MOLOTOV indulges in his usual diatribes on American Imperialism in the London Foreign Ministers' Council but is answered with force and unanimity by the other side. . . Marshall says he does not think Molotov believes in his own accusations. . . Council then gets down to work and accomplished more in two days than in any like time at previous meetings. . . Molotov agrees to placing Austria first on the peace treaty agenda but insists that the procedure for making the German treaty be taken up first. . . Marshall agrees but says we (the Allies) are more concerned with the substance than the shadow. "Let us get down to work," he says, "and drop this business of alleging evil motives which are only figments of propaganda". . . Bidault and Bevin speak in the same vein and Molotov seemed impressed and the real work began.

Valor Receives Recognition

PUBLIC SAFETY COMMISSIONER HOMER C. FRITSCH of Grosse Pointe Park congratulates PATROLMAN ARTHUR CONLON, left, and CHARLES SLUSSER after awarding them citations for courageous police work. Conlon and Slusser captured a trio of armed bandits at 3:26 a. m. on November 22 following a robbery in St. Clair Shores. The Park officers, warned by radio that the thugs were headed their way, lay in wait, gave chase in their scout car and forced the bandits' car to the curb at Jefferson and Philip.

Capture of Armed Thieves By Park Police Helps Solve Long Series of Robberies

Three More Arrested After Original Trio Were Nabbed After Wild Chase by Officers Art Conlon and Charles Slusser

Since the Park police picked up the three young men escaping from a gas station holdup in the early morning of November 22 things have been moving fast. The Park officers who captured the trio after a wild chase were Art Conlon and Charles Slusser.

In addition to the three originally arrested, Archie Norris, Robert Wickware and Claude Harrington, the police have gathered in Carl Norris, the older brother of Archie, who the boys said had hired the car which they used in the robbery and turned it over to them.

They also picked up Russell Langley, who lives on Drexel avenue, Detroit, Jimmy Parks and Robert Holmes, both of the east side. The young men are all being held in the St. Clair Shores and Park police stations, where they are being subjected to a grilling by the police of many communities in the Detroit area. The police expect to hook them up with many robberies, thus far unsolved in their respective communities.

Altogether they have been identified with 14 robberies. In all cases the charge is robbery armed.

At the present writing it is useless to attempt to publish the list of places they visited, as it is being added to almost hourly.

The story of the boys in brief seems to be that they were a gang who used to hang around beer gardens and similar resorts until the late hours of the morning. Needing money, always, they

Police Radio Proves Value In Emergency

Capture of Armed Bandits Cited as Example by Township Supervisor

The monthly report of the Grosse Pointe township police radio services for October shows there were 6,762 incoming and outgoing messages passed through the office in that period.

"Imagine what a jumbled up affair the police radio work of this place would be if these messages were not funneled through a single clearing station," Carl Schweikart, the township supervisor remarked on Monday.

"We get along now because four out of five of the Pointe municipalities employ a common service. The reason the city gets along in the half baked manner it does is only because the other four have removed themselves from the inevitable jumble.

"Our station out on Vernier maintains a day and night monitor service over all of Oakland and Macomb counties and Detroit city radio messages.

"When something happens in any part of this large territory which promises to touch Grosse Pointe it is immediately broadcast to the four Pointe police departments which center at the Vernier road radio station.

Two Cars Crash At Stop Street

Stewart Slyfield, of 895 Edgemont, driving south on Lakeland on Nov. 28, stopped for the sign at St. Paul and then started again just in time to be struck by a car driven by Dan Guy, Jr., of 420 Rivard, going east on St. Paul.

Seek Veteran For Larceny By Trickery

Park and Saginaw Police Both Earnestly Desire Words With Salesman

The Park police, in conjunction with the Saginaw police, are working out the tangled threads of a case of "larceny by trickery."

Some days ago a man called at the home of Arthur E. Davis of 854 Grand Marais and wished to sell him some extra fine blankets which he assured Mr. Davis were a great bargain as he, as an ex-soldier in the Canadian Army, could get them on the other side free of tax and, with a knowing wink, he could guarantee delivery on this side without delay or embarrassment to his customers.

Mr. Davis didn't like the set-up and gave him a quick brush-off. A few days later a woman in Saginaw, a personal friend of Mrs. Davis, called her on the phone and told of the wonderful bargain she had discovered in Canadian blankets. She advised Mrs. Davis not to ignore the opportunity. The veteran salesman had told her about calling on the Davis household.

Shortly thereafter the salesman appeared again at the Davis home. Mr. Davis was not home, but Mrs. Davis was. She called up Mr. Davis at his place of business and said she wanted these blankets and no foolin'. She was going to send the man down to his office right away and he, Mr. Davis, was to give the man the money. The man was all right and the blankets would be forthcoming promptly.

Saginaw had told her all about it. Mr. Davis, still skeptical, but unwilling to oppose the domestic pressure farther, forked over $47.00 to the persuasive veteran. Several days passed without the blankets appearing. The man had given his rooming place as 880 Piper boulevard. When Mr. Davis asked the police to carry on from there they quickly learned that the veteran, who had given the name of Leo Chauvette, had once roomed there, but no longer. Neither did the people there know anything of his present whereabouts.

Followed a phone call to the Saginaw friend. "Didn't you tell me that you had the blankets?" "We—, they hadn't actually been delivered yet."

"Well, have you got them now?" "No."

Thereupon both the Saginaw and Grosse Pointe police got set to gang up on Mr. Chauvette, but so far without results, in person. The Saginaw people had paid pre-delivery charges of $16.00. The Chief of Police of Saginaw has a warrant out for Chauvette and some process server is busy scouring the region thereabouts.

Chauvette, it is learned, in his varied military career has seen service in both the Canadian and American armies.

He was beautifully circumstanced to carry on a lucrative over-the-border business for citizens of both nations. Seeing his peculiar advantage he took it; thus far without serious embarrassment to himself, and with a known net profit to date of $63, all in high grade Uncle Sam money.

"Winter" Tax Bills Received by 10,000 Total $1,860,000

Board of Education Sends Statement Explaining How It Will Spend More Than $2,000,000 for Pointe's School System

Some 10,000 individuals received their 1947 tax statements covering township, county and school taxes, on Tuesday, December 2. In all, there were between 16,000 and 17,000 statements sent out by Grosse Pointe Township Treasurer Adolph A. Damman. The balance went to mortgage companies and businesses.

Mr. Damman said the total taxes to be collected are more than $1,860,000. This figure is more than $100,000 higher than last year and the highest in the township's history.

The bulk of the tax goes to maintain the Pointe's educational system. Almost 66 percent of the roll is allocated for this purpose. The county tax accounts for nearly 30 percent and the Grosse Pointe Township share is less than 5 percent.

Enclosed with the statements is a message from the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, explaining how the school tax money is to be spent.

The total budget for 1947-48 for the support of the Grosse Pointe school system is slightly more than $2,000,000. Approximately $1,650,000 (81%) of this amount is raised by local taxation. About $335,000 (16.5%) is contributed by the State of Michigan, the remainder of the total coming from miscellaneous sources.

The major classifications of expenditures are as follows: Salaries and wages, $1,170,000 (57%).

Capital outlays for new buildings, equipment, etc., $400,000 (21%).

Instructional and operational supplies, $200,000 (10%).

Interest on bonded debt, $138,000 (7%).

Debt retirement, $94,000 (4%).

The expenditure of approximately $2,000,000.

$7,000 Fire Damage Done

Blame Faulty Incinerator Flue For Blaze at Klingbeil Home in Woods

The home of Frank L. Klingbeil, at 1041 Lochmoor boulevard, suffered a serious fire on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 30.

There were about 10 persons in the house at the time, who were unaware of the fire until it was discovered by neighbors who saw flames coming through the roof and sent in an alarm.

The Woods fire department got the alarm at 2:44 p. m. and on seeing the seriousness of the fire called on the Shores for additional help.

The fire was under control in 30 minutes.

The firemen believe it was caused by a defective flue in an incinerator. The house was covered with a shingle roof, which was very dry. About half of the roof was burned away.

The loss on property and damage to furniture is estimated at $7,000.

New Building On Jefferson Has to Wait

Plans to Erect Colonial Club-House at Corner of Somerset Postponed

It looks as if the prevailing high cost of labor and materials is going to cost Grosse Pointe the indefinite postponement of its long-promised Michigan Automobile Club building.

The Automobile club began negotiating for a Grosse Pointe location about four years ago and nearly two years ago it actually purchased the plot at the northwest corner of Jefferson and Somerset. The Board of Village Commissioners cooperated with the club to the extent of amending the zoning ordinance so that the clubhouse might be built on that location, which had hitherto been in restricted residential zone "A" area.

W. G. Bryant, general counsel of the Club and one of its board of directors, said the club had had in mind to put up a building that would cost, site and all, about $50,000. The purpose was to provide better service and greater convenience for its many members in Grosse Pointe. At the time the negotiations were being carried on with the Village of Grosse Pointe Park, the statement was made that the club had 15,000 members residing in Grosse Pointe. This number has been materially increased since that time only two years ago.

Mr. Bryant says the architect's plans are all drawn and the project is ready to start as soon as building costs are within reach. In the present condition of the building business, however, the club directors this may be a long way off.

The club is most anxious to go ahead with the project. Not only is its membership increasing but its present quarters in the Packard Sales and Service station have been practically cut in half by the need of the Packard people for more room.

The club is in the same predicament with respect to Grosse Pointe that it finds itself in Highland Park and Royal Oak, where it has had simultaneous plans for club houses. Some time ago, also, it purchased the tract immediately east of Grand Circus Park at Adams, Witherell and Madison. This project has also been held up for the same cause. It was the intention of the club to erect a building there for its general headquarters, at a cost of about one and one half million dollars. Mr. Bryant says that to put it up now according to the plans prepared would cost between $2,250,000 and $2,500,000, which means that this project also is indefinitely postponed.

The best figure the Club could obtain for the Grosse Pointe building was $97,000 and then with an escalator clause in, which rarely operates in favor of the owner.

The Michigan Automobile Club covers all of the lower peninsula with club properties in 34 cities and 250,000 members, by far the largest automobile club in the world. It employs 1500 persons, about half of whom are in its insurance department.

Accident Blamed On Sudden Stop

A car driven by Walter Jacquemotte of St. Clair Shores skidded into a Ford taxi at 3 a. m. that was going east on Jefferson avenue and had slowed down for a left-hand turn into University.

The taxi driver changed his mind when he saw the "One Way" sign at the entrance of University at Jefferson and his definite stop caused the following car to slide into him because of the slippery condition of the roadway. There was considerable property damage, but no personal injury.

Both Jacquemotte and Myron Wetherhall, the driver of the taxi, received tickets.

MILK TRUCK SKIMMED
The Sweetzer Creamery of 15209 Mack reported the loss by theft of a tire and wheel from one of its trucks on Nov. 27. The truck had been left on the loading dock at 5 o'clock the night before and the theft was discovered when the creamery opened for business the next morning.

Tackles Big Job Indexing 37 Years of Park Minutes

Park Village Clerk William G. Stamman is engaged in making a complete index of the minutes of the Council meetings since the incorporation of the village back in 1910.

The minutes are the complete official record of the activities of the municipal government and the vast fund of information contained in them has been of small use in the absence of an index which would make it readily available.

The index when finished will not only be of great convenience to the present and future administrations, but will be appreciated by the citizens of the village who may desire to examine the official action of the village in some past circumstance.

Pointe Health Commissioner Endorses Plan for Enclosed Swimming Pools on Shore

States Solution of Lake Pollution May Be Long Way Off and Says Municipalities Will Have To Provide Own Answers

Dr. Thomas S. Davies, Director of Public Health for Grosse Pointe, approves the suggestion of the NEWS that enclosed bathing pools are the only permanent solution of the safe bathing problem in the Pointe within any appreciable range of time.

He fears a recurrence of water pollution in any year when a protracted warm dry spell comes and does not relish the unpopularity and ill-informed criticism which such occasions bring upon himself.

As the doctor expressed it in an interview on Tuesday, "This situation constantly places me on the spot. It is an unwelcome duty to have to prohibit a lot of swimming youngsters from going into the water, but when the condition of the water fronting the Pointe beaches reaches a state of contamination where bathing is dangerous there is no other course."

