Closing of Local Council Headquarters Need Not Deprive Men of Help; Letter to John J. O'Brien, Points Out

Of special interest to veterans is a letter, a copy of which has been received by the NEWS, from the Department of Labor, 14421 East Jefferson avenue, not far below the limits of the Pointe area.

The original of the letter was addressed to John J. O'Brien, chairman of the Grosse Pointe Council of Veterans Affairs. It says:

August 21, 1946

Grosse Pointe Council of Veterans Affairs
16829 Kercheval Avenue
Grosse Pointe 30, Michigan
Attention: Mr. John J. O'Brien, Chairman

Gentlemen:

In connection with the decision of the Council to close the Veterans' Information Center on October 31, 1946, the United States Employment Service wishes to make known the fact that the same services will continue to be available, without cost, to all Veterans in the Grosse Pointe Communities and Gratiot Township at their East Side Office located at 14421 E. Jefferson avenue.

Two trained Counselors, who are Veterans, are available from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday and for cases of complex nature, or if occupational testing is desirable, the services of 30 additional counselors are available at our Veterans Employment Center located at 2210 Park Avenue.

The East Side Office leads every office in Michigan in the placement of Veterans, having placed 4935 Veterans in jobs in the past 7 months. The total registered for employment during this time was 9301, which includes many who plan to continue their education instead of seeking employment at this time.

Clyde's Ride Raises Havoc With Early Morning Traffic

Charges of reckless driving, driving without a license, having a car with faulty brakes, and causing an accident involving four cars, were lodged against Clyde Crowningshield of 1129 Merrick by Farms police.

Clyde was driving east on Mack at 7:58 a.m. on August 24. Near Moross he sideswiped a Ford going west, driven by Herold Grunwald of 907 Fisher road. The left running board and rear fender of the Ford were damaged.

Clyde proceeded on his way and hit a Jeep driven by Benedict R. Grinis of 475 N. Brentwood. Here $150 damage was done to the left front end and left side of the Jeep.

Then Clyde's Chevy hit a Dodge going east on Mack, driven by Chester W. Row of 21818 Blackburn, doing $10 damage to the Dodge.

The police figured up the damage to the Chevy, which is owned by Leon F. Russell of East Forest, Detroit, and thought it could be fixed for about $250.

A bottle of gin in the glove compartment and a case of beer in the trunk were further evidence as to Clyde's condition. He was held in police headquarters for a rest period, then released on payment of $100 as a bond for his appearance in police court at a later date.

Young Author Plays Costly Tennis Game

Betsy Bachmann's Purse Stolen While She is Occupied on School Court

Betsy Bachmann, former author of the Kid-Bits column in the NEWS, could have taken a lesson from a top pro and bought a few new balls for the price of her tennis game at the High School courts on Tuesday.

Betsy told Farms police while she was playing someone had stolen her purse. It contained $5.00 and some change, her driver's license, pier permit and other papers.

Two boys in the vicinity at the time were questioned by Farms police but could shed no light on the mystery.

Betsy, who is 18, was graduated from Grosse Pointe High in June. She has been awarded a scholarship at Vassar, which she will enter this September. She lives on McKinley road.

Terminal Leave Blanks Available

The Grosse Pointe Council of Veterans Affairs wishes to announce that applications for Terminal Leave payment have been made available at the Information Center, 16829 Kercheval Avenue.

Although origin Government plans called for the distribution of the blanks only at the post-offices, they have been altered to permit the local counseling centers to provide assistance in filling them out and give Notary certification.

The Grosse Pointe Veterans' Center processes 89 applications from Thursday afternoon to Saturday noon. The office will be open daily from 9 until 4:30 and on Saturdays from 9 until 11:30 for this purpose.

A minimum of time and effort is required if the Veteran will bring with him his Honorable Discharge Certificate or photostat.

Barricade Tossers Lectured by Police

A bunch of over-active boys who threw a road barricade into a cornfield at Rivard and St. Paul the other night and, for good measure, tossed an oil torch into a pile of rubbish, were gathered up by Sergeant Ed. Trombley of the City police and compelled to restore the barricade to its proper place.

Sergeant Trombley gave them an earnest talk and with their promise to sin no more, sent them home.

Farms Struck By Epidemic Of Robberies

Series of House Breakings Listed on Police Records During Last Week

The Farms was plagued by a series of breaking and enterings during the last week. Two boys who have confessed to entering three homes in the village have been taken to the Juvenile Detention Home.

The police received a report on August 22 that the Lutz home at 419 Champlain had been entered while the family was away. A screen had been pulled off a window to gain entrance. Some $20 in change had been taken.

A dog scared away a prowler at the Kosecki home at 369 Chalfonte on the night of August 22. Later the would-be thief had taken a screen off a basement window.

A drill was used by a burglar to gain entrance to the Lloyd Weed home at 258 Kenwood court while Mr. Weed was away. It is not yet known what is missing there. The drill was found and is being checked for possible fingerprints.

There was also a breaking and entering at the Langworthy residence at 268 Kenwood court. This was discovered when Mr. Langworthy returned home on August 22. A check is being made to see what is missing.

Someone gained entrance to the home of Dr. R. L. Fisher at 288 Cloverly road on August 22, between 11:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. while Mrs. Fisher was shopping. A small strongbox had been taken from the room of her son. It contained $45.

Two teen-aged boys, one from the Pointe, the other from Detroit, confessed to entering three homes, those of G. W. Corliss at 343 Moross road, E. R. June, of 315 Moross and Lester LaBroski of 313 Moross. Money had been taken from two of the homes and a small sample bottle of whiskey from one of them. The boys were taken to the Juvenile Detention Home on August 25.

The youngsters were in the June home when the family returned. Seeing a ladder placed at a second story window, Mr. June entered the house cautiously, only to hear the boys rush out through a back door. The Farms police were notified and immediately sent officers to the scene.

The boys then ran into the home of Lester LaBroski, next door. At this point, Mr. LaBroski, who is a Farms policeman himself, returned with his family. Seeing his front door open, Mr. LaBroski entered in time to hear the boys run out the back, but in this instance, the Farms police were right there waiting for them and made the grab.

Police Tracing Hit-Run Driver

A citizen living in the 1400 block of Somerset road phoned the Park police at 10:40 o'clock Tuesday night there had been a hit-run accident nearby.

The police found a car, registered to Mrs. G. Konor of 1445 Lakeshore, that had evidently been parked with a badly damaged rear end on Somerset just south of Mack. Several hours later Detective Hough located a car with its front end smashed in, abandoned in front of 1345 Balfour.

It looked as if it might have been the wanted car on the hit-run charge. This was listed to the McKenna Motor Sales company of 12550 Gratiot, but a reference to the transfer book showed the latest owner was a resident of Moran road in Grosse Pointe Farms. It was a green Buick of the 1941 model.

Accoster Stops Girls in Farms

Farms police are seeking an accoster who stopped two 11-year-old girls on Lakeshore road near Kerby on the afternoon of August 26.

The youngsters said he followed them for some distance after they refused to get in his car. He was about 35 and wore no coat or hat, they said.

Clerk and Deputy Given Equal Power By City Ordinance

Council Takes Action After Signatures on Sinking Fund Warrants are Questioned by Two Banks

The National Bank of Detroit and also the Grosse Pointe Bank raised the question some months ago as to the legal right under the Charter of the City of Grosse Pointe for the Deputy Clerk to sign or countersign warrants drawn on the Sinking Fund accounts.

The matter has been under advisement by the council for some time and recently they directed the City Attorney, Mr. Meder, to give them an opinion on the matter as to how the wishes of the banks might be complied with without the necessity of amending the present City Charter.

At Mr. Meder's suggestion this could be done by the passage of an ordinance, and at the special meeting last Friday the draft of such an ordinance was presented and passed.

It being an ordinance without a penalty attached, it was not necessary to advertise it or hold public hearings.

The Ordinance reads:

"An Ordinance directing the duties of the Deputy City Clerk. Section 1—The Deputy City Clerk of the City of Grosse Pointe, duly appointed by the Council shall have all the duties and powers of the City Clerk of the City of Grosse Pointe.

Section 2—This ordinance shall become effective in one week after its adoption."

The action taken by the council raises several questions, although the City has been assured by its attorney that this action would be satisfactory to the banks which raised it.

Chief among these is whether or not it is within the power of the City Council to divide or split equally the duties and powers of the City Clerk, (an officer of the city duly elected by the voters), with an official named only by the Council itself, by a simple resolution or ordinance, as a permanent definition of power.

In time of emergency, caused by the death or disability of an elected official, there would be no question of the power of the Council to name an interim appointee.

The right of the Council to name and define the duties of its officers would be unquestioned, but the permanent naming of an official to share the same duties as one elected by the voters is another question.

Newcomer Discovers Access To Pointe Homes is Simple

One of two boys being held in connection with a series of recent robberies of homes in the Farms has confessed, to handling three of the jobs by himself, Sgt. Elmer Labadie of the Farms police stated Wednesday.

The boy, whose 'ami recen' moved to the Pointe, is only 15 years old. At the time he moved here he was on probation to the juvenile division, a probation to the connection with 16 robberies he had perpetrated in Detroit. Detroit police are questioning him now in connection with other recent robberies there.

The youngster being held by juvenile authorities, told Sergeant Labadie he had entered the Carl Meinger home at 269 Ridgmont and took a small savings bank with about $2.00 in it. He led Labadie to the vacant lot at Kerline and Beaupre and the empty 'ban' was found in the weed. Also found in the same 'eld was a traveling electric sunbeam iron, about which the boy said he knew no ing. The owner may claim the iron at the Farms police station.

The youngster also confessed that he had been alone when he tried to get into the Kosecki home at 369 Chalfonte, where he was scared away by a barking dog as he was attempting to enter the basement. He also said he had entered the Frederic Lutz home at 419 Champlain and had stolen $23 in cash.

$162,000 Needed For New Projects

Agreement Signed on Purchase of Part of Ford Estate for Beach Site

The Woods village at a special meeting of the Board of Village Commissioners Tuesday evening provided for submission to the qualified electors of the village who are property owners the question of passing upon bond issues aggregating $162,000. The election will be held on September 30. The last day for registration for voting at the election is September 10.

Any person who is a property owner in the village or the husband or wife of a property owner and otherwise duly qualified, may vote.

The question will be submitted on two separate ballots, making it possible for the voters to select one and approve the other.

One ballot has to do wholly with the purchase of the 43.7 acres of the Edsel Ford estate lakefront property which the village proposes, if authorized by the voters on Sept. 30, to buy and improve as a village lakefront park.

