Cigaret Blamed for Fatal Fire

MRS. GEORGE COUTURE died as a result of this fire in her home at 1648 Hampton road, Grosse Pointe Woods, on Sunday. The Woods police believe she fell asleep on the couch with a lighted cigaret. Roused by the fire, she tried to make her way to a side door, but collapsed and died from smoke suffocation before she could get out.

Police Probing Mysterious Fire Which Swept Farms Home on Night of Oct. 31

Believe Pranksters or Thieves May Have Been Responsible for Blaze in James Hally Residence in McMillan Avenue

Detective Sergeant Elmer Labadie of the Farms Police Department is investigating a fire which occurred on October 31, it was disclosed this week. The police are not at all satisfied that the blaze was the result of a short circuit in wiring as originally reported.

The fire was in the James Hally residence at 321 McMillan avenue. Damage to the house is very extensive. What was not actually burned was so defaced by smoke and heat blistering that the entire interior of the house will have to be redone. Much of the furniture was ruined.

It was first believed wiring in the refrigerator or furnace had started the blaze, but subsequent investigations have shown this was not the case.

There was a very heavy concentration of fire in the downstairs hall, which burned through to the basement and up through the second floor.

The suspicions of the police were further aroused when a number of Halloween pranks revealed a pyromaniacal twist. That same night some kids had poured turpentine on the front porch of the Elton Forbes home at 328 McMillan and attempted to set it afire. Mrs. Forbes stamped out the flames before much damage was done.

A lighted firecracker had also been thrown through the mail chute at the Andrew Harper, Jr. residence at 325 Moran Road.

A milk chute in the Hally home is located very conveniently near the spot where the fire blazed hardest. A basket of laundry had been delivered shortly before and was sitting in the hall. The police have been probing the possibility that something had been tossed

Woods Green Barrier Fight Still Far From Settlement

After a three-hour session Thursday night, November 13, in the Woods village council room, the disputants on the green barrier issue at the Sloan property parking lot wound up exactly where they started several weeks ago.

The Grosse Pointe Woods Colonial Village Property Owners Association, through its officials who were present in full force, still insist that the green barrier, which Sol Sloan, the owner of the parking lot, is under $5,000 bond to provide, shall be built wholly on the parking lot property and not any part of it upon the easement which is included within the deeds of the private property owners.

They insist also that this is the

Dies Seeking Escape From Woods Blaze

Mrs. George Couture's Body Found in Smoke-filled Home

Woods police blame a cigaret for a fire which took the life of Mrs. George Couture, 47, in her home at 1648 Hampton road, on Sunday. Mrs. Couture's body was found in the unburned kitchen of the home and coroner Dr. V. S. Mancusco said she had died from suffocation in the smoke-filled house.

Mrs. Arthur Charrier of 1641 Hampton saw smoke pouring out from under the Coutures' roof and reported the fire at 12:25 p.m. Ten officers and volunteers answered the alarm and were assisted by Woods' Commissioners Rowe and Gardner.

Firemen Lawrence Allard and Curt Redes entered the house with gas masks and found Mrs. Couture. She was pronounced dead by Dr. A. B. Stearns of 1681 Hampton road.

The police believe she returned home some time after midnight Saturday night. Her husband was deer hunting and was contacted in Escanaba by the State Police after the tragedy.

Mrs. Couture had evidently started to prepare some food, as utensils and charred chicken were found on the stove. All three gas burners were open but the smoke had apparently extinguished the flames on the burners.

While waiting for the food to cook, it is believed she lay down on the sofa with a lighted cigaret and went to sleep. The sofa was completely destroyed by the blaze, which also burned a hole in the adjacent floor and wall. The fire, which must have smoldered for hours, was easily and quickly extinguished by the Woods firemen.

The front door is only about five feet from the sofa and it is possible that if Mrs. Couture had sought that exit she might have saved her life. She was apparently on her way to the side door, which necessitated her going through a pantry and kitchen, when she collapsed.

Veteran Becomes Park Policeman

William J. Schultz, aged 24, 1073 Maryland has been appointed to the Grosse Pointe Park police force as of November 1. Crandall is a veteran credited with long service overseas in the war. Among his many decorations he wears three bronze stars. He was born in Grosse Pointe.

Farms Okays Bids for Big Drain Project

Will Spend $142,155 on Additions to Kerby Sewer Pumping Station

Bids were accepted by the Farms trustees Monday night for additions to the Kerby Road Sewer Pumping Station. The additions call for an expenditure of $142,155, or less than the $144,000 estimated by the consulting engineers and authorized by the council.

The Village Engineer wishes to call attention to the fact that although this work has been authorized and will proceed immediately, the completion date for the pumps is February 15, 1949, therefore, no relief can be expected from this addition until after the job is completed. This conforms to previous statements by the Village Engineer, Murray M. Smith, and the Consulting Engineers, Hubbel, Roth & Clark.

There were three bidders on each of the three sections namely; the building, the electrical work, and the pumps.

Crouse & Westphal, Detroit, was low bidder on the building with a bid of $77,170.00, which was accepted. Other bids on the building were $98,850.00 by R. E. Dailey & Company and $77,915.00 by Mancini Construction Company.

The electrical work was awarded to Triangle Electric Company, Detroit, whose bid was $29,385.00. Other bids on the electrical work were Shaw and Kauth Electrical company $30,500.00, and Greenwald & Son Electrical Company $32,500.00.

Louis G. Scherf, Detroit, was low bidder on the pumps with a bid of $55,600.00, whose bid was accepted. Other bidders were R. E. Dailey & Company $58,750.00 and Mancini Construction Company $59,300.00.

Ignored Sign Causes Crash

DeSoto Turns Over Three Times After Being Hit at Fisher and Ridge

An ignored stop sign caused a serious accident at Fisher and Ridge roads at 6 p. m. on Nov. 15. Emil Pletz of 947 Fisher road, driving his Dodge north on that street, failed to stop at Ridge and crashed into a DeSoto driven by Francis W. Meraw of 3523 Anderson, Detroit.

The DeSoto turned over three times after the crash. Mary Schultz, 15, of 3654 Balfour road, a passenger in the Meraw car, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital, where it was found she had suffered a broken left collarbone. A Detroit Edison pole was knocked down at the scene. Damage to the Dodge was estimated by Farms police at $200. The DeSoto was practically totally wrecked, damage being estimated at $1,000.

Both drivers were given reckless driving tickets. Harry Thomas of 5308 Bishop road was a witness of the accident. The police report says Pletz had been drinking. He was released on $150 bond for his appearance in court.

Pair Confess Awning Theft

William J. Schultz, of the Sweetzer Creameries, observed a truck proceeding south in the alley from Mack alongside the creamery plant at noon on Wednesday, November 12. It looked as if it might be engaged in the junk business.

Recalling that the creamery had recently suffered the loss of $800 worth of awnings, awning frames etc., from their place across the avenue in Detroit, he phoned the Park police. Besides, Schultz thought, there was something strangely familiar about the truck.

The police picked up Jimmy Bowdin, aged 40 and Ernest Weaver, aged 49, both colored and both of Detroit.

They confessed to having taken the company's missing property and were turned over to the 15th Detroit precinct as the robbery had been committed in Detroit.

Restaurant, Thrift Shop Burglarized; Thieves Take $849

Safe Also Stolen From Waterloo Charity Shop; City Police Holding Suspect for Possible Connection With Francois' Job

The burglars who invaded the Thrift Shop at St. Clair and Waterloo sometime late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, Nov. 16, followed out the fine old hunting tradition of claiming the hide and horns with the carcass. They not only stole $578.35 but also the little 12"x12" safe that encased the loot.

They effected an entrance by tearing off the grating from a back window on the northeast side of the building and then breaking the window. They evidently knew the whole technique of the trade for they took a panel off a closet door and used this as a skidway on which to lower the small but very heavy safe to the ground. There was a heavy impression in the earth where the safe had been dropped.

Thus far the police have been up against a blank wall in seeking a clew.

They have had better results in solving another robbery that occurred two nights later in the Francois restaurant on Fisher. There, sometime between 2:30 and 5:30 a. m. on Monday morning, a thief or thieves got into the place via a back window in a rear dressing room and lifted $123 that was done up in coin containers out of a drawer in a switcher table. They then proceeded to the front of the restaurant and rifled the cash register of $147.80 more. The place had been visited by the police in their rounds at 2:30 a. m.

The police have obtained some finger prints from the cash register which they confess do not appear to be those of the thief or thieves who they apparently made by a No. 10 1/2 shoe.

The police picked up a colored man who was discharged from the restaurant about a week ago. He lives in Hastings street and is still detained at police headquarters on Maumee.

Detective Jim Flanagan does not believe the Negro, himself actually committed the burglary, as he is crippled and could hardly have reached up to the point where the window was broken and then unlock it. They are checking closely on his associates. He denies all knowledge of the crime.

Sunday Auctions Banned in City

It was ordinance night at the City Council meeting on Monday, Nov. 17, in addition to wrestling with the rat and incinerator problems, the Council passed an ordinance prohibiting public sales by auction or otherwise in the City on Sunday.

The measure was passed in response to an oft-repeated criticism that the Sabbath Day was being desecrated by these sales at which large flocks of people congregate.

SUFFICIENT REASONS

Detective Hennig and Patrolman Crandall of the Park force brought in Edward K. Robertson of Wheatland road, Addison, Mich., at 6 a. m. on November 16. He was held for investigation and charged with driving his car while intoxicated across the lawn and into the shrubbery at the home at 1006 Whittier.

Recreational Facilities To Be Improved in Farms

Pier and park facilities in the Farms are to be greatly improved during the coming year. Recommendations of the Recreation Committee were approved at the meeting of the village trustees Monday night.

The south parking lot will be resealed and the north parking lot sealed. Boundary fences will be extended to eliminate trespassing by persons without permits.

Additional sheathing will be placed along the north side. The present ladies' dressing room is to be improved this winter for greater cleanliness.

One more drinking fountain will be installed in the parking area, and four small swings and four large ones. The old gasoline

Farms Solons Resent Pokes At Employees

Furton and Beaupre Defended and Praised for Operation of Park

Criticism of two Farms employees in connection with the operation of the village park and pier was answered at length and pointedly Monday night. The answer was contained in a report of the council's recreation committee, which was unanimously approved by the Farms governing body.

Gerald Keating of 205 Oak street, has criticized the village on various occasions for the manner in which the park is operated. He was invited to attend a meeting of the recreation committee on November 3 and at that time offered a number of recommendations. He was criticized by Clerk Harry Furton and Pier Superintendent Theodore Beaupre.

Mr. Keating suggested that far too many pier permits were being issued by Clerk Furton's office and that Mr. Beaupre was overstepping his authority in issuing verbal instructions to pier attendants to admit non-residents to the park.

Other recommendations of Mr. Keating's had to do with identifying lifeguards and attendants by appropriate insignia, additional sanitary rest rooms, supervision for cleanliness, additional picnic tables and benches.

The recreation committee's report answered Mr. Keating's criticism and recommendations in numerical order. It pointed out that most of the things recommended are either being carried (Continued on Page 4)

Lunchbag Bandit Gets 2-4 Years

Johnny L. Long, of Detroit, the colored man who was found guilty of burglarizing the Shumway bar last August 1, was sentenced to 2-4 years in the penitentiary on October 29.

Long, it will be recalled, was the Negro who two Detroit policemen interrogated in the early hours of the morning as he was carrying a large paper bag. He told the officers at first that it was his lunch.

A look in the bag disclosed a mass of paper money and hard cash. There was $927 in the bag and it quickly developed that Long had stolen it from the Shumway bar in Grosse Pointe earlier that same morning.

Millions Go Into Pointe Structures

Hundreds of New Homes, Business Establishments Added to Area's Valuation

Residents of the Pointe have had visual evidence for some months past of the unusual building activity in this area but it required the concrete figures issued by the building departments of the several municipalities to carry the convincing story.

These show that the Woods village is far and away in the lead in home building. Figures issued in mid-summer showed that upwards of $2,600,000 worth of homes were under construction in this youngest of the Pointe's municipalities. These figures had grown to $3,495,243 by November 1. These represented 297 homes of a value of $3,464,243 and four commercial structures of a value of $31,000.

The Farms also has had a lively building season. To September 30 155 structures of all descriptions had been built or were building to a value of $1,625,725. Of these 105 were single family dwelling houses costing $1,334,100. During October, building permits were issued for 11 more residences with an estimated cost of $161,000.

The Farms building activities include the new St. James Lutheran church on McMillan between Ridge and Kercheval. Its cost is placed at $130,000. Six commercial establishments were erected at a cost of $73,000 and 45 miscellaneous structures costing $88,625.

In the City of Grosse Pointe, which has a larger area than a square mile of area and building sites are at a greater premium than in the rest of the Pointe, there has also been a creditable building spurt. There 16 new dwelling house units have been erected at a cost of $216,931 up to October 31.

All of the figures given for the Pointe municipalities date from January 1 this year.

Manager Thomas Jetter of Grosse Pointe Shores reports that 10 new homes have been erected this year of a total value of $252,000. The Shores homes are of a higher average value than in any of the other Pointe communities.

In the Park 53 building units have been erected between January 1 and November 1. With the exception of two or three all of these were private dwellings. Their value was totaled at $919,075.

The recap for the whole Grosse Pointe area shows that 492 private homes were erected or were in process of erection between the first of the year and the present time.

Their value was $6,347,299. For all other types of construction which comprised 65 units, including one church property costing $130,000, the value was $322,625.

