J. EDGAR HOOVER, head of the FBI, designates the communists in America as fifth columnists . . . says they are directed from Paris with a very definite pipeline to Moscow . . . says the communist party here is much better organized than were the Nazi fifth columnists in Europe before the war. Gives with numerical exactness the number of enrolled members of the party in the several states but says there are many actual members who because of their position are not carried on the party rolls . . . summarizes his views of communism by saying: "Communism in reality is not a political party—it is a way of life—an evil and malignant way of life" . . . "The best antidote to communism," he said, "is vigorous, intelligent, old fashioned Americanism." . . . He expresses "grave doubts" as to the wisdom of making martyrs out of communists by outlawing them, as proposed in an act of Congress.

THE ANTI-COMMUNIST FIELD DAY is further heightened by the election from the committee room of the House Committee on Un-American Activities of Eugene Dennis, General Secretary of the Communist party, where he had appeared at his own request . . . refused to identify himself as to time or place of birth and gave only one of his numerous aliases. Exhibits contempt and disrespect for the committee and when he tries to speak is told by Chairman Thomas that "that will be all from you for today" . . . Hoover then tells the committee his true name, Francis Eugene Waldron, and reels off a dozen or more aliases he had used largely in obtaining forged passports . . . contemptuously throws a subpoena to appear on April 9 on the floor and says he won't obey it.

Looks As If Pointe Could Use More Swimming Pools

—Picture by Fred Runnells

The swimming pool in the Grosse Pointe High School is one of the community's most popular spots. It is busy practically all the time. This picture was taken during one of the Saturday morning sessions when the youngest group works out. There are about 75 in this class and when they all get in the pool at once it's hard to find the water. Members of the High School varsity swimming team help instruct the kids. There are swimming classes for all ages and both sexes.

Easter Calls All Pointers To Worship

Churches Plan Special Services Observing Crucifixion and Resurrection

The Pointe joins the rest of the Christian world this week in observing the passion of Christ's crucifixion and the jubilation of the Resurrection. Special services are being conducted by all Pointe churches, enhanced by the glorious music of the Easter season.

St. James Lutheran Church of Grosse Pointe will hold a special service for all in the community on Good Friday, April 4, beginning at 1 p.m. in the Punch and Judy theatre. The service will last for one hour. The Rev. George E. Kurz, pastor of the congregation, will preach the Good Friday message, which will be in the form of a brief meditation on the Seven Last Words from the Cross.

The St. James choir, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Schmitz, will assist by rendering fitting Lenten selections between the various meditations.

The St. James service on Easter Sunday will begin at 11 a. m. in the Punch and Judy, with the pastor proclaiming the triumphant message of the Savior's glorious resurrection.

Grace Church at Lakepointe and Kercheval will have two Easter services, at 8 a.m. and 11 a. m. Holy Communion will be observed. The Sunday School will have its Easter services at 9:30 a. m. There will be a Communion service at 8 p. m. on Good Friday.

The Grosse Pointe Congregational Church will have a Good Friday service at 8 p. m. in the Richard School, with sacred music by the choir. The Easter service will be at 11 a.m. in the John D. Pierce Junior High School, with the Rev. Charles W. Scheid, pastor, preaching.

Grenade Obtained in Swap Consigned to River Bottom

The City police received a call on March 27 from Mrs. Charles Miller of 359 Rivard saying her grandson Ronald Miller, aged 11, had just come into the house with a grenade. He had been sent home from school by his teacher with binding instructions to take the lethal weapon with him.

Ronald had obtained it from another boy, Robert Green, aged 10, of 69 Mapleton, with whom he had traded a pencil for the precious possession. Robert said he had been given it by his big brother Richard. Richard is away from home in the Merchant

Burglar Who Denied Taking Part in Pointe Gun Battle Proved Liar by Pistol Slug

Dowling, Caught Trying to Rob Store, Fires on Police With Same Gun Used in Cafe Shooting in February, 1946

Robert Dowling, who with Robert Pelchat participated in the attempted robbery at the Grosse Pointe Park cafe in February 1946, is in trouble again and this time it promises to be long and serious.

He was surprised by the Detroit police who caught him looting a clothing store at 10133 Kercheval early Thursday morning. He had a running battle with the police during which a half dozen shots were fired by him. The police finally cornered him.

At the moment of his arrest he had no gun on him but plenty of 38 calibre cartridges in his pocket. A quick search located the pistol in a garbage can where Dowling had thrown it immediately before his capture.

When the robbery at the Grosse Pointe cafe occurred Dowling and his partner, who turned out to be Robert Pelchat, a Canadian, exchanged several shots with Sergeant Mead and Patrolman Kesteloff who were stationed at the back of the surrounded place. Dowling escaped but Pelchat was arrested skulking behind a counter in the cafe. He had no pistol on him nor was any found in the premises.

Pelchat was placed on probation and skipped to Canada, whence it has since been impossible to lure him back to this side.

Driver Reports Crashing Pole

The mystery of the toppled light pole at the southeast corner of Kensington and Kercheval on March 25 was quickly cleared up. John L. Cain of 410 Rivard went around personally to the Park police station to report that it was his handiwork.

Despite Mr. Cain's display of civic responsibility in reporting on himself he was given a ticket for failure to have his car under control; and just to assure the village of recovery of damage to its property.

Friday morning along came the cheery news. The pistol that Dowling had used in his gun battle with the Detroit police was the identical weapon that had hurled the shot into the cafe walls. This was scientifically proved by firing two or three shots from the pistol. They carried the exact rifle markings as the Grosse Pointe pellet.

This was certified to by Lieutenant James Payne of ballistics, who in common with ballistic experts in all big town police departments have reduced the identification of pistol markings and bullets to an exact science as finger printing.

FARMS OFFICES TO CLOSE
The municipal offices of the village of Grosse Pointe Farms will be closed next Monday, April 7, because of Election Day, a legal holiday.

Gloomy Note Injected Into Discussion

A plain warning was sounded at the Farms Trustees meeting Monday night by Village Attorney Henry Maurer on the possibility of the Farms' right in the future to maintain its village beach park for the exclusive use of its own citizens.

The councilmen were in the midst of a discussion over certain proposed improvements at the park when Mr. Maurer spoke up. He said this specific issue had been raised in the action of St. Clair Shores to prevent the Woods village from doing this identical thing in the St. Clair Shores village limits. There, he said, the St. Clair Shores people seemed inclined not to contest the right of the Woods to acquire that land in the village (the Ford estate plot), for a park, but they were insistent that if this was done it must be a public park open equally to the people of St. Clair Shores or of any other community.

This right to an exclusive park for its own citizens is of the very essence of the whole Grosse Pointe system of village parks.

Mr. Maurer said he had had a talk recently with Jules Berns, who is the attorney of the Woods village and its legal pilot in this issue. He said that Mr. Berns did not seem wholly assured of the Woods' position in the matter, and he thought it might be of interest to the Farms authorities, who maintain exactly such a park, to know of this situation.

It was, and President Watkins remarked with a certain anxiety in his voice that they were indeed deeply interested in the issue. No official action was taken, but the trustees were in a brown study for some time following Mr. Maurer's remarks.

Oil Tank Bursts In Waldo Home

An oil tank exploded in the basement of the Gilbert Waldo home on Country Club drive late in the afternoon of March 31. It was reported that servicemen had been making repairs and pressure had been built up inside the tank.

When the cap vent failed to work the tank exploded, spilling 220 gallons of oil over the basement floor and down the drain. Farms firemen turned off all flames in the burners and stood by until the repairmen appeared to take over.

WOODS TO BUY TRUCKS
The Woods village directed the clerk at the meeting Tuesday night to advertise for two new trucks, one panel and one stake body. The items are provided for in this year's budget.

Widening of Mack Up to Kerby Road Planned This Year

In his report to the Board of Trustees of the Farms at the board meeting Monday night, Murray Smith, Village Engineer and Director of Public Works, said the Mack avenue widening plans have been received from the Wayne County Road Commission and that these show that the work planned for this year extends from Cadieux road in Grosse Pointe City to Kirby road in the Farms. They do not include widening the section north of Kerby road this year.

He recommended that the Road Commission be requested to extend the work so as to include the Kerby road intersection which is already a dangerous intersection and will become more dangerous if traffic is bottlenecked at the point shown on the plans.

On Mr. Smith's recommendation a resolution was passed by the council strongly urging that this be done.

In connection with the same widening project the Road Commission has requested that the Farms prepare and submit its plans for street lighting on this frontage. Smith had contacted the Detroit Edison company which had recommended that 21 10,000 lumen semi-ornamental overhead lights be placed, spaced 125 feet apart from Fisher road to Kerby. It was also recommended that lights be paralleled by another 21 lights to be installed by Detroit on its side. Paralleled and facing lights are now favored instead of staggered lights.

Mr. Smith thought the spacing suggested by the Detroit company was closer than necessary but advised waiting on the Detroit Lighting Commission's report.

The additional cost of this lighting would be about $900 per year.

The Detroit Road Commission is to be informed of the Farms wishes in the matter.

Old Institution Banned by Woods

A notice recently served by the Woods village health authorities on several property owners who maintain outside privies and have no inside toilets, to eliminate the same and install inside toilets, roused the vehement protest of one of the affected parties.

According to this burgher, the inside toilet was all frumpery. "We use the beer garden next door," he told the council.

Police Seeking Hit-Run Driver

Farms police are seeking a hit-run driver who sideswiped a car on Grosse Pointe boulevard on the night of March 28 and failed to stop after the crash.

Mrs. Lloyd Hooker of University place told the police that her son was driving her Chrysler when a black Ford cut inside him and badly damaged the Hooker car. The Ford sped on.

Woods to Buy $2500 Worth Of Recreation Equipment

The Woods Village is about to install upwards of $2,500 worth of picnic and recreation equipment in its new beachfront park. The clerk has been instructed to advertise for bids for the equipment which will include tables, benches, swings, grills, etc.

All of the equipment is of moveable character and in the event that the village should lose exclusive use of the park as the result of the legal action now in process, it could be moved to another location, presumably the 44-acre plot acquired by the village previously on Mack avenue.

Farms Raises Mooring Rate

Council Approves Schedule of Charges for Boat Space at Municipal Pier

The report of Farms Village Clerk Harry Furton on the schedule of charges for boat mooring spaces at the village pier, submitted at the Farms Council meeting Monday night, was approved in each detail with the exception of the charges for the 63 spaces in the rear harbor for small boats, where the charge was reduced from $10 each to $7.50 on motion of Trustee Richard Maxon.

This schedule of charges will produce from the Village's 112 mooring spaces a revenue of $2,084, as compared to $1,219 under the old schedule.

The position of the trustees is that inasmuch as this mooring space is maintained at public expense for a very small fraction of the people of the village, it is right that a reasonable charge should be imposed for such service.

Trial Date Set For Woods Case

The Woods Village-St. Clair Shores Village case over the right of the Woods to operate a private municipal park in the 43 acre plot the Woods recently bought from the Edsel Ford estate will go to trial on either April 22 or April 23, either date being agreeable to counsel on both sides.

Also it has been agreed to call in an outside judge and the presiding judge of the Circuit bench will assign some outside judge. The chief basic issue in this case involves the right of municipalities to maintain at public expense parks for the exclusive use of their own citizens which makes the case of deep concern to all of the Grosse Pointe communities.

However the issue is determined in the first instance the case will doubtless find its way into the courts of last resort eventually.

Find Garza Guilty In Accident Case

Rubin Garza, now 20 years of age, who has been on trial in Judge Claude I. Webster's court for the negligent homicide death of Porter McMasters on Mack avenue on May 17 by running him down with a motorcycle, was found guilty on March 26.

The case was remanded to the probation division for investigation and report to the court.

Concrete Tossed Through Window

A case of malicious mischief was reported from the Carl Romano home at 1216 Yorkshire Thursday night. The family was seated in the living room about 10:30 o'clock when some missile came crashing through the leaded glass window.

The young man of the house ran out onto the porch but only in time to see a car speeding north on Yorkshire. He could not catch the number. Two pieces of concrete were found on the front porch.

Students Start Long Vacation

Students in the Pointe's public schools are about to start the longest spring vacation in many years. The schools will be let out an hour earlier than usual today, Thursday and will not reopen until Monday, April 14.

Tackle Drain Task Without Bond Issue

Trustees Feel Urgency of Problem Calls for Launching Sewer Project

Although the Farms voters failed to produce the necessary two thirds vote on March 10 that would have launched the extensive sewer and storm water project with a $350,000 bond issue, the Board of Trustees are so convinced of the urgency of the work that they have decided to go ahead with the preparation of the complete working plans.

At the Trustee's meeting Monday night Murray Smith, Village Engineer and Director of Public Works, reported that whether the village voted the bond issue or not this work would have to be done.

"Either as a continuing annual project to be finished eventually piecemeal or by subsequent bond issues, he said there is no avoiding the prosecution of this major project." He recommended that the engineering firm of Hubbel, Roth and Clark be continued on the job of making the working plans.

The trustees were of the same mind. Without a dissenting vote they voted to instruct the engineers to go ahead with the job. The cost of the plans will be upwards of $10,000 and will take several months to complete.

When done these plans will furnish the master plan for the long needed complete storm water and sewer system for the whole village.

Term News Story Unfair

Innocence claimed by Some of Boys Named in Fracas at School

Cries of "Unjust," "Unfair" and "Not Guilty" were heard from many quarters this week following the publication in the NEWS of names of 14 boys whose visit to the Grosse Pointe Country Day School on March 14 resulted in a great deal of damage to the school property.

Some of the boys have claimed that they had no part in the hoodlumism that occurred and that it is unfair to classify them as hoodlums simply because they were part of a crowd, some individual members of which were guilty of malicious destruction of property.

A number of meetings have been held during the past week by the boys involved, in an attempt to place the guilt where it rightfully belongs and lift the stigma from others. Other sessions have been held with school authorities and the police present.

Neither the police nor the NEWS have any desire to malign any innocent person. As degrees of guilt or innocence are established through these meetings, or in the juvenile court hearings scheduled for April 15, full publicity will be given them.

Pointes Join With Detroit In Seeking Drain Solution

Water Pollution Has Big Part in Picture; Big Expenditure Seen for All Communities Involved; Spokesmen Named

The question of the disposal of the storm water drainage, and at times of sanitary sewage, from a vast area of Detroit and from most of Grosse Pointe is moving inexorably towards a decision. It was brought up again in the report of the village engineer of the Farms at the meeting Monday night.

He said that a meeting was held on March 7 in the office of City Engineer Thompson of Detroit that was attended by representatives of Grosse Pointe Park, City and Farms. It concerned the various Detroit plans for taking care of the storm water drainage in the Fox Creek area and the estimated cost of the plan.

The whole question is involved with the matter of water disposal as well as mere storm water disposal. Detroit has employed three consulting engineering firms, two from the United States and one from Canada, to first study the possible relocation of their water intake to cope with the present and future lake pollution problems, and second, to study Detroit's method of water treatment as to its adequacy to handle varying degrees of present and future pollution.

This has brought into the picture the alternative proposition of employing the Conners Creek outlet for the drainage from this great area. The Conners Creek outlet will dump this surplus practically opposite Detroit's water intake at the head of Belle Isle. The Fox Creek outlet will send it into the water course well above that point.

The Detroit Board of Health, its water department and engineers are all keenly concerned with this issue. It does not affect the Farms' or City's water service which comes from the Farms' pumping station, but it does directly affect the Park village, which gets its water from the Detroit pumping station.

