Students of Two Schools Tackle Mutual Problems

Friday, January 17, marked the first of a series of meetings promoted by Grosse Pointe High School between metropolitan and suburban schools designed to create a better understanding between schools. Eight representative students from Grosse Pointe acted as hosts to a similar group from Denby.

The student body of Grosse Pointe High was not informed of the presence of the Denby students so the visitors could witness a typical day at Grosse Pointe.

The order of the day consisted of visiting classrooms throughout the school, enabling the visitors to observe first hand the methods of instruction employed here as well as the attitude of the students. The group from Denby was also taken to Forum meetings and to Varsity Club meetings to see how these organizations function. The day was climaxed by a two hour round table discussion by the students, which was student operated. This meeting was concerned with problems which were mutual between the two schools such as student activity in community affairs, student relations between the two schools, and the handling of troublesome groups outside of the jurisdiction of the schools, whose conduct is detrimental to interests and relationships existing between Denby and Grosse Pointe. The group is looking forward to a similar meeting at Denby.

Owner Told Pile of Dirt Must Vanish

Residents Carry Grievances Over Nuisance to City Council

Henry Huvaere's pile of black dirt on Charlevoix between Neff and St. Clair will soon disappear. A group of citizens attended the council meeting Monday night to continue the protest that has been gathering strength in the neighborhood.

Councilman Carpenter read a letter from Mr. Huvaere, written on Jan. 7, saying the pile would be disposed of as fast as he found a place to put it and that meanwhile no more would be added.

The neighbors had protested against both the unsightly pile and the use of property in a strictly residential area for commercial purposes.

"I don't think the council knew anything about this until they read of it in the newspapers," remarked one of the councilmen.

"Well all Grosse Pointe will know about it as soon as the dry season comes and the winds blow the dust all over the Pointe, if it isn't removed," said one of the petitioners.

PUSHED INTO TROUBLE

Damage was slight when a wreacking truck pushed a LaSalle sedan into a Plymouth on Grosse Pointe boulevard on the afternoon of January 20. James E. Smith, of 397 Neff road, driver of the Ford truck owned by the Grosse Pointe Garage, said he did not see the Plymouth. The LaSalle suffered a broken headlight and radiator grill.

Catholics Organize Against Planned Parenthood League

A group of prominent Pointe and Detroit Catholic laymen are organizing to oppose the program of the League for Planned Parenthood, which has received the endorsement of many of the Pointe's most prominent men and women.

A committee meeting of Catholic organizations was held in the Detroit Chancery Building on Thursday evening, January 16, with Magr. Edward J. Hickey, the Archdiocesan Chancellor, presiding.

In a statement made recently at Washington, D. C., the National Director of the Family Life Bureau, Dr. Edgar F. Schmiedeler, of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, deplored the approval being given to certain birth con-

Doctor Planning Medical Center Given Assurance City's Permit Still Valid

Proposed change in Zoning Ordinance at Kercheval place and Cadieux won't affect Dr. Nelson Diebel's project

Attorney Harrison T. Watson was present at the City Council meeting Monday night representing Dr. Nelson W. Diebel and Lloyd Ecclestone, real estate operator, both of whom are greatly interested in the ultimate disposition of the southeast corner lot at Little Kercheval and Cadieux as it may be affected by the proposed change in the zoning ordinance of the city, converting that area from Zone "C" residential to Zone "B" residential classification.

On December 2 the council had given the ok to Dr. Diebel's plan to erect on this property a medical center in which he would have several other physicians associated with him.

Dr. Diebel wished to know at that time how such a project on that location would be regarded by the council. He then received an affirmative answer.

This understanding was necessary before he bought the property. Following the assurance of council he had since bought the property and the title had now passed to him.

Mr. Watson wished to learn whether this proposed change in zoning classification might affect adversely the doctor's project and desired an expression from the council on the matter.

He was assured by Mayor Nettleton that there was no change of heart by the council on Dr. Diebel's project. They would welcome such an establishment there and said there was no doubt but that under the "hardship" clause in the zoning laws, which applied to special cases where residential property impinged on a commercial area, Dr. Diebel's enterprise could be legally located there even though the zoning classification was advanced from "C" to "B" residential.

Four Cars Figure In Single Crash

Four cars figured in an accident on Mack avenue in front of the Wrigley market at 3:50 p.m. January 19.

James Joseph Richardson, of 14265 Alma, Detroit, was driving his Dodge east on Mack and stopped to make a left turn into Bournmouth as soon as traffic cleared.

The Richardson car was smacked in the rear by a Chevrolet, also headed east, driven by Charles Lorenz of 2332 Springwells. The Lorenz car was bumped from behind by another Chevrolet driven by John Crimmons of Tuscan, Detroit. This car was also smacked from the rear by a fourth, driven by Leopold Bernard Le Tiel, of St. Clair Shores.

Total damage in the crashes was estimated at $275. The only car that wasn't hurt was the first one that stopped.

ANOTHER POLE FELLED

Another Edison pole was knocked down in the Farms on the morning of January 18. Francis Huxley, 21, of 528 St. Clair, was driving south on Hall place when he skidded near Radnor Circle and crashed into the pole.

School Days Return for Farms Cops

Special Six-Weeks Course Prescribed by Committee, Approved by Trustees

All members of the Farms police department are to take a special course in police work, procedure and law, starting on February 20.

The village trustees approved an expenditure of $150 to pay for the course, at the council meeting Monday night on the recommendation of the police committee. Instructor will be John Mowatt, former assistant prosecuting attorney in charge of out-county cases.

The course will last six weeks, sessions being held on Thursday nights. All leaves have been cancelled by Chief Walter Hoyt while the course is in progress. Chief Hoyt enthusiastically approved the plan and will take the course with the rest of the men.

Christensen Baby Smothers in Crib

George Christensen, Jr., aged four months, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Christensen of 564 Lakeland, was found by his nurse, Marion Sinn, smothered in his crib about 2 o'clock last Saturday afternoon, January 18.

The mother and nurse in their panic first called the Detroit police department, rather than the City police, asking for men with an inhalator. This message was relayed to the Maumee station from the Detroit station, which was the first information the local officers had.

Officers Ontswedder and Teebaert hurried over with the inhalator but found the house locked with the exception of a side door. No one was in and they proceeded to make a search of the place. They found another baby sleeping soundly in an upstairs bedroom and a smaller empty crib. They phoned this information back to Chief Trombly and he got in touch with all the local hospitals but no information was obtained. He meanwhile directed one of the men to remain in the house.

Presently the mother and the nurse returned to the house in a highly hysterical state. The baby had been left at Dr. Jodar's office at 15760 Mack, where they had taken him.

Dr. Jodar said the child was dead when brought in to him. The coroner's office report says death was caused by smothering. It was not deemed necessary for a further coroner's investigation.

Ice Skating Rink At Kerby-Chalfonte Enlarged by Farms

Officials Cite Some of Headaches Accompanying Attempts to Provide Better Recreational Facilities for Pointers

The demands of Pointers for additional ice skating facilities on safe inland rinks made some progress this week with the enlargement of a natural rink at Kerby and Chalfonte roads in Grosse Pointe Farms.

In answer to a communication from the Grosse Pointe Farms Recreation Association, the trustees directed Murray Smith, commissioner of public works, to investigate the feasibility of flooding an area of the village playground where a natural basin exists, and where a small pond had been formed by the melting snows and rain.

With Tuesday's sudden drop in the temperature, Mr. Smith deemed it a good time to experiment. A crew poured water from a fire hose into the basin for two and a half hours. The size of the rink was at least doubled and there is an irregular area of about an acre of good ice for skating.

Mr. Smith is going to get further statistics with instruments to determine the variation in the levels on the plot, to determine how high a furrow would have to be made to flood a regular-shaped rink.

The association also asked that half of the Stephens Hill road, be iced by the village for coasting, and that barricades be erected there, keeping out all traffic. Inasmuch as this is a private subdivision, the trustees refused to consider this, and also thought that flooding the road would make it dangerous for the coasters.

During the good coasting weather earlier in the winter, barricades were erected at the foot of the hill to protect the coasters, and this will be done again if there is more coasting weather.

Discussion of the winter sports subject brought out some of the problems with which municipal officials are plagued when they attempt to increase recreational facilities.

President James K. Watkins cited the cost of such items to the taxpayers, not only in creating the facility, but in maintaining and policing it. He feared that the creation of a large rink would only bring a swarm of non-resident children into the Farms, with the resulting increase in accidents.

The weather, which has been unusually kind to winter sports lovers this year, is particularly fickle in this area. There have been an abnormal number of good skating and coasting days this year so far, but Dame Nature might get sultry at any time and stop all skating just after a rink had been built.

In discussing the situation with officials following the meeting, Pointe parents came in for a good deal of criticism. It was pointed out that the parents are becoming more and more demanding about publicly provided caretakers for their children.

It is the usual thing for a parent to tell his child, "Go on out and skate and have the man at the pier put your skates on." The attendants at the pier are kept busy answering telephone calls from mothers who want Johnny or Susie sent home for dinner.

It has been found necessary during the cold weather to have three full time employes at the pier. When the weather breaks, there is nothing for one or more of the attendants to do and the taxpayers' money is being wasted.

Plenty of Headaches Lurk Within City Garbage Cans

Rubbish and waste disposal is not the only headache that confronts Grosse Pointe City. There are just as many throbs lurking in the garbage can.

The City, in common with other Pointe communities, has been in constant trouble for a series of years over this question. They have no sooner made an arrangement with some pig feeder to take the garbage than local objection or township health ruling compels the feeder to either close up entirely or move farther away. Lately the round trip haul for this material has been approximately 100 miles, away out on Gratiot.

In discussion of the matter Monday night at the council meeting the choice of places seemed to simmer down to a place out on Fourteen Mile

Factions Row Over Solution To Problem

Sale of City Disposal Plant Site Poses Question as Yet Unanswered

The rubbish disposal problem in the City which is pressing with increasing urgency with the approaching loss of its reduction plant at Radnor and Warren by September 1, because of the sale of the property to the Augustinian order, came to a boil in the Council meeting Monday night.

When the smoke cleared away Councilman Carpenter, who has been a member of the special salvage committee, had resigned and the City Clerk was directed to start on the hunt again to find some better way of getting rid of the City's waste materials. What the council would like to do is to find some private concern which would engage to take all of the city's rubbish as it is collected by the city and dispose of it. This has been a hotly debated question in council for some time.

One faction headed by Councilman John Mack has been all for making a deal with some private concern who would do the job and possibly even return a little profit to the city. Another group, in which Councilman Carpenter and Neil Blondell, the City Assessor, have been active, has favored the continuation of the work as done at present by the city itself and putting up another reduction plant when the present one passes away with the new ownership.

Against this Mr. Mack alleges it would cost probably $20,000 to build such a place. The other side says it could be done for a relatively trifling sum, not more than $8,000, land and all.

To find out the financial story of this city operation the firm of Ernst and Ernst was retained, some time ago, and brought in a report which seemed to justify the city-operated plant. Mr. Mack questioned the correctness of the Ernst and Ernst figures, and there's the quarrel.

At the meeting Monday night Mr. Mack brought in some figures he had obtained from the General Mills Waste Paper company. They had offered to take the city's waste paper, rags and other paper making materials and pay the city for them with a differential of $5 per ton, i.e. pay the city for the waste paper materials the current market price for its various classifications, less the $5.

This looked fine until some enquiring mind asked what they would do with the old gum shoes, discarded nursing nipples, glass bottles, tin cans and general variegated mass of broken and discarded household refuse.

The prospect was still more discouraging when Mr. Carpenter produced letters from the would-be private collectors saying they were interested solely in the waste paper and then only as nicely separated from the other waste materials.

Mr. Blondell said that the separation of these items into their component parts was one of the major items of expense to the city, usually requiring about three quarters of the time of three men on the collection days.

As one of Mr. Mack's chief contentions was that the passing of this job to private concerns would do away with the employment of any men for the work by the city, this was a further complication.

The opponents of the city-operated waste reduction scheme apparently got only as far as waste paper. The other waste miscellany was a hurdle they were not prepared to take.

The upshot of it all was the passage of a resolution directing the city clerk to cast about to find some satisfactory way of collecting and disposing of the city's waste materials with, if possible, a neat little profit for the city. The city in its own reduction plant has been disposing of all of the city's waste materials, salvaging whatever was of value.

Grandma looks calm and collected as she poses for posterity, but she wasn't—not on your tintype! Getting her family ready for this picture was a long, weary business.
The day this photo was snapped, Grandma was up at dawn, wrestling with the old wood stove, coaxing the kettle to boil, cooking breakfast. And the day before, she ironed the mountain of clothes that had needed such hard scrubbing. The day before that—
But that was Grandma's life. She didn't know any other kind. Her way of housekeeping took lots of time, lots of elbow grease. In Grandma's gayest dreams she never imagined the time would come when a woman would have dozens of electric servants daily for the cost of a bar of soap.
Electric service—ready and willing around the clock and calendar—is a modern miracle Grandma missed by being born too soon. But electrical dependability (and cheapness, too) didn't happen by accident. Not on your tintype! They're the result of plenty of hard work and practical experience on the part of your neighbors who operate this company.

Leftover Land Still Orphaned

The building and zoning committee of the City Council has not yet completed its report and recommendation on the zoning classification of the left over real estate resulting from the widening of Mack avenue.

This statement was made at the City Council meeting Monday night by Mr. Carpenter the chairman of the committee. He said the County Road Commission is anxious to hear from Grosse Pointe City as soon as possible and that the committee would be ready with its report in about two weeks.

The great man chooses to inspire others when he easily could shine alone.

Reverend Clark Addresses Rotary

Rev. James D. Clark of the St. Clare de Montefalco parish was the guest speaker at the weekly Rotary club meeting at the Whittier on Monday.

He gave a deeply moving spiritual talk built around the general theme that God is all and in all. He said that pressing this solemn fact to a group of business and professional men should awaken their consciousness to the realization of their unavoidable association of the Divine Being in every fact and angle of their daily lives.

He pleaded this understanding as the key to a fuller and better life for every man in all his social and business relations and in his position as a citizen of the nation.

The Reverend Clark's address struck a reverent and thoughtful chord in the minds of all his listeners. At the conclusion of his talk he met with a deeply fervent applause which echoed a sincerity quite advanced beyond that which ordinarily greets the club's speakers on material and worldly subjects.

Ford Motor Company Makes Down Payment on Continued High Production, Employment

Henry Ford II Announces Immediate Reduction in Prices on All Cars Manufactured by His Concern

Henry Ford II of Provençal road, Grosse Pointe Farms, made economic history last week when as president of the Ford Motor Car Company he announced that his company was immediately reducing the prices on all of its cars.

Mr. Ford's complete statement made at a press conference in Dearborn on January 15, follows: "Although more than one million of our customers are waiting for delivery of their cars at present prices, we are immediately reducing the price of every Ford car—some models as much as $50. "This is our 'down payment' toward a continued high level of production and employment in the months ahead. We believe that the 'shock treatment' of prompt action is needed to halt the insane spiral of mounting costs and rising prices and to restore a sound base for the hopeful period of post-war production we are now entering.

"Let me review briefly the considerations which have led us to take this important step.

"The Ford Motor Company is in the mass production business. Mass production depends upon large markets. It will continue to succeed only if it can produce more and more at lower and lower cost so that more and more people can buy. Large markets begin to disappear when prices rise.

