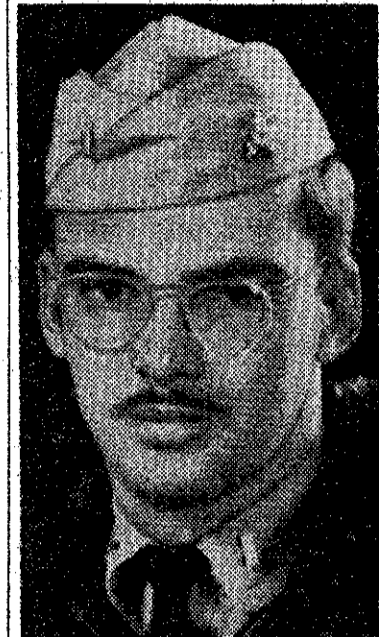

ing in a pre-commencement graduation in January.

SEAMAN 1/C SAMUEL G. FITTES, JR. of the Coast Guard, was in the Pointe on a three day leave from Great Lakes Naval Hospital this week, returning to the station Thursday night.

Seaman Fittes' home address is 28 Moran road. His address for the next few months at least will be 22 South U. S. Naval Hospital, Great Lakes, Ill. He spent 22 months in troop transport service in both the Atlantic and Pacific.

RUSSELL ALLARD, BM2c, is now located at USCG Air Station, San Diego 50, Calif.

LT. (JG) DOUGLAS CAMPBELL, JR., 25, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Campbell, Sr., Rathbone place, Grosse Pointe, Mich., serves as air combat intelligence officer with Navy Torpedo Squadron 95 in the Pacific. A graduate of the Hotchkiss School, Lakeville, Conn., and Yale University, he worked for the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. in Pittsburgh and Chicago before entering the Navy in December, 1942.

YES HE IS, no he isn't. That is the argument between a local morning paper and an afternoon paper over Mickey Cochrane's status with the New York Yankee baseball organization. The afternoon paper supposedly scooped the Detroit papers by announcing that Cochrane will manage the Yankees next season. The morning paper didn't believe this statement and contacted Larry McPhail, Yankee boss man, to verify the announcement. McPhail said, "There is absolutely no truth to the report."

Friday, Nov. 30
U. OF DETROIT Titans didn't wait long to show basketball followers that they will be a strong power this season. In their opener against Hillsdale College the Titans set a new scoring record for Titan teams by swishing the mesh for 72 points while Hillsdale had to be content with a paltry 30. The previous record was set against Toronto in the 1939-40 season when the Canadian team went down to defeat 70-34.

ARMY POWERHOUSE twins, Felix (Doc) Blanchard and Glenn Davis scored all of Army's five touchdowns against Navy. Blanchard tallied three while Davis contributed the others to give Army a 32-13 victory in the biggest grid classic of the 1945 season.

U. OF M. QUINTET opened its 1945-46 season by trouncing Michigan State, 47-39, before 3,900 frenzied fans at Ann Arbor. Freshman Bob Harrison led the Wolverines with 15 points while Sam Fortino, of Michigan State, equalled his point total for the Spartans.

Sunday, Dec. 2
GREAT LAKES destruction squad tore down the bleachers around Ross Field, the home stadium of the Great Lakes Naval Training School for the past four years, thus ending football at the training school for the second time, the first time being after World War I. Although this year's team compiled the worst record of any Great Lakes team but scored the greatest victory when it upset a powerful Notre Dame squad, 39-7, last Saturday.

DETROIT LIONS can look back on the 1945 football season with much pride because of the marked success both on the gridiron and at the box office. The Lions closed their season by defeating the Green Bay Packers, 14-3, to win second place in the western division of the N.F.L. It was the best a Lions team finished in the league since Dutch Clark's 1938 team won the title.