This issue is for $72,000, broken down as follows: For the purchase of the property from the Ford Estate, $60,000; for payment of the Village's share of the accrued taxes, $2,000; for the improvement and development of the park, including the erection of the "green barrier" between the proposed village tract and the remaining Ford property, $10,000.

Mr. Ford has already signed the purchase agreement and the council last night directed the President and Clerk of the village to sign for the Woods.

The second ballot calls for the vote on a proposed issue of $90,000 which is to cover the following items:

To meet the village's commitment for its share of the cost of underground cables and other improvements to the lighting protection system for the pumping stations, as submitted by the Detroit Edison company, $25,000; For an additional pump at the Torrey Woods pumping station, made necessary by the impending subdivision activities in that section, $28,000.

Delivery cannot be obtained on this pump for from 18 months to two years.

For a cross arm sewer on Charleville between Brys drive and Anita to dump into the Hollywood big barrel, $13,000.

For a culvert at Richmond and Helen over the drain, $1,000.

For correction and extension of sewers in Lochmoor and Sunningdale to connect with the storm water interceptor, $2,500.

For correction and improvements at the Marder road pumping station (estimated), $18,000. Total $90,000.

At the same meeting the council provided for the purchase of additional sewer cleaning equipment which will cost $1,000. This item will be paid for out of current revenues.

Bandits Hold Up Mack Avenue Bar

Three bandits, two of them armed, held up the J. Ann Bar at 17305 Mack avenue Monday night and escaped with $50.

The owner, Jack Gray, told police the thugs had been in the place earlier and drank beer, evidently looking the place over. When they returned they herded Gray and two customers into a back room after hitting one of the customers over the head when he didn't move fast enough to suit them.

Caller's Actions Most Suspicious

Mrs. L. S. Abbott, of 735 Barrington, reported to the Park police Tuesday of last week that about noon a man came to her door and asked to see the woman of the house. Informed that she was that person he hurriedly turned about and walked rapidly away.

His manner indicated that he was bent on no honest mission. The man was about 40 years old, wore a brown suit and no hat.

City to Repair Driveways Damaged in Paving Project

The Grosse Pointe City Council held a special meeting Friday afternoon between 4 o'clock and 6 o'clock to dispose of certain matters which needed immediate attention.

First among these items was the matter of the repair of private driveway disrupted by the paving operations on Lincoln and University. Both of these streets are in process of receiving complete new pavements and it happens in many cases that the work damages the private driveways to a considerable extent.

It had at first been thought that these repairs would devolve wholly on the affected property owners and notice was published in the paper, at the request of the city, that where damage had occurred or where property owners thought that the moment opportunity to renew their driveways to make them conform to the newly laid pavements, they could get in touch with the inspectors on the job who would give them an estimate of the cost and arrange to have the work done for them at their expense.

Since then however, it is obvious that many such property owners have believed that this job should be done by the city and have so expressed themselves to members of the council. The action taken was that the city should undertake this work as an item of the common expense of the whole paving job.

This does not mean however, that every citizen who would like his driveway repaved a little can wish the job on the city. It is only to apply in such cases where the damage to the drive was directly the result of the paving work.

Services Held For W.F. Beaupre

Funeral services were held on Friday in the Verheyden Funeral Home and in St. Paul's Church, for William F. Beaupre, 70, of 324 Kerby road, Grosse Pointe Farms. Burial was in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Mr. Beaupre, a member of one of the Pointe's oldest families, was born here. For many years he was greens keeper at the Lochmoor Club, following which he filled the same position at the Plum Hollow Golf Club. He retired last summer.

Survivors include his wife, Mathilda; sons, Ormond, Russell, William and Eugene; daughters, Mrs. Raymond Huetteman, Frances, Mrs. Donald Del Place and Mrs. Theodore Treffer; and a brother, Albert. Another brother, Michael, is deceased.

HOSE DISAPPEARS
A 50-foot green garden hose was stolen from the property at 264 Hillcrest road, Grosse Pointe Farms, on the night of August 17, it was reported to Farms police.

Citizens Ask Sewer Relief

Park Manager Lane Says Program Calls for Improvements in Their Area

A petition and a personal letter were presented at the Park Board of Commissioners' meeting Monday afternoon from property owners in the Charlevoix-Mack-Somerset-Wayburn area complaining that they were being neglected in the Park's sewer betterment program.

Mr. Lane, the Village Manager, informed the Board that these residents were under a wrong impression. This area is definitely on the program for early attention. At present the village is working on the Northeast section of this general area bounded by Charlevoix, Mack, Whittier, Grayton, The complaint came from that area generally defined on the village maps as the northwest area.

Mr. Lane said he would reply to these residents and clear up the misunderstanding. The council considered no further action was necessary than Mr. Lane's explanation to the citizens.

The Village's program for both areas calls for enlargement of the sewer and storm water facilities, which it is believed will largely meet the complaints.

Harold S. Rounds Stricken on Boat

Harold S. Rounds, 57, of 621 North Oxford road, suffered a fatal heart attack Friday night while aboard his cruiser on Lake St. Clair. He was dead on admission to Cottage Hospital.

Mr. Rounds was president of the Midwest Hydro-Pierce Co. and Midwest Production Engineering Co. He was a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the Detroit Consistory, Moslem Shrine, DAC, Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and Lochmoor Club.

Survivors include his wife, Eloise, and a daughter, Geraldine. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the Verheyden Funeral Home, with burial in Evergreen cemetery.

Park Seeking Commissioner

The committee of the Park Board of Commissioners named to recommend a successor for Commissioner Joel Sage, resigned, comprised of Commissioners Ulrich and Bloodworth, reported to the meeting Monday afternoon that they were not yet ready to make a recommendation, but would be ready to do so at the next meeting of the Board.

The law provides that in the event of the death or resignation of one of the board the other commissioners shall name a successor to act in the interim until the next election. In Mr. Sage's case this will be until next March.

He who conquers others is strong but not as strong as he who conquers himself.

Police Grab Pete Licavoli

Man Called Numbers King by Detroit Police Said to Be Living in Pointe

According to Sgt. Clayton Nolan, head of the racket squad, who made the arrest while Licavoli was sitting in his car at Third and Fort, the prohibition era mobster lives at 1154 Balfour road, Grosse Pointe Park. When arrested Licavoli gave an Arizona address and the address at which his mother lives on East Grand boulevard.

Unable to raise bail, Licavoli was held in the jail overnight. He is now under $5,000 bond for appearance in court in Chicago on a black market liquor charge.

Licavoli is a resident of Grosse Pointe Park, living at 1154 Balfour, between St. Paul and Kercheval. He was held in the jail overnight. He is now under $5,000 bond for appearance in court in Chicago on a black market liquor charge.

Licavoli's record as one of the law abiding and decorous citizens of the Pointe is unimpeachable, it was added.

Pete Licavoli, described by Detroit police as the Big Boy of the numbers racket, was arrested Tuesday night and is held on charges of conspiracy to violate the gambling laws.

Pilfered Safe Found in Lake

Last Saturday noon word came into the Park police station that a couple of men from the Harbor Master's office and two men from the Detroit holdup squad were about to make a search of the waters at the foot of Bishop road for a safe reported to be there.

Chief Louwers went down and witnessed the Harbor Master's men drag up a small safe of light construction about 18 inches square. It had been thoroughly rifled. The Detroit police had been tipped off by some one who had fallen into their clutches that the safe might be there. From the Pointe the Harbor Master's squad was going on down to the foot of Ripeole on a similar mission. There the water was so deep and the bottom so mucky that they were considering the advisability of getting a professional diver to search the bottom.

Both cases were obviously the result of thieves stealing safe and all breaking it open and extracting the contents at their leisure and disposing of it in the river.

The police are always anxious to make a thorough examination of property disposed of in this manner as valuables might be hidden in secret compartments and overlooked by the thieves.

The local police have no knowledge of whom the safes belonged to further than they were not of Grosse Pointe origin.

PARK BUYS COAL
Grosse Pointe Park village has let a contract to the Sterling Coal Company for its supply of 250 tons of stoker coal for the coming year at a bulk price of $2,107.50.

ODD FACT
Ignoring a $15,000 diamond ring, an $1,800 fur coat and numerous other items worth large sums, thieves who robbed a New York shop took only 40 new fall hats.

Special Meetings Planned For Pupils New to Pointe

Grosse Pointe Public Schools will open as announced last week on September 9 for all pupils. No change in the date of opening has been made.

It will not be necessary for any advance registration for elementary pupils whether they are new to the community or not. They will be taken care of in their respective elementary schools when they go to school in September.

For the instruction and guidance of students new to Brownell Junior High School and Grosse Pointe High School, the high school principal, Walter Clemenson, has announced two meetings to be held on September 6.

All 7B pupils and any pupils new to Grosse Pointe who will attend Brownell Junior High School are requested to attend a meeting in Room 218 at the Grosse Pointe High School building at 1 o'clock and should come prepared to pay fees for towels and deposit on lockers.

At 2 p.m. in the auditorium of the Grosse Pointe High School, the faculty will receive all 10B pupils and high school students new to Grosse Pointe. These students should also come prepared to pay fees for towels and deposit on lockers.

The purpose of these meetings is to help pupils new to the community or new to the school become familiar with the practices and policies of the schools so that their first week of school beginning September 9 will run more smoothly for them.

Book stores will be open for all high school students on Thursday and Friday, September 5 and 6.

City Authorizes Financial Shift

Councilmen Dexter M. Ferry and Hal Smith, the finance committee of the City, were authorized at the meeting on Friday to convert the bonds held in the City's sinking fund into Government Series "F" bonds, at their discretion, as and when the market seems most favorable.

The City's sinking fund at present is invested in Michigan State, Michigan municipalities and Government bonds.

By selling these bonds from time to time and converting into other securities it is possible for the city to realize a handsome profit. This action permits the Finance committee to act quickly without waiting for direct authorization for each transaction.

Other municipalities in the Pointe by taking advantage of favorable market conditions have often profited similarly.

The securities now held in the City's sinking fund consist of bonds of the Village of River View, Village Roseville, School District of Royal Oak, Royal Oak Township and School District and Royal Oak and Troy Township bonds.

It is not the present intention to shift any of the Governments now in the sinking fund, but this too might depend on market conditions.

Further Study To Be Made Of Doctor's Park Office

Village Attorney Says Present Evidence Not Sufficient to Enable Commission to Take Action Requested

Park Village Attorney Pierre H. Heffler, read a written opinion before the Board of Commissioners at the meeting Monday afternoon as to the steps which the village might take to comply with the petition of 85 property owners in the Balfour-Berkshire-Kercheval area against the enlarging of the medical offices of Dr. W. K. Usher, which are listed in the telephone directory as at 15605 Kercheval. It is a corner property and the doctors' residence, a part of the same property, is at 1206 Balfour.