Five Hurt as Car Plows Into Wall

Five persons were injured in an automobile accident at the end of Kercheval avenue in Grosse Pointe Farms at 2 a. m. on Nov. 15.

Tony Wasche of Sheridan, Detroit, apparently not familiar with the dead end, skidded his car 21 feet before crashing into a concrete wall.

The injured, all of Detroit, in addition to Wasche, included—Dominic Di Angelo, Springfield, bump on his nose; Roger Jump, Beniteau, skinned shin; Bill Brown, Mack, cut on back of head and left knee; Joe Pakledinay, French road, back injury. All of the young men were treated at Cottage Hospital. Damage to the car was estimated at $200.

SCRAMBLED CALL

Mrs. R. P. Jeffries of 413 Manor road told the Farms police that on the night of Nov. 16 someone called to advise her there was a crate of eggs addressed to her at the Michigan Central station.

Mrs. Jeffries checked with Michigan Central. No one there knew anything about any eggs. Fearing the call might have come from someone who planned to rob the house in her absence, she notified the police.

Friends of Library Hear Plans for Future Growth Of Service to Community

Group Told Murray W. Sales Home Will Become Main Pointe Library After Conversion is Accomplished

The Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library held their first fall meeting of 1947 Monday evening, November 10, in the Pierce School Public Library. Though conflicting community meetings prevented the attendance of many who had planned to come, approximately 60 men and women were present. Mrs. Lloyd G. Hooker, president of the Friends of the Library, presided.

Miss Florence Severs, Librarian, presented to the group a resume of the services offered by the library to the community. In addition to circulation of books, magazines, pictures, etc., these include reference service, book talks and book reviews by the librarians, sponsorship of the Great Books program and other discussion groups.

The library also has a tool collection presented by the Rotary Club, and a file of more than 1,300 phonograph records which may be borrowed by Grosse Pointe residents. As soon as storage space is available the library hopes to have a collection of educational films and other audio-visual material which will be loaned to civic organizations.

Stating that the American Library Association considers two books per capita the minimum essential for adequate library service, Miss Severs said that Grosse Pointe, judged by the latest school census, should have 80,000 volumes available for circulation. Since current library storage capacity can house no more than the present book collection of 33,000 volumes, she stressed the pressing need for additional library space.

The topic of the evening was a discussion concerning the financing of the new library building to be remodeled sometime in the future from the Murray W. Sales home on Jefferson avenue. Charles Parcels called Mr. Sales' presentation of his home to the city "The most magnificent gift ever to be presented to Grosse Pointe."

Since Mr. Sales retains life-tenancy in his home, the building is not available for immediate occupancy by the library. Miss Severs, however, had present for inspection by the public, architect's blueprints of the proposed plans for remodeling.

Bert Wicking, President of the Board of Education, John Barnes Superintendent of Schools, Charles Parcels, Marion Kellogg, Mrs. P. Dan Fitzpatrick, Dr. Frank Pitt and many others took an active part in the discussion which followed.

Mention was made of the future Grosse Pointe Woods branch library, which is to be the last wing constructed of the new Charles Parcels Junior High School building. When completed, this will give more adequate library service to the residents of that area.

When the proposed remodeling of the Sales home is finished, the present library building at Kercheval and Nottingham will become a branch library. This future Jefferson Avenue building will be the main library of Grosse Pointe, will service all branch libraries, and contain discussion rooms and an auditorium which will be available to citizens of all Grosse Pointe municipalities.

Discussing the relative cost of remodeling the Sales home and constructing a new library building, it was agreed that the Sales property could be made into an adequate library for less than half the probable cost of a new building. The consensus opinion was that the money required for remodeling the building should be raised by popular subscription.

Mrs. Hooker closed the discussion by stating that she and the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library recognize the imperative need for a larger library building. "We will continue to work vigorously for Grosse Pointe's future library until it has become a reality," she said.

At the informal reception which followed the meeting Mrs. Marion Kellogg and Mrs. Lewis Smart poured. A centerpiece of yellow chrysanthemums and white tapers graced the attractively set table.

Approve Hike In Bus Fares

City Councilmen Okay Stipulation Prepared by Four Municipalities

The Grosse Pointe City Council approved the new bus fare arrangement with the Lake Shore Coach Lines, Inc. at its meeting on November 17.

Under the agreement, which is identical with that proposed to the other four Pointe municipalities, the arrangement runs for three months. At the end of that period an examination and audit of the company is to be made, as agreed to by the company, and the result of this examination will determine whether or not a new fare structure is to be set up.

The bus company agrees the audit shall be made by some party acceptable to the municipalities.

Councilman Gerald Miller, John Mack and Chester Carpenter were named a committee to take up the issue again at the expiration of the three-months' trial period. The expectation is that the agreement to succeed the three-months' trial will probably be for one year, with a renewal clause year by year by mutual agreement between the City and the bus company.

This would permit a review of the fare issue annually if deemed advisable by either party. The arrangement does not affect the policing of the bus service as now prevails, and the bus company remains responsible for disruption of the street surfaces.

Police Rescue Drowning Hound

Patrolmen Mouton and Van De Ginste, of the Park police, fished a little beagle hound out of the lake in front of 15420 Windmill Pointe drive at midnight on November 12.

Neighbors had heard the little fellow barking and knew he was in distress somewhere out in the water. He had fallen in and could not get out. He had a collar but his license tag was missing. He was turned over to the pound to await his master.

Freezer Motor Sends Chills Up His Spine

An alert newspaper delivery man, hearing a motor running in the garage in the rear of a Muskoka road residence in the early hours of November 14, notified the Farms police.

No bodies were found. The noise was caused by the motor of a freezing unit located in the garage.

Pointe's Congressman Raps President Truman's Speech

Representative Harold F. Youngblood (R. Republican) of Michigan's 14th District, which takes in Detroit's East Side and Grosse Pointe, referred to the President's address to the joint session of Congress as "A Request to delegate the authority of Congress to the executive branch of the government and is equivalent to taxation without representation against which early Americans fought and died and which battle was sparked by the Boston tea party for which we now need a modern equivalent."

"The President asked for stop-gap aid in the amount of $597 million and, I am opposed to such action. However, I do feel that my personal thoughts in the matter are of no consequence as opposed to the wishes of the people of my district. If I can be persuaded that average citizens are in favor of this program I shall be glad to reconsider. However, I should like to point out that I do not include pressure groups as part of the average citizenry."

"As far as restoration of price controls and rationing are concerned I firmly believe that dissatisfaction with the operation of price controls and rationing was in part responsible for my election to Congress. This is not to be ignored and I am consequently opposed to any return to this program. It is to be pointed out that the President now asks for wage controls and that this is not time for such action. If there ever was a time for wage controls it was only during the war. The President has expressed himself as being in opposition to Communism but he has requested legislation and authority which would make the United States as communistic as Russia. He fights Communism with one hand and grants himself communistic authority with the other.

"Rising costs must be fought principally by retaining for the United States critical material and food stuffs and by putting an immediate end to ridiculous and inflationary farm subsidies. There is a shortage of food stuffs caused by (a) the government program of paying the farmer not to raise food and to kill live stock, such as, the well known destruction of One Hundred Million bushels of potatoes, (b) by shipping to foreign nations a portion of our already skimpy supplies; and (c) by the government stock-piling these items such as chickens and eggs and further reducing the supply and increasing the prices."

Representative Youngblood further expressed himself as being unwilling to pull any chestnuts from the fire for lame duck bureaucrats and called for stopping at once all socialistic economic tendencies in our government made at the suggestion of "A bankrupt haberdasher."

Bandit Wanted Here, Detained

Lee Johnson, the colored man whom Detective Enders journeyed to Toledo, O. last week to interview in connection with a safe burglary and the stealing of a car from the Packard service station on Jefferson avenue last June, won't be back to Grosse Pointe for a long, long time.

Although he confessed to the crime here and generally evinced a desire to face Michigan justice, the Ohio police want him too badly to relinquish their claim.

They said he was wanted there for sixteen holdups, eleven of them proved, and for the rape of two white women, both of whom have positively identified him.

In one of these cases he broke into the house and ravished the woman who was alone in her home at the time.

They assured Enders he would be taken out of circulation for a long period. The best concession they would make was to let the Park police file against him when his promised term there has expired. Incidentally, Enders learned that Johnson's right name is Robert Lee Petty. His is 26 and recently hailed from bama.

Rat Ordinance Adopted by City

A rat ordinance adopted by the City Council on Monday night follows the same general lines of one recently adopted by Detroit. The Detroit ordinance was generally intended to be a pattern for all municipalities in the Detroit area, most of whom are confronted by the same problem that has existed in Detroit for many years.

It is expected that all of the municipalities in the metropolitan area will eventually place themselves within the Detroit plan. Many conferences that have been held on the subject in recent years have all agreed that the control and elimination of the rat problem could only be met by cooperation of all the adjoining communities operating under a common plan.

The ordinance covers a mass of detail. Most of this has to do with the elimination of places for their hiding and propagation and on their exclusion from places for the storage of food and from vehicles used in its transportation.

FRED POTVIN HONORED

out now or planned for the future. The committee complimented both Furton and Beaupre for the efficient manner in which they have been discharging their duties in regard to the operation of the park. The report further stated that the committee felt "Mr. Keating either was ill-advised or lacked good judgment in criticizing matters with which he was not familiar. It is felt that Mr. Keating particularly erred when he forwarded a copy of his unjust criticisms to the newspapers before receiving a reply from the village council on the report."

Mr. Keating, who was present at the meeting Monday night, commented: "I see everything in this report except the brushes with which you men completely whitewash yourselves."

He said that Mr. Furton had admitted to him that there might be as much as a 10 per cent error in issuing pier-permits, and that in his opinion an error of 850, (based on a population of 8,500), was far too great.

President Watkins answered this with: "That may be your opinion. It isn't ours."

49 Chicken Pox Cases Reported

Forty-nine cases of chicken pox were reported to the Department of Health of Grosse Pointe Township during the month of October.

The monthly report of Dr. Thomas S. Davies, health commissioner, also lists two cases of mumps, two of measles, nine of whooping cough, one each of virus pneumonia, poliomyelitis and pediculosis.

Five cases of ringworm, one of scabies and one of Vincent's Angina, six dog bites and one squirrel bite complete the report.

HAYDN CONCERT

First complete Detroit performance of Haydn's "The Creation" is scheduled for Scottish Rite Cathedral, December 3 at 8:30 p. m., according to George Whitely, president of the Episcopal Laymen's Club of Michigan, which is sponsoring the concert as a benefit for Mariners Mission. "The Creation" is to be sung by the Detroit Oratorio Society.

To Flood Part Of Kerby Field

The Farms will again flood a portion of Kerby Field for skating purposes during the coming season.

On the request of Neil McEachin, chairman of the Recreation Committee, the village trustees agreed on Nov. 17 to recreate the rink which was started late last season as an experiment.

Last year water was run by fire hoses into the natural basin which exists on the field. This year a furrow will be plowed around a larger section of the field and a greater area flooded.

Elizabeth Tyrell Fatally Stricken

Miss Elizabeth Tyrell, aged 71, an employe in the Lynn McNaughton home in Kenwood road, was being driven by her niece from her place of employment to her home at 634 Eastlawn at 8:15 p. m. November 11 when she was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage.

Her niece turned into the driveway at the Park police station and Patrolmen Barclay and Vervacke assisted in getting her to the Bon Secours hospital. She died there the next afternoon at 3:45 o'clock.

Aged Pedestrian Struck by Auto

Emeric Duzzejonck, aged 75, of 861 Notre Dame, was struck by a car at the corner of Notre Dame and Mack about 6:40 o'clock on Wednesday morning, Nov. 12.

The accident was reported to the City police station by a witness and when Patrolmen Allor and Onstwedder answered the call they found Ferdinand De Poorter of 4655 Hereford, Detroit, on the scene. His report was that he saw the old gentleman lying in the street and dragged him over to the curb. Allor and Onstwedder took the injured man to Bon Secours Hospital, but when they returned for further information from De Poorter he had left.

The circumstances indicated the accident had happened on the Detroit side of Mack and the case was reported to the Detroit Accident Prevention Bureau.

The theory of the Detroit police is that De Poorter himself had struck the man and then driven around the block and picked him up. They said there was evidence on De Poorter's car that it had been in a recent accident.

At the hospital it was reported that Mr. Duzzejonck had suffered a very bad fracture of his right knee and a fracture of his right arm. He also had a large and deep laceration on his forehead. His condition was not reported as immediately critical, but no assurance as to the outcome of his case could be given on account of his age.

Quartet Admits Window Breaking

Farms police Sergeant Allard rounded up a quartet of local youngsters who admitted breaking 13 windows in a new house at the foot of Stephens road on November 13.

After being taken to police headquarters the boys were released to their parents. The quartet included Donald Johnson, 15, 438 Lothrop; William Armstrong, 14, 617 Rivard; Robert Kennedy, 14, 27 Radnor Circle; William Rupp, 14, 926 Rivard.

provide sickroom comfort for afflicted patients—about 108 of whom are receiving dressings at the present time. Need for adding to the closet has been felt for some time, despite maximum assistance from the Visiting Nurse Association.

Many special gifts, among them a radio and a bed, have already been contributed by members of the Colony Club.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office, Detroit Michigan, under the Act of March 3, 1897.

Safe Bathing Beaches

It is ridiculous that the people of Grosse Pointe should be harried by the perennial question of the safety of the lake water for public bathing at the municipal beaches.