Lodge to Install Walter Eichhorn

Walter J. Eichhorn, Worshipful Master Elect of Pillar Lodge No. 526 F & A. M., will be publicly installed as the Master of his Lodge on Saturday, December 8, at Pillar Temple, Kercheval at Phillip. Mrs. Eichhorn, formerly Miss Mary Jane Pattison of 1015 Buckingham avenue, G. P. P. is also actively engaged in Pillar's Eastern Star Chapter.

Guy W. Moore 33 degree and Commander in Chief of the Detroit Consistory will represent the Grand Lodge of Michigan and will act as installing officer for the evening.

Highlighting the festivities are the Gardenaieres, Michigan's Champion barbershop quartet for 1945. The quartet will sing before and after the dinner which will be served at 8:15 in the Auditorium for those fortunate enough to have tickets. Due to the popularity of the occasion, tickets for the event were sold long before Thanksgiving day.

Friends are invited to join in the dance program at 9:30 p. m. with Eddie Martin's Orchestra providing the music.

Dads Promise Help In Getting Better Pointe Grid Teams

Michigan Assistant Coach Exhorts Boys and Fathers at Annual Football Roundup at High School

The first postwar Grosse Pointe High School Dads' Club meeting, held at the high school last Thursday evening, was a howling success and I mean howling. It was Wally Weber, University of Michigan's assistant football coach, who was mainly responsible for the howling part of the program. Weber was introduced by J. R. Kennedy, president of the Grosse Pointe Dads' Club, to the 250 dads and boys.

The Grosse Pointe High boys' glee club started off the program with three songs and the cheerleaders led the group in the school's yell.

Unlike Archie, of Duffys' Tavern, Weber rattled off words with such eloquence that it caught the crowd flat footed. After handing the group a lot of laughs, Weber turned serious and congratulated the 1945 football squad for its swell showing this fall and urged the team to go on to greater heights and make Grosse Pointe one of the nation's outstanding suburban football powers.

Weber pointed out that the Pointe has everything to attain this goal. He then reminded the dads that the kids couldn't do this alone and it was their job to see that the school receive every possible support from the community such as attendance at the games and an athletic plant to rival the best.

This he claimed would make better students because they would learn resourcefulness, determination, unselfishness and courage, which would enable the young men to better face the world and put their academic education to better use.

Following Weber's speech the Dads' Club held an election of officers, the first in four years. Arthur Neff, Dan Beck Sr., Harry Phillips and Harvey Christiansen were elected to the offices of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer respectively.

Following the election and the collection of dues Weber showed the movies of this year's Michigan-Minnesota game, and pointed out the mistakes of both teams. At the conclusion of the movies refreshments were served in the gymnasium.

From where I stood it looked as though a majority of the dads were extremely interested in bringing better football to the high school in years to come.

Coach Bill Healy told a story about having a pre-season meeting of the football candidates and giving the boys a real pep talk. He had made the statement that all football games are lost inside and outside the tackles. Just about that time he noticed veteran tackle Don McPhail taking a little snooze in the back of the room.

Healy decided it was high time he stopped this sort of thing and bellowed out; "McPhail, where are the most football games lost?" McPhail, being so rudely awakened from his siesta, struggled to his feet and scratched his head for a minute and then retorted, "Why right here at Grosse Pointe, coach."

There is more truth than poetry in that statement but with your help our high school kids will be able to give the Pointe the kind of sports it deserves.

Central Church To Conduct Sale

The Women's Society of Central Methodist Church, Woodward at Grand Circus Park, will present its Annual Christmas Sale and Turkey Dinner Friday, December 7. Mrs. Kins S. Collins, 757 Westchester, Grosse Pointe, is general chairman of the affair.

Two innovations this year are: a toy booth and a tea room and quilt exhibit. For the Toy Booth, donated used toys have been renovated by the Young Mothers' Circle of the Women's Society. These toys may be purchased at the Sale.

Detroit Inherits Burglary Case

The Park police received word at 11:30 o'clock Friday night that there had been a forcible entry and burglary at the residence of W. Gallagher at 1235 Wayburn.