The sum of Attorney Heffler's opinion was that there was little or nothing the village could do about it. There are already eight different locations in the village where doctors live and have offices in their homes. Six of these he said have no other office.

He said the extent or elaborateness of a doctor's office had nothing to do with the zoning ordinance, which was already 18 years old, prohibited the conduct of business establishments within the area where the doctor was located, the fact remained that the village had tacitly agreed for a number of years that this should not be construed as running against a physician having his office in his home.

If it could be shown that the enlargement of the professional establishment within the home approached the character of a clinic, with other doctors employed therein, it would be another issue entirely, but such had not been shown in this case. He was of the opinion the village would lose out if it attempted to halt the doctor under the zoning ordinance.

The attorney's opinion was far from pleasing to the representatives of the protestants who were present. They alleged vehemently that the elaborate offices which the doctor was installing, quite apart from his living quarters, constituted the presence of a full fledged business establishment. They alleged also that the doctor maintained a corps of professional nurses in his place, but could not prove that other physicians were also employed in it.

Dr. Usher himself insists that he is the only physician who works there, and this fact has not been disproved by a rather close examination of the place made by officials of the Park.

Present at the meeting and protesting against the Usher establishment were Ira H. Reindel, of 1176 Berkshire, John Willison, of 1214 Balfour, next door to the doctor; and attorney J. H. Brabb of 1321 Berkshire.

Mr. Willison stressed the undesirability of the doctor's establishment because of its effect on the residential character of the surrounding area. He said if no way could be found, to prevent its operation the people residing in that neighborhood might as well sell their homes and get out. Mr. Reindel said practically the same thing. Both were convinced that the additions the doctor has made to his place goes far beyond any residential needs. They feared it was the entering wedge for a large professional establishment which would depreciate the values of all the surrounding properties.

Attorney Brabb argued that the Board of Commissioners should inaugurate the litigation which would determine the question.

Commissioner Gillett said it would be necessary for the Board to know much more about the matter before they could commit the village to any litigation. If the place gave evidence that it was being developed into a regular clinic, or that more than one doctor was employed there or that preparations were in progress to accommodate several patients at one time, there would be serious grounds for the village to take action, but before it could do so, all pertinent facts should be known and verified. He moved that these facts be ascertained at the earliest possible time and a report be made back to the commissioners. This motion was adopted.

Cops Administer Balm of Gilead

It is not common for the opportunity to come to the local police to apply personally a little of the balm of Gilead to their brother officers on the Detroit police force, but such a circumstance did arise shortly after 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

Sergeant Stanley A. Wilson and Patrolman Perry Van Conant were driving on Mack between St. Clair and Notre Dame when they had a head on collision with a car coming in the opposite direction. As the accident happened on the Detroit side of the avenue the officers must have been on the right side.

Wilson got badly cut on the nose and Van Conant was cut about the mouth and face. The accident was reported to the Detroit Accident Prevention Bureau by the city police and all had first aid and a checkup at Bon Secours. Lewis J. Galloway, of 2135 Dexter, Detroit, the driver of the other car, suffered only from shock; whether from the accident or at the sight of the bluecoats whom he had bumped, is not stated.

Three Reckless Drivers Fined

In Park traffic court Wednesday morning Herman H. White, of 2133 Lycaite, Detroit, was fined $10 and $5 costs for passing a stop sign, causing an accident. On another count of reckless driving he was fined $20 and $5 costs, with directions from the judge that a recommendation be sent to the Secretary of State that his license be revoked for six months.

Louise M. Delrick of 3107 McClellan, Detroit, was fined $5 and $5 costs for responsibility for causing an accident.

John Stanley Gajor, of 3848 Martin, Detroit, was fined for not having his car under control causing an accident. Fine $15 and $5 costs.

Park Recreates Building Office

The office of building inspector, or inspector of construction as it is known in the Park village, was allowed to lapse during the war when there was no new construction whatever under way. Now, with the revival of building and in anticipation of the large volume which is expected to start shortly, the village has recreated the office.

Herbert L. Heger, of 8836 Manor, Detroit, was named to the place. Mr. Heger, in addition to being a qualified building inspector, is an engineer and will act as assistant to Mr. Lane, the village manager, who is also a graduate engineer.

Sacred Heart Plans Cana Day

The Eastern Deanery is sponsoring a Cana Day of Recollection. It will be held at Sacred Heart Convent on Sunday, September 8 from 1 until 5 in the afternoon. Father Lucian Herbert of St. Aloysius Parish will be the speaker of the day.

The Cana (name taken from the marriage feast) Day of Recollection is being held for married couples only. Mixed marriages and non-Catholic couples are especially welcome.

The topics under discussion will be those of special interest in married life. This is the first retreat of this kind ever held by the N.C.C.W. in Detroit.

Thieves Visit Yacht Club

Members Report Losses of Camera in Club and Radio From Parked Car

Dr. George W. Christiansen of 515 Middlesex road reported to the Shores police that he had a valuable camera stolen at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club last Sunday. The doctor said he was buying a drink for a friend and laid the camera down on the counter or a table for a moment and a minute or two later he turned to pick it up and it was gone.

He reported the matter to the Shores police and they have notified pawnshops to be on the lookout. The camera, the doctor said, cost about $250. He prized it particularly because he had it with him all through the war, and today it could not be replaced.

There are rumors that thievery in the clubhouse and from cars in the parking lot have become annoyingly frequent recently. Some members of the club who parked their car there while having a swim recently had a valuable car radio, of a special and heavy make stolen from inside the trunk compartment. Two cars have been stolen from the club parking lot, it was stated.

Another report has to do with the stealing of a purse belonging to one of the women members.

MCA Convention Honors Pointer

Harold Zeeb of 699 Lakeshore road, was elected auditor for the next two years, at the annual convention of the Metropolitan Club of America, Inc., held in Grand Rapids on August 21, 22 and 23. The M. C. A. is composed of police, fire and federal employees.

Basil Reford of Highland Park was elected president. Other officers named include Harold Flechsig of Roseville and Carl Berg of River Rouge, vice-presidents; W. Harold Nichols, recording secretary; Harold Weemhoof of Grand Rapids, treasurer; Albert Carrier of Warren, sergeant-at-arms; Roland Hess of Battle Creek, financial secretary; and Mrs. Kathleen Flechsig of Roseville, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Park's Offices Changed Around

The rearrangement of the office space in the Park Municipal building has been completed. Manager Lane will occupy the office formerly occupied in the southeast corner of the building and Controller Johnson will have his office on the south side of the main work space fronting on Jefferson.

City Clerk Stamman will have the office formerly occupied by Manager Lane and Treasurer Heise will occupy the enclosed space in the center of the work room formerly used by himself and Clerk Stamman jointly.

The receptionist's desk will be by the entrance door and the other clerks and employees will have their desk space in the rear of the room on the north side.

Report on the new arrangement was made to the Commissioners by Manager Lane at the Monday meeting and met with their approval.

CONSTRUCTION HALTED
A summer home being built in Eden Shores subdivision, East Port, for Carl Schroeder of 420 Madison, Grosse Pointe Farms, was one of the targets for "Halt Construction" order of the CPA on Monday. It was said the summer home involved scarce materials.

The other two places mentioned were a Detroit machine shop and an out-state store and office building.

First Birthday For Methodists

The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will celebrate its First Anniversary on Sunday morning, September 8, at the 10:45 worship hour. The guest minister for this occasion will be the pastor's father, the Rev. Stuart D. White, District Superintendent of the Southern District of the Book River Conference of the Methodist church in Chicago.

The Rev. Mr. White is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and the divinity schools of Northwestern University and the University of Chicago, and has held many pastorates in the city of Chicago and its suburbs. He was appointed to the District Superintendency at the last meeting of the Rock River Conference of Chicago.

In celebration of the First Anniversary Week, the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church is also planning to have a Church Family Picnic at Chandler Park on Saturday.

Degenerate Negro Sought by Police

Some degenerate wretch in the form of a colored man has been circulating among the children in the neighborhood of Lakeland and Charlevoix.

Last Friday a resident at 717 University place called up the police and reported that his little eight year old girl and two little boys of about the same age were playing around a new house under construction on the west side of Lakeland just south of Charlevoix about 5:30 o'clock the previous afternoon when a colored man asked the children to come around to the rear of the house and he would show them something.

When the children followed him around he exposed his person. The little girl was positive she would know the man if she saw him.

The police are on a hunt for the party and any colored man known to have been in that vicinity that afternoon will be investigated.

Worker Badly Hurt In Fall From Truck

Ulysses Flower, 26, worker for a tree specialist concern, was hurt on August 23 when he rolled off the end of a company truck when it rounded the turn from Moross into Grosse Pointe boulevard. Flower was taken to Cottage Hospital for treatment. He was said to be suffering lacerations of the face and a possible fracture of the skull.

Woods Sewage Difficulties Tackled by Commissioners

Relief Promised Residents; Financing to Be Incorporated in Bond Issue for Park, Pumping Protection

The sewage difficulties with which the residents of the Hampton, Roslyn, Brys drive, Hawthorne sections between Mack and Marter and the Lochmoor-Sunningdale areas have long been plagued, are at last coming in for attention.

The base of the trouble is that the sewers installed in these areas by the original subdividers have, with the growth of population and the general strain placed on the sewer and surface water handling facilities by pavements, etc., become inadequate.

At the Council meeting on August 20 the Commissioners were set to take up the Lochmoor-Sunningdale situation when Councilman, Paul W. Rowe took a strong stand that the area north of Vernier should receive attention at the same time. This area, he contended, had been neglected while other parts of the village were having their sewer needs attended to.

The other commissioners recognized the justice of Mr. Rowe's argument and an agreement was quickly reached that both of the sections should have quick attention.

A resolution was adopted without debate calling for the preparation of plans, specifications and estimate of costs by the engineers for the work necessary to care for both areas. When the safe estimates of the total cost are determined they will be included in the general bond issue which is now in preparation by Attorney Berns for submission to the vote of the electors at an early special election.

The general plan agreed upon calls for the building of a relief sewer along Charlevoix emptying into the trunk sewer in Hollywood and thence being pumped eventually, in time of high water, into the Milk river.

President Ghesquiere called the Commissioners' attention to the fact that throughout the whole war period it had been necessary to neglect many village improvement projects, including these sewage problems, but that now with the war over and the country rapidly settling down to normal, peacetime functioning, these projects would have to be taken up courageously and run to completion as rapidly as the finances of the village permitted.