He says that examination of the water conditions all along the system is being carried on by the joint action of the American and Canadian Health authorities without fanfare or publicity. The agency that is doing this for the American Government is the United States' Public Health Service.

Many meetings have been held on the subject. There was a big gathering at Atlantic City about four months ago and only three weeks ago there was an unadvertised meeting held in the Hotel Statler in Detroit under the auspices of the Michigan Health Service. Pictures taken from whole planes were shown of the whole shore line up to Lake Huron indicating industrial establishments which are polluting the waters and also drainage lines into these waters which are adding human off to the pollution.

Dr. Davies believes that eventually this problem will be settled but agrees with the NEWS that it may be a long time in the future.

He says that the only early protection for the Grosse Pointe water frontage must depend on the independent action of the local communities.

The enclosed swimming pools would give not only early protection to our beaches but would be an added guarantee of safe waters even in that distant day when state and international authority has presumed to have settled the problem.

Rep. Harold F. Youngblood Sponsors Two More Bills

Legislation Would Raise Exemptions on Taxes and Cut Price of Mailing Relief Packages to Foreign Lands

Representative Harold F. Youngblood (R. Mich.) has introduced legislation in the House of Representatives increasing exemptions of all individuals for income tax purposes.

The present rate of exemptions, $500 per person, will be increased if Representative Youngblood's bill is passed to $750 for a single person not maintaining a separate household; to $1,000 for a single person maintaining a separate household and to $2,500 in cases of husband and wife living together.

Representative Youngblood expressed himself as being in favor of reducing income taxes for the individual and expressed himself as being severely disappointed with the fact that legislation such as this had not already been passed by this congress. He also stated that he felt that the increase of exemptions was necessary and timely and that it would assist people in the lower income brackets to meet the present high costs.

Representative Youngblood hopes that hearings will be held on this bill by the first of the year and the legislation was referred to the House Committee on ways and means.

The Pointe's Congressman also introduced another bill which he explains in the following statement:

"I have today introduced a bill which would authorize a reduction in postage to 25% of the regular rates for parcels containing food, clothing, or medicines as gifts for relief purposes for the following countries: Belgium, Korea, France, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, free territory of Trieste, Bulgaria, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland, China, Japan, Czechoslovakia, Poland and the American, French, British and Russian occupied zones of Germany and Austria.

"Such packages must be mailed by individuals or accredited relief organizations and will contain on the outside label a caption 'Gift Parcel'."

"Provision is made for the Post Office Department to be reimbursed for the difference between the postage received and the cost to the Post Office Department from funds to be appropriated for foreign relief.

"Provision is made for utilizing existing facilities of other government departments, such as motor vehicles, lands, buildings, tools etc. Upon the passage of this bill the Postmaster General will be requested to negotiate with the foreign countries concerned for the most advantageous rates available for handling the disposition of these parcels within the boundaries of such countries.

the increased volume of gift relief packages which will result. "A charge of 25% of the regular postage is made in order to assure that the materials sent will have some value."

Police and Firemen Sponsor Annual Campaign To Buy Presents for Kids

The Toy Club, an organization maintained by the police and firemen of the Pointe and Gratiot Township for the purpose of giving toys and clothing to needy children in the area at Christmas time, allotted the membership forms to the men in the six communities last Tuesday, Dec. 2.

These memberships are sold to citizens for 50 cents each, or more if the giver is so inclined. From the proceeds of the drive the toys, etc., are purchased.

The holiday gifts will be allotted from the Defer School, which is the distribution depot, a day or two before Christmas. To receive them, the parents of the children to be served will obtain tickets from Mrs. Bush at the Neighborhood Club, who co-operates with the police and firemen in the work.

Any funds that are left over from one season are used to purchase new toys for the following year. Merchants carrying such stocks gladly co-operate with the Toy Club and sell it new toys at reduced prices after the holidays.

The slogan of the club is "No child without a toy for Christmas."

Bed Destroyed In Holiday Fire

A fire occurred in the home of Joseph Jurgis at 1421 Beaconsfield late in the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day which destroyed a bed and did considerable damage to the bedroom.

The family had gone to the railroad station to meet some friends and the house was temporarily vacant. The firemen reported that the blaze had originated in a feather mattress where possibly a spark from a cigaret had started a smoldering fire.

Police Play Escort For Sleepy Driver

A Good Samaritan in the form of a citizen of the Pointe came into the Park police station at 5:49 a. m. on November 29 and said he had observed a man sleeping in a car near the corner of Bedford and St. Paul.

The officers examining the case found a well known citizen living nearby who was indulging in a little much needed rest prior to entering the domestic establishment. They awoke him and saw him safely home.

Councilmen Told City Needs New Equipment

The Highway Committee, Chester F. Carpenter, chairman, made a report to City Council at its meeting of several pieces of apparatus in the department which were worn out and needed replacement.

The matter was referred to the transportation committee, which has charge of all motorized property of the city, with power to act. The transportation committee consists of Councilmen Mack, Morgan and Waterfall.

mately two million dollars by the Board of Education provides for the education of approximately 5200 children in eight elementary schools, two junior high schools, and one senior high school. It also finances public library services for more than 10,000 adults and children. Other services financed in whole or in part by the school taxes include an eight-week summer recreation program, an eight-week summer school, a program of adult education, and a variety of other community services.

In addition to these "current operation" services the school taxes are also providing for the erection of added school building facilities in the rapidly growing eastern half of the school district on a pay as you go basis. The first unit of the Parcels Junior High School on Vernier road near Mack avenue will be ready for occupancy by February, 1948. The 1947 tax payments will enable the Board of Education to complete the first unit of a new Kerby elementary school during 1948.

The difference between the estimated $1,650,000 which the schools will receive from local taxation, and the approximately $1,225,000 which they will get from their percentage of this winter tax-roll, comes from various sources.

It is estimated the schools will receive about $70,000 in delinquent taxes. The debt service of one and one-half mills is not indicated in the 66 per cent operating tax shown on the township statements. And school taxes paid by residents of the City of Grosse Pointe, not a part of the township, will furnish the balance.

Two Accidents One Too Many

John O. Harrington of 3064 Spring street, Detroit and Ernest N. Bahr, of 3663 East Warren, went into the Park police station at 3 o'clock p. m. on November 28 to make a mutual report of an automobile accident in which they had both figured.

Harrington had been driving east on Charlevoix when he was run into by a cab of the Grosse Pointe Cab company driven by Bahr.

Bahr acknowledged full liability for the accident. There was no personal injury but considerable property damage.

On Nov. 30, Bahr struck a parked 1947 Chevrolet, unoccupied, in front of 1012 Beaconsfield, badly damaging the new car. It was later found to belong to Dale D. Harnung, of 17528 Stoepel, Detroit.

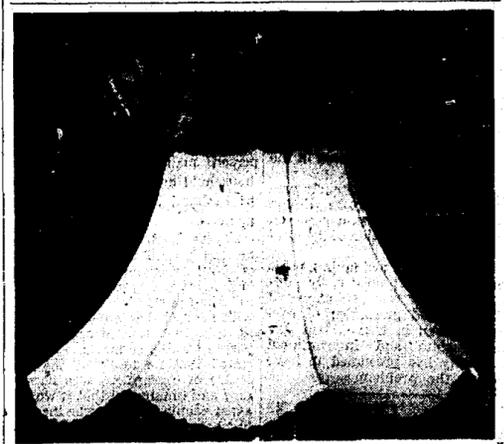

Two accidents in quick succession in which Bahr was obviously to blame was too much for the police and they took away his PV license, which deprives him of driving any public vehicle. His ordinary chauffeur's license he was permitted to retain.

Donation Tea Held to Boost Symphony Upkeep Fund

At a luncheon at the Detroit Athletic Club Nov. 24, members of the Junior Association for the Detroit Symphony laid plans for a donation tea on Wednesday, December 3.

Mrs. William Burton of Lannoo road was named chairman of the event, set for 3 o'clock at Alger House. Funds from the party will go to the maintenance fund for the Detroit Symphony.

Arrangements of greens, red carinations, pine cones and holly denoted the Christmas theme of the tea. The donation box was wrapped as a Christmas package—and a concealed music box tinkled "Silent Night" as each donation was dropped in.

Assisting Mrs. Burton on the committee were Mrs. Thornton Zanoli, Mrs. Chilton Drysdale, Mrs. Claude Greiner, Mrs. Gordon T. Phillip, Mrs. Donald Mayhew and Mrs. John Lang.

Following the Tuesday luncheon, Mrs. Nelson Liebold, program chairman, introduced Miss Doris Bell of the Detroit Conservatory of Music, who included numbers by Brahms and Chopin in her recital. Mrs. Winfield S. Jewell, president of the Senior Women's Association, conducted a round table discussion of problems besetting women's symphony groups in supporting their orchestras.

A few of the members attending the luncheon were Mrs. Charles Gauss III, Mrs. Sibley Hoobler, Mrs. E. K. Pool and her guests, Mrs. George Walker Jr. and Mrs. Richard A. Fisher.

HELP WANTED — MALE
WANTED a jovial gentleman who loves children to act as Santa Claus in our Toy Department. Apply Personnel Office, Sears Roebuck.

It was on the same Sunday that we chanced upon this quaint Want Ad that we read "Miracle on 34th St." by Valentine Davies.

As one who is allergic to the corn being ground from so many tripe-writers in the land, we picked up the little book in skeptical scorn, but before we had finished its slim one hundred and twenty pages, had remained to sentimentalize. For the jolly old Christmas spirit had at last flooded our case-hardened advertising arteries. This spirit had been immune to the fact that Gimbel's are selling real live ponies in the pet shop, that Cartier will fix you up a thousand dollar lipstick and that you can still pick up a ragged first edition of Charles Dickens' Christmas Carol for more money than he got to write it. Instead of tossing out the little book, we began to toss it about to friends who like ourselves had begun to believe that Xmas Marks the Spot in a world where faith has failed, and hard facts prevailed.

Now heaven knows, Miracle on 34th St. is no Dickens' Christmas Carol, nor James M. Barrie's Peter Pan. But in its own crude way it does partake of their spirit, to such an extent that we think those literary giants might have written blurbs about it. The theme is simply that perpetual youth is the triumph of faith over fact. "The tragedy of age," as one English dramatist so shrewdly put it, "is not that one feels old but that one still feels YOUNG. As another, the surly Shaw, sees it, "Youth is a wonderful thing—it's a shame to waste it on children."

What Valentine Davies does in Miracle on 34th St. is prove the spirit of youth need not be wasted on children. We can all be young if we have their same faith, even the foolish faith of an adult belief in Santa Claus. It is merely the tale of this jovial Old Gentleman, whose name was Kris Kringle, who is let out of The Old Men's Home because of his firmly fixed delusion that he is actually Santa Claus. He is hired by Macy's to act as Santa Claus in their toy department, where he revolutionizes merchandising practice by promoting Good Will until he has Mr. Macy and Mr. Gimbel shaking hands for photographers under the Christmas Tree. The Christmas spirit has prevailed over both competition and commercialism until it sweeps the City of New York.

Comes the conflict where the Old Gentleman is rushed off to Bellevue by trickery for believing himself to be Santa, and put on trial to be committed to an insane asylum. His triumph involves the love story of a disillusioned young divorcee and an ardent young lawyer who still feels that "Faith is believing in things when common sense tells you not to." So convincingly does he plead his case that the great State of New York confirms the Old Gentleman's sanity and releases him because the state also believes him to be Santa Claus. That's all, kiddies.

But it's more than enough. And even if you're the type who wants no messages except from Western Union, you'll get the message of Miracle on 34th St. In our hearts, we never grow up. The bitter thing is that we sometimes grow down.

We put aside the book, thinking of one of our pet Christmas stories of the healthy, wealthy, but unwise young broker who on Christmas Eve had sought to drown his sophisticated sorrows in the brandy balloons at The Stork Club. Delivered home to his too luxurious apartment, he found his wandering wife in the arms of an old classmate who was masquerading in the red suit and white beard of Santa Claus. The broker, in his befuddled condition thought the chap was actually Santa Claus as he kept protesting:

"Well," said the masquerading Santa Claus, you caught us. If you have anything to say to me, say it now."