"The un-American spiral of mounting costs and rising prices has hurt everybody—some groups more than others. Many have not benefited from post-war wage increases, but have had to share the burden of resulting higher prices. Already, millions of American families are unable to buy the things which, in normal times, make up their standard of living.

"In the short view, we can see inflation. In the long view, there is danger of depression.

"The period since V-J day has been an unhappy and costly period of reconversion to peacetime production. Ford Motor Company has lost millions of dollars since V-J Day, even after all tax adjustments.

"But the crisis of this wild aftermath of war seems to have been passed. Our own production, though still limited by material shortages, is now steadier. Productivity of our employees, which hit a new low during the period, seems to have started its return to normal. Ford Motor Company made a modest profit for the last three months of 1946, and we intend to continue to operate in the black.

"The American economy now stands at a turning point, mounting costs and rising prices have warranted caution and hesitancy. There is even general fear that this dangerous, un-American cycle cannot be corrected without an economic recession. We think this fear can be dispelled by common sense and action, and among free men that becomes an individual responsibility.

"The Ford Motor Company therefore proposes to accept its losses since V-J Day as an item of the cost of a great and victor-

Best Picture in News Contest

Judges in the Grosse Pointe News contest for the most appealing pictures of children of the Pointe and Gratiot Township and their pets, have given first prize of a $50 United States Savings Bond to this shot of TOMMY HARTZELL and his dog, MAJOR. Tommy is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John B. Hartzell of Ridge road, Grosse Pointe Farms. Winners of $25 bonds in the contest include Dick Bassett, of 77 Lochmoor boulevard; Jimmy Diamond of 273 McMillan road, Karen Lee Murphy of 873 University place, Sally Beardslee of 841 Whittier road, and Larry Dean Allard, of 19304 Roscommon. The winners will be contacted for presentation as soon as the bonds are issued.

City Reassures Irired Resident

A petition was presented to the City Council at its meeting on Jan. 20, signed by many residents of the City living in the St. Clair-Notre Dame-Cadieux areas, asking that no change be made in the zoning law which would enlarge the street parking area in that section.

Stephen Van Tien, who had been active in the petition move, acknowledged that it was motivated largely by rumors. All of the councilmen professed ignorance of anything being contemplated that would do what Mr. Van Tien feared.

Mayor Netting told him the petition would be filed and if anything developed which would appear to threaten what the petitioners fear, it would be brought out and duly considered.

Mr. Van Tien took the opportunity which the offering of the petition presented, to criticize many things which had been done not according to his liking. Among these were the laying of some deep sewers which he surmised had been largely in the interests of certain property owners. He was assured that the laying of the sewers to which he referred was strictly in accordance with the over-all plans of the City in the enlargement of its sewer system. He had positively no association with any particular property owners. It was merely a link in the City's eventual sewer system, the Mayor explained.

The City had decided to proceed with this work according to its master plan and was going ahead with it as its finances allowed rather than load the City with an expense of several hundred thousand dollars at one time.

Offers to Buy City Property

An offer was received at the City Council meeting on Jan. 20 from H. Sanborn Brown for the lot belonging to the City at the southwest corner of Maumee and St. Clair, for $4,750.

The offer was accompanied by a certified check for $500. The would be buyer wishes to erect a five family unit terrace on the lot which measures 87' by 178'. The offer was referred to the real estate committee for consideration and report.

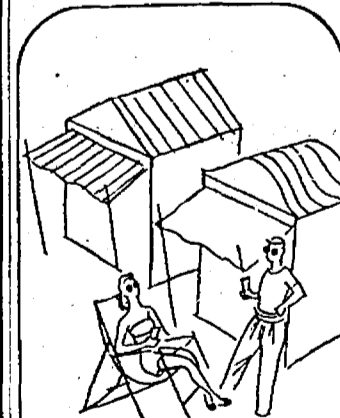

ious war. We are closing our books on that phase of our production history. We have decided that now is the time for us to make an investment in the future.

"Because they must build up depleted cash reserves or because they are still losing money, many businesses may not be able to follow suit. But we hope that our suppliers, our employees, and our other economic partners, will back, each to his own ability, our attempt to return to the economic pattern which has helped to make America great—the principle that higher wages and a higher standard of living for all depend upon lower costs and lower prices through increasingly efficient large-scale production.

"We hope, as we move forward, that we will be able to reduce prices further, and that we will not be forced to raise them again to compensate for cost increases."

Cab Stand Banned On City Streets

The Grosse Pointe Taxicab company applied to the City Council Monday night for permission to maintain a cab stand on the streets of the City. Public Safety Commissioner Clarence Blessed, without recommending that the City should do so, mentioned that if the City saw fit to widen the street along St. Clair avenue south of Kercheval it would provide room for four more cars.

This was not agreed to by council. Mr. Blessed then recommended that the City prohibit any public cab stands on any of its streets. This motion passed unanimously, but the taxi company was told that if it could arrange for parking space on any private property within any permissible area, the council would gladly give the company plate licenses to operate here, in conformity with the City's general taxi ordinance.

Karl Robinson to Present Spectacular Alaskan Film

The Travel and Adventure Series, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Community Lectures, will present Karl Robinson, renowned explorer and lecturer, Sunday afternoon, January 26, at John D. Pierce Auditorium, Kercheval and Balfour at 3 p.m.

Mr. Robinson's spectacular color motion picture story "We Live in Alaska" is the result of seven years exploration, wild life study and general observation of the people, customs, and abundant resources of this great land of opportunity and rugged beauty.

Mr. Robinson will provide his audience with extremely intimate sequences and close-up pictures of some of Alaska's outstanding wild life families as well as many other sequences illustrating Alaskans' community life, changing seasons, gold prospecting, with a visit to the gold mines, and the fantasy of the rare and colorful beauty of this last rugged frontier.

A healthy sense of humor is in evidence in this photographer's camera work as well as in his buoyant, conversational type of lecture. To secure further information or to purchase tickets, call the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, Niagara 2000, Ext. 25.

Michigan Bell Has Busiest Year

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company cited 1946 as the busiest year in its history.

Despite critical material shortages, the company put through a $39,000,000 construction program, reduced the list of those waiting for service from 113,000 to 70,000 and installed 400,000 telephones—100,000 more than in any previous year.

The company installed enough wire during the year to reach 20 times around the earth. Enough central office equipment was added to serve 160,000 more subscribers.

At year's end, there were nearly 1,330,000 telephones in the company's territory for an all-time high and 205,000 more than a year ago. Service was furnished to 20,000 more rural subscribers in 1946.

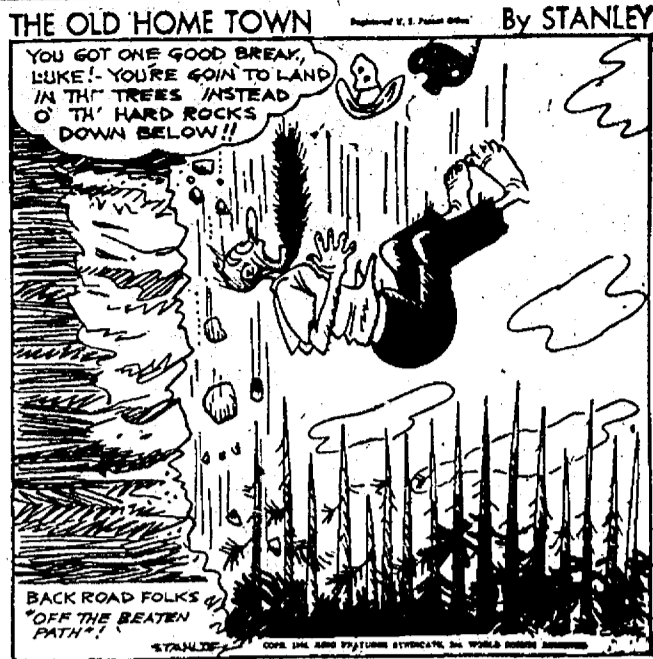

Not only were there more telephones but there used them more. The volume of local calls handled by the company was averaging 7,250,000 for a normal business day by the end of the year, an increase of 1,250,000 a day over 1945. Long distance traffic had jumped to an average of 1160,000 calls a day against 128,000 at the same time last year.

One of the largest long distance projects in the company's history was started and mostly completed during the year—a 250-mile cable between Detroit and Grand Rapids costing more than $3,000,000.

The company was unable to erect new buildings as rapidly as needed because of material shortages. Every building bulged with necessary central office equipment, forcing the company into new business offices and administrative quarters in many communities of its territory.

A brand-new operation was started with the inauguration of mobile telephone service in Detroit. Plans went ahead for extension of "dashboard" service to several other cities and for the opening of general highway service over main arteries of southern Michigan in 1947.

Michigan Bell officials expect the year ahead to be even busier. Afforded favorable economic conditions, including ample supplies of materials, the company hopes to eliminate its waiting list and to restore service to pre-war standards.

Baby's Picture Taken from Car

R. P. Pender, of 2008 Lochmoor, reported to the police on Wednesday night, Jan. 15, that while he was in the Punch and Judy theater, someone stole a picture of his little three-year-old daughter from the back seat of his car, which was parked on the north side of Kercheval between Lincoln and Fisher.

It was a tinted picture 11" x 14" in size. It was taken sometime between 7:15 o'clock and 9:30 p. m. It could have been of no possible value to the thief, but was highly prized by the family.

Mr. Pender thought that the thief who took it probably discovered its lack of money value when he unwrapped it and had possibly thrown it into some rubbish receptacle nearby, but a thorough examination of all nearby premises by the police failed to find it.

Assessors to Enter Course at Ann Arbor

The University of Michigan, in cooperation with the Michigan Municipal League, is putting on a training or refresher course for municipal assessors, in lectures to be held in Ann Arbor on Jan. 29, 30 and 31. Manager Lane recommended to the Park Commissioners Monday night that the Park Village Assessor, William G. Stamman, be authorized to attend at the village expense. Such action was taken by the Commissioners.

It is understood that the other villages in the Pointe are also sending their assessors.

The Big Four will never work as one while we ourselves are at sixes and sevens.

Accident Record At All-Time High

In a year that saw the greatest volume of travel ever recorded on Detroit streets, the city's 1946 toll of death, injury and destruction from motor vehicle accidents was: 192 killed, 12,604 injured, and 43,024 accidents.

The figures in all three categories reflect the following increases above the 1945 toll: 15 fatalities or 8.5 per cent; 1,381 injuries or 12.3 per cent; and 7,821 accidents or 22 per cent.

Complete national reports are not yet available, although earlier reports indicate that Detroit's toll of death and injury on a percentage basis will be lower than figures for the nation as a whole.

The pedestrian again constituted more than two-thirds of Detroit's traffic victims. Of the 192 killed, 138 or 72.8 per cent were pedestrians. This is approximately a four per cent increase above the 1945 pedestrian experience.

Motor vehicle travel on Detroit streets, according to a survey of the Traffic Engineering Bureau, increased 22 per cent in 1946 above the previous year. It was also five per cent higher than 1941, the previous peak year for travel.

Outstanding in 1946's monthly accident toll was the record established in December when the lowest number of fatalities for that month was recorded in the years police have been keeping such figures. Only 18 persons lost their lives last month, a reduction of seven below December, 1945 or a percentage decrease of 28 per cent. Injury accidents also were reduced 200 or 15 per cent. December is usually regarded as the worst month in the year for traffic accidents.

International Meeting Held

A dinner meeting of Young People of Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church was held at the Church on Sunday, January 19.

Rev. John Rose of Lothrop District Community Church spoke on "World Friendship."

Guests were young people from a number of countries, Great Britain, Brazil, Germany, Norway, Romania, India, Finland and other countries. Some of these young people are students in Wayne University, and some are attending Merrill-Palmer School.

The committee in charge included Rev. Merrill O. Bates, Mrs. G. M. Garrett and Mrs. Donald A. Corey.

House Ransacked On Balfour Road

Mrs. Chester Perry, of 1045 Balfour, reported to the police at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night that their house had been entered some time during their absence from the place after 4 o'clock. The police found one of those queer cases where the place had been forcibly entered but nothing taken.

There was a considerable quantity of jewelry lying in sight but none of this was touched, nor were any other valuables taken. There was much evidence that the house had been thoroughly searched.

The police are certain that it was the work of juvenile amateurs who were in search of money but afraid to take anything else of value which would have been "hot" in their inexperienced hands.

Motion Picture Council Meets

The monthly meeting of the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council was held January 20, at the Pierce Library. Mrs. Donald C. Hollister, president, read a statement to the 20 organizations represented (Church, private schools, and public school P.T.A.).

The statement explained the work and purpose of the council. It stresses the importance of parents informing their children about what type of pictures they should see.

Kids Joyride In Stolen Car

Ford taken from Club Parking lot abandoned Near Lake Shore

A car which was stolen from the parking lot at the Country Club by two kids on their way home from the Detroit University School, was recovered by Farms police after it had been abandoned following a joy ride around the Pointe. Mrs. Mary Villerot of Beacon Hill is the owner of the car, a Ford sedan.

The Farms police are checking to determine who actually stole the car. There were four youngsters who had rides in it, but some of them claim they didn't know it had been stolen. It was abandoned in the rear of 259 Lake Shore road.

$30 Damage Done By Fire in Car

A Ford belonging to Robert Koebel of 28 Hawthorne road, Grosse Pointe Shores, caught fire in front of 210 Cloverly road, Grosse Pointe Farms, at 6:12 p.m., January 16. Faulty wiring was blamed for the blaze.

Farms firemen extinguished the flames after damage estimated at $30 had been done.

Drivers Injured As Cars Crash

About 8 o'clock on January 18, a car driven north on Devonshire by George Campbell, of 13208 E. Jefferson, failed to stop at Vernor and struck a car driven by Irene Beckett, of 16388 Evanston, going east on Vernor.

There were slight injuries to each driver and they were taken to Ben Secours hospital but released after a checkup. Both cars were so seriously damaged they had to be towed away.

Councilman Hal Smith Replaced on Committee

Due to press of private business, City Councilman Hal Smith has asked to be relieved of the duties which developed upon him as a member of the Real Estate and Auditing committee of council.

At the meeting Monday night his wishes were acceded to and Councilman Thornton Waterfall was named to fill his place on the committee.

Self-importance is unimportantance.

Artists Sponsor Sketching Class

The quick sketching classes held under the auspices of the Grosse Pointe Artists, started on Tuesday evening, January 7.

These classes are to be held on the first and third Tuesday of each month in a room in the High School building. There will be a model but no instructor.

PROWLER CALL

Farms police investigated a prowler call at 174 Touraine road on January 19, but could find no one around the premises.

CITY ORDERS SCOUT CAR

The City Council awarded the order for a new police scout car to the Lakeshore Motor Sales company at the meeting Monday night. The Lakeshore concern offered a new car for $650 and the old car whose place it takes. The next best offer was for $750 plus the old car.

The American Legion Post formed by the veterans of the East Warren area and named after the late Rev. Matthew Corrigan, formerly of St. John Berchman's Parish, is celebrating its first anniversary with a First Anniversary Dance on Friday, Feb. 7, in the St. John Berchman's Parish Hall, East Warren at Lakeview, starting at 9 p.m. The ticket chairman is Robert Simowski who may be reached at TU. 2-8257.

FIRE LOSS LOW

Eight residence fires in the Farms during December did a total damage of but $420, according to the monthly report submitted to the village trustees by Fire Chief George Dansbury. There were 23 calls during the month.

About 10:30 o'clock on January 17 a lonely little opossum tried to cross St. Paul in front of 16715 and couldn't quite make the curb before he was killed by a passing automobile.

