Changes in Police Radio Channels Ordered by FCC

Meeting Being Held in Detroit to Discuss Allocations for Various Departments in Detroit Area

Inspector E. C. Denstead, in charge of the Detroit Police Department's communications system, has called a meeting for 2 p. m. today in his office in the police headquarters building on Beaubien, of the police chiefs and radio officers of the Detroit metropolitan area to discuss the Federal Communications Commission's recent allocation of new channels for police radios in this area.

The first information of this action by the FCC came to the local police through Inspector Denstead's letter. Presumably he had been informed of it very recently.

His letter says that the word from the FCC says these changes have to do with the 30-40 megacycle and the 152-162 megacycle channels. The first are those used by the Grosse Pointe police radios, both by the township radio, which serves the Park, Farms, Shores and Woods, and the City of Grosse Pointe which operates its own police radio service.

But little is known at this writing of the manner in which the new channels will be applied here. It is possible that it will result in all of Grosse Pointe being on one radio channel. It has been known for some time that the new order was in the making. Township Supervisor Carl Schweikart predicted several months ago that such an order was in contemplation and would in all probability come through before June 1.

The Grosse Pointe police radio officials are somewhat in the dark as to causes which have prompted the new orders. They do know, however, that the increased use of radio by the public utilities has greatly narrowed up available channels. The only way to meet demands is by the consolidation of channels now in use.

A straw that indicates this in the wind is in the known fact that within recent weeks Neal Young, in charge of radio and teletype services for the Michigan Bell Telephone System, made a tentative offer to both Grosse Pointe radio stations to take over its operation under a contract. This offer contemplated the Michigan Bell furnishing all of the new apparatus needed on a rental basis.

This would mean that the local municipalities would not have to invest any money in new equipment, whereas the cost in this item alone would have to be met by the local municipalities if they continued to operate their own service and would amount to a substantial sum of money.

Much of this new type apparatus is not yet available and it is known that the FCC had already agreed to allow until 1950 to make the change after the order is issued.

BATTLERS VANISH

A fight at the Toddle House on Jefferson avenue at 2:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning, April 1, necessitated a hurry call for the police but the belligerents had disappeared when the police arrived.

Tom Whittingham Trains in Japan

With the Eighth Army in Yokohama, Japan: Pfc. Thomas C. Whittingham, 157 Merriweather road, Grosse Pointe Farms, is one of the GI's selected to enter the Eighth Army Signal Corps Wire Chief Course. He was selected from his unit, the 57th Field Artillery Hq. Battery to attend the Wire Chief Course at Eighth Army Signal Corps school.

The Wire Chief Course trains potential non-commissioned officers to plan and supervise the installation, operation, and maintenance of telephone, telegraph and telegraph communications at central office installations. The course covers all phases of wire communications and is highlighted by a field problem in which the students maintain communications between several command posts at reduced distances. It is a twelve (12) week course, one of the most difficult of the twelve courses, offered at Eighth Army Signal Corps school.

After completion of the course Pfc. Whittingham will return to his unit as a skilled or semi-skilled wire chief.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whittingham.

Red Cross Drive Quota Exceeded

Detroit has gone over the top in the Red Cross 1947 Fund Campaign with $1,425,000 against a quota of $1,334,400, Alvan Macauley, Jr., campaign chairman, announced.

The drive claimed victory just 48 hours after the official closing date, March 31. Workers attending a final report luncheon in Hotel Statler had been urged to "clean up the 1947 campaign within 48 hours" by campaign leaders. They succeeded.

Contributions to the fund are continuing to arrive at campaign headquarters, 153 East Elizabeth. All divisions of the campaign are continuing to solicit prospects not reached during the drive.

Macauley urged all those who have not yet given to still send in their contributions.

"We are not making this request to make a record," he explained, but because the more we go over this year, the less money we will have to raise next year. Most of our portion of overage will be used to cut down next year's quota.

"This year for instance, we put in, at the start of the campaign, $300,000 of overage from previous campaigns. If we did not have this money, our 1947 Detroit quota would have been $1,634,400 instead of $1,334,400."

"I also wish to thank the generosity of all Detroiters who have given and particularly those who have contributed more than the 60 percent of last year's donations, which we asked."

SMOKED OUT

Smoke pouring from the basement of the Smart home at 327 Roosevelt place on April 5 caused an alarm which brought out the fire department. It was found that flood waters had reached up to the firepot on the furnace and the gradual penetration of the moisture had set off a dense smoke.