The aggressive remedy of keeping sewage and other deleterious matter out of the lake looks a long, long way from fulfillment.

The large population residing within the drainage area to our north, and the presence of commercial enterprises polluting the water, appears to be a fact with which we will have to reckon for an indefinite time. The concerted action of the American and Canadian governments to safeguard the waters of the Great Lakes system, although it is inevitable in the future, is at present a long way from achievement.

Meanwhile every bathing season we are confronted with the imminent possibility, or probability, of being denied access to our waters by dict of the Health authorities.

Why would it not be sensible now for the Pointe municipalities, all of which maintain public bathing beaches, to begin to seriously examine the practicability and cost of providing tightly enclosed bathing pools, impervious against the penetration of the lake water and with efficient mechanical provision for a scientific guarantee of the purity of the water for bathing purposes? Water which we drink we should be able to make safe for bathing without too elaborate or costly provision.

The Park Village is already making a start on this plan.

Threat to the Pointe

An opinion will be handed down from the United States Supreme Court before long which may have serious implications for Grosse Pointe.

A case already well known as the McGhee case, which originated among residents of a subdivision on the east side of Detroit, sought to exclude from use or occupancy of a property which lay within the subdivision by a member of the Negro race. The provisions in the reservations obtaining in the subdivision prohibited use or occupancy by any person not of the white race.

The restriction was supported in the Circuit Courts. When it reached the State Supreme Court, the lower court's opinion was not disturbed but the broad intimation was conveyed that it should be passed upon by the United States Supreme Court.

The case is listed for an early hearing. Presumably the property owners of the subdivision are going to run head on into the Fourteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution; the one dealing with race, color, creed and such.

The realtors dealing in Grosse Pointe real estate, to whose efforts the exclusive character of the Pointe is chiefly credited, are keenly aware of the case and what its disposition by the highest court may signify for this area.

In recent weeks efforts have been made by the local real estate dealers to still further strengthen the control they have thus far been able to exercise over the use and occupancy of real estate out here. They have hoped to do this with the cooperation of home owners in the Pointe. If this forthcoming decision should be counter to the pursued practices in handling Pointe property apparently the only recourse open to this region would lie in the closest cooperation in individual capacity by every owner of every piece of real estate in the Pointe. It would look as if our local real estate men might stand in need of an even stronger measure of support than they have thus far had in their fight to keep Grosse Pointe the fine residential community at which they have aimed.

Europe's Choice

The American people are not a little confused and vastly exasperated by the reception many persons in Europe have given our proposal to advance them a matter of twenty billion dollars during the next five years, to relieve the distress that has befallen them as the result of the war and to get them upon their feet again as a self sustaining economic community.

It is the most gigantic tender of aid ever made in the history of the world for the benefit of human society.

It is an open secret that we do not expect more than a part of this vast sum to ever be repaid; possibly not any of it.

The proponents of the aid here at home support their movement with the argument that our own prosperity depends on the revival of the European economy. This may be true, but it is not half as certain as the concrete fact that we have proposed to advance a vast sum of money which the labor and sacrifice of the American people will have to repay.

It is difficult for the people here to understand why any political or economic group should fail to welcome such help. According to our moral standards it is inconceivable that any segment of the human faculty should be willing to oppose food for the hungry and employment for the idle and hopeless for the mere selfish and inhuman purpose of advancing their own concepts of social and economic regulations.

The communist cult is apparently willing to coerce into its ranks, via starvation and chaos, all who do not subscribe to their doctrines.

We can understand how a dictatorship by a few men in Russia might be willing to bring endless woe on human society in order to keep themselves in power but we cannot understand why the peoples of the formerly free countries of Europe should tolerate for an instant within their own ranks the machinations and general devilry which aims at keeping from them this help they so desperately need.

France, Italy and all other countries looking to us for this help had best put their houses in order, and quickly, to qualify for this aid. If they cannot show sufficient capacity to maintain primary law and order and a evince a desire to return again to the processors of peace and production there will inevitably arise in this country a strong public opinion to the effect that they are not worth saving.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Inspiration is like a cat,
Call to it and it leaves you fast;
Threaten to shoot it out of the house
And it brings you an inspiration-mouse."
(Don Blanding)

Having played nurse to our very sick kittens this past week, we can qualify any day as an expert feline nurse or "kitten sitter." Now we know what a "low" description one is trying to convey when he says of another . . . "He looks like a sick cat." During our vigil and several highly necessary visits with the veterinarian, we learned what a few of you dog lovers might want to know.

It seems that there is an epidemic of dog-poisoning going around . . . and the veterinary hospitals are filled daily with dogs suffering from rat poison. TOO MANY people call their vet when it is too late to save the dog. If your pet seems unduly thirsty . . . drinks a lot of water after coming indoors . . . then gorges it up and starts for more . . . there's a good chance he's been poisoned. Call the vet immediately and you will save him. They have a new serum that works wonders if you hurry. Wait five hours and you can get a box for Fido. Don't say we didn't tell you.

The following is our idea of a fancy piece of writing. We'll get to it in a minute. First, we explain that two employees of the North Arkansas Sprint Co., publisher of a weekly paper at Harrison, brought suit for alleged overtime wages. One was a foreman and the other a bookkeeper. The foreman worked 60 hours a week and was paid $45.00 . . . the bookkeeper also worked 60 hours a week and was paid $17.50 . . . a regular rate of pay at 29 1/2 cents an hour. (Bookkeepers please note!)

The court's ruling pointed out that it was the intent of Congress, when small weekly newspapers were exempted from the wage-hour act, to protect such publications. Here is an excerpt . . . and where the fancy wordage comes in.

"Small county newspapers are today, and historically have been, the unrestrained voice of the people. They are the last outlet of the remote voice of grass root individualism disturbing the polished turr of purchased or pressure opinion. They have avoided the absorption because they are unprofitable. They have been manned principally by individuals whose blood was limited by printer's ink . . . not miser's gold. The part they play in rural community life is well documented in the literature of our country."
(Now hurry up and renew your subscription!)

A local woman who employs a cook and one general maid, called to tell us this tidbit. One day recently, the maid was bedded down for the day with a cold. The young daughter of the house, heard the cook say to a friend (on the phone) "I don't know whether I can make it or not . . . you see my maid is sick."

One of the Duck-Marsh Bachelors . . . who is part owner of a snazzy marsh in Canada, invited a business acquaintance to shoot with him last week-end. The tired business man brought his young and pretty wife who hales from the South. The disconcerted hero of the marsh, not expecting the little woman, turned himself inside out to make things comfortable for her. Her bags were unpacked by the steward, her breakfast was served in bed (unheard of at any self respecting duck marsh) . . . and after she leisurely got dressed in a fur lined parka from Carnegie's . . . the threesome started out.

A guide took Mr. Business Acquaintance to one blind and our hero personally escorted the bride to the best blind. He did all the rowing . . . stepped out of the boat in water up to his knees . . . picked the little woman up and SET HER DOWN in the blind, where she stayed for an hour and shot all over the place but not at ducks. Finally she said she thought she'd like to go in for a little tea! Our hero roved back again . . . and planted her in front of the roaring fireplace, where the steward served her tea and cookies.

That night, over a sumptuous dinner, the little Southern Belle remarked, "Mah . . . this she is roughing it . . . Ah don't see how you all stand it." ("YES" . . . she was serious.)

A veddy circumspect matron in these here parts wanted to present a local merchant with "some little thing" to show her appreciation for a favor he had done for her young daughter. After a consultation with her husband, it was decided that a bottle of Scotch would be very acceptable. With some hesitation, the little woman took the bottle to his house and left it.

Later, when the merchant telephoned to thank her, she said, "I hope that's all right . . . after all, we don't even know if you touch liquor." Our hero put Madame at her ease instantly with, "Don't worry Mrs. Sonando . . . when I don't touch it I'm using a funnel!"

If they are swayed by such rot as the Russian charges of American imperialism and prefer hunger and chaos to the relief which America's splendid offer implies, it is their choice to make.

To offer help to people who quibble over receiving it, or violently oppose it, as those of the communist persuasion are doing, would be as satisfying a process as giving medicine to the dead.

Of one thing all the world may be assured. This nation is not composed of such numskulls as to persist in giving aid to people who supinely permit themselves to come under the domination of a band of conspirators who blatantly proclaim their purpose to destroy the system of government and society upon which we were founded and by which we still live and prosper.

Black Markets Again?

If the President hopes to make effective the price and ration controls he asks of Congress as an alternative measure if voluntary cooperation breaks down, he had better start out on the hypothesis that Harry Truman is not a candidate for the Presidency a year from now, and direct his every act as if this was a fact.

It has been proved over and over again that the effectiveness and common honesty of governmental controls diminishes in direct proportion as the time approaches when the Executive submits his case to the people.

Every directive and maneuver in the price control undertaking is subjected to scrutiny and suspicion in the light of its political implications.

When Herbert Hoover directed our voluntary food conservation program in the first World War he obtained a remarkable degree of cooperation from the people. They had implicit confidence in his ability and integrity and he was not a candidate for any office.

In the Second World War we had endless trouble from large elements of the population who cynically refused to abide by the law of the land, not to mention the ordinary promptings of patriotism in war time.

What measure of cooperation can we expect from such persons in time of peace and for such a remote reason, according to their dulled comprehension, as feeding hungry people in Europe or enabling a distressed father to get work to support his family?

It can only work if the President and all of his official entourage exhibit an independence of political considerations that will be convincing; and that will be an extremely difficult task for this administration to achieve.

The alternative to success in any price and rationing control efforts at this period will be a revival of blackmarketing and profiteering on a scale that will make the operations during the war look like small peanuts.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

Last week quite a few things of interest happened. DR. GERARD KNIPER, of the Yerkes Observatory and of the McDonald Observatory suggested that there is life on Mars reasonably like life on our own cozy old Earth. His planet-shaking announcement came out on the same day I gave a party. Coincidence, what! They may have a lot of fun on Mars but I'll bet they haven't got bipeds up there as pretty and gay as the female variety that were floating around down here at my party.

One was the fascinating LEONORA CORBETT who played the dream hunt in Blythe Spirit. Last year, fresh from Reno and a divorce from JOHN ROYAL, she pranced straight from the plane to lunch at 21. When people saw the book under her arm they burst into loud laughter. The title was, "I, CHOSE FREEDOM. Now LEONORA is again being seen around with ROYAL. When her friends ask, Will you re-marry JOHN?, LEONORA asks, Should one repeat one's successes?

Another chic number was GLORIA SWANSON in ermine chetia and muff. GLORIA looks exactly as she did the first time I met her, which wasn't yesterday. She was the MARQUISE de la FALAISE then, and we were all in LE TOUQUET. She used to change her costume at least four or five times a day and had the whole populace trailing her down the hill when she went from the Westminster hotel, where she was staying, to the place. I simply soaked in bright green envy.

JIMMY SAVO and his delightful Italian wife were here too. JIMMY was receiving congratulations on all sides. Everyone likes his new book, "LITTLE WORLD, HELLO." SIDNEY KINGSLEY came, and HELEN MENKEN and RUSSELL PATTERSON who has just done a pretty fancy job of art in the newly redecorated Monte Carlo. The RUSSELL CROUSES didn't get here because they couldn't get a baby sitter. I said, What, with all those four million dollars you made out of "LIFE WITH FATHER," you can't afford a sitter! It wasn't quite like that, though. The poor baby had had six nurses in five weeks and the soft hearted CROUSES hadn't the courage to throw another new face at him—at least for a few days.

On Friday, last week, I went in to get my wedding hat from JOHN FREDERICS. I call it that, not because anybody has beseeched me to become a bride, but because I never wear a hat at all except at weddings. JEANNE BRADLEY, formerly of G. P. Farms, is going to be wed soon, and there are a lot of other nuptial events in the near future, so you can see the expense I am put to. And besides, there is also the present yet. In the end I may just have JOHN FREDERICS send the bill to General Motors, an' the hell with it.

JOHN would love to see me all trussed up in sequins and the breasts of unborn canaries but I am the grim type and I really look best in an old bagpipe, with a kiltie behind to skirt. After we had yapped a while JOHN gave up and we went to see a preview of ROSITA DIAS' new picture. ROSITA, as I have mentioned before, is a big draw in Latin America, so naturally the film was in Spanish. It was something about a mermaid falling in love with a mortal—and you know how that is. I said to those in the five rows nearest me, No good will come of this—just mark my words. ROSITA lay on a rock a good deal of the time and her lover chased her like mad when she got saucy in the surf. At one point in the film, she looked under the bedclothes and found she had legs. No one was surprised but ROSITA. When they put her in a kiddie coop to learn to walk I gave up trying to understand mermaids, Spanish and the people who make pictures. JOHN had a very personal interest in the film—he made the mermaid tail. He said he worked very closely with ROSITA on that.

Invitations are out for the first debut parties of the winter season. I hope things will go better for the mamas this year than they did last. Two of the biggest spreads ended in loud laughs from everyone except the hostesses. At one, the mama stamped her small foot and ordered the party fini at the incredible hour of 3:30 a. m. She said the musicians were drinking too much; likewise the guests, and furthermore someone had pinched her. At the other the mama celebrated so lustily she passed out cold at 1 a. m. Fine thing!

V.F.W. Request Being Studied

The Alger Club, V.F.W., made a request of the City Council at the meeting on November 17 for a dance permit. Mayor Netting raised the question whether this was for a particular dance or to be a general dance permit covering any parties, public or private, which might rent the hall for a social function. The latter appeared to be the case.

The request was referred to the Police Committee for examination and report to Council for later action.