There was a general agreement with this broad presentation of items. Commissioner Beever was the village's improvement particularly emphatic in stating that these matters that were obviously necessary should not be neglected.

The plan is that the general bond issue which Attorney Berns is preparing shall include all three of the village's major improvement projects, i.e., the purchase and partial development of the proposed lakefront pro-

When the Devil Was Sick

It was only a few short months ago that the Government announced with a great fanfare it was going to see to it that 2,700,000 new homes were built, pronto, in this country, largely for the veterans.

Now the gloomy returns are beginning to come in. Nothing faintly approaching the number of homes scheduled to be started by this time are under way, and moreover, to make matters worse, less than 10 per cent of the houses actually started in the first half of this year have been completed.

Materials shortage is the common excuse. It is suspected that the same spirit has laid hold of the building suppliers that is in evidence wherever things are made or bought or sold. Get Mine, and Get it Now! is fast becoming the national motto. If we can't get it now, take it easy. There is no hurry about this transaction. Either the black market of "free" enterprise or a futile OPA will have to come to our rescue.

Meanwhile, hundreds of thousands of ex-soldier boys who have reached the natural time of life when mate-choosing is in order, have married. They don't want to live with the old folks, nor should they have to. Three and four years ago these boys were anointed heroes. Nothing would be too good for them after that happy day when Johnny Came Marching Home. Now Johnny is home, millions of him, and he is on a desperate hunt to find the home he was promised.

He is a million miles removed from the charity status. All he wants is a decent place he can rent or buy at a fair price and on honest terms.

But the Government is again exemplifying the adage as old as human nature: "When the Devil was sick, the Devil a Saint would be, but when the Devil got Well the Devil a Saint was he."

We can well believe the Administration in its statement that it is deeply concerned with this problem of veterans' homes. Of course it is and also several hundred Representatives and Senators whose dearest wish is to stay put. These soldier boys are showing a surprising aptitude for the political game, as evidenced by some results that have flowed in from early primary elections.

Unless the gentlemen who stem from official Washington wake up and do a job of bulldozing on this steer of delayed action in the housing program they are going to get gored where it will hurt most, in the ballot boxes of November '46 and '48.

Great Lakes Waters

The report coming from Lansing that the State Stream Control Commission is starting the necessary legal steps to abate the contamination of the Lake St. Clair bathing beaches, will be welcome news to the Grosse Pointe communities.

It is significant also that in the same statement it is said the abatement activities will be pushed jointly by the Stream Control Commission and the Macomb County drain commissioner's office. Much of the trouble in the past with bathing conditions along the Pointe's frontage has arisen from the proneness of the authorities above us to open the gates in the big interceptor and let both sanitary sewage and surface water spill over into the lake. As the Macomb county communities have to pay Detroit for the treatment of their sanitary sewage, the more of this they send into the lake the better their financial showing, even though the health and safety of the residents lower down may be affected.

This however is only one small speck in the general problem of keeping clean the waters of Michigan's vast littoral. No state in the union possesses the water frontage of Michigan. Not only does it touch for many hundreds of miles the shore line of four of the five great lakes but its thousands of inland lakes, large and small, present a problem in the preservation of the health of the people of this state which places an immense responsibility on the State's Stream Control Commission and directly on the governmental agencies which create it and support it.

The people hope there is truth in the report that both the Republican and Democratic candidates for Governor, Messrs. Sigler and Van Wagoner, have placed this item high on their agenda for effective attention if elected. Nothing would please so many people in this state as to see a substantial beginning made in this tremendous program.

Both the legislature and the taxpayers throughout the state must realize that this is going to cost money and lots of it.

When it is said that it cost more to put one thin coat of gilt paint on Woodward avenue for the Automotive Golden Jubilee celebration recently that is appropriated for the work of the Stream Control Commission for a whole year it indicates a dwarfed understanding of this great responsibility.

The problem of maintaining and protecting the purity of the Great Lakes system has been studied for some time by both the American and Canadian governments and possibly progress has been made in working out a master plan of which the people know little, but it is obvious that the citizens of Michigan, the heart of the Great Lakes, must stand ready to do their full part in the preservation of this magnificent body of fresh water, the finest in the world, of which they are the favored heirs.

Brave Colored Boys

The two colored boys who dived into the water of a canal near Algonac and rescued the inmates of a submerged automobile deserve a rating as peace-time Medal of Honor men. It must have been a perilous undertaking for the rescuers.

It is especially gratifying that this distinction comes to two members of a race which has been so maligned and discriminated against in wide sections of this country.

Whatever shortcomings have been charged against the Negro, largely as the result of racial prejudices, lack of physical courage has never been one of them.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Cursed be the social wants that sin against the strength of youth!
Cursed be the social lies that warp us from the living truth!
Cursed be the sickly forms that err from honest Nature's rule!
Cursed be the gold that glids the straitened forehead of the fool!"
(Alfred Lord Tennyson)

We were surprised when we heard a group of people discussing "pet economies" . . . to find so many of the feeble reech having such peculiar ones. There is, for example, the old tired business man living in the Pointe, who has his chauffeur drive him to the city limits, where he embarks to board the bus for downtown. This is NOT just a preserve-your-tires-wartime-measure, but an economy he's been practicing for years because he hates to spend money on gasoline!

Then there is another well-known Pointe gentleman, who hates to start a fire in the fireplace on the chilliest night, because it kills him to have to buy wood. He also has a mania for preserving Soda water. Will open ONE quart bottle for his guests and expects it to last all evening. He isn't above saying he ran out of it, either . . . if the guests have the temerity to ask for more. He can afford to buy as much White Rock as there used to be tea in China . . . but he likes to save it!

Another gent not only saves his own golf tees, but picks YOURS up on the golf course and uses them over and over again. He hasn't bought a golf tee in years. (This reminds us of Alfred Vanderbilt . . . who haunts the race tracks but has never been seen buying a program or racing form. He borrows them from whoever he happens to be with at the time.)

Women are probably as bad if not worse. We know of one in the Pointe who can't bear the thought of duplicate magazines in the house. She takes the Saturday Post, for instance, and one evening when her husband came home with one he'd bought at the drug store to read on the way home in the bus, she tried to make him return it!

Another woman has the best we've heard of yet. She saves Christmas wrappings and ribbon and uses them over again on the following Christmas. If the papers are wrinkled, she presses them as she does the ribbons. If the wrappings are particularly beautiful, she uses them on presents for her own family so she can use them again a THIRD year! If you know of any good ones we haven't mentioned . . . send them along and A. Pryor will tell the world.

That gal in G. P. who is famous for coining words and uses them so often, her conversation sounds like double-talk, has just pulled a couple of new ones that aren't bad if you want to add them to your own small vocabulary. About someone who was trying out for a part in a play . . . she said the woman was taking an "ACTITUDE test." About a string of horses that had been running poor races at the Fair Grounds . . . she referred to the horses as a "stable of REFUGEE-GEES." The local Winchell, indeed.

We know just how Edgar Guest must have felt when he read his poem in last Monday's paper. It was called "Baby's Arrival" and dealt with a child meaning up the joint (THAT isn't exactly the way our home-spun poet worded it, however) . . . and how the mother doesn't REALLY care because she loves the little darling so. The last four lines, read, in the paper as follows:

"She'll tell the captious, churlish mind,
That sees things broken ere they're paid—
For children was the home designed,
To keep them happy it was made FOR."

We sincerely hope Mr. Guest didn't mean, "to keep them happy it was made FOR." Not only does the rhyme hurt our ears but the English ain't so good too. No, we prefer to think it was a typographical error or perhaps the compositor made what he considered an improvement in the verse . . . just as they do in this column every now and again. We are always being accused of misspelling and punctuation, for which we can thank the compositors. However, when we WANT to misspell a word because we think it's "cute" (ahem) . . . the composing gent will nine times out of ten correct it for us.

A friend tells of an experience he had last week. Thinking he was making a very nice gesture to a beautiful young lady, he presented her with a sterling silver cigarette lighter. She accepted it with thanks and added:—"Now I can put my gold one away so I won't lose it."

Which recalls the story of some years back attributed to Cole Porter and Noel Coward. Coward had purchased some very elegant black silk garters with solid gold fasteners in Paris and brought them over to present to Porter, not knowing the latter already had three pairs he had purchased at Cartiers in New York.

The presentation was made in "21." Porter accepted them gratefully with a:—"Just what I have always wanted." Then putting his foot on the rung of a bar stool he proceeded to change those he was wearing for the new ones. This completed, he turned to a passing waiter and made him a present of the discarded set.

The Russian Syphon

After World War I, even after the armistice had been signed, we advanced large sums of money to friend and former foe alike to enable those countries to reestablish their economies and get launched on the road to a peaceful prosperity.

We long since have realized that we played a sucker part in that honest intentioned move. The chief offender was Germany, which took the money we loaned her and deliberately used large parts of it to make ready for another war.

Even old England's skirts were none too clean when she reneged on her repayments to us which involved paying us from $140,000,000 to $190,000,000 yearly. She survived, with our help, to bear an expense of that amount every three days in another war. Parenthetically, her recent achievement in persuading us to lend her nearly four billions more in the face of that record is one of the greatest triumphs in diplomatic history.

We must be on our guard to see that some of these mistakes of a generation ago are not repeated. The English loan may prove timely and self advantageous in the long run, but there can be no argument about the folly of sending help into Austria, or similarly situated countries, and having Russia syphon it out under the guise of reparations or just plain plunder. This is something that can be stopped now.

The GAF Part

The Office of Price Administration should adopt as its motto the message of the old railroad who did a quick job in getting his derailed locomotive back on its tracks. This terse message back to operation headquarters carried a world of pertinent information. "Off Again; On Again; Gone Again—Finnegan," is a classic in railroad lore and promises to become one in government administration.

The Ins and Outs; the Ons and Offs of the OPA and its Decontrol Board have the people dizzy. This motto might be made its official title. It would be illuminative. In this reign of alphabetical government in which we have been well trained in the past few years it might not place too great strain on the analytical powers of the public mind to just call the OPA for short (?) the OAOAGAF. The public would get the idea quickly, especially the GAF part of it.

NEW YORK.—A LITTLE FUN TO MATCH THE SORROW—this heart-throbbing line is streamlined under the masthead of The Hobo News, emblazoned across the entrance of their imposing stone building, on 52nd street, and sharply engraved in the hearts of all hoboes at large in New York now.