Damage Caused By High Winds

Sunday's high winds caused a great deal of minor damage throughout the Pointe, most of it concerned with flattened fences and broken panes in storm windows torn off by the gale.

The Farms police were notified of a show window blown in at the cleaning establishment at 18300 Mack avenue and stood guard until the owner arrived to take over.

The Detroit Edison Company was notified of a tree blown down on the wires in Reno lane, causing the high tension power to arc.

Another tree was blown down over the sidewalk at Grosse Pointe boulevard and Edgemere place on Sunday morning.

A large branch of a tree was broken off by the Easter wind and fell across the sidewalk in front of 419 St. Clair.

Ignores Sign; Crashes Pole

Richard M. Cohen, of 4027 Sturtevant, Detroit, driving south on Whittier Wednesday, April 2, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. failed to stop at Vernon highway and was bumped in the rear by a car driven by Elizabeth Livingston of 97 Moran road, G. P. Farms.

After his invited collision Mr. Cohen knocked down a light pole on the southwest corner of the intersection.

He put up a stentuous argument about the other car not being under control but the Park police considered this a lame argument in view of his ignoring the stop sign. They gave him a court ticket.

Marauders Visit Pier Boathouse

Someone broke into the boathouse at the Farms Municipal pier on the night of April 4, Pier Superintendent Theodore Beaupre reported to the village police.

Nothing was missing, but the place was generally messed up, Mr. Beaupre said.

HURT IN BUS FALL

Mrs. Helen Hassi, aged 54, of 4314 Lakepointe, on stepping off a DSR bus at Mack and Lakepointe on March 31, fell violently to the pavement and painfully injured her back, left elbow and left leg. It was claimed that the bus started to move before she got off. She refused to be taken to a hospital and was taken home by Sergeant Mead.

MODEL PLANE MEET

An indoor flying scale model plane contest will be held between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m., April 27, in the men's gymnasium of Wayne University.

For complete information, telephone VA. 2-1590.

BUMPER CROP

The 1946 Michigan celery crop exceeded all past records when 3,216,000 half crates were produced, reports Director Charles Figy, State Department of Agriculture. This is 9% above the big crop of 2,952,000 half crates in 1945 and 28% above the 10-year average (1935-1944) of 2,560,000 half crates.

two head school librarians, dramatic director of the high school, instrumental music teacher in the high school, visiting teacher, teacher with assembly direction, and student association advisors. These positions will carry maxima of $200 more than the regular teachers' maxima when the schedule is completed. Five teaching positions held by 15 people will carry maxima of $400 more than the regular teachers' maxima as a result of job evaluation study.

In brief, of the 215 teachers now employed, 27 to 30 will be in a position which will carry a maximum of $47,000 when the schedule is completed in 1948-49, and 15 will be in positions which will offer a maximum of $49,000. These maxima for special jobs will only be approached in part for 1947-48, that is with maxima of $500 increase.

The reason for the two-step program to reach the new maxima, as explained by the Board, is that some plan had to be worked out to finance these schedules. By combined expected revenue increases from state aid and local taxes, the cost of all salary schedule increases for 1947-48 will be approximately $138,000 and an additional $70,000 for 1948-49, or a total of $208,000 for the two-year period. The maximum state aid increase expected from the sales tax diversion will be $140,000 to $160,000 for the two-year period which is $45,000 to $65,000 less than is needed for these schedules. This may have to be raised by an increase of local taxes by 40c to 50c per thousand dollars assessed valuation or the local school services may have to be curtailed.

The Board recognized the necessity, however, of saving its school program by keeping teaching and other salary levels at a point where the best available personnel is attracted to Grosse Pointe, even though some of the special services now being offered have to be curtailed. If curtailments become necessary, they will have to be made by such undesirable methods as increasing class size, decreasing maintenance and office service, curtailing counseling and restricting supplies and essential teaching equipment. It is the hope of the Board of Education, however, that this program can be carried into effect by less drastic measures.

It is possible also that sales tax diversion money may be made available for the 1948-47 school year by which the Board of Education would be able to make some immediate cost of living increase to all employees.

Dentists to Hold 90th Convention

The ninetieth annual convention of the Michigan State Dental Society will be held at the Statler Hotel on April 14, 15, and 16. During the three days of scientific essays and clinics the dentists of Michigan will be privileged to acquire the latest in professional knowledge and to learn of the newest and most proficient methods of administering their professional skill.