WATER COMES HIGH

Mrs. Allen Sheldon of Lake Shore road has asked the Farms to consider the adjustment of her water bill for the quarter ending Sept. 30. The bill, for $521.78, was excessively high because of a break in the water line.

A headache may derive from any one of 30 or more serious causes. Only a physician can correctly diagnose and prescribe the cure.

A headache is a pain and a pain is always a symptom of something. A sedative may alleviate, but the underlying cause is still there and may progress, unless the trouble is corrected.

Ellen Colby Little Weds John Probert

Young Couple Will Live in Santa Rosa Drive Following Southern Trip; Ceremony Held in Memorial Church

In her mother's wedding gown and her great-grandmother's bridal veil, Ellen Colby Little became the bride of John Sidney Hall Probert at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Paul Ketcham heard the couple's vows in a candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Robert Little of Rivard boulevard and her husband's parents are the Sidney C. Proberts of Kensington road.

Shirred illusion formed the off-the-shoulder yoke and full draped sleeves of the bridal gown. Tiered panels of the illusion formed an overskirt on the full satin ballerina skirt.

A sweeping panel of satin fell from the shoulders to form a long court train. Rose pointe lace which had belonged to the bride's great-grandmother formed the coronet caught to the full-length tiered veil of ivory illusion with clusters of orange-blossoms.

She carried an heirloom lace fan bearing a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. R. J. Bishop came from Norwalk, O., to be Ellen's honor matron, and her sister, Marjorie Collette Little, was maid of honor. The two were gowned alike in frocks of turquoise faille designed with square necklines, fitted bodices and bouffant skirts edged with ruffles. Pink feathers formed coronets in their hair and both carried arrangements of pink and white chrysanthemums.

Identical dresses were worn by bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert Little and Virginia Probert. Their coronets were turquoise, of the same shade as their gowns, and they carried solid pink chrysanthemums. Mr. Probert served his son as best man. Seating the guests were Dr. Robert Little, brother of the bride, G. Douglas Gordon, Arthur Nixon and Philip Leidich. The home of the bride's parents which followed the ceremony, Mrs. Little received her guests in a gown of gold crepe. A small hat of matching silk roses intertwined with maline completed her costume. She wore a corsage of talisman roses. Pale blue and silver were Mrs. Probert's choice for her son's wedding. Blue ostrich tips formed her matching hat and she wore pink roses. Mrs. Richard H. Probert of Kensington road, grandmother of the bridegroom, wore a mauve gown with purple ostrich tips trimming her small hat. When the young couple left for a southern wedding trip, the new Mrs. Probert wore a brown and beige striped suit, small feather hat and brown accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Probert will be at home in Santa Rosa drive.

Christ Church Opens Annual Yuletide Fair

Event Being Held in Gymnasium Culminates Year of Great Activity by Women's Groups; Mrs. Denler Is Chairman

Culminating a year of embroidering, sewing, crocheting, lace making, knitting, painting and collecting items on the part of women of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, the annual Christmas Fair opens today in the Church gymnasium.

The Fair is the focal point of the Church social activities and hundreds of women have combined their efforts to make it the most notable event yet, according to Mrs. John Denler, chairman.

Mrs. Edward F. Suits heads the committee which is responsible for the elaborate decorations. Large green wreaths with red balloons in the center will hang in every window of the gymnasium where the booths are set up. "Snow Ladies" in dresses of white cotton and tinsel with green wreaths on their heads will embellish the counters.

Blending the circus theme with the Yuletide will be two huge elephants with comic red berets atop their heads, flanking the entrance to the lounge—transformed into the white elephant shop for the affair. An unsurpassed number of donations to this booth made it necessary to reserve an entire room for the bargain items.

Mrs. Kenneth W. Cunningham and Mrs. Henry A. Bokram will preside over their collection which includes such things as sterling silver, hair dryers, vases, toys and household equipment.

At the book counter, Mrs. W. Hurst Montee and her committee will take orders for the new books on display. Buyers may purchase them for Christmas giving and have them billed by treasurer, Mrs. Floyd E. Straith, to stores where they have charge accounts.

Over 1500 decorative towels, many with delicate lace trimmings, and diminutive handmade pinafores for fashionables of two years of age will be featured at the sewing booths. Booths containing only handmade articles will stock bed jackets, practical or luxurious, brocaded evening bags, needlepoint articles and luncheon sets.

Mrs. H. M. Hamilton heads the sewing committee and Mrs. Samuel B. Brooks is treasurer. Assisting are Mrs. Charles Wright Jr., Mrs. Robert H. Garfield, Mrs. Lawson B. Coulter, Mrs. Clarence L. Fox, Mrs. Donald P. Schur, Mrs. Fred Stetekuh, Mrs. James E. Atkinson, Mrs. L. Robert Lilley and Mrs. George L. Schlaepfer.

Mrs. Paul H. Sutherland and Mrs. Hansel D. Wilson, both ardent gardeners in their own right, will oversee the activities of the flower and garden booth. Gaily painted bird cages and flower pots will be festooned with greenery in this booth and apropos of the season, Christmas table decorations will be the featured attraction.

Donations of prize homemade jams, jellies, relishes, pickles and canned fruit will be for sale in the booth of Mrs. Gilbert H. Colnot and Mrs. Fred H. Cole. Christmas puddings and cakes as well as other pantry-wise items will also be available. Calendars and novelties will fill one nook at the Fair—with Mrs. Raymond Walk and Mrs. J. C. Hurley supervising their sale.

Usual Christmas wrappings will be sold by Mrs. Thomas Smith; just the right kind with which to wrap the children's size Argyle socks knitted by churchwomen for the booth staffed by Mrs. George M. Hackman and her committee. Many other hand-knitted articles will be sold at the booth and Mrs. William F. Arnoldy is treasurer of this part of the bazaar.

Little misses accompanying their mothers to the Fair will find much to enchant their feminine interests in the toy shop under Mrs. Charles W. Peabody's direction. Beautiful dolls with completely handmade wardrobes will be featured there.

Mrs. Russell G. Candler and her corps of hostesses will provide refreshments to tea and cake in their booth during the Christmas Fair.

Yale Club Plans Christmas Ball

A fourth scholarship from this area will be established from the proceeds of the gala holiday dance planned by the local Yale Club for Dec. 19 or 20.

The club activities committee decided to replace the appearance of the Yale Glee Club, cancelled because of a mixup in dates, with the Christmas ball.

On the planning committee are James McEvoy, Jr., George B. Hefferan, John C. Chapin, B. Courtney Rankin, H. Hunter Williams, Ernest H. H. Graf, Joseph C. Standart, Jr., Washburne Wright, William G. Lerchen, Jr., and James McMillan.

Princeton Show Coming Dec. 26

Donald Finnie, son of the Haldeman Finnies of Ellair Place, will have a role in Princeton University's Triangle Show, which will hit Music Hall Dec. 23.

The show is titled "All Rights Reserved" and proceeds from its performance here will benefit the Princeton Club of Michigan's scholarship fund.

William J. Groul is general chairman of arrangements. On his committee are Charles W. Williams, tickets; John N. Lord, patrons and invitations; Thomas F. Paddock, entertainment; Henry Large, transportation for cast; Lewis S. Robinson, finance; and E. McCord Mulock Jr., publicity. "All Rights Reserved" is a musical comedy dealing with the publishing business, and has 15 Princeton students in its cast.

Arthur Gardners Visit in Pointe

Mrs. Arthur Gardner, who is the houseguest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell W. Anderson of Vendome road, has been honored at a series of parties since her arrival from Washington last week.

Mr. Gardner accompanied his wife on the trip, but returned to Washington after the weekend.

Mrs. Jewett Dwyer entertained at cocktails in her Lake Shore road home Saturday to fete Mrs. Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Paddock were cocktail hosts Wednesday evening at their home on Vendome road.

Mrs. John Wendell Anderson of Lake Shore road entertained at dinner in honor of her daughter last week and the Wendell Andersons were also dinner hosts for their houseguests.

BITING MONGREL SOUGHT

Jeffrey Gentile, aged four-and-a-half, of 288 Fisher road, was bitten on his right hand on Nov. 17 by a short-haired black and white mongrel dog. The Board of Health was notified. The dog is being sought.

U. of M. Club Holding Party

Lochmoor Club will ring with "Varsity" and "The Victors" tomorrow at 9 o'clock when the University of Michigan Club of Grosse Pointe gathers for its first social event of the season.

The bridge party falls on the eve of the final game of the season and full advantage will be taken of the coincidence, according to Miss Bernice D. Moore, chairman of the party. Tallies will be the traditional Block-M's of Michigan.

A surprise is that Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Abbott, Jr. of Alumni Association Office in Ann Arbor, will bring movies of the Michigan-Wisconsin or Michigan-Illinois football game, to be shown.

Assisting Miss Moore in arranging the party are Mrs. Hubert A. Goebel, Mrs. Herbert S. Semmitter, Mrs. Richard W. Larwin and Mrs. Joseph A. Murphy. Henry W. Jones is program chairman of the event, assisted by Dr. L. T. Rahm and Mrs. Ethelbert Spurrier.

Among those planning to attend the party are Club president and Mrs. Walter E. Pear, the Edward D. Trowbridges, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Hulbert, the John R. Drohens, Dr. and Mrs. John Pear, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace A. Temple and Dr. and Mrs. Leland V. Hewitt.

Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Sheaffer and Dr. and Mrs. Ethelbert Spurrier have reservations, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lasca and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie P. Young will make up the foursome. The George A. McBrides and Mr. and Mrs. H. Saaborn Brown plan to play together.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Fleming will have two tables—including Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Heftler, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Larwin and the Fred J. Schumanns.

Two Travelers Back From West

Coincidence marked the return of two western travelers last Thursday—Mrs. George Danforth Huntington of Neff road and Mrs. James K. Watkins of Cloverly road.

The twosome started out together on a trip to the West Coast over six weeks ago, but according to plan, separated in San Francisco to head for their respective destinations on the Coast.

Mrs. Huntington stayed at the City Club in San Francisco for a fortnight, spending time each day at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Danforth Huntington. After a trip to Gearhart and Portland, Oregon, she returned to San Francisco for a visit with Mrs. Frederick S. Buckley before returning to the Pointe.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Watkins was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Brown in Banning, California. Mrs. Watkins went out to join her in October and they managed a scenic tour before starting East.

Mrs. John Wendell Anderson of Lake Shore road entertained at dinner in honor of her daughter last week and the Wendell Andersons were also dinner hosts for their houseguests.

THOSE OF US GROUSING GENTRY WHO KEEP WONDERING WHEN THE HIGH COST OF LIVING IS going to segue into the low cost of high living, should cast an exploring eye across the sea to London, where the Royal Wedding is dividing headline honors with the more Rigid Rationing Program.

The British—having the hard shell and inner bounce of one of their own cricket balls—see nothing incongruous in this situation. One united nation, they face it as one united family. A family, once fabulously wealthy, who happening upon leaner days are going to see to it that their eldest and most eligible daughter is wed with all the pomp and circumstance her rank decrees and deserves. After all, they don't have to go out and buy anything on a tobogganing credit. The jewels have been in the Royal Crowns for centuries, the gold and silver dinner service is right there in Buckingham Palace, and the heirloom lace becomes more mellow and precious with age. The rest of the pageantry is supplied by the loyal and loving Empire. The regal cape of sables, for instance, worn by Queen Elizabeth is a gift of the Hudson's Bay Fur Company of Canada. So it goes. It is obvious that a nation or a family who have once been rich but proud, find it simpler to be more proud than poor.

The more rigid rationing enforced now includes even potatoes—at three pounds a week per person. The bacon ration is one small rasher per person per week. There is less sugar and even less butter. For the British, who so long served tureens of food at their leisurely breakfasts, the bacon and butter cut is a bit of a blow below the belt. Mollie Painter-Downes, who understands the foibles as well as the fortitude of her own countrymen and women puts it this way:

"Many families have set up an arrangement whereby everyone takes turns at having a good breakfast, achieved by pooling the entire family's ration, while the other members sit by with their eyes averted and mentally sick off the days to their own turns."

It isn't so much a question of pulling in one's belt as pulling out one's will power. Because the paradoxical twist to the austere rationing crisis is that the allotments now contain so much starch in the diet that one can actually gain in weight and lose in nourishment.

But as a nation, the English are not only conforming but doing so with a sort of grim sense of humor. Black marketeers and their like are referred to, in scorn, as SPIV—each one of their writers pointed out was VIPS, spelled backwards. The VIPS, you recall were the alleged Very Important People, laughed off by the Really Important People in this London jargon.

Their playwright, J. B. Priestly, catches this spirit of strained amusement in his play, "The Linden Tree," now packing them in, in London. In this play, one rather rueful character observes: "This rationing is rather difficult."

And from a battered-but-not-beaten charwoman comes the reply: "It's not difficult, dear. It's bloody impossible!"

This spirit of accomplishing the impossible is no new thing with the British, it being in fact one of the traits for which they most admire themselves. That it is a native habit is attested by that epigrammatic playwright of another more lush era, one Oscar Wilde, who remarked: "I never believe the impossible: I always believe the impossible."

Today, they not only believe it—they achieve it.

All of which makes seem rather timid and tenderfoot the fact that some of our American food companies are not only pulling in their belts, but pulling out their dough. Radio Row is running hither and thither in a dither about the hush-hush agency deal involving the time honored Sunday night program of Fred Allen.