Whereupon the blase broker eyed his friend, still believing him to be Santa and said:

"I do have something to ask you but it has nothing to do with my wife, or you, or this stupid situation. If you're really Santa Claus, I have just one thing to say to you. Where in heavens name is The Little Red Wagon I asked you for when I was a poor kid who really believed in you?"

We can use a lot of Little Red Wagons for believing kids this Christmas.

PLEGDED

The younger members of THE SHELDEN CLAN took to the air when they came home for Thanksgiving weekend with their families. CARY arrived from Vassar College to be with her parents, MR. AND MRS. HENRY SHELDEN of Rathbone place, FRANK and ALGER SHELDEN JR. flew in from New York together to join their parents, MR. and MRS. ALGER SHELDEN of Lake Shore road. Frank is at Yale and Alger is at Columbia University in New York.

Saturday evening has been reserved by MR. and MRS. ADDISON E. HOLTON and their daughter BETSY for a dinner party at the Grosse Pointe Club. About thirty of the younger crowd will be on hand to honor MR. and MRS. WILLIAM WARREN SHELDEN, who came to the Pointe after their wedding in Rochester, N. Y. in June. Mrs. Shelden was VIRGINIA RANLET DURAND when she and Betsy were classmates at Miss Porter's School in Farmington, Conn.

Settled and at home in their new place in McKinley road are MR. and MRS. HANDY NEWBERRY.

MR. and MRS. MICHAEL J. KEARINS have returned to their Oxford road home after spending Thanksgiving weekend in New York with their daughters PATRICIA and BARBARA, who are both at Manhattanville College. The girls will be coming home for Christmas vacation around December 19 and Barbara will be presented to society at a tea on December 20.

Thanksgiving weekend found MR. and MRS. RICHARD E. WILLIAMS of Oxford road in Milford, Connecticut—where they were the guests of Mrs. Williams' parents, THE MAXWELL GRIFFITHS.

DAVID O. HAMILTON of Beverly road journeyed to Chicago this weekend to be the guest of his mother-in-law, MRS. CYRUS BENTLEY.

MRS. RUSSELL A. ALGER of Provencal road and her daughter, MRS. SIDNEY T. MILLER, also of Provencal, are in Boca Grande, Florida where they are supervising the opening of Mrs. Alger's home which she has rented for the season. The pair went down from Albany, Georgia Friday, after spending the forepart of the week with MR. and MRS. RUSSELL A. Alger Jr. at Placida Plantation.

MRS. J. DEANE RUCKER and her sister, MRS. FRANCIS T. DWYER, left for New York Friday following the luncheon hosted by Mrs. Rucker in her Lake Shore road home in honor of MRS. ADRIANO MIGLIETTA of Biarritz, France—the houseguest of MRS. WESSON SEYBURN. Mrs. Rucker and Mrs. Dwyer will visit in Washington before returning to the Pointe.

PHILIP CASGRAIN and his cousin PETER BUCKLEY came in from the University of Michigan to make Thanksgiving at the WILFRED V. CASGRAINS, on Willow Lane, a real family gathering.

THE ROBERT O. DERRICKS on Ridge road are already looking forward to a very special Christmas. MR. and MRS. ROBERT O. DERRICK JR. will arrive from New Haven (where Bob is attending Yale) five days before the happy day with their twin daughters, ELIZABETH and MARJORIE. The senior Derrick's daughter, BUFFY, is scheduled to arrive on the same day from New York where she intends to spend the winter.

MRS. HENRY P. WILLIAMS of Provencal road was hostess at the regular monthly meeting of the DISTRICT NURSING SOCIETY yesterday afternoon.

Dance at Little Club Attracts Party Goers

Out-of-Town Guests Feted by Local Hosts at Dinner Event Preceded by Cocktail Parties in Their Homes

Local point of party gaiety for many Pointers on Saturday evening was the subscription dinner dance at the Little Club arranged by Helen Livingstone and Forbes Howard.

Lydia Kerr was also in the organizing and she and Wendy Holzworth were among the 65 who had reservations for the party. The couple arrived with Primmy Groch and Hugh Mulkey—both the boys have returned to the University of Virginia after their Thanksgiving holiday.

The Ledyard Mitchells invited several friends to their Kenwood road home for cocktails before going over to the club. The gathering was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Crow, of Rye, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Leyman, Jr., of Cincinnati, Ohio. Others on the guest list were Mr. and Mrs. John H. French, Jr., the Alexander L. Wieners and Mr. and Mrs. William F. Torrey.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. McDonnell asked Mr. and Mrs. William Callery, Jr., to their Berkshire road home for dinner before the club affair. Over on Cranford Lane, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Holley were dinner hosts to the John C. Chapins.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Frederick Kammer, Jr., honored Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Huber, of Chicago, at their early evening party. The Kamms arrived at the Little Club with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford II.

Ladies of V.F.W. To Hold Bazaar

The Ladies Auxiliary of V.F.W. Alger Post No. 995 will hold its annual Christmas Bazaar at the club room at 17145 St. Paul avenue on Friday and Saturday evenings, December 5 and 6.

Mrs. Oscar Keller, general chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. I. A. Backman and Mrs. LeRoy Bariteau. The bake goods booth will be under the supervision of Mrs. William Mackey; Bookstore, Mrs. Athol Davis; Country store, Mrs. M. Powers; Doll booth, Mrs. George Tilton; Fancy booth, Mrs. Thomas Jacques; White Elephant booth, Miss Jean Poole; and Refreshments, Mrs. Harry Warner.

A supper will be served on Saturday Evening from 5:30 p.m. on. The public is cordially invited.

MR. and MRS. WALLACE H. BOHN of Lincoln road announce the birth of a son, ROGER CHRISTIAN, on November 15.

The MISSES ALICE and GERTRUDE WEEKS, formerly of University place, have arrived in Phoenix, Arizona, to spend the winter. En route, they stopped off at the Grand Canyon.

Wrights Make Romantic News

From Boston comes word of romantic news in the Wright family—Philip North Wright Jr.'s engagement and the wedding plans of his sister, Eugenie Morse Wright. Their parents are Mrs. Grace Hinchman Wright of Boston and Philip North Wright of East Jefferson avenue.

Philip's engagement to Mary Ellen Kelley of Boston has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Kelley.

Mary Ellen attended Stoneleigh Junior College and Boston University. Philip served in the army air forces during the war and is now enrolled in Trinity College at Hartford, Connecticut.

Saturday, December 20 is the date chosen by Eugenie for her marriage to William A. Armstrong, son of the Albert C. Armstrongs of Duluth, Minn.

Lindsay Memorial Chapel of the Emanuel Church in Boston will be the scene of the 5 o'clock service. The Rev. Robert G. Metters will hear their vows. The reception will follow at the Junior League on Marlborough street in Boston.

Eugenie has asked Frances Oberlin of Boston attend her as maid of honor. Mary Ellen Kelley and the bridegroom's sister, Kathryn Armstrong, will be bridesmaids. Thomas Armstrong will be his brother's best man and Philip Wright and Scott Sneed of Montclair, N. J., will seat the guests.

The couple will be at home in Hartford, Conn., following their marriage.

Methodists to Hold Christmas Luncheon

A Christmas luncheon in the home of Mrs. Willis Bugbee, 38 Beacon Hill, at 1 p. m. on Wednesday December 10, will culminate the year's activities of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church.

Mrs. L. E. Vandegrift, 319 Moross road, will present a Christmas story, "That Rebel Gabriel" which she has written. The new officers of the society will be installed. Parents of young children are urged to bring them, as arrangements for them have been made.

will highlight this month's program. Miss Constance Thurston, chairman of the music group, is in charge of arrangements for the hour. "The Voyage of Wee Red Cap," a Christmas story written by Ruth Sawyer, will be narrated by Lillian Hicks. Henrietta Bodycombe, who set the story to music, will be at the piano. Rounding out the program, Albert Larson will play a number of violin solos accompanied by Gertrude Waterhouse. Mrs. Dorothy Steger will direct community singing of Christmas Carols before the luncheon adjournment.

The program of the social welfare group will be presented by Mrs. A. R. Mendenhall, chairman, at 2 p. m. Anne Campbell, (Mrs. George W. Stark), will give a reading of some of her poems and Mrs. Lawrence Hickey will speak of her 26 years' work with the Kings Daughters and Sons for the Aged.

A discussion of the Taft-Hartley Act by August Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO Council, and George S. Fitzgerald, counsel for the Teamsters Union (AFL) is scheduled for the legislative division. Mrs. Alice Gerham will be the featured speaker at the other afternoon session, the motion pictures division, talking on "Public Relations and Motion Pictures."

The liberal education session in the evening will conclude the day long instruction program. Miss Marcella Meurer, exchange teacher in Scotland, will tell of her experiences as an exchange teacher in 19 different countries.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

To prevent rusting of a flour sifter after washing and rinsing, shake it well and dry as much as possible with a soft cloth. Then place in a warm spot, over the pilot light of a gas range or near a warm electric heater unit for a few moments only.

Engagement Disclosed

Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Cabot of Belanger road, Grosse Pointe Farms, announced the engagement of their daughter, ARDIS, to Albert Chester, at a dinner given at the bride-elect's parents' home. Coming, as it did, on her Grandmother's birthday, it was a double celebration. Miss Cabot chose an off the shoulder black lace dinner dress with a corsage of orchids, while Mrs. Cabot wore a royal blue dinner dress, with matching orchids. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Meek, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Cabot, Mrs. Betty Jervis, Mrs. Perry Chavey, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lietz, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Robert F. Meek, grandmother of the bride-elect. Miss Cabot attended Michigan State Normal College. Mr. Chester is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay L. Chester of Morgantown, N. C. He is formerly of the Naval Air Corps and served overseas.

Newcomers Club To Have Parties

About fifty members of the Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club enjoyed a very successful progressive bridge party recently. The Howard Poppens, the Miles McKees and the Porter Strothers, all of whom live on Pemberton, opened their homes for the affair. At the end of the evening everyone gathered at the Poppens' for refreshments.

The executive board held a recent meeting at the home of vice-president Howard Poppens. Tentative plans for the rest of the year were discussed. On December 5 the Newcomers will join the Young People's Forum of the Memorial Church at a dinner dance. Mrs. Lester Elliot, Mrs. John Jakle and Mrs. Clifford Neville are helping with the arrangements.

The annual Christmas party will be held on December 19. A committee headed by the Bennett Burgoons is making plans for a gala evening.

If you have moved to Grosse Pointe from outside the greater Detroit area within the past two years and are interested in meeting some new people, call Mr. and Mrs. James Dodge, TU. 1-1016, for further details.

Council of Church Women To Hold Annual Meeting

The Detroit Council of Church Women will hold its 35th annual meeting on Friday, Dec. 12, at 10:30 a. m. in St. Mark's Methodist Church, 10325 East Jefferson. There will be election of officers and annual reports. A luncheon will be served at 12:30.

Brides-Elect Plan December Weddings

Barbara Neebe To Wed Robert Bunge in New York; Betty Jean Cross To Marry Richard Schlitters in Pointe Memorial Church

In several Pointe households this week thoughts have turned from Thanksgiving plans to wedding plans, with two December dates set.

December 13 is the choice of Barbara Neebe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Neebe, of University place, for her wedding to Robert S. Bunge.

Bob is the son of Mrs. Paul R. Bunge, of Hartford, Conn. It will be a New York wedding, since Barbara has been pursuing a career there, and Christ Methodist Church has been selected as the place. A small reception will be held at the Junior League.

Barbara's only attendant will be her sister, Betty. Best man for Bob will be Robert Enroth of Hartford, Conn., and ushers will be Robert Booth of Bronxville, N. Y., and Harry Miller of New York City.

The pair will live in New York after their marriage.

Betty Jean Cross will become the bride of Richard J. Schlitters on Dec. 20 in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Cameron Cross of Hampton road and Dick's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Schlitters of Yorkshire road.

A birthday dinner at the Harold W. Cabot home in Belanger road was selected to announce Ardis Cabot's engagement to Albert Chester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay L. Chester of Morgantown, S. C. The wedding will take place in the early spring. Ardis attended Michigan State Normal School and her fiancé served in the Naval Air Corps, for three years.