HAVE A HEART, BOYS AND GIRLS!

And if you have a heart, you'll have some tickets to the Fashion Group's gala fantasy at Music Hall on the 25th and 26th of January—being produced for the benefit of The Wayne County Chapter of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

As one with the old Urge to Splurge on shows, we can assure you, pets, that "HAVE A HEART" will be the most streamlined, dreamed and on-the-beam-lined production to hit the town. Most fashion shows are put on—this one is being produced. Produced by none other than William W. Merrill, the founder and director of "Will O' Way Theatre in Bloomfield Hills. The original musical score is by Celia Merrill.

"HAVE A HEART" could not be staged at a more strategic time. The fashion editors, who shed their last drop of ink extolling the New York Spring Openings, give The Good Word that the hit numbers from the top collections—Hattie Carnegie, Tina Leser, Sophie, Pauline Triggere, Nettie Rosenstein, Kiviette, Maurice Rentner and all the other big needle-and-thread personalities in New York—their most sensational models will be shipped to Music Hall for the show.

But "HAVE A HEART" will not only be a parade of hits, but a hit parade—spotlighting many radio and film entertainers, including that top tap dancer, John Sweet of "Lady in The Dark" and "The Time of Your Life."

Chic to chic with the featured players will be the most fabulous looking Fashion Models—in fact just to see these models toddle in new spring scenery is the best tonic for anyone who wants to get out of the rut and into the groove.

"HAVE A HEART" boasts a plot as well as a performance. You may well leave Music Hall, feeling that a passion for fashion is a woman's secret of perpetual emotion.

Strictly on the serious side, boys and girls, the March of Dimes should be The March of Dollars this year, since the funds of The Foundation for Infantile Paralysis have been depleted by successive epidemics of this disease which strikes so many innocent children. And being no discriminator of victims, your child may be next. What more do we need than the Biblical exhortation: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, my little ones, ye have done it unto Me."

So, come one, Boys and Girls! Pick up your Tickets for the "HAVE A HEART" show at Grinnell's.

Make the City of Champions the Champion of Cities!

CRAPULOUS CORNER

Some of the sharper Blue Pencils have been fly-specking the Blue Book for 1947. But at least the errors in The Social Register are tame compared to the faux pas pulled in other cities. Two or three seasons ago in New York, a dog's name was listed in the Social Register of Manhattan. This, by the prankish little process of simply writing in his name. These dogs do get around. Fancy our amazement last week to find our own Boston Bull—one Corky Corcoran—featured in a Hollywood news dispatch to the effect that he was organizing his own orchestra in Los Angeles.

Perhaps the most nonchalant attitude toward Social Registerites was taken by Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr. In his suite one day in Detroit here, when the phone rang and he was informed it was one of the society editors who wished to talk to him, Neil turned to us with the naive inquiry: "Do they HAVE society out here?"

We'd scarcely mention it, if the name wasn't already appearing in the advertising columns and causing no end of confusion. But we're forming a committee of one to suppress the name of that new perfume—Bichi, it's called. And, in our French patois, there's only one way to pronounce Bichi.

The up-and-at-'em young messenger boy who delivered a proof from a newspaper to us at The Woman's City Club is going to go far if he isn't stopped—and try to stop him. He handed us an envelope with our name, and under it the address: Women's Sitting Club.

At our mild protest, he exclaimed: "Isn't this The Women's Sitting Club?"

You're darn right, kid. It IS!

Before you decide you're strictly serene and una-Freud, take Mr. Durling's word for it that you may have one phobia. It's Oikophobia. Dread of housework.

And there goes the pressure cooker!

So the baby-sitter married the baby! And now it's baby who sits!

MARY FLOER sent her friends scurrying all over Grosse Pointe during her scavenger hunt on Saturday, in search of the objects marked on their lists.

Bob McKittrick was Mary's date for the gala occasion. The others who went from door to door procuring the fantastic articles were Harry Hamond and Clara Konen, Mugs Clark with Chuck Turner, Pat Trombley and Chuck Wyllie, Jane Lodewyk with Bob Wiske, Dot Hillebrand and Jerry Hollerbach, Marylyn Meurer and Rickie Schmidt, Nan Bergmann n' Tim Carrigan.

The group returned to Mary's Fisher road dwelling where the grand prizes were awarded to the winners. It seems that Marilyn and Rickie, Tim and Nancy were the most persuasive of the lot and so were able to procure the first thereby coming out on top.

The others relinquished their treasurers and began to take part in the gaily by feasting on the refreshments and joining in the dancing and record choosing.

When Notre Dame met U. of D. for their basketball contest Saturday, some Grosse Pointe fans were heard loudly rooting for their favorite team. In the huge cheering section we spied Joan Weidman and George Sade, Joyce Alef and Kenny Marshall, Henrietta Sutton and her date.

Before heading homeward the lads and lassies finished the evening by stopping off at "Anastasia's" for a bite of their tempting food.

PEARL FRONTERA thought and thought and finally came up with plans for a huge "moon-ride" on Friday night. At 8:30 the group started out at the Ridgmont Riding Stables to begin their frolicsome evening. Laughing and singing prevailed on the wagon-load of fun and continued throughout the "afterwards" affair.

The star-gazers included Pearl and Al Klem, Mary Ann Stuhldreher n' Dan Campau, Gerry Kirchner and Ray Bieska, Nancy Downey and Jim Cronin, Baro

Van Tiem and Jack Boomer, Judy Henneke n' Jack Trombley.

After the ride, the kids whiled away the rest of the twilight gathering at the home of MARY ANN STUHLDERHER, where they filled up on cake, sandwiches, and pepsi.

St. Paul's encounters with St. Philip on Tuesday night and St. Charles on Friday both provided lots of entertainment and enjoyment for the many, many on-lookers.

Milling through the huge crowds during half-times were Chris Weot, Jo Camella, Nornie Morketter, Joan Betzing Ellen Schaefer, Isabel Rabaut, Dick Boul, Sue Burke, Lon Bachman, Lou Hyde, Dolores Backman, Bob McBride, Chuck Tanner, Nancy Stahl, Joanne Athanson, Margaret Lynch, Elaine Wyjek, Ray Allor, Pete Belanger, Mary Ann Burlingame, Pat Gant, Sue Sharrow, Kay Sutherland, Peg Hyde, Ann Dungan, Gerry Kirchner, Peg Labadie, Sally Murphy, Marie Mel-drum, Martha West, Mary Wade, Pat Norman, Ellie Wade, Charles Boul, Jim McCarthy, Ed Rottaris, Al Wisnowitch, John Hutton, Jean LaBelle, Nancy Rockwood.

Carrying the week-end festivities over until Sunday was BETTY BEAUPRE, who hosted a tea complimenting BERNARDETTE TAMM.

She invited lots of her former classmates to her home on Moross rd. to bid Bernadette "good-by" before she leaves for Souix Falls, North Dakota. They talked over the good times they had experienced together.

Fruit punch, daintily fashioned sandwiches and cakes and mints were consumed by the guests including Catherine Barton, Donna Cadieux, Bev Curran, JoAnne Ensor, Betty Hay, Corrinne McKerney, Mary Ann Renolds, Mary Van Tiem, Charleen Ward, May Lou Babcock, Bette Marchand, Jean Kenedy.

The prom is only a week off.

Franco-British Alliance

The news out of London, via the reliable New York Times foreign service, that Great Britain and France have agreed to conclude a military alliance at the earliest possible moment is highly important. The given motive for the alliance, that it is to prevent further aggression by Germany and the preservation of peace and security, is the less important half of the whole truth.

There is not the slightest danger that Germany will ever be permitted to develop again into a formidable military power within the lifetime of anybody living in the world today.

Even the lackadaisical American mind has at last been impressed by the experience of two world wars in which we were dragged for major roles. Our high military authorities in Germany have maintained ever since we went in as administrators in our own zone of occupation that our stay there must be of indefinite duration and this has not yet been seriously questioned by our people at home. The zeal with which Russia has been stripping her part of Germany of everything which would contribute to her revived military might is convincing evidence of her views. France has always argued for a militarily weak Germany. It will be recalled that soon after World War I when Germany was evidencing signs of military revival Marshall Foch, the Generalissimo of World War I, urged a preventive war to safeguard Europe against the very thing which happened 20 years later.

Whether communist-ridden France or her defeatist socialist leaders fully realize it or not, the arrangement which Premier Leon Blum and Prime Minister Clement Attlee, both ultra socialists, concluded the other day, had as its main purpose the laying down of a bastion of real democracy in Western Europe to stay the inundation of the Atlantic shores of Europe by the moving tide of the fake democracy which masquerades out of Moscow in the form of the communist ideology. They know, even better than many Americans have yet realized, that the Russian brand of democracy is not democracy at all, but rather a political and economic despotism, in all of its operations and effects the very antithesis of real democracy.

Stalin et al by their persistent maintenance of isolation against the free world behind what has come to be called their "iron curtain," tacitly acknowledge their fear of exposure which would result from the better acquaintance of their own people with the ways and effects of the world of free men to their west.

They, like Hitler and similar characters of the past, rest their security largely on the ignorance and isolation of their own people.

The Franco-British alliance finds its real significance in their understanding that the great power in the western world could not view with indifference any threat that might come from the eastern side of the European continent, however much we might wish to avoid any further embroilment in its affairs. Our position in any future crisis is pretty well charted in advance.

The latest move of France and England can best be interpreted as a gesture of self help and largely and indirectly a bid for American support. Not any people in the world today want war. The Russians certainly not more than others. How far the Moscow inspired proselytizing for communism may penetrate the democratic fibre of the western world one cannot venture to guess at this stage, but a strong gesture of opposition now is timely and the Anglo-French pact about to be concluded is definitely in order.

It would, however, be unfortunate to class the act as one preparatory to war. Russia as well as the rest of us, is still sitting at the council table. Many circumstances for the composure of the world's ills are favorable. The Russians, unlike the Germans since the days of Frederick the Great, are not conquest-minded. They started from scratch in November 1917 from one of the most medieval and repressive backgrounds ever behind any people, to reconstruct their own political and economic life. The fact that their march thus far has been within the limits of a totalitarian, single party system wholly different from that which they saw among their more progressive neighbors, while disturbing to the world, may have been the only path they could have traveled thus far. The goal of real self-government may even now be on the agenda of her leaders.

Whether it is or is not, however, it is the course of alertness and prudence that we who have enjoyed the blessings of freedom in all its meaning from our beginnings, should be awake to its defense. Already there are many among our keenest observers who maintain that our greater danger lies within rather than without our own boundaries.

Juvenile Car Drivers

The law of Michigan which makes it possible for any misguided or foolish parent to obtain a driver's license for any half witted offspring who may have reached the age of fourteen is one of the most disgraceful pieces of legislation ever placed on the statute books of any state in the Nation.

A child of that age is no more fit to sit at the wheel of an automobile than he would be to grasp the throttle of a locomotive; in fact not quite so much so, as the locomotive might keep the rails, but heaven alone knows where a car will plunge when a half baked, wild-eyed boy is the driver.

He is a constant menace to every other car on the street and to every pedestrian who must cross it.

It is high time that our lawmakers at Lansing gave some heed to this matter.

In addition to the danger implied for both the child and the public, the present law which permits this ridiculous situation is an illuminating side light on our adult hypocrisy. We bemoan juvenile delinquency and with the next gesture condone a law which contributes directly to its perpetuation.

Fortunately there are some wise police officials who refuse to be tied down by this assinine law. One chief of police in this community stated the other day he had not issued a license to a fourteen year old child in the past two years. He offers a commendable example of the understanding of Having very little to do during the coming year, we hit upon a sort of "treasure" hunt to keep us busy. Everyone is cordially invited to join. Our first object on the hunt list is a doctor . . . not just ANY doctor . . . but a doctor who smokes Camels. He doesn't even have to prefer them 2 to 1. He can be smoking one he just borrowed or he can have a pack of them on his person, that he picked up because a patient left them in his office.

The idea of the game, is merely to find one using a Camel. In our short (?) life, we have met more doctors than you can shake a stick at . . . professionally, socially and in the line of duty (news-paper to you) . . . but we've NEVER known one who smoked Camels. Most of them don't smoke at all; a few smoke a pipe; quite a number smoke cigars and some smoke cigarettes . . . but not any of the so-called popular brands. We are just plain tired of hearing about this "more doctors smoke Camels" business. Our research shows that it would be far easier to find a live camel than a flock of doctors who prefer the tobacco kind.

IN THE MAIL BAG

"So you lost your poor husband. I'm so sorry. How did it happen?"

"He was keelt by a weasel."

"Killed by a weasel? That's a very unusual thing. How did it happen?"

"Is driving hotmobil. Is commeing to railroad crossing. Deedn't hear no weasel."

Anyone hear Duffy's Tavern's Archie give his description of a Crepe Suzette? He calls it an "alcoholic pancake with a hot-foot." Sez he sells them at his Tavern for 50 cents a crepe.

Lowest form of something or other we've heard in a long time, is the local reech woman who refused to give anything to the March of Dimes because she's a Roosevelt-hater!!! Reminds us of another woman who refused (while Roosevelt was alive) to give anything to the Red Cross. Said she was sure he "pocketed" some of the money. Fantastic, what? It excuses like that are becoming chic, we might refuse to give to the Community Fund on the grounds that we don't like the Mayor of Detroit. Makes just about as much sense. Besides we DO like the Mayor.

If you see an unusual looking bracelet on a teen-ager, don't bother to ask where she or he got it . . . just check the ornament on the radiator of your Buick and see if it's still there. They make good looking bracelets . . . (leave it to the kids to find that out) . . . so Buick owners . . . watch it!

Speaking of teen-agers . . . we'll be glad when the "Joe's Bar" routine becomes just a memory. We made half a dozen calls in an afternoon during the holidays and each time we were greeted with a "hairless" voice yelling "JOE'S BAR! Waddaya want?" We then had to hang onto the phone waiting precious time, while a succession of young yelled "Joe's Bar" into the mouthpiece before we were able to contact our prey. A blooming nuisance . . . and we hope just a passing fancy.

some of our police as to their responsibilities towards the public safety.

When questioned by one of the state police a short time ago as to how he could persevere in this course in the face of the state law he tartly told the state's minion that that was where he stood and where he intended to stand, adding that if the state authorities didn't like it they could take action against him.

Ford Sets a Pace

Henry Ford II, in announcing reductions in the price of Ford cars, has, in general outline, pursued the policy of his grandfather. Ford senior always believed that one of the most effective ways to stimulate sales was to reduce prices.

The young man now carrying on as head of this vast concern represents that the step he has taken is a contributing antidote against the rising spiral of price and wage that can lead only to trouble all around.

He says that theirs is distinctively a mass production business, directly implying that if the production technique of their concern can be followed out the relatively small difference in the price of cars will take care of itself.

He plainly says that production is the answer. The move can also be interpreted as a warning against the slow downs, sit downs, interminable strikes, both wildcat and authorized and all of the other mess of plagues and tortures to which big industrial enterprises in this country have been subjected since labor went on its rampage.

The record of his company in the past is assurance that it will continue to pay in the future as it has in the past, the best wages possible in conjunction with a reasonable profit.

His grandfather once said in a generalization on the relationship of industry to social welfare that he believed that industry best served its fellow men which paid the highest rate of pay possible compatible with continuous operation and reasonable profits.

The young man seems to have caught something of the same spirit and has had the courage to act in accordance with this belief.