The still unsettled question whether Conners Creek or Fox Creek will eventually be used is of deep concern to Grosse Pointe. The Park has its own problem in this issue also. Detroit has agreed a long time ago to enlarge the Fox Creek outlet when the big Fox Creek drain was laid under the Park, but it has never done so. It has been this neglect which has caused the drainage from that outlet to back up at times and cause the flooding nuisance in parts of the Park village. This was the immediate cause of the Park recently putting in a back-water gate on Jefferson at Barrington.

Mr. Smith stated in his report Monday night "the Farms coast in the joint outlet structures would vary widely, depending on the eventual outlet being either Fox Creek or Conners Creek." He thought it necessary to bring the facts and estimates of cost to the attention of council in a special meeting to be called later.

All of the Pointe communities which make use of Fox Creek are deeply concerned. The normal flow of sanitary sewage goes down to the Detroit sewage treatment plant but in time of flood water this goes over spillways into the storm water vents, as is the case in the Park where the 7 foot sanitary sewer under the Jefferson avenue spills into the big 10 foot storm water sewer which parallels it and thence into Fox Creek which, under present arrangements, cannot care for it. Whatever final arrangements may be made the Pointe communities will have to take care of their pro rata share of the cost of disposal of this surplus flow.

In either outlet the cost will be high but that of the Conners Creek vent, amounting to two or three times that of Fox Creek, would threaten to be utterly beyond the means of this community.

In the Park Commissioners Gillett and Koenig and Manager Lane are speaking for that village in these negotiations and at the Farms meeting Monday night Trustees Maxon and Hubbard were named to act for it in a similar capacity.

Faces Sentence On Sex Offense

Arrested for indecent exposure at Kercheval avenue and Oak street last January 19, Sylvester Majchrzak, 34, of 3532 East Hancock, Detroit, was given a hearing on March 31 before Judge Clyde Webster.

Bond of $750 was continued and sentence was withheld until a report is received from the probation department. When arrested, Majchrzak was on probation for a similar offense in Detroit.

He was caught on January 22 when Farms Police Sergeant Elmer Labadie traced him through his auto license number, furnished by the witness, Esther Crandall of Mapleton.

FARMS POLICE
Farms police responded to two burglar alarms on March 29. Both of them proved false. One was at the Titus drugstore, Kercheval and Fisher, and the other at Sidney's cleaning shop on Kercheval. The owners were notified and turned off the alarms.

Permanent Citation Given Hero of Carrier Bombing

Lieutenant John B. Barr, USNR, of 315 McKinley road, Grosse Pointe Farms, son of William M. Barr, has received the permanent citation for his Bronze Star Medal from Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal, for the President.

Lieutenant Barr, who has been released to inactive duty, earned the award serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Franklin during action against the Japanese forces near Kobe, Japan. During this action he organized and led fire fighting parties, thereby helping to save the ship.

During the war, citations were temporary, or incomplete, for security reasons.

Text of the full citation is as follows:

"For heroic achievement while serving on board the USS Franklin during operations against enemy Japanese forces near Kobe, Japan, March 19, 1945. When his ship was hit by an enemy bomb causing explosions of ready bombs, rockets and ammunition on the flight and hangar decks, Lieutenant Barr organized and led fire fighting parties into the flames, inspiring others by his heroic conduct and leadership in the face of continuous explosions and thereby contributing materially to saving the vessel. His courage and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Farms Makes Appointments

Department Heads, Standing Committees Confirmed by Trustees

Department heads and standing committees of the official family of the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms were appointed and confirmed at a meeting of the board of trustees March 31. Department heads include: accountant, Harry Furton; engineer and superintendent of water department, Murray Smith; building inspector and pier and park superintendent, Theodore Beaupre; highway commissioner, Carter Ficher; assistant highway commissioner, Peter Allard; village attorneys, Henry Maurer, of Hayes, Maurer and Hayes. Committee appointments included: Finance, William Connolly, chairman, Henry Hubbard and George Schaefer; Public Works, Richard Maxon, chairman, Neil McEachin and Schaefer; Police and Fire, Schaefer, Hubbard and Maxon; Recreation, McEachin, Hubbard and William Kirby; Legal, Connolly; Building and Zoning, Kirby and Maxon.

Mrs. Gladys Snay Awarded $8,700

Mrs. Gladys Snay, widow of the late Park Police Sergeant Frank Snay who was struck and killed by a speeding car at the corner of Lakepointe and Fairfax at 4 o'clock in the morning of December 13, appeared before the Department of Labor and Industry in the Detroit office last Monday morning and was awarded $8,700 compensation for her husband's death.

For a long time Mrs. Snay was undecided whether to bring suit for damages against the driver of the offending car, Thomas Koerber of 551 Middlesex, or accept such compensation as she could get from the State. Under the law she would not be permitted to attempt both.

She has now decided to accept the State's offer and with the receipt of the warrant from Lansing in a few days the matter will be settled.

BICYCLE VANISHES
Theft of a bicycle from the garage of Richard F. Molyneux at 354 Fisher road, was reported to Farms police on March 30.

Woods Receives Emphatic Reply

Immediately after the Woods village acquired the Ford beach-front property for a park it addressed a letter to the St. Clair Shores village authorities, requesting that it be taken from the assessment rolls.

As Detroit Red Cross Head

Although the Red Cross 1947 Fund Campaign has officially ended, campaign leaders and workers will continue soliciting all prospects until the approximate $100,000, still needed to attain the $1,334,000 Detroit quota has been collected.

Detroit has never failed a Red Cross campaign and Alvan Macaulley Jr., drive chairman, was confident that those who have not already given to the fund will make their gifts this week, either to a Red Cross worker or direct to headquarters, 153 East Elizabeth.

This will bring victory and provide funds to carry on the five point program of work with the two million men and women who still serve the United States in the armies of occupation; the veteran, hospitalized or returning to civilian life; the Red Cross Community Blood Bank; disaster relief and heavy schedule of services to the community.

At the final report luncheon of campaign workers, held Monday in Hotel Staller grand ballroom, the new chapter chairman of Detroit Red Cross, Col. Emmett F. Connelly of Ridge road, Grosse Pointe Farms, presided. He succeeded Herbert B. Trix, of East Jefferson avenue, city of Grosse Pointe.

Col. Connelly, who served in World Wars I and II, was an officer in OSS during the last war. In line of duty he spanned the world and saw at first hand the global work of Red Cross. He was chairman of Detroit Red Cross' first war fund campaign, just prior to entering service.

The colonel's first official act as chapter chairman was to appoint Henry T. Ewald chairman of the executive committee. Ewald, president of Campbell, Ewald Company, has been chairman of public information in the past five Red Cross fund campaigns.

Other new officers elected included Joseph B. Schlotman, first vice-chairman; William J. Norton, second vice-chairman; Fred M. Butzel, Mrs. Jewett Dwyer, Mrs. John B. Ford, Alvan Macaulley Jr., and Jean T. Sheafor, vice-chairmen; Mrs. William S.

Turner, secretary and Raymond T. Perring, treasurer. New members elected to the board of directors included Henry Ford II.

On Monday Red Cross opened a ground floor office at 153 East Elizabeth where veterans state bonus forms are available. Especially trained members of the Home Service Department are manning the office to give the vet every aid in filling out the forms. The office is open Mondays through Saturdays, 8:30 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Crash Involves City Snow Plow

Nick Zauner, a City employe driving a City truck hauling a snow plow on March 26, made a sweeping turn into Cadieux from Jefferson, allegedly without giving a signal.

Albert Afchieny, of 15325 Jefferson, was following behind him in a brand new Buick and ran into the truck, badly damaging the Buick.

The police played no favorites and gave a ticket to the City's employe for failure to give a signal on turn and Afchieny got one for reckless driving. They said he was going too fast.

Hubbard Welcomed
By Farms Trustees

Henry H. Hubbard, the newly elected trustee of the Farms, made his first appearance as one of the village legislators at the meeting Monday night.

President Watkins gave him the glad hand of fellowship and remarked somewhat dryly that he hoped he would find the meetings at least interesting "if not always enjoyable."

Bill Opposed
By Youngblood

Representative Harold F. Youngblood, Michigan 14th District, recently opposed a House resolution to continue sugar rationing until October 31.

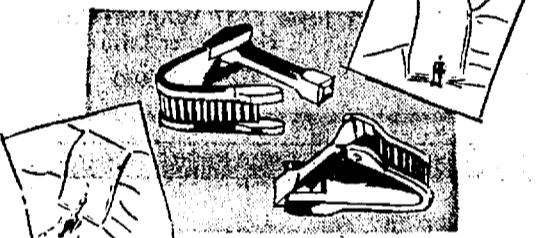

The bill provides for the transfer of sugar controls from OPA, scheduled to end June 30, to the Department of Agriculture. Though it terminates rationing for the housewife on October 31, it authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to continue inventory controls on commercial sugar supplies until next March 31.

Proponents of the measure contended that immediate decontrol would result in competitive buying by industrial users with subsequent high prices and scarcity of supplies to the housewife.

Most opponents of the bill contended that control of inventories was actually a continuation of rationing and charged that feature of the measure was a "ruse" for continued government regimentation. They believed increasing sugar production provided an adequate safeguard against commercial hoarding.

Voting Machine on Display In City Clerk Neff's Office

Residents Urged to See Demonstration; Officials Hope Time Will Soon Come When All Pointes Purchase Them

Pursuant to instructions given him by the City Council last December, City Clerk Norbert P. Neff has been making an investigation of the proposal to install voting machines in the City of Grosse Pointe.

In addition to getting a mass of information on the subject, Mr. Neff has arranged with the Automatic Voting Machine Corporation of Jamestown, N. Y., to install one of its machines in his office for demonstration and examination by the citizens.

Mr. Neff has been a protagonist for the voting machine for a number of years, but his interest was more stimulated by the experience in the city at the general elections on November 5.

The city which comprises one election district by itself, and is the largest election district in the state, cast 2,944 votes. It took the election board from the closing of the polls at 8 o'clock that night until 1:15 o'clock the following afternoon to count and tabulate the vote. It became necessary to hire extra tabulators and the expense to the city was inordinately high.

Mr. Neff's recital of this experience determined the city council to look into the machine voting idea with new interest. Mr. Neff was directed to go on the hunt, without committing the council to any definite decision.

The argument in favor of machines is that the vote is quick, accurate, honest and economical. The moment the polls close the judge of election pulls a lever which totals the vote under each candidate's name in the back of the machine. He then unlocks the back of the machine and the clerks copy off the figures. There are no faulty or mutilated ballots. The machines are fool proof and the only way any dishonesty can creep into the election is by a venal election board admitting into the machine enclosure a person who is not registered on the voters' registry list. The machine itself can make no error.

The machines, which cost in the neighborhood of $1,000 each, are sold on a time basis to municipalities, usually about one-fifth a year for five successive years.

The voting machine is not a new gadget in elections. It has been used in some parts of the country for more than 50 years. Already many communities in this part of the state are using them and invariably with great satisfaction to the voters.

Had these machines been in universal use in Wayne county last fall the tiresome and costly recount in the prosecuting attorney's election would have been avoided.

Supervisor Carl Schweikart of the township is in favor of vot-

Damages Equal As Cars Crash

Damage was divided between two cars which crashed at Mt. Vernon and Chalfonte on the afternoon of March 29.

C. Albert Mastoranni of 470 Cloverly road, driving north on Mt. Vernon, collided at Chalfonte with a car owned by Kamill Seidel of 272 Moran road. Damage to each car was estimated at $300. The drivers agreed to take care of the matter themselves and no tickets were issued.

New Subdivision Bond Extended

The Shoreham Corporation, which operates the Lake Shore Lanes subdivision with 20 acres in Grosse Pointe Shores and 15 acres in Grosse Pointe Woods, addressed a communication to the Woods council Tuesday night requesting the extension of its fulfillment bond for one year. The bond is for $100,000.

The request was granted on condition that the corporation pay the inspector's fee for work done in connection with the sewer installation and also that no lots in the Woods portion be sold until they had first made their contract for the completion of the work in the Woods contemplated by the bond coverage.

Hubcap Traced To Hit-Run Car

Roland Barrett of 1319 Nottingham, hearing a crash near his house at 2:50 o'clock Friday morning and seeing a car speed away, phoned the police. They found a Ford coupe in front of 1314 Nottingham with its front badly smashed in. The car was listed to Kathryn O'Neil of that number. They found a hubcap belonging to an Oldsmobile.

That was all for the time. A lookout order was broadcast on WRDR. At 10:30 a.m. Patrolmen Walsh and Dean found a 1946 Oldsmobile sedan on Grayton at Charlevoix with its right front end badly damaged. The owner of the car has been contacted.

Two Signs Flattened In Late Season Skid

Edwin B. Rall of 1344 Yorkshire, driving west on Kercheval at Balfour at 6 o'clock Saturday morning, skidded and hit a street sign and a parking sign, knocking both down. His car was so badly damaged it had to be towed to the Packard service station. He was given a ticket for not having his car under control.

Pointe's Methodist Church Gets Spiritual Big Brother

"It can be announced that 2,500 new friends are being added to the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church."

This is the way S. L. Ragan, chairman of the Methodist Union committee of Central Methodist Church, expressed the intention of Central Church to be a "spiritual big brother" to Grosse Pointe Methodist Church.

The closer fellowship between the two churches will be inaugurated at a dinner in Central Church, Woodward at Grand Circus Park, on Wednesday, April 16. A reception at 5:30 will precede the 6 o'clock dinner. On this occasion the officials of Central Church and the officials, members and friends of Grosse Pointe Church will become acquainted with each other and with the plans and needs of the Grosse Pointe congregation.

The local congregation, of which the Rev. Hugh C. White is pastor, had its first service on September 8, 1945. This church, like all new Methodist congregations, was established by the Methodist Union of Greater Detroit, the city missionary society

Peter Broedell Named In New Woods Action

Peter Broedell, the Mack avenue plumbing supply merchant in the Woods was arrested and fined $100 recently in justice court for having stored equipment on one side of his property. Before further action could be taken he had moved it over to the other, or non-complaining side of his property.

So, action was directed at the council meeting Tuesday night to start all over again, to seal the property all around against storing materials offensive to the neighbors.

Governor Sigler Talks Out

Without doubt a common thought prevailed the overflow audience that listened to Governor Sigler in the Pierce School auditorium Saturday night. It was the wish, frequently expressed after the meeting, that every one of the 48 states in the union had a governor who was not afraid to speak with the same bluntness and courage on this question of communism which now occupies so much of the public thought. If they had, communism as a social and economic cult would be in for an airing that would soon sound its death knell in this country.

It was not necessary for the Governor to repeat by name and positions those whom he had already told the committee on un-American activities in Washington were "Captives of Communism." That is a matter of record and the press has already broadcast it well.

He told us however that communism was no new thing in America. He traced its pernicious trail all the way back to the old syndicalist movement of a quarter century ago, when disclosures by government agents clearly proved it was even then getting its orders direct from Moscow.

He said there was no danger to this country from communism from any source if the people know the facts. He is pulling a laboring car in a whole boatload of facts.

He had been much impressed with the testimony of J. Edgar Hoover before the committee. He agreed heartily with his blunt charge that communism is a deadly and menacing movement in this country but only in so far as the people willfully remain unmoved and blind. He reminded the audience that the power and influence of highly organized and compact minorities is a dangerous force when directed towards evil ends.

When the communists took over the destinies of Russia with its one hundred and eighty million people and its eight and one-half million square miles of territory they numbered only one in 2,200 of the population. Already today they number in this country one in every 1,700 of our people.

He obviously had little respect for the oft repeated and hackneyed saying of Voltaire about disagreement with what one said but willingness to fight to the death for his right to say it. There is a limit to free speech.