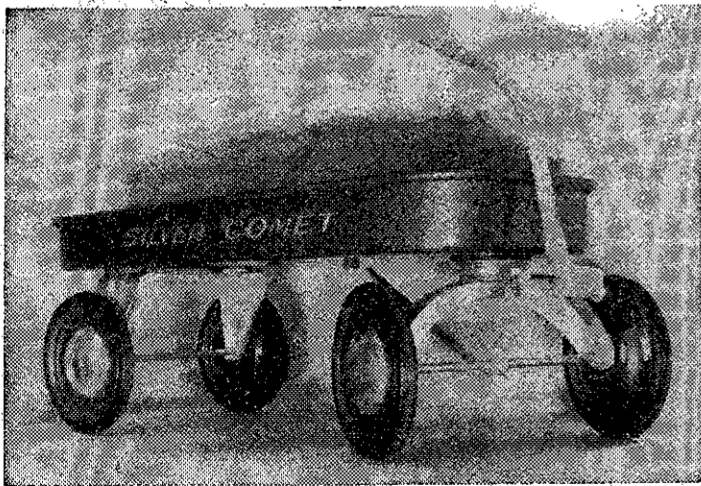

On examination they found that the scene of the burglary was a few inches over the Detroit-Park line. They dropped the problem in the lap of the Detroit Fifth Precinct police. They first ascertained that entrance was gained by forcing a rear window, and passed this information on to their brother officers down the line.

Approved Sale of City Plot In Detroit Expected to Be Consummated in Near Future

Augustinian Brothers to Build High School and Sell Piece to Detroit to Add to Park Tract

The measure authorizing the purchase of the property belonging now, and for the past thirty years, to Grosse Pointe City, lying in Detroit from Mack avenue to Canyon avenue has been before the Detroit City Council for about two weeks.

When the thirty day pending period prescribed by law has passed it is expected the deal with the Augustinian Fathers will be consummated.

The arrangement is that the City of Grosse Pointe will sell the property to the Augustinian Order and in turn will dispose of all of the property with the exception of the irregular piece fronting on Mack between Radnor road and Canyon avenue to the City of Detroit for park purposes. The Augustinian Order is awaiting formal action by the Detroit council before buying it from Grosse Pointe.

Neil Blondell, Grosse Pointe City Assessor who has been actively interested in the transaction says there is no conceivable reason why the deal should not be quickly consummated. The Augustinians plan to build a 1500 student capacity high school on their reserved part of the tract. This addition to the educational facilities of the Pointe area is sincerely welcomed as it could greatly relieve the pressure on its present high school facilities.

Detroit in turn will have a long narrow strip nearly a mile in length but only about 200 feet wide to add to property it already owns in that section for park purposes on its east end.

The sale of the property was authorized by the citizens of the City of Grosse Pointe at the municipal elections in November.

Blast Hurls Clay Through Window

The residents at 230 Lakeland avenue reported that Saturday afternoon a chunk of clay was hurled through one of the windows. They believed it came from blasting on a basement building project on Rathbone place.

On seeing Henry Sheldon, the contractor in charge of the work, later in the day, Mr. Sheldon agreed to pay for the damage done and said there would be no more blasting until late Monday afternoon.

Prowler Scared Away on Beverly

A prowler who attempted to enter the residence at 429 Beverly road at 8:40 p. m. on November 30, was scared away by the occupants. He was seen trying to get into the basement and ran when he saw he had been discovered.

He was described as white, of medium build and wearing a leather jacket. City of Grosse Pointe police were notified he had fled in that direction, after a search by Farms Police Officers Seelow, Roland and Jarrett proved fruitless.

Occupants Lucky In Auto Crashes

Two bad automobile collisions occurred in the Park last week in which all four cars were mangled up, but in neither accident was any critical injury sustained by drivers or riders.

The first one was at Bedford and Vernor at 2:40 p. m. Wednesday afternoon when James H. Jelley, a sailor in the U. S. Navy, whose home is at 3960 Courville, Detroit, driving south on Bedford collided with a Packard two-door owned and driven by Mildred F. Glogower of 557 Fisher road, who was driving west on Vernor.