He is also in step with the best economic thought of the day which maintains that the solution of the problems that confront the nation now lies along the pathway of reduced prices rather than increased wages.

He has also presented an embarrassing nut to crack to those union leaders who are even now pressing for more wages, let the chips fall where they may.

Try Southern Medicine

The squabble under way over the governorship of Georgia suggests that it might be the psychologic moment to employ some of that common sense philosophy demonstrated in an earlier day by a couple of the South's statesmen.

When a quarrel between South Carolina and North Carolina had reached such a pass that one threatened to invade the state of the other with armed forces, the mellow governor of North Carolina suggested to the Governor of South Carolina that it was "a long time between drinks." This mollifying social observation was the panacea the occasion called for and the trouble was quickly settled.

It must be that there still lingers on the palates and in the memory of the redoubtable descendants of that other time something of the same understanding and appreciation of the soothing influence of good old southern corn, reasonably aged.

A few good snifters all around among the excited citizenry of the cracker state, and the now heated followers of the Talmadge and Thompson-Arnall factions might soon be singing "for he's a jolly good fellow."

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

The BOSTON SYMPHONY played here the other night and I watched that wonderful SERGE KOUSSEVITZKY conduct. He is so meticulous and so sure and such a delightful person. The first half of the program was all COPLAND. I liked the BETHOVEN second half better. I was interested and amused to see his valet bundle KOUSSEVITZKY up in a great, warm robe as he hurried off stage.

I'm going off on a cruise this week so I had a cocktail party to celebrate. A hundred and fifty sturdy characters were here to dust up the winter season and clean up the liquor closet. There were princesses, actresses, a couple of pretty tarts and some of New York's most attractive men. Prince and Princess SCHERBATOW brought MIRIAM HOPKINS, DIANA BARRYMORE brought JOHN HOWARD, the man she is going to marry tomorrow. DIANA said, "This is really it—he won't stand any shenanigans from me—he says if I throw my weight around he will beat me—isn't he heaven?" After the party DIANA, JOHN, SUYVE PIERREPONT and I went to EL MOROCCO and danced a while. JOAN CRAWFORD was there looking most attractive with those big brown eyes.

JON CORBINO, one of the finest artists in America, and an old friend of mine, has a very rewarding show at the Kleeman Gallery. There are some of his earlier canvases—the circus ones—which were JON'S first love, and the brilliant, clean colors are enchanting. The new period in his work is mystical and lovely. The very name of one picture—The Birth of the Winds—should give you an idea of its ethereal beauty. JON has always loved to do horses, but now instead of solid circus ponies, his mythological steeds paw through clouds, sketchily formed, yet somehow firm and spirited.

MELBA McMARTIN VAN BUREN told me a funny story the other day, which I think will amuse you. MELBA had a very grand house in BERMUDA several years ago which GERTRUDE LAWRENCE wanted to rent. MELBA had no particular desire to lease the place but thought she would if she could get a beeg, beeg rental. She cabled GERTIE, "Will rent BERMUDA place for three months for 30,000 dollars—gardener included." GERTIE cabled back, "Rush picture of gardener."

Went to a party full of entertaining people the other night. LOIE GROSE POINTE MARTIN was in town so I took her along. The party was given by MARQUIS JAMES, two times PULITZER PRIZE winner, and his frau, BESS. They have a pent house in GREENWICH VILLAGE and you can stand on the terrace to look at New York harbour with the boats riding at anchor and MISS LIBERTY in the distance. TED SHANE, known to most people as a writer, but to me as a leprechaun was there. His fascinating wife, PEGGY, was showing everyone what SANTY had brought her—a beautiful red striped petticoat with panties to match. I wish SANTY would think of something to make ME the life of the party. I had on an old topaz ring given by some old dodo, but would you care? LOIE told a good joke and another woman said she had played the piano with the President, but I must say none of us could compete with PEGGY'S pants.

LEWIS GANNETT the book review man came in, and the TURNER CATLEDGES of the NEW YORK TIMES were having fun. AIDEN HATCH who wrote the one on EISENHOWER and the one on ROOSEVELT was there with his pretty wife. It was a very good party. It always entrances me to be around GREAT MINDS when they are drinking Scotch and chewing on canapes. They say the very same things you and I say. After LOIE and I had worn our welcome out we went to the GROTTO for dinner. TED and IRIS HUSING came in. TED was talking about the first time he ever broadcast from a yacht. He said, "It was in DETROIT and the boat was the MAID MARIAN."

By sheer coincidence that is the yacht, altho it is now the MAID MARIAN II, that I am boarding tomorrow for a cruise down the INSIDE PASSAGE to Florida. The boat is owned by GROSSE POINTE'S HASCALL BLISSES and the lucky guests for the trip are MRS. ALBERT BRADLEY, MRS. HENRY EWALD, MRS. JEAN MERRILL and me. Their husbands will fly down and join us whenever they

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

Your recent editorial, headed "The Jew's Impatience," is tragic evidence of a lack of understanding of the Palestine problem by many of our Christian friends. The Jewish Agency, which is the spokesman for world Jewry on Palestine, has condemned in no uncertain language the recent acts of terrorism in the Holy Land. Every right-thinking, ardent Zionist, concurs in this condemnation. But the British Empire itself is directly responsible for these outbursts of violence which are a result of arrogant colonial tactics and the breaking of pledges.

They forget, as you unhappily do, that the Jewish people were the greatest victims of the second world war. Six million martyred dead, lie on the world's conscience; 1,400,000 survivors are still languishing in the concentration camps set up for their destruction more than a year and one half after the end of the war. President Truman's humanitarian request for the admission of 100,000 Jews into Palestine has received the same delaying tactics that was accorded the Balfour Declaration in the past thirty years. This, notwithstanding the fact, that the Jews of Palestine fought for the Empire's preservation. That could not be said of the Arabs. There are housed in England now more than one hundred thousand Moslem prisoners of war, soldiers of the Mufti who fought with Hitler against the armies of the United Nations. A recent pronouncement of the British government has said that these prisoners of war would be transported to Transjordan and rehabilitated there. But Jews in the D. P. camps of Europe are asked to be patient!

An understanding Christian world would have demanded long ago that the first item on the agenda of world affairs should be the fulfillment of a pledge made three decades ago. Until the "little piece on the eastern shores of the Mediterranean" becomes a Jewish state there can be no prospect of peace for Britain's far-flung Empire or for the rest of the world. Sincerely yours, Morris M. Jacobs, President Zionist Organization of Detroit.

The editorial mentioned is reprinted below to enable readers who may have missed it in the previous issue, to judge for themselves whether it is tragic evidence of a lack of understanding of the Palestine problem.—The Editor.

THE JEWS' IMPATIENCE
The case of the Jews in Palestine has been a cause of bewilderment to many people. There has been an easy understanding of their desire to reestablish themselves in the far off home of their ancestors in the Holy Land, but why they should turn with special venom against the only people in Europe who have given them safe harbor for centuries is not so clear. The Balfour declaration of nearly 30 years ago evidenced that it was the honest incan get away. RUTH says we will dock wherever it looks attractive so we have no dates nor schedule. Can you think of a more beautiful way to spend a month?

ention of the British people to aid them in every way possible to set up national housekeeping. The turmoil in which the British found themselves soon after in wide quarters of their empire made it dangerous for them to invite the hostility of tens of millions of their Mohammedan subjects and force of circumstances compelled them to soften the edge of their Jewish championship.

But the Jews have shown little appreciation of this dilemma. Many instances have arisen recently where they have turned against their would-be benefactors with special bitterness.

It is the unquestioned wish of the great mass of the English people to go through with the implied pledge of a generation ago but they ask with reason that they be permitted to proceed towards this goal with deliberation. The Jews' concern is with a little piece of the eastern shores of the Mediterranean. Britain's view must be cast over a world-flung empire of 13 million square miles, housing a quarter of the Earth's population.

Ask Revamping Of Pension Plan

Employees of the Farms are dissatisfied with their pension system and a new study is being made of the entire matter. A committee has been set up to review the matter and make recommendations and it is believed another committee will then take over and revise the pension plan now in force in the village.

A communication read at the village trustees' meeting Monday night, stated that the employees felt the present plan was not financially sound and not working satisfactorily, and asked for a review of the whole matter.

President James K. Watkins named Trustee William Kirby to head a committee to study the plan and make recommendations. Other members will be William K. Muir and Glenn Coulter. They will meet with representatives of the fire and police departments.

FOOTPRINTS TELL STORY
Two prowlers reported active at 63 Stanton lane on the night of December 21, couldn't be found, but Farms Police Officers Seelow and Sylvester found footprints in the snow and reported that apparently two youths had simply taken a shortcut through the yard. Nothing had been molested.

Stripping Job Done On Car Parked in Drive

Henry Krueger, of 1286 Beaconsfield, reported to the Park police that sometime between 11 p. m. of Jan. 11 and 10 a. m. of Jan. 12, some miscreants had done a stripping job on his car while it was parked in his own driveway.

They had stolen the hubcaps and had taken the radio aerial. They also broke the rear view mirror.

If men have really come of age we should make our own living from now on—instead of our own dying.

How Do You Know What Is Enough?

By FRED M. KOPP, R.Ph.
If you have been taking Vitamins by some rule of your own, or at the advice of a friend, perhaps it is a mistaken choice.

How can you tell what your system needs? One Vitamin capsule a day may have helped a friend. That doesn't mean that this is enough for you. You may need a quite different combination, you may require more, or less, than your friend.

The safe rule, the complete rule, is—consult your doctor. He knows the score, when it comes to your individual needs. He can advise, prescribe, regulate and from practical, scientific knowledge, save you money, time and waste motion.

Let the doctor say how many, let the competent druggist provide the Vitamins you need.

O'Donnell of Merriweather road . . . It'll be an 11 o'clock in the morning ceremony at St. Paul's on the Lake . . . to be followed by a wedding reception at the Hickey home . . .

SALLY HICKEY'S ATTENDANTS

Sally's sister . . . Eileen . . . is to be her maid of honor . . . And the maids include: Isabelle Casgrain . . . Mary Fran Pez . . . Madeline Hurley . . . and Jean McLoughlin of New Rochelle, N. Y. . . Jean and Sally were classmates at Georgetown Visitation . . .

AND FOR THE BRIDEGROOM-ELECT—

Edward J. Hickey . . . brother of the bride-elect . . . will be best man . . . While wedding guests are to be seated by: David Roney . . . James Byrne . . . James Weckler . . . Joseph Hickey Jr. (another brother of the bride-elect) . . . and John Anhut . . .

PARTIES GALORE

There have been ever so many parties for this pretty little February bride-elect . . . Mrs. Verne M. Drew and Mrs. Elias Lowe were co-hostesses on Monday at a kitchen shower in the former's home on Moran road . . .

And, incidentally, Sally goes immediately into the ranks of the very lucky brides-elect . . . when we tell you she not only knows what color her future kitchen will be . . . BUT she knows WHERE IT WILL BE . . .

MRS. COUZENS TO ENTERTAIN

The O'Donnells will be moving to Chicago, to make their home, immediately following the wedding of their son and Sally . . .

So to the young couple . . . goes the O'Donnell home on Merriweather road . . . and one of the most attractive homes on the road it is! . . .

To get back to hostesses entertaining for Sally . . . Mrs. Frank Couzens . . . and her debutante daughter, Peggy . . . are giving a luncheon at the Detroit Club this Saturday . . .

And Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Petzold of Edgemont road . . . have issued invitations for a cocktail party to fete both Sally and Michael . . . on Sunday afternoon . . . February 9 . . .

POINTERS ATTEND BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Grosse Pointe practically took over Detroit Yacht Club last Tuesday . . . when the Belle Isle Club gave its January bridge-luncheon complete with a veddy elegant fashion show of Southern Chic shown by Saks Fifth Avenue . . .

In the first place . . . Mrs. F. Gordon Spoor of Bishop road was chairman for the day . . . which turned out to be the biggest day in the history of DYC bridge luncheons . . .

(Over 600 reservations, the icy blasts of the day notwithstanding) . . . Mrs. Spoor's guests were Mrs. John Keller . . . Mrs. Ray King . . . and Mrs. Harry Smeader . . .

MRS. JACKMAN'S GUESTS

Mrs. Thomas P. Jackman Jr. of Neff road . . . attractive in a brown outfit . . . Was entertaining a large party of Pointers at the bridge breakfast . . .

Grandmothers Revive Time Honored Custom

More Parties for Debutante Granddaughters Planned by Pointers for Social Calendar Promising Busy June

Mrs. Arthur H. Buhl's debutante ball for her granddaughter, Julie Hudson, during the holidays was a shining example of a gracious and time-honored tradition in many families—that of the grandmother introducing her granddaughter to society.

In keeping with the custom, June debutante plans show that two Pointe buds will be presented by their grandmothers—Lindsay Anderson and Sally Potter. Mrs. John W. Anderson has set Saturday, June 28 as the date for Lindsay's reception. It will be held in Mrs. Anderson's Lake Shore road home.

Before she comes to the Pointe for her debut, Lindsay will visit her mother, Mrs. McFeeley Anderson, in Bermuda for the Easter holidays. Sally Potter's grandmother, Mrs. W. Howie Muir, is planning her debutante tea for Friday, June 27, in her Ridge road home. Sally is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Potter and returns on Monday to Endicott Junior College.

Two other Endicott misses, Barbara Burritt and Dawn Osius, are the centers of June debutante plans also. Barbara will make her bow at a tea at the Country Club on June 24, and although plans for Dawn are still incomplete, she will make her debut with Martha McClintock after school is over in June.

An addition to the list of Jun debs-to-be is Penny Weadock whose mother, Mrs. Paul Weadock of Lewiston road, will present her at a June 30 tea in her home.

W.J. Dossin Home Very Busy Place

The Walter J. Dossin home in Vendome road is buzzing with plans for a wedding these days. The Dossins' daughter, Marie Henrietta, will be married there on Feb. 8 to Joseph Vinton Wade, son of Mrs. M. Coy Wade of Chicago.

Marie's matron of honor and only attendant will be her sister-in-law, Mrs. Donald J. Dossin of Grand Rapids. Morrison T. Wade will act as best man for his brother. A reception will follow the ceremony.

Parties for the bride-to-be have been given by her four aunts, Mrs. Russell Dossin, Mrs. Glen Burigam, Mrs. Roy L. Dossin, and Mrs. A. T. Phillips; by her grandmothers, Mrs. Ernest J. Dossin of Merriweather road and Mrs. Ernest G. Brososfske of Algonac and by Mrs. Edward Lange of the Parkhurst.

Various Activities Fete Brides-Elect

Announcement Tea Held to Disclose Engagement of Marjorie Macy and James Hale Rutledge; Marilyn Wall Honored

Pointe bride-elect activities of the week have included an announcement tea for Marjorie Macy and a round of parties for Marilyn Wall, both of whom are busy in with wedding plans.

Marjorie's engagement to James Hale Rutledge was made known on Sunday at a tea given by her aunt, Mrs. B. Raymond Hoobler of Three Mile drive. The bride-to-be, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Macy of Galatin, Mo., is a University of Missouri graduate. She is affiliated with Delta Gamma.

Her fiancé, a senior in the Wayne University College of Medicine, was graduated from Michigan State College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kowalsky of Lake Orion. The couple have set no definite date for the wedding.