Twelve outstanding essayists will appear before the society. They are Dr. Cecil Bliss of Iowa University, Dr. Norman Miller, Dr. Kenneth Eastlick of the University of Michigan faculty at Ann Arbor, Dr. Don Woodward of Kansas City, Dr. Walter Pryor of Cleveland, Dr. Maynard Hine of Indiana University, Dr. George W. Teuscher of Northwestern University, Dr. Samuel Lewis and Dr. Wilbert Whiteman of Detroit.

On Tuesday night the social highlight of the convention will see the ballroom of the Statler transformed into a huge cabaret for the society's dinner dance. An hour and a half floor show has been imported for the occasion.

This convention represents the academic, scientific and social peak of the year for the dentists of Michigan. Twenty-five hundred members of the profession are expected to attend.

Scout Cavalcade Opens April 11

Approximately 6,000 Cubs, Scouts and Seniors, including many hundreds from the Pointe, will participate in the mammoth Cavalcade of Scouting, at the State Fair Coliseum, this Friday and Saturday, April 11 and 12.

Many original and resourceful ideas and skills have gone into the stupendous costuming and properties necessary to dramatically present fire history, disaster relief, Indian lore, camping, pioneering, cubbing, senior scouting and the other major events scheduled in this thrilling two-hour performance. Expertly constructed towers, bridges, cabins, lean-to's and covered wagons will be seen in the pioneering event. Disaster relief portrays the burning of a hotel.

The destruction of a gasoline station and an electric power line enables Scouts to prove their ability in rendering all sorts of first-aid and succor to the homesick. Gorgeous feather head-dresses and beaded costumes, which took months to design and create, will be worn by 400 "Warrior braves" in the Indian event. Several unique ceremonial dances, such as the Hunter's Return, will be vividly enacted.

Fire history, one of the most thrilling of the major events, will produce the world's largest lighter, 12 feet high, and a fire-by-friction set, which requires 15-foot bow and a 12-foot spindle. Senior Scouts will portray a rescue at sea by means of a breeches buoy, and power model planes will buzz around the great Coliseum dome.

The thousands of people, who already have purchased their tickets, will be over-joyed with the Cubs' "Land of Make Believe," with its "Wizard of Oz," "Treasure Island," also many "wild" animals such as a "fire spouting dragon" over 50 feet long. Fun provoking clowns, with clever stunts, will provide much of the humor to be enjoyed throughout the spectacular evening program.

Hospiting Auxiliary Sponsoring Luncheon

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Auxiliary is sponsoring a bridge luncheon for the benefit of the children's ward, to be held in the nurses home East Grand Boulevard and Milwaukee Avenue, Tuesday, April 15, at 12:30 p. m. There will be table and door prizes.

Mrs. William A. Gant and Mrs. Raymond J. Mauer will be in charge of the party arrangements, assisted by Mrs. John C. Becker, Mrs. Joseph Andries, Mrs. Cyril Mauer, Mrs. George Michaels, Mrs. A. Marantette and Mrs. Charles N. Reichling.

Rotary Plays Easter Bunny At Party for 50 Youngsters

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club gave an Easter party in the Whittier Monday for 50 orphans from the St. Vincent Orphanage and the Protestant Orphanage on E. Jefferson. Formerly the club had always given a Christmas party for the little folk from these same institutions but due to the surplus of Christmas entertainment offered them it has since shifted to two parties a year, one at Halloween and one at Easter.

There were 41 little girls and nine boys. The children were each given a beautiful Easter basket. There were bunny prizes and profuse Easter trimmings. Entertainment was furnished by Wayne Fernelius and Frank Smith of the Detroit Police Department, sponsored by the Ford Motor company. Ventriloquism, made real by a policeman Charles McCarthy, carried a whole new lesson to the youngsters on street safety.

Dale Rhodes, assisted by Mrs. Rhodes, gave hilarious imitations of comic strip and radio humorists.

Next Monday the club will hold its annual Pan-American Day program, one of the most elaborate events on the annual calendar of the service organization. Consuls and official representatives from most of the Latin-American countries will be guests of honor at luncheon in the Whittier.

Six Students Win Awards In Writing Competition

The manuscripts of six Grosse Pointe High School students have been awarded prizes in the Southeastern Michigan Regional Scholastic Magazine and the Detroit News.