To round off the engagement list this week Alice Mary Dey's name has been added to the list of brides-elect. At a buffet dinner on Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dey of Moross road announced the betrothal of their daughter to James M. Doherty.

Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Doherty of Moran road. The pair have set no date for the wedding.

Baker Sisters Enjoy Thanksgiving Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. John H. French, Jr., were dinner hosts Sunday in their Merriweather road home to Mrs. French's sisters and their families, the William L. Crow of Rye, New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Leyman, Jr., of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The two couples, with their children, Billy, Margo and Bonnie Crow, and Peggy and Harry Leyman, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Baker on Lincoln road for the holiday week-end. The sisters are daughters of the Bakers.

Pointe Problems

The people of Grosse Pointe have made for themselves on the northeast fringe of the great cosmopolitan City of Detroit one of the loveliest residential communities in America. They will fight to have it remain so but they must awake to the fact that to keep it so and plan for that improvement, the alternative to which is retrogression, they must make contributions from public revenue. There is more to a well rounded residential community than pavements and sewers and shade trees, necessary and desirable as these are.

We are halting over the cost of providing a suitable memorial to our soldier dead. We will soon have a fine public library, thanks to the beneficence of a private citizen. But we still have no centrally located public park for all the community. We are even hesitating over the cost of providing safe, all season bathing in the free water which our location gives us.

Several of the Pointe communities are now planning for their progressive development and beautification, but this effort is handicapped by the political division of the region into five separate municipalities. Jefferson avenue, the main stem of travel between us and the great city to our southwest, with whom most of our business life is associated, is discreditable to a community of our character. We should be able to muster enough influence with the county authorities who control this roadway to have it put in suitable condition.

It is a far cry before the time comes when all of the Pointes can operate as a single municipality, and many reasons exist why they should each wish to remain masters of their own affairs. There is no reason, however, why they should not be able to cooperate in measures for their common advantage. What cooperative action can accomplish for the whole community is pointedly illustrated in our public school system. The same could be done with our police and fire departments.

If we are determined to remain villages in our governmental and spiritual structure we will always remain villages with all of the shortcomings which this implies.

Home at Last

Fair minded men throughout the world will rejoice over the decision of the United Nations to create a Jewish state in the ancient homeland of that remarkable race. A people who for nearly two thousand years have been scattered throughout the world and despite their absence of a political state, have made a deeper impress upon the culture of the world than any other race in proportion to their numbers, are to be at long last accorded a small spot on the earth's surface which they can call their own.

A common religious belief to which they have steadfastly adhered through centuries of prejudice, adversity and persecution, has been the cement which has held them together. It was this religion, which they never forsook, which for centuries was the cause of this original worldwide persecution. The early Christian church, whose birth coincided with the beginning of the decline of the brilliant Greco-Roman culture of antiquity, nourished through the Dark Ages the prejudice against the Jews as the persecutors and the killers of the Christ whose teachings it had adopted. The slowly growing liberalism in the minds of men, which dated from the Crusades and the Renaissance, gradually eliminated these prejudices until in this modern era there has been but little hostility to the Jews which originated in opposing religious beliefs.

The very oppression which the Jews endured and survived for centuries sharpened their capacities for industry and knowledge. No people in all history have proportionately made so great contributions to the arts and sciences and all that flowering mass of achievement which we glorify now as modern civilization.

And the Jews are at last to have their homeland. The sons of Abraham, driven from Egypt fifteen hundred years before Christ was born, destroyed as a political state by the Romans under Titus the first century after His birth, overwhelmed by the rising Mohammedan tide seven centuries later, and persecuted, murdered and banished by most of the so-called Christian states of Europe through the succeeding centuries, are to have a part of their homeland restored.

For the first time in a long course of lonely and suffering centuries they are to take their respected place in the comity of nations.

Their new position is guaranteed to them by the majority of the nations of the world. Better still, it is supported by one of the few agreements that have occurred between the two incomparably greatest nations in the world, the United States and Russia. Great Britain, which first declared support for the Jewish political state, and still at heart adheres to that position, has only had her vigorous backing weakened in these recent days by her appalling problems at home and her fear of the hostility of the Mohammedan peoples in her still world-wide empire.

And now may the Jewish people, with the added dignity which comes with their new status as members of a recognized sovereign political unit, and uninhibited by the weight of centuries of isolation and intolerance, proceed with their great contributions to the building of a broader and better civilization in which all mankind may share.

In a very real sense this belated justice to the Jewish people is the repudiation of the bigotry and murderous policy which the German people expressed against this great race. That was a gesture of brutal medievalism which the conscience of the modern world has at last disowned.

Few, probably, of the Jews of the World will actually move into the Holy Land. The vast majority have since become amalgamated with the races of other lands and will wish to remain with their established homelands throughout the World.

The consciousness however of the possession of a segment of the Earth which they can, as a people, call their own will give added stature of character and dignity to a people who through centuries of adversity have exemplified these in their personal bearing in a remarkable degree.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Here's an example from a butterfly; That on a rough, hard rock happy can lie; Friendless and all alone On this unsweetened stone."

Now let my bed be hard, no care take I; I'll make my joy like this small butterfly, Whose happy heart has power, To make a stone a flower!" (W. H. Davies)

Quite by accident, we almost had spaghetti for dinner on Thanksgiving day, instead of turkey. Unlike most people, we took a walk through the Farms BEFORE dinner to work up a you-know-what. Just as we arrived at a street crossing, a car came whizzing down the block and turned the corner. As it did so, the door on our side flew open and out flew a casserole of steaming hot spaghetti complete with sauce! The whole mess crashed at our feet, missing our best Thanksgiving day coat by a whisker. We stood gazing fascinatedly at the young and very flustered man who yelled "sorry" . . . slammed his car door and went on his way.

We went ours . . . a route which eventually took us past the scene of the catastrophe some minutes later. We were surprised to see the same car, parked this time . . . and its driver out in the middle of the street with a broom and dust pan and large carton. He was sweeping up the mess and putting it in the carton. As we passed and he recognized us . . . he became more colorful than the tomato sauce . . . then muttered sheepishly, "Full of broken glass you know. Getting it out of the way so some dog won't eat it . . . or car run over the glass." We continued our walk, feeling kinda good all over . . . and kinda sorry for the young man.

An individual, signing only with initials, wrote to suggest that we use a series of cartoons in the G. P. News, depicting song titles. The idea being YOU guess the title of the song and if you guess the whole series correctly, we give you a car . . . maybe! His/her suggestion for the first cartoon shows a London bobby (policeman to you) bending over with his nether regions toward the reader. The song title this picture depicts is "Londonderry Air." Catch? If you like the idea . . . let us know . . . but you can forget about that car deal.

A young woman called to ask us to give her mother a little gentle "ribbing" via this column. It seems that Ma has a penchant for small sized handkerchiefs . . . most of which look more like cocktail napkins, than handkerchiefs. (HER'S that is.) Her family have been kidding her about them for years, but Ma pays no never mind. Well, one recent evening, daughter gave a fancy dinner at which Ma was present. When canapes were passed, the out-of-town gent (also fancy) for whom the dinner was given, reached across the coffee table, picked up Ma's handkerchief and dabbed at his mouth to remove a few canape crumbs. He then hung onto the hanky for further emergencies in the way of canape drippings. Let that be a lesson to you, Ma!

No doubt you noticed all the luscious looking turkey ads last week . . . in magazine, newspaper, billboard and what all. We were entranced with the fact that not ONE ad we saw, pictured the turkey on a platter any larger than the turkey itself. Anyone who has ever tried to carve a bird knows that the platter it rests on ought to be about two feet wider than the bird. . . . all around. Not very important . . . just trying to show that even the ad men slip up sometimes. The same idea was flunked in this month's "House Beautiful" . . . this time a bedroom scene. What is supposed to be a life sized girl . . . is lying in a bed the size of which Fido might sneer at . . . if he were a Great Dane. Over the edge of the bed, the model is dangling a string for the benefit of a playful cat. We didn't know that however until we reached for our binoculars. The cat is the size of a small rat (and built like one) and a scarier thing we've never seen.

Always the one to try the untried, we hastened to order a "Dick Tracy Wrist Radio" as advertised by an unheard of company . . . at least unheard of by us. We read all the blurb about what Dick Tracy sez about it, also Gravel Gertie, Diet Smith, Brilliant, Kis'antel and even Mumbles. It REALLY works (sez the ad) and you use no batteries, no tubes, no electricity . . . no brush, no lather, no rub in. We couldn't go wrong . . . at least not for two bucks.

Well, the danged thing arrived, along with a small book of literature on how to operate it. All we need are several hundred feet of pure copper wire which we then hook up to a tree or something; bore a hole in the side of the house, string the wire through and ground it in our room. Then we get another length of a certain type of wire which we must be sure to scrub off well so that not a particle of dust is present . . . and this we attach some place else.

Then we attach a few more things and station a friend out in the snow on the other end to see if he can hear us. If there is a radio station nearby it might interfere with the wrist radio and certain climates, locations, districts et al are not conducive to the wrist radio's working at all. Outside of this, the whole thing is as easy as rolling off a log. Oh, yes! . . . the directions end up with the following in large black type: "Success in reception will vary in different locales, depending also on distance from radio stations as well as structural and natural radio obstructions; or unavoidable, adverse reception conditions, such as large steel structures, tall buildings, power lines or weather. The Dick Tracy Wrist-Radio is only a toy radio after all." GET US OUT OF HERE!!

FOR MEN ONLY

Get out that little black book, boys . . . NO, NOT THAT ONE . . . the one you keep appointments in . . . and jot down in TALL letters, "MONDAY, DECEMBER 15 . . . must go shopping in The Village sans the little woman." That's the night all the shops stay open waiting for you with soft lights, sweet music, Christmas wares, Christmas spirit and pretty girls. And your wife or best girl or mother or grandmother can stay home with her knitting for a change because she won't be allowed in any of the shops. It's YOUR NIGHT, MEN . . . so go to it and shop the easy way.

Backing Marshall

The American people heartily approve the increasing frankness with which Secretary of State Marshall is talking to the Moscow crowd. You can hear a cheer arise from them when he bluntly tells Molotov and other Soviet blockaders to cut out the trivialities and get down to business. There is work to be done and quickly if the world is not to drift permanently into two separate irreconcilable and hostile camps. This country wants above everything else the assurance of a permanent world peace. The obstructionist tactics, studiously pursued by Russia, leave much doubt as to their real attitude.

If Russia wants for herself, and even for those contiguous and racially allied countries, the form of governmental and social regulation she has set up, it is nothing for us to get excited over. This may be the best scheme attainable for those semi-Asiatics who have not yet emerged from medievalism.

But this is far removed from permitting her to carry on a poisonous penetration of chaos among those peoples which are free and wish to remain so.

We are their hope in the struggle in which they are now engaged. It is not the spirit of America to abandon them when the struggle is hard.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

Appropos a paragraph in A. PRYOR'S column about the candid criticism of PARENTS by their YOUNG, I want to tell you one on me. My son MAC—then about seven—was watching me slick up my hair for a party. When I began to tweak up the eyebrows and dust off the facade, he said, "Why do you put things on your face?" I said, "Oh, I guess to make me look pretty." MAC said, blandly, "You aren't very pretty." Knowing there was something behind that one, I said, "Why, MAC, you discourage your aging parent—why don't you think I am pretty?" MAC said pleasantly, "Your nose is too big."

I had a dinner party the other night for AMBASSADOR OSWALDO ARANHA of Brazil, the President of the UNITED NATIONS ASSEMBLY, AMBASSADOR SANTA CRUZ of Chile was present also, and another South American of note was REYNALDO LUZA (the portrait painter, of Buenos Aires. The PRINCESS SCHERBATOFF and ZALESKY, of Russia, made us very international indeed. On the home team, we had DR. FRANK ADAIR, the great cancer specialist and JUNE KELLY who sang gloriously. JUNE has recently sung in operat in Detroit—you may have heard of her.

It was a very spirited evening. Mr. Aranha was in his usual good humor and answered some of the silliest questions ever thought up. The beautiful little women WILL get right in there and ask them. It has been going on for centuries. As long as the women are pretty enough, the men, even statesmen of such great stature as MR. ARANHA, continue to enjoy answering the pretty things. One sweet, blond mind lapsed. "MR. AMBASSADOR, why does our PRESIDENT TRUMAN allow those dreadful Communists to hold meetings and talk?" MR. ARANHA said, benignly, "I can only answer you, my dear, by quoting VOLTAIRE—I disagree with every word you say, but will defend to the death your right to say it."