Both cars were badly damaged and had to be towed away. Mrs. Glogower and sailor Jelley were taken to the Bon Secours Hospital but later when Jelley's status as a navy man was disclosed he was removed to Grosse Pointe.

At last reports neither party was dangerously injured. The second accident happened on Thursday night about 9:30 o'clock when Mrs. Honore Newman of 5103 Haverhill, Detroit, driving north on Devonshire, collided with a car driven by Viola McCarthy of 1000 Van Dyke, driving west on Kercheval. Again both cars were badly damaged and had to be towed away.

Neither of the women sustained any serious injury but Viola McCarthy was given a ticket for driving without lights causing an accident.

Town Hall Books Percy Grainger

Percy Grainger, noted pianist and composer will give a program of Christmas music at Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday morning, December 12, 11 o'clock. This will be a return engagement for the popular piano virtuoso because of the triumph scored at his first Town Hall appearance last season.

In an hour and a half concert, Grainger will play a group of Yuletide favorites including his own composition, "Christmas Waltz" a personal arrangement of "Sussex Mummers' Christmas Carol", "Noel", and Sparr Olsen's "When Yuletide Comes." The distinguished artist's popularity among both music lovers and critics has increased steadily through the years. This can be attributed not only to his importance as a musician and composer, but to an original and magnetic type of showmanship, Grainger's works, "Country Gardens," "Molly on the Shore," "Irish Tune from County Derry," and "Shepherd's Hey" are universally known and loved.

Dr. Redl to Talk To Kerby P.T.A.

The next meeting of the Kerby Parent Teachers Association will take place on Tuesday, December 11, at 8 p. m. at the school. Dr. Fritz Redl, authority in the study of delinquency and in the characteristic behavior of pre-adolescent children, will be the speaker. Dr. Redl is at present, Professor of Social Work at Wayne University and Director of the Group Project.

Parents whose children are in the pre-adolescent or adolescent stage of development will be able to extend their knowledge of these stages of growth. Dr. Redl's topic will be: Develop-

Neighborhood Club News

CHRISTMAS PLAY: The Junior Members of the Neighborhood Club are beginning their rehearsals this week for the Annual Christmas play they put on for the children of the community. The play is under the direction of Miss Dixon and will be given Saturday, December 22, at 2 p.m.

CAROLERS: The Neighborhood Club Carol Singers are again extending an invitation to girls and young women 15 and over to join their rehearsals on Thursday evenings at 9 p. m. under the able direction of Miss Mildred Knaggs. This group has extended Christmas greetings throughout the community in the past years and are well known by the red capes they wear and their refusal to accept financial offerings for their efforts. If anyone in the community is interested in having this group sing at their home on Sunday evening, December 23, please call NL 4600.

"CHECK YOUR CHICK SERVICE" On Saturday mornings from 10 a. m. until 1 a. m. the Neighborhood Club offers a unique service for busy mothers. Children, ages 2-5, may enjoy pre-school activities under the excellent direction of Miss June Fox, a teacher in the Detroit schools. This is a grand opportunity for mothers who are busy on Saturday mornings.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL. All girls interested in basketball are urged to come to the Neighborhood Club on Thursday night from 7-10 p. m. Teams will be organized and if you already have a team come out and practice. Be ready for the annual Grosse Pointe Girls' Basketball League scheduled to start in the near future.

HERE THEY COME!

YES, thousands of telephones are being made in the Bell System's Western Electric plants.

They'll help relieve the war-caused shortage that has kept so many people waiting for a telephone. However, telephone instruments aren't all that's needed. Nearly two-thirds of the 125,000 waiting applicants are in areas where central office equipment cannot handle any more telephones, or where all wires and cables are in use.

Cable and central office equipment are being manufactured, too. But before they can be used to connect new telephones they must be installed and interconnected with the existing telephone system — a time-consuming job, requiring a vast amount of hand work.