The work of 150 student writers in this area have been sent to New York in competition for the national awards.

Grosse Pointe who received key awards are Barbara Hart in the short story field and Dick Grann and Mary Patterson in the news story division.

Honorable mention was given Fred Curto for an editorial and Elizabeth Jones and Marie Von Arx in the column division.

A program honoring these writers will take place on Tuesday evening, April 22, in the auditorium studio of WWJ. At this time dictionaries will be presented these whose writing abilities have won them recognition.

The winning Grosse Pointe selections were submitted from the classes of Miss Doris K. Trott and Mrs. Isabelle Fohlabel, English teachers.

Camera Experts To Address Club

Care and Use of Cameras and Photographic Equipment" will be the subject of lecture and demonstration to be put on before the Grosse Pointe Camera Club, Tuesday evening, April 15, by Richard Dilts and Carl Kamin, photographic technicians.

Mr. Dilts and Mr. Kamin are well versed in their subject, having practiced their art in the battle fields of Europe for the United States Army, from which they have recently returned. Both men are now engaged in their own business of caring for photographer's equipment.

The club's president, Lester McDowell, has also asked the members of the club to submit their prints for judging and award of credits. A large number of photographs is expected to be submitted to the judges that evening.

The meeting will be held at the club rooms in the Neighborhood Club. The public has also been invited to attend.

Mrs. C. Gilbert Waldo Hostess to Artists

Mrs. C. Gilbert Waldo of Country Club Lane was hostess to the Grosse Pointe Artists Association when the group met on Tuesday evening.

A board meeting preceded general business and critical work accomplished by members during March.

The artists also discussed plans for their annual exhibit, tea and preview, to be held May 17 at Alger House.

OUR THEME TODAY, GIRLS, IS PORTRAIT CLOTHES. HAVE YOU EVER WORN A WARDROBE THAT IS A true Portrait of Yourself?

Have you ever stepped into an Individual Designer who appreciated both clothes and character and said: "Here I am—dress me! Dress me to express my feelings, my enthusiasms, my principles, my way of life. Just dress me to express—MYSELF!"

A large order, perhaps, but one that is fulfilled with more fidelity in the saute Couture Shop of Mrs. William Bust Pierce in the Detroit City Club, than in any similar establishment. For the woman who emerges with a Portrait Wardrobe created by this designer of fine fashions has clothes that are not only made to order, but made to INDIVIDUAL order. She emerges herself—at her best. For into every creative process is infused the ideals of the creative artist—and only a gentleman can create genteel fashions.

This spring's collection by Mrs. Pierce is a one-woman showing, created by an individualist whose credo is that fashions should bring out the woman herself, and not the woman bring out the fashions. The models you select from this collection are each inspired to express your own charm, your own coloring and your own character. Therefore they not only do something for your appearance but something for your aspirations as a woman.

It's a national undertaking, about which we'll soon be able to give you the local data. . . . Several of ROSEMARY RAE'S friends gathered in her home on March 28 for food and chit-chat. Norma Steenrod, Janet VanOsada, Mona Pick, Joan VanBecelaere, Helene Meyer, Sylvia Teeg, Pat Burns and Julie Bowman were in on this all-girl affair.

Also on March 28 was the party of CHARLYN SALMON. Charlyn invited Joanne Carnaghi, Sue Scully, Sue Joyce, Jean Gray, Genie Salmon, Carol Diederich, Sally Convery, Betty Burke, Tim VanAntwerp, Johnny Hoffmeyer and Bob LePae over for cokes and dancing. Others in on the fun were Bill Coddle, Larry Elmer, Art Diederich, Vince Turcotte, Leo Droschagen, Jim Hild and Larry Salzman.

While we're involved with the Salmons, might mention the party which Charlyn gave on April 9. The hostess, who now attends Grosse Pointe High School, planned this party to be sort of a reunion with her friends at Sacred Heart convent. Just a few of those present were Bob LePae, Carol Diederich and Vince Turcotte, Joan Mattingly and Bob Schick, Celeste Belanger and Pete Klaver, Kitty Moore and John Murphy, Connie Gildner and Jim Toussany and Mary Sherwood and Andy Frasier.

The SAMPSON station-wagon express pulled in from the East yesterday. It was the first outing of this kind since CHET returned from his tour of Central and South America where he and BOB CUDDIP visited all countries except Paraguay. Evidently they were not in a mood to dodge revolutionary bullets.