Parties honoring Marilyn Wall, who will be married on Feb. 1 to William Zeder, began on Wednesday with a luncheon at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club given by Mary Anne Dodge. Mrs. Allan Wales is hostess at a DAC luncheon for Marilyn today (Thursday) and on Sunday the pair will be feted at a cocktail party in Joyce Skelton's Ridge road home.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson of Lochmoor road will be hosts for cocktails on Monday. On Tuesday, Mrs. Bernard Clark of Seminole road is to give a tea. The James Zeders will be hosts at a family dinner next Wednesday.

Wedding party members are to include Fred Breer, who will fly from the West Coast to be his brother's best man, and ushers William Wall of Montreal, William P. Clark, Edmund Harry, Richard Franzen, Robert Breer and John Roach.

Junior League Plans To Present "Follies"

Money Raised from Event Scheduled for May 23 and 24 Will Help Maintain Pioneer House Group Therapy Home

General plans for the Junior League of Detroit's Spring "Follies" which League members will present on May 23 and 24 were discussed at the January meeting held Tuesday, January 21st at the Country Club. Funds raised by this presentation will go into the General Welfare Fund to help finance "Pioneer House," the group therapy home at 3740 2nd Blvd. Mrs. George B. Heffernan will be General chairman of this venture.

"Pioneer House" now shelters five boys between the ages of 9 and 11, and expects to accept four more in the near future as they are referred by social agencies and chosen by Dr. Fritz Redl of Wayne University School of Public Affairs and Social Work, who supervises the project. Dr. Redl told league members at the meeting Tuesday night, with the cooperation and active assistance of many of the trained social workers living at the home, the little boys (who are there because of disturbed home conditions) have adjusted as well as can be expected during their brief residence since December 1.

Mrs. Edward C. Parker, newly appointed chairman of Pioneer House, made a plea for books and clothes for the boys, and also announced that the second seminar for League members interested early in February under the eted in group therapy work, will guidance of Dr. Redl. Mrs. James McEvoy, president of the Junior League of Detroit who presided at the Tuesday meeting, introduced Mrs. John B. Randolph from Cincinnati, a member of the Board of Directors of the Association of Junior Leagues of America. Mrs. Randolph outlined and explained the minimum standard requirements of all Junior Leagues belonging to the National Association.

The board of the Detroit Junior League and Mrs. Wessel Booth gave a dinner at Mrs. Booth's home on Provençal road on Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Randolph and other out-of-town League presidents. These included Mrs. Edward V. K. Jaycox of Akron, and Mrs. Edwin Higbee and Mrs. George Case of Cleveland.

Cottage Hospital Elects Officers and Directors

Officers of the Cottage Hospital of Grosse Pointe and a Board of Trustees were elected for the year 1947 at the annual meeting held Wednesday, January 22, at the Nurses' Residence.

The slate reads as follows: President, Mrs. Carl B. Grawn; first vice-president, Mrs. William P. Harris, Jr.; second vice-president, Mrs. Elroy O. Jones; Mrs. W. Howie Muir, Mrs. John S. Newberry, and Mrs. Longyear Palmer.

Other board members who serve at the present time are Mrs. Joseph Dodge, Mrs. Henry E. Joy, Mrs. John Staley, Mrs. Ledyard Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. Standish Backus, Mrs. Henry Burritt, and Mrs. W. K. Muir.

Elected to an Honorary Advisory Board to serve for five year terms were Mrs. William T. Stevens, Mrs. James S. Holden and Mrs. Edwin S. Barbour. This is the first time such a board has been created within the hospital organization.

If your ironer is stored in a cool place between ironings, in the winter let it stand in a warm room for an hour or so before using. The heat will soften the grease and oil for easier operation.

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

Saw MARY SYMINGTON looking very "chi-chi" in a fannish tweed suit with a most becoming hat of beige felt, trimmed with little matching quills.

ESTHER HARTZELL looked as cute as ever when seen wearing a powder blue gabardine spectator sports dress—at the neck, she had knotted an interesting scarf with a pattern in various shades of pink on a white background.

Saw the ROHNERT girls looking especially well at a recent party—ELLIE BULKLEY was wearing a smart black crepe dress with a winter white felt chapeau trimmed with black feathers, and TINY STOEPEL's well tailored black crepe dress was set off by the adorable bonnet perched on her head. This was of cafe au lait felt trimmed with little black velvet pinstripes which seemed to say, "Hi!"

PILFERINGS

Leonard Lyons tells some entertaining stories about W. C. Fields which I hope you have not heard—Nunnally Johnson once asked him, at a Hollywood restaurant: "Bill, do you ever get the D.T's?" Fields replied: "I don't know. Out here it's hard to tell where Hollywood ends and D.T's begin."

He once went to an ice show starring Sonja Henie and was asked what he thought of it. "That's the best thing on ice," said Fields, "since frozen daiquiris."

IMPRESSIONS

WHAT you think of WHEN you think of MRS. FRANK GOLDIE—Norse goddess—Smorgasbord—the three Vs (vim—vigor—vitality) "Tristan und Isolde"—Swedish dialect stories—what the well dressed woman wears... "a heart of..."

MRS. JOSEPH SCHLOTMAN—needlework at home and in the Guild—yachts—greenhouses—ropes of pearls—lace cloths and Georgian silver tea service—philanthropy.

MR. C. HENRY BUHL—the man in the moon—"Oh Hen-reeeeeee"—the Good Humor man in sheep's clothing—rod and rifle—swimming pool—"Patience is a goodly virtue"—hospitality.

Eva Hinton tells the true story of an impecunious young writer on New Year's Eve in New York. She calls him Mr. Dickens, after another impecunious young writer, but his father is a famous elder statesman and he himself has recently held a political job. When the story begins, Mr. Dickens had just received $500 for a piece of writing. He took the cash, went from his small town to New York to buy warm winter coats, shoes and other necessities for his wife and their flourishing small fry.

Arriving in the big city on New Year's Eve, he called his wife's sister and her husband in search of companions for a little celebration. The couple were unable to go out, but invited him over for a drink.

After a few potations Mr. Dickens said he'd better be getting along because he had a little celebrating to do with other friends. His sister-in-law thought of the family back home waiting for their shoes and coats. She said, "Let me hold your coat while you go and freshen up for the night's fun!"

While Mr. Dickens was washing she extracted $495 from his wallet, leaving him a nice fiver for a big time in New York!

Next afternoon when he phoned she asked him if he had enjoyed the evening. "Yes," he said, "I painted the town right gaily, but an awful thing has happened!"

"What is it," she inquired, exuding innocence. After a short pause and an audible gulp came the quavering reply, "Remember my $500? Well, I waked up just now with only $4.75 left!"

Pointers of Interest

MRS. ROBERT E. THIBODEAU OF GLADSTONE ROAD
By OLIVE H. LARNED

When Mrs. Thibodeau was in the second grade at school the teacher informed her mother that her child had unusual artistic talent which should be developed. This was difficult for her mother to believe as there was many musicians in the family but no artists, but when her daughter was recommended for the Toledo Museum School of Design at the age of eight, she realized the possibility of having an artist in the family.

At that time the school was very small and the teachers were graduates of the Parsons School, an outstanding art school in New York and Paris. Mrs. Thibodeau, or Virginia Durbin as she then was, attended this school on Saturdays, a distance of over four miles daily, carrying her drawing boards and necessary paraphernalia. Here she attended classes in color, drawing, design and fashion illustration. This she continued until her graduation from the Ursuline Academy of the Sacred Heart, where she had also studied history and appreciation of art. At the age of seventeen she was drawing illustrations for a large department store, professionally, in Toledo.

After her graduation from grammar school she attended an Art School in Toledo, conducted by Mr. Kean, the former Dean of the Chicago Art Institute. There she studied life drawing, exploring the mediums of pencil, charcoal and pastel. Before she could study oil painting, the greatest interest of all came into her life and she married.

At various times during her marriage she "free lanced," making illustrations for advertising purposes, but her time was mostly occupied with her family which grew to include a daughter, Judy, now 10 and a son, Joseph, 5.

Three years ago, Mrs. Thibodeau studied at the Arts and Crafts with Sarkas for one summer and began painting in oil.

Among Mrs. Thibodeau's awards are an Honorable Mention from the Toledo Museum of Art given her when she was 17 for a charcoal portrait, at the annual Show for Ohio artists, and a Certificate of Merit awarded at its annual exhibition in 1945, for an oil painting.

Mrs. Thibodeau has exhibited her work every year at the Toledo Museum of Art and at various art galleries in Toledo and Detroit, the Arts and Crafts, the Artist's Market and at the annual shows of the Grosse Pointe Artist's Association held at Alger House Museum.

Many of Mrs. Thibodeau's paintings adorn the walls of her home, including several delightful studies of "Judy." Her versatility is shown by the different techniques she employs. One of her oils has a definite modern look, another shows a French influence and reflects the work of Daumier. Her most outstanding effort is a self portrait which is done in a very realistic vein. A still life of onions has a translucent quality, the color tones of the onions resembling jewels.

Mrs. Thibodeau is an inactive member of the Woman's Advertising Association, President of the Grosse Pointe Artist's Association and affiliated with the Women Painters of Toledo.

Last year she taught a class in commercial art in the adult education program at the Grosse Pointe High School. The Grosse Pointe Artist's Association introduced a new project last year. It engaged Clifford West of Cranbrook to teach eight classes in oil painting at Alger House Museum. Mrs. Thibodeau is also continuing her studies in painting at Wayne University.

Mrs. Thibodeau says there is so much she wants to do with her art and that she feels far from her goal, but I feel sure that the Durbin family of musicians have no regret that she expressed their latest talent in the manner that she has.

Instead of everything going to the dogs, the dogs are going to PAUL GACH'S Studio on Fisher Road to be photographed, and do they love it! and so would you. Mr. Gach's special equipment eliminates the use of hot, bright lights and makes "picture taking" a pleasant and speedy pastime. Pen and ink drawings made from the photograph of you or your favorite animal are obtainable through Mr. Gach's arrangement with an artist qualified to do this work. The window display of the animal photographs has created a great deal of enthusiastic comment and includes a "Peke" and Great Dane dwelling together amicably. Can you picture having a permanent expression of your favorite animal? Probably not, but PAUL GACH can, if you'll give him the opportunity.

Blow winds blow—blow me south with some of the lovely clothes JACOBSON'S has for southern wear—if that can't be arranged, just blow the clothes my way and they'll keep for summer wear. There's a cute "flower pot" print, having a white background with peacock blue, shocking pink and shades of violet in the design—all for $55. A stunning Herbert Sondheim model calls for $110—well, what did you expect?—it's a pure silk 2 piece dress with long sleeves—black background with a printed, design of bow knots in striking colors and trimmed with bright blue grosgrain ribbon. A dress that will give you a lift, has a pale blue background with a print design of envelopes having little wings, with stamp of pink or green and a pleated skirt—now you know the war's over! and the price tag reads $22.95—an amusing evening dress is a print having a white background with a widely scattered design of a large blue wave, with a cute water nymph riding on the back of a sea cow—it wasn't Elsie, that I know. There are many of those indispensable "cottons" necessary for so many occasions, and which may be had for $10.95 at JACOBSON'S.

I wouldn't have believed it, if I hadn't seen it with my own eyes! You know, my Dear, how everyone has been talking about the soap shortage and now everyone's talking about KOPPS' having a "special" on Lucien Lelong's delicious—it's delightful soap. It sells regularly for $2 for 3 bars and now it is selling "specially" 4 bars for $1.50—it is made in the loveliest pastel colors—blue—peach—rose and white. It smells like carnation—jasmine—violet—lilac—gardenia or honeysuckle—which would you like to smell like? If you don't want to smell like a flower, KOPPS' has many other very fine soaps with other intriguing scents which I know will please you, and those with whom you come in contact.

The flowers that bloom in January, are to be found at PASELK'S and blooming, oh, so divinely—in plants form; you'll find daffodils—hyacinths and azaleas—the latter ranging in price from $2.50 to $6 and obtainable in white or colored pots. There are the large tree types also, in solid or variegated colors. The white and lavender stock makes you glad that you have your senses. If you wish to see spring in January go to PASELK'S (on Kercheval near McKinley). If you wish to have spring in your home, he'll "arrange" it for you.

Have you dancing feet? Let them lead you to the new dance floor of the STORK CLUB—this is to be found on East Warren near Outer Drive—and "they" say that it is the best spot on the East side. The Musical Dons furnish music that makes even the tired old business man want to trip the light fantastic—now you know how good they are—dancing starts at 9:30—before that, they furnish dinner music with the wonderful steak or Italian dinners for which they are famous. Dinner is served until 10:00 p. m. and luncheon from 11:00 a. m. until 3:00 p. m. Your genial host "Gene" will take care of special parties and this means you, too. Call Niagara 9693 for the STORK CLUB.

When you are dining at home, there is something new for you and your family and HENRI'S MARKET has it for "you-all." Sir- loin steak is sliced paper thin and made into patties, which may be broiled or fried. These are called "Steakettes"—don't let that bother you—they taste deliciously and cost only 20 cents apiece—Les says "they are tender like your first kiss" well, now really—in spite of this—they are tender and have become so popular that HENRI'S is making the same sort of pattie of lamb or veal—so if you want pattie cake this is the way to play it.

Salt Over Our Shoulders

By Barb Beranek and Mary Londes

Dear Barb:

Well, here I am pinned to the radio listening to the Metropolitan Opera. It's really been ages since I've had a free Saturday afternoon. Remember when we used to sit by the hour, almost living the characters (and they were characters too) laughing, crying, and even dying with them. Ah! I can see it all now.

"La Travi Vio Cio," or "The One Who Strayed From Her Kitchen Sink" by Veriotto. As the curtain rises we see a beautiful girl named Guerina seated by an open hearth, roasting a potato on the end of a stick, waiting for her lover, Mento.

Now, Guerina appears nervous because she is afraid that her maid Kikki, who is the second cousin of Frimosi, best cook in the land, is about to run off with the butler, Mendentti. This will not do, Guerina tells herself. If Kikki leaves then who will make my bean soup every night? As this worry travels furiously through Guerina's mind her lover appears singing, Guerina! Guerina! Uncer Ouo Pietat! Meaning "Guerina! Guerina! Your slip is showing!"

With the swelling music Guerina and Mento fall into each other's arms. Just at this moment Cheapperso, the window washer, stumbles in screeching "Schiavo Guerra Rai" (Life Is Too Short To Spend It Cleaning Rugs) and with this he flings himself into the fire.

Act two finds Guerina and Mento about to depart to the tower to see if the wind is blowing in circles when they spy Kikki and Mendentti skipping towards the door. Guerina falls on her knees pleading with Kikki not to leave. But alas! All is in vain. Kikki is too stubborn. She just will not relent. Instead, she pulls out her dagger and mercilessly stabs Lambino, a passing Baron of King Riggetto's splendid court. Baron Lambino crumbles to the hard stone floor, his last words being Cipo, Cipo, Tye-riu e Vivi? (My, my, are your carpets being cleaned?)

Infuriated at her servant, Guerina fires Kikki. This action brings Mendentti to his sweet-heart's defense. Singing with lusty boldness Mendentti proclaims to Guerina, "Piccaso Cas-sino Mater Lufeca!" (My Mother Warned Me About Girls Like You!).

As the curtain rises on the third act of "La Travi Vio Cio" we see Guerina lamenting the death of Cimimi, sister of Hambiono, fourth cousin of Guerina's grandmother. Mento appears singing of his love for Linaa. Hearing him Guerina weeps for she has lost another pair of her lace stockings. But, what is that great voice? Ah, it is Fono, the street cleaner! Guerina rushes to him telling him her great troubles in a sweet nightingale-like voice. At once Fono has come under Guerina's magic charm. He has fallen in love with her. But knowing her dislike for his part of town he declares that in spite of his ever-growing passion he must kill her, for if Fono cannot have the lovely Guerina no one else will.