I should like to change a habit. It is the charming habit very nice men have of sending flowers to ladies who have had them in to a party. Perish the thought that I want them to stop the pretty habit entirely. I only want them to send the posies the day OF the party and not the day AFTER. One man I know, realizes the strong strain of Scotch in my blood, and if he isn't feeling too Scotch himself, phones to ask what I'd like for the table that evening. Generally speaking though, gentlemen send along a bale after the ball is over. It wrings my heart and insults my sense of economics.

I went to a party for MARY

PICKFORD and BUDDY RODGERS the other night. When I arrived MARY was deep in a fierce discussion with one of the guests. She was plowing her fingers through her hair and rubbing them through her eyebrows and smearing them over her face. She was saying, "that's how much I like garlic—I want it in everything, my face, my hair and my clothes." MARY'S hair, by the way, when I came on the scene, was swept in an up-do. A little later she handed her comb to COUNT TROMPY VILLAROSA, who was sitting beside her, and shook it down to wangle it into a pageboy. I was fascinated with the performance. MARY uses no pins. With two small side combs she flings it up or down depending on her emotional state at the moment. BUDDY has grown more attractive with the years. He is grey at the temples, he has kept his lean finger lean and he has a reserve in his manner which leans to the serious side.

I lunched at 21 yesterday with BOBBY ARNST. She is the plump pinup who sang IN MY MOUNTAIN GREENERY in the first GARRICK GAITIES—remember! I don't know why she is plump. Her lunch was two whiskey sours, an order of braided celery and a cup of black coffee. Maybe that is what makes her able to sing like a lark. The HUMPHREY BOGARTS were there also. BABY looked pretty good but HUMPHREY—

At the Newspaper Women's ball at the Waldorf last week there was a very impressive moment. LOUELLA PARSONS, who was part time mistress of ceremonies, took the hand microphone around to ask NAMES to SAY A FEW WORDS. Her great coup of the evening came when the DUCHESS of WINDSOR consented to speak. The DUCHESS said she and the DUKE were happy to be there but must hurry away because they had a bridge game waiting upstairs.

Overeating Can Be Harmful To Health

By FRED M. KOPE, R.P.H.

It is said that more people would live longer if they knew when to put down their knives and forks.

Physicians agree that overeating, a poorly balanced diet, is responsible for much illness. Also, an excess of weight puts a great strain upon the heart.

Give your physician a chance to check your weight and health, at regular intervals, and advise an adequate, well balanced diet. When you cease to be over-weight, your step becomes lighter, your thinking clearer, your health better.

Whenever your doctor recommends medicine, make sure you receive all the curative value intended by having your prescription filled with fresh, effective drugs by a competent, trusted druggist.

Methodists Plan Pot Luck Supper

The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will hold a church family night pot luck supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Brown, 1007 Yorkshire road, on Friday evening, December 5, at 6:30.

This event is especially to welcome the new members and their families who have joined the fellowship since the beginning of the fall program.

Mrs. Lee S. Walker, 865 Bedford road, is in charge of the menu. During the evening the Doris White group of the Woman's Society of Christian service will conduct a bake sale. Mrs. Clarence Slocum, 2057 Lancaster road, is in charge.

Wayne D. Wetzel, 425 Cloverly road, and Willis Bugbee, 36 Beacon Hill, will show movies of the activities of the Church fellowship.

Peak Enrollment Reached by Club

Peak enrollment has been attained by Grosse Pointe High School Mothers' Club this year with over 700 women on their membership roster.

Common interests of parents and teachers in achieving worthwhile goals in the community are the basis of the Club's program. The group also supports a fund to lend financial aid and other help to students.

Mrs. Charles B. Lord, of MacMillan road is president of the Mother's Club this year. Mrs. Robert E. Anslow and Mrs. Raymond E. Chambers are vice-presidents. Mrs. Willis S. Thompson and Mrs. William S. Brown, secretaries and Mrs. Howard Quackenbush is treasurer.

Programs are under the direction of Mrs. Bert Spurrer and Mrs. Blount Slade heads the committee working on the procurement of better films in neighborhood theatres. The welfare committee is under Mrs. Fred J. Flom and Mrs. Hubert G. Goebel is chairman of neighborhood groups.

Pheasant's Flight Ends In Death Against Fence

Herbert W. Kelleher, of 709 Trombley, phoned the police Saturday morning that there was an injured pheasant in his driveway. When the officer arrived, the bird was dead. Mr. Kelleher is certain that the creature injured itself against his fence while in flight.

Health Council Addressed By School Superintendent

The Mothers Health Education Council met recently in the home of Mrs. K. A. Michel, 341 Touraine road, for lunch and to hear John R. Barnes, Grosse Pointe superintendent of schools, speak on the subject of "Health in our schools."

Mr. Barnes said that there has been a change taking place in our schools in the past 25 years. A course in physiology was then perhaps all the schools offered toward a health program. Now, even the buildings themselves are planned for the physical and mental well-being of the pupils. Mr. Barnes warned that parents must feel responsibility in this matter of health, for while the schools and public health agencies are assuming more responsibilities, they cannot succeed without help from the home. He cited as an example, the need for parental help in educating high school pupils in the selection of proper foods at lunch. Besides help in nutritional problems, the schools are stressing physical activities in games and sports.

Mr. Barnes believes the mental health of the pupils has been grossly neglected. To have a mental health program is a tremendous task, and to find the people interested in doing the work is another. They need extensive knowledge in physiology and psychology plus the right kind of personality.

He said that Grosse Pointe, a rural agricultural district, is non-typical in that its health service comes from the Township Health Department and is neither provided nor controlled by the Board of Education.

He stressed the excellent working relationship which exists between the schools and the Township Health Department.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Chester Perry, Mrs. S. Mackensie and Mrs. M. Sievers. Guests for the afternoon were the men principals, Fred Kerby of Defer, Herbert Hobart, Marie

Ralph Page Dies In Scarsdale

Word was received in the Pointe this week of the death of Ralph Page at his home in Scarsdale, N. Y., on Nov. 28. Mr. Page was a resident of Grosse Pointe up to 15 or 20 years ago. He resided in McKinley road. While here he was identified with the Truston Steel Company.

He was 71 years old, and died of a heart attack. He is survived by his wife Pauletta, and three daughters and two sons. He was buried in Scarsdale.

PLAYING WITH FIRE

Youngsters playing with a fire that had been left by the workmen engaged in the construction of a new residence south of 810 Washington road, Nov. 29, caused anxiety to neighbors who called up the police. The officers gave them a lecture on the danger of playing with fire and also a warning to keep away from new buildings.

Delivery Truck Driver Held Up

Paul Brown, of 15427 Alden, Detroit, a driver of a J. L. Hudson delivery truck, was held up by two men in a 1936 Ford car in front of 1203 Whittier Saturday night, Nov. 29, at 8:30. The pair tried to strongarm him as he was making a delivery at that address. Brown was able to convince them he had no money on his person and they let him go. The only thing he could see on their car license plate as they drove away was the first two letters —HH. To see spots on the other fellow's coat doesn't clean any off yours.

Ducklow-Gill Vows Exchanged

The new Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gill will make their home in Grayton road after their return from a Chicago honeymoon. The bride is the former Marjorie Jane Ducklow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Ducklow of Philip avenue, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Edith Gill, also of Philip avenue.

Mary Eileen Ducklow was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Virginia Van Nest, Mary Margaret Giroux, and Betty Lou Taylor. Marlene Marks was flower girl.

The honor maid wore a dress of cerise velvet and the bridesmaids' gowns were of wine velvet. Henry Gillam was best man for Bill James Ewald, Richard Gillam, Marvin Marks, and Larry Giroux seated guests. Young Jerry McAvoy acted as ring bearer.

The wedding reception was held in the Jefferson Room of The Whittier.

They exchanged vows on Saturday in St. Ambrose Church.

Marjorie wore a gown of candlelight satin with a small bustle. A high Venetian crown trimmed with seed pearls held her fingertip veil in place.

When BARBARA WICKING came home from Western College for Women at Oxford, Ohio, to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, MR. and MRS. BERT HARRISON WICKING of Trembley road, she brought PATRICIA NORTH of Glen Ridge, N. J., along to share the family day. Pat assisted Barbara at her debut in September.

Wanderlusting BILL BEAMER is off again—this time for a schooner trip to Norfolk, Cuba, Nassau, through the Panama Canal and up the West Coast. He left the Grosse Pointe Boulevard home of his parents, THE WILLIAM LLOYD BEAMERS, last week for the Eastern seaboard, where he was to meet the schooner.

MR. and MRS. PAUL SHIPMAN of Merriweather road and MR. and MRS. GEORGE VAWTER of Buckingham road are leaving today—by air—for New York where they will spend the weekend.

A two months' tour of the East coast has ended for the LESLIE WEARYS and daughter LESLIE who returned to their University place home last week. On their itinerary were the Green Mountains, White Mountains, and the Alleghenies. Mrs. Weary and Leslie spent two weeks in Virginia Beach while Mr. Weary went up to New York before returning home.

MARGARET MISTELE and JOHN W. BRAY will be married on December 29 at Gratiot Avenue Baptist Church. The bride-elect's parents are MR. and MRS. REUBEN MISTELE of Moran road and REV. and MRS. ETHAN BRAY of Saginaw are the parents of her fiancé.

Warm Springs, Ga., was an attractive place to Pointers those chill November days, apparently. MR. and MRS. H. LYNN PIERSON of Voltaire place went down first, and visiting them were MRS. L. JAMES BULKLEY of Edgemont Park, MRS. CARL B. GRAWN of Yorkshire road and MRS. NORMAN H. PREBLE of Rivard boulevard.

DR. AND MRS. A. DUANE BEAM of Lincoln road were in New York but arrived back in the Pointe for Thanksgiving Day. The night before they were the guests of DR. AND MRS. FRANK H. CONSTANTINE of Englewood, N.J. Dr. Beam made a brief survey of hospitals while he was in the East.

A Pointe visitor until after Thanksgiving Day was MRS. WILLIAM WALTERS of Los Angeles, Calif. She was the guest of MR. AND MRS. JAMES B. JONES of Bedford road, her brother-in-law and sister.

There's a house in Kenwood road—practically labeled "Schlaffs," for neither the house or the THE NELSON SCHLAFF family is sufficient without each other. "Will be remembered that the Schlaffs sold it at the beginning of the war, but after spending last winter in Nassau and some time in a terrace at Cranford Lane, have repurchased the home. The move is now in process, and includes the transferral of young FREDRICKA, NICKY and SUZY back to their favorite house.

Back from their race horse farm at Lexington, Kentucky, are MR. AND MRS. ALBERT F. WALL of Devonshire road. High point of the visit was the realization that one of their yearlings may be Derby material. However, the most immediate interest of the Walls is in preparation for the arrival of their son-in-law and daughter, MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM PETZOLD CLARK, from Dec. 17. Coming with them from their Manhasset, L. I., home will be CHRISTINE CLARK (named for her dotting grandmother), and BILLY.

MRS. BARTHOLOMEW SEY-

MOUR of Edgemont Park opened her home to the members of the Milk Fund Association of Providence Hospital Tuesday for the regular meeting of the charitable group.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH HUBER have returned to their home in Chicago after spending last week-end with the former MRS. MARY JANE BOOK BAKER's parents, THE FRANK P. BOOKS, of University place. This was their first visit to the Pointe since their marriage in California last month.

The birth of a son, JAMES HARVEY, on Nov. 23, is announced by his parents, MR. AND MRS. ETHAN C. PREWITT, of Moran road. Mrs. Prewitt is the former ELIZABETH WATSON.

The Kenilworth hotel, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, is the winter address of MRS. LOUIS ARTHUR PETERS, of Cloverly road. She will remain there until after Easter, PAULINE ROSE, to Daniel R. Roddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Roddy of Radnor road, Detroit. The wedding will take place on Tuesday, December 9.