Mr. Sigler urges the outlawing of communism and would not temporize with any group which openly advocated the destruction of our government.

He scorns a group which plots our political destruction under the aegis of a freedom of speech and press which is prohibited in the land of the plotters' own origin.

One sensed that Governor Sigler is aware that there are many in our midst who are in effect communists but who are unaware of their own true classification.

He touched pointedly on the infiltration of subversive teachings into our colleges and universities and left his audience distinctly under the impression that he is not through with this part of his self appointed mission. One could feel an Amen! emanate from his audience.

The Governor said he expected to be met with all kinds of criticism and abuse for his stand on this issue of communism in general and almost as he was speaking a group of labor leaders in the category he had named were issuing a joint statement in which he was accused of "malicious lying" and told to "keep his nose out of the labor unions."

But with all of the Governor's frank and named criticisms he revealed an abiding confidence in the ultimate composite judgment and soundness of the American people to lift themselves out of this miasmatic cloud which now besets them.

This was what he meant when he said "when they know the facts." He is courageously doing his share as our governor to bring them to us.

The Individual's Part

The elements in this country that are responsible for the inauguration of strikes that might have been avoided, whether they are workmen or management, are playing directly into the hands of the plotters and agents of the Russian Soviet. It is on strikes and civil discord of any and every description on which they feed. And the more intense the strike, the greater the resulting suffering and ill will they cause, the faster move the forces of chaos and destruction towards the ultimate goal of human enslavement and the collapse of the way of life we of this land have been pursuing here and in England for seven centuries.

It is folly to console ourselves with the idea that it can't happen to us.

The menaces of this day cannot be met by any ostrich-like political approach.

One way to check it is by a forthright and aggressive championship of our own way of life. This is a position that can be taken by every man and woman. It requires no dubious research or self-searchings. It can be made a daily practice with each individual man and woman. Tolerance can be an overemployed word.

We need more of the old fashioned, garden variety of patriotism and enough bull headed persistence to be intolerant of the rotten preachments of either the new arrivals reeking of vodka and the smell of the steerage or the morally anaemic descendants of an earlier and worthier generation of Americans.

Lewis' Spitback

John L. Lewis probably thinks he has pulled a fast one in his latest nose thumping at the Supreme Court.

Having been compelled by order of the court to rescind his April 1 strike order, or what was equivalent to that in his no-contract, no-work dictum, he now reckons he has arranged a neat little strike anyway by his "week of mourning" order in pseudo honor to the victims of the Centralia mine disaster.

He half apologetically explains that the week's cessation of work will not affect the coal supply as there is plenty of coal above ground, but that will be small comfort to the miners who will find their pay envelopes, come next pay day, badly shrunken. The miners themselves have given no unanimous hurrah! over the order.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Now grimy April comes again,
Maketh bloom the fire-escapes,
Maketh silvers in the rain,
Maketh winter coats and capes
Suddenly all worn and shabby
Like the fur of winter bears,
Maketh kittens, maketh baby,
Maketh kissing on the stairs,
Maketh bug crawl out of crack,
Maketh ticklings down the back
As if sunlight stroked the spine
To a burdy-gurdy's wine
And the shower ran white wine."
(Stephen Vincent Benet)

This is the time when all good women and true, come to the aid of Spring cleaning and re-decorating. They pour over all the home-making magazines to see what those worthies have to offer in the way of something "new" that will add an inexpensive fillup to their tired rooms. AND the magazines are full of them! We know . . . because we haven't missed a paragraph, syllable or comma in any of them for the past three months. In fact we became so enthusiastic, we figured we might even do an entire room over. Everything sounds so simple, so wonderful and so CHEAP! With half-hearted apologies to these magazines, we herewith give you OUR version of what can be done to refurbish your weary home—stead at a low cost . . . and what we write . . . believe us . . . is only slightly Grosse Exaggerated!

(IN THE MANNER OF THE MAGS.)

"John and I decided we couldn't stand another season in our drab living room . . . SOMETHING had to be done . . . but what? We had only $4.00 to spend! One night I had an inspiration. 'John,' I asked, 'Whatever became of that old fishing net your father used at the cabins to net the crawfish?' John said he thought it was in the garage. Without a moment's hesitation, I tore to the garage and sure enough there was the net!

"It was a discouraging sight . . . all filled with cobwebs and dust, but my enthusiasm would let nothing deter me from my purpose. I juggled it into the living room, to show John. He was as excited as I about my idea. Do you know what we did? In no time at all, we hied to the basement, dumped Mr. net in the tub and gave him the bath of his life. We then stretched it out to dry . . . and the following week we spent every evening at home, measuring, cutting and shaping the net into curtains for our living room windows! When they were finished, we realized we'd need a little touch of something to brighten them up . . . so this time the inspiration was John's. (You've no idea how much your hubby loves this sort of thing, once you get him interested!)

"John looked at me and said 'Tennis Balls!' Before I had time to be hurt, he added . . . 'Those old tennis balls in the garage! Why not clean 'em up, paint them a bright green to match the walls, and use them as a valance on the curtains?' WHY NOT INDEED, I thought. It was a splendid idea! We got to work again and in another week had the balls attached to the curtains, after we had painted them a grass green. (The paint costs us only $2.00!)

"The curtains made such a difference, we were just like a couple of kids over our new discovery. But we couldn't let it rest there. We felt like veritable professional decorators! Next we decided to tackle that tired old commode that was left to us by grandma. We had some green paint left over, so we painted it green then decorated around the drawers with little red ducks that John spent two evenings cutting out of some old red paper we had around the house. We found more uses for things we'd meant to throw away year ago!

"For instance, John had an old wagon wheel in the garage, which he painted . . . (we still had some green paint left), then he took the legs off an old chair we couldn't use . . . attached them to the wagon wheel . . . and presto! we had a conversation-piece coffee table that didn't cost us a cent! Of course, you couldn't put anything on it . . . but it DID look sweet in front of the sofa.

"The sofa turned out to be our biggest problem. The springs were sunken . . . but John soon had these fixed in a few weeks of working evenings. We then took up the old rug in the dining room, cut out the worn places and retained enough of the remaining rug to cover the sofa. This afforded us a brand new color scheme and a material that, not having to be walked on . . . would last us for years!

"After John painted the ceiling with the remainder of the green paint, we had only to add those little extras . . . the 'costume jewelry' . . . so to speak, that 'makes' the home. This was where I shined again! I picked up a bird cage for only fifty cents. Imagine! John painted it green (I forgot, we DID have some paint left), and we hung it in the center of the living room ceiling, where we will some day (when we can afford it) have it electrically installed for a chandelier. In the meantime, it makes a pretty decorative piece and anyway, we rather like candle light.

"Our last touch and one that makes our home talked about as really 'different' . . . was an inspiration John and I both hit on at once. We cut out of magazines, some of those marvelously colorful full-page ads. You know, like 'Men of Distinction' . . . (we were fortunate here in finding a picture of a Mr. Jones we had met once); One of the 'Spry' ads with those luscious looking cakes; a 'canned bean' ad . . . most picturesque, and a few others of equal importance. With our remaining $1.50, I fortunately was able to pick up some old picture frames which John painted with the last of the green paint.

"We pasted the picture ads on some old red blotting paper we had meant to throw out, then put them in their bright green frames and hung them all over the place. No, our house isn't a mansion. But it IS comfortable, it IS attractive and it IS talked about for its charm. AND WE DID IT ALL ON FOUR DOLLARS! YOU TOO can have the house-beautiful. It just takes a little imagination and a 'pooling together' of your combined ideas."

German Reparations

The proposal of Molotov, the Soviet Foreign Minister, that Germany's economic life should be placed in bondage for twenty years, the exaction of indemnities averaging $500,000,000 a year, can be understood in the light of the appalling losses in life and property which Germany brought upon Russia in the days of German arrogance.

That the demand is actuated in part by motives of brutal revenge is obvious. It is a far cry from the hopes and plans of the western democracies for a world of peace and order and prosperity.

That Germany should be compelled to make restitution to the limit of her ability for the wreckage she wrought is simple justice, but to rob her of the very machinery of production which is the only hope for restitution is ridiculous. The Russian course does not make sense.

We and all agree that Germany should be kept militarily impotent for as long as may be necessary to give the world a chance for recovery, free from the fear of any further war of aggression from that quarter, but to destroy all hope for her people to share in that recovery is supreme folly. Nothing could more surely point to world chaos. No act could more surely condemn the world to hopelessness for enduring peace.

If the Russian demands are merely one step in a studied plan to throw the world into chaos as a prelude to the introduction of communism, the outlook is still more discouraging. This possibility, fantastic as it may appear, calls for deepest examination.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

If you are over 21 and consider yourself senile — and don't we all—I have cheering news. You don't have to apologize to Alcoholics Anonymous every time you hoist your elbow. DR. EDWARD BORTZ of the University of Pennsylvania, a specialist in diseases of the aged, speaks in glowing terms of that old rascal whiskey. "Whiskey," says the learned doctor, "is a splendid tonic, a lift to the spirits, an aid to digestion and soothing to the tangled nerves." Took the words right out of my mouth.

And while we're on that spirited subject, I bet I know a way to cure a hangover, you don't know. At 21 for lunch the other day, I felt like the atom bomb was exploding under my hat and over my eyebrows in a serious demonstration purely for my benefit. I wanted to share the fireworks. I told my waiter, Easiest thing in the world he said. Just follow his instructions. He brought me a small glass of Fernet Branca. First the Fernet Branca—then a chaser of either cold water or soda, then a cup of hot coffee. In two minutes my eyes were uncrusted, my ears were rosy and flapping and a whiskey sour was being placed gently before me. I often wish I were the sophisticated type. . . .

I have been checking up on the old timers from France and the newer imports at the cafes and night clubs. LUCIENNE BOYER is back, at CAFE SOCIETY UPTOWN, singing Hands Across the Table with that soft old witchery. It seems a little ungracious to mention the fact that she has gone stout and is rather badly dressed in velvet, but she has let us down too—she might have kept that slim little figger she showed us 15 years ago. And she might have brought a couple of new DIOR models over to please us. After all, we're getting thrifty too, we want the Body, the Song, and the Look for our cover charge, these days. . . .

There are different opinions about MAURICE CHEVALIER. A great many people are glad to see him again and there are a great many others who think his managers are foolish to demand such a high price—$6 dol-lars on Friday and Saturday, 4.00 the rest of the week—for such a slight bit of entertainment. After all you can get LOUISE and VALENTINE on a platter. CHEVALIER prefaces each song with an amusing explanation in English. His delivery is ingratiating and the old straw hat and the stick are jaunty as ever, but six bucks IS six dollars—and you can read that again. . . .

CHARLES TRENET, after playing hard to get and oh look I'm temperamental, is back at the EMBASSY. After promising to be good, he no sooner moved into his dressing-room than he demanded that it be enlarged at once, so the poor management is right back in the squirrel cage. According to the public prints MR. TRENET also rushed right out into the highways and byways to personally obtain the biggest gold star in the city for his door. Maybe he already has the biggest opal in the world. When MR. TRENET sings, he claps an old hat on and off his bright orange colored pompadour and he pops and plops a pair of big blue eyes. His personality leaves me icy. On the other hand he sings with great charm. I have been told that he writes many of the songs sung by CHEVALIER and SABLON, and of course, the ones he sings himself. He has great possibilities. Maybe he will grow up. . . .

BEA LILLIE was lurching in the COLONY the other day, looking smart as all get out, in a black and white checked coat, dark glasses with wide yellow rims and a black pillbox on the back of her noggin. Her hair, still cut short like a man's, is more white than black now. One time when TRUMAN and I were going to Europe, BEA's mother and her son, LORD BOBBY PEEL, were on the ship, BOBBY, who was later killed in the war, was at that time a tall, attractive lad about seventeen. We became devoted to him and he spent most of his time with us, on the crossing. As I recall, TRUMAN and I invariably stayed up quite late, and as I recall, so did BOBBY. One night it got so late that BOBBY just didn't go back to his cabin at all—he slept on the sofa in our drawing-room. BOBBY'S grandmother phoned at an early hour. She was much annoyed. She was mad as hell. BOBBY was on his way to Switzerland to school. I saw him once after that, before his death. He was a dashing lad. . . .

"Spring Comes On Forever"

By FRED M. KOPP, R.P.H.

No season of the year is so eagerly anticipated as the lovely spring months when the earth seems made over for our especial benefit.

Certain dangers lurk, however, in the approach of milder weather. We throw off heavy coats and furs, change our ways of living, often expose ourselves to colds and these can lead to more serious pulmonary troubles.

Check with the doctor just in case you need a tonic, need Vitamins, or perhaps a rest for health protection.

Secure all your medical needs from a trusted druggist.

*Coty, Revillon, Schiaparelli
Tzigane, Tabu and Matchabelli—
The sesame sound of a dream perfume
May prove your password to love-in-bloom.*

Ever since one of this generation of Vanderbilts told us how his dowager mother in her dreamy old age took to brewing her own perfumes in the upper regions of their mansion, we've thought of the old GRANDE DAME as a fabulous figure for fantastic drama. The dramatic angle is intensified by the fact that the whole family lived in consternation of the possibility that in putting with her colored chemicals the aristocratic old gal would someday blow up both the mansion and themselves.

This macabre slant on the subject led us in recent months into researching in the ancient art and science of perfumery, a fabulous field—as engrossing as spiritualism, hypnotism and those other occult arts that land one with the Lotus Eaters.

Perfumery is today strictly Big Business. Fortune Magazine finds that the American essential-oil and aromatics business, in recent years, passed the $50,000,000 a year figure, with scented products having a retail sales value in the billions. (Note to our patient editor: Ever since we raised Jack Benny's salary from forty to eighty thousand a week, we've been checking figures with a tape measure.)

But—back to perfumery—precious scents have always commanded fabulous prices throughout history, and were in some periods reserved for royalty and religious rites. The first perfume formula on record appears, of all places, in the Bible. This is in the Old Testament when Jehovah ordered Moses on Mount Sinai to prepare the holy anointing oil with myrrh, cinnamon, calamus and cassia, indicating the number of shekels of each oil to be used.

Cleopatra, who lived in the first century before Christ was actually the originator of the cosmetic industry—for herself. Not only did this Daughter of the Ptolemies anoint herself in the fragrant, sacred oils of the Valley of the Nile, but she was the first female to use henna in tinting her hair.

Anyone who thinks the current upswing of perfumes and toilettries for men is a sensational new idea need only consult the records to find that the Romans of Julius Caesar's era used perfumes to the point of saturation! A Roman rite regarded as both virile and victorious.

The Renaissance brought a complete orgy in its revival of the perfumer's lore. Many of the French formulae for Enflourage were so carefully guarded that they are today retained by the descendants of the same establishments that created the scents. On the romantic little Isle of Reunion, off the coast of Madagascar, are still grown the valuable Bourbon flower oils, produced in sufficient quantity for normal world use. The haunting oil of Jasmine is still obtained in the meadows surrounding the French town of Grasse—and so involved is the distillation of the Jasmine that the oil sells for $100 an ounce.

The Big Word in the science of perfumery today is that nearly perfume is scientifically based in Darwin's Origin of Species where the scientist states that the animal scent glands are in active function during the mating season. Darwin carries his theory right down to the reptiles, giving one an unintentional smile when he writes that male snakes, though appearing so sluggish, are actually amorous. And this same spell-binding snare of subtle scents, one takes it, applies as well to the wolf pack.