Now, right at this very moment Princess Uniatia flings herself at Fono's feet begging him not to leave her for Guerina. At his refusal she whips out a pistol and without batting an eyelash she shoots not only Fono, Himopo, and Schilli but Guerina our lovely heroine. In her last breath Benitata sobs, "Toto Moto Enti!" ("Life Can Be Beautiful!")

Jiani Pitti, (As Ever.)
Mary.

WHO AM I?
I was born in the middle of the last century—For about 10 years I worked in America and then I returned to the old country and opened a grocery store—my business boomed and before long I owned a chain of stores and many plantations—my name became famous in connection with my business and as a sportsman.

Power of Christian Faith Beat Hitler, Says Niemoller

"The Christian church is not a creed, not an organization, but a universal fellowship of believers." So said Dr. Martin Niemoller, "Hitler's personal prisoner" for eight years during World War II, speaking at the Masonic auditorium in Detroit, last Thursday.

Speaking to an overflow house, Dr. Niemoller held his audience spellbound while he told of his own spiritual pilgrimage as a result of his persecution during the war. "It was inevitable," said he, "that the church of Jesus Christ should come into conflict with a man like Hitler who sought to place himself above Christ." He went on to say, "When Hitler sought to enrich his party, himself, and his friends by stealing under the guise of confiscation, only the church would stand up and say, 'Thou shalt not steal.' When his Dr. Goebbels sought to mislead the people by spreading misunderstanding through vicious propaganda, only the church could say, 'Thou shalt not bear false witness.' When Hitler sought to exterminate the Jews by placing them in concentration camps and murder factories, only the church could say, 'Thou shalt not kill.' When Hitler needed both a large army and big families, and when he realized that his young men and women could not have families when they were separated and when further he said, 'Have children for the Fatherland by whatever means,' only the church could stand up and say, 'Thou shalt not commit adultery.'"

"Only the church could say these things," testified Dr. Niemoller, "because the church was the only agency left to say them. All else was in suppression, the schools and universities, the fraternal orders, the liberal press, all were under the heel of Hitler."

"When Hitler saw that he could not buy nor scare the church of Jesus Christ," said Dr. Niemoller, "he sought to destroy it. He took away its property, its financial support. When this did not stop it, he 'exiled' the pastors to far away places on a moment's notice. This had the effect of spreading the gospel further and of making the people of all areas feel closer together. When he jailed the resisting pastors, the laymen took the pulpits. Hitler then drafted these laymen into the army and put them into the very front lines. Then the women took over and Hitler had them put in jail. With the pastors, the leading laymen and even the women gone, young lads of 14 and 16 years of age ascended the pulpits. Dr. Niemoller's son, who was later killed on the Eastern Front, preached his first sermon in his father's pulpit when he was 18 years old because there was no one else to do it."

Old Man Winter himself was at Pierce Junior High School's annual WINTER BALL held on January 17. Both the boys' and girls' gyms were metamorphosed into a sparkling winter wonderland. Couples arriving in their best bibs and tuckers were Carol Kretschmar and Mike Murphy, Elaine Kihen and Corky Lecklider, Joan Holistre and Dave Hamilton, Mary Mohr and Wayne Peterson, Betty Fisher and Dan Barrett, Bev Martin and Ford Slater, Jackie Climie and Ed Beaver, Ann Purdy and Jim Reindel, Margaret Joop and Tom Lamb, Sharon Crawford and Roger Mulner, Sandra Ramsey and Bob Coe and Marilyn Brown and Owen Orr were there dancing amid snowflakes in this glittering paradise. Staggering it were Jim Martin, Roger Ellis, Doug Michalson, Larry Breden, Skip Downey, Dick Elkin and Dick Gunther.

There was open house at BEV MARTIN'S after the Pierce dance at which Bev and her date, Ford Slater, Jackie Climie and Ed Beaver, Helen Reed and Bill Moats, Louise Lamb and Ronnie Knope and Carol Krause and Frank Addott dropped in for more fun. Others were Barbara Brethel and Bill Turrill, Pat Goyette and Russel Volz, Sue Marie and Don Vanderbush, Charlotte Smith and Burt Wicking and Madge Winter and Dave Donnelly.

Cokes were also served in the home of ROGER MULNER. Sharon Crawford was there with Roger, Carol Romer and Howie Clarke, Carol Kretschmar with Mike Murphy, Madge Winter and Dave Donnelly, Irene Sarri with Jerry Strek, Jane Forden with Don Landis, Ann Young with Don Sutherland, Barbara Wallace with Sonny Miller, Betty Fisher with Dan Barrett and Mary Banach with George Turnbull.

Somewhere in the campaigning, the girls were drowned out, for the Pierce elections resulted with all male potentates. Now holding the office of president is HOWIE CLARKE, and ROGER MULNER is the new vice president. The positions of treasurer and secretary are filled by DICK MACKENZIE and GEORGE Mc-

BRIDE. Meeting in DOE OEHERS' house on Three Mile drive, a gay group of outdoor enthusiasts set out for a hay ride on January 17. The whole affair had been cooked up beforehand by DOE, her date—RALPH WHITE, DOT KING and MATT WINTERS. Their guest list included Dolores Anshuetz with Jack Marschner, Arlene Shuler with Jim Smith, Ellen Opperman with Harold Shannon, Joyce Parson with George Miklos, Sandy Hoffmeyer with Ronnie Woodhouse, Elaine Kelly with Doug McKinnon, Don Snyder and Bob Stieler. When the crowd returned from the ride, they rustled up a fire in the clubhouse at Findley's riding stables and roasted marshmallows over the red glowing coals.

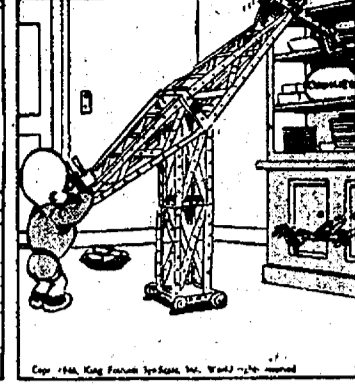

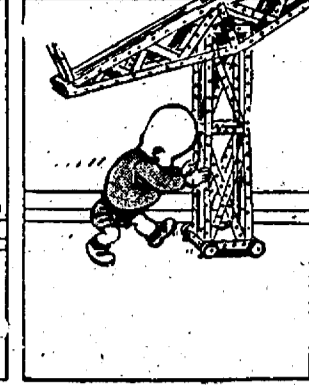

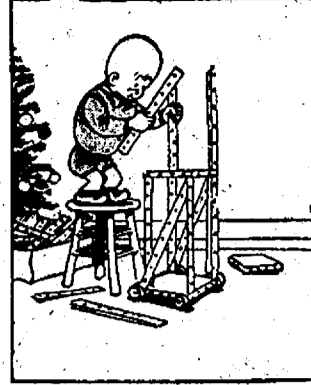

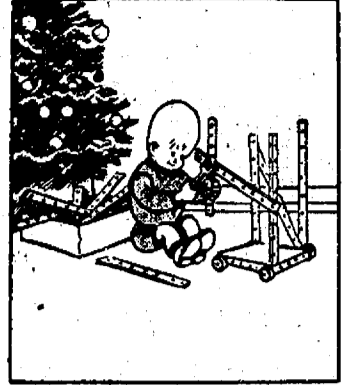

Grosse Pointe high school installed new officers last week. Vice President JOHN RUMMEL, Vice President GEORGE CHERPELIS, Secretary DIANE FAULK and Treasurer WILLIAM WEBB.

JOHN O'LEARY celebrated his 14th birthday a day early a concentration camp, a British lieutenant colonel spoke to Dr. Niemoller during the time allotted for shower baths. "I bring you greetings from the Archbishop of Canterbury," said he. "On your birthday they held a prayer service for you and your people at St. Martin's in the fields." This message was relayed to Dr. Niemoller in the concentration camp only 12 hours after the event took place.

"The fellowship of prayer was never broken, the witness of faith was never stifled," the famed pastor concluded.

MUGGS AND SKEETER

BY WALLY BISHOP

when he entertained a small group at the Detroit Yacht Club on January 19. The attenders were John, his date—Pat Morrissey, Marge Emmert with Jim Totz, Carol Hughs with Bill Trahan and Joanna Ortisi with Don Parthun.

PAT BURNS gave a dinner for several of her gal friends Saturday. The "eating fest" took place in Pat's home on Rivard, and later the crowd wound up at the High School basketball game. Sally Marshall, Pat Ford, Barbara Gregory, Carol Briggs, Marilyn Bower, Edith Waldbott, Ann Hubbard, Pat Rossiter, Marilyn Mathewson and Janis Woodruff were there enjoying hamburgers and all the trimmings.

OPEN HOUSES—The crowd at SALLY GRYLLES' was so great that it practically burst out the walls of the recreation room! Nearly all the members of the senior class dropped in at this big affair. Ed Schaub was the hostess' date.

MARY HUDSON welcomed her friends in her home for an after the prom treat. Bob Halbrook escorted Mary to their last dance at G.P.H.S.

BIRTHDAYS—It was BARB STOEKEL'S and MARILEE O'BRIEN'S 17th birthday anniversaries which inspired the all-girl party in Barb's home January 10. Guests included Betty Lilygren, Sally Smith, Marian Blackmore, Dottie Lander, Gerry Morse, Vonnie Wegman, Sue Campbell, Joan Kirkland, Sallee Slocum, Pat Gulberg, Barb Rising, Sally Vlasic, Sally Dalton, Barbara Hasselblad, Shirley Drake, Lois Rieck, Marge Smith and Joan Ghesquiere. Others who helped those two celebrate the occasion were Betty Brady, Myra Hahn, Helen Manson, Joan Heise, Marge Stoerkel and Dorothy Davis. There was a large birthday cake, and each of the birthday-girls was presented with a beautiful sweater with the names of all the guests on the enclosed card.

New Orleans Offers Tourists Many Winter Attractions

By The Old AAA Traveler
Here we are back in Louisiana, the fabulous land of oyster gumbo and redfish courtbouillon, strong black coffee and sweet potato pie. It is the land given its first picturesque touch by Jean Lafitte, a bit later the stamping ground of one Huey P. Long, and now the stage on which Mayor de Lesseps Morrison is starring in his great reform drama.

But the reforms Mayor Morrison is seeking to inaugurate in New Orleans have affected the old town very little. It's still the most colorful town in the Deep South, with the finest foods, the most beautiful women and the greatest winter climate encountered in a good many years of prowling these United States. And other Michiganders appear to share the same opinion, for Michigan license plates are a common sight.

You can still find Coca-Cola at five cents, and dime hamburgers aren't museum pieces. Hotel rates are up a bit from before the war, but they haven't reached the levels found in some places. Count Arnaud Cazenave of world famous Arnaud's Restaurant explained why Arnaud's prices have risen hardly at all in these past war days.

"Visitors will be coming to New Orleans long after inflationary prices have been shelved," he said.

Plans are completed for New Orleans' midwinter celebrations. Mardi Gras—Mardi Gras day on February 18—will be the most ornate in pageantry in the century and a quarter of the carnival, and already the old town's gardens are being groomed for the Springtime azalea color. And up in Natchez that alluring little town is all set to again turn back the hands of the clock a full century for its annual Pilgrimage.

Through Pilgrimage, the little town high on the banks of the Mississippi River goes back into hoopskirts and tall beaver hats, the horse-drawn vehicles of another day are brought out, and through most of the month of April the town lives just as it lived in the days before the Civil War swept its crimson path over the Deep South.

Now to be factual and financial for a moment, and see just what southern travel is when compared with travel in the days before Pearl Harbor. In those days a man and his wife could travel the South on about $12 a day, that modest sum covering hotel bill, three meals and gasoline for 200 miles of travel. Today that same couple covering the same territory will spend about $18 a day, or 50 per cent up from 1940.

But it's worth the added cost to explore this country of warm winds and burgeoning flowers, delightful foods and the courtesy and graces found only in the Deep South. So don't stay at home because of increased travel costs.

Instead, just budget out a little more cash, or trim your time away from home. Remember that 10 days in the South is better than 20 days in some other section.

Veteranews

World War II veterans who, for one reason or another, have been unable to obtain government-guaranteed loans or private loans for the purchase or operation of a family-type farm should be advised that such loans are available from the Farmers Home Administration in the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The Farmers Home Administration and the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Credit Administration.

The new agency has approximately $100,000,000 to provide operators of family-type farms with credit to improve farming operations or to become owners.

Loans are available alike to veterans and other civilians for buying live stock, feed, fertilizer, supplies, equipment, and other farm needs, for refinancing indebtedness and for family subsistence. This type of credit will be from one to five years, at 5 per cent interest, with special guidance in planning operations whenever necessary.

40 Year Limit

Farm ownership loans also will be granted in sums up to $12,000 at 3 1/2 per cent interest repayable over periods as long as 40 years. This type of loan may be used to buy, enlarge or improve family-type farms. Variable payments may be arranged, so that the borrower may make larger payments in bountiful years and smaller payments in lean years.

Every person who obtains a loan also gets individual guidance in sound farm-management practices to help him run the farm on a practical basis. The borrower sets up a "farm and home plan" detailing operation of the farm and is assisted by the county supervisor in carrying out the plan.

Veterans of all wars who have other than dishonorable discharges, and who fulfill requirements as to industry, experience and other assurances of success as farmers, are given special preference in the granting of farm-ownership loans, although others are eligible also.

Farm for Family
Loans will not be made unless the farm as purchased, enlarged or improved constitutes an efficient family-type farm management unit.

You can give away your heart without squandering your heritage.

Youngblood's Appointment Announced

Pointe's Congressman on Post Office and Civil Service House Committee

Appointment of Rep. Harold F. Youngblood to the combined Post Office and Civil Service Committee of the House will give Grosse Pointe representation on a major committee that will handle legislation for 38,500 Federal employes in Michigan, approximately 20,000 of whom live in the Detroit area.

Under the reorganization act this committee joins the old Post Offices and Post Roads Committee with the Civil Service body and absorbs the functions of the Committee on Census.

Youngblood also drew an assignment on the District of Columbia committee which legislates for the city of Washington in much the same manner as the City Council operates in Detroit.

The function of the new committee will be to consider legislation affecting the federal civil service generally, the status of officers and employes of the United States, including their compensation, classification and retirement; the postal service generally, including the railway mail service and measures relating to ocean mail and pneumatic-tube service; postal savings banks; census and collection of statistics and the National Archives.

Of the 20,000 government workers in Detroit 4,219 are employed in the postal service as clerks, carriers, truck drivers, custodial and maintenance employes. There are 2,558 employes of the Veterans Administration in Detroit proper and 619 at the Veterans Administration facility at Dearborn. Other federal workers are scattered among Government agencies and bureaus in Detroit, including Customs and Immigration inspectors, so-called old line Departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Justice, Treasury and skeleton staffs of what remains of the New Deal agencies such as Office of Price Administration, Civilian Production Administration and several agencies set up during the war.