In one of the quietest radio shake-ups on record, Standard Brands has cancelled the Allen program, with its $1,500,000 yearly tab—effective after its first 13-week cycle on January 4th. This in face of the fact that Standard Brands were reluctant to give up Allen, especially at this moment when he has an equal rating with Bob Hope for the top rated show in radio.

And who do you suppose, kiddies, grabbed this top spot comedian in radio? The Ford Dealers Association! They not only signed up Allen, but turned the trick, through the J. Walter Thompson Brain Boys, before any of the other sponsors were up eating their own breakfast of chumps. Thereby, bringing another top scoop to that well known City of Champions—you must have heard of it—dear old Detroit and Greater Grosse Pointe.

Whytes Follow Busy Schedule

A complicated party and travel schedule has made the Trombley road menage of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Whyte a mecca of activity this week.

The Whytes left yesterday by train for New York where they will join Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fruehauf and Mr. and Mrs. David Harimette—who left for the East two weeks ago and one week ago respectively. Plans call for a Saturday return to insure Thanksgiving dinner with their children, Peter and Tommy.

Before they left, however, Mrs. Whyte was hostess at a luncheon in her home in honor of Mrs. Douglas McKeachie of New York City and Nassau. Mrs. McKeachie is the houseguest of Mrs. E. Llywd Ecclestone of Lincoln rd. Guests at the party included Mrs. Nelson Diebel, Mrs. Edwin Horan, Mrs. Nelson Schlaff, Mrs. James K. Campbell, Mrs. Tom Fitzgerald, Mrs. Ecclestone, Mrs. Edward Stark, Mrs. Elwood Peabody, Mrs. James Thompson and Mrs. George Vawter.

The luncheon was neatly fitted in between trips, for the Whytes went over to Evanston Saturday for the Northwestern - Notre Dame game.

THE FINEST MEAL I EVER COOKED!

That's what Jim said after the first meal on our new electric range. And he's right. Postwar electric ranges are a vast improvement over older models. Ovens are better insulated. Heating units are more efficient. That means even faster cooking . . . lower cost.

You save extra time, too, with the automatic control that starts and stops your range by itself. Why, you can go shopping all day and have supper ready to serve when you return. And there's no heating up the kitchen . . . no soot or smoke to bother about.

These easy-to-use electric ranges are in stock right now at your local dealers. Be sure to see them soon.

Skilled riders will play games on horseback in the indoor ring. Devotees of the square dance will take over the tearoom. One and

THE THOMAS PETZOLDS of Edgemont Park are en route in their car to New-York for a short stay.
 The Michigan-Ohio State game annually provides a chance for turnabout visits—and this year is no exception. Last November's guests will be this year's hosts when MR. AND MRS. PAUL SHIPMAN, THE HENRY EARLES and MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH PARSONS entertain the Columbus contingent of MR. AND MRS. JOEL POORMAN, THE WILLIAM PACES, MR. AND MRS. FREDERICK JONES and MR. AND MRS. JOE MEYERS.
 MRS. C. THORNE MURPHY arrived in Rivard boulevard Tuesday after a round of visits in the East. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy went to Lawrenceville, N. J. to see son, BILL, call the signals for the Lawrenceville-Hill School game on Nov. 8. When Mr. Murphy returned, Mrs. M. went on to Philadelphia to visit friends. Saturday she and Bill were at the Yale-Princeton game—from whence she went up to New York for a visit with her brother-in-law and sister, MR. AND MRS. JOHN FAUSE and son JOHNNY of Sao Paulo, Brazil.
 Due back Saturday after a tour of inspection of Eastern schools are MRS. FRANCIS B. CREAMER and her daughter, SARAH JANE. The duo are the guests of Mrs. Creamer's mother, MRS. ANDREW F. GATES in Lebanon, Conn. They will be home in ample time to make ready for the arrival of ANDY from University of Virginia on November 26.
 The Yale-Princeton game in Princeton, N. J. Saturday received the undivided attention of THE SIDNEY HALLS who returned to their home in Cranford Lane Monday.
 Another Princeton roofer last weekend was MARJORIE OBERTEUFFER, daughter of MR. AND MRS. REECE B. OBERTEUFFER of Edgemont Park. She was the guest of THE HENRY DISSTONS for the weekend before journeying up to New York where she will attend the FARLEY-HICKEY wedding Saturday.
 MR. AND MRS. JAMES W. LEE II of Neff road have a houseguest—Mr. Lee's mother, MRS. IVY LEE of Wilton, Conn. Mrs. Lee arrived early in the month and will remain with her son and daughter-in-law until after Thanksgiving. One of the many parties honoring Mrs. Lee was hosted by MISS FRANCES HUNTINGTON of Neff road.

'My Sal' Object Of Police Search
 Paul A. Corey, of 1529 S. Cedar street, Lansing, went into the Park police station at 10:25 a. m. Sunday, Nov. 16, and reported that his car had been stolen from in front of 529 Pemberton where it had been parked.
 The police believe it will not be difficult to identify and recover the car, a small truck, as it had the name "My Sal" boldly painted on both doors. Mr. Corey said it was worth $2,200 and hoped it would be recovered before the thief had time to paint out the "My Sal".
WORLD FELLOWSHIP
 The annual World Fellowship observance of the YWCA will be observed at Lucy Thurman Branch at 4 p. m. Sunday, November 23. At this time YWCA members make their gifts for YWCAs of other countries.

Christian Science Lecture by Charles V. Winn, C. S. B.

Given Under Auspices of Sixth Church of Christian Science, Tuesday, Nov. 11, 1947

Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: The Science of Unlimited Good

by Charles V. Winn, C. S. B. of Pasadena, California

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

Many centuries ago the prophet Isaiah was meditating upon the things of God. In a moment of great exaltation he declared, "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters." Was this good and wise man expressing mere human emotion, or was he setting forth a divine fact? Christian Science declares and demonstrates that he was stating an eternal verity, even the ever-availability of the refreshing waters of Truth.

Christian Science the Law of God

Christian Science is the law of God, unlimited good. The understanding of this Science unseals the gates of heaven and opens the way to the Kingdom of God. In accordance with the definition which Mary Baker Eddy gives of Christian Science in one of her writings entitled "Fundamental Divine Science" there she defines Christian Science as "the law of God, the law of good, interpreting and demonstrating the divine Principle and rule of universal harmony" (p. 1). This succinct and clear statement of what Christian Science is bases its entire philosophy, practice, and demonstration.

Mrs. Eddy's definition of Christian Science is not mere intellectual precept, but it is an eternal truth which has been unflinching proved in the life of our Leader. Through this life she was healed of disease, raised from what appeared to be a dead state, and returned to the life of power and usefulness which has blessed the whole world. She saw and proved that the law which Jesus used to heal the sick and raise the dead, to restore sight to the blind and hearing to the deaf, is just as operative, just as life and power, and as potent to heal now as it was in his day and time.

Webster's dictionary defines law as "that which is laid, set, or fixed." A law, then, must be unvarying, impartial as to persons, operative everywhere, and it must be certain in its results. A so-called law which operates for one and not for another, which acts in one way at one time and in a different way at another, which works in one place and not in another, cannot be law, but must be a mere opinion, a mere theory. It is only a belief, changing and variable, uncertain and unreliable. The law of mathematics has never been known to fail, and it is never affected by time, place, circumstances, or conditions. When it is properly applied, it yields the same results; it is equally available to all persons. Christian Science proves conclusively that the law of God when understood brings true freedom and reveals the kingdom of heaven, unchanging harmony, here and now.

True Nature of God

If we would discern aright the nature of law, we must perceive the character of the lawgiver, or the source from which law comes. In the definition of Christian Science which we have just been considering, we learn that it is not only the law of good, but that it is "interpreting and demonstrating the divine Principle and rule of universal harmony." His law must of necessity be a law of unlimited good, wholly beneficial in its purpose, wholly kind in its operation, wholly just, a law which blesses, heals, and redeems everyone. God's law has behind it the power of immeasurable good; its exercise promotes the highest degree of good. As we perceive this eternal fact we exclaim with the Psalmist, "O how love I thy law!" It is my meditation all the day, and I will reiterate this sublime statement, "Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live: for thy law is my delight." When something lovely comes into our experience we exclaim, "Oh, how delightful!" God's law always manifests His boundless goodness. His unflinching mercy, His tender grace.

To interpret means to make plain, and to demonstrate means to prove. Christian Science explains simply and logically the true nature of God and man in His likeness, and then proves these verities by incontrovertible works. Our great Master declared, "By their fruits ye shall know them." Theorizing and idle speculation do not get us anywhere; but by text book and outdoor actual proof.

Mrs. Eddy says in her textbook (p. 146), "Divine Science derives its sanction from the Bible. In the opening chapter of the Bible we read, 'And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good.' The Scriptures repeatedly set forth the fact that God is omnipotent or all-powerful; that He is omnipresent or everywhere; that He is omniscient or all-knowing. We can now quickly discern the Science of unlimited good, its unflinching assistance, its limitless resources. "Good and upright is the Lord," the Psalmist declared, and in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, we read (p. 286): "In the Scriptures the term for God, the Scriptures declare all that He made to be good, like Himself,—good in Principle and in idea. Therefore the spiritual universe is good, and reflects God as He is. We are all seeking good. We may differ in our concepts of good and how it is to be obtained. In reality there is only one Science of good, which Christian Science reveals in all its fullness. This Science, when understood, removes all limits that we might place upon divine power, and shows us clearly that its law is unflinchingly operative and instantly available.

Understanding of God, Good, Overcomes Evil

We lay hold upon this infinite good and its limitless power through spiritual understanding and right thinking. Job declared, "Account myself with him, and be at peace: thereby good shall come unto thee." As we dwell in thought upon the allness and oneness of good, we disassociate ourselves from the belief in evil. As we recognize the supremacy of good, we become aware of the impotency of evil. By knowing that which is right, we know and dispense with the wrong.

God is infinite good. That which expresses Him is righteous, good, and true. Anything that is not good is baseless, lawless, lifeless, powerless, worthless. He who maintains this supremacy of good in his thinking finds that the power of good is working with him and for him. It is this activity of good, this rule of universal harmony, which heals disease, banishes suffering, establishes perfect concord.

I have a friend who was suffering from tuberculosis and rheumatism. He was also a victim of the tobacco habit and the liquor habit. He finally turned to Christian Science and was healed. His thought was illumined with the all-power and ever-presence of the divine good, and as a result he was instantaneously healed of his physical difficulties and freed from his bondage to liquor and tobacco. He later became a Christian Science practitioner. What a beautiful proof of that great promise, "For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

God, Good, the Only Lawgiver

The Apostle Paul said a great deal about the conflicting laws of the flesh and of the Spirit, and how to gain the mastery over the claims of the flesh. The same mortal mind today would have us believe that there are two kinds of laws governing man; that he is sometimes subject to the law of heaven and at other times to the law of disease. At that one time he may be under the law of concord and at another time he is liable to discord. But, like Paul, we know there is but one Lawgiver. Since good is unlimited, it is present, and supreme, its law is the only law. This means that God's will is that all His creation shall enjoy the unbounded good that He has freely and bountifully bestowed upon all. A young lad was afflicted with diabetes and heart trouble. His mother had been a materia medica nurse and naturally turned to material means for help, but these completely failed to bring any relief. She then turned to Christian Science, and her boy was entirely healed. He was an aviator in the late war, and passed the most rigid Army physical examination. At times it was necessary to fly at very high altitudes, and even there his heart action was normal. The Science of unlimited good, through its law of universal harmony, had established his freedom and health. As Mrs. Eddy has written in Science and Health (p. 72), "Not personal intercommunication but divine law is the communicator of truth, health, and harmony to earth and heaven."

The Scriptures declare that God is Love and in the Christian Science textbook (p. 502) we read, "The creative Principle—Life, Truth, and Love—is God." Divine Love is the creator, source, and origin of all that is real and true. As we conform our lives to this Principle, Love, unlimited good comes into our experience, enriches our lives, and unfolds to us the great, the grand, and the good. "If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land" is the promise, and God's promises never fail. The Christian Scientist has proof after proof that unlimited good ever flows from that infinite Love whose constant bestowals give full evidence of the riches of His grace, and of His perfect law.

Primitive Christianity Restored

Christian Science restores the healing of primitive Christianity. It heals and redeems in the same way that Jesus, our great Master, did. How grandly he proved the Science of unlimited good, its healing grace, its restoring power, its transforming influence. He never restricted his ministry to the sinner, for he knew that God's power, the power of infinite good, is equally available to the sick man, the dependent man, the one striving to overcome lack, to everyone, no matter what his seeming problem. He declared, "Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out." We have no record of his sending anyone away who earnestly sought him for healing; nor did he ever recommend any other means than the spiritual. He proved the truth of his own words, "With God all things are possible." The power of unlimited good is divinely adequate to heal every disease, to solve every difficulty, to remove every obstacle, to adjust every discordant situation.

Christian Science shows the naturalness, the normality, the rightness of health, harmony, and goodness. Health is not a personal possession to be accepted or rejected at will, any more than is goodness, health, life, and peace, is a quality of God, and it is reflected or expressed by all of God's children alike. Health and wholeness are synonymous terms, according to the dictionary. Health, freedom, and concord are not something gained by a long struggle and then occasionally retained. They are innate in man, God's image, and likeness. God is infinite good, and His work is wholly good; His law is wholly good, and His entire creation expresses the wholeness, the completeness, of God, good. "Ye are complete in Him which is the head of His universe and power," the Bible assures us. "Science," writes Mrs. Eddy (Retrospection and Introspection, p. 60), "reveals Life as a complete sphere, as eternal, self-existent Mind." When we look at a rainbow from the earth we see only a part of it; they are alike in man, God's image, and likeness. God is infinite good, and His work is wholly good; His law is wholly good, and His entire creation expresses the wholeness, the completeness, of God, good. Farms Conducts Experiment On Swimming Water at Pier

A report on experiments carried out during October at the Farms beach was given the trustees Monday night by Engineer Murray Smith.