In the last analysis, the potency of perfumes is exceeded only by the potency of the advertising copywriters who dream up those delirious names and full-page fabulous ads. If you've wondered under what strange influence this advertising copy is written, we'll break down and tell you. As one of the Lotus Eaters, we know. It's done under the influence of the perfumes themselves, carrying us away on their intoxicating fumes until we've been hypnotized into thinking we're commercial Keats and Shelleys. Sometimes they have to make us sniff spirits of ammonia to bring us out of the trance. Which is the blessing we wish you all with your flacons of Easter Perfumes.

JANE LUDWIG, ANNE MEATHE, and MARILYN MEURER were really surprised when the party given by some of their Sophomore friends took place in the home of Dick Hoskins. Two birthday cakes revealed the ages of the lovely lassies. Dating for the big evening were Jane and Dick Morketer, Marilyn and John Hoey, and Ann and Joe Cavanaugh. Others included Dick Hoskins and Marion McLaughlin, Dot Hillebrand and Tim Carrigan, Sally Murphy and Stan Jursek, Nan Bergmann and Larry Gelineay, Marg Clark and Pat Hamlin and Joanne Schummer and Chuck Wyllie.

ELLEN BOULT'S gal friends whiled away the twilight gathering in her home on Hawthorne road. Present were Beatrice Marchand, Thelma Piche, Issis Rabaut, Normie Schaefer.

Another unique get-together took place at the home of CONNIE CURRAM on March 21. The fun-packed affair was topped off with a scavenger hunt which was filled with suspense until the grand prize winners were announced. Connie sent her friends scurrying all over Indian Village before they returned for a buffet supper and dancing. Twosomeing it were Connie and Chuck Alaska, Nancy Downey and Paul Peot, Barb Van Tiem and Fred Maddock, Ray Bieski and Peg Hyde, Chuck Boulit and Ellie Wade, Jim Cronin.

At the SSS meeting last week, the Sophomore class under the leadership of SALLY MURPHY, astounded the assembly by putting on a program which really displayed the talent of the group. Sally planned the program herself and then the boys and girls staged a very professional performance. Members of the cast were Judy Athman, Joanne Schummer, Rita Leithausser, Nan Bergmann, Marilyn Muerer, and Dot Hillebrand, Howie Meathe, Mary Sparr, and Phil Van Hollenbeck.

The Ice Carnival was also attended by lots of merry-makers over the week-end. Admiring the lavish settings were Carol Staub and George Heidt, Mary Sparr and Al Campenhou, and Art Smith and Judy Hennecke.

The play "Joan of Arc" sponsored by the girls at Siena Heights College attracted crowds of people to Dominicans auditorium. Securing seats next to their friends were Ellie Wade, Connie Curran, Ann Dungaw, Gerry Dirchner, Mary Ann Baulingame, Kay Sutherland, Nan Schumacher, Peg Wortley, Joanne Krehnring, Dona Marsack, Carolyn Engelhardt, Chuck Alaska, Chuck Boulit, Tom Wyllie, Dolores Berges and Mary Perrone, Alice Fauser, Ralph DeCender and Mary Smith, Joan Betzing, Sally Nacy and Vince Oliver.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by
Jase Schermerhorn

It's just a matter of hours now . . . before the colorful Easter Parade takes place in Grosse Pointe . . . And as we look back on all those frantic Easter mornings when we traveled to the Pointe complete with the best cameramen . . .

We seem to remember most: The Alger orchids . . . as worn by Mrs. Harold R. Boyer and Mrs. Frederick M. Alger Jr. . . . The boutonnières of valley lilies worn on the morning clothes of their mates . . .

And all the little Algers and Boyers who looked puzzled when a battery of cameras pursued them as they wended their way to Sunday School at Grosse Pointe Memorial . . .

CRIMES OF CARELESSNESS
The long, self-conscious walk [NOT that we blame them] as the faithful saw cameras pointed their way at Christ Church Chapel . . .

How we'd all take notes ninety miles an hour . . . and end up hours later . . . back at the office . . . hungry for Sunday dinner . . . and worrying for fear we had mixed up Mrs. La De Da's costume with what Mrs. Whoop De Doop was wearing.

THE EASTER PARADE
And Easter always brings to mind . . . how a publicity gal walked up to a society reporter at lunch one Easter Saturday and chirped in friendly manner.

"Well, Minnie, I suppose you'll be in the Easter parade tomorrow morning" . . .

Minnie was silent for quite a while after the gal had left and then she gave a lady-like "hurrmmmmmm" . . .

"Why, what's the matter?" we asked . . .

"I was just thinking of myself in the Easter parade," she retorted . . .

THE EASTER EGG AND I
Another not-quite-in-the-spirit-of-the-season legend in that same department's Easter time history . . .

Was the Easter Saturday that one of the large hotels sent us a huge box, which when opened produced a mammoth chocolate Easter egg . . .

A reporter in the office admired the egg with some restraint, we thought, and asked who had sent it . . .

We mentioned the name of the hotel . . . and she turned back to her typewriter and her work . . .

It was full two hours later that she gave a series of short, bitter grunts . . .

"Is something the matter?" we asked . . .

"I've been writing that hotel's name for 20 years and no egg for me" was the observation . . .

EASTER GIRLS
The vanDerZee girls . . . Joan and Virginia . . . and their graceful mama . . . Mrs. Abram vanDerZee were always elegant Easter girls . . .

Turned out as fashionably as could be . . .

We always tried to get a picture of Hiram Walker . . . because it gave a Duke of Windsor tone to the Easter layout in the following day's paper . . .

And no one was more disappointed than the sports editor if there wasn't a predominance of top hats in the parade . . .

In those seasons when we DID manage to bring back three or four top hatted gentlemen in the Easter art . . . he'd smile gleefully . . .

"So that's the 'let them eat cake' set" . . .

SHE WAS NEWS, POOR GIRL
There would always be at least one frightened darling in the parade . . .

We were told by the city desk to "Snap" without fail . . . She was the girl who had just been granted her sixth divorce . . . or who had been publicized for slapping a horse's face . . .

And she was NEWS . . . (that season) . . .

THE TIME SCHEDULE
We had it all worked out on a time schedule . . .

Christ Church could be photographed a little earlier in its Easter dress than Grosse Pointe Memorial . . .

And it was better to get the folks leaving St. Paul's than on the way in . . . because of the system of alighting from cars at the side of the church where there was never room for a cameraman and a reporter . . .

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL
On the way back downtown to the office . . .

We'd usually see Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wilkinson taking one of their brisk constitutional on the Lake Shore . . .

And maybe C. Edmund Delbos . . .

And then we'd tell the cameraman THEY were Grosse Pointe's leading walkers . . .

day—April 18. Today's arrivals were MRS. CLAUDE BROOKS and her son, CHUCKIE, of Berkshire road. They've been in Lauderdale, too.

In the check-out department is MRS. FRANK A. KELLY of Neff road who flew to Los Angeles for a few weeks with her son and daughter-in-law, the WILLIAM JOHN KELLYS.

MARY BARTEMEIER, a bride-to-be herself, will play hostess next Thursday to Northender MARY LOU BOPP, who'll be married April 19. Mary has planned a bathroom shower to take place in her home in Cloverly road.

Baby note: MR. AND MRS. EDWIN FRED SANDERS of Lewiston road announce the birth of a daughter, SUSAN ANN, March 12. Mrs. Sanders is the former ROSEMARY MUER.

Out in Eaton town, N.J., there's some stork news of interest to Grosse Pointers: MR. AND MRS. GUERIN TODD JR. are the parents of a very new daughter, named MARY VIRGINIA. Mrs. Todd, you know, is the former ANN WILKINSON, daughter of MR. AND MRS. A. D. WILKINSON of University Place, whom she visited a short time ago.

If you're trying to keep up with those traveling D. DWIGHT DOUGLASSES, latest report fixes their headquarters at Los Angeles—a long jump from Boca Grande, Fla., where they've been for many weeks. YOUNG DAVID, in school at Phoenix, Ariz., will hop out to Los Angeles to spend Easter with his parents.

BETTY ANN BEAUFIT, student at Barry College, in Miami,

ALL CUTLER, born March 25. His mother is the former SUSAN NEEDHAM of Scarsdale, N.Y.

BILL GARD, son of the PAUL D. GARDS of Washington road, is off on tour. He's a member of the Yale Glee Club, and is spending this spring holiday jaunting around the South on the group's first postwar travels. Bill, a junior, will sing in concerts in Atlanta, Richmond, Winter Park, Hobe Sound, Palm Beach and Miami Beach.

The Caribbean is the spot picked for Easter by MR. AND MRS. JOHN W. MULFORD, of Provençal road and the JOHN T. ALLMANDS of Touraine road. The Mulfords, and JOAN, MARY, ANDREA and SUSAN left on Saturday for Jacksonville, where they'll be joined by the Allmands, who're stopping in Washington to collect VIRGINIA, at school in Chevy Chase. JOHN JR., CHRISTINE and TOMMY are also booked for the cruise.

BETTY PRATT left on Tuesday for a Gotham visit with her parents, MR. AND MRS. GLENN M. PRATT of Merriweather road, who are in New York.

Williamsburg, Va., is the vacation spot picked by MRS. CHARLES BARBER MARKS of Cloverly road for a spring holiday.

Reports tell us that MRS. JOSEPH B. SCHLOTMAN of Lake Shore road is at Ossabaw Island, Ga., and will remain in the South over Easter. Mr. S. returned to the Pointe last Sunday.

The HARLOW C. STAHLs of Merriweather road have arrived in the Pointe filled with enthusiasm for desert life. They spent three weeks at picturesque Jocke Inn, near Phoenix. The Staahl's came home in due time to greet HARRY STAHL, home for spring vacation from Michigan State College.

Palm Beach is the destination of MRS. CHARLES DAVIS JR. She left last week to be the guest of MR. AND MRS. CHARLES DAVIS, her husband's parents.

MRS. K. HARRIGAN GAGE of Bishop road and her son, EDWIN GAGE III, returned to the Pointe last week-end. They have been vacationing in Tucson, Ariz. since November.

MRS. EDESEL FORD is stopping with her brother-in-law and sister, MR. AND MRS. ERNEST KANZLER at their winter home at Hobe Sound, Fla. She will return home April 8.

After a month's stay in California MRS. STANDISH BACKUS returned to the Pointe last Wednesday. She spent most of the time in Santa Barbara, where she visited her brother-in-law and sister, MR. AND MRS. HAROLD S. CHASE and MR. AND MRS. STANDISH BACKUS JR., her son and daughter-in-law.

Marian Potter, Bride Of Richard Franzen

Rev. Frank Fitt Performs Ceremony in Memorial Church; Young Couple Take Motor Trip to Florida

Marian Muir Potter wore her maternal grandmother's wedding gown on Saturday afternoon for her marriage in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church to Richard A. Franzen.

The Rev. Frank Fitt officiated in the ceremony uniting the daughter of the John H. Potters of Moross road and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tore Franzen of Nottingham road.

Marion's heirloom gown was of ivory satin, and fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. The dress ended in a cathedral train.

The bridal veil was of illusion, edged with heirloom lace. That veil and the waist-length face veil were fastened with an orange blossom tiara. Marion's bouquet was white freesia, centered by a white orchid.

Marion's sister, Sally Potter, was maid of honor and wore a dress of chartreuse faille with fitted bodice, double puff sleeves and a boat-shaped neckline. Her tiara was white iris; her bouquet was white iris and grape ivy.

Tore Franzen was his brother's best man and Arthur Franzen, Foster Barrows, Jack Wood and Fred Dewey acted as ushers.

The bride's mother chose an aqua crepe gown with a tucked neckline for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore a burnt straw hat and a corsage of brown orchids.

Mrs. Franzen's dress of pale green crepe was fashioned with a V-neckline and cap sleeves. Her accessories were of gold, and she wore a matching net hat and a green orchid corsage.

The reception was held in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. Howie Muir of Ridge road. Mrs. Muir was gowned in grey-blue crepe. Her dress was accented with embroidery at sleeves and neckline, and she selected a mulberry straw hat.

The young couple left for a two-weeks' trip to Daytona Beach, Fla., by automobile. Marion's traveling ensemble was a print dress, navy topcoat and accessories, and furs. She wore a white orchid pinned to her coat.

ODD FACT

When a rabbit they were pursuing ducked into a burrow, members of a New South Wales hunting party found there an outcrop of coal which led them to coal resources of about 60,000,000 tons.

Mothers' Club Giving Benefit Bridge Party

Event to Boost Scholarship Fund for Deserving Students. Scheduled for April 10 in School Cafeteria

Final plans are being made by the Mother's Club of the Grosse Pointe High School, for the annual benefit-bridge to be held in the high school Thursday April 10. Dessert will be served in the cafeteria from 12:30 to 1:30 followed by bridge.

Local and downtown merchants have donated beautiful gifts to be used as door prizes.

The club annually sponsors a party to increase the scholarship fund. This fund was established by the club to encourage graduates of the Grosse Pointe High School, with high ability and promise to continue their education on a college level, and to assist in making this possible.

Lieut. Martha Fisher Bride Of Lieut. John E. Hannan, Jr.

The wedding of Lieut. (jg) Martha Warren Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott Fisher of Milwaukee, and Lieut. (jg) John Eugene Hannan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hannan of Grosse Pointe Farms, was solemnized on March 29 in St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Milwaukee.

The bride and bridegroom are serving in the Navy in Memphis, Tenn. The former Miss Fisher is on the staff of the U.S. Naval Hospital there and the bridegroom is in the dental clinic of the Naval Air Technical Training Command.

Navy blue gave way to traditional satin when the bride was married in the gown previously worn by her sister Suzanne when she became Mrs. Norman Quale. Designed with a long, snug bodice and full skirt, with a net neckline was filled with net edged in seed pearl detailing. A half hat of matching satin held the fingertip veil of illusion. The bride carried white hyacinths, tulips and sweet peas.

Mrs. Quale was her sister's matron of honor. Her gown was of white faille fashioned with cap sleeves, a bateau neckline and pleated skirt. She carried scarlet tulips matching a band of the same flowers worn at the back of the head.

The senior Hannans were present for the ceremony, as were the bridegroom's sister Barbara and his brother Horace, who was best man. Ushers were Norman Quale and Naval Pilots Lieut. Michael Toms and Lieut. (jg) Charles Frissell, who flew from their station in Memphis to attend the ceremony.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue afternoon frock and a matching hat trimmed with red poppies. The mother of the bridegroom wore aquamarine with gray accessories and carried flame carnations.

Following the reception in the Fisher home the young couple left by motor for a honeymoon in Chicago before returning to their base.

The new Mrs. Hannan attended Mt. Holyoke College and completed professional training at the Boston School of Occupational Therapy. The bridegroom attended Washington and Jefferson College and Yale University and obtained his degree in dentistry at the University of Pittsburgh. He is a member of Kappa Sigma and Psi Omega fraternities.

Alpha Chi Omega To Meet April 12

Mrs. Millard Toncray, of Buckingham road, will be hostess to the Detroit alumnae chapter of Alpha Chi Omega, at a buffet luncheon in her home on Saturday afternoon, April 12.

Assisting Mrs. Toncray in planning the luncheon is a committee of sorority women, with Mrs. John Lonn, chairman; Mrs. John Van Dam, Jr., Mrs. Henry Johnson, Mrs. Robert Jamison, Miss Doris Hutchinson, Mrs. Edward J. McKernan, Jr., Mrs. Melvin Hollinshead, and Mrs. Willard A. Schumacher.

Luncheon will be followed by the reading of annual reports and the installation of next season's officers, headed by Mrs. Nelson Frolund, of Hawthorne road, who will serve her second year as president of the Detroit alumnae chapter of Alpha Chi Omega.