MR. and MRS. CORNELIUS D. TOMY of Rivard boulevard has circled Dec. 19 on her calendar—for that is the date set for her departure for Scarsdale, New York, where she will be the Yule season guest of her son-in-law and daughter, MR. AND MRS. MAX SCHLING, JR., and their children, TRIPPY and WALLY. Mrs. Tomy returned from Scarsdale just before Thanksgiving, after the christening of young Wally—formally WALLACE CRANE, after his late great-grandfather of Portland, Michigan.

Thanksgiving in Cincinnati is the pleasant memory of MR. AND MRS. JOHN PALMER FRAZER and their son JACK, of Washington road. They spent the holiday with MR. AND MRS. DABNEY THOMSON (JANE FRAZER) and their children, ANNE and MARY MOORE.

MR. and MRS. KENNETH CARY of Verner Highway, Grosse Pointe Park, announce the birth of a daughter, Nancy Ann, on November 19.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM E. MOORE, JR., of Gateshead avenue announce the birth of a daughter, LINDA ELIZABETH on November 22. Mrs. Moore is the former KATHRYN REED.

MRS. J. ARTHUR MULLEN opened her Washington road home Tuesday for the fall flower show of the Grosse Pointe Garden Club. MRS. GEORGE HEFFERAN was in charge of arrangements.

DOUGLAS CAMPBELL R. is back in Rathbone place after a month in Cleveland on business.

THE WILLIAM M. JOYS returned to their Cloverly road home Sunday after a stay at the Hillsboro Club at Pompano, Florida.

JAMES HARVEY PREWITT arrived Nov. 23, his parents, MR. AND MRS. ETHAN C. PREWITT of Moran road, announce.

New York weekenders were MR. AND MRS. CHARLES C. CREEDON, who went East for a visit with Mrs. C's son, DE WITT TAYLOR R., at Gunnery School in Washington, Conn.

Another Pointe-to-New York journey was made last week by MRS. CHISHOLM CACDONALD of Mirabeau place, who was joined in Gotham by her daughter, MARY STUART, for the week-end. Mrs. Macdonald plans to spend the oncoming week-end in Middlebury, Conn., visiting Mary Stuart at her school.

MRS. J. JENNESS NEWCOMB of Neff road and MRS. WESSEL BOOTH of Provencal road recently returned from a two weeks' stay in the East. Both were guests of the THE PHILIP HILBERTS in Waterford, Virginia, where Mrs. Newcomb remained while Mrs. Booth went up to New York. On their way back, the pair stopped off with Mrs. Newcomb's brother and sister-in-law, COMMANDER and MRS. LOUIS C. MABLEY in Norfolk.

Home from their southern jaunt in time for Thanksgiving were MR. AND MRS. A. D. WILKINSON of University place. Their six weeks in the South included a month at Ponte Vedra, Florida, and two weeks at the Cloister at Sea Island, Georgia.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Sowden of Hunt Club drive, Grosse Pointe Woods, have announced the engagement of their daughter, PAULINE ROSE, to Daniel R. Roddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Roddy of Radnor road, Detroit. The wedding will take place on Tuesday, December 9.

Congregational Women Planning Christmas Program

The Grosse Pointe Congregational Women's Association is planning a special Christmas program to be held in the home of Mrs. John F. McComb of Washington road on Tuesday, December 9.

Co-hostesses for the occasion are Mrs. A. D. Wilson, Mrs. W. E. Gore and Mrs. Charles Scheid.

Joyce Louise Roland Wed to Wayne Ernst

Joyce Louise Roland became the bride of Wayne Clair Ernst in a ceremony on Saturday in Faith Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roland, of Beaconsfield road, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Ernst, of Mendon, N. Y.

Joyce chose a gown of white satin, with a pearl tiara fastening her fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses with a white orchid center.

Mrs. John Roland, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Marilyn Roland was her sister's junior bridesmaid.

Wayne asked Wesley Hessler, of Rockford, Mich., to be his best man. Ushering were John Roland, the bride's brother, and Jack Hutchinson of Honeoye Falls, N.Y. After a reception at the Alger Club, the pair left for a New York wedding trip.

Thanksgiving Day Bride Honor Guest at Shower

Mrs. Edward Bein of Hillcrest road entertained recently at a miscellaneous shower for Zenia Panfil who was married to Clement Chargot Thanksgiving day.

The buffet table was done in pink and white tulle with a centerpiece of pink roses. Mrs. Bein's guests included: Mrs. M. Weed, Mrs. F. Schmonski, Mrs. R. Slowin, Mrs. M. J. Chargot, Mrs. A. Panfil, Mrs. J. Bein, Mrs. J. Lesinski, Mrs. E. Muske, Mrs. T. Mallow, the Misses Dona, Aurie and Stoudette Panfil.

Irma Elaine Longhi's Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard C. Longhi chose to announce the engagement of their daughter, Irma Elaine, at the family gathering on Thanksgiving Day in their Bishop road home.

Irma's fiancé is Ralph Winthrop Stevens Jr., son of the Ralph W. Stevens of Cliffside Park, New Jersey.

The bride-elect was graduated from Michigan State College where she was a Kappa Kappa Gamma. Ralph served four years with the USAAF during the war.

Confederacy Daughters Plan Yule Log-Burning

A Yule log-burning ceremony, in memory of Christmas in the Old South, will take place at the home of Mrs. E. A. Rolley, of Lincoln road, when the Stars and Bars Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, meets at 2 p. m. Friday, Dec. 5.

Hostess for the day will be Mrs. J. J. Coburn. Mrs. L. G. Lentz will be featured on the program, and her accompanist will be Mrs. H. D. Mysing.

Kid Bits

By Mary Prevost

Many old familiar faces were seen around the Pointe last week. Country Day as well as Grosse Pointe High School graduates seemed to gyrate between G. P. H. S. and their favorite eating place across the street. So you see, with the high school acting as the hub of activities on school days, and parties and dances filling the time in between, it was a busy holiday week for everyone!

Quite a few collegians managed to arrive home early to take in the last performance of "Beyond the Horizon."

While on the subject of the Pointe Players' grand finale for this season, 'might mention the gala way in which DAVE BULL and several of his friends topped off the evening!

Immediately after the play, Dave and his date, Sue Rogers, rushed across the street to the Bull home to greet a few more couples. Hamburgers, cake and cokes were served to the guests, viz., Minnie Hewitt and Jack Wilson, Harriet Hunt and Dwayne Crause, Buffy Wicking and Jack McGraw, Mary Prevost and Tony LaBade.

THE AUTUMN RHAPSODY in Ambrose hall on the 28th went off with a bang! The many attenders had a jolly time among decorations of corn stalks, turkeys (paper, of course) and pumpkins.

Pauline Kilbride was there with Emory Dacosta, Sue Hergenrother with Skip Beauvais, Dotty Denuit was there with Dick VanStembrock.

Joanne Ducaeste, Jim Bentley, Elizabeth Sullivan, John Griffith, Grace Poole, Eleanor Cook, Mary Alice Miriani, Ray Schneider, Joe Giambro, Bob VanStembrock, Pat McDonald, Dick Swanquist, Barbara Staudt, Bob Graul, Joan Smith and Teddy Endres were there.

Synthetic money flowed like milk and honey in the WING home when DICK entertained the Grosse Pointe University club with a millionaires' party Nov. 29.

Couples kept five bankers busy all evening, and those formally dressed fellows were Herb Buhler, Joe Keans, Bob Lewis, Dick Quintevan and Joe Padelp.

Sue Joyce was Dick's date that evening. Other twosomes were Barbara Daugherty and Roy Leinweber, Marge Holland and Jim Cook, Mary Templeton and Tom Kelly, Jean Gray and Art Moletier, Mary Lou Carr and Bob Tobin, Marilyn Meyer and Jim Barker, Pat Osboack and Chuck Rabaut, Gerry Murrolo and Jack Quintevan, Beth Keegan and Bob Brinker, Sally Stickney and Malcolm Sutherland, Mary Millenback and Hank D'Hanc, Elaine Shamman-ski and Jack Wettlauffer.

When BILL SIEBERT went to TOM WILLSON'S the other evening, he didn't expect a party to be waiting for him, but several couples surprised him and then had a merry time celebrating Bill's birthday.

Minnie Hewitt and Jack Wilson, Shirley Davis and Lorne Norton, Nancy Hodges and Kyle Worley, Nancy Bolles and Ken Christiansen, Nancy Weed and Joe Hipfel were there. PEGGY BEST was Bill's date, and MARION RENNIE was with Tom.

ANN BAKER and JOYCE CULEHAN booked the Hunt Club for the evening of the 29th and then invited many of their friends to come for dancing and eating.

It was a gay time for Bob Coleman and Lois Buck, Dick Wardrip and Carol Stewart, Jerry Webster and Gloria James, Stuart Ward and Sallie Hoyt, Ken Venderbush and Maryanna Larson, Tom Follis and Marilyn Wroblis, Jack Vallad and Charlotte Simmons, Don Ash and Barbara Smith, Tom Anton and Marilyn Smith.

Others enjoying a late supper in front of the blazing fire were Dave Ramsey and Nancy Gabriel, John Corfield and Pat Martin, Tom Willson and Marion Rinnie, Jack Swan and Sally Marshall, Art Beck and Charlyn Salmon, Bob Hansen and Carroll Grylls, Mike Bigley and Barbara O'Leary, Mary Prevost and Elton Bamford, Joe Fromm, Calvin Purdy, John Murphy and Clark McPhail.

Eight couples donned their warmest hay ride clothes and made tracks out to Magnolia stables for a hay ride. DICK NIGHTINGALE arranged the outing for his date—Mary Grater, Herman Klingelhofer and Helen Plath, Terry Thomas and Felice Thorpe, Dick Fritz and Mary Ann Mann, Dave Ramsey and Nancy Gabriel, Joann Lyone and Don Ingalsbe, Roswell Burls and Virginia Burls, Louis Slezinger and Norma Slezinger.

Committee members report that big ideas are brewing around Grosse Pointe High School for the Junior prom which is coming up on the 13th. Sounds like a great event for all who attend.

Lambda Sigma members and their dates dressed up for the dance at the Lochmoor club. Known as one of the biggest social functions around the Pointe, this dance was tremendously successful.

Last minute news — MILTON SETZER, his date — Janet Weinheimer, and several other couples topped off the evening in Milton's home with food and dancing after the recent, Pointe Players' play.

Couples were Hill Pierce and Betsy Waldbott, Bill Pierce and Barb Bauman, Rob Barie and Helen Mauzer, Hap Watson and Nancy Logue, Jim Brenner and Carolyn Smith, Al Klem and Carolyn Elmore.

Margaret Mistele Picks December 29 for Wedding

Margaret Mistele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Mistele of Moran road, has chosen December 29 for her wedding to John W. Bray, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ethan Bray of Saginaw, Mich.

Margaret, a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, studied at Moody Bible Institute of Chicago and is completing her missionary training this month at the Detroit Bible Institute. Her fiancé is a Moody graduate and is working for his degree at Adrian College.

The wedding is to be held in the Gratiot Avenue Baptist Church, and the reception is to be in the YWCA.

Sorority Group Has Busy Week

It's a busy week for Grosse Pointe Panhellenic members. On Monday, Kappa Alpha Theta alumnae met in the women's parlor of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and on Tuesday evening Alpha Xi Delta members gathered in the home of Mrs. Howard Quackenbush of Beaupre road.

Mrs. M. H. Arnold was program chairman and the meeting took the form of a Christmas party, with members contributing their gifts of toys for the Farmington Children's Hospital.

Wednesday evening the East Side group of Kappa Delta met in the home of Mrs. Daniel Webb, of Rivard boulevard. Their gift toys will go to the Crippled Children's Hospital.

Grosse Pointe alumnae of Alpha Phi will meet for dinner tomorrow evening in the Women's City Club as guests of the Detroit alumnae.

It has the smart rounded front and very full, luxurious sleeves that end in a cuff. With the small collar, it may be worn tuxedo style or wrap-around. Dittich's has them ... $115 plus tax for the scarf and $1,250 plus tax for the coat.

Margery Botts Contest Winner

Margery Botts, well known for her musical talents while she was a student in the Pointe public schools, had won additional honors in her new home, Walla Walla, Washington.