But the trips to Washington and New York are in full swing, and for the teen-age Pointers who are interested in seeing Annapolis, the capitol and the high spots of New York, by all means contact CHET SAMPSON. In the meantime we hope you are lucky enough to hear first hand accounts of this most recent venture from Frank Wilton, Loyal Jodar, Post Forden, Harry Mack, Bill Hamilton, Brud Preston, Jack Swift, Doug Buck, Bill Beardslee, Bob Gall, Bob Serge, Harvey Reyst, John Cobane, Phil Droll, Barry Monro and Peder Field.

Still more on the long guest list were Jeanne Jorstad, Marilyn Wrooblos, Dottie Lander, Barb Rising, Vonnie Wegman, Phyllis Sherman and Joan Ghesquiere.

HUGH HECK entertained three couples in his home on Audabon. The dance was held in the Italian room in the Book Cadillac hotel, and dates representing Grosse Pointe were Miriam Ryon and Hugh Heck, Ilena Lindh and Jim Johnson, Mgra Hahn and Bob Vincent, Pat Day and Ed Schaub.

At Hugh's house, cokes and sandwiches were served, and there was even more dancing.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

If you're on one of those eighteen day diets just pass us by today . . . because we're going to talk about favorite foods of famous Pointers . . .

When Mrs. T. D. Buhl told us one of her favorite foods was Gillman's Salad as served by the Detroit Club . . . it started us on a gastronomic tour which proved all kinds of fun . . .

First we learned . . . that Gillman's Salad is so-called because it was introduced to the wonderful fare of the Detroit Club by member Dr. Robert W. Gillman . . .

And then when we talked to Dr. Gillman about his salad . . . we found that it was really the "invention" of a young traveled from France to lead the parish at Ecorse . . .

Young Dr. Gillman and Alf Chittenden, among others, were eager guests at the French priest's table . . .

Father Champion was a gourmet . . . whose wines were sent from France . . .

He had a jewel of a housekeeper, Rosalie . . . who simply flew at mealtime and stuck her attractive lobster-red face from the kitchen door to see that all was going well with the priest and his guests . . .

THREE MEN TO MAKE A SALAD

It was Father Champion who advised Dr. Gillman—it really takes three men to make a salad . . .

"A spendthrift with the olive oil . . . a miser with the vinegar . . . and a mad man to mix the salad" . . .

And here is the recipe of the Gillman Salad . . .

The doctor commands that the lettuce be cold and dry, broken into small bits . . . salted to taste . . . colored with a generous amount of paprika . . . and then the oil is to be added.

The lettuce and oil must be tossed and tossed and tossed . . . and into the salad—mince about a half clove of garlic . . .

now slice and dice tomatoes and then add the slightest amount of vinegar . . . Dr. Gillman says that in the Summer time when home grown tomatoes are available he doesn't use any vinegar but lets the acid juice of the tomatoes serve . . .

And there is the Gillman Salad . . .

Incidentally when we talked to the doctor he was a little on the morose side since the price of olive oil has gone to over fifteen dollars a gallon . . .

THE JOY OF COOKING

Bob Edgar, famed for his spaghetti suppers . . .

(He cooks the spaghetti, tomato sauce and meat balls himself . . . tosses a mean green salad . . . and adds Chianti, fruit, cheese and coffee to complete the meal which is served once a week at his home) . . . thinks there couldn't be anything much grander to eat than steak at Sardi's in New York, with Bernaise Sauce, please . . .

Incidentally the T. D. Buhls were so impressed with Bob's brand of spaghetti that Lady B. decided she'd try her hand at a recipe she found in the Hunt Club Cook Book . . .

She toiled all day over the hot spaghetti sauce, tipping the lid every few minutes to peek . . . and the guests were assembled in the pool house as the kettle of sauce was carried elegantly out to be served . . .

We believe Mr. E. carried the sauce . . . stubbed his toe and upturned most of it on the lawn . . .

"Every drop was ladled back into the kettle," Mrs. B. recalls, grimly, "and no one mentioned the sprigs of grass."

The next day, Mr. Buhl presented his wife with a copy of the best seller, "The Joy of Cooking" . . .

GNOCCHI FOR MRS. CARHARTT

Mrs. Wylie W. Carhartt will tell you she dotes on gnocchi as served up by the Marguery in New York . . .