And we are all hoboes at heart, just because it was election day . . . they stay voting at 2 o'clock in the primaries, just when they needed that drink. At about that same time, in Delm n's, they were serving (not selling) cocktails to the invitee customers watching the fall showing of Delman's Shoes for the baby over twenty ones (both age and price). It was all very plush, but a bit uppity to the locked-out winnow shoppers peering at the models in their black Shaperear Tights, hooded and footed, and carrying on black cushions the devastating new Delman shoes. We thought their new suede and fur boots quite fabulous, especially the leopard ones for football fans.

Thirsty guests at the uptown hotels hie themselves for hard-to-get ale to the 56th St. Child's Restaurant, where ale sells—Ripley's not—for 21 cents a bottle . . . and the best Camembert Cheese sandwiches in town may be had at the hideaway that Ferenc Molnar, the oh-so-famous dramatist discovered around the corner from The Plaza.

Or we'd, out rather go to The S'nk and watch the models who wish they were debutantes and the debutantes who wish they were models. We saw Beall Aldwin, the Georgia belle who became one of the town's top models, flashing her Knuckle-Buster of an engagement ring . . . Mrs. Cordelia Biddle Duke, looking like an Elizabeth Arden ad for beauty over thirty . . . Mrs. Jock Wilney (who was Betsy Cushing Roosevelt with her sister, Mrs. Vincent Astor . . . Mrs. Whitney very suave in bronze-studded brown, and Mrs. Astor in courtier black with sculptured pearl-and-platinum clips . . .

Information Regarding Terminal Leave Pay

The Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946 has been passed by the Congress and signed by the President.

It now appears definite that all application blanks will be distributed through local post offices and that, when completely filled out, will be mailed to the Finance Officers at the stations where discharge was effected (separation centers, for the most part). Payment in cash and/or bonds will be sent the veteran from the same place.

The original discharge certificate will undoubtedly be required as an attachment to the application form, I, is inevitable that some will be lost. Veterans should send them by registered mail.

If the veteran does not know how much unused furlough time he should be paid for, he may leave this space blank and the finance officer will compute it for him.

Sums under $50 will be paid in cash. Larger sums will be paid in $25 bonds or multiples thereof, with odd balances in cash. (A veteran having $138 due him would receive five $25 bonds and $13 in cash). Bonds will be dated 30 days after date of discharge; thus the longer a veteran has been out of service, the sooner he can cash in his bonds.

Bonds are non-transferable and non-negotiable, except as regards G. I. insurance. They may be used to pay premiums or conversion costs.

Furlough time accumulates at the rate of 2 1/2 days per month for all former enlisted personnel starting from 8 September 1939. Number of days of furlough actually taken (not to exceed 120 days) should be deducted and the balance multiplied by the daily pay rate (base pay plus longevity pay). To this should be added 70 cents per day for subsistence and, in the case of the top three enlisted grades (Mr. Sgt., Tech. Sgt. and Staff Sgt. in army and CPO, PO 1st class and PO 2nd class in navy) an additional $1.25 per day should be added for allowances in lieu of quarters.

Veterans are urged to consult with local Veterans' counselors who will be possessed with full and complete information currently and will assist veterans in filing claims for terminal leave pay.

With the Boys in Service

FFC. BRUCE J. RENO, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Reno of 732 Notre Dame has recently been advanced to the rank of corporal, according to word just received by his parents from his station at Fort Lewis in Washington.

Bruce joined up with the Army on August 30, being in the first contingent of boys who went out from the Pointe after V-J Day. He was in the Merchant Marine during the war.

David Dillon, son of Mrs. Edward Dillon of Rivard boulevard, arrived home last week from Great Lakes where he was discharging a 8 1/2. He served on Guam. Ted Dillon, David's brother, met him when he arrived in San Francisco as that is where Ted is living now.

Energy Wanes

By FRED M. KOPP, R.Ph.

"When the hounds of spring are on winter's traces," physical energies are apt to wane. Blustery weather may stimulate for a while, but there comes a time when you are more tired than you know and you speak of this feeling as "spring fever."

To meet change with change is a law of life. Now is the time to change your habits of diet, of exercise, to readjust to the change in climate.

First, a visit to your doctor. Let him recommend what changes seem important. Let him tell you what vitamins will restore that springing energy you seem to have lost. The conscientious pharmacist stocks the best in vitamins and, remember, the best is what you must have for best results.

Two Veterans Offer Chance To Do Neatest Trick of Week

The neatest trick of the week, from the housewife's standpoint, is now possible through the initiative of two former lieutenants, (J. G.), one of them a Pointer. She'll be able to get her laundry and shopping done simultaneously.

Michael O'Donnell, 25, of 326 Merriweather road, Grosse Pointe Farms, and Jim Byrne, 25, of Greenlawn, have started the "Lauderette", with 30 washing machines, at 12446 Morang road, near Kelly road.

According to the boys, the housewife can leave her laundry, go do her shopping and pick up the laundry, in as little as 30 minutes. She will find it all washed, rinsed and 70 per cent damp dried. If she cares to wait on the premises, there will be a nice waiting room.

Mike and Jim went to midshipman's school together. Jim got the idea for the lauderette in Fort Lauderdale when he was stationed there and found he and his wife, Mary Ann, couldn't get their washing done in a reasonable length of time.

UNLUCKY SQUIRREL

The squirrels that infest the Pointe are not always quick enough to keep clear of automobile traffic. A little fellow had his spine broken by a car at Jefferson and Berkshire recently and was dispatched by Sergeant Vernier with a .22 rifle.

Nancy Dodge Bride Of Earl I. Heenan

Wedding Ceremony Performed in Huron Mountain Summer Home; Dinner Dance Entertains Many Wedding Guests

Climaxing Summer's beautiful weddings, was the Huron Mountain, ceremony which united Nancy Dodge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percival Dodge of Dyer lane, and Earl I. Heenan, son of Mrs. Earl I. Heenan of Bishop road and the late Mr. Heenan.

The wedding took place last Saturday in the cabin Summer home of Nancy's parents, with the Rev. Dr. Frank Pitt of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church officiating.

The tiniest detail of this charming wedding had special attention, it seemed, and the great throng from the Pointe and out of town had a perfectly elegant time as wedding guests.

For the wedding, the living room of the Dodge cabin was transformed into a scene of cedar greens. Tidy cedar trees were used to form an aisle to the white satin bride. Cedar boughs banked the improvised altar.

Nancy, who was unattended, wore a gown of exquisite white lace with long full skirt extending into a deep train. A simple tulle veil fell from a half bridal cap and she carried a bouquet of white water lilies.

Palmer Heenan was his brother's best man.

For the wedding, Mrs. Dodge wore a printed blue and white silk afternoon frock and Mrs. Heenan chose a powder pink sheer wool suit with brown accessories. Their flowers were orchids.

The reception which followed immediately was also held in the Dodge cabin. The bride's table was centered by the wedding cake and low bowls of water lilies were used.

An interesting note was the white satin bride which was loaned to the bride by Mrs. Henry B. Joy. The bride also had been used in the wedding of Nancy's grandmother, the late Mrs. John W. Dyer, and also for the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Percival Dodge.

The evening before the wedding, the Dodes were hosts at a dinner dance for all the wedding guests.

A partial list of these included Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Smith Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farwell, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Chapin, Ann Mitchell and her fiancé, Henry Campbell, Mrs. Charles L. Laikin Jr. and Margaret Mies of New York; Helen Stoeper, Marie Wright, Patricia Johnson of Stockbridge, Mass.; Theodore McGraw, Douglas Campbell, John D. Turner, Frank Bladen Jr., Charles Hodges, Thomas Longcope, Jerome Alexander of Long Island and Herbert Hoffman.

Still others included Mr. and Mrs. Richard Durrant and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Page Jr. of New York, brothers-in-law and sisters of the bridegroom; Nancy's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dodge of Hartford, Conn., and her brother, Murray, who returned from a motor trip in the West in time for the wedding.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Heenan chose a pastel green gabardine suit and wood brown accessories. Following their wedding trip, they will be at home in the Dodes' residence on Dyer lane until October 1.

Parties Planned For Debutantes

Two parties are causing a great stir among the members of the debut crowd.

This Saturday evening, Mrs. Butler Higley of East Jefferson avenue will entertain at a small dinner dance in the Country Club to fête her debutante niece, Lizi Murphy.

Lizi, who bowed to society in June, is the daughter of the Charles R. Murphys of Balfour road.

Then on Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Zeder are to be hosts at a dance for 175 guests in honor of their daughter, Peggy, whose debut took place last winter.

The Zeder dance will be given in their East Jefferson avenue home, Meadowlawn. The week after will see the departure of the debutante for Northwestern University where she will begin her senior year.

Betty Priscilla Olson Plans November Wedding

The first bride-elect to announce a November wedding date is Betty Priscilla Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thor M. Olson of Westchester road.

Betty's engagement to Robert Peebles, son of Mrs. Fay Peebles of Coplin avenue, and the late Robert D. Peebles, was announced last Sunday at a party given Dr. and Mrs. George Baer in their Balfour road home.

Betty attended Arlington Junior College and graduated from Smith. Bob received his diploma from Yale before joining the United States Army Air Forces with which he served in the European Theater during the war.

Sybil Smart to Attend Conference in Chicago

Sybil Smart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Smart of Roosevelt place, has been invited to attend a student conference on foreign policy and world government, being sponsored at the University of Chicago Sept. 1-7 by the Student Federalist Organization.

Miss Smart is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College.

Koenig-Ling Wedding Sept. 7

Mary Magdalene Koenig has completed her plans for a September 7th wedding in St. Paul's Church on Lake Shore road. She is the daughter of Mrs. Norman H. Koenig and the late Mr. Koenig and her fiancé is Robert Bishop Ling, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lyle C. Ling of Chalmers avenue.

Patricia Lobdell will be her maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Sally Hickey, Betty Kelly, Gail Leithaus and Marilyn Faber. Patricia Agnes Rieck, cousin of the bride, will be junior bridesmaid.

Bob has asked Jack Wells to be best man. The ushers will include his brother, Donald Ling, his brother-in-law, Charles Chalmers, LaVern Beaupre, John Corcoran and Ray Rauwen.

Gail Leithaus and Nancy Joyce were co-hostesses at Dr. Leithaus's home on Wednesday at a miscellaneous shower. Marilyn Faber also fêted the bride-to-be at a shower on Friday evening. Mrs. J. N. Maul and Mrs. Gordon Donohue were also co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at Mrs. Donohue's home on Thursday evening.