While the Census committee ordinarily was a minor committee and handled practically no legislation affecting Detroit it is important in decennial years when reapportionment is a vital issue. It will be recalled in 1930 the two Detroit congressmen Robert H. Clancy and Clarence J. McLeod sought and obtained seats on the House Census Committee and went on to bring out a reapportionment bill that helped Detroit obtain two additional congressmen when the state was reapportioned, giving Michigan 17 congressmen instead of 13. It was tragically through the efforts of McLeod and Clancy that Detroit proper got the 14th and 15th district representatives and sent part of Detroit into the newly created 16th and 17th districts. So, come the next decennial year, 1950, Congressman Youngblood will have a voice in holding Detroit's representation in Congress, and perhaps in getting an additional district.

The world your children will live in will be described by Kirtley Mather, noted Harvard University scientist who will speak at Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday morning, January 29, at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Mather is one of the most popular speakers on science in the country. At present Professor of Geology at Harvard, the well known educator and writer is frequently sent by the government to investigate the latest scientific discoveries in the United States and Latin-America. Geologic research has taken him to the Canadian Rockies, the Alps, and to France and Spain. He has written a number of books including "Old Mother Earth", "Science in Search of God", and "Sons of the Earth".

DEFER SCHOOL

As part of their social studies, the 5B class is writing a book on Michigan. Copies will remain in Defer School to be used as reference material for forthcoming 5B classes.

When completed the book will consist of three sections, The Coming of the White Man to the Great Lakes Region; What Countries have Contributed to the Development of the Present Day Michigan, and Michigan Natural Resources, Their Use and Conservation.

Every member of the class has the opportunity to submit suggestions and stories which in turn are discussed by the class for acceptance or rejection. Some maps, charts, stories and pictures have been accepted. The cover design will be planned in art classes.

Most of the time has been spent on gathering information. After a general overview, stories for the first section were written from notes taken from various references. The information for the second section was gathered by reading and then making a class outline from which the stories were written. The third section will be covered by special assignment.

The class has shown initiative and enthusiasm in this project and is looking forward to the day they can autograph their contribution to Defer's reference library.

"Aladdin and His Lamp", a Meredith's Marionettes production was presented to the children of Defer School on Friday, January 10.

The familiar story had been modernized, making Aladdin an Arabian version of Henry Aldrich.

Billy Katros and Billy Rawson, 6B students at Defer School, have made a room bulletin board exhibit of their drawings. These drawings are pencils sketches, some of famous people and some humorous cartoons. The two Billys like to use charcoal, as well as paints and colored chalk for their work.

Farms Appoints New Policemen

The appointment of Ignatius Backman, Jr. of Lakeview avenue, as a Farms police patrolman was confirmed by the village trustees Monday night.

Backman has been working as a patrolman on a probationary basis since January 1. The police committee, headed by Trustee George Schaefer, asked Monday that his appointment be confirmed.

The hiring of Patrolman Backman brings the Farms force up to its budgetary size. Had the village found it necessary to hire a chief outside of the department, another officer would not have been allowed under the budget. The naming of Chief Walter Hoyt from the department solved this.

SCHOOL BROKEN INTO

A breaking and entering at St. Paul's School was reported to the Farms police on January 20, but an investigation by Farms police officers failed to determine if anything was stolen.

Business Shifts Affect Pointers

Charles A. Parcells, president of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, was elected president of the Peoples Federal Saving and Loan Association of Detroit at a meeting of the Board of Directors, held on Jan. 15.

Winant Directing Brotherhood Week

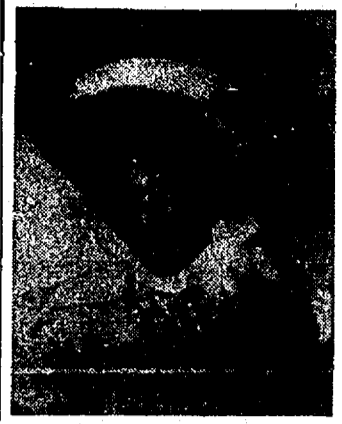

The Honorable John Gilbert Winant, former ambassador to England and United States delegate to the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations, has accepted the general chairmanship of 1947 Brotherhood Week, it has been announced by the National Conference of Christians and Jews headquarters today.

Farms Approves Disposal System

The Village of Grosse Pointe Farms will stick, at least for the time being, to its present method of rubbish and garbage disposal. A survey conducted by Public Works Commissioner Murray Smith and submitted to the trustees at their meeting Monday night, decided this.

Zazu Pitts Star In Shubert Play

Following this week's 6-day run of "A Flag Is Born" a farcical melodrama, "A Dangerous Woman," starring Zazu Pitts.

ZAZU PITTS an, starring the famous comedienne of stage and screen, Zazu Pitts, comes to the Shubert Lafayette Theatre for a two weeks' run.

Thief Fails to Break Into Loud Residence

Farms police were notified on January 20 that someone had tried to gain entrance to the Brewster Loud residence at 40 Oldbrook lane. The discovery was made by Frank Walker, chauffeur for Mrs. Henry T. Ewald of Iroquois avenue, who saw that a grating had been removed from a basement window.

Circus Headlined By Clyde Beatty

World renowned wild animal trainer, Clyde Beatty will arrive in Detroit the week of Jan. 20 to be on hand for the annual winter Shrine Circus at the State Fair Coliseum Jan. 27 through Feb. 16.

Circus stars from all over the United States will be gathered in Detroit for this huge winter spectacle, largest winter circus ever to be presented here, according to Tunis E. Stinson, veteran Shrine circus producer.

Robert Norton To Give Lecture

Robert Norton, a student of international affairs and commentator on American problems, will be the Detroit Town Hall speaker in the Cass Theatre on Friday morning, January 31, at 11 o'clock.

Norton played an active part with numerous national organizations in the preparation for the San Francisco Conference; he served on the Committee for Human Rights, under John W. Davis. He was a member of the Core Committee and a member of the United Nations Educational Campaign. He is a pioneer in television development, serving as moderator of the first television forum in America.

Hilde Reggiani Ideal Opera Star

Hilde Reggiani, young, lovely blonde, who will be heard on January 27, in "La Traviata" at the Masonic Auditorium, lives up to every ideal of an opera star. Born in Italy she made her debut in her native city of Modena when she was eighteen. She maintained the romantic tradition in her private life, as well as on the stage, for she met her husband, Bruno Landi, in the cast of that first performance.

Among those presented will be Dorothy Woodell, Nelda Hoffmeyer, Kenneth Frosliid, Louise Sargent, Thomas Clark, Alice Coyle, Erhard Walz, Eleanor Jacobson, and Janet Ballantyne.

Society of Engineers' Wives to Conduct Sale The Society of Engineers' wives will hold a white elephant sale in the home of Mrs. James E. Roark, 14300 Archdale avenue, on Thursday, January 23, at 2 p. m., to raise funds for the society's community project, Lutheran Settlement House. Tea will be served. Brilliant Fashion Show to Aid Drive

Many Pointers on List of Patrons for Event to Be Held in Music Hall; Original Creations to Be Shown

Fourteen carat post war brilliance is in the offing for Detroit society this Saturday and Sunday when, to benefit the Wayne County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the fashion group of Detroit stages "Have A Heart" at Music Hall (and we can imagine no nicer place to have one!).

A fashion show set to music... and a fantasy which the clever minds of the fashion group has evolved along with William W. Merrill (remember his Summer theater productions at Will-o-Way?) and set to music by Celia Merrill. Original creations are being air expressed to Detroit for the showings.

Mrs. Longyear Palmer of the Pointe is general chairman of the event which claims names distinguished in Detroit society in its list of patrons.

Some of those patrons include: Mrs. Roy D. Chapin, Mrs. Edsel B. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Black Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford II, Mrs. Wessel Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Chapin Jr., Mrs. Laura Butler Higbie, Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm Macdonald, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore D. John G. Winant was born in New York City in 1889 and educated at St. Paul's School and Princeton and Dartmouth. He was elected a member of the New Hampshire House of Representatives in 1917 and again in 1923 and, between these two terms, served as a state senator from 1921 to 1923. He then served as governor of New Hampshire from 1925 to 1926, and was elected for another term as governor in 1931.

In 1934, Mr. Winant became chairman of the Textile Inquiry Board, and the following year, was appointed assistant director of the International Labor Office (ILO). He was appointed director of ILO in 1939. Meantime, back in the United States, he was named chairman of the Social Security Board by President Roosevelt and served from 1935 to 1937.

Mr. Winant was appointed ambassador to the Court of St. James in 1941 and remained in that position throughout the war years. He has been serving on the Economic and Social Council since January 1946, when the first session met in London. In May of this year he returned to the United States to give his full time to the Economic and Social Council, from which post he has since resigned also.

Looking into the possibility of having Detroit process the rubbish and garbage collected in the village, Mr. Smith found that in addition to a long hauling charge, there would be a considerable cost for the processing of the waste materials. The combined cost would exceed that being spent by the village now, in spite of the fact that it hauls its garbage a round trip of 30 miles to a pig farm, where the disposal cost is nil.

In considering the feasibility of joining with the other Pointe communities in setting up a joint disposal plant, Mr. Smith States that the plant would not accept a disposal plant within its limits at the present time, and no site reasonably near could be found, even if all the other Pointes approved the plan.

Divers Flanders and Iler Annex Surprise Victories

Blue Devils Natators Sweep by Another Big Question Mark in Race for Border Cities League Title

By FRED RUNNELLS

The Blue Devil tank team swept past another BIG question mark in its bid for the 1947 Border Cities League swimming championship when Wyandotte fell victim, in its own pool, to the Pointers powerhouse onslaught, 47 to 37, last Friday afternoon.

Although the score doesn't indicate it, it was one of the closest meets of the season with the lead changing hands five times and the outcome not decided until the Blue Devil divers, Flanders and Iler, surprised everyone including themselves, by taking first and second, respectively, to give the Pointers a nine point advantage going into the last two relay events. The two teams split the honors here with Wyandotte winning the 180 free style relay and the Pointers' 160-yard free style combination of Mumford, Friese, LaFerte and Kildow remained undefeated by winning by the narrowest of margins over Wyandotte's team of Brayman, Cullen, Schendel and LeBlanc.

Wyandotte jumped into an early lead in the first event, the 40-yard free style, when Gray bested Bill Wolfe and Paul Friese, who took second and third respectively, and make the running score read Wyandotte 5, Grosse Pointe 4.

Bob Jenks continued undefeated in his specialty, the 100-yard breast stroke, when he barely beat out McGrath of Wyandotte.

Bill Kildow was forced to tie the Wyandotte pool record in the 200-yard free style to win this event from Cullen. Gerhard Gainstey paddled into third place to break the tie and put the Blue Devils out in front, 15 to 12, for the first time in the meet.

Wyandotte surged back into the lead in the 100-yard back stroke event when Luxmore and Perry finished one-two ahead of Jim Flom and Art Beck. Beck was tied for second place going into his second turn but got tangled up in his own legs and was aplashing along in last place on the third lap. This put the Bears back in the lead by four points, 20 to 16.

Wyandotte added another point to its lead when Schendel defeated Burt Spurrier by four yards in the 100-yard free style event. Bill Wolfe took third place right behind Spurrier to give the Pointers four points for the event. Running score stood at 25 to 20 in Wyandotte's favor at this point.

Bob Jenks scored the only double victory of the meet when he won the 120-yard medley relay defeating his teammate, Jim Fosmo, and Wyandotte's Robertson, who finished in third place. This marked the second time in as many weeks that Jenks has come through when the chips were down against strong opponents. The victory gave the Pointers the lead again, 28 to 26.

It was at this point that Flanders and Iler turned in their amazing performance by taking the diving event and clinching the contest for the Pointers. Their job was especially difficult as they were handicapped by diving from a strange board.

After the meet Coach Frank Banach admitted that he was glad that this meet had gone by the boards but quickly reminded this reporter that the Blue Devils still lead Royal Oak remaining on the first half of the schedule and from all reports the Acorns have a powerhouse this year. And that after the Royal Oak meet next Friday the Pointers will have to meet the same schools in return engagements before the title can be tucked away in the Grosse Pointe trophy case.

Hot Battle In PO Loop

Jefferson No. 1 Stays on top by 2 Points, With St. Clair in Second

St. Clair Shores is clinging hot to the trail of Jefferson No. 1 in the Detroit Post Office-East Side Bowling League. Following the matches of January 14 the standings showed St. Clair just two points behind the leaders.

George Moore and Gabriel Baekeroot both rolled high 234s for the night. Other high scorers were Stanley Farnum, 214; Robert Patterson, 214; Louis Trombly, 213; and Peter Monsour, 206.

Standings table with columns for Team, W, L. Includes Jefferson No. 1, St. Clair Shores P. O., DeSantis Undertakers, etc.

Kubiak Bowlers Upset Leaders

Kubiak Jewelry upset the league leading Whittier Cleaners in the East Side Independent Bowling loop on January 14, taking three points after Whittier had won the first game.

S. and M. Bar and Star Bar both took three points from their competition, Jack's Service and Sprenger Shoes, sticking in second and third places respectively.

Horn Fuel regained its stride and took three points from Dilon. Gordon Hays rolled 204-201, to get Cadillac Glass back in the winning column over Kurly Motors. Capt. John Tufenkjan was again leader for his team.

An old feud between Capt. McKillop of Form-Rite and Capt. McClellan of Hakim Bros. reached a climax with the latter team taking three points, despite the tough competition offered by McKillop.

George's Five swept the series with Town Pump for four big points; Harper-Berkshire took four from Al Long Ford; Falcon Rec. took three from Merle, and Kercheval Machinery and Jim's Bar split, two and two.

Richard Kurowski had the high 224 for the night. Gil Sarkinson rolled a 22 and Harry Damm topped 220 maples.

St. Paul League Starts 2nd Half

Following the first matches of the second half, in the St. Paul's Bowling League, F. Dansbury's team is tied for first place with those of C. Trombley and A. Ghesquire, each having four points.

Each having three points and tied for second place are the teams of A. Van Beelaere, P. Allard, J. June and D. McCarron.

D. Billiet's team was in first place for the first half, bowling 7322 pins in 41 games with an average of 178. L. Brecht's and H. Furton's teams were tied for second place, having an average of 176.

He told J. Lee Barrett, executive vice president of the Detroit Tourist and Convention bureau, "should the decision be favorable to the United States, we will have to fight it out with Los Angeles and Minneapolis but our first hurdle will be to obtain the decision for this country and then, with the cooperation of the civic and business leaders of Detroit I am confident we can sell Detroit to the International Committee.

Rotten Apple Throwing Given Cleaning Chore

Mrs. Henry G. Gildner, of 484 Lincoln road, reported to the police on Thursday noon that a boy who she said was Jack Quinlevan, 17, of 309 Rivard boulevard, had thrown a rotten apple at her car, messing up both the outside and inside of the car.

The police notified Mrs. Quinlevan, mother of Jack, and she promised to see Mrs. Gildner and assure her she would send Jack around to do a thorough cleaning job and in addition see to it that he was properly punished.

CATCHING INSURANCE - By Jack Sords

Star Leaves

DICK WUERKER, star forward of the Blue Devils basketball team, climaxed his illustrious high school athletic career against Royal Oak Wednesday night on the Acorns' court.

Wuerker for the past three years has been a star pitcher on the Pointers' baseball teams and an outstanding end on the football elevens.

Dick attained his greatest heights on the basketball court when he set the Grosse Pointe High School individual scoring record of 23 points in a single game last winter. So far this season he has been an important factor in the Pointers' offense and is a standout on defense. Blue Devil followers have seen for the last time his thrilling one-handed shots, which have so often pulled games out of the fire for his alma mater.

Although Wuerker doesn't graduate until next June he has used up his athletic eligibility and cannot compete for G. P. H. S.