She said she often wished for a recipe for this famed Italian dish . . . but had never been able to find one . . . so here's a great big surprise for her . . . copied from one of our cook books . . .

We found it in a Duncan Hines cook book and believe it is what Mrs. C. wants with one variation . . . American cheese should be used in the recipe where Mr. Hines suggests Parmesan. (Continued on Page 11)

Three Engagements Attracting Interest

Elise Cosgrove, Bonnie Tait and Lanie Wright Grab Spotlight With Disclosures of Their Betrothals

Three announcements caught Grosse Pointers' interest this week with news of approaching weddings.

On Easter Sunday, Elise Cosgrove's engagement to Henry Disston II was announced by Mrs. Alvin G. Sherman of Bal-four road, her mother. The bride-to-be's father is Milton J. Cosgrove of New York.

Henry's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jacob S. Disston of Philadelphia, and the Distons came to Grosse Pointe for the Easter occasion.

Elise is a graduate of Liggett School and Ogontz Junior College. Her fiance attended St. George's School before his three years' service with the Army Air Corps. Henry is now studying at Princeton and is a member of the Ivy League.

June 19 is the date they've set for the wedding.

At the Detroit Athletic Club on Saturday, tea guests learned of Barbara Brewer Tait's engagement to Reynold William Semmler Jr.

Bonnie's parents are Mrs. Brewer Tait of the Alden Park Manor and Francis D. Tait of Burns drive. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reynold W. Semmler of Berkshire road.

For her engagement party, the attractive Bonnie chose a printed afternoon dress, while her mother was clad in a navy dress of sheer wool, trimmed with gold buttons.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Braircliff Junior College. Reynold attended Kenyon College, where he was affiliated with Sigma Pi. Since his discharge from the Army, he has been studying at Wayne University.

The wedding will take place in October.

The third announcement deals with the wedding plans of Lanie Wright and Bill Callery, who've set May 31 as the date. They will be married at St. Paul's on the lake shore.

Lanie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright Jr. of Beverly road, and Bill is the son of Mrs. William Callery of Baltimore, Md.

Wedding Dates Set By Two Brides-Elect

Marjorie Maxon and Mary Anne Dodge Disclose Attendants for Ceremonies Scheduled for May and June

As soon as Easter's over, romantic news blossoms like the spring flowers. Two wedding-date setters who decided earlier this week are Marjorie Maxon and Mary Anne Dodge.

Marjorie will become the bride of Frank Ware on June 11, in Christ Church. She's the daughter of Mrs. Marjorie Maxon of Lakeland avenue and Lou Maxon of Rochester. Frank's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Ware of Rivard boulevard.

John Wood and Edward Rohrbach.

The pretty bride-elect has named her attendants for the June ceremony. Sally Lou Ware is to be maid of honor, with Kathryn Rockelman, Laird Beamer, Barbara Allen, Mary Lou Melcher and Beverly Brown acting as bridesmaids.

Visitors' Corps Needs Volunteers

Frank has asked Ens. Robert Looker to be his best man, and Lou Alin Maxon, Thomas Ireland, Frederick Stoepele, Robert Carman and Robert Hurley will usher.

The Visitors Corps of the International Institute, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frederick C. Ford, has sent out invitations bidding prospective volunteers to a foreign Easter tea on Thursday afternoon, April 10.

Mary Anne Dodge will be a bride of May 17. On that day she'll speak her vows to Francis N. Moran at St. Paul's on the lake.

The tea table will be done in traditional Polish manner by Mrs. Alfred M. Whitaker and Mrs. Hiram Walker. It will be centered with the great pink cake topped by the Easterlamb. "Butter lamb." It will have the arrangements of intricately designed and colored eggs—the sheer white cloth festooned with swags of feathery green. It will all be there with some charming young girls in native costume to assist in passing the tiny tea cakes—and add to the decorative charm that one always finds at the Institute.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs. M. O'Connor Dodge of University Place and the late John D. Dodge. Frank is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Francis C. Moran of Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Pouring at the table alternately will be Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, recently elected to the Institute board, Mrs. Herbert Woodall and Mrs. Henry Johnson, wife of the institute's president.

Macaulays Enjoy Easter Reunion

An Easter weekend reunion was enjoyed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvan Macaulay, Sr., of Lake Shore road.

With tea there will be a short description of the next training class of eight lectures, two each Tuesday, starting April 22.