Final plans will be completed at this meeting for a spring series of benefit bridge parties, with proceeds to be given to Children's Hospital for needed equipment. The sorority women have made their initial gift to the hospital in the form of a check to provide an incubator unit for premature babies, and will use funds from the bridge parties to present additional equipment.

University Club Dinners Popular

Grosse Pointers have been partaking of the sea food dinners the University Club has been giving these Lenten weeks.

Some of those who ate the clams and lobsters last week-end include Mr. and Mrs. Frederick West, the J. M. Blooms, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Barr, the H. W. Standards and Mr. and Mrs. William Hoey.

Others who also had reservations were Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Johnstone, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frost Jr., the Robert Hatches, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kane and Peter Haller.

A quartet was Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Emmons and Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Emmons Jr. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Brien, Dexter Ferry, Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Spalding and Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Baer were also there.

Career Women Form New Club

Organization of a new luncheon club for women business executives has been announced by the founders. The group is called Women Who and has been meeting once a week in the Women's City Club.

Miss Genevieve Hazzard, teacher of advanced public speaking in the Grosse Pointe public school adult education program, is one of the club's organizers. Others who have been active in getting it started include Mrs. Mary VanderPyle, Miss Thelma Shain and Mrs. Martha Griffiths.

Joan Leslie, motion picture star, is to be the first distinguished guest of the club at this week's session.

Roy Ouellette Return From Florida and Cuba

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ouellette of Audubon road returned home to the Pointe last week in time to welcome the spring holidays. They spent several months vacationing in Fort Lauderdale, Florida and Cuba.

Their house guests in Florida were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ouellette Jr. of Grosse Pointe Woods, Mrs. Curtis Longsdorf of Algonac, Michigan and Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Stafford of Adrian, who also joined them on their trip to Cuba.

Creedons to Entertain At Club Supper Party

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Creedon of the Whittier will entertain at a small cocktail and supper party in the Grosse Pointe Club on Easter Sunday night.

Guests of honor will be Mr. and Mrs. Dean Robinson of Provençal road.

Party Plans Completed

Members of the committee for the Mothers' Club annual spring bridge party to raise scholarship funds for Grosse Pointe High School students, leave a planning session held in the home of the club president, Mrs. Leon Jacoby, in Fisher road. Left to right are: MRS. ARTHUR LAMB, social chairman; MRS. JACOBI, MRS. R. E. CHAMBERS, ticket chairman; and MRS. ARTHUR F. UNDERWOOD, publicity chairman.

Sorority Events Occupy Pointers

Panhellenic doings are occupying several Grosse Pointe women these days. Mrs. John E. Thomas of McKinley road was chairman of the day at the benefit bridge given by Detroit-Grosse Pointe Alumnae chapter of Alpha Phi in the Detroit Edison auditorium on Tuesday.

Mrs. Perry A. Penz of Harvard road assisted with plans for the party, proceeds from which go to the sorority's national charity project—to give cardiac aid at hospitals.

The Detroit Alumnae chapter of Sigma Kappa met in the home of Mrs. Walter Bauman of Berkshire road on Monday, for a dinner and business meeting.

Mrs. Jack Mills of Kensington road was in charge of the meeting of the Detroit Alumnae of Gamma Phi Beta when the group gathered for dinner Tuesday evening in the Women's City Club.

St. James Lutheran Guild Meets April 9

The Women's Guild of the St. James Lutheran Church of Grosse Pointe will hold its next meeting on April 9 at 1:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. H. J. Meinke, 4701 Three Mile drive. Mrs. G. E. Kurz will serve as co-hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Erland Reuter Entertain Swedish Guest

Mr. and Mrs. Erland Reuter of McKinley road will have as their guest during the Easter holidays Mr. Reuter's cousin, Kurt Reuter of Stockholm, Sweden.

Mr. Reuter, an account executive with Sweden's largest advertising firm, is spending three months in the United States making a study of advertising agencies and their methods. He is also visiting plants and meeting American business representatives.

Society of Engineers' Wives to Hear Story

The true story of a Chinese girl, Soumay, will be told by Mrs. Virginia Squier in costume to the Society of Engineers' Wives at the meeting of the Society on Wednesday, April 9, in the Rackham Building. Luncheon is at 12:45 p. m. and the meeting at 1:45 p. m.

NEW CORPORATION

Carl G. Sterr and his veteran son, Richard Sterr, of Roslyn road, Grosse Pointe Woods, have become associated with a new corporation, LeClair-Sterr, located in the General Motors Building.

Yacht Club Plans Dual Celebration

Two big features have been scheduled for the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on Easter Saturday night, April 5.

There will be a tea dance and cocktail hour in the Grill Room from 6:30 until 7:30 with the members and their guests urged to stay on for dinner and dancing to Jack Oakie's music.

The club's second College Night will be staged exclusively for prep school and college ages in the Main Lounge and Green Room, reserved especially for this group. Tommy Weldon and his band will furnish the music for this party, with dancing from 8:30 until 12:30.

Miami Alumni Holding Dinner

A number of Pointers will attend the first postwar annual dinner of the Southeastern Michigan Miami University Alumni Association, being held tonight, Thursday, in the Witherell YWCA.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Harry Williams, head of the speech department at the University of Oxford, Ohio. The program will include movies of the university.

Among the Pointe alumni attending are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mihalik of McKinley road, Mrs. Mary S. Ambrose of Neff road, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell H. Orebough of McKinley road, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Harding of University place, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Pratt of Neff road, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Blackburn of Rivard boulevard, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kay and their daughter, Barbara, of Yorkshire road.

Barbara will have the following students from Miami as her houseguests: Barbara Kandenbush of Norris, Tenn.; Marjory Newell of Kenton, Ohio; Margaret Kinnear of Richmond, Ind., and Eva Kramb of Toledo, Ohio.

The league will hold a card party on April 16 in the Detroit Edison auditorium. Tickets may be obtained through Mrs. Rosello, TUXedo 2-1485.

News from Pittsburgh Of Interest to Pointe

News from Pittsburgh, Pa., is of note to Pointers—the engagement of Dorothy Alice Kearns is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Kearns.

Her fiancé is a Pointer, Edward Arthur Just, son of the Alfred B. Justs of Grayton road. The wedding will take place at St. Philip's Church, Pittsburgh, on April 12.

The desire to make living better for the other fellow can be as strong as your wish to make a better living for yourself.

Pointers Headlined In Engagement News

Mary Elizabeth Hodges to Be Summer Bride of Emmet Scott Rumley; Frank Sladen, Jr. to Wed Elizabeth Worcester

Announcements made in Kenwood road and in Winterport, Me., brought romantic news to Grosse Pointers this week. The principals are Mary Elizabeth Hodges and Emmet Scott Rumley and Elizabeth Worcester and Frank J. Sladen.

Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hodges, Jr., will be a summer bride, her parents disclosed at a tea on Friday in their home.

The attractive bride-to-be wore a street-length black afternoon dress for her announcement party, and her mother was also wearing a smart black gown. The white-and-silver color scheme was followed in flowers and appointments, with a tea table centerpiece of white tulips, stock, anemones and freesia in a silver bowl.

Mary's fiancé, Emmet Rumley, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward A. Rumley of LaPorte, Ind. The bride-elect was graduated from Baldwin School, Bryn Mawr, Pa., and the Franklin School of Professional Art in New York City.

Emmet is a graduate of Exeter and Yale. He was graduated from Yale in 1938.

Frank Sladen, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. Sladen of Lincoln road, is now at Yale University. His fiancée, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Worcester, attended Cornell University and is at present director of music at Riverdale Country School, Riverdale-on-Hudson, N. Y.

Frank attended Yale before he entered the infantry, where he served two years in Europe. He is a member of Zeta Psi fraternity.

Kid Bits

By Mary Prevo

The opening on March 20 of MARIANNE TROMBLEY'S 16th year was the occasion for a delightful bridge party and buffet supper held in the Trombley home. MR. and MRS. TROMBLEY, DOLORES DECK and MARY WATERFALL had arranged the party so that it would be a complete surprise to Marianne, and their plans were MOST successful! Marianne thought the family was going to the Boat club for dinner to celebrate this EXTRA SPECIAL day, and you can imagine her surprise when she came down stairs dressed in her party best and was greeted with 26 smiling faces and shouts of "Happy birthday, Marianne!"

Gals seated around the tables were Ann Candler, Barb Orphal, Sally MacDonald, Janet Johnstone, Nancy Georgi, Pat Perrone, Gail Wright, Carroll Grylls, Norma Neeb, Polly Wilton, Janet Hobson, Martha Fairless and Megs Mackenzie.

Others eating ice cream and cake and listening to Marianne and Dolores Deck play a two-piano arrangement of "Night and Day" were Gladys Osterman, June Moffet, Jeannie Webb, Kathie Strek, Susie Johnson and Sally Andrus. Even MORE were Barb Bauman, Lois Holtz, Marcy Wetherbee, Sheila MacRae and Jean Dowzer.

There was a full-fledged gala out at the NEEB'S villa last weekend! NORMA'S guests—Carroll Grylls, Barb Bauman, Janet Hobson and Sheila MacRae had a gay time skiing and tobogganing at Grayling, Michigan. Mr. Neeb and brother Luther also went along for a jolly time.

BILL HAHN is back in town! He will remain here for a few weeks' spring vacation and then, mid much fanfare will return to Proctor Academy in New Hampshire.

If any of you happened to drop in at the Harvard House to dine on the 22nd, you probably noticed a gay group of young girls seated over in a corner, and having the time of their lives! You see, MELBA WALLACE turned 18, and the celebration was done up in a great way. Ann Stewart, Ruth Applegate, Jeanette Fink and Harriet Prevo were Melba's guests for the evening. They supped at the Harvard House, and then went downtown to a movie. After the movie, they stopped in at the Wallace home for ice cream and cake, and admired Melba's newly decorated boudoir which is done in an exquisite shade of yellow and has maple furniture. It reminded the girls of one of those "dreams" which is usually found only on magazine covers.

Another social event of the weekend was SIGMA LAMBOA'S SPRING DANCE which was put on in the Lochmoor club. Don Royale and his orchestra set the pace for the dancers, although we've heard that a few of the dancers themselves borrowed the instruments and made their own music during the orchestra's intermission. Everyone was out in their best bibs and tuckers to dance in this romantic setting. A fire flickered in the fireplace all evening, and at one end of the room was a photographer who took pictures of the dancers. Seen trying out the latest steps were Marianne Trombley and Bill Isby, Ann Candler and Hugh Dill, Barb Orphal and John Cobane, Sally MacDonald and Bill Hester, June Moffet and Bill Gallegher, Annie Davis and Ed Isby, Charlene Salmon and Tom Willson, Ingrid Koebel and Jim Flom.

JOANN LYONS tossed an after-theater party on March 21 for Marilyn Wroblos, Renee deLeon, Gloria James, Sally Ferny, Pat Barnes, Nancy Byrum, Sallie Hoyt, Joanne Quandt, Betty Pesanoska, Elaine Cabot and Carol Stewart. There was lots of bridge played, 'n' lots of food eaten, but the girls still found time for chit-chat.

'Twas a grand affair over in the A. D. WEBB establishment on the 27th! JEANNE had expected just a few of her very dearest friends for supper, and was most surprised when in popped 24 gals to help her celebrate that which is perhaps the most festive of all birthdays—her 16th. Jeanne, who is the SWEETEST "sweet sixteen" that this column has run across, looked like a doll that night in a navy blue suit with a dainty white blouse and a corsage of daffodils which added that extra birthday "oomph."

It was Mrs. Webb who had invited the girls and planned the party so it would be a huge surprise. Eating scalloped potatoes and meat balls (which were simply DE-LISH!) were Carroll Grylls, Janie Lundgren, Jane Worley, Meecky VanZanen, Jan Skillman, Janet Johnstone, Nancy Georgi, Lois Holtz, Meg Mackenzie, Annie Candler, Norma Neeb, Alice Neville, Doris Die-sing and June Moffet! Barb Orphal, Ginny Granse, Marilyn Walters, Merry Bauman, Jan Hobson and Polly Wilton were others, and to finish the list, there were also Sally Andrus, Sheila MacRae, Barb Bauman and ye columnist.

Short and to The Pointe

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH deGRIMME have returned from New York where they spent two weeks at The Plaza.

Making their way East are MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH L. HICKEY of Edgmont Park. They left last Saturday for Baltimore and from there will journey to Philadelphia to see their son, JOE, who is a student at Villanova College.

MRS. JOHN W. ANDERSON returned to her home on Lake Shore road last week. Mrs. A's two months' stay in Florida was divided between stopovers in Palm Beach, Ormond Beach and Miami Beach.

The WILLIAM C. RONEYS of Provencal road are back in the Pointe after visiting MR. AND MRS. CHARLES CORCORAN of Fort Lauderdale.

MRS. MILDRED H. TON-CRAY of Buckingham road was headed for Miami Beach, Florida when she left the Pointe. She is the guest there of her brother-in-law and sister, MR. AND MRS. JASON SAUNDERSON of Sioux City, Iowa.

Back home are the HENRY E. BODMANS of McKinley place after spending three weeks at Fort Lauderdale. They made a stopover en route home for a short visit with their son and daughter-in-law, MR. AND MRS. HENRY T. BODMAN of Washington, D.C.

Naval Reserve Taking Non-Vets

It is now possible for men between the ages of 17 and 40, without previous military service, to enlist in the United States Naval Reserve for inactive duty. It was announced today by Commander George M. Winne, U. S. Navy, officer in charge of Navy recruiting.

The expiration of the Selective Service Act on April 1, makes it possible for these men to obtain valuable training in more than 50 Navy trades in their spare time, continued Commander Winne.

These men will receive a full day's pay at their rate for each training period attended. Uniforms are furnished by the Navy at no cost to the recruit. A two-week salt water cruise to a foreign port may be made each year with full pay and allowances.

Additional information may be obtained at the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station in the Federal Building, or at the Naval Armory, 7600 E. Jefferson Avenue.

Cancer Society Needs $320,000

With a goal of $320,000 as the objective, the annual campaign of the American Cancer Society will be launched in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties on April 7. It will continue throughout the month of April.

Supported by Presidential Proclamation and an official act of Congress, the Cancer Society's drive this year is of more than usual significance because of the intensified program now underway to combat cancer in the Detroit area. Early in June the American Cancer Society and the Detroit Institute of Cancer Research, maintained by the Society, will open their new building at John R and Hancock Streets.

"HEAVENS TO BETSY..."

"HOW CAN INVISIBLE LIGHT MAKE MEAT TASTE BETTER?"

WHY, IT'S EASY, MA'AM, chortled the butcher. "These new germ-killing lamps in our refrigerator stop bacteria cold—thanks to invisible ultraviolet rays... and that means less waste and more taste for your money!"

For years, you see, butchers have had a difficult problem in keeping meat both pure and fresh. Refrigeration, of course, is partially the answer. Refrigeration will slow up the growth of mold and bacteria to almost nothing—will keep meat practically 100% pure. But refrigeration alone cannot always keep meat from drying out. And when meat does dry out, it loses its natural flavor, juiciness and color.

Now, however, the germ-killing lamp, properly installed, makes it possible to increase the temperature and humidity in butcher shop refrigerators. That's because its invisible ultraviolet rays destroy airborne bacteria before the meat is contaminated.

The result? Sanitary, sweet-smelling meat storage, for one thing. Less chance of meat spoilage in your own refrigerator, too, because your purchases are healthfully pure and—at the same time—juicier, tastier, more flavorful... not shrunken, discolored or dehydrated.

The germ-killing lamp is not brand-new. For some years it has been used—in many types and with varying results—to fight airborne bacteria.