The following parties are planned: Ina S. Condon will give a luncheon. Sally Hickey and Mrs. Henry Page will be co-hostesses at a kitchen shower August 29 at the Women's City Club. Betty Kelly will fete the bride at a buffet affair. Patricia Lobdell will give the spinster dinner at the Women's City Club. Mary Magdalene's aunt, Mrs. H. G. Patty Jean Cadieux To Marry Fred Jean

Bride's Forefathers Pointe Pioneers; Ceremony to Be Held in St. Paul's Church on Lake Shore Road

When Patricia Jean Cadieux is married to Charles Frederick Jean on September 14 in St. Paul's on the Lake, Grosse Pointe will have a lovely young bride, whose forefathers have been important in the development of the Pointe, and whose name was given to Cadieux road.

Pat's great grandfather, Michel Cadieux, came to America from Courville, France, in 1818. He established his farm on what is now Cadieux road and his property ran from the lake to Harper avenue. He traded with the Indians of early Detroit.

The lofty maple trees of Cadieux road were planted by this little bride-elect's grandfather, Francis L. Cadieux. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aloisius Cadieux who make their home now on Moran road.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Jean of Kensington road.

Following the 10 o'clock in the morning ceremony, the Cadieuxs will be hosts to members of the bridal party and the immediate families at a wedding breakfast at the Detroit Yacht Club.

The wedding reception will take place from 2:30 to 8 o'clock in the Cadieux residence.

Marjorie Helen Cadieux will be her sister's maid of honor and another sister, Donna Marie will be bridesmaid with Evelyn Walsh, cousin of the bride-elect.

Robert W. Jean Jr. will be his brother's best man and guests will be Paul David Cadieux, a cousin of the bride-elect; Thomas T. Rickling Jr., Don Klipa and Ellsworth G. Reynolds.

On Saturday, Mrs. Don Klipa was hostess at a miscellaneous shower in her Chatsworth avenue home for Patricia Jean. Guests included Mrs. Aloisius Cadieux, the bride-elect's four sisters: Donna Marie and Marjorie Helen Cadieux; Mrs. Ellsworth Reynolds and Mrs. Arthur Jennings; Mrs. Robert W. Jean, Evelyn Walsh, Mrs. Helen Childs, Mrs. Lester Cadieux, Mrs. Bob Davis, Mrs. Don Piche, Mary Ellen Ducklow, Betty Van Nest, Ann Dooley, Mary Jeanne Murphy, Mrs. Lee Schröder, Dorothy Foley and Mrs. Rhule Myers.

This Thursday (today), Jane Weigel is to be hostess at a personal shower for Patricia Jean whose engagement book will also include a kitchen shower with Mrs. Helen Childs as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean, parents of the bridegroom-elect, are to be hosts at the rehearsal dinner in their Kensington road home on the evening of Thursday, September 12.

Short Cuts to Housewives

This week the Visiting Housekeeper offers readers of the Grosse Pointe News tips on easy-to-make summer desserts which are perennial family favorites.

Fresh fruits, delicious and filled with vitamins, make a bright spot in summer meals. Serve them plain, with cookies or cake, or in combination with custards, ice cream, gelatin.

And if you're looking for an inexpensive custard recipe, here's one which should fill the bill. The ingredients are 2 cups of milk, 1 egg or 2 egg yolks, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, ½ teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons sugar, and ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Mix the cornstarch with a little cold milk. Scald remainder of milk, add cornstarch and cook over hot water 20 or 30 minutes. Then add beaten eggs, sugar and salt, mixed with a little of the hot milk. Stir until smooth. Add vanilla while cooling.

This custard is delicious with fruit or as a sauce for a gelatin dessert. If you have stale cake, pour custard over it for a dessert that is both enjoyable and practical.

For help in cooking, budgeting or other household problems, just call the Visiting Housekeeper, 51 West Warren, Temple 1-1600. Her aid is one of the 125 Red Feather services offered to Detroiters by the Community Chest.

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

One of the most attractive father and daughter affairs was being carried on at the Country Club, where we glimpsed cute JULIE HUDSON lunching with her goodlooking father. Julie goes in for different "hair-dos," the model that day being a "Plain Jane" idea. The hair was combed flat to the head and fastened with a large barrette at the nape of the neck. Julie is one of the few I'd advise to try this style! Julie is such a replica of her mother in looks and manner that they might pass for twins but for the matter of a slight difference in years.

It is hard to believe that ADELA WRIGHT is a grandmother, she has such an adorable baby face herself. When last seen she was wearing a smart sport dress of grey linen with her initials embroidered in shrimp pink on the pocket to match the belt.

One of the real sister acts appeared in the persons of DOTTIE McIVERIN and OLIVE LARNED, seen in animated conversation at a recent luncheon. The former garbed in a pretty watermelon pink linen frock with which she wore a navy sweater and the latter in chartruese silk jersey with a boucle sweater of the same color thrown about her shoulders.

PLEASANT RUMORS

How would you like to take a quick "look see" via this column at the lovely morning room in the home of the Fredrick M. Algers? As you enter you find beneath your feet a beautiful Aubusson rug with the usual beige background and having the design woven in faded greens and rosy shades. The walls are painted a pale green color. Your attention is drawn to the stone fireplace which is above the green of the walls and framed in mirror panels. Painted the fireplace is a lovely pastel of Suzette Alger by Georgia, in a large mirror frame.

The windows are curtained in putty colored ribbed silk. These and the French doors extend the length of the room and overlook the spacious lawn leading to the lake. The mahogany furniture used throughout the room is either Chippendale or Sheraton. One of the loveliest pieces is a breakfast filled with choice objets d'art. A Chinese motif is introduced into the room through several mediums, one of which is a beautiful old water color of lotus buds and flowers painted on silk and framed in natural wood. Two rare Chinese porcelain figurines are seen on a lacquered coffee table before a sofa. There are several modern paintings on the walls including an oil of Zubach's portraying an interesting scene of Chinese fishermen and boats. Oriental Lowestoft bowls are placed on several of the occasional tables in the room.

An old drum table holds many unusual articles including an antique Russian icon of silver, another of delicately carved wood, decorated with silver and painted designs. In marked contrast is the modern touch supplied by a match holder made in the shape of a small urn from a torpedo shell and engraved Commander F. M. Alger-1941-1945-U.S.N.R.

Pointers of Interest

MRS. EUGENE W. LEWIS OF EAST JEFFERSON AVENUE

By Olive H. Larned

In 1899, MRS. EUGENE LEWIS started her collection of miniature shoes and it has grown so that it now numbers 792 unusual and interesting examples. Mrs. Lewis inherited the collection and designed an ingenious method of displaying and protecting the shoes. Wooden cabinets, lined with shelves and having glass doors are illuminated from within, and show the shoes to their best advantage.

An attempt is made to keep shoes of a certain period or type together on one shelf, such as one shelf being devoted to replicas in china of the shoes worn by early Americans. Another has glass and pepper shakers and perfume bottles in the shape of shoes. A pair of china oxfords have real shoe laces, and a pair of high laced shoes are made of brass. Another shoe has a velvet cushion in the center and an interesting and pretty pair was made from sea shells.

Saratoga Springs is represented by a shoe formed from a horse shoe, and a copper shoe turns out to be an ink well.

President McKinley's wife crocheted a pair of slippers for Mrs. Lewis's mother when she heard of the famous collection.

A paper slipper has great sentimental value for Mrs. Lewis, as she made it for her father while in kindergarten; it is stitched with scarlet thread and a loving Christmas wish is written on the sole.

One shelf is filled with china shoes bearing the coats of arms of cities or countries. During one trip abroad, Mrs. Lewis returned with 57 of these shoes. Another shelf has shoes made in the forms of cats and dogs. There are shoes of human interest also; one example being that of a pair of Chinese brocade, less than five inches long. It looks humanly impossible to put any foot other than a baby's in this shoe and yet it was worn by an adult. It almost hurts to look at it!

There are wooden sabots, shoes made of palm leaves, Korean straw shoes, a brier wood pipe in the form of a shoe, china slippers with painted cherubs and dainty glass slippers that might have been made for Cinderella.

One of the most interesting examples is a slipper dug from the ruins after the eruption of Mt. Pelée in 1902, when St. Pierre was destroyed.

The shoes range from thimble size to foot high Russian boots. A catalogue is kept of all the shoes and contains many newspaper clippings telling of the collection throughout the years.

Mrs. Lewis's interest could never be confined to one project. She is an indefatigable worker and derives her greatest satisfaction from making nearly all of her own clothes and hats and those of her four grandchildren.

Says that she has sewn since she was a young girl and loves nothing better than making a fine seam. The draperies in her home are all the result of her handiwork. During the war she made over 100 garments for the A. W. V. S.

Mrs. Lewis loves to take old and outmoded furniture and make it into something new and attractive. She says that Mr. Lewis remarks she certainly had Scotch ancestors, but he shares in the delightful results of her clever transformations. In his room are to be found many examples of her talent. For instance, she replaced the legs of an old dresser with modern blocks and painted the old mahogany to conform with the modern decor used in the room. The first chair they purchased after their marriage was an old Mission type. Mrs. Lewis upholstered it and it became an attractive addition to the room. Wooden chopping bowls were hung from the ceiling on chains and thus afforded indirect lighting. Fancy pudding molds of tin were cut in half and used for side lights.

Mrs. Lewis's ingenuity is unlimited. It even extends into the realm of music, as she has just finished composing a song which we hope to hear soon on every radio.

The Lewis's have a beautiful plantation in Georgia and Mrs. Lewis had the time of her life in transforming a "tabby" or slave cabin into a playhouse for grown-ups. This she did so successfully that it was written up in "House and Garden" magazine several years ago. Mrs. Lewis's modesty almost kept this article from being written, but she consented in the hope that it might encourage others to try their hand at simple and inexpensive manner with which she has achieved such worthy results, and as she says, "it is not only a great satisfaction but one may have such fun doing it."

The credenza given by Mrs. Clay and Mr. Tannahill dates from about 1630. The variety of carving, instead of the now old fashioned intarsia, complements the fine proportions of the piece. Gone too are the square subdivisions so pronounced in the earlier credenzas. We find in their place an equally consistent repetition of various sized rectangles. A utilitarian measure has been the introduction of three drawers beneath the top.

Thoroughly in keeping with the rather pompous and self-conscious character of the High Renaissance is this handsome credenza in which is sought for and achieved a richness of effect and a conclusive display of familiarity with antique Roman forms.

So completely has all trace of its ecclesiastical ancestor disappeared in the worldly design of the third little credenza that it scarcely warrants the name. Its modest size is essentially domestic. Among the finest examples of wood carving at Alger House are the consoles of this credenza ornamented with a delicate acanthus motif.