Mr. Smith and Chemist DeBoer of the village water plant, chlorinated the water at the beach 24 hours per day for about two weeks, with what are stated to be "pretty good results."

Toward the end of this period a chlorine residual was found in the water all over the area, a condition "that would exist in a closed chlorinated swimming pool."

Mr. Smith said the safety of the water having a slight chlorine residual is recognized by the Board of Health. It is the hope of his department to carry on the work next spring before the swimming season opens, with a view toward being able to provide water which would be safe for swimming.

Equipment used in the experiments was borrowed from Highland Park. This liquid chlorinator is available for purchase if the Farms is interested, the trustees were told.

The cost of material used in the experiments was $5 per day, or 10 cents per pound for 50 pounds of chlorine, injected into the water in a stream of water so it was mixed before it went into the bathing area.

City Denies Plea Of Bar Operator

The request of Jules Castelyn, operator of the former Colonial Cafe at 17282 Mack, for permission to open his establishment at a new location next door was denied by the City Council at the meeting on November 17.

Mr. Castelyn, in his petition, stated that in all the years he had operated in Grosse Pointe there had never been any occasion to call in police to suppress disorder and no complaint had ever been lodged against his way of operating his establishment. The members of Council made it clear they had no criticism whatever of Mr. Castelyn but considered his request on the basis of the wishes of the residents of the City.

The chief barrier to Mr. Castelyn's request was that the adjoining section of the Mack avenue frontage had recently been converted into Zone "A" classification, restricted to single family residences.

Mr. Castelyn's former location had recently been condemned and taken over by the County in the widening process on Mack avenue. He acknowledged he had received due compensation for this from the County.

Maryland Avenue 11 Enjoys Its Best Season Since 1941

Victory Over St. Vincent Rounds Out Campaign of Six Wins, One Tie and One Loss; Insett Scores On Fumble

By JOE FROMM
St. Ambrose defeated St. Vincent 20-0 Sunday to conclude their best football season since 1941.

Guard Jack Insett scored the first St. Ambrose touchdown in the second quarter when he caught a fumble in midair on the St. Vincent 1 yard line.

Howard and Bob McFarland crashed over with two extra points. Tackie E. Roose, St. Ambrose captain, attempted to score an extra point but was stopped inches short of the goal line.

Neither team scored in the initial period. Between runs by McFarland and Howard and two exchanges of punts St. Ambrose worked their way from their own 26 to the St. Vincent 27 before the quarter ended.

St. Ambrose received possession of the ball on the St. Vincent 9 yard line near the beginning of the second period on a bad pass from center on fourth down.

A 5 yard penalty moved St. Ambrose back to the 14. In four plays St. Ambrose fell two yards short of a touchdown and St. Vincent took possession of the ball.

The St. Vincent runner was hit hard at scrimmage on the first play and fumbled the ball. It popped into the hands of guard Insett and he drove over for the score. As he hit he fumbled and Bob Graul recovered for St. Ambrose but the officials ruled Insett was over before he fumbled.

St. Ambrose moved all the way for another tally in the initial part of the third quarter from the St. Ambrose 33. Jack Howard sparked this drive with beautiful runs of 24, 15, and 10 yards.

Bob McFarland also picked up 18 yards in two tries in this drive. Dahneke plunged over from the 2. Jack Howard again sparked the next touchdown with two 17 yard runs and 9, 8 and 2 yard gains.

The last 2 yard plunge scored the third St. Ambrose touchdown.

From Joe To You

Football student managers have unusual jobs but last week was the first time that anyone had to take care of a set of teeth.

John Jervis, Grosse Pointe High School center, had his four front teeth knocked out during the summer while playing croquet. (He was hit in the mouth by a mallet.) Before the game last week he forgot to take out his bridges and had to entrust them with the manager.

Mt. Clemens is planning on building a new football stadium. Rumors around Grosse Pointe High said that the stadium was already built. As the players journeyed to Mt. Clemens they were anxious to see the new field but when they arrived all that was there were the old wooden stands from last year.

This year marks the second successive year that Grosse Pointe has played in Mt. Clemens. Next year they will again travel to Mt. Clemens for the third year in a row.

Royal Oak and Highland Park concluded the 1947 Border Cities League season Saturday with a 0-0 scoreless tie. The final standings are:

Field goals in prep football are very rare but Grosse Pointe fans have witnessed two of them this season. John "Pig" Flaughter kicked one for the Blue Devils that beat Fordson 3-0. Saturday Fred Listenbee kicked for Mt. Clemens to down Grosse Pointe 3-0.

Grosse Pointe had a player and a manager home in bed with the flu Saturday. Quarterback Dick Jackson and Manager Jim Fenske were the victims.

Two Teams Tied In P. O. League

De Santis and Bob and Louis Service are the two teams tied for the lead in the East Side Post Office Bowling League, each having 30 wins and 14 defeats.

The Detroit Sportsmen's Congress announced today that its annual Detroit Congress Sportsmen's and Boat show will be held at the Fair Grounds Coliseum, November 29 through December 7.

Red Team Wins Title at Pierce

The Red team captured the Pierce football championship for the lightweight league last week by downing the Whites 14-0. Russ Gragg, Red fullback and captain, scored both touchdowns with short plunges after long marches. Gragg crashed over tackle from the 3-yard line in the second period and from the 1 in the final quarter.

The starting lineups: White (8) Red (14). Metry, L. E. Pfeifle, Correa, L. T. Welch, Bessimer, L. G. Summers, Crowley, C. Von Allmen, Dickson, R. G. Schaller, Meyer, R. T. Gianeri, Applegate, R. E. Lamb, Marr, Q. B. Coury, Comins, capt. L. H. Van Tiem, Halbrook, R. H. Dair, Kitchen, F. B. Gragg, capt. White substitutes: Tulip, Tyson, Kilfourn, Burke, Coulter. Red Substitutes: Cinder, Smith, Sutton, Clark, Bashera, Ontsweder.

Don't make more excuses. There are too many going 'round already.

Dads' Club Plans Big Party For Blue Devil Grid Teams

By FRED RUNNELLS

Just as regular as clock work and as sure as the changing seasons, the Grosse Pointe Dads Club has announced its annual Football Roundup honoring the members of the Grosse Pointe varsity and reserve and Brownell football teams.

The gala event will take place next Tuesday night, November 25, at the high school at 8:15 p.m. As usual the Dads Club has gone all out in rounding up a bang-up entertainment program and is preparing for a bountiful feed.

Dan Beck, president of the Dads Club, will preside as master of ceremonies. The guest speaker will be Art Valpey, end coach of the great University of Michigan football team which clinched its first Big Nine title since 1933 last Saturday by trouncing the Wisconsin Badgers, 40 to 6, and the right to represent the Conference in the New Years Day Rose Bowl game.

Mr. Valpey will speak on football and sportsmanship and will follow his talk by showing movies of the most important Michigan games this season. This in itself would be well worth the price of admittance if there was a price, which there isn't. IT'S ALL FREE to every Grosse Pointe and Brownell boy and his dad.

In addition to this entertainment each high school coach will give a short talk on his respective sport. The Blue Devil's successful campaign, concluded last Saturday against Mount Clemens, should prove very interesting as the team was one of the best turned out their fourth consecutive shutout, Farms Market, being their latest victim. Martin's sponsor, Roy Buckeridge, on an extended business trip in the East, missed this one, Gilbert Coombs, subbing for him.

Table with 3 columns: Name, W, L. Rows include Houston Bros. Inc., Mid. Atl. Transp. Co., Martin Out'd Motors, Helzbaugh Motors, G. P. Review, Punch-Judy Bar, Wolverine Pot. Chips, Piche Barber Shop, Motor City Tires, Farms Market, Mondry Cleaners, RaHarrison Carpet.

Houston Brothers' Keglers Cling to Rotary Loop Lead

Helsbaugh Meters, only two points out of first place before last Friday night's matches, failed in their attempt to oust the Fisher-Maume service station boys from their first place rung. Every game was a thriller-diller from start to finish. Hewie Frazier and Irv Scheef being the sparkplugs for the winners and captain George Bamberg, being high man for the losers. Houston Bros. now lead the league by one point after their 3-1 victory over Helzbaugh, who dropped to fourth.

Captain Velpe's Middle Atlantic Transportation Co. continued its bid for first place by walloping Wolverine Pot. Chips, 4-0. Martin Outboard Motors hand-

Devils Start Court Drills

With Football Season Over Coach Wernet Starts Basketball Practice

By Fred Runnells

With scarcely time to change his football shoes for basketball shoes Coach Ed Wernet moved indoors and officially opened basketball practice with an invitation to returning veterans and reserve players.

It is too early to tell just how good this year's team will be but it is almost too much to expect it to compare with the 1946-47 Blue Devil squad which gave Grosse Pointe its first Border Cities League title in ten years.

The entire starting team of Paul Grubbs, Bob Olson, Johnny Rummel, Ed Isbey and Dick Wuerker was graduated last June. Coach Wernet admits he will have a very rough time in assembling another high scoring outfit like the group he lost through graduation. However Tom Willson and Leroy Gueresimo are returning and will give Wernet a nucleus around which to build a team. That is for the first half of the schedule.

Both Willson and Gueresimo will graduate in January. By this time Wernet hopes to find boys to replace these two stars.

Grosse Pointe will not be the only school to lose some good boys through the mid term graduation. Wyandotte will lose its star Joe Caterino and Royal Oak will lose its 6' 5" center Norm Zauchin. Both these boys have been bad news for the Blue Devils in past campaigns.

At this writing Monroe appears to be the strongest B.C.L. team this season. Monroe was the door-mat of the league last year while building up a green squad.

Fordson again will be strong and Highland Park still remains a question mark in basketball campaign.

This year's Blue Devil squad will be made up largely of last years reserve team. Barry Munro, Spike Quirk, Bayard Johnson, Vince Schoeck, Bill Farquhar, Peglinski, Lattner, Lagseth, Swift, Bob Hays and Tom Follis are the returning players from which Wernet will have to depend on most.

Teams Deadlock For Total Pins

Belding Cleaners and Boutin's Service rolled the same number of total pins in their match of Nov. 13 in the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's Bowling League. They will roll it off in their first frames tonight, November 20.

DeSchnyk went into the lead for high individual averages when his 177 in 30 games ousted Pety, who has held the lead for some weeks. Pety has a 176 average in 27 games to hold a second place tie with Kaiser.

Blue Devils Close Season By Losing to Mt. Clemens

Pointers Muff Five Scoring Chances and Taste Defeat When Listenbee Kicks Field Goal for Game's Only Score

By JOE FROMM

The Grosse Pointe Blue Devils concluded the 1947 football season with a 3-0 defeat at the hands of the Mt. Clemens Bathers Saturday afternoon. A field goal from the 11 in the initial part of the third quarter by the Mt. Clemens star, Fred Listenbee, provided the margin of defeat for the Devils.

Grosse Pointe outplayed Mt. Clemens throughout the game. They moved within the Mt. Clemens 20 yard line 5 times but each time failed to present the scoring punch and lost the ball on downs.

The greatest Grosse Pointe threat came in the final period when they moved all the way to the Mt. Clemens 5. On fourth down John Pig Flaughter, the offensive spark in the drive, was stopped at the line of scrimmage for no gain and the ball went over to Mt. Clemens.

The game was played on the Mt. Clemens gridiron before several hundred chilled fans. Between the third and fourth quarters the field was sparsely covered with a blanket of snow.

The snow presented quite an impressive scene at this point. The snow was coming down pretty hard as the teams changed ends of the field. The fans kept in the mood by singing the song "White Christmas."

Jim Flom received the opening kickoff on his own 3 and returned it to the 28. Don Miller ran through the center of the line for 12 yards and a first down on the 40.

Jim Flom, Jerry Allen, and Miller together picked up 17 yards and another first down on the Mt. Clemens 43. At this point in the game it looked as if Grosse Pointe would have an easy afternoon.

Jerry Allen picked up 6 yards on a reserve, after a 5 yard penalty against Mt. Clemens for a first down on the Bather's 32.

Miller's run of 10 yards was nullified by a Grosse Pointe penalty. A fake punt pass from Herb Gerhard to Flom picked up Grosse Pointe's fourth first down to the Mt. Clemens 22.

Miller, Allen and Flom were stopped for only 6 yards. On fourth down Flom attempted to cut between his right tackle and end but fumbled the pass back and was thrown for a loss, the ball going over to Mt. Clemens on downs.

The Grosse Pointe line of Mumford, Bray, Dewey, Romanski and Spurrier held and Mt. Clemens punted to the Grosse Pointe 34. Miller promptly brought the ball back 17 yards on the first play to the Bathers' 49. Herb Gerhard broke away for 22 yards two plays later to the Bathers' 32. On both of these plays both boys were stopped by the last man. With a little better blocking both runs would have been touchdowns.

The quarter ended at this point with the score tied at 0-0. Three plays picked up 8 yards and on fourth down Miller was stopped at the line of scrimmage and the Bathers took over on downs.

Reggie Trombley fumbled for Mt. Clemens on the second play and Erv Ciske recovered for Grosse Pointe on the Mt. Clemens 32. Two passes fell incomplete and two running plays netted only 7 yards, so Grosse Pointe lost the ball for the third time on downs.