The Union Bulletin of that city announced in its Nov. 16 issue that Margery had been adjudged the winner of a contest for a new pep song at Whitman College there. Margery won the $50 prize awarded by Mayor Herbert G. West.

Margery was graduated from Grosse Pointe High in January 1946 and is now a freshman at Whitman. While a resident of the Pointe she wrote the pep song for Pierce Junior High. She is an accomplished pianist and is a music major at the Conservatory of Music.

Margery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edison Botts, moved to Walla Walla last year.

Plan Campaign to Obtain Building for Pointe Youth

Parents of High School Athletes Recognize Sad Lack of Facilities for Youngsters; Committee To Be Named

By Fred Runnells
The Grosse Pointe Dads' Club on Tuesday night, November 25, at its semi-annual sports round-up at the high school, lit the fuse to what might easily be the biggest athletic bombshell to hit the Pointe in years.

Mr. Ammon made a motion that Harry Phillips, newly elected president of the club, appoint a committee of five or seven members headed by the president and vice-president, Mr. Pierce to investigate the possibility of organizing a campaign to raise funds to provide a field house which would enable the expansion of athletic activities and increase the facilities of our fast growing senior and junior high schools.

There were many questions as to the need for the expansion of our athletic facilities which Athletic Director Frank Banach and your reporter answered to the best of our ability.

Mr. Wade pointed out what other communities of comparable size, are doing along these lines and had facts and figures on the programs undertaken by Port Huron and Mount Clemens.

President Phillips was instructed to call a meeting of the club at the earliest possible date after his committee had made a study of the plan to determine what sort of a campaign could be undertaken to insure complete success.

The Pointe's need for additional athletic facilities is great. Grosse Pointe High School has the smallest gymnasium of the six schools in the Border Cities League.

As one high school student asked me "why doesn't someone open a dairy bar or something to give us some place to meet our friends and spend our spare time?"

This, to my way of thinking, was the $64 question. Parents of high school kids can spend an evening or two with their friends in any one of many places of entertainment which are closed to high school students.

Year in and year out the Grosse Pointe basketball teams play before capacity crowds. Seven hundred can and are jammed into the high school gym each game while droves of disappointed late comers are turned away before game time.

Even with Gerhard at the center position, Wernet figured to encounter a tough foe in the Hazel Park quintet which has five veterans in the starting lineup.

Spike Quirk, last year's reserve team center, will quite probably draw the starting assignment despite his lack of experience.

For the past two weeks Wernet has been nursing along an exceptionally green squad in hopes of bringing it up to the opening game slowly. But with this recent piece of bad luck, he has his doubts on the outcome of the initial game.

From what your reporter has seen of the squad, it appears that Grosse Pointe is in for some drubbings before acquiring enough experience to be a threat in Border Cities League competition.

This coming season appears dark and gloomy now, but with a stroke of luck here and there the Blue Devils may not fare too badly in the final tabulations if such boys as Peplinski, Munro, Miller, Schoeck and a few other reserve players round into shape

Dads' Club Gives Party For Athletes

Semi-Annual Affair in High School Climaxed With Turkey Feast

By Fred Runnells
Almost 650 dads and their sons turned out for the Grosse Pointe Dads' Club semi-annual sports roundup held at the high school last Tuesday night, November 25.

The program was opened with some rousing music by the school band which drew tremendous applause from the audience.

The little guy who beat the daylight out of the snare drum caught your reporters eye. The drum almost as big as he was and from the way he handled himself he doesn't have to take a back seat to anyone for his money.

Mr. John Finch's boys' glee club gave its usual fine performance, which was featured by a solo by a lad who sang "On the Road to Mandalay" with such volume that he held the spectators spellbound.

As usual the cheerleaders led the boys in a cheer for the dads and then in turn led the dads in a cheer for the boys.

The guest speaker, Art Valpey, University of Michigan end coach, had not arrived from his scouting trip of the Southern California game last week and was unable to attend. He sent another representative of the U of M athletic department to substitute for him in showing the movies of the Michigan-Illinois game.

Following the movies the audience retired to the school cafeteria and enjoyed scrumptious roast turkey.

On Friday November 22 my brother-in-law and I took off for an already established camp near Lewistown, Michigan, the heart of the deer country in the lower peninsula.

Arriving shortly before dawn we awakened the camp and almost quicker than the blinking of an eyelash the cookie had a pot of "Joe" (coffee to you) on the fire and the other three nimrods struggled from beneath their warm blankets and donned warm woolsen hunting clothes in the chilly, frosty atmosphere of the tent.

We had only a short wait before the grey streaks of morning began making their appearance through the thick eyegreens which blanketed the camp area.

After a scrumptious breakfast of flapjacks, as only can be made over an open camp fire, we moved out of doors and split up into three and took off in different directions to seek the hunters prize, a rack, buck or just plain deer to those of you who have never experienced a deer hunting expedition.

Remembering all the stories I had read about hunters being accidentally shot by a stray bullet, I couldn't help but trying to look in every direction at once for a strange hunter who might have an itchy trigger finger.

After almost three hours of tramping over the soft snow and not seeing another person or hearing a sound except a distant shot and the gentle patter of the light drizzling rain which threatened to turn to snow at any moment, but never did, the scary feeling left me and I began noticing the beauty of the deep forest.

Low hanging evergreen boughs heavily laden with their load of snow of the week before, gently sifted and light fluffy stuff down the backs of our necks as we trashed against them.

My blood ran hot and my pulse quickened when one of my partners picked up a fresh trail. We followed for about three

Rookie Runnells Discovers Fascination of Deer Hunt

By FRED RUNNELLS
For years I have wondered what kept deer hunters going back to the Michigan deer country despite the yearly human death toll, due to hunting accidents, is high.

This year I decided to take my life in my own hands and seek first hand information.

On Friday November 22 my brother-in-law and I took off for an already established camp near Lewistown, Michigan, the heart of the deer country in the lower peninsula.

Arriving shortly before dawn we awakened the camp and almost quicker than the blinking of an eyelash the cookie had a pot of "Joe" (coffee to you) on the fire and the other three nimrods struggled from beneath their warm blankets and donned warm woolsen hunting clothes in the chilly, frosty atmosphere of the tent.

Garage Boys on Top as First Round Is Completed in Service Club Loop

With the first round completed in the G. P. Rotary Club League, Houston Bros. Inc., retained its lead by soundly thumping the Punch & Judy Cocktail Lounge, 4-0.

Middle Atlantic Transp. Co. protected its runner-up position by taking a 3-1 win over the G. P. Printers, each game being hotly contested by the Printers.

Martin Outdoor Motors, in the third slot, continued its winning spree, trouncing Wolverine Chips, 3-1. Capt. George Loersch and Bill Van Dam showing the way.

Holzbaugh Motors got back into the win column, after several disastrous weeks of bowling to outroll the Motor City Tires 3-1. Capt. George Bamberg and Bill Strittmatter were the high guns for Holzbaugh.

Piche Barbers won over Farms Market, Bob Gross, 619, for the barbers being high man for the night. Capt. Ed Taube led the Farmers with 545.

Mondry Cleaners missed the board with their 890 game but their 2530 three game total gets them second high position. The Mertz Brothers, Gene and Bill, ganged up with Charlie Castle to take Harrison Carpets 3-1. Roland for the Carpeteers, had 556.

Whacky Bunch of Natators Showing Plenty of Talent

Banach's Boys May Be Happy-Go-Lucky But They Display Decided Ability As Existing Records Are Threatened

BY FRED RUNNELLS
As usual Swimming Coach Frank Banach has gathered together a whacky bunch of kids to form the 1947 swimming team to defend the Border Cities League title won by the Grosse Pointe High School Blue Devils last year.

It is a known fact that Banach always gets all of the happy-go-lucky kids in the school for his team, BUT HOW THEY CAN SWIM.

In early time trials several boys have come within an eyelash of breaking existing school records and at least three of these records are in danger if certain boys keep improving as they have in the first three weeks of practice.

These good trial times tended to make the boys a little cocky, but this overconfidence more or less disappeared when Coach Banach posted the ten best times posted in each event in the Michigan State high school meet held at East Lansing last spring.

Several of the boys who have come close to Blue Devil records, upon scanning the time discovered their performance would have given them no better than seventh or eighth place in last year's state meet.

The Blue Devils will travel to River Rouge on Tuesday, Dec. 16, to open the season, and then to Highland Park three days later to open the Border Cities League competition.

Grosse Pointe defeated River Rouge last year, 48-34, and whipped Highland Park, 63-21, in the first meeting and 59-25, in the second of the home and home and home series.

Following are the existing Grosse Pointe pool records, and the holders:
40-yard free style - Clarence Pinkston; 1:31, set in 1945.
100-yard breast stroke - Bob Jenks; 1:08.7, set in 1947.
220-yard free style - Joseph Conrad; 2:28.5, set in 1939.
200-yard free style - Bill Kildow; 2:09, set in 1947.
100-yard back stroke - Edward Oliver; 1:44.7, set in 1938.
100-yard free style - Bill Kildow; 55.9, set in 1947.
180-yard medley relay - Jenks, Essert and Kildow; 1:45, set in 1947.
160-yard relay - F. LaFerte, P. Friesse, W. Kildow and W. Wolfe; 1:18.2, set in 1946.
120-yard individual medley relay - John Brink; 1:18.6, set in 1943.
Brink still holds State record of 1:41.6 for the 150-yard individual medley relay set in 1943 State meet.

Detroit University School Holds Annual Grid Banquet
Detroit University School held its annual football banquet on November 25. The event was attended by 250 students and fathers.

After dinner letters were awarded to members of the several squads. Mr. Byron Armstrong gave letters to the following members of his Midget Squad: Beadle, Beatty, Beckenhauer, Bevan, Bodem, Boyer, Buhl, J. Butler, Candler, Cote, Creamer, Daume, Eccleston, Foy, Hatzell, Renshaw, Rust, Sharp Whittaker, Connolly, Dryden, Riehl, Villorot, and Weiner.

The Junior coach, Mr. Edwin Owrid, made these awards: Bingham, Buell, Hoey, G. Johnston, Lutomski, Phillips, Smith, Standish, Weber, Becherer, Beebe, Birgauer, Earle, Gillis, Goetz, Jackson, Jaglowicz, McClintock, O'Brien, Mackey, Reed, Scott, Torrey and Wallace.

The Varsity coach, Mr. Wm. Yeager, awarded letters to the following: Bauman, Coyle, Fisher, J. Foster, Fruhauf, Garrett, Kersten, Maycock Milner, Stever, Whitehead, Wilton, Babcock, Bingham, Goodson, Hamilton, Sisman, Weigle and Wood.

After the awarding of the letters the guests were shown color movies of the D.U.S. Cranbrook game.

The main speaker of the evening was Mr. Wally Weber, Univ. of Mich. Freshman Coach, who showed movies of the U. of M. Illinois game. Mr. Weber's wit was appreciated greatly by all.

1947 State Fair Most Profitable
Total profits resulting from the 1947 Michigan State Fair held Aug. 29 through Sept. 7 amount to $272,643.81 as of Dec. 1 according to a statement made by Hazen L. Funk, secretary and general manager. This amount far exceeds the profits from any previous Michigan State Fair held in the ninety-eight years of operation.

Revenue from the recent fair amounted to $739,064.48 in addition to a $50,000 appropriation from the state's revolving fund. Expenditures from Dec. 1, 1946 amount to $527,360.24, including equipment and improvements to sidewalks, water and sewage and drinking fountains. Included in improvements are items totaling $23,223.41 which should be spread over a period of years, such as repairs to the Chevrolet Building $3,644.63; electrical repairs throughout the grounds $12,122.43; and water and waste line repairs $4,027.85.

Hunt Club Schooling Show Followed by Buffet Dinner

Elliott S. Nichols of Bloomfield and Metamore and Marvin Bell of Mount Clemens officiated as judges at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club's second Junior Schooling Show of the 1947-48 season, November 30, in the indoor ring. R. Edmund Dowling announced the events.

The show opened on a very high note with the Schooling Phase of the Hunter Trial. In this class the performances were so uniformly excellent that it will be necessary in future shows of this type to make the assignments for individual riders more difficult. Peggy Hatch on "Black Jack" took the blue; Janet Allen, the red; Sue Carson the yellow; Nancy Ruedemann the white.