We're installing telephones in areas where only instruments are needed. In fact, we expect to fill practically all applications of this type by next spring. We're also moving ahead with the job of adding cable and central office equipment. But in most areas, it will be months before enough can be manufactured and installed to provide service to everyone who wants a telephone.

If you're among those waiting, you may be sure we'll fill your order in its proper turn just as soon as possible.

"KISS OF DEATH"

A SLEEPING BEAUTY
A number of questions were squirming around my brain as I walked down to the lounge of The Grosse Pointe Golf Club and headed for one of the telephone rooms. I had three calls to make, the first to Carroll at Homicide. I hadn't told Carroll about Miranda's picture vanishing from my room last night. I wasn't going to tell him. Somehow, there was too much of the magician's touch to that disappearance to hold up under police scrutiny. My apartment door had been locked. I'd been there myself all the time. No, that was one incident I'd keep to myself for the time being. Carroll wanted facts that you could put under a microscope or have chemically analyzed, or call in experts to examine.

I would tell him about the forgery of Pendleton's name on that check in New York. That was police stuff into which he could get the sharp eyetooth. I got Carroll on his line, his voice electrifying as a needle shower after the bathos with which I'd been sprayed by Pendleton and Monaco.

I told him of the bank's call to Pendleton, regarding his name on the check at the 33 Club. He already knew about the check. The New York Police had a detailed description from a waiter and the cashier at the 33 Club. The description tallied with that of a forger who'd been released from Sing-Sing a few weeks ago. In fact, they were sure of their man. All they had to do was find him.

"Listen, Larry," Carroll continued, "That sample of Fay Ames' powder you brought in yesterday afternoon. It's the same blend of powder that we found on the pier near the body."

"Oh," my voice sagged.

"It's a very expensive powder made, so the analyst says, by a Prince Cellini. It's a tan shade called Riviera Biege. It's sold only in this Prince Cellini's own beauty salons and a few snobbish specialty shops. All names are in Cellini's files."

I pumped my voice back into my throat.

"The fact that Fay's powder checks with that found near Miranda's body doesn't implicate her as the murderer, does it Carroll?"

"No. It does put her at the scene of the crime, at least tentatively. It restricts the number of women who might have dropped that powder and includes her in that number."

I switched Carroll's line of talk by asking him if they had any lead on the driver of the speed-boat from the club.

He said, "Not yet. How long are you going to stay out there at the Grosse Pointe Golf Club?"

"Not long. I'm going to try to see swooning Sue."

"I'll give you a ring and meet you there. I'm going out to see Fay Ames. I'd like you to come along."

Zing wasn't in his hotel room when I called. He'd be out checking up on people. From the little I'd seen of him, I could tell Zing was a man who excavated people's yesterdays. Given a long distance line, enough cable rope and a Western Union board, he'd start bloodhounding blithely until everybody's life was just an open sewer to him.

I went up to Sue Manchester's room without announcing myself. Her room was, I noted, next to Pendleton's suite in the Club. An hostile-faced nurse admitted me. She said she'd tell Miss Manchester who I was, came back to the door and fixing me with an arctic eye admitted that Miss Manchester would be delighted to see me.

Sue Manchester was lying on a chaise-lounge in the yellow sunlight streaming in from the French doors. She was wearing a robe of eye-carreasing green about the color of absinthe frappe.

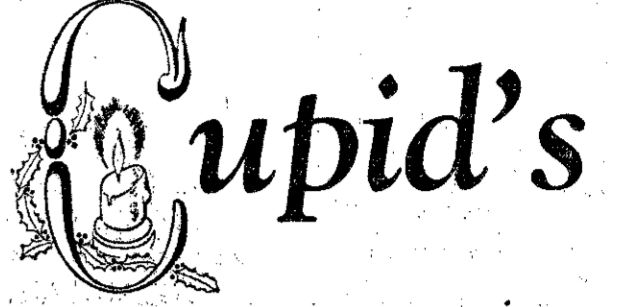

pe. It was a set-up that had more than color in common with absinthe. At first it looked only refreshing and rather stimulating but as time went by, it became subtly intoxicating.