Mt. Clemens took over on its 25 and moved 52 yards to the Grosse Pointe 23 before being stopped. Fred Listenbee and Reggie Trombley alternated running through the center and around the ends.

Mt. Clemens capitalized on a break in the beginning of the third period to set up their score. Listenbee kicked off for the Grosse Pointe.

Detroit Mapping Battle Against Smoke Nuisance

Detroit is making a study of the smoke nuisance on a metropolitan area basis, with the hope of setting up a control throughout the area by some uniform regulation that will be adopted and enforced by all of the surrounding municipalities.

An invitation to attend a conference on this subject on Belle Isle on Dec. 3 was received at the City Council meeting Monday night. Mayor Netting named Building Inspector Melvin Beatty and Highway Superintendent Julius Stork to attend the meeting representing the City of Grosse Pointe.

Sidewalk Repair Program Halted

The Farms sidewalk repair program, which has been under way for some months, is now being halted due to the shortage of material and the approach of cold weather. Most of the program has been completed.

Engineer Murray Smith was given permission by council to try and complete three blocks of curb work in Jefferson avenue between Fisher road and Elm court before winter sets in.

Barrier Fight

Gilbert Hanna, Thomas Blackwood and George Connor. At a meeting held two nights previous, on November 11, at which Mr. Sloan and Attorney Raymond Meurer for the United Raymond Theater were present, a proposition was made by Sloan that a row of honeysuckles should be planted on the two to three feet of the parking lot property not already paved and that this should be supplemented by additional evergreen plantings with about two to three trees to the lot width on the easement.

It was this proposition which the property owners promised to consider and one which they rejected at the meeting two nights later.

The position of the property owners in the subdivision is that the easement belongs to them, subject to such use of it as may be made by the public service companies. They maintain that the use made of the easement with shrubbery or otherwise is up to them.

They are opposed to the parking lot owners encroaching on this easement in order to have for themselves additional space for a parking lot.

The battle was resumed at the meeting of the Woods Council on November 18. When neither side was willing to concede anything, President Ghesquier asked the homeowners if they would be willing to leave the settlement of the matter in the hands of council. A hurried poll was taken and the suggestion was accepted by the property owners.

APPROVED

Mrs. Ernest W. Rapalee, 1229 Balfour, asked Park police on the night of Oct. 28 to investigate a car parked in front of her home. Police checked the car and found the occupants, according to their report, "O.K."

Car Leaps Curb; Rams Light Pole

Albert D. Thomas, Jr., of 509 Lincoln road, while driving north on Lincoln at 1:50 a. m. Nov. 15, ran over the curb and into a street light pole in front of 360 Lincoln, completely demolishing it. He also tore loose the cement at the base of the pole, causing a short circuit.

The Detroit Edison company was notified and sent out a crew who placed a cap over the base of the pole for safety.

Sylvia Zarembo To Give Concert

Once again the Detroit Dunning Teachers' Club is sponsoring a series of concerts planned especially for young people. The organization has always been interested in applying the principles of modern education to the study of music so that the basic fundamentals of music can be presented in an interesting fashion, on a level of the students' comprehension.

In recent years this group has conducted composition contests to encourage creative writing among Detroit students. As a non-profit organization it has sponsored several Harpsichord and Clavichord concerts so that young people of today could appreciate our musical heritage by hearing the early masters' music performed on instruments for which it was originally written.

Also under its auspices, a lecture recital was presented at the Rackham Auditorium by Guy Maier, nationally known concert pianist.

The 16-year-old Polish-American pianist, Sylvia Zarembo, will appear at Music Hall, Saturday, Nov. 22, at 3 p. m., under the auspices of the Detroit Dunning Teachers' Club.

This richly endowed youthful artist was born in Chicopee, Mass. She is a graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music, Philadelphia. At the age of 7 Sylvia was soloist with the Women's Symphony Orchestra of Boston, and later appeared with the Cleveland, New York and Philadelphia symphony orchestras, with a Chicago orchestra engagement coming up this season.

Her formal debut at Town Hall, New York, at the age of 10 was followed by another concert in 1945, with a third scheduled for this season.

Concert Backed By Patrons Club

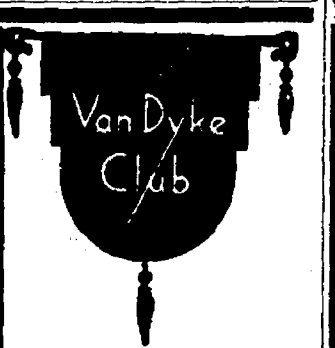

The Detroit Community Symphony Orchestra, under direction of Joseph Roy Lanyon, will give its first concert of the season, Tuesday, November 25 at 8:15 p. m. in the Jefferson Avenue Methodist Church, E. Jefferson and Marlborough avenues.

Emily Mutter Adams, violinist of the Detroit Symphony, will be the guest artist. Mr. Lanyon has chosen for his orchestral numbers a rounded program.

As a new policy this year, a number of church members and others interested in music have formed a Detroit Community Patrons Club to sponsor the orchestra as a community project, and function as a non-profit group. Patrons and guests will be admitted by tickets obtained at the door without charge.

During the concert a free will offering will be taken, the proceeds of which will be used to buy musical supplies and promote good music for those interested in such programs.

Ideas which can't stand on their own legs have to be defended by force of arms.

A & P Discloses Personnel Shifts

John J. Cairns, for the past six years operating superintendent of A & P Food Stores in the Detroit area, in charge of transportation and warehousing, has been named national director of operations of the Atlantic Commission Company, A & P's produce-buying affiliate, the food chain announces.

Cairns assumed his duties November 17 at Atlantic Commission Company's headquarters, 37 Wall street, New York City.

He is being succeeded in his Detroit post by Howard T. Jaehning, operating superintendent in the Indianapolis area. Stanley Ovaite, of A & P's divisional operating staff in Detroit, succeeds Mr. Jaehning.

Cairns began his career with the food chain in 1925 as equipment and supply clerk in the Detroit warehouse. He was named assistant operating superintendent in Indianapolis in 1928 and headed operations in both Indianapolis and Toledo before returning to Detroit in March, 1941.

Other recent personnel changes announced by the company include the promotion of E. F. Barnhorst, transportation superintendent in the Toledo area, to divisional traffic manager at A & P headquarters in Detroit. The divisional area includes Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and parts of Ohio and Illinois.

Barnhorst succeeds John C. Nicholls, who has been named assistant director of operations under Frank H. Bucher.

Mrs. Joy Addresses New England Women

Mrs. Henry Bourne Joy of Lake Shore road addressed members of the Detroit Colony, New England Women, at a meeting yesterday in the home of Mrs. Albert E. Stewart on Burlingame avenue.

Her topic, "Everyone's Debt to the Mayflower" was chosen in observance of Compact and Thanksgiving Days, seasonal Pilgrim holidays.

Mrs. Joy is governor of the Mayflower descendants in Michigan and holds membership in the New York City Colony, New England Women.

Preceding the general meeting, a meeting of the board was held, followed by a dessert-lunch. Mrs. Edward J. Savage, president, presided at the board meeting and Mrs. Marvin L. Hoagland and Mrs. C. Clayton Lanier were co-hostesses for the dessert.

What we make of our home is more important than what we make it of.

Alarm Discloses Broken Window

Patrolmen Allor and Mauck of the City police heard the alarm ringing in the Farms Market as they were cruising by at 6:20 o'clock in the morning of November 14.

Investigation showed that someone had thrown a stone or piece of cement through a rear window behind the iron grill.

This, however, did not explain the erratic conduct of the alarm, which neighbors reported hearing going on and off at irregular intervals.

Manager William Moir of the market believed the stone was thrown by some children who had been playing in the rear of the store, but did not associate this with the ringing of the alarm. He attributed this to a mechanical fault in the mechanism.

City Paving Fund Balance Reported

When the City of Grosse Pointe finished its big paving program in the summer of 1946, for which it had issued $300,000 worth of bonds, it had $54,000 left in the unspent balance. Early in the past summer the Council decided to continue the repair and paving program on other needy streets as far as the money would go.

At the Council meeting Monday night, Prescott Brown, the City's engineer, reported that this work had been finished and there was a balance of $10,052.46. From this the engineering costs remain to be paid. It is believed there will be a substantial balance after these are paid and this will be applied on further street work, although no new undertakings will be inaugurated this season.

The work that was done out of this last expenditure was: Caroline avenue and Charles street were reshaped and recapped; Notre Dame from Waterloo to Kercheval and from St. Paul to Caroline, St. Clair from Jefferson to Waterloo, and Neff from Jefferson to Kercheval were treated with plant mix asphaltic concrete.

Pierce High Students Observing Book Week

In connection with National Book Week, November 16-22, the Pierce Junior High School students will have the privilege of hearing Miss Harriet Harwood, book reviewer. Miss Harwood is a resident of Grosse Pointe. She reviews for radio programs.

Her talk to the Pierce Junior High School students will be "Book Reviews of Interesting Books for Teen Age Boys and Girls."

Dennis DeClerk Out of Hospital

Dennis De Clerk, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. George De Clerk of 1670 Ford court, Grosse Pointe Woods, is recovering at home following his serious accident of Nov. 8.

Dennis was waiting for a bus at Ford court and Mack and ran into the path of a car being driven south on Mack by Mrs. Laura Quick of 1953 Lancaster. She was completely exonerated of any negligence.

Dennis was taken to Cottage Hospital in the Woods police ambulance. He was treated by Dr. Rogers for compound fractures of both legs and a fractured pelvis.

Law Curbs Use Of Incinerators

An ordinance regulating the use of incinerators in Grosse Pointe City was adopted by the City Council on November 17. It provides that incinerators shall not be used in the City between 5 o'clock p. m. and 8 o'clock a. m.

The enactment of the ordinance was prompted by many complaints that have been made by citizens of some odors emanating from incinerators in the night time. In addition to that the hazard arising from their use can be better observed and controlled in the daytime.

Bond Transfer System Probed

At the Park village council meeting on Nov. 10, President Howard Parshall raised the question of making some arrangement whereby when it became necessary to transfer village-owned bonds from one of the downtown banks over to the Federal Reserve, the transfer be made by the banks themselves instead of by the village controller and policemen.

A bookkeeping notation of the transfer by the banks would be sufficient for the village on the bank's certification of the shift. The insurance company insuring the village against loss or theft in the change of depository would, he believed, be agreeable to this method. The village manager was asked to make inquiry on the practicability of the method.

Car Skids Into Passing Truck

A passenger car skidded into a truck in Kercheval avenue between Hall place and McMillan avenue on Nov. 7, doing damage estimated at $150.

James Crawford Frye, Jr., of 17130 East Jefferson, told Farms police he was driving east on Kercheval when his Pontiac skidded and threw him into a Studebaker truck going west. The driver of the truck was Alexander George Mrozek.

The passenger car took the worst beating, suffering $100 worth of damage.

MICROFILM RECORDS

The Farm Council has authorized hiring equipment to microfilm a portion of its records to save valuable storage space. If the experiment is deemed successful, it is likely that all of the Farms records will eventually be kept in microfilm form.

NOTHING NEW YET

The Farms council was notified on Nov. 17 that there is nothing further to report yet on the study being made of advisability of installing parking meters in Kercheval avenue between Fisher and McMillan roads.

LEGAL NOTICES

An Ordinance Requiring that Structures Be Rat-proofed, Freed of Rats, and Maintained in a Rat-proof and Rat-free Condition; and Providing for the Proper Storage of Food and Feed and the Elimination of Certain Conditions Favoring the Harborage of Rats.

The City of Grosse Pointe ordinance: Section 1. For the purposes of this ordinance certain terms used are hereby defined: Sec. 1.1 The term "approved" shall mean that which the Commissioner by rule and/or regulation designates acceptable as a device, apparatus or method which by demonstration and/or test has proven workable for its intended use. The provisions of this sub-section shall be interpreted in conjunction with the provisions of an ordinance of the City of Grosse Pointe adopted August 22, 1920, entitled in the Compiled Ordinances of the City of Grosse Pointe (p. 35) "Regulation, Collection, Etc., Garbage, Etc."

Sec. 1.2 The term "building" shall mean any structure, whether public or private that is adapted to or used for dwelling occupancy as defined in the Housing Law of Michigan; for the transaction of business; for the rendering of professional service, amusement, the display or sale or storage of goods, wares, merchandise, articles or equipment; for office buildings, public buildings, stores, theatres, markets, restaurants, grain processors, factories, warehouses, workshops, garages; and for out-houses, sheds, barns, and/or other structures or premises used as an accessory to any such uses.

Sec. 1.3 The terms "rat-proof" or "rat-proofing" apply to a form of construction which will prevent the ingress or egress of rats to or from a given space or building, or gaining access to food, water or harborage. It consists of the closing and keeping closed by the use of material impervious to rat gnawing of every opening in foundations, basements, cellars, exterior and interior walls, ground or first floors, roofs, sidewalk gratings, sidewalk openings, and other places that may be reached and entered by rats by climbing, burrowing or other methods.

Sec. 1.4 The term "rat-harborage" shall mean any condition under which rats may find shelter or protection. Sec. 1.5 The term "Commissioner" shall mean the Superintendent of Public Works of the City of Grosse Pointe, or his authorized representative.

Sec. 1.6 The term "rat-control" shall mean the distribution of rat-poison and/or the setting of rat traps and/or fumigation and/or such other methods of rat eradication as may be approved by the Commissioner.