During these years, scientists and engineers made a thorough study of the lamp to determine exactly how best it could be used. As a result of this research, it is now possible for every meat market in southeastern Michigan to get the maximum benefit from these lamps—easily. A butcher need not know how to compute the required number of lamps—need not be an expert on bacteria counts or ultraviolet radiation. For Edison specialists can study his problem and give him specific recommendations.

There's no charge for this accurate, impartial advice. It's another example of how Edison service can help Edison customers get the most from all the electricity they buy.

BUTCHERS ARE BEAMING!

Naturally, their new germ-killing lamps are them both new and money. Less spoilage... no more time and trouble in cleaning discolored meat.

P.S. The customers like them, too! There's no such more heat and more value for them!

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

MRS. HENRY BODMAN'S striking grey hair is set off more beautifully than ever when she wears that very smart grey suit with the felt bowler with the grey mesh veil. Her mink coat topping the ensemble makes a pleasing contrast in color.

MARY ANN DODGE looked so pretty at a recent party in a velvet navy wool costume. Her head was adorned with a small form-fitting navy felt trimmed with a clever arrangement of white grosgrain ribbon.

Never saw MRS. WYLIE CARHARTT look prettier than she does in that adorable navy blue straw chapeau with the two white aigrets, pointing up and down on the front. With this she was wearing a well tailored navy blue suit and she certainly looked snazzy.

PILFERINGS

Women who appeal most to men don't appeal to them for anything.

The problem of marriage is knotty but nice.

People for whom life is made easy generally find it hard to take.

The average gal considers her time well spent when she spends it spending.

Women trying terribly hard to be agreeable are often terribly trying.

People are funny—so says Katharine Brush—
Once on a motor trip in Florida she asked a bell hop in a hotel lobby where the lady's room was, and he replied, "What lady?"

And there was that fine moment in a crowded New York night club when one of society's haughtiest darlings summoned the head waiter and said to him imperiously—"You will simply have to find me a better table than this. I mean I refuse to sit packed in here among all these other swine."

Pointer of Interest

DICK JACKSON OF MERRIWEATHER ROAD

By Olive H. Henry

When Dick Jackson was seven years old, he attended a performance of the "Varieties," the annual production of the students of the Detroit University School and the Grosse Pointe Country Day School. The backdrop used in many of the scenes appealed to him so much he wondered if he couldn't make something like it, and this led to his trying his hand at painting on a sheet.

He used paints such as are employed for posters, known as "Show Card Colors," and he took as his first subject a city street scene, showing the figures of two children gazing at office buildings, with an airplane in the background. A nother sheet painting of interest was a "modern" angel, done in brilliant colors, such as Botticelli never dreamed of but I think would have liked. An amusing arrangement of hats, coats and clothes hangers looked as though they were dancing on the sheet background, with a Carmen Miranda fruit head dress flirting with a pair of shoes.

Dick proved that he shares his father's, Mr. Richard W. Jackson's interest in boats by making a sheet painting of sail boats. A child's love of animals resulted in another sheet painting of giraffes, zebras, donkeys, snakes, lions, tigers, panthers and birds in striking colors never before seen in the animal kingdom.

When Dick was in the fifth grade, last year, the students of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the Detroit University School were asked to submit drawings, and eight of the most promising students were chosen for a special art class. Dick enjoyed being one of the "chosen few" and is continuing his regular art study this year.

Three years ago when Dick was eight years old, he painted a delightful picture, called "The Octopus and the Snowflake." An artist friend of the family so admired Dick's modern interpretation of his subject that he asked for the picture, and it now hangs in an unusual modern frame among his artistic treasures. The octopus is painted a beautiful shade of magenta, swimming on waves of chartreuse, with the white snowflake floating above. I am sure that were the Museum of Modern Art in New York to see this creation of Dick's, they would deem it worthy of exhibition.

In the present exhibit of modern prints at Girard's may be seen two pastels of Dick's, one called "Circus Performers" and the other "Flowers in the Woods." A watercolor he has painted takes one right to "Maine."

Several years ago Dick received a gift set of marionettes, which remain one of his primary interests and for which he enjoys making scenery and furniture. He has given many performances for his family and friends and originates all of his plays. He does not use any script, but rehearses a few times privately and then presents a finished performance.

After a professional marionette show given at Dick's school, he was asked to assist in dismantling the "props" and invited to work some of the marionettes. His expert handling of same resulted in the professionals inviting him to their studio and the promise of a job as an assistant at any future performances, should he so desire. Dick finds that at 11, his time is pretty well taken up in acquiring an education, so the marionette job has to be put aside.

Dick enjoys drawing with pens with felt nibs, such as are used for making maps, charts and graphs and used generally by advertising firms. These require a special type of ink and, as these come in brilliant colors, they make a happy medium for Dick's modern interpretations.

With a talent such as Dick's, it would seem inevitable that he use it professionally in his future career, but when asked how he intended using it he replied, "I think that I would like to keep my painting as a hobby, and I might want to be a pianist in the future." We agreed that it might be a little early to make such a decision, but whatever form it takes, if artistry is a requisite, Dick certainly has "what it takes."

Reporter's Log Book

By DICK McDANIEL

Capt. Charles Harlan Harrison, only U. S. Army weather observer accompanying the Admiral Byrd Antarctic Expedition, describes his share of the adventure in the following account. These are excerpts from nine letters mailed from Little America to Richard Harrison's cousin, Richard McDaniels, of the Grosse Pointe News advertising staff.

Captain Harrison writes from the USS Mt. Olympus of Task Force 68 of "Operation High Jump."

Dick McDaniels, recipient of the letters, is also author of the "Reporter's Log Book," weekly column of the NEWS.

This is the third installment of Captain Harrison's account.

29 December 46: Another week is past and we are much further south. The temp is holding about plus 30. We are still in large water areas but are seeing much more ice each day. At noon or thereabouts tomorrow, we should be at Scott Island and meet the remainder of the ships that will enter the ice pack with us. The admiral will transfer to the Northwind, which is the icebreaker that will go first. I imagine that ship will see plenty of ice. There will also be two sea-plane tenders go ahead of us. We will only see the broken ice parts. That's all, with me.

Picture Making

Briefly summing up the past week, Monday, 23rd, we were at 48 degrees south and 118 degrees west and still heading southward. The show the "Seventh Victim" was the first show to be held indoors. Before this, they were on deck and we sat through them rain or shine. The reason for moving in was not the weather—it was because we are now getting into light all through the 24 hours and the deck didn't get dark enough to show movies.

In the afternoon, Lt. Shirley, USN, who made most of the pictures taken on a previous expedition and is in charge of all the official ones that will be taken here, gave us quite an interesting lecture on the care of cameras and film in cold weather operation. Nearly all of us have some sort of a camera. The groups of army observers met and started the outline of how they will cover all the navy projects even though there aren't experts from the army in all the naval phases that will be tried. We divided them all up as nearly as possible to conform with our own specialties and we should be able to make some sort of a report on all the operation.

Tuesday, 24th, in the afternoon, all the correspondents were introduced to the ship officers and the military observers so we would get an idea of what types of stories these correspondents are looking for. The Saturday Evening Post, New York Times, Associated Press, Columbia Broadcasting System, Colliers, New York Herald Tribune, Scripps-Howard Newspaper Chain, Chicago Tribune, United Press, International News Service, and National Broadcasting Company all sent representatives.

Christmas Party

The talks were interesting but it still seems to be a lot of people just to gather news.

The chaplain had a Xmas party today with Sualec Atnas arriving down the ladder instead of down a chimney as Santa Claus does in the northern hemisphere. Sualec Atnas was dressed in a full dress suit with the stiff shirt front and had a bill-like nose appended. It didn't take much imagination to realize that he was made up like his helpers, the penguins. He talked about his rival, Santa Claus, told how Santa had taken his name "Saulc Atnas" and turned it around in the north to form the name Santa Claus and how Santa used Brownies, instead of Penguins as helpers. But there wasn't anything to eat, no ice cream, no cake, nothing at all, so I lost my interest in it and returned to my room and borrowed "The Egg and I" from my roommate Capt. Murray Weiner.

Wednesday, Christmas Day. Slept late, up for lunch and then back to bed and the "Egg and I." For dinner we all had to be in full uniform, the Navy in dress blues, the Army in dress greens while some Marines dressed in navy blues and others in army greens. Had a good dinner. Finished the "Egg."

(To Be Continued Next Week)

HOUSEHOLD HINT
Prunes can be used as garnish for meat dishes, for desserts, and for salads. Prunes are full of natural fruit sugar. They need no added sugar. You can cook them and add them to the breakfast cereal, garnish the meat dish with them, stuff them with cream cheese and nuts, for salad, and serve them alone with cream or custard sauce for dessert.

Pointe Counter Points

by OLIVE H. HENRY

Did you have the good fortune to see Walt Disney's movie called "Bambi?"—if so, you'll remember the adorable little skunk named "Flower." FURS BY ROBERT have some adorable skunks, dyed to look just like martins and made up into jackets which will flower for you for $375. If you've a mind for mink, and who hasn't, there are jackets and capes of ranch mink; or if you've a mind to be "wild" there are minks who will play with you that-away. A squirrel jacket travelling incognito as a mink (no GI man could discover the difference) may travel into your closet for lettuce to the tune of 400 leaves. Real Russian sables, soft as goofab feathers, and so elegant are to be had for $100 a skin—(that's no skin game)—and up, according to how elegant you wish to be. Natural stone martin skins are $100 and $125. Just to prove that you don't need a fortune to be well furred by Roberts Freres, there's a scarf of four sable dyed kolinsky skins for $123 which would become any fortunate female, and mink scarfs may be made up from skins which take only 35 simoleons. Can you think of anything you'd rather have to complete your Easter costume? Not only that but every costume will be complimented by the addition of "FURS BY ROBERT."

Salt Over Our Shoulders

By
Mary Lodes and Agnes Goldwire

Well, we've got a deadline to meet, so here goes nothing. You know, writing a column is quite a job, especially for the non-professional writer. There are deadlines to meet, and regulations to follow.

We sit and think and think. Then we think some more. We could write a review of a play or a symphony, but by the time it gets in the paper, the subject of the column is gone and forgotten. Because, of course, the copy must be in long before the paper goes to press, so it can be cut or revised, proofread, and space allotted in the dummy.

We think of writing comedy and then we think: "The columns have been light conversational pieces for the past three weeks. Maybe we should write something serious." And then we must consider that with so many world problems, the United Nations Conference and their troubles, strikes and threatened strikes, civil wars, border disputes, murder and mayhem, perhaps people would rather read something in a lighter vein for a change. So first we have to settle the nature of the column.

Then we worry about subject matter. That takes a while and then suddenly we realize that tomorrow is the deadline and we haven't even started writing. Every spare moment during the day and lunch hour is devoted to jotting down notes and ideas. Then you write it down, but not so for us. Because, for some reason, when the two of us get together, it is hard for us to concentrate on the serious business at hand. We put a record on the record player—Sibelius' Seventh Symphony, or maybe Beethoven's Pathetic Sonata—and settle down to write. But soon we are gazing off into space, listening to the music and watching the pictures it calls into our minds. Our gazes meet. We awaken with a start and industriously start writing. But presently one of us will start, "Say, what happened to Lorenzo. Are you still going out with him?" or "By the way, I wanted to ask you about that book you were reading, "Sights and Sounds in a Fago-Fago Wooden Factory."

"How did it turn out? Did Gerianna get her red flannels dyed purple?" We've off. We talk for a few minutes and then realize that we do have a deadline to meet and begin on our task. "Lovely. The Column is in and we can sit back and relax until the paper comes out and we see our names blazoning out at us and our words shining in a haze of glory from among all those other unimportant words. But—what do you know! It's time to start all over again."

You think we don't love it? Oh, but we do!

these notes must be incorporated into a readable and fairly well connected piece of copy.

Well, now we've got it written. We must read it over, checking for mistakes in spelling or grammar. Is everything we said connected in some way with our subject? Is it the right length? Not too short. So we must write some more (after much more thinking). And it must tie in with the rest. We get a good idea. Quite an idea. We write several more paragraphs. We read them. They sound O. K.

Now it's time for typing. So we type. And we find—unhappy day—that the column is now too long. We go over it again and revise. Type again. Now we must proof-read to see if we've made any mistakes in typing. (And we always have.) So we proof-read, each one checking again for mistakes in grammar and spelling and sentence structure. And for continuity in theme. It seems all right to us so we wind it up with "30", the journalistic symbol for the end, and turn it into the paper.

It sounds fairly simple when

36 Candidates Seeking 18 Berths in Circuit Court

Thirty-six candidates are seeking 18 places on Wayne County's Circuit Court at the elections next Monday, April 7. Statements prepared by some of these candidates or their supporters are printed here that Pointe voters be helped in casting their ballots.

HENRY G. NICOL

"The alarming increase in Wayne County's divorces since the war, requires drastic changes in our divorce laws at once, if we are to avoid countless broken homes, unhappy unwanted children, and a consequent increase in our now serious juvenile delinquency problem," is the message to the citizens of Wayne County from former Circuit Judge Henry G. Nicol, candidate for re-election to the bench on April 7, who is advocating a change in our divorce statutes to require a residence of two years instead of the present one year as a solution to this serious problem.

"As Circuit Judge of Wayne County from 1936 to 1942, Judge Nicol had ample opportunity to observe the type of divorce cases most prevalent, and this decided him that the reform he is seeking will go far toward keeping many homes from breaking up.

"Judge Nicol, who comes from an old Detroit family, was born and educated here, graduating from the U. of M. Law School, and served as Circuit Court Commissioner of Wayne County from 1907 to 1936. During this time, he became acquainted with thousands of litigants from all over Wayne County. In 1935, he was elected Circuit Judge of Wayne County, serving with distinction for the next six years, when he resumed private practice.

"Judge Nicol is a resident of Grosse Pointe, residing with wife, Elizabeth, at 16833 Cranford Lane, City of Grosse Pointe.

THOMAS J. MURPHY

"Rated near the top of Wayne County's 17 incumbent Circuit Judges, in the recent preference poll of the Detroit Bar Association, Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy, one of the youngest members of Wayne County's Circuit bench is a candidate for re-election at the election next Monday, April 7th.

Judge Thomas J. Murphy, who is a resident of Grosse Pointe Park, living with his wife and children at 1010 Buckingham road, is a graduate of Western High School class of 1918. He got his A.B. Degree from the University of Detroit in 1922, and his LL.B. Degree from the L. of D. Law School in 1924, where he later became an instructor. He was associated with Sidney Doyle, former Judge Ernest P. LaJoie and Phillip J. Neudeck in the practice of law, until 1932 when he was elected to the Wayne Circuit bench.

"The Detroit News, Times and Free Press and all leading civic groups strongly endorsed his candidacy when he ran for re-election."

NED H. SMITH

"Judge Ned H. Smith, for 12 years Judge of Common Pleas Court with an outstanding record for ability and efficiency, is a candidate for advancement to the vacancy in Circuit Court at the election next Monday, April 7.

"Thousands of his hosts of friends and admirers are rallying to his support in this campaign to make him Circuit Judge, a promotion they feel he has earned and deserves. He is endorsed by the Detroit Bar Ass'n. which in its recent poll gave Judge Smith 12th place rating in a field of 18 to be elected.

"When Judge Smith was born in 1901, he had weak eyesight and was not able to attend the regular public schools and began his education in 1909 at the Michigan School for the Blind at Lansing. He remained at that school until the completion of the tenth grade work. He then came to Northern High School in Detroit where he was graduated in 1921 with honors. He then entered the University of Michigan and took two years of work in the college of literature and arts, next entering the University of Michigan Law College, from which he was graduated in 1926 with the degree of LL.B., being the first blind student to be graduated from the Law College.