The study and appreciation of Italian furniture in this country has lapsed in recent years, but this does not affect its historical nor aesthetic value. It is a decorative art of the highest importance. The living background which Alger House affords the credenza makes them doubly significant to the observer. Only in the warm atmosphere of a domestic setting, such as the rooms at Alger House, can the full significance of this furniture be grasped.

Alger House Museum Notes

By PERRY T. RATHBONE

By PERRY T. RATHBONE

At the very opening of Alger House it was through the generosity of Mrs. Edsel B. Ford and the late Mr. Ford that the museum became the coveted possessor of a renowned example of Italian Renaissance furniture, a 15th century Florentine credenza hailing from the original Palazzo Davanzati collection. Another credenza of the 16th century was given by the late Mrs. William Clay and Mr. Robert H. Tannahill. The Founders Society added a still later example of this characteristic form of Italian Renaissance furniture.

No Italian interior would be complete if it lacked a credenza, the prototype of the modern sideboard. The museum is fortunate indeed to possess such decidedly different examples, each the product of a different period of the Renaissance. They illustrate the development of this typical Italian furniture form: from the earliest, which is monumental and ecclesiastical in inspiration, to the latest, which is small, decorative, and totally domestic in form and function.

The credenza, or credence, as its name implies, was first made for ecclesiastical use. Placed in the sacristy or vestry room, the verger found in its commodious interior ample room for laying vestments and sacred vessels. Strangely enough the possibilities of the credenza as a domestic convenience were not appreciated until after the middle of the quattrocento. Their introduction as household furniture marks the beginning of a decline in popularity of the cassone or chest, which alone had afforded domestic storage space throughout the Middle Ages.

It is not possible to determine whether the present example was made for church or dwelling, but it is probable that it was designed as a sideboard for a particular room in a Florentine palazzo. Quiet dignity, simple massiveness, flat surfaces, and restraint in decoration are characteristic of early Renaissance furniture and of the credenza at Alger House. Upon these qualities, together with a perfection of proportion, rests all the beauty of this first consciously modern furniture style.

The gift of Mr. and Mrs. Ford which has come down to us in beautiful condition, is made of walnut embellished on every side with intarsia work or inlay. The front of the credenza divides itself into three square doors separated by four narrow panels bearing the hinges. The corners are canted. Simple moldings along the top and the base break the severe rectangularity of the piece. The intarsia is purely medieval in origin.

So completely has all trace of its ecclesiastical ancestor disappeared in the worldly design of the third little credenza that it scarcely warrants the name. Its modest size is essentially domestic. Among the finest examples of wood carving at Alger House are the consoles of this credenza ornamented with a delicate acanthus motif.

The study and appreciation of Italian furniture in this country has lapsed in recent years, but this does not affect its historical nor aesthetic value. It is a decorative art of the highest importance.

The living background which Alger House affords the credenza makes them doubly significant to the observer. Only in the warm atmosphere of a domestic setting, such as the rooms at Alger House, can the full significance of this furniture be grasped.

Pointe Counter Points

PETER PAN has hung out the welcome sign at their new headquarters on Kercheval (near Henri's Market) and it's a welcome sight to you mothers of young fry and it's a welcome sight to Peter Pan to see your response to their efforts to please you. Today I want to tell you about the marvelous lighting system the Arthur O. A. Schmidt & Associates (Architects and Interior Designers) have installed in this modern shop. It is called "Mercolite" and radiates vitamin B, sterilizes the air, and has all the good effects of natural sunlight without any of the glare. In other words you may see the colors as they will appear in daylight without taking the garment to the door. It has been found that the use of these lights (made by Sperti, Inc.) in schools cuts absenteeism 58%—I suggest all factories install same and the wheels of industry ought to hum! It is PETER PAN's desire to give their patrons and employees the beneficial effects of the "Mercolite", which sounds to me like a modern Aladdin's lamp, but you'll have to go to the shop to receive the benefits.

Rumors: hark! that with the O.P.A. restrictions being placed upon meat again, there will be a scarcity such as we have had in the past. Also the black market will get into operation again. It is suggested that those who have frozen food lockers, take advantage of the present more than adequate supply and put away a few "cuts" for the future. HENRI'S MARKET, (near Peter Pan) can supply your needs with their meats of irreproachable reputation. You may say that the prices will be lower under O.P.A. which is undoubtedly true, but if the meat isn't available, it won't matter about the price, will it? A word to the wise ought to be sufficient, but don't take my word for it, have a word with MR. HENRI, it won't cost you a cent.

"HAYDON HOUSE" has something for you, and one of the "something's" is the marvelous completely automatic home laundry, called "Laundral". This has so many advantages I scarcely know which one to tell you about, and the process is so simple. You load in through the "Top-Fill-Door" as much as 19 lbs. of clothes, add soap, close the machine, set the controls. The "Laundral" then automatically fills with water of the right temperature (hot or warm, as required) which may add or remove clothes without interrupting the washing process. The "Re-Verso-Rol" washing action eliminates slapping, twisting, tugging or tangling—sounds like the perfect marriage to me—and prevents the clothes from becoming twisted together or knotted into a ball. "They" say that the "Laundral" cylinder is finished so smoothly that you can rub a nylon stocking over any part of the cylinder surface without damage to the fine nylon fibers but they didn't tell me where to get the nylon stocking! The "Laundral" drains itself, spins the clothes damp-dry—the clothes may be hung indoors without any danger of dripping—if there's a drip in your house, don't blame the "Laundral". It drains itself, spins itself out. Your hands need never touch the water when you use the "Laundral", so you may keep them lovely to look at, delightful to touch. The machine is completely automatic, I repeat, you don't have to stick your finger in the pie, but if you should, you are perfectly safe as there are no exposed moving parts. The "saft-latch" stops the mechanism should little fingers go on an investigating tour so "all hands" are safe. "Laundral" needs no attention from you while it is doing your laundry. Your time is your own on laundry day. This machine was manufactured by the F. L. Jacobs Company, one of the best known names in American industry, before the war, and proved efficient and reliable. And the last of my tale is the best because HAYDON HOUSE can take your order as soon as you'll give it and give you delivery sooner than you expect. Please tell your husband that with "Laundral" he'll have a better wife, as it gives "a better life for the modern wife."

SCHETTLETS won't put the "hex" on you, but you should put it on mosquitoes and wigglers. I'm speaking of the Ford "Benny-Hex" insect spray—it's murder they say—if you like yours dry, try the dust form—this will protect your vegetables and flowers and serve as a warning to garden pests to keep off. If you prefer, you may use it as a wettable powder and it will keep mosquitoes from developing in your garden pools. Another product called "Rid-sect" having 5% D.D.T. will exterminate clothes moths—flies—bed bugs (pardon my mentioning them!) roaches, ditto, fleas, wasps and all other pests, but the human variety. They haven't lost a human nor poisoned one yet through the use of D.D.T. Then you may play "Bombs away" with "Aer-a-sol" an easy and effective method of combating moths and other pests. SCHETTLETS have metal spray guns for 50 cents so it's all made very simple for you and ought to end your pest problems.

Have you ever been taken to the cleaners? That may be an unpleasant recollection, but seeing that your "things" get to the Queen Cleaners is a very pleasant process. This you may do either by phoning Office 4100 for pickup and delivery service or going to the branch at Kercheval between St. Clair and Neff. You can't miss it—the little grey house in the East—there's even a neon sign in front to keep you from going astray—but if you do miss it—you've missed a good cleaning. It's about time to put away the summer duds and it's always advisable to let the Queen Cleaners show you the job they can do. And what a comfort, come next Spring, to have everything "spotless" when that first unexpected hot day appears and you yearn to get out of your winter clothing. Try it, you'll like it.

High School Dramatics Club Has Outstanding Reputation

By JIM BROWN
Grosse Pointe High School Journalism Student

One of the most popular of all the extra curricular activities offered at Grosse Pointe High School is the dramatic club, Pointe Players. Not only is it popular in the school, but its reputation is well known in the community.

The twelve years of the club's existence have been marked by successful production after production, each enacted with near professional ability. The long list of hits includes such well known plays as "Letters to Lucerne," "Our Town," "George Washington Slept Here," "Arsenic and Old Lace," and the most recent, "Best Foot Forward."

The annual program of the club is designed to give everyone associated with it a taste of all phases of producing a show, and includes at the same time a close social fellowship between the members. Traditionally the program follows along about the same lines every year.

As soon as school starts in the fall the executive committee, consisting of the president, vice-president, secretary, and member-at-large, meets with the sponsor to plan the year's program and sketch the first organizational meeting. At this meeting apprentices are signed up. Later, chairmen of the various committees are selected by the sponsor and committee.

In the meantime the executive committee and the sponsor are busy reading plays and trying to select the fall production. The final choice, made by the sponsor with the advice of the committee is based on the available acting material, the difficulty of staging, and assurance of success.

The play is announced at a meeting of the entire club and rehearsals begin that night for members only. Two nights later the apprentices get a chance to show their ability. Then the field of candidates is narrowed down to an invitational list chosen by the sponsor, and a final tryout is held.

With the announcement of the cast the players swing into action at once. Crews are signed up to work while the cast begins rehearsing immediately. The first rehearsal is merely reading periods where the cast reads over the play to master the plot. Then scene by scene they begin to go over the play. Within two weeks they have learned their entire parts fairly well.

The first time they go over the entire play is always a big night. This trial run usually takes hours more than it should, but it marks a great step in their progress. It shows the many kinks which need to be ironed out and inspires the cast to work harder.

As the opening night nears the rehearsals are steadily lengthened and evening rehearsals are regularly called. Sometimes the cast practices till 9:30 or 10:00, as it begins to take things a little more seriously.

In the meantime the various crews work along so as to be ready in time for the dress rehearsals. The stage crew spends long hours every night in the scene shop. The property committee collects the props needed, and the costume committee rents or borrows the costumes. The makeup committee members practice making up each other so they can do their job speedily and efficiently the night of the play.

The business committee, meanwhile, is selling tickets. A ticket office is set up in the student council booth during the lunch hours and after school. Tickets are also given to the members and apprentices to sell to friends and parents.

On Friday before the play the first dress rehearsal is held and a second on Saturday. Then on Monday comes the real test, the final dress rehearsal. Often this rehearsal seems like a flop; there is no spirit shown, the acting seems rough and stale.

Then comes the gala opening night. The actors anxiously await their entrance on the stage, the crews wonder if they have done their work well enough. Just before curtain time the entire cast and crew gather in the gym with all outsiders barred. Traditionally, letters from old members are read, speeches are made by former and senior members, and finally the sponsor gives his traditional word of encouragement. He simply assures the group that this show is going to be "the best show Pointe Players has ever produced."