I got a blurred vision of dark, uncensored eyes in a pale face, and a wide luscious mouth. Her soft black hair fell to her shoulders in what the English novelists call a dark cloud—except that Sue Manchester could never get into an English novel. Her figure was flat-hipped, high-breasted; every line of it spelled line-up at the box-office. She had those uplifted breasts that were the downfall test.

She didn't look New England. In fact she looked as if she had been at Plymouth, the rock would have landed on the Pilgrims instead of the Pilgrims on the rock. She did look like culture on the loose. I reflected that it really takes a girl of breeding to go to pot in a picturesque way. The others make such a prosaic job of it. Not that I considered singing with Pendleton's band a symptom of plunging to pot. Far from it. But Sue Manchester looked as if carrying with a band was what she did only in her odd, not to say

Memorial

It over to the Grosse Pointe Honor Roll Association.

Alger Sheldon, president of the Honor Roll Association, took the chair and explained briefly the important matter that brought them together. The Honor Roll Association had been created to attend to the erection of a roll bearing the names of the men and women of the Pointe who were in war service. This had been done and out of the generous contributions the public had made to the roll there remained approximately $5,000. When subscriptions to the roll were made it was stated that any funds left over would be kept as a nucleus of a fund later on to provide a permanent memorial.

There was a general unanimity with this suggestion and an informal discussion followed to obtain the opinions of the persons at the meeting.

Rem Purdy, who has taken a prominent part in the civic and cultural activities of the Pointe, inclined strongly to the belief that the character of the memorial should be left to men and women themselves in whose honor the memorial was to be provided. Others opposed this, while agreeing that the returning veterans should be widely consulted on the matter. The fact that only about one sixth of the men and women of the Pointe who went to the war are actually home as yet, opposed the idea of waiting until all of the returnees could be personally consulted. It was decided however, that every effort should be made to obtain their opinions by mail. Captain O'Brien warned that in planning the memorial due account must be made of the probable cost of upkeep. In some instances this cost might be of more concern than the original erection of the Memorial itself. Both he and Mr. Sheldon reminded the meeting that the memorial, which must conform to the character of the Pointe community and the great purpose which it served, would at best be an expensive undertaking. All agreed that this community would not wish anything cheap or inappropriate as a memorial to its war heroes, whatever form it should take.

At the end of the general discussion Mr. Alger called for suggestions from the meeting of names of a study group of probably not more than fifteen or twenty names. He thought this should be made up of representatives from the Grosse Pointe Honor Roll Association, the Grosse Pointe Council of Veterans Affairs, from the Veterans themselves, from the citizens at large and from the press.

From the Veterans themselves three to be named later. From the citizens at large: three to be named later. From the Press, Mark K. Edgar and Paul Blackburn. The first actual contribution to the Memorial, aside from the funds remaining over from the Honor Roll collection, came from the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, whose directors authorized Edward Pongracz to pledge the Club for a subscription of $2,500.

Six Tableaux Will Beautify Lovely Musical Program Which Has Become Tradition of Pointe

At 4 o'clock on Dec. 16, 1945, Miss Gwen Brockmiller will raise her baton opening the seventh annual Christmas Vespers Program at Pierce Junior High School Auditorium. Families and friends of Pierce students anticipating this service which has become a beautiful tradition of the school. The members of the choruses, dressed in their white surplices and big black floppy bows, are seated on the risers on the stage. With each number an appropriate and colorful tableau, depicting the Christmas story, is staged at the back, and with the music, it makes a beautiful picture.

For the conclusion of the program, members of the music classes, each carrying a lighted candle, proceeded up the side aisles and down the center aisles to the orchestra pit, singing "O Come All Ye Faithful" and join the choruses to sing the final numbers.