"Judge Smith was appointed to the staff of the Prosecuting Attorney of Wayne County in December 1926. He served eight years in that office, under three prosecutors, during which time he was assigned to the investigation of accident cases. During the last three years of such work, he was assigned to the Traffic Court where he conducted trials involving charges of negligent homicide, manslaughter and leaving the scene of an accident. Judge Smith was elected to the office of Judge of Common Pleas Court of the City of Detroit in 1935, for a two year term; re-elected in 1937 for a six year term, and again re-elected in 1943, he is one of the few successful blind jurists in the United States."

GERALD F. FITZGERALD
"I believe my 19 years of successful legal experience and my determination to interpret the law fairly, intelligently, and im-partially to all races and creeds justify the continued support of the voters of Wayne County, at the election, next Monday, states Circuit Judge candidate Gerald F. Fitzgerald.

"Gerald Fitzgerald was born on a farm in Van Buren County, Michigan, 44 years ago, was educated in Kalamazoo graduating from Western State Normal College. Coming to Detroit he worked in law offices here while attending the Detroit College of Law, where he graduated in 1927, and has engaged in the private practice of law since that time. He is married, and the father of two children, and a member of the Detroit Bar Association, the Michigan Bar Association, American Bar Association, and the American Jurists Society.

"He has practiced extensively in all courts City, State, and National, and is well qualified to interpret the law. He is a resident of Grosse Pointe, living at 311 McKinley road.

JAMES MONTANTE
"Endorsed by outstanding citizens and organizations, James Montante's candidacy for Circuit Court Judge is gaining great momentum daily.

"Montante has resided and worked in Detroit for over 35 years and received his literary and legal training at the University of Michigan. Supporters are articulate in their praise of his fine legal mind and judicial temperament.

"Montante enjoys the vigorous support of civic, church, professional and voters groups. He has been a lawyer for 17 years, and is a veteran of World War II. He served overseas with the Office of Strategic Services (OSS). He also served as trial judge advocate.

"Montante's outstanding record as a fairminded and patriotic lawyer and citizen insures his success as a judge of the circuit court, in the election on April 7."

THEODORE J. RICHTER

Judge Theodore J. Richter was born at Harbor Beach, Michigan, in 1882, came to Detroit two years later. He lives on Lake Shore road, Grosse Pointe. He was graduated from Eastern High School and from the Detroit College of Law in 1906. He practiced law up to time of being appointed deputy county clerk under the late Judge Morse Rohmert, continuing in that position until the death of Judge Rohmert.

He was elected Justice of Peace (now known as Common Pleas Court Judge) in 1913, holding that office for eight years. Appointed Circuit Judge by governor to fill vacancy created by death of Judge Hosmer in 1921, he has now held that office for 26 years. During that period of time he has continually applied all of the skill and experience at his command in the exercise of the important duties attached to that office. Has given all litigants his impartial sympathy and understanding, and has al-

Famous Bench Presents 282 Years Experience

One of America's most distinguished courts, the Wayne Circuit Bench, will present to voters here on April 7th an enviable record. The 17 Judges who are candidates for re-election have a total of 282 years of service on the local Circuit bench. Carrying the designation of "Circuit Judge," on the ballot, these Judges not only provide nearly three centuries of judicial experience in Wayne County but have made their Court outstanding nationally for its achievements. The full complement of this famous Court is pictured here. Seated (left to right): Judges GUY A. MILLER, THEODORE J. RICHTER, ARTHUR WEBSTER, ADOLPH F. MARSCHNER, CLYDE I. WEBSTER, IRA W. JAYNE, JOSEPH A. MOYNIHAN, VINCENT M. BRENNAN, ROBERT M. TOMS; standing: Judges FRANK B. FERGUSON, CHESTER P. O'HARA, THOMAS J. MURPHY, SHERMAN D. CALLENDER (only member not seeking re-election), JAMES E. CHENOT, GEORGE B. MURPHY, LILA M. NEUENFELT, JOHN V. BRENNAN and THOMAS F. MAHER.

ways administered justice not in accordance with any vain or personal wish, but in accordance with the dictates of justice and the long established principles of our law.

He is a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge at the coming election, April 7, 1947.

LILA M. NEUENFELT

Judge Lila M. Neuenfelt is seeking re-election on April 7 as a Circuit Judge for Wayne County. She was elected to the Circuit Bench six years ago, the first woman to be so elected in the State of Michigan.

She had formerly been on the bench in the City of Dearborn for 15 years, having been elected and re-elected 5 times by the voters of Dearborn.

In her election to the Circuit Bench six years ago Dearborn cast 85% of her votes for her.

She was born in Lewiston, Michigan, but has lived in Wayne County since she was 14—in Highland Park, Detroit and Dearborn. She was graduated from the Highland Park High School and University of Detroit Law School with LL.B. and L.L.M. Degrees.

Her record in the Supreme Court shows more than 85% affirmance of the cases appealed from her court.

HENRY S. SWEENEY

"Henry S. Sweeney, candidate for Circuit Court, is outstanding and belongs on the bench. He was Assistant Attorney General under Governor Alex Groesbeck. Appointed to Recorder's Court by Governor Fred Green, served for six years. A councilman for eight years. World War veteran for 27 months. Teacher at University of Detroit for five years. Now a teacher at Graduate Law School.

"Henry S. Sweeney has been a leader in all matters for political and economic protection of minority groups. A great humanitarian, endorsed by hundreds of civic, labor, business and church groups throughout the City.

"Many leading attorneys and judges say 'He belongs on the bench.'"

FRANCIS M. TREXLER

"I believe our Circuit Court should have a domestic division to handle divorces and domestic cases exclusively," according to Francis M. Trexler, popular progressive candidate for Circuit Judge at the election next Monday. "Our entire Circuit Court procedure" continued Mr. Trexler "should be speeded up and revised so that cases will not be delayed as much as a year or more in trial, resulting in the disappearance of witnesses and failure to remember testimony."

"Francis Trexler was born in Patton, Pennsylvania, 49 years ago and his lived in Detroit 24 years. He worked his way through College of Law by laboring in a shop. He has actively practiced law in Detroit for 14 years and served as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney of Wayne County from 1941 to 1947. He is also a graduate of the Liberal Arts School of the Detroit Institute of Technology. He is an overseas war veteran of World War I and his son served two years overseas in World War II. He has the unqualified endorsement of organized labor and of many leading fraternal and civic groups."

WILLIAM E. DOWLING

"When one of the Circuit Judges declined to run after filing his nomination petitions, a group of 50 Wayne County attorneys suggested to William E. Dowling that he allow his name to be entered as a candidate.

"Without spending one cent and with no campaign William E. Dowling was nominated, leading the entire field of stick-candidates.

"On the ballot next Monday, the name of William E. Dowling will appear among the 36 candidates for one of the 18 places on the Wayne County Circuit bench, but he must depend on the memory of the voters since he is unable to do any campaigning. He is spearheading the fight in Washington for lower gas rates for residential consumers in Wayne County.

"Previous to his appointment as Corporation Council of City of Detroit, William E. Dowling served as Prosecuting Attorney of Wayne County for four years. While in that office he continued to carry to a successful conclusion the many matters left from the Ferguson Grand Jury, convicting and sending to jail the balance of those who had violated the trust which the voters had placed in them.

"Dowling carries the endorsement of many veteran organizations since he served in World War One for more than 4 years, having enlisted at the age of 15."

WILLIAM BRASHEAR

"William Brashear, prominent Detroit Attorney is seeking a place on the Circuit bench. He practiced law for 18 years, starting at the age of 21. During World War II he served in the Navy, operating in the South Pacific. On his return he opened his law office Brashear & Brashear in the Penobscot Building with his brother.

"He is a member of the Michigan and American Bar Association, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars. His ability as a successful trial lawyer is well recognized and his many friends urge his election. He is endorsed by many leading citizens and Civic Organizations, and is highly qualified to fill a position on the bench."

Lawn Sprinkler Eliminates Work

A sprinkler, being sold by Jimmy Collins Motor Company, 9200 Conner, has been appropriately named TRAV-EL-AWN. And that's exactly what it does. For a TRAV-EL-AWN actually moves along the garden hose as it sprinkles... then stops and shuts itself off automatically... when the sprinkling job is finished.

Water power does it all. There are no gadgets, no buttons, nothing to wind up or get out of repair. The TRAV-EL-AWN is propelled by a simply designed but powerful hydro-jet motor having but four moving parts. Power is supplied by the water moving through the hose. It will operate from the regular pressure in any water line.

Moving at the rate of twenty to thirty feet per hour along the hose, the sprinkler automatically revolves the scientifically designed Watermatic nozzles that sprinkle in a sixty-foot circle, distributing the water with the gentleness and thoroughness of an April shower. The specially designed nozzles can be quickly and easily adjusted for any type of rainfall desired, from a mist to a heavy shower.

The actual operation of this amazing new sprinkler is as simple as its design. All the owner has to do is to set out the hose to the spot where the sprinkling is to start and couple on his TRAV-EL-AWN. A tripper is set under the hose at the point where the sprinkler is to stop and shut off automatically. Then he turns on the water and goes about his business. The sprinkler will do the rest... actually walking along the garden hose... sprinkling as it goes... then shutting off automatically at a pre-determined spot.

Woods Commissioners To Be Well Posted

The Woods council at the meeting Tuesday night directed the village clerk to instruct the Michigan Municipal League to send its bulletins to each member of the village commission.

These bulletins are highly regarded as sources of information on all matters at the state capital affecting the village government. Heretofore they had gone only to the village president, clerk and attorney.

Scouts Producing Great Cavalcade

Valuable assistance is being received from many outstanding sources by local Scouts and Leaders in their preparation and production of "Tomorrow's Men," the mammoth Cavalcade of Scouting at the State Fair Coliseum, April 11 and 12. The Detroit Edison Company is constructing a model hydro electric tower for the Disaster Relief Event, which event portrays the first aid and rescue work of Scouts in different disasters.

Hit-Run Driver Rams Parked Car

Patrolmen Dilloway and Kesteloot of the Park police, in making their rounds on the night of March 31, discovered a parked and empty car on Mack between Berkshire and Buckingham. Closer examination disclosed the car had been run into and badly damaged. Pieces of metal from the offending car were found on the pavement but the hit-run traveller had failed to leave his calling card.

NEW ENGLAND WOMEN

Mrs. John H. Hufton, treasurer of Detroit Colony, New England Women, will open her home on Normandy avenue on Wednesday, April 9, from 10 to 4 o'clock, for a sewing and social session, to which all members are invited. East side members are urged to make reservations by Tuesday, April 8, with Mrs. Albert C. Pasini, of Bedford road, corresponding secretary.

Another splendid piece of construction made by Scouts (especially for the occasion) is an actual size gas station which is exploded as a "tornado" initiates the Disaster Relief Event. Other spectacular and colossal events besides Disaster Relief, include Fire History, Pioneering, Camping, Indian-lore, Physical Fitness, Senior Scouting and Cubbing. Several specialties or short acts are being included in between the major events. Such specialties include fund provoking presentations by local Scout clowns, trained by professional vaudeville artists. Also the Nation's Junior Champion Drum and Bugle Corps. This group sponsored by the Racine County Boy Scout Council is traveling all the way from Racine, Wis., to participate in "Tomorrow's Men."

Blue Devil Cagers Honored At Party Given by Olsons

Coaches and Mascot Share in Surprise Festivities Topped by Falcon Basketball Game in Olympics

By FRED RUNNELLS

The Grosse Pointe Blue Devil Varsity basketball team, champions of the Border Cities League, were honored at a private party given by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Olson of McKinley avenue last Saturday night.

It was supposed to be a surprise party for Bob Olson, Grosse Pointe's star center and surprise it was as Bob was almost floored when the entire team made an appearance as Bob walked into the house for supper.

Delicious baked ham, meat loaf, scalloped potatoes and gallons of milk took a beating when the hungry bunch went to work on the beautifully prepared buffet supper prepared by Mrs. Olson.

After supper the team presented its coach Ed Wernet with two scrumptious Hollywood shirts in appreciation of his unselfish efforts during the past season.

Bus driver Frank Webb, the team's adopted mascot, was presented with a beautiful wallet and an enlarged autographed picture of the team.

The evening's festivities were climaxed when the boys were guests of the Olympia management for the final Falcon basketball game of the season.

Those present were: Dick Russell, Paul Grubbs, Johnny Rummel, Dick Wuerker, Leroy Guaresimo, Tom Willson, Dick Bray, George "Judge" Mantho (he got that monicker from sitting on the bench so much this season), Ed Isbey, Don Graham and Jerry Allen. Coaches Wernet, Harold Fisher and bus driver Frank Webb and team manager Joe Fromm made up the balance of the group.

Congratulations to a couple of parents who know what a championship team likes and deserves. It's too bad some of the city fathers didn't have enough foresight to give the team a party of this nature first.

Pitcher's Eye View of Spring Sports

Taken from the pitcher's mound in this "gag shot" baseball game introducing four sports now getting under way at Grosse Pointe High School and at schools all over the country. Track star DAN BECK, extreme left, gets set to take off for first base as tennis star PAUL GRUBBS waits for the pitch. JOHNNY RUMMEL veteran catcher holds up his big mitt for a target as BOB OLSON, Lochmoor Club champion and one of Grosse Pointe's top amateur golfers, waits his turn at bat in the batters ring. Baseball Coach PAT KAULITZ already has called one strike on the batter. Grosse Pointe High does not sponsor a golf team for Border Cities League competition but does send a golf team to the State Golf Tournament. Olson was the Class A medalist last year.

Boosters Show What Enthusiasm Can Accomplish

By FRED RUNNELLS

A year ago a group of six men out in St. Clair Shores formed the Boosters Club for the express purpose of bettering that community's recreational facilities and decrease juvenile delinquency by keeping the youngsters busy in their spare moments.

The present membership of the Boosters Club is 110 enthusiastic men.

The first job the group tackled was to install lights on the Lakeshore High School football field and last fall the high school team played its games under lights and drew huge crowds of students and parents.

The original estimate for the lighting system was over ten thousand dollars and the Boosters Club knew this was beyond its reach. Several men of the club started looking around for a cheaper way to get the job done and after several telephone calls and queries to the right sources the group cut the cost for the system to $5,500 and work was begun last summer to give St. Clair Shores the first lighted athletic field in the area.

Only one nocturnal stadium in the Detroit area has more wattage than the Lakeshore High School field that being University of Detroit's stadium.

After the system was installed the biggest problem of the project faced the Boosters Club, that of paying for it.

Bingo parties, boxing matches and other means of raising money were employed to raise money and with the Boosters Club second annual amateur boxing match, held last Friday night, the lighting system is over half paid for.

This summer it is planned to have night softball games to raise more money to help pay off the remaining debt.

This is just an example of what an interested and determined group of men can do once the community decides what it wants.

Nine Meets on Schedule Of Pointe Cinder Artists

By JOE FROMM

Grosse Pointe High School's 1947 track schedule calls for six dual meets, an invitational meet, the state regionals, and the state final meet.

The season will begin with the River Rouge Invitational Meet to be held at Ann Arbor on April 19 and will continue through until the state meet to be held at Lansing on May 24.

Five of the six scheduled dual meets are with Border Cities League teams, one with each. The remaining dual meet will be against Hazel Park.

Grosse Pointe track fans will have only three chances to see their favorite run on the local cinder paths. They will be April 23 against Hazel Park, April 29 with Royal Oak, and May 13 with Highland Park.

Although the River Rouge meet is on the schedule, entry will depend upon prevailing weather conditions before the meet. That is to say, if the weather is not good enough for outdoor practice the thinclads will not have ample time to work themselves into condition.