Recently returned from a vacation at Clearwater, Fla., the Macaulays had as their Easter guests their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin L. Bodeen of Cleveland, and their grandson, John Bodeen. James Danaher, Frederick Dewey,

Mrs. Alice Sicles, Director of International Institute will tell something of the organization and its immediate need of assistance.

Home Ceremony Unites Pointers

Mrs. Betty Cosgrove Parsons and Charles Henry Fletcher Jr. exchanged vows in a ceremony Monday in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alvin G. Sherman of Balfour road. Her father is Milton J. Cosgrove of New York. Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Fletcher of Vendome road.

Betty's dress was of powder blue crepe, afternoon length, made with a sweetheart neckline, draped skirt and short sleeves. On her head she wore a coronet of flowers twined with blue ribbon. Her corsage was of white orchids.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Elise Cosgrove. She wore an afternoon dress of peacan crepe with a bustle. Her coronet was similar to her sister's, and her corsage was of brown and green orchids.

Charles asked John Joseph Jennings to be his best man.

Mrs. Sherman, the bride's mother, wore a blue-green crepe dress with green orchids. Mrs. Fletcher was gowned in champagne-colored crepe with matching straw hat, and wore purple orchids.

A reception followed the ceremony, after which the young couple left on a three-weeks' trip to Bermuda, via New York. Betty's traveling ensemble was a gray wool suit with a coral wool short topcoat. Her hat was gray and open-crowned, bound with matching ribbon.

When they return, they will live temporarily in the home of Charles' grandmother, Mrs. Theodore G. Fletcher.

Virginia's gown was of white slipper satin, simply fashioned with a square neckline trimmed in Pointe de Venise lace, a fitted bodice and full skirt. The lace-edged illusion veil was held in place by a queen's cap.

Robert G. Smith, the bride's brother; Palmer T. Heenan, Donald C. Stevenson Jr., Bernard Stroh IV, Cyril J. Edwards Jr. and Charles B. Hull Jr. acted as ushers.

The bride's bouquet was of stephanotis and freesia, and was centered with carnations.

The ceremony was followed by a reception in the home of the bride. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith chose a pale green crepe gown with matching hat and yellow orchid corsage.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Charles A. McGowan, Virginia's sister. Her bridesmaids were Mary Bartemeier, Joan Stroh, and Mrs. Robert E. Wilcox.

Mrs. Waldron wore a navy crepe ensemble, with the matching hat accented with green. Her bouquets touched with ivy leaves.

The attendants wore gowns of dusty rose faille and carried white bouquets touched with ivy leaves.

THOROUGHFARE

*Thru murky dusk the yellow street lights show
The spew of splattered slush from passing cars
And neon lights that seem to come and go
A moment bright
Then half obscured by whirling wreathes of smoke and dirty snow.*

*While thru the dim and dreary street there seeps
The heavy laden breath of industry;
Of rubber, coke, and acrid furnace fumes,
The choking stench of molten scrap and flame
That steel consumes*

*And then the sulphur smells, and just beyond,
The fetid waves of chemicals
And over all, the dampness of the river:
The dampness that is March and wind and river,
With little curling wreathes of soot and snow
And lights that come and go,
And fade and glow, and quiver.*

*And now tall grotesque shadows loom
And writhe in strange contortions thru the mist;
Dark outlines reaching upward in the gloom,
Piercing the lonely sky
As tho they try with stouter intent
The last faint trace of daylight to consume*

*Dark citadels of pride, and pomp, and power,
Enveloping the frail and sterile hopes
Of futile plans, the banker's gold, the widow's dower,
And all the souls who heard the siren's call
But found inside a prison wall
The steps to Babel's tower*

*Beyond the darkened caverns, on and on
The street retreats into a racing blur
As tho it would escape the steady whirr of moving cars,
Bursts of cigars, men with drawn faces waiting at the curb,
Men with unsteady legs but courage dearly bought
From many bars.*

*Kaleidoscopic patterns in the night;
Those patient faces in the safety zones,
And those with less restraint, registering a dull complaint
That time is taking flight;
But mostly human masks that hide what lies within,
A pride, a penitence, a secret sin,
A soul's sad plight.*

*And here and there a face that may reveal
A greater light than human mask can hide;
An inner flame that smoke cannot conceal;
A faith that takes a dream from out a jar
And ties it to a star
To make it real*