Varsity and Reserve Teams Conquer Hazel Park's Fives

By FRED RUNNELLS

In a non-league contest at Hazel Park, Tuesday, January 14, both the varsity and reserve basketball teams of Grosse Pointe High defeated their non-league rivals.

The reserve game was a spintangler which saw the Pointers pull the game out of the fire in the last thirty seconds, 30 to 28, after trailing throughout the contest, on Quirk's beautiful pivot shot which climaxed an outstanding performance by this lanky lad.

After Quirk had put the Blue Devils in the lead, the Pointers successfully stalled the game for the final 30 seconds.

Quirk tallied 10 points in the last quarter rally and became the game's outstanding individual performer with a total of 18 points.

Billy Farquhar and Bayard Johnson, a couple of shorties, turned in dandy defensive games to hold the Hazel Park lads in check at crucial points of the contest.

The Blue Devil varsity had little trouble in subduing the Hazel Park quintet, 53 to 20 after it had overcome a first quarter lapse.

Dick Wuerker was by far the standout of the contest and held the admiration of the crowd with his remarkable one handed shots which repeatedly swished the mesh to give him a total of 22 points despite the fact that Coach Ed Wernet removed him from the game twice. Wuerker's 22 points was just one shy of his all-time high mark of 23, which is the record for the Grosse Pointe High School gym. Wuerker set his record last season.

Ed Isbey kept the Blue Devils in the game in the early stages with a fine display of shooting from the floor, getting two field goals and two free throws. Isbey's play seemed to inspire the rest of the team and in the third quarter Johnny Rummel found the range for six points. This coupled with Wuerker's six points and Bob Olson's three foul shots gave the Blue Devils a 36 to 13 lead and they went on to chalk up 17 more points in the last quarter for an overwhelming, 53-20, victory.

Verbrugge Leads In Ladies' Loop

The Verbrugge team is holding the lead in the St. Paul Ladies Bowling League by a narrow two point margin over Harlow Lingenman's five.

The high individual game honors are still held by Loriane Roehrig of the Grosse Pointe News team with a 200 score. Mary Roand of Verbrugge continues to hold the high three game score with 513.

The Standings table with columns for Pins, W, L. Includes Verbrugge Grocer, Harlow J. Lingenman, Flowerman, Grosse Pointe Cab Co., etc.

Pointers Invent New Fishing Plug

A new fishing plug, filled with mercury, has been created by Howard Poe, Pierce Junior High School coach, and L. W. Westerville, Grosse Pointe High School commercial law instructor.

The principle of the new lure is the same as that which makes a boat filled with water move from side to side when it is being towed. The mercury inside the minnow thrashes around and produces the same effect.

The rough castings for the plug are made in Ohio and the rest of the work is done in the basements of the inventors. Mr. Poe is president and treasurer of the Mercoy Tackle Company which makes them. Mr. Westerville is vice-president and secretary. Samples have been sent to nearly every state and the plugs are expected to be on the market this season.

The January meeting of Grosse Pointe Cub Pack 290 wound up with a skit planned and staged by Mr. and Mrs. W. Ferguson, entitled "Truth and Consequences" the victims being H. Cornelius, J. Kemp W. Musser, M. Nelson, A. Rauth, H. Reed, J. Riehl, and E. Vance.

The Cubs were very much amused watching their fathers suffer the consequences.

The four new boys taken into the pack were: Gerald Gonda, Daniel Marchall, Eugene Paetsch and Clyde Sutton.

Wyandotte Dumps Pointers In League Basketball Race

Blue Devils Loaf in Last Quarter While Caterino Runs Wild and Scores 15 Points to Give His Team Victory

By FRED RUNNELLS

The Wyandotte Bears thwarted any title hopes the Grosse Pointe cage team might have had when they scored an exciting, 44 to 40, basketball victory on the local court last Saturday night before a capacity crowd of parents and students.

The defeat knocked the Blue Devils out of a four way tie in the Border Cities League basketball standings and put Wyandotte in a two-way tie for first in the race.

It was the same old story with the Blue Devils as in previous games. Early in the game the Pointers show plenty of class and basketball savvy and run up a sizeable margin over their opponents before the half-time intermission only to come back in the third quarter to loaf while the opponents either knotted the score or go into the lead.

Led by Johnny Rummel, who scored nine points in the first half, the Pointers held an eight-point, 23 to 15, margin at half-time and played the Bears off their feet.

In the third period Wyandotte started to roll, scoring 12 points to the Devils' measly three, all scored by acting captain Paul Grubbs, and the scoreboard read, 27-26, in the Bears' favor.

Throughout the first three quarters the Pointers were successful in bottling up Wyandotte's star, Caterino, holding him to two field goals and two free throws. This seemed too good to be true and before the night was through Caterino had turned in such a remarkable exhibition of basketball talent that he had the partisan crowd talking in admiration.

In the first four minutes of the fourth quarter the teams battled on even terms. Bob Olson gave the Pointers a brief, 28-27 lead 22 seconds after the start of the quarter, but Wyandotte bounced right back on Tarrant's and Caterino's field goals and the Bears held a 32 to 30 lead at the automatic time out, four minutes from the end of the contest.

The crowd, sensing that the game was going to be exceedingly close, began to yell for the home team to come through, but

Intensive Drive Conducted By Michigan National Guard

State's Oldest Military Organization Offers Great Opportunity; Men Needed for Field Artillery Battalions

An intensive drive to complete activation of Michigan National Guard units in the Detroit area is now being conducted according to Lt. Col. George Stapleton, area organizer.

Michigan now leads the country with two-thirds, or 81 of its 122 first-phase units already organized, totaling 2,500 officers and men.

The Michigan National Guard is the state's oldest military organization. During peace-time its citizen soldiers provide the backbone of local, state, and national defense at home. Its members, 80 per cent veterans of World War II, meet once or twice a week in the evening, for which they receive from $1.25 to $2.50 an hour.

"We particularly want to concentrate on finding the right type of men to man 10 units of the 182nd and 177th Field Artillery Battalions," said Col. Gordon A. MacDonald, commander of the 46th Division Artillery.

"We know that many veterans would get a kick out of belonging to the Michigan National Guard, if they knew its many advantages in the Detroit area, and will be located in new armories eventually which are planned by the Michigan Military Board. Until that time temporary structures will be used.

The new armories will be furnished with bowling alleys, swimming pools, and other recreational facilities for the use of Guard members and their friends.

Men 18 to 45 years of age interested in joining the artillery division of the National Guard, or learning more about it should visit the Roosevelt Armory, 14th at Dalzelle, CHerry 3390, any week day evening and ask for Col. MacDonald.

Branch offices open at the same time are located at 25900 W. Outer Drive at Fort; Police Headquarters Bldg., Dearborn; Pulaski School, 9625 Lumpkin, Hamtramck; and Farmers' Market, Royal Oak.

The infantry headquarters is at the Piquette Armory, 285 Piquette, MAdison 0020.

Michigan Second In Bulb Industry

Michigan for some years has been second in the national bulb industry and now is very close to being in first position, states Charles Figy, Director of the State Department of Agriculture.

Much of this bulb industry is imported from foreign countries. During the past 60 days the Bureau of Plant Industry has inspected over a million bulbs for disease and insect pests. As a result of such an examination, the Department has been caused to condemn and destroy approximately one-fourth of a million bulbs of iris due to the fact that they were infected with bulb nematode (Ditylenchus Dipsaci) a very serious pest which continues to threaten the bulb industry of this country. This type of inspection requires microscopic examination as the eel worm must be magnified some 12 times in order to be detected and identified.

The Department has likewise been caused to condemn Narcissus bulbs being imported due to the fact that they were found to be infested with Greater Bulb Fly. Both Greater Bulb Fly and Bulb Nematode are serious pests which continue to threaten the bulb industry.

In order to protect Michigan's foremost bulb industry comprised of some 8,000 acres, every step and precaution is being taken with reference to imported stock, according to C. A. Boyer, Chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry.

Chief Boyer wishes to caution the purchasers of stock that they should demand a certificate of inspection on all bulbs which they are securing. This is your greatest weapon, assuring yourselves that you are securing clean bulbs and those which are free from serious insects and bulb diseases.

SMART DRIVER

A very smart driver, a resident of the Farms, decided he had too much to drink on the night of January 12. He drove his car straight to the Farms police headquarters and asked the officers to take him home. They willingly complied with the request and the driver picked up his car the following morning . . . in better shape.

Two Million Scouts Ready For 37th Birthday Party

Boy Scouts of America, now numbering nearly two million, will observe their 37th Birthday Anniversary during Boy Scout week, which opens February 7 and closes February 13. It is the Nation's largest birthday party among young citizens, and will be observed in every city, town, village and hamlet.

Scouting's birthday theme this year is, "Scouts of the world—building for Tomorrow." Local activities include Father-and-Son suppers, Courts of Honor and other Parent meetings, religious services for Cubs and Scouts of all Faiths, special stage and auditorium programs in the schools, and in some cases over-night or evening camp-fires on vacant lots near the Troop meeting place. Community activities will include exhibits and demonstrations in store windows and other public places. In some municipalities Scouts will practice participating citizenship by actually taking over the duties of Mayor, Chief of Police, City Clerk, Fire Chief and other Civic functions.

Scouting's birthday is Saturday, February 8. On Scout Sunday, February 9, many groups will attend religious services of their choice. Sabbath services for Scouts of the Jewish faith will be held Friday, February 7. During Anniversary Week the World Friendship Fund will be emphasized, giving local Packs and Troops the opportunity of helping to re-establish Scouting in the war-torn countries of the world. Over $100,000 has already been sent by our Cubs and Scouts to help the youth of Holland, Italy, Belgium, Hawaii and other countries.

High spot of 1947 activities will be the World Jamboree, scheduled to be held near Paris, France in August. Delegates of Cubs and Scouts from all over the world will be in attendance, including a selected delegation from this area.

In this Council, Boy Scout week will see the launching of a Camp expansion Campaign for the purpose of raising $117,000, which the Detroit Area Council needs to increase its camping facilities at the Charles Howell Boy Scout Reservation near Brighton, and for the purpose of completing its Leaders' Training Center located on the Reservation.

In Memphis, Tenn., a six-year-old boy was bequeathed the residence occupied by his mother and father and became his parents' landlord.

USO to Continue Program to 1948

Although Detroit USO headquarters closed officially Dec. 31, announcement was made of the United Service Organizations will continue a program in military hospitals and installations throughout this country and overseas until 1948, Robert H. MacRae, managing director of the Community Chest of Metropolitan Detroit, stated this week. A flood of inquiries about the national USO program have come into Community Chest headquarters, 51 West Warren, since announcement was made of the closing of the local USO branch.

"With a $19,000,000 national budget, the USO has developed a streamlined 1947 program to serve the thousands of veterans in hospitals, and the troops, on occupational duty, in training and in transit," MacRae said. Detroit will contribute nine per cent of the total amount raised in last fall's local Red Feather Campaign as its share in the financing of this program.

Post-campaign reports to date bring local returns up to $5,320,000 or 92 per cent of the Red Feather Drive's $5,800,000 goal. This is a two per cent increase over the $5,205,012 reported by campaign workers, Nov. 13, the closing day of the drive. "With contributions still coming in, we hope to report a final figure of $5,400,000, to finance the Community Chest's 125 Red Feather services and the USO in 1947," MacRae said.

Permanent Citation Given Lieut. (jg) James S. Harris

Lt. (jg) James S. Harris, Liberator Bomber, in Patrol Bombing Squadron 44, during operations against enemy Japanese forces in the New Ireland Area, from June 10, to Dec. 17, 1944. Participating in numerous low-level bombing and strafing missions under adverse weather conditions, Lt. (jg) Harris contributed materially to the destruction of buildings, enemy supply dumps, gun installations and bivouac areas. His devotion to duty was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service.

It's the broken-hearted who can give great-hearted leadership to a disheartened world.

Gob Surrenders In Murder Case

The Farms police have no further word on the Currie murder case since Hall, former sailor and suspect who has already been indicted by a Winchester, Va., grand jury for first degree murder, walked into a Los Angeles police station Sunday morning and gave himself up.

Hall acknowledges full knowledge of the case but lays the blame for the actual murder upon a third member of the party, whom he knew only by the name of "Frank." He says "Frank" strangled Currie with his necktie following a quarrel and fight resulting, Hall says, from Currie's refusal to pay Frank for work he had done on his car. Quickly after that, he says, they separated and he now knows nothing about the other man's whereabouts.

It is not known locally whether Hall has yet been taken back to Winchester for trial.

Church Requests Permit for Hut

Rev. Charles W. Scheid, pastor of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, appeared before the City Council Monday night and asked permission for the semi-permanent location of the quonset hut the church recently acquired from the Bureau of Veterans Affairs, on the rear of its lot on St. Paul facing the V.F.W. club.

The hut would be used as a general meeting place for the various church societies and organizations. After the new church is built on the lot the hut would probably be used as a general youth center housing the activities of the youth organizations of the church.

The request was referred to the committee of the council having charge of such requests.

WEATHER SLOWS WORK
Angelo DeBonio, the contractor doing the work on the Charlevoix sewer in the Woods, was granted a 30-day extension on the job by the Woods village commissioners at their meeting Tuesday night. The contractor said the extension was necessary because of the handicap on outdoor work imposed by the cold weather.

Wayne Honors Two Pointers

Mrs. Fred T. Murphy and James K. Watkins Given Law Degrees

Honorary doctor of laws degrees were conferred upon Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, of East Jefferson avenue, leader in many civic enterprises, and James K. Watkins, president of Grosse Pointe Farms, at Wayne University mid-year commencement Tuesday, January 21, at Masonic Temple. President David D. Henry conferred the degrees for the University and presented citations summarizing the achievements for which the recipients are recognized.

Mrs. Murphy, who has been active in nursing organizations, was once director of the Visiting Nurse Association and is a member of the Joint Council of Community Nursing. She has held the post of vice-president of Woman's Hospital, and the same office in the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Inc., and the Detroit Civic Opera Society.

She is a member of the Society of Arts and Crafts, Fine Arts Society, Theatre Arts, the Garden Club of Michigan, and numerous Detroit clubs. Her long leadership in Community Chest drives and in local American Legion Auxiliary work has been widely recognized. She served two terms as a member of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission: one in 1933 under Governor Comstock and the other in 1935 under Governor Fitzgerald.

Mr. Watkins holds the degree of bachelor of common law from Oxford University, having previously earned degrees from the University of Michigan and the Detroit College of Law. He served as commissioner of Detroit police from 1931 to 1933. A Phi Beta Kappa member, he also belongs to the Detroit, Michigan, and American Bar Association.

Ohio State Alumnae To Honor Secretary

The alumnae of Ohio State University will honor the new secretary for alumnae work, Miss Mary Kays of Columbus, Ohio, at a tea on Sunday afternoon, January 26, at the central Y.W.C.A.

The group will hear a report given by Miss Kays on plans for Scholarship House, the co-operative dormitory which houses 26 girls and is financed by alumnae clubs.

Mrs. Harold Davison is in charge of arrangements.

Lightning Protection Contract Let by Woods

The contract for the electrical hookup of the underground cables with the apparatus in the Torrey Woods and Marter road pumping stations was awarded by the Woods village commissioners Tuesday night to the Hydron-Brand company of Detroit. The price was $1,400.

This is a part of the extensive work by the Detroit Edison company and the village to insure the pumping station against lightning interference, which played such havoc with the pumping stations during electrical storms early last summer.