This meet is a climax for schools sponsoring indoor track. Since the Blue Devils have no such facilities they are forced to depend upon the weather conditions.

Very little can be based upon the results of this meet, since

Heart power may prove a more effective answer than manpower.

From Joe To You
By Joe Fromm

Saturday night the Detroit Falcons defeated a Toronto quintet at Olympia in a Basketball Association of America game. On the Toronto roster is "1" Ralph Siewert.

Siewert, it is remembered, played for Mt. Clemens High School and participated in games against Grosse Pointe High. He played basketball, football, and baseball. Several springs ago he had a tryout with the Detroit Tigers as a pitcher.

The "fan of the week" honor should be awarded to the ten year old youngster seen reading a COMIC BOOK during intense action in the recent regional basketball games at Ferndale.

Or maybe the honor should be presented to the elderly gentleman at the boxing matches at Lakeview High School Friday. In the midst of strenuous vocal support the gentleman's false teeth popped out of his mouth. He caught them about two feet out and in the words of Mr. Edward Wernet, "almost choked himself putting them back in amidst the excitement."

During the surprise party held for cager Bob Olson Saturday night many old stories were retold. One was of an incident during a football practice session several years ago.

A player of mediocre calibre was leading interference on an end run play. With his head down he saw a figure in football pants loom in front of him. He threw his whole body into this block and executed it with perfect form. Down the figure went as if he was hit by a ten-ton truck.

But lo and behold who was the victim of this bone crushing block but line coach Harold Fisher.

It was the best block this player threw all year. Coach Fisher will testify to this.

Here's a sure fire way to get yourself into condition for football season. Follow the example on football coach Edward Wernet and do a little mountain climbing. Mr. Wernet likes to climb mountains when he has the spare time. When he was still playing high school football he used this form of exercise to get himself into condition.

Some of the players that Mr. Edward Wernet played with and against during his minor league career are now established major league players.

Champ High School Crew Starts Indoor Workout

By FRED RUNNELLS

With crocus plants pushing through the soft warm earth and the robins returning to these parts to shiver and freeze through the unpredictable spring weather, the Grosse Pointe oarsmen have started indoor workouts at the Detroit Boat Club, under the direction of Judd Ross, one of the nation's top rowing coaches.

Last year under the direction of Ross the Blue Devils established one of the best records in high school rowing. After defeating every rowing club down river and in the Central States Regatta, the Blue Devils entered the Centennial Regatta at Hamilton, Ontario and defeated the best high school crews Canada could muster.

Later in the year the Grosse Pointe crew entered the National Regatta, held on the Schuylkill River in Philadelphia, and won the six races the squad was entered in.

The crew was loaded down with hardware it collected in the National Regatta and deposited them in the trophy case at the Boat Club; seven trophies in all, one for each race, and the Julius H. Barnes Trophy, which was the point trophy awarded to the team garnering the most points for the entire regatta. As the result of their showing in the National Regatta the Detroit Boat Club, sponsors of the Grosse Pointe crew, was ranked as the leading rowing club in the nation.

Coach Ross will have a big problem to solve before the season opens, being faced with replacing such boys as Coxswain Charles Quarnstrom, Bob Beaupre, Harrison Blair, Bill Moll, Earl Lapp and Walt Pesamoska, who is in the Army. The rest have graduated and are no longer available for high school competition, but no doubt will receive invitations from the Boat Club to row.

Diamond Call Produces 78 Aspiring Baseball Players

Coach Pat Kaulitz Warns only Three Weeks Remain Before Opening Game; Field Not Yet In Shape for Team

Once more baseball looms into the "limelight" of Grosse Pointe High School's spring sports program. Seventy-eight prospective players reported to a meeting called by Coach Pat Kaulitz on Monday. Mr. Kaulitz brought it to the boys' attention that only three weeks remain before the opening game on April 22 and that they would have to buckle down to business immediately.

The 78 aspirants were divided into 8 catchers, 14 pitchers, 27 infielders, and 29 outfielders. Included in this figure are eight returning lettermen from last year. They are catcher John Rummel, pitcher Ken Christian, infielders Matt Patterson, Erwin Cischke, Ray Sawusch, and Herb Gerhard, and outfielders Jerry Allen and John Brink.

Actual practice began for pitchers and catchers only. They will have to do their warming up inside the gym that is already housing more than 100 trackmen.

Infielders and outfielders are scheduled to begin outdoor practice on Monday, weather permitting.

The diamond is not in condition for playing and probably will not be for several weeks. Several truck loads of clay were dumped on the field two weeks ago and nothing has been done to it since.

All the players and the coach are fairly confident of a better season than last year when the team won five games and lost seven. Only two of the victories were against Border Cities League competition.

League Leaders Blank Opponents

Star Bar stayed in first place in the East Side Independent Bowling League last week by taking four points from Kuryla. Horn Fuel and Supply moved into a tie for second place by taking three points from Hakim Brothers.

Horn tied the high single game team mark with a 1002 and gained second place for the team high three with 2766. Capt. Harry Damm had a 603 series.

S and M Bar is also tied for second place by virtue of a 3-1 score.

Springer Shoes beat Al Long Ford, 3-1, winning the second game by one pin and the total by eight pins. Harper Berkshire Service lost ground in dropping three games to Kercheval Machinery.

Town Pump Cafe blanked Jack's Service; Kubiak Jewelry took three from Form-Rite; Jim's Bar lost to Merle, 1-3; and Falcon Rec. beat Dillon, 3-1.

Harry Damm's 238 was high game for the night. Other good games were: Joe Liska, 226; Gordon Hays and Fred Whelstone, 223; James Harrop, 221; John Stadnikis, 219; Lewis Ritz, 213; 203; Larry Penner, 211.

We are suffering from a famine of inspiration.

Veterans Want To Be Sponsored In Pointe League

Spring is surely here when teams start looking for sponsors for the coming baseball season.

The first request received by the News Sports Department is from a group of Grosse Pointe alumni who played their first organized ball at Grosse Pointe High School. Most of the members of the team were in service and this will be their first opportunity to get back into the game.

It is the intention of this group to enter the Grosse Pointe Hard Ball League this spring. If you remember correctly it was the G.P. Hard Ball League that was reorganized last summer and had an extremely successful season in Class B.

No word has been received from the head of the league at this writing but you can be sure the league officials are hard at work arranging for playing fields and lining up an attractive schedule for the teams and Grosse Pointe residents.

Any merchants who are interested in backing a team can get the full particulars by calling Fred Runnells, Grosse Pointe News Sports Editor, at NI. 8403.

The first person to call will get a bargain as far as equipment is concerned as the alumni group has a line of 15 uniforms which were used by a team that participated in the league last season. The only expense as far as the uniforms are concerned is the changing of the lettering to advertise the merchant's business.

Joint Memorial Officers Elected

The Joint Memorial Day Association held its first meeting for the preparation of Memorial Day ceremonies for Detroit and for the election of officers on March 19 in the Veterans Building.

Daniel W. Ottinger was re-elected president, Nathan F. Sprague, vice-president, and Mrs. Alice Cowdin, secretary. Lewis Cooper, a Spanish War veteran, is to be Grand Marshal of the Day. William E. Dowling is again Chief-of-Staff.

Of five new trustees and committee chairman elected, four were World War II veterans, giving the first show of their strength in the Joint Memorial Association.

The Detroit Naval Post No. 238, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will again conduct the Naval Service at Belle Isle. Other services will be held at Roseland Park and other cemeteries. Plans are under way for a most interesting Memorial Day Parade.

Record Number of Players Answer First Tennis Call

By FRED RUNNELLS
With only three veterans, Paul Grubbs, Tom Willson and Bill Penoyer, returning from last year's championship tennis team, Coach Larry Westerville issued the first call for tennis candidates Monday afternoon and was greeted by the largest first day turnout the coach could remember in his 14 years at Grosse Pointe High School.

Sixty-eight young hopefuls sat against the same number of defeats. Hamtramck High School generally regarded as the metropolitan high school tennis power has met Grosse Pointe in three scheduled meets and has come off second best on each occasion. The battle for number one spot on the team appears to be between Paul Grubbs, a smart trick player, and smooth stroking, steady Tom Willson.

These boys teamed up last year to give Grosse Pointe one of the best doubles combinations in the state. They were runner-up to another Pointe doubles combination, "Ax" Jamal and "Butch" Skau, who won the state title.

Harold Love Wins Florida Tennis Crown

Captures Clearwater City Tournament from Local Top-Ranking Player

Harold O. Love of 1610 Ford court, Grosse Pointe Woods, took time out while in Florida visiting Mrs. Love's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Scherling, formerly of Grosse Pointe Park, to win the Clearwater city tennis championship on Saturday, March 29, at the Clearwater Tennis Club.

The Pointe entered the tournament at the last minute and was very much of a dark horse. He met Ed Bealand, top-ranking netter of Clearwater, in the finals and beat him in three sets, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

Great Ice Show Now in Windsor

"Ice Cycles of 1947," an all-star musical ice revue studded with champions of the figure-skating world, began a week's engagement at the Windsor Arena, Windsor, Ont., Monday, March 31. It will run through Saturday, April 5.

Evening performances start at 8:30 o'clock with a matinee Saturday at 2:30 p.m. The arena is two blocks from the tunnel exit.

"Ice Cycles" is produced by Ice Follies Shipstads and Johnson and Ice Capades John H. Harris. Although only in its second year, the show already has broken box office records of Ice Follies in Portland, Ice Capades in Dallas and the Sonja Henie show in Omaha.

The 2 1/2-hour show features a variety of entertainment in its 20 acts: stilt-skating Henry Lie; the Aljeans and their sophisticated take-off of ballroom dancing; stunt-skating Buddy Lewis; comedy by Loeb and Sullivan and the adagio team of Depaux and Payne. The company of 80 has a chorus of 32 which is featured in six productions.

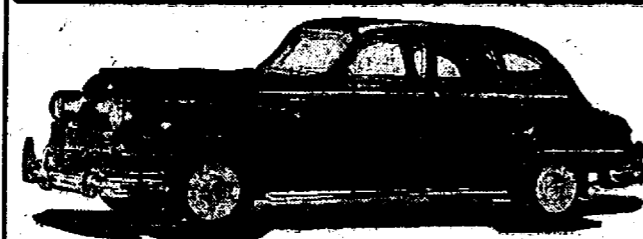

Market Thieves Frightened Away

Manager William Moir of the Farms Market notified the police March 22 that burglars had tried to get in his store some time the night before.

The pink had all been pulled from the door hinges and there were peculiar footprints in the snow that had apparently been made by a hunting boot or a certain type of moccasin. The thieves had been frightened away before they finished their job.

CAR MIRROR STOLEN

Frank J. Wilton of 721 Belmont reported to the Park police that some time between 8 p.m. March 25 and 8 a. m. March 26 someone stole the outside rear view mirror from his car and broke his radio aerial.

FOR POWER PICK-UP AND PERFORMANCE

Your car can get spring fever! It gets clogged and choked up, sluggish, and its pep is gone. A change of oil is not enough. Cold weather can cause imperfect combustion, cooling system difficulties, ignition troubles that show up in Summer driving.

At Ray Whyte Chevrolet, we have been making these Spring adjustments and saving future expenses. We're equipped to do this work. Our Engine Analyzer mechanically points out these small troubles as accurately as an X-ray. A few adjustments, a lubrication and grease job by Chevrolet trained men, a wash and a polish and your car can hold up its head anywhere.

We have a complete body shop to take care of the bumps and scratches, an engine overhaul department for making old engines like new. We have an automobile service center second to none. We're proud of our policy that we have not raised our prices, and many are lower, than the O.P.A. standard.

Bright Stars Sing 'New Moon' Hits

"The New Moon," high among Sigmund Romberg winners, is the Civic Light Opera attraction this week, running into Sunday night next, with a Saturday matinee. Once again Barrie O'Daniels, managing director, plays up the cast, which is over-run with box office names.

Edward Roecker, six-foot-two, lyrical hit of "Vagabond King," as well as "Rio Rita," brings back his rich baritone as Robert Mission. Opposite him in the feminine lead of "Marianne" is Margaret Spencer, coloratura soprano hit of last season, and a standard name in operetta. The good old laughing standby, Jack Goode, is a holdover with new song and dance diversifications. Ian Keith and the dancing satirists, Ellsworth and Fairchild, are added attractions, together with John Shafer, Toby Durst, Joe Macauley, Evelyn Daw, Thayer Roberts, Ruth Gillette, Philip Van Dyke, Nat-asha Carr and Dorsey Taylor McLaughlin.

Romberg's musical score contains no end of popular song hits that have prospered since that autumn night of 1928 when "New Moon" first bedazzled Broadway. "Stout Hearted Men," "Lover Come Back To Me," "Softly as in a Morning Sunrise," "One Kiss," "Wanting

You," "Girl on the Prow" and "Marianne" are all set on the unforgettable list. Highlighting the final week of the season, that of Easter Week, will be "Wizard of Oz," opening Monday night, April 7, and running into Sunday night. In addition to the usual Saturday matinee, there will be a Sunday matinee for this attraction, which hold special appeal to children, which might include ages from 6 to 60. Amid colorful and spectacular effects, the extra big cast will headline such specialists as Evelyn Wyckoff, Gil Lamb, Patricia Bowman, James West-erfield and A. Robins.

BUS HITS PARKED CAR

A DSR bus going east on Mack avenue at noon on March 25 skidded and hit a Chevrolet coupe that was parked in front of 17898 Mack. No one was hurt. The driver assumed full responsibility for the accident and said the company would pay the damages.

Pointe Players Maintain Standing as Dramatists

BY VICTOR HUGHES
High School Journalism Student
Grosse Pointe High School's
Pointe Players maintained their fine dramatic standing last week when they staged Moss Hart's and George S. Kaufman's comedy hit "You Can't Take It With You."

Revolving around the endearing, rollicking, and ever so wacky Sycamore family, the play promotes an enticing though impractical philosophy. The net result was a new, laugh-full angle to a tread-worn plot.

Overjoyed that young Alice, (the only completely sane member of the Sycamore family), is going out with the wealthy and prominent Tony Kirby, the Sycamores invite Tony's parents for dinner. Trouble arises when the elite Kirbys arrive on the wrong evening, catching the Sycamores in a typical zany scene (mamma painting the toga-clad ice man, papa exploding fireworks, Grandpa Vanderhof feeding his snake and, daughter Essie practicing her ballet to the accompaniment of her husband's xylophone and the direction of her raving Russian tutor, Boris Kolonkof). The outcome is a night in jail for all—including the Kirbys.

Earl Brabb portrayed the philosophizing Grandpa Vanderhof while Diane Faulk showed her dramatic talent as the well meaning but highly eccentric mother. The inventive father was characterized by Jim Donahue. Love interest was provided by Pat Hammond and Bill DeGraw, who played Alice and Tony. Virginia Gregory and Calvin Purdy completed the family as the ballet-crazy Essie and her husband.

Peter Klaver and Mary Ellen Antrim effected thick accents for their tempestuous Russian roles. Virginia Blake and Ted Fuger were backed up to play the colored maid and her parolled boy friend. Sam Evola and Joy Williams played the parts of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby.

Also included in the cast were Bill McBride, Bob Shaw, Jennie Quirk, Marilyn Hirt, Al White, Bill Penoyer, and Jim Brown.

Al White acted as student director, Keenan Jacobi was stage manager, Bill Siebert was in charge of sound effects and George Hughes was lighting technician. Faculty sponsors were Mr. Frederick B. Nelson, director, and Miss Jean Campbell.