Sec. 1.7 The term "food" and "food-stuffs" is intended to include, besides human food, grain and other feed for animals or fowl.

Sec. 2 Every building erected after the effective date of this ordinance, and every alteration, addition, extension, enlargement or repairs thereto, shall be rat-proofed and maintained in such condition.

Sec. 3 Every building existing at the effective date of this ordinance, and every alteration, addition, extension, enlargement or repairs thereto, shall be rat-proofed and maintained in such condition, and all vacant or unimproved property shall be kept free of rat harborage at all times. The owner or owners of such building, vacant or unimproved property shall be responsible for complying with the provisions of this section and section 2.

Sec. 4 All building material, lumber, boxes, cartons, barrels, bottles, cans, containers, machinery, raw material, junk, fabricated goods, food, foodstuff and similar things which may afford harborage or food for rats, shall be kept, stored or handled in a manner or method approved by the Commissioner.

Sec. 5 Whenever there is a rat infestation in any building, open area or other premises the occupants thereof, and in the case of a multiple dwelling the owner or owners thereof, shall immediately institute rat control and shall continuously maintain such measures until any such building, open area or other premises are declared by the Commissioner to be free of rat infestation.

Sec. 6 No building or part thereof shall be used as a place where food and/or foodstuff is stored, processed, prepared or manufactured, sold or offered for sale unless such building or part thereof is free from vermin and rodents.

Sec. 7 On and after one (1) year from the effective date of this ordinance, no license shall be issued for the storing, processing, preparing, manufacturing, selling or offering for sale of any food, foodstuff or food products until the applicant therefor secures a certification from the Commissioner that the place where such operation is to be conducted is of ratproof construction.

Sec. 8 It shall be unlawful for any owner, occupant, contractor, public utility, or any other person in making alterations, additions, extensions, enlargements or repairs, or in making installations of wires, conduits, pipes or other installations, or for any other purpose, to remove and fail to restore in like condition the ratproofing from any building or to make new openings therein that are not rat-proofed.

Sec. 9 No person shall feed wild birds other than in approved containers for the food elevated at least forty-eight (48) inches above the ground level.

Sec. 10 The Commissioner is hereby empowered to promulgate and enforce all reasonable rules and regulations for carrying out the purpose and intent of this ordinance.

Sec. 11 Any person, firm, partnership, association or corporation or anyone acting in behalf of said person, firm, partnership, association or corporation, violating any of the provisions of this ordinance or of any rule or regulation lawfully promulgated thereunder, shall upon conviction thereof be subject to a fine of not more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or to imprisonment in the County Jail for a period of not more than thirty (30) days, or to both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. Each day that a violation of this ordinance is continued or permitted to exist shall constitute a separate offense punishable upon conviction in the manner prescribed in this section.

Sec. 12 If any clause, sentence, paragraph or part of this ordinance shall for any reason be adjudged or decreed to be invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, such judgment or decree shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this ordinance, but shall be confined in its effect to the clause, sentence, paragraph or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment or decree shall have been rendered.

Sec. 13 This ordinance is hereby declared necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, safety and welfare of the people of the City of Grosse Pointe and is hereby given immediate effect.

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

Suit Department
MRS. J. FRASER WHITEHEAD wears a well tailored suit of green, grey and blue weave of men's suiting material. A small upturned blue felt hat with pheasant feathers across the front, completes the costume. Mrs. Whitehead is one of the few women to whom "snow on the roof" is becoming, but her well coiffed hair is stunning.

MRS. CHISHOLM MACDONALD looks very svelte in her putty colored wool suit, with which she wears a sheer white blouse with dainty embroidery. The felt hat with matching feather was "off the face" but on her it was very good.

MRS. CYRIL J. EDWARDS was seen recently in a smart grey, black and white striped wool suit. Loved the black felt hat with the rolled brim, she was wearing. The black feathered brush decorating the back of the hat was held in place by a jeweled clasp and it added a filipp to the ensemble.

FILFERINGS

Fire Department
The editor of the London Daily Express, "Chris" Christiansen, was in New York recently, preparatory to making a cross-country tour. He confided that he had not canceled his subscriptions to the newspaper. "Not that I'll read them when I get back," he explained. "It's just that I need the paper so that I can light the fire at home all winter."

Mr. Christiansen tells the story of those months in 1944 when Turkey was wavering under German pressure to enter the war on the side of the Nazis. Winston Churchill was asked to send a message to the Turkish government to win them to the side of the Allied nations. "I'll make my message a brief one," said Churchill. "It will be something like this: 'Turkey—Christmas is coming!'"

Department of Subtlety

Louis B. Meyer had a conference with one of the outstanding men in the English movie making world and they discussed Britain's newest tax measure against American films. This gentleman explained that this step was necessitated by Britain's crisis. "To put it into movie terms," said Meyer, in all the movie scripts up till now there are lines like "His word's as good as the Bank of England's." Well, don't lose that.

PLEASANT RUMORS

An interesting room is the living room in the home of the H. Lynn Piersons. The walls are painted a soft aquamarine color, with the exception of one which is covered with mirror glass. The carpet is beige and the chintz which is used on the sofa and curtains at the windows and French doors has a background of this same color with a floral pattern in white with touches of dark red and green in the foliage.

The fireplace mantel is of wood painted a putty color and holds antique brass candlesticks and porcelain. On one side is a basket containing pine cones. On the grand piano below the mirrored wall, is a beautiful ship's model and a low bowl of flowers. A small table holds a wooden ship model contained in glass.

In one corner of the room is a three cornered stand, upon which is an antique bowl filled with white flowers, which "brighten the corner" where they are. The wall decorations consist of a beautiful seascape of Hopkins' and rare old Japanese prints.

Mr. Pierson's interest in ships and sailing is clearly shown in this room and Mrs. Pierson's gift in floral arrangements is ably borne out by the many lovely flower arrangements. One of the most interesting is the Japanese "line" arrangement in a low white bowl on one of the occasional tables.

MISS MARY JANE SHEAFFER OF AUDUBON ROAD

By Olive H. Henry

About ten years ago, when Mary Jane Sheaffer was eight years old, she started her collection of dolls with two very early American dolls which had belonged to her great grandmother when she was a little girl. These dolls were really two in one, as they were attached at their waists, with voluminous skirts to cover the face of the doll turned upside down. They were known as chocolate and vanilla dolls, one being a pick-aninny, the other having a painted bisque face, obviously of Nordic descent. They may have been inspired by "Topsy and Eva" of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" fame, at any rate they couldn't have been closer friends.

Most of the dolls are foreign and their costumes are authentic. One from Pisa, is of felt with a hand painted face. He is a peasant, holding a scythe. When looking at a pair of Swiss yodelers, one can almost hear them calling. Scotch twins in their tartans remind us that not only are "the Campbells coming" but they are here.

Hungary is represented by a pair of dolls in pretty native dress with roses and feathers in their hats. A Czechoslovakian soldier looks very militarily correct, but not a bit warlike and the Romanian peasant doll would work just as well on any farm. A pair of Soviet dolls are mounted on rounded bases, which perhaps were intended for use as pin-cushions.

An exquisite little Chinese doll wears a card saying, "Lin Tai Yu was a girl who had an amorous disposition. She pitied herself very much. One day she gathered the flowers which had blown off from the tree by the wind and burned them as if she pitied herself." Perhaps this will explain why we do not always understand the Chinese.

A German boy doll of ancient vintage has a head made from stockinette material, upon which the face is painted and the result is most realistic and attractive. Several bisque dolls came from Lombarddia and one from Sardegna, Italy, has enchanting pins in her hairdress.

A pair of clothespin dolls have wool strands for hair and are labeled Hattie Pinn and Ty Pinn. A Mexican mother carries her papoose, made of rags, in a carrier of reed and ohamois strapped to her back. An interesting farmer doll is made of wax which came from the Kentucky hills. Arizona produced a pair of American Indian dolls, and Mexico a boy and girl doll made from corn shucks painted in exotic colors, carrying loads of wood on their shoulders.

The Eskimo doll's face is carved from wood and she is costumed in white fur, with a parka and mukluks, (shoes). There are several Guatemalan dolls in various native dress, and a box contains many types of dolls fashioned entirely from yarn.

The tiniest doll in the world is made of wood, having arms that move and measures less than a quarter of an inch. A wooden toadstool contains this miniature. A card with a group of Chinese dolls discloses that they were brought to this country by a Chinese missionary. The dolls' heads are made of silk and the faces are delicately hand painted. Their fingers are fashioned from silk braid and each is costumed and "shoed" differently but in authentic detail.

A wooden box with a glass cover reveals a tiny Japanese doll with five extra wigs, each groomed in a different hairstyle. The Vanderbilt estate yielded a rare old music box having seated dolls dressed in white satin and net costumes. This boy and girl have long flaxen hair, in their hands are small wooden mallets with which they strike the bells attached to a xylophone-like instrument, when the music is playing.

A tea cozy from Russia has a Grandmother's face painted on a silk stocking, with a sweet old kerchief on the head. Her dress is of gingham over the voluminous skirts which form the "cozy". In one hand she holds a saucer and her red bead earrings are so pretty they might well have come from the Village of Grosse Pointe.

Mary Jane has a veritable United Nations of her own, but these representatives make no demands and dwell together in mutual respect and esteem, due no doubt to the care with which they are handled, and the love bestowed upon them.

Kamen to Show Movies of Peru

Clifford J. Kamen, noted authority on South America, will show his spectacular colored movies of Peru at Detroit Town Hall, Wednesday morning, November 26, at 11 o'clock in the Fisher Theatre.

The films, personally photographed by the narrator, and produced with the full cooperation of the United States Government, picture many areas and native tribes never before photographed by the color camera. While the movies are flashed on the screen, Kamen will tell the story, both past and present, of the South American country, discussing social structures of today, modern commercial opportunities and travel conditions.

Wick to Speak At Town Hall

James L. Wick, economist, political analyst and editor, will be the speaker for the Detroit Town Hall in the Cass Theatre on Friday morning, Nov. 21, at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Wick, former editor of the famous Prentice-Hall Washington Letter, can be called a clarifier rather than a commentator, for his articles and lectures cover international affairs, national politics, matters of Russia and the threat of communism, and what he thinks is our most vital issue, inflation. He paints a vivid picture with humor, anecdotes and punch lines, and gives clues to the future actions of headline personalities—national and international. His subject will be "Six Influences on Future America."

On Friday morning, November 28, at 11 o'clock Anauta (Anaw-ta) the only Eskimo woman on the American platform, author of "The Land Of The Shadows" will be the speaker with the subject "The Story Of Baffin Land", a spontaneous, natural and humorous story of habits and civilization utterly different from any we know; how an Eskimo looks at our civilization.

Anauta was born and grew to womanhood on the northern tip of Baffin Island, about four hundred miles from the North Pole, where about 3,000 persons are probably the most isolated on the face of the earth, but we are learning that they are among the happiest.

There's a frame-up going on at the studio of PAUL GACH—one that you'd like to be in—one that you ought to let your friends in on, too. These frames are unique; they are made for standard sized pictures or may be custom built to fit any picture you wish framed. They are unique in their patterns and finishes. Made of wood and metal, the latter finished to look like silver or gold, designs to fit any picture—some have strong masculine lines—for the men in the family—others look as svelte and smart as the ladies wish to—others look like lace spun out of silver—and make a beautiful background for a bride's or debutante's portrait. These exclusive frames are worth looking into, as are the elegant hand painted miniatures, mounted in velvet lined leather cases. Most people think fine miniatures are costly, but Gach's are made to fit all pocketbooks. These make Christmas gifts the years to come. To be really framed right—go to PAUL GACH on Fisher road.

Junior League Scribblers' Column

(The following poems were all written by PEGGY BOYER)

FANTASY OF NIGHT
The lights are shining in the town
Far, far down
The bill,
And the still
Of the night makes a ringing in my ear.
The moon is rising gold and mellow
And the yellow
Shining hue
Of the blue
Of the water makes a pathway clear.
The hills are looming through the night
From a height
So high
In the sky
That each seems to touch a star.
A train is puffing down below,
Going slow,
I can't bear
Though it's near,
For the sighing of the wind smothers sound.
But look now! It's moving fast,
Going past,
In relief
For a brief
Fleeting moment, in the light of the moon.
And soon the silent train is gone,
Moving on,
And its smoke
Seems to choke
Out the light, like a candle in the wind.
The haze has lifted once again,
And then
The same
Picture, framed
By the stars, is a fantasy of night.

LONGING
Longing,
And the very saying of the word
Brings him near.
His is a love
That reaches out
And drenches me like music
'Til there is no sound in all the world
For me to bear.
Longing,
And my mind
That told me yesterday
Send him away
Is smothered by the beating of my heart
This love a thing apart
All other senses flown,
His pulses beating faster than my own.

MINE
Sometimes in dreams my steps turn back
Through silent woods
Where I can peer again
At swamp and sand,
At wintered weeds, ice thonged trees,
At snow dust on December land.

BLENDING
Waves gleaming through the night
Silvered darts of light
Wind tossed sands, wild designs
Shadows of mounds and cliff and tip of winter pine.
Clouds swept through avenues of rain,
Here Fall and Winter meet again.

UNDERSTAND
I don't work, I don't play
I just do nothing every day
I sit and dream with chin in hand,
I wish someone would understand,
Do you?
Through long hard cold of winter days
Ways of Spring
I can't remember.
But here at last is soft warm wind upon my face
Bringing the faith I let escape me in December.