Then the entire cast forms a huge circle around the gym, and with a rousing cheer the entire ensemble shouts "Give 'em hell." With a roar the crowd dashes for the stage, and the show is on.

Before each production it has always been the same. Every one is sure that this show is going to be the best ever produced.

The second-semester program follows along about the same lines, with one addition. Every year the club produces three one-act plays so that those who didn't get a chance to act in the major play can take part in a play. The presentation of these plays is exclusively for the parents and friends of the players.

When school opens in September the club will be under the direction of the new officers, Diane Faulk, president; Dick Phillips, vice-president; Jennie Quirk, secretary; and Shiloh McComb, member-at-large.

Section Around Chattanooga Holds Lures for Tourists

By the Old AAA Traveler

Wherever heroes' blood has soaked the ground there one finds an immense thrill, for those halcyon spots are an important part of the magnificent America in which we live . . . the America we love sufficiently to fight and die for, if need be, that it might go on to become greater and greater. North and south, east and west are these areas where men have died that right and decency might flourish, and one cannot roam over one of the spots without becoming just a wee bit better American! One of those areas is the country around Chattanooga, Tenn., that lustrous old town almost hemmed in by mountains.

Chattanooga goes 'way back. Long before the Cherokees built villages . . . along Chickamauga Creek, Indians were planting corn and beans and building villages in the area where Chattanooga now stands. You see, Chattanooga lies on the famous Moccasin Bend of the Tennessee River and it is almost boxed by Missionary Ridge to the east, Signal Mountain to the northwest and Lookout Mountain to the southwest . . . that meant lush ground protected from the cold winds of winter . . . and the Indian always was a chap to seek comfort.

In time the French traders established posts and then the English, whose outpost, Fort Loudoun, was on the Little Tennessee River. When the Cherokees and Creeks besieged Fort Loudoun in 1762, the French at New Orleans sent a supply boat up the Tennessee to aid the Indians, for there was bitter competition among the French and English traders. When Anglo-Saxon immigration started moving over the mountains, the French departed.

With the outbreak of the Revolution the Cherokees turned unsuccessfully against the settlers. A young war chief, Dragging Canoe, led the Cherokees from upper East Tennessee. They were joined by other hostile Indians and by white outlaws and they grew steadily until war clouds lowered over the south. In 1862, and practically on to the end of the war, the section around Chattanooga was a great battle ground. The battle of Missionary Ridge was one of the great battles of the war, and then, of course, the "Battle Above the Clouds." That was fought high in the mountains with a thick mist hovering beneath, giving its name.

Losses on both sides were heavy in the fighting around Chattanooga, and all over that country today rise impressive memorials to those who died on both sides. Probably the most interesting things to see around Chattanooga are the battlefields, for on them you can follow the battle lines, now marked by low hedges and bronze plaques, and see how the strife ebbed and flowed over so many dark days.

Lookout Mountain, of course, is something every beauty-lover should see, for it rises abruptly from the valley to about 1500 feet in height. From its upper ledges you look out over the famous Moccasin Bend of the river, so named because the river twists and winds just as a snake. The view from Lookout Mountain is days you can actually look out into seven states.

Williams Home In Farms Robbed

A checkup following two break-ins and entries at the home of Mrs. Wood Williams of 63 Stanton lane, on August 13 and 14, reveals that two radios, two electric clocks, a War Savings Stamp book containing $18.50 worth of stamps, and 50 cents in change are among the items missing.

The robberies were discovered when Bill Kalkhoff, caretaker in the absence of Mrs. Williams, discovered bureau drawers and cupboards had all been opened when he went there on the night of August 13. He could find no visible means of entry.

The following day he reported to Farms police that someone had been in the house again.

Upsurge of Traffic Mishaps Anticipated Over Labor Day

Anticipating a surge of holiday traffic and accidents over the Labor Day week-end, Automobile Club of Michigan today joined police and other safety agencies in a plea to "take it easy" on the state highways and city streets.

"Our record in the past ten years for the three or four days which usually comprise a Labor Day week-end has not been an encouraging one," said Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club Safety and Training Director. "During this last big holiday week-end for motorists, it is hoped the every effort will be made to take it easy while driving or walking."

Davis emphasized that more cars will be on the road this week-end than at any time since 1941 and that most of them are more than six years old.

He listed six suggestions to insure a safe and sane motor holiday:

1. "Take it easy!" Don't weave in and out of traffic. Maintain a steady driving pace without excessive speed or racing starts in traffic.
2. Don't drive on the wrong side of the road. Keep to the right, particularly on curves.
3. Don't pass on hills, curves or at street intersections.
4. Get an early start, going and coming, to avoid tension in crowded traffic. Rest when necessary to overcome fatigue.
5. Slowdown at sundown; don't overdrive your headlights.
6. Watch for cars coming out of side roads, particularly after dusk; and obey all traffic signs calling for a "Full Stop."

Firecracker Shooter Fined

Robert Irwin Balshar, aged 20, of 14072 Park road, Detroit, was arrested by the Park police Tuesday night for scattering lighted firecrackers liberally about the landscape in the neighborhood of the Cupid restaurant at Harvard and Mack, much to the annoyance and alarm of the neighbors and patrons of the eating house.

The next morning in police court he was fined $5 and placed on a four-months' probation.

Rabaut Praises 79th Congress

In a discussion of the benefits to veterans, Representative Louis C. Rabaut, Democrat of Michigan, stated that more than twelve and one-half billion dollars had been provided by the 79th Congress, which has just adjourned.

Rabaut, now at his home in Grosse Pointe, following the adjournment, explained that this amounts to nearly $1,000 for every soldier discharged since V-E Day. The largest single item was the 2 1/2 billions to pay for terminal leave. The educational and subsistence programs have also cost a tremendous sum.

Rabaut emphasized, however, that in his opinion several important phases of the veterans program are still incomplete. In particular, he referred to the housing shortage. "In spite of the President's pleas, and the needs of the veterans," Rabaut said, "Congress did not finish the job in this regard."

He did not feel, however, that Congress bore the full responsibility for shortages in other fields. Specifically, he referred to meat, which had been held up by those eager for high profits, and then appeared on the counters in abundance after the lifting of ceiling prices.

Rabaut also referred to the liberalized G.I. Bill of Rights, the increase in pension and disability payments, and appropriations for medical care of servicemen's wives and children. He said, "In my opinion, in spite of a few omissions, the record of the 79th Congress in regard to the veteran is good."

SPURRED BY A RAISING DISSATISFACTION over the veterans housing program Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt and Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small get together and revise building materials priorities... the program is devised to provide materials to complete houses and apartments already begun, before winter... seventy five percent of scarce building items are set aside for this purpose.

ALL THE TWO BY FOUR "POWERS" in eastern Europe seem ready to take the hand that feeds them. Poland, in whose welfare the United States has taken a deep interest since President Wilson was instrumental lifting her to sovereign status in 1918, now terms our interest there as meddling objects to our recent note calling for free elections.

STOCK PRICES on the Big Board in New York crumbled yesterday in one of the heaviest selling orgies of the year... touch low points for the year in many listings... anxiety over foreign developments, uncertain labor outlook at home and production troubles blamed... rise in manufacturer's inventories, now at record peaks in many items, and refusal of the market to be pepped up by increased dividends also factors.

HOW'LL YOU HAVE YOUR EGGS?

This weather-beaten trouble-shooter isn't worrying about your eggs—or whether you want 'em soft boiled, fried, scrambled—or if you like eggs at all.

But he is worrying about keeping your electric service flowing along as usual. If that means eggs for your breakfast, okay then, that's why he's up on a storm-lashed power pole.

And, he'll stay there till he gets your line repaired—in spite of rain... lightning... thunder... and a high wind howling.

You don't have to send him a check for his trouble. You won't pay any more on your electric bill—to cover his hard, wet work and the materials he uses. Chances are you'll never even know a line went out.

Fortunately we don't have storms every day, but when we do, Detroit Edison line crews are ready—day or night.

Doctors Tackle Traffic Problem

A suggestion by Dr. Burt R. Shurly, president of the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium, to marshal the thousands of medical men in the country for an all-out drive to reduce the mounting traffic toll is being adopted by medical societies across the country.

Dr. Shurly, a delegate at large to the recent American Medical Association Convention in California, presented his Traffic Safety Resolution there.

Recommendations include: Physicians make it a personal responsibility to advise patients of the probable effect of physical impairments on their driving; that they cooperate with state and city officials in such important safety measures as the standardizing and administration of drivers' license examinations, the development and administration of intoxication tests and all like measures which call for a physician's skill; that all physicians take two immediate steps to make a personal contribution to traffic safety: Equip their cars with suitable first-aid kits for use in giving necessary immediate treatment in traffic accidents, and by the personal example of careful and skillful driving, influence others to take more care on the road.

The AMA has directed the resolution to their committee on Health Education and it is now being sent to various state societies who will put the precautionary measures into immediate effect.

Two-fifths of all accidents at railroad grade crossings in 1944 were at crossings protected by gates, lights, bells or watchmen.

Bumper Peach Crop Predicted

The recent rains gave an additional boost to the peach crop in most of the peach growing areas of Michigan and, more than likely, will help Michigan break all peach production records this season.

Charles Flyg, Director of the State Department of Agriculture states that according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service, last year's record peach crop of 4,400,000 bushels, which broke all previous records, is expected to be exceeded this year. Their estimate as of August 1 shows 4,428,000 bushels. If this record production materializes, it will be 70 per cent over the 10 year average.

This year's crop will be especially good quality. New methods have been developed which have aided materially in the control of brown rot of peaches, and the dry weather has helped control insect pests and diseases.

The early peaches are now being harvested. The harvest of the major portion of the crop in southwestern Michigan usually starts this week, with the peak of the season around Labor Day. Now is the time for consumers to be making plans to secure their supply of quality Michigan peaches.

Skips to Avoid Theft Hearing

Danny Griffio, released from the Juvenile Detention Home to await a hearing on burglary charges, has skipped town, according to Sgt. Elmer Labadie of the Farms police department.

The Oak Creek boy is charged with entering the Leon K. Lindahl home at 254 Lewiston road in early July and stealing articles and cash.

A wire has been received by his family stating that he was in Missouri, but heading for Pennsylvania, where the family formerly lived. He served time in a Philadelphia juvenile detention home before coming to the Pointe.

City To Refence Municipal Beach

At the meeting of the City Council last Friday direction was given for the erection of about 600 feet of fence on the east and west sides of the municipal beach park. The cost of the fence will be approximately $1,000.