The Handy Hunter class was won by Dick Fruehauf, up on "Good Deal." Also in the ribbons were Janet Allen, Barbara Bull, Geri Rounds, Blonde-maned Virginia McLucas was judged to be the best performer in the Beginner Horsemanship, with Sandra Fitzpatrick and Joan Alice Hill tied for second. Nancy Ruedemann took top honors in Advanced Horsemanship, Hunter Seat, with Geri Rounds, Janet Allen and Sue Essington furnishing plenty of stiff competition. Sue Carson took the Advanced Horsemanship, Saddle Seat division, with Joyce Culehan second and Peggy Hatch third.

Dick Fruehauf got his second blue of the day in the Ring Jumping Phase of the Hunter Trial. Janet Roberts, Geri Rounds and Joan Allen also did beautifully in this class.

The winners of the other classes of the afternoon were as follows: Open Three-Gaited—Sue Carson, first; Joyce Culehan, second; Geri Rounds, third; Sue Essington, fourth. Open Pairs, Hunter Seat—Gloria Roberts and Nancy Ruedemann, first; Carol Stewart and Judy McKiel, second; Geri Rounds and Sue Crikshank, third; Barbara Bull and Janet Allen, fourth. Open Pairs, Saddle Seat—Peggy Hatch and Joyce Culehan, first; Sue Carson and Sue Essington, second. Open Jumping—Janet Allen first; Dick Fruehauf, second; Gloria Roberts, third; Carol Stewart, fourth.

Among the Hunt Club seniors who thronged the ringside gallery to watch the show were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. K. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. Howard L. Bergo, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Bull, the Frederick Careys, Mrs. Kenneth Carson, Dr. W. P. Chester, Mr. Vincent Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Miles N. Culehan, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Essington and Mr. and Mrs. Sarry R. Fruehauf.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Emery B. Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. C. Karl Lyinger, Mr. Joseph J. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. McKiel, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mulford, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C.

Putnam, Mrs. Harold S. Rounds, Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Ruedemann, Mr. Thomas Sheehan, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stewart, Mr. Nate Van Osdol and Mr. Charles Verheyden.

More than fifty juniors and seniors remained for the buffet dinner following the Schooling Show.

Police Separate Brawling Couple

A brawling couple in a parked car roused the neighborhood at Charlevoix and Mt. Vernon at 3:15 a. m. Nov. 30 and took Farms police to the scene.

They found a 23-year-old woman in a "semi-conscious, hysterical" condition, screaming at her companion, whose claim that he was her husband was later substantiated.

The woman was taken to Cottage Hospital for treatment. The husband, who was abusive to the police, was taken to headquarters and locked up for investigation. He was later released.

Schools' Movies Get Supervision

Assistance in selection of the motion pictures that are shown at the Grosse Pointe High School and the Pierce Junior High School during lunch periods will be rendered by the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council, it was announced by Mrs. Daniel Hembel, president.

Mrs. Louis Marick, vice-president of the Council, has been appointed to check the lists of motion pictures available for these showings, and to compare it with the Council's lists of pictures suitable for children and teen agers. She will confer with John Finch, of the High School, in making recommendations. Final choices of the pictures are then made from these lists by student organizations.

The November meeting of the Motion Picture Council was devoted to giving the newly appointed delegates a history of the organization, and instructing them in the work of making the monthly listings. Mrs. Hembel reported on the history and Mrs. Marick outlined the method of making the lists.

The Council is 11 years old, Mrs. Hembel said. It was started at the suggestion of Miss Florence Severs, librarian, who was receiving many requests from Grosse Pointe parents for advice on motion pictures for children. At first the lists were posted in the library, but in 1940 Mrs. Charles Marvin and Mrs. Robert Tomb began the distribution of monthly lists through Grosse Pointe schools and church groups.

At present, each of 24 participating groups sends two delegates to the Council. The junior delegates secure advance movie programs from nine neighborhood theaters, and two senior delegates each month make up the list of suitable pictures.

Two representatives from a newly-organized Dearborn Motion Picture Council attended the Grosse Pointe meeting to observe its operation.

MORGAN APPOINTED
Franklin Morgan, a member of the Woods' Park Commission recently resigned and at the council meeting Nov. 18 Charles G. Donahue was appointed in his place. This is the group which has charge of the Woods' Beach Park.

Memorial Church Revives Traditional Event

MRS. HOWARD C. LAMONT (left) helps MRS. DAVID LIVINGSTON select a purchase at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church's annual Fair held in the church on Thursday, November 20. Before the war the church had this gala occasion an annual affair. This is the first fair since the war.

Girl Scouts Cite Example Of Real World Friendship

Not long ago two of Grosse Pointe's Scout Council personnel lunched in a downtown restaurant with a Girl Guide from England... a very special Girl Guide, Miss Beryl Foster.

This English lass, sans make-up and with a lovely soap and water, fog and dampness complexion, has corresponded for some time with a "pen pal" in Detroit, a certain Miss Waugh. Last summer Miss Waugh and her family visited friends named Ambrose in California.

After hearing a lot about Beryl Foster from Miss Waugh, Mr. Ambrose became extremely interested in the English girl and decided he'd like to do something for her... He wrote her a letter. Result: Miss Beryl Foster, 18, a Sea Ranger Girl Guide, boarded a plane, flew across the Atlantic and alighted in New York, where she was met by Mrs. Ted Husing, no less. (Mr. Husing was announcing a football game, or he would have been on hand, too). Beryl was "shown" Gotham, then she got on a train, stopping

Joan Foy to be Bride in New York on Dec. 27

From New York comes news of definite wedding plans for Joan Foy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron C. Foy, of New York, and granddaughter of the late Walter P. Chrysler, and Raymond French, son of the Sidney Frenches of Litchfield, Conn. The couple will be wed at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church on Fifth avenue in the afternoon of Saturday, Dec. 27. The Foy home on East Ninety-third street, will be the scene of the reception following the ceremony.

Joan has asked her sister, Cynthia, to be her maid of honor and her fiance's sister, Mrs. Henry Vezin, of New York, will attend her as honor matron. Kingsley French will be his brother's best man.

Among those who will go East for the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Zeder of E. Jefferson avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. K. T. Keller.

Toolbox Stolen From Bulldozer

The theft of a tool box from a parked bulldozer was reported to Farms police on Nov. 24 by Frederick Keller, of 85 Cambridge road.

Keller said his bulldozer was parked at the foot of Belanger road. The theft took place some time between Nov. 21 and 24, he said. He valued the tools at $15.

Woods-Detroit Pact Renewed

A new contract with the Detroit Fire Department for stand-by service was authorized by the Woods' council on November 18. It takes the place of one which recently expired simultaneously with contracts with the other Pointe municipalities.

The new contract calls for a payment of $100 per hour for land apparatus for the first hour and $75 per hour for each succeeding hour. The old contract was for $50 per hour straight. Increased cost of operation was given by Detroit as the reason for the jump in price.

Raymond Clarence Giles Return from Honeymoon

At home in Hazel Park following their wedding trip to Chicago and Northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clarence Giles.

Mrs. Giles was Patricia Ann Lancaster before her marriage on November 7 at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore of Hazel Park. Mr. Giles's parents are the Clarence Giles of Somerset road.

Dawn Leach was maid of honor at the evening ceremony. Jeanne Giles, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Vance Lancaster, Ann Hiti and Joanne Kurchenko were bridesmaids. Warren Weidner of Chicago, Ill., served as best man and the guests were seated by Vance Lancaster, the bride's brother, Lawrence Weidie, George Turner and Andrew Lemke.

A reception at the Silver Crown Ballroom followed the ceremony.

ODD FACT
When offered a raise in salary, a Somerset, Pa. secretary refused it, saying he was certain the cost of living would soon drop.

New Cars Suffer In Skid Crash

Icy streets caused an accident in front of 184 Moross road at 11:53 p. m. on Nov. 18.

Jerome Vincent Darby, of 15017 Mark Twain, was driving his 1947 Olds north on that street when he skidded into a parked 1947 Chevrolet owned by Ormand Beaupre.

Damage to the Chevrolet was estimated by Farms police at $250 and to the Oldsmobile at $250. Darby was given a ticket for reckless driving.

New England Women Plan Sewing Session

Mrs. George C. Coones, second vice-president of Detroit Colony, New England Women, will open her home on Mendota Avenue Wednesday, December 10, to members for a sewing-social session, from 10 to 4 o'clock. Reservations are desired.

Coffee and dessert will be supplied by the hostess. Members will take box lunches.

Fire Loss in Farms $9,000 in October

The Farms Fire Department answered 13 calls during October, according to Chief George Dansbury's monthly report. One residence fire, that at the home of James Hally of McMillan road, resulted in damage estimated at $9,000.

There were two automobile fires, two field fires and eight emergency calls. All fire hydrants are now being pumped and checked, the report stated.

Shubert Books Voice of Turtle

"The Voice of the Turtle," John van Druen's romantic masterpiece, now in its fifth year on Broadway, will be the attraction at the Shubert Lafayette Theatre for two weeks, beginning Sunday evening, Dec. 7. This popular comedy will be presented with a sterling Broadway cast starring Haila Stoddard and co-starring Sheila Bromley and Philip Faversham.

Miss Stoddard starred on Broadway and on tour opposite Clifton Webb and Peggy Wood in Noel Coward's suave comedy, "Blithe Spirit," wherein she portrayed the dazzling apparition Elvira. More recently she starred on Broadway in Elmer Rice's successful fantasy, "Dream Girl."

Miss Bromley, then known as Sheila Manners, was for ten years a Warner Brothers star, specializing in the heroine of scores of western films. Mr. Faversham, who is a son of the eminent American dramatic star, the late William Faversham, may also boast of his large, personal following among theatregoers.

TUBERCULOSIS

One out of each 104 persons x-rayed at Michigan's county fairs and festivals this summer had either active or healed tuberculosis, according to figures released today by the Michigan Department of Health whose mobile units conducted the surveys. Mobile units of the Department visited 23 fairs and festivals making chest x-rays of 43,640 persons. A total of 418 cases of active or healed tuberculosis were found.

Honesty is the spring that can revive man's faith in man.

K. of C. to Honor Moesta At Initiatory Exercises

Gabriel Richard Council, Knights of Columbus, will honor Waldemar C. Moesta, of Balfour road, Grosse Pointe Park, one of its eleven original founders, with an initiation class named for him, on Sunday December 7, in the council's club building, 9375 Amity, at Parkview and Kercheval. District deputy George Robel, of Dearborn, and his staff, will have charge of the major degree, Gabriel Richard's own degree of officers will exemplify the first and second degrees.

The initiatory exercises will open with Corporate Communion at the 8:00 o'clock Mass at St. Clare of Montefalco Church, Auduman avenue, between Charlevoix and Mack, Grosse Pointe. Immediately following the Mass, a complimentary breakfast will be served to candidates, sponsors, Fichardian members and visiting knights, in Gabriel Richard's club dining rooms. The first degree will start promptly at 10:00 a. m., states G. K. Dunn.

This class will mark the second major step in Gabriel Richard's preparations for its silver jubilee celebration on April 23, 1923; a recent class having been named in honor of Thomas VanAntwerp, another founder; and coming classes are scheduled to be named after others of the instigators of the council.

Gabriel Richard, numbering over 2200 active members, is one of the largest councils in Michigan, as well as among the largest of the 3000 councils of the entire order throughout the United States, Canada, Central and South America. It was the first council to be formed in Detroit outside of the central or down town area, and the forerunner of eight councils now serving the outlying sections of the city.

Officials and members of the state and metropolitan councils have been invited to assist in the spiritual and ritualistic exercises. Mr. Moesta is a life long resident of Detroit and Grosse Pointe. He was born July 13, 1899, at St. Antoine and corner Fort.

He is a veteran of World War I, and active in veterans' affairs. He is a contractor and real estate operator with extensive operations and holdings, mostly in Grosse Pointe business sections.

His mother and father, both living, were pioneers in Detroit's east side development. They still reside in the home they built in 1912 on Cadillac three doors off Kercheval.

Mr. and Mrs. Moesta have two children. A son, Redman, is a World War II veteran. A daughter, Mirianna, is a student. They have one grandchild, Maureen.

His hobbies are hunting and bowling and he is good at both.