*And suddenly my life I would retrace
Once more to tread that fragrant wooded path
That leads up from the meadow to the race
And far beyond, where all my worlds were planned
Beside a mountain stream.
Now but a half forgotten dream
And out of place.*

*And is it out of place to meditate
While all the world is waiting at the curb?
And can the clock be stopped? The hour is late.
And what can there be gained, what good attained?
And what will be the loss
If I but wait?*

*The road continues on into the night;
The meadow, hill and stream lie far behind,
And tho the detours lead to left and right
The course is still ahead; the challenge is not dead
Altho the hour is late.
Nor is the end in sight.*

DEFER SCHOOL

The kindergarten has a display of Easter bunnies, various hens, baby chickens, and various farm animals, which are modelled of clay and painted true to life.

The kindergarten children are also planning an Easter parade, when the spring hats and many gay accessories are completed.

STATION DEFER, owned and operated by the 5A group, presented a realistic radio broadcast for the entertainment of their parents, and fifth and sixth grades at Defer School recently. The broadcast was the outgrowth of a study on Communication, which had included a visit to Station WWJ.

The audience was entertained by a band composed of Graham Nadal, Janet Meyers, Mary Lou Tanner, Norman Carstens, and Richard Sadler. The signs man, David Stapleton, greeted the studio audience, explained his signs, and made everyone laugh. Dick Zander, dressed as a washerwoman with a huge mop on his head, chased Noreen Haas down the aisle and across the stage where she dropped a huge bar of Glo-Blo soap and saved herself from her pursuer. This really warmed the audience so that the show went "on the air" in a gale of laughter.

Bob Usher was the announcer who came on for introductions, for station breaks, reading commercials, and presenting news. The following programs were presented:

Glo-Blo Soap Ditty—Mary Lou Tanner and Yvonne Currier.

William Cornelius Augustine, Jr.—Written by Mary Meeker and Laila Sadi; presented by Mary Meeker, Richard Sadler, Joyce Katros, Michael Atham, Jimmy Stark, and Laila Sadi.

John in Ancient Greece—Written and presented by Edward Kay, Dick Zander and Charles Demma.

News—Written and presented by Bob Usher.

Hunt for Talent—Conducted by Janet Meyers who presented—piano solo, Laila Sadi; song "The Old Lamp-lighter," Yvonne Currier; ballet dance, Barbara Reeves; piano solo, Mary Meeker.

sound effects booth. Acting as sound effects men were Billy Hunter, Bob Richardson, Fred Beck and Bob Hammond.

One of the most impressive features of the show was the fact that the scripts had been originated, prepared, and read entirely by the pupils of the 5A class.

Parents who attended the broadcast performance were: Mrs. L. M. Currier, Mrs. L. D. Hunter, Mrs. J. B. Meeker, Mrs. C. J. Reeves, Mrs. L. M. Sadi, Mrs. D. N. Tanner and Mrs. R. H. Zander.

MASON SCHOOL

Schools Combine Two Assignments

Ninth grade students in the Grosse Pointe public school system have been required for a number of years to write a long paper in English on a topic of current interest and a career book in civics on a vocation they were considering choosing.

Plans have now been made by a group of Brownell and Pierce teachers to combine these two assignments into one paper, the career book. Civics instructors will be able to concentrate wholly on vocational guidance while the mechanics and writing skills will be stressed in English.

In addition to the general preparation necessary for writing the books, the Kuder Tests will be given. These are not tests in the true sense of the word but rather a way of discovering student preferences in the various fields.

Four or five days are necessary for the administering and interpretation, with individual student conferences.

Veteran Trouper Has 8th Birthday

Darlene Rolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rolph of 901 South Oxford road, is a seasoned performer at the ripe old age of 8, a milestone in life which she just reached last week.

Darlene is a member of the Children's Chorus playing this week with the Civic Light Opera Company's presentation of "The Wizard of Oz" in Masonic Temple.

It's all in the day's work to Darlene. She was on the stage before she was 3. For the last four years she has been in the cast of WXYZ's "Radio Schoolhouse," where she has been the baby of the show.

Darlene's repertoire includes dancing as well as singing and she has given a number of piano recitals. In addition to her professional appearances she has a regular routine of lessons. As her mother says: "She's a pretty busy young lady."

Half the spiritual difficulties that men and women suffer arise from a morbid state of health. —Henry Ward Beecher
